Cursed his whole life with only misfortune and hardships, Cheon Yeo Woon, who ranks lowest in the war of the Grand Prince Succession is about to have his world turned upside down when a 'descendant' from a future suddenly appears and installs nano machines inside his body

Chapter 1

Chapter 1: Prologue : Crucial turning point

A long time ago, martial artists of Jianghu used to learn martial arts for their own safety and protection against enemies.

But as time passed, martial arts evolved to kill enemies more efficiently and it grew to be more sophisticated and complicated.

The simple forms became a series of movements, and the breathing techniques represented the basics of internal energy.

Martial artists left heirlooms to the future generations with books and teachings of what they learned, allowing martial arts to evolve.

Martial artists were soon the ones who were more powerful than normal humans as they could run through the trees like the wind, crush stones with their fists, and cut down trees the swing of a sword. They were soon called the people of Wulin.

However, martial artists wanted to become more powerful and they gathered to form clans.

Those who wanted justice and honor called themselves the Force of Justice, and the ones who did not care about using violence and cruelty were called the Force of Evil.

And there were those who sought an entirely different route, seeking only strength. They were called the Demonic Cult.

The current Wulin was in a tight competition between the three forces.

South of Jianghu, there was a place called Ten Thousand Mountains. It was filled with tons of mountain peaks that spread vastly over the land, and this place was forbidden.

It was because this place was the home of the Demonic Cult.

In a deep forest far from the castle of the Demonic Cult, a boy who looked to be in his teens was running for his life.

“UGH!”

The boy was exhausted and heavily panting. His clothes were ripped and his face was full of bruises, showing that he had gone through a severe beating before he had escaped.

“Dammit!”

The boy spat, as he saw five masked men waiting to capture him. He had run so hard for the last thirty minutes, but it seemed he couldn't get away.

“F*CK!”

The boy held on his trembling legs and glared at masked men. Their faces were covered, but it was easy to see that they all were smirking.

“You did well in running all the way here. Prince Chun.”

“Haha. I almost fell asleep while waiting for you.”

The boy frowned. If they had been waiting for him here, then there was no point for him to continue running in this direction.

The masked men all pulled out their swords from their backs. Their eyes were filled with the intention to kill the boy.

‘What should I do?’

It was his life that they wanted. It didn’t seem like talking to them would work. He had used all of his internal energy to run here, so he had no energy left to run or fight. But even with his death waiting for him, his eyes were filled with anger rather than fear.

“...Why? I gave up on joining the academy already. Why do you want to kill me?”

“Prince... you surely know that all of that doesn’t matter.”

The boy was at a loss for words. He had expected this day to come ever since he was very young, but he didn’t expect it would come even before he joined the academy.

“As long as you have the right to the throne... it is your destiny.”

The other masked men began making comments also.

“Surrender, and we will make this quick.”

“Even if you have peasant blood, we will not dishonor the blood of our Lord.”

The boy then became filled with anger. The word he hated the most were the words that insulted his mother.

‘Damn bastards!’

If he was going to die anyway, he might as well try to fight back. He pulled out a dagger. He had never learned martial arts, however. All he knew was whatever he observed from watching his guard, Warrior Jang.

“Hmm? A dagger? Did you learn something from Jang?”

Sadly, he didn't. If he really did learn it, the skill would have been very useful here.

“Crude. But your blood speaks it for itself, that you do not cower away at your death.”

The masked men seemed to be very happy. It was better for them to kill someone who would not give up than someone who would beg.

“Kill him.”

One of the men gave the order and the other four attacked the boy at once. He thought he would hold them off for at least a bit, but that wasn't the case.

“Haaaa!”

“ARGH!”

One of the masked men used his sword hit to strike the boy's wrist and he dropped the dagger to the ground. His face grimaced and he glared at the masked man, but the man grabbed the boy's neck.

“Argh...”

“Is it over?”

The boy's face turned red, but his eyes had not given up yet.

At that moment, another man shouted, “Watch out!”

“What?”

“The dagger!”

A dagger stabbed the man’s chin. The boy had been hiding another dagger, and the attack killed the masked man at once.

‘What...? A mere boy without any martial arts training killed one of my fighters?’

The leader of the masked men who was watching became intrigued. It seemed like the boy was aiming for this from the beginning.

“Damn kid! Get him!”

Another man charged in and kicked the boy, swinging his sword down the boy’s stomach.

“AAAAAAAAAAAAARGH!”

The boy had never felt such pain in his life. A searing pain shot up from his stomach and blood soared up from his throat.

‘Dammit... so it didn’t work twice.’

But killing at least one of them made him feel better. He was going to die anyway.

“Aaaaagh...”

The masked man stepped on the boy’s punctured wound and the boy screamed in pain. The ground was drenched with blood. The man could have killed the boy at once, but he seemed to be giving the boy as much pain as possible.

“Slowly... I will give you a slow death!”

The leader didn't seem to like what was happening, but he couldn't stop him since it was for the revenge of his teammate. Suddenly...

A bright light shined as if a lightning bolt had struck. When the light disappeared, the masked men's eyes turned in shock.

“W-what?!”

Blood sprayed up like a fountain. The masked man who had been stomping on the boy had lost the entire top half of his body where the blood was spurting upwards.

“W-what?!”

The boy also was in shock. If he wasn't wrong, some white light streak had zapped the man and his body melted away.

“It's him!”

The leader pointed to a certain direction in shock, and there was a strange man with weird clothing. The man then disappeared.

“Huh?”

It wasn't through any movement skill. It was as if he had turned invisible so that he could not be seen.

Another light then struck another man, killing him also. The only ones left were the leader and the remaining masked man.

‘Someone is helping him... the white light. Is it a beam?’

If it wasn't an energy beam that was said to be used by highly skilled warriors, there wasn't anything like it that could instantly melt a human.

The boy had lost a lot of blood, so he would die anyway.

'We did what we needed. We should retreat.'

The leader tried to send a signal for his man to fall back, but he was then struck with another streak of lightning and he disappeared also.

"AAAARGH!"

The man screamed in panic and tried to run, but he too was struck by the lightning. After all the men were killed, the boy smiled and chuckled, "Hah, farewell bastards."

Then, a strangely-clothed man revealed himself in front of the boy. He wanted to scream in shock but he had no energy to do so.

"Whoa. So, my ancestor feels better even when you're about to die?"

'Ancestor?'

The boy frowned, but he had no energy to speak and his body was growing cold. He had lost too much blood.

'Am I going to die now?'

That's when he heard a weird beeping sound. Then he saw something on the silver-clothed man's wrist and became shocked.

"I wanted to come earlier and teach you how to use it but... oh well."

The man took out two things from a small bag. One was a syringe. The boy was almost at the brink of death.

“I should hurry.”

The man then injected the syringe at the back of the boy’s ear. He then brought up another syringe and stuck it in the boy’s heart.

“Ugh... it pains me just by looking at it. Anyway... hey, Ancestor.”

The man called out to the boy.

“Please make it right and make your descendant’s life easy, okay? The Nano Machine is the latest one there is, so it won’t be too hard to use.”

‘...What is he saying...?’

And with that, the man disappeared. The boy then heard a strange sound in his ears.

Chapter 2

Chapter 2: Machine descended to my body (1)

Prince Chun had been attacked by masked men and was killed by a sword to the stomach.

Or so he thought... the guard, Jang, ran as fast as he could with his movement skill to find Prince Chun. When he found the boy, the place was littered with dead bodies that were missing their upper torsos. Only one of the masked men's bodies was intact, but he had been killed with a dagger to his head.

'It's the dagger I gave to him.'

It was what Jang had given to Prince Chun on his 10th birthday. He didn't teach him a single dagger skill since he was made to swear an oath to not teach any martial arts to the boy until he joined the Demonic Academy, so it was astonishing that the Prince had killed even one man.

"Oh... Prince!"

Jang then found the Prince slumped down on the ground. The ground was drenched with blood, hinting of doom.

'Please...!'

If the Prince to die here, he wouldn't be able to find the right words to apologize to the boy's mother. However, something was weird.

"...Huh?"

He heard the boy's breathing. From the looks of his clothing, it was certain that the Prince had been struck with a sword to his stomach, but his breathing seemed to be normal. Jang went up to him and picked up the clothes.

"Huh? There are no wounds."

Prince Chun's stomach was clean of any wounds. It was weird since the ground nearby was full of Prince Chun's blood.

'What is it? Hmm... did the Lord...? No. The Lord would not meddle with the fight for the throne... but who killed these men and saved the Prince then?'

His mind was full of questions, but none could be answered. Jang searched the area for a while and soon buried bodies and took up the Prince on his shoulder. He then activated his movement skill to travel toward the Demonic Cult's castle.

As Jang's hand touched the boy, something in boy's head shocked him and deactivated his unconscious state.

[Self-healing mode paused at 80%. Master, wake up please.]

The boy's eyes opened in shock as he heard a voice ringing in his head.

'Huh?'

He had to have died from the severe blood loss, but he was alive and someone was carrying him on their shoulder. He looked down and that it was Jang Gageng, his guard.

"Jang!"

The boy's face brightened up and the cold mechanical voice came back again.

[Confirmed target to be friendly. Deactivating automatic defensive mechanism. Reactivating self-healing mode.]

“UGH!”

And with it, the severe headache struck the boy's head and he grabbed it with both hands.

“Prince! You're awake. Are you okay?” Jang smiled and asked excitedly.

“Prince?”

But the boy couldn't stand the headache and fell unconscious again.

It was the next morning when he woke up from his sleep.

“UGH!”

His body was drenched with sweat. He realized that he was sweaty and he wiped his forehead with his palm. However, he realized that it was not sweat, but something sticky instead.

“Ugh, what is this? Huh?”

He then saw the dark, black liquid on his palm and became shocked. It had a foul stench.

“Ewww!”

The smell was so bad and the liquid covered his entire body as if it had seeped out from his body.

“W-what is this?!”

That’s when the voice came to his head.

[Master. Are you awake?]

“What?”

The voice repeated itself.

[Master. Are you awake?]

“W-who are you?”

The boy got up from the bed and glanced around, but he soon realized that the voice wasn’t coming from outside.

[Master, please calm down.]

‘Is it coming from my head?’

[That is correct, Master.]

“What!”

He only thought the word and the voice seemed to have read his mind. The boy became nervous.

‘Telepathic message? No... it’s not that.’

Telepathy was a skill that highly-trained martial artists used to send messages to others. He had heard one of those types of messages once a long time ago. The message was sent with internal energy, and that made it feel like a wave of energy.

[I am unsure of what this ‘telepathic message’ is, but you are not listening to me through your ears, Master.]

“What! W-who are you?!”

The boy looked up in the air with wide eyes. He thought if one could send a message directly through his head, the one would be very powerful being.

[I am the 7th generation Nano Machine, made by Sky Corporation to serve as a core to support Master’s brain.]

“Wait, what? What are you talking about?”

The boy became pale as what he was being told was beyond his comprehension. The Nano Machine realized that the user did not understand their words.

“Who are you, and what do you want with me?!”

[I am the 7th generation Nano Machine.]

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Nano Ma Sin (Evil God)?”

[Yes. I am Nano Machine.]

The boy’s face turned grim. The Evil God was the being that the Demonic Cult worshipped. The Lord was the one who was given the power to communicate with the said God.

“A-are you really the Evil God?”

He was now kneeling on his knees, asking with a shaking voice. The Nano Machine had understood that the boy had gotten everything completely wrong.

Chapter 3

The boy's name was Chun Yeowun.

He was the member of the Chun family, the highest-ranked family in the Demonic Cult. The Chun family was related to the great Lord himself, and everyone considered them to be extremely powerful. However, contrary to people's speculations, they were just a part of the six main families that maintained the Demonic Cult.

Chun Yeon was the son of a female slave who worked at the Lord's chamber and was not from the six families. Although he was the child of a slave, he was still part of the Chun family and he had the right to the throne. Nonetheless, he was not even close to having a chance at taking the throne.

Then what made him fall encounter danger? The reason was with his mother, Lady Hwa. The Lord who did not like any of the six women from the six families fell in love with a mere slave. This made the other wives angry and spiteful. Moreover, their fury didn't just end there.

Chun Yeowun encountered multiple life threats throughout the fifteen years of his life. He had no chance of succeeding the throne, but he was still wanted for his life due to the anger of the other wives. Since seven days ago, the assassination attempts increased greatly. It was because it was now time for him to join the Demonic Academy and that would test his right to succeed and earn the title to be the Lord's heir.

If he joined the academy, he would learn martial arts and grow in power to have his own force. And the academy prohibited most outside entries, which would ensure his safety.

That's why the assassination attempts happened so often.

"D-did you save my life, God?"

Chun Yeowun asked the voice in his head while he laid flat on the ground. The Nano Machine answered.

[If it is about the enemy who tried to kill you, no. But if you are talking about Master's wound after going into self-healing mode, yes.]

"W-what is a self-healing?"

Yeowun couldn't understand most of the words that the Nano Machine used. Nano Machine realized that they couldn't communicate like this.

[Sending basic information to Master's brain...]

"Huh?"

Nano Machine understood that it needed to find the right words for its master to understand.

[Searching for the right words for the era and culture.]

Nano Machine began searching through words and terms so that Chun Yeowun could understand. After a while, Nano Machine finished selecting the words to communicate.

[Master, I am not the Evil God that you speak of.]

Chun Yeowun became surprised at the sudden change of tone, although it still sounded mechanical.

“What? Then who are you?”

[I am trying to send you the basic information and manual about me to your brain. Will you accept?]

Nano Machine thought it would be easy to send the information instead of talking about it and Chun Yeowun nodded without knowing what it was actually. Then, a video flashed in his brain at once.

His eyes shook rapidly as he looked through multiple video images and soon he felt dizzy. He bent over and kneeled down to the ground to vomit.

“Ugh!”

[It is a natural reaction after receiving information through your brain. You will not feel dizzy the second time around.]

Chun Yeowun recovered from the dizziness and got up.

“What is going on?”

It was hard to believe. He had not seen or been taught anything, but he now knew about the machine created with highly-advanced technology installed in his brain.

“Nano Machine?”

[Yes, Master.]

“Is it true that thousands of machines are now embedded in my body?”

[That is correct. 6 billion, 482 million, and 40 thousand nanomachines have now been placed into your body.]

Chun Yeowun didn't feel good about having something weird in his body, but he now realized what he was dealing with was not a human nor a god, but a machine.

He felt relaxed by the fact and asked, "If I want, can you get out of my body?"

[As you saw through the information that was sent, I am programmed to only be extracted outside the body in case you die.]

Therefore, the machine was bound stay until Yeowun died. He couldn't understand why this had happened.

"Who put you into my..."

That's when someone knocked on the door to his room.

"Prince. Doctor Baek is here."

It was Jang's voice. Yeowun wasn't sure about how he should explain the fact that he was talking with a machine, so he stuttered, "S-stay quiet for a while."

[I can read your thoughts to communicate, Master.]

"I get it. Just be quiet."

[Going into silent mode.]

Yeowun got back on the bed and laid down with the blanket over his body. The door opened and a middle-aged man, Jang, and an old man with long white hair came in.

"The Prince seems to be asleep so we will... huh? Prince!"

Jang found Yeowun looking at him from the bed and quickly ran up to him.

“Are you okay Pr- ugh!”

He then placed his hand over his nose because of the terrible stench coming from the Prince.

“What’s going on?”

Yeowun forgot what happened to his body because he had been talking to the Nano Machine. The black ooze that came out of his body was too terrible to smell.

“Hmmm?”

Doctor Baek then walked up with an interested look on his face. He was the designated doctor for the Lord of the Demonic Cult, and was nicknamed Demon Doctor in the cult.

“Prince Chun, we know each other, don’t we?”

“Of course, Doctor.”

There wasn’t anyone in the cult that didn’t know about the doctor. Also, Yeowun had met him when his mother was sick.

“Give me your hand. Let me feel your pulse.”

“T-that’s...”

His hand was sticky from the ooze so it was embarrassing to show it to him. The doctor said it was okay he reached out so that Yeowun could give him his hand. The doctor checked his pulse for a while and opened his eyes in astonishment.

“This is very interesting.”

“What is it? Doctor Baek, did something happen to the Prince?”

Jang asked with a frown, but the doctor shook his head and smiled, “No. This is very good actually.”

“What are you talking about?”

“The entire body has been cleansed of any dirty substances and his energy flow has been activated. Did he consume a special kind of medicine or something?”

Yeowun was confused.

“You now have the perfect body to train in martial arts.”

“What?”

Yeowun then understood what the doctor said and became shocked. The black ooze that came out from his body was actually the dirty substances stuck inside his body. What was better was that his energy was now flowing, so he could now learn how to use his internal energy.

‘Hey, Nano Machine. Did you do this?’

[Deactivating silence mode?]

‘...Yeah.’

[Deactivated. Yes, Master. The nanomachines have extracted the unnecessary substances from your body and have reshaped the blood, muscles, and joints to best fit your body shape.]

‘...Wow.’

Yeowun assumed that it was probably because of the Nano Machine, but it was even more shocking to hear it from the Nano Machine itself.

‘Are you really not a Ma Sin (Evil God)?’

[I am a machine, not Ma Sin, Master.]

The Nano Machine answered with its mechanical voice.

Chapter 4: Why memorize a book? (1)

Cheon Yeowun was a boy, but he was not a fool. He had overcome many hardships and assassination attempts that made him stronger and smarter. He knew the importance of a weapon if he had one, and also knew he had to keep it a secret if he were to keep himself alive.

‘I have to keep it secret that I have Nano Machine in me.’

Cheon Yeowun wasn’t aware of it, but there was no way that the medical knowledge of this era would be able to find the Nano Machine. However, Yeowun did not know this, so he didn’t feel good about letting Doctor Baek know as he was from one of the six families, Dokmajong.

‘I hope he doesn’t catch on...’

He tried to hide it, but he became nervous. He was forbidden from learning any kind of martial arts before joining the academy.

‘Hm... he did get help from someone. That’s certain...’

The doctor was curious because of the change that had happened to the boy. He thought the boy would be pushed down the ranks with his weak body and no knowledge of martial arts. However, his state now proved that he was fit to learn martial arts better than any of the other princes from the other families.

Nonetheless, he still was in a bad place to aim for the succession. The other princes already had started learning martial arts and had their own forces.

‘He wasn’t all that uninterested after all, it seems.’

The doctor assumed that the reason for this change was due to the Lord, Chun Yujong.

‘He is his son after all...’

If the Lord had helped secretly, there was no need for him to acknowledge it. The doctor just wrote a prescription for some medicine to help Yeowun regain his energy and returned.

“Prince.”

“Jang.”

Yeowun hadn’t even thanked his guard yet. Nano Machine healed him, but if Jang didn’t come in time, who knew what would have happened next?

“Thank you for bringing me back to...”

Before Yeowun can finish, Jang coldly said, “I’m sorry, Prince. You must wash up first.”

“....Right.”

It smelled terrible. The doctor called a slave to clean the bed and make preparations so that Yeowun could wash up. While bathing in a hot bathtub, Yeowun was filled with a strange sensation.

‘Does the world want to change my fate?’

His fate had already been decided the moment he was born to a female slave. All that was left for his life was to survive without being killed.

‘Hey, Nano Machine.’

[Yes, Master.]

He had not talked to the Nano Machine for about an hour now. Nano Machine did not speak if he did not ask.

‘You said you recovered me from my wound. How far can you do it?’

[I can recover external or internal wounds quickly. But the loss of blood or a body part will require cell replication which will require a longer time period.]

‘O-oh... I see.’

The Nano Machine had given him a lot of information, but it was still hard to understand. At least it was certain that he could recover from most wounds unless he lost a body part or too much blood.

‘Should I test it?’

[I would not recommend hurting yourself, but if you want to try, I suggest testing it first with a small cut.]

Yeowun then grabbed the dagger placed on his pile of clothing and cut his palm.

“Ouch!”

The pain made him frown.

[Activating self-healing mode on the left palm.]

With the voice, the blood stopped flowing from his palm and soon the wound disappeared as if it hadn’t been there at all.

‘It’s hard to believe... but it works.’

There was more that was hard to believe, which included the usage of the Nano Machine.

‘Can I really use all the powers that I was given the knowledge of?’

[Yes, Master. You can use every power of the Nano Machine as shown in the instructions.]

‘Good. I’ll test it out after my bath.’

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun then got out of the water and clenched his two fists. If he could utilize the power of the Nano Machine, he could rise up in power and get revenge on his enemies.

At the south castle of the Demonic Cult was the house of Bokamjong. And next to its main building was a chamber for the heir candidate. In the front yard of the chamber, there was a teenage boy with freckles and a masked man kneeling down in front.

The boy seemed to be very angry and he shouted angrily. The masked man couldn’t even answer to quell his anger.

“I sent you all to kill one weak boy and five were killed instead?”

“Prince Mukeum, I think some warrior helped him.”

“How dare you call my name!”

“I am sorry, Prince Chun.”

Chun Mukeum was 3rd in rank in succeeding the throne. He had sent assassins from his own Bokmajong family to kill Chun Yeowun before he could join the academy, but it had failed.

“I thought he had nothing to help him, but it seems he had something up his sleeve then.”

It was unexpected. They made Yeowun’s guard stay away from him and attacked the prince, but they had failed. It meant that someone else was also protecting him.

‘Did Father do something for him?’

That’s what he had in his mind, but he couldn’t say anything about the Lord either. The Lord of Demonic Cult was the divine being.

“Oh well. I’ll take more chances after joining the academy.”

There was no protection given inside academy, as each of the princes who had guards appointed by the Lord himself weren’t allowed to follow.

“I didn’t want to do it myself, but I guess I have no choice.”

Chapter 5: Why memorize a book? (2)

The Demonic Cult, located in the Ten Thousand Mountains.

The cult had many families and clans, but it was mainly comprised of six clans: Wise, Sword, Loyal, Blade, Poison, and Lust clans. These six clans each had someone who could become the Lord.

As per the oath, the Lord needed to marry women from all six clans and make babies who would all live with their mother's clans. The six sons would then join the Demonic Academy held once every ten years to be trained.'

The academy was created to train the finest warriors of each generation — at least that's what it was known for officially.

However, the academy was filled with the fiercest competition whenever the multiple princes or candidates to succeed the Lord joined.

Inside the academy, the princes trained and made connections with other families and clans to increase their power. After claiming victory within the academy, he will become the heir to the throne.

Yeowun got out of the bath and looked at his body through the mirror as he dried himself off. His body was originally scrawny and weak, but now it was muscular and well-toned.

'Nano Machine. How is this possible?'

[I have reconstructed your body, Master.]

‘Reconstruct?’

[Creating something from nothing is hard, but reshaping your body and muscles is not as hard.]

‘Your speaking is so complicated.’

He had not learned martial arts yet, but he did not slack off in his studies. However, whatever words the Nano Machine used were those that he had not learned from any of his education sessions. Yeowun put his clothes back on and went to his office.

‘Your name is too long. Is there any other name I can call you with?’

[You can set any name you’d like, Master.]

‘...Hm. I can’t think of any, so I’ll just call you Nano.’

[Registering -Nano-]

‘I just gave you a name. How about you say thank you?’

Yeowun joked about it, but there was no way a machine could understand a joke.

[Thank you, Master.]

‘...Yeah.’

The Nano Machine was a machine and Yeowun was now getting used to it.

His office did not have many books. Most of them were related to his studies, and there weren’t any books about martial arts. All he had were basic books about gaining internal energy and that helped him very little.

‘Bastards.’

This was the work of all the ladies from the six clans.

It was those ladies who secretly poisoned his mother and made Yeowun swear an oath that he would not learn any martial arts until he joined the academy in front of his dying mother.

That’s why Yeowun could only study this basic internal energy book. Even this was only possible because the Lord himself had sent it to him secretly.

If he didn’t even learn this, his muscle and veins would have hardened, making it impossible to learn any martial arts even after joining the academy. The six clans knew that the training would not make any differences so they did not care.

‘Let’s try it.’

Yeowun took out a book from the shelves. It was a book about blood flow.

‘What do I need to do?’

[Look right into the book and go through each page until you reach the last one.]

‘Just flip through the pages?’

[Yes. Please start.]

Yeowun was not convinced, but he started flipping through pages. He then quickly reached the last page. He did not realize it, but his focus was shaking rapidly.

‘I did it.’

[Scanned the book 'Blood Passage.' Attempting to send the information to the user's brain. Will you accept?]

'Scan? Oh, you mean you copied what it means?'

[Yes, Master. Will you accept?]

'I accept.'

And the feeling that he felt when he received the Nano Machine's manual came back to him. His head felt as if a jolt of lightning had struck him and the information swept into his brain. Yeowun felt slightly dizzy and he held onto the bookshelf. It was much better than before, but he still felt like everything was spinning around him.

[Transfer complete.]

"Ha... ha..."

[You will get used to it, Master.]

'Are you worried about me?'

[I am just stating the fact.]

And as Nano said, the dizziness quickly disappeared.

'Is this over?'

[Yes, Master. As you did with the manual, you can think about the related information to bring it up.]

Yeowun then thought about blood flow, and information about the book that he hadn't even read came up to him naturally.

'What... wow.'

It was hard to believe, but he had just crammed the entire book into his head without even reading it. He fully understood what it meant.

[There was an error in the book that was corrected before it was transferred.]

‘Error? What error?’

[Information about the blood points were wrong, so it was amended.]

The Nano Machine that was created in the distant future had embedded more precise information while scanning the book.

“This is crazy!”

Yeowun thought this was amazing. He had to study and memorize books until now, but with this method, he didn’t need to spend time on that anymore.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘I can just cram everything in!’

Yeowun smiled excitedly. He didn’t have that many books in his office, but it was going to be different once he entered the academy.

‘Let’s quickly grow stronger than everyone else and survive after joining the academy. That’s the goal.’

He couldn’t fight the war for the throne just yet. He needed to focus on surviving for now.

Little did Chun Yeowun know that the power of the Nano Machine was not only limited to its information transfer.

Chapter 6: Entering the Academy (1)

Yeowun's mother died when he was ten years old. The Lord sent Doctor Baek to look after his mother, but it was too late. He later learned that his mother died due to poisoning. It was a type that was hidden inside food, and one could not detect the poison until it killed the target that consumed it, thus assassinating them.

Yeowun was also poisoned, but he did not have as much food and he was able to survive by taking Doctor Baek's medicine. After this incident, Jang always prepared his food.

Jang always woke up early in the morning to train before preparing Yeowun's breakfast. It wasn't sure since when, but Yeowun always woke up early too and watched Jang go through his training. According to Wulin standards, it was rude to peek at another's training, but Jang felt sorry for Yeowun who couldn't learn martial arts and he didn't say much about it.

And today, Jang was up early to train his dagger skills.

'It's today.'

Yeowun stayed up late that night and now it was time for him to join the academy. Once he entered the academy's doors, he'd lose Jang's protection. He drew a long face as he looked at Jang's training.

'Would it have been better if I learned some of his arts at least?'

He always thought of this, but members of clans were always watching them so he couldn't learn. That's when the Nano Machine spoke to him.

[Would you like to scan Guard Jang's movements?]

'What?'

Yeowun opened his eyes in shock.

'Can you scan a person's movements too?'

[It is possible.]

'Then you mean you can scan Jang's martial art movements and transfer them to my head?'

[Yes, Master. And there is data of multiple martial arts techniques that I can transfer over to you at this moment.]

Yeowun did not know, but the Nano Machine was created with advanced technology from the future. He did not gain approval from Jang, but he was going to the academy in the afternoon. He had to make a choice.

'Okay. Scan it.'

[Activating the scan.]

Yeowun's focus began to shake rapidly and then started to scan Jang's movements. After staring at his movements for about thirty minutes, Nano's voice filled his head.

[Movement scan completed. Beginning transfer.]

And with the jolt, the movement began to play back in Yeowun's head. And soon, it was complete.

[Transfer complete.]

With the slight dizziness, it was done. Yeowun's eye shined with astonishment. This was beyond amazement.

'Nano... I can't believe this. I think I can use Jang's dagger skill!'

Yeowun closed the window so Jang could not see him and readied himself. It was the basic stance that Jang did before unleashing his skill. Yeowun then swung his arm to unleash his dagger.

He did not learn, nor was he taught, but his movements now matched Jang's movements outside. Jang had trained his actions for twenty years, but Yeowun could mimic his movements perfectly. Nano's voice rang in his ears again.

[Muscle analysis complete for training the movements. Will you accept the transfer to your muscles?]

'I need the muscle transfer too?' Yeowun asked curiously.

[If you don't have the proper developed muscles for your movement, you will...]

"Ugh!"

Before Nano could finish, Yeowun felt pain tearing through his entire muscle. It was so intense that he couldn't even move.

[There is muscle damage as it is not yet suitable for the movement.]

'Okay... now I get it. Can you please make it easier for me to understand?'

Yeowun thought as he barely got up and sat down on the bed.

[Changing language to fit the user's level.]

‘Level?’

Yeowun frowned as it didn't feel too good, but he couldn't understand fully either.

[Translation complete. You did not train like Jang for a long time, so your body is not yet accustomed to the movements that your brain has learned. Only after simulating the movements and analyzing the muscle development requirements can you use it fully.]

‘Okay... I think I understand better now. It's still hard.’

Most terms that Nano used were not used in people of current times, which was hard to understand.

[Would you like to lower the language level to the lowest level?]

‘...No, that won't be necessary. So, if I transfer the muscle development, I won't have this bad pain?’

[That is correct. Will you begin the transfer?]

‘How long does it take?’

[Reshaping muscles will require every Nano Machine inside the body, which will take loading time.]

‘Loading time? So how long will it take?’

[Approximately two hours.]

It was still early in the morning, so two hours was okay. Yeowun nodded and agreed with the transfer.

[Activating muscle transfer. It will come with strong pain, so you will be put under anesthesia.]

‘Does it hurt?’

[It comes with severe pain. There have been millions of cases of fainting from the pain.]

‘Should I try it without anesthesia?’

Yeowun wondered curiously.

[Will you proceed without anesthesia?]

‘...If I can’t bear it, can you put me to sleep?’ Yeowun added.

He soon realized he was not wrong in adding that last part.

[Beginning the process.]

As millions of nanomachines began moving toward his muscles, he felt ticklish.

‘This doesn’t seem...’

And the muscle change began at once.

“UGH!” he gasped. The muscles twisted and his eyes rolled backward at the intense pain. He couldn’t scream, but he couldn’t hold back either.

Yeowun twisted in agony and almost screamed as Nano's voice rang in his head.

[Injecting anesthesia.]

"Gg....r...."

And Yeowun fell asleep.

Chapter 7: Entering the Academy (2)

After completing his morning training, Jang prepared breakfast. He was not a good cook, but five years ago, after Lady Hwa's death, he had to start cooking for the young prince and now he was very skilled at it.

Most of the time he prepared a simple breakfast, but today he prepared red pig meat that he got yesterday with an egg. It was to congratulate Yeowun's admission to the academy.

It was maybe the last time he could enjoy a meal without worry, so Jang paid extra attention to prepare it.

'I hope he survives to enjoy my cooking again...'

That's when Jang heard some screaming.

"Nnnnnngghhhhaaaaaa..."

Yeowun's room was close to the kitchen, so Jang was able to hear it easily. He grabbed the sword and ran toward Yeowun's room. As he burst into the room, Yeowun was sprawled out with only his upper body on the bed and bubbles foaming from his mouth. He was unconscious.

"Prince!"

He quickly ran over and checked the Prince's pulse. It didn't seem weird as it was just like when he found him on the mountain two years ago.

'He's fine. What was he... huh?'

Jang then saw the faint trace of footsteps on the floor of the room. He placed Yeowun on top of the bed and checked the footprints carefully.

‘Is it...?’

He wasn’t sure, so he placed his foot over the footprint and moved along with it. He was shocked. The footsteps represented the traces of his own dagger skills. A mere footstep would not leave a trace like this on a wooden floor, but martial arts movements sometimes left deep traces after pushing the feet down with hard stomps.

‘What? Did he learn it on his own?’

It was unbelievable. Jang had trained for twenty years to achieve his skill, but this prince had taken the perfect steps. It would require at least years of basic training to accomplish this.

‘He watched my training for two years at most...’

This made Jang dumbfounded.

‘He watched my training for just two years and caught up to my twenty years of experience...?’

It was unbelievable, but also it made his eyes turn red with tears. To him, Yeowun was always a person in need of protection and the son of the woman he thought of dearly. Realizing Yeowun’s talent made him feel grateful. He then placed his hand on Yeowun’s wrist and checked his internal energy.

‘No energy... he just knows the movements.’

Maybe it was for the better. If it was revealed that he had learned to how use internal energy, it was going to enrage the six clans. Jang looked at Yeowun for a while and then walked out. Two hours then passed by.

[Muscle transfer complete. Deactivating anesthesia.]

With a jolt in his head, Yeowun woke up from his sleep.

“Ugh!”

Yeowun got up, panting. He remembered the extreme pain right before he was put to sleep. He did not want to feel that kind of pain anymore.

“Ha... I will never try it again.”

[I warned you, Master.]

“...Yeah.”

It was Yeowun’s choice to try it out. He then got up from the bed and walked to the center of the room to prepare himself to use the dagger skill.

‘Now it won’t hurt, right?’

[Through the simulation, you now have the same muscles as the ones that practiced the movements for twenty years.]

‘Good!’

Yeowun prepared his stance and swung his dagger. The power seemed to be very different from a while ago as his movements were more precise and accurate. As he stomped to move onto his next step, the wooden floor rumbled loudly.

“No!”

Yeowun was surprised and stopped immediately. The floor now had marks of his footsteps.

“This is bad.”

He became worried that Jang might see this.

“It leaves footprints even without internal energy.’

While he was thinking about it, that’s when someone knocked on the door.

“Prince. Your breakfast is ready.”

It was Jang. Yeowun pressed down on the area that had the footprint to remove it, but it didn’t work. That’s when the door opened and Jang walked in.

“Prince?”

“OH! Haha, I’m so hungry!”

Yeowun quickly got up and brought the table near the window to the center of the room. Jang asked curiously, “Don’t you always eat by the window?”

“Y-yeah, but I won’t be returning for a while so I wanted to eat in the center.”

It was suspicious enough but Jang silently placed down breakfast on the table. Yeowun sighed and sat down on the chair.

“Oh!”

Breakfast was baked pig meat, fried vegetables, and the eggs that he loved. It was not a feast that the six clans enjoyed, but this was still lavish enough for Yeowun. He became silent as he knew that it was Jang's act of kindness for Yeowun who might not return from the academy.

Yeowun took the chopsticks and began eating with teary eyes.

[Strong emotions contributing to acid coming up the throat. Increasing saliva level. Please swallow the food with saliva to calm down the acid.]

'Stop saying weird shit and shut up!'

[Going into silent mode.]

Nano became silent and Yeowun swallowed his food. He couldn't leave any food behind. After a quiet breakfast, Jang began asking, "When did you st..."

He couldn't say the word 'steal' to his prince.

"Learn my dagger skill?"

"Huh? Uh- w-what are you talking about?"

Yeowun was surprised by the sudden question. Jang pushed the table to the side and pointed at the floor. There was a clear footprint on the floor.

'I wasn't wrong.'

The clear print was certainly from the stomp made by moving onto the second formation of the dagger skill. Yeowun did not learn any martial arts, but he was still from Wulin and he knew what the laws were like. Stealing other people's martial arts techniques was strictly forbidden and looked down upon.

"I.. I..."

He did steal it through Nano, so he had nothing to say about it. He couldn't even look into Jang's probably disappointed look. Jang then knelt down and spoke with a soft voice.

"You did a good job."

"Uh..."

"I am your guard, Prince. If it wasn't for the oath, I would have taught you my skills already."

"Jang..."

Yeowun's eyes filled up with tears. Jang was more of a father figure to him than his real father. Jang took out a paper filled with writing and gave it to Yeowun.

"What's this?"

"It's an energy flow method for the internal energy of the dagger skill."

"Why are you giving this to me?"

"I would love to give you a method on how to train the internal energy itself, but you will find a better one at the academy. Learn it."

Yeowun was now shedding tears. He swore that he would never cry after his mother's death, but he was still a young boy. Jang got up and took the empty plates before he began walking out. He then stopped to speak.

“You can cry today, but you will need to be stronger from now on.”

“...Thank you.”

Yeowun wiped the tears off his face. He now had no fear or hesitation. Even without his mother, he still had a place to return to.

In the afternoon, the street near the Demonic Cult’s castle was bustling with people. The opening ceremony was going to begin soon. Every boy, ranging from fourteen to nineteen years of age in every family and clan of the Demonic Cult was now gathering at the Demonic Academy.

Chapter 8: Entering the Academy (3)

The Demonic Cult had the six clans, three guardians, and hundreds of small clans and groups. The Demonic Academy was opened once every ten years to train a new elite individual. This current one had candidates that were the heirs to the Lord, so everyone labeled the academy as an Heirship competition. And this was a wonderful opportunity for many small clans to side with the future heir to the Lord.

Thousands of boys and girls all gathered to join the academy. The Great Training Ground located right past the entrance of the academy was large enough to fit all the students inside. All of them looked excited and nervous about what's to come. It was because this was a chance to see the Lord himself who would join the opening ceremony.

"Look! It's the Left Guardian!"

"If he's here, the Lord will be here soon."

"I'll get to see his face for the first time in my life!"

There was a middle-aged man with long red hair walking out from the left side of the giant stage, scoffing at children down at the ground.

'Fools. We only have fools this time. Or it may be the last time.'

The middle-aged man was the Left Guardian, Fire King Lee Hameng, or the closest advisor to the Lord. The Lord had three guardians with him. The Great Guardian, Left Guardian, and Right Guardian only acted on the Lord's orders. They ranked within the top ten of fighting prowess within the Demonic Cult.

‘Hmm. Are those the heirs from the six clans?’

Hameng glanced at the boys standing in front of all children. All students who entered the academy were given a round name tag with numbers. They were given the numbers based on the order they entered, but these princes were exceptions.

‘They are quite something as kids.’

The other children were all lined up neatly, but these six princes arrogantly stood at the front as if they were telling everyone that they were on top of them all. Unlike others who had a white tag with black numbers on them, these princes had black tags with red numbers according to their rank to the succession.

1. Wise Clan – Chun Muyeon.
2. Sword Clan – Chun Kungwun.
3. Loyal Clan – Chun Mukeum.
4. Poison Clan – Chun Jongsum.
5. Blade Clan – Chun Yuchan.
6. Lust Clan – Chun Wonryou.

They only had numbers on their tags, but Hameng knew their names. There were two girl candidates last time, and although there was only one girl this time around from the Lust Clan, he didn’t really care.

‘Everyone else is here, but I don’t see him.’

Hameng swept his glance across everyone, but he couldn't find the one he was looking for. There was one boy who was getting all the attention from the higher ranks of the Demonic Cult.

'Oh, there he is.'

Hameng finally found the boy. He would not have found him if he didn't have a black tag. At the entrance, at the very end of the line, Chun Yeowun stood there alone.

'The heir candidate not from the six clans.'

He was still a son of the Lord, but he couldn't come up to the front. And it also seemed like the other kids around him were shunning him. Therefore, he stood there alone.

'He's receiving attention in an interesting way.'

That was the end of the interest. Hameng knew that the boy did not train in martial arts, so he was going to fail the entrance test.

'There are so many.'

Chun Yeowun was able to see the thousand children standing in front of him. He wasn't late, but he was told that his tag was missing and had to wait until the end. So even with the black tag, he couldn't go up to the front. It was certain that it was the work of someone from the six clans, but it didn't matter to him.

'It's best I avoid trouble with them from the beginning anyway.'

Chun Yeowun liked that. They wanted to kill him even before joining academy, so it was better to not see them at all.

The horn sound blared across the field, and people began to mumble. It was due to the person who had just entered. Thousand boys and girls began to chant with shouts. A man with the character 'Sky' on his black silk clothes got up and sat down on the throne up on the stage. It was the Lord, and one of the Five Strongs of Wulin, Chun Yujong. Even without his title, his presence was overwhelming even in front of a thousand people.

"I can't even look at him directly."

The boys had lost the courage to even look up to him. Next to the Lord was the lead guardian, Great Guardian King Marakim. He had a special mask on his face so that no one knew what he really looked like.

"Oops."

And to the right of the throne was a ragged clothed man who seemed to be having a hard time standing up as if he were drunk. He was the Right Guardian, Submeng, the Crazy Blade. He acted silly, but he was still ranked within the top ten strong men in the Demonic Cult.

"Hah."

"What're you lookin' at?"

Submeng spat at Hameng who looked at him with a disgusted look and took a sip from his bottle of liquor. Marakim then walked onto the stage and shouted,

"SILENCE!"

It was a voice laced with internal energy that spread through to everyone. The training ground went silent at once.

“The most honorable one, it is ready.”

Marakim turned back and spoke quietly, and Lord Chun Yujong got up from his throne.

“To all who have entered the academy, you will be the future of our cult.”

And unlike Marakim who shouted, the Lord spoke softly. However, his voice was crystal clear in the ears of the thousand boys and girls. It was proof of Chun Yujong’s sheer power.

“I welcome you in joining the academy. I hope you train and play your part in our cult.”

And that was it. Chun Yujong turned and Great Guardian Marakim spoke to him.

“That was a wonderful speech.”

The Lord then walked off the stage with Marakim guiding him. It was so short that it made the students fall silent, but soon they shouted and chanted.

“FOR THE DEMONIC CULT!”

Chun Yeowun wasn’t sure how he felt. He had never seen his father for fifteen years, but he met his eyes with him for the first time. The Lord had found Chun Yeowun standing in the farthest part of the training ground as soon as he got up on the stage, but his gaze was so cold.

‘I don’t care anyway.’

He didn’t appear when his mother, Lady Hwa, died. There was no disappointment when he didn’t care in the first place. That's when people fell silent as Fire King Hameng stood up on the stage.

"With his speech, we will begin now."

-Mumble mumble...

"Stand straight!"

Hameng's voice pierced through the air and the students shut up.

"I'll keep it simple. Listen up."

Hameng began to explain the system of the Demonic Academy.

"The academy will last for four years and six stages."

Everyone knew the academy lasted for four years. But there were some who had teachers or parents who did not attend academy, so they began to focus on the tests on each of the six stages.

"You can take the six stages in steps, and you can take it only once."

Students began to mumble about only getting one shot at each stage. One failure meant that they would be cast out.

"You seem to get it pretty quickly. If you do not pass, you will be expelled right away."

There was only one chance to rise up. That's when a handsome boy standing in the front row raised his hand.

"I have a question."

It was the boy with number 2 on his tag. In second place for the throne, it was Chun Kungwun of the Sword Clan. Hameng was in the middle of his speech, but Kungwun confidently interrupted him. However-

“Who said you could ask questions?”

“What?”

Chun Kungwun’s handsome face grimaced. He had been treated with respect from everyone around him because he was a prince, but it was shocking to be treated with hostility.

“Oh? So you have a problem with my attitude? ‘Prince’? You want to be expelled even before the competition?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Left Guardian Lee Hameng spat angrily. Chun Kungwun was angered, but he couldn’t say anything. He was reminded of what his guard warned him about the other day.

[Once you’re in the academy, every privilege you had for being the son of the Lord will be removed. And whoever is appointed as the Chief of the Academy, never cross his lines.]

He didn’t mind it when he heard it, but he now realized it after experiencing it. He was against one of the strongest in the Demonic Cult.

“I apologize, sir.”

Chun Kungwun bowed and the other five heirs smirked.

Chapter 9: The first test is a piece of cake (1)

The training ground went quiet after Chun Kungwun's embarrassing moment. Left Guardian Lee Hameng continued, "I know what your question is. You think just one chance is too harsh? There will be special privileges given to those who move forward into the next stage."

Everyone became intrigued. Those who stayed in the academy longer came out with more powerful prowess and higher titles.

"The first privilege is medicine. You will be given a medicine ball called the Black Dragon Ball. This is given each time you overcome the challenge."

This ball was created within the Demonic Cult. It wasn't as good as the one created in Sorim, but it was still good enough that made the person who consumed it would gain twenty years worth of internal energy. In simple math, passing the six tests would give the person one hundred and twenty years worth of internal energy. Of course, this was also the kind of medicine that would build immunity after continued use, but it was still a good privilege.

'Six stages, huh...?'

Chun Yeowun also seemed interested. He had no internal energy right now, but if he were to pass all six tests, he would be given the chance to increase his internal energy instantly.

“The second will be the books to the martial arts secrets. If you are martial artists, you all should know the importance of such books.”

This was one of the most important privileges in the academy. There were many books within the academy, and even the books from the six clans’ martial arts were stored within the academy.

‘Books!’

This was what Yeowun needed the most. With the Nano Machine’s power, he was able to learn the dagger skill, but he needed to get stronger.

“The library has five floors. The higher the floor, the stronger the books. You will be given access to a higher floor once you go up the stages.”

The fifth floor, which was the last floor, was full of secrets to various martial arts manuals of Wulin itself.

“However, you all won’t even go near the fifth floor, so give up.”

Hameng spoke discouragingly, but the second privilege was still astounding. Not to mention, all of this also meant that whoever the students were, or wherever they came from, they all had equal chances to obtain greater power if they could take it. It meant that stronger the person was, the more powerful they would get.

‘So, this was why...’

Yeowun realized why everyone said it would be different once they were in the academy. In the academy, no one who would be protected by privilege or their family bloodline. Everyone was under the same food chain.

“If you pass the first stage, you are low-ranked warrior. Second, middle-ranked. Third, high-ranked. I hope none of you from military clan backgrounds stay only at the second to third ranks like losers.”

Hameng spoke to students with a smirk.

“Oh, but even those of you who only want to be mid to high-ranked warriors will still be given medicine balls. Don’t worry.”

As Hameng said, the academy gave privileges to even the low-ranked warriors, which was a good opportunity to warrior prospects who want to become more powerful. These ranked warriors had a huge difference in power, with the high-ranked warriors being the most powerful and fewer in numbers.

“If you pass the fourth stage, you will be given the title of Squad Leader, and you will be given the title of Clan Leader upon your fifth stage test. For the sixth stage, it won’t matter with you all so I’ll just skip it.”

Hameng said that because he had his reasons. The sixth stage test was almost impossible and less than ten people would manage to pass the test. That’s why Hameng didn’t anticipate such an event.

“And although you all start out with the same cadet rank, you will all come to have different ranks per the progress through your stages. You will then need to obey your superior.”

That was the core element of the academy. One who does not strive higher will be left to rot. Chun Yeowun looked on eagerly. If he had survived until now, it was time for him to go up in the food chain.

“Don’t be too happy. Most of you will not even go further than the third stage.”

Hameng cracked a smile as he gave his closing statement.

“I’m done explaining. Begin forming groups for assigned dorms, and I will proceed with the first test on the stage.”

The students became shocked to hear sudden progress. They didn’t think they would be tested on the first day.

“As I said before, if you fail this test, you are expelled. If you can’t pass this test, you don’t even deserve to be a low-ranked warrior.”

More than half of the students became pale. They thought they would at least learn something before the test, but this meant that anyone with no training had no chance. Chun Yeowun was also shocked.

‘What? First test already?’

He had no internal energy and it was likely for him to fail the test. He had to hope that the test was either easy or did not require internal energy. Hameng declared what the test was.

“The first test will assess your basic skills. You will need at least basic internal energy if you are going to be a warrior of our cult.”

Chun Yeowun frowned. This meant that if there was one without any internal energy, he was going to fail.

“If you fail this test, you will be sent down to the farms or mines for hard labor. Try your best to... no, we do need people to do the dirty work, so don’t try too hard.”

Hameng was joking around, but Chun Yeowun felt uncomfortable after hearing it.

‘Ugh... this is problematic.’

He was furious as he thought that at least the academy did not have traps set up for him. However, the internal energy test on the first day seemed to be too coincidental to think that it wasn’t made for him.

‘Was this why they didn’t want me to train?’

Yeowun now realized why the ladies of six clans did not allow him to train. If he were to be expelled here, he would be cast out and he’d stay within the lowest caste of the cult. This would allow those people to kill him whenever they wanted to.

‘Hmph.’

Chun Mukeum, the prince of Loyal Clan, seemed to be satisfied.

‘I was going to kill him myself, but this will get rid of him. Whoever thought of this is a genius.’

The Loyal Clan did not have a part in not allowing Yeowun to train. Mukeum knew it was one of the six clans who led the plan, but he didn’t realize it was to expel Yeowun from the first stage test. That’s when a beautiful, alluring middle-aged woman came up onto the stage. Hameng pointed at her and said, “She is the Clan Leader of the Lust Clan, and the proctor who will watch over this test. Our fifth elder, Hang Soyu.”

A girl standing in the front row with lavish red silk clothes smiled. She was Chun Wonryou, and she was the sixth rank to the throne from the Lust Clan. The six clans were not involved with any of the tests in the academy except for the first one.

‘What test calls for the fifth elder to come?’

The students were filled with questions and Hameng explained, “This test is a piece of cake. If you fail here, you will never get a chance to even become a low-ranked warrior.”

After she finished, Hang Soyu sat down and readied to play the string instrument that she brought with her. It seemed like people realized what she was going to do and they began plugging their ears while crouching down.

“Well, you kids will not withstand her Musical Energy Wave, but she will control it for you weaklings. With luck, you might even endure it without any internal energy. Haha.”

His last set of words felt like he was talking to Yeowun. The Musical Energy Wave was not something that one could tolerate with just endurance. Chun Yeowun bit his lips.

‘...Dammit.’

The first test was to endure the energy wave attack. This was also the simplest way to easily weed out the unworthy students.

“If they have even the slightest amount of internal energy, they will be able to endure a minute.”

Fitting her clan name, Hang Soyu spoke with a beautiful voice, but none of the students were able to hear it as they were already plugging their ears.

“Those who endure the energy wave for a minute will pass the test! Begin!”

And with the signal, the fifth elder began to play the instrument.

The beautiful sound of the instrument spread through the training ground. However, it wasn't only beautiful. She didn't hadn't even played a measure yet, but tens of boys fell to the ground with bubbles coming out of their mouths.

“Nnnngh...”

“I-I still hear it!”

It was only the beginning. As she plucked the strings, the sound thundered their eardrums and shocked their hearts; some students dropped while grabbed onto their hearts. Enduring such a wave required at least twenty years of internal energy. If it wasn't for the heirs of the six clans or the children from high-ranking clans, there wasn't anyone who had such internal energy.

‘This stings in the ear. You will be down on the ground already, hehe..’

Chun Mukeum was filled with joy, but things weren't going as expected.

‘Huh? What's going on?’

Hang Soyu's fingers that plucked strings began moving faster. Based on the look on her face, it was apparent that she didn't look too happy. It was because she was only looking at Chun Yeowun.

'Why? Why is he not falling down?'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Chun Yeowun, who should not have any internal energy, was not falling. When the fifth elder began playing the instrument, Nano activated the emergency defense mode.

[Sensing strong high and low frequencies from the instrument. They can damage the user's eardrums and body. Activating automatic defense system. Muting all incoming soundwaves to the user.]

Nano usually activated programs per the orders of the user, but when an incoming attack threatened the user's life, it was automatically enabled. It blocked out every soundwave coming into his ears right now.

'...What?'

He only heard Nano's voice in his head the moment Hang Soyu plucked her instrument and he couldn't hear anything else. Yet, countless students were falling down in front of him.

Chapter 10: The first test is a piece of cake (2)

Chun Yeowun was really worried about going through a test, but with Nano, he was able to pass the danger with ease.

‘Did you make me not hear the sound?’

[The soundwaves coming from the instrument might be potentially dangerous to Master. I have stopped your body functions to sense sounds temporarily.]

‘How am I hearing your voice then?’

[The information is being sent directly into your brain.]

‘I don’t get what you’re saying.’

It was hard to understand Nano. More than half the students had fainted already. Some even had blood coming out of their mouths, proving that they had acquired internal damage.

Hang Soyu’s fingers were now fiercely playing the instrument. The tempo had increased much so that even Hameng who stood next to her could feel the intensity. Hameng knew why she was so frustrated.

‘I thought he didn’t have any internal power.’

Hameng was also intrigued by the current situation. He knew that Chun Yeowun was not trained in any martial arts. Thus, he wouldn’t have any internal power, but he seemed to be able to withstand the energy wave without any difficulty. And unlike Chun Yeowun, the other students around him were all on the ground.

“Nnnnghhh...”

“Ugh, your ear’s bleeding!”

“You too!”

And it seemed like it was hard even for those who were enduring it. However, that was also because Hang Soyu was increasing the intensity of her attack due to her frustration.

‘Why is she playing so fiercely?’

The princes of the six clans, who had about thirty years worth of internal energy, could still withstand the attack without that much trouble, but they still sensed the elder’s frustration and that made them curious. They were not allowed to turn back to look, but Mukeum was extremely curious so he had to turn around to see.

‘What?!’

He almost spat out from his mouth.

‘How is he still holding on?’

Chun Yeowun was standing there as if the attack was nothing. Even Mukeum who had about thirty years worth of internal energy through the various medicines he took could feel stinging in his ears, but Yeowun stood there as if he couldn’t hear anything.

‘T...th... that bastard. He had internal energy!’

Chun Mukeum was extremely furious. Chun Yeowun swore that he would not train martial arts or internal energy, but withstanding Hang Soyu's Musical Energy Wave meant that he didn't keep his promise.

'What?'

'What's going on?'

Fourth rank Chun Jongsum and sixth rank Chun Wonryou wondered why Mukeum seemed to be furious and they also turned back.

'W-what?! What's going on?!'

'How can he stand like that without any internal energy?'

They all frowned too. They thought Chun Yeowun would have fallen a long time ago, but he was still standing.

'Nano, if I'm right, those kids up front and the fifth elder who's playing the instrument are angry, right?'

[Analyzing facial muscle movements. Frustration, shock, and anger can be seen from their facial muscles.]

Without even analyzing, it was apparent that they were looking at him with hostility. Yeowun realized what he was doing was angering them.

'They thought I didn't have any internal power, but me enduring this triggered them.'

If this wasn't solved, it would still be a problem even if he passed the test. He had sworn an oath that he would not learn about internal energy until he joined the academy.

'Nano, can you give me an internal injury?'

[Internal injury as in damaging your internal organs?]

‘Yeah. Can you do it or not?’

[It is possible, but I do not recommend damaging your body intentionally, Master.]

‘I see. Then can you injure me when the instrument is finished playing and make me vomit blood?’

[Blood through your mouth?]

‘Yeah.’

He was making his enemies angry. If he did not take any internal damage or vomit blood, they would be suspicious of him. He couldn’t take that risk even before getting the chance to learn martial arts.

[As ordered, processing damage to the internal organs.]

After the time limit was over, Hang Soyu’s patience was at the limit. She was already angry that Yeowun had gained internal energy, but he was now withstanding like as if it was’= nothing.

Her tune changed. Lee Hameng quickly sensed the change and frowned. He knew how she felt but she was now forgetting the purpose of why she was playing her instrument.

Before he could send her the message to stop, she began playing the instrument with half of her power. This attack could not be withstood unless one was a very powerful warrior.

“UGH!”

Students of the high-ranking clans and families turned pale at the moment. They began to vomit blood as their internal organs were damaged, and they weren't the only ones who were in trouble.

'UGH!'

Even the heirs from the six clans couldn't stand the fifth elder's energy wave. They tried to defend themselves as much as they could, but it didn't work. The weakest of the six heirs, Chun Jongsum, began coughing from the internal energy damage and Hameng decided that it had gone too far.

[Stop! This is dangerous! You must not do it any further!]

With that, Hang Soyu also stopped playing. Students who barely withstood it fell to their knees in exhaustion. If she played for a bit longer, all the students might have failed. Hang Soyu became embarrassed that she went out of control, but she was still angry at Chun Yeowun. She was sure that Chun Yeowun had not kept his oath. It was then...

Chun Yeowun's face quickly turned red and went pale, and he sprayed blood from his mouth like a fountain. Everyone who was watching, Hameng, Hang Soyu, and Mukeum, frowned.

'What?'

It was hard to believe that much blood could be vomited out from a person's mouth.

'He wasn't okay?'

It was too much blood to be an act. Chun Yeowun sprayed blood out and fell to his knees with his hands on the ground.

He had definitely taken some heavy internal damage.

‘Nano... you...’

[Program processed as ordered.]

‘I almost d-died!’

People felt pain even when it was a simple vomit. But vomiting blood like a fountain was more painful than he had imagined.

“Uggggggh!”

Chun Yeowun then vomited more blood. The place around him was now drenched in blood, and it was even a terrible sight to even look at.

“Hmph!”

However, unlike the fifth elder who was dumbfounded, Left Guardian Lee Hameng couldn’t just stand and watch. If Chun Yeowun, the son of Lord, did not die from the feud between family members but a test, all the blame was going to be on Hameng. He quickly rushed forward with his movement skill to fly to Yeowun and check on him.

“Hey, kid! Are you okay!? Hey!”

Chun Yeowun felt dizzy after vomiting blood. He almost collapsed to the ground but Hameng got a hold of him.

[Sensing dizziness from 7% blood loss. Activating self-healing mode against organ damage and blood loss.]

Nano spoke of going into healing mode and Yeowun stopped it.

‘No! Not yet.’

[Master’s condition might go into critical danger.]

‘Wait a second.’

Nano stopped its process. Hameng looked at Yeowun’s pale face.

“You could’ve just given up.”

Hameng already had checked to see if he had any internal energy. Contrary to his expectations, Chun Yeowun had no internal energy within him.

‘What? How can this be?’

This meant that Yeowun had endured the attack through sheer will. And for the price, he had taken severe internal damage.

‘This one is crazy. How can one withstand such an attack without any internal energy?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He was astonished. Yeowun really passed the test without a single hint of internal energy inside him. Hameng had heard bad rumors about the Seventh Prince. But who would have thought such a kid from a slave girl would have such a strong mind?

Hameng called out to staff standing outside the training ground.

“Send him to a hospital room.”

As Yeowun was being carried out by the staff, he gave an order to Nano.

‘...Heal me, now.’

Chapter 11: Kid, you are now my apprentice (1)

The fifth elder, Hang Soyou, didn't look all that excited as she watched Chun Yeowun being carried away. The amount of blood he threw out was proof that he had taken heavy damage. Lee Hameng soon walked up to her.

"You went too far."

"W-what are you talking about?"

"You almost killed him."

After she acquired the musical wave skill, she had never seen a person take that much damage. It almost made her think that her attack skill had increased in damage. She became embarrassed at Hameng's words and asked, "He... did he really not have any internal energy?"

She felt much better as she knew that her attack worked, but it was impossible to withstand her attack for so long without internal energy, which she couldn't believe. Hameng shook his head.

"No. None."

"What?"

"He has no internal energy. He kept his oath."

"That can't be... how can one withstand my attack without any internal energy?"

Only about thirty students withstood her attack, and even some of those were down on their knees or vomiting from enduring so much. Moreover, those students had internal energy.

“He should’ve passed out a long time ago.”

“He already had taken internal damage for quite some time. It was his will that kept him standing.”

“His will? You think that makes sense?”

“...It is beyond our imagination.”

It almost made Hameng want to take him in as his apprentice if he wasn’t a bastard son of the Lord. However, Hameng was a realist. He had no intention of taking on such a controversial individual as his own apprentice.

“HAHA! That’s interesting. He just endured it, huh?”

Right Guardian Submeng spoke amicably although he usually paid no interest in other matters. Hameng answered annoyingly, “It’s none of your business. Go away and drink all you want.”

“Bah, I was going anyway without you speaking to me, redhead.”

“Drunkard.”

“Puny girl.”

Submeng spat and walked away from the stage. They were both guardians, but they didn’t get along very well.

“Well, either way, he did not have any internal energy and there is no problem. And for what you did... it will be reported to the Lord.”

“...Understood.”

Hang Soyu was still unconvinced, but she couldn't say anything further because of the warning she had received already.

‘The Left Guardian will never side with that lowly peasant.’

She then walked away and Hameng turned to the students crawling on the training ground.

“Ugh... what should I do now?”

He couldn't continue onto the next step with this situation.

Behind the training ground was the main building of the academy. On the second floor was the first aid room, and Baek Jongmeng, the apprentice of the Baek Jongwu, was here. He had just gotten into the office from the orders of his teacher last night. He was excited to see as many patients as possible within the academy to gain more experience.

That's when someone began banging on the door.

“Doctor! Patients!”

“Already? Come in!”

He had not seen that many patients recently since all the giant Wulin forces were busy training their former warriors and they were in times of peace.

‘This academy is great!’

He was eager at the thought of seeing many patients. As the door opened, two academy staff came in with the patient. It was Chun Yeowun who was drenched in blood.

“What! What kind of test puts a man in such a state?!”

This much blood could only come from fatal sword injuries. The staff members shook their heads and answered, “He has taken serious internal damage. He does not have any internal energy so Left Guardian has asked for you to take special care of him.”

“THIS is from internal damage?”

It had been ten years since he was the apprentice of the famous doctor of the Demonic Cult. He had seen many patients, but he had never seen that much blood from a patient with internal injuries.

“Well, he’s all yours now. We’ll be on our way.”

“Oh, okay.”

The staff knew that they had things to do and that they were needed so they quickly came out of the room. However, one of the staff members stopped curiously. Another staff, who was his superior, scolded him on the spot.

“We’re busy! Come on!”

“Uh, hm. It’s nothing.”

He felt that Chun Yeowun looked much better when he put him down on the bed, but he shook his thoughts away. After the staff was gone, Baek Jongmeng sat next to Yeowun and began checking on him.

“Hmm...”

Yeowun then opened his eyes slightly and looked at Jongmeng. It felt so painful when he was at the training ground, but the self-healing had healed him enough to allow him to get back up.

‘I didn’t think of this..’

He realized this as he was being carried up to the medical room, so he ordered Nano to stop healing him. He just focused on healing his painful throat and neck and decided to let everything stay as is until the doctor worked on him.

“Irregular and fast heartbeat... he must have taken a huge amount of internal damage.”

Jongmeng made the conclusion after checking Yeowun. However, it was still weird to have let out so much blood.

“Not even biting a tongue can do this.”

Jongmeng then walked over to his desk to get some needles when someone burst into his office.

“Oh! My!”

Jongmeng was shocked that he fell to the ground on his butt. He turned to the man who had walked in. It was a middle-aged man with a red nose and a bottle of liquor.

“Right Guardian?”

“Huh? Why are you here?”

“And why are YOU here? I thought you should be at the ceremony?”

“Hah, so are you the doctor of the academy this time?”

Submeng didn't respond to Jongmeng and just kept asking his own questions. Jongmeng sighed as he knew Submeng was this kind of man.

“A little one came to the big league then, eh?”

“Ugh. So, why are you here? I hope it isn't YOU who got hurt?”

“...Oh, is that sarcasm?”

“Hahaha, of course not.”

Submeng then looked away from Jongmeng and turned to the bed. He then smiled with interest.

“Oh? Look at this brat. Interesting kid.”

“W-what? What's going on?”

Submeng then walked up to Chun Yeowun who was on the bed. Yeowun became frustrated.

‘W-what? Why is he here all of a sudden?’

He felt panicked that the Right Guardian himself had come up to the office, thinking that he might have noticed that he was acting all along.

‘...Dammit.’

The terrible stench of alcohol and breath bothered him.

“Why are you pretending to be asleep?”

Yeowun felt his heart sink and flinched. Then, an unknown force pulled him up from the bed. He couldn't move as he hadn't been healed yet, but the internal energy sent by Submeng pinned him straight up.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“If you keep pretending, I'll smack you.”

Yeowun had to wake up. He then saw the drunk man who had been on the stage. Yeowun frowned and retorted, “How did you know?”

Submeng laughed, flashing his yellowed teeth.

“Hahahaha! Aren't you an interesting one?”

Submeng laughed for quite a bit and continued, “Any experienced warrior can see through you if you are awake or not just by listening to your breath, kid.”

Chapter 12

Chapter 12: Kid, you are now my apprentice (2)

‘By the sound of my breathing?’

Yeowun became shocked, and Nano spoke to him.

[The average breathing count for a fifteen to twenty-year-old human male is about sixteen per minute. Your breathing just now was about eight times in one minute, showing your effort to hide your nervous state.]

‘...I don’t need an explanation.’

Yeowun never imagined a mere person could sense such things. Submeng laughed, “Hahaha. I didn’t think kids these days had guts like you.”

‘Huh?’

He thought Submeng was here because he noticed Yeowun faked his damage, but it seems like that wasn’t the case. Instead, he seemed to be pleased.

“Kids these days have no endurance. They always pick the easy way!”

Yeowun felt bad. He didn’t endure anything at all. He just stood there because Nano had cut off all the sound.

“So, what I mean is that you have the guts that no other kid has these days.”

Yeowun didn’t feel comfortable listening to all the compliments that he didn’t deserve. He was going to heal himself after fooling Jongmeng, but listening to all this made him feel his pain again. His face began to go pale.

“Guardian, our patient is not in good condition. We should tend to him first.”

“Ah, yes.”

Submeng then noticed the discoloration on Yeowun’s face. He then let go of his internal energy and allowed Yeowun to lie down on the bed again.

“Let me cut to the chase, kid. I’ll take you in as my apprentice.”

Yeowun’s eyes grew wide, and so did Jongmeng’s. Submeng the Crazy Blade was one of the top ten most powerful warriors in the Demonic Cult. He was also famous throughout all of Wulin.

“What are you talking about?”

Yeowun wasn’t convinced as he had lived a lifetime in banishment and danger. Yet, Submeng looked very serious, if not considering the smell of alcohol.

“I am talking about taking you in as my student.”

“...Guardian. Do you not know who I am?”

Everyone knew about Yeowun in the cult.

“Is there someone who doesn’t know about you?”

“The six clans will not be happy if you take me in.”

Submeng didn’t seem to care. He spoke as if it was nothing.

“Hah, what will those women do? With or without you, they have to compete against themselves anyway.”

Unlike Hameng, Submeng always did what he wanted. The one he feared and followed was the Lord of the Cult. Yeowun became tempted by the offer.

‘But what if this is a trap?’

Yeowun had gone through too many threats so he was suspicious. Jongmeng, who was looking at him from the side, also became interested.

‘So, this is the famous prince.’

He then made a conclusion about Yeowun’s internal energy.

‘So that’s why... they went too far then.’

He couldn’t understand the reason for the amount of blood at first, but if the six clans involved in this, it didn’t seem all that impossible. And Baek Jongmeng’s conclusion was fortunate for Yeowun.

“I don’t know what to say to that offer, especially since I’ll have a teacher in the academy.”

“Ugh, this sounds like I’m begging you to be my apprentice!”

Submeng then chugged his bottle.

‘He’s still not convinced.’

He had never taken any apprentices until now, but seeing Yeowun enduring the sound energy tempted him to take Yeowun as his apprentice. Yet, Yeowun didn’t seem so eager.

“Okay. If you are still unconvinced, I will offer you something you can’t put down.”

He then took out some wrinkled old paper and it placed down on the bed. However, Yeowun couldn’t move so he couldn’t check what it was.

“Heh, are you curious about what this is?”

“What is it?”

“It is what you need most if you are to survive here.”

“What?”

“You took internal damage on your first day at the academy. Don’t you think you will be left behind?”

The Academy Chief was Hameng, but Submeng also had experience as a student in the academy. The academy progressed differently each time, but everything worked in similar ways.

“You can take the first test through sheer will, but you can’t pass the second step with that.”

“Th-that’s...”

“And you are already behind. Are you still going to be stuck inside the medical room for two weeks? That will push you back even further.”

Submeng’s words were correct. Yeowun had ways to heal in hours if needed, but that would cause the six clans to be suspicious, so he had to stay here for a few more days.

“Do you know why the redhead sent you here?”

“Redhead? You mean the Left Guardian?”

“Yeah.”

“Is it because I took internal damage?” Yeowun asked awkwardly.

“Of course, but isn’t it weird? There are other kids who took internal damage, but why aren’t they here?”

‘Huh? That’s true!’

As Submeng said, more than half of the students fell and most of them had taken internal damage during the first test. Yet none of them had been brought here.

“Most people of Wulin can heal themselves from internal damage through meditating. Moreover, they heal faster with help from a doctor or medicine.”

“Meaning?”

“Yes. The other kids didn’t need to be sent here because they can heal themselves.”

“Oh.”

Yeowun then realized what he meant. It meant Hameng verified that Yeowun did not have any internal energy, meaning he couldn’t heal himself and had to be sent down here.

‘Let’s finish it then.’

Submeng then decided to put an end to his offer.

“Do you think a boy who can’t even meditate can heal in a few days?”

‘...Yes.’

He could heal in a day thanks to Nano, but that was top secret.

‘Yes, he is right. If I’m to move forward onto the next step, I will need internal energy and... oh!’

He then thought of something he had forgotten up until now.

“I forgot. I heard that if I pass the first test, I will be given the medicine ball and access to the first floor of the academy’s library.”

There were various books on the first floor of the library that would be pretty helpful.

“Hahahahaha!”

Submeng then burst out in laughter and Yeowun was startled.

“I would do that too, but it seems like the redhead skipped real important one there.”

“What? What did he skip?”

“It doesn’t mean that you are always allowed to enter the library. You can only enter once after every test.”

“What?”

That was far from having full access to it.

“All those important books are in there. Do you think you will be able to freely access such a place?”

Submeng was amused by Yeowun's shocked reaction and continued, "You can only stay on the first floor for two hours. And as you move higher up, you will be given more time because the books on those floors are complicated, but you still don't have enough time."

"So, there's a time limit too? How exciting."

"Not to mention, you cannot copy any of the content down. It'd be good if you could memorize maybe one book or two. Most use all the time available trying to find the book they want."

This was vital information that Hameng did not share. If people entered the library without knowing this, they'd frantically waste their time until it was over.

'But I have Nano.'

Yeowun then realized he had the Nano Machine, which could scan a book in seconds.

'This actually works better for me!'

Two hours was probably enough for him to even scan hundreds of books. The information Submeng gave to Yeowun so that he would feel discouraged actually worked in the opposite way. Submeng did not know this, so he thought it was about the right time.

"So, a kid like you has a limit to how far you can go without any help."

Most students who entered the academy were trained in their family martial arts at least. Yeowun thought for a second and asked, "The paper... is it the Breath of Internal Energy?"

'I threw the bait, and you bit it!'

He was glad that Yeowun had caught on, but he acted like he wasn't excited.

"Heh, so you are not all that dumb."

"Why are you..."

"If you become my apprentice, I will teach you the Breath of Internal Energy for the first lesson."

Yeowun was tempted. He had longed for it, but he couldn't learn it because of the oath. Submeng then knew his offer had worked.

'Does this man really want me as his apprentice?'

Yeowun looked at Submeng. He looked like a drunkard, but he was still a Right Guardian. Yeowun also felt that he really wanted to help him out.

'Then I should make him on my side.'

He knew how helpful it was to have one ally when everyone else was an enemy. He then barely got up with a pale face and got down from the bed.

"Oh?"

Submeng looked at him intriguingly and Yeowun bowed deeply to the ground.

"I accept Right Guardian as my teacher. Please take my bow."

Yeowun bowed, shivering from the pain. Submeng became satisfied. Yeowun tried to continue bowing, when suddenly he was pulled up by internal energy.

“Stop. The blood of Chun does not bow to anyone other than the Lord himself.”

That was the law of the cult.

“Heh, my apprentice.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Submeng then felt embarrassed for saying such words and he held up Yeowun with his internal energy to put him back on the bed.

“You will need to rest today. So until I come back, look through that note and learn.”

Submeng then grinned and walked out. It was unexpected, but it was fortunate that Yeowun had gotten such an ally in the academy.

And at the training ground, squad forming was taking place. And when it was almost over, Chun Mukeum of the Loyal Clan grinned ominously.

‘We are in the same squad, you peasant. Hehehehe...’

Chapter 13: Too fast private lesson (1)

After Chun Yeowun was taken to the medical room, the ceremony came to a halt as all the students needed to meditate to heal.

‘Hmmm.’

People were curious as to what would happen to Yeowun who vomited blood out from his mouth, but Left Guardian Lee Hameng’s attention was elsewhere. The first rank to the heir, Chun Muyeon of the Wise Clan, and fifth rank Yuchan of the Blade Clan had endured the first test as if it were nothing.

‘They are beyond expectations.’

Not taking any damage from Hang Soyou’s half-powered attack would require at least hundreds of internal energy.

‘They are beyond the level of students.’

They were already at the level of powerful warriors. It obvious why the rumor of the Wise and Blade Clans taking the throne was spread.

However, they weren’t the only ones who had withstood it without taking any damage. The other members of the six clans endured without much trouble and there were also eight other students who also endured it.

‘I thought they were all weaklings, but this is interesting.’

It felt like there might be powerful warriors in this year's academy. All in all, that was going to be decided after four years when it was all over.

A total of 415 students passed the first test. It was 200 less than the first test from ten years ago as the test had been more difficult due to Chun Yeowun.

Not everyone knew it, but some of the students who looked back like Mukeum were angry to see the intensity of the test because of Yeowun.

After dragging out the failed students, all the remaining students were officially appointed as cadets and they each were given a bronze tag with the number 3, symbolizing that they were now low-ranked warriors of the Demonic Cult.

"Is this the beginning now?!"

"I will go up to the top!"

Then the students began dividing themselves into groups. Hameng grouped them based on their personal information and the result of the test. Other than the five groups of 20, the other remaining groups had 21 people.

"Do you know why there are twenty groups?"

"Mado!"

Cadets answered 'mado' to Hameng's question. This was due to the instructions on answering with 'mado' for any answer that required a 'yes' or a 'no'. No other answers were allowed.

“Until you pass the third test, all of you will be tested on the same day and same time.”

The academy had no intention to waste money on training up to the third step which was for high-ranked warriors. Therefore, they had a set amount of time allocated for each of the tests.

“The amount you need to learn the ways of a middle-rank warrior is three weeks.”

‘Only three weeks?’

The cadets were frustrated. They were shocked by the unexpectedly quick pace.

“After three weeks, the twenty groups will battle. Ten groups will be allowed to move onto the next step.”

This meant that two hundred people were going to fail.

“This is the only and last test where you will need to work together, so if you want to compete against yourself within the group, you can happily fail the test and leave.”

Most groups were equally formed, but there were some groups with a fewer number of students from the powerful clans. Thus, they weren’t all that excited.

“This ends today’s schedule. You can return to your dorms according to your groups and rest. Starting tomorrow, you will be taught nicely by the staff that are standing in front of you right now.”

The students then turned to their instructors who were standing there expressionlessly. When they saw the staff members dragging the failed students out by clubbing them with their black clubs hanging on their waists, the students shivered.

“You are dismissed!”

“DISMISSED!”

Students then returned to their assigned dorms. However, one of the students stood in place while everyone left with exhausted expressions. It was Chun Mukeum of the Loyal Clan. Instructor Impeng, who was assigned to Mukeum’s 8th group, walked up to him, “3rd cadet. Why are you still standing there?”

Until the students passed the fourth test, they were called upon by their numbers.

“I have a question to ask, Instructor.”

“You know I won’t answer questions that are not related to training.”

“Yes, sir.”

Instructors did not know all of their students’ names and faces, but they at least knew about the princes of the six clans since they were going to be the future leaders of the cult.

“Good. What is the question?”

“I am sure that I will be the leader of my group.”

‘Hmm.’

This wasn’t announced as it was going to be decided tomorrow, but Mukeum already knew that they were going to have group leaders.

‘They don’t care about the rules.’

He knew the six clans would not keep secrets from their princes regarding the academy, but it was rather disappointing to see it in reality.

“One of my group’s cadets, the 7th cadet, is in the medical room.”

“And?”

“I do not want one of our cadets to be left out or missing so that our entire group fails.”

“What is it that you are proposing?”

“I want to let him know what we had heard today while he was gone so that he will not be left out.”

He thought all of the six princes did not like Yeowun, but it seemed like Mukeum was different. Impeng became pleased and nodded, “Good. I applaud you for your sincerity, and you seem to know about the importance of this second test. So, I will take your advice and go to the 7th cadet and give him the information myself.”

“Huh? N-no, that won’t be necessary. I can go myself...”

“The main building is off-limits to cadets except under special circumstances.”

Chun Mukeum became frustrated.

‘Goddammit! This is bullshit!’

His purpose was to go to Chun Yeowun and break his leg or something, but he didn’t think he wouldn’t be allowed to enter the building at all. He tried to imply that he was the heir of one of the six clans, but he realized his background didn't apply in this academy and gave up.

"Understood, Instructor. Oh, and can you tell me when the 7th cadet will be returning to us?"

He then needed to wait until Yeowun returned.

Around dinner time, Instructor Impeng went to Chun Yeowun's medical room as promised. Yeowun was in self-healing mode and was asleep. Impeng couldn't wake Yeowun who was badly injured and asked Baek Jongmeng on how long it would take for the boy to wake up.

"Hmm. He will need at least two weeks in bed."

"Two weeks? That will be too long for him to move up to the second step. Can't he wake up earlier?"

Impeng didn't like the idea of letting his group fail due to one student. It was survival for the students, but it was a competition for the instructors.

"Well, he doesn't have any internal energy so it takes time."

Impeng then had to leave knowing that it would take two weeks for Chun Yeowun to heal.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

'Well, he's out of luck.'

He thought Chun Yeowun was unlucky, but he later learned that it was not true.

The next day, someone walked into the medical room before dawn. It was Submeng the Crazy Blade.

“Heh heh... apprentice. It’s your teacher.”

He came back too fast.

Chapter 14: Too fast private lesson (2)

A day ago, Baek Jongmeng had to quickly work on Yeowun. He tried to put needles in Yeowun so he could heal up.

‘Will it be suspicious if I get better so fast?’

If Yeowun was to heal with the Nano Machine, he’d be fully healed within a day. He then became concerned. Making himself heal fast would be suspicious, but he couldn’t dare to waste time and risk being left behind.

‘Would it be better I just fill the time needed without becoming suspicious? Let’s ask the doctor how long it will take me to heal and choose.’

Yeowun then turned to Baek Jongmeng who was preparing his needles.

“Doctor.”

“I’m Baek Jongmeng.”

“Huh?”

“Call me with my last name too,” Jongmeng grinned.

“Doctor Baek. How bad is it?”

Chun Yeowun knew his body was damaged due to Nano, but he became curious as to how the doctor saw it. He looked at Yeowun’s pale face and sighed.

“Well, it will take you about two weeks to return to the academy.”

“What?”

Yeowun was shocked. He knew it might take a long time, but that was too long.

“Don’t be too disappointed.”

“But if it takes that long...”

“I don’t know what you think of this, but I will keep your secret about learning from the Right Guardian.”

“Oh...”

Jongmeng had witnessed the Right Guardian taking Yeowun as his apprentice. This was not allowed in the academy and Jongmeng had every right to report it to the Chief, but he didn’t. Jongmeng also had a hard time in his younger days as he too was born to peasants and he faced hardships until he was accepted as a doctor for the Demonic Cult. That’s why he felt sympathetic toward Chun Yeowun.

“...Thank you. I will not forget this debt,” Yeowun thanked the doctor.

The doctor didn’t think much of it anyway because he thought that Yeowun had no other chances after becoming Submeng’s apprentice. It would give him a good chance to learn, but he was already way too behind.

“Okay, lie down then. I will put the needle in you.”

Yeowun then lay back down on the bed.

[Sensing attack on the body due to the iron needle.
Activating self-defense...]

‘No, don’t. This is a medical procedure done by a doctor.’

[Stopping self-defense mode.]

‘Can’t you determine if it’s a medical procedure or not?’
Yeowun asked Nano.

[If you do not warn me prior to the medical procedure, any act of damaging your body will be considered as an attack.]

‘Okay. From now on, don’t react to those that I take accept willingly.’

[Understood.]

As Yeowun ordered Nano, Jongmeng began putting needles into Yeowun’s body.

[Analyzing the needle-based acupunctural procedure. The needle placed over the spot is enhancing regeneration in the damaged stomach area.]

‘Oh.’

Yeowun had no interest in medical procedures, but it was fascinating to see it work.

“Take a nap while I work on this.”

Jongmeng offered Yeowun to take a nap. Yeowun then came up with an idea.

‘Nano, can you heal me and pretend that I still have wounds internally to fool others like the doctor?’

[I do not understand your request, Master.]

‘I mean, if I am healed, then it will be suspicious. So, can you fool the doctor so he won’t know that I’m healed?’

[Positive. It is possible to change the pulse temporarily while the doctor is checking it.]

If that was possible, then he could heal himself. If he could fool the doctor for two weeks, this might be the best chance for him to learn about internal energy from Submeng.

‘Good. Then heal me and fool the doctor whenever he checks on me.’

[Yes, Master. Activating self-healing mode.]

After the Nano Machine began working on him, he was healed under thirty minutes. Yeowun was able to get a good night’s sleep, until an unwanted guest intruded to the room before dawn.

Submeng’s stench of alcohol permeated the air around the room. Yeowun looked at him with a shocked written on his face.

“T...teacher?”

“Hmm? Is that a formal greeting?”

Yeowun was surprised as to why he had come so early in the morning.

“Good morning, Teacher.”

Yeowun then got up and bowed. Submeng replied, “Good. So did you do my homework?”

“Huh?”

Yeowun, who was still not fully awake yet, was baffled. He then asked, “Wait... do you mean what you told me about the internal energy and how I should read it?”

“Yes. Didn’t I tell you to memorize it all before I came back?”

Yeowun was dumbfounded. Nano had healed him, but he should have been sick in the bed without it and Submeng should’ve known this.

‘...He is quick-tempered.’

Submeng looked at Yeowun with a suspicious glance, asking if Yeowun had not memorized it yet and Yeowun sighed.

“Of course... I memorized it.”

He didn’t memorize it of course as the Nano Machine had just scanned it for him. Submeng became intrigued.

‘Oh? He memorized it while he was sick in bed?’

Submeng knew that he was being absurd. He was only here so that Yeowun could memorize it, but it was surprising to hear that Yeowun really did it.

“G-great. It is nice to hear that you are listening to your teacher.”

“Thank you. But aren’t you too early?”

The sun hadn’t even risen yet.

“Why? You don’t like it?”

“...No, sir.”

Chun Yeowun always woke up early since he had to be awake for any assassination attempts. He just asked if there was a need to visit him so early in the morning.

“Good. Let me tell you a vital piece of information then.”

Submeng dragged a chair next to the bed and continued, “I have only two weeks to teach you.”

“Huh?”

“I can meet you here in this medical room, but once you return to the dorm, I can’t contact you.”

Learning martial arts by anyone else other than the assigned instructor was forbidden in the academy. Submeng was already breaking the rules.

“I couldn’t think of that, sorry.”

“Yes, well you just joined the academy yesterday. So that’s why I had to come early so that no one will know.”

“Huh?”

“If I stay here in bright daylight, do you think people will not become suspicious?”

Submeng did whatever he wanted, but he knew what he could and could not do. And he wanted to train Yeowun more than ever.

“I have to report to the Lord in the afternoon, so I can only come before dawn to teach you.”

He had wanted to come earlier, but he had to wait until the guards and staff members loosened their patrols before dawn. He only was able to come here because the guard was dozing off.

“Thank you, Teacher.”

Chun Yeowun became thankful for Submeng doing things to this extent to teach him.

“Good. Then let’s get started.”

“Now?”

“Didn’t you just hear that I don’t have much time?”

Yeowun then got up from the bed.

“Sit down on the ground.”

“...Yes, sir.”

“Come on!”

Yeowun sat down on the ground while Submeng sat behind him and placed his hand on Yeowun’s back.

“What are you doing?”

“We don’t have time, so I’ll rummage the breathing into you.”

“Rummage..? what?”

“It is what my teacher created. You don’t have to fill the qi. I will do the rest.”

“Uh, Teacher?”

“Hang on. Don’t scream.”

And before Yeowun could speak, powerful internal energy flew into Yeowun. A jolt of pain spread throughout his body.

“NNNGH!!”

“Shut up!”

It almost made him scream in pain. The internal energy then flowed through the entire body. Yeowun did not notice this, but Nano who always activated self-defense mode did not work on this pain.

Chapter 15

Chapter 15: Too fast private lesson (3)

The Nano Machine was programmed to activate whenever the user was in danger. Nano considered Submeng's act of sending internal energy was not dangerous as Yeowun had ordered to Nano, but it quickly began analyzing the effects.

[Detected incoming formless energy into the body.
Analyzing energy. Found energy to be called qi or chakra.
Proceeding to analyze the effect on the user's body.]

Yeowun did not know this was happening as he was busy enduring the pain. However, Nano's analysis would later will bring him a great fortune.

'Did he really not learn anything?'

Submeng became curious. Yeowun's body had no problems or dirty particles that blocked the flow of internal energy.

'...Is it the work of the Lord?'

This was due to the fact that the Nano Machine had extracted all the dirty particles from the body, but Submeng did not know this so he only could guess of Yeowun's father.

'So, he did love Lady Hwa then.'

He was a guardian, so he had seen a lot of things aside from the Lord. The Lord never loved any of the ladies from the six clans aside from Lady Hwa.

Submeng then took off his hand. He felt exhausted from stirring the heavy internal energy and swept his sweat,

“Ha... ha... so, did you memorize the flow?”

“Yes, I did!”

Submeng was taught with this reckless method by his teacher, and it worked best for students who did not know anything about internal energy.

“I’m sure that was painful, but it is the perfect method to teach those like you who have no internal energy.”

Submeng was pleased to see Yeowun endure the pain.

“The goal is to finish this in seven days. You will need to get the internal energy in you within that time frame. You got it?”

That was a bold goal for most people, but Submeng really wanted to accomplish this.

‘If I can get the internal energy in a week, I can take this pain.’

“I will make it happen, Teacher.”

“Good. This will be the end of today’s lesson then.”

Submeng then walked out of the medical treatment room.

The morning came and all cadets gathered at the training ground. The instructors also looked at their group members.

‘As expected.’

Instructors exchanged glances with each other as they saw bruises on many of the students. This was due to the fact that the students fought against each other overnight to set the ranks between themselves. The reason why instructors weren't there overnight was to let this happen on its own.

'So, are they the leaders?'

Without having to appoint a leader, the ones that stood on top of the rank stood in front of each group's line. As expected, most of the heirs of the six clans were the leader of their respected groups. However, only one group had an unexpected outcome.

'Did he defeat the 4th cadet?'

The 4th cadet was the heir of Poison clan, Chun Jongsum, and the boy in the front of the line was the 18th cadet. He had a long scar on his right eye and had heavy bruises on his face, hinting of a brutal overnight fight.

'This is interesting.'

Lee Hameng became intrigued as he looked at everyone. Most cadets didn't dare to attack princes who might become a Lord in the future, but the 18th cadet seemed to have the guts and power to do so.

'Fool.'

'Did he lose to a low clan boy?'

Other heirs looked disgustingly at Chun Jongsum, but he couldn't raise his head up from embarrassment.

"You are all here, and we will begin."

"MADO!"

And the training began.

“We’ll move onto auditorium. From the first group, go!”

“Forward!”

The training was divided into the morning and afternoon sessions. In the morning, they all gathered in the auditorium to learn about basic war tactics and they were sent to the training ground in the afternoon to practice formations. And they were given free time before dinner so they could train on their own.

In the dormitory of the 8th group on the first day—

“AAAARGH! Dammit!”

Chun Mukeum was angered by what he heard from Instructor Impeng earlier. The other cadets were silent and afraid of Mukeum.

“How can he be in the hospital for two weeks?!”

“I don’t think the doctor’s call is a lie or mistake.”

There was only one boy who spoke calmly with the annoyed Chun Mukeum. It was 80th cadet who had short hair and a protruding chin. He was Jahyun, one of the members of the Loyal Clan. His mother and Mukeum’s mother were related and he had sworn his allegiance to Mukeum since very young.

“No way. I’m sure he’s faking it.”

Mukeum was annoyed that he wouldn’t get a chance to attack Yeowun for another two weeks.

“That damn dirty peasant lying in bed comfortably? It gets on my nerves.”

No one knew why, but Mukeum's anger toward Yeowun was beyond that of the other heirs.

"Dammit!"

He kicked the furniture inside the dorm and Jahyun reassured him.

"Prince, calm down. Why don't we do this?"

"Huh?"

Jahyun then began to whisper, and Mukeum listened, his face turned to a smile.

Five days passed and it was about time for afternoon training. They had trained with wooden swords and shields until now, but they were now given real swords and iron shields for the last day of formation practice.

Jahyun looked at the 23rd cadet and asked, "Are you ready?"

The cadet nodded.

"Let's begin the formation training! Keep your distance to each other! Form!"

With Instructor Impeng's words, a red flag was brought up and the cadets began moving quickly to move into formation. Then suddenly...

"AAARGH!"

Someone screamed before they had even gotten into formation.

"What's going on?!"

Impeng quickly ran up and saw the 23rd cadet in pain from a sword stab him.

“You fools! I told you to keep your distance!”

Impeng spoke angrily and pushed Jahyun again who was responsible for bumping into the other cadet. Impeng then decided that the cadet needed medical attention and carried him into the building. Mukeum grinned as he watched.

“Ooh?!”

Jongmeng was dozing off on his desk when Impeng burst in, startling him

“What’s going on?”

Jongmeng had been bored since he didn’t have any patients other than Yeowun until now.

‘Finally a patient!’

He hid his excitement and asked, “What happened to him?”

“He was hurt while training with real swords. I couldn’t pull out the sword since it might make him lose too much blood.”

Impeng was panting since he ran over here.

“Oh, let’s move him to the bed over here.”

Jongmeng then guided them to an empty bed and got his tools ready.

“Will he be okay?”

Jongmeng then ripped the cadet’s clothes and pulled out the sword. Blood began to pour out but Jongmeng quickly cleaned off the wound and stopped the bleeding.

“It missed the vital part. He’s lucky.”

Impeng then sat down on the chair and sighed with relief.

“Whew, so you do care about your students?”

“Yeah, they are under my care.”

Every instructor was responsible for any accidents until the second test. Two of his cadets were already under medical care, which meant he needed to draft up an explanation report.

“Well, he will need to stay here for a while. I need to sew his wound up.”

“Oh wow.”

The cadet needed at least three days in the medical room. And it was after Jongmeng left the office that someone got up from the bed carefully. It was the 23rd cadet who was asleep after being sewed. He glanced around to check if anyone was out there and returned to the doctor’s tool cabinet to take out a knife.

“Whew.”

He then crept up to the bed near the window that was covered with a curtain and pulled it open.

There was a boy lying down on the bed. He was asleep. The 23rd cadet mumbled, “Don’t blame me. I’m only doing this to save myself.”

He then placed the knife at Yeowun’s foot muscle. He was going to cut it so that Yeowun couldn’t walk.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

When he placed the knife on Yeowun’s leg, Nano spoke to Yeowun.

[Sensing hostile action on the user’s leg muscle. Activating self-defense mode.]

“W-what?! Nnngaaaaaargh!”

The 23rd cadet screamed from the powerful electric shock that came through the knife and fell down with all of his hair burnt. Chun Yeowun then opened his eyes and murmured as he looked down at the cadet.

“As I expected.”

Chapter 16

Chapter 16: He lied to everyone (1)

In the hospital room in the main building of the Demonic Academy, near midnight...

“Nngh...”

The 23rd cadet woke up after fainting from the electric shock. His body shivered from the aftermath, and all he remembered was that he had been stunned by an unknown force while trying to cut Chun Yeowun’s leg.

‘W-why did I pass out?’

He looked around, but he was still in the medical room.

‘What is going on?’

He glanced around and felt that it was weird. The cadet normally could feel the hair that touched his shoulder, but when he moved around, he couldn’t feel any.

“...No. It can’t be.”

He couldn’t feel any of his hair. The cadet then got up and tried to find a mirror, but before he could get up, a powerful force pushed him back down on the bed.

“Ugh!”

There was no damage to his muscles, but his wounds were sewed with a needle, so the pain still lingered. He then looked down at his body. There was a rope that tied him down to the bed. He couldn’t get out of it no matter how hard he tried.

“W-who tied me down here?!”

“Me.”

The curtain was pulled and someone appeared. It was Chun Yeowun. The 23rd cadet became shocked and gasped “H-how did you?!”

“How? You passed out, so I put you back in bed.”

“Passed out?!”

So what he thought was correct. He then became concerned about the whole situation. Chun Yeowun, who should be in bed due to his internal injuries, was walking around just fine. Not to mention, he had tied him down to the bed. And of course, there was his hair too.

“W-where’s my hair?!”

“Oh, yeah. You’re bald now.”

Yeowun grinned and the 23rd cadet writhed, trying to scream.

“No- NO!! I can’t be- NO! Me? Bald?! NO!”

“Shut up.”

The 23rd cadet tried to scream but Chun Yeowun struck him down with his fist, making him pass out again.

“He’s too noisy. I should put have him bite on a rag or something,” Yeowun mumbled. It didn’t take long for the 23rd cadet to be awake again. He tried to yell again this time, but he realized he had a rag in his mouth that stopped him from making sounds.

Yeowun then sat down on the chair next to the bed. The 23rd cadet came back to his senses. He now knew what the situation was like for him.

“!!!!!!”

“You have a rag in your mouth. I wouldn’t try to say anything I were you.”

Yeowun’s cold voice made the 23rd cadet’s eyes shake. He thought Yeowun was a foolish prince who did not know anything, but it turns out it wasn’t.

‘Was he like this on that day too?’

Yeowun glared at him with a cold expression. The 23rd cadet then realized that his life was in danger.

“Hey, do you know how I survived until today?’ Yeowun asked. “Can you even guess how many assassins like you come to kill or poison me?”

Yeowun’s voice had a deep hatred in it. His life was like a storm.

“What is this?”

Yeowun flashed something on his hand to the 23rd cadet. It was the knife that the 23rd cadet had stolen to cut Yeowun’s leg muscle. Yeowun then pressed the knife against the 23rd cadet’s neck and threatened him, “You tried to play with me, so you must know how painful it is to get stabbed with this? Oh, it might kill you too.”

The 23rd cadet became fear-stricken. Yeowun looked terrifying.

“Well, you better talk then.”

The 23rd cadet swallowed his empty throat.

“Who sent you?”

The 23rd cadet thought hundreds of ways to get out of this situation and came up with an idea. As he tried to talk, Yeowun took out the rag out from his mouth.

“Talk.”

“Hah... hah..”

The cadet panted heavily before he began to talk.

“I don’t know what you are talking about.”

“Huh?”

“I don’t know what you’re talking about. Besides, do you think you’ll walk out fine if you kill me in a medical room inside the academy?”

The 23rd cadet remembered of the rules of the academy. It was forbidden for students to hurt each other outside training or official duels.

‘You think you can hurt me?’

The 23rd cadet became instantly relieved and arrogant. Yeowun then frowned.

“Hmm. So, it didn’t work then.”

“Don’t even think about it. And even if you torture me, I won’t open my mouth.”

Yeowun then gave the 23rd cadet a weird look.

“Well then. Should I try it whether you open your mouth or not?”

“Huh?”

Yeowun then placed the rag back into his mouth and went to the cabinet to take out some long needles. The 23rd cadet’s eyes grew wide with shock.

‘W-what is he trying to do with that?!’

“You know, my place didn’t have these kinds of things. But this place is full of it.”

The 23rd cadet felt sweat running down his forehead. Yeowun then grabbed his left wrist. Cadet clenched his fist quickly, but Yeowun grabbed it and opened it forcefully.

‘Ho-how is he so strong?!’

Everyone knew that Yeowun did not learn any martial arts, but he was too strong right now.

‘Please!!’

As his fingers were stretched, Yeowun cracked an evil smile.

“This will hurt.”

He poked the giant needle between the cadet’s finger and nail.

“NNNNNNNNNNNGHHHH!”

The pain made the 23rd cadet cry. It was so painful that veins popped up on his neck. Yeowun did not care about the sight and took another finger to poke the nail down.

“NGNGNGGGHGHHRHHHH!”

It was only two needles, but it was too much pain for the boy to endure. He writhed in pain and Yeowun spoke to him for the last time.

“Well, you told me you won’t spill through torture, so just consider it as my way of getting revenge.”

The 23rd cadet then shuddered and tried to speak, but there was no use. It was the start of terrible torture. Soon, all of the fingers on his left hand had needles stuck underneath the nails. He had passed out two times due to the pain already.

Yeowun then got up and dragged the chair to the right side of the bed. The 23rd cadet knew what this meant so he shed his tears in fear. He tried to speak as hard as he could, trying to spit out the rag in the process.

“NGH! NGH!”

Yeowun smiled, “You want to speak then? You should’ve told me earlier.”

He grinned and took the rag out of the cadet’s mouth. He had bitten on it so hard that white rag had bloodstains on it. He then panted for a second and tried to say something, but Yeowun spoke first.

“Chun Mukeum, right?”

“H-how did you...?”

Yeowun had guessed correctly. He didn't seem to know who was behind the plot, but it was enough to make 23rd cadet surprised.

"You're in my group right? The 8th group."

"...Y-yes sir."

The 23rd cadet answered politely, still fear-stricken from being tortured. However, he was curious as to how Chun Yeowun knew that he was in the 8th group and knew that even the 23rd cadet himself was in that same group.

"Well, your tag is here."

Yeowun pointed at the 23rd cadet's number tag.

"But how did you know.."

"Well, thanks to our group leader, our instructor comes to me every morning to teach me what I'm missing."

This was what Chun Mukeum had not even thought about. Since the morning session was done in the auditorium, each instructor had nothing to do so Impeng used this opportunity to visit Chun Yeowun to teach him basic martial arts techniques. It was his effort to not allow his group to fail, and Chun Yeowun was able to find out who was in his group and what his group number was.

"Well, I already guessed it, but I just wanted to hear it from your mouth."

The 23rd cadet couldn't believe that this boy was the foolish prince that Mukeum and Jahyun had told him about.

'He is definitely not just some foolish kid!'

He was a monster in hiding actually. It was terrifying to guess how fearful he would be if he acquired such power.

“I still got good information from you, so let’s finish it here.”

“R-really?!”

The 23rd cadet became hopeful at the words.

“Yeah. And don’t let other people know what happened here, okay?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He almost wanted to get up and bow in obedience, but his body was bound so he couldn’t do that. Yeowun grinned and placed his finger on the blood point of the 23rd cadet’s body.

“Huh?!”

The 23rd cadet then began falling asleep. Sending power over to the blood point required some amount of internal energy, but he knew Chun Yeowun had none.

‘He was lying to everyone!’

And the 23rd cadet’s first day in the medical room ended just like that.

Chapter 17

Chapter 17: He lied to everyone (2)

A few hours after the incident in the medical room, Submeng visited the medical room as usual. However, he was more excited than his visit a few days ago since Chun Yeowun had finally achieved gaining internal energy within his stomach yesterday.

‘This one is real.’

Submeng was truly astounded. The one week he first spoke of was actually much shorter than what he expected it to be. His teacher’s way of teaching how to acquire internal energy usually required at least two to three weeks, even months. Yet Yeowun had achieved it within five days.

‘Hehe... I can move on with the next steps then.’

He now realized why his colleagues told him to take an apprentice. If the apprentice was talented, it gave the teacher more satisfaction in teaching.

“Apprentice Chun Yeowun. Good morning, Teacher.”

“Yes, my apprentice.”

And he was very polite too. Aside from the first day when he came in unannounced in the morning, Yeowun always woke up early and waited for Submeng to arrive to kneel in front of him. Submeng asked, “Where is it?”

“I have it under my bed.”

Chun Yeowun then went to the bed near the window and brought out a small wooden chest. As it was opened, the thick smell of medicinal herbs filled the area. It was the Black Dragon Ball given to students who had passed the first test. This was the medicinal ball that the Demonic Cult created to allow one to acquire twenty years worth of internal energy after consuming it.

Submeng looked at it with satisfaction and drank from his liquor bottle. If he instructed Yeowun to eat this while he was teaching him, Yeowun would safely acquire twenty years worth of internal energy without much loss.

‘That will put him at the start line at least.’

If it happened, that would be a great feat.

“Heh. Oh, but who is that kid?”

“Oh.”

Submeng pointed at the bed in the middle of the room that was hidden by a curtain. He never heard the other’s breathing since he started coming here. The boy’s breathing was shallow, as if he had been put to sleep from a blood point.

Submeng got up and pulled the curtain to see a bald boy with linen bandages wrapped around on top of his body. He was put to sleep from the blood point as expected.

“Oh? You poked his blood point?”

He had never taught Yeowun about any blood points, but it seemed that Yeowun had acquired this before.

“He attacked me after Doctor Baek went home.”

“He attacked you?”

Submeng frowned. This meant that the bald boy did not fear being kicked out of the academy. If that was the case, someone was watching his back. Submeng asked, "Who is it?"

"It's a kid from the Loyal Clan in my group."

"Hah! Loyal Clan? They are full of fools!"

The Loyal Clan had a history of having people causing trouble, perhaps due to the characteristics of their martial art.

"Well, you sure do have a tough life."

"...That is alright. I'm used to it."

Yeowun was really used to such things, but Submeng didn't feel good about the fact that a young boy like Yeowun was used to being attacked.

"Huh?"

Submeng then pressed the blood point of the 23rd cadet again and gave Yeowun some advice.

"If you poke it with a year's worth or less amount of internal energy, it wears off after a few hours. If you want it to be perfect, then you need at least ten years. Got it?"

"Yes, Teacher," Yeowun answered. With Submeng working on the blood point, there was no need to worry about the 23rd cadet waking up. He couldn't let anyone know that he was being taught by Right Guardian Submeng.

"Take out the ball and consume it."

"Do I swallow it?"

“No. You have to chew it before swallowing it so that you can absorb all the energy.”

If Submeng did not give him such advice, Yeowun would have only acquired half of the energy. He was lucky to have Submeng.

As he chewed on the ball, a bitter taste filled his mouth and made him feel disgusted. After barely chewing it down and swallowing it, Yeowun sat down on the floor with his feet crossed.

“If you start using the Breathing of Thousand Martial, I will help you absorb the Black Dragon Ball’s energy better.”

“Understood. Thank you.”

“Now, start.”

Chun Yeowun then began breathing using the skill, and Submeng placed both of his hands on Yeowun’s back to press internal energy into Yeowun. As the ball began spreading itself in Yeowun’s body, Nano’s voice could be heard.

[A substance which aids powerful energy activation has been consumed. It is reproducing by reacting to the energy that flows within the user’s fourteen veins. Will you accept its absorption by quickening the body cycle?]

Yeowun couldn’t understand most of what Nano was saying, but it seemed like it was going to help with absorbing the ball, so Yeowun gave a short answer.

[Activating.]

And with that, the Nano Machine inside his body quickly began activating his body functions and cycle to absorb the ball.

“Whew.”

Yeowun felt hot energy below his stomach. This was very lucky for Yeowun as Submeng was helping from the outside and the Nano Machine was helping him from the inside. He could probably only absorb maybe 70% of the energy from the ball, but now he was absorbing 100% of it. Yeowun’s body began to sweat.

‘What! Was he born with the body of a war god?’

Submeng was beyond shocked. If this was going well, Yeowun was going to absorb all of the energy. Submeng began to focus so that none of it would go to waste and two hours passed by.

“Ha... ha... it’s done.”

Submeng swept the sweat on his forehead and drank the entire bottle. Unlike his prior concern, Yeowun succeeded in absorbing entire energy from the Black Dragon Ball.

“Good work!”

‘And thanks Nano.’

[I am programmed to aid you in the best way that I can, Master.]

Yeowun now felt heavy energy under his belly, proving that he had successfully absorbed the energy.

“Well, you are a lucky one. You have gotten thirty years worth of internal energy.”

“Huh? Thirty?”

“Yes, that is a rough estimate. The other students will barely be able to acquire maybe half the energy from the ball because they will be absorbing it alone.”

“Oh!! Thank you, Teacher.”

Yeowun bowed once more. Like Submeng said, those who acquired at least twenty years worth of energy were the heirs from the six clans, or a few of the members from the high-ranked clans. Most would barely receive ten years worth of internal energy.

“Oh, look at the time.”

Submeng then saw the sun rising outside the window and got up. As he was walking out, Yeowun called out to him.

“Teacher.”

What is it?”

“Can you teach me your Blade Skill Formation?”

“Heh, of course. You have little time on your hands, so be ready.”

That’s what Submeng had planned from the beginning, but he was glad to hear it from Yeowun himself. Submeng then walked out and before Baek Jongmeng came, Yeowun woke the 23rd cadet up. He couldn’t say anything to Yeowun out of fear.

Jongmeng saw the bald 23rd cadet and burst out in laughter.

“Hahaha!”

‘Dammit...’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The 23rd cadet had to hold back his anger. He couldn’t dare to act out since Yeowun might not like it.

“Oh, I’m sorry.”

Jongmeng apologized for laughing and covered the bed with a curtain. He figured something might have happened overnight as the cadet couldn’t even say anything when he laughed, but he didn’t mention it. As a doctor in the academy, he couldn’t really ask questions about anything.

“What a great morning!”

At the training ground for morning training, Chun Mukeum stood there brightly with a smile on his face. Thanks to Jahyun’s plans of sending the 23rd cadet to the hospital, it had probably solved his problem. Thanks to that, the cadets of the 8th group were able to enjoy peaceful nights for two days at least.

Chapter 18

Chapter 18: He lied to everyone (3)

Two days passed. At dinner time after the afternoon training, the 23rd cadet that Chun Mukeum had waited so long for finally returned. His head was wrapped with some small cloths. Mukeum's face crumpled terribly.

'If he won't come to us, we'll send someone to him.'

It was what Jahyun had planned, and therefore the 23rd cadet was sent to the medical room. The 23rd cadet was a member of a weak clan within the Demonic Cult. Mukeum promised to help his family if 23rd cadet succeeded.

"Interesting. Why didn't you get expelled?"

Mukeum glared coldly at the 23rd cadet.

The 23rd cadet was on his knees as he answered carefully, "I tried to cut his leg muscle, but his internal damage was so bad that the doctor stayed in the medical room to look after him."

"Huh? Doesn't he sleep? Don't tell me you didn't have any time to do that."

"I-I tried to wake up at midnight to do it, but the doctor woke up every time I moved."

The 23rd cadet wasn't sure if his lies would work, but he had no choice other than using the excuse that Yeowun had told him to use.

"You couldn't even get past a doctor?!"

“UGH!”

Mukeum kicked the 23rd cadet's stomach, knocking him back.

“Damn idiot! You can't even do that right?!”

Mukeum kept on kicking him, but the 23rd cadet couldn't do anything. Jahyun stopped Mukeum.

“Prince, stop.”

“What? What do you want?”

“Do you know the doctor's name?”

Jahyun asked the 23rd cadet and he answered while panting heavily.

“Ugh... it's... Baek Jongmeng...”

“Baek Jongmeng... Baek... OH.”

Jahyun had asked for a reason. He had learned and studied many things about the Demonic Cult to better assist Chun Mukeum.

“What? Do you know him?”

“He must be an apprentice of the Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu.”

“Really?”

Mukeum then became surprised and stopped. Baek Jongwu was a member of the Poison Clan who was interested in medical skills and became a doctor to the Lord himself. He was a doctor, but he was also a warrior within the top thirty ranks of the Demonic Cult.

“If he is the apprentice of the Demon Doctor, then he might have learned martial arts.”

This was just a guess, and they didn’t know that vague knowledge was inaccurate sometimes. Baek Jongwu did not teach martial arts to his medical apprentices.

“Dammit. Then there was no point in sending this bastard!”

Mukeum was angry that his plan had failed and Yeowun was still fine. He then started kicking the 23rd cadet again to unleash his anger.

“Ugh!”

“Bastard! Don’t even think about getting assistance for your clan!”

As Mukeum kept kicking him, the 23rd cadet thought to himself.

‘Yeah, you do that. Let’s see if you can do that when he comes back!’

If Mukeum and Jahyun rewarded him and kept their promises, the 23rd cadet would have spilled everything he found out, but he didn’t want to do that anymore.

‘You will feel just how dangerous that Chun Yeowun can be!’

It was just three days, but the 23rd cadet had witnessed Chun Yeowun’s true nature. He wasn’t just some foolish prince who didn’t know anything.

“Huh? What’s with this rag on top of your head anyway?”

Mukeum asked and the 23rd cadet took off the cloth off his head. It showed his bald head and Mukeum smirked at it.

“Hah, you think I will forgive you if you shave your hair?”

Mukeum then kicked him again, but it now was much weaker. The 23rd cadet screamed to himself on the inside after he revealed his baldness.

‘Mukeum... Yeowun... go to hell, all of you!’

And the 8th group descended into chaos once again. Seven more days passed, and soon it was the day of Chun Yeowun’s return to the group. In the morning, Right Guardian Submeng visited the medical room as usual. The only difference was that his right hand held a sword in a cow leather scabbard.

“You’re here, Teacher.”

Chun Yeowun greeted Submeng.

“I have a lot to teach you, but it’s already the last day.”

Submeng’s expression showed that he really wanted to keep on teaching Yeowun. However, since Yeowun was attending the academy, they needed to follow the rules.

“What is that?”

“Heh heh. This is my present to you.”

This was actually due to Chun Yeowun’s request. Chun Yeowun asked Submeng if he could watch Submeng use his blade skill and Submeng came to do just that.

Submeng pulled out the blade with his right hand. It was not a large blade, but the phrase, Light-Dance had been carved onto the sharp blade.

“Hold it.”

Submeng threw it to Yeowun. It was light.

“Isn’t it light?”

“It’s not as heavy as I thought.”

“Most blades that martial artists use are heavier than that. But the Light-Dance Blade from our family is half the usual weight.”

“Is it because of the blade skill that you use?”

“Yes. You are very smart indeed.”

Submeng’s blade skill, Butterfly Blade Dance, was a quick and swift blade skill that looked like a butterfly flying in from multiple directions which required lightweight blades.

“It doesn’t mean the sword is weak though. Give it back to me.”

Yeowun handed over the blade to Submeng who grabbed it and swung the blade at the corner of the bed. It was just a simple movement, but the sharp attack had cut off a wooden piece from the corner. Yeowun then picked the piece up and placed in the corner. He should’ve stopped Submeng from doing this.

‘Oh well.’

Baek Jongmeng liked to keep his room clean, and he probably wouldn’t like to see his bed cut down.

“...It is sharp.”

“Well, that’s why it’s a treasured blade.”

Submeng didn’t go into the details, but his blade was one of the most famous blades within the Demonic Cult.

“Let’s go over what you’ve learned then.”

“Okay.”

Yeowun had learned the basic steps and formations. He quickly stepped through and flawlessly performed the movements.

‘He is a genius!’

Submeng was astonished. He only showed Yeowun a few times and fixed his form, but with this rate, it would be no problem for Yeowun to absorb all of it at once.

Yeowun actually had perfectly acquired the forms as Nano scanned and memorized Submeng’s movements.

‘But I can’t be too perfect from the beginning.’

That was why Yeowun was taking it slow.

“Now, onto the formation!”

The Butterfly Blade Dance was comprised of twenty-four forms. There were three minor sub-forms within each form, but Yeowun only learned about the sub-forms until now.

“Ohoh...” Submeng sighed. With such talent, he would’ve taught him the basic forms if he had a month at least. It was a shame that he couldn’t teach him any further than that.

“Good. You have learned well.”

“Thank you, Teacher.”

Submeng complimented Yeowun. He then took out a crumpled piece of paper. The writing was bad, but it was full of basic information about the Butterfly Blade Dance and how to use the internal energy connected to it.

“I want to teach you it thoroughly, but we don’t have time. I’m sure you can handle it on your own. I will check on you when we meet again, so don’t be lazy.”

“...Thank you, Teacher.”

Yeowun was touched by his teacher who looked out for him.

“So, that being said, I’ll show you what you wanted to see. Stand back.”

Yeowun backed away and Submeng readied his blade. He had never let Yeowun watch him move with his sword until now. Submeng became serious as he was about to use the core of his blade skill. Yeowun then spoke within himself.

‘Nano, get ready to scan him.’

[Activating scan of the target specified: Submeng]

Chapter 19

Chapter 19: You brought it on yourself (1)

The sky began to brighten up and the heavy fog came down on the training ground. One person was sprinting across the ground with their running skill: it was Submeng the Crazy Blade. He had jumped out from the medical room from the main building and was escaping the premise. His martial arts skill was so high that the staff or guards couldn't sense him if he tried to hide.

However, there were ones who were watching them from the roof. It was a middle-aged man with long red hair and a man with a weird mask on his face. It was Left Guardian Lee Hameng and the Great Guardian Marakim.

"That rat... I mean, the Right Guardian is leaving."

"Good work for letting him be."

"Well, it's an order. At least I won't have to see him sneaking around under my nose anymore."

They knew that Submeng had snuck into the medical room all along, but they allowed him to continue.

"I guess I'll have to put guards on the second floor again."

The second floor was also loosely guarded because of this. It was done on purpose so that Submeng could freely enter and train Yeowun.

"I'll be on my way then."

Marakim tried to leave and Hameng asked, "Why is he looking after the 7th prince like this?"

Allowing Submeng to teach Yeowun meant that Lee Hameng had broken the rules of the academy himself when he was the Chief. If it wasn't for the order directly from the Lord, he would have declined to do it. Marakim stopped and answered shortly.

"It is to be fair."

"Heh, so I guess every child is dear to him?"

Hameng shook his head.

"Don't question his will."

Marakim then disappeared from the roof.

"Hah. I can't even catch him if he really doesn't want me to."

Marakim, whose nickname was Wind God, had a fast running skill where even Lee Hameng couldn't keep up with him. He frowned and mumbled, "It was only fourteen days... will there even be a difference?"

Even if Yeowun had learned from Submeng, it was only two weeks.

As the morning session started, Yeowun was still in bed.

"Hmm?"

Baek Jongmeng looked at him weirdly. Yeowun always woke up earlier even before he came to work, but he was still asleep.

‘Well, it’s his last day to get a good rest.’

From what he heard, Jongmeng knew that Yeowun’s group had Chun Mukeum, another heir from the Loyal Clan. This meant that Yeowun would have a hard time immediately if he returned. Jongmeng thought Yeowun would need at least a moment of peace and covered his bed with the curtain and returned to his desk.

Unlike Jongmeng’s thoughts, however, Yeowun’s body was going through heavy reconstruction.

[Estimated time needed for completion: 1 hour. Current progress – 80% muscle restructure complete, 75% joint reform complete.]

Millions of nanomachines inside Chun Yeowun worked to change his body shape to allow him to perform the Butterfly Blade Dance skill. He had started right after Submeng left, but it still wasn’t done yet.

‘Six hours? That takes too long!’

[It is the estimated time required to change the user’s body to fit target Submeng’s movement.]

Chun Yeowun was shocked, but it was understandable. And that’s why Yeowun had to stay in bed the entire morning. One more hour passed.

[Process complete.]

Yeowun then woke up from his anesthesia and got up, but he immediately vomited on the ground.

“UUUUUUGHHH!”

His entire body shuddered as it was overloaded from going through the heavy change and anesthesia. It was normal to have an adverse reaction from reforming his body to that of a well-experienced warrior.

“W-what’s going on?!”

Baek Jongmeng was nodding off on his desk but he got up and came running. He patted Yeowun’s back and got him back into bed. When Yeowun fell asleep this time, Jongmeng checked his pulse and he was shocked.

‘What’s going on? His pulse is as if he went through some heavy exercise.’

This heart rate hard to believe, especially for someone who had been sleeping. And as Yeowun was asleep, the Nano Machine was moving onto the next step to calm Yeowun’s state.

[Stabilizing user’s reaction to the body change.]

Soon after Jongmeng began feeling the pulse, it calmed down. Yeowun was now sleeping peacefully.

“What is going on?”

Jongmeng couldn’t understand what had happened. And after an hour, a little bit before lunch was over, Yeowun opened his eyes. He got up with excitement and clenched his fist.

He knew that the power he can put into his fist was very different. This showed how much training Submeng had gone through. If Submeng realizes that Yeowun had acquired his body in just six hours, he would be shocked.

“Doctor Baek?”

He didn't sense anyone inside the room, but just called out to check. The doctor was out on lunch, so Yeowun got up and readied himself to practice the blade skill. He didn't have a blade, but pretended his hand was the blade.

His body moved quickly and his hand slashed through the air. It was so quick that he was as fast as Submeng himself.

“Good!”

Yeowun became excited and tried to move onto the second formation, but he heard someone walking down the corridor and stopped.

‘Oh.’

He didn't realize this, but his senses had also gotten more sensitive with his body. He mumbled as he looked at his palm, “I'm prepared.”

“Huh? Prepared for what? When did you wake up?”

The doctor came in and spoke to Yeowun who was standing in the middle of the room. Yeowun became embarrassed and replied, “...I mean, prepared to go back to the academy.”

Doctor checked Yeowun's pulse again and declared that he was now healed and was free to leave. Yeowun then clothed himself with the martial arts uniform and took the tag with the red number 7 on it. Baek Jongmeng sighed, “I'll be so bored without you.”

Unlike his expectation of seeing many patients, his room was empty. Yeowun smiled, “You'll get a lot soon.”

There was an underlying meaning behind that, but Jongmeng just figured it would be good if he received more patients and answered, “Yeah? I hope so. No, I guess it’s better if there are no patients.”

“Thank you, Doctor.”

“Yeah. Good luck.”

If the doctor didn’t let it slide that Submeng was teaching Yeowun, it would have been troublesome. Yeowun was very thankful for the doctor and decided to send him some patients.

At the training ground, all the students were gathered in a group. Everyone in the 8th group turned to one direction. It was Chun Yeowun who finally came back after two weeks.

‘Finally here.’

The group leader, Chun Mukeum, cracked an evil smile. Chun Yeowun found Instructor Impeng and walked up to him.

“Yes, Instructor.”

“Are you all fine now?”

“Yes, sir.”

“That is good... I taught you already, but I’m sure you know where your place is?”

Impeng didn’t really seem all that excited to see Yeowun back. The formation battle required every individual to not fail for it to work well, and while Yeowun's spot was the least important, it still was concerning.

"Yes, sir."

"Good. Then go take your place."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Impeng pointed to the location. Yeowun knew that he wouldn't be welcomed for missing two weeks already, so he quickly took up the sword and shield and got to his location. Today was the real sword practice day that only came once a week. Mukeum tried to growl at Yeowun who was running toward him.

"You finally here? You cowardly chicken bas..."

But Yeowun ignored him and simply ran past him. Mukeum became dumbfounded, but something was off. Yeowun didn't seem to fear him at all.

'What is it? His look... it doesn't...'

Instead, it looked like Yeowun's eyes were telling Mukeum to challenge him to a fight.

Chapter 20

Chapter 20: You brought it on yourself (2)

“Let’s begin! Keep your distance! If there are any more accidents, I’ll expel you from the academy!”

“MADO!”

The training began. Impeng, however, was only focused on one person. The other students had two weeks of training together, but Chun Yeowun did not have any. It was apparent he would make mistakes. And the problem regarding today’s practice was that they were using real swords. There was an accident in the last sword practice, so Impeng was nervous.

‘Dammit! Why am I stuck with him?!’

No one wanted to take Chun Yeowun since he was taken to the medical room, and Impeng offered to take the lottery. Unfortunately, he ended up taking the boy into his group.

‘Please don’t make any mistakes. You don’t have much to do anyway.’

At least Yeowun’s spot required the least amount of work. Impeng then flashed the red flag that called for the first formation change.

Students quickly took the proper steps to move into place. The ones who needed to move the most were in the front row while the group leader in the middle needed to lead the others nicely.

“Good!” Impeng shouted. Everyone did it perfectly without any mistakes. Mukeum was arrogant and violent, but he managed his group well and made them follow his orders. And as for Chun Yeowun...

‘Huh?’

He was doing quite well. Unlike the other students who had a hard time following the formation in the beginning, Chun Yeowun was following along quite nicely.

‘Is he following what the others are doing?’

Impeng was curious, but he just figured Yeowun was copying the others well. The problem with this formation was that the students had to maintain the formation without moving.

“Keep the formation!”

Students had to hold up their swords and shields and stand still for quite some time. This required muscle strength. Everyone was holding on, but the weaker students’ arms began to shake.

If the shield shook and clashed with another shield, there would be a sound. It wasn’t that loud when it was between wooden shields, but the clang between the iron shields was very clear.

“Get it together! Don’t even think about beating other groups with such endurance!”

Impeng shouted and the students gritted their teeth. Impeng was angry that there were still students who still couldn’t keep up even after two weeks. Chun Yeowun, who was known to have zero internal energy, probably wouldn’t be able to hold up. Impeng turned to him.

‘...What? Why is he still okay?’

Chun Yeowun was looking ahead without any sign of exhaustion. His sword and shield did not move an inch.

‘Did he really just return from the medical room?’

Impeng had seen that himself, so that was obvious. It was astonishing to see Yeowun keeping up with the group so well. Impeng’s view of Yeowun began to change. And when half of the students began to quiver, Impeng flashed the yellow flag.

The students then moved around to change formations. The second formation was a semi-circle around the target so that the enemy to have nowhere to flee.

“Yes! Slowly!”

The students took a step forward to pressure the enemy. No one made any mistakes and they closed in without failure.

“Good! Very Good!” Impeng shouted and Mukeum became surprised. This wasn’t what he expected.

‘How come he isn’t making any mistakes at all?’

Yeowun should have made some mistakes already, yet Impeng didn’t seem to raise any questions. Instead, he was applauding the group for the good formation, which meant that no one had made any mistakes. Yeowun was in the back so Mukeum couldn’t see him in the first formation, but now he could see him.

‘What?’

Yeowun looked fine. This formation was harder to maintain since they had to keep swinging the sword from top to bottom, but Yeowun didn't even look tired.

'Did he really not learn any martial arts?'

Jahyun stood close to Yeowun but even his right arm was shaking. It was hard to believe, especially when Jahyun was from one of the high-ranking clans.

'Damn peasant. I won't let you take all the glory.'

He then thought he should make Yeowun take the shame. Mukeum sent a telepathic message to Jahyun.

[If you hear me, nod.]

Jahyun became surprised, but he kept his cool and nodded slightly. Sending messages required at least thirty years of internal energy or more.

[At the third formation, move on my command.]

Mukeum sent the words to Jahyun who smiled and nodded in response. After a while, Impeng flashed the blue flag for the third formation.

This was the hardest one as the shields had to be stacked together and the swords were thrust in between them to create a sturdy defensive line.

'This is easy.'

Yeowun had learned all kinds of formations through Nano's simulations, so following it was easy. The other students were careful about pushing the sword through to not stab the person in front.

“Be careful, but also be quick! Do it!”

The formation change became slower and Impeng shouted angrily. But soon, the formation was complete. Chun Yeowun was in the middle of the shields, but the student who had to put the sword through from behind was Jahyun. All that was left for them to do now was to hold their positions.

‘I see your butt.’

Jahyun smiled and raised his leg. He then focused internal energy to kick Yeowun to make him fall.

‘Peasants are suited for crawling on the ground!’

He couldn’t make a sound, so he placed his foot on Yeowun’s butt. Yeowun then looked back at the feeling of the shoes on his butt and he moved his eyes up to see Jahyun.

‘What? How dare you!’

Jahyun didn’t like Yeowun glaring at him coldly, so it made him angrily send more powerful internal energy to kick him. Suddenly—

“UGH!”

Yeowun’s butt was covered with a barrier, throwing Jahyun toward the back. Jahyun rolled on the ground and slumped down. He couldn’t understand what just happened.

‘It was internal energy from his butt...!’

It was much stronger than his energy. As he was on the ground, someone came up to him and frowned angrily.

“You again?”

It was Impeng. He knew him since Jahyun was the one who stabbed the 23rd cadet. He was shocked and tried to get up.

However, pain shot up from his foot and he couldn't stand. It was the aftermath of being thrown off from the internal energy reaction. Jahyun could barely stand and he saw Chun Yeowun smirking behind Impeng.

He bit his lips in rage, but Impeng got even angrier and reached for his black club on his waist.

"Biting your lip? Oh, so are you angry at your instructor now? Huh?!"

"N-no! It's not that, I was just... his butt..."

"Butt? You must be going mad!"

"UGH!"

Impeng quickly took out his club and plunged it into Jahyun's stomach. Jahyun grabbed his stomach and fell to the ground. Impeng whispered to him, "You will lose free time for three days. Until you sleep, you will have special training with myself, personally."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"N-no... Instructor.."

Jahyun tried to explain and Impeng gestured on swinging his club again. Jahyun quickly answered, "Mado!"

Students of the 8th group grinned. Jahyun was Mukeum's crony and they were glad that he was being punished. After all, he had done some bad things to the group.

Then they heard someone grinding his teeth. Chun Mukeum was furious about his failed plan.

‘Chun... Yeo... wun....!’

Chapter 21

Chapter 21: You brought it on yourself (3)

As the day went on, students of the 8th group had to deal with two major figures cautiously. Chun Mukeum from the Loyal Clan was furiously focusing on Chun Yeowun, and that made it awkward for everyone because Yeowun ignoring it. And it wasn't only him who felt the tension. The Left Guardian, Lee Hameng, was also watching them.

'Two candidates for the heir in the same group... interesting.'

He didn't come out to watch the training; he was here today to see Chun Yeowun. The 8th group was performing as expected since it was the only group with two black tagged students. The only unexpected thing was Chun Yeowun's internal energy.

'He has more than what I expected him to have.'

Chun Yeowun had nothing just two weeks ago, but it was weird that he had become more powerful than Jahyun, a member of the Loyal Clan. He knew Submeng had taught him, but even then the internal energy was inexplicable. With the Black Dragon Ball, he should have close to twenty or barely thirty years worth of internal energy, but the energy reflection that Chun Yeowun released on Jahyun meant that he had over thirty years worth of internal energy.

Even if Submeng helped Yeowun absorb the ball, that was too much.

‘Did he absorb all the energy from the ball? Then it’s his own talent, not that drunkard who helped him... heh. So does he have the blood then?’

Hameng didn’t think Submeng had taught him well, so he then got up and left the area. When the afternoon practice was over, all the students crowded into the large cafeteria to eat dinner together. Chun Yeowun welcomed this as he had been eating rice soup for two weeks. The 2nd stage required teamwork and thus they were also required to eat together.

“Oh! It’s chicken!”

Chicken meat marinated with soy sauce was placed on the table. One of the perks of being a student was that they were provided an unlimited amount of food. As the students calmly waited with their chopsticks placed on the table, one of the instructors shouted, “You may eat!”

“Mado!”

The students replied loudly and began gorging down the food. Chun Yeowun smiled at the taste of chicken meat. He was sick and tired of two weeks of rice soup, and as he ate, he felt Chun Mukuem glaring at him the entire time. He wasn’t sure why the Loyal Clan hated him so much.

‘You better eat up now since you won’t be eating well starting tomorrow.’

Chun Yeowun also had a deep hatred rooted within him toward the six clans. His anger still gushed out of him whenever he thought of his mother who was poisoned to death.

‘You dare trample on the weak? Now I will trample on you.’

He had to bow because he was weak before, but it was different now.

When dinner time was over, a bell rang and everyone stopped to place their chopsticks on the bowls. Chun Yeowun also glanced at the others and copied them to wait.

“Dinner is finished!”

“Mado!”

Students shouted in response and began leaving the cafeteria in lines. As they gathered back on the training ground in lines, Instructor Impeng dismissed his 8th group.

“You are dismissed for today. Everyone except for the 80th cadet, you are dismissed!”

“Dismissed!”

Everyone left other than Jahyun who frowned as he waited. Chun Yeowun scoffed at Jahyun who followed Instructor Impeng and headed for the dorm. The dorm building was on the left side of the main building. It was divided into five sections, and each section had two floors. The lower floor was for the boys and the upper floor was for the girls. There was a total of ten rooms on each floor, and each room had a maximum of twenty beds. Therefore, each group could take one room to sleep in.

That was how everything was divided until the third section, and at the beginning of the fourth section, everyone got their own personal rooms after passing the third test. The fifth section was where the instructors lived.

Chun Yeowun was in room #8.

“Hey-hey. Where do you think you’re going?”

An annoying voice came from behind as Chun Yeowun tried to enter the room. He didn’t hear the voice directly, but he was able to guess who it was. As he turned, Chun Mukeum was glaring him with his arms crossed. Behind him were six cadets who acted like his cronies within the 8th group.

‘Does he want to be on top of everyone anywhere he goes?’

All the princes and princesses of the six clans were known for being raised with the utmost care and respect. They never had to do anything on their own as they always had servants. For example, Chun Wonryou, the princess of the Lust Clan, did the same thing. She was the group leader, but when group time was over and it was free period, she still had about ten cadets following her like her subjects.

Students soon gathered as they saw the rumored 7th prince having a stand-off with Chun Mukeum of the Loyal Clan.

‘Heh, I’ll show you.’

Mukeum liked this situation as he wanted to embarrass Yeowun in front of everyone.

“Peasant boy. Was it nice to be locked up in the medical room like a coward?”

Chun Yeowun’s eyes turned cold. Mukeum liked how Yeowun was triggered by his choice of words and continued, “Why? You don’t like that word? Pea-”

“Are you talking ill of the Lord?”

“What?”

“If I am a peasant, you must be mean that the Lord is a peasant.”

Mukeum then had a dumbfounded expression on his face. He was only thinking of Yeowun’s mother, but when Yeowun mentioned the Lord, his words got stuck in his throat.

“Are you so noble that you can even talk poorly of the Lord himself?”

“I-I never said...”

All of the students here were loyal to the Lord. Whether they were a member of the six clans or children of the Lord, they had to choose their words wisely. The students around them were silent.

“The Loyal clansmen are idiots.”

Chun Wonryou scoffed as she watched. It was foolish to see him getting word-played by a boy like Chun Yeowun.

‘Fool. Still clinging onto the peasant boy?’

And Chun Kungwun who was from the Sword Clan, also shook his head while he stopped to see what was going on.

“Ugh...!”

Chun Mukeum’s face turned red. He was going to embarrass Yeowun, but he was getting embarrassed instead!

“You bastard. I will bust your face with...UGH!”

Everyone turned silent. Yeowun’s fist struck Mukeum’s face before he could even finish, and blood gushed out from Mukeum’s nose.

“With what? What were you trying to say?”

“AAAAAAAH!!!!”

Mukeum then tried to unleash the Loyal Clan’s martial arts starting with the Loyal Demon Fist Formation, but Chun Yeowun began running. Everyone who was watching never thought that Yeowun would attempt to flee.

“AAAARGH! Get him!”

“Y-yes, sir!”

Students who were behind Mukeum began to run toward Yeowun who was running toward the forest behind the dorm building. Mukeum also used his running skill to follow. And unlike the other students who were watching excitedly, Chun Wonryou and Chun Kungwun looked at Yeowun as if he were weird.

The six students who followed Yeowun were shocked. They knew Yeowun did not have any internal energy, but they still couldn’t catch up to him.

“Why is he so fast?!”

They couldn’t get him, but the Yeowun wasn’t getting away either. The 203rd cadet then thought, ‘Is he luring us?’

He thought for a second as Yeowun seemed to be maintaining a certain distance while running.

“What are you doing?!”

“Huh?”

Mukeum swept the blood from his nose and shot past them. He had to catch Yeowun and destroy his bones so that he could feel better. Yeowun glanced back and stopped.

“Damn, bastard. Are you done running?!”

Mukeum clenched his fist and walked up. Yeowun answered with a smirk, “Running? Hah, I brought you here.”

“What?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“I don’t want the others to see it yet.”

And with that, Yeowun’s body bounced like a spring and he struck Mukeum down with his palm. It was almost an ambush, but Mukeum was ready with his internal energy all over his body. Thus, Mukeum brought up his two fists and blocked Yeowun’s palm.

Mukeum was pushed back two steps, but his eyes shook with shock.

“You.. you... how did you learn such martial arts?!”

He didn’t think about any of the details until now, but Chun Mukeum was now shocked to see the power behind Yeowun’s internal energy attack.

Chapter 22

Chapter 22: You brought it on yourself (4)

Chun Yeowun's attack was not a light one. It was so powerful that Chun Mukeum had defended with seven levels of energy, but he was still pushed back two steps.

'His power is not weak.'

Mukeum thought Yeowun was a piece of cake, but it was not as he had expected.

'Now is the time!'

Chun Yeowun then unleashed the second formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance. A quick attack of the blade was completed through the powerful spinning move originally made to defend, but it also proved to be effective when in close range as an attack. He didn't have any weapons in his hands, but he wielded internal energy in his right hand to make it work like a blade.

"Prince! Be careful!"

One of the boys out of the six students shouted as they got down. Mukeum used his running skill to run three steps back to dodge the attack.

'He dodged it?'

Yeowun became surprised as he thought that this was going to be the final blow. Mukeum then jumped out and attacked Yeowun's chest. It was the third formation of the Loyal Demon Fist.

“Ugh!”

He had taken a strike from the counterattack, but he dodged the second attack by pulling his upper body back. However, that wasn't the end. Mukeum then jabbed Yeowun's right shoulder with his elbow. Yeowun quickly brought his wrist up to defend, but the attack from the elbow had more power.

Yeowun was pushed back about four steps.

‘I still lack internal energy.’

Mukeum had entered the academy with twenty years worth of energy, and with the Black Dragon Ball, he increased the amount of energy he had.

‘But I can take it.’

Mukeum had taken many kinds of medicines since he was young, so his absorption rate of the Black Dragon Ball wasn't as high. Moreover, his quick temper also made him absorb less.

‘I should give him no time to counter it.’

Yeowun then unleashed agile blade attacks and his hand chop left a trace that looked like a butterfly flying through in the air as it attacked Mukeum's right shoulder.

“How can he use such martial arts?!”

The six students blankly watched Yeowun. They knew he had acquired one of the finest martial arts just by looking at it. If they knew it was the Butterfly Blade Dance that Submeng used, they would have been so shocked.

Mukeum spoke in astonishment and dodged Yeowun’s attack while getting closer. His fist skills were powerful but he also focused on being flexible, which allowed him to move flexibly and Mukeum kicked Yeowun’s left side.

“UGH!”

Yeowun was thrown to the right from the kick. He had learned about basic martial arts but he had not learned a landing skill yet. So, he had to roll on the ground before crudely getting up.

‘I didn’t expect a kick.’

He was shocked. The kick got him on the head, so it made him feel dizzy. When he couldn’t find his balance, Mukeum felt relieved.

“I was surprised at such fine blade art, but you still are a newbie.”

Yeowun frowned. Mukeum had found out that Yeowun was still very new to martial arts just after a few exchanges.

‘He has the basic movements down, but he does not know how to react to attacks.’

Chun Mukeum was hot-tempered, but he was still a talented individual who was trained in various teachings. He had many experiences since various teachers had taught him. Martial arts required real-life experience so that the user would know when or what to use under different circumstances.

“Well well. You still have a long ways to go.”

'I underestimated him. What should I do?'

Chun Yeowun became nervous. His head was filled with various formations of the Butterfly Blade Dance, but he didn't have the experience to choose what to use.

"I'll look into how you learned martial arts after I crush you."

Mukeum then charged in toward Yeowun. At that moment, Yeowun was frantically trying to make a decision.

'What should I do? What do I need to use?'

And it was then that Nano's voice came to him.

[Sensing danger from hostile entity. Activating Augmented Reality on the user's sight to deal with the incoming danger. Activating battle tutorial to start defensive mode.]

Yeowun's eyes shook quickly while it shined with small light particles.

"DIE!"

Mukeum's fists attacked and Chun Yeowun tapped to move to the side and punch Mukeum's chin.

"ARGH!"

Mukeum had not expected an attack, so his head was turned to the side. The fist didn't have any internal energy, but the attack on the chin made him feel dizzy and made him lose his balance.

'W-what? This isn't the blade skill!'

He would have passed out if the fist had internal energy. Mukeum then used his running skill to distance himself.

“What?! His movement changed!”

Even the students were shocked. They thought Mukeum would finish him with the attack, but this made the situation uncertain. In Yeowun’s eyes, everything was very different now.

‘What is this?’

[Augmented Reality has been activated to guide Master through the battle tutorial to react to the hostile entity.]

Yeowun was seeing all kinds of lines and writings over what he was seeing. Even just now, when Mukeum’s attack almost got him, he saw footsteps composed with lights and writing that told him to follow it. Yeowun followed it, allowing him to dodge the attack and then a white arrow appeared on Mukeum’s chin with a fist sign, so he followed it.

[There was no direction, so boxing, one of the martial arts recorded in the program, was applied temporarily for this tutorial.]

‘Tutorial?’

[It means guidance.]

‘You ordered to tell me what to do?’

[I analyzed the hostile entity’s movements to the 0.01 scale and came up with the result.]

‘I don’t know what you are saying. So, what I just did is a... boxing?’

[Boxing is one of embedded martial arts in the program and...]

‘It’s okay. If you are using boxing as the tutorial, can you apply it with the Butterfly Blade Dance?’

[The analysis and transfer of Butterfly Blade Dance is complete, so it is possible. Will you apply it?]

‘Yeah.’

[Changing tutorial mode to Butterfly Blade Dance.]

While Chun Yeowun stood still to talk with Nano, Mukeum got up from his dizziness and shouted angrily.

“You even learned how to use fist techniques?! You sure hid a lot like a thief! But it won’t work anymore!”

Mukeum then charged in again with tens of fists. Yeowun saw the fists coming at him along with the directions on where it was all coming from.

‘I can see where he’s attacking!’

Chun Yeowun smiled. He then followed the steps to dodge the attacks.

‘What! He dodged everything?’

It was hard to believe that Yeowun who could barely react to the attacks before was now dodging everything. It wasn’t only that — Yeowun then attacked back with a powerful blade attack.

“W-what?!”

Mukeum quickly turned to defend, but he could only defend two attacks. Yeowun’s hands flew in like a butterfly and soon got him on the right shoulder.

“UGH!”

Mukeum felt strong pain and blood came up through his throat. If it was an attack with a real blade, he would have been cut down.

‘How can he use such an attack?’

Yeowun did not have more internal energy than Mukeum, but his attack skill was that of like an experienced warrior. It was all possible because Yeowun’s movements were the exact copy of Submeng’s movements.

Mukeum then felt his legs losing energy from the damage. He then came up with the memory.

‘Mukeum. If you do well, the Lord... your father’s attention will come back from that dirty b*tch and back to me.’

‘It’s all because of you! It’s all because you are weak!’

‘If only that dirty bitch hadn’t appeared!’

Mukeum’s mother, Lady Ja, married the Lord Chun Yujong through an arranged marriage. It was a marriage from the oath of the six clans, but Lady Ja loved the Lord. She did all she could to win the Lord’s attention, but she was never loved back. The Lord’s attention was only on the girl slave at the Lord’s palace.

‘It’s not me. It’s all you. It’s all because of YOU!’

The last memory he had of his mother was Lady Ja choking his own son while sobbing madly.

‘Why am I having that memory again?!’

As that memory came back to him, he learned to hate only one person. Mukeum gritted his teeth with hatred and threw his fist at Yeowun's face.

"You think I will lose to a peasant like you?!"

Yeowun easily dodged the attack by tilting his head and although he tried to strike Mukeum's forehead, he changed his mind and grabbed his opponent's wrist to pin him down.

"UGH!"

Mukeum felt severe pain from the back of his head, and his head became red with veins popping out from his neck to his forehead.

"You dare... I can't lose to a peasant like you! How!"

Mukeum shouted angrily, but Yeowun looked down coldly at him and said,

"You brought it on yourself."

Chapter 23

Chapter 23: The second test (1)

Chun Mukeum, the prince from the Loyal Clan.

His loss shocked the six students beyond belief. The boy who had no internal energy just two weeks ago now had a martial arts skill that easily exceeded theirs.

“Why? You want a piece of me too?” Chun Yeowun threatened the students and they all shook their head in unison. Yeowun just defeated Mukeum, whom all six of them combined couldn’t beat.

“Then take him with you.”

The six students ran up and grabbed Mukeum. Although Mukeum lost to Yeowun, they were still fearful of the Loyal Clan.

‘If I gain my own forces, will they fear me like that too?’ Yeowun thought as he looked at those students. Mukeum was lying down because of his pain and he was also embarrassed about being helped, so he shouted angrily as he pushed the students away.

“Let me go! I’ll walk myself.”

“But Prince!”

“DON’T! Make me say it twice.”

Students then let go of Mukeum and he shouted at Yeowun, “Why aren’t you finishing me?!”

Mukeum hated Chun Yeowun, but he knew Chun Yeowun had the same amount of hate since he was always in danger ever since he was young. However, Yeowun decided to not kill Mukeum by changing his chop to just pinning him down, and that made Mukeum feel like he was being sympathized.

Yeowun answered, "If the second test was not a group test, I would have crushed your head already."

The six students became pale. It was an acceptable reason but Mukeum still couldn't understand.

"Bah! A peasant with your reasons."

"If you keep on going with your jabbering, I might just crush your head."

"Then do it! You bastard!"

"Hah."

Yeowun looked at Mukeum with a disgusted expression and made his way back to the dorm. While he was on his way back, he didn't look all that happy.

'I can't ignore the experience.'

He was able to fight well with Nano's help, but he realized he lacked experience. If it wasn't for Nano, he might have lost.

'It will take time for me to gain experience and those six clans will not let me gain experience easily. Therefore, I need to know how to utilize what I have first.'

Knowing about the battle tutorial would have helped him if he knew that before the fight.

‘Nano.’

[Yes, Master.]

‘How many skills did I use from what you currently have?’

Nano kept showing him new abilities, but it was all due to the fact that Nano was only reacting to emergencies.

[Checking user data. Currently, Master has used 3% of the Nano Machine ability.]

Chun Yeowun was only interested in martial arts so his usage was bound to be low. Nano’s basic program was so vast that if all of it was used, it was enough to turn this age upside down. Nonetheless, most of it was locked in the program anyway, but Nano did not tell Chun Yeowun of this.

‘Three percent?’

[Yes, Master.]

‘I only used so little?’

[Official records indicate that most users utilize 30% of the Nano Machine on average.]

‘I’m sure there will be a lot of useful abilities.’

Chun Yeowun then realized he had not been using the Nano Machine to its fullest potential.

‘Tell me about all your abilities.’

[Understood. Transferring detailed user manual regarding the 7th generation Nano Machine to the brain. Will you accept?]

‘Yeah.’

[It will accompany the transfer of the English language education program for better understanding. Will you accept?]

‘Is it the language that you sometimes use?’

[That is correct, Master.]

‘Yeah, okay.’

Nano then began transferring the information into Yeowun’s brain. It took quite some time since there was a lot of information, and when it was complete, Yeowun did not feel nauseous or sick anymore. It seemed like his brain had now adjusted to the information transfer. He was only a little bit dizzy. As the dizziness faded, Yeowun began to go through what the Nano Machine could do.

‘Can you do all these things?’

It was beyond his imagination. There were multiple ways to help Yeowun fill the gaps for his lack of experience. One of them was the repeated simulation ability.

‘So I can simulate battling others in augmented reality?’

Yeowun was now able to understand the English words and other futuristic words.

[Yes, but it requires the analysis of the opponent’s movements.]

‘Can I use Chun Mukeum’s movements?’

[There is a lack of information for the basic motion, but creating an avatar based on the previous battle record is possible.]

It wasn't perfect but it was still better than nothing.

'Okay. Let's try it then.'

Yeowun then changed direction and went to a remote area with no one around. It was free time until nightfall, so he decided to train with Nano's simulation.

[Activating Augmented Reality. Creating an avatar for battle simulation.]

Nano's voice came and a light appeared in his eyes to turn into Chun Mukeum.

"Whoa."

Yeowun became astonished. This Chun Mukeum was the avatar that only he could see.

[Adjusting the simulation information. Please set the damage percentage that avatar can inflict on the user.]

'Damage percentage?'

[If you want it same as reality, you can set it to 100%, but you can set it lower to lessen the impact.]

'I see. Then let's set it to 100%.'

He thought it wouldn't be too painful since it was still a fake. Yeowun realized the hard way that he had made a foolish choice.

[Beginning the simulation.]

Chun Mukeum's avatar then smirked and yelled.

[Peasant! Let's fight!]

“What?!”

Chun Yeowun was dumbfounded. He didn't expect the avatar to copy even the speech. He knew the avatar was fake, but it still felt irritating.

‘I guess I can crush his head this time then!’

Chun Yeowun then attacked and Mukeum's avatar attacked him back. It was the same attack that he encountered before. Yeowun thought of how he dodged it due with Nano's tutorial and sidestepped it to follow up with a Butterfly Blade Dance Attack. And at that instant...

[You think such a puny attack will work?]

Chun Mukeum's avatar shouted and twisted his body weirdly to dodge it. Then he kicked Yeowun's stomach.

“UGH!”

Chun Yeowun fell with the strong pain in his stomach. He didn't realize it would give him such real pain.

“Ugh... how can it be this painful?!” Chun Yeowun winced and Nano answered,

[Nano Machine replicated the same amount of pain reception that Master felt earlier.]

“Dammit.”

It was foolish to set the damage percentage to 100%.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

[Will you change the percentage?]

“...No. Leave it!”

Yeowun refused. He came to believe that such pain would make him weary of every move even if all of this was fake.

[Peasant! Come and get me!]

Mukeum taunted him with his fingers. Yeowun then charged at the avatar with his blade skill.

Chapter 24: The second test (2)

Late at night, Yeowun finished training with the Augmented Reality simulation and was on his way back to the dorm. He was exhausted from the four hours of training. Nano healed his wounds right away, but it still made him tired.

‘I only won once out of the fifteen duels.’

Yeowun sighed. Without the battle tutorial, the first duel was over after five exchanges.

‘Crush his head? I was so foolish.’

Nano’s voice rang in the embarrassed Yeowun’s ears.

[Your ability will increase as you gain experience. Master’s choice of movement and right skill will increase as you progress.]

He had lost six times straight in the beginning, but he began to react to Mukeum’s attack starting from the seventh duel. Yeowun was able to launch counterattacks that Mukeum’s avatar could not react to starting with the tenth duel. And on the last one, he was able to win after thirty exchanges.

‘But it was only a victory with Mukeum using only three of his attack skills.’

Chun Mukeum’s avatar had limited actions because Yeowun did not have all of the data, but it still was hard to defeat Mukeum. This made Yeowun even more eager to train.

‘Whew. I will defeat that avatar easily in a few days!’

[Understood, Master.]

It was Yeowun's first goal, but there was a piece of information that Yeowun did not know. Chun Mukeum's avatar was created with what Yeowun had experienced in the real battle, but Avatar Mukeum had full knowledge of what martial arts skills that Yeowun could use. This meant that if Yeowun achieved victory over the avatar that knew all of his movements and never got exhausted, that was a great feat already.

As he returned to the 8th group's room, people fell silent.

'He's here!'

'He doesn't even have any wounds!'

It was apparent that the other students had heard about what happened. It was enough to let the students know where Chun Yeowun stood in power. However, they were still afraid of the Loyal Clan's power over the Cult itself, so they didn't dare to walk up to Yeowun and speak to him.

As Yeowun walked down the middle toward his bed, the students opened the way for him to walk past. This was a different feeling from the day he entered the academy when people looked at him with disgust or sympathy.

'Is this what it feels like to have power?'

He just had defeated one of the princes, but it made such a big difference that it almost made Yeowun laugh out loud.

'Where's my bed?'

Yeowun glanced around to find his bed, and someone came running to him. It was the 23rd cadet, with a blue cloth over his head. He politely pointed at the bed with both hands and guided Yeowun.

“Your bed is here, Prince.”

“Oh.”

The 23rd cadet was acting as if he were Yeowun’s servant. The other students became confused.

‘What? What is he doing?’

Most students were confused, but for the 23rd cadet, this was his chance to take the risk. He was beaten in front of everyone for his failure and the promise to look after his clan was gone.

‘Bastard!’

Chun Mukeum kept on saying that he was going to wipe out the 23rd cadet’s clan when he got out of the academy, making the cadet even more angry. When he saw Mukeum appear four hours ago with wounds, he made his decision.

‘If I’m going to die, I’ll just take the risk.’

He then decided to stay on Chun Yeowun’s side for the competition of the heir to the throne. And with that decision, he was now thought of Yeowun as his master.

“You aren’t like what you were before.”

Chun Yeowun knew that the 23rd cadet had changed after they met in the medical room. He wasn’t just fearful of Yeowun now.

“Do you want something from me?” Yeowun asked.

The 23rd cadet hesitated for a second, but he soon knelt down with one leg and gathered his both hands in respect and said, “I, 23rd cadet Hu Bong, will serve you as my master!”

Students murmured among themselves in shock and Yeowun was also surprised. He always thought he wanted a force for himself, but he didn’t think it would happen so early.

“You want me to be your master?”

“I am sorry about my rudeness in the medical room. Please take me as your servant and let me serve you as my master!”

Yeowun then began thinking. Unlike the Guard Jang who was sent to protect him by the Lord’s order, seeing Hu Bong who wanted to become his servant willingly fired something up within him.

‘Please! Please!’

Hu Bong looked up at Yeowun and he grinned and nodded. Hu Bong then bowed with his head down on the ground in excitement.

“Thank you! I will serve you forever!”

And it was then—

“HAH! I didn’t expect to see such crap!”

It was Chun Mukeum. He came back together with Jahyun who had finished his additional training.

“You insect. How dare you pledge loyalty to a peasant?!”

Jahyun was tired, but he frowned and spat angrily at Hu Bong. This scared Hu Bong and he began to shake. However, he didn't move his head and only looked at Yeowun, and therefore Yeowun made a decision. Yeowun's head turned slowly toward Jahyun.

"You dare speak ill of my servant?"

"What?"

Yeowun's cold voice shocked Jahyun. If it was the Yeowun he knew, Jahyun would have charged to attack right away, but he had already heard that Mukeum lost accidentally.

"It is you who is the insect that follows someone's tail around."

"W-what did you say?"

"What's with the stuttering? Are you afraid?"

Yeowun taunted and Jahyun became angry.

"Peasant!"

Jahyun then jumped to attack at Yeowun. However, Yeowun twisted his top torso to dodge and struck the back of Jahyun's neck.

"ARGH!"

Jahyun's eyes rolled back and he passed out. His attack, the basic fist skill of Loyal Clan, was what he had been practicing the entire evening that allowed him to do this.

"He's nothing compared to the avatar."

Yeowun mumbled and Hu Bong looked at him with shock and admiration.

‘Ah! My decision wasn’t wrong!’

He had his doubts, but watching Yeowun put the subject of another prince in his place with that one attack made his doubt disappear.

“What? You want to fight me again?”

Yeowun looked at Mukeum who was glaring at him at the entrance. However, Mukeum did not react as expected.

“...Hmph. You enjoy what you have for now. Nothing will change.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Mukeum then ignored Yeowun and went over to his bed and laid down.

‘Did Chun Mukeum just ignore him?’

‘Impossible!’

Mukeum’s action astonished all the students. Mukeum was known for his violent nature, but he just avoided fighting Yeowun. And beginning with this, the 8th group dorm had changed. The students began showing interest in Chun Yeowun. They didn’t act like Hu Bong, but they now began to question things with ‘maybe’ in their heads.

Soon, it was the day of the second test. Every student gathered at the training ground, ready with their real swords and iron shields.

Chapter 25: The second test (3)

The second test was a battle between group formations. They had to compete with each other through the twelve formations that they had trained. It required each individual's cooperation and the leader's accurate decisions.

"I have taught you enough. It's all up to you now. Is that clear?!"

"Mado!"

Each instructor gave their final words to their respective groups. Beginning a few days ago, each group was led by their group leaders to practice the formations. Instructors were not that involved in the latter part of the training.

"Before we go onto the next test, we will choose who to fight through the lottery."

Left Guardian Lee Hameng spoke on the stage.

"As I explained earlier, First to fourth, fifth to eighth, ninth to twentieth... four groups will pick from the lottery to choose which group to compete against."

He explained how the test was going to progress three days ago already. As the leaders got up onto the stage, students began to mumble to themselves.

"The leaders of the second and third group changed!"

"They changed too!"

The second and third groups had changed leaders. Other than Chun Muyeon from the Wise Clan in the first group, and the 72nd cadet in the fourth group, the second and third groups had different group leaders.

“Hmph. Two only?”

Hameng, however, didn’t look surprised. Soon, the battle was decided between the four groups.

[First versus third. Second versus fourth.]

“Whoaaaaa!”

The first and fourth group shouted excitedly. As it had been decided, Hameng shouted, “Next! Leaders from the fifth to eighth group, please come up!”

The leaders of each group quickly came up onto the stage. People mumbled as the two groups had also exchanged leaders. The eighth group also had a different leader.

‘Oh?’

Hameng looked intrigued. He thought the leader of the 8th group wouldn’t have changed since it was Prince Chun Mukeum, but it had changed to an unexpected individual.

‘Chun Yeowun!’

It was the black tag #7, Chun Yeowun. And the leader of the fifth group, Chun Wonryou of the Lust Clan was also shocked by this change.

‘I warned him so much! Fool!’

She cursed at Mukeum. On the other hand, Yeowun couldn’t believe what had happened. He didn’t think he would be chosen as the leader just up until last night.

Last night, near the end of afternoon training, many groups left to practice for the upcoming test. Some groups did not do it since they were concerned that the other groups would peek at their tactics, and the 8th group was one of such groups. Chun Mukeum, who did not lack in potential as the group leader, already decided on the tactics and dismissed his group early.

“Chun Mukeum!”

And when Mukeum was going to train his martial arts in a remote area, someone called him.

“Oh, it’s you.”

It was Chun Wonryou from the Lust Clan. Mukeum tried to walk past her, but Wonryoy quickly hustled over, blocking his way.

“What are you doing?”

“I called you. Can you at least stop to ask why?”

Unlike Chun Yeowun, the princes of six clans knew each other and interacted with one another quite often.

“What. What do you want to say?”

“Ugh, you and your arrogance.”

Chun Wonryou sighed and Mukeum responded grumpily.

“I thought you said the Loyal Clan is stupid?”

He still remembered the day he faced Yeowun at the entrance to the dorm.

“Hah... sure, okay. I’ll make this short. Listen up.”

She didn’t like how Mukeum was acting, but she thought she needed to say it and pulled up her sleeves to show the linen wrapped around her arm. Mukeum asked, “Did you get hurt?”

AS far as Mukeum knew, no one else could hurt her other than the princes from the six clans.

“Yeah. Yesterday.”

“Yesterday?”

“I was training alone and someone ambushed me.”

“You? Ambushed? Who in the right mind would do such a thing?”

Chun Wonryou was weaker than the princes from the six clans, but she was still much more powerful than any of the other students at the academy.

“The attacker covered their face. I don’t know who it is.”

“Whatever. So you were hurt by some puny coward?”

“...I warned you. I never lowered my guard.”

She was in the middle of her training, so she was well ready. Yet, the attacker was equal to or perhaps more powerful than the princes of the six clans.

“So, you were hurt so you’re telling me to be careful?”

“If the attacker came for me, they might attack you too. We are in the same competing group.”

Mukeum frowned.

“You know that the four groups will compete with each other, right?”

“Yeah.”

“We can always choose the lottery with all of the groups. Why do you think we are limited to four groups?”

“What are you talking about?”

“Gosh. Try thinking for once. If you narrow it down to four groups, then you can guess which group you might be fighting against!”

Mukeum then thought for a second and said, “...You mean that by spilling information, the academy is forcing each group to attack another group leader?”

“Well, you really are stupid. Yeah. If the leader is out of formation, it will be hard for that group to compete.”

Chun Wonryou guessed that Lee Hameng had intentionally shared the information, thus making the groups attempt to attack another group leader. And her guess came true when she was attacked the other night.

“Well, tomorrow’s the day of the test, so don’t take the chance to go train alone. I don’t want to see any princes getting expelled after the second test and bring shame to us all.”

She could have ignored it, but she came to warn him for old time’s sake. Mukeum nodded. And when she left, Mukeum heeded her warning and took Jahyun with him to practice.

Near midnight, Chun Yeowun finished his simulation training and was on the way back.

‘Ugh, I still have a lot more to go.’

Unlike what he was saying, he now had the ability to defeat the avatar about 60% of the time. He hadn’t yet reached his goal to win easily, but he was now more used to using his blade skills. When he was going down to head back, he heard the sounds of a fight breaking out.

“UGH!”

After hearing the short scream, he ran toward the source. When he got there, there was one figure slumped down on the ground and another one fighting someone else off. It was too dark in the forest to make out who was who.

‘Nano. Turn on night vision mode.’

[Activating night vision mode on the user’s sight.]

The light exposure on Yeowun’s eyes increased immediately and he was able to see everything clearly.

‘Chun Mukeum?’

The one who was being attacked while barely fending the attacker off with wounds was Chun Mukeum. He was fighting a masked man, but the man looked very powerful. He was pressing onto Mukeum with a powerful attack.

“DAMMIT!”

Mukeum’s right leg was injured, but he was holding off quite well. However, it was just a matter of time. As expected,

Mukeum tried to take several steps back, but he fell down after losing energy in his leg.

“UGH!”

The man then charged to stab Mukeum’s left leg and Yeowun shouted, “STOP!”

He didn’t like Mukeum, but he couldn’t bear to lose the group leader the day before the test and charged in. The man then stopped and swung the sword at Yeowun. However, Yeowun could see everything clearly so he got down to avoid the sword and struck the masked man’s stomach with his blade skill.

After he touched the stomach, the masked man quickly retreated to put some distance between them. Yeowun became surprised.

‘He retreated the moment I touched him.’

It was hard to guess who powerful the man was. The man narrowed his eyes as he glared at Chun Yeowun and turned away to flee. Chun Yeowun thought of chasing after him, but gave up. Mukeum was on the ground, and another student was also on the ground with blood dripping down from the head.

“Hey, are you okay?”

“Peasant? Dammit... how did I get attacked by some masked man!”

‘Should I just leave him here?’

Yeowun shook away his thoughts and helped Chun Mukeum and the other student quickly return to the dorm. Students of the 8th group fell silent with serious expressions as they saw their leader and another member with critical wounds. The student whose head was bleeding was Jahyun. As he wiped the blood off Jahyun's head, he asked Nano, 'Is he okay?'

[Scanning the wounded entity.]

The doctor was out of the office right now, so he could only rely on Nano.

[Found cut made from a sword. 4cm in length, 2mm in depth. Requires cleaning of the wound and sewing of the cut.]

Contrary to his concern, the wound wasn't all that bad. The problem was with Chun Mukeum.

"Hah.. hah... dammit!"

He was holding onto his right thigh as blood poured out. His face was also pale from losing too much blood.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"Call an instructor!"

"Y-yes, sir!"

Hu Bong quickly ran out of the room at Yeowun's order. Soon, an instructor came and began treating Mukeum's wound, but it was pretty bad.

"...He won't be able to walk for a while."

The students' expressions turned grim. Chun Wonryou's warning had become a reality.

Chapter 26

Chapter 26: Eye for an eye (1)

Mukeum was taken out by instructor for further treatment. Yeowun called out to the instructor since there was another wounded student, but the instructor was busy tending to Mukeum. Yeowun then picked Jahyun up and followed the instructor out.

“Where did he go?”

The instructor was already on his way to the main building. Yeowun quickly used his running skill to catch up to him. The instructor, however, seemed to be expecting Yeowun.

“Instructor. The 80th cadet is also hurt.”

“I know.”

“Huh?”

“I knew someone would get him and follow me.”

The instructor just said that he purposely left Jahyun back there. Yeowun then asked, “Did you make me come after you?”

“Well, you are not stupid.”

It was a yes.

“What is the reason for that, sir?”

“Reason? Nothing special. Your group especially made it seem like the entire test was already doomed.”

Something was weird about what the instructor was saying.

“Well, I just wanted to tell you that. Give him to me.”

The instructor hoisted Jahyun over his shoulder and told Yeowun to return.

“You know a cadet can’t be outside the dorms at night, right?”

“...Understood, sir.”

Chun Yeowun turned to go back but the instructor spoke to him from behind.

“Well, there’s more than one way to skin a cat.”

Then the instructor went into the building with two cadets over his shoulders. Yeowun then thought about what the instructor had said to him. As he entered the room, he realized something.

‘What said... especially. So other groups had the same thing happen to them?’

He then realized what the instructor meant. Unlike Mukeum, Chun Yeowun did not know what was happening nor did he understand the intent behind letting them know about the test three days prior.

‘Attacking the group leader will makes be easy to deal with. If the other groups experienced the same attack, they would’ve all realized this.’

Chun Yeowun then came to a conclusion about what happened.

‘So this was why the four groups were destined to fight each other.’

Everything had been intentional from the beginning to condone covert attacks.

‘No wonder it was weird that it was so simple.’

This was the academy of the Demonic Cult, not the academy of some justice-oriented clan. Pushing for noble teamwork was weird, and this was the reason behind it all. Chun Yeowun then realized the truth.

‘So, they want us to act like true cultists. Good. Then I don’t need to be tied down to the rules.’

Yeowun casually walked into the room. After hearing the instructor’s words, members of the 8th group were all depressed. Yeowun sighed, “How long are you going to sulk for after losing our leader?”

“W-what are you talking about!”

One of the cadets that followed Mukeum shouted back. All the students then turned to Yeowun.

“We should be busy choosing a new leader and thinking of a new strategy for tomorrow’s test. We shouldn’t just sit around and do nothing.”

Nobody could find the words to respond. Yeowun was right. They felt stupid for thinking they had already lost after losing their leader. One of the students asked, “Then who will be our leader?”

They all knew about the formations, but only the leader had the experience of leading the entire group. In addition, the leader’s responsibility for the eighteen students other than Mukeum and Jahyun was something that none of the students wanted to take. Hu Bong got up and proposed,

“Why don’t you think we have a leader? My master, Chun Yeowun, is here to lead you.”

The students were flabbergasted. They thought they didn’t have a leader at first, but they realized that maybe Yeowun could take the place. Silence fell and one of the students raised his hand.

“I, 38th cadet Lee Chan, agree to the idea.”

“M-me too!”

It was the start. And soon, most of them agreed to elect Chun Yeowun as the leader. The six cadets who followed Mukeum had to agree because of everyone else, and Chun Yeowun asked the group to confirm their decision.

“Is everyone on the same page with me being the new leader?”

They answered yes and Chun Yeowun shared what he thought when he was being trained. They then spent the night coming up with a new plan.

At midnight, when everyone was asleep, someone left the 8th group’s dorm and walked somewhere silently. He had covered his face with black clothes.

‘Nano, night vision mode.’

[Activating night vision on the user’s sight.]

It was Chun Yeowun. Why was he walking around when everyone else was asleep?

Chun Yeowun then stopped at the entrance of one room. It was the 7th group room. There was an opening to the door of the room, and Yeowun looked over it.

‘Is there someone that’s not asleep here?’

[Scanning the interior of the room.]

[All twenty entities inside the room are all asleep.]

Nano’s voice confirmed that the people inside were sleeping. Yeowun carefully opened the door and walked in.

‘Finally, everyone’s asleep.’

Yeowun had been out throughout the night, checking on the students of other rooms to see if they were asleep.

‘Nano, is the one who attacked Mukeum in this room?’

Yeowun knew Nano memorized everything he saw.

[No match in this room.]

The 7th group did not have the attacker either. But Yeowun did not leave the room.

‘I see. Well, it doesn’t matter.’

Yeowun then began walking over to the bed and began pressing every student’s blood point. And when he was done working on all the students except the last bed, he walked over to the group leader. And when he got near the bed, the leader’s eyes flashed open.

‘What?!’

Unlike the other students, the leader slept lightly and he was strong, so he had woken up from the sound.

“YOU- nnggh....”

However, his blood point was pressed on before he could react. Chun Yeowun was shocked but he was able to quickly put him down. He sighed with relief and took out the long needle from his pocket.

‘Well, I know you didn’t do this, but I’m sorry.’

Yeowun then poked the needle in 7th group leader Ko King’s thigh, foot, and a few muscle points. When he woke up, he wouldn’t be able to walk for a few days.

‘We’re done here. Let’s move onto the next.’

Chun Yeowun’s target wasn’t just one room. It wasn’t for revenge, but he was going to find the attacker and get payback. He also was going to act on the second test’s hidden goal, so Yeowun then moved to the fifth room.

Unlike the 7th and 8th where entire group consisted of boys, the fifth group had two girl cadets; one of them was the leader, Chun Wonryou. Chun Yeowun then realized she was upstairs and gave up.

‘Then... the culprit must be in the sixth group.’

If it was to hurt Mukeum, then it must have been one of the leaders. Yeowun then thought the leader of the 6th group might be the guilty party and walked to the sixth room. Nano scanned the room.

[A total of 16 students are all asleep.]

‘Sixteen?’

Chun Yeowun frowned. The sixth group had a total of twenty students and three of them were girls. If there were only sixteen inside, then it meant that one person was missing. Yeowun then walked in and checked on each student. He couldn’t find the leader.

‘What?’

Yeowun scanned everyone, but none of them matched the attacker. It was suspicious that the leader was missing. Yeowun then shook his head and looked at other students.

‘...Well, there are more ways to skin a cat, right?’

He then grinned and began pressing the blood points of all the students.

And this was what happened until Chun Yeowun was up on stage for the lottery. Lee Hameng was truly astonished. If Chun Yeowun was the leader, it meant that Chun Mukeum was injured by someone here.

‘They understood my test then. I guess this year’s academy is a success.’

Hameng then asked the leaders, “Are you all done?”

All the leaders shouted, “Mado!”

“Good. I know you all have prepared fair and square for this test. Good luck.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Fair and square?’

All the leaders seemed to feel uncomfortable. As the leaders stepped down and gave the paper they pulled out to the instructors, one student was glaring at the other leaders. It was leader of the sixth group, 108th cadet Ha Ilming. Chun Yeowun then ordered Nano.

‘Nano, scan him.’

Wherever Ha Ilming went, half of his group was limping with pale faces. Yeowun felt satisfied knowing that he had achieved his goal.

[Scan complete. Entity Ha Ilming matches the attacker profile.]

Chapter 27: Eye for an eye (2)

Chun Yeowun smiled after finding the attacker. As for Ha Ilming, he didn't feel so good. He was the only individual leader who wasn't a prince of the six clans or a member of a high-ranking clan. When he heard the information about the four groups fighting against each other, he came up with an idea to easily pass the test.

'If I get rid of the leaders, then it will be a piece of cake.'

All groups were given the same formation training, so naturally, they were equal in power. Therefore, Ha Ilming began ambushing the leaders each night. He attacked two of the princes and the princess. After exchanging a few attacks with Chun Wonryou, he thought he could easily injure her. However, there was one thing he didn't know. Chun Wonryou's musical wave energy which could spread through allowed her to hear what was going on.

After the first failure, he went after Chun Mukeum. After ambushing with enough preparation, he was able to injure Mukeum. He tried to take him out completely, but an intruder made him fall back. However, he thought injuring Mukeum's leg was enough. He then tried to attack the next leader, but he couldn't as the damage from the previous attack didn't allow him to do it.

'I thought I got away.'

He thought he had dodged the attack from the intruder, but he actually didn't wasn't. The attack cracked his ribs so he had to stay on the roof at midnight to heal himself, and it was then that it happened.

‘What bastard did such a thing!’

He didn’t think that someone would attack the entire group at night. He figured it was weird when his entire group wouldn’t wake up and he realized that they had all been put to sleep with blood points, which was bone-chilling. When he woke up everyone, he then realized half of his group couldn’t walk because of their thighs, feet, and muscles..

‘Why the leg? OH!’

Ha Ilming then realized that it was payback for what he did.

‘How dare...’

It was likely that the culprit was in the 8th group. And when he saw Chun Yeowun coming up on stage, he became confused.

‘Him...? The rumored seventh prince? It can’t be him...’

How could a man with no internal energy just three weeks ago do such a thing? There had to be someone hiding within the 8th group who was more powerful like himself. Ha Ilming’s goal was clear.

‘I will find the culprit and destroy his leg!’

And the result of the lottery was decided.

[Fifth versus eighth. Sixth versus seventh.]

Members of the 7th group sighed in relief. They had to change leaders because of last night’s incident and they wanted to avoid the fifth group that had Chun Wonryou as the leader.

“We’re lucky.”

“The 6th group is worse than us.”

“Maybe we will go up!”

Ha Ilming wanted to fight the 8th group to get his revenge, but this result only made him angrier.

‘Just wait...’

And for the 8th group, they weren’t all that thrilled. They were up against a group that had taken no losses at all.

‘Hmph. All that was for nothing then,’ Chun Yeowun thought. This was very unlucky. He decided to never go gambling and looked at Chun Wonryou.

‘Lust Clan.’

Chun Wonryou was the sixth in rank to the throne. Mukeum was in the same group so there was no other way, but Yeowun had to defeat her right at the start. Although she was not the strongest of the heirs, the problem was that she was known for her leadership capabilities.

‘It doesn’t matter. I have to defeat all of them sooner or later,’ Yeowun assured himself. And with every battle decided, Hameng shouted with the beginning of the test.

“First set of groups, come to the middle of the training ground!”

“Mado!”

For the first battle, the 1st and 3rd group got onto the training ground and looked at each other. Unlike the 3rd group who was tense, the 1st group seemed like they were certain of their victory.

‘Chun Muyeon.’

Yeowun knew the name also. He was first in line for the throne, and he was known for being the closest heir. Without considering the fact that he was from the Wise Clan, or the most powerful clan among the six clans, he was known for his power, wisdom, and character. As both groups got ready, Hameng shouted, “The group that overpowers other wins. Begin!”

“Mado!”

And then the test began. Both groups charged toward each other.

‘Huh?’

It was the first formation battle, but both groups didn’t change their formation and charged with their shields up. At this rate, they were just going to clash against each other to push the other out. It was understandable for the 3rd group since their leader had changed, but it was too simple for a man like Chun Muyeon to have come up with such a plan.

“Whoaaaaa!”

Right before they collided with each other, Chun Muyeon hollered, “From the right, THIRD FORMATION!”

The right flank of the formation sped up and the form changed. Hameng was astonished.

“Oh? Diagonal strike here?”

The 1st group charged diagonally and the 3rd group couldn’t even react to them as it was too fast. When they collided, the left side of the third group was pushed back and soon enough, the last row at the far right began falling too.

“Ugh! Don’t push!”

“Waaaaah!”

Soon, they all got pushed back.

“Get up! You have to get up!”

The new 3rd group leader shouted, but they couldn’t get up. At that time, first group leader Chun Muyeon thrust his sword into the third group leader’s shoulder.

“ARGH!”

Muyeon spoke to him with a cold voice.

“You lost. Surrender.”

“Nnngh...!”

It was too late. There was no going back as the entire formation had crumbled.

“...I surrender.”

And that was it. The understanding and the quick decision by Chun Muyeon had brought victory to the first group. Hameng stood up and shouted, “Congratulations on the victory! I announce the 1st group’s passing of the second test!”

Students mumbled and looked at the first group with envy. Yeowun, however, was thinking about something deeply. Soon, the second pair came up.

“Begin!”

It was the battle between the 2nd and 4th group. Both groups watched what happened prior, so they didn't charge in recklessly. After a few formation changes, the winner was decided as expected.

“Congratulations to the fourth group for their victory!”

“The 2nd group did their best even though their leader changed, but they still lost.”

‘As expected. They are the same.’

While everyone was focused on the results, Yeowun was glad that he had guessed right. The losers had to leave the training ground with grim faces and the winners shouted with joy.

Hameng shouted, “Next pair, come up!”

It was the fifth versus eighth. Yeowun looked at his anxious group members.

‘They are discouraged. This isn't good.’

Yeowun then took a deep breath and turned to them.

“Are you afraid?”

“?”

“Me too. I know all of you are concerned that our leader has changed. But if we don't win here, we will be expelled from the academy. I do not want that. I want to climb higher.”

Everyone turned to Yeowun. Yeowun was talking to them with the same perspective of being a student.

“But I am also angry. I do not want to lose to someone who attacked our leader so that we would fail!”

Sometimes, anger was the best medicine for nervousness. And at Yeowun’s words, his group members started becoming angry.

“If you share my thoughts, we cannot fail here! I won’t say anymore. Let’s win this!”

Chun Yeowun’s choice wasn’t wrong. At his words, the students began to grow eager for battle. They now had forgotten their fears and concerns.

“Let’s win!”

The 8th group went up to the stage and Hameng wondered, ‘Can he rally the group too?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It was unexpected. He didn’t think much of Yeowun as a replacement and he didn’t believe Yeowun had what it took to do such a thing. However, it didn’t mean that he was going to win either.

‘Let’s see if he’s a cat or tiger cub.’

Hameng then gave the start signal.

“Whoever overpowers other group wins. BEGIN!”

“Mado!!”

Chapter 28

Chapter 28: Eye for an eye (3)

The leader of the 5th group, Chun Wonryou, glared at Chun Yeowun.

‘Ugh.’

This wasn’t what she wanted. She wanted to defeat the 8th group led by Chun Mukeum and prove that she had the potential to be the next leader, but the current 8th group was led by Chun Yeowun who was too weak and had a bad background. It wasn’t enough to prove her potential.

‘You do not belong there.’

She didn’t feel that hostile against Yeowun like the Loyal or Poison Clans, but she too considered Yeowun to be peasant blood.

‘You should blame your mother for putting you in such a spot.’

She knew the hardships that Yeowun had faced while growing up.

‘Your peasant blood doesn’t belong in the competition for the throne. I will put an end to it right here. It will be better for your unfortunate life.’

Chun Wonryou then decided to finish Chun Yeowun here and now.

When the test began, the 5th group began charging in. Yeowun then talked to Nano in his head.

‘Nano, activate Augmented Reality. Activate the formation tutorial.’

Yeowun then started seeing the lines and writings in his sight. He had already registered the twelve formations into Nano’s program. Members of the 8th group became nervous as Yeowun did not give them any orders while the 5th group was charging straight at them.

“Not yet!” Yeowun shouted to his members. And when the 5th group reached a certain distance, Chun Wonryou shouted, “Number two!”

The 5th group then began changing their formation. Yeowun then thought, ‘Spear formation?’

Yeowun then saw the lines analyzing their movements which turned into writing before they even completed the formation

[Opponent is changing into the spear formation.]

They were forming an arrow with Chun Wonryou at the front. This was effective when the leader had the strength; they could penetrate the enemy’s defenses through brute force.

The tutorial began to show him how to react to the attack.

[For the perfect defense, there is the defensive formation. Success rate: 100%. For a counterattack, fishnet formation can be used. Defense success rate: 60%, counterattack success rate: 90%.]

Augmented Reality gave him two choices. The first one was the safer choice, but Yeowun took the second one.

“We will go as planned for the first! Number six!”

Wonryou raised her eyebrows as she guessed the formation. As she had guessed, the 8th group quickly changed into the fishnet formation.

‘How dare he!’

Unlike the spear formation which guaranteed penetration, the fishnet formation was an attack formation that was created to defend at the front with support from behind. However, this also required the leader at the forefront to be powerful.

“Fishnet formation here?”

Hameng also couldn’t understand this. That required the leader to handle the opposing formation’s leader. Hameng knew Submeng had taught him, but that was too reckless.

‘Maybe I thought too highly of him.’

He shook his head, and this thought was shared by all the students.

‘Such a foolish choice!’

Nobody thought Chun Yeowun would be able to handle Chun Wonryou. Yet, none of the members of the 8th group thought twice about Yeowun’s decision.

“How dare a peasant like you think of fighting me!”

Chun Wonryou clashed head-on against Yeowun who wielded internal energy on the shield. People were surprised by what came after. They thought the 8th group led by Yeowun would be put down the moment when they clashed, but they were holding off.

‘They blocked them!’

Everyone was shocked. However, the one who was the most shocked was Chun Wonryo.

‘W-what?!’

Her attack was being pushed back. She had over thirty-five years worth of internal energy. Even if Chun Yeowun had acquired that much internal energy from the Black Dragon Ball, it should not have been enough to fend off Wonryou.

‘Whew... it’s as expected.’

Yeowun felt sweat rolling down his forehead. Unlike Wonryou’s assumption, Yeowun actually only had thirty years worth of internal energy.

He was a bit weaker in internal energy, but his muscle cells were at Submeng’s level, and that allowed him to hold his ground. Yeowun then took a step forward. His lack of internal energy let the attack wave pass through the shield, but he also had a way to deal with this.

[Regenerating bodily damage from hostile energy force coming through the shield.]

Nano moved quickly to heal Yeowun. Wonryou was shocked.

‘What has he done?!’

She then realized she had to change the formation or else her group would be destroyed. She shouted, “Retreat!”

Number one!”

Her group then took a few steps back and Wonryou also brought up her shield before hopping back. Number one was the basic formation of two lines.

Yeowun looked around to plan his next move.

[Opponent has changed formations. Corner them through the Sparrow’s Wing formation and subdue the opponent through the circle formation. Success rate: 90%.]

With Nano’s voice, Yeowun shouted at his members.

“Change! Number three!”

They began spreading out. Wonryou smiled. She realized Yeowun was changing the formation by using the numbers. The third formation was the four-line formation.

‘Fool. You think what the first group used will work against me?’

She figured she managed to find out what Yeowun intended on using, and thus she shouted toward her students.

“Number six!”

Number six was the fishnet formation. It would allow her to cut right through the middle of the four-line formation. Her group then began to form a fish.

She sent the power to her sword. She didn’t know what Yeowun did, but she didn’t think he would have gotten this much stronger so quickly.

‘If I corner him alone, I will kill him!’

However, her plan didn’t work. Soon enough, they couldn’t hide their shock.

“W-what?!!”

“It’s not the four-line formation!”

The 8th group had spread themselves into the Sparrow’s Wing formation to corner them in. They were now being cornered in the semi-circle.

‘What? What is going on?!’

Even Wonryou was shocked by the situation. Yeowun just shouted number three, but the formation was different. Before she could get back to her senses, Yeowun shouted again.

“Number two!”

“What?!”

Chun Wonryou’s pretty face contorted at number two. Number two was the spearhead formation, but it was not a good formation to shift to from the Sparrow’s Wing formation.

‘He’s not forming the circle formation? What is... no!’

Chun Wonryou’s eyes almost popped out. Unlike her first thought, the 8th group was changing into another formation that she hadn’t guessed.

‘W-wait...’

She then saw Yeowun grinning at her with a smirk.

“AAAAHHHHHHH!”

She screamed as her face turned red, realizing the secret behind this. Yeowun had given backward numbers to the formation while the other groups kept the same number.

‘He shouted the regular number to fool me!’

For the first formation, the 8th group used regular numbers. But from the second formation on, they changed the system. The 8th group was now closing in from the circle formation, and the 5th group was cornered.

‘No... how can I...’

With no way out, there were no way for them to win this either. Yet, Wonryou couldn’t accept the result. The students in the 5th group fell into despair. They all began dropping their shields after realizing they had lost.

“What are you doing! Why are you putting your shields down!”

Wonryou shouted at her members. She couldn’t bear to lose against Yeowun whom she thought had no place against her. She had to win against Yeowun easily to compete with the others.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘They will laugh at me! Everyone will laugh at me!’

She then lost control and charged at Yeowun.

“DIE!!!!!!”

Wonryou unleashed the Lust Can's unique skill, Sword Energy Wave, trying to kill her target. And what happened next shocked all the students yet again.

Chun Yeowun threw down his shield and jumped up, unleashing his Butterfly Blade Dance at his enemy.

Chapter 29

Chapter 29: Secret books of the Academy library (1)

Submeng's blade skill mesmerized people who saw the traces that it left.

"DIE!"

Chun Wonryou's attack lost its unique smooth flow due to her anger and brute force. Yeowun's sword crashed into her attack and shot past her cheek and arm.

'The last attack move isn't complete because it's not a blade.'

He had to use a blade for it to work, but this was only a training sword so he couldn't use the skill perfectly. However, it was perfect until then.

Something dropped to the ground. Blood began to pour out from the cut area, and Chun Wonryou's face turned pale as her eyes trembled.

"Kyyyaaaaaaah!"

Her scream filled the training ground. It was her right arm that had fallen down. It was same for most martial artists, but for the Lust Clan, the right arm was like a treasure that could not be replaced.

"AAAAAAAAAAAH! My arm! My arm!!!"

She screamed as she grabbed her arm on the ground, not thinking about stopping the bleeding. It was so sudden that everyone stared blankly before they returned to their senses.

The instructor of the 5th group quickly ran up, grabbed the cut arm, and pressed on Wonryou's blood point. He then took off his clothes to wrap it around her arm to stop the bleeding. It had only been three weeks, but the Instructor Wuchil glared at Yeowun who had injured his student so horribly and looked away. Within the Demonic Academy where the strong took everything, Yeowun had done nothing wrong.

"Whoa..."

Lee Hameng was dumbfounded. He knew Right Guardian Submeng's blade skill better than anyone else and what Yeowun did was the perfect copy of Submeng himself, if not considering the experience and the internal energy.

'Drunkard... what have you done?'

He had created a masterpiece out of nowhere in just two weeks. Hameng thought Yeowun would not have such luck at the beginning of the second test, but he was wrong.

'No. It's not Submeng.'

He would have thought it was Submeng if Yeowun was just powerful in martial arts, but he had passed the second test so easily. He overpowered Wonryou in using formation tactics, and Hameng liked how aggressive Yeowun was in dealing with his enemies.

'...Maybe I should've taken him in as my apprentice before Submeng did.'

The result came as regret for Hameng. But he was the Chief of the academy, and Submeng was already Yeowun's teacher. Hameng got up and shouted, "Congratulations to the 8th group on their victory."

"Whoaaaaaaa!"

Members of the 8th group shouted with joy.

'I passed the second test. Whew...'

Chun Yeowun also realized it by hearing his members shouting in joy.

"Go back down now."

They returned to their position with joy. The victory of the 8th group didn't only give Chun Yeowun happiness.

'Chun Yeowun.'

'He was hiding his skill.'

'The peasant dares to defeat the Lust Clan?'

'...I should pay attention to him.'

Chun Yeowun's ability had now been revealed to everyone within the academy. Now, all the students from the high-ranked clans and princes began focusing on him. And as for Chun Jongsum who hated Yeowun as much as Mukeum, he began planning ahead.

The test began again as the next set of groups was ready. As they walked forward, Yeowun felt a faint sensation of hostility and turned around. It was Ha Ilming who was glaring at him.

‘Now you know?’

Yeowun smiled and Ha Ilming scowled.

‘You!’

Ha Ilming didn’t think Yeowun was the culprit until the test progressed further. After seeing Yeowun attack Wonryou, he became certain that it was Yeowun. He couldn’t miss it as he had been attacked by Yeowun the other night.

‘Bastard!’

He couldn’t do anything since they were in the middle of the test and he had to finish the test first.

“Hehehe...”

The 7th group was beyond excited to see half the members of the 6th group limping up onto the stage. This was going to be an easy victory.

‘Attacking all the members? Whoever did it is very aggressive.’

Hameng also was intrigued to see such a thing. He had never seen an attack on this many students before.

“Begin!”

The 7th group began charging in with a charging formation.

“Six!”

It was the fishnet formation. The 7th group moved quickly to get into formation, but the 6th group did not move. Ha Ilming looked back at his members and seethed, “You all should thank me eternally.”

What did that mean? Ha Ilming then flashed his sword up and shouted.

“Spear formation!”

“Spear formation!”

The 6th group members moved slowly to change formation and the leader of the 7th group, Wujun, scoffed.

“Hah! What a fool. Telling us what formation they’re using?”

And the formation was indeed the spear formation which was weak against the fishnet formation as seen from the battle with the 8th group.

‘What a noble sacrifice for your members, huh?’ Wujun thought as he and his group charged in. And when they were about to collide...

“Goodbye!”

Wujun threw his shield out with the internal energy, but Ha Ilming threw his shield on the ground and grabbed on his sword with two hands.

‘What?’

Ha Ilming’s two arms then began to expand and he swung his sword from the bottom up.

“Dammit!”

Wujun brought down his shield to the bottom, but the shield was crushed and thrown up. Wujun looked up at his shield with shock and Ha Ilming’s powerful thrust came for his chest.

“URGH!”

The sword penetrated Wujun’s chest. Blood poured out from his mouth and he couldn’t even speak.

“Ugh!”

Ha Ilming then focused the internal energy in his leg and shouted, “PUSH!”

His group members then began putting the shield in front and started moving. Ha Ilming then used Wujun like a shield to push forward.

“ARGH!”

The 7th group began to move back frantically. This result was completely different from all the other groups. Every student who was watching became dumbfounded and Hameng almost burst out in laughter.

‘Hahaha! What kind of battle is this?’

This result was achieved through just one person’s strength. Hameng was curious as to how Ha Ilming would pass the test with his wounded group, and this was beyond expectation.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘This year’s academy is exciting.’

Hameng then got up and shouted, “Congratulations...”

The 6th group shouted with joy. And as they were filled with joy, Ha Ilming glanced at Wujun before he turned to look at Yeowun who was watching. His expression was saying this: 'You're next.'

Yeowun then realized that he had created an annoying enemy.

The test went on with the other groups and they weren't that exciting. They were mostly normal formation battles. Countless students were wounded, but the only one who was killed was the 7th group leader, Wujun. Now, only 270 students were left and they moved onto the third stage.

Chapter 30: Secret books of the Academy library (2)

All the cadets were dismissed from the training ground right after the second test. They were light-footed as they were the ones who had passed the test. Contrary to their expectations of hearing the details about the third test, Lee Hameng, the Left Guardian and the Chief of the Demonic Academy, gave them a vacation.

"I applaud each and every one of you for passing the second test. You will be given three days of rest."

"Whoaaaaa!"

All students rejoiced with a shout. The past three weeks had been busy for them. These three vacation days was for the students so they could take the time to recover, but it was also for instructors who needed rest.

At the office on the first floor of the main building, there was a long meeting table with piles of documents which the instructors were shifting through. Someone came up to Lee Hameng with a pile of organized documents.

"This is the evaluation and information regarding the failed cadets through the fifth group."

"Okay."

Lee Hameng recieved the documents and flipped through the pages as he shook his head.

"We have a lot of failed cadets."

“Are you talking about ones from the high-ranked clans?”

“Yeah, they lost a good chance.”

Hameng continued looking through the documents. There were a lot of individuals who would have passed easily if it wasn't for the group testing. Even Chun Wonryou who was one of the candidates to the throne was included.

“Well, isn't that why we're here to do this work?”

“Haha, yeah. That's true.”

The Demonic Academy was open for once every ten years for four years only. The academy was strictly based on competition and gave no second chances to the failed students or talented individuals. This had been an issue with various families, and after through meetings, a reasonable amount of compensation was created.

“If we strictly base everything off the original rules of the academy, we wouldn't be doing this.”

“Yeah, but you will be hearing all those complaints from the various clans.”

The compensation was to give a fair evaluation to the individuals and give them proper ranks and jobs that suited their skills. Failing the second test meant that no one would be a third-grade warrior, but that was deemed to be a waste of talented individuals. Therefore, it was changed.

But why was it not announced earlier? That was because of the academy's talent-based system. If the students found out that they would be given a fair evaluation and title worth getting even if they failed, why would they risk their lives in the competition?

The students who failed were missing out on the Black Dragon Balls and access to the libraries, but the compensation was acceptable.

“Hmph. By the way, they should be crawling over to the library by now.”

Hameng thought as he stretched for a break. And as he had guessed, the entrance to the library was crowded with over hundreds of students trying to get in.

‘There are a lot of them.’

Most were here to go up to the second floor, and Chun Yeowun was one of them. There were more at first, but half of them returned to the dorm to try another time.

‘I’ll be going to the first floor anyway.’

It was Yeowun’s first visit to the library. Most of the cadets had already used their time on the first floor, but Yeowun had used that time to do a simulation with Nano. The choice to do so was also partly because of Submeng’s advice.

‘Concentrate on learning my blade and breathing skills until you get to the second stage. That will increase your chances of moving on.’

‘Of course, Teacher. But shouldn’t I visit the library too?’

‘No. You have learned martial arts that would be on the fourth or fifth floor of the library, so don’t waste your time delving into the ones on the first floor.’

He had a point. The Butterfly Blade Dance and Breathing of Thousand Martials were some of the best martial arts placed in the upper floors of the library. Chun Yeowun heeded the advice and focused on training his skills. When he got the three-day vacation, he decided to visit the first and second floor of the library.

‘One hour.’

That was the time limit given for the first floor. It was a very short amount of time to look through books, but it didn’t matter to Yeowun.

‘I’ll scan as many as I can.’

His goal was to scan as many as he could within the time limit. The library was shaped like a tower, and each higher floor had less space. There were no windows and the only entrance was from the entrance on the first floor.

‘I should give up on trying to sneak in.’

Chun Yeowun was shocked to see this. The library had one of the top security measures throughout the entire Demonic Cult castle.

“Hey, get in line!”

All the cadets lined up to write their names, and they each received two red candles. One of them had a line which showed how many hours they had spent. One of the candles was placed at the entrance, and the other was for cadet to carry around to keep track of time.

“What? One and a half hours?”

“Why is it so short?!”

Some cadets were sighing at the entrance. It seemed like the time given for the second floor wasn’t that long either.

And then it was Chun Yeowun's turn to enter.

"Second floor?"

"No, sir. First floor."

"What? You didn't visit the first floor yet?"

The instructor looked at Yeowun suspiciously and flipped through the book that recorded all the entrances to the first floor to check if Yeowun's name was there.

"No? Hmm."

He became curious as to why Yeowun had not visited the first floor yet, but it didn't matter to him so he placed him on the last page of the booklet and said, "Write your name down there."

Yeowun then received two candles. His candles were shorter than the candles that the other cadets going to the second floor received.

"You will be allowed one hour. If you go over the limit, you will be dragged out and punished. Make sure you check the time."

"Yes, sir," Yeowun answered casually and entered the library. A guard at the entrance gave him a box with a handle so that Yeowun could put the candle inside. This was to protect the books from accidental fire. As he walked in, he saw entire walls covered with bookshelves full of books. In addition, there were bookshelves all over the place. The many rows made it hard to count how many books there were.

"Whoa."

Yeowun was astonished. He had never seen so many books in his life. He then quickly went over and took out the first book he saw. The cover of the book said: Sword of Five Martials.

‘I don’t have time.’

The first floor had less important books, but it was better to know more than nothing. Since all the cadets were on the second floor, it was good for Yeowun to concentrate alone.

‘Nano, I’ll look through pages. Scan all of them.’

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun then began flipping through the books. It only took him about a minute to go through the entire book.

[Scanning complete.]

He then continued looking through any book he could find and went on to read any book he could get his hands on. Nano kept telling him whenever the scan was complete. Once Yeowun was able to scan over fifty-five books, his pace became faster. He then moved toward the middle of the floor to look at the books in the middle.

‘Huh?’

At the center of the library, there was a giant stone monument that glowed faintly in blue. Next to it was a middle-aged man with a long beard sitting on a chair. It seemed like he was the guard who watched over the first floor.

‘What’s with this stone?’

As he walked past it with a curious look, the middle-aged man looked at Yeowun's tag and spoke to him.

"This was left by our founding father, Chun Ma."

"Chun Ma?"

Yeowun became intrigued after knowing the secret behind this blue glowing stone. The man then got up from his seat and added, "It was created with blue pearl stone."

Blue pearl stone was stronger than any other type of stone as it was hard to even scratch without proper internal energy. There was also a poem written on the stone which looked like it had been engraved by a finger.

"Was this written by hand?"

"Isn't it amazing? We can't do this with our swords, but Father Chun Ma did it with his finger."

Even the most powerful warrior would say that it was impossible to leave such an engraving on blue pearl stone.

"Most are too busy looking at the books that they miss out on seeing this, but you seem to recognize your ancestor's greatest achievement."

"I almost missed it too."

The man grinned at his words.

"Yes, but it is only natural. Who would care about a mere stone that was left by a person in ancient times when you are busy digging through books?"

He had guarded this place for twenty years but he never saw anyone who took a good look at the stone. It was same for even those who had the blood of Chun.

“Well, I took too much of your time. Go on with your business.”

“Thank you, sir.”

They only talked for less than a minute, so Yeowun smiled and walked past him toward the opposite side of the stone. He couldn't scan the books when the man was watching him, so he glanced back at the stone that his ancestor had supposedly put there. He then noticed that the stone had sharp scars. It seemed like it had been done to cover something up.

‘What?’

Yeowun then walked closer to check the marks. It seemed like it had been made with sharp weapons.

‘Nano, analyze these.’

[Scanning the surface of the blue pearl stone.]

Nano began to analyze the surface through Yeowun's eyes. Soon, Nano finished the analysis.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

[Complete. It is a mark left by a sharp sword.]

“A sword mark?”

Yeowun was surprised. Who would have done such a thing on the stone that was left by the founding father of the cult? Nano then added some additional commentary.

[After further analysis, it seems that the marks were left by two different entities.]

‘Two people?’

Chapter 31

Chapter 31: Secret books of the Academy library (3)

‘Nano, can you trace the sword marks through augmented reality in 3D mode?’

Chun Yeowun, who now had gotten used to Nano’s ability, ordered Nano with ease.

[Activating.]

White lines appeared in Yeowun’s vision and the augmented reality was shown. Nano’s voice soon followed. The augmented reality had created a detailed 3D image of the swords and they created each mark.

‘Oh.’

He didn’t realize it when he just glossed over it, but the marks had various depths and angles on the stone. Was this done on purpose to hide something else?

‘Maybe it erased someone’s realization of the truth?’

Yeowun felt a chill down his spine. If the person who left the poem in the stone was founding father Chun Ma, then it was easy to guess who left the original sword marks. And if those were left by Chun Ma also, it was likely that the sword marks represented the trace of Chun Ma’s founding of the truth.

‘Nano, can you figure out who left which trace? Can you track the trace that was left first and then erase the rest of it?’

[Understood.]

Yeowun then saw countless sword marks being removed and was just left with a few sword marks. His eyes shook. It wasn't due to Nano's ability, but Yeowun's surprise.

'It- it's a sword skill.'

Yeowun then realized it wasn't just a regular trace. It was the trace of a sword skill created from various movements. There were certain patterns and movements to leaving the sword marks.

'I can see that it is from a sword skill, but this is not enough.'

Yeowun didn't have the experience to analyze it properly, but Yeowun had the Nano Machine, or the technology of the future.

'Nano, can you retrace these marks and find out what moves the person made to create this?'

[Positive. However, I require the density of the blue pearl stone to accurately portray the degree of strength required to leave the marks.]

'You don't want me to destroy it, do you?'

Yeowun frowned. He couldn't dare to damage the stone when even the strongest warrior couldn't do it. Besides, the guard was still sitting in front of the stone.

[I can analyze it if you place your palm on the surface.]

Yeowun nodded and placed his hand on the stone. He then felt a tingling feeling going through his palm.

[Completed. Since the density of diamond is 10, blue pearl stone has a density of 7.]

It was astonishing that the stone had such density.

Yeowun then thought the one who left the marks on this stone must have been really powerful. He then came to one thought.

‘Wait... who made the marks on top it then?’

Nano’s voice then resounded in his ears..

[Recreating movement that created the sword trace.]

A vague human avatar materialized itself in front of Yeowun and began going through the motions. Many movements from the sword skill were unleashed instantaneously. It was extremely quick. Yeowun thought the marks had been left through many movements since there were so many marks, but it was only the result of one combination.

‘W...what?’

Yeowun was shocked. He had only learned the dagger skill and Butterfly Blade Dance, but he knew that the movement he witnessed just now was at an even higher level.

Yeowun thought of countering it with the Butterfly Blade Dance, but he couldn’t find a way to counter it effectively. It was that powerful.

‘N...Nano. Is this from one formation?’

[It is analyzed to be all interconnected. In the standard of martial arts that Master knows of, yes.]

Yeowun then felt his heart pounding and his legs shaking. The movement was perfect. He then swallowed his throat and asked, 'Is there any other formation?'

[After careful analysis, it was found to be only one formation.]

Yeowun asked this because his Butterfly Blade Dance was created with twenty-four basic movements. Three movements were connected to each other to create a single formation. The last formation of the skill was the ultimate formation that consisted of eight basic movements and even Submeng needed half a year to learn it. Yeowun was able to learn it easily with the help from Nano, but even he felt the muscle strain from the last formation.

'Twenty-four movements in one formation... it is simply perfect. What if there is more than one?'

Even if it was perfect with just one, there was no way a sword skill would be comprised of one formation. Yeowun then thought there might be more than one of this stone.

'Nano, save the sword move that I just saw.'

[Understood.]

He wanted to learn the movements, but he didn't have much time left. He didn't expect much from the library, but this was an amazing find.

'I almost missed the treasure because of the trace. Whoever it is, he did it intentionally. Well, it also only allowed me to get it, so maybe I should thank him.'

The sword skill would have been found if it wasn't for the sword marks. Nano spoke to him.

[After analyzing the sword mark left over the original, it was found to be created with forty-five basic sword movements.]

'What?'

Yeowun almost gasped out loud in shock. He just thought it was left to hide the original mark, but it wasn't.

[And it was left over time.]

'It wasn't made all at once?'

It was created by one person, but was left over time. That confused Yeowun.

'All this was from a sword skill? Then why...?'

Yeowun then issued another order to Nano. He now had forgotten about scanning books completely.

'Nano. Simulate the forty-five sword skill movements.'

[Understood. Activating...]

And just like before, a human-shaped figure appeared in front of him and quickly began going through the motions.

'What?'

As the sword skill was unleashed one by one, Yeowun's expression turned into that of shock. From the first to the tenth, to the twentieth, and to the thirtieth, Yeowun couldn't hide his astonishment.

'It can't be... it's getting closer to perfection!'

It was already astounding by the twentieth move, but by the time it passed the fortieth attack, it was close to perfect. At the last forty-fifth movement, Yeowun's face was drenched with sweat.

[Completed.]

'Huh?'

Yeowun then came back to his senses.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

'Oh, I'm sweating.'

He wiped the sweat off of his face. It was so shocking that he was now so thirsty from it. He then ordered, 'Nano, can you apply the two sword skills to the avatars and let them fight?'

[Activating battle mode.]

Two avatars appeared in front of him. They looked at each other and they each began using their different sword skills. The battle instantly ended, and the outcome was beyond belief. Yeowun mumbled with disbelief, "It's... countered..."

The latter forty-fifth sword skill easily countered the former that Yeowun considered to be perfect and chopped the opponent avatar's neck.

Chapter 32: Secret books of the Academy library (4)

Chun Yeowun felt excited after discovering the sword skill behind the pearl stone.

‘To think no one had noticed this...’

It was fortunate that he had come across such a finding. Yeowun ordered, ‘Nano, memorize these forty-five skills.’

[Understood.]

Yeowun couldn’t hide his smile. The middle-aged man then came over to him with a curious look.

“Huh? Were you still here?”

“Oh.. uh...”

“Ah, so you were looking at the backside. It’s a mess, isn’t it?”

The man smiled bitterly, “Isn’t it shame? It was rumored that the back of the stone held a secret to Father Chun Ma’s founding of the truth with the sword.”

“Oh?”

Yeowun looked at the man with an intrigued expression, but he shook his head as he felt the chaotic marks all over it.

“Whoever did this did a terrible thing. Maybe he wanted to take all of the glory for himself.”

Chun Yeowun was shocked. If this man had been guarding the stone for a long time, he should have had ample time to look at these marks, but he just thought that it was an act of destroying the former record.

‘Nobody has noticed it then.’

But there was one thing Yeowun did not know about here. In order to find what sword skill was used, the one observing it had to have much more knowledge in martial arts. However, two sword skills left on this stone were even beyond Right Guardian Submeng’s level. Yeowun then asked the man, “Are there more stones like this one in the library?”

It was an important question. If the stone only had one formation originally, he thought it was possible that more stones would be left with other formations. The man replied, “I only stay on the first floor, but I heard these exist on every floor.”

It was what Yeowun wanted to hear. He quietly nodded.

‘Oh... it’s almost over.’

Time was now running out, but he didn’t care. He had gotten something better than scanning through books.

“Oh, are you almost done here?”

“Yeah.”

Yeowun smiled and the man pointed to a direction in the library.

“Go check on the ‘Origins’ section. There aren’t that many martial arts books that are useful here, but those books might help you.”

“Oh!”

“It’s my apology for taking your time.”

He then patted Yeowun’s shoulder and returned to his seat. Yeowun then bowed to the man and went to the shelves.

“Oh...”

The books here had the basics of all martial arts and the origins. What caught Yeowun’s eye was the book called ‘Origin of Internal Energy’.

‘Nano, scan the book.’

Yeowun then began skimming through the book and realized that the information it contained seemed useful. It was a book that explained the basis of internal energy that might help Nano analyze and help with the breathing skill. Yeowun then used all his remaining time to scan the books on the shelf. He didn’t realize it now, but this would later help him in creating his own martial arts.

“Hmph. You are just in time.”

The instructor at the entrance pursed his lips. Yeowun had barely made it out in time.

“You can go now.”

The instructor said he could leave, but Yeowun wasn’t finished yet. He wanted to go to the second floor to check on something right away.

“I want to go to the second floor too.”

“What?”

The instructor became confused. Most of the students would be busy returning to their rooms so they could write down what they memorized, but Yeowun's decision to go to the second floor didn't make sense. However, the instructor just thought that maybe Yeowun didn't consider the first-floor books to be that important.

"...Write your name down."

"Yes, sir."

Yeowun was then allowed to enter. There was a staircase near the entrance right before the first floor. The guard standing at the stairway checked Yeowun's candle and allowed him to go upstairs.

The second floor was smaller than the first. Inside, a countless number of cadets were reading and memorizing the books.

'Oh, they're still here.'

Most of the cadets here had a bit of left time as they entered the floor around the same time as Yeowun. These books did not help much to those from powerful clans, but it was a great help for those from low-ranked clans and they were memorizing as fast as they could.

'Oh.'

Yeowun then spotted an unexpected person. It was Chun Yuchan from the Blade Clan. Unlike the other candidates who underestimated the books on these floors, he was here looking through various blade books.

'Maybe I should watch out for him.'

People who put in more effort into things that looked pointless were more dangerous to him. Yeowun then walked silently to the center of the floor.

‘There it is!’

There was the blue pearl stone standing proudly in the center. Unlike the guard on the first floor, the guard here was walking around the stone, checking to see if the students were copying the books here. Yeowun then walked to the back of the stone.

‘I knew it!’

He almost gasped in astonishment. The stone was covered in sword marks too. Yeowun called out to Nano again.

‘Nano, scan those marks and analyze it.’

[Understood.]

Nano began to scan the traces.

[Found marks left by same entities from the first floor. One entity left one formation created with twenty-four movements. Another entity left a total of fifty-six formations over time.]

Nano was much quicker in scanning it since it had prior information.

‘It now has more formations here.’

It seems that the person who covered the original marks had gone on with further training. Yeowun wanted to see how the fifty-six formations were able to counter the original formations, but he could only do it later since there were too many people around.

‘Nano, scan and save the sword movements and formations.’

[Understood.]

‘I got four more formations then... heh heh.’

Yeowun then glanced over at the candle. It hadn’t even melted yet, so he skipped watching the simulations.

‘So, I still have an hour and a half left. I guess the books here are better than the ones on the first floor?’

Yeowun then began going through the books to scan them.

‘Nano, scan it.’

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun then began walking through the shelves. As Yeowun began scanning at a fast speed, the cadets were drawn to his actions. The continuous sound of Yeowun flipping the pages distracted from concentrating. They were already distracted by the guards walking around, but this was worse.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Ugh, what is he doing?!’

‘Ughhhhhh!’

It was especially irritating as Yeowun was just skimming through those books. However, he wasn’t interfering with their reading directly, so they couldn't raise complaints either.

'Ugh, I can't let him distract me. Let's focus!'

As Yeowun passed through, all the cadets screamed internally.

Chapter 33

Chapter 33: Founding of truth from Father Chun Ma (1)

As Chun Yeowun was scanning the books, there was one person who was looking at him closely. It was Chun Yuchan, the prince from the Blade Clan. He had been focusing on the blade-related books, but he couldn't stand watching Yeowun who was just skimming through countless books.

'Hmm...'

He didn't look like any of the other princes. Soon, most of the cadets ran out time and left. More cadets who entered, but it was more empty than when it was filled with over 100 cadets.

[Scan completed.]

[Scan completed.]

[Scan completed.]

When Yeowun's candle was almost at the line, Nano spoke to him.

[156 books scanned.]

While most cadets memorized one to two books, Yeowun was able to scan a hundred times that.

'This should be enough.'

He had scanned too many books. Jegal Hyun, who was known for having the most knowledge in the Force of Justice would know less than Yeowun regarding low-ranking martial arts skills now.

‘Nano, analyze all the books I scanned today and save it in the program.’

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun scanned these books not to just learn them. It was because of Submeng’s advice regarding the experience.

‘From what I can see, my Butterfly Blade Dance is probably within the top ten in the cult, but don’t be too arrogant.’

‘Yes, Teacher.’

‘Even if you have the skill, you need to train hundreds and thousands of times.’

Training was the hardest parts of martial arts. Luckily, Chun Yeowun was able to skip the hart part with Nano’s help.

‘The second thing you need is experience. I have perfected my martial arts after countless battles where I risked my life. In that sense, the Demonic Academy is a good place to gain such experience.’

Those were his teacher’s words, but he didn’t have any chances to get that experience until now. Only the real fight he had experienced so far was between him and Chun Mukeum. That of course helped Yeowun with his simulation, but it was limited as Mukeum’s avatar only knew three formation. This was where his scanning came in to help.

‘Nano, can you create Guard Jang’s avatar also?’

[It is possible since his basic information has already been analyzed while scanning for the dagger skill.]

‘Oh!’

Yeowun was then able to fight Guard Jang. He was weaker than Chun Mukeum, but he was harder to deal with because unlike Mukeum who knew three formations, Guard Jang used all the formations of the dagger skill.

‘Wait.. then I can make him use more skills!’

That’s how Chun Yeowun came up with a new idea. However, there was one more thing he needed to do beforehand. He wanted to look more closely at those sword formations in the blue pearl stone and transfer them to himself.

‘Oh, I’m almost out of time.’

His candle was almost at the limit. Yeowun quickly returned and left the library. The instructor got the candle from him and circled Yeowun’s name in the booklet.

“Hmph. You are free to go now.”

“Thank you, sir.”

And when he turned, the instructor mumbled, “Oh, and he wanted to know when you were coming out?”

“Huh?”

“Nevermind.”

Yeowun felt curious about that, but turned back to return.

‘Did someone wait for me?’

He wanted to ask who, but it didn't seem like the instructor would tell him anyway. Yeowun looked forward to returning to his private training room so he could transfer the sword skill. The sky was now quite dark. He had to return to his dorm before 10:30PM so he didn't have much time.

There was a wide building next to the main building that had 250 rooms for the cadets to practice alone. It was fully accessible after the second test. As Yeowun was going in, someone appeared and blocked him.

"There you are, 7th cadet."

'Huh?'

Yeowun looked at the boy blocking him. It was Ha Ilming, the leader of the 6th group.

"Why were you looking for me?"

Ha Ilming answered with an annoyed voice, "What? You think I don't know that you made half my group members become limp?"

Thanks to Yeowun, Ha Ilming had to give up on every formation plan he had to achieve victory with his own strength.

'Ugh... I'm busy, man.'

However, Yeowun was only focused on learning the sword skill. His thought that he had attracted an annoying enemy was correct.

'He's not weak though. Do I need to fight him?'

Yeowun then thought there was no other way around it and decided to taunt him so he that he would lose his calm.

Yeowun smiled, "Oh, I didn't tell you to leave the room that night though."

"OH! Of course! Thanks to you, isn't that right?"

Ha Ilming didn't fall for his taunt.

'He's not like you know who.'

Not everyone fell to taunts like Chun Mukeum. Ha Ilming already saw Chun Yeowun using the blade skill and he also cracked his ribs, so he was very careful.

'I have to be serious then.'

Yeowun turned serious and readied himself. Right when they were about to lunge toward each other, someone called them. But two boys did not look away as they were focusing on each other.

"Hey!"

And the man appeared in between them, blocking their sight.

"Who are you!" Ha Ilming cried. When Yeowun saw the intruder's face, he became wary. It was Chun Yuchan from the Blade clan.

"Haha, you two sure were focused."

Chun Yuchan laughed and turned to Yeowun. It looked like he had been waiting for Yeowun. Yuchan then turned to Ilming.

“I’m sorry, but I’ve been waiting for him for a while. Can I talk to him first? It won’t take long, please?”

He then bowed. This was an act that was never before seen from any prince. Ha Ilming became dumbfounded.

“I have been looking for him all day. Don’t give me that crap and get lost.”

“Oh? But I can’t do that. Hmm...”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Chun Yuchan kept on speaking with dumb look on his face and Ilming couldn’t hold back any longer. He jabbed his fingers forward like a sword to use his sword skill. He wielded strong internal energy with the attack.

Yet, Chun Yuchan easily blocked the attack and his hand stopped right next to Ilming’s neck. If it was a real blade, it would have killed Ha Ilming.

“Y-you...!”

Ha Ilming was shocked. Yuchan smiled at him.

“Will you give me some space now?”

Chapter 34

Chapter 34: Founding of truth from Father Chun Ma (2)

‘A basic movement countering the formation?!’

Chun Yeowun was astonished by Chun Yuchan’s movement. Ha Ilming couldn’t believe he had been overpowered by someone who wasn’t even ready to fight. Chun Yuchan smiled, “When you took the step with your right, your right arm was a bit rigid and your fingers went off balance. Did you hurt your right rib?”

Ha Ilming’s eye grew wider in shock. Yuchan knew about his injury just by observing a few movements.

‘This guy... he’s not like any of the other cadets!’

He then felt a huge difference in power between him and Yuchan. And unlike Ha Ilming who was serious, Chun Yuchan was still smiling.

“So, what will it be?”

“Ugh.”

Ha Ilming frowned as he nodded. He couldn’t dare to go on. Yuchan then pulled his hand back from Ilming’s neck.

“Wait there. It won’t take long.”

“...Whatever. I’ll get going. You take your time or whatever.”

Ha Ilming then left to return to the dorm. He didn’t feel like fighting Yeowun when his pride was hurt.

“Oh, he’s quick to change his mind.”

Chun Yuchan laughed and scratched his head as he walked toward Yeowun who became wary of the man. He was the second prince to approach him after Chun Mukeum.

‘Is he trying to put me down?’

He realized he didn’t have a chance if he tried to fight Chun Yuchan from what he just saw. Yeowun gave an order to Nano.

‘Nano, activate Augmented Reality. Activate battle tutorial with the setting of the Butterfly Blade Dance.’

Yeowun then saw lines in his line of sight, analyzing Chun Yuchan. And as he readied himself, Chun Yuchan raised both hands as if he was surrendering.

“Whoa, what’s with all nervousness?”

‘Huh?’

It wasn’t hostile. Chun Yeowun became confused to hear such a friendly reaction from a member of the six clans.

“Oh, well. I guess it is natural in your shoes.”

Chun Yuchan nodded understandingly and Yeowun frowned.

“What do you want?”

“Uh, what should I say... I was just trying to say hi to a half-brother?”

Chun Yuchan then smiled, showing his white teeth. Chun Yeowun was shocked. He had been bullied and talked down by all members of the six clans until now, and it was the first time he had heard the word 'brother' from one of them.

'...Is he joking with me?'

Chun Yeowun was still unconvinced. Chun Yuchan then bowed to Yeowun.

"It's good to see you, brother."

At that expression, Chun Yeowun became angry. No matter how he put it, his tone didn't make it sound like they were on good terms.

"Hmm. I guess I'm still hated."

Yuchan then got back up. He knew what Yeowun had been through until now, so he understood.

"Well, I guess I can't expect friendliness from you."

"...And you wanted me to show you that?"

"No, no. I just wanted to be on good terms with you. You see, I've come to like you."

"What?"

Chun Yeowun frowned. It was irritating to hear that Yuchan now liked him. He smiled and continued, "We now walk the same path of the blade, you see?"

"...And is that the reason why you like me?"

"Of course! You know how shocking it was when I saw you cut the arms of that Lust Clan girl with your blade skill?"

Yuchan began talking about what he saw and that he couldn't forget the moment. When everyone else became wary of Chun Yeowun, it seemed like Yuchan thought otherwise.

"I'm your number one fan now, brother."

"Stop jabbering brother nonsense and tell me your real reason for coming to me."

Yuchan then sighed at Yeowun's continued suspicion and sighed, "Oh well... I guess it will take time for you to warm up. I'll cut to the chase."

'He had a reason then.'

The six clans made him swear an oath to never learn any martial arts even after his mother was killed. There was nothing weird in hearing anything.

"I'm being honest here. Join our Blade Clan."

Chun Yeowun's jaw dropped.

"Oh? You're shocked? Well, I guess you are."

"Are you serious?"

"Of course! I've been waiting for you to come out to ask this. Of course I'm not joking," Yuchan replied. He was truly asking Yeowun to join the Blade Clan.

"I don't know about the others, but I don't think you are my enemy. I want you to join the Blade clan and stay by my side."

'This guy...'

Chun Yeowun then realized what he was thinking. He was asking him to give up on the competition and become his subject.

“You want me to drop out of the competition?”

“Oh? Is that what you think of it? Haha.”

Yuchan burst into laughter and he soon stopped to speak seriously.

“You have no chance.”

“...What do you mean?”

“It’s exactly as I said. If you walk the path of the blade, you will have to go through me. But you don’t stand a chance. However, since I am now your number one fan, you will have no problem if you walk in the same direction with me! Isn’t that great?”

Chun Yeowun then realized how this man saw him. He didn’t even consider Yeowun as his competition. This made Yeowun even more adamant.

“I refuse.”

“What?”

Chun Yuchan stopped his act at the cold rejection.

“You are not enough to take me in.”

“Huh?”

“Let me give you an offer instead.”

“What?”

Yuchan raised his eyebrow.

“Don’t stand in my way and I will let you live.”

At that moment, Chun Yuchan’s face scrunched up into terrible scowl. White lines began snaking around Yuchan’s right hand and arm, and numbers began to rise in Yeowun’s sight.

[The enemy is focusing strong energy in his right arm. Take a half step to the left and activate the second formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance.]

Chun Yuchan’s right arm moved slightly and Yeowun took a half step to the left. At that moment, Yuchan’s face returned and he began laughing again.

“Hahahahahahaha!”

[Enemy has ceased their attack. The energy focused in the right arm is decreasing rapidly.]

Yuchan laughed for quite some time and answered expressionlessly, “It made me a little angry, but it was funny after I thought about it. Don’t stand in your way? That really sounded cool.”

There was no friendliness in his eyes now. Yuchan then shook his head as he sighed, showing he had lost interest and turned away. He took a few steps forward and then stopped to speak.

“If you walk the same way, we will soon cross paths. However, you are too far from talking about my life just yet.”

[Enemy is focusing energy into his right hand. There is no intention to attack Master.]

As Nano's voice trailed off, Yuchan raised his right arm in the air and slashed it toward the ground. With the sound of a strike, a blue spark appeared, leaving a clear line on the ground.

'Blade qi?'

It was blade qi, clearly in shape of a blade around Yuchan's arm. Only top class warriors could shape qi into a certain form.

'Are you showing off your level?'

This was to show the difference in power.

"We'll talk again."

Yuchan then left the scene. Chun Yeowun was left alone, clenching his fist. He thought he was now at a similar pace, but he still had a long ways to go.

'Don't think ahead... I need to rule over them, not just catch them.'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He then reformed his thoughts again.

And as for Chun Yuchan, he wasn't all that pleased. He replaced his anger with laughter, but it was for a certain reason.

'...He read my attack first.'

He was going to cut Yeowun's right arm. If he wasn't going to join Yuchan, it was better to cut his arm off so he couldn't use blades anymore, but Chun Yeowun had moved out of range before Yuchan could bring up the power to unleash the blade qi.

'So he's not just an ordinary fool.'

Chapter 35

Chapter 35: Founding of truth from Father Chun Ma (3)

Chun Yeowun walked into the empty room with the panel that said 'Vacant'. He flipped it around to 'Occupied' on his way in. The room was lit by the small candles on the wall. Overall, the room was too small to practice footstep formations.

Chun Yeowun then rapped on the wall and realized that it was pretty thick.

'It's enough.'

This was enough space for Chun Yeowun. At least this would allow him to transfer the information without any disruption.

'Nano, activate the Augmented Reality.'

[Activating Augmented Reality.]

Nano's voice rang inside his head and his eyes shook as lines appeared in his sight.

'Nano, simulate the formation scanned on the second floor of the library in 3D.'

[I will activate it beginning from the very first mark.]

A human figure appeared and began showing the sword movements that had been left on the stone.

'It's faster and more complicated!'

Yeowun thought of using his last Butterfly Blade Dance formation, but he couldn't even defend against one of those movements. This second formation looked like it was much more powerful than the one on the first floor.

'This... is terrifying. How many people out there can counter this?'

[Now activating the marks of the sword formation from a different entity.]

Now, the human figure started emulating a different sword formation. It was awkward at first glance, but as it began to repeat itself, it also began to perfect itself. When it reached the last fifty-sixth formation, Chun Yeowun couldn't help but shiver.

'...This is crazy. This is mad!'

There was no way to complete such a sword formation unless one was mad about the sword.

'Oh...!'

He then thought of an idea of having the two entities fight against each other but by using all fifty-six formations starting from the very first one each time.

'Nano, use all formations in chronological order to do a simulation battle.'

Two human avatars appeared again and began fighting against each other. The first battle ended up with the second entity not even defending against the first movement of the original. As it progressed further and reached the thirty-sixth formation, it was now blocking a total of fifteen out of the twenty-four movements.

‘This is crazy.’

Chun Yeowun was beyond astonished. He focused on watching the formation countering the already-powerful sword formation that was left prior to it. And soon, it was the last formation.

Many lines were drawn, and like before, just by the difference of one movement, the original sword formation was countered completely.

‘Oh-oh...’

[Simulation complete.]

Yeowun couldn’t forget what he had seen. Nano said that the simulation was completed, but Yeowun couldn’t stop concentrating on the battle. In his head, the two warriors were still fighting against each other. In that imaginary space, Yeowun was now one with the second entity and he was using his Butterfly Blade Dance to fight the original sword formation.

[User’s brain neurons have been activated. The energy within the blood points are replicating and circulating throughout the body.]

However, Yeowun was too deep into his thoughts to notice. Nano then stopped alarming the master and began recording the change in the body as data since it knew that this change was not harmful toward the master.

After a long while, Chun Yeowun woke up from his hundreds of fights against the perfect swordsman. His focus came back and he became confused.

‘W...what was this?’

He remembered seeing the simulation, but when he woke up, it felt like everything had been an illusion.

‘It feels weird... oh!’

Chun Yeowun then felt the difference in his body. He felt that his internal energy had increased. It wasn’t just a small amount either. It was hard to believe, but his internal energy had now increased to about forty years worth of energy.

‘Oh! I came to a realization then!’

What Chun Yeowun thought to be an illusion was the breakthrough of martial arts. And this didn’t only increase his internal energy.

‘Maybe I can do it!’

He got up and tried using the first formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance. The sound of his hand slashing through the air sounded different. His movement now left a faint trace wherever he moved his hand.

“Wow!” Yeowun gasped. There was a faint silver glow on his right hand.

‘Am I... shaping qi?’

The feeling in his hand was the shaping of the qi. He wasn’t used to it yet so it couldn’t take the shape of a blade, but it definitely was qi.

Although it wasn’t perfect, when he achieved sixty years worth of internal energy, he would acquire blade qi like Yuchan.

“Whoaaaa!” Chun Yeowun shouted in joy.

‘If I absorb the next Black Dragon Ball, it will get me up to sixty years worth of energy!’

Chun Yeowun then asked, ‘Nano, how long have I been doing this?’

[You were in a trance for two hours, Master.]

‘Two hours? That long?’

He thought it was only for a brief moment, but it took him two hours. If that was the case, he had to return to the dorm.

‘I guess I have to do the rest tomorrow.’

He then thought to send sword formation into his brain for now. It didn’t seem like he’d have the time to transfer it into his body.

‘Nano, send all the formations into my brain.’

[Understood. Transferring.]

Yeowun felt a sting in his head, but that was it. He focused to check and he saw the sword movements coming up naturally in his mind.

‘How long does it take to reshape my body to use these?’

[It will take about ten hours to complete the transfer.]

‘What?!’

That was too long. He knew this martial arts skill was beyond that of any other, but it required a lot more time.

‘I guess I will have to start early tomorrow then.’

At least it was fortunate that he had a break. Yeowun then happily returned to his dorm. When he returned, there were still a lot of cadets missing.

‘They are running late.’

There was still some time left, but most of the cadets returned much earlier. Chun Yeowun soon saw the reason why. Cadets who started returning had papers of the copied books that they wrote down after leaving the library.

‘Oh, so that’s why they weren’t here.’

It seemed that they had been training privately to study the books they copied.

“Master, you’re here already.”

Hu Bong bowed as he walked in later. He too had a book in his hand.

“Did you get something good?” Yeowun asked.

Hu Bong smiled, “No, it’s not much. My sword skill is too weak, so I copied a footstep skill to help.”

Hu Bong’s clan used swords. Hu Bong thought using the only sword would not work as they progressed so he copied a book on something else to help him further. Yeowun nodded.

‘I guess everyone is going to get better now.’

This three-day vacation wasn’t just time to rest. It was time to help the cadets advance.

Early the next morning, Chun Yeowun went to the private training room.

‘They are up fast.’

The dorm was open starting at 5:00 AM, but when Yeowun woke up, two cadets were already off their beds. When he got to the building, many cadets had already gathered there.

‘Only the ones who put in the effort will survive.’

Chun Yeowun then went up to the second floor and took his spot in the empty room. The room could only be locked from the inside, so Yeowun locked it and ordered Nano.

‘Nano, go through the body shaping with the sword formation. Oh, and don’t forget anesthesia.’

[Yes, Master. Proceeding with the anesthesia...]

Soon, Yeowun was blacked out. After ten hours, Yeowun woke up after hearing Nano say that the procedure was complete. He panted roughly and vomited onto the floor. The long hours of body transformation made him sick. This was much worse than before.

[Stabilizing adverse reaction to the transformation.]

It was only after Nano worked on it that his pain stopped.

‘Ugh, I can’t get used to this.’

Yeowun then got up and clenched his fist. This was much more different than when he learned the Butterfly Blade Dance. He then took off his top.

“Whoa.”

It was astonishing. His upper torso was tightly packed with muscles that it looked like he had trained for years.

‘It’s not like my body.’

He felt like he could punch a hole through the sturdy wall.

“Should I give it a try?”

He didn’t think it would make a hole anyway and he wanted to try to see how strong he had gotten. He then took a deep breath and threw his fist at the floor. It exploded.

“Argh!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Dust and rock particles exploded out and Yeowun heard screaming from below.

“Uh...”

Yeowun waved his hands to brush the dust away from his sight and he saw the hole in the floor. He then looked down below and saw a private training room below. There was rock debris and a cadet on the ground with blood seeping out from his head.

“Ugh...”

Chun Yeowun groaned.

Chapter 36

Chapter 36: Founding of truth from Father Chun Ma (4)

Ha Ilming. After becoming a powerful warrior at an early age, he thought that he could defeat any of the princes. And he did injure one: Chun Mukeum. However, since he was not even close to defeating Chun Yuchan, it made his pride crumble.

‘I was a fool.’

He realized he had to train more and forgot about all his anger toward Chun Yeowun.

‘I can’t waste time on such a fool.’

Ha Ilming then began training right away. Like the other cadets, he was going to spend all of his vacation in training. That’s why he was up early to train in the private training room. After training internal energy in the morning, and he then proceeded to practice formations in the afternoon. And then it happened.

An explosion came from above and rocks showered down. Ha Ilming was struck with a large rock and passed out on the ground. As his consciousness faded, he saw Chun Yeowun’s pop up out of the hole.

‘T-that bastard... rrr. Guhh...’

It rekindled his anger. Soon, the instructor in charge of the private training rooms came running with the master key. He opened the room and took Ha Ilming to the medical room. And when he came back, he scolded Chun Yeowun harshly.

“How can you think of creating a hole in the place when everyone is training?! What would you have done if he was meditating? You almost killed him!”

If Ha Ilming was really meditating, it might have put him in serious danger.

“Consider yourself lucky that he’s alive. Or else you could have been expelled. This will go into your evaluation.”

“...I’m sorry, sir.”

“And if you ever destroy the private training room again, you will never be allowed to use this place.”

“Yes, sir.”

Needless to say, he was already forbidden from using rooms on the first and second floors. He was only allowed to use the underground room that the students didn’t like to use, but Yeowun had no choice.

As Yeowun walked down to the underground floor, the instructor watched him curiously

‘He made a hole in the stone floor created with extremely hard rock... did his internal energy exceed sixty years worth of energy?’

That was weird. Chun Yeowun also asked himself the same question.

‘How did I become so strong?’

Chun Yeowun also didn't think that he would be able to make a hole in that floor.

[Master's muscle strength and fiber have been increased to the maximum.]

'What?'

[Your body was altered to be able to physically leave marks on the blue pearl stone, thus increasing your muscle fitness to the maximum.]

'Oh... that's how..'

Nano didn't analyze the data of sword skills this time. It had analyzed the mark left on the stone, so it based it off the fact that the sword made a mark on the stone, not considering the fact that it had been done through internal energy.

'Wow.'

Chun Yeowun was dumbfounded.

'So, is this the limit to how strong I can become?'

[It is set to not disturb with your normal growth.]

'So, can you mark it stronger when I grow up?'

[Maximum potential limit of the muscle fiber increases with the growth of bones and muscles.]

'Interesting.'

He had learned a lot about Nano's usage, but it was always fascinating to know about these things.

‘I guess I will have to grow up then.’

Chun Yeowun then started to try testing his sword formation. His sword moved quickly, simulating the twenty-four sword movements, but his face didn’t express excitement when he finished the formation.

‘W...what?’

He seemed as if he had failed. He couldn’t accept it and tried doing it again.

‘No. This is not it.’

He had completed the same movements, but he wasn’t satisfied. It felt like he hadn’t completed it. He then used the formation left on the second floor. And this time, the more complicated and powerful movement came from his hand. When it was over, his expression turned even grimmer.

“Why?!”

It even made him angry. Chun Yeowun then tried doing the formation that countered the original. His movement quickly replicated the forty-fifth formation that he saw on the first floor of the library.

His sword quickly moved through and his excitement spread across his face.

‘It worked. It’s perfect!’

Yeowun then moved onto the formation he found on the second floor. It was a success this time around too. He tried going back to the original formation, but after going through both formations, he felt lost.

“Why is it not working?”

His movement was different from what he saw from the simulation.

‘Nano, can you show me the movement I just did and compare it to the original movement from the library?’

[Activating Augmented Reality.]

Nano then began showing the avatars of two human figures, one with a vague human figure and one that looked exactly like Chun Yeowun. Both began to move at the same time.

As he looked closely, he was able to see the difference clearly. The human figure moved flawlessly, connecting each movement smoothly, but Yeowun’s movement was connected but was awkward. And he was a bit late on the movement too.

‘I couldn’t do it perfectly. Why?’

He couldn’t understand. He had gotten the information and the muscle fiber to replicate the movement but it still wasn’t perfect. Yeowun then sat down to ponder on the problem. He was soon full of sweat and was spending about an hour on thinking.

‘What is the problem? Even if I don’t have the energy flow, it won’t affect... huh?’

He then came up with an idea.

‘The energy flow.’

He finally reached a conclusion. Most formation movements required no use of internal energy to fully function, but this sword formation required internal energy to work correctly.

‘It’s the same as the last formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance.’

He then realized the last formation of blade skill also required the flow of energy within him.

‘Then I don’t have the core element of it.’

Yeowun had to settle on having the counterattack at least. It was fortunate that the counter formation required no use of special energy flow. But it didn’t make Yeowun feel any better.

‘Why did he skip how to use the energy flow when he left a formation?’

It even made him become angry at the Father Chun Ma who left it. He sat down with gloom for a while and thought of poems left on the front of each stone.

‘Maybe he hid something in that poem.’

It was nonsense to only leave sword formation.

‘Nano, can you replicate the front side of the stone on the first floor?’

[Searching through saved video data.]

Nano usually saved what Yeowun heard and saw. Soon, Nano was able to find the front side of the stone.

[Found the video in the data. Creating 3D image of the stone’s front side.]

Yeowun then saw the stone appearing in front of his eyes.

[Ah the mighty wind blows, scattering the flying clouds,
After I unified the realm, I returned home. How can I assign my fierce warriors to guard the four corners of our nation?]

Chun Yeowun frowned as he looked at the writing.

‘It just looks like a normal poem. Is there something hidden in it?’

[After checking through the internal data, this is the poetry wrote at the creation of Han dynasty.]

‘Huh?’

[It is poetry written by Liu Bang when he returned from his victory over Xiang Yu.]

‘...So, it wasn’t written by Father Chun Ma?’

[No, Master.]

Chun Yeowun was able to see what the poetry was, but he had to find out the secret behind it.

‘Nano, is the poetry have any different writings or letters?’

[No, master.]

Yeowun sighed.

‘Analyze it. See if you can find any slightest of clues in here.’

[Scanning the surface.]

A line began to move horizontally from the top to bottom slowly. And when it was done, Nano’s voice spoke.

[There is a small hole at every word of the poetry.]

Nano then showed unexplained holes in the letter, and each letter had a different number of holes.

‘What does this mean?’

Yeowun began to think deeply into it.

‘Small hole.. a hole... is it the blood point?’

Yeowun’s heart began to pound.

‘Think.. think... four holes.. four blood points? No. What is it then? Hmm. Oh, let’s look up the book.’

Yeowun then remembered the blood point book that he scanned first and focused on the book, going back to the information.

‘Four holes... probably means the fourth blood point.’

The fourth blood point was shown in the book on its location.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘This is weird. The basic flow of energy starts from another place... it would need seven holes then... OH!’

Chun Yeowun then finally realized the secret behind this.

‘The first word is comprised of three lines, if adding four into it, it will point at the seventh blood point!’

That was the secret behind it. Yeowun then began to calculate the letter and numbers to see the blood point of energy movement. And soon, he was able to complete the energy flow that moved through 23 points.

“Hahahahaha! This is it! This is IT!!!”

Chapter 37

Chapter 37: Collect eleven individuals (1)

After acquiring the energy flow, Chun Yeowun was able to replicate the sword formation perfectly. He still felt like it was a bit lacking, and he knew that it came from his lack of experience. Yeowun then asked Nano to see if he had recorded the front side of the second floor stone, and luckily, Nano did have it. And Yeowun went through the same process. The second formation was also bit lacking but this was as far as he could go.

‘Let’s thank Father Chun Ma for his discovery.’

He then wondered about the rest of the sword formations probably left on other floors.

‘I guess I have no choice but to pass all the tests.’

Yeowun then came up with one more question.

‘Then why does the counter formation require no energy flow?’

He was not yet experienced enough to learn this. He thought he could take it slow since he still knew how to use the formation at least.

Yeowun asked Nano, ‘What’s the time right now?’

It was already dinner time. He had skipped lunch, so he was starving. Yeowun then left the room. The underground floor seemed empty.

It was great that the group test was over. All cadets were required to eat together during the second stage, but they were now allowed to go during designated hours to eat meals whenever they wanted.

‘Wow.’

Chun Yeowun was excited to smell the food as he walked in. Unlike other times, today was a special food day.

Yeowun got in line and received the noodles and meat broth. The cook that poured the broth spoke to Yeowun with a smile.

It was a noodle bowl created with meat broth which contained boiled with beef bones and meat. It was a common noodle bowl south of the Yellow River. The academy’s cafeteria had various cooks from each region, so it gave cadets the opportunity to try different foods from each region.

Yeowun got to the table and began eating the noodles. He had never eaten noodles before, and it was soo good that he began chowing down. When he went for another bowl and came back, someone sat next to him. The table was open to all cadets so Yeowun did not care about who sat next to him and focused on eating, but the person started speaking to him.

“You are the 7th cadet, the leader of the 8th group right?”

“Huh?”

His question could easily be answered just by looking at the tag, so that meant that he was talking to Yeowun on purpose. Yeowun looked up to the young man next to him. He was handsome but he had maybe one little flaw.

‘Where is his eye?’

His eye was very narrow and small. But it seemed to fit him very nicely too.

“I’m lucky. I wanted to meet you.”

He was polite but also suspicious.

“If you are asking about me, shouldn’t you be introducing yourself first?”

The young man then grinned.

“Oh, mind my manners. I am the 200th cadet, Yumpa from the 19th group.”

“Chun Yeowun.”

Yeowun answered coldly and Yumpa asked, “I know this is a strange question, but can you duel me?”

Yeowun frowned. He didn’t expect a request to duel while he was eating.

“What do you mean?”

“I’m asking you to duel me.”

“...You have a problem with me?”

He couldn’t think of anyone other than from members of the six clans having grudges against him. Yeowun wasn’t completely sure, but he did cause some nuisance at the 2nd floor of the library.

“No-no. Nothing like that. It’s not that.”

“Then why do you want a duel?”

“Hmm... should I say, it’s too see if it’s worthy?”

“Worthy?”

Chun Yeowun was confused. He wasn’t sure if the worthiness was about the young man or about Yeowun. He then decided that there was no point in dueling him and shook his head.

“I refuse.”

“As expected... but too fast.”

“Why did you ask if you expected it?”

Yumpa didn’t seem to be let down. He then brought up an offer.

“Then let me explain what I can give to you if you accept. If you win the duel, I will give you vital information about the third test, and a small gift.”

He whispered when he said the third test. Yeowun became intrigued, but he didn’t show it.

“How can a mere cadet like you have such important information?”

“Well, I can’t spill everything when you won’t accept my duel request, but I guess I have to prove myself. My father once reached the fifth stage, so I know about everything up to the fourth test.”

‘Is he from a high-ranked clan?’

That was most likely if his father had passed the fourth test. Unlike Yeowun who entered the academy without any prior knowledge, most cadets from the high-ranked clans had heard about what to expect in the academy. But Yumpa’s offer had a flaw.

“I heard the tests go through changes each time. Your father passing those tests means nothing.”

“...That is true, but it still shares the same concept. It was as expected up until both tests so far.”

Yumpa was certain. Yeowun then began to hesitate.

‘What does he want? Why does he want to duel me? Is he certain that he can defeat me?’

That was the weird part. However, there was no loss in dueling him and Yeowun didn’t think he would lose either. Yeowun decided to agree to the duel.

“Good.”

“You will not regret it.”

Both of them then headed to the forest at the back of the dorm. When they got to the point where no one was around, Yumpa readied himself. He had seen Chun Yeowun using a powerful blade skill while dealing with Chun Wonryou already. However, he was also certain that he wouldn’t lose easily.

'If what you showed during the test was your all, then it will be disappointing.'

He didn't say this as it could be taunting him. Yumpa stood in the distance and bowed.

"Yumpa of the Moon Energy Blade Clan."

Yeowun became intrigued. He didn't think Yumpa was going to use a blade skill. He also bowed.

"Chun Yeowun. Let's start."

Yumpa then charged. His movement was a bit slower than Chun Mukeum's, but it was still very fast and powerful.

'He's an experienced warrior.'

Yeowun was able to guess the opponent's power easily. It seems like he had the power that most group leaders had and asked to duel. However, Chun Yeowun was very different now. He quickly took his steps and dodged the blade skill.

'That is good, but this is not the end!'

Yumpa then spun, moving into his next formation, but Yeowun snatched his wrist quickly.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

'Huh?!'

Yumpa was shocked. He hadn't unleashed the blade skill yet, but his wrist was wielding powerful energy within it. And Yeowun snatched it as if it was nothing. Before Yumpa could react, Yeowun threw him up and down on the ground like a sack.

“Argh!”

It was so powerful that the ground sunk behind him. Yumpa even forgot about his pain and became dumbfounded. The duel was over in just one move.

‘He-he’s not like how he was two days ago!’

Chapter 38

Chapter 38: Collect eleven individuals (2)

Chun Yeowun looked down at Yumpa, the 200th cadet, and back to his hand.

‘...I should get used to it.’

Yeowun failed to control the power he now held. Yumpa crouched on the ground from the pain coming from his back. It wasn’t too bad, but it seemed like he had taken internal damage.

‘Ugh... was he hiding his power?’

He thought Yeowun was an experienced warrior and that he would be able to withstand at least tens of formations. However, he had to reevaluate his thoughts.

“I... I lost.”

He accepted his loss while crouching. And when the pain subsided, Yumpa got up.

“I thought you were around the level of an experienced warrior, but you are more than that. You sure do inherit the blood from the sky.”

Chun Yeowun did not respond to that. He didn’t appreciate his lineage that much.

“Anyway, I will have to keep my promise then.”

“I want to ask you something first.”

“Yes?”

“Why did you want to have a duel with me?”

Yeowun still couldn't find the reason why Yumpa wanted to duel, especially with the condition of sharing vital information.

“Haha. You sure don't trust people very easily.”

‘Hmm?’

“As I said in the cafeteria, it was to see the worthiness.”

“Worthiness? Are you talking about me?”

“Yes, and it also applies to me too. It is for the third test.”

What did it have to do with the third test? Yumpa then began explaining the third test.

“It is likely that the third test will be done with groups again.”

“What? I heard that there will be no more group tests.”

That's what Lee Hameng himself had declared. Yumpa waved his hand.

“It's not like the second test.”

“What difference is there?”

“Because this one relies on one's own strength.”

“Huh?”

“Third test is to sort out the high-ranked warriors. I’m sure you know how powerful our cult’s high-ranked warriors are.”

Currently, the ones who were strong enough to be considered as strong as high-ranked warriors were only about 40 out of 207 cadets that were left.

‘If what he says is true, the next test will take a while.’

Most cadets only had ten to twenty years of internal energy, which was lacking to become a high-ranked warrior.

“With the Black Dragon Ball, most cadets will achieve thirty years worth of energy.”

That was possible since they would all be receiving the Black Dragon Ball soon. However, there was a catch.

“Then they will be missing out on the martial arts.”

“Yes. Their internal energy issue is solved, and they now need to be taught good martial arts.”

That was necessary to be considered as a powerful warrior. Since the cadets were not allowed on the third floor of the library which had books on top-level martial arts, most cadets were bound to fail.

“If the test isn’t to have cadets to create a new martial art, then there is only one answer.”

Yumpa smiled.

“Yes. A top-grade martial art will be provided in this test.”

“So, only the ones who acquire it can pass the test?”

“Yes, but there’s another issue. That alone will make it too easy, and as you know, the test gets only harder once you move up.”

Over 80% of students would pass if that was the only issue with the third test.

“If what my father told me is right, the martial art form that’s provided is the Seven Demons Sword, which all of our high-ranked warriors know how to use.”

It was the sword skill created by famous the swordsman named the Sword Demon within the Demonic Cult. It was created to fight against Sorim’s formation. The unique thing about it was that if there were more people, it had the ability to create a powerful formation attack. This allowed weaker warriors to fight against stronger warriors if they outnumbered them.

“My father told me that twelve people had to group up to learn this.”

“Twelve?”

“Yes, it is the basic number to complete the skill. But learning the formation was harder than learning the sword skill itself.”

Yeowun then realized why Yumpa had asked him to duel. It was to see how powerful Yeowun was.

“...Was that the reason why you asked me to duel?”

“Of course. I couldn’t decide just by looking at one formation. I needed to see your real skill to count on you.”

“Huh?”

Chun Yeowun frowned.

“Oh! I forgot to tell you this. The new test will be done voluntarily. On everything.”

“Huh? Voluntarily?”

“You can choose your own groups. I heard that only the group leaders are chosen due to evaluations.”

“Meaning, they will allow the leader to choose whoever they like?”

“Yes, that is correct. But members can refuse also. I’m pretty sure this is a test for the princes of the six clans, rather than a test for regular cadets.”

Yeowun then became excited. This meant that the test would directly be the competition to the throne itself.

‘It’s my chance to make allies.’

“But don’t the cadets need to side with the leaders to pass the test also?”

Yumpa answered, “Yes, but they can’t just choose any leader, otherwise they will risk their success rate to the test itself. We might have to compete with other groups in some other way in the end.”

‘I see. He’s quite clever.’

It seemed that Yumpa was quick-thinking and quite knowledgeable. He had the potential to be a tactician and seemed to be very helpful.

“So, was that why you said you will count on me?”

“Yes. Remember I said that I would give you a small gift? The gift is me.”

Yeowun frowned. He didn't expect a great gift, but he didn't like it that much either.

“I might not become a leader.”

“No, from what I can see, you will be a leader. And don't you think it's better you have someone like me, rather than some lacking cadets?”

Yeowun was hesitant as there was still one more thing he couldn't understand.

“Why did you choose me? There are other princes or leaders who passed the second test.”

This was his biggest question here.

“...That is an excellent question.”

“I need to trust you if I am to take you in.”

Yumpa then scratched his head.

“I'll tell you the truth. No offense, but I actually offered the same thing to the princes of the Wise and Sword Clans.”

He sighed as he said that, which meant that he had been turned down.

“Were you refused?”

“They were already full. They already have skilled warriors serving them. No spots left for me.”

“What about the other four groups?”

It was too quick to give up after meeting just two groups. Yumpa shook his head.

“Yeah... but I thought all the princes from the six clans would be the same.”

“So, I was the second choice?”

Yumpa smiled, “Yeah. And we walk the same path of the blade, don’t we?”

“...Oh?”

Yeowun looked at him weirdly. Yumpa then smiled awkwardly as he continued, “I’m not just asking you to take me in. You can just consider it as using me until you pass the third test.”

It was now up to Chun Yeowun. Yumpa even bowed politely.

“Will you take me in, Prince?”

Chun Yeowun smiled softly. Yumpa thought he had been accepted, so he went down on his knees to show his thanks.

“Thank you for...”

“I refuse.”

“Huh?”

Yeowun spoke to him again.

“I said, I refuse.”

Chapter 39

Chapter 39: Collect eleven individuals (3)

“B-but why?!”

“That’s for you to think about.”

Chun Yeowun turned his back to him. His eyes were cold when he turned.

‘Nano, deactivate facial expression analysis.’

[Deactivating.]

It was one of Nano’s abilities that allowed him to see if the person was lying or not.

‘...He’s suspicious.’

When he talked with Yumpa, he felt the shadow of Chun Yuchan from within and activated the skill. There was no change to the facial muscles while talking about the third test, but when he was asked why he didn’t go to the other princes, Nano found the change in expression.

“They were already full. They already have skilled warriors serving them. No spots left for me.”

[Sensing slight change in facial expression. Chance of the entity lying is at 45%.]

“Yeah... but I thought all the princes from the six clans would be the same.”

[Detected continuous muscle shift in facial expression.
Chance of lying increased to 62%.]

It was impossible for the Nano Machine to read human expressions entirely. If it was against a trained spy, it would not have been possible. As for Chun Yeowun who had his doubts, Yumpa gave him some evidence.

“Yeah. We walk the same path of the blade, don’t we?”

‘We walk the same path of the blade.’

That was very similar to what Chun Yuchan had said before. Yeowun then was able to confirm the shadow of the Blade Clan inside Yumpa.

‘A crony...’

He then came to realize the various suspicious things that Yumpa had. He said he went to the Wise and Sword Clan and took out the Blade Clan when he was a blade skill user. Yeowun then went to the private training room for further training.

As Yeowun went down to the forest, Yumpa also went down and met with someone in the alleyway between buildings. He was meeting with Chun Yuchan to give him the report.

“He refused?”

“Yes... Prince.”

Chun Yuchan raised his eyebrow.

“He just heard about the information of the third test and left. I didn’t say anything that might make him suspicious...”

“Hahahahahaha!”

Chun Yuchan burst into laughter. Yumpa wasn't sure why he was laughing when Yumpa had failed his mission.

"He really is interesting. He just ran off with the information then."

Yuchan waved his hand. He then stopped laughing and continued, "So, a petty scheme won't work."

Yuchan didn't seem to expect much from Yumpa anyway.

"Wouldn't this ruin the whole plan.."

"It is ruined already. Then what? Are you going to beg him to take you in?"

"No, of course not."

As Chun Yuchan said, Yeowun did not trust people easily. He had been suspicious of Yumpa from the beginning and it only became worse as time went by.

"It would have been interesting if your plan worked... but he's too valuable to fail the test for not having the amount of required team members. I would recruit him again if he wasn't in the competition."

Yumpa's plan was to join Yeowun's team and leave his group on the day of the test so that he would fail the test without even taking it on.

Yumpa then knelt down.

"Prince, give me another chance. I have other plans ready."

"No, no. It's alright."

He smiled and reassured Yumpa, but it made Yumpa even more scared.

“B-but...”

“You don’t need to do that anymore, so you should go look for a different group to sneak into. Who knows if you will become a leader also?”

“Huh?”

Yumpa was shocked. He had worked so hard to serve Chun Yuchan, but he was now banishing him.

“T-then you won’t accept me as...”

“Oh, I already have many fools who I have to kick out, you see.”

“Prince! Please give me another chance!”

Yumpa tried to grab Yuchan’s pants, but he quickly moved back and dodged it. He then became cold and said, “I don’t need a useless fool. Get lost.”

Yumpa was abandoned just like that. As he walked back to the dorm while sobbing, Yuchan thought about the concerning part of the report.

‘He overpowered Yumpa in one attack...’

This was hard to understand from what he saw himself regarding Yeowun’s power two days ago.

Chun Yeowun returned to his private training room in the underground area.

‘Eleven people... nothing’s for sure yet.’

He had gotten good information, but nothing was official yet. However, he thought he should be ready to recruit people. He already had few from the 8th group, but he still needed more. He also questioned if ones in the 8th group would follow him.

‘Let’s finish up the training and think about it after I get back.’

He then focused on the remaining training and ordered Nano.

‘Nano, did you finish analyzing all the books scanned from the first and second floor?’

[Yes, Master.]

‘Nano, can you create an avatar with a certain amount of power and movement embedded with those martial arts techniques that you scanned?’

[That is possible if you appoint a certain entity.]

This was what Yeowun decided to do to move on with his training.

‘Set the avatar to be Chun Mukeum, and begin embedding each martial arts technique.’

[Yes, Master. Creating avatar for the simulation...]

And soon, the augmented reality created Chun Mukeum in front of his eyes.

[Peasant. Come and get it.]

‘You come.’

[Fool! Hiya!]

The martial arts was low-ranked one from the first floor, but when Chun Mukeum, a proficient warrior, used it, the skill was still quite powerful. Yeowun dodged the skill and used his Butterfly Blade Dance to throw his hand at the avatar's neck.

'I got him!'

[Urgh!]

It was the same way he did it in the forest, but the result was different. Mukeum's avatar neck twisted weirdly as it was struck, and the avatar disappeared.

[Chun Mukeum's avatar died with a destroyed neck bone.]

"What?"

Yeowun was dumbfounded. Just three days ago, the avatar was only thrown to the side. Nano's voice resounded in his head.

[The avatar of Chun Mukeum cannot take the damage from Master.]

'Oh...'

His physical strength was now at the limit, so a young warrior like Chun Mukeum had no way to fight back.

'Hm... this won't work.'

Yeowun then decided to change methods.

'Let's do this. Create five Chun Mukeum avatars, no actually, ten avatars with mid-ranked martial arts skills.'

[Understood.]

He thought that would even out the odds. A total of ten avatars was created. The room was small, but the augmented reality didn't care about the physical size of the room and created a virtual room for avatars to move further back.

'Hm... was this too much?'

Chun Yeowun regretted it a bit but decided to go on with the training. All ten avatars attacked him at once.

'I have to block them at once!'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

There was a perfect formation for doing this. It was the second formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance. He quickly spun and swung the hand blade to counter the formation from four avatars. Two of them were struck in their blood points and that made them disappear.

'Got the first. Next... Ugh!'

There was no time to waste. The other avatars quickly moved toward him and Yeowun jumped up to avoid being attacked. And at that moment-

"UGH!"

He bumped into the ceiling. Unlike the avatars, he was still in a small room.

Chapter 40

Chapter 40: Collect eleven individuals (4)

Chun Yeowun fell to the ground and he heard Nano's voice inside his head.

[Stopping Augmented Reality.]

All avatars were put to a stop.

"NO!"

Chun Yeowun then looked up at the ceiling, concerned that he might have torn a hole through the ceiling again. Luckily, it was fine, but there was a large crack and a dent in the area where he had bumped his head.

'...Should I not report it?'

If he reported this, he'd definitely be forbidden from using the private training room. However, he decided to tell the truth.

'It will cause more problems if I don't inform them.'

A cleaning crew would be coming in later in the night, and they would definitely notice the mess he had made. Yeowun then went to the first-floor office and reported it to the instructor.

"What! You destroyed the room again?!"

He shouted furiously and they went to the room together. After looking at the ceiling, he placed his hand over his forehead and spoke dumbfoundedly.

“What in the world... oh, gosh.”

The instructor then spoke coldly.

“I warned you. You are now forbidden from using this private training room.”

“I’m sorry.”

He had nothing more to say and bowed. He then tried to go out and the instructor stopped him.

“Hmph. Where do you think you’re going? Come with me.”

“Yes, sir.”

It seemed like there was additional punishment. As he followed the instructor, they went to the building right across the private training rooms. The building was about half the size of the training building, but it wasn’t yet open to cadets. It was dark and instructor lit up candles to walk in. There were many rooms just like the training building, but they were wider.

The instructor then opened up one of the rooms and told Yeowun to go in.

“Oh!”

It was a training room, but it was much larger. The instructor said, “You will train here from now on.”

“What?”

“I can’t let you destroy the other rooms.”

He smiled and Yeowun was grateful for being provided with another place to train.

“And where is this?”

“This is the training room open to those who pass the fourth test.”

“Fourth?”

“Yes. The fourth test requires you to be at the level of a master. Only those who become the Squad Leader are allowed in this room.”

“But I didn’t pass the fourth test.”

“No, of course not. I just opened it for you earlier.”

The instructor had talked about this issue with Chief Lee Hameng already, and he asked him to open up the training room for the ones who were at the level of masters, reason being that they might destroy the training rooms like Yeowun did. Lee Hameng deemed it reasonable and approved it.

“But how did you find out that I was at the master level?” Yeowun asked curiously and the instructor grinned.

“You can’t even leave a dent in the wall in that private training room if you weren’t at such a level.”

Yeowun nodded.

“This place is more durable, so it won’t be destroyed. You can concentrate on your training.”

“Thank you, sir!”

But the instructor did not know that Yeowun’s physical strength was strong enough to even damage walls of this place since he was made to damage the blue pearl stone.

‘This size should be okay for me to use augmented reality. Nano, what’s the time?’

[A little after 7:00 PM, Master.]

‘I see.’

He still had a lot of time left before he had to return. He then tried to battle against the ten Chun Mukuem avatars again, but he came up with a different idea.

‘Nano, can you make Teacher Submeng be the avatar?’

[Yes, but it will be based off his movements that he showed in the medical room.]

Yeowun smiled.

‘Teacher will be more helpful than Chun Mukeum.’

[Will you set the martial arts?]

‘Hm... let’s set it at the Butterfly Blade Dance for now.’

Chun Yeowun was curious as to how hard would it be to fight Submeng in his own martial arts skill. He was one of top ten warriors of the cult after all.

[Activating...]

And soon, Right Guardian Submeng appeared in front of Yeowun.

[Heh, my apprentice. Let’s have a fight!]

Yeowun then prepared himself and charged in.

‘I’ll attack first.’

He still had a long ways to go to fight Submeng, so he needed to take his chances. But it was then-

Submeng used basic movements from his skill to block Yeowun's blade and kicked him.

"Argh!"

Yeowun flew back and Submeng unleashed his third formation. The seven movements quickly attacked Yeowun, cutting through him. He was then thrown on the ground with pain coming from all parts of his body. Nano, which made the cut on his body, quickly healed him back.

"Ugh..."

He was shocked. He knew he had no chance, but he didn't think he'd be taken out after one formation.

'I guess this was too much.'

[Will you change the martial arts of the avatar?]

Yeowun frowned. He didn't feel like doing it since it felt like he was losing.

'No, let me test one more thing.'

[Understood. Proceeding with the battle.]

The Avatar then began to move again.

[What? You want more?]

Yeowun then unleashed the original sword formation he learned from the blue pearl stone. Submeng's avatar tried to fight back through his blade skill, but he couldn't counter the sword skill and was struck in his blood points.

[AAArgh!]

Submeng's avatar was thrown back.

'I got him!'

Yeowun then followed up with the last movement, but Submeng's avatar spun quickly and unleashed the second blade skill. Yeowun's finger touched Submeng's head, but he was thrown back from the blade spin. He thought he had lost even while using the sword skill and looked at Submeng's avatar.

"OH!"

Yeowun had left some damage on Submeng's avatar. He had overpowered the avatar through the formation, but he lacked the experience to deliver a critical blow.

'So, I need other powers to win.'

Yeowun realized that he couldn't just fight powerful warriors with the knowledge of sword formations.

'Let's not jump to conclusions.'

It only had been three weeks since he learned martial arts and he still had four years left within the academy. He then got a new goal.

'Let's beat Teacher in four years.'

He of course meant Submeng's avatar, but if Yeowun achieved his goal, it would make him a powerful warrior in record time.

Yeowun then returned to training against the ten Chun Mukeums. After using his entire day to train, he was now able to fight against the ten Chun Mukeums as an equal.

And then three-day vacation was over. Early in the morning, all the cadets gathered at the training ground and Lee Hameng came up onto the stage.

“Did you spend your vacation well?”

“Mado!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The cadets roared and Hameng continued.

“I will explain the next test and hand out the Black Dragon Balls.”

As he spoke, instructors quickly brought up seventeen tables onto the stage, and each table had twelve books.

“The third test is to make a sword formation with twelve-men groups.”

People began to mumble and Yeowun, who knew about the test already, looked at Hameng eagerly.

Chapter 41

Chapter 41: Defeat a instructor (1)

Cadets from the high-ranked clans were smiling. They were certain that the third test would be held just like how their family members had told them. Left Guardian Lee Hameng kept on explaining.

“For twelve to complete a sword formation, you must have top-class martial arts skill.”

People were shocked and began talking amongst themselves even more.

‘Top-class?!’

‘How many are they trying to drop?’

‘Dammit!’

As the cadets began get noisy, Hameng shouted, “SILENCE!!”

The training ground immediately became silent. Hameng frowned as he continued, “Do you see the books on the table?”

“MADO!”

“This is the Seven Demon Dragon book, one of the top-class martial arts that will be the foundation to the Sword Demon Formation of our cult.”

The cadets then became excited immediately. This was a dream come true for the cadets from weaker clans. It wasn’t common for them to come across a chance to learn a top-class martial art.

“If you absorb the Black Dragon Ball given out today and learn this Seven Demon Sword formation, you will be able to have a top-class martial arts skill in no time.”

Chun Yeowun nodded. Even if the test was supposed to be harder, they weren't going to make it way too hard.

‘That sounds easy until now...’

If what Yumpa said was right, then this was only a prerequisite. Lee Hameng grinned as he continued, “The third test will take place exactly four weeks from today.”

The students then turned grim. That wasn't too long. They needed to learn the Seven Demon Sword and group up with others to form a formation, and two weeks was too short for it. However, the real challenge had yet to come.

“So, the twelve of you will form a sword formation and you have to defeat the instructor you see up on the stage. Isn't it simple?”

Hameng spoke casually as he pointed to the thirty-six instructors lined up on the stage.

‘S-simple?’

‘What!’

All of those instructors were those at the level of Squad Leaders who were at least at the masters of martial arts. Some were even at the limit of the master level. This wasn't an easy test.

‘Dammit!’

‘I wondered why it was so easy!’

Many cadets turned pale. They weren’t sure if they can defeat such powerful instructors.

‘It is as Yumpa said. What’s left now is to choose the leader.’

As Yumpa had foretold, they were given a goal to overcome. It became harder since they weren’t fighting against each other, but it wasn’t all that impossible either.

‘Total of seven.’

That’s how many people Yeowun now needed. After passing the second test, Yeowun had seven people who were friendly toward him. So, he called them up with Hu Bong last night to share the information about the third test information and offered them to join his team.

‘I’m sorry, if it’s for the test, I won’t join.’

‘I’m sorry, Prince.’

Yeowun had expected all of them to join him as he had shown strength and leadership in the second test, but four of them refused saying that they wanted to follow different leaders.

‘I still have four.’

It wasn’t too bad anyway. He had gotten four cadets on his team already. Yeowun was thankful for their decision. He knew he had a different start line from the other princes, and since these cadets agreed to follow him, it was proof that they truly trusted Yeowun.

“This test is different from the second one. Everything is up to you, cadets. You gather your group members and learn the formation.”

The cadets became confused. If the instructors weren't going to teach them, it meant that the leader would have to play a vital role.

“There is a total of 207 of you, so if you are divided into groups of 12, then there will be 17 groups.”

‘Huh?’

‘What happens to the three leftovers?’

The cadets then realized that three people would be without a team. This meant that they needed to group up quickly or else they would not even be given a chance to take the test.

‘Most of the explanation is done now. Now the leaders...’

Cadets who knew most of the information now turned to their group leaders up in the frontline. From how things went on until now, it was likely that the current group leaders would be chosen to be leaders again.

“So, let's talk about how we will appoint a group leader and I will dismiss you all with the Black Dragon Ball and the book of the Seven Demon Sword.”

‘Huh?!’

Some of the cadets were shocked. What he just said was that the academy was not appointing leaders by themselves.

“Do you see instructors with tags?”

The cadets turned to the instructors to see their tags. They hadn't noticed until now, but all of them had different colored tags. From a total of thirty-six cadets, many of them were yellow, and when counted, it came down to a total of seventeen yellow tags.

"Whoever takes the yellow tag in one week will become a group leader."

'IMPOSSIBLE!'

The cadets grimaced. This was too hard of a challenge. The final test was to defeat the instructor, but needing to take the tag away from them was too much.

'This means that if there aren't that many who can take those tags, then we might not even have seventeen groups!'

This had increased the difficulty of the test. Cadets wanted to raise an objection but no one dared to do that.

"Don't think it's too hard."

Lee Hameng spoke with a laugh.

"Instructors with yellow tags will only fight you with the Seven Demon Sword, not their own specialized martial arts. If you can counter their Seven Demon Sword technique, you will get the tag."

Even then, it still wasn't going to be easy. They were still up against experienced martial artists who had used those skills for a long time. However, there was a hidden factor here, and Chun Yeowun knew this.

'If a cadet can learn the sword in that short amount of time, it means he or she has greater knowledge about the sword formation. This wasn't just decided to make the test harder.'

As he thought, if the group leader knew how to counter the Seven Demon Sword technique used by the instructor, it meant that all the cadets would agree to follow the leader in learning the Seven Demon Sword.

'A week...'

But the time was too short.

"Hehehe..."

Lee Hameng looked amusingly at the cadets and gave an unexpected offer.

"You have a week left, but is there any cadet who wants to issue a challenge right now?"

No one had read the book of the Seven Demon Sword right now, but asking if anyone was up for challenge was like asking if there was anyone who was confident enough with their own skills to counter it. The crowd turned silent. No one dared to raise their hands. Most of them were still mediocre, and even those who achieved the level of top-class couldn't dare to do such a thing.

"Hmph. So, no one is that brave? Okay. Then..."

Lee Hameng seemed to be disappointed and tried to begin giving out the books and balls, but the crowd turned wild.

"OH?!"

Hameng was astonished. Three group leaders raised their hands. It was Chun Muyeon of the Wise Clan, Chun Yeowun, and the 18th cadet who defeated Chun Jongsum of the Poison clan to be the leader of his 12th group.

‘This... is interesting.’

Lee Hameng was deeply entertained. He thought Chun Muyeon and Chun Yuchan will volunteer, but his expectation was wrong. Chun Yuchan simply stood back, watching what was happening casually. It was likely that Chun Mukeum would have volunteered also if he wasn't in the medical room.

‘Bakgi... and Chun Yeowun!’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

These two were the cadets who had showed excellence beyond expectation. Lee Hameng brought them forward.

“Three group leaders from the second test. Sure, you should have that much of courage in you as a leader. Come to the front of the stage.”

The three leaders walked out. As they grouped up, Yeowun turned to Bakgi who walked up on his right. Chun Muyeon was famous, but he had only seen Bakgi guide his formation. He had a long scar on his right eye.

“Hahaha! You look eager. So, who among you instructors will fight them?”

Lee Hameng laughed as he asked and seven of yellow tagged instructors walked up. It wasn't intended, but there were instructors from 1st, 8th and 12th group also.

Chapter 42

Chapter 42: Defeat a instructor (2)

Lee Hameng frowned. He had told the instructors not to be too attached to their cadets, but it seemed they had already done so within three weeks.

‘Whew...’

He couldn’t scold them in front of all the cadets, but there was also an unexpected person within the seven instructors.

‘Oh?’

The instructors who walked up were also surprised. Then three of them then stepped back, deciding to not volunteer anymore. This instructor in his late fifties with a black beard with white hairs hinted here and there was the oldest instructor here.

‘Instructor Hou.’

Hou Jinchang. He was the most experienced instructor at the early stage of the superior master level. He had been an instructor at the academy for a long time and he was also a war veteran. Lee Hameng also respected him accordingly.

‘Oh... if he’s up, then I won’t need to do this.’

Instructor Impeng then looked at him and stood back. He didn’t like Yeowun that much, but he was going to pay him back for helping out with the 8th group to pass the second test by challenging other challengers so that they couldn’t become group leaders. But if Hou Jinchang was here, then there was no need to help.

‘The rest is up to you now, 7th cadet. Whoever’s up here will not go easy on you.’

No one would challenge their own group’s cadet to easily let them become the group leader. They all had similar thoughts as Impeng. As numbers the numbers were matched, Hameng said, “Hmph, we have enough then. So, let’s start with the first cadet. Who will challenge him?”

“I...”

“I will do it, chief!”

Hou Jinchang was trying to volunteer when the 12th group leader Yushun quickly raised his hand to intercept it.

‘He dares?!’

Hou Jinchang frowned. He was interested in Chun Muyeon, who was known to be the closest to being the next Lord. He wanted to check on Muyeon’s talent himself, but he was too slow.

‘I’m sorry, but you would have not gone easy on him.’

Yushun also thought Chun Muyeon was the right individual as the future Lord, and didn’t want him to be embarrassed here. Unlike his interest, Hou Jinchang was not someone who would go easy on them. Hou Jinchang then raised his hand and shouted at Lee Hameng, “Chief! Then I will handle the 18th cadet!”

It almost made him laugh, but Hameng held back and agreed.

“You do that.”

Yushun frowned. He tried to help guide Chun Muyeon away from danger and got his own cadet, Bakgi, in trouble instead. It was the price he paid for angering Hou Jinchang. And as for Chun Yeowun, he was paired with Sang Munyo, the instructor of the first group. He was glad about the outcome since Sang Munyo wanted to fight Chun Yeowun from the beginning.

“Two of you may begin first.”

Chun Muyeon and Yushun looked at each other, bowed, and readied their stances. As they were preparing, Chun Yeowun’s eyes shook and white lights lingered in them.

Chun Muyeon charged first. The Wise Clan specialized in two martial arts techniques: the Wise Demon Sword, and the Flowing Cloud Palm.

“GOOD!” Yushun shouted. Even for the martial artists in the cult, it wasn’t common for them to fight against the members of the six clans. He wanted to fight with his own martial arts, but he had to use the Seven Demon Sword, which was a downside.

Yushun used the defense formation, or the fifth sword, to defend. Chun Yeowun narrowed his eyes.

‘What?’

The movements were familiar, but he couldn’t counter the formation just once. Chun Muyeon then moved onto his next attack. Yushun was astonished by the level of power. It seemed like he would lose if he underestimated Muyeon.

‘Let’s not consider him as a cadet.’

Chun Muyeon was already at the level of a Squad Leader. Yushun unleashed his two swords and three sword skills at the palms that covered his sight. By attacking with the two sword skills, it defended against the shadowy palms coming in.

‘This is a top-class martial art?’

Chun Muyeon was shocked. He didn’t think his palm attack would be blocked like this.

‘This is...’

Chun Yeowun was able to confirm that even if the formation was different, the sword movement was exactly the same as what was left on the blue pearl stone. The difference was that there were twenty-four sword movements on the stone, but the movement from Seven Demon Sword had fewer moves. There were only about eight of them. And from what could be seen, it looked like the Seven Demon Sword had twelve sword movements in total.

‘If it’s the same movement as what was left on that stone... then.’

Was it the Sword Demon who left the trace? It hadn’t been proven yet, but that was very likely.

As Chun Muyeon and Yushun fought for ten formations, Yushun had used all the seven sword formations and shown all of the sword movements. Yet, it was so flexible that Chun Muyeon’s eyes turned cold. They were at a similar level of martial arts, but Yushun had more experience and internal energy that allowed him to defend well.

‘So, he is an instructor after all.’

He couldn't let it drag on, so Chun Muyeon prepared himself with a different stance. His right hand went back and he pushed his left palm forward. His palm attack then turned in the opposite away as he attacked.

Yushun was shocked when he was attacked from another side. It was the same attack, but this time it came from the left hand, which made it hard for him to make the right adjustments. At that moment, Muyeon's right hand suddenly appeared and struck Yushun's shoulder. It was the sword qi, wielded by Muyeon's right hand.

"Whoaaaaa!"

Cadets shouted in astonishment. It was the first group leader who had defeated the instructor and he even showed the sword qi that one would be able to use when they became a master martial artist.

'He doesn't disappoint.'

Lee Hameng nodded above the stage.

'He has learned the martial arts of the First Elder already. He is a genius.'

The First Elder Mu Jinwon of the Wise Clan was known for using his both hands, which placed him as the second most powerful martial artist in the cult.

"Great," Yushun said as he grabbed his right shoulder that was bleeding.

"Thank you, sir."

Yushun had confirmed the future Lord's power and was satisfied. He then gave the yellow tag to Chun Muyeon.

“You are now a group leader for the third test.”

Chun Muyeon bowed. Cadets shouted again. As they all were busy talking about Chun Muyeon’s power, Chun Yeowun was looking at the yellow tag.

‘Take that tag...’

It didn’t seem simple.

‘Is one person only allowed one tag?’

He was told that he could take the tag, but this seemed a bit weird. While Chun Yeowun was being curious, Lee Hameng got up and shouted, “Let’s move on to the next fight!”

‘Oh, it’s my turn.’

Chun Yeowun got up and stood across Sang Munyo. His question for the yellow tag was set aside.

‘What I do here will decide what will happen next.’

He had to prove himself in front of all the cadets.

‘Hmm?’

Sang Munyo thought it was interesting to see Chun Yeowun who wasn’t tense at all.

‘I thought he wouldn’t even complete the first test.’

Chun Yeowun exceeded the expectation of every instructor in the academy. His growth shocked everyone.

‘But your journey ends here.’

Sang Munyo couldn't accept Chun Yeowun as the candidate. The only ones he deemed worthy were Chun Muyeon and Chun Yuchan.

‘I will crush you, kid.’

Chapter 43

Chapter 43: Defeat a instructor (3)

Unlike the first fight, the cadets weren't as interested in the second fight since they all knew the difference of power between the two.

'He'll be lucky if he even lasts a few exchanges.'

'Just because he got better... I think he's being too reckless.'

Cadets remembered Chun Yeowun's power from the second test. He had shown top-quality martial arts and a fine blade skill, but that didn't seem like it was enough to fight against the instructor.

"You may begin!"

Both of them bowed. Chun Yeowun then readied his Butterfly Blade Dance.

'Butterfly Blade Dance,' Sang Munyo thought. After the second test, Lee Hameng told every instructor that Right Guardian Submeng had taught Chun Yeowun his blade skill. They weren't sure why Submeng had taught Chun Yeowun, but Submeng was known for being erratic so it didn't matter.

'You are lucky to have learned that skill, but that's not enough.'

"Come. I will allow you to attack first."

Sang Munyo waved at Yeowun who then charged in.

'He's a master level warrior. Let's do my best!'

Yeowun was at the beginning of the master level, but his internal power didn't equal those experienced master level warriors.

"Hah!"

'Huh?'

Yeowun's attack was unleashed more powerfully than what Sang Munyo expected.

'It's not like a few days ago!'

Munyo flinched and quickly brought his energy up to defend all the way to 70%, which was 20% up from his intended 50%.

'This will do.'

And Yeowun's hand struck against him and Munyo was startled. Unlike his guess for Yeowun to have thirty years worth of internal energy, the attack was too strong. Munyo was sent way back, stumbling five steps. He became embarrassed and blushed.

'What an embarrassment!'

All the cadets were shocked too. They thought Yeowun would lose easily, but even the instructor who fought Muyeon wasn't pushed back like that.

'Ugh! Dammit!'

Sang Munyo then decided to do his best to overpower Yeowun with all he had.

As Sang Munyo unleashed his all of internal energy, Chun Yeowun was thrown back. Yeowun then took steps back, knowing that his enemy had unleashed all his energy.

“You think you can run?!”

Sang Munyo then unleashed the fourth and sixth sword movements of the Seven Demon Sword.

“Take this!”

Cadets gasped in astonishment as they saw the powerful sword skill being unleashed. However, Yeowun wasn't afraid.

‘I can see it!’

He didn't have tutorial mode on, but he was able to see the weak point of the sword movement.

‘It's not perfect yet.’

He had learned the original sword skill multiple times and the counter sword skill.

‘This is nothing compared to the counter sword skill I saw on the stone!’

He could have countered this attack easily if he had used the original sword skill and the counter skill from the stone, but it wasn't time to show it here.

‘If I'm not wrong..’

Yeowun then charged against the instructor's sword. Sang Munyo scoffed at the sight.

“You are a fool. You cannot defend this with a mere attack.”

He thought he had won, but in the next moment, his eyes shook in shock. Chun Yeowun used his basic blade movement to counter every single sword attack.

‘W-what!’

Chun Yeowun still had taken a bit of internal damage as he lacked internal energy, but this was enough to make everyone, even the cadets, surprised. Even Chun Muyeon couldn’t counter the attack perfectly like this.

“Ugh...!”

Sang Munyo grimaced. He had now forgotten about the test.

‘Then I will defeat you with internal energy!’

Sang Munyo then attacked with the seventh sword, thinking this was the only way he could defeat Chun Yeowun. However, there was one thing he didn’t expect. It was Nano.

[Healing the internal damage taken from the hostile energy damaging the body.]

Chun Yeowun’s body was healed instantly moment he took damage. Blood dripped from his mouth, but he wasn’t falling down, which made Sang Munyo pale.

‘Why isn’t he falling?! Why?!’

He had been pushing against Yeowun with all of his power, but Yeowun stood still. This made Sang Munyo panic and that gave Yeowun a chance.

Yeowun then unleashed his blade attack against Munyo’s right rib.

‘No! I have to defend this!’

Munyo quickly sent internal energy to make a barrier within himself, but when Chun Yeowun's hand struck, his rib cage was destroyed and he screamed in pain.

"AAAAAAAARGH!"

He was able to defend against the internal energy, but he couldn't do anything about the tremendous amount of physical strength.

"Ugh.."

He slumped down on the ground and looked below. He saw pieces of his rib bones poking out of his flesh and felt his sight fading away.

"You... m-monster..."

Sang Munyo gasped and passed out. The cadets shouted with excitement as no one expected Yeowun to win.

'...So, Yumpa didn't overestimate him. This is dangerous,' Chun Yuchan thought as he looked at Yeowun. All of the other princes had the same thought.

'He countered the sword skill?'

Lee Hameng, who was sitting down originally, was up on his feet as well. It was after he saw Yeowun counter the sword skill. The Seven Demon Sword was made by the legendary Sword Demon, which was hard to counter.

'...I really should've have let that drunkard take him.'

This meant Yeowun was the genius of the century. Hameng became envious of Submeng who took him in as his apprentice. Then someone shouted at Hameng.

“Chief! We have to move him to the medical room! His rib cage... its broken and three of his ribs are protruding out of his body!”

“Get him to the medical room now.”

As Lee Hameng looked at him, he remembered the report given by the instructor who was in charge of the private training room.

‘He destroyed the wall of the private training room. I think the 7th cadet is at the level of a master.’

‘What?’

He had forgotten to tell this to the instructors who just got back from vacation. If Sang Munyo had heard of this, he would not have been injured that badly.

‘Oh well.’

“Here, I got his tag for you.”

“Oh!”

Impeng went up to Chun Yeowun who was panting and gave him the yellow tag. Yeowun bowed.

“Thank you, sir.”

“I didn’t have much expectations for you at first, but seeing you grow makes me have second thoughts. Good luck.”

Impeng then returned and Yeowun smiled as he grabbed the yellow tag before returning to his 8th group.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Master! Congratulations!”

“Congratulations, Leader!”

As he returned, Hu Bong and the three cadets came to congratulate him. There were also the four cadets who rejected his offer that looked sad.

‘Dammit...’

But it was too late for regrets.

Chapter 44

Chapter 44: I will ram it in until it works (1)

The atmosphere on the training ground was now very different. Instructors were like the symbol of impossible for the cadets. However, they had just witnessed two cases where the impossible had turned possible.

The instructors were also shocked. It might be better for the cadets to have hope than despair for the next test, but this was also very embarrassing.

“Hmph.”

Hou Jinchang shook his head. He didn’t care about embarrassment. Instructors had to be happy if their cadets were talented.

‘If they have the skills, then they can be stronger than instructors.’

He first thought he wanted to try fighting Muyeon, but after seeing Yeowun, he also became disappointed that he couldn’t fight against him either.

“Let’s see the last fight then!”

Hou Jinchang and Bakgi got up to the front of the stage. All instructors were saying this with their eyes: ‘Please win!’

But they weren’t that worried either. Hou Jinchang was the best instructor there was.

Bakgi gathered his hands politely and bowed, “I will look forward to being taught a lesson, Instructor.”

“Let’s do our best.”

Hou Jinchang smiled as he liked Bakgi’s politeness. As they readied themselves, Bakgi charged like lightning and threw a kick.

‘Kick skill?’

Yeowun became surprised. He thought Bakgi looked like a blade user, but he was using a kick skill. Yeowun watched the fight with Augmented Reality to analyze what he was seeing.

‘I have more avatars I can fight against now..’

All these fights were great material for Yeowun. Unlike Chun Mukeum, Chun Muyeon had shown all the formations of his palm skill, and they were all scanned. Yeowun was also intrigued by the fact that Muyeon used both hands with different formations.

“Watch your leg.”

Hou Jinchang warned and pressed on the blood point of the Bakgi’s leg. Bakgi then threw his waist to dodge and spun to kick Hou Jinchang.

Jinchang then easily reached the bottom of the foot to press on the blood point. Bakgi gasped and was thrown back.

“Ugh!”

Bakgi frowned. His foot was turning red. The sharp energy that penetrated his foot was the sword qi. Use of such qi in that short moment meant that the enemy was beyond the level of a master.

‘...Is he at the superior master level?’

Bakgi was able to guess Hou Jinchang’s level as a warrior. He thought Jinchang would be at a similar level as the other instructors, but that wasn’t the case.

‘Do I give up?’

He had lost his leg, so he couldn’t use kick skill anymore. Hou Jinchang asked, “Your right leg is damaged. What will you do now?”

It was as if he was asking what steps he would take to overcome the danger. Bakgi nodded and got up again.

‘My foot is injured... I will have to finish it with one formation.’

Bakgi then jumped and attacked Hou Jinchang. His kick came through, and Hou Jinchang tried to defend by using the fifth sword of the Seven Demon Sword technique. That’s when Bakgi’s body dropped below. Hou Jinchang’s sword swung in the air, and Bakgi slid to the bottom and threw himself up from the foot up to kick.

Hou Jinchang then saw white light coming from Bakgi’s foot.

‘Qi?’

It was qi. Bakgi was also entering the level of a master warrior. Most cadets didn’t see the light but Chun Yeowun and the other cadets who were over the top-class level saw it.

‘Please!’

That's when Hou Jinchang used his sword formation to form a durable defense.

"That was close."

Hou Jinchang blocked Bakgi's foot and pressed on the chest blood point. It didn't have qi so it didn't penetrate him, but it instead pinned Bakgi onto the ground.

"UGH!"

Bakgi coughed up blood as the internal energy struck him down. It was a complete loss. Yushun shook his head bitterly.

'OH... he lost.'

'He couldn't even stand a few formations!'

'So the instructors are powerful then.'

'The 1st and 7th cadets are monsters!'

"Ugh.. I- I lost."

Bakgi could barely stand up to speak. Hou Jinchang smiled. He had overpowered Bakgi, but he also thought Bakgi was a talented individual.

"I will look forward to your growth."

"T-thank you, sir."

Bakgi bowed and returned to his group. He was pale from exhaustion and toward the back, Chun Jongsum smiling at his leader's loss. Chun Yeowun looked at it weirdly.

‘...Nano, get the 18th cadet’s video ready so I can check on him later.’

[Yes, Master.]

There was something that didn’t seem right.

So, two group leaders had already been appointed. There was a total of fifteen spots left, but who would dare to take the tag from Hou Jinchang?

“Good. We already have two leaders. So, if you don’t want to be left out, get ready!”

“Mado!” The cadets shouted.

“So, now we’ll bring out what you’ve been waiting for.”

Hameng glanced at the instructors and they began bringing out big wooden boxes.

‘It’s the Black Dragon Balls.’

The cadets became excited. There were a lot of boxes coming in, meaning there was more than just the Black Dragon Balls. As instructors opened the boxes, there were smaller wooden boxes that held Black Dragon Balls and wooden swords.

“We will supply wooden swords for the third test. There is only one per person, so don’t break it.”

“Mado!”

They all had to train on their own now, so they had to have a sword. As the students received their own wooden sword, Black Dragon Ball, and the book, the cadets returned to their spot to line up and Lee Hameng dismissed them.

“I will see you during the third test. Dismissed!”

Cadets then began scattering to go about on their way. Some went to the private training room to take the Black Dragon Ball, while some high-ranked clan members went to study the book first so they could aim to be a group leader.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Let’s take the ball first.’

Yeowun already had the tag, so he was seven days ahead.

‘And I need to check something too.’

He had to check on Bakgi’s video too. As he was walking toward the private training room, many cadets approached him.

‘Huh?’

Chapter 45

Chapter 45: I will ram it in until it works (2)

Twenty students surrounded Chun Yeowun. However, they weren't hostile. Four of them were Hu Bong and three cadets from the 8th group. Hu Bong realized why there were all here. It seemed that these cadets wanted to join as members of Yeowun's group. Hu Bong glanced at the other three members, and they blocked the way to Chun Yeowun.

'What?'

'He already has four?'

Some cadets looked disappointed. As expected, they were here to ask Yeowun to take them into his group.

'It's good that we decided!'

Hu Bong, Machil, Wungchun, Ho Daming were satisfied that they had made the right choice. They were from middle-ranked clans that didn't have much power because they were not favored by the six clans. They had dreams, but they couldn't do much since the six clans had cast them out, which led them to despair.

After looking at Chun Yeowun's quick rise to power, they thought they might have a chance at changing their fate.

"What business do you have with my master?" Hu Bong asked the cadets. Chun Yeowun almost laughed. Hu Bong was doing a good job as a servant.

"I want to talk to the 7th cadet himself, not you."

A big-bodied, muscular cadet spoke grumpily. Hu Bong shook his head and blocked him before he turned to Yeowun.

“Master, what would you like to do?”

“It’s okay. Let me talk to them.”

“Yes, sir.”

Hu Bong walked past and the well-built cadet came up to him. He bowed and complimented him, “I saw your valiant fight.”

Chun Yeowun also bowed, “Thanks.”

“I am the 857th cadet, Ko Wanghur.”

“Chun Yeowun.”

“Take me into your group.”

“Hmm.”

Yeowun’s group members became excited. It was better to find group members early so they could get ready for the test. Ko Wanghur then introduced himself further.

“I am from the Demon Fist Clan, and I am at the top-class level. I will be a good member to you.”

The other cadets surrounding them were surprised.

‘Oh... there goes a spot.’

If they were the leader, there was no way they would turn down Ko Wanghur. But if this was who they were competing with, their chances of getting accepted to group were becoming slim.

The cadets then shouted their names and their clans. There were some from high-ranked clans like Ko Wanghur. Out of the sixteen of them, five were from high-ranked clans and eleven of them were from middle to low-ranked clans.

As the people turned to Yeowun and waited for his answer, Yeowun calmly said, "I first want to thank you for wanting to be in my group."

Chun Yeowun bowed to them. All sixteen cadets then bowed back, astonished by his politeness and sincere movements.

"I want to bring up something first."

They all focused as it seemed like Chun Yeowun was going to say something important.

"I am not only looking for members who will complete the third test with me."

'Huh?'

What did he mean? Some figured out what Chun Yeowun meant and began to frown.

"I am looking for allies who will walk alongside me on the perilous path within the cult."

'Wait... is he talking about the competition for the throne?'

They then realized what Chun Yeowun really was talking about. He was aiming to be the heir to the throne and was gathering allies.

'Hmm.'

‘What should I do?’

They only wanted to pass the third test, but this was an entirely different issue. If they joined Chun Yeowun for the competition, it also meant that they would be facing the six clans.

‘They are afraid.’

Chun Yeowun also realized this. He spoke to the cadets.

“If you are with me, I don’t care where you are from. At the end of the path, the current clan rank or fame will not matter. I will change the basic foundation of our cult.”

The cadets were shocked. This was like a declaration of war against the six clans.

‘Is he crazy?’

Chun Yeowun’s path required power, but also formidable forces. It was like a bad gamble to be with Yeowun. Most of them were now thinking of giving up.

“Please be my ally and be the root of the new clans to the Demonic Cult. That is my condition.”

Chun Yeowun’s voice indicated that he was speaking with sincerity and truthfully. The cadets then began to show their rejection.

“I’m sorry, Prince. I just want to pass the third test.”

“I’m out.”

Most of the cadets then began declining the offer politely. Four of Yeowun’s members became shocked.

‘Oh, no...’

‘He could’ve just taken them in and told them later...’

But they also understood the risk involved in this.

“I’m sorry.”

Most of them apologized as they left. Although most of the cadets had left, three were left behind. What was more surprising was that Ko Wanghur hadn’t left.

Hu Bong was touched by the three cadets who stayed behind. Ko Wanghur from Demon Fist Clan, Ja Wumin from Golden Door Clan, and Ohjong of the Tiger Sword Clan. These cadets also thought of giving up on joining Yeowun, but they felt the power and charisma in Yeowun’s speech.

“Pr...”

“Pr...”

“Oh, you first.”

Both men spoke first, but Ja Wumin told Ko Wanghur to speak first.

“Prince Chun. Your path might endanger all those who follow you. They might die as well.”

The other two cadets next to Ko Wanghur also nodded.

“Honestly, I thought about leaving too.”

It was understandable. Ko Wanghur had the power to side with a more reliable candidate.

“But as a warrior, I wish for a greater goal. After hearing your dream, I felt tempted to join your cause.”

Ko Wanghur then knelt on his knee.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“I have a long way to go, but I will never kneel to anyone besides you. Please use me as your first sword.”

He shouted as he gathered both hands, “I pledge allegiance to Prince Chun Yeowun!”

And here was the First Fist Ko Wanghur of the former Demon God, pledging allegiance to Chun Yeowon.

‘...I’m the first servant.’

All the cadets were astonished, but only Hu Bong was jealous.

Chapter 46

Chapter 46: I will ram it in until it works (3)

After joining Chun Yeowun's team, three of them introduced themselves to Hu Bong, Machil, Wungchun, and Ho Daming. Hu Bong then spoke to Ko Wanghur.

"I don't care if you are Sword or Shield of the Master, but his first servant is me."

He wanted to make this clear. Puzzled, Ko Wanghur raised his eyebrow and Yeowun laughed.

"Yeah, Hu Bong is my first servant."

"Haha! I see. I guess we have to make things clear!"

Ko Wanghur laughed as he agreed and Hu Bong laughed in satisfaction. Yeowun now had seven members, but he still needed four more.

'Let's not hurry.'

However, he didn't have to gather people too fast since Chun Yeowun wanted true allies.

"Master, what should we do now?" Hu Bong asked. Their training now relied on the group leader's instructions. Chun Yeowun ordered, "Everyone, absorb your Black Dragon Ball. We will need to do that first to learn the Seven Demon Sword."

"Yes, sir!"

Other than Chun Yeowun and Ko Wanghur, the other five didn't have top-class internal energy. They had to increase their energy up to thirty years worth so they could learn Seven Demon Sword, and train for the formation.

Hu Bong asked, "Master... what should we do with the Seven Dragon Sword? We have never learned any top-class martial arts skills yet."

Ohjong, Machil, Wungchun, and Ho Daming nodded. Unlike Chun Yeowun, they didn't have the chance to learn powerful martial arts.

"They have a point. Learning a top-class martial art isn't easy."

Ja Wumin also shared the same thought. He had learned the Golden Door Spear skill, which was a top-quality martial art, so he knew how hard it can be to learn it without a teacher.

'Hmm, nothing is easy then.'

Yeowun had a solution this, however. If he used tutorial mode, he could scan the person's movements to easily correct any problems or errors.

'I will have to teach them myself.'

Yeowun smiled, "Then after you absorb your Black Dragon Ball, learn all the movements to the Seven Demon Sword first."

"Movement?"

"Starting tomorrow, you will train with me in the morning. I will teach you the formation and the movements. If you can't do it alone, come."

The cadets became excited. Meanwhile, Chun Yeowun was thinking of a very effective teaching strategy.

‘Well, I can just ram it into their head until it works.’

Yeowun decided to adopt Submeng’s education philosophy.

After the plan was set, the cadets left to absorb their Black Dragon Balls. The only one left was Ko Wanghur who wanted to talk some more.

“What is it?”

“Master, I think it’ll be better for you to have someone with you when you move around.”

“Why is that?”

“I am concerned about the point where we were told to take the yellow tag from the instructor.”

Yeowun became intrigued. He too was concerned about that. The Chief didn’t say that the tag was only limited to one person — the meaning behind the words suggested, ‘The one who has a yellow tag will become a leader.’

‘Maybe the purpose for the yellow tag wasn’t to defeat the instructor, but to have the cadets fight against each other.’

And that was what Ko Wanghur was worried about.

“You have fewer allies with you compared to the 1st cadet, so you have to be careful.”

“Thank you for your advice.”

“Of course, Master.”

“Yeah, then let’s do something about this first.”

Chun Yeowun then went to the instructors to ask about how the dorm rooms would be assigned. Fortunately, he was told that the group leaders could ask for a new room with his own members. Thus, Chun Yeowun immediately requested a room.

When that was done, he went to the private room to absorb the Black Dragon Ball. Ko Wanghur, who wanted to use the room next to Yeowun, was astonished when he saw that Yeowun was allowed to use the wider room that was not open to the other cadets yet.

“I will become more powerful and strive to be in the same building as you, Master!”

His eagerness only grew. Yeowun came into the room and opened the wooden box.

“Ugh.”

A thick foul stench filled the room. Chun Yeowun picked up the ball with a scowl and put it into his mouth. He chewed it down carefully, enduring the bitterness.

‘Ugh... Nano, help me absorb this thing.’

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun then swallowed it and began using the Breathing of Thousand Martial Arts skill.

[Sensed substance that provides strong energy activation. Increasing bodily function to absorb the substance.]

A while later, Chun Yeowun's body began letting out steam. It was the phenomenon that happened when one obtained sixty years worth of internal energy. After a while, the steam stopped and Yeowun opened his eyes.

"OH!"

He was astonished to feel the heavy internal energy below his stomach. His internal energy was now above a little bit over the sixty years.

'Now I really am at the master level.'

Yeowun thanked Nano.

'Nano. it's all thanks to you.'

[Yes, Master. It's all on me.]

'....Yeah.'

Nano was a machine, so it did not know to be humble. Yeowun got up awkwardly and began trying using his internal energy. On his hand, the clear shape of qi appeared on his palm.

"I got it!"

If he could give it will of the blade, then it would allow him to use blade qi like Chun Yuchan.

'I should get used to using qi.'

Chun Yeowun tried to go into training when he suddenly remembered something.

'Oh, right. Nano, can you show me the video about Bakgi?' Yeowun asked.

[Playing the video through Augmented Reality.]

Chun Yeowun's eyes moved rapidly began to watch the playback of Bakgi starting to fight against Hou Jinchang.

'Nano, zoom in on Bakgi.'

[Zooming in.]

Yeowun looked closely after Nano zoomed in. What he was looking at were Bakgi's face and neck. And when Bakgi was thrown back and got up while coughing, Yeowun thought, 'Nano, zoom in on his face and neck.'

[Zooming in.]

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

As the screen zoomed in to the point where it began to show Bakgi's skin pores, Yeowun ordered Nano to stop.

'Stop.'

[Pausing video.]

Bakgi's face was pale and his eyes were red. What was more surprising was the fact that his neck was redder. With the zoomed image, one could see that there were small red dots all over. Yeowun mumbled in anger.

"...Poison!"

Chapter 47

Chapter 47: I will crush them all (1)

The poison killed its target slowly without them knowing. The red dot was the symptom that showed when the person was poisoned.

Chun Yeowun bit his lips.

‘Mother...’

His mother, Lady Hwa, was killed by the same poison and Yeowun couldn’t forget the fact. He had learned from the pain of having his loved one die.

‘How can he be poisoned?’

The symptom seemed to be severe. Lady Hwa had those dots a few months before she died, and Bakgi had the same dots.

‘That only appears after long exposure.’

It was weird for Bakgi to have been exposed to the poison for a long time.

‘Chun Jongsum!’

Yeowun then remembered Jongsum who was smiling at Bakgi. That was why Yeowun had to check Bakgi’s video in the first place. Bakgi was the only one who defeated the prince within the group. It was likely that Chun Jongsum was angry and embarrassed. However, as far as Yeowun knew, one needed to be exposed to the poison through years of dosage.

‘He was either poisoned before he entered the academy, or Chun Jongsum used a heavy dose.’

It was likely that the latter was what was happening. The former was also possible but Chun Yeowun leaned toward the latter.

‘Bastard...’

To Yeowun, poison was frowned upon since it killed his mother. He knew he didn’t have to do anything with the problem between Bakgi and Chun Jongsum, but seeing the same poison being used made him furious.

‘He will try to do the same against others with the poison. I can’t say he’s doing anything wrong in the Demonic Cult Academy, but I can’t let him do that.’

Chun Yeowun then decided to destroy Chun Jongsum’s evil plans.

At the training ground, a duel was going on. One person was an instructor and the other was 5th cadet Chun Yuchan.

‘He’s beyond the level of the other cadets too.’

Instructor Hong Duwi was astonished. The fight was a close match since both of them were at the level of master warriors.

‘I can’t defeat him with the Seven Demon Sword only.’

The Seven Demon Sword was being countered. It wasn’t a perfect counter like what Chun Yeowun did, but it was still being countered.

‘He’s also a genius like those two.’

They didn't need to duel anymore. Chun Yuchan already had enough power and knowledge regarding the skill. Hong Duwi took a few steps back and raised his hand to stop. Chun Yuchan smiled back.

"This is enough."

"Meaning?"

"Here's the tag."

Hong Duwi then took the tag and gave it to Chun Yuchan.

"Haha! I'm a group leader now!"

"Yes, congratulations. I wish you luck."

"Thank you, Instructor."

Chun Yuchan bowed. After he saw Hong Duwi return to the building, he grinned.

"There's one. Who should I go for next?"

It was now close to dinner time. The cafeteria was crowded with cadets who were busy eating. They were all smiling as their internal energy had increased greatly from absorbing the Black Dragon Ball. But those cadets who had not achieved the thirty years worth of energy were gloomy, since having that much was the basic requirement to learn the Seven Demon Sword.

That's when everyone turned to the person walking in. It was the 18th cadet, Bakgi. He was alone, unlike the other group leader worthy cadets. He took a seat in an empty corner and began to eat.

Someone then sat down in front of him. Bakgi did not look up.

“Hey, 18th cadet.”

Bakgi then raised his face. It was Chun Kungwun, the prince from the Sword Clan.

“I watched your duel.”

Bakgi placed his chopsticks on the bowl and glared at Chun Kungwun.

‘How dare he?’

Chun Kungwun did not like Bakgi’s attitude. Most cadets were always polite toward him since he was still a prince, but Bakgi wasn’t like that.

“I am eating. What do you want?”

Bakgi was curt. Chun Kungwun became angrier, but he kept his calm.

“Hmph. I noticed you were at the master level.”

Bakgi was appalled. It seemed like he had seen the qi too. This meant that Chun Kungwun was also a master.

“I like your skill. I think you want to be a group leader, but don’t you want to go up higher?”

“Ah...” Bakgi sighed as he realized Chun Kungwun’s intentions. He was offering him to join his group. Bakgi then began to eat. Chun Kungwun frowned, but he wasn’t the type to show his anger in front of everyone else.

“Well, you think about it.”

Chun Kungwun left and Bakgi focused on the food. This was the second time already. When he was on his way to the training room, Chun Yuchan had already come up to him, offering a spot in his group. Bakgi refused since he wasn't interested in joining the princes' groups. All he wanted was to become strong.

He kept eating while he was irritated, until someone sat in front of him again.

“I'm sorry, but can we talk?”

‘Ugh... again?’

Bakgi sighed. If he had known that this would happen, he would not have challenged instructor in front of everyone else. He spat at the cadet.

“Not interested. Get lost.”

“...Hm.”

The cadet moaned. It was Chun Yeowun.

Chapter 48

Chapter 48: I will crush them all (2)

There were three ways to find other cadets in the academy. One was to hope to meet them by coincidence, but it became much harder after the private training rooms had been opened. The second was to go to their room, but it wasn't a good way since many of the students would be asleep. The last way was to find them at the cafeteria.

Chun Yeowun took the third way and found Bakgi eating alone. Before he got there, someone walked up to him first.

'Chun Kungwun?'

It was Chun Kungwun, the Prince of the Sword Clan.

'Nano, cut out all the noise except for the conversation between those two.'

[Yes, Master.]

Chun Yeowun then heard Kungwun and Bakgi's conversation. What was interesting was that Kungwun wanted to recruit Bakgi who was powerful enough to be a group leader. It wasn't surprising that Kungwun would want a powerful warrior like Bakgi, but there was no way Bakgi would join a group when he himself could be a leader.

Chun Yeowun then took a seat. It didn't matter as he was here to let him know about the poison.

Yeowun then looked at Bakgi's neck.

'His neck...?'

His neck had regained color and the red dots were gone. Bakgi answered, "Not interested. Get lost."

"...Hm."

Chun Yeowun then began thinking about how should he explain everything. He didn't know what to tell Bakgi when the red dots were gone. However, he couldn't let Bakgi die from the poison.

"If we don't talk now, you might die."

"What?"

It wasn't his intention, but Bakgi interpreted this as a threat. He glared at Yeowun.

"You are more arrogant than the other princes. Do you think you can get group members like that?"

"...You misunderstood."

"What? You just threatened me. I understood you perfectly fine."

Bakgi was almost trying to fight him. Yeowun shook his head.

"I'm not saying that. Hear me out. You have been poisoned."

"Poison? What the hell do you mean?"

Bakgi became dumbfounded.

"I saw your fight and saw the red dots on your neck. Your face also became pale. You have been poisoned with a special kind of poison."

Bakgi frowned. There was no way he would not notice being poisoned when he was a master-level warrior.

‘Poison? That’s impossible.’

He had never found any type of poison while meditating. Ever since he was appointed to the group, he had been wary of Chun Jongsum. He even avoided coming into contact with the prince.

‘And why is he warning me of this?’

Bakgi then became curious about Chun Yeowun’s intentions.

“...I’m sorry I misunderstood you, but there is no way that I would’ve missed detecting the poison.”

Bakgi apologized for his mistake. It seemed like he was very truthful to his feelings.

“What?”

Chun Yeowun was also surprised. He and Lady Hwa had no internal energy, so he didn’t know that one could sense poison by meditating.

‘Meditating allows one to detect the poison? But... that symptom was surely because of the poison.’

If what Bakgi said was right, then he wasn’t poisoned. As Chun Yeowun thought, he saw someone entering the cafeteria. It was Baek Jongmeng, the doctor of the academy.

‘Doctor Baek!’

Chun Yeowun then decided to ask the doctor.

“Then why don’t we check with the doctor? It’s better to be safe than sorry, right?”

“...Yeah.”

It was reasonable, but it felt like Yeowun was doing what he wanted. Bakgi returned his dishes and went to Baek Jongmeng along with Yeowun.

“Dinner, dinner~”

Baek Jongmeng was getting the food while whistling.

“Doctor Baek.”

“Huh?”

Baek Jongmeng turned and saw Chun Yeowun.

“Oh, long time no see! Uh, or is it? Anyway. Did you eat?”

“No, sir.”

“Then let’s eat. I don’t want to eat together though. I want to tell you something too later.”

Baek Jongmeng wanted to thank Yeowun. After he left, he had gotten many patients. They weren’t all because of Yeowun, but Jongmeng loved being busy. Yeowun shook his head.

“I’m sorry, but can you check up on him before that?”

“Huh?”

Jongmeng turned to Bakgi who was standing next to Yeowun.

“18th cadet, Bakgi. Sir.”

“Oh, yeah. Nice to meet you. I’m Baek Jongmeng. Did you get hurt?”

Baek Jongmeng had never seen Bakgi. Although his foot was pierced by sword qi, he didn’t go see the doctor.

“...I think he’s been poisoned.”

“What? Poison?”

Jongmeng’s expression turned serious. He didn’t think that he’d have a poisoned patient in the academy.

‘Oh... they are here I guess.’

He then realized that Chun Jongsum and the other members were from the Poison Clan.

“I can’t do it here. Let’s go back to the medical room.”

Jongmeng then returned the food he had gotten and went back to his medical room. When they reached the second floor, Chun Yeowun was confused by the number of guards. There weren’t that many before.

‘...All these guards were here and Teacher got past all of them?’

That didn’t seem likely. He then realized that none of the instructors including the Chief were curious about his Butterfly Blade Dance.

‘I see... so they must have known.’

Chun Yeowun then followed Jongmeng into the room. Jongmeng let Bakgi have a seat and began checking his various blood points.

“Hm... this is strange.”

“Is it dangerous?”

Bakgi was concerned so he carefully asked his question.

“No, your pulse is fine.”

“Then am I okay?” Bakgi asked with relief but Jongmeng then said, “Did you try meditating?”

“Yes, always. I didn’t sense any poison.”

“Hm... I can’t find anything from just feeling the pulse and blood points.”

Yeowun then interrupted, “His eyes turned red and his face became pale. His neck also had red dots.”

“What?”

Bakgi was shocked.

‘How did he see that?’

He was surprised that Yeowun had seen all those details at such a distance.

“I think it’s the poison that kills the target slowly.”

Yeowun offered his conjecture and Jongmeng exclaimed, “... Right! How did you know that?”

Chun Yeowun was right about the poison’s symptoms. Yeowun answered, “...My mother was killed by that poison.”

“Oh... I’m sorry.” Jongmeng bowed. He then remembered seeing his teacher taking the medicine to use it as an antidote for that poison a long time ago.

‘...So, that’s why.’

Bakgi also became apologetic. He was suspicious of Yeowun trying to help, but hearing this made him understand.

“Well, you can’t find that poison through meditating or just checking the pulse.”

“What?”

“Hold on.”

Jongmeng then went to his cabinet and brought something out. He then began mixing the medicines and fired it up. The smoke began to rise.

“Breathe with your mouth to take the smoke in.”

“Mouth?”

“Yeah, a big one.”

“Okay.”

Bakgi then took in the smoke and began coughing roughly. He began to turn pale and the red dots popped up around his neck.

“Ugh!”

He fell down on the ground and kept on coughing. Jongmeng put out the fire, and then Bakgi got up with a pale face.

“It is the poison.”

“W-what... but how..”

He couldn't understand how he had been poisoned.

“But I was fine when I meditated and I didn't make any contact! I always ate alone too!”

This was why Bakgi ate alone. It was to defend himself from Chun Jongsum so he couldn't do anything to him.

“Well... this one is a bit different.”

“What?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“This one shows the effect when it's inside your lung or stomach.”

“Lung?”

“You can consume it through food, but you can also be poisoned by breathing it in while you sleep. And the poison is so little that you won't notice it when you're asleep. Do you share a room with someone who might be using the poison?”

Bakgi then glared with reddened eyes and shuddered in anger.

‘Chun Jongsum, you bastard...!!!’

Chapter 49

Chapter 49: I will crush them all (3)

Bakgi was already at the level of a master when he entered the academy. He quickly overpowered Chun Jongsum who threatened the other group members on the first day of the academy. Chun Jongsum warned him when he lost.

‘You enjoy your victory now. The claw of the Poison Clan is like good wine. It gets deeper as time goes on.’

Therefore, Bakgi always watched out for any signs of a poison attack, but he still got poisoned in the end.

“Hmph.”

Baek Jongmeng brought out more medicine to take out the poison. Chun Yeowun then asked the doctor, “How bad is it for him?”

Jongmeng smiled.

“He’s okay. Luckily, we detected it early. He’ll heal after a week of antidotes.”

“But isn’t it severe if he has the red dots?”

He remembered Baek Jongwu’s explanation to him regarding the poison. He said that since the red dots covered her entire body, Lady Hwa had no way to survive.

“Oh, that happened because I got it through his lungs.”

“Lung?”

“Yeah, it’s to check if he’s been poisoned. If he shows the signs of being poisoned without it, then it is too late.”

Yeowun then remembered that Hou Jinchang pressed on Bakgi’s chest during the duel.

‘Oh, so that’s what triggered the symptom!’

“So do you need that smoke to check it?”

“Not really. If your lungs get damaged, the poison might go into the wound and show the symptoms also.”

“Oh... I see. So, that’s why.”

Yeowun then realized why Bakgi showed the symptoms earlier. Jongmeng quickly boiled the medicine. Bakgi was still infuriated from the fact that he had been poisoned.

“Here, drink up.”

“...Thank you.”

Bakgi drank the medicine and Jongmeng said, “You must be angry, but aren’t you still lucky?”

“Yes?”

“Thanks to the 7th cadet, it wasn’t too late. If it was, then you really would have died.”

“Oh!”

Bakgi realized he had not shown his gratitude to his lifesaver. Bakgi got up and bowed to Chun Yeowun.

“I-I’m sorry. Thank you for saving my life. I really am thankful.”

Chun Yeowun waved it off. "Don't thank me too much. I don't want to see anyone dying from that disgusting poison. And... I was looking for the culprit behind it."

Chun Yeowun's last words showed that he was furious. It was deep hatred that came from his vengeance.

Bakgi was at a loss for words. He had expected it, but Yeowun's hatred was beyond his imagination. Jongmeng then opened the curtain of the bed and spoke to Bakgi.

"How about you rest here in the medical room today?"

"Huh?"

"You will heal in seven days, but if you go back to your room, you will be targeted by the poison again."

Bakgi frowned.

'He'll poison me again?'

If it wasn't for Baek Jongmeng, Bakgi was going to go to Chun Jongsum and unleash his vengeance. But there was a chance that Chun Jongsum would poison him again when he was asleep.

"Dammit!"

It was irritating. Chun Yeowun agreed, "Yeah, stay here like the doctor said. I know how you feel, but you must heal first."

"Ugh."

"Leave Chun Jongsum to me."

"What?"

Bakgi became shocked. Baek Jongmeng hesitated as he asked Yeowun, "What are you trying to do?"

"...I think I need a word with him."

'A word?'

However, seeing Yeowun's eyes filled with hatred didn't seem like he was just going to exchange some words with the prince. Jongmeng sighed.

"I heard rumors that you've become strong, but can you handle ones that use poison?"

Fighting against poison users wasn't an easy thing, even for experienced martial artists. Even the leaders of the six clans said the Poison Clan was the hardest to deal with.

"Thank you for your concern, but I'll be okay."

Yeowun then began walking out and stopped. He then spoke to himself before going out.

"...If that is true, then I will send him next to your bed."

"What?"

It seemed like he was talking to someone. Jongmeng and Bakgi exchanged glances and then heard an irritated person speak up.

"Hmph. That damn peasant."

It was Chun Mukeum who was also in the medical room.

[Hey, peasant. The one you are looking for should be in the forest across the fifth building of the dorm.]

Chun Mukeum sent a telepathic message to Chun Yeowun. It was information about Chun Jongsum's whereabouts after dinner. He told him this, but it was not for Yeowun or Bakgi.

"Heh.'

Chun Jongsum hated Chun Yeowun almost like Chun Mukeum himself. Chun Mukeum also hated the Poison Clan more than any of the other six clans.

'You or that lunatic... I don't care who dies.'

He told Yeowun the location, hoping it would kill either of the two, or both of them.

The sky had turned dark and the only place that had mountains around it was near the dorms. The building of the fifth dorm was where instructors stayed, so the cadets did not go to the forest across it. However, there was one who went there often. It was Chun Jongsum.

"Hehe..."

He traveled to the mountain every night, collecting poisonous herbs. Poison of Destruction. To learn this poison attack, one needed to poison himself and heal up countless times. This would allow one become the Poisonous Human, thus yielding hundreds of poisons inside the body, poisons so powerful that one could even melt qi.

'With the internal energy at the master level, I will be at the fifth level of the Poison of Destruction.'

The Poison of Destruction had a total of nine levels, and the power went up exponentially beginning at the fifth level. Chun Jongsum was embarrassed when he lost to Bakgi and poisoned him in anger. He poisoned him every day and he saw the poison working today.

‘It’s a bit fast, but who will notice it?’

He had given a higher dosage, so the symptoms appeared faster than expected. However, there was no one in the academy who might know about the poison other than him and the members of the Poison Clan.

“Hehehe... Bakgi, I will kill you myself before you die to poison.”

If he reached the fifth level, there was no need to wait for Bakgi to die to the poison. It made him excited.

“What’s so exciting?”

“What?”

Chun Jongsum became surprised and got up. It was a dark night, so he couldn’t see the face.

‘W-what? That voice doesn’t sound like an instructors.’

Chun Jongsum then uncovered the candle that he had to hide in the darkness.

“You...?”

He saw the man’s face. It was Chun Yeowun who was glaring fiercely at him.

‘What? Why is he here now?’

Chun Jongsum was shocked. Yeowun spoke to him angrily.

“Is it fun playing around with poison?”

Chun Jongsum then realized Yeowun was talking about using the poison on Bakgi. However, he wasn't sure if Yeowun was talking about his mother or Bakgi. But it didn't matter as Yeowun was certain that he had noticed something.

"Hmph. What about it?"

"Red dots on Bakgi. Did you think I wouldn't notice it?"

"You? Oh... OHHHH!"

Chun Jongsum then began cackling.

"Kekekekek! I see! That's how! Your dirty mother was..."

Before he could finish, Yeowun charged in like lightning and crushed Jongsum's face with his fist.

"ARARRRRGH!"

He was thrown to the back like a cannonball. It was so powerful that he slammed into a large tree, half destroying it. Chun Jongsum's chin was turned weirdly to the left and all the teeth on his right side were either pulled or destroyed.

"Urrrgh..."

Chun Jongsum didn't pass out from severe pain however and moaned.

'What? What is going on?!'

He couldn't understand what was happening. He only remembered being struck in the face. Chun Yeowun then came up with a demon-like face.

Chapter 50

Chapter 50: I will crush them all (4)

Blood spilled out of Chun Jongsum's mouth. His chin was twisted weirdly so he couldn't close his mouth. And based on how Chun Yeowun was approaching him, it seemed like he was here to kill him, not caring about the rules of the academy.

'He-he must be bluffing!'

Chun Jongsum was afraid, but he denied to accept what he saw.

'Move! Move!'

He tried to pull himself up from the tree, but he couldn't move.

"You dare to talk about something you should not have. You know what it is?" Yeowun asked coldly while Chun Jongsum struggled to get out of the tree.

'Please! Move!'

His heart was pounding as Yeowun got closer. He already knew that he couldn't fight Yeowun with martial arts. And with forced effort, internal energy began to flow into him and his fingers began to move. Yeowun was already upon him.

'He thinks I can't move yet. I'll surprise him.'

Chun Jongsum looked dumbfoundedly at Yeowun intentionally. Yeowun then spoke to Jongsum in front of him.

“You made a mistake on talking about Mother with your dirty mouth.”

Yeowun then tried to strike down on Jongsum’s head and Jongsum jumped up, throwing his fist at Yeowun’s chest.

“Hheeekek! Shuerpriesssed?!”

‘Hehehe! Surprised?’

Chun Jongsum was excited, but he then became shocked. Yeowun had grabbed his wrist.

‘Dammit!’

Yeowun then grabbed the fist and shook his head.

“Idiot. You should’ve just stayed down.”

“AAAAAARGH!”

Yeowun crushed the fist in his hand, shattering the bones into pieces. Chun Jongsum then thought he couldn’t just stand there.

‘Dammit! I have to k-kill him!’

It felt like he was going to be killed if he didn’t kill him first. Chun Jongsum then moved the poison inside his body. The reason why he didn’t use poison on Bakgi was because it might kill the target, and he couldn’t kill anyone in the academy. The strongest poison he had was the sulfur. It was so strong that it melted the skin and bones. Even the leader of the Poison Clan told him to never use it against the same cultists.

‘I can’t just die!’

“DDIIIIIIIE!”

Chun Jongsum then reached out at Yeowun’s face with his left hand. Yeowun then quickly took the proper steps to move back but Chun Jongsum closed in. Yellow smoke came up to his face and chest, burning his skin.

“Arrgh!”

‘I got him!’

Chun Jongsum thought it was over. Since the poison was thrown at his face, it was certain that his face was going to melt and that he was going to die. However, something happened that shocked Chun Jongsum beyond reason.

[Sensing poisonous substance entering through the face and chest. Activating emergency defense mode. Detoxicating the poison and healing the damaged skin tissue.]

With Nano’s voice, Yeowun’s face began healing back.

“W-whhat ish thish?!”

Chun Jongsum was even terrified. Yeowun’s face that showed even the muscle below the skin was now healing up quickly like a monster.

“Y-you a monsshter?!”

He had never heard of or seen such regeneration from the poison effect. Chun Yeowun then walked up to him again. Chun Jongsum fell back.

“Poison.. poison... damn poison! Yes, you are from the Poison Clan so you must want to use that. But you know what? I can’t let you poison bastards live on.”

“Aaaargfhh!”

Chun Jongsum began crawling on the ground, trying to run back. Chun Yeowun then ran up and kicked Chun Jongsum’s chin. It made his chin to return to the same place to close his mouth, but the lower part his face was twisted at a weird angle.

“AAAARGH!”

Chun Jongsum then spat his teeth out. Now, all his teeth were broken. Chun Jongsum sobbed as he looked at his broken teeth. He had never felt such pain and fear in his life. Chun Yeowun didn’t seem to care about rules, so there was only one thing left for Chun Jongsum to do.

“P-pleashhh! Do-do-do donts kill meee!”

Chun Jongsum banged his head on the floor. He didn’t have any pride. Banging on the ground ripped his forehead apart and blood began to spill out. Chun Yeowun then grabbed his chest and pulled the young man up.

“Aaaah!”

Chun Jongsum moaned. He hoped that maybe Chun Yeowun would let him live. Chun Yeowun then spoke to him with a dark voice.

“...You didn’t let my mother live when she pleaded for her life.”

Chun Jongsum then realized that it was a mistake to use the same poison that killed Lady Hwa. Yeowun would never forgive him. Chun Jongsum’s heart began to pound in fear.

‘N-no! I should at least yell!’

However, before Chun Jongsum could yell, Yeowun pressed on his blood point. Jongsum couldn't even yell and he turned pale from the fear.

'D-dammit!'

He loved the forest because people rarely came here, and now it was working against him.

"Did you use this hand to use that poison?"

Yeowun then stepped on Jongsum's left hand and began crushing it. Jongsum's left hand got smashed.

"Nnnnghghghghrrghh....!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The pain was beyond what he could bear. Chun Jongsum sobbed from the pain and Yeowun declared, "I won't kill you today. I don't want to get expelled for killing trash like you."

'Is he letting me live?!'

Chun Jongsum became hopeful, but that was false hope.

"Instead, you will beg for me to kill you. Let's start with the bones, shall we?"

And that was the start of Chun Jongsum's nightmare.

Chapter 51

Chapter 51: I will crush them all (5)

After quite some time, Chun Jongsum began to regret using the poison on Bakgi.

‘Damn that poison!’

Chun Jongsum had learned about the poison because of a certain visitor at his home when he was very young. A middle-aged woman who hid her face with a red veil contacted his mother, Lady Baek. Chun Jongsum overheard their conversation while he was studying herbs.

‘How long will it take to see the result?’

‘Possibly a year.’

‘Good. Is there any way for one to notice it if they don’t have internal energy?’

‘There is no way. Someone with sixty years worth of internal energy can burn the poison from the body while meditating, but without it... there is no way.’

‘Good. I will trust your words then.’

‘So... where are you going to use the poison?’

‘I don’t know. What do you think?’

And the woman left. A year later, news of the Lord’s 7th wife Lady Hwa’s passing spread across the entire Demonic Cult. At the time, Chun Jongsum’s mother, Lady Baek, was also glad about the news since she hated Lady Hwa too. But the excitement didn’t last long.

After it became apparent that Lady Hwa's death was due to the poisoning, the Poison Clan and Lady Baek became the number one suspect. If it wasn't for Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu's claim that the poison could be acquired even if it wasn't for the Poison Clan, things would have gotten out of control.

The Lord became furious and arrested every servant who served Lady Hwa, but after finding out that the cook that had killed herself, they couldn't find the real culprit behind it all. They found out that the cook had met with some woman with a veil, but they couldn't find out exactly who it was.

After Lady Hwa's death, the Lord cut ties with every wife from the six clans. And as for the Poison Clan, Leader of the House Baek Oh had to step down from his Eldership. Baek Oh knew that the Lord suspected his family, so he couldn't even object and he too was suspicious that the culprit might be his own daughter.

'No! It's not me!'

Lady Baek wanted to tell the truth to the Lord. But if things got out that the source of the poison came from her, that was the same thing as saying that her family was behind Lady Hwa's death anyway. So she couldn't tell the truth. She deliberately sold the poison, not knowing who it would be used upon.

'Jongsum, my child. You must keep this secret between you and me. Or else, even you will be hated by your father.'

Lady Baek told Chun Jongsum to not say a word about it and soon passed away while suffering from the stress.

'Mother...'

Chun Jongsum became furious. The real culprit was hiding behind the six clans, and the fact that his mother died because of it only made him angrier.

‘No! It’s not my mother! It’s not!’

However, he had no way to find out who the red-veiled lady was. So, Chun Jongsum decided to become the future Lord and find who was behind the incident. He would then wipe out her entire family to avenge his mother.

‘If it wasn’t for that b*tch, my mother would still be alive!’

Chun Jongsum blamed all of this on Lady Hwa, and thought to kill Chun Yeowun, her son instead.

“Nnnnnnghhhhrgh!”

However, he was the one who was on the verge of death. All the bones in his body had been destroyed and he couldn’t move. He despaired and was terrified of Chun Yeowun. No amount of martial art training would allow him to defeat this monster.

“Your bones have all been crushed, so I should finish it then.”

Chun Yeowun then began focusing energy in his hand, trying to finish it off by destroying the internal energy within Chun Jongsum. This was to ensure that Chun Jongsum would never try to hurt anyone without killing him.

‘W-wait! No!’

Chun Jongsum, who almost had given up, began twisting madly.

“NNNNNRGH!”

Having all his bones broken and taking internal damage were two different things. With the latter, there was no way one could be a warrior anymore throughout his entire life.

“Stay still!”

Chun Yeowun pressed on the blood points to make him stop moving.

“NNNNNNGH!”

‘Hmm?’

Chun Jongsum kept on trying to say something, so Chun Yeowun allowed Jongsum to speak by pressing on the blood point again.

“Argh... ahh....”

Chun Jongsum panted for few seconds.

“Yyouush.... Mosher... wash keeled... nooot... bye... ma... crrrran....”

His teeth were all gone and his chin was distorted, so it was hard to understand what he was saying.

‘I don’t know what he’s saying. Nano, analyze it.’

[Yes, Master. Interpreting from the pronunciation and lip movements.]

[Your mother was killed not by my clan.]

Nano told him with the correct pronunciation.

“Huh? What are you saying?”

Chun Yeowun became shocked and Chun Jongsum sighed in relief. He was trying to tell the secret he had been keeping all along, trying to stop his internal energy from being destroyed. But there was another reason for this. Chun Jongsum thought that if this monster brought out the real culprit, then the monster would go after the culprit and kill her in the most painful way possible.

[The real person who killed your mother is one of the ladies in the five clans other than mine.]

“One of the ladies in the other five clans?”

Chun Jongsum barely nodded. This was all he knew, but if Chun Yeowun yearned for vengeance, then he was going to find out no matter what.

[So please... don't destroy my internal energy at least.]

Chun Yeowun asked Jongsum with a suspicious look, “So... how do you know this?”

“Nnngh?”

“How can I tell if you are telling the truth that the culprit is from one of the other clans?”

It was hard to believe that the Poison Clan was innocent when his mother had died from the poison. Yeowun thought that the Poison Clan and Lady Baek were behind his mother's death all along. Jongsum then couldn't find the word to describes, but if he had to tell everything, then he had to say that his mother was the source of the poison.

‘Nano, analyze his facial expression.’

[Analyzing...]

Chun Yeowun activated Nano's ability to find out the truth.

"Is it true that culprit is with the other five clans?"

Chun Jongsum nodded. This was true, so there was no need to hesitate.

[No change in muscle movement. Chance of lying: 5%.]

This meant that Jongsum was telling the truth. The truth was shocking however, for Yeowun had long thought that it was Poison Clan who was behind his mother's death.

"Then... does the Poison Clan... Lady Baek has nothing to do with my mother's death?"

At that question, Jongsum's eyes shook slightly. He didn't need to tell the truth about this, so he nodded. Nano's voice resounded in Yeowun's ears.

[Detected change in facial expression and eyes. Chance of lying: 75%.]

This was much higher than when it was used on Yumpa. This meant that the Poison Clan did have a part in Lady Hwa's death. Yeowun looked down at Jongsum coldly.

"I knew I couldn't trust your words."

"I-ish nott lyeeeeeing..."

"Shut up."

Chun Yeowun then struck his underbelly. Chun Jongsum almost screamed from the pain coming up from his stomach, but he was put under silence by Yeowun as he pressed on the blood point. Yeowun punched again with the energy, destroying Jongsum's internal energy.

All the energy within Jongsum's body began to dissipate. It was gone.

'My energy! No! NOOOOOO!'

At the medical room, Doctor Baek Jongmeng did not go home and waited.

"Hmph... should I prepare an antidote?"

He was worried that Yeowun went out full of anger. Even if he had gotten stronger, it could be dangerous if Chun Jongsum used his poisons. Yeowun was the first cadet that Jongmeng had become friends with, so he was worried that Yeowun might get hurt.

That's when he heard someone running up the stairs. Soon, he heard guards talking in alarmed voices to go ahead, and the door opened.

"What?! You!"

Jongmeng looked at Chun Yeowun bursting in. He had someone on his shoulder, who was hanging like a rag doll.

"What's going on!"

"Do something about him first!"

Chun Yeowun threw the man down on the bed. It was Chun Jongsum.

"Nnnnrgh...!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He had bubbles coming up from his mouth, almost dying. His entire face turned purple as if he had been poisoned.

“W-what have you done? What is going on?!”

Jongmeng was baffled, but he quickly moved over to start checking on Jongsum. And the bed next to it was where Chun Mukeum laid. He was dumbfounded.

‘This bastard...’

He didn’t think Yeowun would really bring Jongsum next to his next bed, right on the verge of death.

Chapter 52

Chapter 52: Cool heads but warm hearts (1)

The Poison of Destruction art. When one reached the fourth level, it allowed them to store poison within the body and use it when needed. The internal energy helped control the poison that was within the body, but if the energy was shattered, the poison spread out uncontrolled.

“Nnnrgggghgh!”

Chun Yeowun was shocked when Chun Jongsum’s face turned purple and his mouth was full of bubbles. He wasn’t going to kill him because of the academy rule, but it looked like Jongsum was dying.

“God... his internal energy is gone,” Baek Jongmeng gasped. He realized why Jongsum had been poisoned.

‘I knew something was going to happen, but this...’

He didn’t think Yeowun would destroy Jongsum’s energy. He was not a martial artist, but he knew how important internal energy was for a martial artist. Looking at all those bones that had been destroyed, it made him frown.

‘You should’ve stopped after breaking his bones. Why did you go so far?’

Jongmeng had many questions he wanted to ask, but he had to treat his patients first. Jongmeng quickly placed needles over Jongsum’s blood points. He didn’t know what poison was in effect, so he had to get the poison out of the body first. The blood points began to spill black blood with the foul stench of poison coming from it.

“Ugh!”

It was a powerful poison that should have killed a normal person already. Fortunately, Jongsum was not dead yet.

‘Is he immune to poison?’

But even then, this level of poison was going to kill Chun Jongsum anyway.

“Oh! I have that!”

Jongmeng then quickly went through his desk drawers and found a red silk pouch that had small medicinal pills inside.

‘I’m so lucky that I have these.’

It was what his teacher Baek Jongwu told him to take. Jongmeng put on a glove so he would not come into contact with the poison and opened Jongsum’s mouth and place three pills inside.

“You might feel like dying, but swallow it if you want to live. Go on!”

Chun Jongsum was dying, but he barely swallowed it. As Jongmeng was doing his best to save Jongsum, Yeowun looked on with a serious expression.

‘I didn’t expect this.’

He didn’t know anything about poisons, so there was no way Yeowun would have known this. If Jongsum died, Yeowun was going to be expelled.

‘Dammit. I can’t let him die.’

He had gone too far, but there was nothing he could do now.

‘I have to let him live.’

The best way was to make Nano analyze the poison and detoxify it, but Nano said it was not possible to move into another person’s body.

‘Why can’t you?’

[It is against the system protocol. There is a lock on it that restricts you from doing it.]

‘Why is there a lock?’

[There is an embedded genetic code that protects the Nano Machine from being taken by other entities.]

Yeowun didn’t know, but there were a lot of restrictions in the Nano Machine program. It was done to protect the current time frame from having highly advanced technology so that it wouldn’t be revealed to the public.

‘Then what should I do?’

“OH!”

Chun Yeowun then found the blood that was on his clothes from carrying Jongsum.

‘Nano, can you just analyze the poison then?’

[Understood. Please place your hand over the substance.]

Yeowun placed his finger over the poison as Nano instructed him to do.

[Analyzing.]

Chun Yeowun then walked over to the cabinet that held herbs while Nano was analyzing. Jongmeng was busy tending to Jongsum so he didn't know what Yeowun was doing.

[Analyzing complete. Total of seven poisons have been mixed, thus making a new poisonous effect.]

'Analyze the way to the mix herbs I see right now to detoxify it. Hurry!'

[Understood.]

Nano then began searching through the medicinal herbs that Yeowun was looking at. Soon, Yeowun was what herbs he had to use and how much through Augmented Reality. Yeowun quickly grabbed what he needed and began creating medicine soup. As smoke began to rise up from the boiler, Jongmeng turned toward him.

"What are you doing?"

He was drenched in sweat, barely relieved. It seemed like Jongsum was barely controlling the poison with the medicine pills.

"Uh... I'm just creating medicine soup."

Chun Yeowun hesitated for a second but he ended up telling the truth. Baek Jongmeng, who was having a hard time due to what Yeowun had done, got up and tried to scold him.

"What are you talking about! How can you even try... huh?"

He was shocked to see the medicine on the table. All of the herbs that Yeowun had taken out were those that were used to nullify poisons, and some required to be mixed with others.

‘What? He wouldn’t know this if he didn’t study medicinal herbs...’

Jongmeng then tasted the soup a little with his finger. Medicinal herb mixture could be toxic if done incorrectly, but this didn’t seem to have any problems.

‘He studied medicines!’

He didn’t. Yeowun was only following Nano’s instructions. However, Baek Jongmeng did not know this and was astonished. Even then, making a medicine soup without knowing what it was for was still dangerous.

“It’s not bad, but we need to know what poison it is to...”

“It’s Sulfuric Poison, so it includes poison fish, poisonous mushrooms, plague insects, blue oak, and red extracts.”

“Oh...”

Yeowun quickly listed off the poisons inside Jongsum and Jongmeng was shocked. It was unbelievable when Yeowun didn’t even extract the poison to study it.

“Doctor Baek, can you trust me on this one?”

Yeowun had no time to waste so he begged Jongmeng. The doctor then turned to Jongsum who was still purple and told him to wait. Jongmeng then gathered a small drop of blood from Jongsum and placed it into a small bowl. He then began checking to see if the blood really contained the seven poisons that Yeowun had spoken of.

‘...It really is!’

What Yeowun said was correct. Yeowun probably knew what he was doing with the medicine soup, so Jongmeng then decided to use the soup that Yeowun had created. He brought the soup over and had Jongsum take it spoon by spoon. All that was left to do now was to wait.

“We’ve done everything we can now. I have to keep him on the needles so that the poison will not spread.”

“I’m sorry, Doctor Baek.”

Yeowun deeply regretted doing something out of control. Jongmeng shook his head.

“But why did you have to destroy his internal energy? Even if the basics of the academy supports the survival of the fittest, this... this seems like too much. Can you take the backlash?”

Jongmeng was really worried. Yeowun was still in the academy, but he would graduate in four years and after placing the candidate of the Poison Clan in such a state, it was likely that the Poison Clan would retaliate. Yeowun spoke with a bow.

“...Thank you for your concern. I will take anything that comes to me for what I have done.”

There was no going back even if he regretted it. And he had decided to fight six clans from the very beginning, so it didn’t matter anyway.

‘Ah... you are still young.’

Jongmeng then felt Chun Yeowun’s young recklessness and gave him some sincere advice.

“I hope you think deeply about every instance from now on. From what I have learned in the cult, it is more common for smartest ones to survive, than the strongest one. Be flexible with your thinking.”

Baek Jongmeng hoped that Yeowun would not be arrogant about his own power and become smart instead. Thinking that brute strength would topple everything in the cult was the wrong idea. Chun Yeowun thought deeply about the advice.

‘Maybe... I was too reckless this time.’

His fast growth in power made him arrogant. He couldn’t understand it now, but he did feel like he had done something wrong after hearing Jongmeng’s advice.

“Well, it’s too late. You should go back now.”

It was almost time for the dorms to close. Chun Yeowun bowed and tried to return when someone spoke up awkwardly.

“Uh... what about me?”

It was the 18th cadet, Bakgi.

Chapter 53

Chapter 53: Cool heads but warm hearts (2)

As they walked out, Bakgi watched Chun Yeowun silently. Yeowun didn't say anything, and Bakgi felt apologetic for what had happened.

'I got him into something that I should have dealt with by myself.'

Bakgi was shocked when Chun Jongsum came in almost dying due to the poison. He too knew that Chun Yeowun was going to use violence when dealing with Jongsum, but he didn't expect Yeowun to destroy Jongsum's internal energy either. He first wondered why Yeowun had gone so far as to destroy Jongsum's internal energy. That meant that Chun Jongsum's life as a warrior was over, and not to mention, all of his bones had been crushed.

'Does he not think about the backlash? Or is he that vengeful against him?'

Bakgi then thought about what would he have done if he faced someone who might have killed his own parents. It was questionable to say the least. Bakgi then spoke to Yeowun.

"7th cadet."

Yeowun stopped and looked back curiously.

"Let me ask you something."

"Yeah."

“Why did you destroy his internal energy?”

After going so far, Chun Yeowun now was going to get all the fury from the Poison Clan. Yeowun answered calmly.

“...I was just let my anger out of control.”

Yeowun continued, “I was afraid that if I let him be, he would use poison on the other cadets also.”

That made Bakgi astonished. Yeowun was more worried about the other cadets being poisoned than him being blamed by the Poison Clan.

‘This guy...’

He wasn’t just a reckless fool. His decision-making wasn’t perfect, but he was still more of a leader than the other princes that Bakgi had met.

‘He’s different.’

Chun Yeowun wasn’t actually worried about other cadets. He just didn’t want to see the poison that killed his mother spreading across the academy. However, Bakgi had interpreted it as Yeowun’s noble sacrifice and began to think that Yeowun was fitting as a leader.

“What if...”

Bakgi then tried to say something to Yeowun when seven cadets came running for him. They were Yeowun’s team members.

“Master! Where were you?” Hu Bong asked with sweat over his face. The seven cadets looked like they were really worried and sighed in relief. Ko Wanghur also spoke with relief.

“We were worried that you got ambushed. I was waiting for you to come out of the private training ground.”

“Oh.”

Yeowun then remembered talking with Wanghur to go back to the dorm together after dinner time. But when Yeowun did not come out after an hour, Wanghur began searching the academy with the other members. Yeowun apologized to them.

“I’m sorry.”

“No, it is good that you are okay.”

Bakgi then looked at them and smiled bitterly.

‘He already has his own people.’

Bakgi realized that he always distanced himself from the other cadets, so even when he was a leader for the 12th group, no one followed him. Yeowun then asked Bakgi, “What were you trying to say?”

“No, it’s nothing.”

Bakgi shook his head and returned to his room.

When Yeowun’s team heard about what happened between him and Chun Jongsum, they became concerned. Ko Wanghur of the Demon Fist Clan was also worried about Yeowun destroying Jongsum’s internal energy. Wanghur then gave them a solution to deal with this.

“We have to grow in power for now. They cannot do anything to us while we are still attending the academy, but we are against one of the six clans of the cult. We must focus on growing in power while we can.”

Ko Wanghur was big and muscular, but he was also very intuitive and logical. Yeowun agreed with him. He had to be prepared for the Poison Clan to retaliate in any way. And unlike Wanghur, Hu Bong was worried about another issue.

“Master. I’m more worried about how the Chief will handle this issue.”

The rules of the academy didn’t state that one couldn’t destroy another’s internal power, but internal power was like a lifeline to a warrior, so they weren’t sure about what the academy would do about this issue.

“Let’s hope nothing happens.”

Hu Bong’s concern became a reality. Early in the morning the next day, three instructors came to Yeowun and his members in the forest nearby where they were going to train. One of those instructors was Impeng.

“You’ve done a foolish thing.”

“...I’m sorry.”

“The Chief has ordered us to take you to his room.”

‘Oh no..’

The seven members all became worried. They just hoped that Yeowun would not get expelled. If that happened, then Yeowun would be targeted by the Poison Clan right away.

When instructors brought Yeowun up to the office of the Chief, they let Yeowun go in alone.

“Chief, the 7th cadet is here.”

“Let him in.”

When Yeowun walked in, Lee Hameng had tied his long red hair to the back and was working on a document. Yeowun then bowed politely.

“7th cadet, reporting to the Chief of the Demonic Academy.”

Lee Hameng did not respond and focused on his document. The air went cold as silence fell. Soon, Lee Hameng finished writing on the document and got up to stretch his muscles.

“I had to write an incident report thanks to you, so don’t be angry about me not responding to your bow.”

That was what Lee Hameng had been working on. He had to report Baek Jongmeng and the other instructors on what had happened. Hameng pointed at the chair near the meeting table and allowed Yeowun to have a seat.

Lee Hameng sat across Yeowun and looked at him with his fingers crossed. It was hard to tell what he was thinking. After a long time, Hameng said, “You are still young.”

“What?”

“Let’s deal with the work first. Let me speak first as the Chief of the Academy.”

‘As the Chief?’

Yeowun became curious and Hameng continued, “You’ve done some serious damage by destroying another cadet’s internal energy.”

The problem here was that. Fighting and dueling behind the scenes were unofficially recommended by the academy, so the actual fighting was not a problem.

“You basically killed a martial artist.”

It was likely that there was going to be punishment for this. Yeowun’s eyes shook. This meant that he might even get expelled.

“Through our long history in the academy, you are the first to do such a foolish thing. If we let you walk freely after doing such a thing, there will be others who will replicate such a foolish act.”

Yeowun put his head down. Hameng concluded, “So, as the Chief of the Academy, I hereby order you to turn over your yellow tag and stay for five days in the prison cell.”

Yeowun’s eyes widened with shock.

“...Am I not getting expelled?”

“Expel? What nonsense are you talking about? The only expulsion in the academy is from failing a test, or killing another cadet outside an official duel.”

“Oh...”

Yeowun then sighed in relief. At least the worst-case scenario did not happen. Hameng shook his head.

“Hmph. It’s too early to feel relieved.”

It was as Hameng said. If he had to return the yellow tag, it meant he would lose the right to become a leader. After five days in prison, it would give him only one day to get the tag back when he came out. But would there be any instructors left with a yellow tag on the last day?

‘...That’s a problem too.’

Lee Hameng had given such punishment to show all cadets what will happen when one went too far with violence.

‘I was going to make you stay for seven days, but that will give you no chance.’

This was a small gift from Lee Hameng. He couldn’t bear to lose talented individual like Chun Yeowun, although he was really disappointed over this issue.

“Well, so with that done, let’s talk about your foolishness as a senior graduate of the academy.”

Hameng then unleashed his powerful energy throughout the office. It was so terrifying that it even made Chun Yeowun flinch. The reason why Hameng covered his office was to mask the sound that could seep out of the office.

“I am very disappointed with you.”

Unlike how he was formally punishing Yeowun, he now seemed very angry.

“I had big hopes for you, and you’ve done something only a thug would do,” Lee Hameng spat angrily. Yeowun then thought Hameng was disappointed in Yeowun for destroying the internal energy of a fellow cadet and apologized.

“I’m sorry.”

“Sorry for what? Can’t you do your work better? You have no head to take care of your shit?”

“What?”

“Did you bring him to the medical room after you destroyed his internal energy because you sympathized with him?”

“That’s...”

“Of course not. You were afraid you might get expelled. Then you should’ve not have done that from the beginning.”

“But Chun Jongsum...”

“He used the poison that killed your mother, so he deserves to be killed? Is that it?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yeowun was confused and the words got stuck in his throat. Lee Hameng had found out every little detail of what had happened. Baek Jongmeng had spilled all the details about Chun Yeowun, in hopes of defending Yeowun’s position. Lee Hameng scoffed and spoke with a cold voice.

“You bring him to the medical room when you think he’s the one behind your mother’s death? Because you were afraid that you might be expelled? What a fool! If you were going to do it, then you should’ve done it right.”

‘Wait- is he...?’

Lee Hameng wasn’t talking about destroying internal energy. He was implying that Chun Yeowun should’ve just killed Jongsum.

“You shouldn’t have let an enemy live. That will only create more enemies.”

Chapter 54

Chapter 54: Cool heads but warm hearts (3)

Lee Hameng got the report of what happened the other night when he came to work early in the morning. He quickly came to understand that Chun Yeowun had lost his control over his rage, and thus he was unable to comprehend the problem at stake.

‘He must have been busy learning martial arts for two weeks...’

Hameng hated Right Guardian Submeng, but he too knew that there was no time for Submeng to teach Yeowun things other than martial arts. It seemed that Chun Yeowun was missing out on real-life lessons.

‘I can’t just let him rot with his talent.’

Chun Yeowun had high potential, given the right lessons and guidance. Lee Hameng valued his connection with the six clans, but he was also intrigued by Chun Yeowun.

“Do you know what follows for the one who fails to clean up after his mess?”

“ ... ”

“It is death. The ruckus you caused is exactly what you are bringing upon yourself.”

Unlike Doctor Baek Jongmeng, Lee Hameng was a realist who usually criticized and judged on the actual problem.

“You. Why did you enter the academy?” Lee Hameng asked. Yeowun bit on his lips and answered, “...It is to become stronger than anyone else.”

“Than anyone else, you say?”

Yeowun noticed the hint of anger in the voice after he said why he wanted to become strong. He wanted revenge.

“Is anger what pulls you and make you stronger?”

Everyone had a goal, and a goal was what made people work harder. All cadets in the academy had their own goals.

“Anger can be your reason to live, but you are also a candidate to the throne.”

Chun Yeowun shuddered.

“As a possible future Lord, will you be satisfied after getting your revenge? Anger is only part of the path you take. It should stay as your motivation.”

The Lord was the Demonic Cult itself. If Yeowun was just another cadet, the goal would not have been that bad, but he was also a candidate to the future Lord’s throne.

“You have to look at the forest. Your anger burns the entire forest, not just the tree. And it will burn yourself with it in the end.”

Lee Hameng was now advising Yeowun.

“Do you know what I mean?”

“...I think so, sir.”

“If you unleash your anger like a thug, it will hurt the people around you, and it will hurt you too in the end.”

Hameng spoke coldly.

“7th cadet. No, Chun Yeowun. If you want to survive and become the future of the cult, you should have a cool head but a warm heart. Or else, you will die before you even avenge your mother.”

‘...Cool head, warm heart.’

Yeowun etched the advice deeply in his heart. He had never heard of any kind of advice in his fifteen years of life. All he thought about was revenge and to put an end to the six clans that killed his mother. But he had never thought about what would happen afterward. Those thoughts cooled Yeowun’s anger.

‘He is right.’

If he only focused on revenge, that was going to be it. If he wanted to achieve his revenge and survive, he needed to look higher and farther. He had to accept his mistakes and amend it.

‘Well, he doesn’t seem like entirely idiot at least.’

Lee Hameng smiled. He thought if Yeowun didn’t understand what he was saying, Hameng was going to forget about Yeowun. But if Yeowun understood and could fix his mistakes, it was likely that Yeowun would grow to become a real monster in the cult like no one else.

‘And I will be the trusted teacher who gave him a valuable lesson, if it comes to that. Heh.’

Lee Hameng then retrieved his energy, hinting that their conversation was over. Chun Yeowun got up and took the yellow tag to hand it over to Hameng.

“Thank you for your advice, Chief. I really am thankful.”

Yeowun bowed to Hameng who had given him a life lesson. Hameng was satisfied by that, but he didn’t show that he was.

“Instructors, come in.”

“Huh?”

After Hameng gave the order, the instructors immediately walked into the office.

“Take him to the prison cells.”

“Yes, sir.”

Chun Yeowun was shocked. He wanted to tell his teammates about what happened and was going to give them orders on what to do while he was gone, but he didn’t think he would get taken in right away.

“Chief. Can you give me a little more time before going to the prison cell?”

Lee Hameng shook his head and snapped coldly, “No.”

“At least so I can talk to my teammates...”

“Your imprisonment will be announced officially. And, it is your ‘former’ teammates. They are now just cadets.”

“Ah...”

Chun Yeowun then moaned. He then realized what Lee Hameng did to teach him.

‘...He wants me to know the consequences of my actions reaching other people.’

Chun Yeowun was able to feel it very truthfully. His imprisonment was announced after lunch time to every cadet.

[The 7th cadet has destroyed the 4th cadet’s internal energy, thus destroying the 4th cadet’s chances of being a warrior for life. As punishment, his right to become a team leader has been taken away and he will be imprisoned for five days. All cadets should learn from this and never attempt such foolish acts within the academy.]

This shocked all cadets. Even when the academy had a basic rule of the survival of the fittest, destroying one’s internal energy when they were all in the same cult was beyond reasonable.

‘Whoa. He’s terrible.’

‘He’s just not strong then.’

‘He’s mad.’

‘4th cadet... Is it Chun Jongsum from the Poison Clan?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘How he dare attack the Poison clan? He will be killed right after he leaves the academy!’

‘Or he might get killed in the academy beforehand.’

‘Yeah, but who knows? He might have someone on his back.’

‘Yeah. No fool will dare to attack the Poison Clan without a way to protect himself.’

The cadets all had different thoughts about this issue. Despite all this, at least Chun Yeowun was no longer an unworthy son of the Lord who was going to die soon.

Chapter 55

Chapter 55: Cool heads but warm hearts (4)

“Hahahahaha! He really is crazy! How did he even think about destroying the internal energy?”

Chun Yuchan burst into laughter as he read the announcement on the wall. Chun Yeowun’s action was unpredictable. It was amusing, but it didn’t feel like he had made the right choice.

‘I thought the competition was going to come from three sides, but that won’t be the case.’

He thought Yeowun would be dangerous after seeing him fight an instructor, but this made him feel relieved. This way, Yeowun would surely fail the third test without even being tested. Chun Yuchan touched his three yellow tags and smiled.

‘Well, well. Isn’t it a wonderful thing?’

Chun Kungwun of the Sword Clan also liked what he saw on the announcement. Chun Muyun of the Wise Clan, however, didn’t pay much attention. He just glanced at the announcement and walked away.

However, there were those who were beyond shocked. It was Chun Yeowun’s team members. Luckily, Yeowun had not been expelled, but they were now teamless.

‘There will be one day left when the Master comes back. Will there be any yellow tags available until then?’

Ko Wanghur was worried. He believed Yeowun was strong, but at this rate, it was likely that Yeowun would need to steal a yellow tag from one of the other teams.

‘It won’t be easy.’

Someone soon came up to them. It was Bakgi, the leader of the 12th group from the second test. He spoke to Yeowun’s seven members, making them confused.

During dinner time, the mansion located west of the Cult’s castle, the home to the Poison Clan was full of anger. Four hours ago, they had received a letter and someone was carried in.

It was Chun Jongsum. All of his bones had been shattered and his internal energy had been completely destroyed, shocking all the Poison Clan members. After reading what had happened from the Chief’s letter, they became furious.

Leaders of the Poison Clan gathered at House Leader Baek Oh’s office. It had been a long time since they all gathered like this ever since the day of Baek Oh’s resignation from being an elder.

All of the leaders had been looking at Baek Oh silently for two hours already. Baek Oh had the letter in his hands with his eyes closed from fear and a certain hesitation.

A middle-aged man interrupted the silence.

“We must do something! Leader, we can’t just wait until he comes out of the academy!”

With that as a signal, others began to shout also.

“Let’s send assassins! If we hire an assassin from the Kill Clan, we can do it quietly.”

“No, how about we just bribe one of those instructors to do the job?”

“We can just use cooks or servants at the academy to poison him to death!”

They all had different opinions but they had the same goal of killing Chun Yeowun. They didn’t care where Chun Yeowun was. They wanted to kill the person behind the near-death of their prince. Baek Oh, who had been listening quietly, then opened his eyes and spoke coldly.

“And if he dies... who will be the most suspicious?”

The leaders were then lost for words. They were blamed for Lady Hwa’s death a few years ago and they lost most of their power over the cult. If they were to cause more problems, that might even be their end.

“But we can’t just let him walk away after almost killing our prince!”

Baek Munwung, the second son of Baek Oh, shouted angrily. Chun Jongsum was his nephew. He was angry that his nephew had lost a chance to become a warrior, but he didn’t like being laughed at by the other clans because they couldn’t do anything.

“Fool. If that was that important, the Lust Clan would have done something already.”

Baek Oh was talking about Chun Wonryou who failed the second test. She didn’t have her internal energy destroyed, but she had lost her right arm. The Lust Clan was also furious after knowing that it was Chun Yeowun who did it. Yet, they were holding back from doing anything.

“After what happened a few years back, the Lord is distancing himself from the six clans and is looking for every opportunity to take our powers away. We can’t act foolishly.”

Doing something to a cadet of the academy was against the way of the Demonic Cult itself. If they were to kill Chun Yeowun, they were giving the Lord every reason to persecute them.

“Then are you saying we have to wait until he comes out of the academy!?”

Munwung shouted, biting on his lips. Baek Oh answered, “That is how it should be... but.”

Baek Oh looked down at the letter. He then stared for a long time at the letter and grabbed his staff.

“I will need to meet the Left Guardian myself.”

Late at night a day later, there was a big mountain peak far from the academy’s library. There were many caves on the upper portion of the peak where the prison cells were located. The academy did not have its own prison since it was made to train people. But this prison cave had a way to block the entrance from outside.

Inside the cave, there was only one small candle that brightened the area. Yeowun bit on the hard grain.

‘Ugh, this is terrible.’

Chun Yeowun was given five days worth of grains and was locked here to train alone. The entrance was sealed tight and the cave was dark and stuffy, which made it harder to train. Nonetheless, Chun Yeowun didn't feel too bad while spending his time here as he was training with Augmented Reality.

'It's fortunate that the guards don't watch what I'm doing.'

The guards stayed on the outside of the gate, so he didn't worry about being noticed. Yeowun then concentrated on training late into the night and now he was eating his grain.

"Huh?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yeowun then heard the vibration of a rock being pushed away. There were still three days left for him to be freed, but the door was pushed open and fresh air swept in.

'Hmph.'

Then, someone came in slowly wearing black attire. It was an old man with a weird-looking staff.

"So, you are Chun Yeowun."

His voice had hatred in it. Yeowun then focused his internal energy and the old man reached toward him. Then, powerful energy stormed within the cave, throwing Yeowun up into the air.

Chapter 56

Chapter 56: Blessing in a disguise (1)

Chun Yeowun was shocked. He had never felt such powerful energy ever since he had learned martial arts. Telekinesis. It required a very high amount of internal energy and a lot of understanding of qi, but it allowed one to even lift a person up into the air.

‘He’s a powerful warrior.’

Yeowun had unleashed 100% of his energy, but even he couldn’t resist against the power. And the old man was very hostile; Yeowun could feel it on his skin.

‘I will get killed if I don’t do anything.’

Yeowun then tried all he could to regain control over his body. As his muscles became tense, the body began to move slowly.

‘This boy has a tremendous amount of physical power.’

The internal energy was only at about sixty years worth, but Yeowun’s muscle strength was like that of a monster. The old man had seen many warriors in his life, but he had never seen a man with this amount of muscle strength. It was due to the Nano Machine strengthening Chun Yeowun’s muscles so that he could physically damage the blue pearl stone.

‘He resists too much. Hmph.’

As Chun Yeowun kept on squirming, it sucked too much energy from the old man and he made a gesture to pull him in. Yeowun was then sucked toward the old man’s hand.

“Argh!”

The old man grabbed Yeowun’s neck. The energy was so powerful that even a slight twist was going to snap Yeowun’s neck. That’s when Yeowun heard Nano’s voice in his head.

[Detected powerful hostile energy threatening the user.
Activating Emergency Defense mode.]

But Yeowun put a stop to it quickly.

‘No, Nano. Hold for a second.’

Nano’s defense mode was to send out electricity from the body, but Yeowun thought the enemy was too powerful for such an attack to work. If it failed, then it was only going to make the enemy even angrier.

‘If this old man wanted to kill me, he would have done so already.’

Yeowun’s guess was correct. The old man could have killed Yeowun the moment he barged in here. Although he was still wary of the old man, Yeowun stopped resisting the old man smiled.

“I wanted to come see the one who made waste of my grandson. You seem to have grasped the situation quickly.”

If Yeowun tried to resist in some way, he would have been attacked with the incoming energy, thus damaging his internal organs.

‘Grandson?’

Yeowun's eyes shook. There was no way he couldn't understand it.

'The Poison Clan!'

This old man was the leader of the Poison clan, Baek Oh the Demonic Poison Hand. Chun Yeowun was shocked. He thought the Poison Clan would try to do something in retaliation for what had happened, but he didn't think the leader himself would come for him.

"Do you know why I came to see you myself?"

"Argh... are you here to kill me?"

The hostility proved it. There was no way the leader of the house would forgive Yeowun for destroying the prince's internal energy and shattering all of his bones.

'Think. Think about how to get out of this situation!'

Yeowun tried to keep calm to think about it, but there was no way. He was going to die the second Baek Oh twisted his hand.

'Am I going to die here?'

And when he came to such a conclusion, what came to him was anger, not the fear of death. He was angry that he was going to die before getting his revenge.

'His eyes...'

The fifteen-year-old boy was at the brink of death, but his eyes were now filled with anger and determination. Baek Oh was surprised. However, he couldn't allow anyone to make such eyes toward one of the top ten leaders of the Demonic Cult.

“Hmph. You need some punishment.”

“ARGH!”

Baek Oh put his energy into the staff and smacked Yeowun’s stomach. The energy was so powerful that it Yeowun felt the immediate pain and blood soared up through his throat.

‘Now, you won’t make such eyes... huh?’

Baek Oh was dumbfounded. He had expected Yeowun to be in pain, but his angry eyes still remained. Baek Oh didn’t know this, but Yeowun’s internal damage was healed instantly by the Nano Machine. It still gave him pain whenever he was hit, but the pain didn’t last for long as the damage was healed quickly.

‘So, you’re not like any other child.’

Baek Oh shook his head. He figured Yeowun would be very vengeful, thus destroying the internal energy, but Baek Oh didn’t think it would be this serious.

‘He will be problematic if I let him be.’

Baek Oh was going to decide what to do with Chun Yeowun after meeting him, and now he decided that he shouldn’t let Yeowun be. Baek Oh’s hostility began to strengthen, and Yeowun spoke to him.

“Are you going to kill me?”

“You know the answer to that yourself.”

“You are going against the academy rules if you do.”

“Don’t think such a petty rule will control me. I will kill you here and melt your body with my poison so no one will notice.”

Baek Oh didn’t think about leaving any traces. Yeowun then became silent for a second and then said, “You can erase the trace, but if I disappear within the academy, the Poison Clan will be the main suspect for it anyway.”

Baek Oh raised his eyebrow at such a sharp thought. A fifteen-year-old boy at the brink of death was not afraid. Instead, he was thinking everything through rather thoroughly.

‘He really is dangerous.’

Yeowun had powers beyond his anger, determination over fear, and decision-making skills for each situation. All of this showed how dangerous he would be to the Poison Clan if he grew up.

‘I would have killed him right now if it wasn’t for the academy.’

Baek Oh became frustrated. He didn’t think to kill him at first. As Yeowun said, if he killed Yeowun here, the Poison Clan was going to be seen as the suspect and the Lord would not look over this. His main reason for visiting him here today was to see Yeowun’s face and warn him.

“You are clever. But you still have a lot more to go. Since you hurt my grandson, you have brought this upon yourself.”

Chapter 57

Chapter 57: Blessing in a disguise (2)

“ ... ”

Yeowun knew he had made a mistake about this one. His lack of experience and uncontrolled anger had made it come down to this.

“As you said, even I can’t kill you while you are here, but...”

Baek Oh’s hand quickly moved over Yeowun’s blood point, freezing him. Yeowun couldn’t speak anymore, and Baek Oh continued, “Let me promise you this. As soon as you leave the protection of the Demonic Academy, you will be given pain beyond imagination.”

Baek Oh’s eyes were on fire from the anger from the pain that his grandson had gone through.

“You have shattered my grandson’s bones, so I will shatter your bones and carve out your flesh to feed it to the animals. Then I will destroy your internal energy and keep you alive so you can beg to be killed.”

Baek Oh’s warning was terrifying. When he was done, he took something out from his pocket. It was a small medicinal ball which was even smellier than the Black Dragon Ball. He then sent a telepathic message.

[I can’t just leave you, so I will give you a small gift. Then we will be able to meet faster.]

“Nnngh!”

Baek Oh then opened Yeowun's mouth forcefully. Yeowun tried to resist, but he couldn't as the hand that grabbed his neck increased the energy.

"Argh!"

Baek Oh then threw the ball down into Yeowun's throat. He tried hard to not swallow it, but as the grip on the neck strengthened, the ball went down his throat.

[It is not a poison that will put your life in danger. But if you ever talk about the ball to anyone, I will not care about the rules of the academy and I will come to kill you myself.]

He finished with the final warning.

"Nnnngh!"

"You have been warned. I look forward to our next meeting."

Baek Oh then tossed Yeowun back inside the cave and flew out. Yeowun was stuck next to the inner side of the wall.

When Baek Oh came out, the giant stone that acted as the entrance rolled over to seal the cave again. Baek Oh spoke to someone waiting for him outside.

"I am done."

"You promised me that you would not harm him."

It was Left Guardian Lee Hameng. Chun Yeowun was confused as to how Baek Oh had come to see him, but it was through Lee Hameng that Baek Oh was able to come here. Lee Hameng heard the giant cracking sound coming from within and he was asking about Baek Oh about that.

“Would you stop yourself from smacking once or twice while standing in front of someone who hurt your family?”

“...”

“Haha, okay. I will apologize for that. But it is not that bad, so don’t worry. I didn’t damage him.”

“...Okay.”

Hameng acknowledged it suspiciously and Baek Oh bowed.

“Thank you for listening to my request, even if it was against the rules.”

“Please make sure no one else knows about this.”

“Of course. I will bring this to my grave.”

Normally, not even the leaders of the six clans were allowed into the Demonic Academy. Lee Hameng was worried about the Poison Clan retaliating against Chun Yeowun out of rage and that was why he sent the letter to request them to not attack Chun Yeowun, at least inside the academy.

Baek Oh then promised that he would accept the request only if he was allowed to see Chun Yeowun himself. Lee Hameng valued his connections with the six clans, so he couldn’t refuse such a request.

“I will return.”

Baek Oh then covered his face with his clothes and used his stepping skills to run down the peak. After checking to make sure Baek Oh had left, Lee Hameng glanced at the cave and mumbled, “You have four years before your protection wears off. It is up to you to survive after that.”

Meanwhile, Chun Yeowun was sitting down in meditation. His eyes were closed and his clothes were blackened while the foul stench filled the area. It was what happened after he was flung into the wall. Yeowun heard Nano's voice coming to him.

[Detected toxic substance coming into the user's throat.]

He wasn't sure what Baek Oh had made him eat, but he was certain that it was bad so Yeowun quickly ordered Nano.

'Take it out of my body, now!'

[Careful analysis of the substance shows that if some of the toxic components are removed, it will help the internal energy activation, similar to the substance: Black Dragon Ball.]

'What?'

[Toxic components are what diminishes the energy.]

What Baek Oh fed to him was a medicine ball that made the target lose its internal energy partially. It was so harmful that it created immunity inside the body after one dosage and it could not be used repeatedly. If the one eating was unlucky, it could possibly erase more than half of the internal energy. A powerful warrior with over ninety years worth of internal energy would have ways to extract these poisons when swallowed, but that was the only way to fight it.

'So, he tried to weaken my internal energy!'

Baek Oh was going to make Yeowun lose his internal energy so that he would fail the third test. However, Baek Oh did not know about Nano. Nano quickly analyzed the substances and came to the conclusion that if only those poisons were removed, the other substances were actually helpful.

‘So, I just need to remove those poisons?’

[Yes, Master.]

‘Whew... good. Then do it.’

[Beginning to remove the toxic components from the substance.]

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

And that’s what Nano was now doing. Soon, the black ooze began coming out from Yeowun’s upper torso. It wasn’t a lot since it was from a small medicine ball, but the smell was too awful.

“Ugh!”

Yeowun felt sick over the smell when Nano’s voice spread throughout his body.

[Successfully removed toxic components. The substance now activates the internal energy flow within the body.]

Yeowun then began using his Breathing of the Thousand Martials to meditate.

Chapter 58

Chapter 58: Blessing in a disguise (3)

Nano quickly helped the activation of the flow of energy within Yeowun's body. After a long time, Yeowun opened his eyes. He then smelled the foul stench from the black ooze and took off the clothes that were drenched in the ooze.

"Ugh... this is really disgusting."

He was able to forget about the smell while meditating, but he couldn't bear it anymore when he was awake. He then felt the heat within the cave. It seemed like the energy activation within his body let out some heat, warming up the entire cave. Yeowun then felt heaviness under his stomach and felt the weight of his internal energy.

"Whoa."

He gasped in astonishment. The whole incident was a blessing in disguise. The internal energy that was just over sixty years worth now had ninety years worth of energy. Baek Oh's action had resulted in helping Yeowun instead of harming him.

'...He really did give me a gift then.'

Baek Oh's small gift had turned out to be a huge gift. Chun Yeowun's internal energy was now within the top five out of all the cadets.

'I would have died if it wasn't for Nano.'

Nano had given unfortunate Chun Yeowun a climactic turn in his life.

'I was really lucky this time. I never thought the Poison Clan would go so far.'

He then thought that it was good experience for learning how his wrong decision might come back to him.

'It was an important lesson.'

He was lucky this time, but Yeowun decided to not make any foolish mistakes.

'So, what is this?'

Yeowun then got up and walked to the inner part of the cave. It was too dark to see in the cave, but Yeowun had night vision from Nano.

'Nano, night vision mode.'

Yeowun was then able to see the inside of the cave. A part of the inner wall was broken when he was thrown into it by Baek Oh.

'Something felt weird.'

Yeowun felt like the inside of the wall was empty when his back hit the wall. He felt curious, but he had to focus on taking care of the poisonous medicine ball he ingested.

"Oh?"

Air was seeping out from the cracked part of the wall. It was proof that there was space on the opposite. Yeowun then became curious.

'Let's check on it.'

Yeowun began to tap the cracked side with his fist. The wall had too many cracks in it and the slight tapping made it fall apart, making a small hole that Yeowun could crawl into.

‘There we go.’

The hole let cold air come in from the opposite side, making the cave a bit cooler. Yeowun then crawled into the dark hole. He then frowned.

‘Huh?’

Unlike his expectations of seeing a bigger cave, it seemed like a tunnel-like cave that connected somewhere else. Yeowun then got up and looked back. The cave wall was shaped as if it was made artificially to block it. The opposite side looked natural so he didn’t realize it, but it was very apparent from this side.

‘Was it blocked off intentionally?’

It seemed like something was hidden inside. Yeowun then thought about going in when Nano’s voice called out to him.

[Detected faint natural light coming from the tunnel.]

Yeowun became curious. The only possible natural light source in such a cave could only be from a firefly. Yeowun then began to walk in. The cave was located on the peak of the mountain, but this tunnel seemed to lead him below.

‘It’s getting brighter...’

As Nano said, the green-colored light began to grow stronger. He now didn’t need night vision mode to see anymore. Yeowun then deactivated the night vision and walked in. Soon, he then reached the closed end. It shined very brightly with the light. Yeowun then took a step forward and almost fell. The ground in front had a huge hole.

“What in the world...?”

Yeowun looked down, but he couldn't see anything. He then jumped down. It was a few meters deep, which was not safe for any normal human to jump down, but Yeowun was able to land easily with his walking skill.

He then looked up to where he had come from. The entrance he went through looked more like an air vent from what he saw from below. The space he was in now was very wide.

“Whoa.”

Countless light-emitting stones were on top, brightening the entire place with the green light. It was so bright that it was hard to even look up at it.

“To think such a place was hidden inside the prison cave.”

It was amazing. He looked around and found a round stone pillar in the middle and nothing else. There was an exit at the southern side of the cave, and that was blocked by a stone from the outside.

‘It's an unused place.’

It felt strange to not use such a nice place.

“Huh?”

Yeowun then looked down and found traces of something being dragged out. From the size of it, one could tell that it seemed like a large stone was pushed out from it. As he followed the trace, it led him to the center of the area.

‘There’s more than one.’

The trace was made by more than once. It seemed like something was placed in five directions around the pillar until it was dragged out. It must have been very heavy if it made such a deep trace.

‘It looks like there must have been some kind of giant stone... a pedestal...?’

Yeowun then thought of the blue pearl pedestal in the library. He then realized the library had five floors, which meant that the pedestal was also created through the five levels.

‘Nano, activate Augmented Reality and show me the blue pearl pedestal on the first floor in the library.’

[Activating.]

Yeowun then was shown the actual size of the blue pearl stone.

‘Nano, do you see those traces on the ground? Can you see if this stone was placed in any of those spots?’

[Analyzing the traces on the floor.]

Nano then began scanning the five spots and placed the same blue pearl stone over the five spots. And when they were all in place, Yeowun’s eye grew larger.

‘It has the same size.’

The size of the trace and the stone were the same. When the five stones were placed there, the one located on the south side shined in red.

[This location seems to be where the blue pearl stone from the first floor was located at.]

Yeowun then walked over to check it out himself.

‘Can you check the second floor one too?’

Nano then began scanning everything, and it seemed like the second stone was located on the southwest side.

‘Ah... so, this was the place.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It seemed that all those stones were originally placed here. If all of them were still here, then it would have been much easier to learn about Father Chun’s original sword skill.

‘What is up with this pillar then?’

Yeowun was curious as to why all these stones were placed around it while facing the pillar. Yeowun walked over and looked around. On the north side of the pillar, there was a letter written in handwriting.

[Sword Force of the Sky Demon]

Yeowun felt his heart pounding. He then found a small dots that looked like those under the writing of the blue pearl stone which showed a drawing.

Chapter 59

Chapter 59: Blessing in a disguise (4)

A martial art that represented the Lord of the Demonic Cult was the Godly Force of the Sky Demon. Every cultist knew of the power beyond that martial art and it was also one of three Godly Forces of the Jianghu. But the word said Sword Force, not Godly Force.

‘Hmm... is it a sword skill?’

Chun Yeowun was confused. He had never heard of Sword Force. Was it a breathing skill or a sword art? He learned from Guard Jang that the Lord’s best martial art was the Sword Art of the Sky Demon. But what was this Sword Force?

‘Is it the name of the original sword skill in the blue pearl stone?’

That seemed to be the most likely case here. The bearded middle-aged man who Yeowun met on the first floor of the library said that the blue pearl stone held the truth from Father Chun.

‘He would leave a new name for it of course. I guess Father Chun is the one who wrote this here.’

It was natural for making up such a name for a powerful sword art like that, especially if it was made after the Sword Art of the Sky Demon.

‘Nano, can you check the writing on this pillar to see if it matches the writing on the blue pearl stone pedestal?’

A white line then scanned the writing on the pillar and Nano soon responded.

[Analysis complete. It is from the same writer.]

‘That is the name then!’

Yeowun then learned the real name of the original sword skill he had learned.

‘What up with these holes then?’

Yeowun then looked down at the holes underneath the name. Holes under the poetry on the pedestals represented numbers, but these holes looked different.

‘It looks like a drawing.’

The holes formed the shape of a dragon.

‘Dargon?’

The animal in the myths symbolized unity and power. He would have not paid that much attention if he didn’t find out about the secret behind holes on the blue pearl stone pedestal. He was curious if this drawing had some secret behind it also.

‘What is it trying to say?’

Yeowun then sat down to give it some thought. He brought the pedestals to his left and right and began looking closely at the holes in the shape of a dragon. However, he couldn’t find identify any relationships between these holes.

‘Are the holes related to the numbers again?’

Yeowun then counted the number of holes.

‘...Twenty-four?’

There was a total of twenty-four holes. He wondered if the number twenty-four meant anything. After thinking for an hour, all he could think of was the sword movement comprised of the Sword Force of Sky Demon and its twenty-four movements.

‘What is it talking about?’

“Whew...”

He sighed in frustration. He couldn’t find any answers. What did this soaring dragon mean?

‘It should mean something... why is there a drawing of a dragon going up... huh?’

Yeowun then looked up at the ceiling.

“Ugh!”

The light stones from above shined down on him, making him look down. It was too bright to look up directly.

‘It’s too bright.’

It was too painful to look directly at the stones. Yeowun looked up because the dragon was trying to go up into the ceiling, but he then thought that maybe the secret was on the ceiling. However, he couldn’t look directly at it to see what was going on up there.

‘Hm...’

Maybe the secret was hidden behind the light, not the darkness. Nothing left by Father Chun Ma was easy to get, but Yeowun had a way to look directly into the light.

‘Nano, can you control the light coming into my sight?’

[Adjusting light perception.]

Yeowun’s eyes flickered and the cave turned dark. Yeowun then looked up again as he was ready.

“This is amazing...”

Yeowun was astonished. There were a number of shiny stones, but the ones around the giant center pillar showed hundreds of bright stones with writings.

“This was it!”

Yeowun smiled. He wasn’t sure what these hundreds of stones were talking about, but they surely held the secret related to the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

‘Nano, can you scan those stones?’

[Yes, Master... scan completed.]

‘Project it on that large wall so I can see it more closely.’

Nano then recreated the writing on the ceiling over on the wall. Yeowun walked over and checked the writing.

“...What?”

Yet, the writings weren’t related to martial arts at all. It consisted of poetry and other things.

‘This... and this... and this... what is going on?’

All of them had no relations to martial arts. Yeowun frowned as he had expected a great finding.

‘Did I miss something?’

He thought that going through all of these writings would give him the answer to a great secret, but even if there was a secret hidden within the writings, it didn’t seem like it would be that hard to decipher it.

‘Maybe it’s hidden among all this.’

Yeowun figured there must be something that was related to martial arts. Finding it was the problem. Of course, he didn’t need to read all this writing by himself.

‘Nano, can you find anything among all this that might have a relationship to martial arts?’

[Scanning.]

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Nano proceeded with the scanning. This shortened the amount of time Yeowun needed if he were to look at every stone. Soon, Nano finished scanning and analyzing.

[There is a total of twenty-four stones that contain writings and drawings that seems to teach the Breathing Skill.]

‘Breathing skill?’

Yeowun’s eyes grew larger. What kind of breathing skill would be divided up into twenty-four stones? Nano then highlighted the twenty-four stones in red. Yeowun’s eye grew larger as he looked at it.

“This...!”

Chapter 60

Chapter 60: Blessing in a disguise (5)

It was astounding. Over hundreds of stones were placed around the pillar, and twenty-four of them had placed in the shape of a dragon soaring up into the sky. It was the same shape that was placed on the pedestal.

“So, this was what that dragon meant! This was it!”

Yeowun’s voice became excited from the finding. He then quickly wanted to look into what meaning it held.

‘Nano, get rid of the other stones and leave only those twenty-four stones.’

[Understood.]

And Nano’s voice trailed off, the extra stones in the image began to disappear. Yeowun looked closely at the remaining stones. There were writings and teachings related to a breathing skill. However, it didn’t seem like any other breathing skill.

‘What is this?’

The writing required a certain movement and flow in the internal energy through certain blood points. And the movement of the skill was very familiar. Yeowun frowned as he knew these movements.

‘This is similar to the movement of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.’

It was the exact same sword movement. Yeowun then walked over to other stones. After checking out every stone, his eyes shook in shock.

“Oh my... these are all sword movements from the Sword Force.”

All the movements recorded on the stones were equal to the twenty-four sword movements of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. However, those were all paired with the related breathing skill, and that was connected from the head of the dragon to its tail.

‘This is strange... it’s really strange.’

This was strange if these things represented a breathing skill. A breathing skill usually required one to sit or lie down to take a comfortable position, but this was one with the sword movement to display a sword formation.

‘I should just give it a try.’

He had no way to find out unless he tried it out.

‘Nano, can you transfer these teachings and movements into me?’

[Understood. Transferring to the user’s brain...]

Nano soon transferred all the information into Yeowun’s brain. When it was done, Yeowun used his finger to follow the first movement.

‘Take a deep breath and move into...’

The meditating also started. He had to connect all the movements together while in motion. Yeowun followed the twenty-four movements and sent his internal energy into the blood points as written in the breathing skill.

As the energy stopped flowing through his body, the qi in the body began to tremble. Yeowun then repeated the twenty-four movements again without thinking, as if he had gone into a trance. The powerful energy flowed inside, and Nano began to analyze to store it as data.

After some time had passed, Yeowun stopped. He didn't even know how long he had been practicing this breathing skill.

'Nano, how long have I been doing this?'

[It has been two hours.]

'What? Two hours?'

It was shocking to hear that he had been moving through the movements for two hours straight. Yet, he didn't feel exhausted or tired. It even felt like he was full of energy and the internal energy was flowing fluidly within him.

'It felt like the energy flow became faster as I moved through.'

[Yes, that is true, Master.]

Nano had recorded the quick energy flow within the body already. Yeowun then became curious about Nano's conclusion and brought up his internal energy.

"Huh?"

The speed of the internal energy flow had gotten much faster. He focused slightly and the energy spread into his body very quickly. When Yeowun focused on his right hand, a clear light appeared to create a qi on his hand.

Yeowun was not used to shaping qi outside his body. But with the quickened energy flow, shaping qi was also much easier now. The breathing skill that was written on the stone was beyond the level of any breathing skill.

‘Ah... this should be the best breathing skill in the world!’

Chun Yeowun was astounded beyond belief. There was no telling as to how much he would grow if he trained with the breathing skill. Yeowun then walked over to the pillar at the center.

[Sword Force of the Sky Demon]

He now knew why this was written as Sword Force. This martial art was a sword formation and breathing skill combined into one.

‘So Father Chun really was a legendary man.’

No one else in the Wulin would even dare to combine a sword skill with a breathing skill. The Sword Force of the Sky Demon would allow one to train the sword skill while meditating with the breathing skill.

‘Father, please accept my bow.’

Yeowun then bowed twice to the pillar. It was to show his respect for receiving such a gift from the ancestor. Yeowun then got up.

‘This is fortunate that I came across this.’

Baek Oh’s action to put Yeowun into danger was truly a blessing in disguise. If Baek Oh found out about what followed after he left, he might collapse because of a stroke from the shock.

‘So, there’s only one thing left to do then.’

Yeowun then walked over to the pillar so he could erase the traces. He couldn’t do it near the blue pearl stone pedestal since there were guards, but no one was here. It would be hard to find out what Father Chun had left without Nano’s help, but he didn’t want to leave any hints for the others to find out about it.

‘I’ll just erase these holes.’

Yeowun then reached out to the holes while wielding internal energy in his hand. That’s when the pillar began to tremble while letting out steam.

“W-what?!”

Yeowun jumped back. Something came up from the pillar and soared up into the ceiling, striking the glowing stones. The ceiling shook and some of the stones dropped to the ground.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yeowun was shocked, but he quickly hopped to dodge the falling stones. It seemed like the shock wasn’t too bad, since only a few stones had dropped.

“Huh?”

Yeowun’s eye grew wide. The number of stones that dropped was the twenty-four.

‘No way..’

He then walked over and frowned. The stones were those with the movements and writings from the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

Chapter 61

Chapter 61: Blessing in a disguise (6)

Yeowun had to rely on Nano's skills to find out about the breathing skill, but the pillar was programmed to make it easy to find these stones as well. It was surprising.

'...Well, I guess you would need such a thing to find out about it without Nano.'

What was funny was that no one had even tried it before. No one dared to do what Yeowun had done to the pillars until now.

'Huh?'

Yeowun then noticed the place where he bowed at the front of the pillar sank in the middle and liquid seeped out from it. He tasted it with his finger and found out that it was oil.

'Is it made for fire?'

The pillar had a mechanism to burn itself when its duty was complete. The oil was to be wet when it sent down those stones so that the internal energy would be able to light it on fire.

'...Hmph. I got it anyway.'

He was lucky at least. Yeowun realized it was easy to get these stones too late, but could now destroy it.

'Now it will be easy to erase those holes on the pillar.'

Yeowun then walked over and picked up one of the stones to destroy it.

“Huh?”

He then became confused.

‘What is this?’

There was something engraved on the other side of the stone. Yeowun looked down at it, and saw weird lines on it, unsure of what it meant. Those lines were hidden from sight.

‘This is strange...’

Yeowun then looked over at the other stones.

“Huh? This one has it too.”

The other stones also had weird lines etched onto them, but they all had different shapes from one another.

‘What is it? Why are there lines on the back of the stones?’

Yeowun then gathered every stone and gathered them in one place. He then turned them backward to show the strange lines.

“Hm...”

Yeowun moaned. He stared at it, hoping to find anything that might be hidden behind it, but the lines just looked like doodles.

‘What are these?’

It was really strange. But nothing left by Father Chun was there without reason, so there had to be a message.

‘It’s not made with a sword at least.’

The lines were too crooked to be made with a sword. Then what were these things trying to say? After looking at it for a long time, Yeowun narrowed his eyes.

“Hmm?”

Yeowun got up and looked down at it from the top. He then sat down and made the stones face each other. After putting them together, he got up and looked down again.

“OH!”

He then realized that the lines seemed to form some kind of map. The lines didn't match up yet, but he was certain that it was a map.

‘I need to order it right.’

Yeowun then sat down and began matching the lines. After moving from stone to stone for over an hour, Yeowun finally completed it.

‘I did it!’

All the lines perfectly matched each other now. Yeowun got up and looked down again.

‘I knew it... it's a map.’

It was a one giant map created with crooked lines.

‘This...?’

The map marked a certain place, and there was another line that gave directions on how to get there.

‘To think such a map was hidden here...’

What would be hidden at the place indicated on this map, other than the Sword Force of the Sky Demon? It had surely been left for the next generation.

‘And where is this?’

He knew it was a map, but it was hard to know the locations that this map represented. There were strange crooked lines that showed some kind of cave map. Yeowun only came to that conclusion after staring at it for a long time.

‘I can’t be sure of anything for now.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

What was certain was that this map was not for this prison cave. It was probably a place hidden somewhere else, but it was not possible to know for now.

‘Nano, scan this map and save it.’

[Understood, Master.]

Yeowun then saw white lines moving down the map. Nano saved the map and Yeowun began to move to do what he intended to do the first time. Yeowun began destroying the stones one by one. After cracking the stones, he collected all the debris and stomped them to turn them into powder. He then scattered away the rock particles and sand.

Now, all secrets and the map that was hidden inside this cave was only for Yeowun. Yeowun then got up to go back the vent and he returned to his small prison cave. And for the first time after he was locked up, he was able to get a good night’s sleep.

Chapter 62

Chapter 62: Blessing in a disguise (7)

Four days had now passed after Yeowun was locked up. There was only a day left for Yeowun to come out and there had been a lot of changes within the academy.

When Yeowun was sent to the prison, the only ones who had yellow tags were Chun Muyeon of the Wise Clan and Chun Yuchan of the Blade Clan. However, four days were enough for talented cadets to learn about the Seven Demon Sword.

Ko Wanghur's concern became a reality. Chun Yeowun was still in prison, but all the other yellow tags were taken by powerful cadets. However, there were only eleven cadets that became leaders. There was a total of seventeen tags, so why were there only eleven group leaders?

This was due to three particular leaders. There was no limit to how many tags one could take. Three people realized this and collected every tag they could get their hands on.

Chun Muyeon had one tag.

Chun Yuchan had four tags.

Chun Kungwun had two tags.

Sama Chak, the 700th cadet, had two tags.

And seven other cadets had one tag each. So with Yuchan, Kungwun, and Chak hoarding more than one tag, they had taken five more tags that could have been used to create more leaders.

The only surprising thing was that Chun Muyeon didn't go for other tags. Now, with sixteen tags in the cadets' hands, the only tag left was the one that Hou Jinchang had. No one could take this tag from him as he was a grandmaster level warrior.

"This is problematic."

Hu Bong shook his head. All cadets knew that the three leaders had more than one tag, but no one dared to raise complaints.

"They are that much more powerful," Ko Wanghur answered as he nodded. These three cadets were famous for their prowess. Rumor had it that their martial arts skills were at the level of exceeding masters. Moreover, they all had their armies of cadets behind them.

"It could have been dangerous for us too."

Ja Wumin smiled bitterly as he spoke. The reason he said this was because Yeowun's group had taken a steep drop after Yeowun was taken to the cave. They were no longer a group, but rather, regular cadets.

"Maybe we're lucky. We lost those who were going to lose anyway," Ohjong said with an annoyed expression. The other cadets also became angry. A total of six cadets had gathered here.

"We just have different paths."

Ko Wanghur shook his head.

"I don't think their way of doing things will make other groups welcome them."

Hu Bong mumbled in disappointment. On the day of Yeowun's arrest, two of their team members left them. They were Wungchun and Ho Daming. They had been very anxious ever since they heard that Yeowun had destroyed Chun Jongsum's internal energy. As soon as Yeowun's punishment was decided, they left right away.

'I'm sorry. I want to stay together, but I don't see a future in this.'

Maybe this was the right tactic to safely pass the third test. But they didn't only join Yeowun's group for the test and the members became angry. Although two members had left, six cadets were still here. It was due to the 18th cadet, Bakgi. Hu Bong got up and said, "Oh well. Let's not be too pessimistic. We lost two baddies, but we have Bakgi here with us. He'll do quadruple the amount they ever could've done."

"Don't flatter me too much."

Bakgi smiled. Ko Wanghur smiled also.

"No, we would have been in grave danger if it wasn't for you."

Ko Wanghur had a reason for this. It was because of the yellow tag that Bakgi had on his right chest. He had taken this tag three days ago by defeating an instructor.

"Yeah. If it wasn't for him, we would have all been scattered. We are really grateful."

Ohjong also nodded. If it wasn't for Bakgi, Yeowun's team members would have had to scatter and wait for Yeowun to come back. When the punishment was decided, Bakgi came over to them and offered to take the lead.

'I owe a lot to the 7th cadet. I want to help him.'

Bakgi thought Yeowun had taken the punishment that should have been for him. If Yeowun did not tell him about the poison, he might have died. After thinking through the night, Bakgi made a serious decision.

'I almost died. It will not be enough even if I pay it back for my entire life.'

Thus, Bakgi decided to follow Chun Yeowun. He wanted to tell Yeowun himself of his decision, but Yeowun was locked away.

"I'm not sure if he'll want me in his group."

"If Master didn't like you, he would not have helped you."

"Maybe."

Ko Wanghur and the other cadets welcomed him after hearing what had happened. And with a powerful warrior like Bakgi joining them, they were going to become stronger. So Bakgi first took the yellow tag just in case. It was to prepare for Yeowun return who had to stay in prison for five days. Bakgi's actions proved to be correct.

"Well, we welcome you to our group anyway. Don't worry."

"Yeah, we do!"

"Master will welcome you too. I'm sure of it."

Bakgi smiled. And as the day came to an end, the five cadets who trained Seven Dragon Sword went to the cafeteria to eat dinner.

"Are you skipping dinner?"

“I only eat dinners usually, but I ate lunch with you guys today too.”

Bakgi usually skipped lunch to train in the private training room. But after joining the team and training with them, his solo training time was reduced.

“Hmm. Then I should skip dinner too.”

“You?”

Bakgi became confused at Ko Wanghur’s decision. Bakgi had spent a few days with them and Ko Wanghur ate a lot, which was fitting for his big body. It was shocking to hear Wanghur, who ate three times more than the other cadets, to decide to skip a meal.

“Well, you are our temporary leader, so you need protection.”

He didn’t want to miss a meal, but he also thought that he needed to protect Bakgi. There was no telling what might happen because of that yellow tag. Bakgi then shook his head.

“I’m going straight to the private training room, so don’t worry. Besides, we’ll all be together when we leave the training room.”

“Yes, but...”

“It’s okay. You go ahead and eat dinner.”

Bakgi assured Ko Wanghur and headed off to the private training room. Wanghur usually made rational choices, but his temptation for a meal was so strong that he couldn’t make up his mind. Ohjong shook his head.

“Hmph. Hu Bong and I will follow him, so you go ahead and eat.”

“Oh! Will you do that?”

Wanghur brightened up instantly.

“Yeah. As you said, he is our temporary leader.”

“Thank you! Please look after Bakgi.”

Ko Wanghur then gladly moved into the cafeteria. However, Hu Bong didn’t look so happy while following Ohjong.

‘...Do my thoughts not matter?’

Hu Bong wanted to eat too.

Chapter 63: This tag is yours (1)

Ohjong and Hu Bong quickly caught up to Bakgi who was walking alone toward the private training room. Bakgi looked at them weirdly.

“Didn’t you guys go to eat?”

“Well, I can skip a meal. We are here because you are our leader. We can’t let you get beaten up, you see?”

“...Well, if you are so concerned, then you won’t eat anything even if the 7th cadet returns,” Bakgi replied, and Ohjong laughed. Hu Bong frowned but followed wordlessly. It was his protest for not asking him if he wanted to eat.

“Hmph!”

Ohjong coughed and pretended as if he didn’t know. The three of them then walked toward the private training room. Bakgi had internal energy that was just a bit under the sixty-year mark, but his skills rivaled that of a master-level warrior. Therefore, he was allowed to use the wider room.

“I use the other building, so you don’t need to follow me.”

“Who knows?”

Ohjong and Hu Bong followed him until they reached the entrance. Bakgi said this wasn’t necessary, but he was thankful for such action. This was very different when he was alone in the 12th group. The three of them walked up to the front entrance of the building.

“We are here now, so you don’t... huh?”

Bakgi frowned. It was due to the fact that he sensed people around them.

“What’s going on?”

Ohjong then looked around. He recently had become a high level warrior, so he also felt the people approached from behind. Soon, people charged out from the back of the building. There were about twenty cadets.

‘Dammit...’

Ohjong and Hu Bong were shocked. It seemed that these cadets had been waiting for them since they all had wooden swords in their hands. Ohjong turned to Bakgi to signal for him to run away.

‘They’ve been waiting here. They must be ready.’

Bakgi also agreed and nodded. As they turned immediately to run away, another group of cadets ran up from behind, blocking their path.

“What?!”

Hu Bong was shocked to see a familiar face. There was a total of ten cadets behind them and in front of them, was the sharp-eyed cadet with slickback hair. It was the 108 cadet, Ha Ilming.

‘Ha Ilming?’

Most of the cadets remembered him because he passed the second test solely with his own power. He had to stay in the medical room because he got hurt by the rocks that fell on top of him from the ceiling in the training room, but it seemed like he had been discharged now.

“You guys...”

Bakgi looked at the cadets blocking the back. They were the cadets from the 12th group. Bakgi was confused.

“Leader, you look good these days?”

“How does it feel to betray your old group and group up with new friends?”

Bakgi frowned at the sarcasm. He only sided with them since they were together solely for the second test, and most of them followed Chun Jongsum anyway, so Bakgi always kept his distance.

“What’s up with this?” Ohjong shouted at cadets surrounding them. He had no way to run, so he decided to at least determine their motive. Of course, he knew what it was for.

“Hah, you really don’t know?” Ha Ilming taunted as he walked up. He then pointed at the yellow tag that Bakgi had on his chest.

“Give me that yellow tag.”

That was the reason for the attack. For the past few days, members of the 12th group found out that Bakgi usually went out alone during dinner time when he went to the training room. That’s why they were here to attack. Twenty cadets at the front of the training room were from the 6th group, and the others blocking the way back were from the 12th group.

“You think I will just hand it over to you?” Bakgi retorted as he readied himself. Ha Ilming grinned.

“Well, this won’t end nicely if you don’t. Oh, but nevermind. It won’t end nicely even if you hand it over.”

Ha Ilming gritted his teeth as he said. Why was he so angry? It was because of the incident a few days ago. Ha Ilming’s head was damaged because Chun Yeowun had destroyed the floor and he had to stay at the hospital. When he went to the hospital, he was dumbfounded.

Starting from Chun Mukeum who was sent there by Ha Ilming himself, there was also Instructor Sang Munyo who had his ribcage broken and Chun Jongsum who had his internal energy damaged. They were all patients who were either brought in because of Ha Ilming himself, or Chun Yeowun.

‘...What is this bastard?’

He couldn’t understand what Chun Yeowun was doing, but he just had to keep quiet. He didn’t want to risk letting Chun Mukeum know that he was the one who ambushed him.

‘Dammit!’

After spending a few terrifying days in the medical room, he just got released yesterday morning and he saw all tags in the hands of other leaders. Ha Ilming, who now had internal energy at the cusp of becoming a master, went to challenge the only instructor who had a yellow tag.

‘Dammit!’

After beating up by Hou Jinchang, Ha Ilming had to rest for a full day. There was only one way left for him to get a yellow tag, and it was to take it from another group.

‘Which group should I go for?’

While he thought about it, the former 12th group cadets offered to work together with him to attack Bakgi.

‘That group has fewer members in it, so it’s easier to fight them.’

“Oh? That’s good.’

Most groups had already gathered most of their group members. The only group that was not fully yet was Bakgi’s group.

‘They are originally members of the 7th cadet party, so they are waiting for him to come out.’

‘Good. Let’s do it.’

There was no need to think twice. He wanted to avenge Chun Yeowun for being interrupted twice so it was the perfect opportunity.

“You all are cronies of that damn 7th cadet, aren’t you?” Ha Ilming growled. If these cadets were really related to Chun Yeowun, taking their yellow tag was the best vengeance Ha Ilming could think of.

“What? Cronies?”

Hu Bong’s eyebrow went up. They were servants so that wasn’t wrong, but it didn’t feel good to hear it like that.

“Today is your unlucky day.”

Ha Ilming’s goal wasn’t just to take tags. He was going to break their arms or legs. Bakgi felt the hostility and began to think.

‘What should I do?’

Even if he was at the master level, the cadets surrounding them were also at a high level. And there was a total of thirty of them, so Bakgi's team was hugely outnumbered. In addition, Ha Ilming didn't seem like he was weak.

'There is no way to move on if the others get hurt.'

He had to escape and make his way to the cafeteria, but Ohjong and Hu Bong would get hurt. Bakgi then sent Ohjong a telepathic message.

[Ohjong, I'll give you the yellow tag. You escape with Hu Bong.]

[What? What about you?]

[We can't all run together. I'll hold them down here.]

[What?! We will stand together!]

[Don't be foolish. If we lose the yellow tag here, our group will be disbanded. If that happens, it will be too late even if the 7th cadet returns tomorrow.]

There was one tag remaining, but everyone had given up on that already. Taking it from a grandmaster level warrior was just impossible. Ohjong then nodded bitterly and sent the same words to Hu Bong.

'They must be thinking of a plan.'

Ha Ilming realized they were sending messages and waved for his group to attack. The cadets then charged.

"Dammit!"

Bakgi gritted his teeth and took the tag to give it to the person next to him.

“Huh?”

They had decided to give the tag to Ohjong, but it was passed over to Hu Bong. Bakgi then jumped to charge at Ha Ilming since this was the only way out of the situation. The 12th group cadets swung their wooden sword without hesitation.

‘I’m sorry if you didn’t like me as a leader but...’

There was no mercy for this trickery. Bakgi’s foot left a trace he kicked multiple times at the cadets. His movement was much more powerful than when he fought Hou Jinchang. The cadets each tried to defend, but the qi that Bakgi’s foot wielded destroyed their swords and kicked them backwards.

“Ugh!”

“M-my sword!”

They were told to never break their swords and they were shocked when they saw it get destroyed. Ha Ilming glared as he saw Bakgi’s leg glowing. It seemed like that faint color verified the fact that Baki was equally matched with Ha Ilming.

‘Master level, huh?’

Bakgi quickly overpowered three cadets and charged at Ha Ilming. He then shouted through his telepathic message.

[Run! Now!]

Ohjong and Hubong then quickly charged forward. Bakgi’s path was the only path they could have taken to run. The two of them quickly moved through.

Blue clothes dropped to the ground and two of them shot passed Bakgi and Ha Ilming to run, and the cadets shouted, "Get him! It's him! That bald guy has the tag!"

"What?! Who called me a bald guy!"

Hu Bong shouted as he ran. He didn't know, but the clothes that covered his bald head had been pulled off as he charged out.

"Baldy! Stop!"

"Dammit!"

Hu Bong was slow with his running skill, so the cadets began to catch up to him. Ohjong then turned to get the tag from Hu Bong.

"Grab it!" Hu Bong shouted as he threw the tag.

"Hu Bong! Keep running!"

"I know!"

Hu Bong knew that he mustn't get caught. He used all his internal energy to get to the cafeteria. After running away for a quite some time to get to the cafeteria, he realized that no one had chased him after he handed over the yellow tag.

"....God dammit," Hu Bong spat with an incredulous look.

Chapter 64

Chapter 64: This tag is yours (2)

Hu Bong quickly ran into the cafeteria. There was no time to waste when his friends were still in danger. Hu Bong then went to find Ko Wanghur and the other members.

‘There!’

He then found his team members eating on the right side of the cafeteria. Ko Wanghur, who was eating a huge meal, looked back at him weirdly.

“Hu Bong, why are you drenched in sweat?”

“We... we must go now... to the training room!”

“What’s going on?”

Ko Wanghur and the cadets immediately placed down their chopsticks and got up.

“Am.. ambush... there’s been an ambush! Bakgi and Ohjong are fighting them!”

“No!”

Ko Wanghur quickly jumped out of his seat and ran out with the other cadets who followed him. Wanghur quickly used his lightness skills to shoot past the buildings to run forward. As he reached the front of the private training building, he saw Bakgi standing there, bleeding from his left thigh and the cadet who seemed to be Ohjong was on the ground, unconscious. There were twelve cadets in front of them, and one of them had his arms crossed. It was Chun Yuchan from the Blade Clan.

‘Is he the one who attacked?’

Ko Wanghur became shocked to see one of the most powerful cadets standing in front of them. But he couldn’t just leave his members behind.

“What is the meaning of this!” Ko Wanghur shouted and jumped in between Bakgi and Chun Yuchan. Then Ja Wumin, Machil, and Hu Bong also came up to them.

‘Huh? 5th cadet?’

Hu Bong was shocked to see Chun Yuchan standing there with his fellow teammates. Chun Yuchan then smiled with his signature smile.

“How dare you ambush us!” Ko Wanghur shouted with a reddened face and Yuchan raised his eyebrow. Bakgi then placed his hand on Wanghur’s shoulder and spoke to him.

“What?”

Hu Bong also nodded. Perhaps they had the same goal if they were here standing with them. Besides, Chun Yuchan was already known for taking more yellow tags than needed. Yuchan then shook his head in response to the suspicious eyes.

“Oh well, I guess our private talk is over. Anyway, you owe me for this Bakgi, so think about it. Besides, you don’t have your tag anymore.”

Bakgi shook his head.

“Thank you for your help, but my decision remains.”

“Haha, well there’s more time, so think about it.”

Chun Yuchan then smiled and returned to the dorm with his members. After he disappeared, Bakgi dropped down to the ground. Wanghur asked with a worried voice, “How bad is it?”

Bakgi’s left thigh was bloody, but he waved his hand.

Bakgi said as he hung his head down in despair. Hu Bong then went to Ohjong to see how he was doing. It seemed like he was severely beaten up and became unconscious. His clothes had many footprints and dust all over them.

“Dammit!”

Hu Buong then noticed Ohjong’s right hand and shouted with teary eyes. Ohjong’s right hand had all of his fingers snapped backward and his palm was bruised badly. It seemed he had held onto the yellow tag at all costs, even when his fingers were pulled backward.

“I should’ve held it!”

Ohjong’s decision to hold it was right, but seeing all the damage made Hu Bong feel he was responsible for it. Ja Wumin and Machil also shuddered in rage with angry expressions on their face. Ko Wanghur then carefully asked Bakgi, “What had happened?”

“...Ha Ilming, former leader of the 6th group and the other cadets ambushed us.”

Bakgi then explained what happened in detail. When Hu Bong gave the tag to Ohjong, all the cadets changed targets. Over twenty cadets ran after Ohjong and soon caught up to him. And the result was what they were seeing now.

“I was fighting the 108th cadet.”

Ha Ilming had consumed the Black Dragon Ball and had master-level internal energy. But with Bakgi at the mid-level of masters, he had the upper hand in power against Ha Ilming. However, that was only if he could fight him on one on one.

“The others attacked me in turns,” Bakgi said disappointingly. It was for former 12th group cadets that attacked in the middle of everything, and that allowed Ha Ilming to launch an attack that cut his left thigh. With his leg cut down, Ha Ilming then tried to finish him off by throwing a decisive blow.

“That’s when the 5th cadet appeared.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Chun Yuchan who was walking by with his members, found them and told Ha Ilming to hand Bakgi over. Yuchan had wanted Bakgi to be on his team for a long time. But of course, Ha Ilming refused. This time, he was determined to not be interfered like when Yuchan interfered him when he was trying to fight Chun Yeowun.

‘Mind your own business! Get lost!’

He was outnumbered and his internal energy increased, so he shouted at Chun Yuchan. However, Yuchan just scoffed and quickly overpowered the five cadets in just a few movements.

‘You want to continue?’

Ha Ilming then felt the difference in power and had to leave. Chun Yuchan didn’t pay attention to the yellow tag that Ha Ilming’s group had taken. His goal was only Bakgi.

Chapter 65

Chapter 65: This tag is yours (3)

Chun Yuchan then told Bakgi that getting more yellow tags was going to be impossible and offered him to join his team. Bakgi refused without thinking and that's when Ko Wanghur arrived.

"I didn't know the 5th cadet wanted you. Is it because of the competition?"

Bakgi was a talented individual even among all these cadets. Chun Yuchan wanted to become the heir to the throne, so he was bound to want more talented individuals. However, Ko Wanghur was surprised that Bakgi didn't even consider one of most probable future leader's offer.

"...That doesn't matter. What matters is that we don't have a yellow tag and our hands are tied. Dammit!"

Bakgi slammed the ground with his fist. As of now, there were only two ways to get their hands on a yellow tag. One was to defeat the instructor Hou Jinchang, and the other was to attack the other groups to steal theirs, but both of the remaining choices didn't seem to be realistic.

Who could possibly defeat the grandmaster level Hou Jinchang and take his tag? And the second option was impossible since they only had six members. Most of the groups moved in teams to protect their tags, meaning they would need at least an equal number of members to do it.

Ja Wumin, who just shook away his anger, asked, "How about we gather the other cadets and do the same thing?"

Ko Wanghur thought about it shook his head.

“If we gather additional teammates, then we will have to accept members who only seek to take advantage of us, not the ones who will want to follow our master’s ways.”

If they wanted help from other cadets, then they needed to give them something else instead. There were a lot of cadets who didn’t have teams yet, so recruiting them was easy, but that meant their team would be filled with members who weren’t ready to follow Chun Yeowun’s future path.

“Hm...”

The members all seemed to agree with Wanghur, but they all sighed in despair. As all of their faces became shadowed, Ko Wanghur shouted.

“We cannot just give up!”

Bakgi then looked up with eyes full of despair.

“And do what?”

“...There is still one way.”

“If you are talking about the senior instructor’s tag, then I’m sure you know that it’s not possible.”

Bakgi knew how powerful Hou Jinchang was since he had fought the man himself. He wasn’t someone a normal cadet would dare to defeat. Even those princes avoided fighting Hou Jinchang.

“We have no choice but to trust our master.”

“Master? The 7th cadet?”

Ko Wanghur thought the only hope remained in Chun Yeowun. As the only cadet who had perfectly countered an instructor, he might be their only hope to defeat Hou Jinchang. Perhaps he would at least be able to take the tag.

“And if he fails?”

“Then my decision to follow him fails also,” Bakgi smiled bitterly. As Wanghur said, if Chun Yeowun did not show them a miracle, they were going to fail the third test automatically. Was waiting for Chun Yeowun the only answer they had?

That’s when Hu Bong hoisted Ohjong up on his back. Everyone turned to Hu Bong.

“I’ll bring Ohjong up to the medical room.”

“I’ll help.”

Ja Wumin stood up and went to Hu Bong, and Hu Bong spoke to Wanghur with a disappointed voice.

“...I think I should say this. As you said, I trust the master more than anyone else. But I don’t think it is right to just wait for him to resolve our issue. If we are his servants, we must do something that only we can do. If we really don’t have a choice, then we should go recruit cadets who can join our group instead.”

“?!”

Hu Bong’s words shocked everyone, including Ko Wanghur. He was always rational and quick-thinking, but he almost put all the burden on his master, Chun Yeowun, without realizing it. Hu Bong was right. They should be ready with something at least.

“Uh... did I go too far?” Hu Bong asked squeamishly. Ko Wanghur then burst into laughter.

“Hahaha! You are right, Bong. We can’t just rely on our master. As his servants, we should do our best to work for him. Hu Bong, you definitely are his best servant.”

Wanghur laughed. Bakgi, Ja Wumin, and Machil also nodded in agreement. It was as Hu Bong said. If they trusted their master, they should do their best to be ready for the next step.

“We would have waited like sitting ducks if it wasn’t for you, Hu Bong.”

“That’s right!”

Hu Bong scratched his head while blushing. And with that, this event made the team even stronger.

And the next day, Ko Wanghur, Bakgi, Hu Bong, Machil, and Ja Wumin scoured around the dorm and entire the academy, searching for the right cadets to recruit. They realized that recruiting more cadets was the best thing they could do at the moment.

But it wasn’t easy. Chun Yeowun had proved that he was powerful by defeating an instructor, but he was now in prison. With the only tag remaining in the hands of Hou Jinchang, no one was willing to join Chun Yeowun’s group as it seemed like they had no chance.

The five members did not give up and continued to search for cadets. Hu Bong also met with various cadets to try to persuade them, but it wasn’t easy. As Hu Bong walked around with heavy footsteps after being rejected multiple times, he heard noises coming from the crowd.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Huh? Did something happen?’

Hu Bong then walked to the area where people had gathered. It was at middle of the stage on the training ground, and the main building where the cadets were watching something. As Hu Bong got closer to see what was going on, his eye grew large with shock.

“M-master!”

There was Chun Yeowun, Hu Bong’s awaited master. However, Chun Yeowun was fighting against someone in the middle of the crowd.

He was fighting Senior Instructor Hou Jinchang.

Chapter 66

Chapter 66: This tag is yours (4)

Early in the morning, on the mountain peak behind the Demonic Academy Library, the morning fog covered the lower part of the mountain. Three men were running up the mountain with their lightness skills. They were instructors of the academy. The one in front was the former 8th group instructor, Impeng. The reason why they were going up the mountain today was because today Yeowun's imprisonment was scheduled to end.

'I wonder if he endured it well.'

Even a more experienced adult would have a hard time being locked up in a dark place all alone. However, the person they locked up was a fifteen-year-old boy, which raised some concerns. They soon reached the front of the cave.

"Sir!"

Guards who stood near the entrance saluted the instructors. Impeng nodded.

"Chun Yeowun's imprisonment is over. Open the gate."

"Yes, sir."

Guards then moved the locking mechanism from the giant boulder that blocked the entrance and pushed it to the side. As it was pushed away, the cave opened up. With the lamp oil running out, the inside of the cave was pitch black. Spending five days in such a place would surely make someone mad. As they looked inside, a topless boy was sitting crosslegged with his eyes closed in meditation.

“7th cadet, You are now being freed!”

One of the instructors shouted and Chun Yeowun opened his eyes. It was finally the time he had been waiting for. He got up and frowned as the light was too bright in his eyes and walked out.

‘Huh? Look at his body!’

Chun Yeowun’s topless body showed all his tight muscles. It was hard to believe that they were the muscles of a not-fully grown boy. The instructors became astonished. But what really astounded Impeng were Chun Yeowun’s eyes.

‘Are these the eyes of a boy who was locked up in prison alone for five days?’

His eyes were deeper and more determined than when he was locked up. It was as if Yeowun had found the truth after some hard training. Impeng was astonished, but he didn’t show it and spoke to him.

“Where are your top clothes?”

“Uh, that’s...”

Chun Yeowun then went back and took out his clothes. The stench made all the instructors frown in disgust.

“Ugh!”

“What did you do to your clothes!”

Instructor Simong snatched the clothes and threw it far away. Impeng sighed and took off his outer robe and handed it over to Yeowun.

“Oh... thank you, sir.”

Yeowun then began putting on the clothes and Simong looked into the cave, checking to see if he had done anything inside. There was no trace of anything within. Simong nodded at the other two instructors and they began climbing down the mountain.

But Simong had missed something there. He had not noticed the rocks that had been piled up to block the hole at the bottom, near the deep inner wall. The light didn't reach that area, so Simong didn't notice this.

'Whew.'

Yeowun sighed in relief. He hoped Simong would not enter the cave to check inside, and luckily he didn't. As they began to climb down, guards that stood in front sealed off the cave again and grinned at each other.

"We're done!"

"Yay!"

They shouted in joy. The special mission that was assigned to them to stand guard day and night was finally over. Instructors grinned at the sound of joy coming from the mountain top.

"Can I ask something, sir?" Yeowun asked Impeng while going down. Impeng nodded.

"How many yellow tags are left?"

Impeng grinned. The boy was locked up alone for five days and his first question was about the number of available yellow tags. This meant that Yeowun hadn't given up yet.

"There's one left."

“One?”

Yeowun face darkened at the word. He figured there wouldn't be that many tags left since there was only one day left to take the tags, but he didn't think there would be only one.

“Is the one held by him?”

Impeng knew who Chun Yeowun was talking about. He was talking about Senior Instructor Hou Jinchang. Impeng nodded.

‘It's as I thought.’

Getting the yellow tag from Hou Jinchang was impossible for anyone. Impeng spoke to Yeowun.

“I'm sure you know that's not the only tag you can get your hands on.”

“...Yes.”

He didn't say it outright, but he was talking about the tags from the other leaders. It was what was recommended unofficially, but it wasn't something that an instructor could say out loud.

‘Attacking other cadets...’

Chun Yeowun was deep in thought as he went down the mountain. When they got to the bottom of the mountain, instructors told Yeowun that he was free to do whatever he wanted now. Yeowun then followed instructors to the main building. When they got to the front of the main building, Impeng asked curiously, “Do you want to say something?”

“I... I have a request to make.”

“Request?”

“Can you call the instructor who has the last yellow tag?”

“What?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Impeng frowned at Yeowun's sudden request. He didn't think Yeowun was following them to attempt to take the yellow tag from the senior instructor. There was no time left for him, but he didn't think Yeowun would try to fight Hou Jinchang right after he got out of the cave. Yet, the one who answered him wasn't Impeng.

“Are you crazy? Don't be reckless and find something you can do instead.”

It was Simong who answered. He didn't care about Chun Yeowun, but even he could see that fighting Hou Jinchang was impossible. If Yeowun were to get hurt while trying to fight Hou Jinchang, that would mean the end of his test. Impeng also seemed to agree with this and nodded.

“Don't overdo it. I know you are running out of time, but you have to be careful.”

Impeng thought Yeowun's decision was coming from being in a hurry. He knew the situation, but he hoped Yeowun would not go overboard. However, Yeowun did not change his mind.

Chapter 67

Chapter 67: This tag is yours (5)

“Thank you for your advice. I will give up if I really think it is too much. I just hope that you will give me a chance.”

‘Ah...’

Impeng became frustrated by Yeowun’s polite request. He hoped Yeowun would choose his actions carefully after his punishment, but it didn’t seem like Yeowun had changed. Simong shook his head.

“Give up during the fight? Hmph. I doubt that will be easy.”

Hou Jinchang wasn’t the type to go easy after the duel started. Simong then walked in and Impeng said worriedly, “I guess you leave me with no choice. Try to protect yourself from any injuries at least. Or else you really will lose all your options.”

“Yes, sir.”

Hou Jinchang made all the cadets who challenged him to stay in the medical room or meditate for an entire day to recover. Soon, Hou Jinchang came out of the entrance. The appearance of the senior instructor who was at the top of the power rank in the academy made all the cadets stop in their tracks.

‘Wow. Someone’s challenging him!’

‘Instructor Hou? What fool had decided to challenge him?’

‘Wait... that’s 7th cadet.’

‘Was he released today?’

‘Wow, is this real? Is he really challenging Instructor Hou?’

Soon, over thirty cadets had gathered around them. It was natural for the cadets who wanted to see someone issue a challenge for the only remaining yellow tag, not to mention that it was a fight from the famous 7th cadet himself.

‘7th cadet!’

Hou Jinchang looked at Chun Yeowun with anticipation. After the duel six days ago, he had been wanting to fight Chun Yeowun ever since then, and now he was here.

“7th cadet, Chun Yeowun, reporting.”

“Long time no see. You’ve done great work enduring your prison time.”

Yeowun bowed and Hou Jinchang responded. He heard from Simong that Yeowun wanted to challenge him. Chun Yeowun was the only cadet who had countered an instructor completely. Hou Jinchang looked at him with excitement. Yeowun stated, “I look forward to learning from this duel, sir.”

All the cadets all gasped in astonishment.

“Ohhh!”

“It’s a challenge!”

As many cadets gathered to look, Yeowun was satisfied for fulfilling his first plan. This was why he chose the front of the main building as the dueling location. His punishment had given many cadets a bad impression of him. He was also stripped of his leader status, which made it even worse.

‘I need to turn it upside down.’

As someone who was also in the competition to become the heir to the throne, he needed trust and support from as many cadets as possible. However, that was currently out of his control. He could have attacked other members, but that wasn’t going to win him any support from the other cadets. In the Demonic Cult, there was only one way to gain support.

‘Now, I have to prove my power.’

The stage was ready. It was morning, so cadets who were on their way to the training building were gathering up. Hou Jinchang asked, “Will you use the wooden sword? Or your bare hands?”

“I will do it with bare handed.”

It was the right choice. Using the wooden sword did not help the cadets. They would have a better chance at countering the swordless instructors using Seven Demon Sword without their swords as well. In the worst-case scenario, that would allow the cadets to fight with their fists. But of course, the instructors were better at fistfights.

Hou Jinchang then readied himself while putting down a wide stomp. It was just a preparation stance, but the weight of the atmosphere changed. Even the cadets who were watching them became tense.

‘How can he defeat that monster?’

‘No... even if it is 7th cadet, this won’t work.’

‘Even the 5th cadet gave up!’

Cadets all saw Chun Yeowun defeat Instructor Sang Munyo. But even then they didn’t think Yeowun had a chance at defeating Hou Jinchang. He was just too strong.

“Come. I will let you take the lead.”

Hou Jinchang, who knew Yeowun had just entered the master level, allowed Yeowun to attack first. Yeowun had no reason to decline the offer.

“Thank you, sir. Then...!”

Yeowun flashed forward like a bolt of lightning, quickly getting into range.

‘He’s quick.’

Hou Jinchang was astonished by the faster speed than what he had expected. However, Hou Jinchang was an experienced warrior. He quickly pulled up a sword defense with his two fingers to unleash the defense formation of Seven Demon Sword, or the fifth sword.

‘So, what will it be? I know all of your blade skills.’

At that moment, Hou Jinchang’s eyes shook. He thought Yeowun was going to unleash his blade skill, but Yeowun instead used two of his fingers to counter the Seven Demon Sword with his movements.

‘Oh?’

Hou Jinchang had seen Yeowun counter Sang Munyo’s Seven Demon Sword already, so he had prepared the following movements to respond to Yeowun’s counterattack.

However, he didn't expect Yeowun to use a sword skill. This wasn't just a quick change.

'What is this sword movement?'

The sword movement's level was too sophisticated. It seemed like he was going to be in danger too early if things progressed at this rate.

'If you can use such sword skill... then you deserve a more powerful foe!'

The glare in Hou Jinchang's eyes changed. The advantage of the Seven Demon Sword created by the Sword Demon was that an unlimited number of formations could be created by mixing all existing formations and movements. If all this was unleashed by grandmaster level warrior Hou Jinchang, it would become a powerful sword formation. Hou Jinchang changed the first sword formation and made various changes to it. All the cadets watching were astonished.

They too had learned the sword skill, so they knew about the power of the Seven Demon Sword. But they were astonished to see the difference in levels, especially with the skills that Hou Jinchang was using.

'No way. That's impossible to defend against.'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Everyone thought the same thing, but something unexpected happened in the next moment. Yeowun's body made a complicated change that left a trace while moving quickly, and his sword created twenty-four clear white lines at once, attacking Hou Jinchang.

‘W-what is this sword formation?!’

Hou Jinchang’s Seven Demon Sword was countered. Yeowun’s sword formation wasn’t something that one could defend against. White lines targeted the blood points from all sides, and Yeowun shot past him. And the powerful energy stored within the sword formation threw Hou Jinchang up into the sky.

“Ugh!”

Hou Jinchang dropped and fell onto one knee. All the cadets couldn’t believe their eyes. The Sword Force of the Demon Sky which had been sleeping within the blue pearl pedestal for hundreds of years had finally been revealed by Chun Yeowun, the descendant of Founding Father Chun Ma.

Chapter 68

Chapter 68: This tag is yours (6)

Hou Jinchang tried to defend against the twenty-four swords at once, but he could only counter three of them. He then quickly wrapped himself up with defensive energy. Yeowun's finger pressed his blood point, inflicting pain. If Yeowun had a sword in his hand, it would have killed Jinchang. And even with his bare hand, the powerful sword move was like a violent storm, making Jinchang spin.

"Aaaargh!"

Hou Jinchang quickly unleashed 100% of his internal energy to defend himself. At least the internal energy within the movements did not exceed his own. Hou Jinchang barely shook off the power and landed on the ground, but lost his balance and fell to his knees.

All the cadets' mouths were agape from the shock. It was amazing that Chun Yeowun had learned such a powerful sword skill, but what was more important was that he had made Hou Jinchang fall on his knees.

'...It worked just like the simulation.'

Chun Yeowun himself was also thrilled to see that it had worked. Hou Jinchang's sword movements with the Seven Demon Sword was very similar to the counter sword skill from the blue pearl stone pedestal. However, Hou Jinchang's movements were only at the early stages of the counter sword skill and when the counter sword skill had twenty-four movements at its perfection, the Seven Demon Sword only had eight. Therefore, it wasn't enough to defend against the Sword Force of the Demon Sky.

‘This movement...’

Hou Jinchang looked at Yeowun with trembling eyes. Yeowun still did not let down his guard and was ready for another round.

‘He’s still not done yet. The fight is not over.’

Yeowun had overwhelmed him in the movement, but he felt Hou Jinchang’s strong energy shooting out. Yeowun was almost at the brink of breaking through the master level, but he was still far from reaching the grandmaster level.

‘This is interesting, Yeowun.’

Hou Jinchang readied himself. He hadn’t used his own skills, but he didn’t go easy either. He then wanted to fight against Chun Yeowun with his best.

“Hmph!”

Hou Jinchang let out a breath and powerful energy began to seep out from his hand, cracking the stone floor. It was by pushing out Yeowun’s sword energy that had infiltrated his body.

‘He pushed out the energy?’

Yeowun’s eyes grew wider. Highly trained warriors had the free flow of energy within their bodies, so it was easy for them to push out the hostile energy. Hou Jinchang got up and Yeowun readied himself again.

The fight was not over. That’s when the unexpected happened. Hou Jinchang, who seemed to want to fight back instantly, pulled back his energy.

‘Huh?’

Jinchang then smiled at Yeowun who was confused.

“It is amazing. You really become different as the days go by.”

‘Maybe we have a monster beyond imagination born within our cult.’

Jinchang thought that, but he didn’t say it out loud. He then pulled out the tag from his chest.

‘Huh?’

‘Really?’

The cadets were excited.

“I accept my loss. You are worthy enough to be a group leader. This tag is yours.”

At those words, the cadets began to shout in excitement. All their faces were red from the surge of excitement after seeing something that was impossible become a reality.

‘He really did it!’

‘Is this even true?’

‘He really is a monster!’

It wasn’t a complete victory, but Yeowun had made Hou Jinchang fall to his knees. There was no way for the cadets who were also cultists to not feel excited to see such strength. Yeowun then bowed to Hou Jinchang.

“Thank you, Instructor.”

“Don’t thank me. You acquired it with your own skill.”

Jinchang smiled and placed the tag in Yeowun’s hand. So, after five days, Yeowun had returned to become a group leader. But the weight of the tag was very different with all the things that had happened up until now.

‘I will never forget this.’

Yeowun then heard someone shouting.

“Master!”

It was Hu Bong. He had not imagined Yeowun to appear in the middle of nowhere and suddenly acquire another yellow tag at once. All of this was just too exciting.

“Hu Bong.”

“Master! We’ve been waiting for your return!”

But there was another man. Someone walked past all cadets and came up to Yeowun.

‘Bakgi?’

Yeowun did not know that Bakgi had joined his members while he was gone. Bakgi looked at Yeowun awkwardly and knelt in front of him. All the cadets around them then turned to Bakgi.

‘Huh?’

‘Why is Bakgi kneeling?’

‘What is going on?’

Bakgi was another group leader level cadet, so it was confusing. The cadets didn't know what happened yesterday, so they thought Bakgi was another group leader with a tag.

"Bakgi. What are you doing?" Yeowun asked.

Bakgi then shouted in a loud voice, "I will first thank you! I, the 18th cadet, Bakgi, survived from the Poison Clan's poison attack due to Prince Chun Yeowun!"

"Huh?"

People began to mumble to themselves in shock.

'What? The Poison Clan tried to kill the 18th cadet?'

'What's going on?'

It was natural for the cadets to be shocked to hear this. All they knew up until now was that Yeowun had destroyed Chun Jongsum's internal energy, which looked like a foolish act to provoke the Poison Clan. But if what Bakgi said was right, then Chun Yeowun was helping Bakgi.

"I am deeply touched by your actions. You pushed yourself so far that you even got sent to prison."

'Hmm? What is up with him and this politeness?'

Yeowun frowned slightly since he knew how Bakgi usually talked. However, he realized what Bakgi was trying to do here, so he didn't say anything.

'What? So the 7th cadet did that to save the 18th cadet?'

'But what for?'

The cadets seemed to find this to be very shocking. Bakgi then bowed.

“I, Bakgi, will serve Prince Chun with my life from now on!”

‘Ah.’

Yeowun was astonished. If Bakgi had planned this himself, this really was astounding. Bakgi, who was not part of Yeowuns’ group yet, had just announced to all the cadets that he would be joining Yeowun for his noble deed. Among the cadets, there was a muscular cadet who stood between them with a smile on his face. It was Ko Wanghur. He sent a telepathic message to Bakgi.

[Good work. It was a bit awkward though.]

[...I will do what you want just this once.]

[Hahaha. That will do.]

What Bakgi did had been planned by Ko Wanghur. He had thought of this plan in a short time when all cadets were shouting with joy. Bakgi then had to act in front of all cadets for the sake of the plan.

At the same time, there were two instructors walking up the stairs of the main building — Instructor Hou Jinchang and Impeng.

Impeng knew why of course.

“Will it be okay, sir?”

“Why wouldn’t it be? He is worthy of such recognition.”

“Yes, sir.”

Impeng had also watched the fight. He was worried at first but Yeowun surprised him yet again.

“But I was really impressed. How did he learn such martial arts?”

Impeng was experienced with the sword, but even he was shocked to see it. However, it was weird that he had never seen such sword art throughout all the time that he had been in the cult.

“Do you think the Right Guardian taught him that skill too?”

“I am not sure, but he definitely is an exceptional warrior, so I guess that might be the case.”

“....Hmm.”

Would a blade skill user teach his apprentice a sword skill? Impeng thought this was weird but that seemed to be the only logical reason. As they reached the third floor, Impeng turned to walk into instructors’ office but Hou Jinchang went up further.

“Huh? Aren’t you coming to the office?”

“You go ahead. I want to take a break.”

“Yes, sir.”

Hou Jinchang then walked up the stairs to the roof of the main building. At the fence on the roof, someone was there. He had long red hair that was fluttering in the breeze.

“Chief.”

“Come over.”

Hameng did not look back. He was looking down at the crowd below.

“I would not have held back if it wasn’t for your telepathic message.”

“Anyone would do that if they were challenged with such a sword movement.”

Hameng had watched the fight from the start and he had seen Yeowun’s powerful sword movements in detail. Hou Jinchang walked up to the Hameng and spoke with a quiet voice.

“When I was young, I fought wars against the Forces of Evil and Justice countless times. And of course, there had been many instances where I fought in the war with our Lord.”

“ ... ”

“I’m sure you, as a guardian, know about this better than me.”

Lee Hameng narrowed his eyes. He knew what Jinchang was trying to say. Hou Jinchang mumbled to Hameng who was looking down silently.

“That sword movement... if I’m not wrong, it was very close to the Lord’s Sword Art of the Sky Demon. No... it was similar, but something much more.”

Chapter 69

Chapter 69: I will do the same to you (1)

Sword Art of the Sky Demon. One of the best sword arts, and the best sword art within the Demonic Cult itself. It was created by Chun Ma, nicknamed the Sky Demon, who was known for his talent in martial arts. He had risen above everyone else at the time.

As time passed by, many sword arts were created to counter the Sword Art of the Sky Demon, and soon the Demonic Sword of the Heavenly God was said to overpower it.

Hou Jinchang's eyes flickered as he spoke. Yeowun's sword movement had left a striking impression that he could not forget. Even Lee Hameng was shocked to see such perfect sword movement.

'It's similar to the Sword Art of the Sky Demon, but it's much more.'

Lee Hameng had seen the Lord use his Sword Art multiple times already, and thus he was able to conclude that Yeowun's sword skill was better. Then how did Chun Yeowun learn such sword skills? There was only one possible way.

'The pedestal!'

The pedestal in the library was known to hold secret regarding Father Chun Ma's last finding of the truth. However, the back side of the pedestal had been destroyed, so it was left in secret. One of the former Lords thought the pedestal was useless, so he ordered it to place it in the library as a display.

‘But the backside is damaged...’

Lee Hameng had also looked at the back side of the pedestal multiple times, but he wasn’t sure what it meant due to the marks all over it. Hou Jinchang then asked carefully, “Chief. Do you think his sword skill is from the ped...”

“Instructor Hou.”

Lee Hameng cut him off.

“Keep this as a secret between you and me for now.”

“...So, you are thinking of the same thing. Yes, sir.”

Lee Hameng nodded. That was the only possible way for Yeowun to have grasped the sword skill. After all, they had reached the same conclusion. It wasn’t certain as to why Lee Hameng wanted to keep this a secret, but maybe this would be better for Yeowun.

Most of the cadets dispersed to go about with their training, but not all of them had left. Two cadets were left. One was a girl who had a round and cute face, but she was taller than most of the male cadets. If it wasn’t for Ko Wanghur, she would probably be the tallest amongst all cadets remaining in front of the building.

‘Oh! She is...!’

Ko Wanghur knew her very well. She was the 222th cadet, Hou Sangwha, known to be one of the top three ranks in power out of the female cadets.

‘...Why is he blushing?’

Bakgi was curious about Ko Wanghur’s expression. Hou Sangwha walked up to Yeowun and spoke politely.

“You were great just now, Prince Chun. I didn’t think you would get Instructor Hou’s tag. Congratulations.”

“I was lucky. Thank you.”

Yeowun pretended to not notice, but he was able to guess why she had come up to him.

“Let me be frank. I waited here because I want to join your team.”

After she saw Yeowun fighting against Hou Jinchang, she thought Yeowun was a worthy leader. If she became his teammate, that would increase her chances of passing the third test. Yet Yeowun didn’t want a teammate just for the test.

“I’m s...”

Chun Yeowun tried to say this, but Sanghwa interrupted to speak first.

“Hold on. I want to ask you something first. Will you bring in any individual, no matter their gender, if they are talented?”

Hou Sangwha was serious. It seemed like she was mindful of the fact that she was a girl. Yeowun couldn’t just answer simply, but he already had the answer since a long time ago.

“...If a talented individual wants to join me, then I have no reason not to accept. Gender or clan do not matter.”

Chun Yeowun had been discriminated and bullied for not coming from the six clans. He wanted to overthrow such things from the start.

“I see.”

Hou Sangwha then took about ten steps back and swung her wooden sword with a sword movement. Chun Yeowun, Wanghur, Bakgi, and Hu Bong all became intrigued. She was using the Seven Demon Sword.

‘She has learned the Seven Demon Sword!’

Only a short amount of time had passed, but she was using the skill flawlessly. Her movements were top-class.

After showing the first sword movement up to the fifth, she came up to Yeowun again and knelt down on one knee.

“I was touched by your sacrifice that you made for your servant. You said you will accept any individual no matter their gender or clan. If you accept me, I will prove that I am worthy.”

She spoke with confidence and strength. There was no reason to decline such an offer made from someone so confident and knew how to show their strength.

“My path will be treacherous and we might shed blood. Can you take that burden on yourself?”

“I wouldn’t say I wanted to join you if I wasn’t ready for that.”

Chun Yeowun then smiled and bowed.

“Thank you. Welcome to my team.”

Hou Sangwha then bowed and shouted, "I, the 222nd cadet, Hou Sangwha, will pledge allegiance to Prince Chun for life."

So, Chun Yeowun had gained the first woman cadet on his team. And there was one who was overjoyed by this event. It was Ko Wanghur. He was so happy that he couldn't hide his joy.

"Ohh... this is awkward."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

And there was one more cadet who left. He was scrawny and had crumpled hair, and he had been excited over Yeowun's fight more than anyone else.

"Do you have something to say?" Yeowun asked him. The cadet then became hesitant, and knelt down on both knees.

"I... I want to be on your team, Prince."

"...And why did you hesitate?"

The cadet then scratched his head and embarrassingly answered, "I have not learned the Seven Demon Sword yet... I wanted to... prove myself to you but I couldn't find anything to show..."

Chapter 70

Chapter 70: I will do the same to you (2)

He put down his head in embarrassment because he didn't have anything to show when Hou Sangwha had just showed off her power.

'She proved herself in such a cool way... will Prince Chun accept someone like me?'

He wasn't a cadet from a clan that specialized in martial arts. His father was a mid-ranked warrior, and his family's martial arts was only at the second level, which was weaker than most families. However, seeing Yeowun's fights had given him hope to become stronger.

"Do you want to join me?"

"I am weak, but if you accept me, I will serve you wholeheartedly. A-and I will do my best not to become a nuisance!"

The cadet's eyes were full of admiration, just like how Hu Bong looked at Chun Yeowun now. It almost made him laugh.

"Are you weak?" Yeowun asked back and the cadet became uneasy, thinking that Yeowun would refuse. Yeowun then smiled and bowed.

"You can always become strong. I am grateful that you want to join me nonetheless. Welcome."

It was possible to become stronger, but having loyalty was not something that could be easily achieved.

“Ohh!”

The cadet teared up because of the welcome. He then began pounding the ground with his forehead, bowing.

“Jin Guuk, the eldest son of Jin family hereby pledges allegiance to the Prince! Thank you!”

‘Hmm...’

Ko Wanghur and Bakgi also saw Hu Bong’s shadow in Jin Guuk. However, Hu Bong himself thought that Jin Guuk was going overboard and shook his head.

With that, Yeowun now had a total of eight members with him. It was a total of nine if Chun Yeowun was included, so he only needed three more cadets now.

‘Hmph. I wished there were more who might be interested.’

Ko Wanghur had expected more cadets to want to join their team. He had thought Yeowun’s reputation would go up by defeating Hou Jinchang and accepting Bakgi into the team, but Ko Wanghur didn’t know that it was too much for the cadets to trust fully Yeowun who had lost his leadership rights once.

‘At least Master has the yellow tag now. We can get more cadets soon.’

There was a time limit in getting a yellow tag, but there was no time limit for getting teammates. Therefore, they didn’t need to hurry. Yeowun then looked around and asked Wanghur, “Where are the others?”

He asked because he didn’t see Ohjong, Ja Wumin, Machil, Wungchun, and Ho Daming. Wanghur and Hu Bong frowned.

Chun Yeowun did not know anything about what had happened while he was gone. He didn't even know that Wungchun and Ho Daiming had left him.

"Master, I think we should talk in private."

'Ah...'

Yeowun nodded as he realized something had happened while he was gone by the look on Wanghur's face. This place had too much foot traffic from the cadets and instructors, so they decided to move. The team then moved to the mountain at the back of the dormitory building. Machil and Ja Wumin who were out to recruit cadets had joined them. They were happy to see Chun Yeowun, and they were surprised to hear that Yeowun had gotten a yellow tag right away.

As they gathered at the mountain, Ko Wanghur first told Yeowun that Wungchun and Ho Daiming had left. As their names came up, most of the members responded in anger.

"How dare they betray the master!"

"It's good that we don't have them anymore!"

"It's right to not have them if they cannot overcome such hardship!"

But Chun Yeowun did not get angry. He just calmly listened and nodded. He already had expected some leavers in his group since he was the one who brought this situation upon them. Fortunately, no one else left the team and they still acted together.

"I thank all of you for staying with me to the end. I really appreciate it."

Yeowun got up and bowed to every member. Ko Wanghur and the others were touched by that action.

‘Master...!’

Ko Wanghur was able to confirm that his decision to stay with Yeowun was right. So, the first issue was taken care of, but the next one was bigger.

“So, with that aside, where is Ohjong?”

At Yeowun’s question, Hu Bong teared up. He still felt guilty for letting Ohjong get hurt. The other cadets all seemed to be angry just by thinking of it.

“What had happened?”

Chun Yeowun frowned, realizing there had been some serious problem by the looks of it.

“That’s...”

Bakgi, who had lost his yellow tag, tried to explain, but Ko Wanghur shook his head. He carefully explained how Bakgi joined them, and how Ha Ilming ambushed and was stopped by Chun Yuchan. Wanghur also told him how Ohjong’s fingers were snapped backward and he had bruises all over his body. Thus he had to be carried to the medical room, but Chun Yeowun’s eyes only turned sharp and cold. He didn’t seem to be furious.

‘...He’s different from before.’

Bakgi was surprised. If it was the same Yeowun from the medical room five days ago, he would have been angry after hearing this. But now he just focused on listening to what had happened with icy eyes. It was foolish to be concerned about the possibility that Yeowun might run after Ha Ilming for revenge. Yeowun was angry, but he kept a cool mindset.

‘He still hasn’t fixed his ways.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Ha Ilming always played with trickery. His actions weren’t wrong as the academy itself supported the cadets fighting each other for the tags, but Ha Ilming didn’t come for it himself. He brought over thirty people to mob them and that was too much.

“...So Master, what will you do? ”

Ko Wanghur asked since it was up to Chun Yeowun now. They had gotten a yellow tag so they could just let it be, but they couldn’t just forgive Ha Ilming and others for what they did. They were curious as to what Chun Yeowun would decide to do.

Yeowun then spoke to them.

“We’ll pay them back with the same thing.”

Chapter 71

Chapter 71: I will do the same to you (3)

Two hours ago...

There was a big open space at the back of the larger training room building on the northeastern side of the academy. And in that space, about twenty cadets had gathered to practice Seven Demon Sword. They were not powerful like the other cadets, but they helped each other complete their sword skills. They were cadets from the former 12th group. They used to practice formations under Bakgi's guidance before the second test, but after the test, Bakgi left them.

That's why they were now here without Bakgi and Chun Jongsum.

"Penghak, is it really okay for you to go alone?" the 670th cadet, Gallen asked as he was worried. Penghak was the one who attacked Bakgi from behind while fighting against Ha Ilming last night. Wu Penghak was the leader of the group now.

"I was told to go alone. We have no choice."

Wu Penghak was also worried, but he couldn't ignore Chun Yuchan's warning. He had made a deal, so he had to go to receive the payment for keeping the promise.

"If we get the tag, we can create a team."

"...Yes, but one tag will only make us fight against each other..."

They had twenty members, so having one yellow tag meant that eight of them had to be cast out. This would surely create turmoil. Gallen was right to be worried, but Penghak shook his head.

“But we can’t just stand around and do nothing.”

“Yeah.”

“We have to do whatever it takes to survive. If we give up because we’re weak, then it’s over.”

Gallen couldn’t object to those words. They had contacted other group leaders with yellow tags, but it wasn’t possible to join their groups. Most of them just accepted their former group members, so it was hard to find any empty spots in the first place.

“So, you think about looking after yourself too.”

“Yes... but to sell out our former leader... I don’t think it’s right.”

“The water has been spilled. There’s no going back. And don’t worry about the group. If I become a leader, I will ensure your spot,” Penghak whispered and Gallen frowned.

It seemed that Penghak had misunderstood.

‘Ah...’

Penghak then tried to walk out to meet with Yuchan. While he was trying to leave, someone came up to block him.

“Wait.”

“Y-you!?”

It was Chun Yeowun. He was now the most famous cadet within the academy. Yeowun was also responsible for destroying Chun Jongsum's internal energy. Penghak was shocked to see Yeowun.

"W-why are you...!"

"What's the surprise?"

They didn't know Yeowun was out of prison yet. But there was more. Seven more cadets appeared from the corner of the building.

"Hiiiek!"

Wu Penghak was startled and he stumbled back a few steps. Ko Wanghur, Bakgi, Hou Sangwha, Ja Wumin, Hu Bong, Machil, and Jin Guuk were standing behind Yeowun. Except for Hou Sangwha and Jin Guuk who had joined the team today, the other five were furious.

"B-Bakgi!"

Penghak was mostly afraid of Bakgi. With a horrific look from his scar that ran across his eye, Bakgi's glare made it even more terrifying.

"Did you sell me out?"

Bakgi looked at Penghak with disappointment. They had overheard the conversation between Penghak and Gallen from behind the building. It was understandable that they had launched an ambush to get the yellow tag since they were desperate to survive. But selling Bakgi out when he was their former teammate was something he couldn't accept. And Ohjong had been severely injured in the process.

“Stop!”

Former 12th group members quickly ran up after realizing that Yeowun and his members had appeared.

“B-Bakgi!”

Gallen and the other cadets were also shocked to see Bakgi. They were worried as Bakgi was not badly injured, and there he was with his teammates.

“Are you here for revenge?!” Gallen shouted while biting his lips. However, Ko Wanghur answered instead.

“You ambushed us and thought you would not pay the price?!”

Ko Wanghur, who was almost twice as large as most of the cadets, roared at them. The 12th group cadets outnumbered Yeowun’s team, but they were afraid.

“W-we have more! We can win this!”

Penghak shouted at his members. Even yesterday, they were able to hurt Bakgi after outnumbering them. There was no way Bakgi would have recovered, so there was no reason for them to lose.

‘But Chun Yeowun is here too!’

The cadets couldn’t attack however. This was different from yesterday. It was hard enough to deal with Bakgi alone, but they were now facing Chun Yeowun who had crushed an instructor’s rib cage. And Yeowun was also infamous within the academy.

‘I heard he destroys the internal energy if he gets pissed off!’

‘We can’t fight him!’

‘He’s sent so many people to the medical room! He’s evil!’

It wasn’t on purpose, but there were a lot of cadets who were afraid of Chun Yeowun. And the cadets of the 12th group knew that one of their members, Chun Jongsum, had his internal energy destroyed. That was what made them even more afraid.

“Fools! We have much more people than them!”

Penghak became frustrated at his members. Yeowun then spoke to him coldly.

“You are the foolish one. How dare you say such a thing in front of me?”

“What?!”

At that instance, Yeowun quickly closed in on Penghak. It was so quick that Penghak couldn’t do anything as Yeowun grabbed his wrist. Yeowun then grabbed the right wrist with his left and punched Penghak’s stomach.

‘Control! Control!’

He tried to go easy as best as he could, but...

“ARGH!”

As his fist struck the stomach, Penghak's eyes grew wide and he spat blood out from his mouth. His body was also thrown up about three meters into the air, and flew all the way back.

'Ugh... I tried.'

Chapter 72

Chapter 72: I will do the same to you (4)

He tried to use only half of his power, but it was still monster-like. At least it was weaker than when he destroyed Jongsum's chin and teeth. The 12th group cadets became pale after seeing Penghak getting thrown away with one punch. Penghak had gained top-class internal energy after consuming the Black Dragon Ball, but he couldn't even endure one fist.

"Penghak!"

Gallen shouted at Penghak who was thrown back. He sat there unconsciously with bubbles foaming at his mouth.

'W-we cannot fight him!'

Most of the cadets were either similar or weaker than Penghak. They had Ha Ilming, who was almost equal to Bakgi when they fought yesterday, but no one else could deal with Yeowun.

"You want to keep going?"

Yeowun threatened the 12th cadets. All of them then shook their heads in fear. They couldn't even bear to think about fighting Yeowun, Bakgi, and Ko Wanghur altogether.

"...We surrender."

Gallen, who was next in line in terms of rank, made a declaration. Hu Bong then ran up with reddened eyes and grabbed Gallen's collar.

“Where is it!”

“What are you talking about?”

“Where is the tag that you took from us yesterday?!”

Ohjong had tried to protect it with his life even when his fingers were snapped back. If they didn’t get that back, Ohjong’s sacrifice would have been for nothing. Gallen spoke bitterly.

“108th cadet... Ha Ilming has it.”

Ko Wanghur sighed to Yeowun. They had expected this already as Ha Ilming probably wouldn’t have given the yellow tag to these people.

“Dammit!”

“Ugh!”

Hu Bong then threw a punch at Gallen’s face. It wasn’t all that powerful like Yeowun’s, but it was enough to bruise Gallen’s right cheek in blue. Hu Bong then pushed Gallen down and tried to pummel him, but Bakgi stopped him.

“Stop.”

“Don’t stop me! Are you protecting him because he was your teammate?!”

“No. I have something I want to ask first. Back off.”

Bakgi had no intention to stop him. He was a former team leader of these people, but he knew what was at stake here. Their actions were unacceptable.

“Gallen.”

“...Bakgi.”

Gallen wiped the blood dripping from his mouth and looked up at Bakgi before he averted his gaze. He had tried to dissuade Penghak and the other cadets, but he failed and eventually ambushed Bakgi together with them, so he couldn't look into his eyes.

“You said you all sold me out. What does that mean?”

“...I'm sorry.”

“You've already done it, so don't give me that bullshit. Who did you make a deal with?”

Gallen hesitated for a bit and answered, “...Chun Yuchan from the Blade Clan made the offer.”

“Chun Yuchan?”

Yeowun was surprised to hear Chun Yuchan's name. He thought it was strange when he heard that Yuchan had helped Bakgi, but he didn't think Yuchan would be involved in such a way.

“Prince Chun Yuchan told us to attack you, take your tag, and put you in danger.”

“What? He told you to attack me?”

Bakgi was dumbfounded. He thought he owed Yuchan for helping him out the other night, so he didn't think it was all planned from the beginning.

“So... you were promised to be given a yellow tag for it?”

“...Yes.”

They sold Bakgi for their own good. Since Bakgi had now found out about this, the nine cadets who ambushed together couldn't hide their embarrassment.

“Bakgi... I'm sorry.”

“Bastards.”

Bakgi couldn't forgive them, so he walked away. He didn't even feel the need to beat them up on his own.

“Hmph!”

Hu Bong then began pounding Gallen's face. He was going to make Gallen become like Ohjong. Nobody thought to stop Hu Bong and Gallen too didn't even moan.

“Wait a second.”

“Not again?!”

This time, it was Ko Wanghur who stopped him. Hu Bong, who was drenched in sweat, responded with an annoyed voice. Ko Wanghur placed his hand on Hu Bong's shoulder and sent a telepathic message.

[Will you be satisfied at beating up just one man?]

Hu Bong then became surprised and looked back at Wanghur.

[Trust me. I will bring out everything.]

Ko Wanghur sent his messages confidently and Hu Bong nodded before he stepped aside. Wanghur then spoke to Gallen who was on the ground.

“670th cadet. Do you trust what Yuchan had promised you?”

“...What do you mean?”

“Do you really think Chun Yuchan will give you a yellow tag?”

Gallen’s eyes shook. He too had been suspicious of this ever since. They had fulfilled their part of the deal, but he didn’t believe in it from the beginning.

“He promised us.”

“Since there are twenty of you, he must have promised to give you two tags.”

“T-that’s...”

He didn’t say he would give two. But he couldn’t tell the truth in front of everyone since it would surely cause problems.

“Did he say he would give only one?”

Ko Wanghur accurately guessed the situation and Gallen was baffled. The cadets who didn’t join the ambush yesterday frowned at once.

“What? What is he talking about?”

“You told us that we would be on the team!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Wu Penghak had assured the members that even if they didn’t join the ambush, they would all be together. However, if they only got one tag, the outcome was obvious. There were only two spots left for the cadets who didn't join the ambush, so it was bound to end up in a fight. Cadets from the 12th group then turned to Wu Penghak and Gallen angrily. Ko Wanghur bitterly said, "You all were used and are trying to turn back on yourselves now."

"Used? What are you talking about!"

"Do you think Chun Yuchan did not know this would happen if he only gave one tag? If you fight against one another, you are playing right into his hands."

Wanghur explained it calmly and the cadets gritted their teeth. If Chun Yuchan had really used them, then they were just pawns who played under his feet. Ko Wanghur then smiled to finish what he started.

"Are you all angry? If you are, then you must get revenge."

Chapter 73

Chapter 73: I will do the same to you (5)

Two hours later, Gallen and the 12th group cadets were serious as they aimed their wooden swords. Their furious glares were directed at Yumpa while they were actually angry toward Chun Yuchan, the Prince of the Blade Clan who was behind all this.

‘We almost were used and thrown away.’

It was shocking as it was as Wanghur had said. They didn’t think they were being used, but after meeting with Chun Yuchan, everything became clear. For Chun Yuchan, the other cadets were only pawns in his game. Unless they were talented like Bakgi, he didn’t think much about the others.

“What are you doing?” Yumpa asked Gallen. He was facing cadets from the 12th group who had made a deal with Chun Yuchan to get a yellow tag. But what was this hostility?

“Hmph! You think you can keep using us for the yellow tag?”

“I don’t follow.”

“You still think us as fools?!”

Gallen shouted angrily and Yumpa narrowed his eyes before he turned to Chun Yeowun.

“So, someone’s pulling tricks on you.”

“Hah! Look who’s talking!”

Hu Bong scoffed at Yumpa’s words.

“You can’t even get a tag from an instructor, so you ambushed us during the night. Who’s pulling the tricks?” Hu Bong shouted and Yeowun’s members also smirked as they nodded. Hou Sangwha and Jin Guuk also heard about what had happened, so they had disgust in their looks also.

Ha Ilming was furious after hearing such words however. His face was red with anger and he glared at Hu Bong.

“You ran from us like rats, and you dare speak to us as weaklings?!”

Ha Ilming shouted and Ko Wanghur burst into laughter.

“Hahaha! This is a great one. Ha Ilming, then I’m sure you will never run away from us then?”

“?!”

“Oh, but we have no intention to let you run anyway.”

Ko Wanghur threatened him and Ha Ilming’s face turned grim.

‘Dammit!’

With the 12th group cadets turning their backs on them, the situation had turned upside down. Ha Ilming’s group was now trapped. He needed at least twice the number of Yeowun’s team to defeat them, but they were outnumbered.

‘What happened?’

If he knew this would happen, he would not have sided with Yumpa. Fighting against them when being outnumbered meant they had no chances of winning.

‘Ugh... should I run? But...’

He had a chance to run away if he ran alone, but this meant that he had to abandon all of his teammates. They'd probably never join Ha Ilming's team again. There were no options left for him.

'Dammit.

Yumpa was also in the same situation. He knew there was no chance of winning here, but if he failed again, then he was going to lose the final chance to stay by Chun Yuchan.

'I have to persuade them no matter what!'

Yumpa then hid his frustration and turned to Gallen to softly speak to him.

"Gallen. I think there's been a mistake. Don't you trust Prince Chun Yuchan as his servants? If you get fooled by such tricks..."

"Will you give us two tags then?"

"What?"

"If he wants all of us, he'll need at least two tags so that all of us can pass the test."

The leaders who had yellow tags could only recruit eleven members on their team. The 12th group cadets had nineteen members, so they needed two tags in order to include everyone. Yumpa bit his lips. He couldn't make false promises that Chun Yuchan did not allow. However, if he failed to persuade them, then his mission was over.

"L-let's do this. I'll ask Prince Chun to let you guys get two tags."

Doing this meant that he wouldn't be lying. He was going to ask, but he wouldn't be able to do anything if Yuchan refused to do so.

'Please, please!'

It was a hard offer for the 12th group members to refuse. If they defeated Yumpa and Ha Ilming right here, they were only going to get one tag. Gallen also seemed to be interested.

'It almost worked! Come on!'

Yumpa smiled. Gallen hesitated a bit and asked, "It sure seems like a good deal... but can you take it?"

Yumpa didn't understand his question.

"Take what?"

"Take this."

"Huh?!"

The sound came from his behind and Yumpa turned. It was Chun Yeowun, who appeared behind him and threw his fist.

'I- I have to dodge it!'

Yumpa had already felt Yeowun's terrifying physical power. It was apparent as to what might happen if he were to get struck down. Yumpa then threw his body backward to dodge it.

"Bastard! You're mine!"

Ha Ilming, who considered Yeowun's action of attacking Yumpa first as an act of ignoring him, quickly swung his wooden sword in anger. It contained 70% of his internal energy which would crush a human's head if it landed, but...

“What?!”

Ha Ilming was shocked. His wooden sword was simply caught by Yeowun's left hand. Ha Ilming unleashed his energy to pull it away from Yeowun.

‘W-what! It won't even move!’

He couldn't get it out of Yeowun's grasp. There was no way for Ha Ilming, who didn't even have sixty years worth of internal energy, to fight against Yeowun who had ninety years worth of energy.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Is that it?”

“Arrghhh... YOU!”

He couldn't understand. There wasn't that much difference in internal energy before, but it was different now. Their energy battle didn't last too long.

“NO!”

As Yeowun clenched it, the wooden sword shattered into pieces. Ha Ilming suddenly let go of the sword and attacked Yeowun with his finger instead to complete the sword skill. That's when someone kicked him from the side.

Chapter 74

Chapter 74: I will do the same to you (6)

“ARGH!”

Ha Ilming was pushed away, and it was Bakgi who kicked him. Ha Ilming got up and winced at the pain.

‘Dammit... it’s broken again!’

It hadn’t been long since he had recovered from the broken right rib he got from Yeowun, and now it was left rib. Bakgi provoked him.

“You fight with me.”

“How dare you ambush me!”

“Ambush? I’m just doing the same thing you did.”

Ha Ilming was furious but he couldn’t find words to object, as he too had gotten the upper hand last night due to Wu Penghak’s attack to get Bakgi. Everything he did was coming back to him.

‘It’s too late to run anyway.’

He had no choice but to fight. Ha Ilming then shouted at his group members.

“Fight!”

“Aaahhhhh!”

His members then charged with their wooden swords.

‘Huh?’

However, Ha Ilming became dumbfounded because they only attacked the 12th group cadets who were behind them.

“What are you doing!”

Ha Ilming shouted angrily, but his members were only focused on attacking the 12th group members. It was because the 12th group was blocking their way out of this place. Ha Ilming’s members were only focused on escaping from this place. They didn’t want to take on a monster Chun Yeowun and his friends. From what they could see, it was likely that they would get beaten up badly if they didn’t run.

“Take this!”

Bakgi then kicked multiple times, leaving a bunch of hits. Ha Ilming was angry at his members who were trying hard to run away, but he couldn’t ignore Bakgi’s attacks either.

“Dammit!”

Ha Ilming proceeded to assume defensive movements to defend against Bakgi’s kicks.

“Shall we make a move then?”

Ko Wanghur flexed his muscles and jumped out. Hu Bong, who had been waiting to get his revenge, also charged angrily.

“It’s my first fight. Heh.”

Hou Sangwha smiled satisfyingly. Unlike her round and cute face, her aura made her seem rough and aggressive.

“Y-you are more aggressive than you look.”

Jin Guuk was stunned by the large group fight.

“We should go too! It’s time to get payback!”

Ja Wumin shouted and Hou Sangwha, Machil, and Jin Guuk charged at Ha Ilming’s group members. A total of forty cadets were now fighting each other. The fight was very one-sided since Ha Ilming’s members were trying to run away while Yeowun and the 12th group members were chasing them furiously.

“Ughh!”

Yumpa was appalled since he had wanted to avoid this situation at all costs. If he had gotten more cadets to fight back, this would not have happened. Yumpa stepped back but Chun Yeowun walked toward him like death itself.

“You think you can run?”

“I didn’t think I would see this happen.”

“That’s what you get for playing tricks.”

It was foolish to think that Yeowun would get caught up in Chun Yuchan’s tricks. From the aggressive aura coming out from Yeowun, it seemed it wasn’t possible for Yumpa to run.

“Argh!”

Ha Ilming’s team members were falling down one by one. They were outnumbered and overpowered so it was inevitable.

“Hah!”

rib, he slowed down and he now had no way to defend himself against Bakgi's kicks.

'...I failed. There's no way.'

Ha Ilming, Yumpa's only hope, was even losing. The fight had already been decided. Further resistance only meant more injuries. Yumpa then thought of the only possible choice.

'If I can't defeat him...'

Yumpa then threw his sword onto the ground and kneeled in front of Yeowun, surprising the other party. Yumpa then placed his head down on the ground and spoke politely.

"You win, Prince Chun."

"??"

It was a declaration of surrender. He had lost once, so Yumpa knew he had no chance against Chun Yeowun anyway. Therefore, he chose to surrender to keep himself safe.

"It's not over yet."

It was almost over, but the fight was still ongoing. But with their brains and culprit Yumpa giving up without even trying, Yeowun felt disgusted.

"No, it is over. We have already lost. Please show us mercy that befits an heir to the throne."

Those were polite words, but they were disgusting in context to even mention the candidacy to the throne.

"Whew."

Chun Yeowun sighed.

‘He’s angry but he will not attack someone who is on the ground, asking for mercy... hehehe.’

Yumpa was facing the ground so no one could see his expression, but he was smiling. If Yeowun, the leader, made a decision here, then the fight would be over. Yeowun was also one of the heirs, so Yumpa thought Yeowun would not attack a man who had given up.

“Mercy?”

Yeowun shook his head and crouched down. He then yanked Yumpa’s hair, hard.

“ARGH!”

Yeowun pulled it up, and Yumpa’s head followed with it. His face showed that he was in pain.

“Aaaargh! W-what are you doing? I just surrendered...”

“Surrender? If you didn’t want to fight, you shouldn’t have started this from the beginning.”

Yeowun then clenched on his hand.

‘N-no! This can’t be!’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yumpa became terrified and tried to squirm out of Yeowun’s grasp, but he couldn’t. It was as if he was stuck under a giant rock.

“W-wait...”

“Shut up.”

“ARGH!”

He then was thrown onto the ground face down. His face was stuck into the ground halfway with blood pouring out from it. Yeowun then whispered to the flinching Yumpa, “You will pay the price for hurting my friends.”

Chapter 75

Chapter 75: Pay it forward for more (1)

A normal person would never experience getting their face stuck in the ground. Yumpa got his thoughts straight when a powerful force pushed him into the ground. He almost passed out from the severe pain radiating throughout his entire face as the rocks and dirt were stuck in his face. He felt the blood pouring out from all over his face.

“Aarrgh...”

Yeowun then pulled up Yumpa’s head again. His face was all crushed up. His front teeth were dangling and his broken nose was pointed at a weird angle. Yumpa was in too much pain to realize that every part of his face was all messed up now.

“Argh... Ah...”

When he could breathe again, Yumpa formed up his thoughts and was able to barely speak.

“T...this is...too much.”

“I didn’t even start.”

“Heeeek!”

Yumpa paled. He felt like he would die after getting pinned into the ground once, but it seemed like that was only the beginning. Yeowun grabbed his hair again and Yumpa quickly shouted, “D-do you think Chun Yuchan will let you go free after doing this?!”

He had to hide the person behind all this, but he just spilled it. Of course, Yeowun already knew that Yumpa was working for Chun Yuchan.

“Chun Yuchan... will do what?”

Yumpa thought he had made a mistake in saying that, but it was too late. He now had to hope for Yeowun to be afraid of Yuchan. Chun Yuchan was one of the strongest cadets in the academy, so most of the cadets did fear him anyway. But...

“I don’t care.”

‘W...what?’

Yumpa’s plans were going south from the very beginning. It seemed he like he had made Yeowun angrier by saying this.

“Did you think I would get scared if you spoke of Chun Yuchan’s name?”

Suddenly, something popped up in Yumpa’s thoughts.

‘Wait... I heard Chun Yeowun destroyed all of Chun Jongsum’s bones.’

Chun Yeowun’s infamous action reached the climax when he took Chun Jongsum out. Yumpa then regretted saying Yuchan’s name. If Yeowun feared the other princes, he would not have done such a thing to Chun Jongsum.

“You should watch out for yourself first. And it doesn’t matter. He’s my next target anyway.”

“Huh? Next? Ah.... AAAAARGH!”

Yumpa’s head was thrown down again. It was the second time so maybe he would’ve gotten used to it, but that wasn't the case. Yumpa moaned with bubbles coming out of his mouth and soon passed out. At least Yeowun did it very carefully so he wouldn't crush Yumpa's head completely. Yeowun then looked down at Yumpa with a disgusted expression and shook his head. Ko Wanghur then walked up to him.

"Master, we've defeated everyone."

"Good."

The eleven cadets who were with Ha Ilming were all kneeling down behind Ko Wanghur. All of them were injured and shaking in fear. They didn't think things would come down to this just because of what happened last night.

"And Ha Ilming?"

"He's here."

Ko Wanghur pointed to a direction and Ha Ilming was kneeling down in front of Bakgi. He was glaring at Bakgi angrily.

'If my ribs were fine...!'

Ha Ilming thought he would not have lost that easily if his ribs were okay. But the fight was already over. Yeowun went over to Ha Ilming, looking down at him coldly.

"NNNGHH!"

Ha Ilming tried to say something, but his blood points had been sealed so he couldn't talk. Thus, he just moaned instead. Although he lost, he still resisted as best he could so he also had blood points sealed to make him immobile.

“What do you want? Should I let him talk?” Bakgi asked. Yeowun shook his head. He didn’t want to hear anything from him anyway.

“Then?”

“We pay him back the same way.”

‘Pay?’

Ha Ilming looked up at Yeowun with a puzzled expression. Yeowun then crouched to be on the same eye level with Ha Ilming and he grabbed his right hand.

‘W-what is he doing?!’

Ha Ilming’s eyes shook at the terrifying thought. Soon, it became a reality. Yeowun snapped his finger backwards.

“NNNNNNNNNGH!”

Ilming moaned and writhed in pain as his finger snapped backwards. Gallen and the other 12th group cadets also frowned at the sight. But this was only the start. Yeowun proceeded to break and snap all the fingers backward.

‘T-this crazy bastard!!’

It was so painful that Ha Ilming’s face turned beet red and veins popped out of his neck. His eyes were also red, but it was astounding that he didn’t cry from pain at least.

“Why? Is it painful?” Yeowun asked.

Ha Ilming stared daggers Yeowun even though he was in such pain.

‘How dare he say that when he just broke my fingers?!’

Yeowun did not care about how Ilming was glaring at him and continued.

“Ohjong probably experienced the same amount of pain. No... it must have been more painful for him.”

Ohjong’s fingers had been snapped while he got beat up. When Ohjong’s name came up, Ha Ilming’s members began to shake in fear.

‘D-dammit...’

Ha Ilming was busy fighting Bakgi at the time, but it was his members that beat up Ohjong and broke his fingers. It was now all coming back to them.

“I’m just paying you guys back the same way. You brought this upon yourself.”

“NNNNGH!”

‘BASTARD!!! I WILL KILL YOU!!!’

Ha Ilming was so much in pain, but he still didn’t cower. Yeowun then smiled and slapped Ilming.

“NGH!”

The slap had such power that it almost broke his neck. He couldn’t move his body so his head was thrown back along with his body, and that saved him. If he tried to resist against it, his neck bone would’ve broken as well. The slap was so powerful that it made Ha Ilming pass out and Yeowun got up and ordered his members.

“Cut their legs and snap all their fingers.”

Yeowun's words split the expressions between the two groups. Yeowun's members gleefully smiled for finally getting payback for what happened to Ohjong, and in contrast, Ha Ilming's members became pale.

'W-we are lucky...'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Gallen was relieved that he had made the right choice. If he had agreed to Yumpa's offer, he would have been in the same shoes. That seemed like a terrible end for greedily wanting a yellow tag.

That's when Ha Ilming's body began to move. It was strange. Veins began to pop up from underneath the skin, and Ha Ilming's rolled eyes began to turn red. After everything turned red, Ha Ilming roared like a beast and charged at Yeowun.

"Kaaaaaargh!"

"M-master!"

Hu Bong's scary warning spread across the mountain.

Chapter 76

Chapter 76: Pay it forward for more (2)

An hour had passed since then. In the space between the 3rd and 4th dormitory buildings, Chun Yuchan and his teammates were practicing the Sword Demon formation with the Seven Demon Sword.

The twelve members performed the fourth sword formation in unison. It was the same movement that looked like it was something, but it didn't seem to show any special powers or change.

'This is strange.'

Yuchan was confused. He did this with the latter part of the Seven Demon Sword book, but it was a bit weird. He couldn't conclude that it was due to his members not learning Seven Demon Sword skill since his teammates were all top-level warriors from the beginning, and they all learned the sword skill pretty quickly.

"What's the problem? Hmmm..."

"Should we move on?"

"Let's take a break. I think I should read the book in more detail."

He wanted to train the Sword Demon formation earlier than the other teams, but he was put to a stop from the beginning. As Yuchan's words, his teammates sat down and began wiping their sweat. Yuchan then called to a cadet who was watching instead of training with them. It was 100th cadet, Wu Gunpil. What was interesting here was that Gunpil had a yellow tag on his right chest.

“Yes, Prince.”

“What do you think? How did the sword formation look from the outside?”

“Don’t worry. You can tell me the truth.”

Yuchan assured him and Gunpil spoke carefully.

“...Honestly, it just looks like everyone doing the same formation at once. I have never seen the Sword Demon formation, but this probably isn’t it.”

“Right? This is weird... the book says...”

But before Yuchan could finish his words, a cadet shouted at him.

“Prince! Look!”

Twenty cadets were approaching them. Yuchan’s cadets got up. All the cadets who appeared at the empty lot were badly injured. What was interesting was that they all had another cadet on their backs. The one in the front seemed to have taken heavy injuries such that his face was covered in clothes, but it was all bloody and that made it look disgusting.

Chun Yuchan’s teammates formed a blockade so that they wouldn’t come any closer. After hearing the injured cadet’s voice, they let down their guard.

“It’s me, Yumpa.”

It was the 200th cadet, Yumpa. And behind him were Gallen and the former 12th group cadets. It seemed they had been in a serious fight.

“Yumpa?”

Yuchan then approached Yumpa with an interested look. Yumpa bowed.

“Prince, I have fulfilled my duty.”

Yumpa showed the yellow tag on his right chest.

Curious about what happened, Yuchan asked, “What happened? Who do you have on your back?”

Yumpa then placed the cadet on his back on the ground. When he saw the person’s face after they fell onto the ground, Yuchan became surprised.

“Ha Ilming?”

It was the 108th cadet, Ha Ilming. His face and skin had veins popping out, which looked really ugly.

“Ugh.”

Yuchan shook his head as he frowned. Starting with Yumpa, the 12th group members began putting down the cadets they had on their backs. Those who were put down were Yeowun’s seven members and Ha Ilming’s eleven members. The one Gallen put down had a heavily damaged face and his face so bloody that it was hard to tell who the person was.

“And who is this?”

Yuchan's mouth turned into a smile after hearing that.

"Chun Yeowun? What did you do to make him become like that?"

There was a hint of excitement in his voice as he asked that.

"...We might have lost if it wasn't for Ha Ilming."

Yumpa said in embarrassment. Yuchan didn't understand.

"What are you talking about?"

"If Ha Ilming did not learn the Demon Art of Blood Reversion, we would have lost."

"What?"

Yuchan was shocked. The Demon Art of Blood Reversion was an internal energy flowing skill that multiplied one's internal energy by reversing the blood flow. It looked good on paper, but it had a serious adverse effect: using it would destroy the user's blood points and take away their sanity. It was a forbidden martial art within the Demonic Cult because of its dangerousness.

"Hmph. He's crazy too then."

Yuchan looked down at Ha Ilming. If Ha Ilming had used the forbidden martial art, then it was easy to guess what had happened. He probably went berserk and attacked anyone in his way.

"Well, you did good work. Honestly speaking, I didn't expect much from you, but this is pretty good."

Yuchan complimented Yumpa for the first time. It was great that he had gotten a great victory. He was worried about Chun Yeowun after hearing that he had defeated the senior instructor.

“How about we cut his tendons before sending him to the medical room?”

Yuchan smiled brightly and walked over to Chun Yeowun. Cutting the tendons on his right wrist would be enough to prevent him from using sword skills for a while. Gallen then thought, ‘Is he trying to do that even in that state? He is terrifying.’

The blade qi shined in Yuchan’s right hand, and he smiled as he cut Yeowun’s right wrist.

“Haha, at least I don’t destroy internal energy like you did. You should thank me.”

He then looked at Yeowun’s face. Yuchan, who was excited just up until now, frowned immediately.

“...??”

He blinked his eyes, wondering if he had seen it wrong. He didn’t realize it when he first saw it, but looking at the face up close, it wasn’t Chun Yeowun. Yuchan then felt goosebumps on his skin and mumbled, “Yum...pa?”

And Yumpa’s voice came from behind.

“You’re too late.”

“What is...! ARGH!”

Yuchan tried to turn back, but his face was struck and his body was thrown far off to the side.

Chapter 77

Chapter 77: Pay it forward for more (3)

“Prince!”

It was too sudden. Chun Yuchan was thrown way off to the side and his members shouted in shock. They couldn't comprehend what had just happened. Yumpa quietly walked up to Yuchan's back and struck him, kicking Yuchan way back. Yuchan placed his hand on the ground and couldn't move. It seemed like he was in pain.

“Yumpa! What is the meaning of this!”

One of Yuchan's members, and another one with a yellow tag, Ou Jiran, shouted angrily. She had a long chin with lowered eyebrows gave one a gloomy impression of her. However, she was one of the top three female cadets along with Hou Sangwha.

“You've gone mad!”

Wu Gunpil also shouted and charged at Yumpa. Then, someone blocked him. A powerful energy-wielding fist crossed against Gunpil's arm pushed him back three steps. Gunpil was shocked to see the person standing in front of him.

The cadet had thick muscles and body that was twice as big as the other cadets. It was Ko Wanghur. He got up quickly from the ground to block him.

“What?! How did you...”

“It's time, friends.”

Ko Wanghur spoke to his members, not turning away from Gunpil. The cadets that were on the ground then got up as if they were fine.

“That was quick.”

“I thought we had to stay down for longer.”

“Well, the plan worked though.”

Chun Yuchan’s members were bewildered to see Yeowun’s members getting up and they became furious.

“Bastards!!!”

They now realized that they had been fooled. Yeowun’s members had blood and dirt all over them, but none of them were injured.

‘Wait, then what about the 12th group?’

Gunpil then turned to Gallen and the other 12th group cadets. They too had pulled out their wooden swords to fight against Yuchan’s group.

“Yumpa!! How dare you betray the Prince!” someone shouted angrily. It was another cadet who also had a yellow tag on his chest. He was Jin Yu from Power Fist Clan. He was also muscular, but he was a bit smaller than Ko Wanghur.

“Yumpa betrayed us!”

“Yumpa, you bastard...!”

Yuchan’s members all shouted furiously at Yumpa whose face was wrapped up with clothes. It seemed like they didn’t trust Yumpa that much from the beginning. Yumpa then shook his head.

“Hmph.”

Then “Yumpa” took the clothes off his face. Chun Yuchan’s members all frowned at the face that was revealed under it. The voice was the same as Yumpa’s, but the face inside was an entirely different person.

“Chun Yeowun!”

It was the 7th cadet, Chun Yeowun. Yeowun glanced around.

What had happened here? It was what happened after Yeowun defeated Ha Ilming who went berserk.

Ha Ilming charged at Yeowun like a beast.

“Monster!”

Ha Ilming unleashed a powerful attack with his fingers. His head was turning white, but he wanted to defeat Chun Yeowun before he lost his mind. Yet someone had kicked him away before he could even get to Yeowun.

It was Bakgi. Ha Ilming was so angry at Yeowun that he didn’t notice Bakgi on the side. Bakgi kicked him away since it was an emergency.

“Aaaaargh!”

“Huh?”

But this time, it was Bakgi who was thrown away. Ha Ilming’s increased internal energy had pushed Bakgi back.

‘You dare interfere with me again!’

Ha Ilming then became angry at Bakgi and turned to charge at Bakgi who had fallen down, but Yeowun did not let him do this.

“You stay here.”

He grabbed Ha Ilming’s right wrist and Ha Ilming was overconfident about his internal energy.

‘That won’t work this time!’

He attacked by multiplying his internal energy to 100% to fight back. But even then, Chun Yeowun’s ninety years worth of energy and physical strength that were strong enough to damage a blue pearl stone was not something that could be pushed back.

“Aaaargh!?”

Ha Ilming was thrown up in the air and was smashed to the ground by his wrist.

“Kaaaargh!”

Yeowun then quickly jumped on top of Ha Ilming and pounded his head. He was in too much of a hurry to overpower Ilming that he couldn’t control his power this time. Ha Ilming’s head was pushed down further than when he had pinned Yumpa.

‘Hope he didn’t die.’

At least he didn’t break the head. With the active Demon Art, it seemed like Ha Ilming’s body had become more powerful than normal.

“Grrrr...”

Ha Ilming’s head wasn’t destroyed, but with Yeowun’s fist pounding from above and his back slamming against the ground, it gave him a concussion and Ha Ilming passed out. His plan to strike from behind with the forbidden art had failed.

“Whew.”

Yeowun’s then told him that it was the Demon Art of Blood Reversion. Most of the clan members who were trained in their clans knew what had happened to Ha Ilming.

“It’s my first time seeing it.”

“But he learned forbidden art of the cult... he will be expelled,” Ko Wanghur said as he looked at Ha Ilming. It was a foolish choice as Ha Ilming should have just waited for a future chance to get his revenge.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“We’re done here.”

“We can now send them to the medical room.”

Ha Ilming and his members had their fingers snapped and right legs broken, so if they were not going to heal before the third test, they were going to be expelled.

“...It’s good that we avenged Ohjong, but it still doesn’t feel that great.”

Everyone knew what Hu Bong meant. The person who was behind all of this was still fine. It was terrifying for one man to place all of these people to play under his feet to seek the yellow tag.

Chapter 78

Chapter 78: Pay it forward for more (4)

“It’s irksome that we can’t do anything when we know the person behind all this.”

“Ugh...”

The cadets sighed with Hu Bong. Chun Yuchan was different from Ha Ilming or Yumpa. It was a known fact that Yuchan himself was at the top of the master level, and he also had three members who had entered the master level as well. Yuchan only recruited the finest warriors within the academy, so his forces were the best.

“It’s infuriating, but we are not ready to fight him.”

If Chun Yeowun and Yuchan were to fight, it wouldn’t end with a one-on-one fight. It was going to be a bloodbath between the two candidates with their forces.

“We need at least similar numbers and other powerful warriors like Bakgi if we decide to fight.”

Ja Wumin agreed with Ko Wanghur. Hou Sangwha then raised her eyebrows and mentioned, “If it is against early master levels, Ko Wanghur and I can defeat him together.”

Ko Wanghur and Hou Sangwha were on the verge of entering the master level. Given the right lessons, they were almost ready to shape the qi outside their bodies.

“If you lack in number, we’ll help.”

Gallen then offered to work together with them. Yeowun's members turned to the 12th group cadets who had proposed to aid them. If they joined forces, then they would outnumber Yuchan's team.

"Then can we actually deal with Chun Yuchan and the others who masters?" Yeowun asked.

Wanghur frowned, "Yes, but even if Master handles Chun Yuchan, one master warrior remains..."

"I will take them both."

"What?"

Everyone became shocked. Chun Yeowun had become very powerful, but fighting against two master level warriors, especially when one was in a fully established state, was too much. The instructors didn't use their own skills, but these enemies were going to use the best skills they had.

"I didn't say I will get them all at once."

"Then...?"

Yeowun then began explaining his plan. His members had weird expressions on their faces when they heard the plan. Even Ko Wanghur, who was the best tactician in the group, didn't seem to think it was possible.

'They will notice it when they hear the voice.'

How could they possibly fool them? Covering the face was the easy part, but the problem was the voice. Of course, if it was going to work, then it would make them vulnerable. An hour later, Yeowun really did fool them.

Yeowun’s members almost flinched when they heard Yeowun impersonating Yumpa’s voice.

‘What?!’

‘How did he do that?!’

Everyone was shocked to hear Yeowun’s amazing ability. They didn’t know how he did it, but his voice was exactly like Yumpa’s voice. This fooled everyone, including Chun Yuchan. Thankfully, it allowed Chun Yuchan to stay away from his group.

‘Nano, deactivate the voice mimicking.’

[Yes, Master.]

It was Nano’s ability. Nano worked on Yeowun’s vocal chords to make him sound exactly like Yumpa. Yeowun had learned this ability after checking what Nano could do when he was in the prison cave.

“Ah, ah. This isn’t my voice yet. Ah... ah... okay. Here we go.”

“W-what?!”

“His voice is changing!”

All the cadets, regardless of which side they were on, became shocked when they heard Yeowun’s voice changing from Yumpa’s to his own.

“That bastard learned some evil magic!”

Jin Yu became furious when he realized that they had been fooled by a voice and charged at Yeowun. The fist had a faint qi light, showing that his power had reached master level. Yeowun glared at him.

“Ji-Jin Yu! NO!”

Gunpil tried to stop him, but he was already in front of Yeowun. Chun Yeowun’s power was already within the top five out of all the cadets.

‘If he really is Chun Yeowun, then you are no match...’

He couldn’t say this out loud. Yeowun made a sword movement with his finger and easily blocked Jin Yu’s powerful fist attack.

‘How did he counter it so easily?!’

Yeowun reached out toward Jin Yu’s chest and snatched the yellow tag off his chest.

“I’m taking this.”

“B-bastard!”

Jin Yu gritted his teeth and put up his two fists, trying to pin Chun Yeowun down.

“DIE!”

Before his attack reached Yeowun, his chest was struck by Yeowun’s fist. It was just a simple jab, but his chest bones were fractured and he was pushed back about ten steps. If it wasn’t for his sturdy muscles that covered him like armor, he would have died.

“Argh...”

However, it seemed like he had taken some internal energy damage and coughed up blood. Since he was a master-level warrior, he didn't fall to one punch.

'He's stronger than Ha Ilming.'

After all, he was one of the talented cadets that Yuchan had chosen. He was too powerful for his members other than Bakgi to handle.

'I have to finish him before Yuchan recovers.'

Yeowun then tried to charge at Jin Yu to finish him, but that was when Nano's voice resounded in his head.

[Detected strong incoming energy source sixty meters behind the user.]

Yeowun then turned as he knew what the energy was and he shouted to all of his members and the 12th group cadets.

"GET DOWN!"

All cadets then got down on the ground without realizing why, and the white blade qi flashed passed them at once.

"W-what!"

"Qi?!"

They might have been all killed if it was too late. The blade qi flew straight at Chun Yeowun. White light followed Yeowun's finger in the shape of a sword. Using all his sword qi, Yeowun slashed down on the blade qi that was thrown at him.

Chapter 79

Chapter 79: Pay it forward for more (5)

The blade qi disappeared from the center where it was cut. The cadets who saw this were dumbfounded.

“H-he threw the blade qi!”

“He cut the qi!”

Throwing qi from a certain range required one to be at least a top master. To cut such qi, that also required an equal amount of strength. This exchange was way beyond the level of the ordinary cadets.

“Chun Yuchan.”

Yeowun glared at Chun Yuchan who was standing with the white light blade qi in his hand. Yuchan responded, “Oh, well. I wanted to pay you back with an ambush too. That didn’t work out so well.”

Chun Yuchan flexed his neck. He spoke as if it was nothing, but the powerful shock stunned him for quite a while up until now. The area still felt numb.

“You finally got back? That was slow.”

Yeowun provoked him and Yuchan frowned.

“So... you waited for me?”

“The first attack was just payback for playing tricks. I don’t want to hear people saying I won because I ambushed you.”

This was a fight between the heirs. Claiming victory after a surprise attack would surely not be favorable at all. Yuchan was confused by Yeowun's words.

"Hah! You are as arrogant as ever! You think you won by defending against my qi?"

Yuchan, however, was actually shocked that Yeowun had done it.

'...He grows way too fast.'

Yeowun was still very weak when Yuchan first met him in front of the private training room a few days ago, but this was more than what he had imagined. At this rate, he was going to surpass Yuchan himself.

'Should I have cut his arm then?'

Yuchan regretted that he didn't cut Yeowun's arm back then. That mistake had brought this onto him. Therefore, all he needed to do was one thing.

'I will take his arm before he grows stronger.'

Chun Yuchan then became serious and readied himself.

'His aura's changed.'

Yeowun also activated his internal energy to be ready. This was a fight between master-level warriors.

'The air changed.'

Ko Wanghur looked at both leaders. Their plan was to have Chun Yeowun fight Yuchan while Yeowun's members defeated Yuchan's members. However, this just became a duel between the leaders. If this was the case, all they had to do now was wait for Chun Yeowun to win.

‘Master, you have to win this or else you will lose the competition itself.’

All the cadets focused on the two leaders. They became anxious, hoping their leader would win. Chun Yuchan moved first.

He bolted out like lightning to close in on Chun Yeowun. It was faster than anything that the cadets had ever seen. Yuchan jumped up and unleashed the second formation of his blade skill, Blade of Illusion, the Giant Slash of the Illusive Blade.

“Hah!”

It was a simple strike down formation, but the power within it was massive. The power came down upon Yeowun would cleave him into two.

‘So, this is the blade skill of the Blade Clan!’

Right Guardian Submeng’s Butterfly Blade Dance was probably equal in strength. Yeowun hesitated, wondering if he should fight with a blade skill or a sword skill. He chose the latter.

‘I have to fight with all I have against an equally-matched opponent!’

Yeowun then gathered his fingers to unleash the sword qi. He had tried to brandish the qi over his wooden sword before, but the wood couldn’t endure the qi.

‘Sword?’

Yuchan was surprised to see Yeowun using a sword instead of a blade. He thought he had made a mistake when he saw Yeowun cutting his qi a while ago, but it was surely a sword.

Chun Yeowun's sword qi clashed with Yuchan's attack. Both qi struck against one another and let out a spark.

'What is he thinking?'

Yuchan narrowed his eyes. He expected something great when Yeowun did not use the Butterfly Blade Dance, but the sword movement was too simple. However, it was weird that these movements were very familiar.

'But my Blade of Illusion does not stop here!'

Yeowun thought he had countered Yuchan's attack when Yuchan's blade qi twisted in a weird way. Yeowun quickly used his qi to defend, but the energy pushed him back. He was pushed back about six steps. As Yeowun was pushed back, Yuchan's members shouted in excitement.

"Whoaaaaa!"

Yeowun's members turned grim. They didn't think Yuchan was this strong. They then thought that Yuchan was perhaps powerful enough to be accepted by Hou Jinchang also.

'He has a bit more internal energy than me,' Yeowun thought. With the Black Dragon Ball, Yuchan now had about a hundred years worth of internal energy.

'His formation is weird too.'

Yuchan's blade skill had odd attack angles. It was understandable as to why it was called Illusion. It was so weird that one would get fooled into looking elsewhere when fighting against it.

‘That right arm...’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yuchan’s right arm muscles were also developed. It was developed to use a blade in such a weird way.

“You are lucky. I was going to cut your arm with that.”

Yuchan smiled. He really would’ve achieved that with the previous attack if Yeowun had reacted a little slower. Yuchan then pointed at Yeowun with the hand that had the blade qi.

“Stop with that stupid sword skill and come at me with the Butterfly Blade Dance.”

“Stupid... sword skill?”

Chapter 80

Chapter 80: Pay it forward for more (6)

Yeowun raised his eyebrows as he was offended.

“You think I would not notice what sword skill you are using? Hahahaha!”

Yeowun frowned. He was using the sword movements of the counter sword skill that was left on the blue pearl stone pedestal. Did he recognize this? Yuchan shook his head and continued, “I guess you also mixed up the Seven Demon Sword like the instructors did, but that won’t work against me.”

Yeowun felt relieved after hearing that, but he was also dumbfounded. If Yuchan had mistaken the counter sword skill as the Seven Demon Sword, maybe that sword skill was left there by the Sword Demon.

“I’m warning you. Five formations.”

“What?”

“If you keep using the Seven Demon Sword, I will cut out your right arm within five formations. I’m fine with that, but I don’t like to hear that I won against a fool.”

Yuchan was repeating what Yeowun said at first. The counter sword movement that was left on the pedestal was very plain compared to the sword movement of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. Unless it was combined as one formation, its power didn’t come out easily either. It seemed like his sword movement was underestimated due to that reason.

Yeowun became silent for a second and spoke with a serious voice.

“You are confident. Then how about we place a bet?”

“A bet?”

“Yeah. Didn’t you say you could cut my arm in five formations?”

Yuchan became confused at the sudden offer of placing a bet.

‘What is he playing at?’

He was fooled once by the Yumpa trick, so he thought Yeowun had another one up his sleeve. But if he wanted to play tricks in front of all these cadets while dueling, that was going to discredit him as a candidate. Yuchan smiled.

“Let’s see what you have to say.”

“If I win, I will take all of your yellow tags.”

People began to mumble.

‘He’s gone mad!’

‘Give all his tags?! Dumb tricks!’

Yuchan’s team members were outraged. Wanting all those tags meant that Yeowun was basically telling them to give up on the third test. It was bound to make them mad.

“Hmph. So, that’s what you wanted?”

Yuchan shook his head. He had expected as such, and it seemed like Yeowun was telling him to finish this once and for all. Yuchan pondered on it for a while and then came up with an idea.

“Then I too will take your tag if I win. Since I have four tags and you have only one, I will take your servant, Bakgi, too.”

Yuchan seemed to be satisfied by his condition, and Bakgi was shocked. He didn't know Yuchan still hadn't given up on taking him in. Yuchan was very adamant on recruiting the right people.

“How's that?”

Bakgi frowned. If Yeowun lost here, then Bakgi would have no choice but to serve Yuchan.

‘Dammit! Are you really okay with this?!’

Bakgi looked at Yeowun's eyes. He looked to see if Yeowun was confident enough for this, but there was no fear or concern in his eyes. Bakgi then felt like he could trust him and nodded.

“Good. Then it sounds good enough.”

Yuchan was satisfied by the fact that he wouldn't lose anything. If Yeowun were to fight with the Seven Demon Sword again, then Yuchan was confident in slicing his arm in three formations, not five.

“Come. I will let you attack first this time.”

Yuchan spoke arrogantly. Yeowun, however, didn't seem to be provoked. He instead took a step forward coldly. Then he charged at Yuchan. The finger on his hand let out a white light, which was the sword qi. The plain sword movement was similar to the sixth sword of the Seven Demon Sword.

‘Fool. Your recklessness will lose you an arm, your servant, and your tag!’

Yuchan scoffed at Yeowun in his thoughts. He had read the Seven Demon Sword book tens of times to fight against the instructors. He knew the weak points like the backyard of his home.

“Hah!”

Yuchan then swirled the blade qi on his right hand and unleashed fourth blade formation of his Blade of Illusion. His blade stormed against Yeowun’s sword movement.

Both movements collided against one another, and Yuchan’s eyes began to shake.

‘W-what?! Is this really a Seven Demon Sword skill?’

Something unexpected began to happen. Chun Yeowun’s sword movement that started out plainly began to change. The simple sword movement began shifting in weird ways, changing into a powerful sword formation. The change was as if a stone had been thrown into a calm lake.

‘No... at this rate...! Argh!’

And starting from the fifth movement, it wasn’t something Yuchan could defend against anymore. His arms began to move frantically as he tried to defend himself against the onslaught of attacks. He tried to move onto the fifth formation to turn the situation around, but he couldn’t find any opening to do so.

“What!”

His hand was thrown back before he could even complete the blade movement. He then was sucked into the sword formation storm.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Uggggggh!”

Various sword formations shot past Yuchan. The sword qi struck his blood points, making blood pour out and Yuchan’s body was thrown from side to side. And as the finisher, when the twenty-fourth movement of the formation was about to cut Yuchan’s neck, Yeowun changed its direction.

“AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAARGH!”

Yuchan screamed in agony. Every cadet who was looking at it couldn’t help but stare dumbfoundedly.

Something dropped from the air, still squirming as if it was alive. It was Chun Yuchan’s right arm.

Chapter 81

Chapter 81: Pay it forward for more (7)

Cadets from Chun Yuchan's team were positive of their leader's victory. Unlike his usual lazy and casual attitude, Yuchan was the hard-working type. With his exceptional talent and hard work, his growth in strength far exceeded that of his peers. Every one of his teammates knew this and thus trusted him.

'He dares to fight against our Prince with the Seven Demon Sword?'

'No way, Prince Chun will lose.'

'Fool. You can't win.'

And the result of the fight was unexpected to say the least. As Chun Yeowun's sword qi shot past Yuchan, something dropped onto the ground. It was Yuchan's right arm.

"Aaaaaaaaargh!"

Yuchan screamed and fell down to his knees. He endured the severe pain that made him feel like he would pass out to keep the last of his last pride, but he was in a very bad state.

"I won," Yeowun stated as he looked down at Yuchan.

'N-no way!'

'How did he lose?'

'Impossible!'

Yuchan lost his arm after just one formation exchange. And Yeowun twisted the direction of the sword that was originally going toward Yuchan's neck, so Yeowun actually even spared his life.

"Aargh...!"

Blood gushed out from the wound where the arm had been cut off. Yuchan's face began to go pale. He quickly pressed his blood points to keep the blood loss to a minimum, but he was in serious condition and he needed immediate medical attention.

"Prince!"

Wu Gunpil and the other members on Yuchan's team tried to run up to him, but they had to stop as Yeowun's sword qi aimed at Yuchan's another arm.

"Y-you!"

"Stop. You take one more step, and I'll cut his other arm off too."

"N-no!"

It looked like Yeowun would really do it. He had done a lot of wicked things in the past, so it didn't seem like Yeowun was bluffing.

'H-he might really do it!'

Yuchan's members then backed away.

"Now. Keep the promise."

Yeowun looked down at Yuchan's pale face. Yuchan then looked up with a painful expression, unable to comprehend what had just happened.

“...What did you just do?”

“Do what?”

“How can you make such a powerful formation with the mere Seven Demon Sword?”

Although the Seven Demon Sword was from the legendary Sword Demon, it was still only a top-class martial art. Yeowun's sword formation was beyond what that sword skill could do. The Blade of Illusion skill, one of the top three blade skills in the cult was no match against it.

“Mere... Seven Demon Sword?”

“...Yeah!”

“If that's how you saw it, then you have a long way to go before talking about the formation.”

Yuchan was baffled. Yeowun just spoke to him the same way that Yuchan once spoke to Yeowun back in the day. Of course, Yuchan really didn't comprehend the counter sword skill left by the Sword Demon. Yuchan became bitter.

‘...I tried hard to become the heir.’

It was now all gone. He lost to Yeowun when he had both arms and now only his left arm was left. Moreover, he had trained the blade skill with his right arm mainly, so this meant he was now considerably weaker. There was no way he could compete against Chun Kungwun from the Sword Clan either. Yuchan then became angry. Yuchan gritted his teeth and ordered, “...Give him all the yellow tags.”

Yuchan's members turned grim. If they gave these up, then they would also lose the right to take the third test. Yet, Chun Yuchan had made a promise so they had to keep it.

"Chun Yeowun... ugh... don't think... this is the end..."

Yuchan then fell due to loss of blood. He did lose and he lost a lot of things he had, but he still hadn't given up yet. This gave hope to his members too.

"Hmph!"

Wu Gunpil took his yellow tag and handed it over to Yeowun while glaring at him. Gunpil then warned, "Don't think this is..."

Before he could finish, Yeowun's fist struck his stomach.

"AAARGH!"

Gunpil spat out blood and fell to the ground in pain. He panted as if he couldn't breathe and looked up weakly.

"Argh... WW-what is this... we kept the promise!"

"I didn't promise to stop after getting the tags."

"what?"

Gunpil was shocked. Yeowun then looked at Yuchan and said, "I learned a good lesson from him. Uh... what was it? Never leave any loose ends?"

Gunpil felt a chill run down his spine. Yeowun was talking about Chun Yuchan cutting the muscles of the fake Chun Yeowun. He was basically saying that he was going to get rid of Yuchan's members too.

“You are an evil man... we lost but you still... UGH!”

Yeowun punched his face before he could finish, making him pass out. Yeowun then glared disgustingly at Gunpil.

“You can do it, but I can’t? And that makes ME evil? Don’t give me that bullshit.”

Yuchan’s members then realized things weren’t going well and prepared to defend themselves. Yeowun shouted to his members, “Defeat them and break their arms and legs!”

“Yes!”

Yeowun’s members and the cadets from the 12th group immediately charged in.

“D-dammit!”

This was the worst-case scenario for Yuchan’s team. Their best warriors, Yuchan and Gunpil, were gone and Jin Yu also was in bad shape since he had taken internal damage from his exchange with Yeowun a while ago.

‘Dammit! I can’t do this alone! We’re done for!’

The only remaining master-level warrior Ou Jiran gritted her teeth. They were badly outnumbered too. And after a few minutes, it was almost over. All the members on Yuchan’s team were subdued except three or four who ran away when the fight began. Yeowun did not go after them since they weren’t that loyal.

“AAAARGH!”

“MY LEG!”

The screams continued as Yeowun and his members broke the arms and legs of Yuchan's members. They didn't leave Ou Jiran, a girl cadet, out either.

'Aaaaaaargh!'

'We never should try to fight him anymore!'

Yuchan's members lost all will to resist their fear, after their arms and legs were broken. When everything was over, Yeowun called Gallen who was trying to send all the defeated enemies to the medical room. Yeowun then gave him two yellow tags.

"Take them."

"T-this is..."

Gallen was shocked. He didn't think Yeowun would give him the yellow tags.

"Why?"

He and his group had taken part in attacking Bakgi last night, so he didn't wish to receive any tags. He just wanted to take part in getting revenge against Chun Yuchan.

"These tags don't mean anything to me."

Yeowun now had a total of six yellow tags. One from Hou Jinchang, one from Ha Ilming, and four from Chun Yuchan. Gallen was astonished.

'He can still keep it to lessen the competition and he still decides to give them away... this guy is different.'

Gallen and the 12th group cadets were impressed. Gallen then hesitated.

‘We are now officially enemies of the Blade Clan. Maybe it would be better for us to help Prince Chun Yeowun become the heir.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Ko Wanghur noticed Gallen’s hesitation and became intrigued. It was Wanghur who told Yeowun to give the yellow tags up. It was to make more allies in the upcoming competition.

‘Let’s hope it works.’

Gallen and the cadets looked at Yeowun with respect and admiration. But this wasn’t enough. And did it work? All nineteen cadets including Gallen knelt down.

“What is this?” Yeowun asked calmly. Gallen and his cadets then put their head to the ground and shouted, “We want to pledge our allegiance to Prince Chun! Please accept us!”

A faint smile appeared on Yeowun’s face.

Chapter 82: Get in line (1)

“My arm!”

“M-my bone is poking out from my leg!”

The medical room was busier than normal. It was still a few days away from the third test, but there were many patients, and one man was very happy about this.

‘Thanks, Yeowun!’

It was quite boring after Yeowun was sent to the prison cave, but he was now sending more patients right after his release. There were so many patients that the doctor had to choose which one to look after first. Doctor Baek Jongmeng felt like he was in paradise.

“I’ll go with you first.”

It was Chun Yuchan. He needed immediate attention as his wound had only been tied up to stop the blood. As Jongmeng tended to the wound while grinning, and Instructor Simong frowned.

‘...I thought he was weird, but how can he grin at the wounded students?’

Simong then looked away with disgust. There were instructors here in the medical room as there were too many patients that Jongmeng alone could not handle them all. There was one more happy in the room. It was Ohjong who was from Yeowun’s team.

‘Master!’

Ohjong, who woke up around noon, was angry that he had lost the yellow tag. He was also concerned about what Yeowun would think of him. However, all of his concerns disappeared immediately.

‘Hah!’

He had to hold back from bursting out in laughter. His anger was quenched when he saw Ha Ilming and his members along with Yuchan and his members being carried in with heavy injuries.

‘Master, I will serve you forever!’ Ohjong thought. He then heard the instructors amongst themselves.

“He really is different. It was just yesterday when I took him into this room with internal damage.”

An instructor who looked like he was in his early thirties spoke. It was Hien Yun, the youngest instructor. He was the instructor who took Yeowun into the medical room after the first test. He never guessed that Yeowun would become so strong after such a short amount of time.

“Who would’ve known?” Simong shook his head. He was beyond shocked when he heard that Yeowun had made Hou Jinchang fall to his knees after just one formation. He didn’t even care to watch the fight since he thought that Yeowun would lose, but the outcome was unexpected.

“Nobody can guess the outcome of this competition.”

Chun Yuchan, one of two most likely candidates, was now out of the competition. He didn’t have his internal power damaged like Chun Jongsum, but Chun Yuchan would’ve definitely passed the third test.

“Well, we might see some very unexpected events this time around.”

Heirship Competition. This was the sole interest that everyone had as this was directly connected to the future of the cult.

There was one person who wasn't in the medical room however. It was the 108th cadet, Ha Ilming, who was taken into another room on the way. He was in the Chief of the Demonic Academy's office.

“Hmm.”

Left Guardian Lee Hameng moaned as he looked down at the naked Ha Ilming laid down in front of him. All of Ha Ilming's skin had veins popping out eerily. This only happened when blood flowed backward.

“This is Blood Flow Reversion for sure.”

The veins usually went down if flow returned to normal, but Ha Ilming had passed out before he could even do that. Hameng looked down at Ha Ilming with a serious look on his face and placed his hand on two blood points.

Hameng's hand glowed and the light was absorbed into Ha Ilming's body. Soon, Ha Ilming's body began to flinch and the veins began to squirm. Soon, it went down as the blood flow returned to normal. The skin also turned normal and Ha Ilming suddenly woke up and coughed.

“Aaaarg.... Ugh... Nngh...”

Ha Ilming coughed for quite a long time and looked down at himself.

“...Why am I naked?”

“That’s not the important issue here.”

“Huh?”

Ha Ilming looked up and saw a fiery red-haired man sitting next to him.

“C-chief!”

Ha Ilming got up immediately. Ilming wasn’t sure why he was here since he had been fighting with Yeowun as far as he remembered. He then felt a serious headache and remembered Yeowun’s fist crushing his head before he passed out.

“Why am I here?”

“I’m the one who’s asking the questions.”

“H-huh?”

“How did you learn the Blood Flow Reversion?”

Ha Ilming was then shocked. He looked down at himself, but he didn’t see the veins. Then how did Lee Hameng find out about this?

“I-i... don’t know what you are talking about.”

“Hmph.”

Lee Hameng sighed. He then gestured his hand to hold up something, and a powerful invisible force threw Ha Ilming up into the air.

“HuuuuH?!”

Ha Ilming tried to fight it with his power, but the difference in power was too great for Ha Ilming to resist.

“C-chief! What is the meaning of this!”

“Hmph.”

Hameng then flicked his finger, twisting Ha Ilming’s left arm like a rag doll in a weird way.

“AAAAAAAAAAAAARGH!”

Ha Ilming screamed, but the screaming didn’t leave the office since the entire office was covered with Lee Hameng’s energy.

“108th cadet, Ha Ilming of the Red Martial Sword Clan. Not affiliated with any other clan officially. This is what you wrote down when you registered.”

Ha Ilming closed his mouth. With his Blood Reversion Art revealed, he couldn’t spill any more.

“You think you can keep it from me? You think you will walk out safely with this forbidden art? Who did you learn it from?”

“ ... ”

The art of Blood Flow Reversion was forbidden and had most of the books had been destroyed. If Ha Ilming, a seventeen-year-old boy, learned that art that had been removed tens of years ago, then it meant that someone had taught him.

“If you don’t speak, then your entire clan will suffer the consequences.”

It was likely that the Red Martial Sword Clan will be searched for any evidence regarding the forbidden art anyway. Ha Ilming did not speak even after such a threat.

“So you want your clan to come to its demise? Foolish.”

Hameng snapped, and this time, Ilming’s right leg was twisted weirdly.

“Aaaargh!”

Ha Ilming screamed in pain and Lee Hameng walked up to him. He then grabbed Ilming’s chin and glared at him.

“I am the Left Guardian of the cult. Do you think I wouldn’t know about the Red Martial Sword Clan, one of two Shadow Sword groups of the Sword Clan?”

‘...Dammit.’

Ha Ilming frowned. Lee Hameng almost smiled, but Ha Ilming suddenly chewed on something and blood seeped out from his mouth.

“No!”

He bit his tongue to kill himself. Hameng tried to open his mouth forcefully, but Ha Ilming also reversed his internal energy which was also an act of suicide.

‘To die as a dog of that cursed clan...!’

Ha Ilming’s eyes were full of anger as died. Hameng tried to calm his energy down in order to keep him alive, but there was no use. Ha Ilming shivered and soon died.

‘Hmph... so there will be no loose ends.’

Hameng sighed and began writing something down on the paper.

At dinner time, there were fifty or so cadets waiting outside the cafeteria. Then they shouted at a cadet walking up to the dormitory.

“There he is!”

The cadets then began to mumble.

“He’s here!”

“Prince Chun Yeowun!”

The cadets all moaned in astonishment as Yeowun began walking down with over twenty-five cadets behind him.

“I-I’m first!”

“NO! Stay in line!”

“Who cares! Prince!”

The cadets then began to rush over to Yeowun.

“Huh?”

Yeowun and his members became surprised. All these cadets then came up to them so Hu Bong and the other members blocked them from coming near Yeowun.

“Move! I want to talk to the Prince!”

“Prince Chun!”

“Please give me time to talk!”

“I’m first!”

They began to argue with themselves over who could talk to Yeowun first. As the cadets tried to rush in, Hu Bong flushed red with frustration and shouted.

“Aargh! GET IN LINE!!!!”

Chapter 83: Get in line (2)

‘Huh?’

‘Who is that?’

The cadets all became silent when Hu Bong started shouting. He turned red when everyone placed their attention on him but Hu Bong still continued speaking.

“If you want to speak to my master, get in line in the order you arrived!”

The cadets then began to form a line in embarrassment. Hu Bong was quite talented in taking control over awkward situations. Ko Wanghur and Ja Wumin smiled. Hu Bong did this before too without him realizing that he could handle this sort of stuff well.

“All these people... you think it’s to join the team?” Wumin asked.

Ko Wanghur nodded. These fifty cadets were unlike the number they had ever seen until now. It seemed most of the leaderless cadets had come.

‘Rumors spread fast.’

Wanghur’s guess was accurate. With the lessened cadet members, everyone knew what the others were doing and so these kinds of rumors spread fast. Everyone knew that Chun Yuchan had lost.

‘He even broke the arms and legs of the 5th cadet’s members!’

‘That means he won the competition against Chun Yuchan!’

‘Wait, doesn’t it mean Chun Yeowun has won everything this time?’

The rumor was now very different. Chun Yeowun had proved himself many times and was now being considered as a possible candidate to the heir. The cadet at the very front knelt down on both knees and shouted toward Yeowun.

“Prince Chun! I am the 71st cadet Uhm Subjung! I want to help!”

‘He went down on his knees?’

Cadets in the back were shocked. With the first one kneeling down, the other cadets began to kneel and voiced their will to join. But not all of them here were here to join Yeowun’s group. Some cadets had just come to see if there were any spots left for them as they heard that Yeowun now had a total of six yellow tags. Chun Yeowun frowned.

‘Is it them?’

This rumor was spread by Chun Yuchan’s members who had fled the fight. Today was the last day for the team leaders to be assigned so they spread the rumor to target Chun Yeowun. Contrary to their expectations, people were begging to be taken into Yeowun’s group. It took a while for all fifty cadets to say their names and their intentions.

The sun went down and it was already night. There weren’t enough spots for everyone and Yeowun’s only intention was to bring in members that would stay with him forever. Yeowun spoke to them politely.

“I want to thank you all for wanting to join my team, but I have something I want to tell you all first.”

Yeowun then began explaining, just like when Ko Wanghur and the others first came to him. He only wanted people that would join him for future battles, not just the test.

“...So, I want people who will lead the new Demonic Cult with me. We will walk together on this treacherous path. If you are not willing, I am sorry but I will have to reject your offer.”

Yeowun bowed in the end. The cadets then began to mumble to themselves and they began to leave one by one. Those cadets who just wanted to join for the test left without hesitation. Unlike what was expected in the beginning, not that many decided to leave. A total of twenty-six cadets still stayed behind.

508th cadet Yu Paran who knelt on one knee bowed to speak.

“I wanted to join at first just for the test, but I changed my mind after listening to you. Please take me in.”

And it wasn't only Yu Paran. A total of eight cadets changed their minds after listening to Yeowun.

‘God... is that Mun Ku?’

Ja Wumin was shocked to see one of the remaining cadets. It was 408th cadet Mun Ku who was from the Dragon Fist Clan. Mun Ku was the leader of the group that Ja Wumin was in during the 2nd test, so he knew him. He didn't know that Mun Ku was here as he silently stayed in the middle of the other cadets.

‘Why is he here?’

Mun Ku was one of the top ten powerful cadets in the academy.

‘Why doesn’t he have a yellow tag?’

This didn’t make sense. Mun Ku was already an experienced master level warrior who should have gotten a yellow tag. Mun Ku then came up to Yeowun and asked, “Prince Chun, can I speak to you?”

‘Mun Ku?’

Yeowun had also noticed him during one of the tests, so knew who he was. However, Mun Ku was limping when he got up.

“You have six tags, right?”

Yeowun nodded. Mun Ku then raised his eyebrows and spoke with anger and bitterness.

Yeowun frowned at such a weird claim. Mun Ku continued, “My tag was taken by Chun Yuchan of the Blade Clan.”

Mun Ku then began to explain what had happened to him. He had taken the yellow tag on the third day, but Yuchan came to him and told him to join his group.

‘I’m sorry. I don’t side with anyone.’

Mun Ku refused but Yuchan approached him two more times to ask him to join. Mun Ku still declined the offer.

“He then asked me to duel.”

Yuchan insisted and didn't back down, and at last Mun Ku lost the duel. Yuchan broke his left leg and right arm and threatened him to join Yuchan's team if he didn't want to fail the test.

"Mad bastard."

Bakgi spat as he listened to Mun Ku's story.

"I was going to get revenge on him after I joined some other group and... and..."

Mun Ku teared up.

"No one wants me with my broken arm and leg!"

He thought he would be able to join the others since he was still a master-level warrior, but the other group leaders refused him coldly, saying that Mun Ku would need to heal first.

"One group accepted me, but I was cast out after an hour. I later found out that Chun Yuchan sent one of his men to tell other groups to not take me in."

Mun Ku then became angry at someone for the first time in his life.

"So, I wanted to get revenge as soon as I healed up... I didn't care about the third test anymore... and that's when I heard what you did."

Mun Ku was able to hear Chun Yuchan's downfall just one minute after his decision.

"I'm not sure if I have the right to be happy though."

He felt good that Chun Yuchan was in pain, but it didn't feel like he had fulfilled his wish since he couldn't do it on his own. Mun Ku sighed and looked up at Yeowun.

"So, with that said, I want you to take me in."

"Huh?"

Yeowun frowned. He understood Mun Ku was in a bad spot, but what was this about? Mun Ku then knelt down with his limp legs.

"...I'm sorry. My depression made me say weird things. I am just asking you to take me in... not judging me by my broken arm and leg."

Mun Ku was here to meet Yeowun as his last resort. If Yeowun did not take him in, then Mun Ku had no way but to fail the third test. Ja Wumin then sent a telepathic message to Yeowun.

[M-master! You must take in Mun Ku!]

Yeowun became curious and Wumin sent him another message.

[Mun Ku is the grandson of the 9th Elder, Mun Yun! One of twelve elders of our cult!]

Chapter 84: Learn the Seven Demon Sword (1)

Excluding the Lord, elders in the Cult were second to none in terms of rank within the Demonic Cult. There was a total of twelve elders, and powerful warriors or leaders of powerful clans were chosen to be elders. There were some exceptions, especially from first to sixth elder spot. These spots were passed down within the six clans. However, that didn't mean that those elders were weak. The six clans always competed to give birth to a new Lord, so they were always more powerful than most.

Other than those six elders, the other six leaders were those who were chosen to be leaders because of their own power.

9th Elder Mun Yun was a member of the high-ranked clan called the Dragon Fist Clan. He had served in the past Demon-Justice War and achieved many feats which allowed him to become an elder. Mun Yun then supported his clan to become a powerful clan which was almost as powerful as the six clans themselves. Thus, all six heirs asked the Dragon Fist Clan first.

Chun Kungwun of the Sword Clan, Chun Wonryou of the Lust Clan, Mukeum of the Loyal Clan, and Yuchan all contacted Mun Ku multiple times right after the first test, but Mun Ku declined every offer. This was to not side with any of the clans for the upcoming competition since the Dragon Fist Clan did not want to fight against any of the clans by siding with another. Mun Ku had joined the academy to increase his power and prove himself.

This was why Ja Wumin insisted on telling Yeowun to take Mun Ku in.

‘Hmm...’

Mun Ku had potential, but Yeowun wanted members, not just power. From the way he talked, it seemed like Mun Ku was offering to join for the test only.

“Are you saying you will side with me? Or do you just want in as a group member?”

Mun Ku hesitated. He tried explaining his story to get in without mentioning his intention, but he didn’t expect Yeowun to ask him directly again.

‘Ku. You must stay neutral even in the academy. However, we as humans might change our minds. If you find someone you really want to serve, then take a good look at him and judge carefully.”

That’s what his grandfather told him before. If Mun Ku were to serve Yeowun, then he wanted to know more. However, he still needed a group leader to not fail the test. Mun Ku thought for a second and said, “Hmm... Prince, can I think about joining you after I join the team first? It won’t take long.”

It sounded like Mun Ku wanted to solve the problem first and think later. Yeowun shook his head. If he allowed this to happen, then he would have accepted every other cadet.

“Really? Then I refuse.”

“Huh?”

Mun Ku became shocked. He didn't think Yeowun would refuse right at that moment. Ja Wumin was also shocked and quickly ran up to Yeowun.

"M-master. He has gone through some tough times. Why don't you think about it?"

He then sent a telepathic message to persuade Yeowun.

[Master! We will regret it if we don't take someone like Mun Ku! Every prince wants him!]

It would be easier to persuade Mun Ku after letting him join. Ko Wanghur also seemed to agree with the idea and sent a message.

[Master, if a group leader level cadet knelt down, then it is likely he will join us for the greater cause. Maybe we should make an exception and...]

Yeowun shook his head.

"I cannot make an exception for any circumstances."

Yeowun's choice was correct. He had to stand by his words that he had said in front of everyone.

'No...!'

Mun Ku started to panic. He limped over to Yeowun and begged him.

"P-prince. Can you give me at least three days then?"

"No."

"No? T-then how about two days? I need some time to think..."

Yeowun frowned. He had refused, but why did he want to join him so much? It seemed weird that a grandson of an elder was begging to join him.

“Why do you want to join my team?”

“That’s...”

Yeowun ordered Nano.

‘Nano, analyze the facial muscles.’

[Analyzing...]

Yeowun then saw Augmented Reality activating through his eyes. The white lines locked onto Mun Ku’s face as Mun Ku began to speak.

“That’s... because I want to see what kind of man you are for a bit longer.”

His eyes did not lie. However, the result that came was unexpected.

[Error.]

The white light turned red across Mun Ku’s face.

‘What’s going on?’

[Cannot analyze the entity.]

‘Why?’

[Entity’s facial surface has been covered by artificial leather, thus concealing the muscles.]

The white line then drew a circle at the back of Mun Ku's face and zoomed in so Yeowun could see it closely. The skin was a bit different at the back of the ears with faint lines.

'Is that an Artificial Facial Mask?'

Artificial Facial Masks were created by the leather of animal or by using real human skin to create another face to wear over one's face. It was created with such expertise that not even experienced warriors could notice it. However, it was easy for Nano to see through it. Creating such a mask required a high experience skill and there only three were people known to be able to create it in all of Wulin. One of them was the 12th Elder, Huan Yi, or the Thousand Faces.

'Why did he hide his face?'

Yeowun then became more suspicious of Mun Ku. That's when Nano's voice rang inside Yeowun's head.

[Analyzing the body. The entity has been identified to be a female aged fifteen to seventeen years old.]

'What? A girl?'

Yeowun's eyes widened. So, it was actually a girl who was hiding under a boy's mask. Mun Ku did talk a bit like a girl, but it didn't seem to be out of place.

'What is he doing?'

Mun Ku was confused as Yeowun kept on looking at her. Not to mention, Yeowun was looking at her neck and ears.

'Is he? ...no. That's not possible.'

Even Left Guardian Lee Hameng did not know that she was wearing a mask, so there was no way Yeowun would be able to recognize her. Yeowun then mumbled with a confused expression, You... a girl..."

'Hiiiek!'

Mun Ku then flushed red and frantically bowed and shouted, "I- I WANT TO JOIN, YOU PRINCE! I DIDN'T NEED TO THINK! PLEASE TAKE ME IN!!!"

'Huh?'

The cadets were bewildered by the sudden change of thought. Mun Ku's eyes teared up as she looked at Yeowun. He was curious as to why she wanted to hide her gender so badly, even to the point where she needed to change her stance of needing more time.

[I-I will explain later in private.]

Yeowun sighed at Mun Ku's message and nodded. Ja Wumin smiled with excitement. He didn't want to lose a talented individual like Mun Ku.

"Mun Ku! Long time no see!"

"Y-yeah, long time no see, Wumin."

Mun Ku replied to Ja Wumin, but she didn't feel so good for Yeowun realizing something that she had kept a secret for a long time.

"Welcome. I am Ko Wanghur."

"I'm Bakgi."

"I'm Hu Bong."

Yeowun's members welcomed Mun Ku wholeheartedly. There were other members who joined also. With twenty-six new cadets, Chun Yeowun's group was the largest force in the academy, with a total number of fifty-three members.

'I have a lot now.'

He needed to form a new group now.

"We will need to form a new group with this many people. The ones I list off will be a group leader."

"Yes, sir!"

The cadets were intrigued. Yeowun's decision here meant that those people were Yeowun's trusted servants.

"First, Ko Wanghur."

"Yes, Master."

"Second, Bakgi."

Bakgi was a powerful warrior. Yeowun thought about giving Bakgi rough cadets who could be unruly at times, but Bakgi was definitely qualified to handle them.

"Third, Hou Sangwha."

"Yes, Master!"

"Take care of the girl cadets."

From thinking about the group training or dormitories, Yeowun thought that girls needed to be with girls and Hou Sangwha was the best within the girl group. Now, two tags were left.

“Next, Gallen.”

“Huh?”

“You lead one of the groups too.”

Yeowun gave Gallen a tag because the former 12th group cadets followed Gallen’s words more than anyone else.

“Thank you. I will do my best.”

Gallen, who didn’t think he would have such a chance, bowed to Yeowun.

“Lastly...

Yeowun turned to Hu Bong. New members became confused as none of them thought Hu Bong would be a leader. But the original seven members knew Hu Bong for his loyalty so they didn’t think it was strange. But Hu Bong shouted before Yeowun could speak.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Master! I need to stay by your side at all times!”

“I see.”

The last tag then went to Ja Wumin. There were more powerful warriors here like Yu Paran, but they hadn’t won Yeowun’s trust yet.

After forming a new team and eating dinner, Yeowun met with Mun Ku alone at the back of the training room building. Mun Ku was red from embarrassment.

“Why did you hide the fact that you are a woman?”

Chapter 85

Chapter 85: Learn the Seven Demon Sword (2)

'I put a decent amount of effort into this one. It's one of my masterpieces. You can use it for at least five years if you take care of it.'

It was what 12th Elder Huan Yi said to her when he gave it to her. It was created from pigskin and other various materials made to withstand against most shocks. It even changed the color of the skin when Huan Yi worked on his magic on it. She needed to take it off every day to let the air flow through and it required new glue, but Mun Ku gladly took it.

'How did he find out?! You told me nobody would ever find out about it!'

Huan Yi claimed that no one would be able to realize that it was a mask. Yet Yeowun saw right through it and even found out that she was a girl.

'Should I say that I am too ugly so I had to hide my face...? No, that's too dumb.'

That excuse didn't explain why she had to hide her gender. From what she experienced, Chun Yeowun didn't seem like the type to trust others easily.

Her face turned from one to another with various expressions and she soon became depressed and Yeowun frowned. Mun Ku emotions were obvious on her face, much like Hu Bong. Mun Ku then looked up to Yeowun with begging eyes.

“Prince! Please don’t tell anyone about this!”

“...It’s not like you will be kicked out if the others know. Why are you hiding it?”

The Demonic Cult valued strength. It did not matter if the one who held the strength was a boy or a girl.

“Do you have a scar on your face? Or are you too ugly or something?”

“...”

Mun Ku became dumbfounded. She thought Yeowun would not believe such excuses, but since he asked so seriously, it seemed like Yeowun thought it was a plausible reason. Mun Ku sighed, “Whew... Prince, promise me.”

“Promise?”

“That you will never tell this to anyone! Ever!”

“...Okay.”

Yeowun answered hesitantly. Mun Ku then leaned back against the building wall with her limp leg and started talking.

“This face is the face of my twin brother.”

“What?”

Mun Ku was a twin. She had a brother named Mun Yu who was the future leader of her clan. Their father, Mun Sung, was killed right before the twins were born by the Evil Forces. After experiencing such shock, their mother had trouble giving birth.

“Mother died while my giving birth to my brother.”

‘Ah...’

Yeowun realized she had been raised without her parents. Yeowun felt more sympathetic as he too had no parents.

“My brother was always weak since he wasn’t given a proper birth.”

Unlike Mun Ku, who came out first normally, Mun Yu was born with a defect of being mentally ill. It was very shocking for Mun Yun who just lost his son. He now had a mentally ill grandson who was the only one who could succeed the family. It was unfortunate for the Dragon Fist Clan who always had a male to lead the family.

Mun Yun then hid the fact that his grandson was mentally ill. He tried very hard to heal his grandson, but nothing worked.

“Grandfather was very sad.”

He barely made his clan powerful like that of the six clans, but no one could succeed him. Unlike Mun Yu, Mun Ku’s talent at martial arts was astounding. She had reached the master level just when she was just sixteen, and Mun Yun was glad and sad at the same time.

“And that’s when the time to join the academy came closer.”

Mun Yun hesitated. All clans were required to send students to join the academy, but he couldn’t send Mun Yu, who could barely speak. If he sent his granddaughter instead, that was same as saying that his grandson had a problem.

“Is there a reason for not revealing your brother’s sickness?” Yeowun asked since he was confused. In his opinion, the problem was going to be revealed sooner or later anyway.

“...All six clans want to take our clan under their wing.”

The six clans were always competing with equal power between them. The Wise Clan was the strongest at the moment, but having the Dragon Fist Clan would be enough to turn the tide.

“They always ask us, and if they realize what happened to us... Ugh.”

Mun Ku scowled. If the Dragon Fist Clan’s only successor was mentally ill, it would be easy to take the entire clan under them by marrying Mun Ku off instead.

‘I see.’

Yeowun nodded understandingly.

“So, grandfather declared to be neutral to protect our clan.”

The 9th Elder wanted to keep his clan from being absorbed into one of the six clans. Mun Ku then gave him a surprising idea.

“I told him I would join the academy as a male student.”

She also knew about the situation of her clan, so she decided to join the academy in place of her brother.

“If I pretend like I’m my brother and do well at the academy, the six clans won’t try to play tricks on us at least.”

Mun Yun did not want it at first. But he soon asked his friend, and the only one who knows about the details of his clan, 12th Elder Huan Yi to make her a mask, and that's how she was here now.

However, the thing was that she did not use her brother's name. This was as a precaution just in case her gender was revealed so that her clan or her brother would not take the blame.

'So, this was what happened.'

Yeowun then lost all suspicion he had of her. For the first time, he fully understood another person's problem.

'He's very serious.'

Mun Ku grinned at Yeowun, who was seriously listening to her story.

"I guess that explains my mask?"

Yeowun nodded. Mun Ku too, felt a bit relieved after telling her secret to someone. She then emphasized it again.

"Prince, you really have to keep this a secret."

"...Yeah."

"You have to keep it! Please!"

Mun Ku had a very girlish accent, but she had a boy's face and voice.

"Did you change your voice too?"

Mun Ku intentionally spoke with a hoarser voice to mimic a boy's voice. She smiled and changed her voice to a higher and smoother voice.

“Of course. I can’t let anyone know, you know?”

Yeowun was surprised. That was definitely a girl’s voice.

“But making this boy voice makes my throat dry.”

That’s why Mun Ku did not speak much if she could.

“It’s much better to speak in my own voice. Heh.”

She smiled and Yeowun also smiled back.

“Huh? OH no!”

Mun Ku then looked up at the dark night and began taking something out from her pocket. It was a small bottle.

“I almost forgot.”

“Huh?”

“It’s my time to put on glue on the mask. I forgot while talking to you.”

“Is that the glue?”

“Yeah. This is really taxing, you know. I have to glue it every night or else it might come off.”

“Oh.”

The mask made from Huan Yi was very well-made so that it didn’t feel awkward while wearing it, but it always needed constant gluing.

“It was so hard to glue this on myself with my broken arm. At least there’s an upside to something.”

She then took the end part of the mask and pulled it off her face. The mask then stretched like rubber and was peeled off, revealing what was underneath.

“Ah...”

Yeowun let out a gasp of astonishment without realizing. She had a pure white face with large, glittery eyes, and she had small pink lips. Her beauty shined under the moonlight and it made even Chun Yeowun, who was indifferent toward others, mesmerized.

“Here! Hold it up with both your hands.”

“Huh? Like this?”

“Yeah!”

Yeowun held up his hands and Mun Ku placed her mask in them. She then opened the bottle and began spreading the glue on the inner surface of the mask.

“See how annoying it is? Hehe.”

She smiled and Yeowun blushed. It was the first time Yeowun thought that someone of the opposite gender was pretty. Yeowun, however, did not know what this emotion was, so he soon returned to his normal expression.

“There we go. Thank you.”

Ku finished re-gluing it and placed the mask over her face again. It looked like it was a bit difficult to place it over her face with one hand, so Yeowun had to help her out. Soon, Ku was back to wearing her brother’s face.

“I did it quickly, thanks to you. It’s good that someone knows my secret. Heh.”

Ku spoke with a smile. She then asked Yeowun, “As you can see, I cannot train right now because I’m injured. Are you going to train in the training room?”

“Yeah.”

“Then I’ll go back to the dorm and rest for today. Oh, what is your room number?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“I stay in the 7th room in the 4th building.”

“I’ll move my stuff over to your room then now that I’m in your group. I’ll see you later.”

Ku then limped over in the direction of the dormitory. Yeowun then moved to walk toward the training room when a thought struck at him that made him stop in his tracks.

“Wait... she’s a girl.”

Ku was a girl, and she was now going to come to stay at boy’s dormitory. Yeowun wondered how he should deal with this.

Chapter 86

Chapter 86: Learn the Seven Demon Sword (3)

Late at night, Chun Yeowun finally got the time to train in a private training room for a long time before he came out satisfied. He learned that having a good place to train instead of a dark and humid cave was quite important. When he came out, Hu Bong and the other cadets were waiting for him.

“Master.”

Not all of them were waiting since it was too hard to walk around with a group of fifty-three people. Yeowun had ordered them to group up with their group leaders, so there was a total of nine members with two missing. One was Ohjong who was still receiving medical treatment, and the other was Mun Ku who was at the dorm.

“Let’s go.”

“Yeah.”

It was the last night for getting a yellow tag, but they weren’t attacked on their way back. This was due to the fact that the cadets had realized that they couldn’t mess with Chun Yeowun who had defeated Chun Yuchan. While Yeowun was not targeted, a total of two leaders were stripped of their yellow tags that night.

One of the cadets who stole a tag from another leader was Chun Mukeum from the Loyal Clan. He had just gotten out of the medical room yesterday after staying there for almost ten days. Nonetheless, he had his loyal servant, Jahyun.

Jahyun had gathered members to form groups for Mukeum who would be coming out of the medical room soon.

“Ugh... dammit.”

Mukeum became exhausted after taking the tag. He tried to take on the leader alone, but most of the groups were moving together so they had to have a group fight instead.

‘I was left behind.’

It was only ten days, but the cadets had gotten much stronger now. Most of the cadets were now at the level of top-class warriors. Mukeum also consumed the Black Dragon Ball and that pushed him to the entrance of the master level.

“Dammit.”

So, even when he fought 321st cadet Han Pengwon who lacked ten years of internal energy compared to Mukeum, it took a total of thirty formation battles. Mukeum also had pain in his left shoulder where Pengwon had injured him.

“Bastard!”

Mukeum became annoyed that he was injured by a mere warrior from a high-ranked clan, and kicked Pengwon’s stomach although the boy had already passed out.

‘I need to become much stronger if I want to defeat that monster.’

He didn’t call Yeowun a peasant anymore. After Yeowun defeating Chun Wonryou, Chun Jongsum, and Chun Yuchan, Yeowun was a terrifying monster in Mukeum’s mind.

‘I’ll catch up to him!’

He didn’t look down on Chun Yeowun anymore. To him, Yeowun was not a target of his anger, but an obstacle he had to face in order to become the Lord.

At the same time, Yeowun had returned to the dorm. The room was lit, and Mun Ku was reading the Seven Demon Sword skill book on her bed.

“Oh, you are here.”

Mun Ku greeted him and Yeowun nodded awkwardly. Yeowun still felt awkward about letting a girl stay in the same room with these boys.

‘What have I done?’

His promise to keep Ku’s secret had come back to hit him. He regretted making the promise, but there was no going back.

‘She does look like a boy though... ugh.’

She had the mask on, which made her fit right in, but the problem was that Yeowun knew she was a girl. Yeowun then thought he had to pay attention when they changed clothes. Then that happened.

“Ughhhh, this is so hot!”

Hu Bong, who was drenched in sweat, took all his clothes off. He quickly grabbed some spare clothes and ran out of the room to go wash up.

‘Uh... Hu Bong...’

Yeowun covered his face with his hand. This was a boy's dormitory and a lot of boys went straight to the bath butt naked after training.

'I'm sorry. I can't protect you.'

Hu Bong had shown off everything just now. Yeowun glanced over at Mun Ku, but she was concentrated on reading the book.

'Hmph.'

He sighed in relief. Yeowun then tried to tell the other members to not strip themselves naked within the dorm room, but...

"Let's go wash!"

"Ugh, I'm so sweaty!"

Before he could even speak, half of his members stripped themselves and ran out to wash. It was too late.

"Don't leave me behind!"

Jin Guuk, who was usually shy, even threw off his clothes and ran after them. Even the remaining three members who still had some clothes on went out in their underwear.

'...This is crazy.'

All his teammates just showed off their body parts to a girl. Yeowun turned to Ku, but she was still focusing on the book. Was she doing that on purpose?

“Hey... are you okay?” Yeowun asked as everyone had left the room. Ku replied without letting her eyes leave the book. She sounded very calm and casual.

“It’s okay. I’ve been through this so much now... I’m used to it. Y-you can go ahead too. Don’t mind me.”

Ku had been with the other boys before she came to this room. It was apparent she had seen this happen multiple times already. But Yeowun only saw Ku diving into the book with a blush on her face.

‘...How can I not mind?’

Yeowun sighed and took clothes to change into and went out. After that day, Yeowun told his teammates to not take off their clothes inside the dorm room. His members were confused, but they followed his orders.

Chapter 87

Chapter 87: Learn the Seven Demon Sword (4)

The next morning, Yeowun reported about the yellow tag to the main building of the Demonic Academy and was declared as the leader for the third test. There were only eleven leaders up until yesterday morning, but with Yeowun's five groups under him, the total number of groups increased. Chun Kungwun of the Sword Clan also made another group under him, so there was now a total of sixteen groups. 700th cadet Sama Chak had two tags, but he didn't make another group.

So, a total of fifteen cadets were not in a group, and they were destined to fail when the test came around. They had to find groups within the remaining twenty-one days.

After registering to become the leader, Yeowun and his members got breakfast and went up to the small hill behind the dorms. It was time to train the Seven Demon Sword.

"Since I have my own group, I want to teach my members by myself."

"Huh?"

They originally planned to train the Seven Demon Sword altogether, but Yeowun was surprised to hear the unexpected request. Ko Wanghur agreed with Bakgi's request.

"Bakgi is right. It will be too much to teach all these members at the same time. It's better for us to teach our own groups instead."

It did make sense. Chun Yeowun was the strongest warrior in his group, but it was too much for him to teach every member.

“I second that idea myself.”

Gallen also wanted to teach his own group since he had his own way of training the 12th group.

“Hmm...”

Yeowun hesitated for a bit. He knew that they were asking for this for an entirely different reason than what they were proposing. There was a faint hint of competition going on between Bakgi, Ko Wanghur, and Gallen. This all started during breakfast.

‘It will take at least seven days to train the Seven Demon Sword.’

‘That’s too long. I only need three days and then start formations after seven.’

Bakgi made this claim thoughtlessly when Ko Wanghur was just sharing the idea. This brought fired up the competition between them. And when breakfast was almost over, they were now making bets on who would finish learning the Demon Sword formation faster.

‘I heard you guys talk already...’

Yeowun shook his head. He was with them all along when they were talking about the competition, and it was funny that they were sharing ideas for different reasons. However, it wasn’t too bad to use the competition to make them learn faster.

“Okay. Do what you will.”

“Thank you.”

The three members then took their groups to train in different spots.

“Master, I need more members.”

“You too, Wumin? Me too. Master, can you train our members while we gather more members?”

Ja Wumin and Hou Sangwha needed more members, so they couldn't start training today. There were still many cadets who didn't have a group, so both of them walked down the mountain to recruit other cadets.

‘Hm... actually, Bakgi needs more members too.’

Bakgi, who hated accepting help, probably went down to recruit more members without asking Yeowun. It would have been too much if Yeowun had to take Bakgi's members also. Bakgi, Wumin, and Sangwha all needed to recruit members who are willing to become Yeowun's forces, so it would probably take them some time.

“Eight...”

Seventeen cadets all lined up with wooden swords in their hands. Most of them had just become top-class warriors, so the Seven Demon Sword was their first top-class martial art. They were used to the skill after reading the book already.

‘Finally we're learning from our master!’

Hu Bong looked at Yeowun with anticipation. The other cadets also looked forward to being taught by Yeowun as they knew how powerful he was. However, since there were too many people here, they probably wouldn't get the chance to watch Yeowun one on one.

'Should I start now?'

It was Yeowun's first time teaching someone else, so he became nervous. But he was going to do his best to teach his members just like how Right Guardian Submeng had taught him.

"Let me show you how it's done first."

Yeowun got up slowly and readied to use the Seven Demon Sword. When everyone began to concentrate, Yeowun unleashed the sword movements of the Seven Demon Sword.

He did it very slowly so that every cadet could carefully observe every movement.

"Whoaaaaa."

They were astounded as Yeowun's movement was just like how the skill book described it. Most martial artists had imperfections in their movements if it was a martial art that they had just learned, but Yeowun did it like he had trained in the art for tens of years.

'Was he really locked up in a prison cave just until yesterday?'

Mun Ku was beyond shocked to see his movements. She knew that Yeowun had been locked up for five days, but his movements were just too perfect.

'This is incredible... is he a genius?'

Mun Ku was also a very talented warrior who was well into the master level, but she would also say that it was almost impossible to perfect the skill in such a short amount of time. Of course, this was the only result of Chun Yeowun having the entire skill book transferred into his brain.

“Good. Did you see it all carefully?”

“Yes!”

It was done very slowly, so the cadets were able to identify the right movements easily. Yeowun then glanced over at them and said, “So, I will guide each one of you. Go ahead and try your best in showing me the sword movement.”

“Yay!”

“Is it for real?!”

His members rejoiced. This meant that Yeowun was going to teach them one by one.

‘We’re so lucky!’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It wasn’t very common for highly experienced warriors to teach others one on one. Hu Bong became excited also and asked, “Master, who should start first then?”

Everyone tensed up after hearing such an important question. There were so many people here, so it was better to be the first one to get taught. However, what came out of Yeowun’s mouth was unexpected to say the least.

“What do you mean? You all will be showing me the sword art at once. It will take forever for me to go through each of you one by one.”

“Huh?”

Everyone was dumbfounded. They all knew that Yeowun was powerful, but how could he watch all these people’s movements in detail at the same time?

Chapter 88

Chapter 88: The Six Sword (1)

Mun Ku, who was sitting down on a small rock, also became confused. It was understandable if it was just to look at the overall balance, but fixing every small detail was unlikely to happen from looking at everyone at once.

‘Should I watch too?’

She too had learned the Seven Demon Sword and read through the books tens of times that she now remembered it. Maybe she could also give a few pieces of advice.

“W-Why don’t we give it a try anyway?”

Hu Bong offered to try it with the other hesitant cadets. In Hu Bong’s experience, whatever Yeowun said never ended weirdly.

“Ready your sword!”

Yeowun shouted and all seventeen cadets prepared to perform the Seven Demon Sword.

‘Oh well. I guess he’ll change it to private lessons if it doesn’t work out.’

Most of the cadets thought of the same thing. Yeowun ordered to Nano.

‘Nano, activate Augmented Reality.’

Yeowun’s eyes then shook and he saw lines drawing various pieces of information about the seventeen cadets.

‘Nano, analyze all these seventeen people and see if there is any movement they’re getting wrong with the Seven Demon Sword.’

[Understood. Activating multi-tutorial mode on seventeen entities. Target martial art: Seven Demon Sword.]

With Nano’s voice, Yeowun then saw seventeen circles locking onto each of the students. Yeowun shouted, “Going from the first formation! First Sword!”

“First Sword!”

The cadets repeated the name of the formation and began to move. Wooden swords shot through the air as the seventeen cadets all swung their swords in unison.

‘Ah...’

Ku moaned silently. There were many cadets who were not doing it correctly. Actually, most of them were a mess besides the three cadets who were top-class warriors already. The cadets stopped in place after finishing the first formation. There was just too many things that needed fixing. Mun Ku tried to send a telepathic message to Yeowun on what she had seen for the few cadets that she had seen at least, but Yeowun spoke first.

“We’re training, so I’ll call out numbers. First, 31st cadet.”

“Your arm is weak when you start the First Sword, and that causes all connected movements to become weak as well. Be careful of that.”

“Yes, sir!” The 31st cadet, Yuk Kinming, shouted back. This was only the start. Yeowun then went over to the other cadets. After going through few, Yeowun called out Hu Bong’s number.

“23rd cadet.”

“Your sword drops when you move. On the third movement, you only use wrist when you step with your right. You need to use your waist, not only the wrist.”

“Yes, sir! Thank you!”

Hu Bong answered excitedly at such detailed advice. Mun Ku was shocked. Hu Bong was one of the few cadets that she observed, and Yeowun had gotten everything correct.

‘Did he really see what every cadet did?’

Yeowun then went over to the other cadets. After the number of cadets receiving advice went over the count of ten, all the cadets were astonished.

‘Did he really see everyone? He wasn’t just saying it?’

The 22nd cadet, Kong Jino, just joined yesterday. He was dumbfounded and suspicious at the same time. However, the cadets who listened to their faults seemed to agree.

“22nd cadet.”

“Y-yes!”

Jino frowned as he answered. He was a top-class warrior and he had the ability to do the Seven Demon Sword more perfectly than the other cadets, but he didn’t put in much effort in doing so. He was at the very back, so he thought Yeowun would not see him anyway.

‘Huh?’

Yeowun was glaring at him however. Surely Yeowun was angry at his laziness.

“You think I would not notice if you didn’t put in any effort?”

‘Ugh!’

“What was that slow, clumsy sword movement? Do you not want to do this?”

Yeowun snapped and Jino flushed red from embarrassment. He couldn’t even find the right words to respond. He claimed that Yeowun would never know when the cadet next to him, Im Yuhan, told him to stop fooling around.

“I-I’m sorry.”

“If you do that again, then you will be practicing the sword formations alone.”

Jino then went down on his both knees.

“This will never happen again, Master.”

This gave every cadet the chills. They thought to never do things without letting Yeowun know.

“Hmph.”

Yeowun accepted Jino’s apology.

“You must act accordingly if you have the power. But you are second to being correct among everyone else here.

Make sure you do it right next time.”

‘Second? I’m only second?’

Who was first then? Yeowun then turned to the 11th cadet, Im Yuhan, with a satisfied voice.

“I have nothing much to say to you, 11th cadet. You were better than everyone here.”

“Thank you, Master.”

Jino frowned. Jino and Yuhan were always competing with each other, so Jino didn’t feel so good about losing. He then regretted for not doing it right.

After Yeowun met all seventeen cadets, they began to trust Yeowun on what he was doing.

“Okay, we’ll go with the first formation again. Remember what I told you and repeat slowly.”

“Yes, sir!”

And the swords began to move again. Not everything was fixed at once, but all the movements had gotten much better now.

“Wow,” Ku gasped in astonishment. This proved that Yeowun was not only a good fighter, but he was also a good teacher.

‘He’s really amazing.’

Of course, all this was due to Nano’s ability. Yeowun’s eyes saw the analysis notes that Nano placed over all the cadets. Without this knowledge however, it only made Mun Ku more surprised.

After going through the first movement again, Yeowun pointed out their mistakes and had them go over remaining seven formations to fix it. It seemed like it wouldn't take too long to learn the Seven Demon Sword at this rate. There were some who were falling behind like Hu Bong, Jin Guuk, and Machil, but they put more effort which was fortunate.

"We'll train until dinner!"

"Yes, sir!"

And ten days had passed after the training started. It took a bit more time for everyone to perfect all the Seven Demon Sword formations. Even if Yeowun put in all the effort he could, it still took time for most of the cadets to learn, especially those who weren't from high-ranked clans. The last, or the Seventh Sword, was especially hard for most cadets. Part of it was due to Ohjong joining the team late, after he spent five days in the medical room. At least it was fortunate that Ojong was talented enough to catch up quickly.

And the groups who scattered to train on their own, gathered in one place.

"...I lost. Hmph."

Bakgi spoke and turned away. Ko Wanghur burst out into laughter for winning his bet.

"Hahaha! So, you accept your loss! Good!"

The winner who taught his teammates to learn the sword skill faster was Wanghur. He took a total of seven days to train his teammates. Gallen also only needed nine days whereas Bakgi took ten days.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“How did you manage to teach them in seven days?”

Bakgi too realized that it took more time to teach cadets who weren't that experienced in martial arts. However, Wanghur had managed to do it, making Bakgi curious.

“Hahaha! There's not much. You just have to ram it in until you learn it.”

“...Ram it in?”

Wanghur then looked back at his teammates and grinned while all of his cadets flinched and shuddered in fear.

Chapter 89

Chapter 89: The Six Sword (2)

Within that ten-day training period for the Seven Demon Sword, Bakgi, Hou Sangwha, and Ja Wumin's groups also filled up. Bakgi only needed a few more members, so he was able to fill it up quickly, but Sangwha and Wumin took three days to recruit more cadets.

'Total of nineteen.'

The new cadets fell into two main categories. There were those who came to admire Yeowun for his feat of defeating Hou Jinchang and Chun Yuchan, and the other group consisted of those who were not happy with the current six clan system in the cult, thus wanting a new wave of change from Yeowun.

Although these new groups had two different ideas, they were recruited carefully. These groups became more connected with each other because of Yeowun.

'Wow! That group only has girls!'

'When did that kind of group form?'

'I want to join that group.'

The boy cadets couldn't peel their eyes off of Hou Sangwha's team. Her group was the first only girl group in the academy at the moment. It was bound to gain attention from boys in their puberty.

'Hah. Boys...'

'Hehe.'

The girl cadets also welcomed that kind of reaction. Some of them even explicitly flirted with the other cadets.

However, Chun Yeowun was more interested in the cadets who could become group leaders.

‘708th cadet Che Takim and 52nd cadet Wu Sojung.’

Both of them were entering the master level warrior level. Che Takim was from a high-ranked clan of the West Gate Clan who didn’t show himself even during the second test. Takim had visited Yeowun’s dormitory to speak to him.

‘Water rots if it sits. I don’t want to see the cult wasting power from the six clans competing against each other. You are a Chun, but you are not from six clans. I think you might have what it takes to change things.’

Yeowun liked Takim who was passionate about changing the cult, so he accepted him. And Wu Sojung, whom Hou Sangwha brought over as a friend, was rather aggressive.

‘Only the strong survive here. You show me your strength, and I will serve you for my life.’

‘Oh?’

Sojung challenged Yeowun and lost after just three formations. Yeowun only used the Butterfly Blade Dance and it was enough. And with two more master-level warriors, Yeowun’s forces became more powerful. There was also more good news.

“Congratulation on becoming masters.”

Ko Wanghur and Hou Sangwha had become master-level warriors since they didn’t slack off on their own training when the team training was over.

“Thank you, Master.”

Hou Sangwha was glad that she had become a master-level warrior. She was now the second master-level girl cadet.

“This isn’t enough. I will do my best to be the First Sword of the master.”

Ko Wanghur was not satisfied however. The words from Wanghur ignited a weird competition between cadets.

‘First Sword?’

‘Hm...’

With an increasing number of cadets, they began ranking themselves unofficially. One of the members of Bakgi’s group, Yi Chan, spoke out.

“I’m not trying to offend anyone, but I think the First Sword title fits my leader Bakgi, or Mun Ku better.”

“Yes. They are stronger in terms of power.”

Cadets from Bakgi’s group agreed and Wanghur’s members began to respond.

“Wanghur is strong enough to claim that! I’m offended, thank you.”

“He can be the Second, or Third Sword.”

“What?!”

Members began to speak up with their thoughts, arguing with each other. This made all the group leaders surprised.

Yeowun then heard Che Takim's telepathic message through his ears.

[I expected this would happen as you have many who follow you, but it was faster than I expected. Master, its time for you to decide on the ranking of these members.]

'Hm...'

[Loyalty is good, but the cult relies on power. You have to keep that in mind.]

Yeowun nodded at Takim's message. It seemed like it was time for Yeowun to clear out the ranks, as that was needed for an organization to function properly.

'What should I do?'

The best thing to do was to have everyone duel against each other since that was the Demonic Cult's tradition, but it didn't seem like a good idea to duel against one another since the third test was just around the corner. He couldn't let anyone get hurt in the process. Yeowun thought for a while and finally made a decision.

"Everyone, be quiet."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He didn't speak loudly, but every cadet became silent at once. Yeowun's influence over the seventy-one cadets was commendable. When everyone became silent, Yeowun began to speak.

"I have heard your opinions. I think it is time for me to appoint our ranks. Do you all agree?"

“Yes, sir!”

The cadets answered in unison. They also became curious as to how Yeowun would decide on these ranks. Obviously, some members were more powerful than others, and they would most likely stand in front of the other members.

“Six people.”

Chapter 90

Chapter 90: The Six Sword (3)

‘Six?’

The cadets wondered if this maybe meant that Yeowun was going to appoint only six high-rank members.

“I will appoint the top six warriors. They will not have ranks over each other and they will be titled the Six Swords.”

“Master, what is the reason for having the Six Swords?” Wu Sojung raised his hand and asked. The other cadets also had the same question.

“If we graduate from the academy, we will be fighting against six clans. I need the Six Swords who will complete that job on the frontlines of battle.”

Everyone nodded. All of the people here knew that Yeowun was trying to fight the six clans and create a new Demonic Cult.

‘But wouldn’t we just be repeating the same thing then?’

Ko Wanghur and a few others frowned. It was still far into the future, but if they managed to defeat the six clans and the Six Swords replaced them, then they could end up in a power struggle again. However, Yeowun continued speaking and soon removed that fear.

“But the Six Swords today will not remain Six Swords forever. I will open a competition each year to give the title to more powerful warriors.”

“Ohhh!”

The cadets gasped in excitement. This meant that the title was not going to remain permanent. Everyone would be granted an equal opportunity to prove themselves and rise above the others, just like how the Demonic Cult normally functioned.

“This will continue even if I reach the top of the cult.”

‘Ahh!’

Wanghur, Bakgi, and the other cadets then nodded in satisfaction. There were only seventy-two cadets here in total, but if Yeowun really took over the entire cult, then it was bound to be open to all the members of the cult. This would certainly put an end to the current six-clan system.

“Since we are facing the important third test soon, I will simplify our process to choose the Six Swords this time around.”

“Yes, sir.”

It would be too time-consuming to have everyone duel each other, and the power balance between the cadets were too great anyway.

“Those who are masters, please step forward. Everyone else, step back.”

Many of the cadets took a few steps back, leaving Ko Wanghur, Bakgi, Mun Ku, Hou Sangwha, Che Takim, and Wu Sojung behind. It was exactly these six cadets that required no competition.

“I’m sure no one will complain about having these members as the Six Swords?”

“Yes, sir!”

No one had any complaints since these members were significantly more powerful than the rest of them. Some cadets like Kong Jino, Im Yuhan, Ja Wumin, and Ohjong had the urge to become stronger to take the spot later on.

“Then the First Sword...”

Bakgi then raised his hand to intervene.

“Wait. I have an idea.”

“What is it?”

“Since we now have the Six Swords, it’ll be better for us to figure out the ranks between each other.”

The other cadets all nodded. They liked the fact that they had been chosen as the Six Swords, but it seemed it was better to have the right title according to the level of power. It was a matter of pride.

‘Hmmm, should I be happy about this?’

It didn’t feel bad for his members to compete against each other for the best servant title. Yeowun smiled and agreed with the idea. With the master’s approval, all they had to do now was compete.

“Oh, I’m still injured so I forfeit.”

Mun Ku gave up on fighting first, so she automatically became the Sixth Sword. It seemed like Bakgi wanted to fight Mun Ku since she seemed to be the most powerful warrior here, but it couldn’t be helped.

“Don’t hurt each other.”

The fight was to be held at once, battle royale style. Yeowun told them to not use more than 30% of their internal energy to not hurt one another.

“Then, shall we start?”

Wanghur took off his top and flexed his large muscles. It was to bring up his morale, but it wasn't a good choice. It made Hou Sangwha and Wu Sojung feel disgusted at the toplessness and they both decided to attack Wanghur first.

“Hahahaha! This is good!”

“Ugh, this muscle gorilla!”

Ko Wanghur was still laughing while he fought.

The five warriors fought for quite a while. The first one to fail was Wu Sojung.

“Ugh... I'm ashamed.”

He didn't think he would lose to Hou Sangwha who was a girl. Wu Sojung thought he would defeat her easily, but his shoulder almost got pulled out from its joint.

“Ugh!”

The second to lose was Che Takim. He had intervened in the fight between Bakgi and Ko Wanghur and he fell after getting hit by their attacks.

“Hah...”

Hou Sangwha gave up and sank to sit on the ground about thirty minutes later. She thought she had a good amount of stamina, but she couldn't last as long as Bakgi or Ko Wanghur.

Both of the boys fought fiercely. They were also always competing with each other and thus they did not want to give up. Each of their groups cheered for their leaders, but the experience paid off.

Bakgi increased his kick power with his energy and put down Wanghur's large body. Wanghur tried to fight back by putting all his strength in his muscles, but he couldn't overpower Bakgi's energy. Wanghur laid flat on the ground and panted.

"Hah... hah... I lost."

"Whaaaaaaa! Bakgi won!!!"

Bakgi's group all got up and began to cheer. Meanwhile, Wanghur's members became depressed.

"Leader!"

They ran up to Wanghur and helped him stand up. After the long fight, the rank of the Six Swords was decided.

Bakgi, the First Sword.

Ko Wanghur, the Second Sword.

Hou Sangwha, the Third Sword.

Che Takim, the Fourth Sword.

Wu Sojung, the Fifth Sword.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Mun Ku, the Sixth Sword.

And thus was the birth of Chun Yeowun's Six Swords.

'...It's getting there.'

Yeowun clenched his fist as he looked over at his members. He had come into the academy with nothing in his hands, and now he had forces that cannot be ignored, especially considering the clans of these members outside of the academy. However, Yeowun was not satisfied yet.

'I need to become more powerful than anyone else so that no one in the Demonic Cult will ever try to defy me.'

Chapter 91: The dangerous third test (1)

The time given for cadets to train for the third test quickly passed by, and many things happened during that time period. It started with Chun Jongsum, the prince of the Poison Clan who left the academy with an injury, and it ended with Chun Yuchan, one of two likely heirs to the throne, who lost the fight for a yellow tag and had his arm cut off. There were other minor incidents, but all the important incidents were related to Chun Yeowun.

In the early morning, just before the beginning of the third test, there was a guest in the Chief's office. The guest was a man wearing a mask with weird symbols on it. It was the Great Guardian, Marakim the Dark King. There were documents in the hands of the Left Guardian and Chief of the Academy, Lee Hameng. But he didn't look pleased while glancing through the documents. After going through every page, he put them down on the desk and asked, "Is this really approved?"

"Yes. It was decided from the top, and the Lord approved it yesterday."

If the Lord approved it, then there was no choice.

"I know the reason for the change, but no one would be happy to hear about the change on the day of the test."

"..."

The Great Guardian didn't like talking much, so he stayed silent. The document that Marakim brought over had a change in how the third test would be held.

‘The test seems to be too easy.’

That was the reason for the change. The test at the Demonic Academy was always chosen by the Chief and instructors, excluding the first test that was held on the first day. The test proposal would then be sent to the Elders and the Lord for approval. There were always cases where the test had problems and needed change, but this was the first time where a change was requested on the day of the test.

‘...This is going too far.’

It was hard to understand. It was strange that the Lord, who was currently trying to put down the six clans, had approved this. Lee Hameng didn’t seem to accept it and Marakim took out something from his pocket and gave it to Hameng. It was a letter.

Hameng began reading it. He then scowled and burned the letter, mumbling at the ashes.

“As you wish, my Lord.”

And hours passed after that. All the cadets gathered at the training ground for the test. With all groups now used to being in their groups, they naturally lined up according to their groups. The eleven members of Yeowun’s group were confident. They had perfected the Sword Demon formation after enduring the hard training and lessons from Yeowun. The other members from Yeowun’s other groups were in a similar spot too.

‘This is weird.’

Yeowun was looking at the third group left on his left. Behind the third group's leader was Chun Yuchan, the prince of the Sword Clan. He was missing his right arm and was on the team as a regular member, not a group leader. He might have given up if he was a regular cadet, but it seemed like he hadn't given up all hope yet.

'Well, I see what they are thinking though.'

Most of the third group's members were Yuchan's servants. It seemed like they had no way to get a yellow tag anymore, so they beat up one of the group leaders and exchanged every member with their own.

'...I should've done more than cut his arm off.'

Yeowun thought he had to do far more. It had been quite a while since the cadets had gathered, but they waited a while longer than expected. The instructors who always were up on the stage before the cadets even started to gather still had not come out from the main building.

"Oh! There they are!"

That's when Lee Hameng and other instructors began to walk down from the building. Hameng went up on the stage and sat on the chair. However, the instructors also brought with them people tied up tightly with ropes onto the stage. Their heads were covered with black rags.

"Walk straight!"

"This way, you fool!"

The instructors treated them as if they were criminals.

'What is it?'

All the cadets became silent and watched awkwardly. All those tied up people were put up at the front of the stage, and there were exactly sixteen of them. Hameng then got up from the chair and spoke.

“Have you done a good amount of training for the third test?”

“Mado!”

The cadets shouted loudly in unison. But unlike their eager voices, their faces were filled with nervousness.

“Before we move onto the test, I will announce one small change in the details.”

The cadets began to mumble, concerned about unexpected change. They now realized that the change had something to do with those tied up people at the front of the stage.

“The original test was going to involve fighting instructors with the Sword Demon formation. But there will be a slight change to this.”

Hameng then snapped his fingers and the instructors brought up three large wooden boxes. They opened them up and many swords poured out from within. Those were real swords.

‘Real swords?’

‘I thought we were going to use wooden swords for the test?’

The cadets became confused and Hameng kept going.

“The test will not change. You will use the Sword Demon formation to defeat the enemy.”

‘Enemy?’

Yeowun frowned. And the words that came out of Hameng’s mouth shocked all cadets instantly.

“But- you don’t just defeat them. You have to kill your enemy.”

The cadets began to panic. They were shocked to hear that they had to kill the enemy. Hameng then shouted by forcing his internal energy out.

“SILENCE!!”

“Ugh!”

They all turned silent at once. Hameng glared and continued, “Do you see these people in front of you?”

“Mado!”

“They are criminals from Forces of Justice, and Evil.”

All the cadets were shocked. They thought something was weird when these people were brought up, but they didn’t think they were real criminals. They were more like war prisoners, but for the Demonic Cult, they were criminals.

Chapter 92

Chapter 92: The dangerous third test (2)

“You will pass the test if you kill them with the Sword Demon formation. This will be your first official battle.”

The test was not a practice session anymore. It was a real fight against a real enemy and they needed to kill them. Most of the cadets only stayed within the Ten Thousand Mountains, so they never had never seen any enemies until now.

“These criminals will be let go if they defeat you, so they will try hard. Don’t be sympathetic to your enemies, or else you will die instead.”

Lee Hameng warned them. The cadets all turned grim. Of course, the thirty-six instructors were ready to jump if there was any threatening potential danger, but they didn’t tell the cadets. Otherwise, they would forget their fear.

“I- I don’t want to die...”

Jin Guuk paled because of the fear. But it wasn’t only Jin Guuk. Now the test wasn’t about if they were going to pass the test or not. It was whether they would survive or die.

“Now, we will proceed with the test. I will start with the 700th cadet, Sama Chak’s group. Come forward and retrieve your swords.”

“Mado!”

The first group to take this test was Sama Chak’s group. He had been the first person to register to be a group leader, and although he was happy when he did it back then, he and his group weren't happy about going first.

"Go up!"

Instructors dragged up one of the tied up criminals to the middle of the training ground. Then they took off the black rag and a man with a tangled beard and pale face was revealed. There were many signs of torture on his face.

"Ah... argh..."

He too seemed to be very nervous. He had heard about the test already and he knew what he had to do if he were to survive. However, he was still shocked to see the cadets in front of him.

'They're just children!'

He volunteered since he was told that he would be freed if he could win against the sword formation, but he wasn't told that he'd be fighting teenagers. The instructors scoffed at the man from behind.

'This group is lucky to fight the foolish Force of Justice.'

It seemed it wasn't likely that something would go terribly wrong. Lots of members from the Force of Justice valued justice or ethics, and thus they were sympathetic. It seemed this man was probably like that.

Instructors untied the man and released the pressure on the blood point, freeing him to use his martial arts. Sama Chak's group circled around the man and Hameng shouted, "Begin!"

With the order, twelve cadets all formed the Seven Demon sword stance.

‘Ah...’

The man then became serious. He realized that if he wasn’t serious, he might die. Then his sword wielded clear white sword qi. He was an experienced master-level warrior. The twelve cadets became concerned. The only master warrior they had was Sama Chak, but he too was only an entry-level master warrior. If they made any mistakes in the formation, then they might die.

‘We have no choice.’

Sama Chak took a deep breath and shouted, “Third formation! Go!”

The twelve cadets then began to unleash sword movement at the bearded man. With each pair of students doing the same sword movement, a total of six sword movements were unleashed by all the pairs, inducing an amazing effect.

“What!”

The ordinary Seven Demon Sword had become a sword movement unleashed like that of a master warrior.

‘They learned it well.’

Yeowun nodded. The written explanation about the Sword Demon formation in the book was too simple, and there the possibility of misunderstanding it would lead a group to attack with the same formation. However, Sama Chak and his group were doing it the correct way.

The bearded man was shocked, but he quickly defended himself against all the sword movement. He was attacked from all sides, but he had enough experience to fight back.

“Ugh!”

However, he couldn't defend everything since he had been tied up for a long time. His muscles were stiff and his shoulder and chest were cut slightly.

“Second formation! Go!”

Sama Chak then shouted at his members as the bearded man shook from the damage. The second formation was unleashed, but there was a problem. A few cadets collided against each other while trying to complete it too quickly, thus shaking up the formation.

“N-no!”

‘Now is the chance!’

The bearded man then took the change to put his sword into one of the cadet's chests. When the cadet flinched and closed his eyes, the bearded man hesitated.

‘Dammit!!!’

He couldn't bear to kill a teenage boy. And that hesitation brought him his demise.

“AAAAAARGH!”

Many swords pierced into him from the back. A sword passed through his organs and through his heart, killing him. Some cadets slumped down to the ground after their first kill. Leader Sama Chak looked at the dead man and bit his lips.

‘Dammit. This doesn’t make me feel any better.’

Regardless of his feelings, the cadets shouted in joy for the first victory.

“Whoaaaaa!”

It seemed like they gained courage by seeing a fight that seemed to end easily. Two instructors then came up to haul the body out.

“You were lucky,” the instructor said. Sama Chak and his members frowned. Like he said, if the man was cold-hearted, they would have been killed. Lee Hameng then got up from the chair and shouted loudly, “I congratulate the victory of Sama Chak!”

Regardless of the progress, Sama Chak’s group brightened up since they had passed the test. However, it didn’t last long.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“The 700th cadet leader, 93rd cadet, 147th cadet, 217th cadet, 803rd cadet, 922nd cadet, and 983rd cadet. These seven cadets have passed the third test.”

“S-seven?”

“W...what does that mean?”

The five cadets who were not called out became shocked. These were the ones who collided against each other during the formation. They had made a mistake, but they thought they would pass the test since they had won the fight. However, it wasn't what they expected.

Yeowun frowned. So the test would be carried out as a group, but the actual result relied on each individual. Any mistake, and that person would fail.

Chapter 93

Chapter 93: The dangerous third test (3)

During the first round of the test, Left Guardian Lee Hameng's eyes did not leave the man from the Force of Justice. As written in the request document to change the test, the man had been in prison for three years. Therefore, he couldn't use the best of his skills. If the cadets didn't make a mistake, it would be easy enough for the cadets to defeat him.

'There was no chance until now. Then they must be after...'

Hameng then turned to Chun Yeowun. Two princes had already been taken out of the academy already. One of them had her arm cut off and one had his internal energy destroyed, thus losing the chance to become the Lord forever.

'It will take forever for them to wait four years.'

It was apparent that those clans were dying to kill Chun Yeowun. However, they couldn't go against the rule of the academy with the Lord watching over them, so they changed the test to do something else.

'Whatever it is, it will be your undoing.'

The next group came up to start their test.

"Walk straight!"

"Bah!"

Two instructors brought up another criminal. They untied the man and took off his mask. He was also very rugged looking with scars all over his face.

“Damn, bastards!”

It was apparent that he wasn't from the Force of Justice. Instructors looked at the second group with a sympathetic expression. They were against a bad enemy.

‘They aren't so lucky. He's from the Force of Evil.’

Both forces had very different ideals and thoughts. The evil forces had no sympathy and they did whatever they could to defeat their enemies. They tried everything in their power to survive.

“Begin!”

With Lee Hameng's shout, twelve cadets readied the Seven Demon Sword. Their leader was Chun Mukeum from the Loyal Clan.

‘Damn. This is bad.’

Mukeum ranted in his head. Unlike the first man, this enemy looked very aggressive and dangerous. If there was any slight mistake, it was going to be bloody.

“Foolish kids, you dare to try to fight me?!”

The man then charged ahead without giving the cadets time to get into formation. He attacked the only girl cadet who seemed to be weakest in the formation with his most powerful attack.

‘Dammit!’

“Fifth formation!”

Mukeum shouted annoyingly. The fifth formation was based off the Fifth Sword of the Seven Demon Sword, which was a defensive formation.

‘So, you aren’t just some ordinary kids then?’

The man grinned. The twelve cadets made a sword barrier by moving defensively, and the man then shifted to attack another cadet.

“Argh!”

The cadet’s left arm was struck by the sword. He gasped in fear that he might die and tried to back away. Mukeum shouted quickly, “Fall back ten steps!”

The cadets quickly took ten steps back. If only the injured cadet backed away, it could break the formation and put the other cadets in danger. It was the right call.

[Man up, you asshole! We’ll all die if we fail!]

Mukeum shouted with his telepathic message, and the injured cadet nodded with a pale face.

‘Heh, so he’s the weak point.’

The man then charged at the injured cadet again. He knew well that an enemy who was scared was the weak point of any sword formation.

“Hieeek!”

With the man charging in, the cadet panicked and unleashed the Fifth Sword to defend himself.

“Aaaargh!”

However, a mere top-level warrior had no way to fight against master-level warrior. As he was pushed back, Mukeum ran toward the enemy and shouted, “Dammit! I told you to man up! Third formation!”

The cadets then unleashed the Third Sword at their enemy. However, the man ignored the other attacks and cut the injured cadet’s right hand which was holding the sword.

“Aaaaaaargh!”

He then twisted to unleash a defensive movement to defend against all the other sword attacks.

With one missing from the formation, their power had decreased tremendously. The man then found another weak point.

‘They’re just kids.’

He stabbed out with his sword and the sword pushed out a few cadets, loosening the swords from their hands.

“Hahahahaha! I did it! I beat the formation!”

The cadets frowned as they saw their swords flying up in the air. That’s when a fist struck the delighted enemy’s back.

“Argh!”

He spat out blood and was pushed forward. It was Chun Mukeum who attacked from behind. Mukeum, who feared for his life, had used his Loyal Fist skill instead of Seven Demon sword. Mukeum shouted, “Now! First formation!”

The remaining five cadets quickly unleashed the First Sword of the Seven Demon Sword without thinking. There were only five of them so they lacked power, but that was enough.

“Aaaaaaargh!”

Swords penetrated into the man, and the man who was happy that he defeated the formation died with dumbfounded shock. The other cadets who were watching Mukeum’s group were also lost for words. They now realized how hard the test could be.

The instructors then took their hands off their swords. They were ready to jump out if things went out of control, but such an incident didn’t happen, fortunately.

“I will announce the result.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Lee Hameng called out a total of six cadets from Mukeum’s group. And the 80th cadet, Jahyun, one of Mukeum’s most loyal servants, failed the test.

“Dammit!”

With the second group completing the test, a glimmer of hope came to the cadets waiting to be tested. It was to have a chance to fight against a member from the Force of Justice. But that was a false hope as not every member from the Force of Justice was weak-minded like the first person.

The third group was actually against a warrior from the Force of Justice, but the enemy wasn’t the sympathetic type. He tried hard to survive and injured almost all the cadets within the group. Only three of them had passed the test.

Five more groups went through the test, and the only group so far that had every member pass the test was the fifth group, Chun Muyeon's group.

Chapter 94

Chapter 94: The dangerous third test (4)

“Perfect! That was a perfect Sword Demon formation.”

Lee Hameng complimented Muyeon’s group as they defeated the enemy after two formations. No one had made a mistake and they were all unscathed.

‘It’s our turn soon.’

The group tested just now was the cadet who registered to be a leader right before Yeowun. If it went in order, Yeowun’s group was next. As expected, Lee Hameng called Yeowun’s group.

“7th cadet Chun Yeowun’s group, come up.”

“Mado!”

While Yeowun’s members went up with anxious expressions, all the criminals whose faces were covered with masks all flinched.

‘Ugh, I hope it’s not too bad!’

Jin Guuk looked at the criminal who was pulled forward. None had died yet, but over thirty cadets had been injured. He was bound to be worried.

“Please... justice, justice, justice...”

Hu Bong was mumbling, hoping that they would fight against a member from the Force of Justice. After watching all the tests, enemies from the Force of Justice didn’t seem to threaten the lives of the cadets at least. However, the groups who fought against members from the Force of Evil had many cadets who had their limbs cut off.

“Stay still. I will untie you.”

‘Instructor Hou?’

The person who brought up the criminal was Senior Instructor Hou Jinchang. Yeowun became curious as Hou Jinchang usually stayed back to oversee the other instructors.

The mask was pulled off from the criminal’s face. He had a long beard and glaring eyes with aggressive features. He still was still tied up with sealed blood points to stop him from moving, but his aura proved that he was not from the Force of Justice.

‘...Dammit.’

Hu Bong frowned. It was exactly what he had feared. Even the cadets who were watching expressed sympathy as they saw the enemy.

“Hmph.”

The man glanced at Yeowun’s group, looking to find someone.

‘...Something’s a bit off.’

Yeowun narrowed his eyes. Most criminals were usually nervous or tense as they would try to find a way out or become frantic with the urge to survive.

[Be careful.]

Yeowun then heard Hou Jinchang's short telepathic message. He then was able to confirm that something fishy was going on.

'What can it be...?'

Yeowun was already curious as to why the test had changed at the last minute. If there was something going on, he needed to pay attention to everything.

And the cadets watching the test observed the group with anticipation

'What's going to happen?'

'Maybe he'll finish it like the 1st cadet.'

'Yeah, but he fought the man from the Force of Justice.'

'Right. Maybe one or two might fail.'

Chun Yeowun had shocked all the cadets throughout every test and every incident. They were curious as to what Yeowun would show them this time around.

"Begin!"

"Mado!"

With Lee Hameng's order, Yeowun's members shouted in unison and readied for the Seven Demon Sword. But even when surrounded him, the bearded man didn't attack first and quietly readied himself.

'Is he ready for anything?'

Yeowun then shouted at his members.

“Fourth formation!”

‘I found him!’

The man then turned quickly and glared at Yeowun. It was as if he were an eagle that had found its prey. However, the twelve members unleashed their swords at the man.

“Ohhh!”

It was a perfect sword formation, just like what Muyeon’s group had showed. However, the man did not seem to care. He quickly moved his sword to easily defend against all the sword movements. It was so fast that it was even hard to track it with the naked eye.

“What!”

“What kind of power is this?!”

Hu Bong and Jin Guuk’s swords were thrown back at such powerful energy

“Hah!”

“Ugh!”

The man shouted and a clear qi was unleashed from his sword, breaking all the swords that touched his sword. Lee Hameng got up from the chair with shock.

‘He’s not a master-level warrior!’

If used by top-class warriors, the Sword Demon formation allowed them to fight against master-level warriors. Yet, this criminal was not just defending; he was actually pushing them back. He was recorded as a master, and he had master-level internal energy when checked prior to the third test.

‘No, he’s not a master-level warrior. He’s a grandmaster warrior.’

And just like how Hameng realized it, Hou Jinchang also realized this at the same time. If he wasn’t a master-level warrior, this test had to be stopped.

“Fall back!” Hou Jinchang shouted and charged in. He quickly unleashed his sword attack, trying to attack the bearded man.

“Back off!”

“Aaargh!”

“Machil!”

Hu Bong shouted as the man grabbed Machil’s neck and threw it at Hou Jinchang.

“NO!”

Hou Jinchang quickly took his sword back and grabbed Machil.

“Ugh!”

And Hou Jinchang was thrown way back with Machil with the energy that came at him. The energy was so powerful that even Hou Jinchang could not defend against it although he was also entering the grandmaster level. The man then turned and growled at Yeowun.

“Heh... I will kill you now.”

Yeowun glared at him with cold eyes.

‘So, this was it.’

The man’s eyes had turned red, and veins were popping up all over his entire face. The reason for him pushing back Hou Jinchang was this: the Art of Blood Reversion.

‘What is with him? Does he think he can survive?’

The man became curious. He heard from ‘that man’ that Chun Yeowun was just a child who was merely at the verge of becoming a master. However, he didn’t run away. Instead, the kid was glaring back with no hint of fear in his eyes.

“Foolish kid! I will kill you as painfully as possible!”

The man shouted angrily and unleashed the attack at Yeowun. It was so powerful that it shot through the air, threatening to cut Yeowun into pieces of meat. But that’s when the man heard Yeowun’s voice in his ears.

“No, you die.”

“What?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

At that moment, Yeowun’s sword shined with white qi light and twenty-four sword movements were unleashed upon the man like a storm.

‘W-what is this?!’

He became shocked. His sword movement was countered immediately and Yeowun’s body flew right past him.

“AAAAAARGH!”

The qi flowed through and the man twirled away, flying up into the air.

Chapter 95

Chapter 95: The dangerous third test (5)

Just a few minutes ago, all the cadets who were watching the third test thought Yeowun's group would pass the test easily. However, the perfect sword formation was easily blocked.

"Aargh!"

"M-my sword!"

With Yeowun's members' swords all being broken, they were thrown way back. The enemy was much more powerful than a master warrior.

'W-what is going on?'

'Who is that man?!'

All the cadets got up in shock. Yeowun's other members all realized something was wrong with the test.

"This isn't right."

"Master is in danger!"

Ko Wanghur and Bakgi exchanged glances. If needed, they were ready to jump in to save their master, even if this was in the middle of the test. Before they could make their move, Senior Instructor Hou Jinchang dashed in first.

"Oh! Instructor Hou is going..."

"Ah!"

To everyone's surprise, Hou Jinchang was thrown back while trying to grab Machil. The cadets were shocked by the power that was thrown together with Machil.

"Wait... is that?"

"That's the Art of Blood Reversion!"

The man's eyes were blood red and his face was covered with his veins popping out in a disgusting manner. His voice was also coarse like that of an animal.

"How can a criminal from Force of Evil use that art?"

The cadets were aware of the forbidden art's existence. And as they watched, the man charged toward Yeowun, unleashing a terrifying sword move that scared even the cadets who were spectating. Every of Yeowun's members charged in.

"Master!"

That's when an amazing thing happened. Yeowun's sword moved gracefully, leaving the afterimage of Yeowun's body as he shot past the man.

"Aaaaaaargh!"

With the powerful storm of energy, the man was thrown up into the air, spinning, and the blood began to gush out from every one of his blood points. He then dropped to the ground, drenched in blood as if he was dead. Every cadet was at a loss for words. What they had just witnessed was Yeowun easily defeating the enemy who destroyed the perfect Sword Demon formation and defeated grandmaster level warrior Hou Jinchang with the power of blood reversion, in just one sword formation.

‘M...monster.’

Chun Mukeum was also at a loss for words. How strong did Yeowun get that he could do so much? But Yeowun didn’t look relieved as he looked at the enemy.

‘What was it?’ Yeowun thought as he looked at the man. He then turned back to his sword.

‘I felt resistance.’

His Sword Force of the Sky Demon had struck perfectly, but Yeowun felt strong resistance as he attacked the enemy’s blood points, and the sword couldn’t penetrate deeper in. The man then began to move.

‘I see. So, it didn’t work.’

The man’s upper clothes were ripped apart as his upper torso expanded abnormally. With veins popping up all over him, he didn’t look like a normal human anymore. He had turned so large and growled like a ferocious beast as he glared at Yeowun while getting up.

“Ggrrr... I... I will kill you....!!! KAAAAAAAAAARGH!”

“Ugh!”

“ARGH!”

The man shouted. It was a sound energy attack. The shouting created a painful wave of energy that made cadets put their hands over their ears. But the power was so strong that some cadets vomited blood and fell.

[Detected series of harmful energy waves from the sound.
Activating emergency defense mode. Blocking all sounds coming through the eardrum and body.]

With Nano's ability, Yeowun was unharmed by the attack. The man frowned at Yeowun who seemed to be fine.

"Grrrr.... You... you have to die here.... Kaaaaaargh!"

It seemed like he was losing his mind now. Yeowun then aimed his sword at him and mumbled, "Try to defend against this one then."

Yeowun then decided to kill the enemy before things got worse and tried to unleash the second formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. It was then...

"AAAAAAARgh!"

The man's left arm was cut off. The man's body which was so strong that even Yeowun's master-level energy couldn't penetrate was cut off so easily.

"!!!"

Yeowun's eyes grew large. An unexpected figure was standing behind the man shouting in pain. He had rugged clothes and a bottle of liquor with a red nose. It was Right Guardian Submeng.

"Heh, you dare try to touch my apprentice with your dirty hands?"

"Teacher!"

Yeowun was surprised by Submeng's sudden appearance, but it didn't last very long.

"Be careful!"

“Kwaaaargh!”

The man roared with anger and turned to attack at Submeng.

“I was only told to keep you alive.”

“Kaaaargh!”

Submeng swung his Crazy Blade and easily countered all attacks. He sliced off the man’s muscles. The man then slumped down to the ground like a doll.

‘Amazing!’

Yeowun was astonished. The Butterfly Blade Dance skill was much more powerful when a powerful warrior like Submeng performed it. He was twice as powerful than what Yeowun experienced through the avatar simulation.

“Krrrrrrr!”

The man tried to get up, but it was useless. The man then turned grim as he realized the power difference between him and Submeng. His face began to redden and he began to shudder when Submeng grabbed his head.

“No, no. You can’t die yet.”

Submeng’s hand unleashed an energy shock and struck the man’s head, making him pass out. His attempt to commit suicide by reversing the energy within him had failed. Submeng got up and shouted toward the stage.

“Bah. You’re taking too long against such fools.”

Everyone then turned to the stage where they hadn’t even been able to pay attention to until now.

“Ah!”

There were men with their upper clothes ripped apart like the enemy that attacked Yeowun, slumped down on the stage, and Lee Hameng grabbed another man who was flailing painfully in his grasp.

“Aaaargh!”

With Hameng’s hand that unleashed the energy, the man turned quiet. Hameng threw the man down and shouted annoyingly.

“You merely took care of one, you drunkard.”

He had defeated a total of seven men using the Art of Blood Reversion while the cadets didn’t even know it was happening.

‘This... is the guardian.’

It was such astounding power. They easily overpowered master-level warriors who had increased their powers greatly from the Art of Blood Reversion. This was only possible because the two of them were within the top ten powerful warriors in the cult.

“Bah. Who cares.”

Submeng shook his head.

“Come out.”

Hameng snapped his fingers and warriors with dark clothes and blue crests popped out from the surroundings.

“Huh?”

“Since when did they get here?”

There was a total of forty men here, but no cadet had realized they were here until now. However, there were cadets who knew who they were.

“Guardian Army!”

They were warriors from the Lord’s palace that consisted of master-level warriors and they only took orders from the Lord.

‘The Guardian Army is here in the Academy?’

‘What’s going on here?’

‘Well, the criminal used the forbidden art.’

The cadets became frantic as the incident had happened during the third test and now the army of the Lord himself had appeared. And there was one cadet in particular who was disappointed by all this. It was Chun Kungwun from the Sword Clan.

“Arrest them all.”

“Yes, sir!”

The warriors began to tie up the criminals and began dragging them out from the training ground. Submeng then walked up to Yeowun and greeted him.

“Long time no see, my apprentice.”

“It has been a long time, Teacher.”

Yeowun bowed and Submeng grinned. Submeng, who had been waiting since the beginning of the third test, was actually very astounded by Yeowun's increased power.

"You have grown a lot."

"No, sir. I have far more to go."

"Heh, but I would have liked to see you use the Butterfly Blade Dance skill."

"Oh."

Yeowun was speechless. Submeng, however, didn't look mad or anything. He was rather curious.

"But that sword..."

"Hmph."

Submeng tried to ask something but Lee Hameng coughed as he walked up. Submeng then glanced around and noticed many cadets were watching them.

"Hehe. I will leave that for later."

There were more things he wanted to share, but Submeng knew the third test was still going on.

"I wish you luck, my apprentice."

Submeng then jumped out, leaving the academy. Yeowun watched his teacher leave. He had to look forward to meeting him again in four years. Yeowun thought to himself as he looked.

'Next time we meet... I will meet you as the heir to the throne.'

‘I am not sure about the Lord’s intention here.’

Submeng didn’t like the whole idea when he was on his way. He thought the Lord was using Yeowun as bait to put pressure on the six clans, so Submeng was going to intervene as soon as Yeowun was in danger. But when Yeowun used a powerful sword skill, Submeng was shocked.

[Stay quiet about the sword skill. You must not tell anyone.]

He was able to confirm it after hearing from Lee Hameng’s telepathic message that the sword skill was very similar to that of the Sword Art of the Sky Demon. He wanted to ask Yeowun how he learned it, but he had to stop it when he heard from Hameng.

‘If he knows, then it must be coming from the Lord himself.’

That seemed most likely. If Yeowun learned the best sword art of the cult, then the Lord’s true intention of succession lied within Yeowun.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Well, we shall see.’

He knew that the Lord was not to judged lightly. He had used Chun Yeowun to oppress six clans until now even when he was the son of the Lord’s only loved woman. So, Submeng didn’t think the Lord had changed his mind so easily. But if the Lord really intended on having Yeowun as the next Lord, then it was bound to bring changes to the cult.

“Let’s go then.”

“Yes, sir!”

With Submeng in the lead, three hundred warriors from the Guardian Army ran out. It was in the direction of the Sword Clan’s mansion.

Chapter 96

Chapter 96: Just happened on its own (1)

The incident quickly began to calm down. Things could have gone out of control, but no one was injured in the process. Machil was also safe although he was thrown with his neck as Hou Jinchang had grabbed him and did not fight back the energy that pushed him back.

‘They are now coming after me in public.’

It was the first time that the six clans had come after him even if it was going against the rules of the cult, and it wasn’t done quietly either. They attacked in front of everyone, especially in front of Left Guardian Lee Hameng who was the trusted advisor to the Lord. Even if the attackers succeeded in killing themselves, this situation was bad enough that the Lord would have every reason to oppress the six clans even further.

‘Was this done on purpose?’

Yeowun didn’t feel good as he thought about it. If Submeng and the Guardian Army were on standby, then it was likely that they expected this from happening.

‘...He used me. So, am I just a pawn to his game?’

Yeowun had lost all hope for the Lord for caring about his son. He then realized that the Lord didn’t even attend Lady Hwa’s funeral.

‘Maybe he didn’t love my mother at all.’

Lady Hwa believed that the Lord loved her even when she was on her death bed. Yeowun didn't want to go against her beliefs, so he held his suspicion back.

'Dammit!'

If the Lord really loved her, then would he have left her to die from being poisoned? Couldn't he protect her and her son Yeowun with the power he had? The suspicion and distrust only grew larger.

'If that is true...'

If the Lord really used him and his mother as a political pawns against the six clans, then Yeowun couldn't forgive him.

'I will make you regret it.'

As Yeowun was furious at the Lord, Left Guardian Lee Hameng was also thinking about what just happened.

'It is as he wished. This will let us suppress the Sword Clan.'

The clan responsible for managing the cult's prison was the Giant Martial Sword Clan. This was one of the hidden connections of the Sword Clan. With their connection to the forbidden Art of Blood Reversion, it was going to damage the Sword Clan.

'So, it's not the three clans.'

The Sword Clan wasn't the first to be put down. The first was the Lust Clan, as their leader Hang Soyu had gone too far with the first test. She was sentenced to banned from every important task and to lay low for the rest of the year. The leader of Poison Clan, Baek Oh, had broken one of the rules of the academy and had given a poisonous orb to Chun Yeowun, so he was sent to prison for two years. Baek Oh refused to admit to the charges, but since Yeowun's clothes were covered in blood, that was irrefutable evidence. All of these events were tied to Yeowun.

'To create such a result by using his own child.'

The Lord seemed to be very cold, even for Lee Hameng who was the most loyal and trusted advisor to the Lord. Whatever the case, three clans had gone down after these incidents. But there was one thing that Hameng was curious about.

'They were caught too easily.'

The Lord had laid a trap so they that they would take the bait, but it was too easy. Chun Yeowun was doing well in the competition, which might have made them concerned, but it seemed weird for the Sword Clan to go this far and risk everything at once. It was apparent that this kind of behavior would lead them to the Sword Clan, so it didn't make sense. It almost felt like the time when Lady Hwa was poisoned.

'I hope it's nothing.'

After things were cleaned up, Lee Hameng got back up onto the stage to proceed with the third test.

"We had a problem there, but we'll continue with the test with the previous test method."

All the cadets were curious as to what just happened, but since Lee Hameng did not go into the details, there was no use. Chun Yeowun's group was able to pass the test altogether since they did manage to form a perfect sword formation, even if it was countered by a more powerful enemy. Every cadet agreed that the formation was perfect, so there were no objections.

‘Ah... so we were the last unlucky group.’

Hu Bong sighed. He was happy that all the members passed, but he and the members from Yeowun’s group were dumbfounded. Nine groups had risked their lives to take the dangerous test, but now the remaining groups were only required to defeat the instructors without risking their lives. Fortunately, four out of the remaining seven groups consisted of Yeowun’s members.

“Whoaaaaa!”

The remaining cadets shouted in joy, but that didn’t last too long.

“Oh? I guess I should fight you guys like a real fight then.”

That shout of joy irritated the instructors and the remaining seven groups had to suffer from passing the test. The instructors knew very well about the formations already, so they weren’t easy like criminals from the Force of Justice.

The third test ended just before dinner time. The life-threatening situation had disappeared, but the remaining seven groups were evaluated with more strict rules.

Only 120 cadets passed the third test.

‘34 out of 72...’

Half of Yeowun’s members had failed. He accepted his members out of loyalty, not out of power. So those who were weak couldn’t pass the test. However, it was also good that Yeowun still had thirty-four members with him who passed such a hard test. As for Chun Mukeum and Chun Kungwun, they lost over half of their members. For Chun Yuchan, he tried his hardest to pass the test, but he couldn't do it sufficiently as the time was too short for him to get used to the Seven Demon sword with his left hand.

Lee Hameng spoke to the cadets above the stage.

“Congratulation to every cadet who passed the third test. You are now the high-ranked warriors of our cult.”

“Mado!”

All the cadets who passed the third test were given medals with a single engraving that proved they were high-ranked warriors. They were also given the third Black Dragon Ball.

“Ohhh!”

Hu Bong, who had been ranting all along about the unfairness of the test, was now happy with the box that contained the Black Dragon Ball. Starting with the third test, the rewards given to those who passed were now quite significant. First, they were allowed to access the third floor of the library. It was the floor where top-class martial artbooks were located. It was the moment that members of weaker clans had been waiting for waited so long. And, there was one more.

Chapter 97

Chapter 97: Just happened on its own (2)

“We are now giving you the weapons you left with us when you joined the academy.”

Many cadets entered the academy with the weapons of their specialty. Until now, they had to receive training on basic sword formations and tactics that required no special weapons. So, they were forbidden from using those weapons. However, it was now time to train these warriors to be the best in the cult, so they were allowed to use their own weapons now.

“Whoa! My sword!”

“Finally!”

The cadets were excited to receive their old weapons back.

“My baby! I missed you so much!”

“What!?”

As Hou Sangwha got her weapon back and caressed it like a baby or puppy, all the cadets were shocked. She had a giant axe that was as tall as a grown man, and no ordinary cadet could possibly wield that.

‘...Baby?’

Now everyone could understand why Hou Sangwha had large, developed muscles. Ja Wumin was also happy to get his red-feathered spear.

‘Weapons...’

Yeowun did not have a special weapon. He wasn’t the type to become envious, but after looking at all those weapons, it reminded him of the Crazy Blade that Teacher Submeng held. Submeng told him that the Butterfly Blade Dance was only perfect with the Crazy Blade.

‘Will there be a sword that fits the Sword Force of the Sky Demon?’

The likely candidate to fit such criteria was the Sky Demon Sword which symbolized the Lord himself. But Yeowun had not seen it with his eyes, so he could only imagine.

“Other cadets without weapons, you can get one at the armory.”

Yeowun then went to armory to get a sword and blade. There were just generic weapons, but it was better than not having anything. After meeting with Submeng, Yeowun thought he would train the Butterfly Blade Dance also.

After receiving everything, the cadets gathered back at the training ground and lined up. Lee Hameng glanced over everyone and spoke.

“You all looked like fools when you walked in, but you look like good warriors now. I will now explain the next test.”

The cadets all became serious at the mention of the next test. Beginning with the fourth test, they were now going to appoint those who passed to be Squad Leaders. This was where they would be trained as powerful warriors.

“Beginning with the fourth test, there is no due date.”

“Whoaaaaa!”

The cadets gasped with astonishment as they were glad to hear that they were now freed from meeting hard deadlines. Hameng grinned.

“You can take the test individually whenever you want during the four years you are here in the Academy.”

‘Four years?’

This meant that the fourth test alone might take four years. The cadets became serious.

“The fourth test is the simplest of all tests held here at the academy.”

‘Simple?’

The tests only got much harder as time went on, so there was something behind that. While the cadets were confused, Hameng grinned, “If you defeat any of the instructors at any time, you pass the test.”

The instructors all glanced at cadets, asking to threaten them at any time.

The cadets were startled. They barely defeated one instructor with the twelve of them teaming up to form a formation. But to defeat an instructor alone, it only meant one thing.

‘Become a master level warrior.’

That was the basic requirement to become an instructor. However, most instructors were well into the late master level.

‘It’s obvious.’

Yeowun nodded as he understood the requirement. However, the cadets didn’t seem to be too eager. There were some who were barely at the top-class level who were concerned, not to mention the other cadets who were either reaching the master level, or those who were at the master level already.

‘Dammit! This is crazy! Even the leaders cannot defeat the instructors who only used the Seven Demon Sword. How can we defeat them?’

‘Our leader barely got the yellow tag!’

‘Didn’t you hear? You have to train yourself!’

Becoming a top-class warrior was easy if given enough energy and martial arts. However, becoming a master was different since it required the understanding of qi. There were many warriors who did not have the talent to understand qi, and that stopped them from reaching the master level.

This meant that the fourth test was to see if they were worthy to be more powerful.

“And I will warn you again. As I said in the beginning, you will be expelled the moment you fail the test.”

There was only one chance for the test. If the instructor used their own martial arts, then it was going to be much harder this time around. Lee Hameng then explained the other facilities that were now available for use and ordered them to be dismissed.

“You are now dismissed. I wish all of you good luck.”

“Mado!!”

The cadets all shouted in unison and began to scatter. However, most of the cadets went to a similar destination. Those who wanted to increase their energy went to the private training room, and those who wanted more powerful skill books went to the library.

Yeowun and his members all stayed behind and gathered. This was to say goodbye to those who had failed the test.

“Master, thank you for everything.”

“We would not have gotten the chance to take the test if it wasn’t for you.”

“I will wait for you outside, Master.”

Members bowed to Yeowun, and as they all said farewell to each other, someone called out Yeowun’s number from behind.

“7th cadet!”

“Huh?”

Everyone turned to the voice. The one who called Yeowun was instructor Sang Munyo who had to stay in the medical room for three weeks after his rib fracture from Yeowun. Sang Munyo didn’t look all that friendly while talking to him.

“Follow me to the main building.”

“What is it?”

“Do you have the right to ask me questions?”

“...Yes, sir.”

It was weird that he was telling him to follow, but Yeowun had a guess. Maybe the Chief was calling him because of what happened a while ago. Yeowun told his members to go back without him and followed Sang Munyo into the building.

‘Huh?’

Unlike his expectations, Sang Munyo walked past the building and went toward one of the buildings that was not available to the cadets yet. When they arrived at empty space where no one was around, Sang Munyo stopped.

“This seems like a good place.”

Yeowun realized that something was strange and said, “... So, the Chief didn’t call me.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Did I tell you that the Chief wanted to see you?”

He didn’t of course. However, it seemed like his intentions weren’t good either. And the expectation was correct this time. Sang Munyo pulled out his blade and aimed at Chun Yeowun.

Yeowun looked at him coldly, “What is this?”

“What is this- you said? Bastard. Listen carefully. You just challenged me for the fourth test here. That’s how this will end.”

And Munyo swung his blade against Yeowun's neck without warning.

Chapter 98

Chapter 98: Just happened on its own (3)

Sang Munyo woke up three days later in the medical room. His bone was sticking out of his skin, so he was in quite a serious state. When he woke up, he was even angrier and furious that he had lost to a mere cadet.

‘This is so embarrassing!’

He had lost in front of many instructors and cadets. Sang Munyo was a very ambitious man who cared about his honor and pride, so this was humiliating. And such humiliation turned it into a fit of anger.

‘If I could only use my skill...’

He was restricted to only using the Seven Demon Sword that he wasn’t good at fighting with. If he was only allowed to use his own skill, then he was certain that he could defeat Yeowun within ten formations. Even if Yeowun was powerful, he had merely just become a master warrior.

Munyo gritted his teeth as he thought about getting revenge. He thought to kick out of Yeowun as soon as he got out of the medical room, and the day finally arrived. He wished Yeowun would pass the test since he knew that the next test was the duel between the cadets and instructors. This was the perfect chance to find Yeowun and kick him out himself. He had waited for so long that he now had lost all patience to wait for Yeowun to come to challenge him.

‘Do I need to wait for him to challenge me? I’ll just beat him up bad so he can’t talk, and tell everyone that he challenged me later.'

If he shocked the brain and damaged it, then Yeowun would not be able to keep his sanity to speak the truth. Moreover, it didn't seem like anyone would blame him for injuring cadets like Yeowun who did not have a special background like the princes from the six clans.

'Fool. I'll make it so that you can never wield a sword again!'

Munyo swung his blade without warning at Yeowun's neck. He didn't think Yeowun would be stronger than him, but he remembered that the sword skill that Yeowun used last time was quite powerful.

'I'll ambush him so I can put him down quickly.'

No one was watching either, so he didn't hesitate about ambushing him. When the blade almost reached Yeowun's neck...

'Huh?'

Yeowun's blade defended against his sudden attack. It was so quick that Munyo was shocked and glared at him. Yeowun then looked at Munyo coldly and said, "Good. Don't take back what you just said."

"W-what?!"

"You said that this is the fourth test."

Munyo couldn't hear what Yeowun was saying now. He became angry that Yeowun had blocked his attack and so he unleashed all of his entire energy to push Yeowun back. Yet, he didn't even budge. It was actually his hand that held the blade that was shaking now.

‘His power... but how?’

Sang Munyo was at the master level. His energy was not something that an entry-level master warrior like Chun Yeowun could defend against. However, he defended against it and didn’t even budge.

‘Did his internal energy increase in that short amount of time?’

That’s when Yeowun’s blade unleashed its energy, throwing Munyo’s blade back. Munyo was pushed back and the hand he held his blade with actually felt pain from the energy that sent his blade back. Munyo, who was excited until now just thinking about getting his revenge, became shocked and grimaced at the realization.

‘He’s gotten much stronger!’

He didn’t think Yeowun would have gotten this strong in such a short amount of time. Considering the shock he received just now, Yeowun had at least the same amount of internal energy as Munyo himself. It was unbelievable.

‘How can he become so powerful in just a few weeks?’

Yeowun did not consume any more Black Dragon Balls after he had dueled him, so it was weird. Of course, this was due to the Poison Clan’s leader, Baek Oh. The use of poison ball had actually increased Yeowun’s energy instead of decreasing it. But there was no way for Sang Munyo to know about this.

‘Whew... let’s keep calm. Just because he has more internal energy doesn’t make him a master level warrior.’

To reach the master level, one had to understand qi to be able to use qi freely. Just having more energy didn't mean Yeowun was as powerful as Munyo himself since there was no way Yeowun could have acquired such deep understanding in such a short amount of time.

"Hah! So, you've gotten a bit more powerful. I won't go easy on you then!"

"Sure."

"A-arrogant fool!"

Sang Munyo was provoked by Yeowun's casual nod and he sent qi to his blade. The blade shone brightly with the white light of qi. Munyo felt a strong urge to cut off Yeowun's arm at least to make this anger subside.

"Hah!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Munyo charged in, unleashing his Blade skill. His blade divided into two, coming down at Yeowun at once.

'It's fast. But...'

It was much slower than the Butterfly Blade Dance. Yeowun's body spun quickly and the blade in his hand left a trace and defended the blade attack coming down at him. It was the second formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance. Sang Munyo's eye grew wide with shock.

'He blocked this?! H-how...!'

Munyo then saw the clear white qi on Yeowun's blade. Its shape wasn't perfect yet, but it was proof that Yeowun was an established master.

Chapter 99

Chapter 99: Just happened on its own (4)

‘H-he’s not entry master level!’

Sang Munyo became shocked and tried to back away. If Yeowun’s strength was equal to his, then Munyo needed to fight carefully. That’s when Yeowun charged in like lightning, unleashing the sixth formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance against Munyo.

“Argh!”

Munyo swung his blade defensively, but the blade came at him like a butterfly leaving traces, making his eyes dizzy. It was much faster than his own blade.

Munyo’s blade was thrown away, ripping Munyo’s palm. As Yeowun did not stop on his blade formation, Munyo quickly shouted, “I-I lost! You passed the test. Stop now!”

It was not a matter of pride anymore. It seemed like Yeowun’s blade was coming at him as if it would kill for real. Yeowun’s blade stopped in front of Munyo’s nose.

“Hah... hah...”

Munyo’s face was drenched in sweat. Yeowun asked suspiciously, “Did I pass the fourth test?”

Holding up his both hands, he stuttered, “Y-yes. You won, so let’s stop it here.”

It was to signal to him that he had given up, but it was actually a scheme. Munyo decided to change his method now since he knew he couldn't just defeat Yeowun with the normal way.

'I would die rather than have you pass the test!'

If he were to let Yeowun safely go, then there was the risk of letting everyone know that Munyo ambushed him alone. Munyo gathered the energy in both of his hands. He was going to strike Yeowun's head as soon as he pulled back his blade.

"Okay."

'Good!'

As Yeowun retrieved his blade and placed it back into the scabbard, Munyo narrowed his eyes. However, at that moment, Yeowun's fist struck his body, throwing him back. The sheer strength of the attack blew him away. Munyo became dumbfounded.

"H-how..."

"You should've hidden the energy from your hand if you were going to lie."

"H-how did you know...!"

Munyo was so shocked that he stuttered. How did Yeowun know when the energy wasn't let out of his hand? The energy scattered away from his both hands as he lost will to secretly attack him.

[Energy focused in the enemy's hands no longer detected.
Lowering risk level.]

There was no way Sang Munyo to know about Nano's ability to sense danger. Yeowun then came up to him with a cold look on his face. Full of fear, Munyo exclaimed, "I-I'm sorry. I'm not lying anymore. I accept my loss! I'll go tell the Chief that you passed the... AAAARGH!"

Before Munyo finished speaking, Yeowun stepped on his right rib, crushing his bones. The rib bone that barely healed after three weeks of rest and meditation was gone. Yeowun glowered at Munyo.

"You should've done that before. It's too late."

Munyo became grim with despair. Yeowun then stomped on Munyo's left chest, crushing all the left rib bones also.

After about an hour, instructors gathered at the Chief's office to create a report on the third test. However, they were now sympathetically looking down at someone who was slumped down on the floor. It was Instructor Sang Munyo.

"Hmph."

Lee Hameng, who was sitting down on his chair, looked down at Munyo embarrassingly. Chun Yeowun had brought Sang Munyo here on his shoulders a while ago. Sang Munyo had already passed out and Yeowun, who came together with guards who helped him to carry Munyo, put down Munyo on the office floor and explained what happened.

'I knew he would do something...'

'Thinking of getting revenge against cadet? What a fool.'

Most of the instructors seemed dumbfounded and were lost for words at what Munyo did. They needed to hear both sides of stories in most cases, but it didn't seem like it was necessary for this one. The fourth test required the cadets to duel against an instructor anyway. If Munyo ambushed Yeowun, then he was going to be cast out from the academy. If Yeowun challenged him, then he would've just passed the test.

'...He did just enough.'

Even if Sang Munyo attacked him first, if Yeowun cut his arm off or did anything too terrible, it might have angered instructors. However, Yeowun destroyed all of his ribs so that it wasn't too obvious.

'He's learning.'

This meant that Yeowun was now learning to look after himself. Hameng wanted to compliment him on this, but he couldn't say this in front of all the instructors. Hou Jinchang spoke up first.

"Well, he still... passed."

Lee Hameng also grinned and nodded. So, throughout the entire history of the Demonic Academy, this was the fastest record for a cadet to pass the fourth test: just an hour after the third test.

'Well, it was only a matter of time anyway.'

Yeowun was able to defeat the criminal who used the Art of Blood Reversion and pushed back Hou Jinchang. Hameng took something out from his desk and threw it at Chun Yeowun.

"Take this."

“Huh?”

It was a silver medal with the word ‘L’ written on it, proving his status as a Squad Leader. Hameng went up to him and took the black number tag off from his chest.

“Congratulations on passing the fourth test in the shortest amount of time, Squad Leader Chun Yeowun.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Exactly after two months, Yeowun was now able to regain his name from being the 7th cadet. He now had earned the title of Squad Leader.

‘Oh! I can look at the pedestals on the third and fourth floors then!’

This was what excited Yeowun most.

On the second floor medical room, Baek Jongmeng was looking down at instructor Sang Munyo with a sympathetic look on his face.

“I thought you wanted to leave this place as soon as possible? Poor guy.”

Chapter 100

Chapter 100: Earn the right to take the test (1)

When the cadet enters the academy, cadet was then started being called with the number given at the first day. It is until the cadet passes fourth test and earns the title of a Squad Leader that cadet is freed from the number. And with being Squad Leader, cadet is then placed as the same rank with instructors. The reason why cadets tried so hard to pass each test in Academy was that it was fastest route to rise to the higher hierarchy of the Cult.

Instructor Impeng handed over a small wooden box that contained another black dragon ball. By passing the fourth test almost immediately, Yeowun was able to receive another ball.

“Congratulations on becoming a squad leader, Leader Chun.”

Impeng spoke with very polite tone. He was now treating Yeowun as a equal, not as a mere cadet.

“Thank you, instructor.”

Impeng smiled and nodded. He didn't expect Yeowun will pass the fourth test in such short amount of time. Of course, part of it was due to Sang Munyo. There were two more privilege given to the one who passed the fourth test. It was that person was given a private room to stay.

“Is that for real?”

“...Do you like it that much?”

Yeowun seemed to like it more than when he received the tag that proved him as a squad leader. It was because Yeowun was awkward while sharing boy's dormitory with a girl, Mun Ku. And another privilege was something that he didn't expect.

“Come to the blacksmith station at north, tomorrow morning.”

“Blacksmith?”

Yeowun became confused and senior instructor Hou Jinchang explained.

“We craft a weapon of choice for squad leader who passed the fourth test. I think this is one you need the most at the moment. Haha.”

Master level warriors were given privilege wherever they go and even in the academy, such privilege came as a crafting unique weapon for new squad leader. Yeowun was glad to hear as he didn't have his own weapon until now.

“Ohh!”

The reward given to cadets going up through the test were definitely worth it. It was a process that was set in place to raise powerful warriors, so it provided to be so. Left Guardian Lee Hameng then spoke to Yeowun when everything was done.

“Then I will explain to you about the fifth test.”

Lee Hameng turned back to his authoritative tone. Even if Yeowun had become a squad leader, Hameng was a guardian so he was still in much higher rank, so it didn't matter.

'Fifth test...'

Yeowun didn't think he would hear about fifth test so early. He heard that tests became exponentially harder beginning with fifth test, that there weren't many who passed it. He was able to pass the fourth test easily as Yeowun was at the peak of a master level.

"Fifth test, is to pass the Demon Seal Cavern."

Yeowun became confused. Demon Seal Cavern was one of the place that wasn't open for cadets yet. It was located at far north of the academy, where there was a ragged building that says 'Demon Seal Cavern' in front.

"Can I take the test anytime, just like fourth test?"

"Yes. But you need to be worthy of it, to be given a chance to take it."

"Worthy of...?"

Yeowun asked and Hameng looked back at Yeowun.

"You need to be at the peak of grandmaster level."

Yeowun was lost for word at that. He did expect he will be required to be more powerful, but he didn't think it would require such high level of power. To hit the peak of grandmaster level, Yeowun needed to jump up at least three stage of power from now. It wasn't easy.

And considering only top 100 warriors within the entire Cult was at grandmaster level, it proved how difficult it is to become so powerful. There were only about ten average cadets who passed the fifth test in entire Academy's history. Maybe four years might not even be enough time.

'...It will be hard. It might take too much time.'

It wasn't sure how difficult the Demon Seal Cavern is, to require such powerful state.

"If you hurry, you will not find understanding. Don't rush into things."

Lee Hameng gave a short advice, but he was sincere in his words. The academy's purpose was to raise powerful warriors. Having more grandmaster level warrior meant that cult will grow more powerful, so Hameng wished Yeowun will become such powerful soon.

"Then that is all. I wish you luck."

"Thank you, sir. I will not fail you."

Yeowun bowed.

"You are dismissed."

Lee Hameng spoke and Yeowun left. Instructors all sighed, as they now had to go back to their menial documentation task.

And Yeowun, who heard about fifth test, walked immediately toward the library building.

'I can see the fourth and third floor now!'

Yeowun was most interested in sword formations of Sword Force of Sky Demon left on the blue pearl stone pedestal on upper floor.

“Oh.”

Instructor who was taking care of cadets entering the library immediately recognized Chun Yeowun. Yeowun was one of black tag prince, and also went into first and second floor on the same day, so it was natural that he remembered.

Instructor shook his head. All cadets were required to have tags on their chest, to show their status. Instructor stopped Yeowun who was trying to write down his name on the booklet and spoke.

“Where is your tag?”

“I returned it.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Return? Did you not pass the test?”

Instructor frowned at that. He had mistaken that word for Yeowun having failed the test. Yeowun then took out the silver medal from his pocket and showed it to the instructor.

“Huh?”

It had the word L written on it, which made instructor to become dumbfounded. He knew that it proved Yeowun was a squad leader.

“D-did you pass the fourth test?!”

Chapter 101

Chapter 101: Earn the right to take the test (2)

“Yes, just now.”

At Yeowun’s answer, the cadets who were waiting for their turn, including the guards and instructors, all became shocked. It had been only an hour since the third test, and one person had already passed.

‘T-that’s the 7th cadet!’

‘Did he really pass the fourth test?!’

‘It’s only been an hour since the third test!’

‘Isn’t he lying?’

‘Look! That’s the silver medal that the instructors have!’

People began to chattering at such shocking news. The instructor too seemed shocked as he had worked at the academy for three cycles already and he had never seen a cadet who passed the fourth test in such a short amount of time.

‘This... is astounding. The fourth stage in just two months?’

The fastest cadet in the last academy was a cadet who passed the fourth test after five months. It seemed like a prince was surely different.

“I apologize, Leader Chun.”

The instructor apologized while bowing down. If Yeowun had received a rank of Squad Leader, then he equal with the instructors. With the instructor bowing, the cadets then realized that all of this wasn't a dream, nor was it fake.

"Can I go into the third floor first?"

"Of course."

Yeowun then wrote down his name down in the booklet and received the candle to go up to the third floor. The cadets were envious as Yeowun passed by them. It was mostly because he passed the fourth test, but they also knew that he could now walk up to the fourth floor of the library which was filled with master-level martial arts books. Yeowun then checked his candle as he walked up to the third floor.

'Four hours.'

It had increased tremendously since the second floor, but this was because top-class martial artists were very thick and complicated, making it was hard to memorize them. Of course, Yeowun did not need to memorize anything since he had Nano. All he had to do was concentrate on acquiring as many books as possible.

On the third floor, there were many cadets trying hard to memorize the books of their choice. Ko Wanghur, Bakgi, Hu Bong, and other members were concentrating on memorizing books. Yeowun then went straight to the middle of the library.

'There it is!'

There was a blue pearl stone pedestal with poetry on the front and sword markings on the back. However, the markings on the back of this pedestal seemed to be more than what was on first or second pedestal.

‘It looks more complicated.’

It seemed like it required careful analysis. However, Yeowun had a time limit in this place and people were around him so he just scanned it first.

‘Nano, scan these marks and save it.’

[Yes, Master.]

When the scanning was complete, Yeowun began to go through the books to scan them, just like how he did on the first and second floors.

‘Shall we start then?’

Yeowun took out one of the books and began flipping through the pages. The quiet library was immediately filled with the sound of flipping pages.

‘AH!’

‘NOT AGAIN!!!’

‘THAT BASTARD!!!’

The cadets around Yeowun immediately scowled. They had experienced Yeowun bothering their reading before, so they were immediately irritated again. Unlike before however, they were given a lot more time here so they needed to endure Yeowun’s page turning for a longer period.

‘Dammit!’

Yeowun had caused problems for many cadets without realizing it. After scanning as many as books as possible, Yeowun realized no one was around him.

‘Huh?’

Most of the cadets had moved to the other end of the library in an effort to get away from Yeowun. After four hours, Yeowun was able to scan a total of 179 books from the library. It was much more than what he scanned on the second floor. Some of these books also seemed to be good as they would help Yeowun too.

‘Now, on to the fourth.’

Yeowun then walked up to the fourth floor. Now, Yeowun was given six hours. The fourth floor was empty since no cadets had passed the fourth test yet, but the floor was much smaller and there were fewer books. It seemed like the total number of books was only at about 400.

It was natural since there weren’t many master-level martial arts out there. Thus, there weren’t that many books about them either.

‘Let’s scan the pedestal first.’

The most important thing was to scan the fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon and the Sword Demon’s counter sword movement. There was a pedestal in the middle of the floor as well.

‘Huh?’

Yeowun was shocked when he got closer to the pedestal. There were many cracks on the stone, and the corner part was cut out. It was so cleanly cut that it proved that it had been cut down by a sword.

‘Why was it damaged so severely?’

Yeowun then looked at the sword markings on the back. Unlike the one on the other pedestals, these were marks were deeper, rougher, and more disorderly. Nano also reached a similar conclusion.

[The power left by the sword has grown twice as strong compared to those on the other pedestals.]

‘Ugh, it makes it more curious!’

He wanted to run the simulation to check it, but he didn’t need to hurry. He could always do it later in the private training room. Yeowun held back his curiosity and scanned the pedestal first.

‘Then, onto the books.’

Yeowun glanced around, checking to see what to scan first and became surprised. Unlike other floors, the fourth-floor books were divided into three groups. One group of books which had the most, consisted of were master-level martial art books from the Demonic Cult. However, the other half of books were those taken from the Forces of Justice and Evil.

‘These are all famous martial arts...’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It was a collection of martial arts collected through hundreds of years. It was not the best from each of the clans, it was very powerful indeed. Although it was likely that these clans had improved their martial arts after these books had been written, it was good to know about them anyhow.

‘It will help me later when I need to fight warriors from those clans. Let’s scan some from the cult first... oh!’

As Yeowun was taking out the book, an idea struck him.

‘I don’t need to keep all these martial arts to myself!’

What would happen if he taught his members these master level martial arts? Yeowun became excited at the thought and grinned.

Chapter 102: Earn the right to take the test (3)

[Scan completed.]

[Scan completed.]

Nano's voice kept ringing as Yeowun continued flipping through every book he could get his hands on. Six hours was quite a long period of time. He couldn't count how many books he had scanned. Most of the cadets would have used up all their time in trying to memorize the books as best as they could. The books on the fourth floor contained powerful martial arts skills and techniques. Yeowun kept on scanning and then checked the candle after a while.

'Oh. It's almost time.'

The candle had melted to the line, indicating his time was almost over. Yeowun was curious as to how many he had scanned until now.

'Nano, how many books did I scan from here?'

[Scanned a total of 245 books, Master.]

'Can you divide them into groups?'

[There is a total of 112 books from the Demonic Cult, 83 books from Forces of Justice and 50 books from Force of Evil.]

'...That's a lot.'

Yeowun scanned more than just a lot. Yeowun now contained enough martial arts books enough to be called library himself. He had about the same number of books and information that a large clan, or even a group of clans, could possibly have.

‘I can get everything I can here.’

He had gotten more than half of books from the fourth floor, so it was enough. When Yeowun got out of the building, the day had passed and it was dark.

“You sure took your time, Leader Chun.”

“Oh.”

The instructor was waiting for Yeowun with an exhausted look on his face. He didn’t look happy. He would’ve been able to go off from his duty much earlier, but he had to wait for Yeowun who was the only remaining cadet inside the library.

“Hmm. It’s already too late. You have to return to the dorm. Let’s go.”

“Oh... I didn’t realize it was this late. I’m sorry.”

He had gone past the curfew to be in dorm for over two hours the first time, but the instructor didn’t blame Yeowun since he too realized he made the mistake of sending Yeowun in when it was already too late.

‘I guess I will have to postpone going to the training room until tomorrow.’

He had to postpone consuming the Black Dragon Ball and the formation transfer of Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

When he returned, he was greeted by his members who were concerned about the fact that Yeowun had not returned yet.

“Master, you should at least tell us that you will be late!”

“Oh... uh, I’m sorry.”

Yeowun apologized to Hu Bong and the others. His members had searched every part of the academy for Yeowun. It wasn’t likely since the remaining tests were all done individually, but they were worried that Yeowun might be attacked by others.

“I didn’t think I would stay in the library for that long.”

“What do you mean? We were together.”

“I didn’t calculate the time. The time given for the fourth floor is six hours, so...”

“....Huh?”

“YOU WERE ON THE FOURTH FLOOR?!”

The members were all astounded. This meant that Yeowun had passed the fourth test already.

“Master! Congratulations!”

“Congratulations!”

The members then immediately became excited and rejoiced.

‘He passed the fourth test on the same day! ...Maybe Prince Chun is the most likely heir to the throne.’

Mun Ku was also astonished. She thought Yeowun was more than she thought as she watched him overcoming many obstacles, but he always exceeded her expectations, and that gave her more anticipation.

His members then found out that Yeowun would move to a private room and they stayed up late into the night, talking about many things.

‘Hmm... so, I can get a private room if I pass the fourth test?’

Not long after, Mun Ku also passed the fourth test and was given a private room.

The next morning, Yeowun got up early, excited that he would get a new unique weapon and went to the blacksmith and waited.

‘My weapon...’

He didn’t mention it, but he wanted one too. After about thirty minutes, a middle-aged man with a white bandana on his head came over. He had leather pouch tied to his waist that had hammers and various tools which proved he was the blacksmith working here. The man noticed Yeowun and laughed.

“Oh! Who do we have here? Leader Chun who passed the fourth test in record-breaking time!”

“Good morning, sir.”

Yeowun bowed as he met the man for the first time. When the man came closer, Yeowun realized he looked quite different from normal people. The man didn’t have a single hair on him, starting from his eyebrows to even his legs. It seemed like he always spent time working on weapons in front of the forge all day, and so even all of his hair had burned up.

“Haha, this is part of the job.”

The man realized where Yeowun was looking at and gave his explanation. He then introduced himself as Ou Sunong, a descendant of Ou Yezi.

“Ou Yezi!”

Yeowun had read many books, so he had heard the name many times. Ou Yezi was a legendary blacksmith who lived far back in history. Most of the swords he made were called masterpieces and these swords were rumored to be able to cut a tiger at once. Yeowun became surprised when he heard the one who would make his weapon was a descendant of Ou Yezi.

“Hahaha. I’m sorry to burst your bubble, but I am not like my ancestor. Besides, there are many other descendants.”

“I’m sure your ancestor’s skill remains in your blood.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Haha, of course. I’ll do my best to create your weapon.”

Ou Sunong seemed to be pleased by Yeowun’s reaction. Sunong then glanced over at Yeowun’s both sword and blade and asked.

“Do you use both sword and blade?”

It wasn't common for warriors to use swords and blades since it was difficult to excel in just one weapon. Using both weapons meant that it was much harder to master.

"Yes. Can I get both a sword and a blade?"

Chapter 103

Chapter 103: Earn the right to take the test (4)

Sunong then shook his head and said, "I'm sorry, but you only allowed to create one."

"I see."

"I guess you might be in a dilemma then. Which weapon do you need more?"

Yeowun then thought for a second and chose the sword. He wanted a weapon he could use the Sword Force of the Sky Demon with for now.

'The sword cracked when I used the skill before, so this must be first.'

He didn't realize this before, but after fighting against the attacker during the third test, Yeowun checked his sword and saw that it was all cracked up. With such damage, it would've most likely shattered if he went onto the second formation.

"I see, good idea. I actually specialize in making swords rather than blades."

"Thank you."

"Yes. Before we start, can you show me your sword skill?"

"Huh?"

Yeowun became confused as Sunong wanted to see him use a sword.

“If I am to create a sword that fits you, then I need to see you do it so I can analyze what I need to do.”

“Ohh! Okay, I got it.”

Yeowun nodded and pulled out the sword from his back. It was just a generic sword from the academy. Yeowun prepared himself with the sword in his hand.

Although he hadn't done anything yet, the atmosphere changed and Sunong gasped in astonishment. Yeowun then moved to unleash the first formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon in the air.

The twenty-four sword movements left a trace in the air as it shot through the wind. The formation was over soon, but the energy left made a wind that blew outward.

“It's done.”

When Yeowun was done, Sunong woke up from his dumbfounded expression. He then turned to Yeowun with a dazed look and Yeowun asked, “Was that enough?”

“Uh...” Sunong frowned and responded, “I don't know what to say... I can't make the sword.”

“Huh? What do you mean?”

“Can you show me that sword?”

Sunong received the sword Yeowun used just now and took out a hammer from his pouch. He then slammed it into the blade of the sword.

“What?!”

The blade then shattered immediately just after it was slammed with the hammer. The entire blade, not just the part where it was struck, shattered. The sword couldn't withstand the movements that Yeowun just performed.

"No ordinary sword can withstand such powerful sword movements."

This was why Sunong was so shocked. The power within the movement so powerful that no normal sword had the chance to endure it.

"Then if you can make it stronger..."

"If that was going to work, I would have said that I could do it."

"Then?"

"If we have to make a sword to endure such a sword skill, I need the cold iron."

"Cold iron!"

Yeowun remembered Submeng's Crazy Blade was also created from cold iron. It was a metal that was dug up in the northern sea area where it was much more durable than regular iron. Its source was lacking and expensive that only the top hundred warriors of the cult who were at the rank of clan leaders were given.

"Ah..."

Yeowun wanted a sword but it seemed like that was not possible at the moment. He knew the Sword Force was possible, but he didn't realize it would be this powerful. If he were to get the sword, he needed to pass the fifth test and reach the clan leader rank.

“Hmph.”

“I’m sorry. I was very eager when I saw your amazing sword movement but...”

Sunong felt relieved and Yeowun then asked to create a blade. Sunong said that he can create a blade fitting for Butterfly Blade Dance at least.

“With the hilt like this... and you want a blade that’s narrow and light?”

Sunong was surely a master in his skill and found out the best shape required to use the skill. The shape was very similar to the Crazy Blade that Submeng had.

Yeowun couldn’t get the sword, but he had to be satisfied for at least getting a blade.

“Come back in two weeks.”

“Thank you.”

“I hope the day comes that I make your sword.”

What Sunong was talking about was that he was wishing for Yeowun to pass the fifth test. After he was done visiting the blacksmith, Yeowun moved over to the training room.

What’s next had already been chosen. When he went into the building, he felt that there were more people inside the building.

‘There are a lot of cadets who’ve reached the master level.’

This building was open to master level cadets. There were only about ten cadets who used the building last few days ago, but it now there were more than fifteen. And with the ones like Ko Wanghur becoming master level warriors, it was likely that the number of people wanting to join the training room was going to increase. However, Yeowun's goal was different from these people.

'I have to become a superior level warrior.'

He needed to fulfill the basic requirements to take the fifth test. Yeowun then walked into the room and sat down to meditate. Then he took out the two wooden boxes. It was the Black Dragon Ball he had gotten when he passed the third and fourth test.

"Ugh."

The foul stench seeped out and Yeowun became hesitant.

"Should I eat both at once? Or at the same time?"

Yeowun had never been in a situation like this before and she became hesitant. But if he were to consume them one by one, that meant that it would take a longer time.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"...Oh well."

Yeowun then threw both balls into his mouth. One was painful enough, but with two, Yeowun couldn't hide the bitterness that flashed up on his face. Yeowun then swallowed the chewed up balls. Yeowun then got up from his seat and began going through the Sword Force of the Sky

Demon to breathe before he ordered, 'Nano, help me absorb the dragon ball.'

Nano's voice spread through his head.

[Detected large amount of substance that triggers strong energy flow. The speed of energy increasing is very fast. Stopping the energy from disappearing and increasing metabolism will require enlargement of blood points, which will result in severe pain.]

It was kind of Nano to warn him.

Chapter 104: Earn the right to take the test (5)

The Black Dragon Ball was created by a man named Baek Yu, a member from the Poison Clan. Baek Yu was master in poison and medicines. When he first made the Black Dragon Ball, he went through many trial and errors. He had to put so much effort in search of the right amount of people, regardless of who it was, to be able to absorb the equal amount of energy through the ball. The important part about increasing internal energy through such medicine was to allow one absorb the power in a stable condition rather than obtain it in large amounts.

The Black Dragon Ball that was created after so many trials was perfected to the point that wouldn't damage the person consuming it. However, even with Yeowun consuming the recommended amount, it made his energy flow explode within him.

Yeowun was drenched in sweat as he meditated through the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. He used the breathing to obtain a greater effect, but moving was much more painful than doing it while sitting down.

“Ugh!”

It made him moan in pain. The internal energy flowing through his blood points was so much that it felt like it was going to rip him apart. That's when blood gushed out from Yeowun's back. It was the blood point that exploded out. However, the wound immediately healed.

[Healed damaged blood point.]

This was a vital blood point that had ripped from over-expanding. The Nano Machine quickly healed it up and patched it. If the other cadets had done this, it would have killed them after ripping all the blood points, but with Nano healing him, Yeowun was able to absorb the energy to the fullest. It also helped that Nano removed any immunities against the Black Dragon Ball.

‘Ugh, I should’ve used the Breathing of Thousand Martial Arts instead.’

It was too late to regret. Besides, the Sword Force of the Sky Demon was one of the best breathing skills throughout all of Wulin, so it sped up the process much more quickly, thus increasing the energy.

[Blood points damaged. Healing in progress.]

Multiple blood points ripped at once. It almost made Yeowun pass out, but since Nano quickly healed them up, Yeowun was able to endure it.

‘I have to endure it... endure!’

If he couldn’t endure, everything was going to fail. Yeowun kept on going through the breathing skill movements without stopping. Yeowun did not realize it, but as his blood points exploded and healed up repeatedly, they began to grow stronger enough to endure the increased energy.

After four hours, the training room was hot because of the heat coming from Yeowun. The steam coming from Yeowun’s body filled the entire room. Yeowun, who had been moving with twenty-four sword movements, finally came to a stop.

He collapsed onto the floor. Yeowun’s face, which had been drenched with sweat while doing the movements, was no longer wet. However, he definitely looked exhausted from performing the prolonged movements.

“Hah... hah...”

He closed his eyes and took deep breaths. Then he opened his eyes again. His eyes were deeper, and the blood point on his side of the head protruded a bit, showing that he had increased his internal energy greatly.

‘...I almost died.’

Yeowun realized that consuming medicine in the wrong way could also kill him. It was a lesson; he learned that he should not be too greedy from now on.

‘Let’s check how much energy has increased then.’

In theory, one Black Dragon Ball increased twenty years worth of internal energy. But in Yeowun’s case, he was able to gain thirty years worth of energy from the first ball through the help from Submeng and Nano, which was the maximum amount that he could gain. During the second time, he had gotten twenty-two to twenty-three years worth of internal energy.

‘Nano helped, so I should get at least forty years worth...’

Yeowun wished to have gained that much at least since it would contribute to the foundation of becoming a grandmaster level warrior. Yeowun then took a breath and checked the energy within him.

“Huh?”

His eyes grew large from shock. He thought he might have made a mistake and checked again, but the energy flow was the same.

‘Sixty years worth... but how...?’

Yeowun’s energy had increased by sixty years, and he couldn’t believe that it really happened. This wasn’t only through Nano’s help. It was also partly due to the breathing skill of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

‘Let’s try to make the energy flow.’

Yeowun then sent the energy throughout his body, and something more surprising happened this time. With his expanded blood points, it allowed the energy to flow more smoothly. With this, it was going to allow him to use twice the amount of energy when using swords.

“Let’s try it!”

Yeowun got up and brought up his qi over his hand. The qi had increased in size also. This looked like it was stronger than Hou Jinchang’s, even though he was already a grandmaster warrior. But this was obvious as Hou Jinchang had 120 years worth of internal energy, whereas Yeowun had 150 years worth of energy now. The only difference between them was the understanding of qi.

Hou Jinchang knew more about controlling the qi.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“I am on the right track.”

Yeowun smiled in satisfaction. With this amount of internal energy, he was going to become a grandmaster if he earned the understanding, considering the fact that most cadets only acquired about ten to twelve years worth of internal energy due to immunity. This was an astounding feat. Yeowun now had a great amount of internal energy.

“Hehe... let’s move onto the Sword Force of the Sky Demon then.”

Yeowun then ordered Nano to extract the sword formation of Father Chun Ma and the counter sword formation of the Sword Demon and had it transferred over into his brain.

[Yes, Master. Transferring two sword formations to the user’s brain.]

Chapter 105

Chapter 105: Earn the right to take the test (6)

Yeowun then felt a pinching sensation over his head as the formation was transferred. He was now so used to it that it didn't make him dizzy or anything. After the transferred two sword movements were transferred, Yeowun became confused.

'Nano, when did this counter sword movement counter the Sword Force of the Sky Demon?'

[The counter sword movement successfully countered the third formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon after the 93rd try.]

'Ninety-three times?'

It meant that the Sword Demon needed to analyze and study it ninety-three times to counter it perfectly. The formation on the first floor was countered after forty-five times, and the second floor required fifty-six tries.

'That's why the stone had more sword markings.'

That's why it was in much rougher shape in the back. This meant that the formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon had gotten much more powerful. Yeowun then became curious about the third formation.

'Nano, can you transfer the required physical data for the Sword Force's third formation to me?'

[The user has met the increased physical strength limit. Further transfer of muscles might hinder the user's normal growth and is thus not recommended.]

‘But can you do it?’

[Yes, Master. But you will not grow any taller than your current height.]

“Hmm...”

Yeowun thought about it. He had it all transferred to his head but it didn’t feel good that he couldn’t use it.

[It will be hard, but the current physical form allows for approximately one formation.]

‘Really?’

If he could use it at least once, he wanted to try it. The second formation was much more powerful than the first, so the third was bound to be a lot stronger. Yeowun then gathered his fingers to create sword qi and began the movement of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon’s third formation.

With his sword qi swinging through the air, a total of twenty-four sword movements left amazing traces while moving through like a storm, leading to the third formation. It was so powerful that even his muscles started to ache after those few seconds of moving. It was a sword movement that exceeded his physical limits.

“Ugh!”

When he was done, Yeowun couldn’t pull himself up and fell with one knee on the ground. His muscles were damaged from moving through movements that were beyond the limit of his muscles. It seemed like all formations of the Sword

Force of the Sky Demon required a muscle transfer from Nano.

“Ah...”

He didn't realize it at first because of the pain, but Yeowun became astounded as he glanced around. Sword markings were on the floor as if swords had stormed out from where he stood.

“Such power...”

He didn't do it seriously, and the power from his movements was so strong that the markings were made all over the place. The third formation was much more powerful than the first. With such power, it was bound to kill a target even if it wasn't intentional.

‘That's why it required ninety-three times to counter it.’

Yeowun understood why the Sword Demon needed more tries to counter this formation. If the third formation was this powerful, what about the counter sword formation? After his muscles healed, Yeowun then unleashed the third counter sword formation. When he was done, it didn't make all his muscles ache like when he did before, but the formation was so complicated that it made him short of breath.

“Ugh... hah... this is amazing.”

He did it on the same spot as when he used the Sword Force, and the marks left by the counter sword skill distorted the previous marks. It countered it perfectly. As Yeowun learned the counter formation, he learned that simple sword movements could be used to counter such powerful sword formations. However, it was definitely much harder now than it was in the beginning. The counter formation combination was also too complicated that even after he transferred into the brain, it was hard to follow. This was a limit to where a normal swordsman could stop at.

‘If the third formation is this hard, then what about the fourth?’

It was surely in the three-digit trials. Yeowun then ordered Nano, ‘Nano, transfer me formations from the pedestal.’

[Yes, Master.]

He couldn’t use it yet, but it wouldn’t be bad to transfer it over to his brain first. Nano then sent the fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon and the counter sword movement into Yeowun’s brain. After the transferred, Yeowun became scowled. He had them all transferred so he could imagine it being used in his mind, but something was strange. He couldn’t find the result in his thoughts. He couldn’t try it out himself, so he had to see it in augmented reality.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Nano... show me two formations fighting against each other.’

[Yes, Master. Activating Augmented Reality. Activating simulation of two sword formations.]

Yeowun then saw the white light of lines forming in front of his eyes. Lights moved quickly and created the two figures facing each other. Both shapes then began using the fourth formation that was left on the pedestal. With the two sword formations striking against one another, sparks of white light flew all over the place. The fight was over instantly, but the result was not like the ones that Yeowun had seen until this time.

The Sword Demon’s counter sword skill couldn’t counter the Sword Force of the Sky Demon’s fourth formation.

Chapter 106

Chapter 106: Closed room training (1)

Yeowun ran it multiple times, but the result was the same each time. The counter sword formation couldn't counter the Sword Force of the Sky Demon and ended in a tie. What he couldn't understand was that on the last sword movement, the Sword Force added a spin which created a powerful sword attack, but it was blocked.

'Nano, how many counter sword movements were left on the pedestal?'

[There was a total of 130 completed sword tracings, and the last sword formation cut the corner of the pedestal after the 24th movement.]

'Ah...'

He now understood the reason for this. Cutting such durable stone was not possible with a sword. It required powerful qi concentration within the sword. The last sword movement wielded such power that could defend against the mighty sword attack from the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

'So, he figured he couldn't defend it with just simple sword movements anymore.'

Yeowun was able to see the reason behind everything now. The last attack from the Sword Force of the Sky Demon was too powerful to be countered by a mere combination of sword movements.

'That's why it is a tie.'

The reason for cutting off the corner of the stone was probably unleashing his rage that he couldn't counter the last movement. It was amazing that a talented swordsman challenged the ancestor in the way of the sword and became angry that he couldn't overcome it.

'It meant he was really focusing on it.'

Yeowun thought a lot of things while watching these two sword skills.

'Maybe I don't understand their sword movements well enough yet...'

Yeowun thought that maybe he was just looking at the tip of the iceberg when he thought of these sword movements.

"Whew..." Yeowun sighed. After observing these sword movements, the fourth formation of either swordskill required his physical body to grow and to also increase his martial art power.

'So, I need to become stronger.'

The third and fourth sword movements had been transferred, but his understanding and power couldn't support him enough to allow him to use them. So in order to pass the fifth test, get his unique sword, and use the latter part of the formations, he needed to become a grandmaster level warrior. But that was not an easy task either.

'Maybe I need to focus on my training like these people did.'

He wasn't sure what the grandmaster level was like yet. Lee Hameng told him not to hurry, and that was probably correct.

‘Let’s take it slow. My current way of doing things do not help me understand.’

Yeowun was able to become powerful much faster than the others due to Nano’s help, but becoming more powerful required more than that. After thinking about it for about an hour, Yeowun made a decision.

‘Let’s go to the closed room.’

The closed room was the new location that opened up after the third test. This was the place where one could lock themselves in and train alone.

‘If I go in there, I need to do something beforehand.’

He was not going to come out until he was satisfied with his training, so he needed look after his members too. His forces also needed to grow in power before the academy closed. If he needed to fight the six clans, he couldn’t do it alone as the six clans represented at least 40% of power in the cult.

‘I have to get stronger with them.’

Even if they couldn’t be strong like him, his members couldn’t be weak either. Therefore, they required better martial arts skill. Unlike the Six Swords who mostly came from high-ranked clans, the other members had not learned such good martial arts.

‘It will take a long time to copy it down on paper.’

There was a total of 34 members left after the third test. Making copies of those master-level martial art books he scanned would take a long time.

‘Let’s get it ready.’

When Yeowun got out, he went to an instructor who managed the supplies. When he was back at the training room, he had over 300 pages of paper along with a lot of ink and brushes.

“What? Why do you need so much?”

Yeowun had the rank of the Squad Leader, so he was allowed to use much supplies as he wanted, but the instructor didn’t seem to understand. Yeowun couldn’t say the truth so he lied and got it.

“Hm... this is going to take a while.”

He knew it would be long, but it was longer than he expected. He used all waking hours for two weeks straight in order to copy down all the books he wanted to give.

“Whew.”

Writing for two weeks made him exhausted. 102 books were copied in front of him. He only needed to give one book each of the members, but why did he copy so much? This amount was enough to give at least three of each to everyone.

“Now, I just need to gather them up.”

After the third test, Yeowun only met with his members at dinner time. The fourth test on were individual tests, so most of the cadets spent time training privately, which applied to Yeowun’s members also. They could have dined separately, but Ko Wanghur, Hu Bong, and Ja Wumin insisted that they eat together to form bonds between members.

At dinner time, Yeowun's members gathered together to eat. After dinner was done, Yeowun had all of his members gather at the dormitory where his old members were staying. They all gathered, not realizing what Yeowun was going to announce. They were chatting between each other while they waited. Soon, Yeowun appeared with over a hundred books in his hands.

"What!"

"Master! Let me help you!"

Hu Bong and Jin Guuk helped Yeowun place down many books. Yeowun then glanced over at the thirty-four members.

"I have an announcement to make."

The members all became silent and focused on Yeowun.

"I am going into the closed room beginning tomorrow."

"What?"

Most of the cadets were shocked to hear this. They did hear from Yeowun that the requirement for going for the fifth test was to become a grandmaster, but they didn't think Yeowun would go into such training already.

Ko Wanghur, who expected it from Yeowun, asked, "Master, do you have a set amount of time you plan to spend in there?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Honestly speaking, I don’t have a set date. A year... two years... I will stay as long as I need before I am satisfied with my training.”

Ko Wanghur then saw Yeowun’s determination and smiled.

“I see. I hope Master earns the achievement you seek.”

Wanghur bowed. Bakgi and the other members also bowed. Nobody wanted to say no to training to reach a higher level. Besides, this wasn’t only Yeowun’s problem. These members might also need to train in a closed room after they passed the fourth test. Throughout the entire history of the academy, only a handful of cadets had ever passed the sixth test. So in most cases, the fifth test was the last test. It required a long period of training and effort.

“Thank you. So before I go, I wanted to give you guys some homework.”

Chapter 107

Chapter 107: Closed room training (2)

“Huh?”

People turned rigid at the words. Yeowun had not given much orders or directions until now, so what could the homework be? Hu Bong asked with a confused look, “Master... what homework are you...”

“You are required to complete two homework assignments until I come out of the closed room. This is not a request, but an order.”

At Yeowun’s voice, all members got up from their seats. If it was an order from the Master, they had to follow it.

“First, all of you need to pass the fourth test before I come out.”

“E-everyone?”

Jin Guuk, a member of an ordinary soldier family, asked back squeamishly. He barely passed the third test out of luck, so he wasn’t sure if he could pass the fourth test too. Other members from low-ranked clans also felt nervous. But those from the high-ranked clans, including the Six Swords, answered immediately.

“Yes, Master!”

The one who shouted the loudest was Wu Sojung who didn’t really mind the others. The Six Swords were at the established master level, so it wouldn’t take long for them to accomplish Yeowun’s first order.

‘It is a good direction, but maybe too much.’

He didn’t say much, but Che Takim was concerned about Hu Bong, Machil, Jin Guuk, and the others. Of course they wanted to pass the fourth test, but they knew that it wasn’t easy either.

“The next homework assignment is this.”

Yeowun then tapped on the pile of books on the ground. It was what his members were curious about from the start.

“This are the martial arts books that I am gifting you all. Learn everything.”

“Huh?”

The confused members glanced at the books. They were all made up of clean, new pieces of paper, meaning that they were new copies, but they didn’t expect them to be copies of martial art books.

‘Wait...’

Mun Ku’s eyes became large as she realized something. For the past few days, Yeowun had ink all over his hand or clothes and Mun Ku had teased him about that.

‘Prince! Why are you walking around with ink on you every day? You have something on your face too.’

‘...I had something to do.’

When she cleaned it off his face with her handkerchief, Yeowun became embarrassed and blushed. Mun Ku was amused by Yeowun’s reaction that she didn’t think much about the actual reason for it.

‘So, he’s been writing all that these days?’

That looked like a lot. Thinking of Yeowun locked up in the private room, writing all those books made her laugh, and she also become sympathetic.

‘I would’ve helped if he told me.’

As for Ko Wanghur and Che Takim, they were thinking different thoughts.

‘Is Master trying to share the martial art books he got from the fourth floor?’

‘Master copied the master level martial art books from the fourth floor for the weaker members...!’

Both men were touched by Yeowun’s action. It was very rare for a martial artist to share the martial art that he gained.

“You can come get them when I call your name. Hu Bong.”

Yeowun still considered Hu Bong as the number one servant, so he called him first accordingly.

“Yes!!! Master!!”

Hu Bong quickly ran up to Yeowun, excited by the fact that he was going to be given a martial arts book. But what Yeowun gave him was not just one book, but three.

“Huh?W-what!”

Hu Bong’s shocked outburst made all the cadets curious. Hu Bong’s eyes were wide as he mumbled the name of the book with shaking hands.

“Sword of Illusion?!!”

“W-what?!”

All cadets were shocked to hear that. The Sword of Illusion was the martial art that a high-ranked clan in the Demonic Cult used. And this wasn't the only one.

“M-master... this is...”

Hu Bong was lost for words and Ojong pestered him.

“Hu Bong! What is it?! Spit it out, for god's sake!”

“I-it's the sword skill from the Fire Mountain Clan, and the Kicks of Iron from the Iron Clan!”

“Wwwwwhat!!!”

Ohjong was so shocked that he shouted too. It was natural, however, as both martial arts were master level arts from the Forces of Justice and Evil. Even the cadets who never went down to Wulin knew about the Fire Mountain Clan from the Force of Justice and the Iron Clan from the Force of Evil.

The members began to panic. They were already shocked by the sharing of martial arts from the high-ranked clans within the cult, but they didn't think the library would have books from the Forces of Justice and Evil clans as well.

“M-master! How did you copy these three books?!”

Ko Wanghur was so shocked that he stuttered. Copying one book was hard enough, but he didn't expect Yeowun to have copied a total of three books for his members.

“It might be lacking if we only have our cult's martial arts skills. It is better if we learn martial arts from the Forces of Justice and Evil for the future.”

This was why Yeowun copied down three books for each member. It was to have them learn about martial arts or various ways to prepare for the future when they ventured out to Wulin.

“Master!!”

Hu Bong was so touched that he shouted and got down to the ground and bowed. He didn’t think Yeowun would go so far for his members. Hu Bong was from a middle-ranked clan and he never dreamed of learning master-level martial arts.

Hu Bong slammed his head on the ground and shouted, “I will serve you for my entire life for this grace! I will accomplish your order!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The master-level martial arts books were revered by these martial artists. Other members, especially those from the weaker clans, were all teary from their emotions.

‘Ahh... he has done so much for us!’

‘I will serve him forever!’

They thought they made the right choice in joining Yeowun’s forces.

However, they didn’t know that the remaining 99 books were not the same. Each of them contained different martial arts.

Chapter 108

Chapter 108: Closed room training (3)

After Hu Bong's heart-touched bow, Chun Yeowun began calling up names to give them copied martial arts books. All cadets were glad to receive three master level martial art books. When four cadets, including Jin Guuk received their book as the first group, they became shocked.

"Huh?"

"W-what is this?"

All four of them became shocked and Ja Wumin asked them why.

"What's up this time?"

At his question, Jin Guuk flashed the book cover at Ja Wumin. It had the title of the martial art.

[Sword Art of the Flying Wind]

It was different from what Hu Bong had received it. It was the sword skill used by a Flying Wind clan, sub-clan of the Sword Clan. Members who did not yet receive their books became confused.

"I-I got a Great Bear Fist from the Bear Fist Clan."

Machil showed the book to others with a dumbfounded look. Just like Jin Guuk, it was different from Hu Bong's and Jin Guuk's.

"What? Bear Fist?"

Ko Wanghur was shocked. Great Bear Fist Art was the one of most powerful fist art within the cult, equally powerful to Ko Wanghur's fist clan. The Bear Fist clan was sub-clan to the Wise Clan, that was very powerful in its own. And that wasn't it.

"Uhhh.... This one is different too."

"Whaaaaaat?!"

All four members received different martial arts books, but each of them were either from the high-ranked clans of the Demonic Cult or that the famous clans from Forces of Justice or Evil. People were shocked. All five members, Hu Bong, Jin Guuk, Machil, Yun Dongchun, Ko Hari had received different books and they all contained master level martial arts.

"I-it's all different!"

"What is this? Is this a dream?"

"Hey... pinch me. Let me see if I'm not dreaming."

It was natural for them to panic. It usually took very long to memorize just one book. When they saw Yeowun giving Hu Bong a total of three books, they were more surprised by his ability to memorize three books. But when considering all these different books, it showed that Yeowun had memorized 15 books in just six hours.

'W-wait...'

'NO way... that can't be.'

Some cadets were lost for words, and one of them was Hou Sangwha. She was one of cadets who was at the second and the third floor of the library when Yeowun came in to scan the books. Just like the others, she too knew the infamous name Yeowun had gotten for looking through the books. Every cadet hated him for causing noise within the library as Yeowun kept skimming through all the books. Even Hou Sangwha couldn't understand what her master was doing back then.

'So he wasn't just skimming but memorizing them? Is he a genius or something?'

She was dumbfounded. This was beyond anyone's expectation. It was curious as to what instructors or the Chief of the Academy might think if they knew Yeowun could do this.

"M-master... d-did you memorize all these books?"

Yeowun then realized he had made a mistake after hearing Wanghur's question. He just concentrated on copying down as many as books in hopes of helping his members, but he didn't think about how impossible it was to do such thing normally.

'Uh... I have no choice.'

He couldn't explain that he had small machines inside his brain that helped him. All he could do now was to say that he memorized it.

"Uh- yeah. I did."

"This is amazing... I don't know what to say. I'm astounded."

Ko Wanghur was speechless. The reason why the library had a time limit for each cadet was to prohibit the cadets from taking too many martial arts books. Most of the clans had donated part of their secret books to the library to train future warriors, but if this was shared too openly, it meant that the clan's weakness was going to be exposed.

'All these martial arts from high-ranked clans are clans that are affiliated with the six clans.'

He thought Yeowun had memorized the master level clans' martial arts just for his members, but he then thought maybe there was more to that.

'I thought I knew a lot about Master now, but I was wrong... I only saw a part of him. Master must have much a bigger picture in his mind that we cannot see.'

It wasn't Yeowun's intention, but Wanghur understood it as so. He thought that this was Yeowun's preparation to fight against the six clans in the future when he became the heir, but Chun Yeowun did not know what clans were affiliated with six clans. He just scanned whatever he got his hands on and coincidentally grabbed the books from those clans.

'Master is a monster..'

'How can you memorize all those books?'

"Well, stop being surprised and get your books."

Soon, all the members got up and took their three books. After realizing that they were all different, members were anticipating to see what they would be receiving.

"Thank you Master! I will not fail you!"

"I will do my best to keep up!"

All members were beyond happy to receive such books. The Six Swords who were from high-ranked clans were also glad to receive such books. They didn't expect much as they had learned master level martial arts since they were growing up, but they were still thankful that they still got these books for themselves.

'Hehe.'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Mun Ku also was happy with what she received. Everyone had received their own, but it felt very precious when she realized that Yeowun himself had written these copies after many hours. And when everyone got their books, Bakgi sent a telepathic message to raise a problem.

[We know our breathing skills, but I think members like Jin Guuk will need more breathing skills.]

Bakgi's concern was correct. Low-ranked clan members did not have their own breathing skills, so the members from those clans required good breathing skills to increase their internal energy. That's when Hu Bong found something in the book and shouted, "M-master! Is this a breathing skill?"

There was a sheet of paper placed inside the book with a breathing skill. Yeowun nodded and Bakgi became embarrassed and looked away. Yeowun also thought that this issue needed to be taken care of.

"Force of Mixed Origin?"

Chapter 109

Chapter 109: Closed room training (4)

Jin Guuk also repeated the same name.

“I have the same one.”

“Huh? Me too.”

“Yeah, same here.”

“Huh?”

The Six Swords then became confused. It seemed like they all received the same breathing skill. They thought they might have received different breathing skills just like how they were given different martial art skills, but they were all the same.

‘I’ve never heard of it.’

‘Force of Mixed Origin...?’

This was why the Six Swords were confused. They knew most of the martial arts from the high-ranked clans, but they had never heard of such a breathing skill until now.

“Oh...!”

As she read through the skills, Mun Ku gasped in astonishment. She was at the established master level other than Yeowun, and she had the highest understanding in martial arts.

‘How can there be such a good breathing skill?’

It showed a way to focus energy in unusual blood points to aid the energy flow. She didn't want to accept it, but it looked like it was better than her own clan's breathing skill. The other Six Swords seemed to think the same thing.

"M-mnaster! Where did you get this from?"

Che Takim also seemed shocked based on his tone. Yeowun then hesitated on how to answer it. This breathing skill wasn't from the fourth floor of the library.

Two days ago, Yeowun was thinking about what breathing skill he should give to his members. There were many breathing skills in the library, and all of them were very good that it was bound to give them great things. The best one was the Sword Force of the Sky Demon, but this was the founding of Father Chun Ma, and Yeowun's own now. Yeowun asked, 'Nano, did you analyze enough of the internal energy now?'

[Analysis about the energy source gained through breathing is still under progress.]

'Is it?'

It seemed like the analysis was still not done yet. It was energy that was not proved to exist in future technology, so Nano needed time.

[I can categorize which breathing skill can efficiently increase the energy within the body.]

'Oh! That's good. Can you choose one then?'

[The Sword Force of the Sky Demon has the best effect when used.]

Yeowun sighed at Nano's opinion.

'...Yeah, I know. But exclude that.'

He knew this too. He needed the next best breathing skill second to it.

[Next is the Breathing of Thousand Martial.]

'Oh, right!'

Yeowun then remembered that there was the breathing skill he learned from Right Guardian Submeng. But he had to skip this one too.

'I can't just give out Teacher's breathing skill to anyone. Hmm...'

[Next, there is Sample-37.]

'Huh? Sample? What do you mean?'

[After analyzing Origin of Internal Energy book from the first floor, a sample was created based off the breathing skills found from the first to fourth floor.]

'...Are you saying you just made a breathing skill?'

[As part of the process of analyzing internal energy, creating multiple samples is necessary.]

'So, when did you make this?'

[Sample-37 was created after the breathing skill from fourth floor was analyzed.]

"What?!"

Therefore, that meant it was created two days ago. Yeowun was so shocked that he didn't know what to say. He knew Nano was analyzing the internal energy, but he didn't think Nano would be able to create a breathing skill on its own.

'Did you analyze breathing skill from the Sword Force of the Sky Demon?'

[The said breathing skill is a mixture of energy caused by movement and breathing, so the analysis is incomplete.]

The Origin of Internal Energy contained information of energy gained through meditation, breathing, and others but it didn't have an explanation on the way to gain energy through sword movement. So, Nano lacked information for the analysis.

'Can you teach me that sample then?'

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun then tried using the breathing skill Nano had created, and he was shocked.

'This is impossible.'

Nano's breathing skill creation was amazing. In one way, it was better than the Breathing of Thousand Martials. It was very stable in controlling the internal energy flow. It had the ability to work well with any kind of martial arts.

'Good. Let's keep this.'

There was no need to think. That's why Nano's breathing skill was chosen to give to Yeowun's members. But he couldn't leave its name as sample, so Yeowun changed the name.

‘What name should I give it?’

After thinking for a long time, Yeowun named it the Force of Mixed Origin since it was a mixture of many breathing skills.

“M-master! Where did you find this from?!”

“I... found it on the fourth floor of the library.”

Yeowun couldn’t tell the truth so he lied that he got it from the library.

“So, there are a lot of treasures hidden in the library!”

Che Takim spoke with an excited voice and Wanghur also nodded.

“Maybe it’s a breathing skill from an ancient high-ranked clan.”

Members believed Yeowun’s claim of finding it at the library easily. They would never imagine that the skill was merely a few days old from the day of its creation. After sorting that out, Yeowun declared to his members, “You should memorize everything in the dormitory tomorrow and discard the books immediately.”

“Yes, Master.”

He was worried that having so many book might cause them to be in trouble from the instructors or other cadets.

“And... I have a request. Six Swords.”

“No, Master. All you have to do is order us,” Wanghur replied.

Yeowun glanced at each of them and said, "If you see anyone who needs help, please help them so that they can learn martial arts."

He thought there were members who might have a hard time, even with these books. The Six Swords were members from high-ranked clans who trained such martial arts since young, so they had a better foundation and understanding overall.

"Don't worry, Master. We'll help each other."

"...Okay. Don't worry and look after yourselves in there."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"I heard teaching is a good way to train. I will do that."

Ko Wanghur, Bakgi and Che Takim answered respectively and Yeowun nodded. And his preparation to go into the closed room was almost done. Yeowun looked forward to the day when would come out of the closed room to meet his members who had gotten much more powerful.

"Then I wish you all good luck."

"Yes, Master!"

After that night, Chun Yeowun woke up early and went into the closed room to start his training. Among all those cadets who came together to say goodbye, nobody thought that it will take such a long time for Yeowun to come out of it.

Chapter 110

Chapter 110: Master is back (1)

First day of closed room training...

The building of closed room training was located in the northwestern corner of the Demonic Academy. Yeowun had passed the fourth test by defeating Sang Munyo in the empty lot at the back of the building. The building had a total of sixty rooms, and Chun Yeowun was the first one to request to use it.

The room was a bit bigger than the private training room Yeowun had been using. The main difference was that there was a bed made out of hay, a jar of grains, and a water pipe that flowed from outside. Yeowun checked inside the jar and checked the amount of grains to be enough to feed himself for four years within the academy.

‘I asked for a lot, and they did give me a lot.’

Yeowun told them that he would only come out once he achieved an acceptable result, and it was prepared accordingly. There was no telling as to how long it might take for him to become a grandmaster level warrior.

‘Shall we start with the plan then?’

He didn’t know long it would take him to become a grandmaster, so he needed to plan things out things ahead of time. Yeowun divided time largely into three periods. Morning, afternoon, and dinner were all assigned to train different things.

‘I will practice formation in the morning, duel against avatars in the afternoon, and do breathing at dinner time.’

Yeowun then started training right away. The first thing he did was request the transfer of every master-level martial arts he scanned from the fourth floor of the library. There was a total of 245 books that he scanned, and it took him a total of four hours to have it all transferred. What's fortunate was that these were much easier than the Sword Force of the Sky Demon, and it didn't require a physical transfer, making it possible to use it right away.

'Hm...'

After transferring all that, Yeowun realized that although these were highly-advanced martial arts skills, they were still lacking compared to Butterfly Blade Dance, Sword Force of the Sky Demon, and the counter sword formation. But it still consisted of martial arts ranging from various areas, not only from a sword or blade that gave huge insight to Yeowun in understanding the basics of martial arts.

As Yeowun chewed on grains for lunch, he began choosing the first avatar to fight with. He didn't need to fight Chun Mukeum's avatar anymore since he had gotten more powerful ones now. He chose the first one.

'Nano, show me an avatar of Chun Yuchan.'

[Understood, Master. Creating avatar for simulation. Target entity: Chun Yuchan.]

With Nano's voice, Yeowun's eyes shook and he was shown white light transforming into Chun Yuchan. It was just one avatar to begin with, but he planned to increase it along the way.

'The goal is to fight Teacher's avatar.'

It was his goal to fight against Right Guardian Submeng's avatar since Yeowun had recorded Submeng's movements when he fought against the criminal from the Force of Evil.

"Let's do it then!"

Yeowun jumped up and charged in toward Yuchan's avatar. And it was the beginning of his long training inside the closed room.

Wuxia World Site

A month passed after Yeowun had entered the closed room at the academy. Three more cadets had passed the fourth test. The second cadet who passed, as expected by most cadets, was Chun Muyeon from the Wise Clan. Muyeon defeated an instructor on the 7th day. If it wasn't for Yeowun, Chun Muyeon would have gotten the record of the fastest cadet to pass the fourth test.

The third cadet who passed the fourth test wasn't among the princes. It was Mun Ku who defeated Instructor Impeng and passed the fourth test. Everyone saw Mun Ku jumping up and down in excitement after she passed the test. This was the result of her will to get her own room.

The fourth cadet to pass the test was Chun Kungwun from the Sword Clan. He tried hard to pass the test faster than anyone, but he had prepared for it more carefully, and thus it took him more time to prepare.

And on the second month after Yeowun entered the closed room, Chun Muyeon also entered the closed room. Chun Kungwun also registered to enter the closed room. And for Mun Ku, she also felt the need to train in the closed room, but Yeowun had asked her and the Six Swords to help train the other weaker members. So, she started focusing on teaching them. And before the second month passed, another cadet passed the fourth test. It was the First Sword of Yeowun, Bakgi. Yeowun's crew was happy to have a second member pass the fourth test. But Bakgi wasn't so excited to be second to pass the test when he was the First Sword.

On the fourth month, Chun Mukeum passed the fourth test. He then soon entered the closed room not long after. And just before the month ended, two more cadets from the Six Swords passed the test. They were Ko Wanghur and Wu Sojung. Cadets expected Ko Wanghur's results, but Wo Sojung's was not expected. Wo Sojung had tried hard after losing to a woman, Hou Sangwha, in a match that propelled him to pass the fourth test. Hou Sangwha scoffed at Wo Sojung who smirked at her.

'Idiot.'

'W-what?! Why am I an idiot?'

Wo Sojung was not well regarded among the female cadets. After the two of them, there were now five cadets who had failed the test within the academy. And there weren't any challengers to the instructors for a while.

Exactly a year after Yeowun entered the closed room, there were many who passed the fourth test. On the fifth month, Hou Sangwha and Che Takim also passed the fourth test. In addition, there were other cadets who had passed, and one of them was Sama Chak. On the six month, Yeowun's crew began to have cadets who had now become master level warriors. Ja Wumin, Ojong, Im Yuhan, and Kong Jino all became master warriors.

And in the tenth month, the number of failed cadets increased to fifteen. Ja Wumin and Im Yuhan had passed the day shortly after. And on the first year, Yeowun's crew dueled to set the new Six Sword among them. The result altered the rank.

First Sword – Mun Ku

Second Sword – Bakgi

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Third Sword – Ko Wanghur

Fourth Sword – Wu Sojung

Fifth Sword – Hou Sangwha

Sixth Sword – Che Takim

Bakgi tried hard, but he couldn't defeat Mun Ku in the end. And with over thirty percent of Yeowun's members entering the master level, all Six Swords went on to enter the closed room.

Chapter 111

Chapter 111: Master is back (2)

After the second year, most of the cadets had now had taken the fourth test. Among the 120 cadets that passed the third test, only 71 cadets passed the fourth test and the others were expelled after failing the test. A total of 19 members from Yeowun's crew were expelled. They were sad that they couldn't follow Master's orders and promised to grow in power for the future. But it was still a great feat that 34 members of the crew had become masters. The one who had grown the most was Hu Bong. In two years, he was now an established master-level warrior.

'Master is still not satisfied with his progress yet?'

'I hope he comes out soon.'

Yeowun still hadn't come out yet, as well as all the others who had entered the closed room, but it seemed like it was longer since Yeowun had entered earlier than any other cadet. And with 80% of the cadets all entering the closed room, the academy was now very quiet. Therefore, the Six Sword duel for the second year was skipped since most of the members were missing.

And on the third day, it was back to fall. There had been a lot of incidents during the third year. All cadets who entered the closed room had gotten out of it, but among the 70 cadets who had gone through closed room training, only 40% of them entered the grandmaster level. In the second and fourth month, Chun Muyeon left the closed room and passed the fifth test on the same day. This showed that he was an established grandmaster level warrior. And during the second and sixth month, Chun Kungwun, Sama Chak, Guk Shin, Mun Ku, Ko Wanghur, and Bakgi all passed the fifth test. Seven more cadets also tried, but failed. What was surprising was that Chun Mukeum was one of those who failed the test.

Among those failed cadets, three of them were killed in the process. Therefore, the other cadets were hesitant on challenging the test. During the third year, the duel for the Six Swords was held again. Unlike before, the cadets had become much stronger for the challenge.

First Sword. Ko Wanghur.

Second Sword. Mun Ku.

Third Sword. Bakgi.

Fourth Sword. Hou Sangwha.

Fifth Sword. Wu Sojung.

Sixth Sword. Ja Wumin.

As shown in the results, Ko Wanghur had become really powerful after the closed room training. His fist skill increased his physical strength as he trained, so he had gotten so powerful that no one could damage his body. Wu Sojung tried hard to defeat at least Hou Sanghwa, but she had grown much larger and she threw Wu Sojung of with one swing of her axe.

And then two more months passed. It was now the harsh, cold winter. Snow fell on a weekly basis and on the mountain at the back of the dormitory, thirteen cadets had gathered together. They were all Yeowun's members. Three years were enough for these young teenage cadets to have matured. They always gathered here to train together. Ko

Wanghur had grown a long beard, and that made him look much older than his peers.

“Huh? Aren’t we all here yet?”

Ko Wanghur became confused as he couldn’t find everyone. Ja Wumin answered him.

“I think they went there again.”

“Oh.”

Bakgi sighed at Ja Wumin’s words and shook his head. The two cadets who weren’t here were Mun Ku and Hu Bong. After three years passed, the two of them often visited the closed room building, hoping their master would come out soon.

“At least they aren’t alone,” Hou Sangwha commented.

But Ko Wanghur shook his head.

“Two is not enough.”

“Mun Ku isn’t someone we shouldn’t be worried about,” Bakgi answered and the other cadets nodded. Mun Ku, who had passed the fifth test, was now within the top 100 warriors out of the entire Demonic Cult. There was no need to worry about such an experienced warrior.

“...Yes, but the competition to the throne is much more fierce. Didn’t Chun Kungwun make an offer to you at the cafeteria the other day, Bakgi?”

This was what Ko Wanghur was worried about. With the academy entering the fourth year, the candidates were now pushing to increase their influence and power. Chun Muyeon, who didn't do much until he had passed the fifth test, was now aggressively recruiting cadets. And the problem was that they were also approaching Yeowun's crew.

"Do you think I will go to the other princes?"

"No, I'm just worried because we don't know what they might try to do."

Chun Yeowun had been missing for three years, so it was natural for the others to take advantage. After all, they were warriors without a master. Ja Wumin also agreed.

"Ko Wanghur is right. Chun Kungwun is no different than Chun Yuchan. We have to be careful."

"...That's why we stick together like this."

This was why they always stayed together unless they trained at the private training rooms, but it was becoming more serious. Ko Wanghur then became worried and said, "We should go get them."

They then moved out to go pick the two of them up.

At the northwestern corner, in front of the closed training room, over twenty cadets had circled around two cadets threateningly. The two cadets were Mun Ku and Hu Bong. Ko Wanghur's worry had come true. It was Chun Kungwun who had brought these twenty cadets. Mun Ku glanced around at the cadets with their weapons. They were ready.

"I will say this for the last time. I am not here to hurt you, so why don't you consider my offer very carefully? Mun Ku?" Kungwun asked.

Hu Bong shouted back, "You bring weapons and circle around us. Then you say you are not here to hurt us?!"

"I'm not talking to you. Shut up."

Chun Kungwun was not interested in Hu Bong. He wanted Mun Ku who was a member from the Black Dragon Clan, which was as large and almost as powerful as the six clans. Kungwun had approached Mun Ku multiple times already.

"Didn't I refuse many times already?"

Mun Ku refused again. Kungwun already knew that Mun Ku, as always, would refuse this time around too.

"Then there is no other way. I will do it my way."

"...What are you talking about?"

"I just think it's necessary to educate my future pawn."

Chun Kungwun did not hesitate to use force. After all, they were in the Demonic Cult where power trumped everything. Kungwun pulled out his sword.

"Let's do this. You duel me, and if you lose, you become my servant."

"This is outrageous."

"If you win, I will let you go."

Chun Kungwun was already ready to strike. Mun Ku narrowed her eyes. There were too many experienced warriors surrounding them, giving her no choice to run away. She also took steps to ready herself.

“This is going too far, even for a prince!” Hu Bong shouted and raised his sword. He couldn’t take this rude approach.

“I warned you not to interfere.”

Kungwun then signaled his men, and three cadets attacked Hu Bong.

‘Dammit!’

Hu Bong bit his lips and tried to fight back with the Sword of Illusion. It was then, when the three cadets stopped in place. They were stuck as if the time around them had stopped.

“UGH!”

“W-what is this?!”

“I can’t move!!”

They couldn’t move, even when they brought up their energy. A tremendous invisible force was pushing them down.

“What is going on?!”

Chun Kungwun shouted in anger. Before the three cadets could speak, they were thrown into the air toward the back.

“Ugh!”

“Argh!”

The three of them rolled on the ground as they were thrown away like trash. And these cadets felt the giant power from behind them. That's when Hu Bong and Mun Ku shouted in unison at the man in the back.

"Master!"

"Prince Chun!"

Chapter 112

Chapter 112: Master is back (3)

It was Chun Yeowun. He had long hair that reached down to his waist, and his face had turned to that of a man with strong facial features. His face was pale as he had been locked up in the closed room, but it matched his cold glare.

“Master!!”

Hu Bong became teary at meeting his master after three years.

‘You are late, Prince Chun.’

Mun Ku’s face also brightened up. But Chun Kungwun, the Prince of the Sword Clan, was shocked.

‘This can’t be...’

The invisible force that threw those three cadets was the Control of Force Energy that only superior level warriors like Lee Hameng or Submeng could use. If the power was so strong that it restricted established master-level warriors from moving, it meant that the internal energy behind it was tremendous.

‘It’s impossible. Did he really become superior level warrior?!’

He couldn’t believe it. He had spent two years to understand the ways of becoming grandmaster, but reaching the superior level was an entirely different thing. Kungwun shook his head.

'No, this can't be. He must have done some tricks. And even if it is true, I can't let him walk away from that and bring shame to my honor!'

With the situation taking a drastic turn, it was now an heirship competition. He couldn't just back away and accept that he was weaker than Yeowun. Kungwun shouted, "What are you waiting for?! Attack him!"

"Y-yes!"

Kungwun's members then took out their weapons and charged.

"You can't do that!"

"How can you attack one person with a group!"

Mun Ku and Hu Bong tried to block the attackers, but Kungwun didn't let them.

"You aren't going anywhere!"

Kungwun charged at Mun Ku who then began to fight against Chun Kungwun. The fight between two grandmasters looked equal, but Mun Ku had to focus all her concentration.

"Fool! A weaker clan member like you should never cross lines with us!"

Kungwun's right-hand man, Sim Jingu, charged toward Hu Bong. It seemed like he was an established master-level warrior.

'I should at least take him on, so that Master can fight the rest with ease!'

Hu Bong fought back against Sim Jingu. Seeing the use of master-level sword art, or the Sword of Illusion, Sim Jingu was surprised. However, even without the two of them, the other fifteen cadets charged against Yeowun.

“Let go of our members!”

Yeowun was still pushing down the three cadets with his powers. Even when he was attacked by over ten cadets, he didn’t even seem to be scared.

‘Why is he so calm?’

Another one of Kungwun’s members, Kingpo, became concerned and he soon realized why. As Yeowun raised his hand, three cadets were raised up into the air.

“Uuuuugh!”

Yeowun threw the three of them in front of him like a shield, and the cadets quickly retrieved their swords to stop themselves from attacking their own people.

“How dare you!”

“Coward!”

They thought Yeowun was using them as a shield, but they weren’t a shield at all.

“If you want them, then take them back.”

“What?!”

As Yeowun gestured to push those three cadets, they were thrown at the other cadets like a cannonball.

“Ugh!”

“T-take them!”

They tried to take three of them, but they wielded powerful energy that all of them were thrown back instead.

“Ugh!!”

“Argh!”

And those who were thrown spat blood and couldn’t move from the internal energy. Six out of the eighteen were out from the battle at once.

“Is... is he really a superior warrior?”

Everyone here realized that Yeowun’s power was tremendous. Even by just standing, they felt the difference in power. Yeowun took a step and everyone flinched. They were all fear stricken.

‘This is impossible. We will not defeat him, even with the help of our prince.’

Kingpo was certain that no one here could defeat Chun Yeowun. He was also a grandmaster level warrior, but he couldn’t find any weaknesses.

‘We must retreat.’

He thought he shouldn’t continue further and shouted, “P-prince! We lost! We will fall back!”

“You all started it first, so you can’t end it whenever you want to,” Yeowun seethed. He had no intention of letting them go for attacking his members.

“If you give us no choice, then we will... UGH!”

Yeowun reached Kingpo before he can finish talking. Nobody could even track his movements. Kingpo tried to swing his sword, but it was too late.

“You talk too much.”

“Aaaargh!”

Yeowun’s fist struck his chest, and Kingpo was thrown way back with the sound of his chest crushing. Kingpo focused his energy to defend, but it was no use.

“Ug...agnn...ngh...”

Bloody bubbles foamed in Kingpo’s mouth and he passed out. Since Kingpo, a grandmaster level warrior was overpowered by just one punch, the other cadets were so shocked that they couldn’t even move.

Chun Kungwun frowned. They fought with over twenty formations, but he couldn’t overpower Mun Ku yet.

‘How can he use such powerful martial arts with such a weak-looking body!’

Mun Ku was shorter and smaller than most men, but she was powerful with her clan’s martial art: Fist of the Black Dragon.

‘Should I use the force qi?’

He needed more powerful attack methods, but using the force qi would require him to finish it within three formations, or else it will deplete his internal energy and he would lose. However, he also had to deal with Chun Yeowun after that.

‘Don’t blame me. This is what you wanted by not coming to me!’

Kungwun then brought up his all of his energy, and his sword shined blue.

“Force qi?!”

Mun Ku saw the blue light and took some steps back. She could fight barehanded against sword qi, but force qi was different. She was established grandmaster level, but couldn’t maintain force qi over one formation due to lack of internal energy.

‘I have to get away.’

‘You can’t get away!’

Kungwun charged forward to close in on Mun Ku. With the sword movement and force qi unleashed upon her, she had no other way than to bring up her own force qi over her hands.

When the two powerful formations clashed, it created cracks on the ground between them. It was so powerful that it cracked the stone ground. And after the first formation, Kungwun moved onto the next formation.

Mun Ku became pale. After using all her energy, her force qi lost its light. Kungwun shouted, “I will take your arm!”

Kungwun’s sword struck down on her right arm. But then...

“W-what?!”

Kungwun frowned. Chun Yeowun, who suddenly appeared between them, had grabbed Kungwun's sword with his bare hand.

"P-prince!"

Mun Ku shouted in joy as she saw Yeowun's back. Yeowun's hand was covered in blue force qi.

"How did you...!"

Kungwun tried to pull back his sword, but the sword did not even budge.

'What's with this strength!'

And even without the power, Yeowun's physical strength was like a monster.

"How? Are you asking about those pieces of trash?"

Yeowun pointed to the back. Kungwun then saw nineteen of his cadets all passed out on the ground, with their limbs snapped weirdly.

"Hehe."

Hu Bong was piling them up like a heap of garbage in one place.

'...He defeated all of them after such a short moment?'

Kungwun was lost for words. His guess was correct in the end.

"Y...you reached the superior level? UGH!"

That's when Kungwun's sword that held force qi began to crack and shattered. Yeowun glared at him.

'I-I have to run!'

Kungwun became terrified at such a tremendous amount of power and tried to run.

"Aaaaaaaaargh!"

Before he could run, he felt a searing pain in his right hand and screamed as he rolled on the ground. He didn't realize it at first, but his right arm was missing.

"M-my arm! My arm!! Aaaaaaaaargh!"

Yeowun then stomped on Kungwun who was rolling on the ground and pinned him down.

"You will pay for wanting something that doesn't belong to you."

Kungwun became pale.

"P-Please!"

He begged in fear, but Yeowun smashed his face mercilessly.

A few minutes later, at the second-floor medical room of the main building, the room that was quiet for the past three years and two months was suddenly busy with over twenty patients with serious injuries. Doctor Baek Jongmeng was smiling as he mumbled.

"You're finally out."

Chapter 113

Chapter 113: Master is back (4)

“By the gods...”

“What am I looking at right now?”

Ko Wanghur and the crew were lost for words as to what they were seeing. There were nineteen injured cadets in pile, with their limbs snapped. And there was a young man with blue bandana over his head, piling them up in one place.

“Hu Bong.”

“What is going on here?”

Ja Wumin also became confused. All of them ran since it didn't feel good, but this was not something they expected.

“Oh! Mun Ku!”

“Who? Who is that?!”

They saw Mun Ku excitedly talking to a long-haired, pale young man. Below them was a man with his right arm cut off and a crushed face that they couldn't figure out who it was.

“W-wait. Maybe...”

“OHHHH!”

They only saw the long-haired man. It had been three years and two months, but there was no way they would not recognize their master.

“Master!”

Ko Wanghur quickly ran up to him and knelt down on one knee. All other members followed Ko Wanghur and kneeled also. Wanghur bowed and shouted, “First Sword Wanghur at your service!!”

Mun Ku then knelt down quickly and shouted, “Second Sword Mun Ku at your service!”

Third was Bakgi, but he didn’t kneel.

‘How can he be so different in just three years?’

Bakgi had grown powerful that he felt even the instructors of academy were weak. But when he saw Chun Yeowun, it was hard for him to breathe at the difference in power. It was as if he was facing the Chief of the Academy, Lee Hameng.

‘Yeowun... you are...’

Bakgi then felt that Yeowun was at the superior level. He had agreed on joining Yeowun, but he never accepted Yeowun as his superior. But with such power, there was no choice but to accept it. Bakgi then fell down on one knee and shouted, “Third Sword Bakgi at your service!!”

This was the first time Bakgi showed such a reaction. Every cadet became surprised as they didn’t expect Bakgi to ever act like this. Hou Sangwha smiled too.

“Fourth Sword Hou Sangwha at your service!”

All the other cadets bowed to Yeowun in turn. Their shaking eyes and tears were enough to show their excitement in seeing Yeowun after a long time. Yeowun bowed at them and answered, "Thank you all for waiting."

At that, his crew shouted in joy.

"Whoaaaaaaa!!! Master is back!!"

Yeowun smiled. Ko Wanghur then asked, "Master, who is he?"

He couldn't recognize the man slumped down on the ground. Mun Ku replied, "It's Chun Kungwun from the Sword Clan."

"Chun Kungwun??"

Ko Wanghur and the other cadets were shocked to hear this. Chun Kungwun was one of the top three individuals within the academy in terms of strength, even when considering all the instructors.

"D-did you do that?"

"Oh, this fool was Chun Kungwun?"

So, he had made a grand return. This would surely throw Kungwun out of the competition for the heirship.

'Hah! That's what you deserve!'

Most of the cadets who were annoyed at Kungwun who had been forcing them to join him became excited.

"Hehe. He was no match against our master."

Hu Bong spoke with a grin. Like Bakgi, established grandmaster Ko Wanghur, also knew about it, but he didn't Speak of it first because he was just too glad to see the master again.

“Master! ...D-did you reach the superior level?”

Every cadet turned to Yeowun in silence. Yeowun then looked back at them and smiled with a nod. His crew then shouted louder than ever.

“Whoaaaaaaa!”

“M-master is now a superior warrior?!”

“I can’t believe it!”

They were worried about Yeowun’s prolonged closed room training period. If Yeowun stayed longer due to not having understanding, then it meant he was being left behind on the competition. But the result of the prolonged stay led him to reach the superior level, so that was surely worth it. The only superior warriors within the cult were the three guardians and twelve elders.

‘He will truly change our cult!’

‘Our choice wasn’t wrong!’

In the Demonic Cult, power was the best way to prove oneself. With Yeowun becoming a superior level warrior, his members now trusted him more than ever. After Yeowun and his crew moved Chun Kungwun and his crew to medical room, they talked about what had happened outside.

Yeowun’s return had caused a shock within the academy.

‘Maybe he really will become the next Lord!’

‘But we have Chun Muyeon too.’

‘What did he do? Nothing!’

‘It’s crazy! We might have a Lord coming from a non-six clan for the first time!’

Chun Yeowun had defeated five out of the six princes by himself already. He had proved everything. And with this, it became a concern to Chun Muyeon’s group. The biggest obstacle they had for Muyeon to become the heir was now Chun Yeowun. But Chun Muyeon himself was uninterested and only focused on increasing his power.

At the Chief’s office in the main building, Lee Hameng also heard of Yeowun’s return. He also heard that Yeowun defeated Chun Kungwun and his crew and had cut his arms. He had heard the report of the patients in the medical room already. He also heard one piece of news that was almost unbelievable.

“Estimated to be at the superior level?”

The middle-aged man reporting to him was an instructor who was in charge of the closed rooms. The closed room building entrance doors could only be opened from the outside, so the instructor was there to open the door for last trainee. This allowed him to watch Yeowun fight. The instructor was certain of Yeowun’s power.

“In my honest opinion, I am certain. I saw him use the Force of Energy with my own two eyes,” the instructor firmly said. Lee Hameng was shocked. He didn’t expect to hear such news, since all he expected was to see Yeowun at end stage of the grandmaster level.

‘Superior level...?’

In all the history of the Demonic Academy, no one ever entered the superior level. This was not just something that was possible from being talented.

‘Maybe a storm is coming to our cult...’

He had high hopes for Yeowun’s tremendous growth rate, but it felt like he was going to bring such change about. Yeowun’s power was now something that the six clans could always deal with if they wanted. Lee Hameng’s eyes grew large and the instructor asked, “Chief, are there any problems, sir?”

“So... it was real.”

“Huh?”

Lee Hameng, a supreme level warrior, had a sense of energy that expanded over entire building. And one with such power had just entered the building. If he didn’t hear the report just now, he would have thought one of elders had came for him. And the one with such power now stood in front of his door.

“Chief, Squad Leader Chun Yeowun is requesting to meet you.”

“Oh!!”

The instructor who reported was surprised. This meant that the person he was reporting was now here.

“Let him in.”

“Yes, sir.”

The door opened and Chun Yeowun with long black hair and pale face came in. He had tied his long hair up so it will not fall below his neck. He had hid his qi, that weaker ones cannot sense but Lee Hameng was able to sense it clearly.

‘It is true that he had entered supreme level.’

Lee Hameng got up and walked up to him with intrigued look.

“Leader Chun. This is unbelievable.”

“Long time no see, sir.”

Yeowun was no more a mere kid. And Yeowun, who was looking at Lee Hameng was thinking of something different.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘I didn’t know back then, but he’s really powerful.’

Looking at Lee Hameng, it now showed clear difference in power. If his guess was right, Lee Hameng was established supreme level, stronger than Yeowun.

“So, why are you here?”

Yeowun then bowed at Lee Hameng and spoke.

“I want to take the fifth test.”

Chapter 114

Chapter 114: Secret of Demon Seal Cave (1)

As instructors led the way to the north corner of the academy, Senior Instructor Hou Jinchang glanced back at Chun Yeowun who was following them.

‘This is really amazing.’

Hou Jinchang was astounded. In these three years, he also trained hard and achieved the end stage of being a grandmaster level warrior. As an instructor, he did not want to feel ashamed against these fast-growing cadets. However, Yeowun had grown much stronger than him now.

‘Is it the blood?’

The Chun family ruled the cult for hundreds of years. Hou Jinchang became curious as to what kind of change Chun Yeowun would bring to the cult. Soon, they reached the ragged building.

Demon Seal Cave.

The building looked like it was going to crumble down at any moment.

‘You will pass the fifth test easily at your level, Master.’

Ko Wanghur, who had passed the fifth test, advised him as such. They said that the cave had many traps and tricks that required a high sense of energy to pass. This was why it required one to be at the established grandmaster level.

‘The cave is a bit scary inside.’

Mun Ku said there were no light sources after entering. It was required to pass through the cave by only relying on the sense of energy.

"But I heard a weird crying sound inside."

"Huh? Mun Ku, you heard it too?"

"...I heard it too."

Bakgi also exclaimed, "What?!"

'Was it not my imagination?!'

Ko Wanghur and Mun Ku also flinched in shock. Three of them claimed that they heard a mysterious cry the entire time they took the test. It gave them chills, but they couldn't feel anything as they passed through the cave, so they thought the sound was their imagination.

"This is the entrance."

Hou Jinchang opened the ragged door. Cold air began to blow from inside, proving that the cave was larger than expected. When Yeowun walked in, there was a staircase that led into the basement. It was very dark further in.

One of the instructors then pushed the wooden pillar next to the stairs, and the sound of something moving was heard from below. Yeowun heard that there was machinery installed below already, so he just nodded. Hou Jinchang explained, "The fifth test only requires you to pass through it. You have to pass through various traps just by relying on your senses. There is an exit on the east end. We will wait for two hours there."

"So, there is a time limit to this?"

“It will only take maybe an hour to two hours. But if you can’t come out within the timeframe, we will stop the machines and enter to see if you got into an accident.”

The accidents killed three cadets already. These traps were very dangerous. Instructors then checked Yeowun’s body to see if he had any tools to start a fire.

“Are you bringing that blade inside?”

“Yes, sir.”

No light sources were allowed, but weapons were okay since they were needed to defend against machinated traps.

“Let’s check it.”

Yeowun handed the blade over. It was the blade created by Ou Sunong. Hou Jinchang took up the blade. The blade had writing engraved that said ‘Butterfly Dance’ as it was requested by Yeowun.

“Good blade.”

It wasn’t created with cold steel, but it was quite sharp. It was very close to Submeng’s Crazy Blade. Hou Jinchang handed it back to Yeowun and pointed at the staircase.

“Then you should start.”

“Yes, sir.”

“I wish you luck.”

Hou Jinchang wished him luck, but he wasn’t worried. The traps were meant for grandmaster level warriors, so it was a piece of cake for a superior warrior like Chun Yeowun. Yeowun then walked down the staircase. As the instructors walked out and closed the door, everything turned pitch dark. He was supposed to use his senses to check where it was open and where it was closed, but he didn't need to rely on that.

'Nano, activate night vision mode.'

[Activating night vision mode.]

With Nano's voice, Yeowun's eyes adapted to the darkness, and he could clearly see the staircase. It was a very old stone staircase that was severely worn out.

'It's pretty far down.'

Yeowun kept on walking down. As he walked down, the air grew more chilly. After he walked down the height of a four-story building, there was an end. He saw the entrance to the cave.

'What is this smell?'

Yeowun caught the disgusting smell at the entrance. It smelled like oil and blood, but a lot of other things were mixed in that and it was hard to recognize what smell it was.

'Let's go in.'

As he walked into the corridor, he felt a slight breeze. It seemed like this way led to the exit. If one used their senses, the wind guided the way to the exit. And when he went in, the wall of the cave was smooth, indicating that it was created artificially.

'Well, they even installed traps here.'

Yeowun did not need to waste time. He saw exit clearly in his eyes, so he just needed to go there. Yeowun then used a running skill to run through.

“Huh?”

But when he took his step off from the ground, the wall trembled and sharp spears were thrown at Yeowun. He swung his hand, and all the spears broke down before they reached him.

‘So, this was how.’

A wrong step and one could trigger a trap. Yeowun then sighed and changed his plan to walk slowly out. And after a few steps, another trap was triggered again. The stone that he stepped on was pushed down and the entire ceiling from about ten steps in all directions dropped down on him.

“Oh!”

Yeowun then quickly ran through to get away. He would have been squashed by the ceiling if he had been late. With such a trap in such darkness, it was easy to see why even grandmaster level warriors were killed by these. It was still dangerous even when Yeowun could clearly everything. Yeowun then walked carefully. After looking, he was able to identify the trap triggers. Most of them were made to trigger when taking the wrong steps.

‘I just need to be careful of those.’

As Yeowun had help from the night vision, he was able to avoid stepping on those triggers. And after moving through a bit, Yeowun realized something was off. He wasn't worried about getting lost since he was moving toward the breeze, but there were more directions in this cave. There were other open areas that were connected to others. Without the breeze, one could get lost by going the other way.

‘It feels like I’ve seen this place somewhere...’

It was his first time here, but he felt like he’d seen this somewhere. After thinking about the reason while he moved, he then finally came to a conclusion.

“Wait. Nano, do you remember the map you saved from collecting those shiny stones in the prison cave?”

[Yes, Master. It is saved in the data.]

‘Show me.’

[Yes, Master.]

With Nano’s voice, Yeowun saw the augmented reality drawing the map that was saved. It was the map that was at the back of those shiny stones that had breathing skills written on the front.

“It was here!”

Yeowun was astonished. The map was the map of this Demon Seal Cave. It matched exactly with the route he took to walk down here.

‘Nano, what do you think?’

[The shape of the current cave matches that of the map. We are currently located at this point on the map.]

The map then showed a red dot, indicating the location of Yeowun’s current position.

“Oh. That’s cool.”

From looking at the map, it seemed like it was easy to move to the location where the map was pointing to. He was in the middle of the fifth test, but he was curious. It was the map that was written at the back of the shiny stones left by Father Chun Ma. It was likely that something was hidden there.

‘I have enough time.’

Only a few minutes had passed. Yeowun decided to check the map.

‘I have to go back.’

The location was the far right tunnel at the first location. But with a map, it was easy to move through complicated tunnel easily. And it was after a while he walked through the cave.

“Huh?”

He heard the faint sound of an animal growling from somewhere. It was too clear to think of it as his imagination. It seemed like it was the sound that Mun Ku and Ko Wanghur had heard.

‘I don’t feel anything though.’

He couldn’t feel any movement. Yeowun then focused back on the map and moved.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘So many traps even when it’s not a way out.’

He kept on moving through, and there were now more traps installed on the way than on the way to the exit. After walking past the traps carefully, Yeowun was finally at the location indicated on the map.

“This...”

The place was blocked off by a large blue wall. And there was giant writing on it that covered the entire blue stone wall.

“Seal?”

Chapter 115

Chapter 115: Secret of Demon Seal Cave (2)

The writing was so large that it was hard to recognize what it said from close up. And the writing was written with a sword.

‘This writing...’

It was the same writing style that was written on blue pearl stone pedestal. Surely this was written by Father Chun Ma.

‘Does this mean something is sealed behind it?’

Yeowun then realized the name of this cave was Demon Seal Cave, meaning it sealed a demon. He just thought it was a generic name, but he came to the realization that there was something more to it.

‘Then is there something sealed behind this giant wall?’

It seemed like the secret was beyond this wall. And it was then.

‘It’s that sound again!’

He heard the growling sound of an animal again, but it was much clearer than before. The sound came from beyond the wall. Yeowun looked down at his arms that had goosebumps. He had become very rational after entering the superior level, but this cry gave him the feeling of a demonic presence.

‘Should I not touch it?’

He became hesitant as he might unleash something that he could not control with his curiosity. But he also thought of this.

‘...But why would he leave the location of a place on a treasure map?’

The map was drawn as if there was something really important hidden at the location. Yeowun didn’t have much time to hesitate as he was in the middle of the test.

“Hmph.”

Yeowun took a deep breath.

‘If it is left by Father Chun Ma, it can never be too bad.’

Yeowun then got up to the wall and took out his blade. As he concentrated on the blade, the force qi was wielded on his blade.

“Hah!”

Yeowun’s blade then struck the wall multiple times. Debris and dust kicked up, hiding the sight, but Yeowun kept on going for a while and took a few steps back afterward.

‘Did it work?’

Yeowun swung his arm, and the energy created a storm to wash away the specks of dust. Yeowun’s eyes widened.

“Huh?”

The stone wall stood still. There were blade marks, but they still stood strong.

“Uh...”

He then saw that the depth of the marking was shallower than that of the writing left by Father Chun Ma.

“This wall...”

Yeowun was dumbfounded and Nano spoke to him.

[The durability of the wall is equal to the blue pearl stone.]

“What?”

He then realized the stone was faintly blue. He walked closer, and the fresh blade marks were much clearer in blue.

‘It’s not equal in durability. This IS blue pearl stone.’

It was covered with other stone, but inside was blue pearl stone.

“Hmm...”

Yeowun then took a deep breath.

‘Then that’s the only way.’

He had to unleash a sword formation powerful enough to destroy the blue pearl stone. He didn’t think the first target to use ‘that’ formation he learned only recently was a blue pearl stone wall. Yeowun then changed his grip on the blade and changed it to that of a sword.

‘Fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.’

He was barely able to use the fourth formation after entering the superior level. It was so powerful that he thought he would never have the chance to use against most people, but this was the only way to destroy this wall at once.

Yeowun readied and the air began to churn as if it would explode. Yeowun then charged forward, sending twenty-four sword movements as one, striking the wall like a lightning thrown from a thunder god.

With a large explosion, the cave shook. The entire cave was covered in dust immediately. Yeowun was already seven steps back from the wall. The debris and dust kicked up were so much that he had to run back immediately after he destroyed it.

That's when the entire blade he held cracked and turned into dust. The blade couldn't withstand the power used through the formation.

'I need a sword that can withstand the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.'

Yeowun shook his head. As he waved his hand from top to bottom, the dust was pushed down. Yeowun saw a giant hole on the blue pearl stone wall.

'I did it!'

He then tried to walk in but stopped at chilling evil energy seeping out from it. He had not felt such demonic energy at once that even Yeowun at the superior level was terrified.

"Ugh!"

He also smelled a foul stench. It was the smell that he caught at the entrance to the cave. He then hesitated a bit and walked closer to the hole. That's when Nano's voice rang quickly.

[Warning! Warning! Detecting rise of plasma energy level within range! Atmospheric sprite incoming.]

“What?”

It was then, Yeowun heard the growling of the animal right in front of him. The light flashed and something threw Yeowun to the back.

“Ugh!”

Yeowun was thrown far back into the wall. He looked back dumbfoundedly. Something had attacked him, and he couldn't even react to it. This was not something that a normal human could do.

‘What is it? I couldn't even block it.’

He then heard the sound of an animal again. Yeowun then quickly jumped up and dodged it. The wall where Yeowun was at was struck by something and dust kicked up. He would have struck if he didn't run in time. He then saw the long and giant shadow of the animal.

‘What is this...?’

Yeowun was shocked to see if this was real. It had dark and glistening scales, with the smell of rotting blood. The head that was growing was as big as a human's body, and it looked like a snake. But there were hundreds of black spikes above its head. As Yeowun looked at the long body that ran from the inside of the wall to another side, he mumbled, “Dragon serpent...”

It was the dragon serpent that Yeowun saw in old fairytales. The dragon serpent was a snake in the myth that had acquired power but could not become a dragon. The book had described the dragon serpent as a holy beast with white or blue scales that lived in the lake, but this black dragon serpent was more like a terrifying monster.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Is this real?’

The black dragon serpent charged at Yeowun with its large mouth.

‘It’s fast!’

It was giant, but the speed was too fast. Yeowun quickly used his running skills to run across the cave wall, avoiding the dragon serpent’s poisonous fangs. The fangs struck the cave floor, destroying it. The snake then turned and glared at Yeowun with glowing red eyes.

“Dammit!” Yeowun spat. He destroyed the wall in hopes of finding treasure left by Father Chun Ma, but in fact, he had awakened the demon sealed in the Demon Seal Cave.

Chapter 116

Chapter 116: Secret of Demon Seal Cave (3)

The black dragon serpent charged at Yeowun. He quickly took steps to avoid being attacked, but the dragon serpent quickly followed Yeowun. Each time its fang struck the wall, the wall crumbled down. Yeowun had to be on the move entire time to not get struck by the dragon serpent's powerful attack.

'The cave might fall down.'

It was weird that the cave was still holding up. It wasn't sure how such a large dragon serpent was locked up here, but it looked like it was possible for the dragon serpent to just make a hole through the cave to escape.

'Maybe the entire place beyond that wall is made out of blue pearl stone?'

If it was, then there was no way for dragon serpent to escape from it. If this went on, the cave was going to collapse. And if it did, then Yeowun was going to die.

'I have no choice. Let's lure it into the stone room.'

Yeowun then ran through the cave wall with his running skill, circling around and the snake moved his body to catch up to Yeowun.

'It's following!'

When snake also turned to follow Yeowun, its large body came out of the hole and filled the entire cavern as if it was nesting in it. And when the entrance was open again, Yeowun kicked off and charged into the room. The inside of it was very humid, different from ice-cold cave outside.

“Water?”

There was water about knee height below. But it had the smell of a foul stench that made him even get a headache. If he didn't have night vision mode on, he just would have considered it water. As he held up his leg, he felt the ooze sticking upon him. The liquid was black in color, but it was hard to recognize what it was. But before he can think about what this liquid was, the dragon serpent's head charged in through the hole.

“Dammit!”

Yeowun jumped up. But with the sticky ooze pulling him, his running skill couldn't speed him up as it would normally do.

“NO!”

There was no way the dragon serpent will miss the chance of its prey hanging in the air. Yeowun then changed his way. If he had no way to run, then he had to fight it. Yeowun gathered force qi on his hand and unleashed the third formation of Sword Force of the Sky Demon at the dragon serpent. This was the only formation he could use when he was not standing on the ground.

Twenty-four movements were unleashed, causing storm as it struck the dragon serpent.

‘Huh?’

Yeowun was shocked. When his force qi struck the monster, the sound of metal clashing rang out in the room. The dragon serpent then roared and churned in rage. It was so powerful that Yeowun was thrown back before he could finish the entire formation.

“Ugh!”

He was struck at the other end of the wall and fell to the sticky water. The wall, however, was unscratched, unlike the wall outside, proving it was created from blue pearl stone. The harsh stone inflicted pain on his back.

“Ugh...”

If his body wasn't strengthened while learning the fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon, he would have broken bones or muscles.

‘I can't damage it even with the Sword Force.’

The dragon serpent seemed it had taken no damage. Yeowun looked at the snake coming to him.

‘What should I do?’

If the Sword Force did not work, then it meant the snake had a stronger density in its body. He had never thought about fighting a monster in myth. It was despair.

‘Huh?’

That's when he found something strange. As the dragon serpent came at him with moving his large body, the water below him did not move.

‘Wait a minute...’

The water was still up to Yeowun's knee. If that large monster came charging in, then it should have raised the water level, but it was the same. Yeowun ordered Nano.

‘Nano, activate augmented reality.’

[Yes, Master.]

With Nano’s voice, Yeowun saw white lights describing things he was seeing. Yeowun narrowed his eyes. There was nothing showing next to the giant dragon serpent. There was only a number that showed the flow of energy and a drawing that looked like a wave.

‘Nano, what is this wave sign?’

[It is a graph that shows dark plasma energy within this entire room.]

‘Plasma energy?’

[The energy within the room fused through abnormal rate of growth, creating an unexplained phenomenon. It is what many deem as – spiritual encounter.]

‘This is a spiritual encounter?’

[Warning! Atmospheric sprite phenomenon is approaching!]

“Dammit!”

Dragon serpent then charged at Yeowun again and Yeowun kicked up twice as hard, to free himself from the sticky ooze. As Yeowun dodged the attack of dragon serpent, Yeowun was able to see that the dragon serpent did not have a material body. Yeowun asked Nano, ‘Nano, do you know what this thing I am looking at?’

[Twenty-four metal pieces are hovering over with strong plasma energy radiating out from them.]

‘What?’

Yeowun was shocked. He was looking at the dragon serpent, but Nano was seeing at something entirely different. Yeowun's guess was right.

'Metal pieces? So, it's not a dragon serpent then?'

[No, Master.]

Yeowun then became hesitant. He could only see a terrifying dragon serpent.

'So, if I get rid of those metal pieces, will that illusion go away?'

Yeowun couldn't run away from it forever. He had to fight against it even if that was the answer. Yeowun then ordered Nano.

'Nano, show me the location of those metal pieces you speak of.'

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun then saw two fangs, two eyes, and spikes over the dragon serpent's head shining with the red dots.

'Huh?'

He then realized the location of these red dots were weird. If he were to use twenty-four sword movements of the Sword Art of the Sky Demon, it was exactly the point where these red dots were located at, as if that was its intention.

'Wait... this is what the Father Chun Ma prepared then?'

He wasn't sure why these metal pieces were located there, but if one knew the sword movements of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon, it was possible to strike the exact spots.

Yeowun glared at red dots. Dragon serpent charged at him terrifyingly. Yeowun had trained in the basic movements of the Sword Force for three entire years. With him at the superior level, it was possible to unleash all twenty-four movements almost at once.

“Hah!”

Yeowun’s body left a trace as it divided into twenty-four traces of Yeowun moving through to strike all the red dots. Sounds of metal clashes rang through the room. As his word struck through the red dot, the dragon serpent shot through Yeowun. He had to be inside the dragon serpent, but he couldn’t see anything when he dropped down.

‘I did it!’

Yeowun then turned.

“So... this was it!”

In the air, he saw the twenty-four black metal pieces hovering there, moving slightly.

“What is this anyway?”

As Yeowun got up to see it, something weird happened. The twenty-four pieces immediately began to gather up and combined themselves into one. Its shape mirrored that of a sword.

“Sword?”

It was a dark sword that glowed while still hovering in the air. Yeowun was speechless at such a mysterious scene and carefully walked to the sword. He then saw the engraving on the blade.

[Sky Demon Sword]

“Sky Demon Sword?”

That was the name of the sword. But the Sky Demon Sword was a famous sword that symbolized the Lord of the Demonic Cult, and that was held by the Lord himself. Then what was this sword? Yeowun then reached out and grabbed the sword.

And soon as he grabbed on it, mysterious dark energy ran through him.

“W-what is this?!”

Yeowun was shocked and tried to let go, but the energy had consumed him already.

“Uuuuughhhh!”

A strange sensation grasped him and his face turned black, and Yeowun had fallen to the ground on his knees in pain. Soon, Yeowun’s world turned entirely dark. It was like the depth itself.

Chapter 117: Secret of Demon Seal Cave (4)

Yeowun couldn't feel anything within the darkness. He wanted to speak, but his voice didn't come out and he couldn't hear any sound. Such darkness usually gave fear to people, but this darkness was really comfortable for Yeowun as if he was a baby in a womb. When Yeowun was almost seeping into such comfortable darkness, he snapped out and came back to his senses.

'No! I can't let this darkness consume me.'

Yeowun then called to Nano.

'Nano! Nano!'

But Nano did not answer. If he was going to be caught up in this darkness, then there was a chance that he might fail the fifth test.

'What should I do?'

Unlike Yeowun's uneasiness, the darkness was very calm and quiet. Yeowun then focused on trying to find his senses back.

'If I can think, my body still remains intact. Let's focus.'

This was easy. He couldn't feel anything, so it was like finding needle in a haystack to find his senses. After a while, Yeowun who as focusing on finding his senses, now changed to going through the breathing method of Sky Force of the Sky Demon. This happened when he had his hand on the black sword, so this was his last resort. In the timeless darkness, there came a change. The darkness began to twist and stormed into one point where it was sucking everything in.

‘Is it coming into me?’

Yeowun was able to feel it clearly. The vast darkness that tried to consume him was now being sucked in. It was so fast that it was as if the darkness was all but imagination. And when the darkness was sucked in entirely, the entire place turned into a white area.

The area trembled, and the surface below turned into a water surface and something shot up from behind. It had beautiful, pearl white scales that had a shape of a white dragon. But it was too small to be a dragon and it had small horns.

‘Dragon serpent?’

It was similar to the black dragon serpent he saw earlier, except it had white scales and horns. The white dragon serpent then looked up and roared. It was roar that had enough holy energy to shake the entire space. As its body moved, the scales squirmed and Yeowun saw it growing in size.

‘Is it growing?’

The horn also began to grow longer, looking like if it was going to turn into a true dragon. But when the dragon moved, the area around it thundered and trembled. The surface also shook like a sea under a huge storm. It was then — with the sound of something being cut down, the white dragon serpent screamed in agony.

‘Ah!’

The reason was at the horn. Someone had cut down the dragon serpent's horn. The white dragon serpent screamed and twisted its large body and the white scales soon turned black. Its yellow eyes turned red and the man who had a black robe walked up to him with a satisfied look.

'That's...!'

The man had a black sword in his hand, and it was certain that it was the sword that said it was the Sky Demon Sword that Yeowun grabbed before being locked up in the darkness. The dragon serpent became infuriated and charged at the man. That's when the man's black sword unleashed dark force qi.

'That's a force qi?'

He had never seen such dark force qi. The man charged at the dragon serpent, unleashed a powerful sword formation, and stormed him. When the man dashed past the dragon serpent, its head had turned into many pieces.

'Sword Force of the Sky Demon!'

Yeowun was able to recognize what this sword force was. It was the third formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. But it was much more powerful than when he used it himself.

Black blood soared up from the place where its head was cut off, covering the surface in black. The man then struck his black sword down on the dragon serpent. And when he did, something black shot up from it and was sucked into the sword. The man looked down at the sword and spoke.

"This will take a long time. Then it is not for me."

And at that moment, the man turned to the direction where Yeowun was at.

‘Huh?’

As he met the black eyes of the man, Yeowun’s sight quickly spun and distorted.

“Ugh!”

And Yeowun quickly got up with the foul stench coming through his mouth and nose. It wasn’t sure when, but he had dropped into the black ooze.

“Ugh! Uuuuugh!”

He even swallowed a few sips, but it was so disgusting. If it was poisonous, Nano would have extracted it out, but it seemed like it was okay. However, it was still hard to get used to the stench.

[Are you okay, Master?]

‘Nano?’

Yeowun then looked around. There was black liquid, and the wall was faint blue in color.

“I-I’m back...”

He didn’t know what just happened. It was too clear to be considered an illusion as he clearly remembered staying for a long time in the darkness while watching black-robed man killing the dragon serpent.

“No!”

When he realized he was back, he thought of what was most important. He had spent a long time in the darkness that maybe he had passed the time limit again. Yeowun asked Nano, ‘Nano, how long was I out?’

[You did not passed out, Master. You fell down when you held the sword.]

Chapter 118

Chapter 118: Secret of Demon Seal Cave (5)

‘What?’

Yeowun was dumbfounded when he heard it. He had stayed in such a state for such a long time, but it was actually an instant. He still had the night vision mode on his sight, that proved it wasn't for too long.

‘How long have I been inside in this cave then?’

[Little less than an hour, Master.]

‘Wheeeew.’

Yeowun then sighed in relief. He was worried if he failed by not keeping within the time limit, but that wasn't the case.

‘So, it wasn't as long then. What happened to me anyway?’

He couldn't understand what he experienced. Yeowun then asked Nano again, ‘Did I just fall down? And that's it?’

[No, Master. When you grabbed the sword, dark plasma energy came in through the body. It kicked up the usage of master's neuron cells to 100% instantly.]

Human brains were activated by the individual depending on what the human was doing. There was no way the brain would be activated at 100% at any time. Nano wasn't finished there.

[The dark plasma energy was absorbed into the body, mixed with the internal energy, and became one.]

‘What? It became one with my internal energy?’

Yeowun then checked the flow of his internal energy. He felt a different type of energy within his body. It had the terrifying darkness that he felt when he fought against the dragon serpent.

‘How did it become corrupt like this?’

It was hard to understand, but it was certain that it was because of him holding onto that black sword.

“Huh?”

Yeowun then realized he couldn’t find the black sword. He thought he had dropped it to the ground, so he used his foot to search through the water, but it was empty below.

[Please check your wrist.]

‘Huh?’

Yeowun then raised his both arms up and checked.

“W-what is this?!”

Both his wrists were covered by black metal pieces that were shaped like armguards. Certainly they were the metal pieces that formed the black sword.

‘Why are these on my arm?’

Yeowun tried to unequip them, but they were stuck on his wrist so hard that they wouldn’t come off. Yeowun had powerful strength, but even he couldn’t get it off.

‘Is it reacting to my energy then?’

Yeowun sent the energy to it, but it didn't even budge. Then what was it going to move at?

'Or maybe...'

Yeowun then changed direction. He focused to flow the energy through breathing skill of the Sword Force, and the dark energy stored within also came up with it.

Yeowun's entire body began to shine in dark energy, showing a terrifying demonic presence. It was as if the black dragon serpent was here. At that moment, the black metal pieces scattered and gathered together to form the shape of the sword. The black sword then fell into Yeowun's right hand.

"Ohhh....!"

Yeowun was astonished. He was able to see that the black sword, shining in its deep black blade, was a powerful sword. He was then able to confirm that this 'Sky Demon Sword' was the real treasure left by Father Chun Ma.

'Let's give it a try.'

Yeowun then walked to the wall of the blue stone. If this sword was gift from the Father Chun Ma, then it would surely hold up against the power of Sword Force of the Sky Demon. Yeowun then readied to unleash his power and sent the energy into the sword to create force qi.

"This...?!"

Yeowun's eyes grew large. His force qi was not blue anymore. Just like the man in his illusion, his force qi was dark. And the force qi unleashed ominous aura from it.

Yeowun then swung the black sword-wielding dark force qi at the wall.

The wall was cut down as if it was like a paper. It was amazing.

“How is this even possible...? Just the force qi is...”

Yeowun was shocked by his own energy that was so powerful beyond his imagination.

‘If then!’

Yeowun then used the first formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. His black sword unleashed the twenty-four sword movements, slicing through the blue pearl stone. As the stone pieces crumbled down, the black sword shined in its perfect state.

At the entrance of the Demon Seal Cave, a ragged building covered up the underground staircase just like the entrance. Three instructors who were waiting at the exit were curious. If Yeowun was at the superior level, it should have taken him less than an hour to come out from this exit, but they didn’t see any signs of Yeowun coming out even after two hours.

“I hope nothing happened in there.”

Instructor Yun Jawun spoke and Hou Jinchang narrowed his eyes. The traps within the cave were dangerous enough for grandmaster level warriors, but it was nothing too dangerous for superior level warriors as one could just defend oneself with an energy shield.

‘Is he...?’

Hou Jinchang then turned to the pedestal with the name on it. The cave was known to contain a sealed demon. It turned into a place of the fifth test now, but a long time ago, this place was a place only those who had the 'rights' could enter.

'I heard the rule changed after the Sword Demon created the Demonic Academy here.'

Most instructors did not know who created the academy. And it was then when two-hour time limit was almost up.

"OH?!"

They didn't feel anything, but the ragged door to the building opened and someone showed up. It was Chun Yeowun.

"Ugh!"

Instructors immediately pinched their nose at the foul smell coming from within. Yeowun's body and clothes which were wet with dark and sticky liquid let out the foul stench. Even Hou Jinchang, who rarely showed emotion, made it seem like it was too much to bear, and hid his nose under his arm.

"...C-congratulations, Master Chun Yeowun, on passing the fifth test."

"Thank you."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He barely passed the test. He almost went over the time limit, but no instructors here were worried that Yeowun would not pass anyway.

‘Huh?’

Hou Jinchang’s eyes turned to something that Yeowun was holding onto.

‘What is that?’

Yeowun’s hand had a white club-like thing that was as big as human arm. It looked like the horn of a young deer.

Chapter 119

Chapter 119: Completing the Sword Force of the Sky Demon (1)

Originally, cadets who passed the fifth test were required to report to the Chief right away, but Yeowun was soaked in such a foul stench that he was sent to the dorm to clean up first. When he got to the dorm, Yeowun took a shower. It took him an hour of washing to remove the stench. He then twisted the clothes to extract all the black liquid and collected it all into a bowl. This wasn't the end. He also had to collect the black liquid collected in the leather blade scabbard he had that had lost its blade after his Butterfly Dance blade had shattered.

'This should be enough.'

He collected this liquid because of what happened inside the cave. After Yeowun was satisfied with his increased power, he tried to continue on. However, his body was heating up inexplicably so he had to sit down and meditate. After ten minutes, the toxic elements within his body were pushed out. And when it did, his internal energy began to flow much better.

'How did this...'

[The ooze consumed into the body flowed through the blood points and pushed the remaining small amount of toxic elements out of the body.]

After reaching the superior level, Yeowun's blood points were fully opened and all toxic elements were pushed out. But as a human, it was natural to stack these toxic elements while living a normal life. If what Nano said was true, this liquid had tremendous power of pushing out even the slightest toxic element from the body.

‘So, this liquid is not just any liquid then!’

Yeowun then realized this liquid was blood from the dragon serpent. It gave little effect to him, but if it was consumed by his members, it was going to allow them to push out any toxic elements and help them use energy more freely.

‘I should get these back.’

But all he had to carry the liquid was the scabbard. After filling up the scabbard with the liquid, Yeowun looked at the room filled with black liquid and thought to come back for more.

‘This amount will allow our entire cult to become stronger.’

But that plan failed right after. On the way out, Yeowun tripped on something on the ground under the liquid.

‘What is this?’

It felt strange that something was stuck on the bottom of the floor, so Yeowun pulled it up without hesitation. At that instance, the area around it collapsed. Yeowun quickly jumped up and got out of the stone room. If he was late, he might have dropped to the ground.

‘...Oh man.’

The collapse had sucked in all of the black liquid. He thought the ground was also created with blue pearl stone, but it wasn’t. At least he had a little to give to his members.

‘But to think this remained there too.’

Yeowun then looked at the white club. He wasn't sure what it was at first, but he soon realized it was the cut horn of the white dragon serpent he saw in the illusion.

'Where should I use that?'

He brought it because he realized it was the horn of the dragon serpent, but he wasn't sure what he should do with it.

'Nano, can you analyze the horn?'

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun then placed his hand on the horn and Nano began to analyze it.

[There is no substance recorded that explains this object.]

'Huh?'

It was obvious, even in the far future where technology was advanced, there was no way for information about mythical creatures to be available. With it being unknown in Nano's database, it wasn't possible to know what it could do, but there was one thing that was certain.

[The density of the horn is slightly less than that of a high-density diamond.]

'D-diamond?!'

If that was true, then this was very durable, much more durable than the blue pearl stone. Yeowun then brought up blue force qi over his finger.

If they didn't pull the demonic energy, it was possible to use the blue force qi. He then struck the horn down with it.

There was no damage on the horn. There was even some kind of deflection that pushed the force qi back.

“Wow.”

Yeowun then came up with an idea. He had found the black sword, but he didn't like the name engraved on it.

‘I should make a sword or a blade with this!’

If this bone was that durable, then a sword or blade created from it would surely withstand the power of the Sword Force of Sky Demon or the Butterfly Blade Dance skill.

‘I should visit Blacksmith Ou tomorrow.’

It wasn't sure if such a durable piece can be created into a sword, but he decided to meet the blacksmith tomorrow. And when that was finished, Yeowun went straight to the main building of the academy. At the front of the building, among three instructors who were together with him on the fifth test, the youngest instructor called Ma Yun was waiting.

“You took your time, Leader Chun.”

“I'm sorry. The smell wouldn't come off.”

“Right.”

Ma Yun nodded understandingly as he too had never smelled such an awful smell in his entire life. He then became curious if the cave had such a trap. Only Hou Jinchang was the instructor who had first-hand experience, so there was no way to know.

“Let's go in.”

Ma Yun walked in and both of them walked into the Chief's office on the first floor. Hou Jinchang was talking with Lee Hameng. Lee Hameng looked surprised when Yeowun walked in.

'Huh?'

He had met Yeowun about three hours ago, but after the fifth test, there was a faint hint of demonic presence coming out from Yeowun now.

'...So, what Instructor Hou said was true.'

He couldn't believe it. He too had gone into Demon Seal Cave in the past, but he couldn't find anything other than traps. He too knew about the rumor.

[Only the one who has the 'right' will be given a chance to face the demon hidden in the cave.]

It was an old myth and nobody really took it seriously as no one faced the said 'demon' in hundreds of years. But beginning with the sword skill that Yeowun had learned, the demonic presence coming from Yeowun confirmed it.

'Maybe we have the true...'

"Hmph, Chief."

Hou Jinchang coughed and Lee Hameng snapped out of his thoughts.

"Oh, isn't it Leader Chun. Or, shall I say, Master Chun?"

Lee Hameng took out the golden medal from his desk and gave it to Yeowun. The medal had the letter M engraved into it. Yeowun was now promoted onto the next rank, reaching the master rank within the cult. Yeowun bowed.

“Thank you.”

“Congratulations on passing the fifth test. You are now officially a top warrior of the cult.”

Lee Hameng seemed to be glad to see that Yeowun had grown so powerful. He was a mere kid who could be expelled at any given moment, but he was now powerful enough for even the elders to be wary of him.

‘...I shouldn’t have let that drunkard take him.’

If Yeowun really won the competition and became the heir, then Right Guardian Submeng would be given the honor of being the first to have an apprentice who had become a Lord. It was too late to take Yeowun in as an apprentice anymore, so it was too late.

“Congratulations, Master Chun.”

Ma Yun bowed to Yeowun. Yeowun was now a higher rank than the instructors. The only one who was higher ranked than him was Lee Hameng, and Hou Jinchang was now at the same rank.

“Here you go.”

Hou Jinchang gave a small wooden box that contained the black dragon ball, and something else.

“This...?”

“It’s a dagger given to every master rank warriors within the cult.”

The dagger was lavishly decorated with leather scabbard also created with fine craftsmanship. When he opened the box, it revealed a short but sharp blade.

There was a small etching that said ‘Demonic Cult’ on the blade, with a hint of sword qi from the etch. It seemed like it was etched by a warrior.

“That etching is left by the Lord himself. It is a gift given directly from the Lord, only given to masters.”

Hou Jinchang spoke proudly, but Yeowun became cold. It was maybe an honor to ordinary cadets or cultists, but it wasn’t for him. Yeowun placed the dagger on his belt. He had the urge to throw it away right now, but he couldn’t do it in front of Lee Hameng the Left Guardian, or the other instructors. He then changed the subject to hide his feelings.

“So, can I be informed of the sixth test?”

Lee Hameng grinned. Maybe the sixth test was the best one that Yeowun might have been waiting for. The sixth test that was issued less than ten times in the entire history of the academy was only given when the cadet was at the level of superior warrior. This was why most cadets weren’t even given the chance before graduating from the academy. And this was why Lee Hameng also skipped mentioning this test on the first day of the academy. After 70 years, there was finally one worthy enough to take the test.

“Master Chun. You have the right to take the test.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Finally...! The sixth test!’

‘I didn’t think I would see it in my days!’

Instructors were excited. Even Hou Jinchang, who had worked for the longest time within the academy, never saw any cadets who earned the right to take the sixth test.

“The sixth is to challenge our finest warriors, or our elders. You must challenge one of them.”

Yeowun’s eyes began to shake.

Chapter 120

Chapter 120: Completing the Sword Force of the Sky Demon (2)

Lee Hameng stayed behind while everyone left his office. He grabbed the silver medal that Chun Yeowun had returned and thought.

‘He’s grown much.’

Yeowun was completely different from three years ago. He was no longer a boy who was eager to avenge his mother. He knew he could challenge one of the twelve elders, but he held back his emotions. This looked just like the cold-hearted Lord who was a father to the boy.

[Is there any specific elder you wish to challenge?]

[Is it okay if I think about it for a while?]

Yeowun had grown very thoughtful and did not act on impulse. Hameng thought that Yeowun would choose to fight Baek Oh, the leader of the Poison Clan for Yeowun’s hatred toward poison.

‘He is too dangerous to just challenge for revenge.’

Baek Oh, the Monster Poison. Without considering the level of martial arts, he was the most dangerous man within the six clan elders for his ability to kill. He was reinstated as an elder after being released from his prison sentence for two years. With the Poison Clan having much of their power decreased, and Baek Oh having accepted his consequences, he had been decreased of his rank to 12th elder.

‘And the Lord wants to keep him close.’

With the incident that happened three years ago, the Sword Clan paid its price and the entire six clans had to lay low for three years. But even if they were weakened, they still consisted of 30% of the cult's power and there was no way these old and powerful clans could stay quiet forever. It was only a little more time for the academy to soon close, so it was about time they show their claws.

'If the time comes, the cult will be in a bloodshed.'

There wasn't much time for Chun Yeowun to be ready for the upcoming strife.

Chun Yeowun went straight to the library. He was in deep thought ever since he left the Chief's office. He had not expected that the sixth test was to challenge one of the 12 elders. A warrior at the superior level was one of the top-ranking warriors within the cult, so they were given the right to challenge the elders to replace them. If the challenger defeated an elder, then the challenger was appointed as a new elder. And this wasn't only it. With the passing of the fifth test, Yeowun was told that there were hidden underground floors of the library that he can enter if he passes the sixth test. But Yeowun was too busy to think about getting the chance to fight elders in a public duel.

'I can go after the elders from the six clans.'

He was to start a war against the six clans right after his academy, but this was a chance for him to defeat one of the elders ahead of that war. He had someone in mind already, but he needed to be careful. Yeowun wasn't afraid of him, but needed to make preparations considering what he would gain and lose.

Yeowun got to the library while thinking. He saw the instructor taking care of entries sitting down on the desk in front of the library. He had a thick fur coat over him, but it still seemed very cold as his nose was very red.

“Ohh!”

The instructor got up instantly as he saw Yeowun after a long time. The job had been very boring now as only a few cadets now visited the library after the third test. It seemed like he was happy to see an old face.

“Leader Chun! Long time no see.”

“Long time no see, Instructor.”

“Oh, wait. I guess I shouldn’t call you Leader anymore.”

The instructor knew why Yeowun had come. He remembered that Yeowun came last time when he passed the fourth test, so if he came now, then it meant that Yeowun had passed the fifth test. The instructor got up and bowed politely.

“Greetings, Master Chun.”

The cult only valued power and rank. It didn’t matter how long the person had been in such rank. Yeowun saw no complaints on the instructor’s face at having to bow to him.

“Will you be going up to the fifth floor?”

“Yes.”

“Then you can write your name down here.”

On the list, there were names who had visited the fifth floor in order. Chun Muyun, Chun Kungwun, Sama Chak, Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku, Guk Shin, and Bakgi — a total of seven cadets had become established grandmaster level warriors.

And it was great that three of these cadets were under Yeowun.

‘Sama Chak?’

The name surprised Yeowun. Sama Chak was the fastest cadet aside from princes to pass the fifth test. Yeowun then remembered him having two yellow tags before.

‘Is he from a high-ranking clan?’

The name became familiar now. Yeowun wrote his name under Bakgi’s name and the instructor handed him two candles. Unlike the expectation that he was going to be given more time, the time didn’t seem different from when he went to the fourth floor.

“The time allowed is six hours.”

The time limit was still the same from the fourth floor.

“Understood.”

Yeowun answered and the instructor smiled.

“Wish you luck, Master Chun.”

“Thank you.”

Yeowun then placed one candle on the cabinet and got the wooden box to put the candle in and walked up to the fifth floor. As he walked up, there was a small room. The floors got smaller and smaller as he went up, but the fifth floor was really small and had no bookshelves at all.

‘Twenty?’

There were only about twenty books. And among them was one Yeowun was very well aware of.

[Butterfly Dance Blade]

As the Right Guardian Submeng claimed proudly, his book was on the fifth floor, meaning it had great depth and power within it. But it just meant Yeowun could skip one book. And it was now the time he had waited for so long.

‘Last formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.’

Chapter 121: Completing the Sword Force of the Sky Demon (3)

In the middle of the room, there was last blue pearl stone pedestal standing proudly. Yeowun walked up excitedly to the front of the stone. Just like other stones on the lower floors, there was poetry that hid the breathing points.

‘Nano, scan it.’

[Yes, Master.]

After scanning the front side, Yeowun walked to the back. And when he got the back, he almost screamed in shock.

‘W-what is this?!’

He had expected to see many sword markings on the back, but there were no marks of whatsoever. There were no markings of the counter sword skill, nor the marking of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. Instead, there was just a small hole in the middle.

‘Why isn’t there anything here?’

It would be more understandable if there was intentional damage left on the stone, but it was strange that there was nothing. Yeowun looked at the stone, not understanding what was going on.

‘Was this because Father Chun Ma didn’t leave anything that there was no counter sword skill either?’

That was the only likely conclusion for this. After thinking about it for a while, Yeowun frowned and asked Nano, ‘Nano, do you see any sword markings here?’

[Sword markings were left, most likely from one person.]

‘What? There is? Where?’

[Activating augmented reality over the user’s sight.]

With Yeowun’s eyes shaking, white lines were drawn over his sight.

[Zooming in on the target.]

With Nano’s words, part of the backside was zoomed in on. It was the part where there was a very small hole.

‘W-what?!’

When the hole was zoomed in to about the size of a head, Yeowun was shocked. He didn’t know until then, but when it zoomed in, he saw very small markings that made the small hole. The marks were equally distanced, with twenty-four of them.

‘These markings... is this from Sword Force of the Sky Demon?’

If one who saw it casually, it was a mere hole. But the location was where the sword would hit if the Sword Force of the Sky Demon was used. When the twenty-four sword movements were used in the same direction, it could hit the blood point in a circle, but if it was to hit the same spot like this, it only was possible when collecting all movements into one.

‘Can I use the sword movement like this? Wait, if then...’

Yeowun then went up to the front. He didn't know at first, but the hole had penetrated the entire stone.

'Nano, zoom in here.'

[Yes, Master.]

As expected, the hole had twenty-four sword markings left around it. It only made this small hole because the attack didn't wield energy.

'How can this be?'

Yeowun then realized the secret to this sword formation. This marking was a result of a sword formation being gathered into one powerful move that exploded through. If the attack wielded any kind of energy, then it would have shattered the blue pearl stone.

'Was Father Chun Ma really a human?'

He thought he understood a lot of about sword after becoming superior warrior, but this was beyond what any swordsman would think of. Father Chun Ma had created a supreme sword formation that could be used as an attack or defense by collecting all sword movements into one.

How could one counter such a powerful attack? The reason why there were no counter sword movements on this stone was because there was no way to counter this.

'He unified the sword into one. It is certain that such power will result if the sword's will is collected into such a unified manner.'

This was the last secret hidden behind the last formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. And when he understood this, something unexpected happened. Yeowun was sent into a trance.

‘Focus on unifying the sword’s will. Collect it into one will... gathering into one place...’

Sometimes, understanding came at unexpected moments. The last formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon contained the very truth of the sword that Father Chun Ma had realized during his latter years. Understanding at least a bit of this had allowed the body to break the shell around it to move up.

Yeowun slumped down on the ground and began to meditate. As he entered a trance, a vibrant light began to shine out from him in every color and powerful energy shot out from him, causing a rush of wind across the room. Books fell down and it caused a ruckus.

“W-what?! What is going on?!”

The grandmaster level warrior, Gamgung, who guarded the fifth floor, was shocked and looked at Yeowun. The way he was shining in vibrant light meant that Yeowun had earned a great understanding and was moving up into a higher level.

“What is going...”

“Quiet!”

As two other warriors who guarded the fifth floor ran up toward the stone, Gamgung told them to be quiet. If they were to disrupt Yeowun, then it was going to destroy his understanding and endanger him into falling into corruption.

[Defensive formation!]

Gamgung sent a telepathic message and three of them stood around in triangle formation around Yeowun to help him. All of them were shocked since they knew what that vibrant color of light meant.

‘Five qi unification!’

The last stage of the superior level was the five qi unification. When Yeowun reached the supreme level, he had achieved the state of the Three-Point Spirit that gave him the power to use the spirit of the human body, making him more powerful. But that was only half of what a superior warrior should do. It was only when he unified the five energies within him into one that he would reach the true superior level.

After about an hour, the light stopped shining from Yeowun and turned into one bright white light and began to shake his body. His bones and muscles were reconstructing. After trembling for about ten minutes, his body began to show different phenomena.

‘What!’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

As his face skin began to crack faintly, the three warriors became shocked. They all knew what this supposed to mean.

‘Body reconstruction!!’

They were dumbfounded and speechless. They never imagined they would see a body reconstruction with their own eyes. The cracks began to spread all over Yeowun’s body. It was as if he would shatter even with a slight touch.

It was then that Yeowun moved and entire cracks shattered and turned to dust to disappear. The energy wind that blew began to calm down and Yeowun opened his eyes.

His energy was well organized and there was no way for even Lee Hameng to recognize Yeowun's energy anymore. Yeowun was able to understand what had happened to him.

'I... achieved the end stage of the superior level!'

Chapter 122

Chapter 122: Completing the Sword Force of the Sky Demon (4)

‘It’s the first time I understood the sword formation without having it transferred into my brain.’

This was another feat for Chun Yeowun. Three warriors walked up to Chun Yeowun, astounded from his achievement. Three of them all bowed and congratulated Yeowun for his feat.

“Master Chun, congratulations on your understanding!”

“Congratulations!”

“Thank you. Thank you.”

Yeowun became thankful for them to stand guard while he was in a trance and bowed politely to each of them. Their eyes had envy and admiration in them. They had barely gotten to the grandmaster level at the age of forty, but Yeowun had gone through bodily reconstruction even before turning twenty.

‘Oh... if he is now at the superior level...’

Gamgung’s eyes shook. This meant that Yeowun had the right to take the sixth test. There were no cadets who became superior warriors in the last seventy years of the academy.

‘Am I seeing the birth of the new leader of the cult?’

If he passed the sixth test, then Yeowun was going to be a new elder. He had a chance to become the top official of the Demonic Cult, one of three powerful forces out of the entire Wulin. But even if he doesn't pass the test, he was still a superior warrior that will be respected as such, meaning he was likely to rise in power anyway.

'Nano, how long have I been in a trance?'

[It has been over two hours, Master.]

Yeowun was relieved. He was on the last floor of the library that contained the strongest and most powerful martial arts books. He wanted to scan them when he could. He still had four more hours, so it was enough.

'Oh.'

But there was a problem.

"...I'm sorry. I made a mess in this place."

From all the decorations to the books, all of them were thrown to the ground and scattered. Gamgung shook his head at Yeowun and answered, "Don't mind it, Master Chun. Who cares about little mess when you had made a great achievement?"

But Gamgung and the other warriors were certain that they were worried about books. They then ran to the books dropped to the ground to check if there wasn't any damage. The decorations weren't a concern, but these books were valuable treasures.

'Good.'

As they went over to check on the books, Yeowun turned back to the blue pearl stone pedestal. It was hard to see with regular eyes, and looked like a regular hole if one did not know about the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. But there was no need to leave a trace.

Yeowun brought up a slight force qi over his finger. It looked simple, but controlling force qi like this in detail required one to be at the superior level. Yeowun then dabbed on the hole with his finger, and the sword marking was crushed through as he rubbed his finger over it.

Yeowun had no intention to share the Sword Force of the Sky Demon to others. If it wasn’t for the library to be in mess, it would not given him time to do this, but he was lucky. After checking on every book to see if they were okay, Gamgung allowed Yeowun to look over the books while time remained. The candle had been put out from the wind, but Yeowun was able to check the time through Nano, so it didn’t matter.

‘I just need to scan nineteen books.’

That only required about thirty minutes. Yeowun then went over to the books. Other than the Butterfly Blade Dance, what caught his attention the most were the books from the six clans. The reason why he wanted to take a look at this was because the leaders of those six clans had reached the superior level through those martial arts.

Crazy Spirit Sword from the Sword Clan.

Loyal Demon Fist from the Loyal Clan.

Wise Flow Palm of the Wise Clan.

Sound Wave of Destruction from the Lust Clan.

Poison Demon Art from the Poison Clan.

Blade of Illusion from the Blade Clan.

It was likely that these martial arts weren't the best that these clans had. But they couldn't put weak martial arts on this floor of the library either, so it was certain that these were one of the top martial arts in the cult. Considering that the Butterfly Blade Dance was here, then it was likely that Left Guardian Lee Hameng's martial arts were here too.

'Red Fire Sword... is this it?'

The name suited his fiery red hair. Among these, there was one book that wasn't a martial arts book.

Step of the Wind God.

Yeowun flipped through the pages, and checked the book that it was a book about walking and running skills. Who was the one that donated this book while others were busy presenting the powerful martial arts books?

'Step of the Wind God? What a grand name.'

If the running skill were to be placed on the fifth floor, then it would surely be a very powerful skill. Yeowun did not know any powerful running skills, so he thought it was good that he saw this.

'Nano, scan this.'

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun's eyes shook and he scanned through all pages. It didn't take thirty minutes to scan a total of nineteen books. Yeowun was finally able to achieve his goal of scanning through as many books as possible within the library. He was now a walking martial arts library.

“Huh? Are you going down already?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

One of the warriors at the exit of the fifth floor became curious and asked. It hadn't been much time since Yeowun started looking at the book, so it was weird that he was going down already.

“I've looked over enough.”

“Huh? Uh...”

Yeowun had scanned every book so he did look at it enough, but this sounded like Yeowun did not find any books that matched his power to the warrior. It might have sounded very arrogant, but it was something a powerful warrior like Yeowun could say.

“Yes, sir.”

Chapter 123

Chapter 123: Completing the Sword Force of the Sky Demon (5)

When Yeowun got out of the library, it was completely dark. The winter made the sun to go down much faster. The instructor outside the library, who was ready to stay late, was happy to see Yeowun coming down so early. As Yeowun returned the candle, he thought of something he forgot.

‘Please tell us where you are going, so we won’t be worried!’

It was something Hu Bong told him a long time ago. He had forgotten about it completely as he was too into going to see the fifth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. It was possible that his members would be looking after him through the academy. It was even more so when Mun Ku and Hu Bong were ambushed.

‘Where will they be?’

Yeowun then walked down toward the private training room building and saw two people in the dark alleyway.

“Hu Bong?”

It was Hu Bong and Jin Guuk. Yeowun found them before they ran around looking for them. They too had found Yeowun coming down from the library and came running after.

“Maaaaaasterr!”

‘Ugh, here we go again.’

But the reaction was different than what he expected.

“Congratulations on passing the fifth test!”

“M-master! Congratulations!”

They heard from somewhere that Yeowun had passed the fifth test. His members actually did not run around looking for him when he went missing after passing the test. There were only two places that cadets who passed the test might go. One was the training room and another was the library. They immediately went to the library and asked if Chun Yeowun had come here, and was told that he was on the fifth floor. This allowed his members to know that Yeowun had passed the test. But they were still worried just in case, so they waited in turn in front of the training room, which might be Yeowun’s next destination.

‘Hmm. They’ve gotten smarter.’

They were now adjusting to their master. If Yeowun had not thought of his members, he surely would have gone to the training room to absorb the black dragon ball.

‘Oh.’

He then thought it was good timing to give something that he intended to give to his members. Yeowun told Hu Bong and Jin Guk to gather others and come to his room.

“To your room?”

“Yeah.”

They were curious, but split to call upon others. After about an hour, all fifteen cadets gathered in Yeowun’s room. While they were waiting for the last one, or Bakgi to come, they all congratulated Yeowun on passing the fifth test.

“Master, did you hear?”

“Prince, you heard that too, right?”

Ko Wanghur and Mun Ku asked if Yeowun had heard about the creepy sound within the cave, and Hou Sangwha who had not taken the test yet became frightened.

“C-can we stop talking about that now? There’s no such thing as monsters in the world.”

“...Huh? Are you afraid of a monster? The monster will be afraid of y- UGH!”

Wu Sojung was struck in the face while speaking. But it was interesting to see Hou Sangwha, who was taller than most cadets, to be afraid of something. The only person who thought her reaction to be cute was Ko Wanghur.

‘She would be terrified if I tell her the truth.’

Yeowun thought Hou Sangwha might be too frightened and would not want to take the fifth test, so he decided to keep quiet about the truth. When Bakgi came to the room, Yeowun brought the bowl that he had stored at the storage.

“Ugh!”

“Yeeeeeeek!”

It was sealed with clothes, but the stench coming from it made all cadets pinch their noses. The smell was so foul that they had never smelled such a thing. Jin Guuk, who was weak at such a bad smell, ran out of the room, vomiting.

“M-master! What is that?!” Ja Wumin asked as he saw the oozing black liquid inside the bowl. It was the blood of a dragon serpent, a mythical creature, but there was no way to explain this easily so Yeowun just lied about it.

“As I passed through the Demon Seal Cave, I went in the wrong direction and found this.”

“In the cave?”

Mun Ku, Ko Wanghur, and Bakgi who had passed the test, became surprised. They had to focus on the cold air blowing in from the exit that they didn’t even think about going to another direction.

“And what is that for?”

“And when I did... I somehow drank it and it pushed out all the toxic stuff from my blood points and allowed better energy flow.”

“W-what? Is that real?”

Every martial artist knew the importance of having free flow of energy. If the energy flowed freely and more quickly, then it allowed the martial artist to use the formation or internal energy more quickly.

“T-then it’s a treasure!”

“Ohhh!”

Some cadets began to be excited, even with the smell. But it still made them hesitant to see disgusting visual of the liquid.

“...I couldn’t just have it on my own, so I brought some by filling it in my scabbard.”

He couldn't say that he had squeezed out some of it from his clothes.

"Oh... Master, you did that for us!"

"Master!"

Hu Bong, Ohjong, and Ja Wumin were touched by Yeowun's actions.

"Master... thank you for everything! There will be no master who cares about his servants like you!"

Ko Wanghur got up and bowed to thank him. Yeowun then carefully pushed the bowl to his members.

"Then drink it."

But even when knowing it was good for them, they were still hesitant. The smell was too terrible and the sticky visual made it hard to even think about drinking it. And while everyone was hesitating, Hu Bong got up courageously.

"Master gave us a gift! There is no need to hesitate. I'll go first!"

Hu Bong brought up a cup and filled it up.

"Ugggh."

Sticky visual made the other fourteen cadets frown and moan. It was surely disgusting in every way.

"Thank you, Master!!"

Hu Bong bowed with the cup and drank it.

"Kyaaaa! Good!"

He then placed it upside down on top of his head.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Huh?’

‘Is it okay?’

All members then thought maybe it was okay to drink, but...

“Aaaaaaaarrrrrgghnnngh....”

Hu Bong screamed and turned blue while grabbing his neck, and slumped to the ground, twisting his body. He trembled on the ground and Mun Ku mumbled, “... Are you sure this is what you said will happen, Prince?”

Chapter 124

Chapter 124: The sixth test (1)

It was okay until he drank it. But the terrible taste that choked him even made Hu Bong almost pass out. It was a taste that even Yeowun almost vomited when he drank it, so it was natural.

‘Ggggrrrrrgg...’

Hu Bong looked like he was in so much pain that he even had sticky-looking bubbles over his mouth.

‘...Do I really need to drink this?’

‘He looks like he’ll die.’a

And with Hu Bong’s first try of the liquid, every member became more hesitant. It was only after when they saw Hu Bong wake up after having all of his toxic elements being extracted out of his skin and increased flow of his energy that people started drinking it.

[Prince, I’m really, really thankful, but I’ll pass on this.]

[Master, I don’t think I can... ugh.]

Mun Ku and Hou Sangwha refused to drink as they got sick from various parts of the liquid. Everyone who drank the black liquid had fallen from the terrifying taste, that it was natural for anyone to refuse to drink it.

[Prince, I can’t do it. You know that!]

‘Oh.’

If extracts were to come out from the skin, then Mun Ku's mask might come off so she couldn't drink in front of everyone. Yeowun then gave up on trying to offer it to Mun Ku after that. So, it came down to only the female cadets who had not drunk the liquid.

After the busy night, Yeowun woke up early the next morning and went to the blacksmith north of the academy. It was to ask about the process of the dragon serpent's horn. Thick snow fell overnight and the entire academy had been covered in white, but the blacksmith's roof was the only place without any snow over it due to the heat from the forge.

"Master Chun! Where did you get this from?!"

Blacksmith Ou Sunong was shocked to see a white club. It was something he had never seen it and the density was much stronger than any iron. He had struck it down with various weapons inside the blacksmith to test it, but all weapons had been destroyed while doing it.

"I... got it from somewhere. I can't tell you where."

Yeowun did not reveal the location of where he found it. He figured he didn't need to let Ou Sunong know of his finding from the Demon Seal Cave and cause more issues. And for Ou Sunong, he didn't really care where it came from anyway.

'This... with such material, I can make the best weapon possible!'

He was more excited than when he got hands on the cold steel. A master craftsman like him would be happy to see such good material. Sunong promised Yeowun to make him a weapon out of this.

“So, you want a blade out of this?”

“Yes, please.”

“Hahaha. Okay. I will make the best blade I can with this.”

He was curious as to what kind of blade could be created with the horn of a dragon serpent. He thought about asking for a sword, but he had the black sword already so there was no need for it.

“Oh, and you will be given cold steel. Will you make a sword with it?”

“Didn’t you said I could get only one weapon made?”

“No, you are a master now. Masters can receive any weapon they please, but the cult only provides cold steel enough to create one weapon. So, if you bring yourself any materials, then you are free to request to create another. Just like how you did this time.”

Sunong pointed at the horn. He said he could create more weapons if Yeowun brought more materials.

“Oh! Good. Then please make me a sword.”

Yeowun wanted to hide the existence of the black sword, so it was good to have a replacement for now. He had to keep it secret until he found out why the sword had the engraving that said ‘Sky Demon Sword’ on it. Yeowun became happy that he was going to receive two unique weapons from him and asked, “How long will it take to create these weapons?”

“Well, with such materials, I will need about two months.”

“What? Will it take that long?”

That was longer than he expected. Creating his first blade took two weeks, so this was four times that. Yeowun thought about taking the sixth test when his weapons were finished, so if it took two months to create them, then he had to postpone taking the sixth test.

“Well, it will take that long if I am to create both sword and blade. Or will you come each time when each weapon is completed?”

“Oh! So, it takes only a month to create one then?”

“Haha, so you must be in a hurry. Yes. Which one do you want first?”

Yeowun thought about it for a second and chose the blade. He had the black sword even if it was a secret, so he chose the blade as he was curious as to what kind of weapon would be created from the horn of the dragon serpent.

“Haha. I will have it prepared in a month. Look forward to it, Master Chun.”

“Thank you, sir.”

Yeowun then left the blacksmith and walked north.

He was now on the way to the main building to choose the time and who he will fight for the sixth test. The twelve elders of the cult were busy with different jobs inside the cult, so the academy needed to notify them ahead to set the time. Yeowun thought about it for the entire night and finally had chosen who to fight.

About fifteen minutes later, at the office of the Chief of the Demonic Academy...

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Lee Hameng was looking at Yeowun weirdly. It was because of the person Yeowun had appointed to fight for his sixth test. Unlike Hameng's expectation of Yeowun using few more days to think about it, he had come back in just one day and chose someone very unexpected.

"Master Chun, are you sure about the choice?"

"Yes, sir. Please."

"Hmm..."

There was a reason for Lee Hameng's reaction.

Chapter 125

Chapter 125: The sixth test (2)

‘This isn’t just being reckless.’

Yeowun chose the leader of Wise Clan, First Elder Mu Jinwon. Aside from the Lord himself, Mu Jinwon was one of the top two warriors along with the Great Guardian Marakim. Mu Jinwon had not fought against the Lord as of yet, but there was no one who had defeated Mu Jinwon until now, and Yeowun had chosen him to fight, which made Hameng frown.

‘Is he out of his mind?’

This was the worst choice one could ever make. Whatever his thinking was, it seemed it was impossible. Yeowun just had become a superior warrior, so there was no way for him to fight against Mu Jinwon who had hit the end stage of the superior level tens of years ago.

This was due to warriors who guarded the library not needing to report to the Chief immediately as they had to stand guard at the library at all times. Lee Hameng did not know that Yeowun had reached the end superior level yet.

‘So, he is not aware of my power then.’

This was also partly because Yeowun had hid his energy intentionally. After reaching the end stage of the superior level, Yeowun was able to control his inner energy completely and set the energy almost equal to when he entered the academy years ago. He realized that it was better to hide his energy than to show it off. He had gotten so powerful that Lee Hameng couldn’t even see through it.

“Master Chun, are you really sure? I will not ask again.”

“Yes, please.”

Wise Clan, the strongest clan of all six clans. Yeowun thought about choosing Poison or Loyal Clan as he had the most problems with them from a long time ago, but he had changed his mind as he thought it was best to tackle the most dangerous enemy first. Other elders were also dangerous, but if he can terminate the most powerful warrior Mu Jinwon in a fair duel, then it was sure to take the Wise Clan's power away.

‘He gives me no choice.’

Hameng shook his head. He thought Yeowun had grown rational, but he seemed still reckless. Yeowun would want this too, but if the duel begins, it was likely for Mu Jinwon to try to kill Yeowun too as Yeowun was the number one risk for Chun Muyeon to rise to power. Lee Hameng couldn't force Yeowun to change his decision, as that would be too personal from here on.

“Okay. I will send words to the Wise Clan.”

And ten days had passed after Yeowun had chosen the elder to fight against. Between that time, Left Guardian Lee Hameng had notified Mu Jinwon with an official letter with seal of the Lord about the sixth test. First elder Mu Jinwon accepted the request at once. There was no reason for Mu Jinwon to not take the chance to kill the only risk for his grandson to become the future Lord.

But things didn't work out as plans in the world. On the tenth day, ambassador from the Yulin Clan came to the castle of the Demonic Cult. Cadets from the academy could not know what was going on outside, but this news made the entire cult to become shocked. The ambassador returned exactly on the third day.

This brought change. Seven days before the day of the sixth test, instructors came over and called Yeowun up to the Chief's office. Yeowun, who was training in the training room, went to the Chief's office without knowing why he was being summoned.

"Greetings, Chief."

Yeowun got into the office and bowed. Hameng then placed down documents on the desk and spoke to him.

"You're here."

"I heard you summoned me."

"Hm..."

Yeowun became curious as Lee Hameng frowned. It seemed there had been a problem.

"Is there something wrong?"

"I'm sorry, Master Chun. We have to change the person you will fight for the sixth test."

"Pardon?"

Yeowun frowned at the unexpected turn of events. He already heard that the first elder had changed his schedule for the test. It was shocked to hear that there will be a change. Yeowun asked.

"Why is that? Did First Elder change his mind?"

Sixth test allowed cadets to choose who to fight, but elders also had the right to refuse to accept the request. But it was a matter of honor and pride, so there was no instance where an elder refused.

“No, that is not the case.”

“Then, what’s going on?” Yeowun asked and Hameng hesitated for a bit and sent out energy to cut out the entire office from the outside so the sound would not go out. It seemed like what he was going to say was a secret.

“It is classified information so I can’t tell you about the details. There are only four elders at the cult right now.”

“Four?”

“You have to choose between those four.”

Yeowun was a master rank, but he was still a cadet. Any details were classified so Yeowun was not allowed to know about it. This made the entire plan to fail so Yeowun frowned. He couldn’t say he will wait until First Elder returned since there wasn’t much time left at the academy anymore. He had to choose someone.

“...Who’s left then?”

“There are the ninth to twelfth elders.”

“Ah...”

This meant every high-ranking elder was out. As far as Yeowun knew, the six clans’ elders were from the first to sixth elders so this meant that he was not allowed to fight any of those elders. Lee Hameng of course knew what Yeowun wanted.

‘Hmph. I don’t want to suggest this but...’

It was obvious who Yeowun will want to choose to fight, so Hameng decided to let him know anyway.

“There has been a change to the ranks between elders recently.”

“Change? What is that?”

“Clan Leader Baek from the Poison Clan was demoted to the 12th Elder.”

Baek Oh, the Monster Poison. He had become elder again three months ago, but he was no longer the Sixth Elder. And due to it, he was now the only elder from the six clans that left within the cult right now.

‘Poison Clan!’

Yeowun who was disappointed that he won’t be able to fight any of six clan elders, turned to smile. The answer was already chosen.

“I will fight the 12th Elder.”

Chapter 126

Chapter 126: The sixth test (3)

Six days before the sixth test, at the office of the clan leader for the Poison Clan, located at the mansion of the Poison Clan, located at the west of the Demonic Cult's castle.

There were many leaders of the Poison Clan gathered here, but they all looked grim. This was due to the request came at morning from the Demonic Academy about the sixth test. No one had expected the situation to turn out like this.

When the other five clans heard about Chun Yeowun's challenge, all the six clans' problems had challenged First Elder Mu Jinwon, they were glad. The Wise Clan had grown much more powerful during these three years when the Poison and Sword Clans had become much weaker.

'We hope the Wise Clan will be pressured from the result.'

For now, Chun Yeowun was like a sweet poison. For Mu Jinwon, he had to kill Chun Yeowun in the duel to allow his grandson to be only remaining candidate to the throne. But from what happened until now, this event was sure to give the Lord a chance to put down the Wise Clan, so this was a win win for the other clans.

"Elder, you need to refuse this request. You were freed from prison only months ago. Lord's eye is still on us."

Advisor of the Poison Clan spoke to Baek Oh. It was different from when people insisted they should send an assassin to kill Chun Yeowun. Things were different now.

"My thought stands. If we become more oppressed, it might destroy the balance of power between the six clans."

Baek Chau, former leader of the clan, also agreed with the idea. The Poison Clan was weakened so much that the other high-ranking clans like the Demon Dragon Clan or others could even try to overthrow them.

“But if we refuse, then we are announcing to everyone that we have become weakened!”

Second son of Baek Oh, Baek Munwung shouted. He was the aggressive type and did not want his clan to be belittled anymore.

“We have to patient. Being reckless won’t help us at such a moment.”

Baek Munwung, however, wasn’t so happy to hear that.

“Our cousin is still on bed and our clan is at such a state! What more do we have to wait for?!”

He pointed at a small building across the yard where Chun Jongsum was at. With the internal energy destroyed and all of his bones shattered, Chun Jongsum even had his spinal cord destroyed that he couldn’t even move from his bed. All he could do was just live.

“Muwung is right. The boy is already a superior level warrior. It is better to get rid of him now than later. It will be too late if we let him be, especially when when we all know our relationship toward him.”

Baek Oh’s third son, Baek Munho, spoke with reasonable idea. It was hard to imagine what Yeowun will become if he was already at the superior level. And from what Baek Oh had to suffer, and going back to the death of Lady Hwa, Yeowun and the Poison Clan were tied with bad omens.

“That’s a problem for every clan. Even if the boy became powerful, he does not have the forces to back him up with. Is he a threat? No. The threat is the Lord.”

Baek Chau spoke to object Baek Munho’s idea. Only good thing to come from killing Yeowun was that they killed a possible future enemy. But the price was to be cast out from the Lord and be pushed out from the six clans.

“You all are idiots!”

“Who are you to say that!”

People divided into two groups in ideas and began to shout in argument. Baek Oh, who had been listening to them for long time, had chosen what to do after a long thought.

“Stop! I will refuse this request.”

He too wanted to kill Chun Yeowun more than anyone, but there was just too much at stake. It was better for another to kill him. Leaders who wished Baek Oh to refuse the request agreed, and his sons were disappointed at the decision. After everyone returned, Baek Oh came to the small building where Chun Jongsum was at.

Baek Oh sat in front of Chun Jongsum who was only blinking while lying down. He was almost as good as dead. Baek Oh did everything in his power to heal him, but not even the Demon Doctor himself could do anything.

“I’m sorry. Gramps has nothing I can do to help you.”

The symbol of terror himself was still weak for his grandson. He was despaired that he had to care about his clan even when his precious grandson, who was born from his precious daughter, had been thrown into such a state. And did Chun Jongsum know of this? Jongsum's eye turned teary. And it was then.

"Elder, there is a guest."

"Guest at this hour? What kind of guest visits at such hour? Let them return."

Baek Oh wasn't in a mood to greet a guest. But he had to choose his choice at the telepathic message.

[It's Lady Mu from the Wise Clan. Should we return her? She's at the front of your building.]

Baek Oh then became surprised. The woman had not visited after the funeral of his daughter Lady Baek.

"Okay. I will go out."

It was not someone he can just refuse because he wasn't in the mood. Baek Oh then walked out of the room. And as Baek Oh opened the door to get out, Jongsum rolled his eyes to look at his grandfather.

'?!'

And through the door, he saw someone dimly lit below the fire. It was a middle-aged woman with a red veil over her head. Chun Jongsum, who could barely open and close his eyes, began to shake his eyes, and his body began to tremble.

'It's her! IT'S HER!!!!'

It was the woman who had gotten the poison from his mother. He wanted to scream something, but he couldn't even move his tongue and he trembled in anger until he passed out.

The next day, the advisor from the Poison Clan visited the office of the Chief of Demonic Academy. He had a letter that wrote from Baek Oh himself that had simple sentence.

[Challenge Accepted.]

The 12th elder, and the leader of Poison Clan Baek Oh had accepted the challenge.

It was the morning of the 6th test that was being held in 70 years. Chun Yeowun had woken up four hours prior to the duel and went to the blacksmith. The academy was full of snow because of snow that fell past few days, but the area around blacksmith was wet from snows melted from the heat. The blacksmith that was noisy from hammering all night was now quiet. Yeowun waited outside for about ten minutes and heard someone inside and walked in.

“Master Ou?”

When he walked in, the inside of the blacksmith was hot from the heat from the forge. As Yeowun walked further in, Ou Sunong was working on something very seriously. He was sewing on a white leather carefully, making a leather scabbard. Yeowun could not disturb him, so he quieted himself down and waited until the job was done. And it was after an hour passed.

Chapter 127

Chapter 127: The sixth test (4)

“Finally!”

Ou Sunong looked at the completed scabbard in a satisfied voice. The white leather had a red engraving that looked very gracious and luxurious.

“Is it finished?”

“BY THE BLACKSMITHING GOD! YOU SURPRISED ME!”

Ou Sunong almost dropped to the ground at the sudden sound coming from his back. He was able to find his calm after watching Yeowun who was standing near the entrance of the room.

“Why didn’t you let me know that you were here? Haha. Wait a second.”

Sunong then walked into the processing room and returned with the completed blade.

“Oh!”

Yeowun gasped in astonishment as soon as he saw the blade. The blade was so beautiful. It was glowing with white pearlish color that proved it was the finest of weapon there is.

“I engraved the name you requested.”

Toward the hilt of the blade, there was engraving that said ‘White Dragon Blade.’ This was to honor the Dragon Serpent who could not have become a dragon which fitted well with the white blade. As Yeowun grabbed on the handle, he felt it was very nice to grab onto it. The blade also seemed to be very sharp that he can slice anything with it.

“Here, place the blade up.”

Sunong then brought up a very thin clothes and dropped it from the air, and when it fell on the blade, the clothes were cut into half.

“Whoa.”

It was so sharp that it even cut the thin flappy clothes.

“How do you like it?”

“I love this. I didn’t expect you would create me such a wonderful blade. You are the best blacksmith! Master Ou!”

“Hahahaha! Thank you.”

Chun Yeowun wasn’t one to show emotion, but he had spoken every complements he can. Ou Sunong seemed he was glad. He had created the finest weapon and was acknowledged by its owner so that was enough.

‘With this blade, my Butterfly Dance Blade will be more powerful than what the teacher can do with his Crazy Blade.’

He had become more powerful than his teacher, but it was still good to be praised for his blade skill from the teacher. And with acquiring the White Dragon Blade, it now completed the Black Sword White Blade, godly weapon combo that symbolized Chun Yeowun in the future.

After about an hour, everyone including cadets were now gathering at the training ground of the Demonic Academy. It was to watch the sixth test that have not been held in past 70 years. This was a private duel that didn't require cadets to gather, but there was no martial artist who would not want to see a duel between superior level warriors. Everyone turned to Chun Yeowun, who was waiting up on the training ground with his eyes closed.

'Sixth test...! Isn't it amazing?'

'He sure is a monster.'

'How can he become superior level within four years?'

'Yeah, but will he able to fight the elder?'

After Yeowun decided to take the sixth test, everyone now knew that Yeowun was at the level of superior warrior. This changed people view about Yeowun completely. IT was now the look of admiration. But after hearing that sixth test was to fight one of 12 elders, who were the strongest warriors of the cult, people were divided in opinions.

'Who did he choose to fight?'

'He probably chose one of six clans.'

'They are within top ten ranks! he wouldn't do that if he wasn't a fool!'

Cadets did not know who Yeowun was going to fight yet. They just thought Yeowun had chosen the weakest elder to fight, so it will be the 12th elder, as 12th was to be weakest among those elders. And their guess was correct. But of course, they did not know that there had been a change of ranks between elders in recent days.

At the training ground, Yeowun's members were gathered, waiting with tense looks. They knew who Yeowun was going to fight already, so they were worried. Yeowun had the leader of Poison clan, one of the most dangerous warriors within the cult.

"Oh! Look!"

One cadet shouted and everyone turned to the entrance of the academy. There was one old man with a black robe walking toward them, with a weird staff. He looked very old, but the ominous aura from him proved who he was.

"L-leader of the Poison clan!"

Everyone realized it was Baek Oh the Poison Demon and began to mumble in shock. Some guessed Yeowun would choose one of the elders from six clans, but they didn't expect it to be Baek Oh.

'It's crazy... it's the Poison man!'

'Did he really choose a leader from the Poison Clan?'

There wasn't anyone who did not know about infamous Baek Oh in entire Wulin. He had massacred 300 enemies from the forces of evil with his poison attack, and also poisoned many powerful warriors from Forces of Justice and Evil that didn't even leave their bodies. He was rumored to be most hated to fight against.

"Oh, Chief is coming out!"

"Huh? The person next to is...!"

Chief Lee Hameng then began walking out from the main building. To next of him, there was a middle-aged man with long mustache and hair turned about half into white. It was one of 12th leader, Sama Yi of the Samu Clan.

“It’s 10th elder!”

‘Father...’

He was 10th elder before but he was now 9th elder. Sama Chak looked at him with a glad look. He didn’t think to see his father at this fight. Sama Yi walked up to the stage and sat down on the prepared seat and Lee Hameng walked up to the front of the stage.

When Baek Oh arrived at the middle of the training ground, Yeowun opened his eyes. He had seen the man in three years and four months since the day at the prison cave. He had no way to fight against the man because of difference in absolute power.

‘...Poison Clan!’

It reminded him of his mother, Lady Hwa. Anger began to come up, and started a fire in Yeowun’s heart. But his eyes were calm and cold.

‘He... had changed a lot.’

Baek Oh was quite surprised to see Yeowun. He had just entered master level then but now was at equal superior level.

‘Hah! But you are still far more to go.’

Yeowun’s energy was sure that he was just a entry-level superior warrior. This was enough for Baek Oh to kill him without much effort.

'I will kill you before you grow to be more risk.'

When everyone got ready, Lee Hameng shouted.

"We will begin the sixth test now! 9th leader will be our witness for this fight!"

Sama Yi got up and bowed at the crowd. In normal circumstances, it needed four elders to be witnesses, but they only had four elders remaining at the cult, so it was downsized.

"First, I thank you for taking Master Chun's request, 12th Elder."

'Bah.'

Baek Oh bowed with a frown at Hameng's bow. Baek Oh was not happy as he was put in prison for what happened at the prison cave, when he and Hameng promised to keep it as a secret.

'Oh, he's angry then.'

Hameng became grim. If Baek Oh was that much angry, then it might be worse for Yeowun who needed to fight him.

'I hope you survive.'

"Then we shall start the test. 12th elder, Master Chun. You will look at each other and stand at 12 step distance."

As two looked at each other and stood, the crowd turned quiet with tense air. Hameng then raised his hand and shouted.

"You may begin!"

At that moment, Baek Oh jumped out like lightning and charged into the front of Yeowun.

‘I will kill you right now!’

His staff that held force qi struck into Yeowun’s chest. Baek Oh had unleashed all of his power to attack first, to kill Yeowun in instant.

‘Already?!’

Cadets were shocked to see the fight, as it seemed it will end as soon as it started and turned to the staff that penetrated through Yeowun’s chest. That’s when Baek Oh’s eye shook. Yeowun’s body faded away.

‘M-mirror Image!!’

Chapter 128

Chapter 128: The sixth test (5)

Elders of the Demonic Cult were both leaders of their respective clan and also one of the most powerful warriors of the cult. Unlike everyone's expectation where the elder, as an experienced warrior and senior as a cultist, will allow a first chance for Yeowun, the elder Baek Oh charged in with an ambush.

'Master!'

'That's an ambush!'

All of Yeowun's members were shocked and surprised. But as the staff that held force qi struck into Yeowun, his body faded and disappeared.

'Ah!'

Mirror Image. It was the outcome of one moving so quickly that it left a trace of himself in the spot. It was the result of moving just before being struck, so that even the strongest warriors were hard to notice.

'He used Mirror Image against me?!'

Baek Oh then calmly twisted the staff and unleashed defensive formation toward his back. Chun Yeowun then appeared from back of Baek Oh and took five steps back to avoid defensive formation.

'He's quick.'

Baek Oh was not like any other enemy Yeowun had fought until now. With over hundreds of experience at fighting enemies, Baek Oh knew that Yeowun will come for his back where it was open, and his expectation was right.

‘By the gods...’

‘He really is a superior level...’

Every cadet and instructor was astonished to see this. No one around had sensed Chun Yeowun’s Mirror Image. They just saw Yeowun disappeared and reappeared at the back of Baek Oh. The only one who saw Chun Yeowun was Lee Hameng and Sama Yi, the 9th elder.

‘How can it be...?’

Lee Hameng was shocked at Chun Yeowun’s walking skill. If he wasn’t wrong, then Yeowun’s movement was exactly like that of the Great Guardian Marakim. Marakim’s walking skill was so powerful that no one could catch up to him, and gave his skill the nickname of Wind God.

‘Was there a book for the Great Guardian’s walking skill on the fifth floor?’

Hameng’s guess was right. Chun Yeowun’s walking skill was from the skill book: Step of the Wind God. But Yeowun did not know who did this skill belonged to.

He wasn’t sure if it wasn’t that useful when he first learned it, but since Baek Oh couldn’t catch up to it, then it was surely a powerful skill. Baek Oh then quickly analyzed on how to fight Yeowun.

‘If he’s fast, I’ll make him slow down.’

Baek Oh quickly swung his staff toward Yeowun's leg. Then the energy jumped out from the staff and shoot out at Yeowun's leg.

'Energy Bullet?'

Energy Bullet. It was possible for superior level warriors to throw force qi that had gathered up on the weapon to throw it like a bullet. As Yeowun jumped up, the energy bullet struck into the training ground, leaving explosive sound as dust kicked up. Baek Oh then jumped through the dust and unleashed the fifth formation of the Destructive Poison Art. He was after Yeowun's leg.

'Is he trying to seal my movement?'

Yeowun then reached out at the white blade's handle. As he pulled up, the white blade revealed itself. Baek Oh, who have not heard or seen such a white and narrow blade, scoffed.

'Do you think you can block my cold steel staff with such blade?!'

Baek Oh's weird looking staff was made out of cold steel that it was very durable. It also wielded force qi, that its power was enough to destroy a hard rock. Yeowun's blade spun, and Yeowun unleashed the second formation of the Butterfly Blade Dance.

With two formations wielding force qi collided, an explosive sound rang out from it.

"Ugh!"

"M-my ears!"

Cadets who had not reached the grandmaster level were too weak at painful energy wielded sound coming through their ears. Two of them then pushed out against each other and distanced themselves.

‘W-what is that blade?’

Baek Oh looked at Yeowun’s White Dragon Blade with shock. The fight against formation was equal, but the blade had made much damage over Baek Oh’s cold steel staff. The blade, however, was unscarred.

‘Who gave him such a precious blade?!’

It was very weird. Even if Yeowun had gotten up to superior level, he should have lacked experience in a real fight, but he was reacting it well as if he had fought over hundreds of battles. And what didn’t make sense the most was his internal energy.

‘Is he really entrance level of the superior?’

His energy looked like the entry-level, but the energy wielded in every of his blade attack did not fall behind Baek Oh’s own energy. Baek Oh was already using 100% of his energy from the beginning. He knew that even if the enemy was weak, he always had to try his best to not lose as any mistake can lead to his death.

‘Did he hide his power then?’

After a few exchanges, Baek Oh was able to see through that Yeowun was hiding his real power. If that was to be possible, then it required one to be at least equal to or more powerful than himself. Baek Oh’s eye turned serious.

‘He didn’t do his best against me? He really is a monster.’

It was now understandable why Chun Jongsum, his grandson couldn't defeat him. He had seen many talented individuals, but never saw one who grew in such speed. He then remembered Lady Mu who visited him last night.

'Elder Baek. You must accept the request from the academy.'

"Lady Mu... don't you think you are going out of your boundary?"

Mu was the wife of the 1st Elder, but she had no authority over other clan leaders or elders. Baek Oh who wasn't already in a good mood began to become angry and Lady Mu offered him something.

'I know the whereabouts of the Doctor God.'

Chapter 129

Chapter 129: The sixth test (6)

‘What?’

Doctor God. The best doctor in the world who earned the nickname of a god. He was a legendary doctor who was said to heal anyone unless the one is dead. There were a lot of rumors but no one knew who or where he was. But everyone was certain of his skill. This was information Baek Oh wanted to know so badly who wanted to heal his grandson.

‘How can I believe that what you know is true?’

She then showed Baek Oh an orange tag. It had an engraving of the doctor’s sign.

‘My grandfather once received this tag from the Doctor God a long time ago. He told me you can meet him if you bring this tag to a certain place.’

Lady Mu’s grandfather was former Wise Clan leader, Mu Jinking. He was the hero of the Demonic Cult who had made many legendary feats at the war against the world 50 years ago. Baek Oh had to accept her offer, as he had to take any chances.

‘...So, do I need to just accept the request?’

‘You must kill him.’

‘Lady Mu. Others can kill him too.’

Baek Oh thought that Chun Yeowun was merely entry to the superior level, that any elders can kill him as well. But Lady Mu's thought was different.

'No. The only elder who is left in the cult who can kill him is you... it's because you are...'

'...And if I do, what of the consequences?'

'If this becomes a problem, we, the Wise Clan, will help you with any way we can to clear out the issue. As the former Lord is already chosen.'

That's what Baek Oh had talked about with Lady Mu. She said that Baek Oh was the only elder who could kill Chun Yeowun.

'Wise Clan... how much do they know?'

It was exactly as she said. Yeowun's power was something that no remaining elders can fight. He was now so powerful that no one under the 3rd Elder could even think about fighting him, besides from Baek Oh himself. It wasn't sure how Lady Mu knew of Yeowun's real power, but it didn't matter. Even with his grandson problem aside, if Yeowun wasn't to be killed here, then six clans were going to have the worst enemy there is.

'I have to kill him right here.'

Baek Oh, who decided to kill Yeowun, began to shine in the purple poisonous aura, which then spread among the air. With the poisonous cloud moving through, the sand beneath the training ground turned black. Lee Hameng and Sama Yi got shocked and got up immediately.

"How can you release the poison!"

"Elder Baek! What are you thinking!"

Even Sama Yi, who was here as a witness was too shocked. Baek Oh's main weapon was poison, but he didn't use it unless he was going to fight to kill. His poison was so dangerous that he was a walking poison bomb and was nicknamed Poison man. Aside from his power of martial art, his ability to spread hundreds of poisons allowed him to kill anyone if he wanted.

"Is he trying to kill the challenger?!"

Sama Yi was concerned that the challenger appointed Poison clan at the beginning. He thought Baek Oh will not go so far, but this was going to be a battle for life.

'Chun Yeowun...!'

Lee Hameng closed his eyes, as what he worried had come to reality. He hoped Baek Oh will not go so far, as he was locked up in prison for years and had his clan weakened, but that hope had failed.

'It's terrible poison.'

Yeowun eyed coldly at the poison coming out of Baek Oh. He expected the poison but this much was sure that Baek Oh was trying to kill him.

"Whoooah."

As Baek Oh let out his breath, purple steam came out. He had raised the poison stage up to seven.

'Is that blood?'

'How can you defeat such a monster?'

'Maybe he will die!!'

With purple cloud filling the area, cadets and instructors got farther away, out of reach from the poison and looked at Chun Yeowun with a concerned look. The poison was so large that it will swallow Yeowun at once.

‘M-master!’

‘Prince!’

Chun Yeowun’s members who had strong trust toward their master also wished Yeowun will surrender. It seemed like Yeowun will die from being poisoned before passing the sixth test. But Yeowun was glaring at Baek Oh without even a flinch.

“Arrogant fool! I will not even leave your body!”

Baek Oh was ready to unleash poisonous attack, charged at Yeowun. Purple poison was coming out of his body as he charged in. Baek Oh swung his staff and gas cloud that was mixed with hundreds of poison stormed up and onto Yeowun. As the poison shoot through, it turned the ground into black and burned up black smoke.

“N-no...”

“How can that be!”

All places that poison touched went dark, as it was burnt. Everyone frowned and looked away. That poison was enough to burn anyone even to its bones.

‘You brought his upon yourself, fool.’

There was no one who had survived against his poison attack until now. Baek Oh was sure that he had won and tried to put down his poison. That's when a blue energy bullet shot through the poison gas and at Baek Oh's neck.

"W-what?!"

Baek Oh brought up the cold steel staff with wielding force qi to defend. But this wasn't the end. Chun Yeowun had got up to him already.

"?!"

Baek Oh had to strike back, but he was so shocked at what happened in front of him. Chun Yeowun's skins that was burned down from poison, was healing up at tremendous speed. The sight of veins and muscles squirming to heal up was even grotesque.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"W-what are you...!"

It gave him chills to the bones as he looked at Yeowun's eyes. Baek Oh had felt 'fear' for the first time of his life.

"It's my turn now."

"What- AAAAARGH!"

With Yeowun's powerful strike striking into Baek Oh whose body was thrown out and across the training ground and stopped at about halfway in.

Chapter 130

Chapter 130: The sixth test (7)

Yeowun's members despaired at the thick cloud of poisonous gas that corrupted all surfaces it touched to blackness. This poison was sure to melt Yeowun to his bones.

"Master!!!!"

Hu Bong screamed in shock and Mun Ku looked down with her teary eyes as she couldn't bear to see it.

'Why did you have to fight the Poison Clan...'

She felt she could not hold tears back if she watched longer. It was then.

"Huh?"

They saw someone being thrown way to the back within the fading purple gas cloud, about halfway back of the training ground. It was so powerful that the figure struck on the ground multiple times while being thrown back, creating large crater each time. Everyone then turned to the person inside the crater. It was Baek Oh, the leader of the Poison Clan.

"W-what?!"

"Wait..."

And through the poison cloud, Chun Yeowun walked out from it and all cadets roared in excitement.

"Whoaaaaaaaaa!"

Everyone had thought Yeowun was dead, but they were shocked to see him alive. Aside from his clothes being in rags due to poisonous gas, he didn't seem to have any wounds or injury from the poison.

“How did he endure Elder Baek's poison?!”

Sama Yi, the 9th Elder and Left Guardian Lee Hameng were also shocked to see Yeowun unharmed. They too had figured Yeowun would have died. From the past twenty years of war against other forces of Yulin, they have seen Baek Oh's poison attack multiple times. It was so powerful that it brought massacre to every place the poison-filled.

‘I can't believe it!’

And while everyone was shocked, Yeowun checked on his self. Entire poison was already extracted out of his body completely.

“Whew.”

When the poison unleashed upon him, Yeowun for the first time, used the energy barrier around himself. Even if Nano could heal him, there was nothing he could do if the poison melted him away entirely so fast. But Baek Oh's poison was so powerful that it penetrated through his energy barrier and began to melt his skins. It was a terrifying poison that might have killed him if it wasn't for Nano that blocked poison and healed his skins. And there was one thing Yeowun learned. It was the power of White Dragon Blade.

‘I didn't think it can push out poison.’

When Yeowun sent energy into his White Dragon Blade, to attack Baek Oh, the poisonous gas around him was pushed out with the pure energy that gushed out from White Dragon Blade. He just thought it was a durable weapon, but it had more power held within it.

“Urgh...!”

Baek Oh barely got up. He also used an energy shield when he was struck, but it still crushed his ribs. If it was just a regular attack with energy, it might have been less damaging, but Yeowun’s physical power was just too great also.

‘What is this...! What is he?!’

But he couldn’t believe the regeneration more than anything. It was something he had never seen and it was hard to consider it a human regeneration.

“Are you up now?”

“What?!”

Baek Oh then flinched at Yeowun’s voice suddenly coming from the front and threw his hand that wielded purple poisonous energy. Yeowun blocked it with the blade of his White Dragon Blade. The pure energy pushed Baek Oh’s poison away, making Baek Oh’s eye to become wide with shock.

‘So, this was what made him endure it!!’

Baek Oh figured he had found the reason and quickly jumped back. But Yeowun unleashed the last formation of Butterfly dance blade while wielding blue force qi upon his blade and charged at Baek Oh.

‘Submeng?’

This was a powerful attack that did not fall behind attack made from Right Guardian Submeng. Baek Oh bit on his lips as this attack was beyond something he can defend with his bare hand.

‘You give me no choice.’

AT that moment, Baek Oh’s skin turned into an ominous dark blue color as the blade struck against him. Multiple strikes came down upon Baek Oh, but the blade was thrown back with the sound of metal clashing. Yeowun became surprised. The blade pushed out the dark blue poisonous energy, but it began to burn down Yeowun’s skins.

[Removing toxic poison coming into the body and healing the injury.]

Nano rang through his head and the skin began to heal. Yeowun then quickly swung his White Dragon Blade to form a defensive barrier with it.

“Haaaaaaaah!”

Baek Oh then shouted and charged, pushing Yeowun way back about ten steps. Yeowun then pulled himself up and glared at Baek Oh. The poison Baek Oh used while ago wasn’t his best. It was as if Baek Oh himself had turned into the poison now.

“Poison man?”

Lee Hameng became grim.

‘Elder Baek... so you really want to see this through?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The dark blue skin of Baek Oh's state proved that he was in a Poison Man state. It was the last stage of his poison art that made his entire body as a poison. It made his skin hardened like a shield and made him unleash a powerful poison that could even melt rocks.

'Even the Lord himself will not be easy to stop him now.'

Hameng knew that Poison Man was dangerous, but he didn't think it was this terrifying. There was no one in this Demonic Academy who can fight Baek Oh now. All sands began to rise up with the energy coming out from the poison. Area around Baek Oh was now melting from such powerful poison.

"I didn't think you would make me to bring me into this. Try to block this with your blade."

As Baek Oh took steps to walk, a dark cloud came up each time as his foot touched the ground. It was so poisonous that even those who were watching far away outside the training ground made them choke. This state required Baek Oh to use the poison stored within him so he didn't like using it, but this seemed like the only way to kill Chun Yeowun now.

Chapter 131

Chapter 131: Hidden underground treasure (1)

‘So I can’t put him down with the White Dragon Blade...’

Yeowun narrowed his eyes. Baek Oh wasn’t a target he could deal with by using the Butterfly Blade Dance. Yeowun then placed down his blade and Baek Oh became excited.

‘No one can defeat the Poison Man!’

As Baek Oh stepped one step forward to finish it, Yeowun then brought the White Dragon Blade up in the air. The blade then shined with blue force qi.

“Fool! So, you will fight to the end?!”

Baek Oh then focused poison into his both hands and charged. That’s when Yeowun struck the blade into the ground. As the blade struck into the ground, all debris and clouds kicked up with a loud explosive sound, clouding everything around Baek Oh and Yeowun.

“Foolish tricks!”

Baek Oh knew where Yeowun was already. As Baek Oh charged in, with the sound of something being stacked up, Baek Oh felt terrifying demonic energy from within that he had never felt until now.

‘What is this...?!’

This was something Baek Oh felt when he met his eyes with Chun Yeowun right before he was struck.

‘This is dangerous. I must attack first!’

Baek Oh felt mysterious terror from the demonic presence and charged in. The poisonous energy within his hands formed to that of a giant demonic hand and charged forward.

“DIE!!”

And something unimaginable happened. The poisonous attack that he was certain no one will be able to defend was countered with countless sword strikes.

“W-what is this?!”

Baek Oh then saw the black sword he had never seen glowing with black light, that stormed through and came upon him.

‘I have to defend it!’

Baek Oh brought up his entire poison to form a defensive barrier around him but it was no use.

“AAAAAAAARGH!”

The black sword struck into his blood points this time and Baek Oh screamed in pain. The powerful sword cut through Baek Oh’s body and covered it with blood.

‘What’s happening?’

‘I can’t see anything from the dust cloud!’

All the people heard was screaming coming within the dust cloud. As the dust began to settle down, they saw someone moving barely.

“W-wait. Is that Elder Baek?!”

“He’s drenched in blood!”

The entire body was full of blood but the clothing surely looked like that of Baek Oh’s. And when Baek Oh’s body was revealed clearly, everyone turned silent. They were all in so much shock that they forgot what to say.

Baek Oh who moved aimlessly and eventually fell down, had no head. Blood poured out like fountain from the neck where it lost its head. And when the dust died down, all people of the academy saw Chun Yeowun holding onto the head of Baek Oh.

Poison came up as a dark cloud rose up from the blood. Baek Oh’s head had his eyes wide open with terror and shock, distorted with pain. And Yeowun felt the heat coming from the black sword that turned back to his armguard.

‘I didn’t think the Sword Force of the Sky Demon would have gotten so much stronger.’

Yeowun had unleashed the third formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. With the powerful black sword, dark force qi that was created with ominous dark energy and the powerful formation of the sword force, it allowed Yeowun to unleash a powerful attack. It was so powerful that not even the Elder Baek Oh who had become the Poison Man can defend against.

‘It’s not there yet.’

But Yeowun wasn’t too satisfied. He was able to test himself through today’s duel.

‘I have to... become more powerful.’

His original goal was to defeat Baek Oh with just the Butterfly Blade Dance. He had gained many experiences through three years of battling with many avatars but he had earned new things in today’s fight against the Poison Man.

‘Just like Baek Oh who had his secret weapon, others will do too.’

Baek Oh, with such powerful weapon, was not the strongest man in the cult, so meant that there were people at the cult who can fight Baek Oh without the help of Nano.

‘Mother...’

As Yeowun looked down at Baek Oh’s head, he was reminded of his mother, Lady Hwa. Will this settle at least some score of his mother’s death?

‘This is only the beginning.’

This was only the beginning.

At the result that no one expected, it was Hu Bong who broke the silence.

“Master!!!!”

And with that, all of Yeowun’s members began to shout in excitement. Until now, Yeowun had fought cadets or princes who were at a similar level of experience and power. Yeowun’s members trusted Yeowun but was ready for Yeowun’s loss and his death at this fight. But with not just defeating Baek Oh, Yeowun had killed him through his poison man state.

“Ah...!”

Mun Ku then wiped off the tear coming down on her face and thought. It felt like the world had crumbled down when she thought Yeowun was dead, but after knowing that Yeowun was safe, it made her heart pound heavily.

‘Why is my heart pounding like this?’

She thought it was due to the clothing wrapped around her chest, but her face was blushed red. She did not know what this feeling was, so she ignored it. And she shouted loudly like other members.

“I can’t believe that...”

“He... had become a monster. He cut off the head of the Elder of the Poison Clan.”

“So, the blood of Chun flows through him.”

“Haha... well. I am not so sure if it’s only due to the blood.”

Instructors who watched above the stage were all shocked either. They thought Yeowun would not pass the sixth test and even were concerned that Yeowun will die from this test. Nobody had thought Baek Oh, infamous Poison Man who had massacred so many people would end up like that.

‘I didn’t even get to challenge you yet and you have gone way too far up now.’

Hou Jinchang thought. He wanted to duel with Yeowun after the yellow tag, but Yeowun was now just too powerful. But there was something that concerned him.

Chapter 132

Chapter 132: Hidden underground treasure (2)

‘Well, whatever the case this is now a declaration of war.’

The war was to start the moment Academy was to be finished, but now Yeowun had cut off the head of one of the leaders of the six clans, so all the six clans were to now be wary of Yeowun.

‘But he used the poison to kill Chun Yeowun under everyone’s watch.’

Yeowun had every reason to kill as it was Baek Oh who tried to kill him first. And with the witnesses present, there was no way this will come back to Yeowun. But it was sure that the Poison Clan might do something.

Chun Muyeon, from the Wise Clan clenched on his fist so hard that his nails stuck into his fist and turned away.

“P-prince!”

His members, who almost shouted with excitement from such an outstanding feat, quickly followed Chun Muyeon out from the training ground. And just like everyone else, Lee Hameng was also astounded.

‘He cut the head off from Elder Baek with his Poison Man state...’

Lee Hameng wasn’t sure he himself would be able to do that. It was only four years. A mere boy without any knowledge of martial arts now had become so powerful that he was now on top five ranks of the cult.

‘Are we really going to have the Lord who will succeed his advancement?’

It made Hameng come to chills. Soon, with the poison all fading away, instructors came up to the training ground to clean up Baek Oh’s body. It was the leader of the Poison Clan, so they needed to be extra careful. With Sama Yi’s agreeance, Lee Hameng stood up and shouted at Chun Yeowun who was standing on the training ground.

“Master Chun Yeowun, congratulations on passing the sixth test!”

“Whoaaaaaaaaaaaaa!”

Every cadet cheered and roared with shouts. This was the first sixth test passed in seventy years. This was an outstanding achievement. Chun Yeowun too smiled with this and his members all ran up to him on the training ground. Ko Wanghur, with his nose and eyes red from tears, shouted.

“Master! Congratulations!”

“Congratulations!!”

“Do we need to call you an elder now?! Haha!!”

Ohjong spoke teasingly and everyone laughed with excitement. And as every Yeowun’s members were rejoicing, Sama Yi came down from his stage and was looking for someone.

‘Left Guardian, can I meet with my son before I go?’

‘Sure. You can.’

Sama Yi had to go out of the academy as his job to be a witness was done, but he asked Lee Hameng to be allowed to meet with his son.

“Father!”

Sama Chak also wanted to say goodbye to his father, so Sama Chak quickly ran up to Sama Yi.

“You have grown well, my son.”

Sama Yi had heard that Chak had passed the fifth test from Lee Hameng. This was already a great feat that Sama Yi wanted to compliment his son of. And when they greeted with each other, Sama Yi sent a telepathic message to his son.

[Chak... did you find a prince you want to side with during the competition?]

[Oh! So you wanted to speak about that too!]

[Huh?]

[I had something to tell you before you go.]

Sama Chak then seemed to be hesitant so Sama Yi spoke first.

[Go ahead.]

[Father. You told me to find someone from six clans, and I tried... but I'm sorry.]

[...]

[I thought about it long and hard, but I want to side with Prince Chun Yeowun.]

Before entering the academy, Sama Yi had explained about princes that Sama Yi wanted his son to side with. It was Chun Muyeon and Chun Yuchan. These two were talented genius that were likely to become the future Lord. But while spending time as a cadet within the academy, Sama Chak found himself being interested in Chun Yeowun instead. He hesitated due to his father's advice, but he didn't like Chun Muyeon.

[Hmph.]

And unlike Chak's expectation, Sama Yi was smiling.

[I am proud of you, my son.]

[Huh?]

[You have the same thought as me.]

The reason Sama Yi spoke to Chak was because he changed his mind after watching the sixth test. This was the first time someone passed the sixth test in seventy years. And with the result, it was certain that Yeowun will now become the 12th Elder at least. If Yeowun who was not even in his twenties were this powerful, it was hard to imagine how powerful he will be in his later years.

'We don't need to side with six clans.'

The Samu Clan was already one of highest-ranking clans along with the Demon Dragon clan. And Sama Yi, who was already an elder, didn't like the idea of being under the six clans.

'Prince who is not from six clans!'

This was a great ally to have. If Yeowun was to become the heir, then it was sure to bring change to the cult from the current six clans system.

[I agree with your thought, son. Prince Chun Yeowun is a worthy man.]

[Oh! Then am I to do what I want?]

Sama Yi smiled.

[You may. Oh, and he might even become our future family, so make sure you look after him.]

[Huh?]

Sama Chak frowned. It seemed his father was thinking of having his sister Sama Young as the wife of Chun Yeowun.

An hour later at the front of the Chief's office...

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Chun Yeowun had come to the chief's office with Lee Hameng. He had passed the sixth test so he had to be given privileges. And before going into the office, Hou Jinchang and two other instructors followed but they were told to wait outside for a moment.

'Huh?'

And when Yeowun and Hameng walked into the office, Lee Hameng unleashed the energy and cut out the sound going outside. Yeowun was surprised. Then Lee Hameng suddenly knelt down on his one knee and bowed politely at Yeowun.

“Prince. You have done well until now. Congratulations on passing the academy’s sixth test.”

It was not his usual attitude that he did to every cadet.

Chapter 133

Chapter 133: Hidden underground treasure (3)

Chun Yeowun was shocked from the changed attitude of Lee Hameng.

"I am not sure what this means, sir."

"You have passed every test of the academy, so I must now address you properly as the rightful prince and the son of the Lord."

"Oh..."

Yeowun had passed all tests, so he was not a cadet anymore. All princes of the Lord had the right to become treated with respect, but he was only treated as mere cadet because that was the rule of the academy. Chun Yeowun was still dumbfounded and Lee Hameng continued.

"It was rule of the academy... and I wasn't certain until now, so I apologize for just watching you until now, prince."

Yeowun wasn't sure what Lee Hameng was talking about. Lee Hameng then brought up his head and looked at Yeowun and spoke.

"I am sure you are confused. Let me ask you frankly. Did you learn the founding of truth left by Father Chun Ma?"

Yeowun became grim. He didn't think Lee Hameng will talk specifically about that.

'...So he knew.'

He had used the Sword Force of the Sky Demon in front of everyone two times when he fought Hou Jinchang and when he fought the criminal from the evil force. That was the only sword skill he had that he can defeat his enemy at the time, and was sure no one will recognize it.

"I am not sure what you are talking about."

Yeowun decided to lie about it first. He wasn't sure if he can trust Lee Hameng yet, as he was the Lord's close advisor. Yeowun didn't even tell his secret to his members, so he couldn't just reveal to Lee Hameng yet when he wasn't sure if Lee Hameng was his ally or foe.

"Oh, I see. It is certain you can't trust me yet."

Lee Hameng thought for a second and bowed to speak seriously.

"I, Lee Hameng, Left Guardian of the Great Sky Demon Cult swear an oath to support Prince Chun Yeowun for the competition for the heir to the throne. As a proof, I ask you to hold my medal that shows me as a guardian."

Lee Hameng took out the red medal from his pocket and gave it to Yeowun politely. It was the medal that proved that Lee Hameng was a guardian.

'Left Guardian... supporting me?'

Yeowun was shocked. This was not just simple support being given from any other members. This was huge that will shock every cultist.

"Please, take it."

Yeowun hesitated for a second and spoke.

“I am sorry, but I am not sure how I can trust you, a trusted advisor to the Lord.”

Guardians were those who always followed orders from the Lord directly. They were not allowed to join in the competition outright and were only allowed to support the Lord and the Heir if chosen. So with that in mind, it was hard to believe what Lee Hameng was trying to do. This suspicion made Lee Hameng glad.

‘He has become very careful. He is very worthy.’

Even if Hameng was in the same shoes, he would have been suspicious. Lee Hameng thought he needed to explain further.

“You are right. I am Left Guardian. Technically speaking, I am not in a place to support anyone. But I have something I must prioritize above everything else.”

“What do you mean?”

“We, guardians are bound to accept one who succeeds the truth as a real Lord.”

“You mean...”

“The truth left by Father Chun Ma who has created our cult.”

Lee Hameng wasn't lying. He took a deep breath and continued.

“You must keep what I'm going to tell you as a secret.”

Guardian family protected and supported the Lord for the entire history of the cult. Three families, divided up from Great Guardian, Left Guardian, and Right Guardian, were the founding families and always sided with the Lord starting from Father Chun Ma, to current Lord Chun Yujong. Unlike them, six clans weren't there when the cult first started. It started with two apprentices of Sword Demon about five hundred years ago, but Guardians were there since the beginning.

"Oh, wait. Right Guardians were only born five hundred years ago. They are 'shorter' in their history."

'Oh, so Teacher's Guardian family wasn't there from the beginning.'

This was because Right Guardian died five hundred years ago, that required a new Right Guardian entirely.

"Not much know this."

Guardians were one of few people who knew most secrets of the cult.

"And there is a secret that we Guardian families have kept it since 500 years ago."

"..."

"The Sword Art of the Sky Demon that every Lord learns is not the real sword skill left by Father Chun Ma."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"...!!!"

This was shocking news. Yeowun was shocked. If what Hameng said were to spread, this was enough to dismantle the entire cult.

“Then you mean...”

“The true sword skill that was taught to Lords were stopped.”

About 500 years ago... the Demonic Cult did not have a Lord to have many wives at the six clans to create successor. The Lord at the time was given woman chosen by the Dark Fire within the Giant Altar at the shrine, woman who was called as the Demonic Lady. At the time, only the child born from the Demonic Lady was allowed to become the future heir, so there was no reason for a specific clan to rise in power.

Chapter 134

Chapter 134: Hidden underground treasure (4)

“That’s how it was for a long time until the day....”

The Lord of Demonic Cult was originally required to set out upon pilgrimage after becoming a new Lord. Chun Muhey, Lord from 500 years ago, was also required for this and had set out for pilgrimage after five years of becoming the Lord.

“And in that pilgrimage... the worst incident within the history of our cult had happened.”

Every member who set out on the pilgrimage had come back as a corpse. That was when the Right Guardian at the time had died also, who didn’t have any successor. This required a new Right Guardian. The death of one of the top five warriors of Wulin brought a shock to the cult or the Wulin alike.

“Who can kill the Lord who was one of the top five warriors of the Yulin?”

“...Did you hear about the name, Blade God?”

“Blade God!”

Yeowun’s eye became wide with shock. He wasn’t familiar with a lot of powerful warriors of the Wulin, but he knew the name as a cultist. This was the only known person who Demon Sword, a legendary swordsman from the cult couldn’t defeat. They tied in the end, but Demon Sword had lost his right arm from that fight and had to be retired from battle afterward.

“Then did the Sword Demon fight Blade God for revenge?”

“Yes. But that fight didn’t happen right after. With the Lord being killed, a huge problem had brought upon our cult.”

The biggest problem was the successor. Chun Muhey had one child between the Demonic Lady at the time but the child was a girl. And Chun Muhey who couldn’t have further child, had to leave for pilgrimage before it was too late, not realizing that it will be his death trip.

“With the death of the Lord, we had the problem of having no successor and losing the sword skill left by Father Chun Ma at once.”

The Sword Art of the Sky Demon was only taught with mouth and had no books. This was the worst case scenario for the Demonic Cult.

“And to solve this problem, the Elder Council had chosen Sword Demon, First Elder at the time, as a Vice Lord at the time.”

They couldn’t have 8 years old Chun Muhey’s daughter as a Lord yet, so they had to find an alternative. Fortunately, Sword Demon was talented in every way, not only in his sword skills. He had cleaned up and stabilized the cult very quickly. This was only because he had respects from all cultists. What Demon Sword wanted to solve fast after stabilizing the cult, was to find the Sword Art of the Sky Demon back. He had experience dueling the former Lord, but he didn’t know the breathing skill or the right flow so that had no way to be restored.

“That’s when for the first time, someone not from the Chun family had entered the prison cave where Father Chun Ma had left his secrets.”

‘Ah...!’

Yeowun, who knew the secret to the prison cave, was astonished. The prison cave was originally a place known that Father Chun Ma had left his secret to the truth before he died. Only members of the Chun family were allowed to enter at first, but they couldn't let the young girl to enter in hoping to find that. And with the thought to take what's left in there, and create something better if that's not possible, Chun Ma was blocked with a huge obstacle.

“Everyone had entered the prison cave until now, but none had learned the founding of truth. Sword Demon failed it also.”

“Why was that?”

“It was possible to replicate the sword formation left by Father Chun Ma from the sword marking left on the pedestal, but it required breathing skill or the flow of energy to use it.”

‘...So no one unlocked that secret.’

Many members of the Chun family had entered the cave but none had unlocked the mystery behind it. Sword Force of the Sky Demon required the user to use the right breathing skill wrote on the shiny stone above the cave and the flow of energy hidden behind the poetry.

“It was after three years when the Sword Demon came out of the cave.”

After three years, Sword Demon had added his own understanding over the Sword Force of the Sky Demon and created new Sword Art of the Sky Demon. This was also very powerful that didn't fall too far behind from the lost sword skill of the Lord, so every elder at the time agreed to teach it to the daughter of dead Lord.

‘Ah... so the current Sword Art of the Sky Demon was created by Sky Demon then...’

This was something that Yeowun did not know until now. This was the reason why there were sword markings left over the sword marking of Father Chun Ma on the back of each pedestal. But what he couldn’t understand was why the Sword Demon, who entered to learn the founding of the truth from the stone had damaged the pedestal with his counter sword skill.

“Sword Demon then moved all pedestals who had Father Chun Ma’s finding into library floors of the Demonic Academy. I’m sure you too had seen the pedestal on each floor?”

“...Yes. I have.”

He couldn’t lie about not seeing these as these stones were placed at the middle of each floor.

“The heavy markings left on the back of each pedestal was left by Sword Demon himself.”

“Why did the Sword Demon destroy the pedestal so much?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He knew that this was due to Sword Demon’s effort to counter the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. But there was no reason for Sword Demon, who was not even a member of the Chun family, to destroy the treasure left by Father Chun Ma like that.

“Sword Demon already copied down sword tracings that Father Chun Ma had left made a book of sword art book already.”

“Oh.”

So the damage wasn't just made out of whim. Sword Demon couldn't destroy the tracing without leaving a record of it, so he already had organized it before leaving his mark over it and had placed it at the Lord's palace. But without the breathing skill or the flow of energy, it was useless.

“But the damage left on the pedestal... it was inevitable in some way.”

Chapter 135

Chapter 135: Hidden underground treasure (5)

The death of leader of the Demonic Cult was not something to be considered lightly. Demonic Cult officially announced Blade God as an enemy and traced him down. The enemy was someone that no one really knew who he actually was.

“Only surviving cultist said the killer introduced himself as Blade God. That was our only clue.”

The Blade God who had killed Chun Muhey, the Right Guardian, and entire Guardian forces disappeared after the incident. Many cultists were dispatched to look for him but they couldn't find a trace.

“It was two years ago when he reappeared.”

The place he appeared was the capitol for the Force of Justice. It mountain where the Sorim Monastery was located, where all martial art had begun that no evil force nor cult can go easily.

“And surprisingly, Monk Kong Wun, one of another top five warriors of Wulin was killed there.”

Death of Kong Wun, a respected figure for all people of Yulin brought a shock to everyone. All the Force of Justice began to search for this mysterious killer. Over two thousand warriors from the Force of justice searched through to find the Blade God, but was only left with over hundreds of deaths.

“How did he do that?”

“It was after two years when the Blade God reappeared again.”

When the Blade God reappeared, he went after another top five warriors, the strongest warrior of the forces of evil, Yuk Jingkem. And because of the last incident where he was tracked, Yuk Jingkem’s body was found ten days after his death.

“What...”

“So it was now apparent that Blade God was after warriors from the top five of Wulin.”

With three out of five being killed, Blade God’s name spread through the entire land. People of Wulin was now considering the Blade God to be the most powerful warrior above all. The only one who left within those top five was the Chung Ming of the Martial Clan, and the Sword Demon.

“Sword Demon was certain that he will come for him.”

When Chun Muhey was killed, Sword Demon had checked on blade wounds left on the bodies. Sword Demon was a powerful warrior, but the blade tracing left on these bodies showed the Blade God to have unimaginable power and was sure he can’t defeat him. Sword Demon thought he needed to fight against something equal to, or stronger and chose the tracing of Sword Force of the Sky Demon to do just that.

“Elder Council who couldn’t bear to lose even Sword Demon agreed on allowing Sword Demon practicing his sword against the tracing left on the pedestal.”

‘Oh, so that’s why there were counter sword skills!’

So, tracings were left by Sword Demon to train himself so he can fight against the Blade God. But what's still a mystery was that all sword movements that made up of counter sword skill was comprised of ordinary sword movements, which was not understandable just by listening to Lee Hameng's story.

"Sword Demon's guess was accurate."

After exactly four years, Blade God had appeared at the Demonic Cult.

"So, he killed Chung Ming too."

"Yes. The Sword Demon was the last in line."

Blade God, who now wielded the title of the top warrior of Wulin, had come straight to the castle of Demonic Cult and challenged Sword Demon. And the result was a tie, as known to everyone.

"It was a tie, but the Sword Demon had suffered great consequences. He had lost his right arm."

"What happened to the Blade God after that?"

"After fighting against Sword Demon for three days and nights, he had disappeared and never returned."

Blade God's appearance was over after that. There were rumors revolving around whereabouts and what he had become after that, but there was only one thing that was certain. Blade God was the only one who had earned the top seat with the blade.

"The cult changed after that."

Sword Demon, with losing his right arm, walked down from the seat of Vice Chief. And with that, Chun Muha, now sixteen years old daughter of former Lord had become a new Lord. It was the first female Lord, and leaders of the cult took its chance and spoke to change the long ritual, as they will not be able to have successor through the old Demon Lady system.

Chun Muha, who did not have much power as she was still just a young girl, couldn't object the elders. So, the ritual that continued for 300 years was finally disposed and brought the new clan system. Chun Muha took a total of five husbands, with two being apprentices of Sword Demon who later founded Wise clan and Sword clan. Other three were apprentices of first to three elders, each from current Blade, Poison and Lust clan.

“Sword Demon, after retiring from his Vice Chief position had created the Demonic Academy to train future warriors.”

The place where the Sword Demon chose to create the academy was the place where the prison cave and the Demon Seal Cave, where Chun Ma's truth was hidden. Why did the Sword Demon choose this place above all other places? Lee Hameng, after finishing every story looked at Yeowun straight into his eyes.

“Do you know why I have told you this story?”

Yeowun have thought about for a second and asked.

“...Are you trying to say Sword Demon's purpose for creating the Demonic Academy here wasn't just to train future warriors?”

Chapter 136

Chapter 136: Hidden underground treasure (6)

Lee Hameng smiled, proving that Yeowun's answer was correct.

"Yes. He had two purpose. One of it was to find the real successor who will succeed the truths that Father Chun Ma had found through his swords."

"If that was the reason, why did he created the academy here?"

Yeowun didn't seem to understand the reason and Hameng continued to explain.

"When Sword Demon retired, elders now took control of the cult."

Sword Demon had to be Vice Chief against his will, but he was still a loyal cultist. He couldn't succeed the Sword Force of the Sky Demon fully, but he believed that there will be a future member of the Chun family who will truly succeed the secret left behind Father Chun Ma. Sword Demon then believed he had to protect the prison cave and the Demon Seal Cave and created the Academy so that no clans could think to have their hands on.

"Sword Demon had left works to guardians before his death."

It was to tell Guardians, who knew all the truth, to take turns to be chief of the Academy and when they find someone who succeeds the truth of Father Chun Ma, to help him to become the Lord. Sword Demon's hope had not come to true for 500 years and it was now only an old legend that stayed within the guardians.

"And while I stood beside the Lord, I have seen his Sword Art of the Sky Demon countless times within the battlefield. Do you think I will not recognize the sword skill you used?"

"..."

When Lee Hameng first saw the Sword Force of the Sky Demon that Yeowun had used against Hou Jinchang, he was so shocked. It was sword formation more accurate and powerful than the current Sword Art of the Sky Demon. He thought maybe this was the true finding of the truth of the sword left by Father Chun Ma, that Sword Demon had spoken of. But he couldn't reveal all this to Chun Yeowun yet, as he couldn't be sure yet. There was a possibility that Yeowun was just taught by Chun Yujong, the current Lord.

'Let's keep an eye on him.'

And when he saw Yeowun using the sword formation again against criminal from the evil force, he was able to confirm it. Chun Yeowun was the true successor who guardians had waited for so long. And it was long wait until Yeowun was to pass through the Demon Seal Cave and pass the sixth test. Lee Hameng asked again in shaking voice.

"Let me ask you again, Prince. Did you succeed the truth of Father Chun Ma?"

'Ah... I guess I can't lie then.'

Yeowun, who now was told of truth behind the Demonic Academy, couldn't avoid answering. He then nodded at the question and Lee Hameng's eye turned red and shouted while bowing down on the ground flat.

"Left Guardian Lee Hameng, at service of the true successor to Father Chun Ma!"

Chun Yeowun was the person that Guardians had waited for 500 years. He couldn't hold back his excitement and happiness. Yeowun, who became surprised at such a reaction suddenly became curious at one thing.

"Left Guardian, can I ask you one question?"

"Of course."

"...Can you stand up first?"

"Yes, sir."

Lee Hameng then got up and knelt on his one knee again. It was as if Hameng was considering Yeowun as his master. Yeowun felt weird to see Left Guardian, who only kneels toward the Lord, kneeling at him.

"You said there were two purposes for creating this Demonic Academy here. What is the other purpose?"

"That's... it's better I let you see it for yourself."

Lee Hameng then brought back the energy barrier that cut out the noise and guided Yeowun outside the office. Lee Hameng then guided Yeowun to the library.

"Huh?!"

The instructor who stood guard at front of the library was shocked to see Chief Lee Hameng's appearance and bowed.

“Chief, welcome.”

“Instructor Sung. Long time no see.”

“Yes, sir. But why...?”

It was weird to see Lee Hameng who never visited the library to come together with Chun Yeowun.

“We are going down to the underground treasure room.”

“Huh? Y-you mean... did he pass the sixth test?!”

Lee Hameng nodded and the instructor turned to Yeowun with a shocked look. All other guards who were there were also shocked and turned to Yeowun. It was only natural, as only those who passed the sixth test were allowed to enter the underground treasure room. As far as they know, there weren't any who had passed the sixth test in the past 70 years. The instructor who had worked in the academy for less, thus had never had a chance to open the door to the underground treasure room until now.

“C-congratulations Master Chun! I-I mean Elder Chun!”

If Yeowun had passed the sixth test, it meant he had defeated one of twelve elders. He was a Master just about a month ago, so it was surely very fast ascend to the top.

“Can you open our way now?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Y-yes, sir!”

Lee Hameng asked and the instructor guided them in. As they entered the library building, they turned to the right and found a hidden staircase down to the underground.

‘So, there was an underground floor.’

He was told before the sixth test about the existence of such a place, but it was true. As they walked down, there were thick metal door and three guards at grandmaster level standing guard.

“Welcome, Chief.”

Chapter 137

Chapter 137: Hidden underground treasure (7)

“Open the door to the treasure room.”

All three guards flinched at Lee Hameng’s order. They then turned to Yeowun with a shocked look. They had figured they will never see the metal door being opened until their time was over at this place.

‘This young man defeated an elder?’

Chun Yeowun had a pale white face with coldness surrounding him. With the body restructuring, his skin had cleared up and blood points were now invisible that he just looked like a noble who didn’t learn any martial art. If these guards who were super master level warrior couldn’t feel anything at Yeowun, it meant that Yeowun was surely at the superior level.

‘To think I would get to open this door...’

The leader of three guards took out the key from his pocket. Yeowun then glanced over at the metal door that had three keyholes. One was held by instructor for taking care of logs, one was held by the guard and last one was held by Lee Hameng.

‘So, you need all three keys to open this door.’

It was heavily guarded, even more so than the fifth floor to the library.

“I’ll count, sir. One... two... three!”

At once, three people placed their keys and turned in unison on the count of the guard. At that moment, the wall on both sides of the door trembled and the metal door divided up into half and opened the way in.

It was closed for so long that the thick and ragged old metal door creaked severely as it opened through. Cold air began to seep out from it. Outside was always cold, but the interior of the library was usually warmer. But this place was different. It was very chilling.

‘What is this smell? Leather?’

It was a weird smell. It smelled a bit rotten, but had mixed smell of medicine. A lot of smells were mixed, but it was not bad compared to the black liquid Yeowun found from the Demon Seal Cave. The guard then lit the fire up on the wall and brightened the interior.

“Oh!”

Yeowun gasped with astonishment. The wall of the interior had a faint glow of blue light.

The instructor whispered to Yeowun. The cold pearl stone was the stone that wielded coldness within it. This was why the interior of this room was cold.

“Follow me, please.”

Lee Hameng took up the fire and walked inside toward the corridor. As they walked in, they were soon at large five-sided room. On the other side to the corridor was a large table also created with cold pearl stone, that had a human arm and leather that seemed to be human skins.

“What is this place?”

This treasure room was not something Yeowun had expected.

“This is the second purpose.”

Lee Hameng then pointed at the table and offered Yeowun to go closer. Yeowun had cut down many right arms of princes so seeing an arm wasn't all that weird, but seeing it preserved like that was what made him feel weird. As he walked towards it, the smell of medicine became stronger.

‘Was it worked on to have it from being rot?’

It seems the arm or skins were processed to preserve it. And when Yeowun got up to it, his eyes shook.

“This...?”

He didn't know when saw from afar, as the arm was lifeless and bony, but the arm had full of scars. And all other skins also had sharp wounds over it. It was a scar left from a blade.

“Blade... markings?’

Blade markings weren't simple. All of it had sharp energy within it. Yeowun now had very advanced skills to simulate after coming up to the superior level. Yeowun closed his eyes and saw a figure unleashing the unique blade skill that caused these injuries. Unlike the sword skills that had mixes of slash and stab, the blade only had formation made from slash, but it was very unique.

‘This is impossible... how can such a blade skill exist?’

Yeowun tried fighting it with his butterfly dance, but he wasn't sure if he can defend over then two formations. If he wanted to fight this, he needed counter sword skill of Sword Demon or the formation from Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

'This is like an entirely different level of blade skill.'

Yeowun then opened his eyes again. Focusing longer might have put him in a trance. Lee Hameng then got up to him and spoke.

"Can you see what this is?"

"...Is it the right arm of the Sword Demon?"

The arm's hand was shaped as if it was holding someone. From looking from the fingers, it was sure to be holding a sword when it was cut off. Lee Hameng became astonished and spoke.

"Yes, that is correct. It is the right arm of the Sword Demon."

"And these skins?"

"These are skins from the Lord and guards who were killed 500 years ago."

"...Blade markings from the Blade God."

So these arms and skins were preserved to leave the blade markings left by Blade God. Yeowun was shocked to see this preserved at the underground floor to the library. Yeowun then glanced around, and saw bookshelves at one side of the wall that had three books.

[True Demon Sword Art]

[Twenty Four Demon Sword]

[Analysis of the Blade God's Blade Formation]

The True Demon Sword Art was legendary sword skill left by Sword Demon. He had two apprentices, but was known to not giving them his own sword skill. But this was where Sword Demon's relic was at. He wasn't sure what other two books were, but these were certain to be left by Sword Demon also.

‘Oh...!’

Chun Yeowun then realized the reason for this underground treasure room's existence.

“So, this place was to find the successor to the Father Chun Ma, and also to find true apprentice that will succeed the will of the Sword Demon.”

Lee Hameng then smiled.

“Yes. To be more precise, it is to train a future warrior who might be able to counter the blade skill of the Blade God.”

Chapter 138

Chapter 138: Hidden underground treasure (8)

The Sword Demon did not take in any apprentices. Two warriors that he taught sought after power and ambition, rather than the understanding of the sword. The reason for the Sword Demon teaching these two warriors was to train warriors who can protect the young daughter of the deceased Lord. But these two eventually forgot their purpose and began to pursue their ambition. This disappointed the Sword Demon and he denied accepting these two as his real apprentice.

“You said the Sword Demon fought the Blade God and tied?”

The Sword Demon was the only one who survived after fighting against Blade God. He had lost an arm in result, but the Sword Demon put a stop to Blade God’s undefeated record and made him disappear.

“There is one thing the Sword Demon spoke of before he died.”

“And what is that?”

“The Blade God disappeared in the middle of the fight. The Sword Demon said that he just said he tied because the Blade God disappeared.”

While fighting, the Blade God cut off the Sword Demon’s arm and stopped the fight to disappear.

“The Blade God said he will return, so the Sword Demon waited three days for him to return, but he did not return afterwards.”

The Sword Demon was worried of Blade God’s return as he had lost an arm and used up too much of his energy that made his martial arts to deteriorate. But even after fifteen years when the Sword Demon died, Blade God did not appear. But the Sword Demon was worried that Blade God or his descendant might reappear and died while worrying for the future of the cult.

“And 500 years had passed. I don’t think Blade God’s descendant will appear again, but I hope you can counter the blade marking left by the Blade God and continue on the will left by the Sword Demon.”

‘Ah...’

Lee Hameng bowed again and Chun Yeowun nodded. the Sword Demon who was worried about the cult even in his dying bed, was truly a loyal cultist. Lee Hameng then walked out of the treasure room with a smile.

‘I will give you the key to this place. You can get out from inside without a key, but you will need this if you come back in.’

Unlike other library floors, this underground treasure room was free to enter anytime Yeowun wanted. But Yeowun did not need to return here or stay long time in this place. When Lee Hameng left, Yeowun quickly scanned all three books that was left by the Sword Demon.

‘The Sword Demon’s true skill book. I am lucky.’

The True Demon Sword Art had the core elements of the Sword Demon’s sword skill, that had unique sword movements that required flow of energy.

‘It’s better than martial art of six clans... but...’

It was not much better than Sword Force of the Sky Demon nor the counter sword skill. Yeowun thought maybe teaching this to one of his members who use sword might be a good option. But for the Twenty Four Demon Sword, it was a new sword skill that the Sword Demon created by countering three Sword Force of the Sky Demon’s formation.

‘This is amazing.’

The counter sword skill was created to counter only the Sword Force of the Sky Demon, but this was entirely new sword skill created from that counter sword skill as a base that was very powerful. This sword skill was the creation that the Sword Demon tried to use it against the Blade God.

‘Analysis of the Blade God’s Blade Formation.’

This was record of analyzing the blade markings. Demon Sword have tried hard to counter the blade markings even until he died, but the recordings didn’t see much advancement. It was only natural. Yeowun then walked up to the table where arm of the Sword Demon and skins were left.

‘I’m sorry to say this, but if he had fought longer, he would have lost.’

Every cultists admired the Sword Demon. Lee Hameng too said he continues to follow the will of the Sword Demon, so Yeowun did not say this. But the blade formation left in this preservation was beyond imagination.

‘This is almost equal to the power of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon!’

The blade formation left by the Blade God was as powerful as Sword Force of the Sky Demon. The blade formation left on the arm was almost as powerful as fourth formation of Father Chun Ma.

‘Let’s check it. Nano, start the augmented reality.’

[Activating Augmented Reality on the user’s sight.]

Yeowun’s eye began to shake and white lines were created, showing augmented reality in Yeowun’s vision.

‘Nano, can you scan the markings on that arm and create a 3D image?’

[That is possible, Master.]

‘Simulate the blade markings left on the arm and let it fight against fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.’

[Yes, Master. Activating duel simulation between two formations.]

White lines began to take shape into two human figures. Two figures each with blade and sword then began to fight against each other. Two powerful attack collided against each other and the result came quickly after. Just by one movement, the Sword Force of the Sky Demon’s fourth formation countered Blade God’s blade formation, but was pushed back three steps. The accuracy of formation was better with Sword Force of the Sky Demon, but the power of Blade God’s blade skill was more powerful.

“This is amazing!”

Yeowun was astounded. This gave him a conclusion. The blade skill left by the Blade God was as powerful as the Father Chun Ma's sword skill. But if the blade marking left on the Sword Demon's arm was the last formation of this skill, then it was weaker than the Sword Force of the Sky Demon and if there was something beyond this that was more stronger, than it was probably only martial art that might be that can counter Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

‘Counter the blade skill? No.’

The Sword Demon left this to find someone who can counter this, but for Yeowun, he had Nano who could simulate the formation left on the arm accurately. Yeowun smiled.

‘Blade skill equal to the Sword Force of the Sky Demon... this is best that can happen.’

Chapter 139

Chapter 139: Scheme (1)

It had been seven days since Chun Yeowun had passed the sixth test. It was now three years and seven months since the first day of the Demonic Academy. From the over one thousand cadets that first entered, there were now only sixty-four cadets remaining. Just like other times when the Heirship Competition was going on, this time too had trained many talented warriors.

56 fourth stage cadets.

7 fifth stage cadets.

1 sixth stage cadet.

This was the best result in recent history of the academy, with still five more months left for academy to be over. But competition-wise, it was entirely different from what had happened from the past. This was because of Chun Yeowun, who was not from any of the six clans. In most cases, princes from each clans would have passed the fifth test and will be competing against themselves to create their own forces but five princes were expelled from the academy already. Chun Yuchan, one of likely heir to the throne had expelled already, and Chun Kungwun, rising rival to the Wise Clan, had his arm cut off and walked out of the academy. With ten cadets who were related to the Sword Clan also leaving, there were now a total of fifty-three cadets left. Eight cadets who joined Chun Kungwun within the academy changed their side to Chun Muyeon, and now Muyeon's forces had total of 26, most number.

Only candidates left within the academy were now Chun Yeowun and Chun Muyeon. With five more months to go, it was now the beginning of final competition.

At the northwest of the academy, there were many cadets gathered in large open space. It was cadets who were members who supported Chun Muyeon as the heir. But there were no Chun Muyeon here. One who had the most influence aside from Chun Muyeon was Mu Jinyun, from the Wise Clan and Guk Shin from a top-ranking clan. These cadets were gathered to talk about how to terminate Chun Yeowun, biggest obstacle that was in place in front of Chun Muyeon.

“We didn’t have any order from the Prince himself. Is it okay we decide on what to do on ourselves?”

Mu Jinyun then shook his head at one of cadet’s question.

“No, it’s not that the Prince did not give us order. He had placed me to do what it takes in place while he focuses on his martial art.”

“Hmm...”

‘Did the Prince made him to work on his behalf?’

After being influenced by Chun Yeowun who had passed the sixth test, Chun Muyeon was trying hard to train his martial art on the training room. Maybe this was a right choice. Chun Yeowun was now within top ten ranks of the Demonic Cult. Wise clan was still top ranking clans outside the academy, but Chun Muyeon was now left far behind in terms of competition, so if he were to compete, he needed to at least become a superior level warrior and pass the sixth test.

“While the Prince focuses on his training, we have to be prepared on our side. We can’t let Chun Yeowun be or we might lose our chance forever.”

Chun Yeowun was becoming powerful as the days went by. If they weren’t able to take care of him before the remaining days, there was a chance Chun Muyun will not win the competition.

“Jinyun, you are right but how are we supposed to fight the one who killed the leader of the Poison Clan? Isn’t it better to recruit those ten cadets who did not side with anyone yet?”

Other cadets nodded at Guk Shin’s words. Within the academy, there were no one who can defeat Chun Yeowun, even if it included everyone. He had become so powerful that combined forces of everyone can barely hope to make a scratch on his body.

“Who said we need to fight Chun Yeowun himself?”

“Huh?”

“How are we compared to his forces?”

Mu Jinyun asked and it was Kyo Mingsu who answered.

“In terms of forces, they have three established grandmasters: Mun Ku, Ko Wanghur and Bakgi. I’m not sure about the rest as we aren’t sure about if they took the test, but as far as we can see, there would be at least three or four more grandmaster level warriors in their group.”

Kyo Mingsu’s guess was accurate. Hou Sangwha, Wu Sojung, Ja Wumin, and Che Takim had become grandmasters, but they had not become established yet and couldn't take the fifth test.

"But we have two established super master level warrior here, and six early stage of the grandmaster level, and the rest of us are at the end stage of the master level. So we are equal or a bit higher in terms of power against them."

Chun Muyeon's members were comprised of high-ranking clans that averaging skill level was higher. Mu Jinyun had become established grandmasters recently but didn't take the fifth test yet.

"...I'm sorry to burst your bubble, but this kind of power balance doesn't matter."

Ki Chan, a cadet who used to be under Chun Kungwun, jumped in. He had experienced Chun Yeowun overpowering nineteen cadets including Chun Kungwun with the absolute power. Others were also powerful but if they couldn't do anything about Chun Yeowun, this theorycrafting was useless.

"Hah! Are you scared already because you were beaten once?"

"Ugh, you too saw what monster he is on the sixth test."

"Yes, I know. That's why we have to deal with him with plans."

Mu Jinyun spoke confidently and everyone became curious. Just three days ago, he didn't have any plan at the time, but it seemed he had come up with some plans.

"Guk Shin, it is important we recruit remaining cadets too. We have to recruit Sama Chak and Huan Ya at least."

These two members were from top-ranking clans, the Samu Clan and Ghost Illusion Clan that everyone wanted. Their fathers were Sama Yi, the 9th Elder, and Huan Yi the 11th Elder. But Chun Muyeon did not actively recruit others unlike Chun Yuchan or Chun Kungwun, so they didn't do anything until now. But things changed.

"If we can take them in, we can come on top."

"...I'm not sure about Huan Ya though."

Guk Shin frowned. Huan Ya was from highest-ranking clan, but there was a reason other princes didn't recruit him. He had terrifying faces and dark and gloomy aura about him that no one wanted to come close.

"We can't choose what to take or not at this point."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"...Okay."

"I heard Chun Yeowun is busy training in the private training room in recent days. He rarely even comes to dinner."

"You've done some research."

"Yes. Information is a vital key to the victory."

"Now is the best chance. We'll cut down Yeowun's arms and legs and go after him at the end."

Chapter 140

Chapter 140: Scheme (2)

Guk Shin and other cadets were dumbfounded at that word. Even if they succeed in taking care of Yeowun's members, it just felt like they were angering the demon.

"Are you insane? Two princes lost their arms while trying to attack his members. Chun Jongsum who attacked Bakgi were even destroyed of his internal energy."

Chun Yeowun was famous also due to his infamous deeds. Everyone who fought against him were all severely injured that made everyone to become fearful. Even Guk Shin feared Chun Yeowun.

"You are a coward too."

"What?"

Guk Shin frowned and Mu Jinyun smiled.

"We will not fight him by ourselves."

"What are you talking about?"

"He is a monster, like you said. We don't need to fight him ourselves."

"Are you saying there is someone who will fight him?"

Guk Shin became surprised. It seemed even the Chief Lee Hameng was not going to defeat Yeowun anymore. Then who out there might be willing to attack him?

“Hmph. There are four people who hate him more than anything.”

As Mu Jinyun spoke the names of four cadets, others became surprised and confusing. They knew these four was still within the academy, but didn't think they would hold the grudge for so long.

“Wow. If that really succeeds, then it might really give us a chance.”

“Yes. We'll cut his arms and legs while he's busy.”

“If he's not going to stop us, then we can do it. When will we start?”

If it wasn't against Chun Yeowun, Guk Shin was confident to defeat anyone. He wanted to fight Ko Wanghur the most.

“We will do it next dinner time. I already talked with those four cadets. But it is better if we can let Sama Chak and Huan Ya join us before.”

“Sure. Let's go try to recruit them now then.”

The next day in the late afternoon, Chun Yeowun was busy training in a private training room. He had found sword skills left by Sword Demon and tracing of blade formation left by the Blade God and acquired a total of six blood formation from it. Chun Yeowun was very happy at acquiring such powerful blade skill, but there was a problem. The blade marking didn't have energy flow. Without the flow of energy way, it wasn't possible to perfect the formation. For the True Sword Demon Art left by the Sword Demon, he also left the breathing skill and the path of energy flow, but the blade markings were just markings. But Yeowun wasn't disappointed.

Three years and four months of training didn't only grow Yeowun. After analyzing through all saved martial arts, Nano was able to simulate and create a path of energy flow that can make each formation to be used with its utmost power. Even if the created path wasn't what the original creator intended, it was created from Nano's analysis so it was either equal to or better than the original.

Yeowun's White Dragon Blade moved weirdly and created countless blade swings that shoot through the air with a strong impact. It was quite different from Butterfly Blade Dance that focused on being quick. Each blade movement came from a weird angle that was hard to connect from one to another, so mere movement was powerful enough to cut down the enemy in just one formation.

"Whew."

After finishing up the formation, the floor of the room had many tracing of blade marks. He didn't even use any qi, but the power unleashed from the blade attack was so powerful that created such markings.

"Hahahahaha! I did it, Nano!!"

Yeowun didn't laugh out loud usually, but he was so happy to successfully use the formation in perfection. He had tested every energy flow Nano created in the past eight days and finally found the one that worked best. It finally allowed him to use the first formation of the Blade God's blade formation. If the Sword Demon saw this with his own eyes, he would have been shocked.

[I will now start analyzing for the path of energy flow required for the second formation.]

Nano then began analyzing the second formation. Yeowun who had gone over the same formation hundreds of times in a day became exhausted and sat down to recover his internal energy.

‘Oh... I’m hungry.’

His energy was restored but it did not solve his hunger. It was now almost dinner time, so Yeowun decided to finish today’s training here and left the training room. The winter season brought the sun to go down faster so it was very dark outside. Yeowun went straight to the cafeteria. Inside of the cafeteria was bright, but there were no crowds anymore, as not many cadets were left. There had been over fifty workers within the cafeteria in the past, but the number of workers also went down to twenty.

‘Hmmm.’

Yeowun smelled spiciness within the cafeteria and saw a large pot of red soup that had meats, mushrooms and various vegetable that filled the entire cafeteria with its smell. It was a very spicy soup that made ones that eat sweat from the heat even in such cold winter.

‘I wanted spicy food!’

Yeowun then went up to take the bowl and a young worker filled the bowl from the large pot and gave it to Yeowun. The worker, however, shook his head tremendously, maybe due to the heat from the bowl. Yeowun became curious and looked at the worker. He seemed he was tense and sweating severely.

“...Are you okay?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Oh, Uh- yes. I-I’m okay. It’s just too hot to be in front of this pot all day.”

The worker then gave the bowl to Yeowun. The heat from the pot was surely hot, but it felt weird and Yeowun thought it strange. And there was one who was watching Yeowun carefully at the corner of the cafeteria. He was also taking the soup, but his eyes did not pull away from Chun Yeowun. He saw Chun Yeowun sitting down with a confused look as he looked down at the soup.

‘Did he find out...?’

He then saw Chun Yeowun tasting on the soup with his chopsticks. After tasting the soup a bit with his tongue, Yeowun frowned. But soon after, he began holding up the bowl and began to drink down the soup. The man who watched him grinned.

‘There we go!’

Chapter 141

Chapter 141: Scheme (3)

A total of twelve cadets gathered at front of the wall toward the torch fire. They were cadets from Chun Yeowun's group. It was cold winter night, so some were staying close to the fire to keep warm, and some were flowing their internal energy to keep up their body temperature, even if it was a bit of a hassle.

"Is Master skipping dinner today too?"

Ohjong mumbled as he warmed his hand over at the fire. Yeowun had not been together for the past six days already, aside from a brief breakfast. Yeowun told them that he had something he needs to train, so he might skip dinner.

"But he ate once in two days."

Hu Bong spoke and Ko Wanghur nodded.

"We didn't see him at dinner yesterday, so maybe he's already at cafeteria."

Unlike the whole group, which waited until everyone gathered and went to the cafeteria almost at the end of dinner time, they usually saw Yeowun when he finished eating and was on the way out.

"Ugh, we can have dinner with him if they come out a bit faster."

Hou Sangwha, Bakgi, and Jin Guuk were still missing from the group. They have been waiting for twenty minutes already, so Mun Ku didn't look too comfortable as she rubbed her face with her hands. Ko Wanghur grinned.

‘He wasn’t like that at first, but now he likes master as much as Hu Bong do.’

Hu Bong was the first servant so that was understandable, but it was quite weird to see Mun Ku, a member from the highest ranking clan, to be acting like this. It almost looked like if Mun Ku liked Yeowun as the opposite sex.

‘He’s strong but he looks too weak.’

It sometimes felt weird to see Mun Ku’s thin arm and small body that almost looked feminine.

‘Hmph. What am I thinking.’

Ko Wanghur figured he went too much on his thoughts and shook his head. Hou Sangwha soon came out, followed by Jin Guuk and Bakgi walked out as the last.

“You’re late again.”

Mun Ku mumbled and Bakgi looked away awkwardly. Bakgi was always the last to come out so Mun Ku ranted on him a lot. Hu Bong had gave up on Bakgi being late.

“Well, he’s faster than yesterday. Let’s go eat now.”

As they began walking down to the southern road, Ko Wanghur who was walking up on the front suddenly stopped. Not only that, the other Six Swords also stopped as if they sensed something.

“W-what is going... huh?!”

Before Jin Guuk can finish his question, over twenty cadets came out of training room building and blocked their ways. After looking at the faces lit under torches, Ko Wanghur frowned. The young man standing at the front was Guk Shin.

‘Guk Shin? Then...’

They were members of Chun Muyun. They never had clashed directly until now, but if they were blocking the way with arms, then it sure meant they were up for no good.

‘An ambush...’

On the way back to his dorm after finishing the dinner, Chun Yeowun was blocked by four men.

‘Hmmm.’

Yeowun knew very well who these men were. It was Kingpo from the Sword Clan, Hang Yujik from Lust Clan, Bu Yankang from Blade Clan, and Baek Churku from Poison Clan.

Kingpo had his chest bone crushed from Yeowun’s hands so Yeowun had thought he had left the academy with Chun Kungwun who had lost an arm. If there was a member from the Loyal and Wise Clans, then it meant all members from six clans were here. And from their hostile atmosphere, it was easy to guess why they were standing in front. Yeowun looked at them and spoke casually.

“What do you want?”

Baek Churku glared and shouted.

“Chun Yeowun. You think we will not come to you for killing our elder and destroying Jongsum’s internal energy!?”

Baek Churku was who had the most grudge against Yeowun. After Chun Jongsum's internal energy destroyed, Churku had been training hard to look for a chance to avenge. And then Yeowun had killed Churku's grandfather Baek Oh, which made him furious.

"You seek what doesn't belong to you, peasant. The seat of the Lord does not belong to you."

Bu Yankang from Blade clan pulled his blade and began to walk up to him. Only Kingpo who was injured recently was hesitant. Hang Yujik also took out an instrument-looking sword out. Yeowun still didn't look tense.

"You think four of you can defeat me?"

"Hah. Only one of us is enough to beat the likes of you."

"Hmmm?"

It seems they were certain that they can defeat Yeowun for real. Yeowun was sure that none of them had become at the supreme level, but what was giving them such confidence?

'Foolish peasant boy! I waited for this time for a long time!'

Baek Churku glared. Just about thirty minutes ago, Churku had seen Yeowun eating the spicy soup entirely and was excited. The soup had the poison that he crafted with all of his knowledge and power.

'You wouldn't even guess how hard I worked on that poison.'

Baek Churku had worked a long time to set up traps for Yeowun. He knew that Chun Yeowun was not someone to be messed with in terms of martial art, so he had found a way to poison him.

‘You can poison him?’

‘But how?’

Bu Yankang or Hang Yujik weren’t convinced that there was a way to poison Chun Yeowun who even endured Baek Oh’s terrifying poison, but after hearing the scheme, they decided to join.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Maybe you managed to push out poison after becoming the supreme level, but you won’t be able to push out the one that’s already gotten into your body!’

Churku had worked so hard to bribe the cooking staff to poison Chun Yeowun. With the promise of fortune and support from the Poison Clan, the worker had created a spicy soup that had a strong smell to hide the poison within it.

‘Poison was in the scoop.’

Even if Chun Yeowun had a lot of suspicion, it wasn’t likely that he will become suspicious that a worker might poison it. Churku thought it almost failed when Yeowun tasted it with the chopstick, but Yeowun ate it all after. The poison’s effect was that after about ten minutes, it scatters internal energy so it can’t be pulled up and the second poison will kick in after to melt Yeowun’s veins and organs so he will die.

‘I did it!’

Chapter 142

Chapter 142: Scheme (4)

Churku told the other cadets that his plans worked. He knew that Yeowun will lose his internal energy and slowly die, so they ambushed without hesitation.

‘I need to make sure.’

If Chun Yeowun had lost his internal energy, then it was probably possible to defeat him alone, but it was the first time Churku used poison against superior level warrior. There was a chance that the poison might kick in late because of the high level of internal energy, so they gathered. They were four grandmaster level warriors. There was no way for Chun Yeowun to survive this. Churku then began to speak what Yeowun did not know.

“Hah. Let’s see if you can keep that smirk on your face even when you end up at the medical room along with your friends. Oh, of course if you can survive here, that is.”

“What? What are you talking about?”

Yeowun’s eyes narrowed at the word. He had thought he was only one targeted, so he didn’t think his members were also targeted. But with these people here, who would attack his members?

‘Did they side with the Wise Clan members?’

Yeowun then thought that if there were members from four clans here, then it was likely that they also sided with another remaining clan.

‘...If Chun Muyun is up, then it’s dangerous.’

Chun Yeowun became grim. Churku, who figured that Yeowun was scared, grinned. Yeowun reached to his back and pulled out the White Dragon Blade. There was no time for him to waste.

“I don’t have time, so let’s finish this fast.”

“Finish?! Ha! You cut down my sister’s arm, so I will cut your both arms!!”

Hang Yujik from the Lust Clan shouted furiously and charged against Yeowun. As he swung his sword, the string from between his swords plucked, making a unique energy wave. It was a way to make the enemy’s ear ring, and open the room for attack. The sword swung at Yeowun’s arm to cut it down.

“What!”

Hang Yujik’s eye became widened. Chun Yeowun, who should have lost his internal energy, easily swung his blade and destroyed Hang Yujik’s sword.

“Y-you...!”

“I said I don’t have time.”

Chun Yeowun then disappeared and shoot past Hang Yujik, cutting off his arm. Yujik declared that he will cut down Yeowun’s arms but instead it was he who got his arm cut off. Yujik screamed in agony and fell down to the ground and rolled.

“H-how can this be?!”

Churku’s eye began to shake in terror. It was not Hang Yujik losing his arm that shocked everyone. It was Yeowun’s

White Dragon Blade that wielded clear blue force qi over it that made them shocked.

‘I thought he was poisoned?!’

‘How can he use force qi?!’

Even if Yeowun had withstood it with supreme level power, it still should have scattered his internal energy that should make him impossible to use force qi. Kingpo and Bu Yankang glared at Churku.

“I-I saw him eat the soup!”

“Huh? You talking about this?”

Yeowun looked at Churku’s shocked face and reached out his hand on the air, right above Hang Yujik on the ground and gestured to twist. And in his hand, black liquids began to seep out and dropped down to Hang Yujik.

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaaargh!!!”

Hang Yujik’s thigh that came in contact with the liquid began to burn, with smoke rising from it. It was pure poison itself.

“P-poison?!”

Yeowun looked at them with cold eyes and declared.

“You thought this trick will work on me?”

When Yeowun tasted the soup with the chopstick, he ordered Nano to analyze it quickly.

[Detected poison that can disturb the body energy and scatter it.]

The suspicion started with the cooking staff's weird attitude. Yeowun just checked it just in case and his suspicion came to be true. This meant that the soup was poisoned intentionally. He thought if he should not eat it, but changed his mind.

'If I don't eat this, whoever did this will know that I found out. Nano, can you collect the poison and keep it from spreading over my body?'

[Yes, master.]

After collecting the poison with Nano's ability, Yeowun ate all the soup. And the poison was now extracted this way.

"Aaaaaaargh!"

Hang Yujik screamed in pain and the other three cadets were shocked beyond imagination.

'It is impossible! He kept the poison inside him and sent it out?!'

Pushing out the poison from the body was possible for most experienced warriors who studied in poison art. But doing that while poisoned in such poison that can scatter internal energy was impossible even for Churku who was a member of the Poison Clan.

"H-how can you...!"

"I don't have time to explain."

Yeowun then disappeared and appeared at the back of Bu Yankang. It was so fast that they couldn't even see Yeowun moving. After learning the Step of Wind God, unique walking skill from Great Guardian Marakim, Yeowun had gotten much faster.

“Yankang! Watch out!”

“Dammit!”

Kingpo shouted and Bu Yankang quickly turned around to unleash the defensive blade formation of the Blade of Illusion. But he was given no time, as Yeowun was already on his back. Yeowun’s hand unleashed powerful chop movements and struck on Yankang’s back.

“Ugh!”

Yankang spat blood as he was struck with a total of eight strikes over his back and was thrown away. The power difference in internal energy was too great so he couldn’t defend himself with the energy barrier either.

Bu Yankang who fell on the ground flinched and passed out.

“Just one formation?!”

Kingpo was shocked and began to take steps back. He knew Yeowun was powerful as he fought him while ago, but this was even worse than he imagined.

‘Dammit! I shouldn’t have listened to Churku!’

This was the same as before. Chun Yeowun without being poisoned was a monster himself.

‘I barely got out of the medical room...!’

IT was likely that he will be sent to the medical room again. Even if he wanted to run, Yeowun was too fast that he couldn’t even hope for running away. But Yeowun, without coming after him or Churku, walked over to Bu Yankang instead. But the hostility was weird. Yeowun glared down at Bu Yankang and raised his foot over at Yankang's head.

"W-wait! Chun Yeowun! What do you think you are doing?!"

"You think I will let you go with an arm forever?"

"NO!"

Yeowun stomped and Yankang's head crushed, with blood exploding out from it.

"B-but how...!"

"H-he killed Yankang!"

Kingpo and Churku's face turned pale. They didn't imagine Yeowun will crush a person's head. The level of martial art did not matter here. Kingpo lost energy to stand from terror and slumped down.

"It's your turn now."

Yeowun then turned against them. The terrifying atmosphere came through.

'Is-is he really going to kill us?'

This was different from what Yeowun did until now. He always withdrew from killing other princes, but it seemed he was not going to limit himself anymore. And with Yeowun unleashing his internal energy, Kingpo felt terrifying sheer power that made him give up.

'N-no... I can't run away from him!'

There seemed to be no way to run. But unlike Kingpo who was shivering with fear, Churku who was determined to turn things upside down shouted quickly.

“Y-you are crazy! Are you not afraid of fury from the six clans?!”

“Six clans?”

As Yeowun reached out with his hand, something on the ground brought up, and from Yeowun’s energy controlling it, it hovered over the air and shoot through at Kingpo.

“UGH!”

Kingpo, who was dumbfounded and shaking had something striking into his chest. It was Hang Yujik’s broken sword.

“YOU!”

Kingpo painfully fell to the ground and Churku shouted in fury. Yeowun replied coldly.

“If I was afraid of them, I wouldn’t even start this.”

His eyes had no fear or hesitation. Churku bit on his lips and cursed Yeowun.

“You have made a grave mistake. The six clans will not let you live!”

“...Hah. We’ll see about that.”

And with that, Yeowun’s body charged against Churku.

Chapter 143

Chapter 143: Scheme (5)

After about thirty minutes, Yeowun who took care of four cadets from six clans, quickly ran through to find his members. If what Baek Churku said was true, then it meant his members were in danger. And if Chun Muyun attacks them while Yeowun wasn't with them, then they were not going to easy. Yeowun needed to move fast. And as he moved through, he felt the energy.

'There!'

Yeowun felt many energy sources coming into his direction quickly. And soon, Yeowun found those who ran through toward his direction.

"Master!"

"Prince Chun!"

It was Yeowun's members. With their body steaming with heat from internal energy, it was sure that they have been looking for Yeowun as well. As expected, Yeowun's members have been searching around from the training room, and was now toward the dorm room.

"Ah... you're okay. Thank goodness."

Mun Ku sighed in relief as she checked that Yeowun was safe. Other members seemed they were relieved also.

"Master, are you okay?"

Ko Wanghur asked and Yeowun became confused.

“That’s what I need to ask. Weren’t you guys attacked by Chun Muyeon’s group?”

What Churku had said was not just a bluff. If Yeowun was really poisoned, then it sure was the best chance to get rid of both Chun Yeowun and his members. Ko Wanghur was surprised.

“How did you know that?”

But all of Yeowun’s members were unharmed.

“But it wasn’t an ambush. Members from Chun Muyeon came and offered us to join them.”

“Huh?”

Guk Shin and members from Chun Muyeon’s group did not attack them. They offered them a deal, saying that Chun Yeowun will never become an heir as he wasn’t from six clans, so it was better to follow Chun Muyeon.

‘Ko Wanghur. I heard you are a loyal man. But you must be rational. Even if Chun Yeowun is powerful, he is still under the protection of the Demonic Academy. If he leaves, then he will have to face all six clans and other high-ranking clans. Do you think that is possible?’

‘But Prince Chun Muyeon is a wise man, and will be willing to take you all. Please don’t be a fool and choose Chun Yeowun.’

Guk Shin and Mu Jinyun claimed that Chun Yeowun couldn’t do anything against the might of the six clans. But no one under Chun Yeowun was afraid of six clans. Hu Bong who got angered by these cadets talking down of Yeowun shouted.

‘Bah! Stop giving us that bullshit.’

‘What?!’

‘You think I will still go with the Wise Clan? And you are just calling the name of our Prince, when you should address him as ‘Elder Chun,’ remember? Master Guk?’

Hu Bong spat and both cadets were lost for words. Hu Bong was actually right on that one.

‘...How dare you speak to me like that, weakling from mid ranking clan?’

‘You want to have a go against that weakling then?’

‘What did you say?!’

‘Guk Shin, we aren’t here to fight.’

Guk Shin became angered, but Mu Jinyun stopped him. Ko Wanghur also spoke to them with a frown.

‘Don’t think our master is alone. We are ready to die for him anytime.’

‘...So, ‘Elder’ Chun Yeowun has some men. This makes me more tempted to recruit you, Wanghur. We’ll be waiting.”

Mu Jinyun, who clearly said he didn’t intend on fighting Yeowun just told Wanghur to think it through and left.

“He just left?”

“Yes. They wanted to make us join them, but that’s all they did.”

Yeowun was ambushed, but his members weren't harmed. Yeowun's eye narrowed. It was hard to understand from a simple thought, but...

'Members from four clans ambushed me to kill me, but the ones from Wise Clan only offered to recruit...'

After thinking about it multiple times, Yeowun finally came to the conclusion.

'...It's a scheme.'

Mu Jinyun, after being left alone, was now talking with someone in the training room. It was Chun Muyeon, Prince of the Wise clan. Muyeon's clothes were drenched in sweat from his long day of training. Jinyun spoke to him with a grin.

"I did as you told me, Brother. So no matter what happens to Chun Yeowun, we have nothing to lose! Hahaha!"

"We have to be careful. He endured the Poison Man's poison."

Surprisingly, Muyeon who were said to have entrusted every work to Mu Jinyun, knew what was going around. This was why Muyeon's members were confused. Chun Muyeon was not a type who can give all of his authority, even if the person was his brother. It was especially so at the matter of competition.

"Well, if he dies you will be the winner of the competition. And if he doesn't die, then he will have the anger of four clans. Isn't it?"

If Yeowun were to survive, it was likely that he would not let his attackers go easily. It was attacking four members from each respective clan at once, so it was likely to bring more impact.

“Hahahaha! This is the best scheme!”

Whichever happens, it was a plus. And even if Yeowun was to survive, they had something to say. They can say that the Poison Clan offered them, but they refused to join the dirty tricks. Chun Muyun analyzed his power coldly. He knew that the combined power of his group was still no match for Yeowun and his members. If that was the case, then it was needed to borrow power from others.

“This is truly a strategy! I learn new things from you every time, Brother!”

All of this was a competition. For the Wise Clan, Churku and the other three cadets did their job to hold back Yeowun enough. And with hearing everything, Muyun waved his hand off and spoke.

“You should go now. I’ll return to my training.”

“Yes, Brother. Then...”

That’s when someone pounded on the thick door of the training room. It wasn’t just once.

“Huh?”

The door should have a sign posted outside that said it was in use, so there should be no one pounding. Muyun nodded and Jinyun went to the door and opened it. As it opened, with many torches, Senior Instructor Hou Jinchang revealed himself.

“Instructor?”

But he wasn't alone. There were many other instructors standing outside with their swords out, ready. It seemed they were ready to fight if needed.

"Uh... uh- what's going on?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Jinyun figured out something was going wrong and asked, and turned back to Muyun.

"Hmph. It's good that you two are together."

"Huh? Instructor, I don't follow what you are saying..."

"We have order to arrest both of you and bring you to the Chief's office. I want to do this easy way, so please don't resist."

Hou Jinchang spoke as he also pulled out his sword.

Chapter 144: Scheme (6)

At the back of Hou Jinchang, there were over forty instructors armed and ready. They all looked tense. Chun Muyeon and Mu Jinyun were established grandmaster level warriors. The only one who can fight them one on one was Hou Jinchang. The reason why all of them were brought here was the possibility of Muyeon or Jinyun refusing to be arrested.

‘What is going on?’

Even Chun Muyeon couldn’t understand what was going on. This was first time he was experiencing such happening in three years and sixth month time in academy.

‘If they are armed, then they expected us to resist.’

From the look of the instructors outside, it seemed situation will get worse if he resisted.

“Yes, sir.”

Muyeon then pulled back the sword he held, for his training. With Muyeon taking the order, Mu Jinyun also had to follow his brother.

“Good choice.”

Two of them were then brought out of the training room with over forty instructors circling them. Outside the building, few members from Chun Muyeon’s group looked at two being taken away with dumbfounded look. Within them was also Guk Shin. From the looks of their serious face, it was sure they knew something.

Jinyun quickly sent a telepathic message. Guk Shin then replied with something Jinyun didn't even imagine.

[I-I am not sure exactly. But the instructors are saying that they have found bodies within the academy.]

[What?!]

Jinyun became grim. What was going on? Killing someone within the academy was against the rule, so that should not have happened. And even if bodies were found, why were they being taken away? Jinyun wanted to ask more but he couldn't do it anymore as they were being taken away. When they got to the front of the building, there were two instructors standing at the entrance.

"Instructor Hou."

"I have the suspects. Chief?"

"He's at the site of crime. He told to bring suspects there."

'Suspect?'

Jinyun's face turned grim. He wasn't sure why he was being taken, but it now was sure that Muyeon and Jinyun were being considered as a killer.

"Take us there."

"Yes, sir."

With two instructors leading the way, all of them then turned to the dormitory area of the academy. The place they went were dark alleyway behind the dormitory. There were about twenty instructors there already, and the area was lit up brightly from torches that these instructors held up. Almost all the instructors were now here.

‘Is this the smell of blood?’

The air was cold, but thick smell blood filled the area. At the middle of where twenty instructors were standing, Lee Hameng was looking into something. There was a total of four bodies scattered around.

‘What!’

Jinyun’s eye shook. These were cadets who said that they would ambush Chun Yeowun. It wasn’t sure why they were found as corpses.

‘What happened? Why did they die?!’

“Chief.”

Hou Jinchang spoke and Lee Hameng got up. His face was distorted with fury. Lee Hameng walked up to the group and stood at front of two cadets.

“Master Chun Muyeon. Leader Mu Jinyun.”

“Yes, Chief.”

Chun Muyeon and Jinyun both bowed politely. Lee Hameng spoke to them furiously.

“I’ll cut to the chase. Is it both of you? Or is it just act of one person?”

It was very direct. Jinyun was shocked to hear Hameng’s question on who was behind this. If they were found as bodies, then only one who can be behind all this was Chun Yeowun. But they were the one who was being called suspects.

“C-chief, I am not sure what you are talking about.”

Hameng’s eye raised.

“...So, you will lie.”

“No- we are...”

“Chief.”

Chun Muyeon interrupted Jinyun and spoke.

“Me and Jinyun was in the training room, and was just brought here. We do not know what is going on, so we truly do not know what you are talking about.”

Unlike Jinyun, Muyeon was still keeping calm. Lee Hameng then gestured them to follow him. As they walked through instructors circling around the site, they saw first body with one of its leg melted, and an arm cut off.

‘Hang Yujik?’

It was body of Hang Yujik, from the Lust Clan. The sign of death was from the loss of blood, but his face was turned black that it was sure that he was also poisoned.

‘A poison? Why?’

Jinyun became confused. If the plan worked out, then it should have been Chun Yeowun who should have been poisoned. But it was Hang Yujik who was poisoned instead.

“Did you see it?”

Hameng then brought them over to another body.

‘Kingpo!’

Kingpo, dead with kneeling on the ground, was still had fearstruck face. There were sword penetrated into his chest, which was broken pieces from the sword from the Lust Clan. Just by looking at this, it looked as if Kingpo and Hang Yujik were killed while fighting each other.

‘...Something went wrong.’

Jinyun then realized something had gone terribly wrong. If looking from these bodies, there were no signs of Chun Yeowun killing them.

“Next.”

Hameng then pointed at the body placed at about fifteen steps away.

“UGH!”

Jinyun almost vomited at the sight of the body. Third body had his head half crushed, with blood and brain spilling out from it. But the top clothes of the body were pulled out, and on back of it had eight hand marks over it.

‘....!!!’

Jinyun felt sweat running down his forehead. Chun Muyeon too seemed to have been shocked by the palm marking on the back. There was no way they would not realize what that was.

‘Eighth Formation of the Energy Hand!’

This was one of Wise Clan’s martial art, the Wise Energy Hand fourth formation. They now realized what the situation was.

‘But how can that be...! So, this was why we were considered to be a suspect!’

Chapter 145

Chapter 145: Scheme (7)

The clear sign of the Wise Energy Hand made them become a suspect. But the problem was that they weren't the ones who did this. They had to explain.

"Ch..."

[Stop.]

[Brother?]

Jinyun spoke out that it wasn't them, but Muyeon stopped him from doing that.

[It's a trap.]

[A trap?]

[...There is skillbook for the Wise Energy Hand at the fifth floor of the library.]

[Ah!]

Muyeon was quick to recover from the shock. He was the one who set up this scheme in the first place, so it was apparent as to who was behind killing of these cadets. But he was surprised at two things, as he never saw Chun Yeowun killing ones that attacked him like this.

'So, he don't need to care anymore?'

And second thing he was shocked was that Yeowun had become very cunning. He didn't think Yeowun will take this as a chance to strike back. Just by one formation of the Wise Energy Hand made Chun Muyeon become a suspect.

‘...He is really dangerous.’

If they were to spill the truth, then they had to say that they were related to this whole incident. Muyeon had to explain calmly that he wasn’t involved in any of this.

[I’ll take care of it, so be still.]

[...Okay.]

Muyeon looked down at the body. Luckily, only thing left on the body was palm trace of the Wise Energy Hand.

‘Chun Yeowun, you made a mistake.’

The fifth floor of the library was open for everyone who had passed the fifth test. That meant anyone had chance to learn that skill.

“You saw that? Then off to the last body.”

Lee Hameng then took them to the body at farthest place.

‘Brother is always right... let’s keep calm.’

And Jinyun, who thought he had to keep calm instantly frowned at the last sight of the body.

“W-what is this...?!”

It was dumbfounded. The last body was Baek Churku. He was also unclothed on top part of his body, that had tracing of two formations.

‘....Ha.’

Even Chun Muyeon became grim. On the left chest of Churku, there were tracing of red swollen mark from palms, and from right chest to the stomach, there were sword markings. The reason why both Muyeon and Jinyun was shocked was simple. Left was the fist formation from the Wise Energy Hand and the right sword trace was left by the sword formation of Wise Demon Sword. Muyeon clenched his fist hard.

‘Right... Sword Left Hand...’

This was final step of martial art in Wise Clan, that only the first elder Mu Jinwon and Chun Muyeon had learned within the Wise Clan. Only time that Muyeon showed this was from the battle for yellow tag three years ago, and now it was on the body. Lee Hameng then looked back at Muyeon coldly.

“You have anything more to say? Master Chun?

The Wise Clan was the top clan even within six clans. Mu Jinwon, the first elder, had learned to use two martial art over on both hands, and was ranked second within the cult in terms of power. With both martial art needing to be used on both hands, it was hard to learn this. Even within the Wise Clan, only Chun Muyeon was the one learned this other than Jinwon. Muyeon head showed he had acquired this in front of everyone for the yellow tag three years ago.

‘Right Sword Left Hand?’

Lee Hameng recognized this immediately when he saw the body of Churku. Warrior like Lee Hameng was easy to see what martial art was used to leave the trace.

“So, Master Chun. What do you say?”

Only one who can use Right Sword Left Hand was Chun Muyeon within the academy.

‘What did you really do?’

Chun Muyeon couldn’t focus on what Lee Hameng was saying. He was too shocked and confused at the trap set out from him that he couldn’t even guess.

‘He used the martial art that he just saw once? This is impossible.’

He knew Chun Yeowun was behind this. But how can he remember one formation that Muyeon had shown for brief moment three years ago? That was impossible even for the First Elder Mu Jinwon.

‘...There’s no way out.’

All of this was set up by Yeowun, and it would only make Muyeon look funny if he claims Yeowun have memorized the formation from three years ago and used it. It was so perfectly set out that there were no way out.

“C-chief!”

And with every evidence pointing Chun Muyeon as a suspect, Jinyun lost his cool and broke.

“This is a trap! Master Chun had been inside the training room for the entire day! How can he possibly kill them?!”

It was of course, very true. But even then, there was no way to explain these tracings left on the body. Lee Hameng spoke to Jinyun coldly.

“Trap? What trap?”

“T-that’s...”

If he had to explain, then he had to explain everything that had happened here. This was going to reveal that they were related to these schemes, meaning they will suffer in one way or another.

‘No way. If Brother gets expelled, then Chun Yeowun will become victorious automatically!’

Jinyun gritted his teeth. He had to stop his brother from being expelled at all cost. Jinyun then decided to choose the alternative so that they can suffer less.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Chief! We are not responsible for these deaths!”

“It’s nothing if you don’t have a proof. Instructors, listen!”

“Yes, sir!”

As Lee Hameng tried to order instructors to arrest them, Jinyun quickly shouted.

“Chun Yeowun! I-it’s him! It’s his doing!”

Chapter 146

Chapter 146: Scheme (8)

Muyeon closed both eyes and sighed. He told Jinyun to be quiet, but Jinyun broke at the end. But Muyeon couldn't blame him either, as if he were to be expelled at the crime of killing cadets, then he was going to lose the competition anyway.

Lee Hameng then signed instructors to stop from coming. Jinyun then thought he had gotten a chance.

'I have to explain so that we will look the least involved.'

Lee Hameng looked at him without any word and Jinyun began to explain what had happened, with slight change with it. As these cadets were already dead, he decided to blame all guilt upon them.

"...So, I declined as it didn't seem like a fair competition. Think about it, Chief. What good does it do if we kill them? And if our Master Chun is expelled, then we lose to compete in the competition. We found out they were dead when we came here."

Lee Hameng, who heard the story, looked weird. He didn't seem to raise any question at all. Jinyun then continued on to the next step.

"Please call Chun Yeowun and his cadets and question them! I explained everything! We are innocent!"

Jinyun also had an alibi that he was not involved. He was with Chun Yeowun's members at the time so if they testify that, then it was going to be proof.

“Please!”

It wasn't why Jinyun met with Yeowun's members, but he thought it was fortunate. But Lee Hameng who heard this didn't react to his expectation. He shook his head and spoke dumbfoundedly.

“You think I am a fool?”

“Huh? I'm not...”

“Do you think such nonsense will be enough?”

“What?”

“Who do you think found these bodies?”

“I-isn't it the instructors?”

“Elder Chun, the other Masters, and Squad Leaders found this crime site and reported it to me directly.”

“T-that is absurd!!” Jinyun spat dumbfoundedly. How can one who did this report this, pretending he not done it? Jinyun now became so angry and raised an objection.

“Chief! It's Chun Yeowun, who's the real suspect! Why-”

“Why am I a suspect?”

“Huh?!’

Jinyun and Chun Muyeon then turned to the sound. Through instructors who circled around, Yeowun came between them toward the inside.

‘A criminal came to the crime spot! Is he crazy or reckless?!’

Jinyun was shocked to see Chun Yeowun. But when Yeowun walked in, all instructors bowed at him and shouted.

“Elder Chun!”

“Elder Chun!”

Over seventy instructors all bowed instantly and Jinyun was lost for words. He knew that Yeowun had passed the sixth test and became an elder, but he still thought Chun Yeowun was still the same cadet and a boy born from a mere servant.

“Show your respect.”

Lee Hameng spoke, and two of them became grim. They were bound to do this, but it felt weird. As two of them hesitated, Hameng became furious.

“I told you, to pay respect.”

Muyeon bit his lips and bowed.

“Elder... Chun.”

“Ugh... Elder Chun.”

They didn’t think the day would come when they will have to bow to Chun Yeowun, who they thought was merely a peasant.

‘Dammit!’

But it was how the cult worked. Mu Jinyun brought his head back up and Yeowun looked at him coldly.

“Leader Mu. So, are you saying that Poison, Blade, Lust and Sword Clans set up traps for me and I killed all of them?”

The situation had gone very wrong. If Jinyun were to agree, then it meant that he was saying the elder of the cult was behind the killing. When Jinyun became silent, Yeowun turned to Lee Hameng.

“Chief, can you tell me how these bodies were killed?”

“Of course.”

Lee Hameng snapped his fingers, and instructors gathered bodies into one place. The instructor who brought the body of Hang Yujik began to explain.

“Hang Yujik was cut down of his arm from Bu Yankang’s blade formation, and was poisoned by Baek Churku.”

The instructor who brought Kingpo then spoke.

“Kingpo was killed by Hang Yujik’s sword penetrating into his heart.”

At the two explanations, Chun Muyeon’s eye shook. He just thought this incident was done for Yeowun to blame on Chun Muyeon.

‘No...’

And the instructor who brought Bu Yankang explained further.

“Bu Yankang... had his internal organs damaged from possibly the Wise Energy Hand and his head was crushed, leading to his death.”

And for the last body, Lee Hameng spoke himself.

Hameng then turned to Muyeon, who was reddened, gesturing that Muyeon was the one who was behind this. Yeowun nodded and turned to Muyeon and Jinyun.

“This is strange. So, are you saying I know how to use all these poison art and other martial arts?”

“T-that’s...”

Jinyun was lost for words. No bodies had a trace of any Chun Yeowun’s martial arts.

“From what I can hear, it sounds like five people killed each other while fighting. Isn’t it?”

‘Chun Yeowun...!!!’

Chun Muyeon’s eye became large and glared. After hearing from the sign of death, Muyeon had guessed something and now confirmed that his guess was correct.

‘He’s trying to make the five clans fight each other!!’

He just thought Yeowun did it to push out Muyeon from the competition. But that wasn’t the reason. Yeowun’s real target was not only Chun Muyeon. If these bodies were sent to their respective clans, then each of the clans will think of the killer looking from the tracings. And for Blade and Poison Clans, they will be furious at the Wise Clan who seemed to be behind the killing of their members.

‘...No!’

The scheme that Muyeon had planned had countered and hit him back hard. With this incident, Chun Yeowun successfully removed his last rival at the competition and made all five clans fight with each other. Muyeon had never seen someone with such terrifying strategy aside from his mother, Lady Mu. This was beyond the level of just a simple scheme.

‘....!!!! Chun... Yeo...wun...!!!!’

With everything revealed, Mu Jinyun knew what was now going on but he couldn’t say anything either. They knew the truth but their hands were tied. They couldn’t understand any of these tracings or martial arts used to kill these cadets. It was Chun Yeowun’s perfect victory.

Lee Hameng then ordered the instructors.

“Arrest these two and place them in the prison cave!”

“Yes, sir!”

Chapter 147

Chapter 147: Worth of a heir (1)

In the 500 years of history of the Demonic Academy, it was the first time that members of six clans all died in one night. Bodies were sent to their respective clans the next afternoon. It was sure that the situation will become worse, so the letter was also delivered that suspect Chun Muyeon and Mu Jinyun will be arrested in prison cave until all elders and the Lord returns to the cult.

And at the Chief's office on the first floor, Hou Jinchang and Lee Hameng were talking.

"It was amazing."

Hou Jinchang spoke and Lee Hameng nodded in agreement. These two already knew that the true culprit behind the killing of these four cadets Chun Muyeon nor Jinyun.

"It will be hard to recognize who's behind just by looking at the body."

Even Lee Hameng thought of Chun Muyeon when he saw the tracing left on Baek Churku's body.

'I am curious myself.'

Repeating the same formation just by watching it once was not something anyone, not even warriors of the superior level could do. And Right Sword Left Hand was one of top special skills within the Wise Clan. It was likely that the clans would come to have grudge against themselves from this incident.

'Even the Lord barely had them weakened of their powers.'

As Hou Jinchang said, it surely was amazing scheme. This was only method that can be done within the academy, as there were no other way for these members to gather in one place.

‘The fruit is ripe.’

The fruit that Lee Hameng waited for a long time had now completely ripened. Yeowun couldn’t think straight from his anger before, but now he had earned the cold heart that really befitted his worth.

‘We will now have the true Lord that the Sword Demon waited so long.’

It wasn’t sure how things will unfold from here, but it was likely that all six clans will less care about Chun Yeowun from this. And if five clans were to fight against each other, it meant Yeowun’s plan was successful.

“I guess bodies and letters arrived at each clan now.”

It has been hours since these were sent to respective clans. Hou Jinchang then looked out to the west side of the window and spoke.

“The Poison Clan might make problems soon.”

As for the Poison Clan, they had lost the prince, leader of the clan, and even the future leader of the clan. It wasn’t sure what they will try to do now.

At the mansion located at west of Demonic Cult, there were many leaders of Poison clan all dressed in white mourning robes. These members who were in process of the funeral for their leader Baek Oh who died eight days ago, were looking at the casket that just arrived in reddened eyes.

Inside of the casket, there was the body of Baek Churku, pale without blood. Their fury to see another death in their family even before finishing up the previous funeral made them infuriated.

“Churku! NOOOOOO!”

Lady Jo screamed and wailed in front of the casket of her own son. No one came to comfort her, as all of them just looked at the casket dumbfoundedly. It angered them so much that Baek Munsu, Baek Oh’s eldest son, gritted his teeth and spoke.

“I can’t hold back any longer! I was going to wait until we finished Father’s funeral, but this has gone over the line!”

Now even his son had died. There were no one who can ease Baek Munsu’s anger who had lost his son. Only blood of vengeance was going to ease him.

“Wise Clan...!!!”

All leaders of the Poison Clan knew that it was Wise clan that was behind reason of Baek Oh’s death. Baek Oh, who decided to refuse to accept that the sixth test changed his mind in just one day after Lady Mu from the Wise Clan visited them.

“You are right! We shall not play puppet to them any longer!”

Baek Chau also shouted angrily. Their anger was now focused solely on the Wise Clan. Munsu looked at each of the leaders and shouted.

“We must cut the head of that woman. Only then, we will have our father and Churku rest in peace!”

That woman, meant Lady Mu. All of them remembered what happened eight days ago. On the first day of Baek Oh's funeral, Lady Mu visited them. And to the leaders who knew that it was Lady Mu who changed Baek Oh's mind, Lady Mu taunted them, accusing they weren't doing anything to avenge Baek Oh on Chun Yeowun. Of course, they couldn't forgive Chun Yeowun either and it was the midst of a funeral that they didn't make it any problem, but it had now gone out of the line.

'You have gone too far, Wise Clan!'

Baek Churku's sign of death was from internal damage and sword wound left by Right Sword Left Hand from the Wise Clan. And considering the letter sent by Lee Hameng, the suspect was no doubt Chun Muyeon, the prince of the Wise Clan.

"We have to strike them now!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"I agree. We have to take them out when half of their power is missing."

All the leaders agreed. With the 1st to 8th leaders out of the cult's castle right now, five clans aside from the Poison Clan were missing of their half powers.

"Brother. They will think we will be busy with the funeral for Churku. We must not lose this chance."

"You are right."

Baek Munwung's idea was right. Even Baek Munsu thought it was very reasonable. Munsu then ordered for preparing Churku's funeral and secretly ordered all forces of the Poison Clan to spread around the cult to gather at midnight. They had been weakened severely due to the Lord's oppression in the past three years, but without the first Elder Mu Jinwon, it was best chance for them to wipe out the Wise Clan.

Chapter 148

Chapter 148: Worth of a heir (2)

And at midnight, the time was now two hours past the time when Baek Munsu decided to attack. At the large courtyard of the Wise Clan's mansion, the courtyard that was as twice large as the Poison Clan's, was filled with the smell of blood. There were countless bodies all over the place. The Poison Clan's vengeance had started, but the result was unexpected.

"Kneel!!"

"Ugh!"

Old man with white hair made a middle-aged man fell on his knee. Man wanted to resist, but the powerful energy pressed him down easily. And as torches were lit, the man's face was revealed. It was Baek Munsu, with both of his shoulders drenched with blood. Munsu couldn't raise his head up as he scowled in pain.

'Dammit... how did this happen?'

Baek Munsu gritted his teeth. At the courtyard that was lit up, all bodies had masks over their head. These were warriors from the Poison clan. Among them, were Baek Chau, Baek Munwung, and other leaders. All of them were killed. Munsu was hard to believe on what just happened.

'Monster...!'

Baek Munsu when he was ready, ambushed the Wise Clan's mansion immediately. He thought the Wise Clan would not be ready for any ambush from the Poison Clan. But as they snuck into the courtyard and walked in, they couldn't find anyone. Baek Munsu then realized it was a trap and tried to retreat, but it was too late. Arrows wielding internal energy fired upon warriors of the Poison Clan and killed half of them easily. Right after that, warriors from the Wise Clan appeared and attacked them. Baek Munsu and the other warriors fought valiantly, as they were enraged with anger but the situation turned upside down with the appearance of the old man and woman with a veil over her head.

‘I can’t believe this...!’

Munsu looked up to see the middle-aged woman with a red veil over her face, cleaning her sword of sticky blood. It was Lady Mu, the first wife of the Lord. Munsu thought she was just merely the wife of Chun Yujong, but she killed Baek Chau and Baek Munwung with her own sword. It was an attack of two grandmasters, but they stood no chance. Not many in the cult knew of her true power.

“You... you hid your skill!”

“Oh, so you can still talk? I didn’t hide anything. Nor that I shown to anyone either.”

“You dare...”

But before Munsu can finish, her sword swung, cutting off Munsu’s neck. His head fell to the ground and Mu spat on it.

“I won’t waste any more time talking with you.”

Lady Mu’s sword then began to burn with the smell of blood boiling. All warriors of the Poison Clan had poison within their blood. As Lady Mu raised white qi over her sword, the blood began to boil and let out purple steam and turned sticky.

Mu then cleaned her sword off with a cloth piece and a middle-aged man with a long beard walked up to her.

“Lady Mu, we are finished cleaning off these rats that entered our courtyard.”

“Good. They always play under my expectations.”

Lady Mu knew that the Poison Clan was going to ambush them. After receiving the letter that Chun Muyeon was sent to prison for being suspect of killing others, she guessed this will happen.

“I thought I can use them further... what a shame.”

“But Lady, do you think the Blade Clan will stay quiet?”

Bu Yankang were also claimed to be killed by Chun Muyeon. Lady Mu shook her head.

“Without their elder’s order, they will never come.”

Unlike the Poison Clan who had lost their elder, the Blade Clan still had their elder alive so they won’t be going to move without their leader’s order. It was different from the Poison Clan who had lost so much.

“Yes, sir. Then we will send someone to the academy tomorrow and retrieve the Prince and Jinyun.”

With being a suspect of killing another cadet, Chun Muyeon and Jinyun were going to expelled anyway.

“Hmm... No. Let them be.”

“Huh?”

“Muyeon needs to learn.”

“But we can’t...”

“I know my kid. He became arrogant and was fell to the enemy’s trick. He needs to learn from this. I wanted to teach him that being on the Lord’s seat isn’t easy, so it’s a good opportunity.”

The middle-aged man didn’t speak any further as he knew well Lady Mu wasn’t likely to change her decision.

“Yes, ma’am.”

“But first, we have something to do.”

“Order anything.”

“Find out everything about that dirty peasant. Use every of our power to do it. I don’t care what you need. Starting from the Guard Jang, to all cadets who were expelled. Use everything.”

“Yes, ma’am.”

And when the middle-aged man disappeared, the old man walked up. He was worried about Lady Mu, who seemed calm, but was actually very unhappy ever since she received the letter from Chief of the Demonic Academy.

“Are you okay?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Of course. Hmph. He got on my back this time, so I’ll make him pay. I can’t let him be as he...”

‘He has become too dangerous.’

She didn’t say the last part out loud. Chun Yeowun had reached the superior level and now shown the ability to make a perfect scheme. She was uncomfortable to accept that she had to deal with the Poison Clan by herself because Yeowun had played tricks on them.

‘...He’s not someone Muyeon can deal with anymore. I have to deal with him myself.’

Her face was hidden under the red veil, but her eyes glared ominously through it.

Chapter 149: Worth of a heir (3)

Three days passed after members from four of six clans had died. Starting with the fight between the Poison Clan and Wise Clan, there had been many incidents between six clans that turned the atmosphere around the castle of Demonic Cult to be cold. With the Lord and elders missing from their seats for a long time, all these tensions were just growing further.

There were also changes to the Demonic Academy. With Chun Muyeon and Mu Jinyun imprisoned in prison cave with their internal energy sealed, all members of Muyeon's group were shocked. As they heard that Muyeon was imprisoned because he was being accused as killing members of other clans, they knew that there were no way to win the competition anymore. Those who entered the group to support Chun Muyeon on becoming the Lord left the group. Guk Shin, left hand man of Chun Muyeon tried to stop them from leaving, but he didn't have any option.

'How can you betray our prince!'

'Betray? If Prince Chun Muyeon will not become the heir, how can he support our clans afterwards?'

'Did you forget we are not members of clans affiliated with the Wise Clan?'

'I warned not to fight against that monster, Chun Yeowun.'

Those members supported Chun Muyeon, not the Wise Clan. With fifteen members leaving, Chun Muyeon's group were left with only eleven cadets who were members of clans affiliated with the Wikse clan.

‘We have no choice.’

‘Chun Yeowun controls the entire academy now. There’s nothing we can do.’

‘Ugh... we’ll have to help the Prince once we get out.’

If Chun Muyeon was to be expelled, then they didn’t need to stay within the academy. After realizing they were given no option, they all volunteered to leave the academy. And out of those fifteen cadets who left Muyeon’s group, seven of them came to Yeowun to join him, but none of them were allowed.

‘Why is that? Don’t you need members from high ranking clans to become a heir too?’

‘I don’t need it.’

Chun Yeowun snapped coldly. For Yeowun who valued integrity above all else, he didn’t care for these cadets. And with Yeowun refusing them, these seven cadets were now left with no where to go.

Yeowun’s members all gathered in one place. With two more being added to their group, there were now total of seventeen members. Two who joined were Sama Chak and Yi Sahum. They have volunteered to join Yeowun before Yeowun fought those four cadets so they were accepted.

‘I want to follow you who will become the future Lord.’

‘I know that you need members from high ranking clans. Please take us in.’

‘I refuse.’

‘What?’

With Chun Muyeon being imprisoned, Chun Yeowun was now most likely to become the heir, and five cadets who sided with no one finally came to ask to join Yeowun but they were refused. He didn't want to let those cadets who waited until the last to see who's the right choice. With that said, Sama Chak and Yi Sahum's quick decision was lucky on their part.

"Master! You must take them in!"

Che Takim spoke and a few cadets nodded in agreement. They gathered here to persuade Chun Yeowun. They were telling Yeowun to take those seven cadets who said they will side with Chun Yeowun.

"I understand your position, prince. But you need at least twelve clan leaders from high-ranked clans that agree with your coronation."

Chun Yeowun frowned. After defeating every other candidates, there were one barrier left for Chun Yeowun to become the heir. He needed approvals. This was real reason behind princes requiring to build their forces within the academy. In current group, Chun Yeowun had Ko Wanghur, Bakgi, Mun Ku, Hou Sangwha, Che Takim, Wu Sojung and Sama Chak but that was only total of seven members.

"You just need five more."

This wasn't a issue when only members from six clans competed against each other. They already had many high-ranked clans under them so they didn't need further members but Yeowun did not have any. And it was only two days ago when Yeowun found out that he needed twelve approvals. And if it wasn't for Lee Hameng who told him, he would not have learned it either.

"Master, I agree with Che Takim also."

Hou Sangwha, who didn't raise any objection usually agreed with Che Takim this time. All members who got out of Muyeon's group were from high ranking clans, so no one imagined Yeowun will refuse all of them.

"Master, you must take them in!"

They knew Chun Yeowun was careful in taking in members, but it didn't seem like smart to lose the chance to gain those approvals with such ease. But Chun Yeowun shook his head.

"No. I will choose another method."

"What?"

Yeowun claimed and his members became confused at unexpected declare.

"I am leaving the Demonic Academy today."

"....Whaaaaaaat?!"

All cadets were shocked to hear something they didn't expect. There were still five months left in the academy, so even if Yeowun had passed the sixth test, they thought he will stay for the remaining five months. They all knew that he will immediately stand against six clans moment he leaves the academy.

"Master, don't you think it's dangerous to leave now?"

Members from high ranking clans in Yeowun's group still had tests to go through. It was safer for Yeowun to leave the academy with them.

“And we don’t have all the approvals yet... isn’t it dangerous to...”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“No. There’s another way to be accepted, without having need of 12 approvals.”

Every member turned grim at Yeowun’s word. They all knew what that other way was.

“But that’s...”

That’s when Ko Wanghur smiled and talked to the other members.

“Don’t worry. He’s not leaving alone.”

Chapter 150

Chapter 150: Worth of a heir (4)

“What? Are you leaving too?”

Jin Guuk’s eyes turned wide and he faced Ko Wanghur. He then realized that Ko Wanghur, who always spoke of his opinions, had been silent.

“I’m not alone on that.”

“Hehe. I’m going out too.”

“Mun Ku?”

“I’m going also,” Mun Ku spoke excitedly, and Bakgi also raised his hand to speak up.

‘Wait...’

These were those who had passed the fifth test. Che Takim and Hou Sangwha then turned to Sama Chak who recently joined them, and Sama Chak nodded embarrassingly.

“Yes. I still have more training to do, but I am going off to support Master.”

They already had talked this through with Chun Yeowun. They already had passed the fifth test, and with the sixth test which was almost impossible, it was safe to say that they had finished the academy.

“I’m sorry I have to say this after we all decided.”

Ko Wanghur began to explain to the other members. There were two reasons why Chun Yeowun was leaving the academy. As mentioned earlier, one was to gain more approvals to become the heir, and another was because the Lord and eight elders were missing as they had gone to Wulin. And with the missing five leaders aside from the dead Baek Oh, this was the best time for Yeowun to leave the academy.

“Then we will go together!”

“Yes, we’ll go together!”

Hou Sangwha stated first that she too would leave the academy, followed by the other members. But Yeowun shook his head and told them to stay behind.

“No, you should stay.”

“B-but!”

“I know you all want to support me anywhere I go, but if you really want to help me, then you must finish your training before you leave the academy.”

“Ah...”

Chun Yeowun thought they still had the potential to become more powerful. It wasn’t with everyone, but Ohjong, Jin Guuk, or Machil still had not completely acquired the top ranking martial arts that were given to them before.

‘So, we are not strong enough to be of help to Master yet.’

‘He’s telling us to gain more strength.’

‘...We have to become strong!’

They spent a long time with Chun Yeowun already, so they all understood what Yeowun meant. All of them then decided that they would have to become more powerful for Chun Yeowun's sake and the future that lied ahead of them.

'Hu Bong will be sad.'

Jin Guk turned over to Hu Bong. He brought his down and spirits was shaking it. Hu Bong, the self-claimed best servant of Yeowun, was not allowed to leave with his master so Jin Guuk tried to comfort him for his disappointment.

'Huh?'

That's when Hu Bong shot up from his seat and turned to the cadets who were going to be left in the academy in teary eyes and shouted.

"I-I will support the Master, so don't worry and come out soon!"

"...Ugh."

Ko Wanghur then covered his eyes with his hand and shook his head. He told Hu Bong to stay quiet until they left the academy, and Hu Bong just had to spill it. In Hu Bong's case, he had been insisting on leaving together ever since Chun Yeowun revealed his plan, so Hu Bong was only chosen as an exception. But if Hu Bong spilled it here, then it was likely that the other members would feel left out too.

"What?! Master! How can you do this to us!"

"You told us to stay back, but why are you taking Hu Bong!"

"Didn't you say we should get stronger?"

Needless to say, all cadets burst in objection to Hu Bong. Hu Bong, who now realized his mistake, became dumbfounded.

“...Hu Bong, you take care of this.”

“M-master!”

Chun Yeowun shook his head and left the scene. Hu Bong had to spend hours trying to persuade others.

At a late hour after dinner time, there was a large mansion on the southwest side of the Demonic Cult's castle. It was a bit smaller than that of the mansion of the Poison Clan, and it had a more dark and gloomy atmosphere filled around it, unlike with the other clan's mansions that were lavish and grand. On the large panel outside the gate, it said the Ghost Illusion Clan. There were two guards who stood outside the gate that had white-colored skin masks that only revealed their eyes and nostrils. If one didn't know it was a mask, then it would have made them look like a ghost. Thanks to that, no cultist who lived around the area ever came close to this mansion. And the guards saw people coming in their direction, which wasn't common. They were six young men and woman in their late teens, with one particular person that was the most striking.

‘Hmm?’

One bearded young man was muscular and was about two heads taller than any of the adults. He was the most noticeable one from the distance, but as they got up to the front of the gate, the young man at the front came to be most striking. He had long hair that reached down to his back and a pale white face. He didn't seem like he had any internal energy, but he had sword and blade on his back and waist, proving that he was a martial artist.

‘Who is this guy?’

As a guard, they knew most cultists that lived around the area, so these people were first ones they saw. Guards placed their hands over their swords and asked, “What brings you here?”

The young man with long hair then took out a blue medal from his pocket. The medal was engraved with the number 12 on it.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“T-this is...?!”

Two men’s eyes grew large with shock and they quickly took their hands off from their swords and bowed.

“12th Elder, welcome.”

The medal was proof that one was an Elder, the highest ranking title within the Demonic Cult. The young man who showed the 12th Elder medal spoke to the guards.

“Please let 11th Elder Huan Yi know that Chun Yeowun the 12th Elder is here to meet him.”

Chapter 151

Chapter 151: Worth of a heir (5)

‘So... it’s true that the leader of the Poison Clan really died.’

The guard was really shocked. The death of the Poison Clan’s leader, Baek Oh, was already widely known throughout the cult. When people heard that Baek Oh died from participating in the sixth test of the academy, they were curious as to who this Chun Yeowun was.

‘He’s merely a teenager and already at the superior level...!’

It was hard to believe. This young man in front of him was either equal to or was a stronger warrior than Huan Yi the Thousand Faces. But why was Chun Yeowun, who should still be at the academy, standing here? One of other guards spoke.

“I’ll let the elder know. Can you wait here please?”

“Yes.”

The guard opened a small door on the right next to the giant door and walked in. Hu Bong whispered to Ko Wanghur, “This place is creepy... it feels like a ghost might come out.”

“I know.”

Even Ko Wanghur seemed to grow tense from the creepy atmosphere beyond the small door. He was large and muscular, but he had a weakness for creepy things like this.

‘It’s been a long time... but it’s still creepy.’

Mun Ku visited this place with her grandfather Mun Yun before so she didn't realize it back then, but it was much more creepy than she remembered. Huan Yi was known for his weirdness even among all 12 elders.

'I hope the Prince can persuade him.'

The reason they were here was to get support from Huan Yi. He was the leader of one of the highest ranking clans and few elders along with Mun Yun who did not side with any of the six clans.

'It would've been better if gramps were here.'

With Baek Oh's rank falling down to the 12th rank, Mun Yun's rank had gone up automatically from 9th to 8th, which put him in a spot where he needed to go out of the cult with the Lord. Even if Mun Ku was granddaughter of Huan Yi's friend, it didn't seem like it will help much unless Mun Yun himself came with them.

The sound of someone coming over was heard beyond the giant door. There were two people who came over a small door on the right. One was the guard who walked in to notify the arrival of a guest, and another was handsome man with his hair pinned up. He wore red silk clothes with yellow butterflies sewn on it. It was a man, but he had makeup on his face like a female, and that gave him a feminine look.

'Is there anyone who's normal here?'

Hu Bong almost spoke out loud but he held back. The red-clothed man bowed to them politely and greeted them.

"Greetings. I am Nhu Yayen, advisor of the elders. I heard the 12th elder was here... are you the elder?"

He even talked like a woman. But he was looking at Ko Wanghur, not Chun Yeowun. Ko Wanghur's large body was enough to draw attention from people who saw them first.

"Uh... no. He is my master."

Ko Wanghur pointed at Chun Yeowun. Nhu Yayen then covered his mouth femininely and laughed.

"Oh, I'm so sorry. I have made a mistake. Welcome, 12th Elder."

"I'm Chun Yeowun."

Chun Yeowun bowed without any change in expression. Nhu Yayen then ordered the guards to open the giant door and spoke to Yeowun.

"My master is waiting for you in the guest room. He asks you to join him for tea. Please come in."

"Thank you for greeting us at such an hour."

And when Yeowun tried to go in with his members, guards blocked them. Yeowun narrowed his eyes and turned to Nhu Yayen.

"Oh! My bad. My master only wants to see you alone."

"...They're my people."

"I'm sorry, but Master is very shy person... please be considerate."

He spoke politely, but it was apparent that he wouldn't allow anyone else to enter. But Yeowun was in no place to complain as it was him who needed to ask for a favor here.

“Excuse me, but how can you be sure that my master will not be in danger if he goes in alone?”

Ko Wanghur first voiced out his complaints. Nhu Yayen then smiled and answered, “It’s rare to see a great man like you with such great honor! Rest assured, my master will not be rude against elders of our cult. Hehe... why don’t we do this? I’ll let one person come. I can’t take any more or my master will be angry at me.”

“Hah!”

Hu Bong scoffed dumbfoundedly. It didn’t seem like having one would change anything, but it was better than nothing. As people were not sure of who to go in, Mun Ku volunteered.

“I’ll go.”

She was the only one who had seen Huan Yi, so everyone agreed.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Hmm...”

Nhu Yayen watched Mun Ku weirdly. Soon, Chun Yeowun and Mun Ku followed Nhu Yayen into the courtyard of the Ghost Illusion Clan’s mansion. As they walked past the giant door, they were greeted with the courtyard full of rocks and dolls made from haystacks that had red clothes. All of these dolls also had masks over them which gave a more creepy vibe to the place.

‘What a taste.’

Yeowun thought it was weird from the outside, but it looked much weirder on the inside. As they moved past the small building toward the rear, there was lavishly-decorated guesthouse.

“Master, here’s the guest.”

Chapter 152 - Worth of a heir (6)

Chapter 152: Worth of a heir (6)

Nhu Yayen shouted at front of the guesthouse. There was large table on the open area inside the guesthouse, where seven middle aged man with blue silk clothes were sitting down. They all had same faces.

‘Masks?’

He heard Huan Yi was best craftsman for creating such skin mask, but didn’t think it would be this precise. All of them looked natural and even felt like if they were the same person. As Yeowun got up to the floor, one man sitting on the highest ranking seat got up and bowed.

“Welcome. I am Huan Yi, leader of the Ghost Illusion Clan.”

Mun Ku then became confused. The face wasn’t what she saw before. With the nick name of ‘Thousand Faces,’ it was known that no one other than the Lord saw real face of Huan Yi.

‘What is he doing? I know he was weird but this is...’

Mun Ku heard lot about Huan Yi from her grandfather already. She knew Huan Yi was weird person, but didn’t think he will do something weird in the first visit.

[Prince, his face is different than last time I met.]

Mun Ku sent telepathic message but Yeowun didn’t respond and just bowed.

“I am Chun Yeowun, new 12th elder.”

“I know. Come on and sit down. We’ll talk while we drink some teas.”

The table was filled with sweet snacks and hot teas. Mun Ku then looked at Huan Yi suspiciously and bowed.

“Long time no see, Uncle Huan. I’m Mun Ku from the Demon Dragon Clan.”

At Mun Ku’s introduction, one of the man who was sitting down with Huan Yi’s face slightly turned to look at Mun Ku. But Huan Yi who greeted himself to Yeowun looked back as if he had seen Mun Ku for first time. But the word that came after relieved Mun Ku.

“Oh! Long time no see. Was it before you entered the academy, that we met with Mun Yun? So you’ve been taking good care of it, I see.”

“Oh! Yes. You remembered, uncle.”

Mun Ku’s face brightened at that.

[He sure is Huan Yi!]

Only person who knew she was wearing a mask was Huan Yi the Thousand Faces who created the mask.

‘Hmm...’

But unlike Mun Ku’s relieved telepathic message, Chun Yeowun didn’t seem all that satisfied. Huan Yi then offered Yeowun to sit down.

“What are you doing? Come sit down.”

“Can I ask you something first?”

“What is it?”

“Do you know why I came here to meet with you?”

Mun Ku became surprised as Yeowun brought up the question already. Unlike her thought, that he will talk with Huan Yi to create good mood before going into the important matter, Yeowun just brought it up directly. And at the question, Huan Yi answered casually.

“Of course. You came to take my medal.”

And surprisingly enough, Huan Yi too knew why Yeowun had visited him. There were two ways to become the heir of the throne. One was to have clan leaders of twelve high ranking clans to support him. And another was to be approved by three current elders. The proof of such approval was to receive the medal. By giving this medal to the candidate, it meant the elder had acknowledged the prince as a rightful heir and pledged allegiance.

“So... you knew then.”

“You, who have come victorious over at the competition, come out of the academy and visits me... will there be other reason?”

Huan Yi was able to guess that Yeowun would not have come straight to himself if Yeowun had found twelve supporters already. This was best time for Yeowun to persuade other elders, while the Lord and elders from six clans were missing.

“Good. Then I will not talk to you as an elder. I request to be treated as candidate to the heir.”

This meant much. As an elder, they were equals but as for a candidate, it meant that Yeowun was here to receive support from Elder Huan Yi. Huan Yi then smiled and spoke.

“I’ve been treating you as such from the beginning.”

“Pardon?”

“Didn’t you know? Elders are allowed to test the person if he is worthy to receive the medal of allegiance.”

“Meaning?”

“I am already testing you if you are worthy to the throne.”

Huan Yi had been waiting to meet Chun Yeowun, a candidate not from six clans since long time ago. Candidate who had passed the sixth test in 70 years. He was also very curious as to what kind of man Chun Yeowun was, who had defeated Baek Oh the Poison Man who was known for his ability to kill.

“I want to test you regarding two things. One is to see your perception. I was going to give you some time by drinking tea, but since you dive right into the topic, I’ll get to mine too. Can you find the real Huan Yi in this place?”

Huan Yi then pointed at other six men sitting down next to him. There were total of 7 Huan Yi’s here.

‘Huh?!’

Mun Ku frowned. All seven Huan Yi had almost equal power and energy that was hard to differentiate one from another.

‘This is too difficult.’

And the mask that Huan Yi created was too detailed that even wrinkles to the beard was exactly same that it was impossible to tell the difference.

‘I trained years for such charade, not to mention about the mask. No one will recognize this me.’

It was definitely enough to have confidence in the test.

“I won’t make you just pick right now. We can drink some tea and take time to...”

“I found you.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“What?”

Chun Yeowun was looking at somewhere. But the person he was looking wasn’t among seven Huan Yis sitting down at the table.

“Huh?”

The person Yeowun was staring at was Nhu Yayen, standing toward the entrance of the guesthouse.

Chapter 153 - Worth of a heir (7)

Chapter 153: Worth of a heir (7)

“Huh? Me?”

Nhu Yayen widened his eyes and pointed at himself. He was a man, but had red silk clothes with butterfly patterns and make ups that made him hard to be imagined to be one of 12 elders of the Demonic Cult.

[Prince Chun. Didn't Uncle Huan... I mean the Elder asked you to find him among these people?]

Mun Ku quickly sent the telepathic message to Yeowun. Huan Yi pointed at six people sitting down around him. It was hard to recognize who was the real Huan Yi here, but Mun Ku was suspicious of the man who turned slightly at her while ago to be the real Huan Yi. She was going to let him know after spending some time, but she didn't expect Yeowun to appoint someone entirely out of context.

“Hmmm... this is shocking. I didn't think you will say I am the master.”

Nhu Yayen frowned as he touched on his lips. Chun Yeowun then pointed at seven Huan Yis sitting down on the desk.

“Elder Huan told me to find him while pointing at these people, but he just said to find him in ‘this place’ when he spoke. He didn't say real him was within these seven people.”

“OH!”

Mun Ku then reminded what Huan Yi had said also.

‘Can you find real me in this place?’

Thinking about it now, Mun Ku didn’t remember Huan Yi saying he was among those people. But that was too far fetched to think Nhu Yayen was Huan Yi.

“But that’s not enough to be a proof. Aren’t you throwing away your chance with such quick decision?”

Nhu Yayen shook his head and spoke but Chun Yeowun smiled.

“There is easier way to find out.”

“Easier way?”

“Please excuse my rudeness.”

“What?”

And at that moment, Chun Yeowun bolted out like lightning toward Nhu Yayen. His hand that wielded blue force qi of blade struck down on Nhu Yayen’s neck, trying to cut it down. It was so quick to dodge it.

“Ah-!”

Mun Ku’s eye enlarged. Nhu Yayen, who should have been only an advisor, stood in his place and created blue force qi over his hand to block Yeowun’s attack. Yeowun smiled and spoke to Nhu Yayen.

“Will you still say you are not Huan Yi?”

“...This is unexpected.”

Huan Yi the Thousand Faces’s test. It was test that was actually set up to be almost impossible. No one other than the Lord has seen Huan Yi's real face. Not even Mun Ku, daughter of Huan Yi's friend had saw Huan Yi's real voice or face. It was impossible to find out the real answer when they didn't even know what the answer was. Huan Yi had weird personality. The reason of the first test was to have Yeowun become surprised and look at his reaction to it, not to make him find the answer. He was going to be satisfied if Yeowun calmly tried to find the answer. But he didn't expect Yeowun will really find him.

"How did you know?"

When Nhu Yayen revealed his power, the entire air around the courtyard was filled with strong power that pressed down. Even Mun Ku, super master level warrior had shivered from the energy. It seems the internal energy had dark energy that made it feel creepy.

"You wouldn't say you just picked one, wouldn't you?"

"It was telepathic message."

"Telepathic message?"

Yeowun remembered while ago. When he first saw Nhu Yayen, he didn't even think he was Huan Yi, as Nhu Yayen hid his energy perfectly. His feminine action also played a part too. But when Yeowun saw seven Huan Yi up on the table, he felt something was strange. Huan Yi, who had been talking naturally, began to speak with some time after being questioned, after Mun Ku introduced herself.

'Why is he doing that?'

Yeowun who thought it was weird, then noticed Mun Ku's neck shaking faintly when she sent telepathic message to him. Yeowun then changed the subject quickly so that fake Huan Yi cannot react. And as expected, the Huan Yi that spoke with him took some time to answer.

‘No one... is shaking on their neck.’

Yeowun who thought if his guess was wrong, thought maybe it was possible to send telepathic message even without shaking the neck and asked Nano.

‘Nano, can you find out how the sound is made, when Mun Ku sent me that telepathic message? On how it works?’

He only asked just in case, but unexpected answer came back.

[It is possible. Detected different frequency of vibration. Adjusting it to make user able to hear it.]

With Nano’s word ending, Yeowun had weird faint whistling sound coming through his ear, and heard something he had not heard until now.

[I’ve been treating you as such from the beginning.]

When the voice heard, the Huan Yi on the table spoke the same thing.

“I’ve been treating you as such from the beginning.”

Chapter 154 - Worth of a heir (8)

Chapter 154: Worth of a heir (8)

‘Oh!’

Someone was talking in telepathic message and Huan Yi was just copying it through his mouth.

[Didn’t you know? Elders are allowed to test the person if he is worthy to receive the medal of allegiance.]

“Didn’t you know? Elders are allowed to test the person if he is worthy to receive the medal of allegiance.”

He now knew why none of seven Huan Yi’s neck was shaking. It was because none of them were sending telepathic message. The message was clearly coming from the back, at the entrance of the guesthouse.

‘Wow... so I can tap into telepathic messages!’

It was more shocking that Nano can hear other people’s telepathic message. But Yeowun couldn’t explain that Nano’s ability made him tap into telepathic message, and he didn’t need to reveal this either.

“You have been taking time to answer ever since Mun Ku introduced. I thought someone might be sending telepathic message then.”

“?!”

“But I saw no one among these seven people was shaking their neck to send the telepathic message. Then it meant there was only one who can sent the message.”

“Oh...”

Nhu Yayen's face turned weird. He had recognized Mun Ku moment he saw at the giant gate in front of the mansion. It was the mask he made himself, so there was no way he would not recognize. He didn't plan on taking other people, but changed his mind.

‘No. Let's use her.’

If Mun Ku was here to help Yeowun, then he thought Mun Ku will try to help Yeowun on trying to figure out who was the real Huan Yi. So, if he fools Mun Ku, only one acquainted with Huan Yi, Nhu Yayen thought it would make more hard for Yeowun to find him.

“I allowed her to join in, to make it more confusing but it actually worked against me. You are amazing.”

Nhu Yayen accepted Yeowun's perception on the matter. He didn't think a teenager just before adulthood can think it through this rationally. Nhu Yayen then smiled femininely at Yeowun, still with his force qi blocking Yeowun's force qi and spoke.

“I am Huan Yi, the leader of Ghost Illusion Clan.”

“I'm Chun Yeowun.”

“You passed the first test, so shall we move onto the next?”

“What's the second test?”

“We are the Demonic Cult. If you want my approval, prove yourself with your power as a martial artist.”

And at that moment, Huan Yi's hand released strong power and threw Yeowun's hand to the back.

'He's powerful.'

Yeowun tried to react quickly, but Nhu Yayen's hand created many shadows as he charged in. Yeowun blocked it with Butterfly Dance blade, but he was struck from quick kick onto his chest and was thrown out to the yard front of the guest house.

"Ugh!"

And as he set down on his foot, The energy that came into him through the kick was sent out of his body, and the ground that he set his foot cracked.

"Prince!"

Mun Ku shouted in shock. She thought Huan Yi was strong as he was one of 12 elders, but she couldn't even follow Huan Yi's movement as he was too fast. Huan Yi walked out of the guest house and came over to Chun Yeowun.

"I figured we might damage the guest house if we fight in there."

'Art of Ghost Spirits'

Yeowun remembered the formation that Huan Yi just performed. It was the formation of the Art of Ghost Spirits that Yeowun saw at the fifth floor of the library at Demonic Academy. Difference was that it was more precise and had fixed many of its problems from that of the library.

'So, even if I think it's the formation I saw at the library, I shouldn't think it is the same thing.'

Martial artist with such power was sure to increase and evolve his martial art over time. Yeowun became serious and Huan Yi smiled.

“I looked forward to this after I heard you beat the Poison clan leader. That old man walked with a staff, but he was a real monster.”

Huan Yi had never fought against Baek Oh himself, but he saw Baek Oh's power multiple times at the war. Huan Yi was strange man, but he too was martial artist. He couldn't fight Baek Oh as they were same elder,s but he had imagined of fighting Baek Oh many times. But even after trying many times, the result of his imagination was always losing to Baek Oh.

‘If you defeated him, you can be my alternative.’

He wanted to test through Chun Yeowun. If he was going to defeat Yeowun, then it meant he overcame Baek Oh too.

“I heard that you are skilled in blade? And that you were taught by Right Guardian Submeng?”

And as he spoke, one of fake Huan Yi from the table came up and gave red blade to Huan Yi. As he pulled it out, decorated blade revealed itself. It was created with cold steel, that colored in dark metal. It looked like very fine weapon.

“Good. My specialty is with the blade too.”

Chapter 155 - Worth of a heir (9)

Chapter 155: Worth of a heir (9)

Huan Yi's martial art was Ghost Illusion Blade. Yeowun was surprised as he knew that the Art of the Ghost Spirit was not the strongest martial art of the clan. It was long time since Yeowun fought warrior using blade skill. But unlike Chun Yuchan who Yeowun fought back then, Huan Yi was much more powerful.

Yeowun then pulled out White Dragon Blade. As the white blade revealed itself, Huan Yi grinned.

"That is amazing blade. This will be a good fight. Do your best like when you fought old man Baek Oh."

Huan Yi then charged at Yeowun. As his hand flashed, the blade unleashed countless tracings as it came down upon Yeowun.

"Hah!"

Yeowun then unleashed the second formation of Butterfly dance blade to defend himself. The White Dragon Blade quickly spun and struck against Huan Yi's blade.

With powerful force qi wielded around two blades collided against each other, large sound of metal clashing spread through. It was so large that even members of Chun Yeowun was able to hear it. Ko Wanghur frowned and complained to the guard.

"What's happening inside?!"

"We wouldn't know."

Guards were staying outside the gate, so they had no way to find out either. But the sound of metal clashing was certain that people were fighting inside. Yeowun's members who thought something happened to Yeowun couldn't stay back anymore. Baekgi walked forward.

"We'll have to go in."

"No, you can't- ARGH!"

Guards tried to stop him but it was no use. Baekgi instantly kicked them made them pass out and walked in. Sama Chak mumbled with a frown.

"Can we do this?"

Even if this was emergency, they were still at the mansion of 11th elder of the Demonic Cult. Bursting in by defeating guards like this was same as challenging the Ghost Illusion Clan itself.

"Master might be in danger. Who cares about that!"

Hu Bong spoke and ran in.

"Master's safety is first. Let' sgo."

"Y-yeah, okay."

Ko Wanghur also ran in and Sama Chak had to follow them too.

And at the yard in front of the guesthouse, Chun Yeowun and Huan Yi was already fighting through ten formations. Both of them used very fast blade formations that made Mun Ku who watched to become dizzy.

'So, this is fight between supreme level warriors.'

The yard had full of damage from blades. If they fought inside the building, then it surely would have destroyed the place.

‘He’s strong. To be this strong at such age... but this isn’t enough to kill Baek Oh.’

Huan Yi was astonished by Chun Yeowun, but he thought it wasn’t enough. He heard from Sama Yi that Yeowun had defeated Baek Oh with tremendous power, but it didn’t seem like Yeowun was at that level.

“This won’t be enough to receive my approval!”

Huan Yi shouted disappointingly as he struck his blade against Yeowun. But Yeowun didn’t seem to budge. There had been many who taunted him in the academy, and if he were going to be taunted, he would not have survived until today.

‘I can’t overpower him with Butterfly dance blade.’

Huan Yi, who had hands on experience in battle saw Right Guardian fighting many times, so he knew weakness of Butterfly dance blade that made him harder to defeat with using of that skill. Yeowun needed to show his best.

‘Then should I try it?’

Sword Force of the Sky Demon was very similar to the Sword Art of the Sky Demon so there was no way for Huan Yi to not know what it was. Then two best martial art that Yeowun had was left with two. Counter sword skill – Twenty Four Demon Sword or the Blade skill from Blade God. Yeowun chose the latter.

When Yeowun quickly took steps to put distance, Huan Yi became surprised. Yeowun's stance had changed entirely from that of Butterfly dance.

'Huh? What is this?'

Huan Yi who had many experiences never saw such stance. But there was no way for warrior like Chun Yeowun to use weak martial art, so Huan Yi calmly sent energy into his blade. Yeowun warned at Huan Yi with quiet voice.

"I might not be able to control it. Make sure you defend it with all of your power."

"Huh?"

At that moment, Chun Yeowun charged in with powerful manner unlike before.

'W-what is this?!'

Huan Yi quickly unleased the last formation of his blade skill to defend himself. With two blade striking against each other, loud sound of metal clashing filled the area. But Huan Yi frowned. His rapid blade movements were countered from Yeowun's blade that came from weird angles.

'What formation is this?!'

Huan Yi was talented blade user who knew that such weird angle of blade usage will destroy the user's muscle. But Yeowun was managing to do it easily. Huan Yi tried to defend the blade as much as he can, but the power that wielded in Yeowun's blade was so powerful that it made Huan Yi lose his grip over his blade. But Yeowun still had last of his formation on the blade.

‘N-no!’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

And as the last movement struck down at him, Huan Yi became frightened and closed his eyes. Large sound of explosion struck his ears. Huan Yi, who feared for his life became tense and his face were drenched with sweat, sending down his make ups with it.

“Ugh... hu....”

Huan Yi panted and opened his eyes. The White Dragon Blade that came down at him as if it would cut him in half was pushed down next to him. The last movement that Yeowun struck down with the blade had cut through the ground and even to the wall. It was beyond shock to see such power that Huan Yi had lost for words.

‘He... is really a monster.’

Chapter 156 - Worth of a heir (10)

Chapter 156: Worth of a heir (10)

Bakgi quickly found where the sound of metal clashes coming from. It was beyond the small building to the right after the main courtyard. Bakgi quickly tried to ran toward the place, but he had to stop in few steps. Man with blue silk clothes suddenly appeared and attacked Bakgi. It was an ambush, but Bakgi was quickly able to counter back with his kicks. After fighting against each other for one formation, two of them distanced themselves from each other. Middle aged man looked surprised at Bakgi, a young man with such power. But the young man shouted right after.

“Young man. How dare you break into this place?!”

And at that word, over fifty warriors with black clothes and arms came out of the building and tried to circle them.

“Bakgi!”

Hu Bong, Ko Wanghur and Sama Chak then followed and placed their back at Bakgi’s back.

“Hmm. This is what I expected.”

Sama Chak mumbled as he pulled out his sword. He busted in, thinking Yeowun was in danger but there was no way highest ranking like Ghost Illusion Clan would not be ready for any intruder. All warriors with black clothes had two daggers in their hands with similar mask as those guards, but their faces were like distorted monsters.

“IT’s creepy.”

Hu Bong spoke as he readied in Sword of Illusion. The creepy mask made enemies to feel scared. But even without that, all of these warriors seems to be they were highly skilled warriors.

“Four of you... what clan are you from that makes you so rude?”

Middle aged man with blue silk clothes shouted with anger. If the mansion wasn't inside the cult, they would have defeated these young men already, but this was inside the cult, where everyone was a cultist.

“You people first...”

“Wait a second.”

Bakgi, who was frustrated at these people blocking their way while their master was in danger, but Ko Wanghur stopped him.

‘We can't make more problem.’

Ko Wanghur then brought out two medals from his pocket and showed it to them.

“Huh?”

One was the medal that proved him as a Master rank within the cult, and one was the medal that said ‘Demon Fist’ which showed what clan he was from.

“I am Ko Wanghur from Demon Fist clan.”

“Demon Fist?”

Demon Fist clan was known for being powerful fist user and one of high ranking clan. The middle aged man spoke with frown.

“Are you son of Ko Wanghen?”

“Yes, sir.”

“A son of high ranking clan busting into another clan’s mansion at this hours? Did your father teach you to do such thing?”

It didn’t feel good to hear the man talking about his father, but Ko Wanghur responded calmly.

“I’m sorry, but we thought something had happened to our master who entered here while ago, so we had to come in.”

“Master?”

“It’s Prince Chun Yeowun, the 12th Elder.”

At the name, man became surprised. The name Chun Yeowun was most famous within recent days. There were no one who have not heard of the name of man who passed 6th test of academy, and son of the Lord who was not from six clans.

‘Was the guest while ago, prince Chun Yeowun then?’

The man’s name was Ou Gung, one of leader of the Ghost Illusion clan. He thought the guest was just one of Huan Yi’s acquaintance when Huan Yi himself went out to meet him, but it seems Huan Yi, the weird leader had done something again. Ou Gung also heard the swords clashing against each other. The sound was enough to prove that whoever fighting was at equals.

‘Why is the leader fighting against Prince Chun Yeowun?’

Ou Gung became curious and Ko Wanghur spoke to him.

“There is problem with our master, so how can we, as a servant just wait outside? Please allow us to see what is going on inside.”

Ko Wanghur was right, but this was home of the Ghost Illusion clan. Ko Wanghur and his friends were not allowed to walk freely.

“I’m sorry, but we cannot interfere with what our leader do.”

And when Ou Gung spoke, fifty warriors blocked the way to the guesthouse. They were given no choice. Ko Wanghur, who figured there was no time to waste, clenched his fist and readied. Ou Gung also raised his energy to ready and gave final warning.

“You are young men, so I will warn you last time. If you fall back now, I will tell our leader to not harm Prince Chun Yeowun and...”

But before Ou Gung can finish speaking, a tremendous energy that even made them become chilled came out from the guesthouse. Everyone turned to the direction and at that moment, the wall that covered the guest house struck down, with blue force qi shooting out from it, leaving clear mark even at outside of the wall.

“L-Leader!”

Ou Gung and warriors of Ghost Illusion clan figured something bad had happened and quickly ran into the guest house.

“We should go too!”

Ko Wanghur, Bakgi, Sama Chak and Hu Bong then took this chance to follow into the guesthouse. And when they ran in, they saw warriors of Ghost Illusion clan standing with shock.

“Ah-ah!”

They gasped with astonishment. They saw Chun Yeowun standing with his White Dragon Blade, and Nhu Yayen with one of his knee on the ground, giving something to Yeowun. It was the medal that proved to be 11th elder.

“11th Elder, and Leader of Ghost Illusion clan. Huan Yi accepts Prince Chun Yeowun as the rightful heir to the throne. Please take this as my proof of allegiance.”

‘He wasn’t an advisor!’

Members who didn’t know Nhu Yayen’s true identity was shocked. And from looking at the destroyed yard, they realized Chun Yeowun had won the duel against Huan Yi. Hu Bong grinned and spoke to Ou Gung, who was looking at his leader dumbfoundedly.

“Hehe, thak you. So, I guess no harm did come to our master then.”

Chapter 157 - Worth of a heir (11)

Chapter 157: Worth of a heir (11)

After everything had been settled, a new tea table was set up at the guest house. This time, even Chun Yeowun's members were allowed to enjoy the warm tea inside. Huan Yi, who had his make up erased from the sweat, returned with new make up. But even this face, was still a mask, not his real mask. The reason why Huan Yi covered his face with a mask was because his clan was one of covert operatives of the cult. For this reason, Huan Yi who was leader of such group was allowed to never show his face other than the Lord himself.

"If you become the future Lord, then I will show you my real face."

"...Understood."

Maybe this feminine act was also result of fake identity. Chun Yeowun, who was sitting at the highest ranked seat on the table, asked to Huan Yi on his right.

"Is Huan Ya not your real son?"

"Oh... so you knew then."

Yeowun actually thought it was better to meet with Huan Ya and persuade him to join, instead of meeting with Huan Yi himself. Huan Ya, who looked hideous, never joined anyone.

'A mask?'

With Nano, Yeowun was able to see right away that Huan Ya had a mask over his face. But Chun Yeowun did not care how Huan Ya looked anyway, so he offered Ya to join him.

Huan Ya did shown some interest, but he refused in the end. He insisted that he needed his leader's consent to side with anyone. And while they talked, Huan Ya always said his father as his leader. Yeowun then thought it weird that Huan Ya cannot choose his own master and gave up on recruiting Huan Ya. That's why he had to visit Huan Yi himself.

"I can't have a baby."

"What?"

Yeowun became confused and Huan Yi covered his mouth and explained embarrassingly.

"Our clan's unique breathing skill... Yin of the Ghost have too much energy of Yin that requires us to castrate at young age."

"Hiiiek!"

Hu Bong and Ko Wanghur glanced down at their own genital area and frowned.

'W-what?!'

Mun Ku also became blushed and flapped her hand as if she was hot. It seems Huan Yi's feminine action was from being castrated, not with his intention. Also with the Yin of the Ghost, it gave more feminine energy into the body that makes user become more feminine. Huan Ya covered himself with a mask since young age to distance from others due to this reason.

"So, our clan always require us to adopt a son. It's actually more like a teacher and apprentice."

Yeowun nodded. Huan Yi never revealed this to others than the Lord, but he liked Chun Yeowun so he explained this.

“You all should forget what you have heard today.”

And that only applied to Chun Yeowun. Hu Bong became tense at authoritative sound. Huan Yi then relaxed his face and turned to Ko Wanghur with alluring look and smiled.

“Our trusty, Master Ko Wanghur is allowed.”

“...I’ll stay quiet too.”

Ko Wanghur became tense in another way. And as they talked while drinking tea, Huan Yi suddenly became curious and asked Mun Ku.

“So, when are you going to reveal it?”

“Huh?”

“...You are out of the academy now, so...”

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaah! U-uh, we will go to Demon Dragon Clan when my gramps comes back, so I-I’ll talk then.”

Mun Ku quickly stopped Huan Yi from talking. Only one who knew her real gender among these people were Chun Yeowun. There was reason to keep it secret when they were at the academy, but she too knew that there was no more reason for her to keep it a secret from his members. But it felt embarrassing to reveal to others now, so she was postponing it.

“Hahaha, okay. I understand.”

And when they finished the tea time, Huan Yi offered to Yeowun and his members.

“If you are okay, you can stay at our guesthouse for a while if you’d like/”

He knew that Yeowun had no clans to stay for now, so he offered it as so. Yeowun needed place to stay while staying away from six clans. It was thankful for such offer.

“Thank you so much for your hospitality. If it is okay, can we take one more person...?”

“Of course.”

Huan Yi agreed. When coming out of the academy, Chun Yeowun wanted to return to his old home and meet with Guard Jang, but he had to come to this place first. Huan Yi told Yeowun that he’ll fetch Jang by sending someone, but Yeowun said he’ll go himself. He wanted to visit his old home too.

Chun Yeowun then went toward the southern side of the Demonic Cult where his original home was at. He thought lot of things might have changed, but his home was still clean. Guard Jang used to wake up early in the morning and cleaned up the yard after his morning practice was done.

‘He’s still the same.’

He had stayed at the small house with Guard Jang until he was 15 years old. Guard Jang was like a parent to him. Yeowun became excited to see Guard Jang in a long time and quickly opened the gate and walked in.

‘So, this is where he grew up... hehe.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Mun Ku and other members followed him in with curious look. But Chun Yeowu, who walked into the yard, was just standing there with grim look.

“Prince?”

Chun Yeowun was looking at Guard Jang’s room with shaking eyes and mumbled.

“I don’t feel anyone inside.”

Chapter 158 - Into the snake's mouth (1)

Chapter 158: Into the snake's mouth (1)

“Huh?”

Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku, Bakgi, And Sama Chak also were super master level warrior so they opened their detection sense and felt it but surely there were no one in. It was either of two. It was either one was really powerful warrior who can hide, and another was that the house was really empty. Yeowun quickly opened the Guard Jang's room but it was empty.

‘What is this? He's not here at this hour?’

It was bit after midnight, so Jang should have been asleep. It was not time for him to be walking around. The room still had Guard Jang's stuff init, so it was sure that he still lived here, but it was weird.

‘No heat...’

Yeowun then realized there was no heat in the room. It was cold winter, so Jang would have heated the house with a pit stove at t he kitchen, but there was no heat. It seemed the house had been empty for at least three or four days. When Yeowun went out, all of his members who checked other rooms came out with disappointed look.

“There's no one, master.”

They can see that Chun Yeowun was not pleased from this and Hu Bong reported calmly.

“Prince, maybe Guard Jang had went to visit somewhere? Like his own clan?”

Mun Ku asked just in case, but Yeowun shook his head. He heard that Guard Jang was an orphan who had no home.

‘Let’s be calm... let’s look this through.’

Yeowun then came out of the yard and looked at the ground. He first thought the yard was cleanly swept that it had no problem, but if Guard Jang was empty at this hour, it meant there had been something that happened.

‘This is weird. It’s too clean.’

There was no person, but it was weird to see entire house cleanly organized. If there was trace of any fight, he could have guessed from there, but there was no trace of anything.

Yeowun bit on his lips and looked around but it was too hard to find. It seems any trace were erased intentionally. If that was the case, it was someone who had planned it for long time. Yeowun then ordered Nano.

‘Nano, scan the entire house and find any mark of someone breaking in or fight.’

[Yes, master. Scanning every visible area of the house.]

With Nano’s voice, Yeowun saw white light scanning through the entire house. And after a while, Nano’s voice spoke to him.

[Activating augmented reality over user’s sight.]

And on Yeowun's eyes, a red dot was placed over at where Yeowun was seeing, with white lines and writings describing on it.

'Oh.'

The dot was located on above the pillar, right above the cornerstone of the house. It was toward the bottom that Yeowun did not know at first, but he found something that looked like a sword mark on it.

'Sword?'

It was more like a trace left by sword qi. If there were more, then it would have allowed him to figure out what formation it was used, but this was too faint. Even Nano couldn't analyze what it was.

"A sword mark? Hmm..."

Ko Wanghur moaned as he checked the mark with the torch light. It seemed Guard Jang was ambushed. Problem here was if Guard Jang was alive or not. Chun Yeowun became grim as he began to think something had happened to Guard Jang who raised him. He was more grim then any time he had been in the academy.

"If it's a sword, then we can narrow down who's behind this."

Sama Chak looked at the sword marking and spoke to Yeowun. Everyone here knew who Yeowun's enemies were.

"There are three clans who use swords among six clans."

Sword clan, Wise clan and the Lust clan used swords. Lust clan wasn't technically best at the sword, but they still used it. Ko Wanghur also nodded agreeingly.

“I guess they have erased most of the trace. It looks like they’ve planned this through.”

Even with Nano’s scan, it was only possible to find one tracing left.

‘Which clan is it?’

Yeowun tried to narrow it down, but all three clans seemed very likely to do this. As with Sword and Lust clan, Yeowun had cut down their prince and princess’ arm off, so they must be angry at him.

‘Should I remove Wise clan from the suspect list?’

He had made him suspect as a killer, but there was no way for Wise clan to know that it was work of Chun Yeowun. And with Chun Muyun and Mu Jinyun arrested, and with other four clans being hostile, it seemed it was not likely that Wise clan will do something like this. But Yeowun felt like he had to be suspicious of the Wise clan.

‘What should I do?’

As Chun Yeowun thought, Hu Bong made an idea.

“Master, why don’t we search each clans? I heard Lord and elders are not back yet, so it might be easy to sneak in.”

He was offering to attack while Lord and Elders were not here. Sama Chak answered.

“That’s not easy as you think. You cannot underestimate power of six clans even without their leaders.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Ghost Illusion clan, who was not one of six clans too quickly reacted to intruders. If Yeowun and his members needed to search the entire mansion, then it was hard for them to be not noticed.

“Sama Chak is right. Hu Bong, there’s reason why six clans rule our cult. And for these people who did such thing, they must be standing heavy guard at.... Oh! Master!”

Ko Wanghur then struck up a good idea while talking.

“Master, why don’t we do this?”

Chapter 159 - Into the snake's mouth (2)

Chapter 159: Into the snake's mouth (2)

And the day had passed. At dark, swampy place, there were just one candle that lit up the place. The room was covered with iron bars that it was only possible to be opened from outside. Inside of the cell, smell of blood filled the entire room. And on the wall, there was man bound by chain on both of his arm, hung up on the wall. He was naked, but his body was bloody from severe torture. He had no nails, and his fingers and toes were cut down, that it was wrapped with linen wrap. Every of his wounds were spilling puss. The man's head fell from passing out due to severe torture. The middle aged man who seemed to be torturer then placed heated metal stamp into the man's chest.

"AAAAAAARGH!"

The man then woke up with painful scream. His face covered with hairs were revealed. It was the guard, Jang Gageng who was missing. He was already destroyed inside out with three days of torture.

"Who told you you can go to sleep? You are not allowed to sleep until you answer all my questions."

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAARGH!"

This time, the man placed the metal over at Guard Jang's thigh. It was so painful that he even wanted to die. His internal energy was sealed so he cannot commit suicide and all of his teeth were pulled out so he can't bit on his tongue either.

“He’s tough, for a mere guard.”

Woman’s voice came from outside the cell. It was woman with lavish clothing and a red veil over her head. IT was Lady Mu.

“Let me ask you this for last time. Did the Lord teach him any kind of martial art?”

“Nnngh... N....no... t...there... ish...nt...”

Guard Jang barely answered. He had been answering the same thing ever since he was taken in here, but Lady Mu kept on torturing him.

“Hah, you still insist even with your dying breath. Go on.”

“Yes, Lady.”

Torturer tried to start on the torturing again, when someone bursted into the cell. It was middle aged man with long beard. As Lady Mu looked at him, the man bowed and reported.

“Lady, he is out.”

“He is out? What do you mean?”

“Chun Yeowun is out of the academy.”

Lady Mu then rose up immediately from the chair with surprised look. She had waited so long for Chun Yeowun to come out of the academy.

“Ha... hahaha. That is good. He is unfortunate that he came out of the academy at this time. So, where is he?”

“He is...”

Lady Mu was surprised to here whereabouts of Chun Yeowun. Guard Jang, who was being tortured, became filled with despair as he heard news of Chun Yeowun.

‘Prince...’

And after an hour...

There were two most crowded streets inside the castle of Demonic Cult. One was the center of the cult, street of Bijak where the Lord’s palace was located at, and one was street of Waho on the northern side of the castle. Two streets were most crowded place that people always busily walked through. And at the largest restaurant of Waho street, three guest were eating at a table of first floor. It was Chun Yeowun, Mun Ku and Hu Bong. They were eating quietly, but it had been two hours since they sat down here and waited. Hu Bong asked to Mun Ku quietly.

“Do you really think this will work?”

“I’m not sure. But if what Ko Wanghur guessed is right, then they will try to contact us in any way.”

Mun Ku wasn’t really sure if their plan will really work. They came to Waho street intentionally where people can find him easily, but it wasn’t sure if the person behind kidnapping of Guard Jang will really try to contact them.

‘They are after you, not Guard Jang. If they find out that you have came out of the Demonic Academy, they will try to contact you. But I’m sure they will not try to do something fishy in front of every people of the street.’

That was Ko Wanghur's plan. The reason why Ko Wanghur, Bakgi and Sama Chak wasn't with other three was because they were hiding near three suspect clans' mansions to watch them. All of this was to find who was behind kidnapping of Guard Jang. There was risk to this, but Ko Wanghur's plan seemed to have a chance of finding it, and Yeowun agreed to follow it. That was why he was staying at a restaurant, revealing himself to everyone like this for hours. And after a time, a telepathic message came through Yeowun's ear.

[Stay still if you can hear my voice. If you turn your head or even give slightest sign to your friends, something you will not want to happen will come true.]

Chapter 160: Into the snake's mouth (3)

If whoever sent the telepathic message was able to see what Yeowun was doing and seeing, then it meant that whoever it is was inside the restaurant. Chun Yeowun then heeded the threat from telepathic message and pretended if he was focusing on the meal. Mun Ku and Hu Bong was talking to each other for any sign of enemy who they weren't sure when they will contact them. Yeowun thought if he should let Mun Ku or Hu Bong know through telepathic message, but changed his mind in case the enemy can see him sending telepathic message through looking at his neck moving.

'...They aren't just any enemies.'

Level of threat was much different from that of cadets from the Academy. As Yeowun stayed silent, another message came to him.

[I'll warn you. Don't try to even find me through your senses. If you try anything stupid, 'he' will die.]

They were threatening Yeowun as if they already knew Yeowun found out that Guard Jang had gone missing.

'Dammit!'

Yeowun's eye turned cold. He had never been threatened with someone he knew kidnapped, and he didn't realize it would feel this devastating and furious. But Yeowun was not going to abide by the threat.

‘Nano, can you locate where this telepathic message is coming from?’

[Yes, master. Scanning the frequency of the energy wave. Changing the ear function to hear another frequency.]

And with Nano’s word, Yeowun heard weird whistle sound ringing through his ear and heard the telepathic message again.

[Today...]

‘I found you...!’

Yeowun didn’t move so it would not be noticeable, but the sound was coming from entrance of the restaurant. Yeowun couldn’t see him correctly, so he couldn’t see the man’s face. The message continued.

[...at midnight, come to mansion of the Poison clan.]

‘Poison clan?’

Yeowun became confused as the name he didn’t expect popped up. He thought it was either Sword, Wise or the Lust clan, so the Poison clan’s name was unexpected.

[You must come unarmed. If you bring that blade or sword that you have on your back or waist, your arm will be cut down even before you enter the mansion.]

Yeowun tried hard to hold back, but he clenched his fist from holding back his anger.

[And you must come early. If we find even shadow of anyone within 300 feet around the mansion, the person will be killed. And there are no one walks around the mansion at the time, so don't try to play tricks.]

This was a trap set up to put Yeowun alone. It was a situation where Yeowun had to enter the snake's mouth himself. It was sure what was going to happen if he goes there. In some way, it wasn't needed for Yeowun to take this condition if it wasn't for Guard Jang.

'Jang...'

But for Yeowun, Guard Jang wasn't just anyone. For other princes, guards were just form of protection set upon by the Lord, but for Yeowun, Guard Jang was like his parents.

[If you don't appear at the appointed time, we will think you have gave up on him and we will kill him. I'm sure you will choose wisely.]

These enemies too knew how important Guard Jang was to Chun Yeowun, and thus was threatening with such condition. Chun Yeowun was angered so much that he wanted to jump out and cut down the neck of the man who was sending the telepathic message to him.

[I'm done here. And don't even try to track me down.]

And with that as the last word, the man disappeared from the entrance. Yeowun then got up, thinking he should do something before the man's presence really disappears from the area. But when Yeowun got up, four men got up from other tables and glared at Yeowun. Yeowun then charged against those who glared at him.

"Argh!"

Yeowun appeared in front of each man and struck them with his fist to make them pass out, except one man.

“Argh!”

Middle aged man was held up in the air as Yeowun held him by the neck. It was hard to believe that Yeowun can just hold him up easily.

“Kek! H-help! D-don’t kill me!”

“What clan are you from? Huh?”

“C-clan? Hiiiek!”

The hostile aura coming out from supreme level warrior Yeowun was something that not even most top class warriors can handle. But the man that Yeowun was holding on was merely a third class warrior. The man wet his pants from fear, and passed out.

“Prince!”

“Master, are these the one?”

Mun Ku and Hu Bong quickly came over with shocked look. Yeowun then looked at the man with a frown and mumbled.

“...I got the wrong men.’

These men were just low class warriors, not likely from any of six clans. With people in the restaurants focusing them, Yeowun had to get out of the place with men who Yeowun struck down. He took them to his home at southern gate of the castle. After asking them questions when they woke up, the result was what Yeowun expected.

“W-we were just paid to look at you people!”

“D-don’t kill us! It’s the truth!”

Four of them all spoke of same thing. They received silver coin and were told by a certain man to just look at Yeowun’s group. Yeowun asked who he was, and they all said the man covered his head with bamboo hat so they weren’t really sure. Yeowun also checked these men’s tag, and they were from ordinary families.

“I won’t kill you guys, but you must stay here for two days.”

“Huh?”

Yeowun needed to make sure, so he sealed their blood points and locked them up in the storage.

‘I’ll have to wait for Ko Wanghur, Bakgi and Sama Chak to return.

Chapter 161 - Into the snake's mouth (4)

Chapter 161: Into the snake's mouth (4)

If they return from scouting three clans, then Yeowun will be able to find out. They would have seen people going in and out of each mansion, so it was likely they will find out who was behind this.

And at dinner time, the time for three people to come was up. First one to return was Ko Wanghur who went to scout Lust clan. Wanghur said that there were people going in and out of Lust clan, but they didn't mobilize any of their forces, or had sign of preparing warriors. Yeowun also asked if Wanghur saw any man covering his face with bamboo hat, but Wanghur said no.

"So, it's not the Lust clan."

"I think so. It is likely from Wise or Sword clan."

And if two others come, who was behind was going to be found out. And hour had passed. But Bakgi or Sama Chak did not return from their scouting.

"They are being too late."

The sun was already going down. Hu Bong kept waiting outside the gate, but there was no one returning to them.

'...Dammit.'

Chun Yeowun and his members realized something had gone wrong.

At the same time, at mansion of Wise clan to the north of the castle.

Middle aged woman was sitting down at the living room, watching reddened sky. It was Lady Mu of the Wise clan. And as she drank her tea, warriors from Wise clan walked into the yard valiantly. AT the front, there was old man with long white hair, and middle aged man with long beard. Warriors to their back was carrying two young men who had passed out. They laid down two men in front of Lady Mu. Old man smiled and spoke to Lady Mu.

“As you said, we found him hiding near the Sword clan’s mansion. He was quite strong.”

The old man’s upper clothes had many footsteps on it. Old man looked at the young man on the ground. It was Bakgi. He was pale, possibly from internal damage, and had sword wound on his blood points, that stained his clothes with blood. And another young man next to him was Sama Chak. Sama Chak who was checking on the Wise clan, was attacked by man with long beard. Sama Chak too had pale face, looking like he had gained internal damage. But the middle aged man too had many wounds.

“It seems you put some effort.”

“...That young one was established super master level.”

Middle aged man couldn’t defeat Sama Chak alone. He was barely fighting at equal, so if it wasn’t for his warriors, he would not have captured Sama Chak.

“I’m ashamed.”

Lady Mu smiled through her veil and spoke.

“It’s okay. You accomplished your mission. So, we are ready then. I’m sure that peasant will be confused who to blame for his missing member between us and the Sword clan.”

As Lady Mu became pleased, bearded man thought to himself.

‘She is terrifying woman.’

Man had worked for Lady Mu for over 20 years, but he had never seen a person who was more cunning than she was. As soon as she heard that Yeowun revealed himself in front of the crowd at the street, she immediately recognized Yeowun was setting traps to find the culprit behind kidnapping of Guard Jang.

‘If she didn’t volunteer to become wife of the Lord, the leader of current Wise clan could have been her.’

Lady Mu was that much cunning.

“So, who are these young men anyway?”

She asked and the old man answered.

“This young man is Bakgi, member of Pure Kick clan.”

“Pure Kick? A man from high ranking clan. So, that peasant put some effort within the academy then. I didn’t expect him to have such servant.”

Pure Kick clan was high ranking clan who was famous for their martial art skill. She expected Yeowun to gather some members for the competition, but it seems he had gotten more than she expected.

“So, who is he then?”

“Oh, actually I needed to ask you what you should do with him.”

“Why?”

“...He is son of 9th elder. He said he’s from Samu clan.”

“Samu? You mean he’s son of Sama Yi?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Yes, Lady.”

Middle aged man had to capture his target as it was the order, but the target wasn’t like Guard Jang. The man even hesitated when he heard who this young man was. But Lady Mu was more surprised at another point.

‘He even recruited Samu clan...? He really is dangerous. I was right. If I don’t kill him while the Lord isn’t here, then he might become too powerful later to handle.’

Martial art, strategy and luck with people. Two former traits were something that can be trained through effort, but the third wasn’t in that regard. It was more of a fate for one to become leader above all else. And from hearing these two names, Lady Mu confirmed that she had to kill Chun Yeowun when she can.

Chapter 162 - Into the snake's mouth (5)

Chapter 162: Into the snake's mouth (5)

At midnight, the castle of Demonic Cult was very cold. At the western side of the castle, there was mansion of the Poison clan. On every building above and around three hundred feet of the mansion, warriors from Wise clan were hiding over, checking on everything around them. And they found one person walking toward the Poison clan. The young man had black clothes with red embroidery, and long black hair with pale white face.

‘He does not have any weapon.’

He did not carry blade or sword that he always carried around. Warriors from Wise clan checked that he was unharmed and raised a flag.

And with that, all warriors began flashing flags, that continued through the mansion of the Poison clan. AT the mansion, there were large courtyard where hundred warriors were waiting with arms. And on top of the building, there were archers, who readied to fire the moment they saw flags coming up. On the inside of the building, there was a table with Lady Mu sitting down on the chair, and drinking tea. On side of her, old man and man with long beard was standing like a guard.

“He’s here.”

Wise clan had been waiting here, ready for almost an hour now. They have prepared everything to send Chun Yeowun to his death. And soon, Yeowun entered the mansion.

‘They are ready for everything.’

As Yeowun walked in, he sensed over 200 warriors around. It was sure that these people were ready for anything. And as Yeowun walked in, Lady Mu smiled.

‘That boy now had become young man. A man who now threatens me.’

She made him not learn internal energy before entering the academy, and used Poison and Sword clan from behind to kill him with every method there is. But Yeowun had survived through everything and eventually came to hit her.

Yeowun had left his arms as warned, but his energy coming out of his body showed how powerful he was. It was hard to believe that he became supreme level warrior, but after sensing such power, Lady Mu realized he was now probably top five rank in terms of power within the cult.

All archers aimed their arrows, to fire at anytime to kill Chun Yeowun. Lady Mu waved at Yeowun.

“We finally meet. Come here.”

‘That woman...’

Yeowun glared. The woman was the one who came with other women, before Yeowun’s mother Lady Hwa died, to have Yeowun promise that he will not learn internal energy before he enters the academy.

‘...So, she comes after me even after all these years.’

Hatred began to burn Yeowun’s heart down, and even made his saliva to go dry. But Yeowun was not a reckless boy anymore. He kept his coldness and faced Lady Mu across the table. Lady Mu smiled.

“It’s been a long time since I saw you when you were young. Time flies... you resemble much of your mother.”

When she first saw Yeowun in long time, she truly was reminded of Lady Hwa. It was disgusting to see Yeowun looking more like his mother, than his father Chun Yujong.

“And you and your dirty mother are also same in making me do more work. I guess you two are same peasants after all, falling in such trap because of useless love. You are not fit for a greater purpose.”

She truly scoffed at Chun Yeowun, who came to his death just because of worthless guard warrior. And at Lady Mu, Yeowun asked with emotionless face.

“Where is Guard Jang and my servants?”

“Are you that naïve? Do you truly believe I would have brought them here? What a fool.”

She didn’t intend on letting them go from the start. If she kills Yeowun here, she was going to kill Guard Jang and persuade his servants to join Chun Muyun instead. But Yeowun looked weird.

‘Why is he not bothered by this?’

It was complete checkmate, but Chun Yeowun didn’t seem to mind it. In fact, it seemed he was confident that he can turn this situation upside down.

“Your eyes... I don’t like that. Let’s seal your internal energy first, and we’ll talk more.”

When Lady Mu raised her hand, middle aged man with long beard walked up and came to Yeowun.

“If you want to keep your guard alive, then don’t resist.”

The man threatened to Chun Yeowun with whispers. And at that moment, Yeowun glared coldly at the man and spoke with cold voice.

“So, it was you.”

The voice of bearded man. It was same as the voice of telepathic message that threatened Yeowun at the restaurant. The man then suddenly got scared at Yeowun remembering him, and reached out with his hand that wielded energy.

“Your time is done!”

And when his hand almost reached at Yeowun’s stomach, Yeowun quickly snatched the man’s wrist.

“W-what?!”

The man tried to pull his hand out by using energy, but his wrist didn’t even budge as if he was stuck under a giant rock.

“Let me go! You...! Aaaaaaaaargh!”

And as Yeowun clenched on his hand, the man’s wrist snapped in opposite direction, and broken bone poked outside of his flesh. Lady Mu shouted angrily to Yeowun.

“So, you don’t care if your guard dies! I can just snap my finger and he will...”

But before she can finish, Yeowun threw something from his pocket over at the table. It was small wooden box. Lady Mu became suspicious and asked.

“What is this?”

“Check it yourself.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

She became hesitant as she felt something wasn't right, but she held up the box and opened it. Her eye shook as she checked what was inside.

“...What is the meaning of this?”

If she was not a martial artist of the cult but just regular woman, she would have dropped the box already. What's inside was eyeball of a human. It seemed it was pulled out just while ago, that blood was still dripping from it. She was too shocked from the content of it. Yeowun then spoke to her with alluding voice.

“What do you think? Who's eyeball do you think it is?”

Chapter 163 - Into the snake's mouth (6)

Chapter 163: Into the snake's mouth (6)

Four hours ago...

Small hill at northeast corner of the Demonic Academy, there was a prison cave for criminals. Inside, there were two cadets who were decided on their expulsion from the academy. It was Chun Muyun and Mu Jinyun from the Wise clan. Two of them were locked up separately after four cadets had died few days ago.

And at dark cave inside the prison cave, a small candle lit up the small interior where one man was sitting down, meditating. It was Chun Muyun. His internal energy had been sealed when he entered the cave, so only thing he can do was meditating. Any normal person will go mad when locked up in such small cave alone, but Chun Muyun held up with only one purpose.

‘...Chun Yeowun.’

He didn't even care about the man when they entered the academy. Only one he watched out was Chun Yuchan and Chun Kungwun, princes from other clans. Even his mother, Lady Mu, told him that he didn't need to care about Chun Yeowun. But that Chun Yeowun had humiliated him more than ever in his entire life.

‘This is not over yet.’

He had lost on the competition, but he knew that it wasn't over. His mother, Lady Mu, was talented strategist and powerful warrior who hid her power. She was a type who needed to fulfill her goal and her goal right now was to make Chun Muyun as the heir to the throne.

‘Mother will make a move.’

He believed that Lady Mu will surely see through Chun Yeowun’s wicked plans and take care of him. Muyun hoped for that and held him back. Soon, Chun Yeowun will be at his knees, begging for his lives.

‘Mother will probably be taking care of...’

That’s when the giant stone blocking the entrance to the cave began to move. Muyun became surprised.

‘Finally...!’

He thought it was time. He knew that Lady Mu will not leave him in such cave for long. When the stone opened its entrance about half way, cold outside air freshened up inside.

‘It’s time.’

Muyun got up from his seat. When he tried to take step toward the entrance, Muyun became shocked at the person standing, blocking the entrance. To Muyun’s eye that had adapted to the darkness, it was clear who this person was.

“How did you...! UGH!”

But before he can finish, powerful energy pressed him down, sending him down on his knees. Even if his internal energy wasn’t sealed, this energy was too powerful for him to resist. Person walked up to Muyun who knelt down. The candle light lit up the man’s face. It was Chun Yeowun.

‘How did he come here?’

He couldn’t understand. He thought he was being freed from the cave, but it was actually Chun Yeowun. This place should have been guarded by instructors or guards, so it wasn’t sure why Chun Yeowun was here. Yeowun looked down coldly at Muyun and spoke.

“Guard Jang is missing.”

“Guard Jang?”

Muyun did not know who this Guard Jang is. Yeowun ignored Muyun’s confusion and continued.

“And those who kidnapped Guard Jang tells me to come right into the trap, if I want to let him live.”

‘...Ah!’

It was simple explanation, but Muyun instinctively knew who was behind this. It was certain his mother, Lady Mu, who have done this. Lady Mu was good at setting up such traps to deal with ones, even if the one was powerful.

“...And what do you want me to do?”

Muyun asked back coldly, holding back his feelings. Yeowun then flicked his hand with cold eyes, and Muyun’s two arms were pulled up forcefully.

“W-what is this?! What are you doing?!”

Muyun tried to resist by his physical power, but it was no use. With his two arm shoot straight up to the air, Yeowun’s hand began to shine in white sword qi. And with sword qi, Muyun couldn’t be calm anymore.

“I was going to find Guard Jang and rescue him at first... but I changed my mind when I found out who was behind all this.”

“?!”

“Eye for an eye. That’s how I am going to solve this.”

Yeowun decided to be merciless from now on. And even if he enters the snake’s mouth, there was no proof that these people will let Guard Jang live.

“Let me ask you. How precious are you to the people of Wise clan... no. To your mother, Lady Mu?”

The question held every plan Chun Yeowun was trying to do. Muyun’s heart began to pound.

‘He-he’s trying to keep me as a hostage!’

But if that was the case, what was with the sword qi? Was he trying to cut some part of his body to threaten her? Muyun tried to persuade Yeowun with shaking voice.

“Chun Yeowun... think about it. If it is as you say, harming me won’t do good to that Guard Jang...”

But before Muyun can finish speaking, Yeowun’s sword qi shoot through Muyun’s wrists. Two hands cut down and dropped to the ground. Muyun’s eye grew large from shock and he screamed in terrible pain coming from his wrist.

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaargh!”

He wanted to drop to the ground and roll in pain, but Yeowun’s powerful energy pinned him straight up still as he bled.

“Aaaaaaaaargh!”

He didn't even think that Yeowun will cut his both hands. It wasn't sure if Yeowun was trying to take him as a hostage, or just unleash his anger on him. Yeowun mumbled as he looked at two hands that were cut down on the ground.

“Hmm... This isn't enough.”

“Nnnngh.... W-what do you mean?!”

“Two hands aren't enough. Will she be afraid if her son will die just by looking at this?”

Chun Muyun, even in his pain, chilled to the bones at that words. It was so terrifying to even think about what Chun Yeowun will try to do, if cutting hands weren't enough.

‘I-is he a demon?!’

And at that moment, Yeowun's hand dug into Muyun's right eye.

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaargh!”

Without even blinking, Yeowun casually pulled out Muyun's eye. A pain that could not even be compared to being his hands cut off came to him and Muyun passed out.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

And it was now back to four hours later. Lady Mu's eye shook as if her eyes were having earthquake, as she looked down at the eyeball that was inside the wooden box. Yeowun just asked her who's eye that is, but she could think of only one possible answer from that question.

‘Muyun...?’

With Muyun’s face coming up on her mind, she became infuriated. If this eye was really from Myun, then Yeowun was fighting back with hostage to hostage.

‘No... maybe he’s lying!’

Chapter 164 - Into the snake's mouth (7)

Chapter 164: Into the snake's mouth (7)

She then kept her calm. She remembered that Chun Muyun was still locked at the prison cave at the Demonic Academy. If Chun Yeowun had gotten out of the academy, then he was outside there.

'If he infiltrated the academy, Left Guardian would not have let him go free. This is a lie.'

Lady Mu then thought Yeowun was bluffing, so she glared back and spoke.

"It seems you tried hard to fool me. So, you harmed my boy at the academy? Do you think I will be fooled by..."

"Oh, I forgot another thing."

"What?"

Yeowun then placed down something else on the table. It was a medal that proved holder was member of the Wise clan, with red threads tied on the handle. Lady Mu knew what that was.

'It's the medal I gave it to him...!'

She finally realized why Yeowun didn't seem afraid nor desperate. Lady Mu tried to get Yeowun by holding hostage, but she didn't imagine she'll be countered by the same method. She gritted her teeth.

'I had him stay at the prison cave for nothing...!'

She thought it was better for Muyun to stay at the academy for now. But she didn't expect Yeowun will even ignore the laws of the academy and do something to this point. She then thought she had to solve this problem in some way. She couldn't bare to have Chun Yeowun do what he wants, meaning that Lady Mu lost to the schemes.

'I'll pretend on trading hostages and take him out.'

Lady Mu, not so relaxed like before, asked to Yeowun.

"...What do you want?"

"Guard Jang, Bakgi and Sama Chak."

"...If I let go of them, I'm sure you know what you need to do in return."

She meant that she wanted Chun Muyun. Yeowun nodded simply and Lady Mu raised her hand. Two warriors from Wise clan then came up to her. Lady Mu gave her red medal to them and ordered.

"Go and release those hostages and bring them here."

"Yes, Lady."

Two warriors then jumped out of the mansion and Lady Mu turned back to Yeowun.

"Now, I've done my part so you should do yours. Where is my boy? You came here alone, so I'll send one of my own to fetch him."

This was what she planned. She was going to feign that she was agreeing to the hostage trade and kill those holding Muyun, and return back to the original state. But it wasn't sure if Chun Yeowun will take the bite. If she was in Yeowun's position, she would never spill the location until she receives her hostage first.

"Hmmm..."

Yeowun seemed to hesitate for a bit and answered.

"My servants hold Chun Muyun and Mu Jinyun at the prison cave of the Demonic Academy."

Lady Mu's eye glistened like a hawk that found its prey. She was concerned if Yeowun will not tell the location, but he had bit the bait.

'FOOL! I thought he had become cunning, but he has far more to go.'

With this, Lady Mu was going to take back the upper hand again. But she also thought Yeowun was quite brave in his plan. She didn't think Yeowun will hold her son back at the prison cave.

'Well, that place is safer than most other places.'

She understood the reason behind it, as maybe Demonic Academy was safest place to hide hostages when Yeowun did not have many forces yet. Yeowun placed his medal of an Elder down at the tabale.

"If you show this to my servants, they will bring hostage down here by themselves. Don't try to do anything funny as they will not let go of them until we trade hostage here."

Members Yeowun had left were Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku and Hu Bong. It was going to be hard to handle them with weak warriors. Lady Mu turned to the old man standing at her back.

“You heard him. Please.”

[Kill all of them and bring our kids.]

She ordered the true order through telepathic message. The old man was at end stage of super master level. Even if Yeowun’s members were strong, it was easy to kill them unless they were as strong as elders. Old man nodded with heavy look and took the elder medal from the table and jumped out of the mansion. And when the old man signaled, warriors hiding around the buildings followed him. With everything ordered, Lady Mu turned to Yeowun with satisfied look.

‘After I bring my kids here in safety, I will kill you miserably...’

And a hour had passed. It was about time for warriors who went to the Wise clan, or the old man who went to the prison cave to return with the kids. But they weren’t coming back.

‘Why are they being so late?’

Lady Mu was pretending if everything was alright while drinking tea, but she was getting nervous. Yeowun looked at her and scoffed.

“Are you nervous?”

“Hah. What are you talking about?”

“You ordered end stage super master level warrior to kill all my servants and rescue your sons, but he isn’t coming back... isn't that it?"

"H-how?!"

Lady Mu became shocked. She was good at hiding her emotion, but she couldn't hide her feeling at this.

'It was a trap! He lied!!'

Lady Mu instinctively knew that she was caught up in Yeowun's plan. Lady Mu quickly shouted at warriors of Wise clan.

"GO to the Wise clan right now and..."

And at that moment, archers above the mansion began to shout in shock.

"Enemies! Ambush!"

"T-they are too fast!"

They tried to shoot at the intruder, but the man was too fast that they couldn't even aim. The intruder jumped over the building and down at the courtyard.

"W-what?! W-why are you... how?!"

Lady Mu looked at the man with dumbfounded look. The man had fiery red long hair. It was Left Guardian Lee Hameng.

"Huh?!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

She didn't notice at first, but there was something on Lee Hameng's right hand that dropped water from it. Lady Mu then screamed.

"Aaaaaaaaaaaaaah!!"

It was the old man's head that Lady Mu sent to fetch the hostage. The blood was still dripping from the neck that was cut down, meaning it wasn't long time ago when the old man died. Yeowun grinned at Lady Mu, who was wailing and spoke.

"Things aren't going as you planned, isn't it?"

Chapter 165 - Into the snake's mouth (8)

Chapter 165: Into the snake's mouth (8)

About an hour ago, old man who arrived at the Demonic Academy with 10 warriors snuck into the academy while pressing his energy down as much as possible. He was worried about guards standing inside the academy, but if Chun Yeowun and his members managed to sneak through them, then he figured his trained warriors also can do it. And when he did, there weren't much guards standing at the gate, and guards inside was also very crude.

'I didn't think the security was this bad... nobody would have known if we killed him back at the academy.'

Old man scoffed at underwhelming level of security at the academy. Chun Yeowun was powerful so it was understandable from the beginning, but these level of security proved that it would have been easy for Yeowun's members to walk freely into the Academy. When old man got to the hill where prison cave was located at, he made his warriors to hide down at the hill and ambush Yeowun's members when he comes down. And when he got up to the peak, old man opened his senses to find Chun Muyun and Mu Jinyun.

'There they are.'

He found people gathered in one place and walked over. The stone that should have been sealing the cave was open and when the old man took a step in, he was shocked.

With the sound of sword pulling out, three man came out of the cave. They were instructors of Demonic Academy.

‘What is going on? Wait... did he lied to us?’

It was good that he hid his face with a mask in case. One of the instructor was senior instructor Hou Jinchang. Hou Jinchang shouted at old man.

“How dare you infiltrate into the Demonic Academy! Put down your weapon and surrender!”

Of course, old man wasn’t going to surrender. He immediately turned and ran down the mountain. He was better than them in martial art, so he knew he can run away from them.

“Stop!”

The shout from behind got further away. He had to get down to the mountain and retreat from this place right away. He had to go straight to the Wise clan to have warriors bringing out hostage to go back.

‘How dare he lie! I’ll never...’

“What?!”

The old man when he came down had to stop. Warriors who were ordered to hide and ambush were down on the ground, drenched in blood. And in front of them, a man with long fiery red hair was standing. There were no one in the cult who didn’t know about this man.

“...Left Guardian.”

It was Left Guardian Lee Hameng. Old man frowned. He knew what was going on immediately.

‘...So, he was Chun Yeowun’s man. How can this be...’

He didn't imagine one of guardians that served the Lord was working with Chun Yeowun. That was only explanation for such trap.

'I have to run.'

If things had come to this, then he had to run. Warriors of Wise clan were already ordered to kill himself if they were caught. But if he gets caught, then that was different story. Old man then turned to the right and began to run. He couldn't even think about difference in power. There was no way he will defeat supreme level warrior, so it was at least better to try to run away. But that was a false hope.

"You think you can run?"

Old man flinched and turned, and Lee Hameng's red sword was penetrating into the old man's neck.

'No...!'

And that was the last sight the old man saw in his life.

"Aaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaah!"

Lady Mu screamed as she looked at the head.

'Uncle Sunh!'

Old man was the apprentice of former leader of Wise clan, Sunh Ginung. He was a teacher to Lady Mu since she was very young and had been trusty guard for her entire life. It was shocking to see his death. Lady Mu became confused. She didn't imagined that Left Guardian was involved in this.

'Wait... his 'servants' are...?'

Lady Mu looked at Lee Hameng with disbelief. Lee Hameng bowed to Yeowun politely and flashed the old man's head.

"It's as you said, Prince."

"Thank you, Left Guardian."

"You're welcome."

They weren't trying to hide their relationships either. Lady Mu bit on his lips. She shouted angrily at Lee Hameng.

"Left guardian! Since when the guardians supported a candidate of the heir?! You are breaking the laws of the cult!"

Lee Hameng then turned to Lady Mu for the first time and spoke.

"Lady Mu. It's been a while."

"I don't care if it's been a while. Answer my question!"

Lee Hameng grinned at Lady Mu's anger.

"I am sure the competition is already over."

"T-that's...!"

With every competitor defeated, only one who can try to become the heir was Chun Yeowun. If Yeowun doesn't fail in gathering approvals, then it was inevitable that he will become the future Lord. And of course for other candidates who were drove out, they would gain another chance if Yeowun dies, and that was why Lady Mu had set up this trap.

Lady Mu became more angered at Lee Hameng's attitude and gritted her teeth.

"You think this is over?! Did you forget I still hold onto the people you love?"

She had failed in bringing her sons back, but she still had Guard Jang and two of Chun Yeowun's members. Even if Lee Hameng appeared here, she thought Yeowun will not try to do anything reckless while she still had hostages.

'But with Lee Hameng here, I won't be able to kill him. I have to return back to the clan while I hold onto those hostages.'

If Chun Yeowun was alone, she could have done something by using her forces here, but with Lee Hameng joined, then it was too late. Two supreme level warrior was enough to wipe out forces at the place. It was better for her to wait until elders from six clans to return.

'I have to join forces with them and kill Chun Yeowun. This is out of my boundary.'

If Chun Yeowun was alone, she would have found way to kill him, but if Yeowun had members then it was different. And as Yeowun looked at Lady Mu silently thinking, he spoke.

"You sure you have those hostages?"

"...Don't try my patience. I will kill that Guard Jang to show you that I am not bluffing."

"Kill Guard Jang?"

"You think I can't do..."

But before she can finish, archers standing guard over at the roof shouted.

“N-no!”

“L-Lady Mu! There’s an...!”

Archers seemed lost for words from shock and Lady Mu opened her senses. She then turned grim. There were many signs of people outside the mansion. At least 300 people were circling the mansion now.

‘W-what is going on?!’

There was no Lord at the cult right now, so it wasn’t going to be warriors from the Guardians who went with the Lord. Then who were these people? That’s when someone jumped over the building and down at the courtyard. He had red silk clothes with yellow butterfly embroidery, and make ups on his face. It was 11th elder Huan Yi.

‘Who is this man?’

Huan Yi never showed himself other than to Lord or Elder meeting, so Lady Mu did not know who this was. But she knew that he was a powerful man just by looking at his movement. Huan Yi spoke to Yoeuwn.

“Huan Yi, the leader of Ghost Illusion clan, at your service, Prince. I have completed the order. Hehe, am I late?”

“G-ghost illusion clan? A-are you the 11th elder?”

Lady Mu became grim. She figured it wasn’t any man, but she didn’t imagine it was 11th elder.

‘At your service, he say? Is the 11th elder working for Chun Yeowun too? By the gods...!’

She didn’t even think this was possible. She thought Yeowun just got out of the Academy, so it was not understandable how Yeowun even took elder as his servant.

‘This is bad.’

If she didn’t have her hostage, then she was in a trap now. She began to shake from terror.

“We brought them over to my mansion. You can be reassured.”

‘What?’

Lady Mu became shocked. She thought hostage was only one she can count on. Huan Yi smiled at Lady Mu.

“Oh, I am just saying I moved your precious hostage to my mansion. It seems you have taken ‘good’ care of them, Lady Mu.”

“H...hostage...”

Lady Mu became pale and almost fell to the ground.

‘I... I lost...?’

Chapter 166

Chapter 166: Into the snake's mouth (9)

“Are they okay?”

Chun Yeowun asked worryingly at Huan Yi. Huan Yi then became grim and answered.

“Sama Chak and Bakgi is okay, with minor internal damage. But your Guard is in serious condition. I called the doctor but he can die at any moment.”

Huan Yi, after being ordered by Yeowun was already on standby near the Wise clan. When warriors of Wise clan went into the mansion and brought out the hostage, Huan Yi ambushed them immediately. They took the hostage back, but Guard Jang was in terrible state. If Yeowun had saw Guard Jang with all of his bodies burned and his nails, teeth all pulled out, Yeowun would have been so shocked.

“Jang...”

And as he heard that Guard Jang was in verge of death, terrifying hostile aura began to rose out from Yeowun's body. The anger he had been holding back had finally exploded.

‘W-what is that energy?’

‘It feels like he's strangling our heart!’

Warriors from Wise clan shivered at such terryiying energy. The aura coming out from end stage of supreme level warrior was not something they can resist.

‘He didn’t use all of his power when he fought me.’

Huan Yi realized that Yeowun had not used all of his power back at his mansion. Huan Yi was not yet at established level of supreme level.

‘Nnnnngh! H..how can I lose to such a boy!’

Lady Mu was confident in her cunning and strategic skills. She thought she had won as she saw through Yeowun’s trap, but she never imagined Yeowun have hid such powerful cards.

‘No! I can’t give up now!’

She had done so hard to put the Wise clan at first rank within the six clans. If she were to accept her loss here, then the Wise clan’s pride was going to drop to the ground.

‘How can I get out of this? Think!’

She needed a way out as she couldn’t fight against three supreme level warriors anymore. And after slight second, she screamed toward Lee Hameng and Huan Yi.

“Left Guardian, 11th Elder! You think you two will be fine from doing this?!”

Lee Hameng asked back weirdly.

“What do you mean?”

“Do you think you can harm the first wife of the Lord, and the sister to the 1st elder, and be safe?!”

“HAH!”

Maybe this was more of provoking them, but she only had this way to get out of the situation. She had to warn them if they will be okay if Mu Jinwon, the first elder returns to the cult.

“Hahaha... this is interesting. I didn’t think you would threaten us even at this situation.”

Huan Yi even smirked at Lady Mu’s threat. Chun Yeowun then asked Lee Hameng coldly.

“Where are they?”

“Your members are bringing them here.”

‘Ah!’

Lady Mu’s eyes shook. It looked like Yeowun was talking about her son Chun Muyun, and her brother’s son, Mu Jinyun. That’s when people mumbled from outside the mansion.

“Let them go!”

“If you don’t step back, they will die.”

The voice of the man that heard later was Ko Wanghur. It seemed they had brought those Yeowun was waiting for. Warriors from Wise clan had to let Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku and Hu Bong to pass through, so no harm will be done to hostages.

“Muyun!”

Lady Mu was so shocked that she screamed in pale face at Chun Muyun. Chun Muyun was in terrible shape. His two hands were cut down and wrapped in linen wrap, and his one eye was pulled out and covered in a wrap. There was no more confident prince in him.

“Mother... I’m sorry.”

“A-aunt!”

Mu Jinyun was brought over by Hu Bong who held Jinyun by back of his neck. It seems Chun Muyun was only one who had been injured badly, as Jinyun only had some minor bruises over his face. Jinyun however couldn’t look up directly to Lady Mu out of shame.

Lady Mu gritted her teeth. She too was a mother. She had been scared from realizing she had lost, but looking at her son made her furious.

‘Chun... Yeo... wun...!!!’

It was going to be strange if she would not get furious at watching her son in such shape. But she also knew that there was no way for her to do anything. She panted a while from anger, and soon knelt at Chun Yeowun.

“Lady!”

“M-mother!”

Warriors of Wise clan and Chun Muyun shouted in shock. Lady Mu, current leader of Wise clan to fall on her knees like this meant that they were accepting their loss. Lady Mu then slammed her head against the ground and begged.

“Prince Chun Yeowun. I accept my loss. I accept that you are the heir. Please show your mercy and let go of my boys and my warriors.”

She had thrown all of her pride to beg. Chun Muyun and Mu Jinyun's eye became reddened from tears. Lady Mu had to kneel and put her head to the ground to son of Lady Hwa who she hated the most, just to save her sons.

"Mother! Why...!"

[Enough!]

"Ah..."

[Remember our humiliation today. We will strike back once your uncle returns. And... I can kneel or bow to this peasant thousand times if I can save you. So, if you want to help then stay quiet.]

Lady Mu sent telepathic message and Muyun stopped to speak.

'I will kill you no matter what it takes...!'

Muyun thought as he looked at his mother with teary eyes.

"We Wise clan promise never to harm you, Prince Chun Yeowun. Please, show mercy."

Lady Mu kept on slamming her head to the ground and begged.

"Prince?"

Lee Hameng turned to Chun Yeowun. Yeowun, who was showing rage just until now, was now looking down at Lady Mu silently without any emotion.

'Hmm...'

Lady Mu, a influential figure within the cult was kneeling down, putting her head on the ground to beg for her sons' life. This was already a great feat. But there was one thing that was concerning.

'...Will Lady of Steel really not do anything if she goes free?'

As a Left Guardian, Lee Hameng saw many woman but he had never seen such dangerous woman as Lady Mu. But it was also understanding if Chun Yeowun will be touched to show mercy at such show of motherly love. Yeowun, who had been looking down at Lady Mu, turned and walked toward Muyun and Jinyun. He then spoke to Wanghur and Hu Bong.

"Free them."

"Huh?"

"Free them and step back."

Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong became confused at order that was hard to understand, but freed their captives. Lady Mu brightened up as she saw her sons being freed.

'Good!'

She thought she was going to get out of this trap. That's when Yeowun turned at her and spoke coldly.

"You think I will forgive you for just bowing down?"

"What?"

"Feel what it is like to see your loved ones in pain."

And at that moment, Yeowun's hand wielded white blade qi and merciless slashed through Muyun and Jinyun's body.

“NOOOOOOOOOO!”

Lady Mu screamed but it was too late. Yeowun moved so fast that Muyun and Jinyun’s two arms and legs were cut down immediately. Two of them’s face that was brightened, twisted in extreme pain.

“Aaaaaaargh!!!”

“Aaaargh! My arm! My LEG!!!”

Two of them dropped to the ground, pouring blood from their cut limbs and rolled on the ground. Yeowun’s entire body were showered with blood pouring out. Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong then realized why Yeowun told them to stand back.

‘O-oh, so he wanted to do it himself.’

“N...ngh... Ngh... Aah....!”

Lady Mu’s face turned red from fury as she saw her sons getting their limbs chopped off and Yeowun looked at her and spoke.

“And feel what it is like to see your loved ones die.”

“?!”

Lady Mu’s bloodshot eyes trembled madly as Yeowun declared of their death. There was no beging here anymore. If Yeowun was going to do it, then he was going to do it.

“N-no! Please! DON’T!”

She had to stop. She tried to jump out by sending all her energy to her feet. But that's when she saw Yeowun's blade qi cutting down Muyun's head.

"Ah...hik... hak...!"

Shock made her even hard to breath and Yeowun spoke to her coldly.

"That is the pain I felt, and it now belongs to you."

Chapter 167

Chapter 167: Into the snake's mouth (10)

Chun Muyun suffered in terrible pain with both of his arms and legs cut off until his head was beheaded. This was shocking for everyone, especially those from the Wise clan.

“YOU DARE!!”

It was now beyond the line where they could just stand and watch. Warriors of the Wise clan pulled out their weapons to fight. Left Guardian Lee Hameng then pulled out his Flame Sword out and created blue force qi to draw a line on the ground. The line clearly created a line between warriors of the Wise clan and Lee Hameng. Hameng then unleashed potent energy and shouted warningly at warriors of the Wise clan.

“If you cross this line, I will not let you live.”

They were warriors of the Demonic Cult so they were too aware of the might of the Left Guardian Lee Hameng. Lee Hameng had many names, such as Left Guardian and Chief of the Demonic Academy, but he was also called ‘the Flame King’ within Yulin. It was an infamous name given to him because whoever that was cut from his ‘Flame Sword’ that wielded extreme heat made its wound burn down that it can’t be healed.

“If you are not afraid to die, then you can try coming over it.”

Lee Hameng moved his sword and warriors all flinched and backed away.

‘D-dammit!’

‘Our prince just died miserably and we can’t even...!’

‘Flame King!!’

No matter of their fury, they couldn’t dare to cross the line. They knew well that crossing that line meant their instant death. Lee Hameng’s fame was not something they can just take lightly. But of course, there were some brave, or reckless ones also.

“I’ll kill you all!!”

The middle-aged man with a long beard that had his wrist snapped off by Yeowun roared and charged against Yeowun, trying to kill him. But his body was cut in half even before he got closer to Yeowun.

“Aaaaaaaaargh!”

The man fell down on the ground while screaming. His spine and entire waist had been cut down, so it was not likely that he can endure such pain.

“Nnngh....”

The man flinched for a while and soon died. The blade with red engravings was dripped in blood. IT wasn’t sure even when he pulled out his blade, but Huan Yi appeared next to the man and cut him off in half.

‘I-it’s amazing..’

‘I couldn’t even see him.’

Mun Ku, Hu Bong, and Ko Wanghur were shocked by such sight. They knew Huan Yi and Lee Hameng were both supreme level warriors, but looking at them with their own eyes made them realize how powerful these warriors were. And it was even more astounding that Chun Yeowun had made them succumb to himself.

‘I have far more to go.’

Ko Wanghur, who was always willing to become stronger, became influenced by these. He and others in Yeowun’s original group were also very powerful considering their age, but looking at Yeowun or highest ranking warriors of the Cult made him feel very weak.

“Ugh!”

Yeowun then moved on and cut down Mu Jinyun’s neck. It was a miserable ending for the sons of the Wise clan who had a bright future ahead of them. Lady Mu looked at Chun Muyun’s head rolling on the ground dumbfoundedly. The pain of losing someone important. It had been a long time since she felt such pain. She had lost her grandparents and her parents, but they died after living out their life due to old age. As she saw her loving son Muyun’s head being cut off, pain that felt as if her heart was being ripped apart made her even hard to breathe.

‘My son... my son... Noooo... where did it go wrong??’

She thought through all the choices she made, but there were no mistakes in any of it. She checked all of her plans but there was no indication where her plans might have failed. She had captured Chun Yeowun’s guard and made Yeowun to not move recklessly. She also kidnapped two of his servants so Yeowun cannot know who was behind all these kidnappings.

‘I was going to get rid of the Poison clan and Chun Yeowun together...’

She took out most of the Poison clan forces while ago. Poison clan had lost 80% of their forces when they attacked the Wise clan, but the Poison clan was still a potential threat to Lady Mu. If it wasn't for the other four clans who came in to stop them, with talking old alliance as their reason, she would have wiped out the entire Poison clan already.

‘Who cares about the alliance? There's no reason to leave an enemy behind.’

But she had no reason to attack. As her clan was still the leader clan of six clans, she needed to be careful. She needed a reason that would make the other clans accept.

‘Chun Yeowun, you are helping me!’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

She then made a trap for Chun Yeowun so that Yeowun had fought against the remaining forces of the Poison clan that resulted in all of their death. It might look suspicious, but four other clans will not raise objections as the result also killed Chun Yeowun. Or so she thought it would happen.

‘How did he find out?!!’

Yeowun acted as if he knew the Wise clan was a culprit even before coming here. And at Lady Mu who was confused and in pain from losing her son, Yeowun walked over to her.

“Hiiek!”

Chapter 168 - Into the snake's mouth (11)

Chapter 168: Into the snake's mouth (11)

The aura of hostility grew stronger as he walked closer. Even if Lady Mu was strong, she was merely at the end stage of super master level warrior. She couldn't bear to breathe under the pressure coming from Chun Yeowun's end stage of supreme level energy.

'I...is he going to kill me here too?'

She had set up a trap so she can kill him, but it was she who was being threatened with death. She couldn't understand what had gone wrong. Chun Yeowun got up to her and looked down at her.

"Did you feel enough pain?"

"Why are you doing this to me? It's me who set up traps, why did you kill my... Aaahh!"

Yeowun kicked Lady Mu's stomach before she can finish and she was thrown all the way back. It didn't wield any energy, but powerful force pushed her back, twisting her organs. Blood began to come over her throat as she got up in pain and Yeowun walked over to her.

"Do you think you will die comfortably when you killed my mother?"

"?!"

When Lady Muy heard this, her eyes became large and looked back at Yeowun with shock. It has been 10 years. Even the Lord, after using his guardians to search through, couldn't find who was behind Lady Hwa's death. How did Chun Yeowun find out?

Yeowun then pulled out a crumpled piece of paper and threw it at Lady Mu. There were full of writings in the paper piece and Lady Mu read down with shaking eyes.

[It's Chun Jongsum from the Poison clan. Chun Yeowun, I have something to tell you.]

Ten hours ago, a little bit after noon at the mansion of the Poison clan, a middle aged man was being reported to by a warrior of the Poison clan.

"...I saw him being taken away by warriors from the Wise clan. I couldn't hear correctly as I had to keep distance, but I saw the man with a long beard saying to that young man, that the young man was a servant of Chun Yeowun's."

"Is that all you have today?"

"Yes, sir. That and the incident at the restaurant."

"I see."

The warrior then went to his post and the middle aged man walked into the main room. Inside of the main room, there was a bed with a young man, scrawny and pale, barely moving from the bed.

"Prince, it's me."

"Uncle... you're here."

The man who barely spoke over at the bed was Chun Jongsum, prince of the Poison clan. He was now able to speak after healing up tremendously. That alone was an amazing feat. It was after two days that Chun Jongsum woke up from passing out after trying to say something furiously, when Baek Oh met Lady Mu. Jongsum originally had lost of any movement over his body, so he couldn't even move his tongue, but when he woke up again, he was able to speak again. It was a miracle happened due to his anger influencing his senses. He still couldn't move, but he was able to speak very slowly at least.

"So... the Wise... clan... was there... any move?"

"Yes, there was."

The middle aged man was the only remaining leader of the Poison clan, Baek Seng. The Poison clan failed on ambushing the Wise clan and had lost most of its forces. Remaining forces were now put to watch over the Wise clan, as they were afraid the Wise clan might move anytime to wipe remaining forces.

"You may not like to hear this, but Chun Yeowun had appeared."

"!!!"

Chun Jongsum's eye shook. He had shown no emotion recently but he was definitely shaken from the news. Baek Seng began to report on what had happened recently, from Chun Yeowun being found at the restaurant and one of his servant being kidnapped near the Wise clan's mansion. Chun Jongsum then realized something had happened between the Wise clan and Chun Yeowun.

'Wise clan attacked his servant...?'

Chun Jongsum thought for a long while. He thought that maybe this was his last chance to rise up again.

‘Maybe I can make them fight each other.’

With main forces all wiped out, the Poison clan was focusing on surviving. It was miserable days for them. But Jongsum thought maybe he can use this.

‘...That bitch.’

Chun Jongsum knew who was really behind the death of Lady Hwa, mother of Chun Yeowun. What if Chun Yeowun finds out that Lady Mu, not only attacked his servants, but also killed his mother?

‘You two can kill each other.’

If that was the case, then either Chun Yeowun, who destroyed his life and killed his grandfather Baek Oh, or Lady Mu who had blamed everything over at Poison clan and wiped them out will die.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Un...cle...”

“Yes, prince. What should we do?”

“Write... down... what... I... say...”

Chun Jongsum made Baek Seng write down everything Jongsum knew revolving around Lady Hwa’s death and made it sent to Chun Yeowun at once. Chun Jongsum cried in joy for getting a chance to avenge him, first time after he began his life in the bed. But the fate was dire for the Poison clan. Just as Chun Jongsum planned so that Yeowun and the Wise clan can fight each other, Lady Mu had planned to fake that Yeowun fought against remnants of the Poison clan.

Chapter 169

Chapter 169: Into the snake's mouth (12)

And now it returns to the present. The crumpled letter had every detail revolving around Chun Yeowun's mother, Lady Hwa's death and to how the Wise clan kidnapped Yeowun's servant. Lady Mu became pale as she trembled with rage as she read through. She was both dumbfounded and enraged at the same time.

'T...this fool...!!'

She did not imagine that Chun Jongsum, merely a living corpse living day to day on a bed would send this kind of letter to Chun Yeowun. Every mystery was solved. The reason why Chun Yeowun knew who was behind the kidnapping, and how he knew Lady Mu was behind the killing of his mother... it was all because of Chun Jongsum.

'How can I... from that living corpse!!'

"AAAAAAAAAAHH!"

Lady Mu ripped apart the letter that destroyed everything and screamed maniacally. If it wasn't for this letter, she would have not been in such a state. She then glared at Chun Yeowun and shouted.

"YES! I killed your dirty, piece of scum, whore mother!!"

There was no more of Lady Mu's polite, and sophisticated manner of speaking. With everything revealed, she had no thought of holding anything back.

“So what. You avenged your mother by killing my sons. Will you kill me now?!”

“You know very well.”

Yeowun answered coldly and Lady Mu shouted back angrily.

“Bull shit! You think you have what it takes to kill me?!”

“...”

“If you kill me right here, then my brother, the 1st Elder will come after you, and cut out your limb after limb before you die! And all of those involved around you- KYAAAAAAAAA!!!”

As Lady Mu screamed, something shoot past her eyes. It was blue force qi coming out from Yeowun’s hand. Her eyes were slashed by Yeowun’s force qi and she screamed as she grabbed her eyes with her hands.

“MY EYES!!! MY EYES!!! I-I CAN’T SEE!!!”

“You have no right to see.”

“AAAAAAAAAARGH! You dirty PEAS- NNNNGNGNGNGGHH!!!”

This time, Yeowun cut her entire mouth before she can unleash all of her anger.

“You have no right to talk either.”

With force qi melting down all of her teeth and tongue, Lady Mu couldn’t even scream and got down to the ground. Her face were distorted severely as her eyes and mouth were slashed horizontally.

“Ugh!”

Warriors from the Wise clan looked away from such cruelty. But Yeowun's anger did not end there.

"So, was with this dirty hand that you poisoned my mother?"

Yeowun then swung his hand at Lady Mu who was rolling on the ground from pain to her both hands. She shivered through severe pain. It was even amazing that she didn't pass out from such terrible pain.

"STOP!! STOP!!!!"

One of the warriors from Wise clan shouted furiously.

"Are you not afraid of the aftermath!? We are not in our full force here! First Elder will never forgive you if he finds out what happened here!!"

"IF he finds out, that is."

"W-what?!"

Chun Yeowun then reached out his hands at a storage building at a distance. With the force of energy pulling on it, the door burst opened and something that was piled up inside overflowed outside.

"Ugh!"

Everyone smelled the thick smell of blood coming out from the storage room. It was so shocking that Mun Ku and Hu Bong gasped.

"Ah!"

The piles inside the storage room were corpses. Tens of dead bodies were piled up inside the storage room. Within those dead bodies were Baek Seng, last leader of the Poison clan, and Chun Jongsum who couldn't even close his eye from miserable death he faced.

'...So, they hid bodies of dead Poison clan people inside the storage room.'

Ko Wanghur shook his head as he looked at those bodies. The plan seemed clear. If they succeeded in their plan to kill Chun Yeowun, they would have framed it that Yeowun and the Poison clan fought against each other and killed both parties as a result. Yeowun then stomped on Lady Mu on the ground, who was squirming in pain.

"You all were wiped out while fighting against the Poison clan. I don't think First Elder will find out anything."

Warriors of the Wise clan became grim. Yeowun was going to use the trap that was set up to kill him, against the Wise clan themselves. Yeowun then ordered his servants who were standing idle.

"Kill all of them."

"Yes, prince."

And with that order, Left Guardian Lee Hameng and 11th Elder Huan Yi charged against warriors of the Wise clan.

"AAARGH!"

Two supreme level warrior swung their sword and blade across the screaming of these warriors. This wasn't a fight. It was a one-sided massacre.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘No...! NOOOOOOOO!’

She was blinded and she couldn’t even speak, but she still had her ears functioning, so she heard screaming of warriors from her clan and moved about madly in rage. Chun Yeowun then lowered his head and whispered at Lady Mu on the ground.

“You will go last.”

For the first time, and the last in her life, Lady Mu had felt both despair and regret.

Chapter 170 - Second approval (1)

Chapter 170: Second approval (1)

“AAAAAARGH!”

“MONSTERS!!!!!”

Warriors of the Wise clan fought back as hard as they could, but it was no use. They were just prey in front of two supreme level warrior. Few even tried to run away, but they were quickly captured by warriors of Ghost Illusion clan who were circling around the mansion and was killed.

‘Chun Yeowun.... Chun Yeowun...!!!’

At unedding sound of warriors screaming from the massacre, Lady Mu felt her heart being stricken from her impending doom.

“AAAARGH!”

“NNAAAAARGH!”

When this painful sounds go silent, then it meant it was time for her death. It was surely ironic. She wished this agonizing sound to stop, but at the same time, she also hoped to never stop. And after long while, all the sound of people and screaming were gone and silence fell down on the mansion of the Poison clan.

“It is all done.”

Lee Hameng spoke and Yeowun glared down at Lady Mu, who he was stepping above. It was her last moment, but he needed to do something first.

“11th Elder.”

“Can you have your warriors search through Poison clan’s poison vault and use whatever poison they can find upon bodies of Wise clan?”

“Oh-oh!”

Lee Hameng and Huan Yi smiled at Chun Yeowun’s cold and thoughtful order. Hameng and Huan Yi actually hid their unique skills and killed these warriors with just regular attack to look like they were killed by Poison clan. With the poison added on top of that, it will surely look like the Poison clan was behind this.

“A wise decision, my master.”

Huan Yi then walked out to fetch his warriors and Yeowun spoke to Lady Mu at the ground.

Lady Mu flinched and began to tremble. Heart began to pound severely and her bodies were drenched with sweat.

‘No! NO! NO!! I CAN’T DIE LIKE THIS! NOOO! PLEASE!!!!!!’

“Go down to hell, and repent until you burn into ashes.”

With sharp qi penetrating into her right neck, she instantly fell to cold darkness.

Next day, castle of the Demonic Cult were noisy with unexpected news. All cultist residing in Lord’s palace and all clans were notified of certain news, and this was so shocking that it shocked all who heard it. It was a news that due to fight between Wise clan and Poison clan, Poison clan who were merely left with few members were wiped out. This became so shocking that everyone talked about it.

‘What?! Is it true?!’

‘By the gods... one of six clan just wiped out in a night?! How is that even possible?’

‘What is the world going to... The poison clan is gone?’

But what’s more shocking was the news of the Wise clan. It was said that over 200 warriors of the Wise clan were found within mansion of the Poison clan with their bodies melted from poison or corrupted. This sight was found by staff who daily visited the Poison clan to deliver poison ingredients. 9th Elder was now on the scene, looking into the matter.

‘Is that true?’

‘It’s terrifying... so the Poison clan didn’t go down quietly.’

‘I’m not sure what will happen when the Wise clan leader returns.’

‘I don’t think there won’t be much. It’s not like you can do something to the dead.’

The Poison clan who were responsible for these death of Wise clan were all dead.

‘B-but, see? Prince Chun Muyun was also found at the scene.’

‘Huh? Wasn’t he in the Demonic Academy?’

‘Yeah! Demonic Academy also posted a notice too. They say that Wise clan attacked Prison cave of the Academy and helped escape Chun Muyun and son of the first elder.'

'What? They attacked Demonic Academy? ...Wise clan is powerful, but to broke the laws of the cult? Hmph.'

'It seems instructors there caught some of these criminals... well, I guess we need the Lord back to fix these things.'

'Yeah, seriously. It hasn't been long since they went out, and things are going messy.'

Atmosphere within the cult began going really bad. Cultists thought that beginning with members of six clans being killed within the Academy, fight between six clans were becoming more severe. All of cultists hoped that the Lord will come back soon.

And at the office of the Ghost Illusion clan, many people were coming in to report to Huan Yi. Huan Yi was sitting on this desk to work in a long time. A middle aged man reported to him.

"Our men from the Bijak streets returned. We are spreading ill rumors, and people are now focusing on the Wise clan."

"Good work."

Huan Yi smiled and complemented the man. Surprisingly, part of the rumor spread within the cult was intended. Ghost Illusion clan, one of covert group of the cult were good at controlling the mass.

"It didn't even need lot of work."

"Of course. There's no one to stop us."

If the Poison clan or the Wise clan was present, then they would have worked to stop these rumors from spreading. But the Poison clan was no more and every Wise clan that remained in the cult was also gone. So the truth was completely covered under the false truth that replaced it.

‘Prince Chun. I am astounded.’

All of this was done from direct order of Chun Yeowun. Huan Yi was going to work on controlling the mass even without the order, but he thought it was amazing when Yeowun himself ordered it specifically. It felt like if Yeowun was 80 year old man, who had experienced all sorts of things, rather than young man who just got out of the Demonic Academy.

‘What would the Wise clan leader think of what happened?’

Huan Yi was delighted and anticipated to see the reaction of that arrogant, and powerful man.

Chapter 171 - Second approval (2)

Chapter 171: Second approval (2)

AT the same time at guesthouse of the Ghost Illusion clan, Chun Yeowun was standing with grim face, with his members by his side. All of them were sullen, seeming to not have slept over night. Chun Yeowun told his member to go take rest, but they couldn't let his master stay awake while they go to sleep.

'Hm... he would be very tired from what happened yesterday.'

But they couldn't dare tell Yeowun to go take rest. Chun Yeowun stayed up all night, as Guard Jang was in dire state. Lee Hameng called Baek Jongmeng to look after Guard Jang. They wanted the Demon Doctor, Baek Jongwu, but he was doctor of the Lord and went together outside the cult. Chun Yeowun was grim after he heard that Guard Jang might not make it through the night.

'Jang...'

Many memories made him more painful. If even Guard Jang dies here, then every ties he had with his childhood were lost.

'Prince Chun...'

Mun Ku felt sad from watching Yeowun's pained expression. She wanted to cheer him up, but she knew that nothing would help when they did not hear any result. All she could do was to stay together. And after a long time...

"Whew... I'm exhausted..."

Door of the room opened and Baek Jongmeng walked out with exhausted look. He too looked tired from staying up all night to tend to the patient.

“Huh?”

Baek Jongmeng found Chun Yeowun and bowed. Yeowun was now an Elder, so he couldn't speak to Yeowun like before, but it was still glad to see Yeowun outside the academy.

“Elder Chun. Why are you here?”

Chun Yeowun walked up to Baek Jongmeng quickly and asked.

“D-doctor Baek. How is he? How is Guard Jang?”

“Guard Jang?”

Baek Jongmeng was dragged out of his dorm room and was taken here, so he didn't know who his patient was.

“H-he was my guard.”

“Oh- OH!”

This was reason why Left Guardian Lee Hameng told him to take especially good care of the patient. Baek Jongmeng looked at Yeowun's shaking eyes, and spoke hesitantly.

“I'm sorry to say...”

Yeowun turned grim. Jongmeng then thought maybe Yeowun had mistaken what he was going to say, so quickly continued.

“Oh- what I’m saying is that all of his teeth are pulled so he might have to live with soup for rest of his life.”

“H-huh? You mean...?”

Baek Jongmeng smiled.

“He is now in stable condition. He’s a strong man.”

“Ah-ah!”

Chun Yeowun’s face brightened up instantly. All of his concern over night flew away. And by looking at Yeowun’s joyous look, his members came up to him and congratulated.

“G-great! Master!”

“You were worried so much!”

“Prince!”

Hu Bong and Mun Ku were even teary as they rejoiced. They were worried so much from looking Chun Yeowun in such pain. It was fortunate that Guard Jang had survived.

“Hmm... but it’s better we stay away. Patient needs time to rest.”

“Ooop!”

“I-I’m sorry!”

All of them then quietly walked out, away from the room. Guard Jang was now in his sleep after taking medicine that Baek Jongmeng had made for him. Chun Yeowun thanked Baek Jongmeng multiple times.

“It’s okay. I just did what I have to as a doctor. Oh, but look at the time! I have to go back to work now.”

“Now?”

It looked like Jongmeng was going to collapse from exhaustion, so Yeowun offered him to take some rest, but Jongmeng shook his head.

“It’s okay. I’ll go to the medical room and take some sleep there. You’re not at the academy anymore, so I don’t think I will be busy anymore.”

“Huh?”

“U-uh, nothing. It’s nothing.”

The medical room at Demonic Academy was always busy when Chun Yeowun was there. But without him anymore, Baek Jongmeng felt bit sad that he won’t be getting any more patient.

‘Well, it’s just few more month.’

After few months, the academy was going to be over and Baek Jongmeng thought maybe he will see more patients once he gets out. The thick smell of blood coming from Chun Yeowun was proof of that.

And after Baek Jongmeng returned to the academy, members from Chun Yeowun’s group offered him to rest. But Yeowun had different idea.

“We don’t have time for rest.”

“Pardon?”

“Lord will return to the cult in a while.”

“Oh...”

Return of the Lord. Everyone heard what the 11th Elder Huan Yi spoke while ago. He said that Lord was on his way back and was probably five days away. Yeowun needed to move to achieve the goal. He needed two more approvals.

‘I was able to get rid of Lady Mu from Wise clan since Lord and elders from six clans were missing. But when they return, the fight will only get harder.’

If they return, it was apparent that they will do everything in their power to press on Chun Yeowun. He needed to be ready for anything before that. There was Mun Yun, 8th elder and grandfather of Mun Ku, but there was no way to ask if he will approve Yeowun as the heir, so he needed to prepare for the alternative.

‘I need to contact two others.’

Within current four elders who were left behind, Baek Oh was killed by Chun Yeowun and Huan Yi already have approved Yeowun and swore an oath to serve Yeowun as his master. Yeowun then needed two other elders’ approval.

“At least we can persuade 9th elder easily.”

“Yes, I think so too.”

Hu Bong spoke and Ko Wanghur nodded agreeingly. They had Sama Chak within their group, so it was likely that his father, Sama Yi the 9th elder will approve Yeowun.

“Will you go visit 9th elder first then?”

“No. We’ll meet him once Sama Chak is healed.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Sama Chak was meditating to heal his internal energy, together with Bakgi at another room.

“Then our destination is set.”

“We’ll go to Demonspread Sword Clan.”

Next destination was set to Demonspread Sword clan, to meet the leader Yin Moha. Along with the 4th leader Hang Soyu, she too was a woman who were an elder. Only thing that was concerning was that she was known to have certain connection with the Sword and Wise clan. It wasn’t sure what effect that might have.

Chapter 172 - Second approval (3)

Chapter 172: Second approval (3)

Before coming out of the Demonic Academy, Yeowun was briefed of information about various clans through Left Guardian Lee Hameng, especially of those from 12th elders. It was information that Lord's palace gathered and kept. Lee Hameng also talked about 10th elder Yin Moha.

'There are two elders who even the Lord himself consider them difficult to deal with, due to their characteristics. One of them is 10th elder Yin Moha.'

Another was Huan Yi, the leader of Ghost Illusion clan. Yin Moha's Demonspread Sword clan claimed itself as a clan but there was no warrior aside from the leader herself. There was only the minimum number of staff in her mansion to keep it maintained. What was more weird was that unless there was a direct order from the Lord, or there is an elder meeting, she never came out of her mansion.

'Elder Yin is known to stay within her home and never meet anyone. She even hates visitors from what I've heard. But it is known that she meets the leader of Sword and Wise clan once every few years for an unknown reason.'

'Huh? Meet them?'

'Yes. They always meet on a mountain peak outside the castle, where there is no one. We wanted to send someone to spy on them, but there is no one who can sneak behind the three elders.'

It was impossible to spy on supreme level warrior. Three people meeting definitely looked suspicious but she never made any other movement besides that, so the Lord even stopped having eyes on her after 7 years.

‘That is weird.’

‘She is stubborn and hard to persuade, so I wouldn’t recommend. But if you do get her to join you, she will be of great help.’

‘Is there any special reason for that?’

‘...Her power... exceeds mine.’

And when he said that, Lee Hameng seem to be uncomfortable to acknowledge there was someone stronger than him.

‘She’s more powerful than you?’

She had no forces or achievement that followed, making her lower rank elder but her power equaled to that of leaders from six clans. It was known that Hang Soyu, leader of the Lust clan, always avoided meeting eyes with Yin Moha every time there was an elder meeting. Lord’s palace found out that two elders dueled unofficially and Hang Soyu lost miserably on that. This meant that Yin Moha was a top female warrior within the cult.

‘Aside from her weird personality, she is certainly powerful. But to have her join... it would be faster to persuade the other elders.’

Lee Hameng didn’t like the idea of going to her, but Yeowun decided to receive approval from her anyway. As he thought about what he heard as he walked, the group was already at the mansion of the Demonspread Sword clan. The mansion was bit southeast to the Demonic Academy.

“Huh?”

Hu Bong became curious. The gate of the mansion was locked, but there were no guards standing guard like other clans. The mansion was also very small that it didn't have multiple buildings like other clans mansions were.

“No guards. And very quiet too.”

“I can sense people inside. Check on it.”

“Oh.”

Ko Wanghur spoke to Hu Bong. Hu Bong opened his senses and found a few people inside the mansion. It seemed there were only about 10, and most of them were ordinary people who have not learned any martial art.

“Master, I think we should call them.”

Yeowun nodded and Hu Bong knocked on the gate and shouted.

“Is there anyone there? EXCUSE ME?”

And when Hu Bong shouted few more times, someone ran over to the gate and opened. A middle-aged man, looking to be staff who takes care of cleaning, appeared with a broom.

“Oh, Uh, how can I help you sirs?”

It was clear that this man was not martial artist even from the way he talked. It was true that Yin Moha didn't have any martial artist around. Hu Bong spoke to the man.

“This here, is 12th Elder, Prince Chun Yeowun. We are here to meet with 10th Elder. Please let her know.”

“W-what! 12th Elder?!”

Man’s eye turned wide and looked at Chun Yeowun. It was surprising to see a sudden guest, and it was even more shocking to find out that the guest was Elder of the cult. But the Demonspread Sword clan was not keen to outside news, so they didn’t know the name of Chun Yeowun.

‘Huh? This young man is elder?’

The middle-aged man seemed hard to accept that young man like Yeowun was an elder, and looked back suspiciously. Yeowun then took out a medal that proves himself as an elder, and the man quickly ran in to report to the master.

“Hmm... this doesn’t feel good.”

Mun Ku spoke, and she was completely right. The man, came out not too long after and spoke hesitantly.

“A-are you sirs from Lord’s palace?”

“No, we aren’t.”

“Oh...”

The man moaned and bowed deeply and spoke.

“I’m sorry, Elder Chun! My master says she will not meet you if its not an order from the Lord.”

“What!? She wouldn’t meet another elder?!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Hu Bong shouted angrily. It was totally up to the owner of the mansion to meet the guest or not, but they didn’t expect she will refuse to meet another elder.

“Hmmm...”

Yeowun moaned. He thought she would at least show her face, but that wasn't the case. It seemed it another method was needed to meet with 10th Elder, Yin Moha.

‘Should I provoke her as a martial artists’ way?’

Chapter 173 - Second approval (4)

Chapter 173: Second approval (4)

He wanted to leave a good impression for the first time, but with the person refusing to meet with him, it seemed it was better to go this way than to charge in through the mansion. The mansion was small, so the distance was enough.

“I will have to excuse you.”

“Yes?”

Chun Yeowun then brought up powerful energy and exploded out toward the mansion. Yeowun’s energy at the supreme level was enough to provoke equal level warrior.

“M-master?!”

Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku and even Hu Bong were shocked by the power. Ones with weaker internal energy felt their legs shaking from powerful energy pressing down on them.

“Nnnnnahhhh!”

The man, who was just an ordinary man, became pale and slumped down to the ground. With such powerful energy focused on the mansion, it was sure that Yin Moha will react in some way if she is interested as a martial artist.

‘Huh?’

But there was no reaction from inside. Yeowun became dumbfounded.

‘Is it as Left Guardian said?’

He didn't think she would be this much uninterested in outside affairs. He had to at least meet her to see if he can persuade, but this was no use. Yeowun thought for a while and decided to check on something before he left.

'Left Guardian said she has some ties to the Wise and Sword clan.'

If she is their supporter, then Yeowun needed to strike her down sooner than later. If Yin Moha, powerful martial artist equaling to those of elders from six clans support them, then it only meant Yeowun's forces will be in trouble.

"Can you send my message to the 10th elder then?"

"Y-yes! Of course!"

The staff answered quickly with a frightened voice.

"Tell her I asked 'Do you walk the same path with Wise and Sword clan?'"

He decided to ask directly. If she is truly their supporter, she will react and if not, she will not show any response.

"W-wait a second."

The man grabbed his shaking leg and walked back into the mansion. Ko Wanghur then asked Chun Yeowun with a curious look.

"Master, are you not here to receive approval from the 10th elder? Why do you ask such a thing?"

It was natural as only Yeowun was the one who heard about the connection of the 10th elder with Sword and Wise clan. Yeowun then answered to Wanghur.

“I’m checking to see if she’ll remain as an observer, or become an enemy.”

“...So, you’ve given up on her medal.”

If she was this stubborn, then it seemed impossible to persuade her to join them anyway. The best scenario then was to have her remain as neutral in the fight between six clans. And it was not long after the staff went back into the mansion.

Yeowun turned to the inside of the mansion. Sharp energy began to rumble from inside, and Yeowun became grim.

‘So, she’s the latter.’

From the energy, it was sure that she wasn’t going to be an observer.

“W-what is with this energy!?”

“Ah-ah!”

Ko Wanghur and Mun Ku also felt the energy bit after Yeowun, and became shocked. This was as powerful as the energy that unleashed from Chun Yeowun just a moment ago. It was certain that this energy was coming from the owner of this mansion. That’s when the staff ran out in a pale face and spoke to Yeowun and his members.

“M-master wants you to come in.”

10th Elder Yin Moha invited them in. Yeowun nodded and walked into the mansion. As he walked over the gate, there was a large yard that was filled with sand and the building that Yin Moha lived.

‘Oh! She’s the 10th elder!’

Mun Ku looked at the mansion intriguingly. On the inside of the building, at the terrace, there was a woman looking to be in her 50s, with white clothes. She stood tall and proud, and thick eyebrows and wrinkles over her forehead that showed that she was not an ordinary woman.

‘Sword?’

And on her right hand, there was a sword. It seemed she didn’t invite for hospitality. Yin Moha got down from the terrace and before Yeowun can bow, she pointed at his face and spoke.

“So, it’s you.”

“??”

Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong became angry at such rude gesture. Even if both of them were the same elders, Chun Yeowun was the son of the Lord and candidate of the heir. At least basic manners were required, but she was pointing at Yeowun and acting rudely.

‘So, she sure is strange.’

She looked like a noble woman at first, but she was very rough. It was possible to see why even the Lord considered her difficult. Even to her attitude, Yeowun did not mind it and bowed.

“12th Elder, Chun Yeowun here to meet 10th Elder, Yin Moha.”

“Bah! I don’t care if you are from Chun, or the elder. I pay no respect to anyone other than the Lord of the Cult.”

It was merely an introduction, but she was hostile. Yeowun became grim.

‘So, she’s with the Wise and Sword clan.’

If that wasn’t the case, there was no reason for her to react in such a way. That’s when Yin Moha suddenly pulled out her sword.

‘W-what?!’

‘What is she doing?!’

Yeowun’s members became grim at Yin Moha’s sudden movement. The sword revealed its dark cold steel blade, and she charged against Yeowun with a hostile look and shouted.

“You said what? Same path!? You dare consider me as those despicable betrayers?! I will teach you a lesson!!!”

And with that, Yin Moha charged like a lightning and unleashed powerful sword movement at Yeowun. Mun Ku shouted with shock.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Prince! Watch OUT!”

And in that short moment, Chun Yeowun’s eye grew large. This powerful sword formation, that increased its power by having 18 sword movement combining itself, was the formation that Yeowun very well knew.

‘True Demon Sword?’

This was the True Demon Sword, the sword skill created by Sword Demon, that 10th Elder Yin Moha was using.

Chapter 174 - Second approval (5)

Chapter 174: Second approval (5)

True Demon Sword, is the sword skill left by Sword Demon, legendary swordsman from 500 years ago. It is a sword skill that is told to be two top most powerful sword skills along with the Sword Art of the Sky Demon. But Sword Demon did not have any apprentice before he died, so it was known to be lost. But in truth, there were three people who Sword Demon taught his skill.

Kingchun, Mu Jurang, and Yin Hongsu.

Three of these geniuses were trained to appoint them as loyal servants and supporters to Chun Muhwa, but the result was a failure. Kingchun and Mu Jurang used their identity of being apprentices of the Sword Demon to force a marriage with the Lord Chun Muhwa. Sword Demon was then disappointed and banished them from apprenticeship. Sword Demon thought that his title of World's strongest man, had tainted his apprentice for greed and never taught the true martial art until he died. And with that, it was known that Sword Demon's one-man clan, Sword Family was said to be finished.

But here was now the True Demon Sword that was known to have gone.

Yin Moha's powerful sword formation that was combined with 18 sword movement charged toward Chun Yeowun.

'Second formation...!'

Chun Yeowun who had the book of True Demon Sword transferred already, acknowledged the formation right away.

The power was amazing. But Yeowun knew what this formation was in every detail.

Yeowun took out the cold steel sword from his waist, and without even doing any special formation, Yeowun thrust his sword into the middle of 18 sword movements coming at him. And with pushing the force qi into the sword to create reflective energy, the sword formation was instantly countered.

“What?!”

Yin Moha became shocked. The place Yeowun had thrust was the sole weak point of the formation.

‘He countered True Demon Sword’s formation in just once?!’

IT was hard to believe. She had never had one to counter her sword formation ever since she learned it. She quickly took steps to get some distance and shouted at Chun Yeowun.

“What are you! How did you counter my sword formation!?”

“What am I? I’m the one who’s curious. How- where did you learn that sword skill?”

Yin Moha became shocked at Yeowun’s question. She thought nobody would recognize her sword skill that was known to have been lost 500 years ago, but it seems Yeowun knew very well of what it was.

‘He knows the True Demon Sword? But how can’t he?’

Yin Moha was shocked but didn’t show her shock and shouted.

“It’s sword skill from my clan! What are you talking about?”

“True Demon Sword is the sword skill of Demonspread Sword clan? That is the most absurd thing I have ever heard. I didn’t know Sword Demon had an apprentice.”

“True Demon Sword?!”

Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku and Hu Bong became shocked at Yeowun’s word. Every cultist of the Demonic Cult knew about the legendary swordsman Sword Demon, and his unique True Demon Sword skill. It was also famous that the skill was lost in history. Cultists who weren’t told of the truth didn’t know much detail, and we’re ashamed that one of two powerful sword skill was lost.

‘The sword formation just now was True Demon Sword?’

‘Is that real?’

‘Sword skill of the Demon Sword!’

They all just thought Yin Moha’s supreme level power was behind such powerful sword formation. If what she just used was truly the True Demon Sword, then it meant they just witnessed the legend. What’s more surprising was Chun Yeowun, who had countered such legendary formation in just one sword thrust. Yin Moha frowned and asked at Yeowun.

“You... are you the successor of the Anonymous?”

“Anonymous?”

It just meant it can be anyone, but she spoke as if she was talking about specific someone. Yeowun asked back confusingly and Yin Moha became more confused.

‘So, he’s not related to Anonymous? Well, he will never teach one who is not related to the Sword Family. But how does he know about the True Demon Sword?’

And just as Yin Moha became confused, Yeowun also was deep in thought. Yeowun was able to learn every martial art that Sword Demon left after passing the sixth test and gained access to the underground treasure vault.

‘I thought Elder Yin had learned it through the same route, but it’s not. She doesn’t know about the place.’

That was certain. Only ones who knew that there were skillbook left by Sword Demon at underground treasure vault of the Demonic Academy, were three guardians that kept Sword Demon’s will for 500 years. Chun Yeowun was only one who passed the sixth test in 70 years, so even Chun Yujong, the current Lord did not know its existence.

Yeowun figured out there was something he didn’t know and asked.

“How did you learn that sword skill?”

“Fool. How do you know the True Demon Sword?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yin Moha did not hide that what she used was True Demon Sword anymore. She understood that the counter-attack that Yeowun did was only possible when the one knew the formation to every detail. It wasn’t just happened from talent or luck.

“True Demon Sword skill belongs to the Sword Family. I need to hear your secret.”

She sure was stubborn. She did not answer to Yeowun’s question and kept on asking her. There was no need for further respect. Chun Yeowun shook his head and spoke.

“And you are not from the Sword Family either, are you not?”

Chapter 175 - Second approval (6)

Chapter 175: Second approval (6)

Yin Moha greeted her teeth. It seemed Yeowun had angered her much, so she frowned and shouted.

“WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE TALKING TO! Hah! Okay. We are martial artists, so we talk with swords. I’ll beat you and find out myself.”

Yin Moha claimed strongly and Yeowun narrowed his eyes. She should have understood that True Demon Sword will not work, as Yeowun just countered it. Then where was her confidence coming from?

“Hah!”

Yin Moha then charged again, with sword formation unleashed at Yeowun. It was the same sword formation from the True Sword Demon, but it had some alterations and fixed its weakness.

‘It’s different.’

Yeowun quickly swung his sword and defended himself. He would have been struck if he did not know original sword formation. But with its weak point removed, he only could defend through each sword movement.

“Let’s see how long you can defend against!”

Yin Moha’s sword became faster. She had trained in True Sword Demon for a long time, so the sword formation was now evolved in her hands. This showed that just knowing the sword skill wasn’t enough.

‘Then...!’

Chun Yeowun then changed his method to counter. His stance became equal to that of Yin Moha’s.

‘Huh?’

Sound of swords clashing filled the area. Yeowun was now reacting with the same sword movement to that of Yin Moha.

“Huh? He’s using the same movement!”

Yeowun’s members gasped in astonishment. It was already astonishing to see Yin Moha using her sword, but it was even more astounding when they saw Yeowun doing the same.

‘This is incredible. So, Master knew the True Demon Sword too?’

If that wasn’t the case, then it wasn’t possible for Yeowun to do the same movement like that. When Chun Yeowun quickly copied the changed sword movements, Yin Moha’s eye turned colder.

‘He truly learned the True Demon Sword!’

She felt Chun Yeowun’s enormous power every time she clashed her sword with him. She was certain that if she spends more time dueling, it will not bring her victory. Then she needed to go for the weak point.

‘Will it be possible?’

She had a secret weapon. It was just one look at the shocking sword formation, and she spent all her life in trying to learn it. And after three full years of training, she had perfected just this one formation.

‘I was saving it so I can use it against those fools.’

She had a goal on who to use this, but she also wanted to test this out. Yin Moha then decided and jumped back to put distance between Yeowun. She then readied a different stance. It wasn’t the True Demon Sword.

‘Hmm...’

Yeowun turned grim. It was astounding when Yin Moha used the True Demon Sword, but it wasn’t as much as now. She jumped out and charged with ordinary sword movement.

‘Huh? Where did I see that from somewhere?’

‘Seven Demon Sword?’

Ko Wanghur and Mun Ku also recognized the sword movement. That was the same as the Seven Demon Sword. It was an unexpected sword formation. Yeowun quickly changed the way he held on the sword and defended the attack. Yin Moha’s sword movement was just the start. As she moved onto the second and third, the power began to grow exponentially. Yeowun began to be pushed back.

‘Hmph! You think you can defend against this sword formation?’

Yin Moha’s eyes became filled with arrogance. But that arrogance didn’t last long.

‘Huh?’

She didn't know as she had to focus on the formation she was using against a real enemy for the first time, but Yeowun's sword movement that she first thought it was just for defense, was similar to the sword movement that she was using.

'W-what is going on?'

And with the seventh sword movement being unleashed equally, she was able to acknowledge correctly. The attack was just turned upside down in order it was used. Her sword movement that powered out on Yeowun, was now being pushed back as Yeowun began to move forward.

"Ah!"

And when the 10th movement struck against each other, she was pulled in. Yeowun's sword movement stormed like a giant tornado and struck against Yin Moha's sword movements and scattered her power away.

"H-how do you know this formation?!"

She became pale and shouted in shock and tried to use force qi over the sword movement to defend, but it was no use. The sword formation used by Chun Yeowun was a much higher level than the one she used. Her formation was already countered even before she can barely use, and she couldn't pull out her sword from the torrent that Chun Yeowun's sword formation created.

'N-no! I can't defend it!'

It was shameful, but she tried to let go of the sword and jump back, but that moment, she was sent high into the air.

"Kyaaaaaaah!"

She screamed in shock. That's when Yeowun's last sword movement shoot through against Yin Moha's head, who was pulled up in the air from the energy.

"N-no!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yin Moha instinctively blocked her face with her two hands, but the energy that held her up over the air suddenly disappeared and she dropped to the ground.

"Ugh!"

She was pale from fear of death that could have come to her in just a while ago. And at her neck, Yeowun put his sword close to it and asked coldly.

"Will you continue?"

Chapter 176 - Second approval (7)

Chapter 176: Second approval (7)

‘I... I wasn’t wrong.’

But having fear of her life was removed instantly and Yin Moha looked up to Yeowun with shocked look.

‘It was that. The latter part of the sword formation that Anonymous showed me.’

She was certain. The power of the sword formation that was created with twenty-four same sword movements was more powerful than hers and the power created from the formation was also much more powerful.

“Will you continue?”

Yeowun spoke and Yin Moha frowned and shook her head. The result was already set. She knew that she was behind power, as Yeowun was a higher stage in the supreme level, so she tried to use a powerful sword skill to close the gap, but Chun Yeowun was stronger even in that, so the result was already decided.

“It is your victory. I lost.”

Yin Moha accepted her defeat. Yeowun was worried what she might do, as she seemed to be a stubborn type so it was fortunate that she accepted her loss willingly.

“So, can you tell me where you learned those sword skills?”

What made Yeowun most shocking was the sword formation Yin Moha used at the last. The sword formation comprised of twenty-four movements, was the first formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword that Sword Demon created after fighting against Blade God. But it seemed she had not learned it to its fullest, so it was unstable.

‘Ugh! I’m the one who wants to know!’

She wanted to know about how Yeowun learned that also. She thought for a while with a frown and spoke.

“That is a separate matter. I can’t tell you.”

The answer was no. Yeowun raised his eyebrow and spoke.

“Didn’t you say martial artist speak with sword? And weren’t you trying to make me talk by force?”

“I can’t tell you even if you insist on that.”

“Even if I try to find out by using force?”

“I attacked you first, so if you try to make me pay the price, I’m ready to lose my arm.”

“ ... ”

If Yin Moha, a martial artist, claims that she can even give her arm, which was a lifeline of martial artist, then it was sure that she had a serious reason for not telling him. It seemed it was related to that ‘Anonymous’ she spoke of.

‘What should I do?’

Yeowun began to think. He came here to persuade her to become the second supporter, but came with a different problem. If he doesn’t solve this problem well, then the time he used here was going to be wasted.

‘Master...’

This was solely on Yeowun, so his members had nothing to do but to watch. Yeowun then looked at Yin Moha and spoke.

“Let me change the question. I heard that you have a relationship to Wise and Sword clan, so I thought you may have a connection with them.”

“Connection?”

“Yes. It is not possible for us to go together.”

‘Ah...’

Yin Moha became surprised at Yeowun’s word. Even if she locked herself in the house and stayed away from outside affairs, she too had heard about rumors of the 7th prince of the cult. The prince’s birth was mentioned multiple times in the elder meeting a long time ago.

‘Was it to see if I side with those two clans, that he asked me such question?’

It seemed Yin Moha had mistaken from the question that her staff brought her. She figured that Yeowun was asking of Sword and the Wise clan is the same Sword Family as her, which made her become furious.

‘My temper got me again.’

She tried to fix this, but she couldn’t. And with her misunderstanding being solved, she answered dumbfoundedly.

“Connection... yes, a bad one at that.”

It seems Yin Moha was becoming angry even to think about those two clans. Yeowun realized that she was considering her as the lost Sword Family of the Sword Demon. He wanted to know why.

“Elder Yin. What connection do you have with the Sword Family?”

“Hah...”

Yeowun asked seriously and she sighed deeply. She wanted to be asked of this question ever since she became the leader of the Demonspread Sword clan. The cult was under control of six clans for long time. Even the Chun family now had blood of these six clans — no matter how hard Demonspread Sword clan tried, its claims were shunned.

‘Prince not from any of the six clans...’

Maybe it was a chance to talk to the prince who had no relation to them. She hesitated for a long time and spoke.

“We, the Demonspread Sword, clan is the only clan that succeeds the will of the Sword Demon. We are the descendant of the Sword Family.”

“Descendant of the Sword Family?”

As far as Yeowun knew, the Sword Demon did not take any apprentices, resulting in the loss of his entire clan. Then what did this mean? Yin Moha began unveiling her story, starting from how she was told of this through her clan.

Five hundred years ago, there were three apprentices to the Sword Demon. Kingchen, Mu Jurang, and Yin Hounsus. Three of them were from ordinary soldier families that had good muscles and talents that the Sword Demon chose himself. He wanted to train them and take one best sword genius to succeed his Sword Family and have the other two to be the guards of the Lord. The Sword Demon was a genius in his sword skills, but he was also a genius in teaching. Three of these students learned martial art very quickly and showed promise among many warriors from their same age.

The problem arose from there. Sword Demon considered loyalty to the Cult as the most important trait required. But unlike his wish, Kingchen and Mu Jurang began to grow in greed and were helped by other clans to force their marriage with the Lord. And with approval from the elder meeting, it was decided quickly. This greatly disappointed the Sword Demon.

“The Sword Demon thought that his achievement and feat have clouded their judgment and drove them into greed.”

Chapter 177

Chapter 177: Second approval (8)

Sword Demon shunned them from his apprenticeship at once. But that anger also came to Yin Hongsu, who wasn't involved in the greed. Yin Hongsu was also shunned. He had tried so hard in trying to learn the sword so he can succeed the Sword Family, but that wish was gone due to the other two men.

"My ancestor, Yin Hongsu was banished like that but he never forgot about Sword Demon."

And when Sword Demon died without taking any further apprentice, the Sword Family was lost forever. Yin Hongsu did not want the legend to be gone forever, so he claimed that he was the successor and created the second Sword Family. But that wasn't approved.

"Yin Hongsu was not approved only because he was banished in the middle from Sword Demon! But then!"

Yin Moha bit on her lips in anger. The elder meeting that did not approve Yin Hongsu, approved that Sword clan created by Kingchen, and Wise clan created by Mu Jurang to be the successor of the Sword Family.

"Hmm..."

Yeowun moaned. Yin Moha's anger was just. After receiving the approval, Yin Hongsu became angry and complained to two leaders of each clan but Yin Hongsu was then imprisoned for 10 years because he ashamed members of the Lord's family.

"Yin Hongsu was furious and thought to fix things right."

And after he got out of prison in 10 years, two clans had become so powerful that there was no way to do anything anymore. Yin Hongsu thought Sword Demon would be ashamed, so he decided to continue to the will and keep Sword Family's name clean.

"And from then on, we, the Demonspread Sword clan, focused to restore the True Demon Sword of the Sword Demon for generations."

They thought with their internal energy formed from that of Sword Demon, recovering the True Demon Sword was going to be enough to find the honor of Sword Demon and Sword family back. But restoring the sword skill that he just saw few times when Sword Demon used, was hard. And Yin Hongsu, who thought it was impossible to restore the sword skill by himself, took in apprentice to succeed his will. And 500 years had passed. There was a total of three grand goals for the Demonspread Sword clan.

"One, is to succeed the will of Sword Demon and restore his honor. Second, is to recover perfectly on his Truer Demon Sword."

'But that wasn't the recovered sword skill.'

Chun Yeowun was curious. If it was only True Demon Sword that Yin Moha used, that was explainable. But that didn't explain Twenty Four Demon Sword.

"What is the last one?"

'Can I trust him? He isn't from six clans...'

Yin Moha hesitated for a bit at Yeowun's question and answered.

“Find the true cult back, back from the hands of these scum Wise and Sword clan. And restore the order and loyalty that belongs to the Lord.”

“Ah...”

Loyalty. That was only one thing that Sword Demon wanted from his apprentice. The Demonspread Sword clan chose to have only one person continue on the tradition just like how the Sword Dmeon did, and thought of the future of the Demonic Cult. But six clans became too much powerful for one man clan to deal with.

Yeowun was astonished. He thought that Sword Demon’s apprentices were only filled with greed, when he first heard from Lee Hameng at the underground treasure vault. But there was actually an apprentice who succeeded true will of the Sword Demon.

“...You did this for 500 years. It is truly astonishing. So, the Demonspread Sword clan is the true descendant of the Sword Family.”

“Ah...”

Yeowun spoke sincerely and it brought tears to Yin Moha’s eyes. Her entire clan wanted to hear this for generations and she did not expect to hear it from candidate of the heir.

‘How great it would have been if my father, or Yin Hongsu, heard this?’

She became silent from being touched, and Yeowun spoke to her.

"I see no reason not to have the Demonspread Sword clan to continue the will of the Sword Family."

"Of course. I can't have those scumbags to pretend that they succeed the will of the Sword Family."

She gritted her teeth again as she was reminded of the two clans. Yeowun then bowed at Yin Moha.

"I ask 10th Elder, and the true member of the Sword Family Yin Moha. Please approve me as the Heir of the throne."

"Approve? Is that why you have come to me in the first place?"

Yin Moha had not imagined this was the reason for the visit. Yeowun continued, "If you approve, then I will promise you... that Wise, Sword... or any other six clans will never take control of this cult, ever again."

"Hah! You think you can do such a thing?"

She spoke dumbfoundedly. The Demonspread Sword Clan had tried so hard for the past 500 years, so it wasn't likely that Chun Yeowun who had no power like other clans to do such thing.

"If that was easy, we would have..."

But before she can finish her speaking, Hu Bong jumped in.

"We are not lying! The Poison clan is already gone, and all of the people of the Wise clan that remained in the cult are dead, including Lady Mu."

"What?"

"Didn't you know?"

She had cut ties from outside and sent back the messenger who brought the news from the Lord's palace. She was shocked to hear this from Hu Bong. Six clans had kept its power for the past 500 years.

'Is that true?'

Yin Moha became shocked and Yeowun spoke to finish seal the deal.

"Let me cut to the chase. If you approve me and swear an oath to be my servant, I will help you succeed the Sword Demon's will officially."

"...What do you mean?"

"As a man who officially succeeds the teachings of the Sword Demon, I will teach you his martial art."

Yin Moha's eyes grew large. She was curious as to how Yeowun had learned these sword skills of Sword Demon. And what Yeowun just said was shocking indeed.

"Y-you succeeds his teachings? B-but how? How can you succeed his teachings?!"

She shouted in disbelief and Yeowun smiled.

"With the skill book."

Chapter 178 - Second approval (9)

Chapter 178: Second approval (9)

“S-Skill book?”

Yin Moha became dumbfounded. Everyone knew that Sword Demon had left no skill book of any kind before he died. And if there was any left, then Wise and Sword clan, most powerful clans at the time would have taken it for themselves.

“B-but there’s no way Sword Demon would have left a book...”

She became confused and Yeowun spoke to her.

“Do you know why the Demonic Academy was built?”

“?”

She became confused and Yeowun explained the story he heard from Lee Hameng, with the shortened version. The point was this. Sword Demon had created the Demonic Academy in order to find the true successor to his will. He then prepared so that the ones that pass the sixth test of the academy are allowed to retrieve the skill book that contained every martial art of the Sword Demon.

‘I guess she doesn’t need to know about the underground treasure vault.’

If the existence of that room spreads, then it was sure to create another problem. It was better to have only one that passed the sixth test to gain access to the place.

“S-Sword Demon had created such a thing...”

None of the members from the Demonspread Sword clan had passed the sixth test in 500 years, so they had no way of knowing this truth.

“It’s better to see it then hard.”

Yeowun then pulled his sword and walked to the yard. As everyone looked at him with a curious look, Yeowun unleashed the sword formation with his cold steel sword.

‘True Demon Sword...’

He was proving the sword formation by showing it. It was truly the True Sword Demon skill itself that was created with every powerful sword moves. Its power was unmatched as the legend said.

“Whoa!”

Nano had transferred this to him, so Yeowun’s formations were accurate to the last inch as what it was written in the book. Yeowun’s members and Yin Moha were astounded. When Yeowun’s sword formation of True Sword Formation was finished, Yeowun changed the way he held on the sword and began to use another sword formation.

The sound of the sword slashing through the air was tighter. Its power was much more than that of True Demon Sword, and the sword formation was so powerful even by just looking at it.

‘By the gods... what is this sword skill?’

‘Look at that powerful sword movements!’

They saw this already when Yeowun used it against Yin Moha while ago, but it was still astounding to see it again.

‘Twenty Four... Demon Sword...!!’

Yin Moha became reddened from excitement. She knew the first formation as she had trained in it for ten years, but it was the first time she was looking at other formations.

“Ah-ah...!”

She gasped and moaned. As she watched Yeowun using formation by formation on the Twenty Four Demon Sword, her eyes became teary.

‘That is... the true Twenty Four Demon Sword...!’

The Demonspread Sword clan had used 500 years in restoring sword skill of the Sword Demon. She then felt something breaking her seal that tied her down at her house, in fulfilling that goal. And when she saw the light coming into that dark barrier...

“Huh? M-master!”

Yin Moha fell to the ground, and the staff that was still around tried to run up to her in shock. Mun Ku stopped him.

“Wait.”

“Y-yes?”

It would have become a serious problem if Mun Ku had not stopped him. Yin Moha wasn’t just dropped to the ground. She was meditating. A light in varying color began to shine from her and powerful torrent began to unleash from her.

“W-what is going on?”

Workers inside the mansion became shocked and looked at her. Yin Moha’s body was shining in five colors of light. Ko

Wanghur mumbled in astonishment.

“Five qi unification...!”

Yin Moha had entered Five qi unification. It was the last stage to become at the end stage of the supreme level.

‘She received understanding.’

Yeowun retrieved his sword and looked at Yin Moha. Yin Moha was shining brightly as she went through. When this is over, she will go through body reconstruction.

‘So, I went through that?’

Yeowun almost laughed when he saw his three members looking at Yin Moha with the envious look. It was then. With something flying in heard through his ears, Yeowun reached out. Something was stopped at about five steps away from where Yin Moha was meditating.

“T-this?!”

Hu Bong snatched it on the air and spoke in shock. It was a sharp needle with red feathers. It had a dark poison at the end.

“Poison?”

Where did it come from?

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Ugh!”

It was a small sound, but Ko Wanghur, a super master level warrior, heard it clearly. He bolted out like lightning toward the sound and found a staff trying to run away at the corner of the building.

“Aargh!”

Ko Wanghur grabbed the man on the neck. The man tried to get out of the grasp, but there was no use. Soon, the man began to tremble.

Chapter 179 - Second approval (10)

Chapter 179: Second approval (10)

“What?”

Wanghur then saw the man having bubbles over his mouth as he died. Wanghur tried to make him vomit it out, but the poison spread quickly over to the man's body and killed him.

“No...”

Wanghur then turned to try to let Yeowun know, but Yeowun wasn't there. Chun Yeowun was at the roof of the building and dragging another man down.

‘Oh, there was one more!’

The man was being held by his neck, with his chin distorted in a weird way. He was sealed of his movement by blood point before he chewed on the poison. On his hand, there was something shaped like a flute. It seemed that was the weapon used to shoot this projectile.

“Stand guard for her.”

Yeowun ordered at his members. Three of them nodded and stood guard in three ways around Yin Moha. Yeowun threw the man down inside of the building and reached out toward the man's mouth. He seemed he didn't understand what Yeowun was trying to do.

‘W-what? What is going on?!’

He felt strong pain coming from his left lower part of the mouth. The pain came over to him, but he couldn't do anything but to cry in pain as his blood points were sealed that stopped him from moving or scream. And with the sound, something was pulled out from his mouth. IT was his molar tooth, that had small wire wrapped around with small medicine ball.

“Did you try to kill yourself with this?”

Yeowun flashed the ball at the man, and man’s eye shook terribly. It seems Yeowun’s action of reaching out, was using the force energy to pull out the teeth.

‘Dammit! He took out the poison!’

The man lost way to run and lost the way to kill himself. Yeowun looked at him coldly and spoke.

“Who sent you?”

There was no more poison in his mouth, so Yeowun unsealed the blood point so the man can talk. The man knew that Yeowun was not someone he can even imagine to resist, so he spoke in shaking voice.

“I-I won’t tell you.”

“Oh?”

Yeowun then sealed the blood point again. The man frowned as Yeowun only asked once and silenced him again. Yeowun whispered to the man.

“10th Elder will be delighted to hear that you tried to assassinate her.”

The man turned pale. What he did was to kill Yin Moha while she was in trance. There was no way she will kill the man easily.

“I guess you will never spill it out, wouldn’t you?”

And without warning, Yeowun snapped one of his fingers to the back.

“Nnnnnnnnnnnnnnnnngh!”

He couldn’t speak, so he moaned in pain. He thought Yeowun will ask few more times, so he didn’t expect Yeowun will start torturing right after. Yeowun then looked at the man and whispered like a demon.

“I will break your bones one by one, so if you change your mind, roll your eye upside down. But I guess you won’t give in, won’t’ you?”

‘N-no!’

The man thought he had to change his mind right now and quickly rolled his eyes, but Yeowun wasn’t looking at him anymore.

‘Nnnnnnnnnnnnnnnnnnaaaaaargh!’

It was about hour later when Yin Muha’s bones and muscles began to enter the reshaping process. After about 10 minutes of trembling, her skins began to crack. Mun Ku’s eye turned wide from shock.

‘Body reconstruction!’

She didn’t know that five qi unification resulted in body reconstruction, so she and other members were shocked to see it. Even Chun Yeowun who was inside the building was now out of the room and watching it happen.

‘It’s amazing to see.’

The crack started from one place soon spread toward the entire body. It looked like if it will shatter even with the slightest touch. And it was then. Yin Moha moved and the cracked shell over her shattered and turned to dust. She had finally reached the true supreme level.

‘What!’

‘Whooooooooaaaaah! What is that!’

Unlike Mun Ku who was shocked by the body reconstruction itself, Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong was shocked in a different aspect. Yin Moha, a middle-aged woman who looked sophisticated and noble, was entirely different now. Her skin had found the youth again, and she now looked like woman in her mid-20s. Her sharp eyes and thick eyebrow now made her look like a cold, intelligent woman.

“Ah...”

Yin Moha opened her eyes. Being at the end stage of the supreme level, she trembled in achieving her accomplishment and soon jumped out. She quickly got down to the front of the building and bowed toward Chun Yeowun. She then shouted in a large voice.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Leader of the Demonsread Clan, and 10th Elder Yin Moha, swear an oath of allegiance to the true successor of Demon Sword, Chun Yeowun.”

Mun Ku looked at her with blush and quickly sent a telepathic message to Hu Bong and Ko Wanghur who were looking at Yin Moha with mesmerized looks.

[Stop... LOOKING!!]

Yin Moha was naked.

Chapter 180 - Unexpected Offer (1)

Chapter 180: Unexpected Offer (1)

With 10th Elder Yin Moha going through body reconstruction, for the first time in his life, a naked woman was bowing to Chun Yeowun in allegiance. Yeowun also became embarrassed and looked away.

“...Elder, you should get dressed first.”

“Oh!”

Yin Moha was weird, but when she realized she was naked, she blushed and quickly ran into the building. She looked like in her 20s now, but she was still in her 50s so she didn't scream or anything like that.

“Haha, it's hot. Isn't it?”

“Yeah, I know.”

Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong flapped their hands at their face. It was cold winter, but they were hot for some reason.

And with this, Yeowun was able to acquire the second approval, and the powerful servant who was at the end stage of the supreme level. It was as Lee Hameng said. She was going to be a valuable asset to the member.

After about ten minutes, Yeowun and his members were gathered in the office of the mansion. 10th Elder Yin Moha, now looked about as same age as the others. But Mun Ku didn't look so happy.

‘Ugh, look at them, they're fooled by her naked body!’

She seemed to think all of the boys here were fools. But only one who knew her as a girl was Yeowun, so only Yeowun knew why she was being uncomfortable.

“Is that true?!”

Yin Moha was looking down at the man kneeling at the office. The man had all of his fingers snapped backward and begged, but the anger didn't go down. Yin MOha gritted her teeth as she growled in one clan's name.

“Sword Clan...!”

She didn't think the staff that worked for over ten years were spies of the Sword clan. She didn't even become suspicious as the staff did not have any internal energy.

‘The Sword clan told him to watch over me?’

The staff spilled everything he knew to Chun Yeowun. They were told that if she finds any progress in restoring the Sword Demon's sword skill, then they were ordered to bring it out. But they couldn't see Yin Moha in training, as she always trained in a locked room and she didn't leave any tracing so it was no use.

“You dare tried to kill me...!”

And with no findings, that's when they saw Yin Moha going under body reconstruction and thought they had to interrupt it at all cause. This betrayal was as terrible. The man begged as hard as he could.

“M-master! Please! Please don't torture me!”

He wasn't begging for his life. He was a trained spy, so he didn't fear death. But after being his fingers snapped and nails pulled out, he had gone through so much pain that he wanted to die.

‘Master... Y-you still haven’t changed.’

Hu Bong felt sweat running through his forehead. It was long memory, but he was reminded of his first meeting with Chun Yeowun at the medical room. Chun Yeowun’s torture was that of a trained torturer.

“Hah!”

“UGH!”

Yin Moha angrily created sword qi over her finger and thrust it into the staff’s heart. She did not intend to let the man live who tried to kill her, even if the man served her over 10 years. When she seemed to ease her anger, Yeowun asked her.

“Elder, can I ask you what is going on?”

Yin Moha did not speak the important part that Yeowun was being curious on. Yin MOha thought for a moment and spoke.

“Okay. I decided to serve you as my master, so I will tell you everything.”

Leaders of the Demonsread Sword Clan were powerful, as their root was from the Sword Family itself. So even if they weren’t from six clans, they often took important roles within the cult. The reason for them to take such important roles were to compete against six clans, but also to continue the true will of the Sword Family.

“We wanted to be approved of what we restored over 500 years, but Sword and Wise clan always rejected the idea.”

They always emphasized that they were the true successor to the will and did not approve True Sword Demon that the Demonspread Sword Clan restored. And that continued through history down to Yin Moha.

“It was 8 years ago...”

She still remembered the day. She was training her sword in her mansion when someone infiltrated in.

“He had masked his face, but his eyes were not from any ordinary attacker.”

She didn't let the intruder to just walk freely in her mansion, so she fought against the man. And the result was her loss after just one formation.

‘One formation?’

Yeowun was surprised. It was powerful move. Yin Moha was angered at her loss, when the masked man offered her unexpected offer.

‘You restored True Demon Sword to some extent. If you want to succeed the will of the Sword Family, come to the peak of the Five Wise Peak at the southwest of the Thousand Peaks Mountain in three days.’

This made her become very confused.

“I was so confused and I couldn't find out who he was since he changed his voice.”

If the man knew about Sword Family, and appeared here in the castle, then he must be cultist. But Yin MOha had never seen such powerful martial artist. She was also shocked when the man recognized the True Demon Sword. After hesitating for a long time, she had to go down to the Five Wise Peak. She couldn't just ignore it when the name of Sword Family was mentioned.

"And when I went up the peak, there was ones that weren't expected."

It was Kingbonki of the Sword clan, and Mu Jinwon of the Wise clan. All of them didn't expect each other to be here and readied to fight, but they stopped when the masked man appeared.

'Who are you to mention the name of Sword Family and gather us here?!'

Kingbonki shouted angrily, as he was most hot-tempered one. But he didn't attack the man at once, so it seemed he too had lost against this masked man.

'You don't need to know who I am.'

'Then how should we address you?'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Mu Jinwon asked and masked man answered.

'you can call me Anonymous, if you need the name.'

This was the Anonymous that Yin Moha spoke earlier. After gathering all of them in the same place, the man went into the subject.

‘With all members that succeeds the Sword Family here, I will teach you the lost True Demon Sword to you.’

Chapter 181 - Unexpected Offer (2)

Chapter 181: Unexpected Offer (2)

‘W-what?!’

The three leaders were shocked. It was shocking to hear this masked man saying he will teach the True Sword Demon, but it was also suspicious at the same time.

“And Anonymous showed us the Sword Formation to prove himself.”

The power equal to the Lord’s Sword Art of the Sky Demon was enough to prove that it was real. All of them became tempted to learn.

‘H-how do you know the True Demon Sword?’

‘I can’t tell you.’

‘And why are you teaching us this?’

Mu Jinwon, who was the suspicious type, kept on trying to find out the reason but Anonymous shook his head.

‘I’ll just say this. I just considered it was right to teach this to the ones that have succeeded the teaching of the Sword Demon.’

As he said, they confirmed that this Anonymous was a member of the cult. But his power was so powerful to attempt to find out who he is with force. Kingbonki and Mu Jinwon agreed to be taught on the sword skill, but Yin Moha objected.

‘NO! I can’t allow that!’

Yin Moha told that these two clans were banished by Sword Demon after disappointing him and claimed that these two clans did not have the right to learn it. Two other leaders objected and the atmosphere began to grow worse. And Anonymous came up with an answer.

‘Okay. I will do this. This is not all the teachings from Sword Demon that I am trying to teach you.’

And with that, Anonymous showed them a new sword formation that shocked all of them. One formation was much more powerful than even the Sword Art of the Sky Demon could not compete against.

‘This is named Twenty Four Sword Demon. It is the last sword skill left by the Sword Demon himself.’

Martial arts was like a treasure to every people of Yulin. And from looking at the powerful martial art that can be the most powerful martial art of the entire cult, all of them became tempted. And if it was the last sword skill left by the Sword Demon, it also had great meaning behind it.

‘I’ll offer you this. I will teach all of you the True Demon Sword. And I will teach this to one who mastered perfectly in three years. You all know what this means.’

This meant that whoever learns it will become true successor of the Sword Demon. Yin Moha didn’t want the other two clans to even have the chance of becoming the successor, but Anonymous was firm on his decision.

“I have trained hard so the teaching would not fall at the hands of those scums.”

The Demonspread Sword clan spent 500 years to restore True Demon Sword. And without even needing three years, she was able to complete the sword in just two. And after three years, three leaders met again at the peak of the Five Wise.

“...I thought I was the only one who perfected it. I was wrong.”

Wise and Sword clan also had their roots in the Sword Family. Three years were enough to have these leaders perfect the True Sword Demon Sword. Anonymous concluded that he couldn't find a difference in perfection between them and gave them another chance.

‘You all should know by now that this sword skill is 500 years old, so it has its weakness. Fix this, and you deserve the Twenty Four Demon Sword.’

They were given two years. Yin Moha trained hard as she can to fix the weakness. The result was what she used against Chun Yeowun.

“But the competition was severe.”

Two elders from the Wise and Sword clans were of the top five warriors of the cult. They too worked hard to fix the weakness, so it was natural for them to succeed in removing the weakness. And with the second competition to have reached a tie, Anonymous offered them a final offer.

‘This isn't easy. Then I will change the method. I will see if all of you deserve the right to succeed the relic of the Sword Demon.’

He asked them if they remembered the first formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword. Of course, they did not forget that powerful formation.

‘Good. I will give you three years. Replicate the first formation. If you have will to succeed the Sword Demon and with some luck, you will be able to complete the formation.’

‘What? We have no energy flow or teachings. How can we learn the formation that we just saw once?’

Kingbonki spoke back angrily but Anonymous was firm.

‘That sword movement does not require special energy flow. If you have the right, then you will learn.’

‘Impossible!’

They became dumbfounded and Anonymous suddenly pulled out his sword and unleashed one formation. It was much more powerful, not weaker than the Twenty Four Sword Demon. After the formation, Anonymous’s arm and leg shook and looked exhausted.

‘W-what is that?’

Kingbonki and Mu Jinwon looked shocked. Yin Moha never saw such movement before, but two of them seemed to know something.

‘Ha... hah... I will test you with this formation after three years. If you perfected the first formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword, then you will counter the formation I just used.’

And with that, Anonymous quickly disappeared. They were left with no choice. Yin Moha then finished up her story.

“That was three years ago.”

“Oh...”

Yeowun then realized what Lee Hameng had said. The reason she came into contact with Wise and Sword clan was because of this.

“Three years, so did you already met the Anonymous again?”

“...I have to, in two weeks.”

This was why she was locked up in the house and train. She had to come over these two leaders and succeed the teachings.

“You told me you can teach me Sword Demon’s teachings, but I have to stop those scumbags from learning the teaching!”

Yeowun narrowed his eyes. There was one part that he was being suspicious as he heard the story. It was Anonymous.

‘If he knows the name- Twenty Four Demon Sword... he must have seen the skill book at the treasure vault.’

But that required to pass the sixth test and he had heard no one had passed the test in 70 years. Then who was this man?

‘I should ask Left Guardian on the person who passed the sixth test 70 years ago.’

Whoever it was, if the person was trying to give chance to two other clans, this wasn’t good news for Chun Yeowun. And there was one more thing Yeowun was curious on.

“10th Elder. Do you... still remember the sword formation that the man used 3 years ago?”

“Of course.”

She remembered well on the movement. Yeowun then asked her to show him in private and she took him into the private training room underground of her main building. Yeowun, after getting to the training room, immediately took out his sword and unleashed the formation. It was a grand and powerful movement that made Yin Moha’s eye turned large.

“Ah-ah!”

It was exactly same sword formation that Anonymous showed her three years ago. The only difference was that if Anonymous was barely able to do it, Yeowun was using it flawlessly and naturally.

“H-how do you know this sword formation?! This is the one that Anonymous used back then!”

Yeowun became grim. He was shocked.

‘How can this be...?’

The formation he just used was the first formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

Chapter 182 - Unexpected Offer (3)

Chapter 182: Unexpected Offer (3)

After leaving the Demonsread Sword clan, Chun Yeowun was concerned. He had thought that he alone had learned the sword skills that Father Chun Ma and Sword Demon had left. But it turned out that there was someone else who learned it before him. He then remembered what Left Guardian Lee Hameng spoke to him about.

‘The sword tracing on the pedestal was copied and made it as a book.’

Even if it had no use without the specific energy flow, it was still the sword skill left by the Founding Father of the Demonic Cult, so Sword Demon copied it before he went on to destroy during his practice and sent it to the Lord’s palace.

‘Lord’s palace... then only one who can see the book is the Lord himself.’

Was the Lord Anonymous then? But that didn’t explain how the man knew Twenty Four Demon Sword. The Lord was in his 50s, so it didn’t make sense to say he maybe had passed the 6th test of the Demonic Academy.

‘Do I need to ask Left Guardian? Or...’

And there was a way for Yeowun to go meet. Yin Moha had said she and two elders from Wise and Sword clan were to meet the Anonymous 2 weeks later. It seemed that was the chance.

‘Oh, maybe it’s a good thing. If those two elders will come out of their place willingly and alone...’

Maybe it was the best chance for Yeowun to tackle those. Yeowun can use the chance to ambush them and also find out who this Anonymous is.

‘He learned the Sword Force of the Sky Demon but it’s not perfect.’

Fortunately, the Sword Force of the Sky Demon required specific energy flow or it didn’t allow its formation to be utilized. The reason why Anonymous’ formation was awkward and made him exhausting was probably because he did not know the energy flow.

And when they all gathered back at the office, Yin Moha declared in front of everyone.

“I will guard the prince as of right now.”

“Whaaat?”

She was one of the elders, but she claimed that she will be a guard for Yeowun. This was her way to show her loyalty, even if she was a highly experienced superior master warrior.

‘He needs to succeed for the true return of the Sword Family.’

Chun Yeowun had many enemies. He was quite powerful, but it was still dangerous as he had to face against six clans. Yin Moha thought she needed to protect Yeowun closely. And after he declaration, Mun Ku became uncomfortable. She wasn’t sure why she felt that way and spoke out.

“Hmm... that is a good thing, 10th elder. But if you leave your mansion, it might draw attention from the Sword or other clans. Don’t you think so?”

Regardless of her intention, her reasoning was reasonable. Yeowun too agreed with this and was about to nod, when Ko Wanghur stepped up and spoke with laughter.

“Hahaha! Mun Ku, don’t worry about that.”

“Huh?”

“Master, why don’t we do this?”

When Ko Wanghur explained his way for said problem, Yin Moha agreed. With Wanghur’s suggestion, it was sure that Yin Moha will stay by Yeowun without any concern of having other clans to be wary of them.

‘Thanks for nothing!’

Mun Ku became frustrated and glared at Ko Wanghur, who were satisfied for suggesting ingenious idea. And with that, Chun Yeowun’s group returned to the mansion of the Ghost Illusion clan. When Yeowun returned from his trip to get the approval, Huan Yi came out to greet him.

“Huhuhu... Prince, have everything went well?”

Huan Yi originally was very worried about Yeowun going to meet with Yin Moha. He had seen Yin MOha multiple times at elder’s meeting, but he knew that she was very stubborn and anti-social, that it seemed not possible to persuade her.

‘He probably have not gotten far.’

She wasn’t a type to earn trust just by being strong. Huan Yi expected Yeowun had failed.

‘Hmm... but who is this girl? She sure have glaring eyes.’

Huan Yi couldn't recognize Yin Moha standing next to Yeowun. He remembered her as a middle-aged lady in her 50s. And by reaching the end stage of the superior master level, Yin Moha now hid her energy so well that it made it even harder for Huan Yi to recognize her.

"Stop scanning on me, you genderless bastard."

Huan Yi became surprised at taunting words coming out of the young beautiful woman's mouth.

"Huh? Did you just talk to me?"

"Yeah, you!"

She glared and Huan Yi's eye narrowed. He didn't expect just until now, but it seems he had heard this way of speaking.

"...Wait a minute. I feel like I know you."

"So?"

Chun Yeowun then intervened.

"It seems it's good if you cannot recognize her."

Huan Yi then frowned. He thought for a second and soon his eyes turned wide with shock.

"W-what? Is she Elder Yin?"

Yeowun smiled and nodded. Huan Yi genuinely looked shocked to see Yin Moha who had become younger in her looks.

"My my! Look at your skin! So, you went through body reconstruction?"

“Bah! I said stop scanning at me.”

Huan Yi looked shocked, but also looked envious. His face too, even with the mask, had many wrinkles from his age.

“Ah- I am very jealous. Oh, anyway. Prince, congratulations.”

Huan Yi bowed, to congratulate Yeowun on acquiring second approval. Having Yin Moha on their team when nobody thought it was possible, was a great achievement. And if she had gone through body reconstruction, it meant she was now within top 5 warriors of the cult.

‘Prince had earned a great ally.’

At this rate, it didn’t seem much like it would be much problem for Yeowun to become the heir. The problem was after when the Lord and Elders from six clans return. Yeowun then asked Huan Yi.

“Can you create a mask?”

Huan Yi became surprised at the unexpected request and smiled with a guess.

“Oh, I see. It’s good thinking. Its to hide that she went through body reconstruction, isn’t it?”

“No.”

“What?”

“We need replacement of Yin Moha at her mansion.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“OH!”

Huan Yi realized what Yeowun had planned right away. This was the way that Ko Wanghur had thought of. He said that they can ask Huan Yi to create mask for someone to act like 10th elder at her home. If then, Yin Moha was always one to stay inside her home, never meeting with anyone so it made possible to fool other clans. There was no way for anyone to recognize a young woman guarding Chun Yeowun was actually Yin Moha.

“As you wish, my master.”

Huan Yi then went to his workshop to create the mask. And with Sama Chak still going through healing his wounds, Yeowun decided to take a day off and rest. Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong said they will return to their respective clans. They couldn't meet with their parents yet after coming out of the academy. Mun Ku also said she will return to her home so she can see her brother who was alone at home.

Chapter 183 - Unexpected Offer (4)

Chapter 183: Unexpected Offer (4)

And the day passed. Unlike Bakgi who was badly injured outside also, Sama Chak had healed himself enough to move around.

“Good that you’re okay.”

“I’m sorry, Master.”

Guard Jang was still in a deep sleep as he was in a pretty bad state. Around the afternoon, Ko Wanghur, Hu Bong and Mun Ku returned. They all looked happy to have met their families after a long time.

“How was your brother?”

“Hehe, he’s doing fine. Fortunately.”

She was worried as her grandfather, Mun Yun was away from her home, but her brother was faring well. She was thankful that Yeowun asked of her brother.

And with everyone, other then Bakgi, gathered, Yeowun decided to meet for the third elder. There was one thing Yeowun wanted to ask Left Guardian, but he had to go for the approval first.

“We’ll divide into groups.”

“Huh?”

Last night, Yeowun had planned what he needed to do. He figured that it was important to gather approvals, but it seemed also necessary to meet with clans from his members still at the academy. Yeowun then told Ko Wanghur, Hu Bong and Mun Ku to meet with their members at the academy and arrange a meeting with clan leaders of respective clans. Ko Wanghur then shook his head.

“I think me and Hu Bong can do it fine. It’s better that you keep at least three with you, master. Take Mun Ku with you.”

Yin Moha was enough as a guard, but she was still an elder, so Wanghur thought it wouldn’t feel comfortable for Yeowun to order her around.

‘Dammit... I don’t get to say anything again!’

Hu Bong became disappointed that he was given no chance to say his opinion. And unlike him, Mun Ku was glad that Ko Wanghur suggested so she can stay with Yeowun. Her frustration with yesterday’s event had disappeared. She didn’t know why but she didn’t like seeing Yeowun close with another woman.

“Then I’ll be off to Samu clan. I’m counting on you guys. Wanghur, Hu Bong.”

“Yes, master! Good luck.”

And two groups went on their quest. Yeowun and his group went to the Samu clan’s mansion located east of the castle. Samu clan was one of the highest-ranking clans aside from six clans. The mansion was lavish and grand, almost equal to that of mansion from six clans. At the entrance, Yeowun took a deep breath. He had to duel two of the elders he had got approval from until now. But unlike the other two, Sama Chak said his father was looking forward to meeting with Yeowun.

‘Will I get approval easily this time?’

Yeowun was actually weird that there was an elder who was going to meet him with a friendly gesture. But he wasn't sure yet. And when they got up to the entrance, two middle-aged guards became surprised and ran out.

"Young master!"

They had recognized Sama Chak right away. They had not seen him for three years and 7 months, but they still recognized him right away. They looked happy to see Sama Chak who had now grown into adulthood.

"Mr. Achung. Mr. Sunwon."

"Young master! You have grown well! This is a pleasant surprise! Did you graduate from the academy?"

"Yeah, I'm done with the academy now."

Mun Ku scratched his nose as it felt like he will cry. This looked very promising that Yeowun might get approved easily. Sama Chak then quickly spoke to Achung.

"Can you tell my father that I'm here with Prince Chun Yeowun?"

"Yes, young master."

Achung then ran inside the mansion. Soon, someone else ran out of the mansion. It was the leader of Samu clan, and the 9th elder, Sama Yi. He had slick pushed back hair with well-cared mustache. Sama Yi bowed at Chun Yeowun and smiled.

"Prince, no. Elder Chun. It is an honor to have you here at my humble home. Please come on in."

It was a warm welcome. What's interesting was that Sama Yi did not recognize Yin Moha standing next to Yeowun. It seems he had figured Yin Moha was just some kind of woman guard.

'It should be better to hide your identity for now.'

She agreed with the plan so she didn't say anything. Yin Moha was like a secret weapon to Yeowun now. Sama Yi then spoke to Yeowun.

"Please come in. We will have a feast for Elder Chun's visit! It's still daylight, but we'll go ahead and drink our day away!"

"...Thank you for your hospitality."

Yeowun didn't look all that excited, however. He was awkward at such a warm welcome that he had never received until now, and he also thought that this seemed like it was too much. But Sama Yi wasn't lying. When the group walked past the outer building and into the large guesthouse, they were brought upon large feasting table full of expensive and luxurious cuisine. The scent of expensive liquor was also very tempting. If Ko Wanghur had seen this, he would have regretted sending Mun Ku instead of himself.

"Here now. Come on in. You all have done well at the academy."

Sama Yi offered them to eat. He was still a leader, but he made it so like Chun Yeowun needed to start on the eating for the party to begin. When Yeowun grabbed the chopstick awkwardly, the feast began.

"You know! I was mesmerized by how you handled Elder Baek at that time! It was astonishing!"

Sama Yi sat right next to Yeowun and complemented and praised him throughout the feasting. It was his show of friendliness, but it just felt awkward for Yeowun. And after some time, Yeowun thought it was time to go into his business.

“I have something to ask you, Elder Sama.”

Sama Yi then became serious and responded.

“Please, tell me anything. I will help with anything.”

Yeowun then got up from his seat and bowed.

“I want you to approve me for becoming the heir.”

“Ah!”

Sama Yi looked astounded. He had heard that Yeowun had appeared at the Bijak street, so he had expected this time would come soon.

“You shouldn’t bow to a mere elder, when you will become the Lord in the future. Please, raise up.”

Sama Yi then gave a sign to his servant. The servant came up to him and Sama Yi whispered something, The servant then walked out, to get someone. Soon, someone entered the guest house.

‘Huh?’

Everyone at the feast table turned at the person. She was a beautiful lady, probably in her 19 or 20, with yellow silk clothes with many pieces of jewelry. Her eyes were shaped so that she looked very innocent and pure.

“Introduce yourself.”

Sama Yi spoke to her and she bowed politely.

“Greetings, Elder Chun. I am Sama Young.”

“I am Chun Yeowun.”

It was certain that she was related to Sama Yi, as she shared the family name. Yeowun awkwardly bowed back at her.

‘Why did he call her here?’

Yeowun became confused and Sama Yi smiled and spoke.

“Hahaha, she is my daughter. She is Chak’s sister.”

“...I see.”

Sama Yi then revealed his true intention.

“Of course, I will approve you of becoming the heir. But don’t you think we need some kind of mutual trust for that? And so that’s where I want to ask you.”

Chun Yeowun didn’t feel good about where it was going and frowned.

“What do you mean?”

“Well, since you are not still married... Why don’t you take my daughter as your wife?”

-Pfffffft

Mun Ku spat her liquor that she was drinking like a spray at that word.

Chapter 184 - Unexpected Offer (5)

Chapter 184: Unexpected Offer (5)

Mun Ku sprayed all the liquor over the entire food on the table. Sama Chak was also drenched in a liquid that came out of Mun Ku's mouth and became dumbfounded.

"Mun Ku... what is..."

Chak wanted to complain to Mun Ku on what she just did, but Yeowun spoke first that stopped him.

"I am not following what you are saying."

He had guessed there was something Sama Yi wanted, but he didn't expect it to be a marriage. He did think about the future ahead of him, but marriage wasn't on his mind yet. Sama Yi then asked him.

"Are you not satisfied with my daughter?"

"No, it's not that..."

"Then is there any problem?"

It seems Sama Yi was determined. This whole event had been planned by Sama Yi ever since he saw Yeowun defeating Baek Oh, the leader of Poison clan and the Elder of the Cult.

'I have to make Prince Chun as our family!'

Most clans, even Samu clan who was at highest ranking beneath the six clans, still had to be wary of what they were doing and always were afraid of six clans. And here was

Chun Yeowun, prince from none of these six clans and one who was determined to overthrow the current system.

‘The Sama clan will be the one who earns the place to be the first wife of the future Lord.’

From what he had seen in history, he had thought Yeowun will have multiple wives, even after overthrowing six clans. And if that was true, Sama Yi wanted to take the best piece of pie first when he can. Sama Yi smiled at Yeowun.

“Haha. It is natural for two groups to join together in marriage for better relationships.”

“...”

Chun Yeowun became wordless and Sama Yi changed his method to persuasion.

‘Even if he is powerful, he is still young to know about politics.’

Sama Yi had kept his clan at highest-ranking clan over 20 years against six clans. He was experienced and good at many schemes and tactics. He had many plans ready for his project to have Yeowun as his son in law.

“Elder Chun. If you become the heir, you will have yourself against these six clans. You should know better.”

Every cultist knew that Chun Yeowun and six clans did not get along. If Yeowun was to become the heir, it was apparent that six clans will try to do something to overthrow potential powerful enemy before they are overthrown instead.

“Becoming an heir is just the start. You are powerful, but if you are against them, then you need forces equal to theirs. And for that, Samu clan will be your powerful ally.”

This was true. If Sama Yi, leader of one of highest-ranking clans, and the Elder of the cult were to join, Chun Yeowun was going to earn a great ally.

‘Ugh... he has a point.’

Mun Ku thought as she looked at Sama Yi and Chun Yeowun with worried look. And when she thought got to the point where maybe Yeowun will accept the offer and marry Sama Young, then she became shocked.

‘Huh? Why am I worried about that?’

She was surprised that she came to such thought. She had pledged allegiance but never thought Chun Yeowun as a person of romantic interest. But when she heard that Yeowun might get married, she felt frustrated and sad.

‘No way. I’m not...’

When she realized her feeling was not what she thought it would be, her heart began to pound. And as she began undergoing emotional turmoil, Sama Yi continued.

“No offense, but you are from nowhere, Elder Chun. Background and who you have at your side isn’t something to consider lightly. And for that, marriage will bind us together strong. This will ensure your foothold and help you grow in power.”

“Hmm.”

Yeowun began to thought and Sama Yi figured that Yeowun was agreeing to his idea. Sama Yi then smiled and went onto the conclusion.

“I will approve you of becoming the heir, Elder Chun. But if we become one family, then you will earn the might of Samu clan under your feet. This is possibly the best way you can imagine! Isn’t it? Hahaha.”

But this was what he really thought.

‘With the future Lord as my son in law, our clan will become the number one clan of the cult! This serves both of us well.’

Was he really persuaded? Yeowun seemed to be deep in thought and everyone turned to Yeowun. Mun Ku even had her eyes pointed down from concern. Yeowun, who fell silent for a long time, spoke.

“You are right.”

That brought joy and sadness to the people. Sama Yi wasn’t sure if Yeowun will agree, but he instantly brightened up and smiled.

‘YES! Hahaha! I knew it. What fool will refuse such a good offer?’

But Mun Ku instantly turned gloomy. She felt her heart aching when she heard Yeowun saying as if he was ready to marry. She had been rejecting the idea, but she finally realized her true feeling.

‘So... I’m in love.’

She finally realized her feeling, but Yeowun was going to be with another woman. This made her feel lonely and sad.

Sama Young, who was pushing back her hair embarrassingly, was pretty and Mun Ku herself, hiding her face with man's mask wasn't. There was no way Yeowun will like her in that way.

"Hahaha! You have made a good choice. We will be family now, so we can..."

"I think you misunderstood."

"Yes?"

"I just said you are right in what you said."

Sama Yi froze in place at what Yeowun said and asked.

"I beg your pardon?"

"Let me ask you instead. Aside from marriage, do you intend on approving me of being the heir?"

"U-uh, that's..."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Sama Yi frowned. He didn't expect Yeowun will ask back in this way. He had expected Yeowun to accept the offer as it was going to benefit both of them, so this question was unexpected to say the least.

'This is..'

If he says the marriage was requirement, then it would put him in a shoe where he was only wanting power, and if he says marriage doesn't matter, then this will give Yeowun reason to refuse the marriage.

'He got me. I thought he was going to be naïve... I was wrong.'

Chapter 185 - Unexpected Offer (6)

Chapter 185: Unexpected Offer (6)

Sama Yi was lost for words. He couldn't answer either way. He thought maybe he should go strong for the future's sake, but he was concerned about what Chun Yeowun had done until now, which in turn would come to him.

'Prince Chun does not even fear six clans that all cultists fear. It might not be a good idea to make him angry.'

He was afraid of ruining everything out of greed. Sama Chak then opened his mouth to help his father.

"Master, can I say something?"

"...Go ahead."

"My father, 9th Elder have shown great interest in you ever since the sixth test. Even if it wasn't for the marriage, my father have prepared this feast only because he thought you fit to become the heir."

'N-no! My son, if you say that...'

Sama Yi frowned. Sama Chak was only trying to help, but this had narrowed the remaining option for Sama Yi.

"Is that true? Elder?"

"U-Uh..."

Sama Yi hesitated and Yeowun suddenly got up from the seat. Sama Yi became shocked and Yeowun bowed.

“I think your opinion differs from that of your son’s. I think you and I walk the different path. I am grateful for your welcome. It is time for me to go.”

“Huh?!”

This was an outright decline, giving up what Yeowun had come here to do. Sama Yi thought Yeowun would not go that far as he needed approval, but this wasn’t expected.

‘Ah!’

And with this, Mun Ku who had been gloomy, brightened up. She was worried that Yeowun might marry another woman, but refusing like this gave her new hope.

‘But wouldn’t this become a problem to Prince later?’

She was glad that Yeowun refused, but this brought concern. Samu Clan was surely going to be a great help. Besides, the Lord himself also had 7 wives and many heroes had many wives so marrying someone here wasn’t much of an issue anyway.

‘Oh?’

And with Yeowun turning away, Yin Moha smiled in surprise. She was worried that maybe Yeowun will be persuaded by Sama Yi’s plans, but it was glad to see Yeowun going strong against him.

“Let’s go!”

As Yeowun said to his servants, Sama Yi’s eye turned large.

‘I-is he really leaving?!’

“W-wait!”

As Yeowun tried to go down from the guesthouse, Sama Yi grabbed him.

“E-elder Chun! Where are you going? You can’t just leave!”

Sama Yi frantically held onto Yeowun and decided he should step back on this.

“If you are angry from the marriage proposal...”

“Marriage. That, we can do it just like how you offered. Elder Sama. But do you know why I want to become the heir?”

Chun Yeowun asked Sama Yi. The simple reason would be Yeowun wanting to become the Lord, but this question meant that Yeowun was asking for something else. Yeowun then spoke to Sama Yi.

“Why do you think the six clans hold the power over the entire cult today?”

“Why? That’s...”

Sama Yi then realized what Yeowun was talking about. Chun Yeowun was saying that having a familial relationship with the Lord had brought this problem. Sama Yi, elder of the cult, knew this very well and have thought himself that this was a problem.

“I rose up to fix the cult and bring it back to its origin, and do you want me to repeat the same thing that six clans are doing?”

“Hmmm...”

“I will not do that mistake.”

Sama Yi then shook his eyes. He was just trying to stop Yeowun so he can keep a good relationship with the future Lord, but he was now astounded by Yeowun himself.

‘So, he is not just any other young man... his thoughts are deeper than imagined.’

Yeowun wasn't just thinking of revenging against six clans. He was truly concerned about the future of the Demonic Cult. Yeowun then bowed again to Sama Yi.

“I thank you for your hospitality, but I think what you wish is different from what I want. And for the marriage... I want to be together with someone I love.”

Yeowun then turned away. That's when he heard a pounding sound from behind and stopped. When he turned, Sama Yi was on his one knee. Sama Yi then bowed in respect and shouted.

“I was a fool and did not realize your vision! Prince Chun, please take away your anger.”

Everyone became surprised. Yeowun too asked back in surprised look.

“What are you doing.”

“I, leader of Samu clan, and the 9th Elder, Sama Yi pledge allegiance to the Prince Chun Yeowun. Please take my medal as a token of my approval.”

Sama Yi then reached into his pocket and took out the medal that proved him as an elder. Sama Yi had thrown his greed and truly pledged allegiance. Yeowun smiled silently. And exactly three days after he came out of the Demonic Academy, Yeowun was able to gather three approvals he needed.

After few hours later, Yeowun had returned that he needed to do something during today and Sama Yi laughed and shook his head.

“Hahaha...”

He didn't expect that he will pledge allegiance because he was mesmerized by a young man and didn't even achieve the goal he was trying to do. Chun Yeowun came to him as a shock.

‘I hope I am not wrong.’

He thought maybe Yeowun was going to change the cult back to its glory. And when Sama Yi entered back to his mansion after bidding farewell to Yeowun, he spoke to his daughter, Sama Young.

“Young.”

“Yes, father.”

“He is a man that you should not give up.”

Surprisingly, Sama Yi had not given up on his goal. It wasn't sure if it was intended, but Chun Yeowun said that he will marry someone that he loves. Sama Yi wasn't going to lose this chance. Sama Young, then answered in determined voice.

“I am not giving up, father.”

“Yes. I'm counting on you.”

Sama Young had felt uncomfortable at Chun Yeowun who had not even hesitated on the marriage offer with her. She was proud of her own beauty and she didn't expect Yeowun will outright refuse even after looking at her beauty.

'I'll make him realize!'

And on the way to the Demonic Academy, Yeowun and his members were walking through with only Mun Ku bit behind the group. Her face looked glad with bright smiles. It was weird that her face turned red, then turned into smile and back. She was still thinking of the moment while ago.

'Marriage... I want to marry someone I love.'

It wasn't sure if she had mistaken, but she felt like Yeowun had glanced at her at that moment. Thinking of that moment made her feel excited and happy and made her heart pound.

"Hehe.'

She couldn't stop smiling all the way through the way to the Demonic Academy.

Chapter 186 - Face off (1)

Chapter 186: Face off (1)

At a small restaurant near the Demonic Academy, there was a small room inside where only VIPs were allowed to enter. Chun Yeowun and his members were gathered there. Two men were looking at each other across the table. It was Chun Yeowun and Left Guardian Lee Hameng. They couldn't walk into the Demonic Academy in the bright daylight, so Lee Hameng had to come out.

'What... she went through body reconstruction?'

Lee Hameng was shocked beyond belief at Yin Moha who was standing beside Yeowun like a guard. He first was surprised by the beautiful woman standing next to Yeowun whom he had not seen until now, and didn't think it was the 10th Elder herself.

'It is amazing... he really did gain 10th Elder in his rank.'

Lee Hameng too thought Yeowun would fail in getting Yin Moha's approval. She was a weird and stubborn woman after all. But she went through body reconstruction and was now staying closely by Yeowun, so Lee Hameng was surprised by how things had turned out.

"So Prince, what is that you want to know?"

Lee Hameng asked and Yeowun told the other members to stay outside the room. As they walked out, Yeowun continued speaking on the subject.

"Left Guardian. Do you know who was the one who passed the sixth test 70 years ago?"

“70 years ago? Hmm...”

Lee Hameng became surprised. After asking Yin Moha for permission, Yeowun then explained what happened to Yin Moha in recent years regarding the sword skill and Anonymous. After hearing everything, Lee Hameng became surprised. If what Yeowun had said was true, then this Anonymous was sure to have passed the sixth test and have learned the martial art of the Sword Demon.

“He even learned the Sword Force of the Sky Demon? Hmm... this is...”

“What is it?”

“It’s been a long time, but the academy has a recording of every cadet who passed the test.”

“Then you know?”

“...Prince. The one who passed the sixth test 70 years ago is the former Lord, Chun Inji.”

Yeowun’s eyes grew large. Chun Inji, was the former Lord of the cult and Chun Yeowun’s grandfather. He was considered the most powerful warrior in the past 500 years, and had enlarged the territory of the Demonic Cult larger than anyone else and had fought against the Forces of Evil and Justice. But there was one part Yeowun was surprised about. Chun Inji had gone missing about 20 years ago.

‘Then who is this Anonymous?’

The man had learned two powerful sword skills stored within the vault and the Lord’s palace. If they were to learn both skills, then they had to have entered the Lord’s palace and also had passed the sixth test. They were all stumped.

“Huh?”

They heard the large sound of horns roaring through the entire castle of the cult. Hameng got up immediately and opened the window of the room. This meant only one thing.

“Prince!”

Yeowun nodded with a flash. The horn meant the return of the Lord of the Demonic Cult. Everyone outside on the street began to become noisy.

‘They’re already here.’

The Lord and their group who were told to arrive about two weeks, had already returned to the cult.

‘It’s good that I worked quickly.’

Yeowun’s quick action on getting approvals ahead had proved to be useful after all.

“There will be a parade for the Lord’s return out on the eastern gate. Will you go out to see?”

Lee Hameng offered Yeowun and Yeowun thought for a second and nodded. He had to head to the Palace for Lord’s return ceremony anyway, as he was a new elder now, so it was better to start from watching the parade. Yeowun and members got out of the restaurant and headed for the east gate. As for Yin Moha, she went to her mansion to pick up the skin mask that feigned her as her face before she went through body reconstruction.

The Mountain of Thousand was located at the southern side of the Jianghu so it required to walk through the northern gate to go there. But Lord and his group were told that they were coming from the east side instead. And when Yeowun's group got to the eastern gate, there were crowds of people gathered to watch the Lord's return.

Returning of the Lord, who was the only one said to be able to communicate with the Demonic God, was a symbolic being in the cult.

"Whoaaa! Our Lord is back!"

"He is back!"

"Praise to the Demonic Cult!"

Cultists shouted with joy and warriors above the horse as they walked through waved at cultists.

"So, it begins."

Lee Hameng whispered to Yeowun. If the Lord is back, then it meant other elders were back too. This meant the beginning of the war for Yeowun.

"Prince?"

But Yeowun was looking at only one place. In the middle of the parade, there was a black carriage, decorated with red silk and had the word 'SKY' embroidered over it.

'Lord.'

It was an open carriage, but the decorations and jewelry hid the face inside. It was the parade of King's march. Warriors walked through valiantly and cultists cheered and chanted. It was a moment of glory, but Yeowun looked coldly.

'Huh?'

That's when Yeowun became surprised. Left Guardian Lee Hameng too was surprised. IN front of the black carriage, Great Guardian Marakim was walking ahead on a horse, and Right Guardian Submeng was behind the carriage. But something was off.

'Teacher?'

He was in formal clothing unlike his regular outfits, but his face was pale and his right eye was wrapped around with linen wrapping also with over his head, as if he was injured.

'Why?'

And Yeowun realized there were more people injured. After the carriage, warriors from other clans began walking in along with other elders. They were clothed in lavish clothing, but it couldn't hide their injuries.

'What happened?'

Elders came in beginning from the first elder. They seemed fine until the third elder, but starting from the fourth elder, they were heavy with injuries.

'What?'

And with the fifth elder Hang Soyu, her left arm seemed to be missing under her clothes. And elders, which should be 8 that returned, one person was missing. Mun Ku sighed in relief as she saw her exhausted grandfather Mun Yun, still waiving at cultists who cheered for them.

Soon, the crowd then realized something was strange and began to mumble between themselves.

"I don't see the 7th elder."

7th Elder, Kong Sunong was missing from the parade. Lee Hameng had to stay behind as he was the Chief of the Academy, so he wasn't told of the mission's purpose. In usual cases, this much number of warriors would require constant contact with cult, but it was put to complete secret this time. So it was only after the Lord's group reached proximity to the Mountain, when Huan Yi realized they were returning.

'Well, we'll get to know soon.'

It was secret until now, but since they were now here, it was going to be found out.

'It's strange. I can't see them.'

Man looking in his mid thirtieth looked around from above the horse, scanning through crowds and he couldn't find people he was looking for. He was the leader of the Wise clan, and the 1st Elder, Mu Jinwon. In normal circumstances, members from the Wise clan should have come out to greet the return of the Lord and the elders, but they were nowhere to be seen. There were other wives of other lords, but he couldn't find anyone from the Wise clan.

'Is there something going on?'

Crowds cheering the return looked very normal. He figured it was probably nothing much, as close to half of the clan's warriors were left behind, but he came to a certain concern.

"Huh? Master, look at that!"

Chapter 187: Face off (2)

Hu Bong then pointed toward the back of the parade. Yeowun and his members became surprised at the ones following from behind. They wore different clothes, and the letter the flag showed was clearly who they were.

[Yulin Clan]

These people were from the Yulin Clan, the largest group from the Forces of Justice. It was the first time in the Cult's history where members from Justice walked into the castle. Crowds began to grow noisy.

'What is this?'

'Yulin clan?'

'Didn't the ambassadors come last time?'

And unlike the last time, there was a large number of them entering the gate. Crowds then began to boo and taunt at members of Yulin clan.

"Booo!"

And warriors from Yulin clan too looked very nervous and tense. Within them, there were multiple other clan flags from the forces of justice. At the center, there were two carriages covered with golden clothes, that showed that important members were in it.

"Oh, it's very interesting, I see."

"UGH!"

Hu Bong was surprised by the sudden voice coming from his side. It was Huan Yi, the 11th Elder who appeared. Huan Yi had many spies over all places of the world, so it seemed he had a guess of who and what these were.

“Do you know what’s going on?”

Yeowun asked and Huan Yi shook his head.

“It’s not clear... but maybe we might side with the Yulin clan this time.”

“Side with the Yulin clan?”

Lee Hameng asked back surprisingly. For the past fifty years, the Cult had waged fierce war against the Yulin clan. There was no severe fight in recent five years, but they were still very hostile against each other.

Members of the Yulin clan were allowed to enter the castle in front of every cultist. It was sure that the Lord’s palace was going to announce something to the cultists. When everyone got into the castle, the castle gate closed and the crowd followed the parade into the Lord’s palace.

But things turned out differently from expectation. Members of Yulin clan were escorted inside to the guesthouse at the inner palace, and First Elder, Mu Jinwon got up on the stage and shouted.

“Greetings! Fellow cultists of the Demonic Cult! It’s me, First Elder Mu Jinwon.”

Cultists became confused when Mu Jinwon, instead of the Lord, got up on the stage. When the crowd became silent, Mu Jinwon shouted in a large voice.

“I first want to thank all of you who cheered for our, and our Lord’s return. The Lord is very exhausted from the long trip, so please gather back here tomorrow afternoon for his announcement. For the ambassadors from the Yulin clan who entered the castle, please consider them as our guests — they were formally invited. It is the Lord’s order.”

Mu Jinwon then bowed and walked down the stage. So, the announcement of what was going on was postponed to tomorrow.

‘What is going on? Why did they invite the Yulin clan here?’

‘Dammit, he didn’t say anything!’

Cultists noisily talked about their speculations and soon scattered. There were multiple questions but there was no way to find out until tomorrow. And when people began to return to their homes, short horns sounded three times, signaling the summoning of all elders, leaders of clans, and guardians into the palace.

“I guess we have the Grand meeting first.”

Huan Yi spoke and Yeowun nodded. He was now allowed to enter the Grand Meeting formally, and sit together as equals with the other elders.

“We’ll wait at the restaurant near the palace.”

Only elders, guardians, and clan leaders were allowed so Yeowun’s members weren’t allowed in.

“Okay. Please take care of this.”

“Yes, master.”

The inner palace required weapons to be left behind, so Yeowun asked Hu Bong to carry his White Dragon Blade and the sword created from cold steel. He then walked into the inner palace with Lee Hameng and Huan Yi.

Inside the inner palace, there were many large buildings, and across from the Lord's residence, there was a large building made just for the Grand Meeting. The building was a lavishly decorated hall, with chairs placed so that people could sit down in ranks. The throne at the farthest inside was the Lord's throne that sat toward the crowd, and there were twelve elder seats that placed down to look at each other. Other clan leaders were located towards the outside. 7 elders who just returned were already in their seats and clan leaders began entering to sit down in the empty seats. All leaders from high ranking clans sat down in front row seat, and the other clan leaders sat behind.

“9th Elder, entering the hall!”

When the elders entered, guards at the entrance shouted to alert everyone.

“Welcome.”

“It's been a long time, Elder Sama.”

All clan leaders got up and greeted 9th Elder Sama Yi. The Grand Meeting didn't happen that often so it was a good chance for clan leaders to get a chance to talk with the elders. After a few minutes, most clan leaders got in and sat down on the chairs. And with the Lord who was going to enter with the three guardians, everyone else was now here. The only one that hadn't arrived yet besides the Lord and three guardians, were the 10th, 11th, and 12th elders.

“Three elders are late.”

“Well, he won’t be happy, so we’ll have to understand.”

Hang Soyu, the 5th elder and leader of the Lust clan spoke with frown, and the fourth elder, and leader of Loyal Clan, Ja Kinkeng laughed and responded. Ja Kinkeng was talking about Baek Oh. Baek Oh was a member of the six clans, but was pushed down to the 12th elder, and couldn’t join the trip. That’s when the guard at the gate shouted.

“10th Elder, 11th Elder, 12 Elder, entering the hall!”

Three elders entered at once and Hang Soyu shook her head.

“Hmph. Does he made friends with low ranking elders while he’s there?”

And with the gate being opened, three men walked in. Everyone then turned to the three elders coming in.

“huH?’

“What?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

All elders who sat on the high ranking chairs frowned. They expected Baek Oh to be walking in with his staff, and the one who entered instead, while having two other elders on both sides, was Chun Yeowun.

“H-how can he?!”

Hang Soyu knew Chun Yeowun’s face clearly. She had seen him in the first test in the Demonic Academy years ago.

Yeowun had turned into an adult, but he still had the same face from when he was a teenage boy. Yeowun then walked up to the elders who were lost for words and bowed.

“Greetings, elders. I am new 12th elder, Chun Yeowun.”

Chapter 188

Chapter 188: Face off (3)

“What? 12th... Elder?”

Seven elders tried hard to stay calm, but their faces were shocked and in disbelief. The 12th Elder they know was Baek Oh. But Yeowun, who had entered the Grand Hall, claimed himself as an elder.

‘Where is Baek Oh? Why is he... Wait.’

‘Di-did he pass the sixth test?!’

They then realized what had happened while they were gone. The only way for Chun Yeowun, who was a cadet of the Academy, to become an elder was to pass the sixth test and defeat another elder. Yeowun had taken the Baek Oh’s seat by defeating him.

‘So, clan leaders knew this.’

The news of the sixth test already had swept through the entire castle, so all clan leaders knew that Yeowun had defeated Baek Oh and didn’t seem surprised. But they too seemed astounded by a young man standing proudly in front of powerful elders.

‘Was it why I couldn’t find anyone from the Poison clan?’

Mu Jinwon frowned. He had scanned through the crowds on his way in, so he realized that people from Poison clan was also missing. He thought it was an act of protest for the demotion of Baek Oh, but it was not.

‘So, he’s Chun Yeowun?’

‘He’s the one who cut my grandson’s arm?!’

‘How dare... that peasant born!’

Elders from Sword, Blade and Lust clan glared at Yeowun, as their princes had lost their arms at Yeowun’s action. If this wasn’t the Grand Hall of the Demonic Cult, they would have unleashed their anger again. But they couldn’t do it, as that meant they had undermined the Lord’s authority and dignity and be punished.

The hall turned quiet at the heavy atmosphere full of emotions.

‘Do you think we’ll approve of you?’

‘Fool! You may have walked in here, but you are still alone.’

Elders from six clans then stayed silent, not responding to Yeowun’s greeting and the air turned cold. Other clan leaders who greeted other elders also fell silent. Hang Soyu then smirked.

‘You may have got up here with luck, but that is far as you go. No one will approve you as an elder.’

Standing up for Yeowun here, meant that person was going to turn his back against the six clans. This was the act to show power over Yeowun. But it didn’t go as their plan. A large man got up from his seat and greeted Chun Yeowun politely.

“Leader of the Demon Fist Clan, Ko Wanghyn. Welcome, Prince Chun.”

Yeowun then turned around at Ko Wanghyn and bowed.

“Greetings.”

‘Demon Fist clan? How dare!’

Hang Soyu raised her eyebrows and glared at Ko Wanghyn who broke the silence created by elders. But it was just the start. The man who sat next to Ko Wanghyn, who looked very gentle, got up and bowed.

“Che Takjing, from the West Gate clan. Welcome, Prince Chun.”

“Greetings.”

‘What?’

With two leaders from high ranking clan greeted, Hang Soyu and other elders frowned. But someone else also got up.

“Hou Sangin from Power Axe clan. We finally meet, Prince.”

“Great to see you, Mr. Hou.”

‘W-what?’

And more leaders got up to greet to Yeowun. After high ranking clan leaders all got up and greeted Yeowun, other clan leaders from lower-ranking clans got up and bowed.

‘What is going on?!’

‘Are they trying to turn their back against us?’

‘Look at all those people!’

Elders then turned cold. There were over 50 clan leaders who got up to greet Yeowun. And even then, there were still more people getting up. The number was already at about 1/3 of entire clan leaders inside the hall.

‘Ko Wanghur, Hu Bong...’

Yeowun smiled. He wished to come in contact with as many as he can, but he didn’t expect this much number of leaders will respond. Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong did not meet other clan leaders by themselves. This was the result of cadets who were expelled from the academy earlier, asking their fathers to back Chun Yeowun.

‘Chun... Yeowun...!’

Hang Soyu gritted her teeth. This was the result of what had happened at the Demonic Academy’s competition.

‘What had happened while we were gone?’

Elders from six clans looked shocked. To them, Chun Yeowun was nothing. Wives of the Lord thought of Yeowun as an enemy, due to his mother being Lady Hwa, but to them, he was merely an insect that can be taken care of anytime. They didn’t think such a being will create such strike back. They felt threatened by the man called Chun Yeowun for the first time. That’s when guard shouted from behind.

“Here comes the Lord!”

And the man with black clothes with golden dragon embroider entered, and everyone got up and fell to their one knee.

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

First Elder shouted and continued.

“We, mere cultists, are honored to see the Lord of the Demonic Cult!”

“We are honored!”

With entering of Chun Yujong, the air turned instantly. Chun Yujong raised his hand after he sat down on the throne and the man with a strange mask, Great Guardian Marakim shouted.

“You may seat.”

All the people shouted again and sat down on their chairs. With 7th elder, missing, Yeowun sat down on the 11th elder’s seat and turned to Chun Yujong. His sharp eyes looked like that of Yeowun, but the atmosphere was different. Chun Yujong looked as if he arrogantly looked down upon everything. He was like an Emperor overall here. But there was one thing that he couldn’t hide.

‘...He’s breathing is not well.’

It was close, so Yeowun was able to tell that the Lord’s breathing was very slightly unstable. It was sure that he had taken internal damage. But he looked well, so it was probably less severe than other elders.

‘The Lord and elders all were injured?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Lord and elders meant that they were enough to wipe out most forces. Then what was the purpose of their secret trip?

Yeowun then turned to the man standing on the right side of the Lord.

‘Teacher... what happened?’

The one who stood right on the Lord, was Right Guardian Submeng. He looked pale and had covered his right eye with linen wrap, and looked in bad shape. But unlike Yeowun who was concerned, Submeng who found him, turned his eye large.

‘What? H-how!’

Chapter 189 - Face off (4)

Chapter 189: Face off (4)

Submeng's pale face brightened up. It felt like all the hardship he had gone through on the recent trip had melted down when he saw his only apprentice at this place. Submeng grinned and Yeowun also smiled. The teacher and apprentice had finally met at such an important place.

'Haha. I guess I can't call you a kid anymore.'

Submeng was touched. And from what he can see, it was sure that Yeowun had grown much stronger than himself now.

Chun Yeowun, who was looking at Submeng, then turned to the Lord at the sharp energy coming through. Chun Yujong, who was not looking at him until moments ago, was now looking straight into him.

'His eye is like a sword.'

It was the first time he had felt such threatening aura. The Lord didn't mention, but it was sure that he too was surprised to find Chun Yeowun here.

"My Lord."

Marakim spoke, and Chun Yujong raised his hand, signaling of approval. Marakim then shouted at the people.

"We will start the Grand Meeting."

With the start, Marakim called out the 9th elder. Sama Yi then got up.

“9th Elder, you may report what happened in the Cult while the Lord was out.”

“Yes, my lord.”

Sama Yi, was the highest-ranking elder while others were gone, so he had to report first on what happened until now. Sama Yi then explained everything that happened. This procedure wasn't actually necessary, but this was done to show the authority of the Lord. It was done so that clan leaders can see the Lord solving the issue that was still revolving around and have them feel the authority of the Lord. But Sama Yi's report actually worked against it this time. After briefing through financial and structural issues, Sama Yi reported of recent incidents.

“...So, the remaining Poison clan and Wise clan fought against each other. There are no survivors in either clan.”

People began to mumble between themselves. With the rumor being spread out, clan leaders who stayed behind at the cult knew of what happened, but those who went outside was shocked. This was a serious incident. The Poison clan was now entirely gone, and members from the Wise clan were also killed. And among them, was the Lady Mu, wife of the Lord. Mu Jinwon turned cold.

‘My sister... is dead?’

He was concerned when he didn't see people from the Wise clan, but he didn't even imagine such an incident had happened. It was hard to hold back his emotions. He wanted to shout to Baek Oh, the leader of Poison clan, but even he had died from Yeowun's hand at the sixth test.

‘This is impossible... my sister will never...’

Lady Mu was cunning woman. She was good at strategy and never fought a losing battle. It didn't make sense that she entered the Poison clan and got killed. But if what Sama Yi reported was true, what happened was very possible. Sama Yi reported that the reason for two clans to fight, was because of Mu Jinyun and Chun Muyun killing the Poison clan's Baek Churku.

'How can this be...'

And as for the evidence, the body had a trace of Right Sword Left Hand on it. The only one who can use the skill was Mu Jinwon himself and Chun Muyun. With this, Poison clan became angered and ambushed the Poison clan, but they lost most of their forces and Wise clan, who tried to wipe out the Poison clan, was countered by Poison clan's poisonous trap and was wiped out. There was nothing too suspicious about how everything had happened, and it was hard to consider that it was someone else's plan.

'...!'

Mu Jinwon became furious and grabbed on the chair's armrest and the armrest crushed. It wasn't something to be allowed in the Grand Hall, but he had lost his family who stayed behind, so the Lord didn't say anything.

'That woman... died from a mere trap from the Poison clan?'

Unlike Mu Jinwon who couldn't hold back his fury, the Lord thought it through coldly. Even when he heard that his first wife, Lady Mu was dead, he didn't show any change in emotion. When Sama Yi almost finished his reporting, elders from five remaining clans were looking at each other with a hostile look. It was natural as they heard that their sons and grandsons had fought against each other and all died, resulting to fight between clans.

'It's amazing.'

Lee Hameng was astounded as he watched. With the report being made in front of all clan leaders, Yeowun's plan had turned to great success. Only remaining report was now one.

"From the Demonic Academy, Elder Chun Yeowun had passed the sixth test and have become new 12th Elder. This test as done while the Lord had been missing, so I ask you to appoint him formally as the new elder."

Everyone then turned to Chun Yeowun. Elders were only appointed by the Lord himself. But the Lord was missing, so Yeowun was only given the medal.

"I object!"

Hang Soyu, who was furious as ever, after hearing her son had died in the academy, got up.

"This is a Grand Meeting, not a..."

"I approve."

"Ugh!"

But the Lord cut her off and spoke. Hang Soyu couldn't say anything and Chun Yujong got up from his throne and spoke to Chun Yeowun.

"Chun Yeowun, you may come up to me."

Yeowun then got up from his seat and walked up confidently and knelt on his one knee in front of the Lord. The Lord then declared in front of everyone.

“As the 23rd Lord of the Great Demonic Cult, I appoint Chun Yeowun as the 12th Elder. You shall serve the cult with your life.”

“Yes, my lord.”

Yeowun answered, and Chun Yujong looked down at his son. The boy who was just a card to be used to unleash his own anger, had got up from the bottom and was in front of him now. It was truly astonishing. Chun Yujong then spoke to Yeowun.

“Do you have something to say?”

With becoming of the Elder, elder was allowed to ask for one thing, if it was possible. But this was just a regular procedure and was asking to speak of how it felt. Yeowun then got up and asked the Lord.

“Please approve me as the heir to the throne.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“What?”

The Lord didn't expect this coming and raised his eyebrows. And at that moment, Sama Yi, Yin Moha, and Huan Yi all got up from their seat and came up behind Yeowun and knelt and shouted.

“Please approve Prince Chun Yeowun as the heir to the throne!”

Five Elders who were watching uncomfortably at Yeowun becoming elder, became shocked and grimaced.

Chapter 190 - Face off (5)

Chapter 190: Face off (5)

“Please approve me as the heir to the throne!”

With Chun Yeowun’s unexpected request, everyone within the Grand Hall became shocked. Those who were most shocked were elders from five clans. They were uncomfortable about Yeowun becoming an elder, and became even furious when Yeowun asked for approval to become the heir.

‘Dammit!’

‘He... aimed for this!’

Yeowun had gone for a chance to request the Lord. And there were three elders who were behind Yeowun. They were surely approving of Yeowun.

‘S-since when he persuaded them?’

‘Yin Moha? Huan Yi?’

Aside from Sama Yi, Yin Moha and Huan Yi were known for their unruly nature and stubbornness. But both of them were now on their knees and asking for Yeowun’s ascension to the future Lord.

‘I have to stop...’

But elders from five clans had no reason or way to stop this from happening. And with all clan leaders within the cult looking at them, they couldn’t just object out of emotion without being ridiculed after.

‘Dammit...!’

‘There is no way!’

Chun Yeowun had defeated all competitors in the competition and also gathered approval from three elders. With the Lord’s approval, he was now going to be appointed as the new heir to the throne. Elders were fools to think that they can get rid of Yeowun anytime.

‘If the Lord approves it, then...’

This was the worst-case scenario. If one not from the six clans were to succeed the throne, then it was going to be the downfall of six clans. Everyone turned to the Lord. Chun Yujong looked surprised.

‘...Is he really the boy I once knew?’

Chun Yujong was astounded by Chun Yeowun. When Yeowun first appeared as an elder, he was surprised of the child who was not even in his slightest concern, growing powerful in a short time. But now, Chun Yujong was astounded by Yeowun’s smart moves. Yeowun was bowing respectfully, but his eyes were full of confidence as he looked up to the Lord. It wasn’t the young, vengeful boy who Yujong once saw on the first day of the Demonic Academy.

‘...So, you want to succeed my throne.’

The atmosphere had become tense with everyone focusing on the lord. Chun Yujong then opened his mouth.

“Are three of you approve the 7th Prince as the heir?”

Chun Yujong asked and people turned bright and frustrated at the same time. Those who sided with Chun Yeowun brightened and elders and clan leaders who sided with six clans frowned. Chun Yeowun was now an elder, but as he was called as the 7th prince, it meant that Chun Yujong was officially considering him as a candidate to the throne.

“I, Sama Yi the 9th Elder, approve Prince Chun Yeowun as the heir to the throne.”

“I, Yin Moha the 10th Elder, approve Prince Chun Yeowun as the heir to the throne.”

“I, Huan Yi the 11th Elder, approve Prince Chun Yeowun as the heir to the throne.”

And with their determined voice, Chun Yujong looked at each of them. It seemed these three elders truly approve Chun Yeowun as the heir, and they didn't seem to care about six clans.

‘...Maybe this might be a better way.’

An heir that wasn't related to the six clans. It wasn't what Chun Yujong had been planning, but he decided that this too didn't seem too bad. The Lord then nodded and decided. As he was going to speak out his decision, a sharp, hostile aura came to his senses. It wasn't only Chun Yujong who felt this. Everyone felt the hostile energy and turned to the source.

‘F-first Elder?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The source was the First Elder and Leader of the Wise clan, Mu Jinwon. He was glaring at Chun Yeowun with bloodshot eyes, with veins popping up over his forehead due to fury. He had been in shock ever since he heard that his family members were killed, and he didn't care about anything else now.

'He dare asks to be appointed as the heir at this moment?!'

Just up until the Lord and elders left the cult's castle, Chun Muyun was very close to the heir. With other princes from each clan were expelled, Mu Jinwon believed that Chun Muyun will become the heir with not much of an issue. But when he returned, he found out that everyone from his clan had died while he was gone. Chun Muyun too, had committed crime inside the academy, escaped from the prison and eventually was found dead within the mansion of the Poison clan. From what Mu Jinwon can see, Lady Mu nor Chun Muyun was not foolish enough to do such foolish thing right before the competition was almost over. Both of them had died with a mistake that they would never have made, and Chun Yeowun became sole competitor, and requested to be appointed as the heir as if he waited for it. With this, Mu Jinwon could only think of one culprit for his suspicion.

'Chun... Yeowun!'

Chapter 191: Face off (6)

He didn't care about evidence anymore. With every emotion and thought heading to Chun Yeowun, Mu Jinwon wanted to rip Chun Yeowun apart right at this moment. Left Guardian Lee Hameng and Right Guardian Submeng quickly stood up against Mu Jinwon, and Great Guardian Marakim stood in front of the lord. Hameng pulled out the red Flame Sword and aimed at Mu Jinwon. Submeng also pulled out his Crazy Blade. Only ones who were allowed to wield weapons in the Great Hall were three guardians and the Lord.

"Step back, first elder."

"You should behave in front of the Lord."

Hameng and Submeng warned, but Mu Jinwon did not back down and spoke in a furious voice.

"Do you think I would not recognize your schemes?"

He was talking to Chun Yeowun, who was behind the guardians. Mu Jinwon glared at Yeowun, who was kneeling down on his one knee. Chun Yeowun then turned to his left and saw the first elder in his chair.

'YOU!'

First Elder's eye shook with rage as he met his eyes with Yeowun. Yeowun did not make any expression, but his eye looked as if he was taunting, glaring back at Mu Jinwon. Mu Jinwon exploded with anger and tried to get up.

"Enough."

The Lord warned threateningly. It was simple, and low voice but the energy wielded within the voice was bottomless and pushed down Mu Jinwon.

“Ugh!”

Mu Jinwon then snapped out of his anger and realized he was within the Great Halls. He couldn't do anything further without having the Lord to become angry. Mu Jinwon brought back his aura and bowed at the Lord and shouted.

“I have made a grave mistake to the Lord almighty. Please forgive my foolishness.”

He then began pounding his head on the ground. And when he began pounding multiple times, so that blood began to run through his head, Chun Yujong retrieved the energy that pressured on Mu Jinwon. Mu Jinwon's face was drenched in blood. Chun Yujong looked down at Mu Jinwon coldly and ordered him to stop.

“Return to your seat.”

“Thank you Lord, for your everlasting mercy.”

Mu Jinwon bowed again and backed away into his seat. Lee Hameng then returned his sword and two guardians turned toward the Lord again. Mu Jinwon wiped his face with his clothes and glared back at Chun Yeowun.

‘I will find out everything and rip you apart with my own hands.’

If he was to be angry and kill Chun Yeowun here, it was going to work against him too. He had lost half of his family already, so he couldn't lose any more. That's when Mu Jinwon heard unexpected telepathic message coming through his ear.

[First Elder. What you suspect is true. It's not the Poison clan. It was me.]

It was Chun Yeowun. It was a direct provocation. When Mu Jinwon looked at Yeowun with shaking eyes, he saw Yeowun with an evil smile. Mu Jinwon's temper he barely controlled, had snapped.

"Aaaaaaaaargh! I will KILL YOU!!!"

Mu Jinwon then charged and bolted against Chun Yeowun.

"What?!"

Lee Hameng turned back and quickly charged at Mu Jinwon to stop, but Mu Jinwon was one stage higher in the strength.

"Don't get in my way!"

Mu Jinwon's left hand used the Wise Hand formation and pushed back Lee Hameng into the pillar. Mu Jinwon was at the end stage of superior master level, and Mu Jinwon was also stronger in power of formation.

"Dammit!"

Lee Hameng cursed as he got up from the ground and tried to attack again, but Mu Jinwon's blue force qi wielded finger was already striking down upon Chun Yeowun. He was using the most powerful formation within the True Demon Sword.

As Yin Moha said, Mu Jinwon knew True Demon Sword too. Mu Jinwon had realized that Chun Yeowun was at an equal level of his power just when he saw, so that was why he was using his best attack skill he had.

‘I-it’s amazing formation!’

‘Since when Elder Mu learned such powerful sword skill?’

Everyone was shocked at Mu Jinwon’s use of powerful sword skill. The Lord was also very shocked. He didn’t think Mu Jinwon had hid secret sword skill that was almost equal in power to the Sword Art of the Sky Demon.

‘Is that really the True Demon Sword?’

Yin Moha also frowned in shock. The True Demon Sword formation used by the strongest warrior of the cult was much more powerful than it should have been.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“DIE!”

Powerful sword formation unleashed upon Yeowun.

‘He’s strong.’

Yeowun narrowed his eyes as he faced off against the strongest sword formation he had saw. Yeowun’s finger shined in blue force qi. To counter the True Demon Sword that was perfected Mu Jinwon’s way, it was better to use Twenty Four Demon Sword, which was a higher version. With Yeowun’s finger moving forward, two force qi of powerful warriors collided.

Chapter 192

Chapter 192: Face off (7)

With two force qi colliding, an explosive sound filled the Great Hall. Yeowun's formation was the third formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword. With twenty-four sword movements being combined, its power became like a storm.

"It's impossible!"

"He's blocking it!"

Everyone was shocked to see Chun Yeowun blocking against Mu Jinwon's powerful sword skill that no one thought it was possible to defend against.

'This... is it Twenty Four Demon Sword?'

Mu Jinwon frowned. The formation that Yeowun was using was the formation that Anonymous once showed.

'How did he learn this sword skill?'

Mu Jinwon was surprised, but he quickly used the formation of True Demon Sword in his right hand to fight against Twenty Four Demon Sword, and thrust his left.

'Huh?!'

The formation used by the left finger was the Wise Sword skill. Powerful sword skill came through the Twenty Four Demon Sword and countered it.

"Ugh!"

Yeowun was struck on his shoulder and stomach and was pushed back.

“Right Sword Left Sword!”

Clan leaders shouted as they realized what Mu Jinwon had just done. Mu Jinwon was known for his ability to use both of Wise Clan’s martial art with his both hands at the same time. With two hands working separately to use each martial art, it gave Mu Jinwon the power to attack as if there were two of him.

Yeowun frowned at the pain coming from his wound. If it wasn’t for his energy barrier, the force qi would have penetrated him. Yeowun’s clothes stained from the blood.

[Self healing activated at the wounded area.]

Nano’s voice came in his head as his wound began to heal. It was hidden under the clothes, but the healing was quick.

‘Whew.’

The pain had lifted quickly. Yeowun expected this, but Mu Jinwon was much stronger than he thought. He had used two different sword formation in his both hands and countered Yeowun’s Twenty Four Demon Sword.

‘It’s not an easy foe.’

Mu Jinwon was not a foe to consider lightly.

‘I have to be quick.’

And for Mu Jinwon, he didn’t lose his chance and charged in to kill Yeowun. If he was to waste time, the Lord or other elders was going to jump in and he will lose his chance to kill Yeowun. He had to finish this soon.

“I will kill you!”

Mu Jinwon knew how powerful Twenty Four Demon Sword was, so he used the best of his ability, to use sword formations on both hands. If Yin Moha had completed the first formation of Twenty Four Demon Sword, Mu Jinwon had created a new skill with his understanding.

‘On my left, last formation of the True Demon Sword. On my right hand, first formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword.’

Two sword formation unleashed from his both hands and everyone became shocked.

‘Is First Elder a monster?’

‘How did he learn such formation?’

Mu Jinwon’s formation just now was powerful enough, but this was beyond imagination. His best skill created with the combination of Sword Demon’s strive to fight against Blade God, was amazing.

‘He can’t block this. E-even if it’s Twenty Four Demon Sword...’

Yin Moha turned pale. She knew the power of Twenty Four Demon Sword, so she thought Chun Yeowun had no chance to defend himself against this attack.

‘This is for my sister, my nephew, and my families! DIE!’

Mu Jinwon glared. He was certain that even the Lord would not block his attack. This skill was made to fight against Anonymous, a mysterious warrior.

‘If Twenty Four Demon Sword doesn’t work...’

Yeowun glared. And it was the moment when sharp force qi was about to rip apart Yeowuns’ body.

‘Blade...qi?’

Yeowun’s hand was now being wielded in blue force qi of blade. His hand then unleashed explosive power of blade formation and struck against Mu Jinwon’s skill. Huan Yi’s eye turned large with shock.

‘I-it’s that skill!’

It was the shocking blade skill that Yeowun used when he fought against Huan Yi. Yeowun’s hand moved in strange angle and created powerful blade moves, that overpowered through every sword formation that Mu Jinwon’s both hands used. Mu Jinwon frowned.

‘W-what is this!? This is impossible!’

The blade came from impossible angles. It wasn’t something that Mu Jinwon can react to normally.

“UGH!”

His left hand was thrown back from the powerful blade qi and his body shook. Chun Yeowun did not lose this chance and moved onto the last formation of the Blade God. He didn’t know the name of this formation, but he called it this way.

Flying Dragon.

With Yeowun's body spinning up from below, blade swirled up like a tornado and Mu Jinwon's body was swept into the force qi of blade. He shot up to the air through sharp blade qi.

'N-no!'

Mu Jinwon tried to get out of it by using force qi over his hand, but he couldn't even move in the prison of blade qi.

'I have to defend myself!'

Mu Jinwon then focused his energy to create energy barrier. That's when the storming blade qi came down upon him.

'M-my energy barrier!'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The blade qi that came down upon him, ripped apart the energy barrier itself and when Mu Jinwon twisted his body, trying to avoid being struck, blade qi cut down into him.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAARGH!"

With Mu Jinwon's terrified scream filling the Great Hall, Mu Jinwon's body ripped apart into pieces in the air. And when the screaming stopped, his bodies dropped to the ground like pieces of meat.

Everyone turned silent at once. All people who had gathered at the Great Halls, were shocked beyond relief and was watching Chun Yeowun with tense, and disbelief.

Chapter 193: Face off (8)

Mu Jinwon, one of three most powerful warriors along with the Lord and Great Guardian Marakim, died tragically and shocked everyone in the Great Hall. Clan leaders that sided with Chun Yeowun wanted to cheer in joy, but they couldn't make any noise so they just held back their excitement. And Chun Yeowun's blade skill that countered almost impossible sword skill used by Mu Jinwon shocked them all.

'By the gods! He beat the first elder!'

'Is this true?'

'I didn't even know such blade skill exists!'

And one who got attention was Right Guardian Submeng. It was widely known that Right Guardian Submeng was the one who had taught Yeowun how to use a blade.

"Hmph."

Submeng coughed as he felt people watching him. But it was Submeng himself who was shocked by Yeowun's blade skill.

'Since when he learned such powerful blade skill?'

He didn't want to accept, but the one used by Yeowun was much stronger than Butterfly Dance Blade. He was only astounded by it.

'But... that blade skill. It's familiar.'

It was strange. He had never seen such powerful blade skill, yet it looked familiar. That wasn't only for Submeng. Left Guardian Lee Hameng was so shocked that he was lost for words. If he hadn't opened the underground treasure vault for Yeowun, he would not have realized it but he saw the tracing left by that blade skill.

'B-blade skill from the Blade God!'

The skill that was used was exactly the same skill that made the tracing on preserved bodies inside the vault. It was just the trace, but the power emanating from its tracing was mesmerizing so Lee Hameng knew it well.

'He didn't just study it, but learned the blade skill itself? How can this be...!'

Is it really possible to learn the martial art just by looking at the trace left on the body? Lee Hameng was shocked beyond belief and began to shake with excitement.

'Starting with Father Chun Ma's finding of truth... does his talent truly given from the sky?'

Lee Hameng thought his choice wasn't wrong. He was now sure that Chun Yeowun was the new Sky Demon who will reborn the Demonic Cult.

[Left Guardian.]

Lee Hameng then heard Marakim's telepathic message and flinched. Marakim's eye was looking through his mask, down at Mu Jinwon's scattered body pieces.

[We'll talk later.]

[Yes, sir.]

Lee Hameng had to speak with Marakim about Chun Yeowun anyway. He too, was the one who succeeded will of the Sword Demon.

‘This is amazing that you used this event to this extent. Prince, you have shown yourself well in front of all clan leaders.’

11th Elder, Huan Yi thought that Chun Yeowun had done a good job, not only in defeating the first elder, but creating such a situation. It was apparent that his action had done a great effect on clan leaders, as they were still dumbfounded from what just happened.

‘Well, you took care of the first leader, so rest is with me.’

Mu Jinwon himself was very powerful, but his remaining forces from the Wise clan was also comprised of highly trained warriors.

‘I should see if there is a way to bring them in into our prince’s fold.’

Those were too valuable soldiers to get rid of. If it was possible to have them join, it was going to be powerful asset to their forces. Huan Yi needed to do it faster before the other four clans reach out to gather them on their own.

‘I wonder what the Lord might be thinking.’

And for the Lord, Chun Yujong, he didn’t look all that happy about what just happened. He first thought Yeowun was interesting, but it changed his mind now. He heard that Yeowun had defeated Baek Oh, so he expected Yeowun to be strong, but this was beyond his expectation.

‘He is more than I expected.’

The first formation of attack used by Mu Jinwon was an ambush so there was no use, but the Lord could have blocked Mu Jinwon's continued attack. But he didn't do anything, intending to stop just before Yeowun will get killed. But with this rate of growth, it seemed even enough to be within the top five warriors of the Jianghu within 10 years.

'He have grown stronger and is becoming my threat.'

That wasn't welcome. The card was only useful when it can be used as a card. This incident made Chun Yujong to look closely at Chun Yeowun. That's when someone broke the silence and shouted. It was Hang Soyu, the fifth elder.

"Ho-How dare! How dare you kill First Elder in Great Hall with our Lord present?!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

She hesitated at Chun Yeowun's frightening power, but she decided she had to raise her voice with this. According to the law of the cult, killing another elder in front of the Lord was not acceptable.

"Elder Hang is right. How dare you do such thing! Elder Chun Yeowun should fall before the Lord and confess his sin!"

Fourth Elder Ja Kinkeng got up and shouted. If they didn't make this as a problem, then it was only going to help Chun Yeowun. If they claim that Yeowun had ignored the Lord's authority, then the Lord will need to respond to it.

'We can't let him become the heir!'

Chapter 194 - Face off (9)

Chapter 194: Face off (9)

Chun Yeowun had grown so powerful not only in his power, but in his forces. If he becomes the heir, it will be the wing that will make him soar.

‘Ugh!’

When Chun Yeowun glared at them with cold eyes, Hang Soyu and Ja Kinkeng looked away without realizing. They instinctively felt fear from the difference in power. Chun Yeowun then knelt down on his one knee and spoke to the Lord.

“I unintentionally made a crime in the Great Hall, to protect myself from being harmed. Please have mercy, my Lord.”

‘Look at his arrogant words!’

Hang Soyu bit on his lips as she heard Yeowun’s confident words. She wanted to add more to it so that Yeowun will be in more trouble, but she couldn’t say after she met her eyes with Yeowun. The Lord might have felt something anyway so it was best to leave it up to him.

‘Hmph! He hates his authority being challenged more than anything. He will show his discomfort in one way or another.’

That’s when Left Guardian Lee Hameng knelt down in front of the Lord and shouted.

“I was a fool in failing to protect Prince Chun Yeowun, son of our great Lord, from being attacked by the First Elder. Please punish me instead.”

‘What?’

‘Why?!’

And with that, Hang Soyu and Ja Kinkeng frowned. They didn’t think Left Guardian would help Yeowun in such a situation. And with mentioning that Yeowun was a prince, it became weirder to blame Yeowun for defending himself.

‘Why is Left Guardian helping him?’

‘Wait a minute...’

They then became dumbfounded. They didn’t think much about Guardians, but this kind of action was sure to prove that Left Guardian was helping Chun Yeowun.

‘He even made Left Guardian be on his side?’

It was shocking. Everyone knew that Yeowun befriended Right Guardian Submeng, as Submeng was the teacher of Chun Yeowun. But if even Left Guardian Lee Hameng was with Yeowun, then Yeowun’s forces were already too powerful.

‘Dammit... there is no way.’

‘Chun Yeowun...’

Four elders realized that the air around the Great Hall had already shifted. If without the help of neutral elders Mong Oh, the Sixth Elder or Mun Yun the Eighth Elder, there was no way to press on Yeowun or way to stop him from becoming the heir.

‘He is unstoppable.’

That was Mong Oh's evaluation. He was neutral, but unlike other elders, he had a close relationship with six clans. This was because six clans were the actual leaders within the six clans. But he was astounded by what Chun Yeowun had shown him today.

'He's amazing. Even the Lord couldn't do much to those six clans...'

Mong Oh thought maybe the Cult might change starting from now. But with four clans remaining strong, he thought he needed to see how things will go. The Lord who had been silent with a frown then spoke.

"Rise, both of you."

Ja Kinkeng and Hang Soyu's face turned gloomy. IF the Lord was telling these two men kneeling down to rise up, it meant the Lord was siding with them.

"This incident is caused by First Elder, so I will forgive you for what you did."

"Thank you Lord, for your mercy."

Chun Yeowun and Lee Hameng both bowed. With Lee Hameng jumping in, the situation had not gotten any more out of control. The Lord then looked at all the people and shouted.

"First Elder had paid its price for attacking the prince in front of everyone, so I will consider it solved. But you all must be aware that whoever committing crimes in this Great Hall is a direct challenge to my authority and will not be forgiven from now on."

"Yes, my Lord!"

All clan leaders answered in unison. And Chun Yeowun, who was bowing down, became grim. It sounded like if the Lord was telling people, but he felt it as a warning to himself.

‘So, he’s telling me that there will no next time.’

And it was true. Chun Yujong thought that it was a good opportunity to press down on Chun Yeowun from this incident, but he couldn’t find a reason to in front of every clan leader.

‘It is as expected.’

He knew that the Lord will become wary of himself from this incident already. But Yeowun wished the Lord would show his concern to all, and Chun Yujong did not do this.

‘...A warning have been given.’

The Lord wasn’t finished yet.

“Everyone, listen.”

“Yes, my lord!”

“I will declare.”

“?!”

As the Lord said that, everyone became confused. Four elders from four clans became concerned and turned to the Lord.

“I will now appoint my 7th son, Chun Yeowun, who have received three approvals from three elders and shown his worth, as the heir to the throne.”

“!!!”

Their concern was not misguided. The Lord was trying to declare Chun Yeowun as the heir. It was the moment that four clans wished never to happen.

“Is there any objection?”

“...”

There was no way for anyone to object in such a situation. Those who oppose, and those who sided with Yeowun both looked tense as they looked up to the Lord. Chun Yujong then shouted.

“From this time forward, Prince Chun Yeowun are now the Heir of our Great Demonic Cult!”

And with that, every clan leader from Chun Yeowun’s forces got up with reddened face and shouted with rejoice. It was the first Heir to the throne in 500 years who were not from six clans.

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!!!”

“Whoaaaaaaa!!”

It was only time they were allowed to cheer and shout. Those from the four clans grimaced and looked down with a heavy look. The first war that started revolving around the Heir, was finished. It was Chun Yeowun’s victory.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Mother...!’

Chun Yeowun clenched on his fist and enjoyed the moment. He then thought of his mother, Lady Hwa. She were worried about Chun Yeowun even in her dying breath. But now Yeowun was the Heir of the Great Demonic Cult's throne.

'Next is you all.'

He had defeated Wise and Poison clan. There were now Sword, Blade, Loyal and Lust clan remaining. There were a lot of clans that sided with them still, with one big obstacle overcome, Yeowun was now at equals against them.

Chapter 195 - Guest from the Yulin clan (1)

Chapter 195: Guest from the Yulin clan (1)

The appointment of the Heir was followed by the coronation ceremony in front of every cultist at the courtyard front of the Lord's palace. But with more serious problems at hand, Chun Yeowun's ceremonial was postponed to later dates. And while empty spots were filled, Yeowun was told to also become the Elder. Unlike the Heir, being an elder allowed Yeowun to enter the Elder's Meeting where all important works were being taken care of, so it was actually a good thing. Four elders from four clans objected as they wanted to stop this from happening, but the Lord pushed it through. They then moved onto the next issue, but Yeowun wasn't allowed to participate from then on.

"Crown Prince, you must go look after your wound."

People saw Yeowun being struck on by Mu Jinwon's force qi, so the Lord told him to go down to the medical room. His bloody clothes looked like he had taken a serious wound.

[My prince, it should be better for you to look after your wound. We will tell you what had been talked about here later.]

Other elders sent telepathic messages to Yeowun, offering him to look after the wound.

'Hmph. I guess I have no choice then.'

His wounds were healed a long time ago by Nano, but he couldn't reveal this so he decided to exit from the Great Hall.

“Thank you Lord, for your mercy.”

Yeowun then got out of the building and walked out of the Lord’s palace. There was a medical room that the Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu stayed at within the palace, but Yeowun didn’t have any wound on him so he didn’t need to visit medical room. Yeowun then got out and went to the restaurant where his members were waiting. Everyone was surprised to see Yeowun get out early when they expected him to come out much later as it was a Great Hall meeting. Then they saw Yeowun in blood and got more shocked.

“B-blood!? Prince! Are you okay?”

“M-master! What happened?!”

Chun Yeowun told them he will tell them once they get to the Ghost Illusion clan’s mansion. And when they returned, Yeowun was going to tell them what had happened at the Great Hall, but something else happened. It was something that Yeowun had been waiting.

“Prince Chun! Guard Jang woke up!”

A servant who was taking care of Guard Jang ran out and told Yeowun. And when he heard this, Yeowun ran into the room where Guard Jang was at. Guard Jang was on the bed, in sitting position.

“Guard Jang...!”

With Yeowun’s shaking voice, Guard Jang turned. He was in bad shape and had lost all of his teeth, but he was the man that Yeowun missed so much.

“P...Prweence!”

“Guard Jang!”

Yeowun ran up to him and hugged him tightly. He was smaller than Guard Jang before he entered the academy, but Yeowun was now much larger.

“...You habe grown.”

Guard Jang shed tears from his eyes. Chun Yeowun was like his own son. Even when he went through severe tortures, he stayed quiet so he could not be a burden to Yeowun and committed suicide many times. He thought he was going to die, but looking at Chun Yeowun like this made him feel glad. Yeowun then got up and brought chair next to the bed and sat down. Jang smiled and spoke.

“Wid you hab grown so mush... I shink, you do not nee- me anymore...”

He couldn't pronounce correctly as his teeth were missing, but it was enough to understand what he wanted to say.

“No, you have to be with me. Don't say that.”

“...I canc protecc you anymore, Prweence.”

Guard Jang spoke and Yeowun felt his heart ache. He had killed Lady Mu and even the leader of the Wise clan and avenged, but Guard Jang had lost so much. His internal energy was destroyed and all of his teeth were pulled out so he couldn't even chew any food.

‘Is there any way to help him?’

He wanted to help Guard Jang in anyway he can. Guard Jang had sacrificed his life for Yeowun and needed to be repaid for his sacrifice. But Yeowun had never heard of destroyed internal energy returning.

‘Nano, is there a way to restore internal energy?’

[If you are talking about the energy formation that formed beneath your stomach, then that will need further analysis.]

Nano was still analyzing internal energy, but it didn’t consider when internal energy was destroyed so it required more analysis.

‘Yeah, I suppose. Work on it.’

[Yes, master.]

It wasn’t sure if it will work, but Nano was the only hope. And Nano’s voice came through Yeowun who was disappointed.

[But there is a way to replace his teeth.]

‘What?’

[By using impant, or denture, his teeth can be replaced artificially. I will transfer the data.]

With that, Yeowun received information about implant and denture into his brain. Yeowun became glad. Internal damage might be hard, but at least there was a way to replace missing teeth. But this seemed it required skilled artisan like Ou Sunong and the doctor Baek Jongmeng’s help to achieve.

‘But I have to do it.’

Yeowun decided he will visit them when time allows. Yeowun also thought that it was a good opportunity, as he wanted to tell Guard Jang first that he had become the heir.

“Guard Jang. I have something to tell you.”

“Yesh, Prweence.”

When Yeowun said this, Guard Jang knew that it was when Yeowun wanted to show off something that he did, so he smiled.

“I have won in the Heirship competition in the Demonic Academy.”

“Huh?”

Guard Jang became shocked at unexpected words. Yeowun spoke again.

“I won in the competition... and was appointed as the Crown Prince today.”

“C-crown Prweence!!! Ish that chrew?! Are you really- U-UGH!”

“Guard Jang!”

Guard Jang was so surprised that he grabbed on his heart and panted, and passed out.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Guard Jang!”

[Entity passed out from lack of blood pressure going into the brain. Common symptom of entity being in great shock.]

“Ah...”

Yeowun then learned that a person could pass out if he was shocked, even if it was good news. Guard Jang was in a state where he still needed more rest.

Chapter 196 - Guest from the Yulin clan (2)

Chapter 196: Guest from the Yulin clan (2)

And after about two hours, Huan Yi returned to the mansion. But there was another elder, Yin MOha and Sama Yi who came to congratulate Yeowun on becoming the heir.

“Congratulations, Prince, on becoming the heir to the throne.”

“Whaaaaaaat?!”

Yeowun’s members became dumbfounded. They couldn’t hear anything from Yeowun yet as Yeowun had to jump into Guard Jang’s room when they got here.

“Huh? You didn’t know yet?”

Huan Yi asked back and members all shouted.

“Prince! Why didn’t you tell us earlier!”

“Master is the heir now!”

Mun Ku looked happy and Hu Bong almost became teary. Ko Wanghur and Sama Chak also got excited.

“M-master! Congratulations! Oh, I mean Crown Prince. Do we have to call you that now?”

“Sama Chak! Of course we have to address him like that! Hahahaha!”

Members became frantic and Yeowun shook his head as he smiled and spoke to them.

“...Just call me master as you always did.”

Everyone was glad. Their master had now become the heir and official Crown Prince of the Demonic Cult. They thought this might take some time, but it was done much quicker than imagined.

“Master, we should open a feast!”

Hu Bong shouted and Huan Yi smiled.

“Yes, that is a good idea but we should postpone it.”

“Why?”

“Because Crown Prince and I need to go to the Hall of Feast at Lord’s palace by dinner time. We have a dinner party with guests from Yulin clan.”

“What do you mean?”

Yeowun asked back confusingly. It seemed this was related to what had been decided in the Great Hall meeting.

“Oh, yes. I guess I have to tell you about what we talked about in the Great Hall.”

“...Are we allying with Yulin clan?”

Yeowun asked and Huan Yi nodded.

“Yes, the alliance is now officially in effect.”

“Alliance with the forces of justice?!”

Yeowun’s members all became surprised at the unexpected news. This kind of decision required more than 70% of Elder and clan leaders' approval as Yulin clan was still an enemy of the cult.

"Then this means..."

With war that waged over hundreds of years, the hatred within each clan of the cult was not light. But even then, more than 70% of clan leaders agreed with the alliance, meaning there was something more grave that was happening.

"Why did it come to this?"

"We have no other way but to ally with them."

"So, there's something happening out there?"

"Yes, my prince. Anhuy castle and Jurkang castle had fallen."

Anhuy was owned by the Yulin clan, and Jurkang was controlled by the Demonic Cult. Losing these two places were not something to be considered lightly.

"Are we against forces of Evil?"

"No. We are against someone entirely new. A mere clan."

"A clan?"

Yeowun became surprised. Demonic Cult was a group comprised of many clans, but a mere clan fighting against forces at such size seemed like it was impossible.

"What kind of clan can do that?"

"They call themselves Blade God Six Martial clan."

“Blade God Six Martial Clan?”

Yeowun did not heard of the name, but frowned at the familiar name. The name of the clan reminded him of Blade God, with some of the most powerful warriors back 500 years ago.

‘Is it a coincidence?’

“There was nine forces of Demonic Cult at Jurkang castle, and there were fifteen clans from forces of justice in Anhui castle.”

The number of Demonic Cult’s forces within Jurkang castle were powerful, but Anhuy castle was under the jurisdiction of the Namkung Clan, having Namkung Shon, one of seventeen leaders of the Forces of Justice as its leader that no one thought it was possible to attack the place. These two castles were where borders of three forces met so there were a lot of battles and warriors always stood on guards.

“We recently heard that three of Jurkang castle’s forces were attacked by some clan we have seen for the first time.”

After being attacked, Demonic Cult thought maybe it was invasion from Yulin clan, and sent a message to two forces in Kangsuh castle, and remaining six forces in Jurkang castle to help the forces that were under attack. One force had 500 warriors, so it was a total of 4000 warriors.

“But after two weeks, we have lost contact with Jurkang castle.”

This meant that every cultist within Jurkang castle was wiped out. This was too fast for a castle to be fallen under the enemy, so the Cult readied for the war. They thought that Yulin clan was behind this and had figured the war that had not been waged for quite some time, had started again. That's when Yulin clan had sent ambassadors to the castle of the Demonic Cult.

"We were thinking of executing them and send their heads back to their cult, but what we heard was shocking."

They told that Anhuy castle was also taken, and Namkung Shon was killed in the process. The Yulin clan also thought it was work of the Demonic Cult and was readying for war. But they always required to find evidence, so they sent ambassadors to raise a complaint.

"So, that's how we knew."

"Yes. Thanks to their procedure, we were able to find out that it was actually another group that attacked us."

They first thought it was from forces of evil, but their bases were too far ahead, so it wasn't likely.

"So, we offered the Yulin clan."

Both groups signed a peace treaty until they take back Anhuy and Jurkang castle. And soon after, another group of ambassadors came to the castle. It was the first time ambassadors from Yulin clan had entered the castle, so every cultist were shocked. Ambassadors brought the offer decided from Yulin clan's meeting and the Lord and leaders agreed to the offer and gathered up a group and left.

"So, was the trip was to take back both regions?"

“Yes. It was to ambush those two castles before the enemy readies its defensive lines and take back.”

Demonic Cult and the Yulin clan both picked out their finest warriors and kept it as a secret to ambush on both castles at once. And the result was...

“And we failed.”

They knew the enemy was only one group, so with the combined force of Yulin and Demonic Cult will able them to take back the castle. But they were countered and had to retreat. The Lord and elders' wounds were proof of it. 7th Elder was killed in the process. It was a secret mission, so the rumor did not spread throughout the Jianghu, but it was still a shame.

“Well, he didn't tell us how they lost in the meeting.”

It was a loss, so there was no need to go into detail on shame. It seemed Yulin clan also lost taking back their Anhuy castle and was wounded severely.

“...So, that's where alliance comes up.”

“Yes. We have the common enemy.”

Two forces then gathered to have an emergency meeting and came to an alliance. Birth of an enemy that two forces cannot handle made them come in peace. If this was told to the forces of evil, it was sure that they will try to do something with this as a chance.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“We need to deal with the new enemy through this alliance. And if this alliance is known officially, forces of evil will not try to do anything funny.”

There were two purposes for this alliance. First was to fight the Blade God Six Martial clan, and the second was to stop forces of evil from meddling in on the matter.

‘Blade God Six Martial...’

Yeowun couldn’t shake off the name after he heard the name from Huan Yi.

Chapter 197 - Guest from the Yulin clan (3)

Chapter 197: Guest from the Yulin clan (3)

At the same time, at Guardian building right next to the Lord's residence in Lord's Palace. Great Guardian Marakim was talking with Left Guardian Lee Hameng in the office located on the fourth floor of the building.

"...So, that's how it happened."

"If that is true, then Crown Prince is... the one we've been waiting for."

Marakim answered to Hameng's story. If Yeowun had learned the Sword Force of the Sky Demon and also learned Twenty Four Demon Sword, then he was the real successor of Sword Demon that guardians had been waiting for.

'What's going on?'

But Great Guardian didn't seem all that excited so Lee Hameng thought something was off. Great Guardian always had a mask on and didn't speak much, but this wasn't what Hameng expected.

"Great Guardian. Is there any problem?"

"...No. There is something more serious."

Marakim then changed the subject.

"What is that?"

"Blade God Six Martial clan."

Lee Hameng frowned. This was a problem for the entire Demonic Cult. They allied with Yulin clan to deal with this, so it wasn't something for them to talk about.

"Don't you see any oddity in this?"

"Are you talking about the name?"

Lee Hameng too felt strange about the name. But that was too much to think that the clan had a direct connection to the Blade God himself. And it had been 500 years since the Blade God appeared.

"IT wasn't revealed at the Great Meeting, but there was a warrior from their clan who cut Elder Hang's arm off and took Submeng's eye."

"Alone?!"

Lee Hameng became surprised. If that was true, the warrior was more powerful than they can imagine. Marakim shook his head and spoke.

"There wasn't just one."

"Then?"

"There were three."

Lord and his warriors from the cult clashed against warriors from Blade God Six Martial clan. IT was kept as a secret, but these clan hid on the way and ambushed the cult instead.

"They outnumbered us and ambushed, but we were also one of the strongest from our cult."

The Cult reacted quickly and began to fight and soon, three powerful warriors from Blade God Six Martial clan appeared.

They massacred through Squad Leaders and Masters of the cult easily, making Elders to fight against them. First, one elder tried to fight one of another warrior, but they couldn't fight alone so two elders joined.

"They were warriors who used Sword, Staff, and Claw."

Superior master level warriors fought together to deal with them, but these enemies had much different martial art.

"Their martial art had severe burden on the body."

Three warriors had special muscles in their bodies that were developed to use the unique martial art.

"After 7th Elder Kong Sunong died, and Hang Soyu's arm were cut off, situation turned."

Two elders combined were almost equal, but the balance tipped off to the warriors and Elders who were left alone became injured. And when it got out of control, the Lord and Great Guardian also joined in the fight. Great Guardian fought against a warrior who used a sword alone, and learned something while fighting him.

"I didn't know when I saw ones that used claw or staff, but I realized when I fought the one who used the sword. Their martial arts are derived from one root."

"You mean.."

Marakim got up and took off his shirt. On his body, there were scars of sword marks that were left like if it stormed around Marakim. But these were like slashed attacks that would be made from a blade.

"T-this...!"

The tracing was very similar to the Blade God's blade skill that Chun Yeowun had used. Marakim quickly jumped back by using his Wind God walking skill, but he still was injured. Marakim spoke.

"If that man could have used this formation with a blade, I would have ended up like the First Elder."

At dinner hour, every clan leaders had gathered at the Hall of Feast with clean, formal clothing to greet the guest. The hall was filled with music, and there were many tables each filled with cuisines and liquors. On the stage where top leaders from both sides were allocated, a long table was left. Yeowun didn't look comfortable, however.

'I don't like this seat.'

He was sitting very close to the Lord. He was now a Crown Prince, number 2 rank within the cult. At least the Lord was in his own, so Yeowun did not look him across the table. The guests have not arrived yet so everyone waited. And soon, guards that stood at the gate shouted.

"Guests have arrived!"

And the gate to the hall was opened and guests from Yulin clan entered. The first forty people had black clothes with orange sashes. They were from the Flower Mountain clan. One in the front was a large man with a long beard, the leader of Flower Mountain clan, and one of seventeen leaders of forces of justice, Poong Chungwun.

'They are different.'

Yeowun had seen forces of justice for first time, if not counting criminals that he saw in the academy. If Cultists were mostly cold and aggressive, these men walked straight and seemed to value honor. And those who walked behind had white clothes with blue swirls. They were from Moyong Family.

“Hmm.”

The one who had a short beard was Moyong Kang, the leader of the Myong family and another leader of 17 leaders. They looked a bit arrogant compared to the Flower Mountain clan. And to the back of them, there was a woman wearing teal-colored lavish cloth and grey veil over her head. But she didn't look like she was from the Moyong family.

‘Who's that?’

Guards that stood beside her too had different clothes. Moyong Kang glanced around and whispered to her and she nodded and walked past the group and members from Flower Mountain clan and got up to the front. She then bowed and spoke to the Lord, Chun Yujong.

“On behalf of the Yulin clan, I thank you for your hospitality, Lord of the Demonic Cult.”

With her words, all members from Yulin clan all bowed. They were allies but they couldn't do more than this to Demonic Cult, who were their long foe. Chun Yujong then stayed on his seat and spoke.

“I welcome valuable guests from Yulin clan to our castle.”

It was a greeting, but the Lord didn't even show the slightest formal gesture, so people from the Yulin clan became uncomfortable. But they soon heard why Chun Yujong did that.

“I thought Forces of Justice honor and respect. Was it a false rumor?”

“Why are you saying that?”

“How can a person representing the entire Yulin clan hide her face in front of her host?”

“Oh! My apologies. I have made a mistake from being anxious about meeting with you.”

The woman then quickly pulled up the veil over her face. Everyone became astonished.

Chapter 198 - Guest from the Yulin clan (4)

Chapter 198: Guest from the Yulin clan (4)

It was beauty beyond imagination that was like a flower on a cliff. Her smooth silky skin and soft line over her beautiful eyes were astounding. Almost every man in the hall looked at her, mesmerized by her beauty. One of the guards who stood by her then clapped once. Men came back to their senses and looked away embarrassingly. It looked like some of the ones from the Yulin clan were proud of her beauty. Yeowun, however, looked weirdly. He didn't know who these people were as he wasn't familiar with members of Yulin, but most clan leaders or elders knew who this woman was. The mole under her left eyes proved who she was. Lord Chun Yujong praised of her beauty.

"I heard Leader of Yulin has two treasures. It is good to see one of them, Strategist Jegal, most beautiful woman of Forces of Justice."

"Thank you for the compliment, Lord Chun."

She was one of 'Three Beauties' of the Jianghu and the Second Strategist of Yulin, Jegal Sohi. She was the lover of the first son of the Yulin clan, Yeon Buso, and was famous for being a talented strategist. But she was most known for her beauty.

'This is the most beautiful woman in the Jianghu!'

Moyong Yu, son of Moyong Kang and heir of the family became proud. And others from Moyong family also seemed similarly proud.

‘Foolish cultists... look at them lusting over a beautiful woman.’

Unlike members of Flower Mountain clan who valued on holding back their emotion, the Moyong family members had been looking down upon the Demonic Cult. This showed on their faces.

‘I don’t like their faces.’

‘I heard Moyongs are arrogant... so, it’s true.’

It was a party to celebrate the alliance, but clan leaders shook their heads at the sight of the Moyong family. This party was actually could be more dangerous than it was currently. These were two groups who were at war against each other four hundreds of years. There was no way they will befriend each other easily.

‘I will punish all those who might harm the alliance.’

The Lord warned to all clan leaders before the party started. Even those in the Yulin clan, two leaders warned their members.

‘Small argument might lead to a fight, so be wary.’

They will try hard to stay away from any potential problem that might cause harm to the alliance, but it wasn’t sure what might happen when they start drinking. Jegal Sohi bowed to greet.

“Second Strategist of Yulin. Jegal Sohi, sends her deepest apologies. Please excuse my rudeness.”

Chun Yujong then got up from his seat and bowed at her and people of Yulin clan.

“Your leader has sent a very important person here. I thank you for your hospitality. Welcome to Demonic Cult.”

With the Lord bowing, every cultist in the hall bowed. Poong Chungwun then laughed and bowed at Chun Yujong.

“Thank you, Lord Chun. We are very hungry, so why don’t we start eating? I wouldn’t want these great foods to go lukewarm.”

Poong Chungwun, eldest leader in the Yulin clan’s group, spoke jokingly and the atmosphere lightened.

“You are right, Elder Poong. Let’s begin the feast.”

“Yes, my Lord!”

Beautiful servants who was standing by the yard got in and began guiding leaders of Yulin clans to their seats. Warriors then found open seats on round table placed on the hall. And when everyone sat down, musicians began to play music again. It was beginning of the feast.

On the stage, leaders began to introduce themselves against each other.

“I am 11th Elder Huan Yi. Huhuhu...”

Starting with lowest ranking elder Huan Yi, all elders introduced their ranks and name. And when almost every elders finished their introduction, people from Yulin clan became curious about young man who was still standing down.

‘Hmm... I heard about all of others that introduced. But who is that young man?’

Poong CHungwun had lived for long time in Yulin, that he knew most members from Demonic Cult and forces of Evil, but he never heard of young man at the Cult's leadership. That's when the young man stood up last and bowed.

"I am Crown Prince and 12th Elder, Chun Yeowun. Greetings, guests from Yulin clan."

'Crown Prince!'

Every leader from the Yulin clan was shocked. They heard that there were no Crown Prince yet, but there it was. And the man said he is also 12th Elder.

'He is also an Elder at the same time? Oh, by the way... I don't see Baek Oh the Poison man, and Mu Jinwon the Dual Demon Sword.'

Baek Oh and Mu Jinwon was infamous among forces of Justice. Poong Chungwun, who had shared the same generation with them became confused. There were no need for member of Yulin clan to know death of these two elders, so they weren't notified.

'So, he's Crown Prince of the Demonic Cult?'

Moyong Yu looked at Yeowun. This meant that Chun Yeowun was the enemy that Moyong Yu will face in the future, as they were same generation.

'...He looks strong.'

He couldn't even guess at how powerful Yeowun might be. He too was at super master level, and was called talented, but Chun Yeowun was whole another level. Demonic Cult was known for giving ranks depending on the power, so if Yeowun was also an elder, then it proved he was a powerful warrior.

‘It reminds me of him.’

Seeing Yeowun, reminded him of the monster in the Forces of Justice, Yeon Buso. Yeon Buso had graduated White Academy, academy that trained warriors, faster than anyone and is now being told that he will be future of the Yulin clan.

‘Dammit. I should focus on training myself.’

Moyong Yu realized of his current state. And Moyong Kang grinned as he looked at his son being hurt on his pride. He realized that his son had been motivated by Crown Prince, who can become the future enemy.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘It’s good that I brought him here.’

But he also knew that it was quite dangerous. He couldn’t even see how powerful this Crown Prince was.

‘So, this is the Demonic Cult.’

Demonic Cult was known for choosing the heir to the throne depending on the power, so it was understandable why Crown Prince was that much of a monster. After introducing with each other, the Lord congratulated the alliance and the feast began. The feast then soon turned into a drinking party and began to become noisy.

Chapter 199 - Guest from the Yulin clan (5)

Chapter 199: Guest from the Yulin clan (5)

“Hahaha! Strategist Jegal is famous for being Flower of the Yulin clan. I see that it was true.”

“I’m embarrassed.”

“Jegal is is our pride. Hahaha.”

Jegal Sohi, was of course, the one who drew the most attention. Her beauty was enough to gain attention from all men of all ages and groups. But not all of them were only interested in her beauty. There was one who was looking at the situation carefully. The eye then seemed uncomfortable.

‘Elders are not enough.’

He then saw one man, drinking the liquor, uninterested in Jegal Sohi.

‘He should do.’

The man then clicked her glass at the small porcelain bottle that contained liquor. It was a noisy party so no one paid attention to him, but one the sound of glass rang, Jegal Sohi’s eye turned dumbfounded and looked around. Then she got up and walked up to Chun Yeowun.

“Hmmm? What is this?”

Unlike other elders, Huan Yi and Yin Moha who were sitting by Chun Yeowun and talking, became surprised. Jegal Sohi then spoke to Yin Moha who was sitting right side of Yeowun.

“Elder Yin Moha. Would you excuse me for a second?”

She was asking Yin Moha to move aside. It surprised people around, as it was very rude to ask such a thing but Yin Moha moved away without any word. Yin Moha did not want to create any hassle with members of the Yulin clan, and from Jegal Sohi's reddened face, she looked a bit drunk.

‘Is she not controlling the alcohol through internal energy?’

Yeowun became surprised. Everyone from both Demonic Cult and kept their soberness by controlling internal energy, but Jegal Sohi seemed she was drunk. With Jegal Sohi, the flower of tonight's party sitting down next to Yeowun, everyone's attention gathered.

‘Ugh...’

Chun Yeowun became uncomfortable as unwanted attention drew at them. He didn't mention it, but he wished she would move to other seats and talk with the other elders. But Jegal Sohi's next action drew even more attention and jealousy over men.

“Crown Prince~~~~ sir... you are really... handsome.”

‘Huh?’

Jegal Sohi began trying to flirt with Yeowun. Her confident and well-mannered self had disappeared. With her acting in such way, Moyong Yu was first to become angered.

‘W-what? What is she doing?!’

Jegal Sohi was in a relationship with Yeon Buso, the eldest son of the Yulin clan's leader, but Moyong Yu was also secretly in love with her, so he became dumbfounded.

“Don’t you like meeeee?”

Jegal Sohi tried to grab Yeowun’s wrist with her beautiful hands and Yeowun thought she was drunk and tried to avoid. But Jegal Sohi got closer by pushing herself right next to Yeowun. Yeowun became frustrated at being flirted by a woman for first time in his life.

‘Ugh, this is frustrating.’

Yeowun was able to see that she was flirting. But this was a party to congratulate the alliance and with both of them on different groups, he couldn’t understand this.

‘Something’s wrong.’

Yeowun then looked at Jegal Sohi’s face. Chun Yeowun then became weird, not stopping her anymore and the man who was watching, thought this was the chance.

‘Let’s get him now!’

He then rang the glass two times. Jegal Sohi, then suddenly took the chopstick on the table and thrust toward Yeowun’s chest.

“Huh?!”

Leaders from Yulin clan became shocked at sudden move. It was an ambush, but Chun Yeowun wasn’t someone to be attacked as such.

“Ugh!”

He snapped on her wrist to make her drop the chopstick. But Jegal Sohi pulled up internal energy and thrust on Yeowun’s stomach. Yeowun backed up to dodge, but Jegal Sohi jumped up to him and continued on the attack. And with such an attack, Yeowun had to attack back.

“Ugh!”

And what Yeowun did next, shocked everyone in the hall. Yeowun reached out with his right hand and grabbed her pretty face with his hand.

“Aaargh!”

He grabbed so hard that she grabbed on Yeowun’s wrist and moaned in pain. She was the one who attacked first, but it seemed like it was too much.

“C-crown Prince!”

Poong Chungwun was shocked and did not know what to do. Everyone here saw Jegal Sohi attacked the Prince first.

“How dare she attack our Crown Prince! What is the point of this!?”

“Ugh...”

Huan Yi shouted angrily and leaders of Yulin clan frowned. It was now two groups siding against each other.

‘There we go!’

The man thought it was now just short of a shout, to turn this feast into chaos.

“Kyaaaaaaaaaargh!”

That’s when Jegal Sohi trembled in Yeowun’s hand as she writhed. She then fell silent and energyless.

“What are you doing, Crown Prince!”

Ja Kinkeng shouted with shock. Jegal Sohi had done something she should have not, but it was necessary to ask her why she did it first.

‘Hehehe... it’s going well.’

The man smiled. The situation was going in more worse. He didn’t need to even scream. It was then.

“Nnngh...”

Jegal Sohi got up with a moan. Yeowun let go of her with his grab and she dropped to the ground and shook her head. She then looked up and asked with a confused look.

“W-what is going on here? Did I drink too much?”

Jegal Sohi didn’t seem to know what she just had done. The man who was watching became shocked.

‘W-what? Why is the hypnosis went off?’

He then heard the telepathic message.

[Move to the second plan.]

[Y-yes, Brother.]

The man then tapped on glass three times. With the sound, Moyong Yu who were helping Jegal Sohi to stand with a concerned look, suddenly turned weird and charged at Chun Yeowun.

“How dare you attack Miss Jegal! DIE!”

There was no need to have this happen twice. Huan Yi and Yin Moha blocked him quickly and pinned him down on the ground.

“The young girl has made us look like fools, I see.”

“Aaaaargh! Let me go! Let me...!”

“Hmph.”

Yin Moha snapped on Moyong Yu’s neck and made him pass out.

‘Dammit. This is a failure.’

He had to make a problem, but Moyong Yu was easily overpowered so the man grimaced. He had to move onto the third plan.

‘There’s no choice.’

[Brother. We should move to the third plan...]

It was when he was sending a telepathic message that someone jumped up to him and grabbed his neck. It was Chun Yeowun.

“C-Crown Prince?! What are you doing!”

“H-he’s...!”

Everyone was shocked by Chun Yeowun’s sudden action. The man that Yeowun grabbed by the neck and pushed up was one of the guards that guarded Jegal Sohi.

“Argh! W-why are you doing this?!”

The guard looked down at Chun Yeowun with a painful look and Yeowun spoke coldly.

“Do you think I wouldn’t find you?”

He felt his heart sink. How did he know that he was behind everything? But he had to lie.

“Kek... I-I don’t know what you are talking about.”

“Don’t even try to lie.”

“Aaaaaaargh!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The clench became stronger and the man felt like his neck bone will break even with slightest of more power. He became painful as Yeowun asked with a heavy voice.

“What is your third plan?”

“!!!”

The guard’s eyes turned wide with shock.

Chapter 200 - Hidden Purpose (1)

Chapter 200: Hidden Purpose (1)

When Jegal Sohi got closer, Chun Yeowun was able to see her hypnotized eyes. Her eyes had no focus and was not looking at him directly even when she was flirting with him. So, Yeowun asked Nano, 'Nano, is she doing this because she's drunk?'

[Analyzing facial muscles of the entity.]

Yeowun's eyes began to shake and white light particles began to scan Jegal Sohi's face. Nano's voice then returned.

[Her eye movement shows irregularities. The entity is presumed to be in a hypnotized state.]

'Hypnotized?'

[Sending related information to your brain.]

Yeowun felt his brain stinging while he received information about hypnosis. Hypnosis was an act to impact the target's brain artificially, so that person could be manipulated against their own will.

'She's being controlled.'

Based off the information that Nano sent, hypnosis was the effect of a repeated act that stimulated human senses. Then there should be something that signaled for her to be controlled.

'Is there a way to break her hypnosis?'

[The person who hypnotized her can stop it. She can also be forced to be awakened by shocking her brain.]

‘Good.’

Yeowun then grabbed Jegal Sohi’s face and shocked her. This was to break her from her hypnosis.

‘If she was fine and suddenly turned, then someone must have hypnotized her.’

It wasn’t easy to find the culprit since everyone was looking at Chun Yeowun with shocked expressions. Yeowun then thought in the short moment, ‘If someone does such a thing in front of everyone at the castle’s palace, then the culprit might not be the only one. Then...’

Yeowun then ordered Nano to sense any telepathic messages being transferred. Nano labeled this as Telepathic Message Tapping Mode. Yeowun’s guess proved to be true.

[Let’s move onto the third plan...]

‘Found you.’

Yeowun bolted out the moment he heard the telepathic message and grabbed the guard who was standing at the far end of the stage.

“What is the third plan?”

The guard became so shocked that he couldn’t even hide the his shock on his face.

‘H-how did he know?!’

There was no way for their plan to be spilled. It was impossible to know that there were even numbers in the plans unless Yeowun overheard telepathic message, but that was impossible. If that was possible, then something should have been planned to prevent it.

‘Kek!’

‘Dammit! He’s grabbing my neck so hard so I can’t send telepathic messages!’

He had to send a telepathic message to his partner to move onto the third plan, but his neck was tightened so he could barely moan. It was then.

“You should stop there, Crown Prince of the Demonic Cult. My clan member made a grave mistake, but threatening the life of a mere guard is too much.”

Moyong Kang went up to Yeowun and persuaded him. He was actually the type to use force rather than talk, but he was in the middle of the Demonic Cult’s home, so he held back. But Yeowun did not let go of his hand and spoke.

“Is he really from the Yulin clan?”

“What are you talking ab...”

“Strategist Jegal. Is he the guard that you recognize?”

Moyong Kang became dumbfounded and tried to object, but Yeowun turned and asked Jegal Sohi who was barely getting up. She still seemed dizzy and confused, but she turned to the guard who was in pain and asked with shock.

“W-wait... who is that man?”

She didn’t recognize the guard that she brought here. Leaders from both sides frowned. And when everyone was in shock, Yeowun heard someone else's telepathic message.

[We have no choice. We have to move onto the third plan while our master finds the remains of the Sword Demon. I will help you once I rile up the crowd.]

'?!'

Yeowun turned to the direction where the telepathic message came from, and another guard who was at the hall down the stage raised his both hands and clapped two times. And with that, people in the hall began to change. Clan leaders from the weaker clans and the weaker warriors in the Yulin Clan suddenly became dumbfounded and began attacking each other.

"Dirty Cultist dogs! DIE!"

"Hypocrites!"

They had no weapons, but they still fought with their bare hands. The feast had turned into a battlefield between the Forces of Justice and the Demonic Clan. Yeowun frowned.

'Since when did all these people become hypnotized? Wait... was that clap...?'

Hypnosis was created by some kind of stimulation and Yeowun remembered people being mesmerized by Jegal Sohi's beauty a while ago. He then remembered one of the guard clapping.

'Was that clap the reason for the hypnosis? But is it possible to hypnotize this many people in that short moment?'

It seemed like there was something that helped stimulate people so they could be hypnotized. Within the crowd, the guard that forced people into hypnosis shouted.

“Dirty Cultists are attacking us! The Alliance is the trap! Strike back!”

It was a fight started by those who were hypnotized, but this shout was enough to make other clan leaders and warriors from Forces of Justice become confused.

“DIE!”

“Fools!”

The hypnotized ones attacked everyone they could see, so fight began to grow. With that, all leaders from both sides were now glaring at each other, ready to attack at any moment.

“Kekekekik!”

The guard that Yeowun was grabbing by the neck cackled even through his pain.

“You are annoying me.”

“AAAARGH!”

Yeowun then struck his rib, and the ribcage shattered with the guard screaming in pain. Yeowun then sealed his blood point so he couldn't move and shouted at the leaders who were ready to jump at each other.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Stop! They are hypnotized!”

“Hypno... what?”

They didn't know what hypnosis was. Yeowun thought to find better words to use, and he remembered the word 'illusion.'

"They are under illusions! Just like how Strategist Jegal was affected just now! This is a trap for our alliance to be broken!"

Chapter 201 - Hidden Purpose (2)

Chapter 201: Hidden Purpose (2)

Leaders then hesitated. They too had saw Jegal Sohi and Moyong Yu acting strangely, so they already thought this was someone else's trap.

'I know but...'

But the fight had already started so they couldn't ease down, as they were worried that someone in other side might attack if they let down their guard. Poong Chungwun, then asked.

"Crown Prince. What do you propose that we do?"

"We will follow your order, Crown Prince."

Sama Yi then spoke as he watched leaders of Yulin clan suspiciously. Yeowun then pointed at the hall where people were fighting and spoke.

"I want elders and guests from Yulin clan to stop those who are not under an illusion to refrain from fighting."

"And those who are under illusion?"

"I will take care of them."

And Yeowun immediately jumped out at the hall to the people. Poong Chungwun hesitated for a moment but jumped down and other leaders from Yulin clan then followed. Elders from Demonic Cult then moved down also when Lord Chun Yujong waved to allow their action. The Lord's eye narrowed.

‘Who dare attack my Cult’s palace?’

His frustration was serious.

“Stop! Stop the fight now!”

“This is enemy’s trap! Our alliance will fall if we fight here!”

Leaders from both sides jumped down and shouted, and those who were not hypnotized began to stop slowly. Yeowun was moving quickly between them.

‘Nano, I can’t find all of them. Let me know who’s being hypnotized.’

[Yes, master. Activating augmented reality on the sight.]

Yeowun then saw white lines drawing over his eye and heard Nano’s voice.

[Targeting hypnotized entities.]

Yeowun saw small red circles being drawn over multiple people.

‘Nano, shock the target immediately when I lay my hands over them.’

[Yes, master.]

Nano then bolted out against targets. With the Step of Wind God skill, he moved like lightning through crowds and snatched through target’s head.

“W-what?!”

“Wake up.”

Yeowun's hand that grabbed the head sparked in electricity.

"Aaaaargh!"

Warrior from Flower Mountain clan screamed and dropped. Yeowun then moved over to the next target.

"Huh? Aaaartgh!"

"Aaaaah!"

He then grabbed two who were fighting and shocked them. They fell down to the ground and Yeowun moved.

'Next!'

Chun Yeowun quickly ran through each target and put them to sleep.

'I-it's amazing!'

Jegal Sohi was still dizzy from just being awake, so she was watching over at the stage and was astounded. She was also experienced warrior, but she couldn't follow Yeowun's movement with her naked eyes.

'So, he's the Crown Prince of the Cult...'

Yeowun was taking care of those who were hypnotized by alone. Those who Yeowun placed his hands passed out for slight moment and woke up, dumbfoundedly.

'D-dammit! What is that?!'

The guard, who were creating more chaos through crowds became shocked. The plan was failing very quickly already. Hypnosis was hard to put in effect, but once it did, then it was hard for it to come off unless the caster stopped it by himself.

‘This is impossible! He’s breaking hypnosis in every touch!’

With leaders from both group taking care of the situation, it seemed the situation was going to solve very quickly.

‘Ugh, there’s no way.’

He realized his plan had failed and the Hypnotizer, had only one choice to make.

‘There is no way to run from here.’

He decided to kill himself. There were best warriors from Demonic Cult in this hall, and it was middle of the Cult’s castle, where thousands of cultists lived. There was no way to run away from middle of the castle itself. And he was going to kill himself once his plan succeeds, and had planted poison ball on his molar teeth.

“Hmmmmmph.”

He let out a long breath and was about to bit on the poison ball, when someone grabbed his neck.

“Ugh!”

It was Chun Yeowun. Yeowun already had taken care of every hypnotized warriors and found the Hypnotizer right away.

‘How did he find me?!’

Hypnotizer’s eye grew large. He figured he would become suspicious as other guard was already captured, but this was too fast.

‘Ugh, this fool, I will teach him a lesson!’

He was angry that Yeowun had made all of his three plans to fail. He then threw his fist against Yeowun’s chest.

“HUH?!”

But his fist couldn’t even come close to Yeowun’s chest as it was grabbed by Yeowun. He tried to pull it away, but it didn’t even budge as the energy difference was too great.

‘H-how can he have so much power at that age?!’

Yeowun then looked up coldly at the man who was hanging by his hand, and twisted the fist that he grabbed.

“You think you can mess around in the middle of the Cult and be fine?”

“Aaaaaaargh!”

But this wasn’t over.

“W-wait, what are you... AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAARGH!”

Yeowun then pulled the twisted hand of the Hypnotizer and with the sound of muscle and flesh being ripped, his entire arm was pulled off from his body. The pain was beyond the level one can bare.

“UGH!”

“H-he pulled the arm!”

Warriors from forces of justice became pale at the cruel sight. They thought such sight was surely fitting the name of Demonic Cult. Yeowun then asked coldly to the hypnotizer who was in pain as he grabbed on the shoulder with his remaining left hand.

“What are you?”

“W...wah.... Yo-you think... you can...”

There was no way to get away anyway. The Hypnotizer then tried to bit on the poison ball, but before he can chew it down, his mouth was forced open from powerful energy.

“Aaaaaaaa!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Your type always try to kill yourself if something doesn’t turn out right.”

Yeowun flicked his finger, and the molar teeth that had poison ball wrapped around was pulled out.

“Urgh!”

Hypnotizer’s eye turned into fear as he saw the teeth with poison ball floating in the air in front of his eyes. He didn’t even dream that such monster existed within the Cult. And Yeowun’s last word had made him shocked.

“I have to take care of ‘master’ of yours, so I’ll see you later.”

Chapter 202 - Hidden Purpose (3)

Chapter 202: Hidden Purpose (3)

The Library of the Demonic Academy was a place where warriors guarded the place on every corner even late at night. But the place around the building was very quiet, with bodies scattered all over the place. All warriors who stood guard were killed and most of the bodies were piled up at the entrance, and had one stab in their neck that killed them. Those who had traces of a fight were those who guarded the inside of the library, but they were killed by the force qi, that their bodies were in bad shape.

“Are they still in there?”

“They will come out soon.”

There were two middle-aged men standing at the underground floor. They were super master level warriors who guarded the fifth floor of the library. They had come out of the library when they heard commotion downstairs and found bodies of guards. They then came down to the underground treasure vault, and found warriors who stood guard here were also killed.

“they busted through the metal door... who dares to even try such a thing?”

The middle-aged man with mustache shook his head. The metal door that sealed underground treasure vault was destroyed, and busting in activated the trap, and sealed the entrance with huge blue pearl stone wall. The intruder was now being locked inside the vault.

“This thick blue pearl stone would keep even the strongest warrior inside.”

“I don’t like this at all. I hope Chief arrives soon.”

Another warrior who guarded the fifth floor with them had gone to the main building of Demonic Cult to bring Chief Lee Hameng. It was about time for him to arrive. That’s when they heard the sound of a shock from beyond the blue pearl stone.

“They are coming out.”

Two of them became tense. The blue pearl stone that sealed off the vault was almost three times thicker than the pedestal that was placed on each floor. It was hard for even the strongest force qi to breakthrough. But it still didn’t feel relieved. That’s when they heard a loud sound and trembling that came through. It seems the one behind the wall was now striking hard as he can.

“But the blue pearl stone will withstand..”

The man couldn’t finish talking as another loud sound came through. And much heavier tremors shook the floor and two warriors became shocked. There were cracks on the blue pearl stone.

“N-no way!”

“The wall won’t stand!”

And at that moment, the wall exploded and blue pearl stone was scattered out and unleashed upon them. And for Lee Hameng, he was now almost near the library with 20 other instructors.

“What’s this sound?”

Lee Hameng heard the explosive sound and jumped out faster toward the library.

‘What is going on?’

He frowned as he saw piles bodies at the entrance. Dust clouds were being kicked out from within the entrance and Lee Hamenmg saw someone coming out through the dust cloud. It was a middle-aged man with hairs slicked back with snake-like eyes, and a man looking to be in his early thirty.

“Y-you!?”

Lee Hameng became shocked. He realized these two men were guards that stood guard around the golden carriage on today’s parade.

‘Guard from the Yulin clan? No, he is...’

Lee Hameng focused on the middle-aged man. The energy being aroused from the man wasn’t that of mere guard warrior. The man then scoffed at Lee Hameng and spoke to the man stood next to him.

“I was disappointed by weaklings, but we finally meet someone worthy.”

“But master, he’s not the end.”

“I know.”

Twenty other instructors arrived behind Hameng and became shocked to find the scene.

“W-what is this?!”

“An intruder?”

It was the first time that Demonic Academy had faced such terrible incident. It was the first time to have an intruder, and also had guards who guarded the library to be killed. Super master warriors who guarded the fifth floor and went to fetch instructors shouted angrily.

“You came out from the vault?! What did you do to them!”

The other two guards said that they will guard the wall at the underground vault. If these two were out here...

“I don’t know. Look at that pile. Maybe they’re there.”

“You dare!”

The middle-aged man smirked and the warrior pulled out his sword and tried to charge, but Lee Hameng stopped him.

“Chief!”

“Stop for a second.”

Lee Hameng then shouted.

“I don’t know who you are. Did you attack here for the underground vault?”

The younger man had a satchel behind his back that had something in it. If they were out from the underground vault, then it was sure that they took the remains of Sword Demon. The older man answered.

“As you can see, yes.”

Lee Hameng then pulled out his Flame Sword and ordered instructors.

“Stop them. Do not let them get away. Kill them if you can.”

“Yes, Chief!”

They didn’t need to keep these intruders alive. Lee Hameng couldn’t bear to have remains of Sword Demon to be taken outside. With the order, all warriors from Demonic Academy pulled out their sword and charged. The older man scoffed and spoke to the younger man.

“I’ll take care of them and catch up to you, so go ahead. You know the way, right?”

“Yes, master.”

The man then jumped out and gestured if he whistled, and strange piercing sound pierced through all warriors that charged at him. It was as if it was a dolphin’s supersonic sound. Instructors plugged their ears in pain, but the energy wielded sound made their ears to bleed.

“Aaaargh!”

“Nnngh! My ears!”

Instructors pulled up their internal energy to fight back, but this sound even made them dizzy.

“Ugh!”

Chapter 203 - Hidden Purpose (4)

Chapter 203: Hidden Purpose (4)

“I- I can’t...!”

The instructors’ eardrums were damaged and they fell down to the ground. But not all of them were affected by it. One instructor at the master level and a warrior from the fifth floor of the library withstood the attack.

“Fool! You dare play tricks on us?”

“Hmph, so you aren’t like those weaklings?”

The middle-aged man, however, jumped out and snapped the instructor’s neck with ease.

“UGH!”

“But you will die either way.”

“Dammit!”

With the instructor dying, a warrior who guarded the fifth floor quickly pulled up force qi of sword and thrust at the enemy’s neck.

“Huh? H-how did you!”

But the man grabbed force qi of sword by using force qi over his two fingers and grabbed it. This proved that the enemy was a very powerful warrior.

“Ugh! Then...!”

The warrior then let go of his sword and tried to bring up sword qi over his finger to attack, but the enemy struck on his chest, penetrating him and killing him instantly. The man then splattered blood over the ground and spoke.

“They’re not any different from those that were underground. There will be no one to stop you now. Go.”

“Yes, master.”

The young man then took steps to move out, but Lee Hameng did not stay still.

“Who said you can go!?”

Lee Hameng tried to overpower the man who was trying to escape, but the older man stopped him.

“I did.”

Lee Hameng was pushed by five steps after being collided against the old man. The old man had a metal glove created from cold steel.

‘What kind of power is this?!’

Lee Hameng became shocked. He thought the enemy wasn’t just any enemy, but the energy wielded within his fist was beyond the level of his own. The sword formation he just used at the old man had 100% of his energy. This meant that this enemy was more powerful than Hameng himself.

‘He is dangerous.’

He had to catch the escaped man, but he couldn’t dare to put his eyes off from the enemy.

“You aren’t so weak then. I’m lucky. I was curious about how powerful ones from cults are.”

“...Who are you?”

“Don’t care about that. Show me what you’ve got!”

The man then charged in and used powerful fist skill at Lee Hameng. Lee Hameng then backed away, unleashing defensive sword formation. Red sword created barriers of sword attacks and the man’s fist struck onto it.

“Oh?”

Lee Hameng’s sword skill brought up flames from it, but the man did not stop.

“UGH!”

The power of the fist attack was so strong that Lee Hameng was pushed back. The enemy was stronger than him in every possible aspect.

‘H-he’s too strong!’

Lee Hameng’s Flame Sword then shined with clear red and powerful sword formation unleashed very quickly.

“GOOD! This is more fun!”

The enemy then laughed as if he really liked this, and pulled up force qi over his two fists. He then moved in different ways to use entirely different fist skill and collided against Lee Hameng’s flame sword skill.

Two attacks struck against each other. It was a severe fight, but the result came soon enough. Lee Hameng’s powerful sword movements soon began to focus on barely defending against the man’s attack.

‘This formation...!’

Lee Hameng became shocked. The fist formation that came from strange angles were hard to even defend against and soon it got to him. The man's fist struck on Lee Hameng's chest, stomach and shoulder. He spat blood and was thrown into the back like a cannonball.

"Aaaargh...!"

Lee Hameng used his Flame Sword to help him get up and the man got up to him with a smile. Lee Hameng then spoke to him.

"Y... you... are from Blade God Six Martial clan."

The man became surprised. He didn't think his enemy will find out who he was in just a few exchanges of formations.

"How did you know?"

"...You used fist skill... ugh... but it was close to a blade formation."

A movement that was too hard for a normal body to use. It was very close to that of Blade God. Lee Hameng thought of the warrior from Blade God Six Martial Clan that Marakim had told him about.

"Interesting. I tried to hide it, you see? Well, you will die anyway, so I'll tell you. Yes. I am Sahin, Master of Blade Fist from Blade God Six Martial clan."

He spoke.

'I was right.'

Lee Hameng's guess was right. If this man was from Blade God Six Martial clan, then he needed to tell others, but his internal damage didn't let him move. Sahin got up to Lee Hameng who tried hard to get up.

"Goodbye then."

'Ugh... please! I have to move!'

Sahin focused force qi over his fist and was about to crush Lee Hameng's head.

"Huh?"

He sensed something being thrown at him hard, and used his force qi wielding hand to grab it. His hand wielded force qi, but still felt the heaviness of energy held within the object that was thrown. But it was still enough to be caught.

"Do you think a metal ball can harm me... huh?!"

Sahin tried to shout in anger, but became shocked as he looked down at the object that he grabbed. It wasn't a metal ball. It was a head of someone that had just been cut off. The half of the head was crushed by Sahin's force qi, but he still recognized whose head it was.

"W-what happened?!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It was the head of a man in his thirtieth that Sahin told him to escape. Sahin then heard another man's voice.

"Are you the 'master'?"

Sahin then gritted his teeth in anger and glared back at the man who threw the head. It was a young man with a pale white face, with long black hair. The man had the satchel that held remains that they stole from the underground vault. Lee Hameng became surprised and shouted at the young man.

“C-Crown Prince!”

The young man was Chun Yeowun.

Chapter 204 - Hidden Purpose (5)

Chapter 204: Hidden Purpose (5)

“Crown Prince?”

Sahin, the Master of Blade Fist became surprised. He didn't expect to come across such a man.

‘I heard the Cult didn't have Crown Prince yet... so they have one now.’

But his surprise quickly faded away. He realized that the plan already failed when he saw the Crown Prince appearing in front of him. If the young man was really Crown Prince, then he should have been at the Hall of Feast. But if he was here, then it meant the plan to have Yulin clan and Demonic Cult to fight against each other had failed. Sahin thought to escape from the castle while two groups fight against each other, but this meant he had to change the entire plan. But he became confused about how Yeowun had found his location.

‘They would have never spilled the plan...’

It was certain that something had gone wrong. Sahin's eye narrowed. The library located at the northeast of the Academy was higher ground, so it was easy to see the training ground and beyond from here, and Sahin saw torches increasing from a distance.

‘Dammit. They are coming.’

He even felt the energy of cultists surrounding and coming in at the Academy. Whatever the reason, he now had one thing to do. He had to get away from here.

“Hmph. I will kill you before I go at least.”

Sahin threw the head on the ground and tried to strike down on Lee Hameng again. But Yeowun did not let him do it. He was already right in front of Sahin, in a short moment when Sahin glanced over beyond the Demonic Cult.

Yeowun swung his sword and deflected Sahin’s fist that tried to kill Hameng.

‘What?’

Sahin’s eye became large. He focused powerful energy, as he was trying to kill the man, but it was deflected. It meant that this Prince was stronger than Lee Hameng in energy.

‘Interesting. So, you’re not just any prince then.’

“Hmph!”

Sahin then spun around by using his arm being thrown back as a source, and struck Yeowun. It was a simple fist thrust, but the power was great.

‘No!’

Yeowun, who used 100% of his energy from the first attack, was shocked by such a quick counter-attack and held up his sword to block the fist. But the power was beyond his imagination and the energy surged through the sword and into Yeowun’s organs. But if he was pushed back here, then this man was surely going to kill Lee Hameng who couldn’t move. Yeowun gritted his teeth and focused all of his energy and muscle strength.

‘Huh?’

Sahin thought Yeowun will take internal damage and pushed back, but instead pushed Sahin back far away into the back. Blood came out from Yeowun's mouth. It had been long since Yeowun had taken internal damage ever since he reached the superior master level. Nano's voice rang inside his head.

[Initiating self-healing mode.]

The nano machines inside his body activated and his damage quickly healed. Sahin was pushed back but it seemed he didn't take any damage, so he dropped to the ground lightly. He was surprised by Yeowun's muscle strength, but Sahin smirked as he saw the blood flowing through Yeowun's mouth.

'He took internal damage.'

Yeowun seemed to have taken damage from Sahin's counter-attack that added his own force on Yeowun's energy. Lee Hameng became grim as he saw Yeowun who seemed to have taken damage while trying to protect him. If he could have healed faster, he would have run away. Lee Hameng got up.

"Hah... hah... Prince, Don't worry about me."

"Are you okay, Left Guardian?"

"I can move."

He couldn't use internal energy due to severe internal damage, but he could use a bit now. He now had to get away and meditate so that the damage will not grow. Yeowun then gave Hameng the satchel.

“Take this and call the Lord and other elders. They should be at the entrance of the Academy.”

Yeowun had to be ready for an emergency. When he tapped into the telepathic message, he heard that hypnotizer talking about the ‘remains of the Sword Demon’ and figured the ‘master’ would be at the library’s underground vault. He then told the Lord and elders to surround the Academy and came here first. The Lord and leaders of the cult was probably sealing down entire castle and came to the Academy. Sahin scoffed.

“Fools. You think I will let you go?”

“Let me take care of him. Go ahead.”

“Ugh... yes, prince.”

Yeowun ignored Sahin and ordered Lee Hameng to go. Lee Hameng had taken severe damage so he wasn’t going to be of help, so he quickly ran toward the academy.

‘Please hang in there!’

If the enemy was from Blade God Six Martial clan, then the enemy could be dangerous for Yeowun to handle alone.

“Who said you can go?!”

Sahin charged out and tried to catch up to Lee Hameng, but Yeowun blocked him.

“HMPH!”

Sahin then turned and tried to shoot Fist Bullet Qi.

‘W-what?’

But Yeowun quickly followed up to Sahin and blocked him. Yeowun became so fast after learning Step of Wind God.

“You are with me.”

Yeowun then unleashed sword formation at Sahin.

“YOU! You will pay for this.”

Sahin then unleashed defensive fist formation and blocked the attack. Even while dropping to the ground, both of them went through various formations to strike against each other. They didn't have their foot on the ground, but their powers were at equal.

‘Didn't he take internal damage?’

Sahin thought Yeowun had taken internal damage, but Yeowun didn't seem to have any problem with using internal energy, so Sahin decided to take this seriously.

As soon as they got to the ground, Sahin began to unleash his true skills. His fist began to come at weird angles and aimed at Yeowun's blood points. Yeowun then became surprised and took steps to dodge from it.

“This is...!”

Sahin's fist stance was different from any normal martial art. Such a weird move had the potential to strain muscles, but Sahin moved it smoothly without any effort.

“You run like rats.”

If Yeowun did not back away, then he would have been struck. Yeowun then glared at Sahin and asked.

“How are you related to the Blade God?”

Yeowun realized right away that the Fist movement used by Sahin was very close to Blade God's blade skill. Yeowun had not heard anything from Left Guardian, so he didn't know this man was from Blade God Six Martial clan, and thought of Blade God himself instead. Sahin then became surprised.

"Huh? This is not what he said. I thought nobody would recognize..."

"What are you talking about?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Sahin seemed to be uncomfortable at something and Yeowun became curious about this man's identity. He then thought maybe this man was from the Blade God Six Martial clan, that was mentioned in the Great Meeting.

"If you know him, then the Demonic Cult is our real enemy!"

Sahin kept on saying something that Yeowun couldn't understand and soon shook his head and shouted.

"Good! I needed hostage to get out from here. You should come with me."

"Hostage?"

Chapter 205 - Hidden Purpose (6)

Chapter 205: Hidden Purpose (6)

Yeowun became dumbfounded. Sahin was already thinking about having Yeowun as his hostage ever since he realized he was being surrounded. That seemed like the only way for him to escape from all these warriors from the cult. The people with torches were already closing in their direction.

“Hostage... you think it’s possible?”

“Hah! I have no time to waste!”

Sahin then charged against Yeowun. His fist unleashed powerful energy as he moved to use powerful fist formation. This wasn’t just like any other fist formation.

‘Second formation of Blade God’s blade skill?’

It was skill used with a fist, but Yeowun was able to realize right away. But it was interesting to see the original formation that required blade, fit perfectly with fist and the power was almost similar.

Yeowun became serious as he saw powerful fist formation coming at him. If he were to defend this, he needed sword skill strong as Twenty Four Demon Sword. Yeowun then readied to use Twenty Four Demon Sword and unleashed the fourth formation. Two of them collided against each other. It was so fast that if there was a spectator, he would have been dizzy from such speed.

‘No way...’

Yeowun became grim as he attacked. His sword formation was losing power against Sahin's powerful fist formation. Yeowun knew the blade skill well, so he was thinking of countering it with its weakness, but Sahin too changed his skills to aim for the weak point of Twenty Four Demon Sword.

"UGH!"

Yeowun was then struck on his chest. The fist that came from all angles without limit had paid off. Yeowun stopped using his formation and created a sword barrier through swinging quickly, but he was pushed back and couldn't stop Sahin's fist formation.

"You think you can block my attack!? Hahahaha!"

Sahin's powerful fist began pushing back Yeowun's body. The Fist skill of Blade God was powerful itself, but Sahin's internal energy also was higher than that of Yeowun. Yeowun tried to withstand, but he couldn't hold back any longer against powerful fists and Yeowun's cold steel sword began to crack.

"You are powerful, but the energy and formation all are weaker than me! Haaaaah!"

His fist that wielded powerful energy struck on the sword barrier and Yeowun's sword shattered and pieces stuck into Yeowun's body.

"Dammit!"

Yeowun covered himself with an energy barrier, but sword pieces pierced into him and shook him down. Sahin did not lose this chance and struck his fist into Yeowun's stomach. Yeowun spat blood and was pushed back. He dragged to the back and had to push out the fist energy that came into his body and stopped. With the energy going out from his feet, the ground cracked down. It was astounding power. Yeowun couldn't move from the spot and Sahin spoke.

"I punched you to kill, so I didn't expect you will push out the energy. You sure are worthy to be Crown Prince of the Demonic Cult."

"Hmph."

Yeowun let out a deep breath and his body began to steam. He was pushing out the energy of fist outside from his body.

"Do you think you can defeat me with sword skill of Sword Demon?"

'Does he know sword formation of Twenty Four Demon Sword?'

Yeowun became shocked. He figured it was strange when Sahin countered as if he knew Twenty Four Demon Sword, and he sure did know. But this wasn't all that strange. AS Sword Demon tried hard to analyze Blade God's blade formation, it was likely that Blade God's descendants tried hard to analyze Sword Demon's formation, who was known to be the nemesis of the Blade God.

'He's really strong. I can't defeat him with Twenty Four Demon Sword.'

Sahin then spoke to Yeowun with an arrogant look.

"So, I countered sword skill of Sword Demon... it's decided. Sword skill from the cult cannot defeat our Blade God's martial art. Stop resisting and follow me."

Sahin then walked up to him. He thought Yeowun could not resist even if he pushed out the fist energy, as Yeowun should have taken severe internal damage and was injured with sword pieces stuck into his body. That's when the steam coming out of Yeowun's body stopped and Yeowun looked up and glared.

'He's eyes... he didn't give up yet.'

Yeowun's eye did not die yet. He was actually more eager to fight than ever.

"My Cult's sword skill is weaker than that of Blade God's?"

"Don't be a fool. You will only... what?"

Sahin then stopped and became shocked at what began happening in front of his eyes. Sword pieces that stuck into Yeowun's entire body pushed out as if his body was pushing all out. What's more shocking was that wounds that sword pieces had made began to heal at a tremendous speed.

"I-it's impossible! How...!"

It was as if Yeowun was not even a human. Sahin then instinctively realized Chun Yeowun was a dangerous enemy. The hostage plan was not going to work.

'H...he's dangerous! He's like a monster!'

He changed his mind. He realized that injuring him and take him as a hostage was not going to work. He had to kill Yeowun before he can heal. Sahin then unleashed force qi over his two fists and charged at Yeowun, using strongest fist formation he knew.

"Die, you monster!"

And it was then when Yeowun's dark wristguard began to come apart and combined in one to shape itself into a black sword.

'W-what is that?!'

Yeowun then grabbed on the black word, and black force qi came up on the black blade.

"Black force qi?!"

With ominous aura being unleashed, Yeowun's body shot out like a streak of black light and came straight against Sahin's powerful fist formation. The black streak of light then turned into twenty-four sword movements, and combined back into one dot.

"H-how can this be?!"

Sahin's fist formation was shattered, and his both arms were pushed out, and Yeowun's black sword penetrated into his body.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"UGH!"

Soon, Yeowun's body had shot past Sahin and Sahin turned slowly at Yeowun with disbelief and spoke.

"H-how can such sword skill exis.... Argh."

Sahin couldn't finish as blood began pouring out from his mouth and dropped. His chest had a large hole in it. Yeowun then looked down at dead Sahin and mumbled.

"This is the best Sword Skill of the Demonic Cult."

Chapter 206 - I will not forget this debt (1)

Chapter 206: I will not forget this debt (1)

Lee Hameng's internal damage was too severe that it felt like he would fall anytime but Hameng held on and used his running skill. He had fought Sahin by himself, so he knew how powerful their enemy was. If he was too slow, there was a chance for Crown Prince Chun Yeowun to die. Lee Hameng quickly ran toward the training ground and saw cultists closing in from outside.

"L...Left Guardian Lee... Hameng... reporting to the Lord."

Lee Hameng got to the Lord Chun Yujong and was barely able to kneel with his one knee. Every cultist around the area became grim at the sight of Lee Hameng with severe injury. Lee Hameng was one of the top ten powerful warriors of the cult, so if he was injured this badly, then it meant the enemy was very powerful. The Lord asked.

"Where is the enemy?"

"At... the library... building... Crown Prince... is fighting.. the Blade God... Six Martial clan... Y-you must go... quickly..."

"Left Guardian!"

Lee Hameng then fell due to severe pain and Great Guardian Marakim quickly ran over and checked on his state and had warriors to have Lee Hameng sent over to the medical room.

"Blade God Six Martial clan!"

The Lord became grim after knowing who the intruder was, and tried to run toward the library. But Great Guardian stopped him.

“Please, you must wait, my Lord.”

“What is the meaning of this? Great Guardian?”

Lord asked back uncomfortably and Marakim sent a telepathic message.

[My Lord. Your internal damage is not fully healed yet from the last battle. I will take the lead.]

“...Alright.”

Chun Yujong then nodded. Other elders were scattered over four castle gates and only elders that followed the Lord here was Fourth Elder Ja Kinkeng and 10th Elder Yin Moha. Marakim then quickly ran toward the library along with two elders. After sending them ahead, the Lord moved toward the library along with warriors and saw a satchel that Lee Hameng dropped.

“Hold! Bring that over to me.”

“Yes, my lord!”

A warrior took up the satchel and brought it over to the Lord. Chun Yujong ordered it to be unpacked, and it dropped cut arms and human skins that were preserved with various medications.

“What is this?”

The Lord did not know the presence of underground treasure vault, so he didn't know about the existence of these remains. But what was strange was that the satchel did not contain skill books from the Sword Demon.

And for Marakim, fitting to his nickname 'Wind God' he was able to get to the library faster than other elders.

'How... can this be?'

Marakim couldn't believe what he was seeing. He imagined to find Chun Yeowun having a hard time dealing against an enemy from Blade God Six Martial clan, but what he saw was beyond his imagination. What he saw was Chun Yeowun shooting past through the enemy like a black streak of light.

'How can such sword formation exist? It is perfect in every way!'

There seemed to be no flaw in the sword formation that Yeowun just used. What's more surprising was the black sword that Yeowun had wielded. It was far and dark, but Marakim quickly acknowledged it to be a legendary sword.

'Black sword?'

It wasn't just dark, which would indicate if it was made from Cold steel, but the entire blade was actually truly black. Marakim's two eyes that showed through his mask shook.

'Black sword... black sword...? Wait. That sword must be...!'

That's when the black sword scattered into pieces and formed itself as an armguard over Yeowun's wrist. Yeowun then realized Great Guardian Marakim had come and flinched as he turned.

'Great Guardian?'

Chun Yeowun bit on his lips. He used the Sword Force of the Sky Demon's 5th formation in order to take care of the enemy before other cultists arrive, but he mistakenly revealed himself using the sword skill and even exposed the existence of the Sky Demon Sword. It was a secret that he never told to anyone. That's when two other elders arrived at where Marakim stood.

"Great Guardian! What has happened... huh?"

Fourth Elder Ja Kinkeng then found Chun Yeowun standing on the dead body of Sahin the Blade Fist. Ja Kinkeng thought they would still be fighting, but the fight was already over.

'By the gods... did he just killed warrior from Blade God Six Martial clan alone?'

Ja Kinkeng frowned. He had fought against warrior from Blade God Six Martial clan on the battle at Jurkang castle, so he knew how dangerous these foes were.

'Is he a monster?'

He already thought Chun Yeowun was a monster when Yeowun killed Mu Jinwon, but this proved Chun Yeowun was much more powerful than other elders. Unlike Ja Kinkeng, 10th Elder Yin Moha quickly came over to Yeowun and asked for his safety.

"Crown Prince. Are you unhurt?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"...I am fine."

His injuries were already healed by Nano, so he was okay. Only thing he was concerned was the Great Guardian witnessing his Sky Demon Sword. Yeowun heard from Left Guardian that Guardians succeeded will of the Sword Demon, but he also heard that Great Guardian was a most loyal servant to the current Lord.

“Crown Prince, it’s good that you’re safe.”

But unlike his concern, Great Guardian Marakim only asked for Yeowun’s safety and did not mention the Sky Demon Sword.

‘What is he thinking?’

Chapter 207 - I will not forget this debt (2)

Chapter 207: I will not forget this debt (2)

Yeowun became curious, but soon the Lord and other warriors arrived at the library. The Lord wasn't all that excited when he saw Sahin's dead body. It simply looked like he was penetrated to death to untrained eyes, but the Lord saw a clear mark of sword trace over it.

'...Is this really his doing?'

If it was, then it meant Chun Yeowun did not use his best against Mu Jinwon. The Lord was now becoming more wary of Chun Yeowun. After looking at the sword trace for a long time, the Lord then turned his attention to the underground treasure vault.

"Was the enemy after this place?"

'Ah...'

Great Guardian Marakim hesitated. They managed to defend themselves against from enemy, but it led to another problem. This incident had revealed the existence of the underground treasure vault that Guardians had kept it secret for generations.0

"I asked, is this the place that the enemy came after?"

"...That is correct, my Lord."

The Lord then frowned and walked down to the vault. The vault had nothing left, however. There was only a faint sign of something being burnt down. All skill books left by Sword Demon were completely burned.

‘Such place was hidden under the Demonic Academy...’

This was a secret that even the Lord himself did not know, but the enemy somehow knew and came after it. This made the Lord become very uncomfortable. He then glared at Great Guardian Marakim who stood aside him.

‘So, you were hiding this from me?’

Every guardian and ones who stood guard in this library had lied to the Lord about the truth of this place. Marakim sensed the Lord’s anger and became grim.

‘What is this?’

And for Chun Yeowun, he was surprised by what he saw that was inside the satchel. He thought enemies came here to retrieve the martial art from Sword Demon, but it wasn’t. Only ones that enemies from Blade God Six Martial clan wanted as the remains of Blade God himself.

‘So, they weren’t after skill books from Sword Demon?’

Yeowun then realized that the enemy, Sahin, knew Sword Demon’s sword skill. But if they were descendants of the Blade God, then why they wanted remains that contained Blade God’s blade marks? That was a question that couldn’t be answered.

The night became very frantic for the entire Demonic Cults. Guardian warriors searched through the Demonic Academy for any possible remaining enemies, and took care of dead bodies of guards at the library. All elders and warriors were also called to search the entire castle for any more possible enemies, but there were no more traces of any other enemies.

But that was obvious. Demonic Cult had every cultist to carry medals that proved of themselves who they were and took control of everyone who entered the castle, that made hard for sneaking into the castle with the normal route.

And at the Hall of the Feast, there were hundreds of guards standing guard over one groups. They were guests from the Yulin clan.

“Hmph. I wonder how long will our lockdown will remain.”

Moyong Kang spoke from his seat with a frown. Every guests from the Yulin clan were locked at the Hall of the Feast for the night.

“We have to prove our innocence for the alliance, Moyong. Be patient.”

Poong Chungwun spoke, but he too was frustrated by their state. However, enemies had snuck in through their group so they couldn’t object against the Cult’s decision. They too would have done the same if the situation was the other way around. Jegal Sohi then spoke to both.

“We have told them what we know, so they will make decision soon. I ask you two leaders to be more patient while we wait.”

“Hmph. I understood, Strategist Jegal.”

“Alright.”

All four enemies from this incident entered the castle faking themselves as guards of Jegal Sohi. After getting out of the hypnosis, she remembered everything again.

‘I didn’t expect them to use me like that...’

She was on her way down south, after being designated as a representative of the Yulin clan in regards to the alliance. While on her way to be with two leaders who were staying at Kangsuh Castle, she was ambushed by mysterious enemies. But she remembered until being ambushed, and when she got back to her senses, she was already within the forces of Justice clan, on their parade. What's more mysterious was that until the moment her hypnosis broke, she recognized four guards as her original guards.

'I explained this to them...'

But this wasn't enough to prove their innocence. She had attacked Crown Prince under hypnosis, so this acted against their innocence. Even with her intelligence, she couldn't find any other way but to wait. And there was one more thing that concerned her most.

'I moved as a secret mission... only those who knew my mission were those of 17 leaders...'

It was possible that there were spies among 17 leaders of the Yulin clan. That was the only possible way to find her secret rout and ambush her.

'I have to prove my innocence and return to my clan...!'

Chapter 208: I will not forget this debt (3)

But the problem didn't seem to solve itself quickly. She then looked over to people gathered on the left side of the hall. They were warriors from Yulin clan who were under hypnosis and attacked cultists. And there were also clan leaders from Cultists who were hypnotized also kept separately on the other side.

"Hmmpf."

And there were others who were checking on each group. These were doctors led by Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu, checking on those who were hypnotized.

'There seems to be no issue.'

And overnight, Baek Jongwu and his doctors couldn't find anything. They had thought hypnosis had made some kind of trace, but there was nothing that seemed to be out of place.

"Doctor."

Another doctor who checked on foods from the party came over to Baek Jongwu.

"What did you find?"

"There is no poison on any drinks or foods."

"I see. As expected."

Baek Jongwu nodded. There was no trace on the ones that were hypnotized, so he didn't expect to find anything from the food either. All foods prepared in the palace were already searched and examined carefully beforehand.

'Crown Prince is wrong.'

The reason for doctors to do this extensive search was because of Chun Yeowun. He had asked the Lord to proceed with searching for any possible substance that might have caused hypnosis. It was Chun Yeowun who found people under hypnosis, so the Lord thought he had a point and ordered the Demon Doctor to go ahead with the investigation. But the result came as a failure.

"Hmm."

He sighed. That's when all warriors in the hall bowed to one that entered.

"Crown Prince!"

Chun Yeowun had finally arrived at the hall. Baek Jongwu then walked over to him with an exhausted look.

"Crown Prince, you are here."

"Doctor Baek, you have done good work. Did you find anything?"

Yeowun asked and Baek Jongwu shook his head.

"We investigated every warrior who was hypnotized and foods prepared in the hall, but we couldn't find anything, prince. It seems that hypnosis wasn't caused by a substance."

“There wasn’t anything in the food?”

“No, my prince.”

Chun Yeowun frowned. He did not think his guess of something hidden inside the food have hypnotized these people would be wrong.

‘Was the clap really all that needed for a hypnosis?’

That was strange. If hypnosis was such an easy thing, then it should have hypnotized everyone in the hall.

“Can I take a look at it myself?”

“Of course.”

Baek Jongwu nodded but he sighed. All doctors had investigated through the night, but Yeowun didn’t seem to accept the truth.

‘It’s a waste of time.’

Baek Jongwu then began to order doctors to return to their posts. If this was really an act of a magic, then it didn’t seem like there would be any findings of substances.

Yeowun stood in the middle of the hall and looked at round tables.

‘There weren’t anything in the food... If poison was used in such a direct way, it is impossible to be hidden from all of these experienced warriors.’

Yeowun thought for a long moment and saw a glass and the liquor bottle. He then thought about the Hypnotizer ringing his glass against the bottle. Yeowun grabbed the glass.

‘What made him allow to hypnotize with... wait.’

Yeowun then realized something and checked on the glass and chopsticks.

‘You need to put your mouth against the glass or chopsticks if you want to eat.’

Yeowun ordered Nano.

‘Nano, can you check if there is any poison or weird substance on the chopstick or the glass?’

[Yes, master. Please place your hand on the target you wish to analyze.]

Yeowun then began to place his finger over glasses and chopsticks on the hall. Baek Jongwu and other doctors became confused at what Yeowun was doing.

‘What is he doing?’

‘Why is he touching those glasses and chopsticks?’

After Yeowun walked through every chopsticks and glasses over on the round table, he turned over some glasses upside down. After walking through all tables, he then came over to warriors from Yulin clan who were hypnotized and spoke.

“Do you know where you sat last night?”

“Y-yes, we remember.”

“Then please go back to your last night’s seat.”

They weren’t sure what Yeowun was up to, but they had to prove their innocence so they walked to their seat and sat down.

‘What is he doing... huh?’

‘What?!’

Baek Jongwu and other doctors became shocked. All warriors from Yulin clan were seating down on the seat where Yeowun had placed the glass upside down.

“What is this?’

“How did he find out where they were seating down?”

Yeowun then grabbed one of the glass that placed upside down over to the doctors.

“Can you taste the part where you drink with the tip of your tongue?”

“Hmph...”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Baek Jongwu hesitated for a bit and tasted it with his tongue. Then he mumbled with a shocked look.

“T.this... is this Opium Poppy?”

Opium Poppy. It was a flower that was often used to create a drug Opium. It was also used by doctors to use it as a painkiller on surgery, that can use to paralyze the central nervous system and create hypnosis.

‘How did he find this out? Is he really the Prince Chun Yeowun I knew years ago?’

Baek Jongwu became shocked as he looked at Chun Yeowun.

Chapter 209 - I will not forget this debt (4)

Chapter 209: I will not forget this debt (4)

The Lord's palace of the Demonic Cult...

It was the most lavish and largest building in the Demonic Cult's castle, and home to the Lord himself. And at the training room inside the palace, a middle-aged man walked out drenched in sweat. It was the Lord Chun Yujong. As he shot out his arms like a cross, servants came up to him and took off his clothes and cleaned his body with warm wet towels.

"Hmmpf."

The Lord let out a deep, exhausted sigh and looked down at the injury that ran across his right shoulder to his chest. He had pushed out a lot of blade energy that came into his body, but it still had side effects. It seemed he required at least 10 more days in meditation to fully recover his organs that were damaged from blade energy. After his servants cleaned him, they dressed him in a new robe and the Lord walked over to another place.

It was the underground floor of the palace. The Lord opened one of the six steel doors and cold air seeped out from it. When the Lord lit the torch, it showed inside of the room that was created with cold stones just like the underground treasure vault of the library. There was a table at the center that had cut arms and skins that was originally stored at the underground vault.

Chun Yujong placed his hand over the preserved arm that was covered with blade markings and closed his eyes. He imagined the blade work over at the arm and clearly felt the power of blade skill that was used to create the damage. It was hard to imagine the formation itself, but he was able to sense one thing.

‘It’s very familiar from the blade will that I felt from him.’

Thinking of the man brought pain to his chest. There was a man that came out of nowhere suddenly when the Lord Chun Yujong was able to kill one of the powerful warriors from Blade God Six Martial clan. The man was more powerful than the other three. Chun Yujong was one of the top five warriors of Jiang Hu, and the entry level of the supreme master level warrior, but he couldn’t even stand for ten formations. The man easily countered Sword Art of the Sky Demon without any special formation and injured him easily.

‘...It is not you.’

That was the last word he spoke to the Lord Chun Yujong.

“...!!”

The Lord grabbed on the table and the table cracked. Thinking of the word that the man said raised him in rage. It wasn’t sure what he meant, but it was enough to make him furious from embarrassment. It was then. Someone banged on the steel door.

“Who is it?”

“It’s me, Marakim, My Lord.”

“Okay. I will go up to the office.”

“Yes, my Lord.”

Chun Yujong held back his emotion and got out of the room and went up to the Lord's office above ground. Great Guardian who was waiting outside the office followed the Lord in. The Lord sat down on the lavish throne and raised his hand to order Great Guardian to report. Marakim then began to report everything that happened while investigating through the castle. The Lord then asked.

"What did you do with those?"

Chun Yujong just said 'those' but Marakim understood immediately and lowered his voice.

"...We have disposed of porcelain bottles that we replaced from the hall at the Wojor Peak's creek."

"Did you make sure that no one will find it?"

"We have cleaned all the bottles with water and shattered it before we threw it down on the creek, so there is no chance for that to happen, my Lord."

"Good work."

What were these bottles they were talking about? All bottles and foods at the party were not removed due to investigation. But it seemed Great Guardian Marakim had taken out bottles that contained liquors from the party and disposed of it.

It was yesterday night when Yeowun went ahead to the Demonic Academy for another enemy. The Lord ordered to quarantine forces of Justice and seal the castle to block anyone from coming in and out of the castle. That's when Marakim came over to the Lord quietly with a bottle.

‘My Lord. There seems to be something within the liquors in these bottles.’

‘Something?’

The Lord ordered one of the warriors from Guardians to drink it. The warrior, after drinking it, became numb and lost his conscious. The Lord and Great Guardian then found out this was the reason for hypnosis.

‘I will gather these and have Demon Doctor to analyze it.’

The Lord then shook his head at the Great Guardian.

‘Then...?’

‘No, we don’t need to do that. Gather these bottles and dispose it so no one will find it.’

‘What?’

The Great Guardian became confused. Chun Yujong then explained what he had thought up in that short moment.

‘This is a good thing. We will take upper hand in this alliance by using this incident.’

‘Oh...’

Great Guardian gasped. He didn’t think Chun Yujong will find a way to make this situation for their won good. The Lord had found a way to make a reason to oppress the Yulin clan, even through the alliance.

‘We don’t need to give them a chance to get away.’

There were even clan leaders from the cult who were hypnotized. If it was found out that liquors were poisoned, then Yulin clan was sure to blame for the cult for not examining through the liquors that were served in the party. But if the evidence was lost, then only evidence left was that the Yulin clan had allowed enemies to sneak into the Cult's castle.

'As you wish, my lord.'

This was how the bottles were replaced. Even if searching ensued through the night, liquors inside replaced bottles contained no poison, so there was no evidence to prove the Yulin clan's innocence.

"Are doctors still investigating?"

"Yes, my Lord."

"We should call them off now."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

This was on intention. The Lord had contained members from Yulin clan at the hall purposely so that they can see cults had investigated publicly in front of everyone. Yulin clan had two of 17 members and their strategist Jegal Sohi with them. This was why the Lord allowed Chun Yeowun's request to investigate. This was to ensure no complaints being made for lack of investigation.

"Have doctors to return to their stations and imprison members from Yulin... huh?"

The Lord closed his mouth as he heard someone approaching from outside the office. Soon, warriors who stood guard at the entrance shouted into the office.

“My Lord, the Demon Doctor awaits your permission to enter.”

“Hm?”

Chapter 210 - I will not forget this debt (5)

Chapter 210: I will not forget this debt (5)

He was about to order to have them stop, but since the Doctor was here himself, then it seemed he was here to report that he couldn't find anything.

'Good.'

The Lord nodded and ordered for the Doctor to come in. Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu then came up with a plate covered with white clothes and placed down on the ground and knelt.

"My Lord."

"Welcome. How did the investigation go?"

Demon Doctor then looked up and answered.

"My Lord, I have found out the evidence."

"What?"

Chun Yujong's eyebrow raised. What was the doctor thinking? He had ordered Marakim to dispose of every piece of evidence, so he was confused and couldn't hide his feeling at the report. Baek Jongwu then took off the clothes over at the plate. There were glasses on the plate and the Lord became shocked.

'A glass?'

He then realized what had happened. He only ordered bottles to be replaced as the situation was taking a quick turn so he couldn't think deep, so he didn't imagine someone would find evidence on a glass. Luckily, glasses had nothing in it.

'There's nothing in there. Then it shouldn't be...'

Chun Yujong became frowny and Baek Jongwu pointed at the glass and explained.

"We have found remains of various mixtures such as opium poppies that can create illusions from the glass."

'...Ugh.'

The Lord became wordless at frustration. It was a mistake for him to not order for the replacement of glasses, but this was surely a keen finding since there was nothing that was found from bottles.

'I should've told the doctor for the plan.'

The Lord regretted his choice. He had to talk to the Doctor to disregard any evidence even if he finds one. It was an investigation being made in front of members of the Yulin clan, so the Lord thought it was better for the Demon Doctor to not know, to make the investigation look real. Demon Doctor thought the Lord was uncomfortable because of the incident itself, so he brought up another topic to ease the moment.

"But the Crown Prince did a good job in finding this evidence."

"...What? Crown Prince found this?"

The Lord frowned at the report. Chun Yujong was already frustrated for his plan to fail after this finding.

‘That boy...!’

The Lord became wordless for a second and asked.

“...Is that the real reason for the illusion?”

“Yes, my Lord. Taking this substance will make you fall under an illusion. With a caster experienced in illusion, it is likely that it will happen. Especially if it is used against ones with weaker internal energy. But what’s concerning is that the amount in the glass isn’t enough.”

As Baek Jongwu explained further, the Lord became grimmer.

“It requires more amount for the effect, but liquors inside the bottle didn’t have any problem. Crown Prince guesses that bottles might have been replaced, so he said he will go check the supply of the palace by himself to...”

“Great Guardian!”

“Yes, my lord!”

Chun Yujong interrupted Baek Jongwu before he can finish. Baek Jongwu then realized Chun Yujong wasn’t reacting to his expectation and found out something was strange and became silent.

“We have found out how these enemies used their illusion, so let our guests be freed. And for Crown Prince... have him stop the further investigation.”

“As you wish, my Lord.”

When the Great Guardian walked out of the office, Baek Jongwu finally realized. The Lord knows about the poison already. The Lord narrowing his eyebrow was his distinct way of showing his emotion when things weren't going as he planned.

'Hmm... so it was the Lord who disposed of the bottles.'

When Chun Yeowun said he will check the supply of bottles, Baek Jongwu said he will talk with the Lord to report on possible spies in the supply lines of the palace. But it seemed that wasn't necessary.

And at the kitchen storage of the palace, Chun Yeowun was checking on the bottles with the staff but had to stop when Marakim appeared. Chun Yeowun insisted that there might be spies, but Marakim stopped him and explained the plan that the Lord had made originally.

'He had planned it in that short moment?'

Yeowun knew that the Lord was good at planning schemes, from experience of him being used as a bait when he was at the Demonic Cult. But it was surprising to see it again. But Yeowun thought that the plan wasn't perfect.

"Did you know of this plan from the beginning?"

Marakim nodded at Yeowun's question. He too thought that this plan will give the cult upperhand in their alliance with the Yulin clan, so he didn't find any problem.

"Then it must be you who took care of those bottles."

"Yes, it is. My prince."

"If it was me, I would not have disposed of all the bottles."

“...Do you have some other plans that you think of?”

“If we analyze the bottle, then we can prepare against the same poison at least.”

“Ah...!”

Marakim gasped with astonishment.

‘He even thought about after.’

If they did analyze the poison as Yeowun just said, they could have prepared themselves to defend against such a hypnotic attack. Marakim was ashamed for the plan to go fail, but he now changed his thought that it was lucky that Yeowun had found small remainings of the poison.

“It’s just my thought. I’ll be on my way then.”

Yeowun placed down the bottle and walked out, and Marakim looked at Yeowun.

“Ah!”

People from Yulin clan became relieved. They were worried that their innocence will not be proven, but they were freed as their suspicion was freed from charges with the evidence of them being hypnotized was found.

“Haha, it’s good that our suspicion is lifted.”

Poong Chunwun spoke and MOyong Kang nodded. He spoke in discomfort.

“Hmph. It’s good, but it’s probably because they can’t undo the alliance for their safety either. They can’t fight against us now, maybe that’s why they decided to let us go.”

“You have a point.”

They were against the worst enemy called Blade God Six Martial clan, so they couldn't bear to fight against each other. Moyong Kang believed that no harm will come to them in such situation. But Jegal Sohi had a different opinion.

‘No. The Cult could have take upper hand with our alliance because of his incident. If they are taking back a step like this...’

This was due to Chun Yeowun's help. If he didn't solve the mystery behind hypnosis, then Yulin clan could have been in difficult shoes.

‘Crown Prince... Chun Yeowun.’

Starting from herself, creating problems under hypnosis, Chun Yeowun was a sole person who stopped the party to celebrate the alliance to become a bloodbath.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘He had chosen a greater good. I didn't expect to find such person in the cult!’

IT wasn't Yeowun's intention, but Jegal Sohi was greatly astounded by Yeowun's action. She then thought Yeowun was also very intelligent.

‘The cult could have taken the upper hand, but they rather gave us a debt that we will have to repay. Maybe he is the real person that we should be wary of.’

Although her thought was derived from her misunderstanding of intention, Jegal Sohi, Second Strategist of the Yulin clan, now paid the most attention to Crown Prince Chun Yeowun.

‘I will not forget this debt, Crown Prince Chun Yeowun.’

Chapter 211 - Increase your forces (1)

Chapter 211: Increase your forces (1)

It was now three days after the incident at the party. Demon Justice Alliance was officially made and was declared to all cultists of the castle. Its reason was to fight against Blade God Six Martial clan, but cultists who had fought against Forces of Justice for a long time were not very happy at the alliance. The people from forces of Justice who were originally planned to stay for at least five more days, sensed this uneasiness and quickly left the castle on the second day morning. But the real reason behind it was different.

‘We might have a spy among our clan.’

It was because of Jegal Sohi’s claim. Two leaders didn’t believe it easily at first. It was hard to agree that there were spies among the 17 leaders who led the Yulin clan itself. But she began explaining from the day of her kidnapping and all parts that were suspicious, and leaders and members of the Yulin clan realized something was suspicious and decided to return.

‘This is an invitation from our Leader.’

Jegal Sohi gave the Demonic Cult an official invitation from the Leader of Yulin clan to the Yulin Competition that will be held on the new year and left. After they have left, Demonic Cult was now coming into a new era.

At midnight, guest house of the Ghost Illusion Clan’s mansion... There were Yin Moha, Huan Yi, Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku, Hu Bong, Sama Chak and Bakgi gathered to have a meeting. The atmosphere that was happy from Chun Yeowun becoming Crown Prince, was now had turned more serious. Hu Bong was talking about something uncomfortably.

“I mean, it’s weird isn’t it? The Lord’s palace notified everything else and only left out my master becoming Crown Prince!”

Everyone didn’t say anything but their faces showed how uncomfortable they were from it too. There had been an official announcement that was made in the afternoon about what happened at the party. The Lord Chun Yujong announced various things in front of all cultists who gathered at the courtyard outside the palace, but he didn’t say anything about Chun Yeowun becoming the Crown Prince. It was known to all clan leaders already, so the rumor was spreading fast but it wasn’t normal for such announcement to be skipped either.

“Is it only me? Huh? Am I the only one who’s uncomfortable with this?”

Ko Wanghur then spoke.

“...Hu Bong has a point. Master, something is weird here.”

Everyone was be careful of what they were saying, as they were talking about the announcement made by the Lord of the Demonic Cult himself, but people began to show their frustration followed by Hu Bong.

“I’m sure the announcement made by the Lord’s Palace is the announcement that should talk about important issues that were made from the Great Hall meeting. If the Crown Prince Coronation is left out in that...”

Sama Chak couldn't continue onto his next word. Someone else brought up the word instead.

"Are you worried that the Lord might have changed his mind?"

"Elder Huan..."

Huan Yi spoke. Ko Wanghur and Hu Bong guessed that might be the case but didn't spoke so Chun Yeowun might not become concerned but Huan Yi didn't stop. Huan Yi was always direct in the way he spoke.

"Us Elders share the same thought with you all. Are you not?"

Huan Yi asked and Yin Moha, who was without her mask to look old, nodded simply. All three elders who sided with Yeowun were also confused by the announcement.

"...Competition, and approvals. We had done all that required. Is it something that can be overturned just because the Lord doesn't like it?"

Bakgi became curious and asked. Huan Yi answered.

"I'm not sure. I have never heard of such a case before... but if that is the Lord's decision and without six clans to go against the decision... I don't see why not."

Members became grim at Huan Yi's guess. In the past, all princes were from one of six clans so there was no way for the decision to be overthrown even if the Lord didn't like the outcome. But Chun Yeowun wasn't from any of six clans.

"Then if there aren't any objections, then the Lord can always take back what he decided."

Chun Yeowun spoke out for the first time. Everyone turned to him, but he didn't seem to show any emotion. He was just hearing it as if he wasn't involved in all this. Huan Yi looked at Yeowun and spoke with serious look.

"I was going to say this later, but I guess I should just tell you now."

"...What is it?"

"After you killed Mu Jinwon, I tried to come in contact with the remaining forces of the Wise clan to have them come into our forces."

Chun Yeowun knew this. Huan Yi thought getting rid of the remaining forces of the Wise clan might weaken the Demonic Cult itself so he advised them to join. Yeowun also agreed with Huan Yi's plan and had him take care of it.

"But starting yesterday night, the Wise clan's mansion is completely empty."

"Empty...?"

Yeowun became surprised at the word. If there had been any problem, then it should have spread quickly through the castle of what happened. Yeowun asked.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"Did four clans moved on themselves?"

As much as Yeowun's group wanted them, four clans wanted remaining warriors from Wise clan too.

"Half is true, and half is not."

“Then?”

“The Lord’s palace made a move.”

Chapter 212 - Increase your forces (2)

“Lord’s palace...”

There were two forces within the inner castle. One force was warriors from Guardians, and one was warriors under the Lord’s palace itself. Warriors from Guardians were led by Three Guardians, and warriors at the Lord’s palace were the Lord’s direct forces.

“Half were observed into the Sword clan, and half are appointed at the Blade clan.”

Chun Yeowun and others frowned. If what Huan Yi said was true, then the Lord himself had given power to the Sword and Blade clans. If the Lord’s palace made a move, it was reasonable to have these remaining forces to be appointed at Chun Yeowun, who had killed the leader of the Wise clan, but this was unexpected to say the least.

“This... this is an apparent sign of oppression against us.”

Sama Chak spoke with a raised voice. All members who only thought six clans as their enemy were shocked and confused by the Lord’s decision.

“How can the Lord do this...?”

Mun Ku bit her lips and looked at Yeowun. She was shocked and angry at the same time, so it was hard to imagine how angry Yeowun might be. But Yeowun was thinking differently.

“...No. This isn’t just oppression. It’s balancing.”

“What?”

The Lord that Chun Yeowun knew, was one who always acted for his own benefit. If he wanted to oppress Yeowun, then Yeowun would not have been appointed as the Crown Prince from the beginning. But he did, and the tide began to turn toward Chun Yeowun.

“He is strengthening two clans to oppose me, to make balance. The reason why he didn’t announce me as a Crown Prince is...”

It was a way to show that four clans still had the chance. By saying that Yeowun might lose his place as a Crown Prince, the Lord gave hope to the four clans and raised their morale to fight against Chun Yeowun.

“He is making four clans fight against me.”

The morale only occurred when the enemy seemed to have a chance to be defeated. The Lord then showed that he didn’t accept Chun Yeowun as a Crown Prince. Yeowun was still only a piece in his chess game.

‘You have a good understanding of the Lord.’

Huan Yi and Yin Moha knew this very well. Chun Yujong was a cold-hearted person. He had no interest in family or relationships and he considered everything as a piece in his chess to grip on the power of his throne.

‘The Lord is not our ally...?’

‘What should we do now?’

The atmosphere became grimmer as they realized the Lord’s intention. After a long silence, Chun Yeowun got up and looked at each member with their eyes and spoke.

“I want to ask each and every one of you here.”

“?”

“If... there is something that happens, will you still trust me and follow me to the end?”

“!!!”

Everyone became shocked at what Yeowun had said as they quickly realized what he was talking about. Yeowun was asking them that if he was to move against the Lord, will they trust and follow him? People gathered here pledged allegiance to Yeowun, but this didn't mean that they will turn their back to the Lord, who was the Demonic Cult itself.

“Lot of things in our cult is wrong. I want to bring our cult back to the original times when our Founding Father Chun Ma had created our cult. Even, if that requires me to fight against the current Cult.”

Yeowun took a deep breath after that and spoke.

“Trust me and follow me to the end.”

Yeowun bowed. Everyone had lost their words at Yeowun's determined look.

‘Master had decided...!’

‘He will not hesitate on fighting against the Lord!’

After some silence, someone shot up from his seat and bowed at Yeowun. It was Hu Bong.

“What are you talking about? I, Hu Bong, will always follow you no matter what path you take, Master.”

Hu Bong had decided to follow Chun Yeowun no matter what. This became a signal to others. Ko Wanghur then got up and bowed.

“I’m the same as Hu Bong. A man does not change his oath. Even if the path lies ahead is filled with thorns that will make me bleed, I will follow you to the end.”

And with that, others began to get up from their seat. Two elders also got up. They all bowed at Yeowun and swore an oath of allegiance again.

“We will follow the Lord no matter what happens.”

Yeowun clenched on his fist. It was possible that Chun Yeowun might even have to fight against the mighty Lord of the Demonic Cult himself, so he was ready for anyone to leave at the moment, but everyone had said they will follow Yeowun to the end. And by the announcement made by the Lord’s palace, Yeowun and his members were able to build a stronger bond. And after the heat of the determination settled, Yeowun took back all the plans he had made to fight against the six clans.

“With the Lord giving power to four clans, we have to act accordingly.”

“Do you have a plan ready?”

Huan Yi asked and Yeowun spoke.

“He tries to keep the balance, so we will break the balance instead.”

Yeowun then turned to Mun Ku.

‘Huh?’

At the mansion of the Demon Dragon clan, located at the northwestern corner of the Demonic Castle.. the mansion was equally giant and grand just like that of six clans. Someone ran across the courtyard inside the gate and ran to the Clan Leader's office. The man then shouted to report.

“E-Elder! It’s me, Busong!”

“What is it?”

“C-Crown Prince is here to see you!”

“What?”

8th Elder Mun Yun became shocked and burst out of his office.

Chapter 213 - Increase your forces (3)

Chapter 213: Increase your forces (3)

The guesthouse of the Demon Dragon clan's mansion became busy to greet the sudden guest. It was not just any guest, but the Crown Prince, so they couldn't just greet him as it is. As the guesthouse was being prepared, Mun Ku was guiding the group into the large courtyard's garden at the mansion. Mun Yun, an old man, had a hobby to look after the garden, so it was beautifully cared for and decorated.

"I don't know anything about gardening, but this is amazing."

Hu Bong spoke astoundingly. The garden inside the Demon Dragon clan's mansion was the most beautiful within the Demonic Cult's castle.

"Hehe. Isn't it?"

Mun Ku seemed to proud of showing her home's garden to his members. Members who came to the mansion along with Chun Yeowun and Mun Ku was Yin Moha, Hu Bong and Bakgi. Where were others than? They were at other places for their own plans. Chun Yeowun said they had to increase their forces so Huan Yi and Sama Yi went together to meet the sixth Elder, and clan leader of Illusive Dream clan, Mong Oh.

'Would it work?'

"I heard Elder Sama is a close friend to the sixth elder and even graduated from the same Demonic Academy. You can't do everything by yourself, so we'll persuade the sixth elder."

Ko Wanghur and Sama Chak then gave a list of clans that didn't side with any remaining four clans from Huan Yi to visit them to join their forces. Ko Wanghur took most of the list, and tried to take Hu Bong with him, but Hu Bong insisted on following Chun Yeowun this time around.

'Take Bakgi with you, master.'

'Will two of you enough?'

'It's okay. Hahaha!'

'...Show off.'

'Hmph! Please take 'good care' of our master, Bakgi.'

Ko Wanghur and Bakgi were always arguing against each other as they considered each other as rivals, so Ko Wanghur was made to go with Sama Chak.

And Mun Ku was guiding them through the garden when Mun Yun himself came over to take them. He was an old man with white hair, and a noble aura to him that looked as if he was a great philosopher or something. He was also very well built and tall.

"8th Elder, Mun Yun, greets the Crown Prince."

Mun Yun bowed politely and Yeowun also bowed back.

"Greetings, 8th Elder."

They didn't meet each other for the first time. They saw each other at the Great Meeting and also saw each other on the Feast. But both times there was a huge incident that happened so Mun Yun had very strong impression of Yeowun.

‘She’s still on a mask?’

Mun Yun then turned to Mun Ku. Since they were out of the academy, she was suggested to take off her mask, but she was embarrassed by her members as they did not know she was a woman and did not take off her mask yet. But she couldn’t do that for too long either.

‘Umm...’

Mun Ku realized Mun Yun’s eyes and looked away. Mun Yun then turned back to Yeowun.

“I will guide you into the guesthouse, my prince.”

“You could’ve just sent your servant. Thank you for your kindness.”

“I have a valuable guest at my home. It is a must. Please, come this way.”

Mun Yun then led the group into the guest house. As they were out from the garden and on the way to the guesthouse, Busong, the guard at the gate quickly ran over to Mun Yun. It seemed they had another guest.

“E-elder!”

“What is it?”

Mun Yun asked.

“There is 3rd, 4th Elder and Prince Chun Mukeum waiting to see you right now.”

“What?”

Mun Yun frowned. Why did members from four clans come while Crown Prince Chun Yeowun was here? Chun Yeowun was here first, but it was a frustrating situation. Even if he wasn't a crown prince, Chun Mukeum was also a prince of the cult.

'It's a name that I didn't hear for a long time.'

Yeowun did not see him ever since he entered the closed room training at the Demonic Cult. He heard that Chun Mukeum had failed on the fifth test.

'To see him visiting here at this time.'

It seemed that they too likely shared the same purpose that Yeowun had in coming here. But he was only a guest at this house.

"Hmm..."

Mun Yun became hesitant as he knew the relationship between Crown Prince and the other four clans, and Yeowun smiled.

"Please don't mind about me."

"Thank you, Crown Prince."

With Chun Yeowun's permission, Mun Yun allowed other guests to be taken into another guesthouse and proceeded on taking Yeowun to the guesthouse. At front of the building, there was a small garden and a pond and a gazebo was placed. On it, there was a round table filled with desserts and tea.

"It is amazing. I heard you are master gardener, and it seems that wasn't just words."

Yeowun spoke, astounded at the view. Mun Yun laughed and answered.

“Haha, it is only a hobby but thank you for your sincere complements. I have prepared some tea and desserts. Let’s talk while we enjoy it.”

“Thank you.”

Yeowun and his members then got up to the gazebo with Mun Yun. The table had full of various snacks and fruits.

‘Oh! It’s going to be okay this time.’

Hu Bong smiled. There had been incidents on every visit to Elders, so Hu Bong was concerned until now. But they had Mun Ku this time and it seemed to be going well.

‘Oh, and last time I heard Elder Sama was trying to force the marriage of his daughter to my master. I hope that doesn’t happen again here.’

Hu Bong heard that the leader of Demon Dragon also had a granddaughter. Mun Ku said ‘he’ had a twin sibling so Hu Bong thought that would be the granddaughter. As Mun Yun clapped, servants came over to pour hot tea on the tea cup.

“Then shall we...”

But before Mun Yun could finish, a small door at the gate into the guesthouse’s yard became noisy.

“Y-you shouldn’t do this! There are other guests...!”

“Move out of the way! It is an emergency!”

Servants were trying to stop a man who was trying to walk in, but they pushed servants out and came in forcefully.

“Huh?”

Mun Yun frowned. It was 3rd Elder Bu Churyong, 4th Elder Ja Kinkeng and Prince Chun Mukeum. They were being guided into another building, then turned and walked in. They seemed relieved as they walked in.

‘We’re not late.’

They were worried if the meeting had almost been decided. But from what they can see, it seemed Chun Yeowun and his members just sat down.

‘What a coincidence.’

Chapter 214 - Increase your forces (4)

Chapter 214: Increase your forces (4)

They were actually here to persuade the Demon Dragon clan to join their forces. But they found out that Chun Yeowun was here for the same purpose so they knew it was rude to do such a thing, but they burst in before even the Demon Dragon clan fell into the hands of Chun Yeowun.

“Please excuse us, Crown Prince.”

Chun Yeowun coldly eyed third elder and others and nodded.

“I am sorry.”

Mun Yun bowed and walked over to the elders. Mun Yun bowed and said, “Greetings, elders and Prince Chun.”

Three of them then tried to bow back, but Mun Yun went straight into his complaints.

“I asked three of you to wait while I tend to another guest. What is up with such rudeness?”

3rd Elder Bu Churyong then spoke nonchalantly to his frustration.

“We heard the Crown Prince was here, so I thought it was a must for us to pay proper respect rather than just walk by.”

“To the Crown Prince?”

Mun Yun became dumbfounded at the unexpected words. The Crown Prince was a number 2 in rank within the Demonic Cult. If these elders claimed that they were here to say greetings to the Crown Prince, then Mun Yun had no words to blame them for the rudeness.

“May we pay our respect to the Crown Prince then?”

“...You may.”

Mun Yun reluctantly allowed them and two elders and Chun Mukeum came over to the Gazebo.

“Two elders had come to say greetings to the Crown Prince.”

‘Greetings, huh?’

Chun Yeowun looked coldly and nodded. Two elders then bowed to Chun Yeowun.

“Third Elder, Bu Churyong greets the Crown Prince.”

“Fourth Elder, Ja Kinkeng greets the Crown Prince.”

Chun Mukeum was the last to bow, but he frowned as he bowed. It seemed like he was very reluctant in showing respect to Chun Yeowun. Their position had turned upside down in a few years.

“G...greetings... Crown Prince...”

Chun Yeowun ignored Chun Mukeum and bowed to the two elders.

‘Dammit.’

Chun Mukeum became angry but he couldn’t show his anger. It was ironic that two sides who opposed each other were bowing against each other, but this was another form of war. Bu Churyong then spoke.

“I didn’t know Crown Prince had business with Elder Mun.”

“...I had to talk with him.”

“I see. We also had to hear his response.”

‘Response?’

Chun Yeowun became surprised. If it was a response, then it meant they had already talked with Mun Yun already. He tried to send them back, but this made Yeowun to become curious. But Mun Yun didn’t seem to recognize what he was saying.

“Hmm? What are you talking about?”

Ja Kinkeng then spoke uncomfortably.

“This is frustrating. We already sent you our messenger. Did you forget it already?”

‘Huh?’

Mun Ku became surprised and looked at Mun Yun. Mun Yun frowned.

“No, that was...”

“Didn’t you say you will give a good thought?”

Mun Yun was dumbfounded. He didn’t think it was right to outright refuse to the messenger that was sent from the Loyal clan, so he said he’ll think about it but he didn’t imagine they would interpret it as a positive answer. Bu Churyong then continued, “Well, that’s why Prince Chun Mukeum is here to see the granddaughter of Elder Mun himself.”

Chun Mukeum then bowed toward Mun Yun.

“HAH!”

It seemed that the two elders had planned to force this already. Mun Yun was frustrated on what to say in front of Chun Mukeum, son of the Lord. He couldn’t outright refuse either.

‘What should I do with this?’

Chun Yeowun was here to form a group with the Demon Dragon clan. But if he answered to the other elders that he will think about it in a positive way, then it would show that he would be trying to side with both forces.

‘Huhu... Eighth Elder... you better choose your side well.’

Bu Churyong smiled. This wasn’t a simple proposal. Chun Yeowun only wanted Mun Yun as his member, but the Elders were proposing to form a family tie. Chun Yeowun then spoke.

“Elder Mun.”

“Yes, Crown Prince.”

“Isn’t the opinion of the person getting married also important?”

Mun Yun then brightened up after realizing the intention of Yeowun’s question and agreed.

“Haha, of course. I respect her decision.”

They were trying to get away from the situation by giving decision to someone else. But the elders did not give up easily. Ja Kinkeng spoke.

“Good! Then why don’t we call Elder Mun’s granddaughter here to meet our Prince Chun? Then we will see the decision.”

Ja Kinkeng thought the situation was going to turn the tides toward them with this. It was likely that no woman would outright refuse to marry the son of the Lord.

‘You are digging your own trap, 8th Elder. Crown Prince.’

And to those elders, someone walked up. It was Mun Ku, who had been sitting next to Chun Yeowun.

“Mun... Ku?”

‘Why is he coming out?’

When Mun Ku got up, Chun Mukeum became surprised. He had contacted Mun Ku to bring him into his fold multiple times back at the Demonic Academy, so Mukeum knew Mun Ku very well.

“Mun Ku, why are you... Huh?”

That’s when Mun Ku grabbed the bottom of her chin and pulled. Everyone became shocked at the skin that was pulled off.

“S-skin?!”

“I-Is that the skin mask!?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yeowun's members who did not know Mun Ku's true identity, including two elders and Chun Mukeum all gasped in shock.

"What...!"

"How can this be!"

Smooth white face with shiny eyes. Small pinkish lips with crescent eyes. Her beautiful face was revealed. Mun Ku, now fully ripe in her age, had grown into a beautiful woman. Mun Ku bowed toward two elders and Chun Mukeum.

"Greetings, Elders and Prince. I am the granddaughter of Elder Mun Yun, Mun Ku."

Chapter 215 - Increase your forces (5)

Chapter 215: Increase your forces (5)

It was just a simple action of taking off the mask, but the effect was enough to shock everyone at the guesthouse. Even Bakgi, who was almost emotionless, became shocked and was dumbfounded. Hu Bong's mouth was open large in his shock.

'Am-am I dreaming?'

Of course, he wasn't. Hu Bong then thought of many events in the past where he stripped naked and walked proudly in front of Mun Ku and all other events. Hu Bong became pale.

'Nooooooooooooo!'

Hu Bong covered his face and looked away. Chun Mukeum was also shocked by the unexpected identity of Mun Ku.

'So, he was actually 'she'?''

He didn't imagine a stupid face hiding such beautiful woman underneath the mask. Mun Ku's beauty even made him become astonished. But the problem of this event was elsewhere.

'God dammit!'

Chun Mukeum had tried hard to have other members from the high-ranking clans join him just like other princes. Chun Mukeum did not act aggressively like Chun Yuchan from the Blade clan, but he was arrogant in his nature so he even threatened Mun Ku to join him once.

‘Well, if you are so persistent on not joining me... I promise you that if I become Crown Prince, I will remove the name of Demon Dragon Clan from the face of the cult. If you don’t care about that, then keep on with your neutral stance.’

Chun Mukeum said that and just proposed to the person whom he threatened in such a way. He couldn’t even look at Mun Ku from embarrassment.

‘Skin Mask...’

Bu Churyong was surprised by her identity and her beauty. Mun Ku’s beauty was enough to be appointed as the new top three beautiful women in all of Yulin. If this wasn’t a place to have Chun Mukeum marry, it tempted him to take her as his concubine.

‘It’s tempting but...’

But he wasn’t a fool to follow his temptation. He was an elder, and he knew what to prioritize.

‘Having a skin mask doesn’t change the fact that she’s a granddaughter of Elder Mun.’

Bu Churyong did not know what Chun Mukeum did in the past at the academy, so he continued.

“I didn’t think such beautiful woman would hide her face under a mask! I guess I would have my granddaughter do the same if she was as beautiful as you! Hahaha!”

Bu Churyong laughed to ease the atmosphere. Ja Kinkeng also complimented Mun Ku’s beauty and spoke.

“Our Prince Chun is a lucky man to marry such beautiful woman!”

“U-uncle!”

Chun Mukeum became embarrassed. Ja Kikeng did not know Mukeum’s thought so he asked Mun Ku with a smile, “Well, since you have heard about what was going on, it is better you tell us your decision. Will you accept Prince Chun’s proposal?”

Mun Ku then smiled and turned to Chun Mukeum.

“Well, looking at Prince Chun Mukeum reminds me of what he told me back in the Academy.”

“Oh! So, you two knew each other? That’s good then!”

Ja Kinkeng brightened up, thinking something was going to work well, but his excitement was shattered by Mun Ku’s next words.

“Prince Chun Mukeum once told me that he will erase the name of the Demon Dragon clan from the face of the cult if he becomes the Crown Prince. Well, fortunately he isn’t the Crown Prince so our clan is safe. Whew.”

“Wha-?!”

Ja Kinkeng’s face turned grim.

‘Ah...’

Chun Mukeum became grim and looked down. He didn’t imagine the thoughtless words that he blurted out would come around to take him down. Mun Yun’s face scowled instantly.

“Erase my clan, you said?”

“N-no, I meant...”

Even if Chun Mukeum was from the Loyal clan, one of the six clans, this was too much of a threat. Even if it was the Loyal clan, it required heavy casualties if they were to fight the Demon Dragon clan.

[What have you done?!]

Ja Kinkeng spoke to Chun Mukeum through telepathic message. There was nothing to say to that. Ja Kinkeng then decided he had to take care of what had already happened and tried to explain to Mun Yun.

“Elder Mun! I think our prince made a mistake in the past... he was young so...”

“Mistake? Do you think that is enough explanation for such a threat?”

It seemed like the 8th Elder wasn't going to let this go easily. He wasn't a type to lose his temper, but he became furious after hearing that his beloved granddaughter was threatened with the Demon Dragon clan as a hostage.

“...Elder Mun, will you really try to fight us?”

“If you want to ‘erase our name’ I guess I am left with no choice.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“HAH!”

Ja Kinkeng who tried to explain also frowned. He had become angry at the 8th Elder, who was a lower rank than him, being this rude. With two powerful warriors at the superior master level unleashing their energy, the gazebo started shaking with power. Then 3rd elder Bu Churyong sighed and jumped in.

“Ugh, enough! Two of you! Put aside your anger!”

“Do you think you would put your anger aside if you heard the same?!”

Mun Yun roared angrily and Bu Churyong responded, “I understand how you feel, 8th Elder. But what if the threat that Prince Chun made was only when he was only a cadet? And do you think there is a clan who can fight against the Demon Dragon clan so easily?”

Chapter 216 - Increase your forces (6)

Chapter 216: Increase your forces (6)

“Hmph!”

Bu Churyong spoke highly of the Demon Dragon clan intentionally and Mun Yun became somewhat less angered. Chun Mukeum might have become angry at the comment, but talking lowly of him was the only way to make Mun Yun feel better.

‘Hmmp. I want to keep this for later but...’

Bu Churyong then took out something from his pocket. It was a deep orange tag that had a certain symbol on it.

“I heard that 8th Elder has been looking for a good doctor for the past few years.”

“That’s...”

He tried hard to make everything going on in his clan as a secret, but he couldn’t hide the fact that he was looking for a doctor. Mun Ku’s twin brother Mun Yu was born as a mentally ill child. Mun Yun searched for every doctor possible to tend to Mun Yu and even asked around to see if he could locate the rumored Godly Doctor.

“This tag will let you meet the Godly Doctor himself.”

“What!”

Mun Yun’s eyes shook. The tag that would lead him to the Godly Doctor that he was searching for a long time tempted him.

‘Fortunately, I found this from the Wise clan’s mansion.’

This tag actually belonged to Lady Mu. But when she and Mu Jinwon died, the Lord allowed the Sword and Blade clan to take what remained within the Wise clan and that’s when Bu Churyong found this.

‘You will be tempted by this, Elder Mun.’

This tag was surely a treasure, but if this can bring the 8th Elder and the Demon Dragon clan into their fold, it would serve its purpose.

“If Prince Chun Mukeum marries your granddaughter, I will give this to you as a gift.”

“T-that tag as a gift?”

“I never lie.”

“And why would 3rd Elder give such a precious gift?”

Mun Yun was confused. He knew that the four clans would want to have the Demon Dragon clan join them, but Chun Mukeum was from the Loyal clan. It was strange that the Blade clan was willing to give such a precious treasure for it.

‘There’s something more important.’

Bu Churyong then pointed at Chun Mukeum and smiled.

“I didn’t tell you before, but Prince Chun Mukeum is appointed as the formal successor to all of our four elders.”

“Formal... successor?”

Chun Yeowun raised his eyebrow. He knew what Bu Churyong was talking about.

‘So, four clans are forming an alliance.’

Chun Yeowun’s guess was accurate. The four clans had not thought about siding with one another until recently. But after Yeowun became Crown Prince and killed Mu Jinwon and powerful warriors from the Blade God Six Martial clan, they felt it wasn’t going to be easy to fight against Chun Yeowun.

‘We cannot let this go on!’

That’s when the Lord gave them hope. Hope that maybe there was a chance for the Crown Prince to be changed. If they were saying Chun Mukeum was their formal successor, then it meant that they were trying to make him the Crown Prince.

‘So, they won’t go down easily then.’

Yeowun looked at them coldly. He knew that it wasn’t going to be easy but if these four clans were to form an alliance, this meant that the fight was going to become much harder.

‘Elder Mun might choose them.’

Yeowun looked Mun Yun worriedly. Yeowun’s concern was right.

‘Four clans are siding with Prince Chun Mukeum then?’

Mun Yun became confused. They just showed their plan to him.

‘They are asking me to choose sides. Hm...’

Mun Yun was frustrated. One side was the Crown Prince that his granddaughter had pledged allegiance to, and another side was one who had way to heal his grandson Mun Yu, and had strong forces probably enough to change the Crown Prince. The tide began to change.

‘Ah... Ku, I’m sorry.’

Mun Yun then looked over to Mun Ku with an apologetic look. He couldn’t throw away the temptation that maybe he had a chance to heal Mun Yu. And to Bu Churyong’s ears, Ja Kinkeng sent telepathic message.

[3rd Elder! What a great plan!]

[Hahaha... this is what you call politics. If you know what the target wants, then you give him what he wants to get what YOU want in return.]

[I see! ...I learned something new from you, Elder Bu.]

Chun Yeowun wanted an allegiance without any payment now, but they had brought what Mun Yun might want the most. This fight was already over when it started considering with that.

‘Crown Prince, we have one this round. Hahahaha!’

And to the hesitant Mun Yun, Bu Churyong spoke to finish tying the knot.

“Elder Mun, will you accept our proposal to have Prince Chun Mukeum marry your granddaughter?”

“|...”

Mun Yun became silent for a while and tried to speak. That's when Mun Ku who had been watching them speak silently, ran over to Chun Yeowun and grabbed Yeowun's arm and shouted with blushed look.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Huh?”

“I... I am already the Crown Prince's woman!!”

“?!”

Everyone down in the yard frowned. Chun Yeowun also became shocked. She wasn't lying as she was a servant of Chun Yeowun's, but that way of speaking was enough to bring confusion. And Mun Yun, who was almost set on deciding to allow Chun Mukeum to marry Mun Ku, became dumbfounded and looked at his granddaughter and Chun Yeowun.

“C-Crown Prince?”

Chapter 217 - : Increase your forces (7)

Chapter 217: Increase your forces (7)

The shocking claim silenced the gazebo and around for a long time. Hu Bong and Bakgi also became so shocked and looked at Yeowun. They didn't say anything but their expression explained it all.

'M-master? Since when did you even...?'

'You are... fast.'

Chun Yeowun was also very shocked. This way of speaking would surely make everyone confused.

[I-I'm sorry! I couldn't think of any other way.]

Yeowun then looked at Mun Ku. She looked up to Yeowun with teary eyes. She looked like a fawn in fear, shaking, so Yeowun blushed and looked away.

'She did it on purpose.'

Mun Ku did this to make her grandfather not take up the proposal. She had no choice as she couldn't let her grandfather make her marry Chun Mukeum. But this also brought another effect that no one expected.

Chun Mukeum's face reddened as he gritted his teeth. He couldn't say anything as he had made a mistake in the past, but he fell in love at first sight when he saw Mun Ku. He was actually looking forward to marrying such a beautiful woman like Mun Ku, and became furious by the action. Chun Yeowun found Mukeum in such state and became surprised. He then patted Mun Ku's head.

"Ah!"

Mun Ku was concerned that Yeowun might be angry at her action, but became relieved and blushed further as Yeowun patted her.

'T-that bastard is taking what belongs to me again!'

With that, Mukeum became furious from jealousy. He thought that the death of his mother Lady Ja was due to Chun Yeowun, so his hatred toward Chun Yeowun was already great. But the elders had warned him and he knew that he was no match against Chun Yeowun, so he didn't think about fighting Yeowun. But the sight made him imagine that Yeowun had maybe slept with Mun Ku already made him lose control over his temper. That's when Yeowun smiled.

'YOU DARE TO LAUGH?!'

It was then. A sharp sword flashed up to Mukeum's neck and threatened him.

"UGH!"

Chun Mukeum became shocked and saw the one who was pointing the sword at his neck. It was the 10th Elder, Yin Moha. She had been standing behind Yeowun like a guard, but she quickly withdrew her sword and charged down at Chun Mukeum when she sensed Mukeum's intent to attack.

"How dare a mere guard point a sword at the Prince!"

Ja Kinkeng roared at Yin Moha. None of them recognized her who had become younger by going through the body reconstruction.

‘A mere guard...?’

Yin Moha was acting as a mere guard, so she spoke casually.

“He had the intent to attack the Crown Prince.”

Everyone had realized Chun Mukeum’s intention and his hostile energy rising up. Such action was an act of treason as Chun Yeowun was formal successor to the throne.

‘No! I told him to hold back...!’

Ja Kinkeng frowned. He knew very well that Chun Mukeum hated Chun Yeowun for death of Ja Kinkeng’s sister Lady Ja. That’s why when they heard Chun Yeowun was at the Demon Dragon clan’s mansion, he told Mukeum to hold back his anger and stay calm. Chun Yeowun was a Crown Prince, so two elders tried hard to give no such reason to be struck down and Mukeum made a mistake.

‘We have to stop it!’

The only possible candidate who was normal was Chun Mukeum. That’s why he was appointed as the formal successor to the four clans. From what Yeowun had done to other princes, there was no way Yeowun would let this go lightly.

“Crown...”

But not all things went as they planned.

“Put down your sword now!”

“Stay still. You have threatened the Crown Prince.”

“How dare you order me around!!”

Chun Mukeum, who was already mad, tried to strike down Yin Moha’s sword. Chun Mukeum, who was at the super master level, knew he couldn’t fight against elders or Chun Yeowun, but he didn’t fear any others.

Mukeum then brought up 80% of his energy to strike the sword.

“Huh?”

But the sword didn’t even budge as if it was a thousand-ton boulder.

“W-what are you... AAAARGH! YOU!”

Mukeum then shouted frantically as the sword poked into his neck. It seemed like she was going to kill him without hesitation.

‘NO! The Crown Prince will not let this one go!’

Bu Churyong thought he had to stop Chun Mukeum from being killed. Chun Yeowun killed Mu Jinwon just because he had threatened him even when the Lord was present.

Bu Churyong knelt down on his knee and bowed.

“Crown Prince! I understand you are angry, but he is still your brother with a different mother! Please forgive his mistake!”

Ja Kinkeng, who was also quick on his thinking, knelt down and shouted.

“Please forgive him!”

They had to allow Chun Mukeum to stay alive. Two high-ranked elders knelt to ask for forgiveness. They had thrown away all of their pride. But Yeowun ordered coldly, “Kill him.”

“Yes, my prince.”

Yin Moha then tried to push in her sword.

“NOOOO!”

Bu Churyong then charged out like lightning and smacked Yin Moha’s sword with his blade.

“Argh! My neck!”

It made the tip of Yin Moha’s sword slightly rip Mukeum’s neck and Mukeum quickly jumped back. Yin Moha tried to attack Mukeum, but Bu Churyong got in the way.

“STOP!”

“Hah!”

Two superior master level warriors then collided against each other. Bu Churyong, who figured Yin Moha wasn’t just a mere guard, became shocked.

‘How can a mere guard can be this strong?!’

His hand that grabbed the blade shook every time it collided with the sword. He thought he would be stronger, but he was wrong. After three formations, two of them backed away from each other. No, it was actually the third elder who returned with sweat running from his forehead.

‘What is this woman? How is she a mere guard with such power?’

After exchanging three formations, Bu Churyong was certain that she wasn’t just a guard. This woman was either at the superior master level or even higher. That’s when something happened.

“C-Crown Prince! STOP!”

Ja Kinkeng shouted and Bu Churyong turned.

“WHAT?!”

Chun Yeowun was next to Chun Mukeum, with his White Dragon Blade aiming at Chun Mukeum’s neck. Mukeum was pale in his frozen state from fear.

“Ugh...!”

If Chun Yeowun moved slightly, he was going to kill him.

‘I-is he really going to kill me?!’

It wasn’t like when it was from the Demonic Academy.

“I guess you have no respect for my orders.”

Chun Yeowun spoke coldly. Two elders couldn’t object to the Crown Prince as they were angry from being threatened.

‘What should we do?!’

The elders then regretted their choices. They now thought that maybe they should have given up on the Demon Dragon clan when they heard Yeowun was here already. Chun Yeowun raised his blade to cut down Mukeum’s neck and Bu Churyong shouted, “C-Crown Prince! Please stop!”

Yeowun's blade stopped in mid-air. Mukeum's face became pale from fear and trembled helplessly. Bu Churyong spoke.

"...We give up on the marriage. If you want something more, we will give it to you."

He was now only intent on saving Mukeum. If Mukeum, the only one who was unharmed was to die, then there were no more candidates to push to become Crown Prince. Yeowun smiled and said, "Give me the tag that will allow me to meet the Godly Doctor."

'Dammit... I knew it.'

Bu Churyong frowned. But he had no choice. He had to let Chun Mukeum stay alive at all costs.

"Here it is. Please, have mercy on us."

Bu Churyong bowed as he handed over the tag to Yeowun. Yeowun took the tag and spoke.

"Well... was it – Politics require finding out what the target wants, and you will get what you want if you give it to the target?"

'?!'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Bu Churyong's eye shook as if his eyes were having an earthquake. Those were the words that he spoke to the fourth elder through telepathic message. And when he looked up and saw Chun Yeowun, Yeowun mumbled.

"But this tag isn't enough..."

“What?”

And there was no time to stop. Yeowun’s White Dragon Blade flashed and shot past Chun Mukeum’s right shoulder. Chun Mukeum’s right arm dropped to the ground.

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaargh!”

Chapter 218 - Increase your forces (8)

Chapter 218: Increase your forces (8)

“Aaaaaargh!!! M-My arm! MY ARM!!!”

Chun Mukeum, who was relieved that he might be spared, screamed in pain from the area where his right arm had been cut off.

‘...No!!’

Bu Churyong grimaced with shock. He thought Yeowun would let Mukeum go as Yeowun had gotten all he wanted, but it was false hope. Chun Yeowun wasn’t that foolish.

‘He did it on purpose...! Because he knows that we are trying to make Chun Mukeum the new Crown Prince...!’

He couldn’t believe that Chun Yeowun had made such a decision in such a short moment. With this, Chun Mukeum now had lost all value for their purpose. Bu Churyong truly feared Chun Yeowun.

‘We have no choice...’

They had no way to raise any objections. Yeowun could have killed Chun Mukeum on the spot, so letting Mukeum live, even after cutting an arm, was still an act of mercy. Yeowun spoke to them coldly.

“Do you have a problem?”

They knew what Yeowun’s question meant. Ja Kinkeng quickly pressed on Chun Mukeum’s blood points to stop him from bleeding and held back his anger.

“...No, my prince. Thank you for your... mercy.”

Unlike Bu Churyong, Ja Kinkeng just saw his nephew getting his arm cut. But he held back his anger. Of course, if he didn't hold it back, then they had to fight against Chun Yeowun for their lives. The elders weren't fools.

“We have to tend to Prince Chun, so we'll be on our way now.”

Of course, they had different thoughts in their mind.

‘...We aren't finished yet, Crown Prince!’

Two elders bowed to Chun Yeowun and Mun Yun and took Chun Mukeum out of the mansion. After they left, Yeowun apologized to Mun Yun on shedding blood at the home of the Demon Dragon clan and gave the orange tag as a gift.

“I hope this serves you for your purpose.”

“Oh!”

Mun Yun became so thankful for the tag. He so badly wanted to heal his grandson. Mun Yun got down on his knee and bowed.

“Thank you Crown Prince for such a precious gift!”

“No, please. We haven't even met the Godly Doctor yet. You don't need to thank me.”

“You are a like lifesaver to our Demon Dragon clan. How can I not be thankful?”

“Please, stand.”

Yeowun smiled and offered Mun Yun to get up. Yeowun became soft and hospitable, very different from cold hearted state he showed while cutting down Mukeum's arm.

'He is such a great man!'

Mun Yun was touched by Yeowun's action. Mun Yun already knew why Yeowun had visited the Demon Dragon clan.

'You are better in choosing a person than me.'

Mun Yun then looked at Mun Ku with warm eyes. He was ashamed that he was once tempted for a chance to heal his grandson. He wanted to applaud Mun Ku who had found a great husband. And with his only concern being solved, Mun Yun thought it was right to give equal value back for payment. Mun Yun then bowed again and shouted, "I, 8th Elder Mun Yun swear an oath that I and the Demon Dragon Clan will serve Crown Prince until the end!"

"Gramps..."

Mun Ku brightened up. She was glad that her grandfather had decided to side with Chun Yeowun. Yeowun also bowed.

"I wanted to ask you for the same. Thank you."

Yeowun accepted Mun Yun's offer wholeheartedly. And with this, Chun Yeowun had acquired a total of four elders for the allegiance. After everything was settled, everyone sat down on the gazebo to enjoy snacks and tea. The tea had become lukewarm but it still tasted good. Mun Yun then asked Chun Yeowun, "Hmph, so, when will you marry my granddaughter?"

"Pfffffft!"

Chun Yeowun sprayed the tea that he had been drinking. It was Hu Bong who had been drenched in the tea this time.

“G-gramps!”

Mun Ku blushed and became frantic. They had forgotten what they said, but Mun Yun did not forget what his granddaughter had said. Mun Yun thought these two were just being embarrassed and spoke satisfyingly.

“Haha, well. It is fast, but since you two have spent the night together already... isn't it better to choose a date?”

“OH! A-Are you getting married, Master? Congratulations!”

Hu Bong congratulated Yeowun as he wiped the tea off of his face. Bakgi also awkwardly congratulated Yeowun. Chun Yeowun and Mun Ku looked at each other and sighed.

‘How should we explain this?’

It took them quite a long time to explain that everything was just a façade. Mun Yun seemed disappointed after he found out the truth, but he wasn't too disappointed.

‘Looking at the Crown Prince or Ku's reaction, they are interested in each other. Haha.’

His old age proved that he didn't need to rush things. Mun Yun then decided to change the topic and let his servants to have Mun Yu to come over.

“What about your grandson?”

“Well, I have been helped, so I can't hide the secret any longer.”

Mun Yun then explained the reason for needing the Godly Doctor. It was the story of Mun Ku's twin brother suffering suffocation in birth and being mentally ill. Chun Yeowun knew this as he was told by Mun Ku long time ago, but he pretended he didn't know and listened.

"I tried all things to heal my grandson, but nothing worked. Then, we now have hope. I thank you again for this, Crown Prince."

And when Mun Yun was finished, Mun Yu came over with the other servants. Hu Bong and Bakgi became surprised.

'Ah!'

Mun Yu looked just like Mun Ku with the skin mask. The only difference was that Mun Yu was more grown and had his mouth opened half way while his two eyes were looking at different places.

"G...gran...pa... heh..."

Mun Yu drooled with his half-open mouth. But he seemed to understand who Mun Yu was.

"Yu, have you been well?"

“S...sis...!”

Mun Yu walked over to Mun Ku and brought his head over to Mun Ku. Ku smoothly touched her brother's head.

“Yu, say hello to the Crown Prince. He's helped us greatly.”

Mun Yu then looked up at Mun Yun's words and looked toward Yeowun. His eyes were out of focus, but one of the eyes looked at Chun Yeowun.

“He... H... Hellooo....”

He greeted Yeowun with an innocent look. After looking at this, Yeowun understood why Mun Yun was tempted to side with Bu Churyong.

‘I see why he thinks the Godly Doctor is the only hope.’

Yeowun looked at Mun Yu with a sad look for awhile and asked Nano, ‘Nano, is there a way to heal Mun Yu?’

[It requires analyzation of the symptoms to check the possibility.]

‘I heard he became sick from suffocation during birth. Can you check?’

[Checking through data...]

Nano's data contained a vast amount of medical information. Nano quickly went through multiple datasets and spoke.

[Found a total of 24,201,023 similar cases and studies similar to patient's symptoms.]

'That much?'

It was obvious as Nano's data contained hundreds of years worth of information stored within it.

[For better analysis, please place your hand over the patient's head.]

Yeowun then saw augmented reality being engaged over his sight. White lights drew lines over Mun Yu's head, asking him to place his hand over the head. Yeowun then looked at Mun Yun and asked, "Elder Mun, can I take a look at your grandson for a moment?"

Mun Yun became confused at the sudden request but nodded. He just figured Yeowun wanted to take a closer look at Mun Yu's state.

"Of course."

"Thank you."

Yeowun then placed both his hands over Mun Yu's head, as directed with the augmented reality.

"Ah...uh... what... is... it?"

Mun Yu looked up to Yeowun with a curious expression as Yeowun grabbed his head.

[Scanning with magnetic resonance imaging technique on the target entity.]

A faint red light then began from the end of his finger tip down to his palm.

“Huh?”

“What’s with that light!?”

Everyone became shocked by the weird phenomenon. It wasn’t just a normal scan, but Nano Machine was creating a magnetic field over the palm to receive cell signals back from skin and analyze it. Yeowun then was shown the MRI image of what he just scanned. It showed brain and veins running through Mun Yu’s head.

‘Ah!’

Yeowun was surprised at the unending abilities that Nano had. As the image began to play, white light and red lines began to form.

[The red dotted areas show blockage in blood circulation. Based on the studies, suffocation during birth caused the brain to stop functioning, and destroyed the brain cells which resulted in underdevelopment of mental health.]

‘Can you fix it?’

[It requires the removing of dead cells at the points where blood can not circulate, and after recirculating the blood, it will require an electrical energy shock to form new brain cells that will replace the old. It will require a bit of time, but it is possible.]

‘Ah!’

It meant that Nano could heal him.

[Will you proceed with electric shock therapy?]

‘Yeah.’

[Please place your hand on the red dotted area.]

With Nano's voice, Yeowun saw a red dot flashing over Mun Yu's head. Yeowun then placed his fingers on the point.

"Crown Prince?"

Mun Yun became worried at Yeowun's weird action. Many doctors came to visit Mun Yu, but Mun Yun never saw anyone touching Mun Yu's head. Yeowun then warned to Mun Yu, "This might hurt a little."

"Huhhhahhh?"

Mun Yu couldn't understand. That's when a light flashed from Yeowun's finger and electrical energy shot through Mun Yu's head.

"Kyaaaagaaaaaahaaaaa!"

Mun Yu screamed weirdly and began to tremble. Soon, his eyes, nose and mouth bled, oozing with black blood.

"What?!"

Everyone became shocked.

"C-Crown Prince! What is the meaning of this!"

Mun Yun quickly got up and shouted. It seemed like his grandson was going die even before meeting the Godly Doctor.

"Gyaaaakaaaaa!"

"Crown Prince!"

Yeowun did not stop even when Mun Yun shouted so Mun Yun ran over and tried to pull Yeowun away. But Yin Moha stopped him.

“Move out of the way!”

“You must trust the Crown Prince.”

“H-he’s going to die! I can’t just... YU!”

That’s when Yeowun took off his finger and Mun Yu fell to the ground. His nose and mouth that were bleeding black blood now had steam coming out from them.

“MOVE!”

Mun Yun pushed Yin Moha out of the way and took up Mun Yu. He wasn’t in a good state to begin with, but now he looked numb and without any energy.

“YU! YU!!!!”

Mun Yun grabbed Mun Yu’s arms and shook him madly. But Mun Yu did not respond or react. Mun Yun became furious that Yeowun just messed up Mun Yu to point where he could not be healed and got up and glared.

“Crown Prince! What did you just... Huh?”

That’s when Mun Yu grabbed Mun Yun’s hand.

“Hurts.... My head... it hurts...”

“Y-YU! Are you okay?”

Mun Yun then looked back down to Mun Yu. But Mun Yun became shocked and couldn't close his mouth.

"W-what in the world..."

There wasn't a big change. But Mun Yu's two eyes that always focused on two different things was now looking up to Mun Yun like a normal person.

"Oh my god..."

Mun Ku was also so shocked that she covered her mouth with her hands and was teary. This was a sign that Mun Yu was healing.

Chapter 220 - Anonymous (1)

Chapter 220: Anonymous (1)

Mun Yu still had his half-open mouth and drooling with a strange smile on his face. Hu Bong and Bakgi couldn't find much difference, but families who had spent a long time easily found out the difference. This slight difference was enough to make 8th Elder Mun Yun burst in tears.

"My head... hurts... it hurts..."

"Yu!"

Mun Yun hugged Mun Yu hard and cried. Mun Yun, after losing his child in an incident, had deep love toward his grandchildren, who were the last of his family members.

Mun Ku also shed tears with joy with her reddened eyes.

'Master's power is limitless...!'

Hu Bong then turned to Yeowun with an astonished look. Bakgi shared the same feeling. He knew that Yeowun was knowledgeable in poison and medications as he once knew Bakgi was poisoned, but Bakgi didn't think it was this much.

'He's like a god himself.'

Bakgi was so astounded that he even thought maybe Chun Yeowun was a real person who could communicate with god. And the shock and excitement from Yeowun's miracle lasted quite a long time.

It was after two hours when Yeowun and his group left the mansion of the Demon Dragon clan. Their number was four when they went in, but now they were five, with Mun Ku's twin brother Mun Yu added to the group. In Yeowun's hand, he held the orange tag for them to meet the Godly Doctor.

'If you can heal my grandson, then I don't need this tag. You can keep it to yourself and use it for your own benefit.'

Mun Yun decided to have Mun Yu stay at the mansion of the Ghost Illusion clan for a while. Mun Yun and Huan Yi were close friends and Mun Yu required regular treatment from Yeowun, so it was decided.

'Please take care of my grandchildren.'

Yeowun and his members then took Mun Yu back to the mansion of the Ghost Illusion clan. It was near dinner time. The sun had already gone down as it was late winter. When they returned, someone was waiting with Huan Yi.

"Huh?"

It was a stubborn-looking middle-aged woman, a woman with face of Yin Moha before she went through body reconstruction. She was the agent of the Ghost Illusion clan who was faking to be Yin Moha while she was gone. Huan Yi found Yeowun and his members and got down, and smiled when he found Mun Ku without her mask.

[My nephew finally got out of the mask! You are too pretty to hide your face. Just look at you... huhu!]

'Ugh, Uncle Huan!'

Mun Ku blushed at Huan Yi's teasing telepathic message. She had spent four years as a male, so she was embarrassed when someone else mentioned her as a girl. Huan Yi grinned from the reaction and walked up to Yeowun.

“Welcome, Crown Prince. Did everything go well?” Huan Yi asked and Yeowun nodded. Huan Yi figured things wouldn’t go bad as they had Mun Ku with them, so he wasn’t surprised.

“Congratulations. The Demon Dragon clan will be a great help to you.”

“I was just lucky with Mun Ku being with us. How did things go on your end?”

Yeowun then asked Huan Yi about his mission. Huan Yi then knelt down and apologized.

“I apologize, my prince. Elder Sama and I went over to the Illusive Dream clan, but we couldn’t see Elder Mong.”

“What?”

“There were guests there already.”

Yeowun frowned and asked just in case.

“Was it... the Sword or Lust clan?”

“Oh? How did you know?”

Huan Yi asked back with a surprised look. As expected, the Sword and Lust clan leaders had visited the mansion of the Illusive Ghost clan already. Huan Yi and Sama Yi offered to wait to meet Mong Oh, but they soon were asked to leave without getting a chance to meet him.

‘I see.’

Just like Yeowun was acting to take neutral elders on his side, the other four clans were doing the same. This was obvious. If Elder Mong had refused to see Sama Yi and Huan

Yi, then it meant he already decided to side with the four clans.

“I apologize, my prince.”

“No, they were just quicker. And why is she here?”

“Oh.”

Yeowun then asked about the agent with Yin Moha’s mask. Huan Yi answered, “I was going to tell you about it now. It hasn’t been long since she came. Elder Yin.”

“Huh?”

Yin Moha became curious as Huan Yi called to her. She was also curious about why her copy that should be acting as Yin Moha was at the Ghost Illusion clan’s mansion.

“Greetings, Crown Prince and Elder Yin. I am No. 24.”

The agent, who named herself as No. 24, bowed. Yeowun nodded and the agent explained why she came here.

“Elder Yin. There’s been an intruder in your mansion.”

“Intruder? ...Is it from the Sword clan again?”

“No.”

Unlike Yin Moha’s expectation, the intruder wasn’t from the Sword clan. No. 24 then explained what happened about an hour ago. As a trained agent, No. 24 knew all Yin Moha’s behavior, so she was pretending to be reading a book at the mansion’s office.

“I was reading a book at the office when I heard a telepathic message.”

[Yin Moha.]

No. 24 became surprised and came out of the office, but there was no one to be seen. No. 24 tried to look around when she heard another message.

[Act normally. Don't try to find me.]

‘Ah.’

No. 24 then realized this mysterious man was very powerful. No. 24 then returned to her seat and pretended to continue reading the book and she heard another message.

[Situation changed. We will shorten the date to 10 days earlier.]

That was it. There were no more messages that came after the sudden notice. No. 24 then came out after waiting for 10 minutes and searched for a trace of the man, but nothing was found.

“It wasn't something I could deal with alone, so I came here to let you know.”

And when she finished, Yeowun looked at Yin Moha with a serious look. Yin Moha also nodded slowly at Yeowun. Both of them realized who was the man who sent the message.

“Anonymous...”

She was certain that the man was Anonymous. It was the mysterious warrior that taught Yin Moha and the other two elders of the first formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword.

“Ah!”

Yin Moha then frowned at what she had heard. It was only five days ago when she explained Anonymous to Yeowun. She said she had 2 weeks to meet Anonymous.

Speaking about 10 days, then the day was today. Yin Moha became confused as Anonymous never changed the date prior to this.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“I am not sure why he changed the date.”

She spoke and Yeowun smiled.

“Maybe something happened to him. Good.”

Yeowun wanted so badly to meet the Anonymous who knew the Twenty Four Demon Sword and the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. Although it was unexpected that the day would come this soon.

Chapter 221 - Anonymous (2)

Chapter 221: Anonymous (2)

At midnight, toward the Five Wise Peak, Southwestern side of the Demonic Cult's castle. This peak was the third highest peak in all peaks of the Mountain of Ten Thousand. There was one who was shooting through the peaks in a very quick manner. In just twenty minutes, the man got up to the high peak. As he stepped on the peak, the moonlight shined upon many peaks down. It was a vast and majestic sight.

"Whew."

Cold air brought steam over the breaths. The one who just got up on the peak was Yin Moha. She had covered her face with her old skin mask to hide that she had gone through body reconstruction.

"Elder Yin."

She then heard a voice. It was the leader of the Sword clan, Kingbonki, with a short beard and aggressive eyes. He was sitting down on a rock, but got up and walked over to Yin Moha.

"I thought three of us would gather again, but there are only two of us now."

"Bah."

Yin Moha scoffed at Kingbonki. Kingbonki knew that Yin Moha hated the Blade or Wise clan because of their history, so he didn't say much.

"But since you are here, you have made an achievement in your formation."

“I don’t exchange words with scumbags that betrayed him.”

“Hah. Same old Yin Moha.”

Kingbonki then shook his head. Yin Moha never tried to talk with him or Mu Jinwon every time they gathered at this place. She always glared with a disgusted look.

‘Nothing will change no matter what you do. From today, our Sword clan will be the true successor to the Demon Sword.’

The Sword clan, although cast out, wanted to become the true successor of the Demon Sword. And with Mu Jinwon, the strongest warrior besides the Lord and Great Guardian, gone, Kingbonki believed victory was his. And there was one thing he knew when he met Anonymous last time.

‘If I’m right, he is probably... oh. It’s almost time.’

With the moon coming up in the sky, it was almost time. The man always came on right time, so it was about time he arrive. It was then.

Someone appeared at the peak. The man quickly came up to them with black clothes and a mask. It was Anonymous.

“You are on time.”

It was the same voice. From his reaction, it was sure that he wasn’t surprised to find only two of them here without Mu Jinwon. It was natural for such a man to know about Mu Jinwon’s death.

‘Who is this man, really?’

Yin Moha looked at Anonymous. She had not reached the end stage of superior master level, but she still couldn't sense how powerful this Anonymous was. This only seemed possible if the man was stronger than the end stage of the superior master level.

"I thank you for coming here, even when I changed the date. Then let's get to the point. Who among you will..."

That's when Kingbonki got down on his knee.

"...What is this?"

Anonymous became confused at Kingbonki who was kneeling down on his knee. Yin Moha also became confused.

'What is he doing?'

Kingbonki then bowed politely and shouted, "2nd Elder, and the leader of Sword clan, greets the Great High Lord!"

"What?"

Yin Moha's eyes grew large and turned to Anonymous. She figured Anonymous was related to the Cult in some way, but she had never thought that the man was Great High Lord, the one who had passed the sixth test of the Academy 70 years ago.

'That sword skill... it must be him.'

Kingbonki remembered the powerful sword formation that Anonymous showed. As soon as they saw it, Kingbonki and Mu Jinwon were shocked. Two of them had fought with Chun Yujong in many battles, so they knew the Sword Art of the Sky Demon, and the sword formation used by Anonymous was very similar to it. They at first were confused if the Lord was testing them, but they quickly concluded that it was not possible as the current Lord was acting against the six clans. Kingbonki thought for a long time after he returned to his home and came to a conclusion.

‘Who else other than the Lord knows about the Sword Art of the Sky Demon? Then...!’

His conclusion was Chun Inji, the Great High Lord. He had gone missing about 20 years ago, so it seemed that was the only logical answer.

‘If this man can enter the cult that easily, and also know the secret of our clans, then it must be Great High Lord.’

Kingbonki was certain that Anonymous was the former Lord and paid respects accordingly. There was the possibility that he could be wrong, but if he was right, he needed to show proper respect. Anonymous then looked down at Kingbonki for a while and spoke.

“Kingbonki. You have made a mis...”

That’s when Anonymous sudden stopped and glared at Yin Moha and Kingbonki and asked, “Who is it?”

The voice turned aggressive.

“What are you talking about?”

“You have not kept the promise.”

“Huh? N-no. I don’t understand...”

“Hmph.”

Anonymous then created sword qi over his finger and threw it toward the back.

“What are you... huh?!”

Kingbonki became shocked and looked up. From the opposite side, through grass that was cut off, someone came out from it. Kingbonki was shocked. He couldn't understand why he was seeing this person here.

“Crown... Prince!!”

It was Chun Yeowun.

Chapter 222 - Anonymous (3)

Chapter 222: Anonymous (3)

About an hour ago, there was someone who arrived at Five Wise Peak. It was Chun Yeowun. After finding out that the day had changed to today, Yeowun talked with Yin Moha and decided to stay at Five Wise Peak first.

‘I will go with you.’

Huan Yi said he’d go together as it was dangerous, but Yeowun knew that Anonymous was stronger than the three elders, so he refused. If Anonymous was that strong, then he might find out that there were people hiding and not reveal himself. Yeowun then found a good place to hide. There was a dense bush area at the peak, and he hid within it to wait for Anonymous to appear.

‘Second elder.’

The first one that got to the peak was Kingbonki. He too was a superior master level warrior, but he was weaker than Yeowun so he couldn’t find Yeowun. Even after a long time, Kingbonki did not sense Yeowun in his hiding. Soon, Yin Moha also got to the peak and finally, the man that Yeowun was waiting for had revealed himself. It was the black-clothed man.

‘Ah.’

Yeowun became astonished. He knew that this man was powerful, but he was astonished by the way Anonymous had hidden his powers. It proved that the man was either equal or stronger than Yeowun in power. He became curious.

‘I should take a look.’

Yeowun then thought Anonymous would show the first formatin of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon to test the two elders, so he thought he would watch that first. That's when something unexpected happened. Anonymous suddenly turned and threw sword qi in his direction.

'He found me!'

Yeowun then took steps to dodge the attack. But with his location revealed, there was no way to hide.

"Crown Prince!"

Kingbonki frowned when Yeowun appeared. It was a secret between the three elders. If Chun Yeowun was here, then the culprit was only one. Kingbonki turned to Yin Moha with a glare.

"Elder Yin! It 's you!"

Yin Moha already showed to everyone that she sided with Yeowun. She was the only possible reason for Chun Yeowun coming here.

"Bah. Yes, it's me."

"Why did you bring Crown Prince here?! Are you out of your mind?"

Kingbonki became furious and shouted. He had waited this moment when he was going to succeed the Twenty Four Demon Sword skill of the Sword Demon and it was now gone.

"Hah, so you were that desperate?"

Yin Moha pulled out her sword. She wished to find the true Sword Family in this place, so she didn't hesitate to fight.

"Ugh! You are out of control!"

Kingbonki wanted to cut her down right now, but this wasn't the time. Kingbonki knelt on both knees and spoke to Anonymous.

"Great High Lord! This isn't my doing! I have kept your promise! Please allow me to succeed the Sword Demon's..."

But his desperate begging did not work on Anonymous.

"It's too late. You people do not have the right to succeed the Twenty Four Demon Sword."

"N-no! Wi-wait!"

Kingbonki shouted desperately but Anonymous took steps to get out of the place.

"G-Great High Lord!"

Kingbonki tried to follow after Anonymous but Yin Moha got in his way.

"Who told you to go?"

"Y...YOU!!!!"

Kingbonki was hot-tempered, but he was trying to hold back so Anonymous could teach him. But with that chance disappearing, his aggressive nature exploded out at once. He pulled out his sword and struck down on Yin Moha.

"Hah!"

Yin Moha then easily used her True Demon Sword to defend it. Kingbonki became shocked, as he thought he was stronger than her.

‘What? Since when was she this strong?’

He thought that no one other than the Mu Jinwon or Marakim was stronger than him. But he was shocked each time he felt the energy coming from Yin Moha’s sword. He even thought he might lose if he didn’t do his best.

‘Dammit!’

And Anonymous, who was running down the peak, was already at the middle of the mountain. His stepping skill was so quick that he ran like the wind.

‘It’s a shame.’

He was ashamed that he couldn’t teach the Twenty Four Demon Sword. The reason he pulled the date early was to teach the Twenty Four Demon Sword, but it now had failed.

‘Well, there are others who learned it so it wouldn’t matter.’

He hoped ones that had connection with the Sword Demon from the past would learn it, but he was given no choice.

‘I will have him lose my tail and return.’

He saw Chun Yeowun was following him when he first left the peak. He knew he could lose him, so Anonymous pulled up his internal energy to speed up. It was then.

“Aaaaaaaaah!”

He heard screaming coming into his ears and looked up. That’s when Chun Yeowun dropped from the air and struck down with the White Dragon Blade.

‘What?’

Anonymous quickly pulled out his sword and blocked the White Dragon Blade. As two swords struck against each other, the weight and power pushed Anonymous’s foot into the ground. It was as if he was pushed down by a thousand tons.

‘No!’

Anonymous, who only used half of his energy, thought he had to use more and pulled up 90% of his energy. He was then able to push up against Yeowun’s White Dragon Blade.

“Ugh!”

Yeowun was thrown away into the wood and struck on it. The wood was broken down from the energy. Yeowun panted with his pale face. It seemed he had pulled up too much of his energy.

‘I shouldn’t do this anymore.’

Yeowun shook his head.

[Initiating self-healing mode on the destroyed muscle structure and fractured bones.]

Nano’s voice came through his head and the pain quickly eased. Anonymous then pulled out his fist from the ground and spoke with dumbfounded look.

“Did you jump out from above?”

Yeowun did not answer, as it was correct. Yeowun had used his stepping skill, but Anonymous was too quick so he couldn't catch up to him. So Yeowun ordered Nano to activate nightvision mode and use augmented reality to calculate the destination and angle on how he needed to jump, and jumped off the peak.

'I almost died.'

Yeowun thought he might die for the first time in his life. But thanks to his gamble, he was able to catch up to Anonymous at once.

'How did he guess where I was running to and jumped down on me from that height?'

Anonymous looked at Yeowun with disbelief. The height was enough that would scare any warriors from jumping off. It was too high and that could have killed him instantly.

'He's like a monster. But nothing changes.'

Anonymous thought he could use stepping skill to run away, but his legs began to tremble.

'No..'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He had blocked the power of blade striking down on him, and it seemed he couldn't defend well against it. He was able to defend against having his bones from breaking, but his muscles seemed to have ripped.

"Whew."

But Yeowun was quickly healed by Nano. He got up and looked at Anonymous and spoke.

“It’s time to find out who you are now.”

Chapter 223 - Anonymous (4)

Chapter 223: Anonymous (4)

“You risked your life just for that...? Very interesting.”

Anonymous aimed his sword at Yeowun.

“But it doesn’t change anything.”

If Anonymous couldn’t run, then there was only one way. It was to overpower Yeowun as fast as possible. If Yeowun had taken such damage by dropping and thrown into a big wood that caused even the wood to fall back, then it wouldn’t take too long to get him down.

“You don’t need to fight to know sometimes.”

Anonymous then charged out against Yeowun.

‘Huh?’

The sword formation used by Anonymous was the Twenty Four Demon Sword. It was a completely different sword formation from what Yin Moha recreated. The power of the formation was more than what Yeowun had imagined.

“Hmph!”

Yeowun let out a breath and grabbed on the White Dragon Blade. The sword formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword used by Anonymous wasn’t something that Yeowun could fight against with the Butterfly Blade Dance.

‘I will do my best from the start!’

Yeowun then unleashed the second formation of the Blade God. Anonymous was surprised.

‘Blade skill of the Blade God!’

He knew what Yeowun’s blade skill was. The Twenty Four Demon Sword collided with the Blade God’s blade formation. With two powerful formations colliding against each other, the mountain was filled with sounds of metal clashing. Yeowun didn’t look great as he struck his blade against the sword. The energy of Anonymous was much deeper than Yeowun thought. The energy kept on giving pain to his organs each time the blade struck against the sword.

[Detected damaged organs from the outside energy sword being sent in through the blade. Initiating emergency self-healing mode.]

If Nano didn’t help, the fight would have come to an end already. But the formation wasn’t all that lacking. The Twenty Four Demon Sword was weaker than the blade skill of Blade God.

‘He has lower energy for sure.’

Anonymous tried to counter the Blade God’s blade skill by using powerful energy, but Yeowun endured it through and came in from weird angles that made it hard to counter.

‘It sure is the skill of the Blade God. Then!’

Anonymous then took steps to get away from the blade skills. And when he got back, Yeowun thought he had to strike him down now and unleashed the third formation. Powerful blade attacks continued on smoothly to strike Anonymous. That’s when Anonymous got away more quickly and let go of the sword from his hand. Yeowun’s eyes shook.

“Huh?”

And from that distance, Anonymous moved his hand over at the air, and the sword moved itself in the air to unleash the sword formation.

‘Air Sword!’

This was a technique called Air Sword where the warrior uses his energy to control the sword without touching it. It was only possible for ones that entered the supreme master level. And what was more surprising was the sword skill that was used by the technique.

‘Sword Force of the Sky Demon!’

It was the second formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. It didn’t have the correct energy coordination so its power was weakened, but it was surely the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. But with the sword moving freely with itself, it was still very powerful like its original power.

‘I didn’t for him to use the Sword Force of the Sky Demon like this.’

Even when Yeowun’s blade moved from weird angles, Anonymous wasn’t grabbing his sword by himself so he was able to counter the blade formation. The White Dragon Blade was thrown out from Yeowun’s hand and Anonymous charged into grab the sword and struck on Yeowun’s shoulder.

“UGH!”

Yeowun was then pushed back eight steps. Yeowun grabbed his bleeding shoulder and glared at Anonymous.

‘He’s strong... to think such a powerful warrior was hiding inside the cult. Is he really the Great High Lord?’

It was hard to explain his identity if he wasn’t.

“Hah... hah..”

Anonymous began to pant. His face was hidden, but his hands had veins popping up, showing that he had used much of his energy. But warriors with supreme master level had ways to regenerate their energy through breathing very quickly.

“Hoo... Hoo...”

White steam came out of his mouth and his breath calmed. Anonymous aimed his sword at Yeowun and spoke.

“You’ve seen the difference in power already. You are no match against me. Don’t follow me anymore.”

Yeowun did not seem to care about Anonymous’ warning. Anonymous shook his head.

‘He won’t give up.’

Yeowun must have realized that Anonymous was already at a stage higher in power, but Yeowun did not give up.

‘He leaves me no choice. I have to put him down.’

Unlike before, strong hostile energy was unleashed from his body. This was a warning. It was an act to show that he was going to come for Yeowun’s life this time.

“Take this!”

The sword from Anonymous then flew in as if it were alive toward Yeowun.

‘I will make you give up! You will not defend yourself against this formation!’

Anonymous then used the best sword formation he knew against Chun Yeowun. It was the fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. With Anonymous swinging his finger, the sword moved in a way to swing in the fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

“Whew...”

Yeowun then let out a deep breath and grabbed the White Dragon Blade and unleashed blade formation of the Blade God. Two formations struck against each other. The fourth Formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon was powerful. It wasn't perfect as it was missing the correct energy flow, but it still was enough to injure Yeowun's body.

‘It's the end!’

With half of the blade formation being countered, Yeowun was almost lost. Anonymous was certain that he was going to win.

‘What?!’

That's when the wristguard over on Yeowun's arms formed one black sword. Yeowun then grabbed the black sword with his left hand while his right hand was using the blade skill. Anonymous's two eyes became shocked.

‘I-is that?!’

“Haaaaaah!!!”

And with a shout, Yeowun took a step and his black sword on his left hand unleashed the powerful sword formation. It was the true fourth formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. With the blade skill from the Blade God on the right, and the Sword Force of the Sky Demon in the left hand, black and white swords moved across the air.

‘I-I can’t defend this!’

The power was overwhelming. Anonymous’s sword formation was countered easily and the sword shattered into pieces.

“UGH!”

With the energy being deflected back, Anonymous was thrown to the back. He would have dropped to the ground if there wasn’t a tree there. And when Anonymous tried to get up while withstanding the pain coming from his damaged organs, Chun Yeowun was already upon him and his two swords crossing on Anonymous’s neck.

Chapter 224 - Anonymous (5)

Chapter 224: Anonymous (5)

Anonymous was shocked to see the White Dragon Blade and the Sky Demon Sword aimed at his neck. The difference in power was obvious. The end stage of the superior master level and entry of the supreme master level was only one stage difference, but the difference was severe. From looking at the difference in power, it was certain that Yeowun had no chance of winning. But the attack Yeowun just made was enough to turn the tide upside down. What's more terrifying were that those skills that Yeowun used singlehandedly like the legendary sword skills in the entire Yulin. And he just used these two with both arms like Mu Jinwon used to do, so the power was enormous.

'He is a monster.'

Anonymous thought he had understood the enemy, but he hadn't. Anonymous asked Chun Yeowun, "...Are you going to kill me?"

"Not yet."

It meant that he could always kill Anonymous if he wanted to. Anonymous then looked at the black sword and asked, "That sword... is that the Sky Demon Sword?"

Yeowun's eye shook at the question. He expected Anonymous to be a person related to the Cult, but the man even knew the sword. It was likely that the man was a leader from within the cult. Yeowun then cut open the mask over the face with his Sky Demon Sword. The face was revealed under the mask.

"Huh?"

Yeowun frowned. Unlike his expectation of finding Great High Lord, or one from elders of the cult, it was someone that Yeowun did not recognize. Anonymous looked like a man in his 30s and had foreign features. What was interesting was his eyes, with his right eye that was blue. He even seemed like he wasn't from the land of Jianghu. But Yeowun was not interested in his foreign look.

"Who are you?"

Anonymous became surprised. It seemed Yeowun was only interested in what Anonymous was.

'Interesting. He doesn't care about my different looks.'

Anonymous became silent for a second and spoke.

"Crown Prince. I will not fight or run away, so please let go of me."

"T-this voice!"

Anonymous spoke with an entirely different voice. It seemed he had been faking his voice. But the new voice was one that Yeowun knew every well.

"Great Guardian?!"

It was Great Guardian Marakim. Yeowun was so shocked at the unexpected identity of Anonymous.

'It wasn't the Great High Lord...!'

Yeowun then hesitated for a bit but took back his White Dragon Blade and the Sky Demon Sword. By bringing back his ominous demonic energy, the black sword returned to the wristguard state. He had shown Sky Demon Sword twice to the Great Guardian now. Yeowun was confused. He was confused about how Marakim knew the Twenty Four Demon Sword and Sword Force of the Sky Demon, and even knew about the Sky Demon Sword.

“...Great Guardian, tell me everything you know.”

Yeowun asked seriously and Marakim smiled bitterly.

“I have something to tell you first...”

But before he could finish, a giant explosion rung through the entire mountain. Two of them looked up at the mountain peak. Evil and powerful energy spread from above. Yeowun became grim. It was the place where Yin Moha and Kingbonki were fighting. Marakim spoke to Yeowun.

“Crown Prince. We should climb up. I will go with you.”

Yeowun was concerned but couldn't move as he wasn't done with Marakim, so Yeowun nodded and quickly began climbing up the mountain. Marakim also ran up, but he couldn't move as quickly due to his internal damage.

At the peak, it was now very different. There were many craters and cracks beneath.

“Hah... Hah...”

Yin Moha was moving quickly through as she panted heavily. Her clean clothes were ripped and were drenched in blood, and Yin Moha was pale from exhaustion. That's when something dropped to where she was, and if she wasn't fast, she would have become like the hole that was made through. Dust clouds kicked up and something giant got up from within.

It was a being larger even than Ko Wanghur, who was the largest man within the cult, and his muscles were enlarged irregularly with veins popping up all over it that made his skin to look red. His reddened eyes also showed the demonic presence within. The beast-like man growled.

“Grrrrrr.... You are like a rat. How long do you think you can run?”

“Hah... Hah... Kingbonki!!”

This beast-like man was Kingbonki, the 2nd Elder. He was now a giant monster, who jumped against Yin Moha. Kingbonki was huge, but he was also very quick, enough to catch up to Yin Moha. But the accuracy wasn't up to par with his speed, so Yin Moha was barely able to run.

“Kaaaaaaaaa!”

“Kyaaaaaa!”

Kingbonki's giant fist struck down on her and threw her away. She used her energy barrier, but it seemed like her left wristbone was broken.

‘H-he's adapted to it.’

Kingbonki was getting used to his changed body. Yin Moha was able to dodge a few times, but she was struck down this time. She laid low on her broken left arm and used her sword as a stick to get up and glared.

“Krrrrrrrr... hahaha.”

“Hah.. hah... do you think you can be okay even through using Blood Reversion?!”

Kingbonki's change had come from the Blood Reversion Art. Kingbonki who lost to Yin Moha had to use Blood Reversion Art.

'Dammit!'

Kingbonki, who refused any connection to Blood Reversion Art, when his sub clan was revealed of using it, knew this forbidden art after all. And with Kingbonki, an established superior master level warrior using it, the power that grew was out of the limit of a mere human.

"Hahahahaha! Do you think this is like that incomplete trash?!"

"Incomplete?"

"My Great Art of the Blood God's Reversion is not something to be compared to that incomplete trash!"

Originally, blood reversion art used the user's energy flow to be destroyed and took away the user's conscious that became a problem. But Kingbonki, who had to lose his conscious a long time ago, didn't seem to lose his sanity.

"It's impossible!"

"Foolish woman! I have succeeded in removing all the side effects!"

Yin Moha became pale. If side effects from blood reversion art was removed, then the Sword clan was the most dangerous clan in the current Demonic Cult.

'No way. That's not possible.'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yin Moha shook her head. If what he said was true, then there was no way for the Sword clan to hide about the Blood Reversion art. There was still a problem remaining that they couldn't reveal it publicly yet.

"It's enough. I will kill you now!"

Kingbonki then charged against Yin Moha to finish her. It was so fast that he was already three steps away from Yin Moha.

"DIE!!!"

Chapter 225 - Anonymous (6)

Chapter 225: Anonymous (6)

“Not yet!”

Yin Moha unleashed blue force qi over her sword. She couldn't run away with stepping skill so she gathered up her last energy to attack.

“YOU DIE!”

She then thrust her sword into Kingbonki's chest. She was ready to give her life away if she failed. But her sword that wielded force qi shattered as if it was an egg that was crushed against a rock. Kingbonki's enlarged muscles acted like metal armor and crashed against the sword that was protected through force qi.

“H-how can this be...!”

“It's ticklish! Is this all you got?!” Kingbonki exclaimed. And as he got up, Yin Moha was shadowed from the death itself.

“Ah...”

She then slumped down. Kingbonki slowly raised his large hand and grinned.

“Die painfully... kakakaka!”

And with that, his fist struck down on Yin Moha's head. She closed her eyes at the fear of death.

‘...Huh?’

That's when she heard metal clashing and heavy panting right next to her. When she opened her eyes, she saw someone blocking Kingbonki's fist with a clear white blade. Yin Moha's eyes grew large.

"Crown Prince!"

It was Chun Yeowun. He was drenched in sweat, so it was easy to see how hard he tried in quickly trying to climb up the mountain.

'I... I'm not late.'

If he was late, then Yin Moha would have died to Kingbonki's fist. She became astounded for being saved. Kingbonki, however, became dumbfounded at Chun Yeowun who appeared.

"You're in my way again!"

Yeowun then spoke to him with cold eyes.

"In your way? How foolish."

"Arrogant as ever! You think you can deal with me?!"

Kingbonki began to unleash evil energy within him. It was very powerful.

'It's dangerous.'

"Get back."

"C-Crown Prince!"

Yeowun pushed Yin Moha to the back by using his energy. It wasn't an attack so Yin Moha was let down far to the back safely. Kingbonki's hand was covered with terrible force qi and came down upon Yeowun.

'No!'

But Yeowun quickly spun and created blade force qi over his White Dragon Blade. With force qi striking against itself, the clashing sound filled the area. Yeowun had used the formation from Butterfly Blade Dance, but he was thrown to the back with powerful energy.

'It's powerful!'

Kingbonki's power that grew exponentially was very powerful. It was enough to destroy Yeowun's force qi instantly and send him back. Yeowun was pushed ten steps. Sweat ran through his cheek. It felt like he was against a monster rather than a warrior.

'Is that blood reversion art?'

Kingbonki's enlarged state and veins popping up showed that it was blood reversion art. Yeowun had fought a criminal who used it, but that criminal was like a kid compared to Kingbonki. Kingbonki became arrogant when he saw Yeowun becoming tense and created force qi over his two hands.

"Krrrrr... it's good. I will kill you here and now."

Kingbonki then jumped to charge toward Yeowun with incredible speed. The martial arts he was using with his hand was the formation from the True Demon Sword.

'No!'

"Hahahaha! You cannot run from me!"

Yeowun tried to dodge it by using stepping skill, but the force qi was so large that he couldn't get away from its range. If he couldn't dodge, then he had to fight through it.

'It's too powerful. Then...'

Yeowun then changed the way he gripped the blade and unleashed the blade skill of the Blade God. A powerful blade skill unleashed itself against Kingbonki.

'His body is like metal.'

But the White Dragon Blade couldn't make any cuts on Kingbonki's body.

'I can't do it in my current state.'

Yeowun became pale. He had used a lot of internal energy from the fight against Marakim, so he couldn't use the blade skill of Blade God fully, as it required all of his energy.

'I can't cut him with this... huH!?'

That's when his hand that grabbed on the blade was thrown to the back.

"That's no use! You cannot harm me like that!"

"Ugh!"

"DIE!"

"Argh!"

Yeowun quickly blocked against the giant force qi swinging against him, and he was thrown away. He struck a few times on the ground as he thrown way into the back and soon struck into the ground, making a crater. A dust cloud kicked up and hid his movement.

“C-Crown Prince!”

Yin Moha screamed desperately. Marakim, who just got up to the peak, also became shocked.

‘No...’

Chun Yeowun had used much of his energy through fight against Marakim. But he thought Yeowun would not lose to almost anyone, so he was shocked to see what he saw on the peak.

‘Second Elder using blood reversion art?’

Marakim had never seen a superior master level warrior using blood reversion art. But what the elder turned into was that of a monster.

“You are nothing against me! Hahahahaha!”

Kingbonki laughed and rejoiced. From how his hand felt, he had injured himself significantly this time. If Yeowun wasn’t immortal, then there was no way for him to survive. Or he so thought.

That’s when Kingbonki heard strange sound within the dustcloud. He stopped laughing and looked at the dust cloud. That’s when he felt ominous energy within the dust cloud. As his senses had grown to that of a beast, he could clearly sense the terrifying dark energy that was coming out from it. It wasn’t energy that could be used by a dying man.

‘...What is this?’

It was then. Chun Yeowun shot out from the dust, and his hand was holding onto a black sword. Yeowun shouted, “Try to block this too!”

“Krrrrg! You were alive! Kaaaaah!”

Kingbonki roared and unleashed giant force qi over his both hands and charged against Yeowun. Yeowun’s black sword then wielded black force qi.

‘Black force qi?’

The black sword then created a trace of a movement divided into twenty-four movements combined into one. Kingbonki then brought up all of his energy and stormed against it.

‘W-what?!’

But the giant force qi that was swung to rip apart Yeowun was instantly countered.

‘N-no! I have to defend it!’

The black streak of light struck Kingbonki’s chest without giving him a chance to defend. Kingbonki focused all energy to defend the sharp energy coming into his chest, but the power of the last formation of Sword Force of the Sky Demon that focused all of its power into one point was beyond imagination.

“N-NOOOO! AAAAAAAAARGH!”

And Yeowun’s body shot past through Kingbonki screaming in pain and stopped ten steps past Kingbonki.

“A...argh... argh...”

Kingbonki knelt on his knees and looked down on his chest that had a large hole. His body that even force qi wouldn't cut down was penetrated.

"How... How can this... be...."

Kingbonki then dropped and didn't move.

"Hah... Hah..."

As Yeowun looked at the dead Kingbonki, he panted heavily. He had to use the best of his skills to defeat the monster as he had used a lot of energy while fighting against Great Guardian Marakim.

"Whew..."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He couldn't even fight anymore. It was then.

"Huh?"

Great Guardian Marakim got up to Yeowun and went down on his two knees, and placed his head on the ground and shouted.

"Great Guardian Marakim of the Great Demonic Cult is here to serve the current Sky Demon!"

Chapter 226 - Anonymous (7)

Chapter 226: Anonymous (7)

Yeowun became shocked at what Great Guardian Marakim just said to him. He couldn't understand why Marakim was addressing him as Chun Ma. Chun Ma was the name of the founding father of the Demonic Cult.

"Great Guardian. What are you talking about?"

"It is as I said, my lord. I am paying proper respect to the current Chun Ma."

Yeowun frowned as Marakim answered seriously. Yin Moha dragged herself over to them and turned to Great Guardian with a confused look.

"My prince. Is he Anonymous?"

"...He is the Great Guardian."

"What? He's Great Guardian Marakim?"

Yin Moha, who always had no expression, showed her surprise this time. The first surprise came from knowing that Anonymous was actually the Great Guardian, and the second surprise came from seeing Marakim's true face for the first time. Marakim's face did not look like he was from Jianghu.

'So it was the Great Guardian who gathered three elders until now...'

And Marakim, who was bowing down on the ground, looked up and spoke to Yin Moha.

“Elder Yin. You must pay respect to the current Chun Ma.”

“What? ...Current Chun Ma, you said?”

Yin Moha frowned. She then glanced over to the black sword that Yeowun was holding on. On the blade that shined in black under the bright moonlight, there was an engraving that said ‘Sky Demon Sword.’

“W-wait...”

“You have been to the Altar of Fathers, so you must know too.”

“Sky Demon Sword!!”

With Marakim’s serious words, Yin Moha quickly went down on the ground on her knees and put her heads down. Chun Yeowun became more confused when even Yin Moha did the same.

“Ugh... what are you people doing?”

“You are the true Chun Ma.”

“What do you mean?”

It was Yin Moha who answered instead.

“There is an altar that has monuments of former Lords and the last will of Founding Father at the north side of the Lord’s palace.”

Yeowun remembered he had heard of this. Once in every year, the Demonic Cult held a holy ceremony for deceased Lords. It was the day when Father Chun Ma had died in the past. And on the ceremony day, the entire castle went through the ritual of burning, where cultists spent half their day bowing down in remembrance. The members who took care of this ceremony was the Lord, Guardians, and Elders, so they were only ones who were allowed to enter the Altar of Fathers at that time of the year.

“Inside the altar, there is a monument that Father Chun Ma left with his own writing.”

Yin Moha saw the monument every time there was a ceremony. The writing was said to be written by Chun Ma himself, so Yin Moha looked very closely every time and remembered it very clearly.

“On that monument, it is said that one who acquires the true Sky Demon Sword will succeed the name of Chun Ma.”

Yin Moha found out that the Sky Demon Sword that the current Lord had was not the real Sky Demon Sword after seeing the monument herself.

“There is also a Sky Demon Order engraved in that monument.”

Sky Demon Order. It was the order left by Father Chun Ma. Everything about the Demonic Cult was determined by the Lord's order and Elder's meeting, but basic laws came from the Sky Demon Order. It was the direct order that no cultist can disobey, even if it was the Lord.

“But current Lord never succeeded Chun Ma's title.”

To the Demonic Cult, Father Chun Ma was a god himself. Even if the Lord was above all in the cult, he couldn't disobey the Sky Demon Order. This applied to the six clans also. It was because the Sky Demon Order was the fundamental that maintained the Demonic Cult as one.

“The sword that Lord carries right now is a replica. Every Elder know this.”

‘Ah...’

Yeowun looked down at his black sword. He was confused as to why the sword had an engraving that said Sky Demon Sword, but now the mystery was solved. Yeowun’s black sword was the true Sky Demon Sword after all.

“If the Lord knows his sword is fake or not, then he could have gone against the Sky Demon Order. And it’s also strange why elders are not raising objections.”

The Lord that Yeowun knew seemed like the person who was going to try to benefit from it. Even if the Sky Demon Order was true, the Lord wielding a fake Sky Demon Sword was enough to discredit his dignity. It wasn’t sure why this was kept on going even when Lord and all elders knew of this fact.

“As you said, we don’t know why the Lord is not trying to hide his sword being fake, but the reason why us Elders are not raising problems with this is because of what he heard from generations.”

“And what is that?”

It was rumored that the true Sky Demon Sword was robbed 500 years ago at the incident of the Blade God. This was shameful history so the Lord and Elders decided to deliberately hide this rumor. It was reasonable so Yeowun nodded. That’s when Marakim shook his head.

“Most of Elder Yin said is right, but there is something I need to correct.”

“?”

“The reason why the Lord does not mention the Sky Demon Sword is because of the Guardian of the Sky Demon Order.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Guardian of the Sky Demon Order?”

Yin Moha became confused. She wasn't all that informed about the details of the cult like other elders, but still, she had never heard of such title. Marakim continued, “Guardian of the Sky Demon Order always stood by the Sky Demon Order and assisted Lords throughout history. The job is to watch over the Lord so that he would not disobey the Sky Demon Order.”

The person who made the Sky Demon Order was Father Chun Ma. So to protect the order, Chun Ma had taught his own martial arts to the Guardians of the Sky Demon Order so that they could always be stronger than the Lord.

“I didn't expect such a powerful warrior was hidden within the cult...!”

Chapter 227 - Anonymous (8)

Chapter 227: Anonymous (8)

Yin Moha was surprised to find out the truth.

“Guardian of the Sky Demon Order always acted covertly under the Lord, so no other cultist knows of this.”

And the Great Guardian Marakim knew when no other cultists should have known.

“Wait... then you mean?”

Marakim nodded to Yeowun’s question.

“Yes. I am the Guardian of the Sky Demon. It is the secret title given to all of the Great Guardians in history.”

“Ah.”

Marakim then reached into his pocket and took out a blue pearl medal. On the front, it had the Great Guardian’s symbol engraved on it. But on the back, there was an engraving that said ‘Sky Demon Order.’

“S-Sky Demon Order!”

The seal and the order of Chun Ma itself were engraved on the Great Guardian’s medal. What’s interesting was that there was a line crossed across the Sky Demon Order engraving. It seemed like it had been made so that the seal could not be reused to fake it.

“This medal was made by Father Chun Ma himself.”

“Ah...”

With this, Marakim always had to guard the Sky Demon Order with his life. That's when Yeowun became curious. For the Lord, that kind of person to be watching over him might have been considered as a nuisance.

"Doesn't the Lord think the Great Guardian is a threat to him?"

"No, my lord. I cannot harm the Lord."

"...Do you think the Lord can trust that?"

As far as Yeowun knew, the current Lord was a very suspicious man. But Yeowun's question was immediately solved.

"Father Chun Ma placed restrictions on us. It is made through the special poisonous parasite."

Father Chun Ma had placed a special poisonous parasite inside the Great Guardian's family and it was sent down into generations. The parasite was created by Chun Ma and it was used to penetrate into every Great Guardian's internal energy. If in any way, a Great Guardian was to harm the Lord, then the poison will be activated, killing the Great Guardian.

"The Lord has taken in the reactants, so if I harm him, I will die."

"Ah..."

The recipe to create the reactants were only known to the Great Guardian family, so they crafted the reactants each time a new Lord was appointed and pledged allegiance. This was a secret only known to the Lord and Great Guardian. So this was why the Lord didn't think Great Guardian as a threat, but also couldn't outright disobey the Sky Demon Order.

"So, it had been hidden for generations..."

Yeowun spoke bitterly and Marakim continued, "Father Chun Ma had said that a Demon is sealed within the cult. And he foretold that one who bears the right will acquire the Sky Demon Sword."

It was the legend of the Demon Seal Cave. Hundreds of former princes tried on the cave, and none had found the Sky Demon Sword. And of course, there was none that learned the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

"We Guardians have waited so long to find the one to succeed Father Chun Ma's will."

And hundreds of years had passed. But even after a long period of time, no one succeeded the title of Chun Ma and the Guardian families almost gave up on this.

"But everything is now changed."

"Changed? What's changed?"

"You are now the true Chun Ma. We Guardians of the Sky Demon only serve Chun Ma as our master."

"Ah."

With Great Guardian Marakim's serious voice, Yin Moha shook with excitement. She knew what Marakim was talking about. What Marakim said was that he accepted Chun Yeowun as his master, not the current Lord Chun Yujong.

"Please bestow me the Qi of Sky Demon to me."

“Qi of Sky Demon?”

“Don’t you have the energy that you acquired from the Sky Demon Sword?”

“...Do you mean this?”

When Yeowun sent ominous demonic energy into his Sky Demon Sword, black light of force qi shot up from the sword.

“Ahh... I knew it!”

Seeing this in front of his eyes, Marakim was mesmerized. He was certain that it was the Qi of Sky Demon when he saw Yeowun using it to kill Kingbonki, and now it was confirmed.

“Is this the one?”

“Yes. Please bestow me the energy, so I can serve you as my master.”

“What do you mean?”

“The poison parasite is created by using the qi of the Sky Demon by Father Chun Ma.”

Marakim said that the parasite created was temporary as Father Chun Ma did not have a successor.

“Father Chun Ma left a will that said the parasite will recognize wielder of qi of Sky Demon as its master. Please take me in.”

Marakim wished for Yeowun to take control of the poison parasite’s control. Yeowun looked down at Marakim and placed his hand over at Marakim’s head and sent in the demonic energy into the head. And with the energy coming in through the head, Marakim allowed the energy flow into his body.

“Ugh!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

As the energy came into contact with the poison parasite, Marakim felt a pinching pain in his heart and internal energy, but it didn't last long. Soon, the energy was fully absorbed and Marakim's eye glowed with ominous dark energy.

Marakim then bowed his head to the ground again and shouted.

“Thank you for taking this humble servant! I, Great Guardian and Guardian of the Sky Demon Order, Marakim pledges an oath to the true Chun Ma!”

Yeowun smiled. The strongest warrior and the Great Guardian Marakim had now entered Yeowun's fold. Yeowun now wielded the power of the Guardians.

Chapter 228 - Walking into the trap (1)

Chapter 228: Walking into the trap (1)

“This is all great, but you have a explanations to make.”

And after Marakim’s pledging allegiance to Chun Yeowun, 10th Elder Yin Moha spoke to him. Yeowun also agreed. They had heard about secret of Sky Demon Sword, but they didn’t hear anything about why Marakim faked himself as Anonymous and tried to teach martial art of the Sky Demon to three clans. And why he knew the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

“Of course. I am sure I will need to explain.”

Marakim had no intention of hiding as he decided to serve Yeowun as his master from now on. Marakim began his story .

“25 years ago, The Great High Lord suddenly got down from his position of Lord.”

It was the highest peak of the Demonic Cult in the history, so everyone was confused by the decision. The Great High Lord was one of top five warrior of the Jianghu and he wasn’t injured or old.

“It was then Great High Lord was commanding expedition into Kangsoh Castle.”

After attempting few times on attacking Kangsoh Castle, the Great High Lord suddenly stepped down from his post and locked himself in a closed room to train. It was after five years that he came out from the room. Great High Lord had become so much powerful then he ever was.

“Elder Yin. Do you remember when Great High Lord had gone missing?”

“...Wasn’t it at fall?”

At the season of harvest, Great High Lord Chun Inji went missing. He didn’t say anything or leave any words so many cultists were dispatched to find him but he was no where to be seen.

“On the night before he went missing... I saw Great High Lord.”

“What? You saw him? Why didn’t you say anything then?”

As far as Yin Moha knew, Great Guardian Marakim had served under Great High Lord Chun Inji and Lord Chun Yujong both. But he said that he does not know where Chun Inji had went.

“He ordered me to stay silent, but he didn’t tell me where he was going anyway.”

On the night before, Chun Inji came over to Marakim’s room in secret.

“The Lord told me to keep it as a secret and gave me an order.”

“What order was it?”

“If he does not return in 10 years, then I should teach ones who have connection to the Sword Family of martial art of Sky Demon. And that I should not think about the will of the Sky Demon.”

“Ah... S-so that was the order of Great High Lord?”

Chun Inji, before he became the Lord, had once entered underground treasure vault after passing the sixth test. That’s why he knew the secret of the Sky Demon.

‘I see... so Guardians maintained the Demonic Academy so they knew.’

Guardians had access to libraries and underground treasure vaults. This was why Marakim, or Anonymous knew the True Demon Sword and the Twenty Four Demon Sword. But Sword Force of the Sky Demon was still a mystery.

“And what’s with Sword Force of the Sky Demon?”

“...That was taught by Great High Lord himself.”

“What?”

It was quite shocking to hear that Great High Lord had taught others that only successor of Chun Ma can learn. Of course, the martial art required specific energy flow so it wasn’t much of use without it, but it was still a shocking decision.

“Great High Lord said he had spent five years in closed room training to create the energy flow for the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.”

Great High Lord Chun Inji, a renowned genius, went into the closed room training and tried his best to create the energy flow that will work to use Sword Force of the Sky Demon. He ultimately failed, but he did have some progress.

“He couldn’t make the energy flow to completely digest all formations, but he created a flow that will allow use of Sword Force of the Sky Demon at least in incomplete state.”

Chun Inji then taught what he studied to Marakim and ordered him to complete it. Yeowun became curious and asked.

“Wasn’t it better for him to teach Sword Force of the Sky Demon to the Lord instead?”

“...Yes, I agree. I don’t understand why he did that... but I know that Great High Lord did not like the current Lord at the time.”

“What?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yin Moha nodded as she too seemed to know this.

“I heard. It was told miracle that Great High Lord even allowed to have current Lord become appointed as a Lord.”

Chun Inji was born from the Wise clan. As such, he wanted his successor to come from the Wise clan, but that did not work. After the Demonic Academy was over, Chun Yujong from Sword clan had killed almost every other princes. There were only two princes left when the academy was over.

“Remaining candidate was his own brother from same clan, but he even cut his brother’s right arm.”

Chapter 229 - Walking into the trap (2)

Chapter 229: Walking into the trap (2)

AT the time, Sword clan had two princes. One was Chun Yujong and another was Chun Yujing from different mother. Chun Yujong did not kill a brother from his same clan but had cut his arm off so that he will not have any competition. The evaluation of Chun Yujong came to be very aggressive and hostile.

“Everyone thought Great High Lord will make Chun Yuay from Loyal clan as the Crown Prince, but he suddenly made Chun Yujong as the Lord, so it was very surprising at the time.”

It seemed there was something more that went on at the background, but Great Guardian or Yin Moha did not know the details. Whatever the case, the Great High Lord taught Sword Force of the Sky Demon to Great Guardian, instead of the Lord. Marakim refused at first, but he had to listen to the order.

“The Lord told me that if he does not return in 10 years, then a great danger might come to the Demonic Cult.”

Marakim asked multiple times on what was going on, but Great High Lord did not answer. And next day, he was gone from the cult. Marakim took up the order and had kept it as a secret until today. And as Yeowun heard this, he realized that Marakim considered former Lord, Chun Inji as his master rather than Lord Chun Yujong.

“As I was ordered, I waited him for 10 years.”

He waited for Great High Lord's safe return. But Chun Inji never returned to the Demonic Cult. When he did not return, Marakim began to proceed with the order and learned martial arts of Sword Demon for two years and called elders of three clans and tried to teach time.

"Ah... so, that's why you made us gather at this peak."

"Yes. What happened next... is you two probably knows."

Yin Moha raised her eyebrows. However, the bitterness between three clans was very deep so Marakim couldn't teach the martial art to all three of them.

"I couldn't let those scumbags succeed the mighty Sword Demon."

Marakim then aimed on that bitterness. As a guardian, he had been chief of the Demonic Academy multiple times and was good at teaching, so Marakim offered them a condition where they can develop True Demon Sword to a better one. And on the other hand, he trained hard to create the energy flow for Sword Force of the Sky Demon but it wasn't easy.

"I had spent 8 years to create the energy flow for the Sword Force of the Sky Demon... but all I can do was to replicate it by using Air Sword technique."

Sword Force of the Sky Demon was a legendary sword skill that was created by legendary warrior Chun Ma with all of his understandings and findings. That was already enough achievement on what Marakim did. When Marakim finished, Yeowun was able to understand answer to all of his questions.

"So, everything was done by Great High Lord. Do you think he knew the existence of Blade God Six Martial clan?"

“I think so.”

Yeowun asked and Marakim nodded in agreeance. Until Blade God Six Martial clan appeared, Marakim wasn't sure what danger might come to the Demonic Cult. But after fighting against them, he was able to confirm that they were the danger that Chun Inji spoke. He also suspected that Blade God Six Martial clan might have connection with Chun Inji's disappearance.

“Ah.”

Yin Moha then suddenly came up with another question.

“Great Guardian. Why did you pull the promised date?”

Marakim then became serious and turned to Chun Yeowun instead and spoke.

“That is...”

At the same time at Lord's palace. It was time where all lights should have been gone off, but the Lord's office was still brightly lit. Inside, Chun Yujong was listening to someone reporting to him. It was a middle aged man with black cover on his left eye.

“We lost track of the Great Guardian after he went outside to the Western gate. We are still searching the area, but our palace guards' number aren't enough.”

There were hundreds of peaks outside the west of the Demonic Cult's castle. Just hundreds of warriors weren't enough to search through all those mountains.

“And about other two?”

"I have received message from the one who watch over Ghost Illusion clan, and Crown Prince have not returned yet. And it is same with Elder Yin Moha from Demonsread Sword clan."

Surprisingly, the man had been watching Yeowun and Yin Moha too. The Lord was becoming more uncomfortable when he heard neither Yeowun or Yin Moha returned. Someone then told the Lord.

"So, it came down to this again."

It was another middle aged man standing by the wall at the corner of the office. What's interesting was that he didn't seem to have right arm. The man walked slowly over to the Lord's desk and spoke as he shook his head.

"I told you, that he is not the card we can use anymore. Wasn't it your motto to consider a card as a card?"

"...What are you saying?"

"We should get rid of it before it becomes out of control."

Man spoke and the Lord's eyebrow raised. His face was full of frustration.

"I assure you, Kingbonki will not come back alive. You must know this if you have saw what he had been doing in the past."

"..."

"If you let him stay with six clans, it will only decrease our forces. He is a poison."

What he said was right. Chun Yujong tried to work it so that they can compete against each other in equal balance, but it was being broken. And the power was now growing to threaten Chun Yujong himself.

“He is no use as a card anymore. If you cut out the rotten area, everything else will heal.”

He meant that if Chun Yeowun was to get rid of, then his groups will dismantle. The Lord then became silent with his thoughts and spoke.

“It is time then.”

The one armed man spoke.

“Wise choice, my lord. So, what will you do?”

“Will take out his arms and legs first.”

The group had grown too powerful to take care of it directly. It was important to scatter the group.

“Pahin.”

“Yes, my Lord.”

The man with black cover on his eye answered.

“I order you as the Lord. Arrest Left Guardian Lee Hameng and Right Guardian Submeng and send them into prison right now.”

“Yes, my Lord!”

Chapter 230 - Walking into the trap (3)

Chapter 230: Walking into the trap (3)

It was next day morning when Yeowun returned to the castle of Demonic Cujlt. Yeowun was able to restore his internal energy quickly, but Marakim and Yin Moha acquired internal damage so they had to take some time meditating, and Yeowun had to protect them while they were going through meditation.

‘I will enter the castle from another gate.’

Marakim said they couldn’t enter the castle together as it will cause needless suspicion so he went to different gate. Yeowun then came to the western gate with Yin Moha without her mask. Yeowun did not go in and out of the castle gate much, but it seemed the guard was more tighter.

‘Something’s weird.’

Guards that stood guard on the castle gate always became surprised to see Yeowun’s medal, but they were different today. They seemed surprised but it was different.

‘Nano. Tap telepathic messages.’

Yeowun ordered and Nano immediately responded.

[Yes, master. Configuring different sound vibration to the user’s ear drum.]

Yeowun then began to hear the sound that he didn’t hear before.

[...is here. Send message to the Lord’s palace immediately.]

[Yes, sir.]

Yeowun passed through the gate with grim look. Yin Moha became curious and whispered.

“Is something wrong?”

“...Yes. We should return fast.”

“Yes, master.”

It wasn't sure since when, but the Lord's palace was watching over on everything Yeowun was doing. It seems it was the 'beginning' of what 'he' said. Yeowun and Yin Moha quickly ran to the mansion of Ghost Illusion clan.

And at the same time in the Lord's palace. Someone was being apprehended and was brought in by Palace guards. It was Great Guardian Marakim.

‘They werew waiting for me.’

Marakim became grim. When he returned to the palace, he was arrest right away by palace guards. He asked the reason, and guards said that Marakim was suspected of related with Kingbonki going missing.

‘No...’

Kingbonki was killed by Yeowun. The body was buried in different mountain so that it cannot be found by anyone else.

‘Is the Lord thinking I am the suspect?’

If that was it, then it was better. With Yeowun not revealed as true Chun Ma yet, there was a chance where the Lord will use this incident against Yeowun.

‘At least its fortunate that 2nd Elder went berserk by using Blood Reversion Art.’

If the Lord was thinking Marakim was the killer, than he could use it as his defense. And soon, he was at the Lord’s office.

“My Lord, we have the Great Guardian here.”

“Send him in.”

“Yes, my lord.”

The door opened and Chun Yujong was standing at front of his desk, and one armed man standing by the wall to the side of the room. The Lord asked Marakim.

“How was your trip overnight?”

If the Lord knew that Marakim wasn’t at the castle, then there was no need to hide. Marakim knelt down on his one knee and bowed.

“I am sorry to disturb you, my lord.”

“Let me cut to the chase. Kingbonki left the castle last night and he haven’t returned yet.”

“That’s...”

“I am not done.”

Marakim stopped speaking at the Lord’s solemn voice. He felt something was going weird, but he couldn’t object to the Lord right now.

“But I also heard that Crown Prince and Elder Yin Moha also disappeared from the castle last night.”

‘No...’

Great Guardian’s eye beyond his mask shook. He knew that the Lord was having watch on him already, but he didn’t think Chun Yujong was watching Chun Yeowun also. It seemed he had used his own Palace guards to do the job instead of using warriors from Guardians.

“From what the Crown Prince did in the past, I think something must have happened to the 2nd Elder. Do you agree?”

Marakim became grim. It seems the Lord’s target was not Marakim, but the Crown Prince.

“My Lord...”

“If Crown Prince lured 2nd Elder out of the castle to kill him, wouldn’t it be a murder made due to personal vengeance?”

‘So, this was what he wanted...’

Marakim bit on his lips under his mask. The Lord did not know what exactly happened outside the castle. But he was trying to blame Yeowun on killing Kingbonki, no matter what happened to Kingbonki, to pressure him.

‘This cannot be done. I cannot have Chun Ma to be blamed.’

He couldn’t let the Lord to get a reason. The Lord was going to make this as an issue to strike down on Chun Yeowun if given the chance. Marakim then placed his head down on the ground and spoke.

“My lord. That incident is irrelevant to the Crown Prince’s personal feelings.”

“And if not, what is it?”

Marakim then began to explain the death of 2nd elder Kingbonki. Of course, he had took out large chunk of part where Yeowun might become suspicious and only focused on Kingbonki using blood reversion art.

“...So, his body had become too large due to blood reversion art, so I was going to report to you to send people there to carry his body back here.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It was smooth excuse for a excuse that was made up on spot. The Lord didn't know why Kingbonki left the castle, so it was sure that he wouldn't find any suspicious point in the story. The Lord stood for a second in thought and spoke.

“Good. Then I will have palace guards to go with you. Go bring 2nd Elder's body back.”

“Yes, my lord.”

‘It worked!’

Chapter 231 - Walking into the trap (4)

Chapter 231: Walking into the trap (4)

Marakim was relieved. If he were to bring the body back, then it was going to be enough. But what's concerned was that he was being sent out by warriors from palace guards. This was probably due to the Lord not trusting guardians anymore. And when Marakim left, the one armed man walked over to the Lord.

"There we have it. Marakim also sides with him."

The Lord agreed as he nodded. He did sense in that regards, but he was able to confirm it when he saw what Marakim just did.

"And from what we can see, Marakim will not act according to our plan."

"No, he will have to."

Man became confused. The Lord then took out a key and opened the safe under his desk. Inside, there was a small wooden box that was warm. And when the Lord opened, there was a blood and small insect like thing squirming inside.

"What is that?"

"It is reactant."

"Reactant? Oh you mean..."

The Lord then grabbed it by his hand and swallowed it at once. The man scowled in disgust. It was reactant that the Great Guardian gave it to him 25 years ago when he pledged allegiance, but Chun Yujong didn't eat it then. He sent it to Demonic Doctor to analyze it instead and recently acquired what he wanted.

"He will have to listen to my orders."

The Lord's eye seemed to glow faintly in red.

And at the mansion of Ghost Illusion clan, there were ones that were talking seriously. These were Chun Yeowun, 10th Elder Yin Moha, 11th Elder Huan Yi and Hu Bong. But there were no other Yeowun's members.

"...So, Bakgi was sent to Vice leader of North Expedition team led by Loyal clan, Ko Wanghur was sent to the Armored Calvary of Sword clan to be vice leader there. It was direct order from the Lord so we had no choice to refuse."

As Huan Yi continued to report, Yeowun became more grim. The Lord's palace ordered early morning and took Bakgi, Ko Wanghur, Sama Chak and Mun Ku to different places. It was a official order of job assignment to Master ranked warriors of the cult.

"They are... all stationed under four clans then."

Problem was that they were now under four clans and were scattered all over the place. It was apparent that this move was to make Yeowun's members to be scattered all over the place.

"Whew, master at least I am safe from being sent away."

Hu Bong spoke as he sighed in relief. Interestingly, Hu Bong was only one who was not sent away.

‘...I think you were just ignored.’

Huan Yi thought, but he didn't speak it. It seemed the Lord's palace didn't consider Hu Bong and his low ranking clan as much of a threat. Huan Yi continued on his reports.

“It's not only two Guardians and clan leaders. Elder Sama Yi is sent to Honam Castle as a representative, Elder Mun Yun was sent to northeast of Kangsuh castle to form defensive line against Blade God Six Martial art.”

Sama Yi already left toward north few hours ago, and Mun Yun was now preparing with supplies so he can leave within the day. Everything was going to fast so it was even astounding.

“Then I guess I was ordered also.”

Huan Yi nodded at Yin Moha's comment.

“I suspect as well, as warriors from Lord's palace visited your mansion multiple times. But well, you are here.”

Huan Yi spoke. At least Yin Moha entered the castle without her mask as she had came back with Yeowun, so the Lord's palace thought that Yin Moha still had not returned.

“How can the Lord do this to us! This is outright attack on our group!”

Hu Bong shouted in anger with reddened face. With the Lord's order, Chun Yeowun had lost all of his arms and legs. Starting with Left and Right Guardian being imprisoned, even elders from highest clans were sent away outside the castle.

“At least Elder Huan is here with us like me.”

Hu Bong spoke and Huan Yi smiled bitterly and shook his head.

“Hmmm... there maybe different reason for that.”

‘The Lord can’t dare to let me set loose.’

The reason why Huan Yi was left here was because he was the leader of Covert Operations team. He was leader of all spies over entire Jianghu, so there was no way to send away Huan Yi.

“Anyway, I think we should do something before the Lord does something to remaining two elders.”

‘Oh?’

Huan Yi became impressed by Hu Bong’s idea, unlike his regular irrelevant one, and nodded. This was surely very weird that the Lord was moving this quck.

‘I just hope... they are not coming for the Crown Prince himself.’

That was the only concern that Huan Yi had. It was apparent that the Lord wanted to use Chun Yeowun as a piece on his chess game, when they saw the Lord helping the four clans. But if he was taking away Yeowun’s power like this, then it was proof that he had a different plan now. Even if Yeowun was powerful, he couldn’t take on everything alone.

‘But it’s strange. Why is he so calm?’

Huan Yi thought Yeowun would be frustrated or be angry from sudden move, but Yeowun, although bit frustrated, didn’t seem to mind as much. As if he expected something like this would happen.

“Crown Prince, what should we do now? Me and Elder Yin will have to take up the order if the order does come to us... huh?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Huan Yi frowned at middle of speaking. But it wasn't only him. Yeowun and Yin Moha was also looking out at the same direction. Only Hu Bong was confused and asked.

“W-what's going on? What's happening?”

“We're late.”

Huan Yi shook his head with grim look. Superior master level warriors could sense it through their sense. There were hundreds of warriors surrounding the entire mansion of Ghost Illusion clan.

Chapter 232 - Walking into the trap (5)

Chapter 232: Walking into the trap (5)

“Elder! Elder!”

A warrior standing guard on the gate quickly came running in. Huan Yi stood up from his seat at the guesthouse and asked.

“What is it?”

“T-There is a man calls himself Captain of Buju Sword along with the messenger from the Lord’s palace.”

“Buju... Sword?”

Huan Yi became surprised and Yeowun asked.

“...It is a covert ops group owned by Sword clan.”

These were hidden power of Sword clan. Three years ago, there were another group called Great Martial Sword, but they were revealed to have connection with criminals having learned of blood reversion act and created incident on the Demonic Academy, so they were disbanded. Important issue here was that they were from Sword clan.

“This is frustrating.”

Huan Yi didn’t think things would move this quickly. It wasn’t sure why, but if entire Buju Sword was moving, then it was sure that the purpose wasn’t all that well intended.

“Hah...”

“Master?”

Yeowun sighed and walked down to the yard and looked up at the sky. He was ready for it, but it was still too fast. He had never thought he will have to fight his father, rather than fighting six clans. All he had was bitterness for his father leaving Lady Hwa to her death.

‘...Is it fate?’

Yeowun seemed to be in deep thoughts so everyone stood silently and waited. Only one that was impatient was the guard. After long silence, Yeowun moaned and looked down and spoke to Huan Yi with determined look.

“The thing I asked you before. Is it ready?”

“Oh!”

Huan Yi’s eye glowed.

At same time, there were over 300 warriors from Buju Clans surrounding the mansion of Ghost Illusion clan. At the gate, there were man with mustache wearing brown armor, and a man with black cover over his eye that wore the robes of the Lord’s palace. The man with mustache was the leader of Buju sword, Jukem.

“Sir Pahin, they will come soon.”

The man with eyepatch, Pahin nodded. It has been a while since the guard went into the clan, so they were concerned if Ghost Illusion clan was readying to fight back, but they didn’t sense anything like that.

That's when the gate opened and four people appeared. It was Chun Yeowun, Hu Bong, Yin Moha and Huan Yi. But Yin Moha did not have her mask, so she acted as if she was a personal guard of Yeowun.

"Greetings, Crown Prince."

Jukem and Pahin both bowed at Yeowun. Yeowun also bowed reluctantly. They were bowing at each other, but certain cold air was upon them. Huan Yi first spoke to them.

"I am not sure why so many warriors are surrounding my mansion."

Pahin answered to Huan Yi's question.

"I am sorry, Elder Huan. Buju Sword is not here to threaten the Ghost Illusion clan."

He spoke, but the act itself was already a threat. Huan Yi looked unconvinced but Pahin ignored and turned to Chun Yeowun.

"There is a order made to the Crown Prince."

To the cultist of Demonic Cult, order from the Lord was definite. Yeowun stayed silent for a while but soon knelt and shouted.

"Crown Prince Chun Yeowun, ready for any order from the Lord."

Pahin then opened the scroll that had writings on what the order was about and read.

"I, Chun Yujong, order the Crown Prince to go down to fight the forces of Blade God Six Clan heading south from the Jurkang Castle. I entrust you a small forces, so depart and defend enemy's advance."

'Ah!'

Yeowun's eye shook from unexpected order. He imagined something will work against him but this was unexpected. Yeowun then looked up and saw warriors from Buju Sword. They all wore armors as if they were ready to go to war.

'This is...'

Pahin then closed the scroll and spoke.

"It is an emergency. Crown Prince must leave with the Buju Sword at once."

Huan Yi and Yin Moha became shocked and looked at Yeowun. They too have not expected this. Yin Moha quickly sent telepathic message to Yeowun.

[T-this is a trap!]

This was only a trap to send out Yeowun outside the castle so he can be dealt with. If Yeowun still had his members, it could have been a regular mission but he had no one around him. He was also told to leave right now, meaning he wasn't given any time to prepare.

'They got us!'

If they resist, then it was apparent that these warriors will attack. There were no choice. Hu Bong gritted his teeth in anger as Chun Yeowun was being sent into the cliff.

"I-I will go together!"

“...The order is to have Crown Prince alone. How dare you intervene at the Lord’s order.”

Pahin threatened and Hu Bong closed his mouth. The Lord’s order was absolute. And onto Huan Yi and Yin Moha who was dumbfounded and frustrated, telepathic message came to them from Yeowun. They had to bit on their lips and take it in.

‘We have to walk the path right into the trap...!’

Yin Moha angered at the Lord’s scheme. Even if Yeowun was threatening his power and authority, it seemed it was too much to send his own son into death. Pahin snickered at them and spoke.

“You should leave now.”

It was 5 hours later when Marakim returned to the cult. He was able to retrieve the body of Kingbonki that was buried on different peak and returned. The body was so big and heavy that it required six men to carry it. But when he returned, he sensed something was weird. He felt something strange from warriors and servants walking within the palace. Marakim became concerned but he didn’t mention it and brought the body into the palace. He then ordered to have the body sent to the preservation room.

“We need to show it to the Lord, so we’ll clean it first.”

It was buried, but it wasn’t dirty. But it didn’t seem out of place, so Marakim nodded. Warriors from Palace guards then began to move the body to somewhere but the direction was...

“Wait. That is the incinerat...”

“Great Guardian.”

Marakim tried to call palace guards, when man with eyepatch walked up to him and stopped him. It was Pahin, leader of Palace guards.

“Wait a second.”

Marakim walked past Pahin to call upon palace guards, but Pahin ran up to him again and stopped him. Marakim’s eye turned cold.

“What is... the meaning of this?”

“It’s an order from the Lord. Don’t interfere with the body any more.”

“The Lord’s order?”

Marakim became dumbfounded. He brought the body that proved use of blood reversion art to ease the problem, but it was now being sent to burn it down. He had to stop hit. Pahin smiled to Marakim.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“You don’t have time to think about that. The Lord told me to bring you over to him right away when you return.”

“What do you mean?”

“You’ll know once you go to the Great Halls.”

“Great Halls?”

Chapter 233 - Walking into the trap (6)

Chapter 233: Walking into the trap (6)

Marakim became confused. Great Halls were only opened when there were Great Meeting. The Great Meeting was held recently, so it wasn't likely that there will be any more meeting.

"What are you..."

"The Great Meeting had started about 10 minute ago, so you must hurry."

"...What is the meeting about?"

"It's about putting Crown Prince down from his position."

"What?!"

Marakim became shocked and asked back. He thought the Lord will do something, but he didn't imagine it could be this fast.

'Ugh... he got us!'

He needed to move fast then. He had to stop before Chun Yeowun was put down from his spot. But Marakim also thought that maybe he should reveal that the Crown Prince was true Sky Demon in front of all clan leaders. But Marakim did not know that Chun Yeowun had left the castle due to the order.

"Then if you'll excuse me."

Marakim then quickly ran toward the Great Halls and Pahin scoffed.

“Hmph. He sure is siding with the Crown Prince.”

That was only reason for Marakim to act so quickly. But it was too late now. Marakim’s only purpose now was to make sure Chun Yeowun was brought down. And there was also job for Pahin himself.

“Hey! Don’t go there!”

“Oh!”

Pahin shouted at female servant who almost went toward the incinerator. He had to block anyone from coming near the incinerator until Kingbonki’s body was burned completely.

At the Great Halls, there were many people gathered already. All clan leaders and elders inside the castle had gathered. Most clan leaders were here, but many elder seats were empty. Only elders that were here were Bu Churyong, Ja Kinkeng, Hang Soyu, Mong OH and Huan Yi.

Marakim arrived late and quietly entered the halls. The Lord was already on his throne, so the guard on the gate didn’t announce Marakim’s entrance. The hall was however very quiet so everyone knew Marakim had arrived.

Marakim narrowed his eyes. If the meeting was proceeding, then it was strange that everyone was quiet. Marakim then glanced over to find Chun Yeowun, but he was no where to be seen. And within elders, only one from Yeowun’s forces were Huan Yi.

‘No...!’

Marakim then realized something had happened. This was a place to talk about Crown Prince’s dethronement, but the Crown Prince and his forces were left out. When Marakim walked over to where elders were sitting down, the Lord spoke.

“Good. Our Great Guardian who witnessed the incident have returned.”

‘The incident?’

Marakim became confused and the Lord spoke.

“Great Guardian. Come to the middle.”

“...As you wish, my lord.”

Marakim then walked over and stood at the middle where elder seats were placed on either side. It was first time he stood here, as he was always behind the Lord. Marakim knelt down on his one knee and bowed.

“I ask you, Great Guardian. Tell me the exact words that you spoke to me before.”

“Yes, my lord.”

“Did Crown Prince Chun Yeowun ambushed 2nd Elder Kingbonki to kill him? And that you witnessed this with your very eyes?”

‘Ambush?’

Marakim’s eye shook at the question. He had told the Lord that Kingbonki had used blood reversion art so he had to be killed. What was the reason for this question?

“My Lord. I told you that..”

“Answer my question. Is it true that Crown Prince Chun Yeowun had ambushed the 2nd Elder Kingbonki?”

The Lord asked again and Marakim bit on his lips. He was forcing the answer out of Marakim.

‘I can’t let that happen.’

If the things went as the Lord intended, then Chun Yeowun was sure to be dethroned.

“That is...”

When Marakim tried to explain, he heard the Lord’s telepathic message.

[If I activate the reactant, your poison parasite will kill you.]

Great Guardian Marakim flinched at the word. Chun Yujong smiled. This was what he had in mind. With Marakim being controlled by the poison parasite, there was no way that Marakim will refuse the order.

‘You saw that there are no one who side with him here, so you must know.’

There was no way for Chun Yeowun’s dethronement to be stopped. Even if Marakim sided with him, there was no need for him to risk his life. Lord asked again.

“Let me ask you again, Great Guardian. Did Crown Prince Chun Yeowun ambushed 2nd Elder Kingbonki to kill him?”

‘Now. Answer me.’

The answer was already decided. Marakim's job was to put an end to Chun Yeowun's reign. Marakim then stopped on shaking and spoke.

"Crown Prince had not ambushed 2nd Elder."

'What?!'

Chun Yujong's eye turned furious at Marakim's unexpected words. He had outright disobeyed his orders.

"And Crown Prince..."

'I have no choice.'

He had to stop it before Marakim can speak about blood reversion art. The Lord activated reactant right away. The reactant was only made to activate when the Great Guardian tries to harm the Lord, but the Lord asked Demon Doctor to alter it so that it can be made to activate the poison parasite if the reactant dissolves inside the body of the Lord.

But...

"Did not kill Kingbonki out of his personal feelings..."

'W-what is going on?! Why is it not working?!'

Great Guardian Marakim did not seem to be in pain, and kept on continuing on.

"as it was an act to defend himself against the 2nd Elder's Bl..."

'NO!'

If Marakim tells the truth, then the Lord's scheme of lies was going to be revealed in front of all clan leaders. The Lord became frustrated and charged against Marakim to stop him from speaking. It was then, someone appeared in front of him and blocked his attack. It was 11th Elder Huan Yi.

'What?!'

And Marakim was able to speak loud and clear so that everyone in the hall can hear.

"...Crown Prince had to defend himself against 2nd Elder's blood reversion art."

The truth was told. But people were more interested in the Lord attacking Great Guardian, and being stopped by 11th Elder Huan Yi. Chun Yujong glared furiously at Huan Yi and spoke.

"Elder Huan! You dare oppose me?!"

"I am not Elder Huan."

"What?!"

Huan Yi then smiled and began to pull his skin up from his chin. His skin were stretched.

"W-what?!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Surprisingly, the man wasn't Huan Yi. It was a man who had mask of Huan Yi over his face.

"Crown Prince! W-why are you here!"

Chun Yeowun should have been killed on his way down to the south already. And to the Lord's shocked eyes, Yeowun leaned close and whispered.

"I am here to succeed you."

Chapter 234 - True Successor (1)

Chapter 234: True Successor (1)

About 10 miles east from the Demonic Cult's castle, there were three hundred warriors from the Buju Sword moving on a horse. They left late, and the sky was already getting dark so they had to prepare to camp soon. They were on a hill with dense bushes but they saw a large open field bit away from where they were that can be used to camp. But what they were looking for was a campsite. Jukem received a telepathic message from his lieutenant.

[This should do, sir.]

Jukem then glanced over at the darkened sky and the area and nodded. There weren't any people here so it seemed like a good place. Jukem then got next to Chun Yeowun who was riding ahead and pulled out his sword. At that, all other warriors also pulled out their swords. Chun Yeowun then turned his head.

"What is the meaning of this?"

Jukem smirked at Yeowun's question and shouted.

"Meaning? It means that you will die here!"

"DIE!"

With that, Jukem's lieutenant rode his horse toward Yeowun with force qi over his sword to strike down Yeowun's head.

"Huhuhu... I was wondering when you will reveal your intention."

'Huhu?'

The laughter seemed feminine. That's when Chun Yeowun quickly pulled out the blade to defend and cut down the lieutenant's neck at once. Lieutenant was a super master level warrior, but he was no match for a superior master warrior. Jukem turned cold and spoke.

"So, you will resist then, Crown Prince?"

"Well, you see. I'm not the Crown Prince."

"What?"

Chun Yeowun then reached down toward his chest and pulled up to throw the mask away. The face revealed underneath was the face of Huan Yi.

"What!"

Huan Yi pressed down on below his chin. He had two masks over his face.

"Oh, that was close. I almost took off both masks. Huhu."

"E-Elder Huan!"

Jukem became shocked that the person they brought here was not the Crown Prince, but Chun Yeowun. They left right away after they came into contact with Chun Yeowun. Since when the Crown Prince was replaced?

"W-...wait. You mean to say that you were acting as Crown Prince since we met?"

"Wow, you're right. Correct answer!"

This meant that the Huan Yi they met at the mansion was actually Chun Yeowun. They thought they had led Yeowun into the trap, but they and the Lord were fooled instead. Jukem then shouted with rage.

“Elder Huan! How dare you disobey the order of the Lord!”

“Disobey? Wasn’t the Lord’s order to fight the enemy? Since when was the order changed to let him die?”

Huan Yi spoke sarcastically and Jukem shouted at his warriors.

“We will kill this traitor and return immediately!”

“Yes, sir!”

“Well, you sure have a lot of people here... but can you really catch up to me if I run away?”

Most were top class warriors and there were over 50 master level warriors. But that didn’t mean they could catch up to Huan Yi, a superior master level warrior running away. Jukem smirked.

“You think we weren’t ready when we knew we were up against superior master warriors?”

“Grrrrr.”

At the same time, warriors from the Buju clan began to growl like beasts. Their eyes all turned bloodshot red and Huan Yi frowned.

“Oh... I didn’t expect this.”

Buju Sword. They too were forces who had learned blood reversion art. Huan Yi became tense that maybe he might not be able to run away.

At the same time inside the Great Halls, all the clan leaders were shocked by the sudden appearance of Chun Yeowun. They were told that Chun Yeowun was sent to Bokgun Castle to fight against the Blade God Six Martial clan, so they didn't imagine he would sneak in by faking himself as Huan Yi.

'Crown Prince?!'

'What is going on here?'

'That's strange! He sounded just like Elder Huan Yi!'

Those who had talked with Huan Yi before couldn't find any strangeness in Yeowun's voice.

[Changing user's voice to normal.]

"Hmph. Hmph. Ah-"

Yeowun coughed and tested his voice as it returned to normal. His voice was changed by Nano, so even the Lord who had talked with Huan Yi many times couldn't figure out if it was imitated.

'He learned evil magic!'

The Lord glared as he watched Yeowun's voice returning back to normal. He then found his coldness back.

'Did Elder Huan create the mask for him?'

If so, then it was likely that the one who was sent out of the castle was Elder Huan. He knew that Huan Yi sided with Chun Yeowun, but he didn't think he would do so far to turn his back against the Lord.

'How dare!'

The Lord knew about Chun Yeowun's boldness, but this was crossing the line. If he had shown himself in this meeting, then it was sure that Yeowun was here to settle the score with the Lord in front of all the clan leaders.

'Are you doing this from the trust of the Great Guardian?'

It wasn't sure how, but the Great Guardian was freed from the poison parasite's control. And he was also taken into Yeowun's forces, so it seemed Yeowun was thinking he had gotten out of his trap.

'But you had made a mistake.'

The person who had the upperhand here was still the Lord himself. The Lord's palace was a sacred place where only the Lord could decide what to do.

"What is the meaning of this, Crown Prince? How dare you disobey my order and sneak into the Great Halls? This is an act of treason."

The Lord spoke authoritatively and the atmosphere became heavy. As the Lord said, what Chun YEowun did was an act of treason. Yeowun, however, looked back coldly, "I have something to ask you before that."

"What?"

"Why are you trying to blame me for killing 2nd Elder Kingbonki in an ambush and trying to dethrone me?"

Everyone turned their attention to Yeowun at his question. They all heard the truth that the Great Guardian revealed.

"Blame..."

But the Lord didn't seem to be worried. He then ordered over at the Great Guardian still on his one knee.

"Great Guardian. Crown Prince Chun Yeowun has disobeyed my order. Arrest him."

"...I cannot follow your order."

The Great Guardian did not follow the order. The Lord already knew that Marakim had sided with Yeowun now, so this was expected. The Lord then shouted to all elders and clan leaders.

"LOOK! Great Guardian Marakim is now listening to the Crown Prince, rather than myself! How can you trust his words?!"

The Great Halls fell silent. This was what the Lord had in mind. Every clan leader began to think differently, as they too saw the Great Guardian disobeying the order of the Lord.

'No...'

Marakim looked up at the Lord with shocked eyes. He knew that the Lord was not going down easily, but he didn't imagine he would use Marakim's new allegiance against him.

"I see that you are very loyal to the Crown Prince. But a mistake needs to be dealt with punishment."

The Lord snapped his fingers and the Palace Guards appeared.

"Arrest the Crown Prince and the Great Guardian."

“Yes, my lord!”

And it was when they tried to walk over to them that they heard noise at the entrance.

“STOP! You must stop!”

“Move!”

“What! H-HUH? You aren’t servants!”

Chapter 235 - True Successor (2)

Chapter 235: True Successor (2)

“Elder Yin! Go now!”

Guards at the gate were trying to stop someone bursting into the Great Halls, but the person burst open the gate and walked in. Everyone became shocked to find someone coming in. It was 10th Elder Yin Moha who entered. But her late appearance wasn't the reason for the surprise.

‘T-that clothing?’

She was wearing a black top and white skirt that female servants of the palace wore. That alone was weird but she had something dragging with her one hand that shocked people. It was a giant body that was partly burned.

“I am sorry about joining the meeting. I had to bring this important piece of evidence.”

Yin Moha used her Force Energy to move the body into the middle of the halls. And when people saw the body floating over, they were shocked.

“What!?”

The body had veins popping up from all over the body. A part of it was burned, but it was easy to recognize its face. It was Kingbonki, the 2nd Elder and Leader of the Sword clan.

“B-blood reversion art?!”

“It's blood reversion art!!”

The body was twice as large as Kingbonki's original body and the veins and enlarged muscles proved that he had used blood reversion art.

"The Great Guardian said the truth!"

"2nd Elder used blood reversion art!"

The halls began to become noisy.

'What happened? Where's Pahin?'

Lord Chun Yujong frowned. He ordered Pahin to burn the body and never let others enter. But it seemed Yin Moha had pulled it out of the incinerator and brought it here.

"You! What are you!"

"Move out of the way!"

And outside the gate to the Great Halls, female servants and hall guards were trying to stop Palace Guards from entering the Halls.

"Uuuugh! What's with that woman!"

"Aaaaargh!"

A tall female servant who was taller than most large men snatched one of the palace guard's feet and swung him like an axe to strike down the other palace guards.

'What are they?!'

The Lord had scattered all members under Chun Yeowun. If so, who were these warriors who faked themselves as palace staff to block the Great Halls? Yeowun smiled. This was Yeowun's force that the Lord did not know of. They were his servants who stayed behind at the Demonic Academy.

'Good job Hu Bong. You are right on time.'

With Left Guardian Lee Hameng being arrested, everything in the Demonic Academy was put on hold. Instructors were also imprisoned inside the academy for the investigation, but Yeowun's members did not stay behind in the dormitory.

"No one will pass through me!"

The tall female staff who fought valiantly at the gate was Hou Sangwha. And someone ran up to Hou Sangwha frantically as he shouted, "M-Move out, girl!"

"You'll have to defeat me if you want to go!"

The man was Pahin, the leader of the Palace Guards. His face was bruised and he was in a pretty bad state from being beaten by Yin Moha at the incinerator.

"Damn girl!"

Pahin was already embarrassed by losing to some young female servant, so he furiously unleashed his sword formation at Hou Sangwha. Hou Sangwha then took the sword that she snatched from the Palace Guard and defended herself.

'Dammit! Since when did such monstrous girls sneak into the palace!'

Pahin tried to shoot past her, but he was injured and Hou Sangwha wasn't weak.

'What is going on?'

‘Something’s not right.’

Clan leaders began getting up from their seats as they realized things weren’t going as normal. They just thought Chun Yeowun was acting to remove the blame, but it seems that wasn’t only it.

“Hmph...”

The Lord sighed deeply. His plan had already failed when Yin Moha brought the body of Kingbonki. Chun Yujong glared furiously and threatened Chun Yeowun.

“Crown Prince. Do you really intend to bring this to an end?”

And Chun Yeowun answered casually.

“I told you. I am here to succeed you as the next Lord.”

“How dare you!”

The Lord moved quickly over to Yeowun to attack. Yeowun already sensed energy being gathered at the Lord’s fingers so he took steps to dodge it. The Lord then pointed at Yeowun and shouted, “I order every elder and clan leader to arrest these traitors!”

There was no more need to talk. He had to use his authority to overpower Chun Yeowun now. With the Lord’s order being made, a few clan leaders tried to charge at Yeowun, Marakim, and Yin Moha. Guards inside the hall also tried to attack.

“UGH!”

But some of the guards were suddenly struck and thrown to the back. They looked dumbfoundedly at the ones that attacked them.

“W-what... why??”

10 miles east of the Demonic Cult’s castle, there was a chase going on during the dark night.

“Ggrrrrrrr”

“STOP!”

Warriors with enlarged muscles and reddened eyes growled as they chased someone. In front of them, 11th Elder Huan Yi was running away.

“Ugh...”

His clothes were drenched in blood. There weren’t any who were stronger than him, but with 300 warriors using blood reversion art, he had no way but to run. Huan Yi was barely able to get out of the warriors surrounding him, but he also had a heavy injury.

“Agh... ah..”

And Jukem, with his senses increased to that of a beast, heard heavy panting coming out of Huan Yi’s mouth. It wasn’t going to be long.

“Kekekeke... you can’t run away from us.”

Soon, they will be at a plain. At that place, warriors could shoot sword qi or throw spears to attack Huan Yi. And when they shot through bushes, Huan Yi suddenly stopped. His eyes were filled with despair.

In the distance, there were hundreds of warriors on horses that flashed another military group flag from the Demonic

Cult. The reason why Huan Yi stopped was because the flag was from the Blade and Lust clan. Huan Yi moaned and shook his head.

‘This is unexpected. Crown Prince... I guess this is it for me. At least I’m glad that I was able to help during the last moment. Huhu...’

“Grrrrr. This is the end! Elder Huan! Kakakakaka!”

Jukem grinned. Warriors from the Buju Sword began to draw near Huan Yi. Huan Yi clenched his blade. If he was going to die here, then he had to use all of the energy he had to kill as many as enemies he could. And as he began to bring the energy up...

“Warriors of the Great Demonic Cult! By the order of our Great Chun Ma, hunt down these devilish fiends who have learned blood reversion art!”

‘Ah?’

Huan Yi became shocked. A warrior with gray armor standing in the front shouted with his sword.

“Charge!”

“Woaaaaaaaaaaa!”

Over four hundred warriors immediately pulled out their weapons and began to charge against Jukem and his warriors who were under influence of the blood reversion art.

“W-what is going on?!”

Jukem frowned as he thought these warriors had come to his aid, as they held flag of the Blade and Lust clan.

And at the same time in the Great Halls, Chun Yujong grimaced as he watched some people with disbelief. He was looking at elders. Bu Churyong, Ja Kinkeng, Hang Soyu, and Mong Oh were attacking the Palace Guards who were trying to attack Chun Yeowun.

“Y-YOU!!”

Chapter 236 - True Successor (3)

Chapter 236: True Successor (3)

Four hours ago, at the mansion of the Blade clan located southeast of the Demonic Cult's castle... There were many warriors of the Blade clan surrounding the main building, ready to strike at any signal. Inside the office, two men were talking with each other. One man was the 3rd Elder and leader of the Blade clan, Bu Churyong and another man was Chun Yeowun. Yeowun was holding onto a skin mask. If Yeowun did not pull it off, then Bu Churyong might have thought he was Huan Yi.

'They have a good defensive system.'

The Blade clan, as it was considered the third strongest clan in the cult, quickly reacted to Chun Yeowun's appearance by having half of their warriors surround the building.

'What will he do?'

This was a bet that Chun Yeowun was making. If he couldn't turn the tide here, then everything was going to fail before he could even start.

'Blade clan... they have control over the northeast side of our cult toward the Kangdong Castle... If I can persuade him...'

Then there was a way to help Huan Yi who had gone out of the castle. Yeowun couldn't send help from inside, so he required help from the four clans who had forces outside the castle. The problem was that Yeowun's relationship with them was at its worst.

"Hmmm..."

Bu Churyong was in deep thought. If Yeowun did not come as Huan Yi at first, Bu Churyong would either refuse to meet with Chun Yeowun or tie him up and report him to the Lord.

‘Is what he says true?’

There was a reason why Bu Churyong hesitated. What Chun Yeowun said was actually what he and the other elders had been feeling. It had been growing even stronger after they fought at the battle at Jurkang Castle.

‘Aside from our relationship, what he is saying is reasonable. If this persists, the next target will be us.’

The Lord just decided to strike down on the Crown Prince, the biggest force in the entire Cult right now. This wasn’t expected from any of the four clans. And from how things were going, if the four clans did not act on the Lord’s orders, it wasn’t certain as to what he might do after.

“We don’t have much time.”

Yeowun spoke to Bu Churyong. There were about four hours until the Great Meeting. Bu Churyong then spoke to him.

“Crown Prince. Are you aware that I can turn you over to the Lord right now if I wanted to?”

“Of course, if that is what you choose to do.”

Churyong frowned at Yeowun’s casual answer. After meeting a few times, Bu Churyong now realized who this man was. But the more he knew, the more he had to acknowledge the boldness.

“Crown Prince. We four clans are the foundation of the cult, but we still bow our heads to the Chun family. Do you know

“ ... ”

“Our cult serves the Demon God and the Fire. The one who communicates with them is the Lord and that is because the Chun family has been chosen to do that.”

Hundreds of thousands of cultists in the Demonic Cult had served the Lord who could communicate with gods as their leader for a long time. This was something that six clans could never have, even if they had more power, and it was the foundation of the cult itself. Without this, there was no cult. Thus, the six clans never tried to overthrow the Lord.

“What you are trying to do now is to overthrow that foundation. Without justification, this fight will go nowhere.”

This was the same even if Chun Yeowun was from the Chun family. The Demonic Cult was a group of people, and a religious sect. Even if Yeowun was successful in his revolution, there was no way to become leader of these religious people without justification.

“You are saying that I won’t be able to prove myself as the true Lord.”

“...Yes, that is correct. Even with our relationship aside, there isn’t a reason for us to follow your words...”

That’s when something weird began to happen. The black wrist guard over at Yeowun’s wrist came apart itself and began shaping into a certain shape.

“T-this...!”

And when he saw the shape turning into glowing black sword, Bu Churyong got up from his seat.

[Elder! What is going on in there?!]

His advisor quickly sent a telepathic message as he thought something had happened inside, trying to burst in at any moment. But the message that returned told them never to come in.

And four hours later, Chun Yujong was furious to see the elders guarding Chun Yeowun with their backs. Chun Yujong and none of the clan leaders thought these elders would fight to protect the Crown Prince.

‘W-what is going on?!’

‘W-why are they protecting the Crown Prince?’

‘Ugh... what should I do!’

The clan leaders who tried to attack Yeowun, Marakim and Yin Moha had to stop as things began to revolve strangely. The Lord, with reddened eyes possibly from being too enraged, glared at elders.

“You dare oppose my orders!?”

The Lord began to unleash furious energy. It was pressuring and heavy that everyone inside the hall began to go pale.

“Ugh...”

“W-what’s with this energy...”

The only ones who could withstand the energy being unleashed from the supreme master warrior were the elders, Chun Yeowun, and Marakim.

‘I thought his internal damage wasn’t healed...’

Elders became grim at such difference in power. The Lord, one of the top five warriors of Jianghu, was surely someone that cannot be matched easily.

‘Can the Crown Prince really succeed?’

Hang Soyu, the leader of the Lust clan was sweating on her forehead. She decided to help Chun Yeowun, but facing such energy brought her fears. The Lord spoke again.

“ARE YOU TRULY BETRAYING ME?!”

The voice was very hostile, and it seemed like the Lord would charge the moment he heard the answer. Elders fell silent and without answering and the Lord began to grow furious.

“This is treason...”

“They are not committing treason.”

Chun Yeowun jumped in. The Lord became dumbfounded and tried to shout when Yeowun’s black wrist guard began to make a move. It scattered into black pieces of metal and began to form a shape. It shaped itself into a beautiful black sword. Everyone became shocked by such a magical sight and looked at the sword.

Sky Demon Sword.

So everyone saw the engraving on the blade. Sky Demon Sword. The writing also seemed very familiar. It was almost the same as the monument left by Father Chun Ma that was placed outside the courtyard of the Lord's palace.

"Sky Demon Sword?"

Chapter 237 - True Successor (4)

Chapter 237: True Successor (4)

“What is going on?!”

“Why is that name on the Crown Prince’s sword?”

Every clan leader became shocked and turned to the black sword. It very closely resembled the Sky Demon Sword that Lord had, but the color was even darker and had a different vibe to it.

‘H-how did he get that?!’

Chun Yujong became shocked. There was no way that Chun Yujong would not recognize the black sword that he had since the day he became the Lord. He also had the Sky Demon Sword on his waist right now, but that was fake. No former Lords had found the true Demon Sword that Father Chun Ma had left in the past hundreds of years.

‘I can sense ominous demonic energy from the sword.’

It was as real as ever. The Lord became so shocked that he even forgot he was angry.

‘Is that sword the reason why they are helping him?’

The reason why elders helped Chun Yeowun was now revealed. If Chun Yujong acknowledged that Yeowun’s sword was the true Sky Demon Sword, then he was acknowledging that Chun Yeowun was Chun Ma now.

“No... that can’t be. It can’t be true!”

The Lord shook his head. That's when he heard whispers in his ears.

[It's over if you accept it. Prove that the sword is fake, or you have no other way to get out of this situation.]

Lord became surprised and turned to where the sound was coming from. A one-armed man was standing under the shadow of a giant pillar behind the elder's seats, looking at him.

'Yujing! How did you...?'

It was his brother, Chun Yujing. Chun Yujong told him to stay away from the Great Halls, but he was here now.

[This is no time for you to think about me. If you don't put your act together, you might lose your throne. Break that sword.]

Chun Yujong then became silent. His brother was right. He couldn't let the sword be considered real. The Lord then reached out at Yeowun's sword.

"The Sword... I want to see it."

'What?'

Elders flinched and shook their head. They weren't sure what the Lord might do if he lay his hand on the sword.

"...Of course."

But Chun Yeowun gave the sword by offering it with his palms up. The Lord then reached out to pull the sword with his energy. He had used 30% of his energy but the sword didn't move from Yeowun's hand.

“Are you playing tricks with me?!”

The Lord roared and Yeowun smiled and sent the sword up in the air and made it fly to the Lord. Chun Yujong then held the hilt with his left hand. He was thinking of sending internal energy into the sword to make it weak, and break it with his right hand by force qi of Sword.

“Aaaaaaargh! W-what is this?!”

At the moment he held the sword, he was filled with searing pain. The Lord let go of the sword and found the burnt injury on his hand.

“This stupid sword!”

The Lord then tried to swing his right hand that had wielded force qi, and something astounding happened.

[Kyaaaaaaaaaaa!]

“UGH!”

A giant black dragon suddenly appeared and was roaring at the Lord. The Lord got so shocked that he quickly took steps to distance himself from the dragon. And when he got back, his eyes became large from shock.

‘How can this be?’

The black dragon disappeared and there was only the Sky Demon Sword floating over in the air. Yeowun smiled and reached out and the sword flew over to his hand. The Sky Demon Sword refused to be held by the Lord, but it was calm under Chun Yeowun’s hand.

“I..it’s the Sky Demon Sword!”

“That really is the Sky Demon Sword!”

Some of the clan leaders shouted in excitement. These were leaders from the oldest clans, who had heard legends about the Sky Demon Sword since they were young. They heard that the Sky Demon Sword, created from the bones and blood of the Black Dragon, was a legendary sword that chose its own master.

“The Sky Demon Sword accepted the Crown Prince as its master!”

“!!!”

That’s when Ko Wanghin from the Demon Fist shouted. And beginning with that, the atmosphere began to change. The owner of Sky Demon was the one who succeeded the name of Chun Ma and should be considered as the true master of the Demonic Cult.

‘No way...!’

The Lord bit his lips. He tried to break down the sword, but it actually worked against him by letting it prove that it was actually the Sky Demon Sword.

‘It’s time!’

That’s when Great Guardian Marakim got up from his knees. He then pulled out the blue medal from his pocket and flashed it at the clan leaders and shouted, “Cultists of the Great Demonic Cult! Listen to the Sky Demon Order!”

“S-Sky Demon Order?”

Clan leaders became shocked and turned to the medal. On the medal that the Great Guardian was holding, it had the Sky Demon Order engraved on it. Every clan leader began to kneel to the ground to bow. No one was allowed to stand still against the Sky Demon Order, which was the authority given by the founding father himself. Even the elders began to kneel down on the ground to bow.

“G-Great Guardian....!!!”

Lord grimaced at the Great Guardian who was showing off his hidden identity in front of everyone. Marakim shouted.

“I, Marakim, Guardian of the Sky Demon Order, now send a message from Father Chun Ma to you all!”

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

Everyone shouted in unison at Marakim’s voice. Marakim then declared.

“By passing the test left by Father Chun Ma, Crown Prince Chun Yeowun, wielder of the Sky Demon Sword, is now being appointed as the new Chun Ma!”

Chun Yeowun then knelt on one knee and bowed at the Sky Demon Order.

“Chun Yeowun, descendent of the great founding father, accepts your order.”

Everyone then shouted with joy. The new Chun Ma had finally appeared after hundreds of years. This was an amazing event for the Demonic Cult.

“Whoaaaaaaa!”

“Chun Ma!”

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

And Chun Yujong, who was watching them, grimaced even more.

‘Aaaaaargh! This can’t be! This CAN’T BE!!!’

He then glared with a reddened face back at Chun Yujing. Chun Yujing’s advice actually worked against Chun Yujong. Chun Yujing shook his head.

[Well, you lost to a chess piece. I’m sorry I couldn’t protect you again, brother. Heh.]

“How dare! How dare you show such disrespect to your Lord!!!”

Everyone became silent at the Lord’s roar that rang through the hall. Everyone looked up and saw the Lord angrily shouting at the pillar of the hall.

“Ah...”

Yeowun and other Elders were bitter from what they saw. At the back of the pillar where the Lord was glaring at, there was no one.

Chapter 238 - True Successor (5)

Chapter 238: True Successor (5)

The Lord was unleashing his anger as if there was someone there behind the pillar. But there was no one there. Every person in the hall became shocked as they couldn't sense or see anyone there.

'What?'

'W-why is he doing that?'

The Lord's action was shocking indeed. Yeowun frowned while looking at the Lord truly doing this, and remembered the conversation from yesterday at the peak of Five Wise Peak. Yin Moha asked Marakim then.

'Great Guardian. Why did you have to change the date to an earlier date?'

'That is... because the Lord has been pushing me away lately.'

'He's pushing you away?' Yin Moha asked back, confused. But it was true. Ever since the underground treasure vault was revealed, the Lord looked very suspiciously at the Great Guardian. When Marakim was on different missions outside the office of the Lord's palace, he now had people watching over him. Marakim then realized he couldn't act on his own any longer, so he had to change the date.

'I am reluctant to say this... but there have been problems with the Lord lately. No... I should say he changed.'

'A change? What do you mean? Did something happen to him?'

The Great Guardian's explanation was vague so Yin Moha became curious.

'Well, we can say something might have happened.'

Marakim was a Great Guardian who guarded the Lord by his side. That's why he was quick to find out the change that came to the Lord. And throughout the conversation, Marakim was considering this issue very seriously.

'The Lord has been very different from what you are seeing right now, Lord Chun Ma.'

'...What do you mean?'

'He may be cold hearted, but it doesn't mean he holds affection toward the cult itself.'

'I am not sure about that.'

Yeowun couldn't agree with that. From what he saw in the past few days, the Lord was only making inner groups to fight against each other. With a giant enemy upon them, the Lord should be trying to have all forces to work together, but it seemed the Lord only cared about his own throne.

'I know it is unconvincing to say it.'

'So, what is the change?'

Yeowun asked and Marakim answered grimly.

'The Lord has been talking to someone lately.'

'Someone? Who?'

'...It's Prince Chun Yujing.'

Chun Yujing was a former candidate to the heir in the Demonic Academy, and had lost his arm in the competition, and also a brother of Chun Yujong's. It wasn't strange if Chun Yujong was talking to his brother a lot as he lost his trust in Marakim.

'W-what are you talking about? He talks with Prince Chun Yujing? What nonsense!'

Yin Moha was so shocked and responded dumbfoundedly. Chun Yeowun did not know the reason why Yin Moha was reacting like that.

'What are you talking about? Why doesn't it make sense?'

'....My prince. Prince Chun Yujing of the Sword clan was killed by Power King Hang Yen in the war against the forces of Evil 15 years ago.'

'...What?'

Power King Hang Yen was the strongest warrior who still ruled the forces of Evil even to this day. He had been staying on top of the five warriors of Jianghu for the last 30 years.

'15 years ago? Was it from the Battle at the Sawin Plains?'

The war 15 years ago was quite famous. Demonic Cult tried to hide it, but when Chun Inji going missing was revealed, the forces of evil took the chance to invade into the Cult's territory. That's when Chun Yujong, who had not shown his power then, became one of the new top five warrior of the Jianghu.

'Wait. So, is he talking with a ghost?'

'...No. My guess is that he is talking to an illusion.'

‘Illusion?’

Marakim found this out at the battle at Jurkang castle. At the time, he was busy tending to his own wound, but realized that the Lord had changed at some point.

‘The Lord began talking against a wall without anyone, or a dark place. It wasn’t a long talk at the beginning but...’

Time began to grow longer and longer. Chun Yujong spoke as if his dead brother was alive and was staying with him. After witnessing this multiple times, Marakim thought this was a sign that the Lord’s mental health was going south.

‘Something is eating the Lord’s sanity away.’

‘What do you think it is?’

‘That’s...’

Marakim answered with his guess and Chun Yeowun and Yin Moha became shocked and turned to something. They were looking at the body of Kingbonki.

Chun Yeowun broke out of his thoughts as Bu Churyong carefully spoke to the Lord, who was still unleashing his fury.

“M...My Lord. If I may ask... who are you talking to right now?”

“What?”

The Lord Chun Yujong then stopped and turned. Everyone in the hall had fallen silent already. Everyone was watching the Lord with a concerned look. The Lord then became confused and spoke.

“Why are you all looking at me with those eyes?”

“...We, your servants, are not sure who you are talking to right now.”

Bu Churyong spoke hesitantly and the Lord dumbfoundedly pointed behind the pillar and spoke.

“Are you trying to fool me?! Don’t you see Master Chun Yujing standing behind that pillar?!”

“?!”

And with that, everyone including Bu Churyong became shocked. They all knew that Chun Yujing was killed in the war against forces of evil and his body was burned.

[Kekeke. This is becoming very interesting.]

The Lord still clearly saw Chun Yujing standing by the pillar. He was cackling as if this situation was very amusing. This made the Lord become more furious.

“If you do that one more time, I will not forgive you! Be gone from the halls! You are not allowed in here!”

Chapter 239 - True Successor (6)

Chapter 239: True Successor (6)

Bu Churyong frowned as he watched the Lord shouting at the pillar. He wasn't sure if he could believe Yeowun, but this confirmed Yeowun's claim.

'Something really happened to the Lord.'

This was not something that can be considered lightly. If the Lord, leader of 100 thousand cultists, lost his sanity, then it meant a giant boat was without its captain. Great Guardian Marakim knelt down on his knee and shouted.

"My Lord. There is no one behind that pillar. And Prince Chun Yujing died a long time ago."

"What?"

Marakim revealed the truth in hopes that the Lord might come back. If the Lord did not accept that he was going mad and accept that he be treated, then the situation was going to get worse.

"Please, you have to go see the Demon Doctor to..."

That's when a sharp energy shot past his neck. His right side was left with a cut and blood dripped down from it. If he moved his head a bit slower, his head would have been cut off.

"Doctor? Hah! NOW I SEE IT!!! All of you are here to commit treason by saying that I am MAD!!"

"Ah..."

Marakim moaned. The Lord was now losing more control over his logic. It was getting worse. The Lord then pulled out his sword from his waist. It was the replica Sky Demon Sword.

“I will bring order to the cult again!”

“My Lord...”

Chun Yeowun grabbed Marakim’s shoulder and shook his head. Marakim then glanced back at the Lord, but his eyes were now more red than ever.

‘So, my guess was right.’

And with veins popping up over the Lord’s forehead, the symptom seemed very clear.

‘Blood... reversion art...’

It was the blood reversion art. The side effect of it grew severe each time it was used. It allowed the user to increase their energy greatly, but the reverse flow of internal energy slowly damaged the brain.

‘I should’ve known then...’

At the fight in Jurkang castle, cultists went against a powerful warrior that seemed to be the leader of the Blade God Six Martial clan. The enemy went straight against the Lord. After going through a hard fight, the Lord returned with an injury. Marakim hoped that his strange state was just because of the internal damage.

But it wasn’t. It seemed the Lord had used blood reversion art at the last moment. The only reason he kept his sanity until now was because he was at the supreme master level.

“It’s you! Because of you... a mere chess piece... brought such disorder to the cult! I brought you to this world, so I will take your life away this time!”

The Lord then began charging against Chun Yeowun the same way one would charge at an enemy, not a son. Yeowun’s eyes turned cold.

‘You lost your sanity, but you still call me a chess piece. I guess that is how you saw me from the beginning then.’

Yeowun wasn’t disappointed. The only ones that he considered as parents were Lady Hwa and Guard Jang. Yeowun then aimed his sword at the Lord.

“Everyone, get back.”

“Yes, master.”

Elders who stood guard around Yeowun immediately got away to where clan leaders were gathered. This fight wasn’t just a fight between father and son. This fight was a fight to choose the true leader of the Demonic Cult.

‘You have everything you need... but can you truly fight against the Lord?’

Elders looked at Chun Yeowun. Lord Chun Yujong was now mad and had acquired internal damage, but he was still one of the top five warriors out of the entire Jianghu. He wasn’t like the first elder Mu Jinwon. The Lord disappeared suddenly from where he stood and appeared in front of Chun Yeowun. The force qi coming out from the replica Sky Demon Sword shot up to slice Yeowun’s neck.

“Hah!”

Yeowun had already pulled up his Sky Demon Sword to block it. The Lord scoffed when Yeowun defended himself from the attack.

“Good. Then try to block this.”

The Lord began to strike down with 100% of his energy and Yeowun began to be pushed back. The difference in power was quite large.

‘It isn’t going to be easy.’

‘The Lord isn’t weak.’

Elders and clan leaders became grim as they saw the fight. These two warriors were not at an equal power level.

“Don’t try to be a fool!”

If it wasn’t for the Sky Demon Sword, Yeowun would have been cut down with the sword itself already. Yeowun’s eye narrowed as he felt the energy.

‘He sure is the Lord.’

Yeowun realized the difference in power, but he knew that he had to show the power of himself in front of all these people so that he can be considered as true Chun Ma, leader of the Demonic Cult.

‘I will use my best!’

There was no need to hide the qi of the Sky Demon. Yeowun awakened the ominous demonic energy sleeping within his internal energy. He only used this to form force qi until now, but when he wielded it entirely onto his body, black energy began to rise up from his body like steam. The terrifying energy filled the Great Halls, as if a terrifying monster or a dragon was roaring within it.

“What...”

“This can’t be!”

Elders were shocked to feel the different energy arising out of Yeowun’s body. The power coming out of Yeowun was terrifying and so powerful that it gave chills to their bones. Sky Demon Sword that wielded blue force qi then was covered with black force qi. People gasped with astonishment.

“B-black force qi?!”

Chapter 240 - True Successor (7)

Chapter 240: True Successor (7)

“It’s force qi from Father Chun Ma!”

Someone recognized what it was. The legend said that Chun Ma, incarnation of the Demon God, swung his sword that wielded black light. But it wasn’t just in the legend anymore.

Chun Yeowun’s body stopped from being pushed back. It didn’t mean his energy grew. But the demonic energy was forming Yeowun’s force qi to become more powerful.

‘What is this power?’

The Lord also seemed to be shocked by the power. If Yeowun’s power was to defend against the level of difference, then there was no point in fighting with the power.

‘I can’t just claim my victory easily.’

The Lord then pushed Yeowun’s sword to the back and attacked with the sword formation. It was the formation from the Sword Art of the Sky Demon that Sword Demon had recreated. Eighteen sword movements struck down on Yeowun’s shoulders, chest and various blood points.

‘He’s quick.’

The power of the Sword Art of Sky Demon used by a supreme master warrior was amazing. But Yeowun’s sword skill used by his sword was a better version of the sword skill, Sword Force of the Sky Demon. The power of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon used with the qi of Sky Demon activated was beyond the power of just the sword formation.

Twenty-four sword movements left the trace of black lights and countered the Lord's sword formation. The formation aggressively shot through the Lord's formation.

Most swordsmen would have been shocked, but the Lord was different.

“Bah!”

The Lord then quickly moved his swords to defend against the remaining attack. But the power was so strong that he was pushed back. After being pushed five steps back, the Lord glared with more reddened eyes and mumbled, “Sword Force of the Sky Demon?”

It was the Sword Force of the Sky Demon that Chun Yujong saw many times through the book that was left at the Lords' palace. He had tried so hard to learn it as he knew it was the last known martial art made by Father Chun Ma, but he did not know how to use the energy flow and gave up.

‘To think that the twenty-four sword movement could have this much power!’

It was surely a creation of genius swordsman Chun Ma. The Lord became serious. He had been grasped in anger until now, but he was now focused on the fight.

‘He is better in sword formations.’

If Yeowun was going to use powerful sword formations, then Chun Yujong had to answer by bringing the fight to a higher level. He too had tried very hard to become stronger.

“Give me your sword.”

The Lord reached toward the Palace Guards who were watching at distance. With strong energy force, their swords moved by themselves.

“Huh?”

“M-my sword!”

Their swords were pulled out from their scabbards and began to hover around the Lord. Soon, seven swords were hovering around the Lord.

“What!”

“It’s an air sword!”

Clan leaders gasped with astonishment as they watched the fight. The air sword was a highly advanced technique that only supreme master warriors could use. The elders became grim. They thought as the Lord was not sane and still undergoing treatment internal energy, he might not try his best. But if he was using this advanced skill, then it was sure that the Lord was determined to kill Chun Yeowun. And while everyone was shocked, Chun Yeowun smiled.

“So, you have come to a similar conclusion.”

“What?”

Chun Yeowun then shouted toward the open gate of the Great Hall.

“Hu Bong!!!”

Then, someone who was stopping Palace Guards from entering into the hall, turned around and shouted as he took the blade from his back.

“Master!!!! Take it!”

It was Hu Bong. Hu Bong used his internal energy to throw the blade as hard as he could toward the inside of the hall. Yeowun reached out at the blade that was being thrown at him and the blade was pulled out from the scabbard and White Dragon Blade was sucked into Yeowun’s hand, letting him grip the hilt. His right hand now wielded black Sky Demon Sword, and his left hand wielded white White Dragon Blade.

Yeowun clashed his two legendary weapons against each other and readied with a unique stance.

“Hah!”

Chun Yujong shook his head.

“Do you think you are the First Elder? You are a fool!”

The Lord then swung his sword and reached out at Chun Yeowun. Seven swords that hovered above them then began bolted down at Chun Yeowun.

“Hah!”

When the Lord swung his hand, seven swords scattered to all sides and began unleashing the Sword Art of the Sky Demon on itself, as if seven warriors were attacking at once. If Yeowun didn’t block every single attack, then he was going to die.

‘Cornw Prince!’

Everyone became concerned at such an astounding attack. But their concern was not needed.

“Haaaaaaah!”

Yeowun shouted and began to move his both hands, creating sword and blade movements. From his right hand, the formation of Sword Force of the Sky Demon was used and from his left hand, the formation of Blade God’s blade skill was unleashed.

“How can this be?!”

“I-it’s Right Sword Left Blade!”

Elders shouted in shock. What Chun Yeowun was using was the secret technique of first elder Mu Jinwon. The Lord became shocked.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘H-he’s really using it?!’

With the combination of powerful sword and blade formations, the formation countered seven formations coming at him from all sides. All swords shattered through as they struck against legendary weapons that wielded black force qi.

‘Ugh...!’

And as the swords shattered, the Lord felt pain from the energy that damaged his organs as it came through the connection from the sword.

Chapter 241 - Culprit (1)

Chapter 241: Culprit (1)

Air sword was a technique to control swords without ever touching them. With the swords flying on their own, it allowed the user to move the swords more in a variety of ways to increase the power of formation. But the technique had a weakness. The technique was used by the supreme master level warrior using his trained focus and energy. If the user lost focus or was not sane, then it was hard to control it.

When Lord Chun Yujong was normal, he could have controlled over 10 swords, but he now could barely use 7 swords.

‘D-does he have experience against air swords?’

Most warriors would be shocked to fight against air sword for the first time, but Yeowun didn’t seem to care and used another technique to fight against it.

‘I should thank the Great Guardian.’

If Yeowun had not experienced air sword while fighting Marakim, he might have had a hard time. And more fortunately, the seven air sword used by the Lord was actually weaker in power when Marakim used it with one of his sword.

‘Let’s crush down the remaining four swords and move up.’

“Ugh!”

Another sword shattered. Every time a sword shattered, the Lord felt pain. Four swords had already shattered. And with four out of seven shattered, the attack became weaker and Yeowun moved onto the second formation, moving his hands forward.

‘You can’t...!’

The Lord then controlled the swords to attack Yeowun from the front and the sides. The Lord was now experiencing pain from a severe headache, not from the pain whenever an air sword was shattered. His forehead had a vein expanding as if it would explode. He didn’t use blood reversion art, but his reddened eyes showed he wasn’t in good condition.

‘My head feels like it’s going to explode...!’

And with the severe headache, the Lord couldn’t control his air sword anymore. Since he lost focus, three swords then dropped to the ground.

‘He’s losing control! This is the chance!’

With what was blocking him gone, Yeowun charged toward the Lord right away. Chun Yujong was holding onto his head with his one hand and stomped on the ground with 100% of his energy. The ground shattered, sending debris up into the air, shooting out toward Yeowun. Debris also wielded energy, so it worked like a throwing weapon. Yeowun used his Sky Demon Sword to defend against the debris. Chun Yujong frowned and took steps to get some distance.

“Oh!!”

The elders and clan leaders became excited. It seemed the Lord was getting weaker as the symptom of blood reversion art was getting more severe. If Yeowun wasn’t to lose his chance, then it seemed he was going to win soon. But not all wished for Yeowun's victory. There was someone who looked grim.

'The Lord will die at this rate.'

If the Lord was to die, then the Demonic Cult would rise up against a powerful leader called Chun Yeowun. It was unfortunate that he didn't know about the Sky Demon Order or the Sky Demon Sword. He didn't fulfill his purpose yet, so he couldn't let the Lord die here.

'You still have work to do.'

He had to make the Lord kill the remaining three people since he had lost the sanity to even try to kill his own son.

"Aaaaargh...!!"

The Lord grabbed his head with his left hand and used bullet force qi via his replica Sky Demon Sword to have Yeowun to stay away.

"Don't come!"

But that action only bought him a short amount of time. Yeowun used his both weapons to easily cut down the force qi coming at him. And now in Lord's eyes, Chun Yeowun had turned into a devilish monster.

"Hah... Hah..."

The Lord even was drenched in sweat when he heard a telepathic message in his ears.

[Will you die at the hands of the betrayer? Will you truly let six clans to live who let your mother and loving wife die?]

The Lord's eyes shook at the familiar voice. Chun Yeowun was coming closer. The ominous demonic energy coming out of Yeowun made it feel as if a giant Black Dragon was coming nearer.

"Aaaaargh..."

[Use the Blood God's Reversion Art. Use it to defeat your enemy, and kill remaining three leaders from three clans and bring order back to the cult!]

'Blood God's Reversion Art? ...Blood God...'

The Lord then dropped the sword to the ground. He became confused at the telepathic message that urged him to use Blood God's Reversion Art and swayed.

'Blood God's Reversion...'

And in that short moment, many glimpses of the past shot through his mind.

Chun Yujong was born from the adopted daughter of the former Sword clan leader, Kingbonkang. Kingbonkang had a daughter, but she couldn't give birth to a child between her marriage with Great High Lord Chun Inji. Kingbonkang then adopted a daughter to have prince in his clan. But it was not long after adopted daughter Kinghawen was pregnant that Kingbonkang's real daughter Kingyuyun was pregnant.

'Both are my sons, so I should give equal opportunity to both of them.'

Chun Inji recognized Chun Yujong and Chun Yujing as a formal prince. But even through that, life wasn't easy. Kingyuyun began to treat Kinghawen poorly, and so did other wives from other six clans. And although no one knew if that played a role, Kinghawen died before Chun Yujong could even remember.

'Don't call me mother. Call me Lady King.'

Chapter 242 - Culprit (2)

Chapter 242: Culprit (2)

‘...Yes, Lady King.’

Chun Yujong was also discriminated against as he grew up. He was talented in martial art, but he wasn't a true descendant from the Sword clan, so he wasn't welcome.

‘You have to help so that Yujing can become the next Lord. Remember this.’

‘Yes, Elder.’

Kingbonkang assured this multiple times until they entered Demonic Academy. Chun Yujong believed that was his true purpose so he didn't think it was strange.

‘Brother, did you get scolded by mother again? Ugh... if I become Crown Prince, I'll make sure that no one will be rude to you.’

‘...Thanks.’

‘You know how much I love you, right?’

At least Chun Yujong was happy as his brother Chun Yujing was very close to him. But everything changed when they entered the Demonic Academy. It was okay for the first few weeks, but soon, princes from the other five clans began to treat Chun Yujong badly.

‘You dare to think you are the same as us?’

‘You are lucky to be born in six clans. Just serve your master.’

Chun Yujong became exhausted as he was discriminated. He still thought everything would get better if his little brother Chun Yujing became the Crown Prince and tried his best to help. But Chun Yujong was still too powerful. His talent was something that just could not be ignored. In less than three years, Chun Yujong had passed the fifth test in the Academy.

‘Yujing...’

‘Don’t even call my name.’

Chun Yujing also became cold. Just like other princes, he too began to grow wary of his own brother. Chun Yujong was not a fool however. He knew that his talent was the reason people became wary of him, so he stopped training from that day on and hid from others.

Even when the other princes, after passing the fifth test, began gathering people for approval, he did not seek any more approvals. But there was one who wanted to join Chun Yujong.

‘I am Yi Burwi from the Buju Sword clan. Please take me in. I will make you a Crown Prince.’

The Buju Sword clan was owned by the Sword clan, so Yujong told him to go join Yujing’s forces, but Yi Burwi insisted on joining Yujong instead. And when the academy was almost over, Yi Burwi spoke to him again.

‘Prince, when the Academy is over, you have to attack the other princes.’

‘What are you talking about?’

‘The princes are working against you to kill you first. And... Prince Chun Yujing is involved in that plan.’

‘What?!’

Chun Yujong couldn’t believe what Yi Burwi said. Even if their relationship had gotten a bit distanced, Chun Yujing was still his brother. Yi Burwi then told him that he’d collect the evidence and the princes’ meeting place.

At the hill behind the Demonic Academy’s dormitory, six princes gathered in one place.

“Are you all ready?”

Chun Mujin from the Wise clan asked everyone and the others took turns to express their willingness. Most decided to join and only one who didn’t answer was the princess Chun Yuyay from Loyal clan, and Chun Yujing.

‘No. I don’t want to win in such an unfair way.’

Chun Yuyay wasn’t like a normal cultist and preferred to solve everything in pieces, so she refused. She wasn’t interested in being Crown Prince anyway, so the others understood.

‘Yujing. What’s with you?’

‘Don’t say you changed your mind just because you are from the same clan.’

Princes gnarled at Yujing and Chun Yujing spoke.

‘Don’t give me that bull shit. Do you think I will think much about that peasant girl’s son? Count me in.’

And other than the Loyal clan, every prince agreed on killing Chun Yujong. When all of them went down the mountain,

Chun Yujong, who had been watching up on the tree, couldn't come out of his shock.

'Why... why did you...'

Chun Yujong thought his brother was only one who considered him as family. But what Chun Yujong had said was something that he could ever even think of. Disappointment and anger was beyond imagination. That's when Yi Burwi who also hid behind the tree spoke.

"Now you know. You have to strike them first if you want to live."

"...Why are you telling me this?"

It even felt like it could have been better if he died without knowing this. Yi Burwin then explained his reason for helping him.

'Because we share the same blood.'

'What? What do you mean?'

'Your mother, Kinghawen, was actually my aunt.'

Kinghawen's true name was Yi Hawen. She was from the Buju Sword clan. Chun Yujong was shocked to hear something he had not known about before. He wasn't told of his mother's true family before, but now he had learned.

'Aunt was adopted into the Sword clan by order of Elder Kingbonkang.'

Yi Hawen was originally appointed to marry the leader of the Giant Sword clan Ha Ilhan, but the Buju Sword clan couldn't object the six clans.

‘Aunt had to suffer for years in the mansion of the Sword clan just to give birth to a prince and died.’

Yi Burwi had heard this from his father Yi Burkin many times. This incident was a scar that was left deep within the Buju Sword clan and still remained.

‘Dammit! Dammit!’

After hearing of his mother’s death and how she had spent years in suffering, Chun Yujong blamed himself for considering he had to be grateful for the Sword clan who raised him until now.

‘Strike them down. That’s the only way for you to survive, and also avenge your aunt.’

‘But I can’t fight all of them by myself.’

Yi Burwi was right in saying that Chun Yujong had to kill the other princes if he were to survive. But he had stopped training for past year, so his power had not grown. But other princes had trained and they now had become super master level warriors already. It was impossible to take five of them on alone. Chun Yujong had no forces to back him up and even if he had, it wasn’t likely anyone would move against six clans.

‘There is a way.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘A way?’

‘It’s a way for you to defeat them easily.’

‘...What do you propose?’

‘It’s through Blood God’s Reversion Art.’

Chapter 243 - Culprit (3)

Chapter 243: Culprit (3)

‘What?’

‘It is an upgraded version of Blood Reversion Art.’

‘What are you talking about! That art is forbidden by the Great High Lord!’

Blood Reversion Art had a bad side effect that made users lose sanity and become mad. It was strictly forbidden from learning or using, but that was what Yi Burwi was suggesting Chun Yujong to learn.

‘No, this one’s different. Blood Reversion Art would be so, but our clan has studied and fixed this to remove the side effects. We did have success.’

‘But how did you...’

‘...We were ordered by the Leader of the Sword clan to do it.’

‘An order from the Sword clan?’

Yi Burwi said both covert operation clans owned by the Sword clan were forced to do many dirty things, including study of the forbidden Blood Reversion Art. But he said that the leader of the Sword clan did not know the existence of the Blood God’s Reversion Art yet.

‘This is different. It won’t make you mad or anything. There won’t be any side effects even if you use them once or twice while in a pinch.’

‘...’

‘You are like my relative. Why would I lie to you?’

At the time, Yi Burwi was grinning in a weird way. But Chun Yujong, gripped with hatred and anger, could not see or care about this. And the night when the Academy ended and every cadet graduated, the incident that caused the entire Demonic Cult to become shocked happened. It was a night of heavy rainfall. Water puddles on the ground were red from blood and there were many bodies ripped apart in all places.

‘Krrrrr....’

And at the front of Chun Yujong with deep reddened eyes, someone was begging. On the puddle, the man was pounding his head, begging for his life. It was Chun Yujing. He begged that he will never tell anyone of Chun Yujong’s secret and begged to be spared.

‘Please! Don’t kill me! W-we are brothers! Please!’

Everytime Chun Yujing mentioned that he was his brother, Chun Yujong was reminded of Yujing saying that he was the son of a peasant girl.

‘Kill him, prince.’

Yi Burwi shouted to Chun Yujong who was gripped with the beastly urge to kill the target. But every time Chun Yujong raised his sword to kill Chun Yujing, he was overwhelmed with a certain unknown emotion and couldn’t do it. He had learned the truth, but he couldn’t kill his brother who he trusted for over 10 years. So, in the end, Chun Yujong couldn’t kill his brother. He just cut his arm off.

‘You will now bark like a dog if I tell you to, and live accordingly.’

‘Aah... Y-yes... thank you... thank you for sparing me!’

‘No! He will be a threat in the future! You must kill him!’

Yi Burwi insisted that Chun Yujong be killed. But Chun Yujong refused and Yi Burwi pulled out his sword and tried to kill Chun Yujong instead and Chun Yujong had to stop Yi Burwi. The next day, Chun Yujong was arrested for killing the princes from the four clans and cutting the arm of Chun Yujong.

‘Why! Why have you not killed him?! WHY!!!’

And during five days at the prison, Chun Yujong suffered from terrible illusions and pain. The Blood God’s Reversion Art, which should not have had any side effects, didn’t take away sanity but there were still side effects. Chun Yujong’s mother, who he had not even seen once in his memory, appeared every night to shout angrily at him.

‘NO! NOOOOO!’

Chun Yujong was finally able to ease down the side effect by meditating continuously. He was finally freed after 10 days. The four clans insisted that Chun Yujong should be persecuted, but the leader of the Sword clan opposed the idea.

‘...Keep your promise.’

This was due to a secret promise being made between Chun Yujong and the leader of the Sword clan. Chun Yujong had threatened the Sword clan that he would reveal the research that was being made on Blood Reversion Art if the Sword clan did not stop doing it and help Chun Yujong instead.

‘Prince.’

When Chun Yujong was freed, Yi Burwi came to him but Chun Yujong warned him to stay away.

‘You told me that Blood God’s Reversion Art does not have any side effects.’

With this, Chun Yujong did not have Yi Burwi come close to him. He thought Yi Burwi was dangerous. But Yi Burwi told Chun Yujong, ‘Well, addiction is something you cannot stop once you start. Kekek.’

Chun Yujong thought if he should kill Yi Burwi, but it was true that Yi Burwi was the nephew of his mother and also helped him so Chun Yujong decided not to kill him. And after a year, the Lord Chun Inji came to visit him. Chun Inji took him to the Altar of Fathers.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘I will make you become the Lord.’

‘What?’

Chun Inji said that he was stepping down to make Chun Yujong the next Lord. He had given up on hope as Chun Inji had postponed appointing the Crown Prince for a year after the other princes were killed. He thought Chun Yuyay would be the Crown Princess instead of him, but this was unexpected.

‘...She is too weak to withstand the danger that is coming to our cult.’

Chapter 244 - Culprit (4)

Chapter 244: Culprit (4)

That was the answer Chun Inji gave to Chun Yujong's question on why he was chosen. It was curious as Chun Inji specifically said 'danger', but Chun Inji did not go into detail. After explaining many things that the Lord should know and do, Chun Inji asked Chun Yujong.

'The throne is not only power. It is a responsibility. You now bear the lives of 100 thousand cultists on your back. Ease your anger inside of you and think only for the future of the cult.'

'...I understand.'

Chun Yujong then swore an oath at the altar that he would serve his entire life to the cult. And with that, Chun Yujong became the Lord, and to keep the promise, he eased his anger. But the anger that already had placed within his heart didn't die out that easily. He took in wives from the six clans as a tradition but he couldn't love any of them.

'...I have to become strong.'

The Lord Chun Yujong largely lived in two ways. When he was done with his official duty as a Lord, he spent all of his time training martial arts. Chun Yujong was appointed as the Lord without any preparations, so he was weaker than the other elders and had to be protected by Great Guardian Marakim. Chun Yujong tried hard to train his martial arts. That's when a change came into his life.

'Oh no... my Lord, how come you always mess up your clothes like that?'

Everytime when he came out of training, a female servant greeted him with a sad look as she looked at Lord's clothing that had turned to rags. He first thought she was amusing and exchanged a few words, and soon it evolved into almost a full day of conversation.

'Wow. You didn't mess up your clothes today!'

'You always blame me for messing up my clothes, so I took it off before I trained. Hwa Yun.'

'Okay, okay. Thank you so much for your generosity. Happy?'

'HMPH! How dare you.'

'...Are you angry at me?'

'Uh- uh...'

Conversations filled with jokes and laughter was something Chun Yujong had not experienced in his entire life. It was warm and happy. Chun Yujong fell in love with the woman who always smiled at him. Her every word and smile was like a bright sun light to Chun Yujong. After a few months, she was pregnant with Chun Yujong's baby and Chun Yujong proposed to marry her. Hwa Yun cried and said that it was against the law of the cult and that she would leave, but Chun Yujong did not allow her.

'No... I will protect you and my baby.'

He couldn't leave his only hope and love. Chun Yujong opened a Great Meeting and declared that she was pregnant with his baby and pressed on with the marriage. All six clans rose up against it stronger than ever. It was so severe that Great High Lord, who was in his closed room training, had to come out temporarily to put a stop to it. And after all that commotion, Chun Yujong was able to marry her but she had to stay outside the Lord's palace.

However, Chun Yujong was always happy when he went to Hwa Yun's house outside the palace. Chun Yujong hoped this happiness would last forever. And with Chun Yujong's attention fully being given to a female servant and her baby, jealousy and hatred began to arise from the wives of the six clans.

'Who is doing such a thing?'

And there had been bad things happening near Hwa Yun's house. It was getting worse and worse so Lord appointed guard warriors and tried to protect Hwa Yun in all ways.

After a while, the Great High Lord who had left his closed room training suddenly went missing. Chun Yujong dispatched people to find him, but he was nowhere to be found. Adding to this problem, Power King Hang Yen took his forces of evil and invaded cult territory. The cult tried hard to keep Chun Inji missing as a secret but it seemed like the forces of evil somehow found out and attacked. The war lasted over six months. And during those times, Hwa Yun became sick and didn't get well.

'My Lord, don't worry about me. I will be fine.'

Chun Yujong was worried about Hwa Yun, but he had to go. Power King Hang Yen himself was at the warfront and killed two elders and even Chun Yujing, so the Lord himself had to go and fight him.

'I... I will return as fast as I can.'

'Yes... I will wait for you.'

Even in her sick bed, Hwa Yun smiled at Chun Yujong. And that was the last smile Chun Yujong saw.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Lord Chun Yujong led a huge army of the Demonic Cult and fought Power King Hang Yen's forces in the battle of the Sawon Plains. Chun Yujong then fought Hang Yen on one on one fight.

'Hahahahaha! To think man such as you is the Lord! You are just a kid compared to Chun Inji!'

Chun Yujong was at the end stage of superior master level, but Power King Hang Yen was at the entry to supreme master level warrior level. Even though Chun Yujong was talented, he lacked power so he couldn't win.

'No... if I lose, the cult... Hwa Yun will...'

Chapter 245 - Culprit (5)

Chapter 245: Culprit (5)

To turn the tide, Chun Yujong had to use Blood God's Reversion Art that he withheld using for 7 years. The energy exploded immediately and turned him into a beast and Hang Yen had to retreat without a victory.

'Y-you are mad!'

He feared for Chun Yujong who seemed to not care about his own life. And with the top five warriors of the Jianghu retreating, Chun Yujong earned the title of top five warrior of the Jianghu followed by Chun Inji. But Chun Yujong's excitement over the victory did not last long.

'Aaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaahhhhh!!!!'

Chun Yujong was enraged when he heard of the death of his wife, Hwa Yun. Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu declared that she had died from poisoning and Chun Yujong ordered a search in the cult to find the killer. But he couldn't find the person who poisoned her. And what was even more painful was...

'Gaaaaaaaaah!!'

Chun Yujong had to lock himself in the training room inside the Lord's palace and to fight against side effect of the Blood God's Reversion Act. His wife Hwa Yun's funeral was in progress, but he had to fight against a heavy headache and illusion inside the locked doors of the training room. He pounded on the wall made out of blue pearl stone until the wall became bloody from the blood that came out of his fist and wailed. But even then, he was afraid he might kill his child because of the illusion.

‘You said... you will wait...’

And after a month of wailing, the headache disappeared. Chun Yujing’s illusion that had been talking to him every day for the past month also disappeared. The symptoms lasted much longer than before. When Chun Yujong got out of the training room, he was now very different. He always lacked emotions, but he was now just cold and was negative on everything.

‘...Who is it?’

Chun Yujong was certain that the killer was within the six clans. He also became hesitant on what he should do with Chun Yeowun. If he were to be left alone, there was a chance that the evil women from the six clans might try to do something to that boy again.

‘They made it so that he can’t learn martial art?’

‘Yes, my lord.’

Chun Yujong became dumbfounded at Marakim’s report. It was beyond expectation that these women went so far as to make the harmless boy not learn any martial arts. But that wasn’t the saddest part.

‘...You did that much to save him?’

While he was at war, Hwa Yun had to make such an unfair promise in hopes of saving her own son.

‘What should I do...’

In truth, Chun Yujong wanted to gather these six wives and kill them all. But that would surely lead to a war against six clans, and that was going to put an end to the Demonic

Cult. Chun Yujong bit his lips and decided. If things had turned to this, he then decided to change the cult from the roots and not allow the six clans to gain more power over the cult. But he had to take it slow as quickly-made changes would weaken the cult.

‘I’m sorry. I’m sorry.’

Chun Yujong felt so much pain when he thought about Chun Yeowun. He wanted to bring in young Chun Yeowun into his protection, but he knew that that would only worsen his relationship with the six clans and also make it harder to find the person behind the killing of his wife.

‘I am sorry, my son.’

Chun Yujong decided to leave young Chun Yeowun as bait to find the killer, and decided to weaken the power of the six clans so that Chun Yeowun would not walk the same path like his mother. He also did not visit Chun Yeowun, thinking that would make him become soft.

‘I am cold. I have to keep the balance of the cult. My son is now only a piece in my chess game.’

The Lord mumbled on the words time and time again, alone in his office. And 10 years had passed. The Lord protected Chun Yeowun without being noticed and acted as if he wasn’t interested in Chun Yeowun. On the first day of Demonic Academy, Chun Yujong was concerned about seeing Hwa Yun’s son for the first time in 10 years. He had refrained from meeting Chun Yeowun as it might make him soft, but this was something he couldn’t avoid. He tried hard to not meet eyes with him but...

‘Ah...’

He recognized Chun Yeowun right away. Yeowun had inherited many features from his mother and it made Chun Yujong too sad. He had to make his speech on the stage short and come down, as he might become too overwhelmed with emotion if he stayed too long.

‘Right Guardian is interested in that boy?’

‘Yes, my lord.’

‘...Tell Left Guardian to let him be.’

‘Why...?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘I do not wish to see one of my child fail from the mere first or second test.’

‘Yes, my lord.’

Yujong sent Marakim to order guards around the medical room to be sent to other places. He couldn’t teach Chun Yeowun any martial arts as the six clans might notice it, so this was a good chance. And after about two months, the Sword clan had bit the bait. They promised to never study Blood Reversion Art, but the Great Sword Martial Clan had revealed themselves.

‘Right Guardian. Arrest Great Sword Martial Clan. If they resist, kill them all.’

Chapter 246 - Culprit (6)

Chapter 246: Culprit (6)

He wished the Buju Sword Clan would also react to it, but they were silent. Right Guardian Submeng didn't seem all that happy at the order however as he thought Yujong was using Chun Yeowun as bait. But this process was needed so the six clans will be weakened slowly.

'That boy is only a chess piece. He is a chess piece...'

He had to remind himself multiple times so he would not get soft. And three years had passed. With Jurkang castle falling to a mysterious clan, Chun Yujong made a deal with the Yulin clan from the forces of justice and went on to take back the castle. He decided to make it quick, as it might start a war in fifteen years.

'I have to solve this before he graduates from the academy.'

If the war prolonged again and Chun Yujong was driven out from the cult, he was afraid he would see the same thing happening again. And at Jurkang Castle, Chun Yujong faced warriors of the Blade God Six Martial clan. They were stronger and more dangerous than any of the enemies he had seen previously.

'I have to kill them.'

He intended on letting elders take care of it, but decided to fight them by himself along with the Great Guardian. That's when the true enemy appeared. Chun Yujong feared the man's power. It felt as if he had returned to the days when he was just a cadet at the academy. The man spoke to Chun Yujong.

‘...You are not the one.’

And with that, he tried to strike down to finish him. Chun Yujong then remembered the faces of Hwa Yun and Chun Yeowun at the moment of death.

‘No... NO!’ If I die, he will be left alone!!’

If he died here, then Chun Yeowun was going to face the six clans alone. Chun Yujong had not protected him and used him as a bait, but he had to stay alive to prevent the six clans from going too far against Chun Yeowun.

‘My Lord, I have to warn you... you said that you watched some illusion for a month after using a certain martial art. You must not use it anymore. If you use it again, it is not certain if the symptom will go away like this time.’

The Demon Doctor warned him of this, but Chun Yujong had no choice.

‘I can’t die here.’

Chun Yujong then used the Blood God’s Reversion Art again. He then didn’t remember anything that happened after. When he was back to his senses, Great Guardian Marakim was helping him stand up.

‘My Lord?’

It felt like his spirit was gone or something, and he couldn’t feel anything. He didn’t even remember how he defeated the enemy. And in his numb state, someone else appeared and helped himself up.

‘Yujing?’

It was Chun Yujing. Chun Yujing, who Yujong thought he was dead, appeared and helped him up.

[You went overboard again. Can you keep the balance of the cult at this rate?]

‘Balance?’

[My, my. Brother, I mean my Lord. If you die, who can keep the balance of the cult?]

Chun Yujong then looked Yujing numbly, and came back to his senses and mumbled.

‘Yes... balance of the cult... I have to keep the balance...!’

“Krrrrrr.... YES! You are just the chess piece!! I... I have to keep the balance of the Demonic Cult!!!”

Chun Yujong, who had been grabbing his head in pain, suddenly pulled up his head with reddened eyes. Unlike before, his eyes were deep red, proving that he was trying to use the Blood God’s Reversion Art. People in the hall became shocked.

“NO!”

“H-he’s using Blood Reversion Art!”

Even if the Lord was in a bad condition and was in danger, nobody thought he would use Blood Reversion Art. And there was a man who was grinning.

‘Kakaka! That’s it! Now... go mad and kill the Crown Prince, the six clans and do your job!’

It was good that he sent a telepathic message to rile the Lord. Now, the Lord will go mad and attack anyone within his reach. With the Blood God's Reversion Art active, the Lord's muscle began to enlarge and ripped the clothes. It was then.

Chun Yeowun bolted out like lightning and quickly grabbed Chun Yujong's head and placed his hand over his chest.

"Krrrr! What are you doing!"

"I'm sorry, but I've been through this too much. This will hurt."

"What?!"

'NANO!!'

[Yes, master.]

And from Yeowun's left hand, white lightning bolted out, charging into the Lord's blood point over the head. And from the right hand, powerful internal energy was sent into the Lord's body and held on the energy that was trying to flow in reverse.

"Gaaaaaaaaagagagagaga!"

And with the powerful electric shock, Lord Chun Yujong trembled severely. He shook his head and screamed for a long time while his hair and all of his face was burnt and soon dropped to the ground.

Everyone became dumbfounded by the sight.

'W-what?! What is this?!'

The man who was watching became shocked. He didn't expect Chun Yeowun to stop Chun Yujong before he could even activate the Blood God's Reversion Art. And what was that weird energy coming out from his left hand? And it was then.

“WHAT?!”

Chun Yeowun suddenly appeared in front of the man.

“A-already?!”

The man was so shocked by Chun Yeowun’s lightning speed and tried to run away, but Yeowun quickly grabbed him by the neck and pulled him up.

“KEK!”

He tried to pull himself out of Yeowun’s grasp, but the power was beyond that of any ordinary man. Chun Yeowun glared up at the man he picked him up and glared as he asked,

“You... who are you?”

Chapter 247 - Culprit (7)

Chapter 247: Culprit (7)

Great Guardian Marakim had told Chun Yeowun of the truth. He said that Lord Chun Yujong had not shown in public, but always helped and protected Chun Yeowun in a way that it cannot be seen. But Chun Yeowun couldn't believe everything. To him, the Lord was cold hearted man who did not even visit even when Lady Hwa died.

'Mother waited for the Lord even on her dying breath.'

Yeowun couldn't ease down his anger toward the Lord when he remembered his mother. And he also saw the Lord using him multiple times.

'He used me as a chess piece but he was actually trying to protect me?'

He couldn't believe it. But if the Great Guardian said was true, and the Lord was just gone mad from using Blood Reversion Art, then Yeowun needed to correct this first.

'If that really is true, I will listen to it from his own mouth.'

While Marakim and Yin Moha was undergoing meditation to heal their wounds, Yeowun went to check on Kingbonki's body.

'Nano, can you analyze a body?'

[Scanning the target entity with Magnetic Resonance Imaging is possible. Please move over the body slowly with your palm hovering over it.]

Yeowun couldn't analyze any of the body of enemies that used blood reversion art until now. It was likely that he was going to learn something if he analyze it. If he can stop the person using it from going mad, then maybe it was possible to meet Lord with his sanity.

"Kek... kek..."

The mysterious man being strangled up coughed in pain. The man couldn't believe the situation. Blood God's Reversion Art was something that would make energy began to flow in reverse, so that it cannot be stopped until the user dies or go mad and use all of its energy. He didn't think that it will be stopped from flowing backward even before it started.

'W-what kind of monster is he?!'

And Yeowun asked the man again.

"I asked you. Who are you?"

"W-what are you talking about- Kaaaak!"

Yeowun grabbed on his hand harder and the man's face reddened. He had stayed silent in the halls, but he was now being grabbed by his neck, so he was now even confused if he whispered out instead of sending telepathic message. It was another clan leader who was next of them who spoke identity of the man.

"L-Lord Chun Ma. He is the leader of Buju Sword clan, Yi Burwi."

"Buju Sword clan?"

Chun Yeowun raised his eyes. He already knew that Buju Sword clan was covert operation group owned by Sword clan. But why did he sent telepathic message to make the Lord use Blood God's Reversion Art? The Lord became more confused when he heard it and went on to use it.

When Chun Yeowun entered the hall, he activated tapping mode on telepathic message to listen to all messages being made, and Yi Burwi was caught on his radar.

"Kek... L-Lord Chun Ma... why are you doing this to me?"

Yi Burwi decided to lie. He didn't say anything out loud, so if he insist then it was going to make Chun Yeowun a weirdo. There were clan leaders looking at them confusingly. But Chun Yeowun shook his head and sent telepathic message.

[You told the Lord to use Blood God's Reversion Art and kill me, and remaining elders from three clans. Wasn't that what you said?]

"?!"

Yi Burwi's eye grew large. He did sent the telepathic message to the Lord. But how can Chun Yeowun, who was busily fighting against Chun Yujong know this? And how did he know about the telepathic message?

'N..no way. How can one overhear a telepathic message?'

It was unbelievable. No one, not even strongest warrior in the world can overhear telepathic message. And as if his mind was read, Yeowun sent another telepathic message.

[Why? Are you shocked that I overheard your telepathic message? You said I made a treason and are you trying to say you don't know anything about it?]

‘What!’

Yi Burwi’s eye began to shake. He wasn’t sure until now, but this confirmed it.

‘I-t’s impossible! H-he can really listen to telepathic messages!’

This was very dangerous skill. Telepathic message was a way to send information to specific target without having others from hearing it. But if it was able to overhear, then one telepathic message might work against the secret plan.

‘N-no! I have to stop him from sending me telepathic message!’

Yi Burwi quickly analyzed the situation. If Yeowun can overhear telepathic message, then he had to stop his partner from using the telepathic message.

“Kek... T-telepa...”

“Who told you to speak?”

“UGH!”

Yeowun grabbed harder on the neck to stop Yi Burwi from speaking. There was only one way left. With the plan failed, he had to take all the blame to let others to go out of the castle. It was when Yi Burwi was pulling up his energy to flow in reverse.

[Ugh. Our plan failed. We have no choice. Leader Yi, die together with the Crown Prince. I will take care of this place and retreat.]

Yi Burwi frowned. He was going to use the Blood Reversion Art to get out of Yeowun's grasp and shout so that his partner will not use the telepathic message, but it was too late.

'N-no way!'

And Chun Yeowun's eye immediately turned to someone. It was the leader of Palace Guard Pahin, fighting against Hou Sangwha near the entrance.

'Dammit!'

Yi Burwi then reversed energy in unique blood points. His muscles began to expand and veins popped up over his neck. Chun Yeowun's grasp was thrown back. Yi Burwi had to grab onto Chun Yeowun to die together before he can get to Pahin. But...

"UGH!"

"You are a fool. You saw that it won't work."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yeowun placed his hand on Yi Burwi's head and placed another hand on Yi Burwi's chest and tried to use electric shock and energy to stop the flow.

"UGH!"

With electric shock coming in, Yi Burwi pushed out the hand over his head and threw punch into Yeowun's chest.

'He moved?'

Chapter 248 - Culprit (8)

Chapter 248: Culprit (8)

Yeowun quickly jumped back and Yi Burwi also got back to get distance. When he reached the back, his clothes were ripped apart as his muscles were expanding. Veins popped up all over, making him look disgusting. What was different was that he was using Blood Reversion Art but his eyes weren't red.

'It's different. I sealed the correct blood points but he's still moving.'

It seemed like the energy flow points were different. As proof of it being different, Yi Burwi didn't turn beastly like others. But he still had become more aggressive.

'You think this is the same as that incomplete blood reversion art? This is the true Blood God's Reversion Art.'

Unlike the one that Chun Yujong or Kingbonki had learned, this was the true, completed version of Blood God's Reversion Art. It removed most of its side effects and allowed one to increase the power. The only downside was that it had a time limit. It only remained for five minutes and the one using it would pass out at the end. But that was enough time to use everything in his power to die together with Chun Yeowun.

"B-blood reversion art!"

"Lord Chun Ma was right!"

"Arrest him!"

Clan leaders began to surround him. If the one other than the Lord was using blood reversion art, then they had to put him down. They hadn't brought any weapons in here, but they were still master to super master level warriors. Five clan leaders charged at Yi Burwi, but Yi Burwi dodged their attacks and countered them.

"Ugh!"

"H-how can he be so powerful!?"

Two clan leaders were thrown to the back. They tried to defend, but they couldn't defend against powerful energy.

"Take this!"

Leader of Sword Illusion clan, Muk Yen, charged at Yi Burwi from the back. His force qi struck into Yi Burwi's back but...

"Ugh. G-get away from me!"

"W-what?!"

Force qi was only pushed into about the fingertip and strong energy retention pushed Muk Yen out. It wasn't as hard as Kingbonki's body, but his body had grown very dense.

"Hah!"

And Yi Burwi charged toward Chun Yeowun.

'I just need to kill you!'

He didn't have time to fight others. If he killed Chun Yeowun who could hear the telepathic messages, their plans would still fail but they would be more successful in the end.

Yi Burwi's hand wielded blue force qi. It was larger than any force qi that the others used. It was as large as what Kingbonki used when he used the Blood God's Reversion Art.

"L-Lord Chun Ma!!"

Clan leaders shouted. Yi Burwi quickly unleashed sword formation with his force qi over his hand. The power of the formation struck down upon Chun Yeowun, trying to tear him apart into pieces.

"DIE!!"

And at that moment...

"...Huh?"

With the sound of something being cut off, something dropped to the ground. It was an enlarged arm covered with bulging veins. It was Yi Burwi's arm.

"Aaaaaaaaargh!!!!!"

Chun Yeowun's hand, which was empty until now, had the Sky Demon Sword glowing with black force qi. Yi Burwi screamed in pain while he grabbed his shoulder. His body had grown so tough to even withstand against force qi, but it was cut off easily.

"Aaaargh... M-my arm... my arm!!"

He was in pain, and was confused. More powerful warriors were no match even they used Blood God's Reversion Art, so there was no way for Yi Burwi to defeat Chun Yeowun, even if the art was completed. Chun Yeowun asked Yi Burwi,

“I guess you will refuse to deactivate the blood reversion art, right?”

“What- Aaaaaaargh!”

And before he could even respond, Yi Burwi’s other arm was cut off. Yeowun was trying to make it so that he cannot even try to fight back. But that wasn’t the end.

“I just need your head and your body.”

“W...what are you.... N... no... AAAAAARGH!”

With the black sword shooting past over his thighs, Yi Burwi dropped to the ground. Both his legs were cut off. But Yeowun just looked down at him coldly.

“Nngh.... Y... you monster...!!!”

Chun Yeowun was much more colder than Chun Yujong. He had no mercy toward enemies. Yi Burwi realized that he was no match against Chun Yeowun even after using Blood God’s Reversion Art. But it was now too late.

‘Is... is he really a monster? ...I guess this is it... at least I bought time for Pahin to run away... I should kill myself now.’

“Argh!”

And someone dropped next to him, who was lying on the ground limbless. He turned his head and checked the man dropped and frowned.

‘W-what?!’

It was Palace Guard leader, Pahin. His blood points were sealed, so Pahin couldn’t even move.

“Ngnnngh!!”

“I have captured him, as you ordered.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The person who got him down here was 10th Elder Yin Moha. Pahin’s face turned red and glared at Yin Moha.

“NNn....noo! Aaaaargh!”

There was no way Yeowun would not do anything when he knew who Yi Burwi’s partner was. Yi Burwi’s buying time was not successful. Yi Burwi screamed in anger, but Yeowun ignored it and ordered to every elder and clan leader in the hall, “I order you as the Lord Chun Ma. Arrest every member from the Buju Sword clan and the Palace Guards. If they resist, you may kill them.”

“Yes, my Lord!!”

Chapter 249 - Culprit (9)

Chapter 249: Culprit (9)

With the official order from the Lord Chun Ma, the clan leaders moved quickly. Chun Yeowun's authority and power he showed was enough to make cultists follow him. Clan Leaders all charged out of the hall and began to arrest the Palace Guards. The warriors within the top 200 of the cult began searching the palace, and the progress was quick.

There were also other palace guards inside the hall. These were the twelve best warriors from the Palace Guards that were appointed directly under the Lord. 3rd Elder Bu Churyong walked over to them with blue force qi over his hand.

"Do not resist," Bu Churyong warned and ten warriors went down on their knees, showing their sign of surrender. They only moved under the Lord's order, but when Chun Yujong used Blood reversion art, they realized something had gone wrong and surrendered. But not all of them were real Palace Guards. Two of them within the hall looked weird.

'What should I do?'

'Dammit.'

They didn't think their leaders would be overpowered so easily. They were finally able to be appointed as the Lord's direct guards when the Lord's mental health became worse, but it seemed like everything was going to fail without them doing anything.

"You two seem to know something."

And from their hesitation, Bu Churyong recognized them to be the enemy. Bu Churyong charged at them.

‘We have no choice.’

[I’ll defend him. Go kill the Lord!]

One of the warriors unleashed force qi and struck Bu Churyong. He wasn’t sure how long he could withstand the powerful warrior, but he had to buy time.

[Okay.]

Another warrior then charged in against the Lord who was on the ground by the throne. Marakim was checking on him, but the warrior was going to push him in some way and kill the Lord who was unconscious.

“Haaaaaaah!”

But when Marakim waved his hand, three swords that dropped within the halls floated in the air and charged at the warrior.

‘A-air sword?!’

The warrior became shocked and tried to defend himself. He was able to fend off one of the swords, but he couldn’t defend himself against the remaining two.

“Ugh!”

Two swords penetrated the warrior’s two shoulders. His body couldn’t resist the powerful energy wielded in these swords and was pushed up in the air and was pinned against one of the pillars in the halls.

“D-dammit! Aaaaargh!”

He wanted to pull out two swords, but the energy coming through the wound was so painful that he couldn't move.

"Aaaaargh!"

And the warrior who charged against Bu Churyong screamed in pain. He thought he could last at least unleash the three formation, but he couldn't even defend himself against the first formation and lost his two arms.

"I told you not to resist."

"Aaaaargh...!"

Chun Yeowun had been too powerful that made it feel like they were weak, but these were within top five warriors in rank within the cult. And what was happening outside wasn't much different. There were three hundred palace guards, but not all of them were spies. When clan leaders ran out to arrest them, they all became shocked.

"W-why are clan leaders attacking us?!"

"Has something gone wrong?"

They were originally trying to charge into the hall under order of their leader Pahin. They first thought there was an uprising, started by the masked servants, but it seemed that wasn't the case.

"Lord Chun Ma ordered that we can kill if you resist. Do not show your mercy on the traitors!"

"Yes, sir!"

Ko Wanghin from the Demon Fist clan shouted and the clan leaders showed no mercy. There were some palace guards who did resist intensely as if they were truly traitors, and died.

“I- I surrender!”

“I-I’m not a traitor!’

Many guards began to surrender and it became much more easier to pinpoint the traitors among them.

‘Dammit! Dammit!’

Yi Burwi was furious as he stayed on the ground limbless. His family was ordered to proceed with the plan on his generation, and they planned very carefully but it all failed just because of one man. Starting with his grandfather, a total of three generations had spent so much time and effort to earn the Sword clan’s trust.

‘If the messenger who has the order from him comes, our 100 year plan will begin. Do you understand this? Burwi?’

And as former leader Yi Burkem said, the messenger really appeared, even when it required them to show their hidden identity to Yulin. Yi Burwi was glad that time had finally come, but the plan was now over.

And in Yi Burwi’s ear, he heard a whistle from outside. His eyes made it seem like he had been waiting for this, so Yeowun asked curiously, “What is it?”

“Keke... You think you won? You think you are victorious?”

“...What are you talking about?”

It seemed like whistle sound that was heard outside was related to it. Everything had failed, but Yi Burwi was excited to strike Chun Yeowun in one way.

“I couldn’t kill you or any of the remaining clans, but I will take the guardians with me.”

“What?” Yeowun asked back with a frown.

“Who do you think is guarding those Guardians in prison? With the signal just now, I’m sure their heads will be rolling on the cold prison floor!”

That was the meaning of the whistle. It was planned ahead in case of any emergencies. The whistle was a signal to the palace guards to kill the Left and Right Guardians.

‘The two guardians who work for you... go look at their dead bodies and wail! Hahahaha!’

But Chun Yeowun looked weird. He didn’t seem to be worried as he shook his head.

‘What?’

Yi Burwi became confused and Yeowun scoffed at him.

“Is that all?”

“What?”

The two guardians, who were also the two most powerful warriors within the cult and best advisors to Chun Yeowun, might be in danger but he didn’t seem to care much.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

At the same time, at a prison located toward southeast of the Lord’s palace, there was a small cell with two middle aged men tied tightly to their chairs. They were Left Guardian Lee Hameng and Right Guardian Submeng.

They were frustrated as they were imprisoned together. They had to follow orders from the Lord, but they also had their blood points sealed so they couldn't move, which made them even more concerned.

And it was weird that the palace guards were moving up and down the corridor outside the cell with their weapons, as if they were waiting for something. Lee Hameng sighed. He didn't think he would be targeted while he was working as Chief of the Academy.

'Has the Lord truly gone mad?'

Chapter 250 - Culprit (10)

Chapter 250: Culprit (10)

He only thought his enemies were the six clans, so it was hard to believe that the Lord had ordered this. He was also frustrated that he didn't know what was going on outside. If they were arrested like this, it was likely that something happened to the other elders who sided with Chun Yeowun.

'The Crown Prince might be in danger.'

That concern also was shared by Right Guardian Submeng. Submeng had lost an eye and had taken internal damage that made him stay at home to meditate, but he was arrested nonetheless so he was certain that something wasn't going right.

'Whew.. whew...'

Submeng spent four hours focusing on his energy to pull out the giant needle stuck in his body that sealed his blood point.

'Again...!'

Submeng focused on the blood point with all of his might. But it wasn't easy. After failing another attempt, Submeng let out a large sigh and panted.

"Aaaaaah... hu..."

"What? What are you doing?"

A palace guard found this out and shouted as he tapped on the iron bar. Lee Hameng knew Submeng was trying to pull out the needle already, so he shouted loudly, "You call yourself a Guardian when you can't even stay quiet while being tied down?"

"What? Ugh... hah... you red haired idiot. Think where we are before picking a fight with me."

"Just go to sleep if you can't stay still."

"You!"

Submeng understood what Lee Hameng was trying to do, so he played along. With two of them arguing, the palace guard sighed and turned away. He had seen the two Guardians arguing with each other ever since they were imprisoned so he didn't think it was anything strange.

"Whew."

Lee Hameng sighed in relief.

'Try to be careful, you fool.'

It was good that Submeng was trying, but he kept on making mistakes that made Lee Hameng become afraid. But he was also astounded by Submeng's persistent tries. Lee Hameng tried few times before he gave up, but Submeng was trying hard to the end.

'I should try it again.'

It was then that he heard a small whistling sound from outside the prison. The palace guards then grinned as if they were waiting for that signal and pulled out their swords.

"W-what? Wait... what are you-!"

Submeng shouted frantically as he saw these warriors readying to strike. It seemed they were going to kill them. One of them tried to open the cell door. Lee Hameng realized he shouldn't stay still and tried to at least get him out from the rope, but it was no use. His internal energy was sealed so he couldn't use any energy.

"Ugh!"

He regretted that he had not tried harder. Even if it was an order made by the Lord, he thought he should have tried to get the seal out. And it was when the cell door was almost unlocked.

"W-who are you!"

A large bodied man burst into the underground floor and charged toward the prison guards. The man moved quickly and struck his fist wielding blue force qi into the guards.

"Argh!"

The power strike threw the prison guard away to the prison wall. Lee Hameng became dumbfounded when he saw the large man with a long beard.

"Ko Wanghur?"

The man was Ko Wanghur. Palace guards tried to attack Ko Wanghur when another man jumped in and kicked them. It was Bakgi. Bakgi stormed in upon them to push the guards away. His kicks were too fast for the palace guards who swung their swords in the small prison corridor and they couldn't react to it.

"S-since when-?"

“We were waiting for a while now. Hah!”

“Argh!”

Ko Wanghur and Bakgi quickly overpowered the palace guards. And with two of them arriving at the right moment, the two Guardians sighed in relief as they were saved.

“Do you not see what it means for the elders of the three clans to help me?”

“What?”

Yi Burwi became surprised. The Lord had sent Yeowun’s members to be appointed at the groups owned by the four clans purposely. This removed Yeowun’s members to be out of the picture. But with four clans siding with Yeowun now, then it meant his members were free to move.

“Do you think I would leave the two Guardians without any help?”

“N-no! You’re just bluffing!”

“Well, you can believe what you want.”

Yeowun spoke casually and Yi Burwi became shocked. If Yeowun really sent his members to the prison, then Yi Burwi failed with every plan that he made.

“You should be worried about yourself.”

“Ugh... YOU!!!”

‘I have no choice.’

Yi Burwi then made a choice. The reason he was left alive was because Yeowun was thinking about finding out who Yi Burwi was working for. He still had the Blood God's Reversion Art activated, so Yi Burwi decided to kill himself by increasing the reverse flow even more.

"HAH!"

Yi Burwi focused on the energy and his body began to expand more, as if it would explode.

"Hahaha! It's no use! My Blood God's Reversion Art changes all blood points so you won't block me from doing this!"

This was why Yeowun couldn't stop Yi Burwi from using Blood God's Reversion Art. Yi Burwi did not want to die, but it was better to die than to survive and suffer from torture.

His body had expanded twice as large and veins popped up all over his face, making him look disgusting. Yi Burwi then spoke while holding on to his sickness coming up from inside.

"Ugh... don't be too excited that you've won here. Our clan's power reaches not only to the Demonic Cult, but beyond... ugh!"

But Yeowun wasn't focusing on him. Yeowun's hand passed through Yi Burwi's face, and Yi Burwi noticed some kind of faint light. Yeowun then quickly swept through his body, unclear as to what he was trying to do.

"Ugh.. I don't know what... ugh... you are trying to do... but-Ugh. Nothing will work...!"

Yeowun then placed his palm below Yi Burwi's right ear and placed his right palm over Yi Burwi's chest. Yi Burwi became shocked and tried to speak.

“What are you trying to... Gaaagagagagagagaga!”

With electricity coming through his body, Yi Burwi trembled and screamed. The electric shock made him feel like his entire body was twisted. It was so painful that Yi Burwi screamed before he passed out. But he didn't stay that way for long.

“ARGH!”

Yi Burwi woke up from the pain coming from his cheek.

“W-what? Why am I...?!”

He didn't die. His body should have exploded after all his veins expanded beyond limits, but his body turned back to normal, just like when Chun Yujong was stopped from going mad. Yeowun then scoffed at Yi Burwi and spoke.

“That worked, didn't it? So, let's talk about your clan now.”

‘...D-dammit!’

Chapter 251 - Coronation (1)

Chapter 251: Coronation (1)

Fourth Elder Ja Kinkeng and Sixth Elder Mong Oh were leading their groups toward the mansion of the Buju Sword clan located on the east side of the castle. There weren't a lot of spies within the palace guards as the palace guards were appointed through careful screening.

"Make it quick!"

"Yes, sir!"

There was a reason why Ja Kinkeng and Mong Oh were moving so quickly. A while ago, one of the traitors from the palace guards blew a whistle, but they weren't sure what the signal meant. It was possible that the remaining traitors might try to escape so they had to work fast. All castle gates were sealed and the entire castle was under emergency mode, so they thought it wasn't be easy for them to run.

"L-look!"

Then they saw black smoke coming up from the direction they were running from. They also saw flame coming up. Ja Kinkeng and Mong Oh then had to work to put out the fire at the mansion of the Buju Sword clan.

"Put out the fire!"

"Keep it contained!"

"Ugh.. we are late."

The heat blocked them from the outside. The entire mansion was oiled so it would burn, and the flame was taking everything away. All they could do was contain the fire so it wouldn't spread in another way. While Mong Oh and his groups worked to put out the fire, remaining groups led by Ja Kinkeng began searching through the castle to find ones related to the Buju Sword clan.

Three days passed. Lot of things happened during those times. The fire at the Buju Sword clan's mansion was put out but there were no survivors. Most bodies were all burned up, and the bodies found where the fire did not burn it all were also dead as they killed themselves. Everything was planned so that they could remove every trace. And the Buju Sword clan wasn't the only one. The Sword clan was also searched thoroughly and those who had a relationship to the Buju Sword clan were all found dead. The only survivor was Yi Burwi, so he was treated for his cut limbs and was now locked to go under investigation. All members from the Sword clan were arrested to undergo investigation as well and all groups owned by them were disbanded.

"A total of fourteen guards from the Palace Guards were found to be from the Buju Sword clan."

"I see."

Among the 300 Palace Guards, there was a total of fourteen traitors, including Pahin, the newly-appointed leader.

"From what we see, there were only five before, but nine were added this time."

Pahin was only one of three lieutenantS, but after the Lord returned from Jukang Castle, Pahin was appointed to a leader. Left Guardian Lee Hameng questioned Pahin and Yi Burwi himself but there wasn't much outcome. The ones talking in the Lord's office were Chun Yeowun and Great Guardian Marakim.

After the incident, Chun Yeowun now was at the palace and was helping three guardians and other elders take care of the issue. He was the Crown Prince and also the new Chun Ma so no one objected to it.

“Lord Chun Ma. 11th Elder requests to see you.”

“Let him come in.”

Office door opened and 11th Elder Huan Yi entered. He still wore red silk clothes with butterfly embroidery, but had a different mask this time. He usually wore a handsome man’s mask, but he looked like any ordinary man right now. But he still had heavy makeup, and that gave him a feminine feel.

“Greetings, Lord Chun Ma.”

“Are you already up?”

“Huhu. How can I, a mere servant of Lord Chun Ma, rest while you are so busy at work?”

Huan Yi had to walk into the trap set up for Chun Yeowun. If Huan Yi wasn’t helped by reinforcements, he might have not survived. With two warrior groups coming to his aid, Huan Yi fought against warriors from the Buju Sword clan. The Buju Sword clan members were outnumbered, but they used blood reversion art so it caused many casualties.

“I have something to report.”

“...Is it about the chase?”

“Yes, my lord.”

After four hours of battle, Huan Yi was able to defeat them. But when he checked the bodies of the Buju Sword clan, he found out that a few of them were missing. Their leader Jukem and the other three were missing, so Huan Yi organized a chase party and sent a message to his spy network to find any trace of them from Bokgun and Kangsuh Castle.

“I received a message from the north of the Bokgun Castle.”

“Did we find them?”

“Yes. We found their trace in a small village... I’m sorry, my lord.”

“We lost them.”

“Yes. Two of my warriors asked for reinforcements and followed them but they went missing.”

“Get up.”

Huan Yi was on his knees to apologize and Yeowun brought him up. He then walked over to the Jianghu map over at the wall. The village north of Bokgun Castle was very close to Jurkang Castle.

“They went over to Jurkang Castle.”

“That’s what we thought as well.”

They searched all around Bokgun Castle, but nothing was found. The last trace of Huan Yi’s warriors were left off near the Jurkang Castle. They couldn’t search Jurkang Castle as it was the territory of the Blade God Six Martial clan, so they had to return.

“I guess it is likely that they are involved in this.”

“From what we can see... that is most likely.”

Yeowun had guessed that the Buju Sword clan was related to the Blade God Six Martial clan already. He had a reason for this suspicion. Those who were captured as prisoners were quiet, but there was one mystery that was solved by the incident.

‘I was right... with the poison and all.’

The liquor that served to the feast with the Yulin clan was poisoned. The only spy at that moment was only one. It was impossible for one man to poison all the liquor, so Yeowun thought it was weird. He heard that the Palace Guards searched the foods, so if there were this many traitors in the palace guards, then that mystery was solved. And if that was related, then it was likely that the Buju Sword clan was related to the Blade God Six Martial clan.

‘Hmph.’

After looking it up, Yeowun was able to find out that the Buju Sword clan originated from the outside, and they had only joined the cult for sixty years. Their based used to be in Jurkang Castle, but they lost to the Demonic Cult when Chun Inji led his expedition towards the north and entered the castle.

‘I don’t understand. They waited that long?’

If they were related to the Blade God Six Martial clan for that long, then it meant they had spent a long time sneaking into the castle. It had been only a month since the Blade God Six Martial clan appeared. It seemed just too long to suspect a relationship. But what got into Yeowun’s mind was what Yi Burwi said before he tried to kill himself.

[Ugh... don’t be too excited that you won here. Our clan’s power reaches not only to the Demonic Cult, but beyond...

ugh!]

He said it as if their powers reached all parts of the Jianghu. It sounded like the 'clan' Yi Burwi mentioned wasn't the Buju Sword clan.

'I would know if I can make him speak...'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

But that wasn't easy. On first day, Yeowun tortured him in all kinds of ways, but Yi Burwi never spoke anything.

'There must be a way for him to speak... oh!'

Yeowun then came up with one idea he had not thought of. It seemed like there might be a chance. Yeowun suddenly got up from his seat and Marakim and Huan Yi became curious. Marakim asked, "My Lord, what is it?"

"I have to talk to the Demon Doctor."

Chapter 252 - Coronation (2)

Chapter 252: Coronation (2)

“Yes? But the Great Meeting will be held soon...”

The Great Meeting was going to be held very soon. Clan leaders were already gathering at the Great Halls.

“It won’t be long.”

“Understood.”

Chun Yeowun then came out of the office with Marakim and Huan Yi to head into the medical room. There were many warriors from the Guardians standing guard, and there was one who was the most important one staying in the medical room now.

“Hail Lord Chun Ma!”

Warriors all knelt down when Yeowun appeared. They truly admired Chun Yeowun, as it was Yeowun who saved the Guardians from disbandment. With warriors shouting in unison, Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu and other doctors came out from the room.

“Hail, Lord Chun Ma.”

Doctors bowed and Yeowun also bowed back. All the doctors seemed exhausted, as they had spent the whole night treating a patient. Yeowun spoke to Baek Jongwu.

“How’s it going, Doctor Baek?”

“I am sorry, my lord. I have not found any progress.”

“Ah...”

Yeowun moaned. Since three days ago, Lord Chun Yujong was sent into a medical room and was being treated by the Demon Doctor, but there was no progress. Yeowun had stopped the Blood God's Reversion Art from going loose, and was able to also help Chun Yujong break out from his illusions. Yeowun thought everything had worked as he intended, but it didn't work as he hoped. The Lord woke up for a brief moment, but he was still under an illusion and repeated 'No' before he passed out again. He hadn't woken up since.

‘What is the problem?’

Yeowun scanned his head with MRI, but didn't find anything strange. He wasn't sure why Chun Yujong was still under an illusion and why he couldn't wake up.

[There is no similar recorded data, so correct analysis is impossible.]

Nano said the only way to analyze correctly was to send in a Nano machine, but it said that was impossible as it was forbidden by the program.

“...”

Yeowun looked at Lord Chun Yujong lying on the bed. He was frustrated every time he saw his father. He wanted to ask the truth and what he really thought, but he didn't know things would turn out this way. The illusion Chun Yujong saw in the end before he passed out was not his brother Chun Yujong.

‘Hwa Yun... Hwa Yun... you said you'd wait for me... Ah...’

Yeowun saw that Chun Yujong wailed and sobbed before he suddenly repeated 'No' as if he was being attacked. He couldn't recognize anyone, neither Chun Yeowun or Marakim who stood by him.

"I am sorry. My skills are out of reach for this symptom. Please punish me."

The Demon Doctor spoke with his head down. He was actually a very talented doctor, almost equal to the doctor appointed to the Emperor himself. If the Demon Doctor couldn't find the reason for this state, then it meant it was beyond any of the normal circumstances.

"...It's okay."

It was easy to see all the doctors trying their best. All Yeowun could do was to trust his doctors for now. Yeowun then remembered the orange tag he had. It was the tag that allowed him to meet the Godly Doctor. Maybe that was necessary if he were to wake up the Lord. But it had been only three days so Yeowun decided to wait a bit longer.

"My Lord. The meeting will begin soon."

"Oh."

Yeowun then came back to his senses and remembered why he came here. Yeowun quickly asked Baek Jongwu, "Doctor. Did you finish analyzing the poison that we found at the party with the Yulin clan?"

"Do you mean the one that had the Opium Poppy?"

"Yes. Can you replicate that poison?"

"It is certainly possible. But why...?"

Yeowun looked eager.

At the great halls, all elders and clan leaders were gathered. Those elders who were sent out of the castle returned, so it wasn't as empty as before. Third elder Bu Churyong, Fourth Elder Ja Kinkeng, Fifth Elder Hang Soyu, Sixth Elder Mong Oh, Eighth Elder Mun Yun, Ninth Elder Sama Yi, Tenth Elder Yin MOha and 11th Elder Huan Yi all sat down on their seats. Soon, a loud shout rang through the halls.

“Lord Chun Ma now enters the hall!”

Chun Yeowun appeared with black clothes with gold embroidery and every cultist got up and knelt down on one knee.

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

Third Elder then shouted, “We, humble cultists, greet Lord Chun Ma!”

And everyone repeated after him.

Yeowun was a young man, but his authority over the cult was powerful. The name Chun Ma wielded that much importance and power. With three guardians standing behind him, Yeowun walked up to the Lord's throne. Next to his throne was another throne that was also very lavish like that of the Lord's. It was a temporary throne for Chun Yeowun that was made by an Elder.

“Hmm.”

Yeowun was surprised to find the throne that he had not seen even in the morning. It seemed he was meant to sit there, not on the throne of the Lord. It was easy to see who was behind this.

‘They just can’t wait, huh?’

Yeowun turned to the elders from three clans. They sided with Chun Yeowun after acknowledging Chun Yeowun as the true Chun Ma, but with every danger settled, they were now expressing their thoughts.

‘The Lord has not appointed him as the new Lord, so he cannot sit on his throne yet.’

‘We have to get as much as we can beforehand.’

If Yeowun wanted to sit on the throne, then he will have to duke it out with the three clans, just like the other Lords did. Yeowun shook his head and laughed. He then lightly touched the new throne and walked past it to sit on the Lord’s throne.

‘Huh?’

Bu Churyong, Ja Kinkeng and Hang Soyu frowned. They had reported this to Great Guardian Marakim of the new change, but Chun Yeowun sat on the Lord’s throne anyway.

“Hmm... Lord Chun Ma. Your seat is...”

‘W-what?’

But before Bu Churyong can finish, the throne next to the Lord’s throne immediately turned into dust. It was because Yeowun had sent energy into it when he touched it. With Yeowun destroying the new chair and sitting down on the Lord’s chair, the three elders were lost for words.

“My seat is- what?”

Yeowun then raised his hand and Marakim shouted.

“You may sit!”

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

All clan leaders then sat down.

‘Ugh...’

‘He’s unstoppable.’

The three elders were angry but they couldn’t say anything. Today’s meeting was a meeting to talk about strengthening the defense of the cult against future spies, and to appoint new leaders to empty spots. All elders agreed on this last night, so Chun Ma Chun Yeowun had gathered them here.

“We will begin the Great Meeting.”

Marakim spoke and Bu Churyong got up to announce what was decided in the Elder’s meeting. It was about the change for the current Elders.

“For the first...”

That’s when Marakim stopped him.

“Wait. Third Elder, you may sit for now.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“What?”

“Before we go further, we should talk about Lord Chun Ma’s coronation ceremony.”

“W-what? Coronation ceremony?”

It was something they had not talked about in the elder's meeting. Bu Churyong and the other two elders became dumbfounded.

Chapter 253 - Coronation (3)

Chapter 253: Coronation (3)

In most cases, things that will be talked over at the Great Meeting had to be talked over at the Elder's meeting. There had been many things that were discussed at the Elder's meeting that was held overnight, but there wasn't anything regarding Chun Yeowun's coronation. The three elders were relieved that none of the elders siding with Chun Yeowun spoke of it, so they were shocked to hear this.

"G-Great Guardian. May I object?"

Fifth Elder Hang Soyu raised an objection and got up. She then looked at Great Guardian Marakim and spoke.

"This has not been talked over before."

"Y-yes. I am not sure why we are talking about an issue that we have not talked over at the Elder's meeting."

Fourth Elder Ja Kinkeng also rose up to add the comment. If they didn't do something, it looked like Chun Yeowun's coronation ceremony would be decided. They couldn't let that happen before setting their scores with Chun Yeowun.

"I believe we can talk about that after our Lord wakes up from his sick bed. It's better for us to move onto the next topic."

Third Elder Bu Churyong spoke to finish the topic. But he was talking to other elders and clan leaders so that he could get their agreement.

'So, we have become this powerless.'

Bu Churyong realized how weak their three clans had become while saying this. If it was before, the six clans did not have to ask for other elders or clan leaders for their agreement. They just had to do it. But things were different now. Unlike Chun Yujong who had become the Lord without anyone helping him, Chun Yeowun had grown his forces along the way.

‘And us...’

Three clans out of the six clans were gone. The Poison clan was wiped out and the Sword and Wise clan were disbanded and scattered. Chun Yeowun’s forces were now the strongest force in the entire cult.

“So, three of you disagree with talking about this topic?” Great Guardian Marakim asked and three elders turned to sixth elder Mong Oh. They needed at least Mong Oh’s approval so they could get the required number of half elders disagreeing with the topic.

However...

‘W-what?! What is he doing?!’

Sixth Elder Mong Oh just closed his eyes and did not meet his eyes with them. Mong Oh said he was thinking very positively about siding with the three clans just until a few days ago. But he wasn’t anymore. It was apparent where his intention lay.

And there was one who was smiling at the sight. It was Ninth Elder Sama Yi. After last night’s Elder’s meeting, Sama Yi took time to talk with Mong Oh, who had been his long friend and was able to persuade Mong Oh to join Chun Yeowun’s forces. It wasn’t hard as Mong Oh already had been thinking about it ever since he realized Chun Yeowun was the new Chun Ma.

‘Dammit!’

Bu Churyong turned grim. This wasn’t good. Elders from the three clans were now losing in the votings. This meant their objection was going to be ignored.

‘Then we can only trust the clan leaders.’

Six clans had over 60% of control over all the clans within the Demonic Cult. If these 60% of clan leaders went against it, their objection was going to gain power.

“Clan leaders. Are there any amongst you who agree with the objection?”

“We agree with the three elders.”

At Marakim’s question, Jo Sang, clan leader of Five Dragon Blade clan spoke, and other clan leaders began to rise in agreeance. But...

‘No...’

The three elders turned grim immediately. All clan leaders that rose were only 35 of them. They were the clan leaders of clans that were owned by the three clans.

‘They are not afraid of our clans anymore!’

The number decreased dramatically with the Sword clan being disbanded. There were those who sided with the six clans before even if they weren’t owned by them, but they did not follow the six clans anymore. They now had the new Chun Ma, a destined leader, to follow. And after seeing what

Chun Yeowun did in the Great Hall three days ago, most of the clan leaders now favored Chun Yeowun.

‘Ugh... we don’t have enough voting power.’

With more than 80% of people supporting Chun Yeowun, the Coronation was going to be held. Chun Yeowun’s elders were certain they were going to win. They had been allies when they were fighting against traitors hiding inside the cult. But with the traitors all arrested, the three clans were now back to their enemies. Marakim spoke.

“Objection did not exceed the required number of votings, so we will proceed on talking about our Lord Chun Ma’s Lord Coronation Ceremony.”

‘Yes!’

Eighth Elder Mun Yun and Ninth Elder Sama Yi became excited. They had guessed there would be a change to the balance of powers, and it was confirmed.

Suddenly, Bu Churyong walked out into the middle with a grim face and knelt in front of Chun Yeowun and spoke as he bowed.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“I accept Lord Chun Ma in your right and power. But our Great Demonic Cult is built upon the foundation of our tradition, law and order. We have learned that our Lord has been played with his minds by these traitors, so I think it is right to wait for our Lord to wake up from his slumber and work according to our traditions.”

“We agree with Third Elder.”

Ja Kinkeng and Hang Soyu also got out of their seats and bowed to agree with Bu Churyong. They were now asking Chun Yeowun directly who was in charge of the final approval.

‘They’re now bringing the Lord into this.’

Chapter 254 - Coronation (4)

Chapter 254: Coronation (4)

Lee Hameng frowned as he watched them from Yeowun's side. They lost in their votes so they were now insisting that they should wait for the Lord to wake up.

'If this is the case, we have to drag as much as time we can so we can regain our forces.'

They had to rebuild their forces before Chun Yeowun could build his forces and build the entire Demonic Cult under his leadership. Or else, the six clans that had reigned over the cult for 500 years were going to crumble.

'They are not going down easily.'

Mun Yun became grim. There was no good in fighting internally. Mun Yun turned to Yeowun.

'He's not happy about this.'

Chun Yeowun was looking coldly at the three elders. Everyone in his forces knew that Chun Yeowun hated the six clans. The three clans were safe only because Yeowun's elders suggested that Yeowun should keep them under his arms so that the Demonic Cult would not suddenly become weakened.

'I hoped he can become the Lord fast and start controlling those clans.'

Sama Yi also had the same thought. If this was the case, there was a need to fight them strongly. Sama Yi spoke out.

“The Demon Doctor reported that he couldn’t find any progress in the Lord’s state. I understand you three Elder’s thoughts, but while we have imminent threat of an enemy outside our territory, we cannot afford to have our leadership go empty.”

“If that is the case, my suggestion stands even more. If the Demon Doctor can’t heal him, then we have to invite the Godly Doctor here to heal the Lord and do this according to our laws.”

“Hmm...”

Sama Yi moaned. The three Elders weren’t going to back down.

‘Lord Chun Ma was right.’

Their actions proved that they did not want to lose their control. They were trying to keep the three clans as the most powerful clans in control of the cult. The three Elders then got up from their kneeling and Bu Churyong spoke.

“Our current leader is still our Lord. Aside from other issues, if we are to proceed with the coronation without following our laws, I see no point in staying at the Great Meeting. I will see myself out. And for the future meetings, I will not attend until the Lord wakes up from his bed.”

Bu Churyong then turned his back and the two other Elders followed them. With them leaving, the clan leaders under their clan became hesitant, but they soon followed.

The atmosphere turned weird. As they were walking out of the gate, Bu Churyong grinned. This was a gamble. If he and others were stopped, then he was going to say that Chun Yeowun was going to be a tyrant ruling over them.

‘There wouldn’t be any issues if we weren’t facing enemies, but he wouldn’t dare to lose 20% of the cult’s power at this time.’

Bu Churyong was certain that his plan was going to work. Even if Chun Yeowun hated them, it was likely that Yeowun would not try to risk weakening the cult.

‘This has gone too far.’

Great Guardian Marakim raised his hand to signal warriors from the Guardian forces to stop them from moving out of the hall.

[Let them go.]

He wasn’t sure what Chun Yeowun was thinking, but it was an order. Soon, three elders and thirty five clan leaders left the room. Chun Yeowun actually had authority to stop them, as he was the temporary leader and also the mighty Chun Ma, but he did not do this. While everyone became curious, Yeowun mumbled to Marakim.

“It’s better this way. We can clearly see who is our enemy.”

Marakim couldn’t answer Yeowun after he described them as the enemy. If this internal war was to go on, the cult was going to be weakened. Chun Yujong and Chun Inji had to take the clans’ intentions as they couldn’t bear to let that happen.

‘What is Lord Chun Ma thinking?’

Marakim became worried.

After the Great Meeting, same day after dinner. The gazebo behind the palace's Hall of Feast was lit, with tables full of various cuisines and liquor. There were three people. It was Bu Churyong, Ja Kinkeng and Hang Soyu. They were here because an invitation came to them an hour ago. A messenger from the Guardian forces arrived at the Blade clan's mansion, to the three elders who were discussing what to do now, and sent a message from Chun Yeowun. It was a short message, but it was what they were waiting for.

[I will talk.]

Chun Yeowun wanted to invite them over to the dinner at the gazebo behind the Hall of Feast.

"Your plan worked!"

Hang Soyu became excited and cheered. She first became suspicious that maybe Chun Yeowun was setting up traps, but Bu Churyong was certain that there weren't going to be any.

'If he does that, our cult will lose huge power. Even if our Chun Ma was our enemy, he will not go so far. But we do have to make sure.'

They then talked to the messenger about their conditions. Most of their conditions were agreed upon. They were required to have dinner in the open, not in the closed room, and also asked to have every guard warrior to stay away at the dinner.

"Don't worry. We just have one more thing though."

That was about the liquor and cuisine. It was a talk to have them join Yeowun's forces, so Bu Churyong believed Yeowun would have not played with the food, but they needed to be careful.

‘The servants have not learned martial arts, so I can’t test it.’

There was a way to send out most poisons coming into the body, but there were all kinds of poison out in the world so they had to be careful. The three elders then arrived first at the appointment place to check if there were any traps or warriors in hiding, and Chun Yeowun arrived later. The only person he brought here was Great Guardian Marakim. There were no other warriors here, so they couldn’t ask Yeowun to even send Marakim away.

“Lord Chun Ma.”

They got up and bowed to Chun Yeowun. They seemed much more bright then they were at the Great Meeting, thinking that they would get what they wanted here. After a brief greeting, Chun Yeowun sat down at the table and Bu Churyong spoke first.

“It is great honor that our Lord Chun Ma invited us into such a wonderful dinner.”

Those words were hollow. It felt like he was scoffing at Chun Yeowun. Marakim became dumbfounded and looked at them coldly.

“Hmm. Well, we cannot allow our delicious food go cold. Why don’t we eat first and talk?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Ja Kinkeng spoke and Chun Yeowun nodded. Bu Churyong then grabbed the liquor bottle at the table and poured it into Yeowun's glass.

"This is to our Lord Chun Ma."

Bu Churyong's eyes narrowed as he spoke. The reason why he poured it into Yeowun's glass first was to see if Yeowun had played any tricks on it.

Yeowun then grabbed the glass and drank it.

Chapter 255 - Coronation (5)

Chapter 255: Coronation (5)

After watching Chun Yeowun drinking the glass, the three elders confirmed that the food was okay. All that remained was to enjoy this small feast and talk about what they wanted. The first was to talk about the empty elder seat from the First Elder. High number elder seats were important seats that had power to control the cult's forces and many of its affairs, so it was essential.

'And if we retrieve forces from the disbanded Sword clan and their worksites, then we will regain our power back.'

The three clans going missing was a downsize of their power, but it was also fortunate. They now had only three to share the pie with. And it was also likely that their future descendants would have a chance at becoming the Lord, as the seats belonged to the Wise and Sword clans for the past hundred years.

The three elders became relieved and began to drink liquor. Bu Churyong still checked to see if there was any poison, but it was fine. And soon, servants began serving expensive cuisines. It was apparent that the feast had been well prepared.

'Hahaha... so, he was worried about our forces. Look how he prepared everything.'

Bu Churyong began to smile as he realized his plan had worked. And when the feast began, a cook brought a freshly killed bull and began to work on it to cook it over the bonfire.

“Hahaha! It would have been better if we had this dinner earlier!”

The atmosphere eased as they enjoyed delicious food and liquor. After eating the feast enjoyably, Bu Churyong thought it was a good time to talk about the important issues.

“Lord Chun Ma. Why don’t we talk about...”

“Oh, wait a minute. Why don’t we enjoy the special delicacy before that?”

“A... delicacy?”

It was the first word that Chun Yeowun said during the feast. The three Elders became confused and Yeowun pointed at the bull that the cook was working on.

“It is food I ate a while ago. I heard it’s a famous delicacy in the Peking region.”

“At Peking?”

“Since we will be friendly toward each other now, I’ll prepare it myself for you.”

“You will serve us?”

“Yes.”

Yeowun then got up and walked over to the bull that was cut up and processed. Yeowun spoke to the cook and the cook backed away and began preparing some seasonings. Meanwhile, Yeowun took up the knife and cut out the bull’s chest.

‘Huh?’

Yeowun then reached into the bull and pulled out the heart. The bull that was freshly killed still had its slightly pounding heart that was steaming with heat.

‘A-are we eating it as is?’

Yeowun then brought it over to the table and placed on the plate and cut it in four pieces. Hang Soyu did not like eating raw meat, so she frowned. The cook then came over with seasoning.

“It is good just by eating with salt, but if you eat it with my seasoning, it will be much better.”

“Oh! I haven’t tasted this in a while!”

It seemed Ja Kinkeng had eaten this before. Ja Kinkeng loved eating special and unique foods, so he first picked it up and dumped it into the seasoning and ate it. Yeowun also picked it up with his finger and just put salt on it and ate it.

‘Salt...’

Bu Churyong watched closely and also picked it up and copied Yeowun to put salt on it to eat it. He thought it would be too bloody, but it was actually very delicious.

‘Hmm... it sure is a delicacy.’

He grew suspicious as Chun Yeowun cut out the heart with his own hand, but it seemed like nothing strange was done to it. Hang Soyu hated eating fresh meat, but she couldn’t refuse the offer made by Chun Ma, so she cut out a small portion with her chopstick and swallowed a bit.

‘Ugh... it’s not to my taste.’

She wasn't fond of the faint blood scent, but she still showed her respect by eating it. Yeowun then poured the liquor in his glass and drank before he began to speak.

"So, with that done, why don't we start talking?"

"Hahaha. Yes, we will."

It was the time they had been waiting for. It wasn't sure how far Chun Yeowun was going to take it, but they had to get as much as possible. Bu Churyong was about to begin stating their conditions that they decided amongst themselves when Chun Yeowun started first.

"First, I will talk about my conditions."

"What?"

Bu Churyong became shocked at the unexpected turn of events.

"I beg your pardon?"

"Aren't we going to talk about what we each want and see if we can work things out?"

Yeowun answered his question casually and the three elders became confused on what they should do. They first thought that they would talk about what they wanted and see what could be accepted. But they didn't think Chun Yeowun also had what he wanted on his side.

'Hm...'

It was puzzling. The three of them looked at each other. They wanted to share ideas by talking it through telepathic messages, but they had suspicions about something because of what happened at the Demon Dragon clan's mansion, so they couldn't do it. They were suspecting that Chun Yeowun could overhear telepathic messages. Bu Churying then spoke.

"...Understood. You can speak first, my Lord."

He decided to listen, as he could always refuse any absurd proposals. Chun Yeowun then started with his conditions.

"First. I will remove the six clan system that has been within our cult as tradition."

"What?"

The three elders all responded in unison from shock. They first expected Yeowun would ask them to join his forces and support him, but this was totally out of their expectation. Bu Churyong then spoke up to raise an objection.

"Lord Chun Ma. This is..."

"I am not done yet."

Chun Yeowun warned, and Bu Churyong stopped and just glared for a moment before he answered.

"Whew... Okay. We will listen."

"Second. I will change how elders are appointed. We will now start ranking elders according to the power to follow the tradition of our cult which values strength the most."

"WHAT!"

Hang Soyu became dumbfounded and spat. If what Chun Yeowun was saying was to go live, then she had a chance to become demoted to the lowest rank of elders as she had lost an arm.

“Third. All clans will be disbanded, and families can only own small warrior forces. All other warrior forces will be absorbed and will be controlled by the cult itself.”

Chapter 256 - Coronation (6)

Chapter 256: Coronation (6)

Three elders thought the first and second conditions were absurd, but they went on to listen as they can always object later. They also waited as they were in front of Chun Ma's authority. But as they heard the third condition, they couldn't hold back any longer.

"And Fourth..."

Before Yeowun could move onto the fourth, Bu Churyong pounded the table. At the same time, Great Guardian Marakim pulled out his sword and aimed at Bu Churyong's neck. Bu Churyong did not care and glared at Chun Yeowun.

"Lord Chun Ma. What is the meaning of this?"

"...I am talking about my requirements so we can become allies."

"Allies? Talk? This sounds like you just want to become our enemy."

They didn't hear the fourth condition, but the third condition was enough to take away all the powers that the three clans had. And it was possible that they would lose everything they had and they would have to start competing with all the cultists. Yeowun then spoke to Bu Churyong.

"I have prepared this feast so that I will not be your enemy."

"THIS? THIS FEAST?! Your condition only sounds like you really want us to turn our backs to you!"

Hang Soyu screamed with anger. Marakim was aiming them with his sword, but she wasn't afraid. There were all the forces of the three clans waiting right outside the courtyard. If something was to happen to them, they were ordered to charge in through the wall. This was already told to Chun Yeowun before they arranged this dinner. They thought Chun Yeowun was going to talk amicably as he took in all these conditions.

"Whew."

Bu Churyong let down his anger and spoke coldly to Yeowun.

"Lord Chun Ma. Our power is one fifth of the entire cult's forces. Do you think you can fight against the Blade God Six Martial clan, and the forces of Justice and Evil after losing that much power?"

His voice was calm, but the content was almost a threat. Bu Churyong was threatening Yeowun that if he did not accept their conditions, they will move out of the cult.

'You have made a mistake. How dare you anger us.'

Bu Churyong thought he had to take this chance to put pressure on Yeowun. And as three of them glared at Yeowun with similar looks, Yeowun sighed.

"Whew. It's hard trying to talk nice to you scums."

"What?!"

Three of them frowned at the sudden change of tone. Chun Yeowun did not sound friendly anymore and his eyes turned cold. Yeowun then looked at them and ordered.

"Kneel."

The three elders became dumbfounded at sudden order and tried to object.

“Aaaaargh!”

“Kyaaaaah!”

“UGH!”

The three elders immediately were overwhelmed with heart-strickening pain that made them writhe in pain. They weren't sure what was happening, but it felt like something was attacking their heart. They frantically tried to bring up their internal energy to defend.

“ARGH!”

“K-KYAYAAAAA!”

“AAAAAaRGH! M-My stomach!”

They also felt the same pain coming from below their stomach and couldn't use their internal energy. Slight use of internal energy brought pain to their body. It felt like their body was being eaten from the inside. It was even more painful than taking internal damage.

‘Aaaargh! W-what is going on?’

‘W-we checked!’

They were shocked. They checked that no food or liquor had poison and they only ate what Chun Yeowun ate. They didn't know what was going on.

“I said, kneel,” Yeowun ordered them again. They wanted to withstand pain and tried to keep their pride, but they couldn't bear to withstand the terrible pain coming to their heart and internal energy.

Three elders knelt in pain. And when they did, the pain magically disappeared. Bu Churyong became reddened with anger and shouted.

"W-what have you done to us?!"

Yeowun then smiled.

"I've done filthy stuff that fits you filthy scums."

"W...what are you talking about!"

"It's the poison parasite."

"?!"

The three elders were so shocked that their eyes trembled. They had heard of this before. The poison parasite was something that hid within the body until it woke up and attacked its host. But they were all superior master warriors who could sense any poison coming into their bodies and send it out.

"I-it's impossible! How did you...!"

While three of them were shocked, Marakim remembered what happened two days ago.

'Are you saying you will remove my poison parasite?'

'I don't see any reason to have that in you anymore.'

Yeowun decided to take out poison parasite from Marakim's body. The poison parasite was sent down within the Great Guardians and only was removed when the host died. The only other way to remove it was to have a person with the qi of the Sky Demon order it. Marakim had seen how the reactant looked, but he had never seen parasite poison with his eyes, so he was shocked when he saw it coming out of his body.

‘W-what in the...’

It wasn’t just a few, but hundreds of small worms. Chun Yeowun found out one interesting fact. The poison parasite, contrary to how others perceived it, wasn’t poisonous at all. And thus, eating them only felt like one was eating just a normal insect.

‘I can use it then.’

Yeowun then had it fed to a bull, and these parasites took their place in the bull’s heart. And it was that heart that the three elders ate.

‘To think he used those parasites on them.’

Marakim was astounded by Chun Yeowun’s amazing plan. And for the three elders, they couldn’t hide their shock that they had eaten poison parasites. The pain disappeared, so they tried to remove it by using internal energy.

“Aaaaargh!”

The terrible pain returned and sent them back rolling on the ground. And as they saw Ja Kinkeng almost dying from the pain, the other two elders couldn’t even dare to try.

“That poison parasite was created by Father Chun Ma. It is only controlled by qi of the Sky Demon. Your effort to remove it is futile.”

“Father Chun Ma... created it?”

“If you disobey me or threaten me in any way, it will activate.”

“N-no!”

They couldn't even think straight on what they should do. Yeowun was warning them that if they disobeyed, then it would mean a painful death.

‘We are trapped!’

Bu Churyong thought he was prepared, but Yeowun had gotten him. With this, they had to follow Yeowun so that they can live. And to the three elders, Yeowun spoke as if he remembered something.

“Right. I forgot about the fourth one.”

“Fourth...?”

“I need a gift from you for letting you join my forces.”

“A gift?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The three elders became worried and Yeowun smiled.

“I need the right arm from every wife of the Lord. Oh, this is for our amicable relationship of course. I want you to do it yourself.”

“?!”

And they all turned pale from Yeowun's terrible request.

Chapter 257 - Coronation (7)

Chapter 257: Coronation (7)

Chun Yeowun was on his chair, placed in front of the desk inside the Lord's office. On the table, there were two right arms that were heavily medicated for preservation. These were the weak arms of the ladies that were cut off last night. One came from the Blade clan and one came from the Lust clan two days ago.

'I am sorry, but Lady Ja already passed away.'

Lady Ja of the Loyal clan died already, so Fourth Elder Ja Kinkeng was unfortunately not able to cut down his family member's arm. Yeowun frowned as he looked at these arms.

'So, they value their lives more.'

Yeowun had wished that these elders, who were top leaders of the cult, would uphold their family and pride and go against Yeowun's absurd request. But these leaders showed their greed for power.

'They will go off the limit for their own safety.'

It was disgusting and bitter to see this as the cult that had been led by these kinds of people.

'They're lucky that they can live for now.'

Yeowun still wished to wipe out the remaining three clans if he could. But with enemies lurking at bay, it was too dangerous to cut out these rotten pieces of the cult that might weaken the cult's power.

'What should we do now?'

Five days ago, Yeowun gathered every one of his members to talk about the situation. It was to talk about how to deal with six clans. Three clans were disbanded, and there were three remaining clans. Chun Yeowun was set to avenge them first, but with two incidents of the cult's castle being attacked by outside forces, he couldn't ignore the possibility of the cult being weakened. The opinion was divided three to seven.

'It is better we get rid of the potential threat and fix our cult now.'

'We will just be dragged down by them.'

Those who wished to wipe out the three clans said that it was dangerous to keep them as they could pose a potential threat. But these opinions were only 30% of all members. It was the 70% of them, even though they knew how these clans corrupted the cult and were dragging the cult's growth down, who said they should keep these clans.

'If we are not threatened by enemies, we can get rid of them. But now is not the time.'

'There are a lot of clans that are affiliated with these clans. If we are to get rid of all of them, we will suffer.'

'I share the same idea. And three superior master level warriors don't mean nothing. We already lost four of our superior master level warriors. If we lose these three on top of that, we might have a hard time fighting against the enemy in the future.'

Those who opposed were concerned about the cult being weakened. Both sides had reasons that made sense. Having the three clans stay onboard would mean potential danger in the future, and if they were removed, then there was the potential of the cult being weakened.

Yeowun thought deeply on how to deal with the three clans, and also to not weaken the cult. The answer was the parasitic poison. Yeowun decided to use the poison to control the three clans and change the cult's entire system so that clan powers will be diverted. If this worked, then it was going to allow Yeowun to use the twenty percent of its power. And it was also possible for Yeowun to send these three elders to the frontline in battle. Yeowun's members all agreed with his plans.

'Did previous Lords have the same problem?'

It was the bitter truth that Yeowun who now had ultimate power over the cult couldn't avenge his enemies as he wished. He wanted to achieve his dream, but reality was harsh. He had to compensate for what he could.

'If I cannot get rid of the enemy because of the power loss... then I will make our cult become strong enough so I don't have to care about that power loss.'

This was the final answer that Yeowun had come to in the end. For now, he decided to use these three elders to fight against outside enemies and when the cult became strong enough that Yeowun no longer needed these three elders...

'I will kill them then.'

It wasn't going to be long before that happened. The required first step was to train new warriors inside the cult. It was necessary to make warriors like the Six Swords, or Master ranked warriors who were already talented in martial arts to become superior master level warriors. As Yeowun was thinking about his future plans, someone knocked on the door to the office.

“Lord Chun Ma. It is time for you to get dressed.”

It was Great Guardian Marakim.

“Oh... is it already time?”

Yeowun then got up from his chair.

Cold winter day, in the afternoon. The sun was high up in the sky, with not a single cloud in the bright blue sky. It was a good day for a big event.

There were countless cultists gathered in the courtyard in front of the Lord’s palace. These crowds consisted of almost every cultist there was at the Demonic Cult’s castle, and they gathered here because of the announcement made a few days ago.

It was only afternoon, but there were fires lit on torches everywhere. This was a tradition for the cult, which considered the Demon God and its fire as the most sacred. On the stage, there was a large torch which hadn’t lit yet.

“Get back little more! Move back!”

“What?! I can’t go back any further!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Warriors from the Guardians pushed back cultists who were just moving further in. It was understandable for these cultists who were eager to see their new leader, but the distance had to be kept for any possible problems.

And from the wall of the palace, drums began to ring. It was the signal that the ceremony was now starting.

“Ohh!! It’s starting now!”

“It’s finally starting!”

Chapter 258 - Coronation (8)

Chapter 258: Coronation (8)

There was a long red velvet carpet laid down in the courtyard that was connected to the main palace building. On either side of the carpet, all leaders of the cult were standing by. They were all dressed in formal clothes, waiting.

“Master is becoming the Lord...!”

Ko Wanghur spoke with an astounded look, while Bakgi and Yeowun’s others members nodded. They all looked overwhelmed and happy. Just until a while ago, they were at the Demonic Academy, concerned about how Yeowun would compete in the competition and become the Crown Prince, but now Chun Yeowun was the Lord.

“But I feel sad for Hu Bong.”

Sama Chak spoke as he thought about Hu Bong who wasn’t with them. The place beside the carpets were only allowed for those with master or higher rank within the cult, so Hu Bong was left behind just like the other regular cultists.

“Well, rules are rules.”

Bakgi spoke without much thought. Hu Bong couldn’t stand beside them with his blue Squad Leader clothes among them. The formal clothes of the cult had different colors depending on the rank. Elders wore purple, and master ranks wore red.

“Hu Bong wanted to see the master becoming the Lord at the closest spot. I feel bad for him.”

Hu Bong's loyalty was at the top among all the members. He was excited for Yeowun's coronation, but he was depressed when he heard that all warriors below the Squad Leader rank or lower had to stay outside the courtyard to watch from afar.

"Yeah... but don't you think that person looks familiar?"

Mun Ku who looked much more beautiful in her red formal dress pointed somewhere as she spoke. She was pointing toward the stage by the main building where a familiar-looking man was standing by the torch up on the stage.

"Hmm...."

As everyone turned and looked closely, the man up on the stage turned and looked at them. Ko Wanghur, Baki, Sama Yi and others became shocked.

"H-Hu Bong?"

It was Hu Bong. Hu Bong was holding onto a small unlit torch that was drenched in oil so that it could be used to set fire on the large torch. He was waving at them excitedly. It looked like he was appointed to be the torch handler to give the torch to the Lord. Everyone became dumbfounded.

"...There was no point in feeling bad."

"Haha... right."

Bakgi and Ko Wanghur laughed. That's when another drum sound rang from the wall, along with a loud horn sound. The gate of the inner palace opened and someone appeared.

It was Great Guardian Marakim in his mask with a weird engraving on it. He was dressed in formal clothes, holding something in both his hands. Elders, clan leaders, and other warriors all got down to the ground and shouted.

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

When they shouted in unison, all cultists outside the courtyard shouted immediately.

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

Tens of thousands of people shouting in unison almost trembled the entire castle. What Marakim was holding onto was the Sky Demon Order. Behind Marakim, two female servants were holding a small box that contained a crown. Drums roared. Originally, it had to be the former Lord who had to walk up to the stage, but the Lord was still unconscious. The job was then left to Great Guardian Marakim, who was also the Guardian of the Sky Demon Order. By showing the Sky Demon Order, it proved that this event was according to the will of Father Chun Ma. Marakim got up on the stage and raised up the Sky Demon Order high and shouted.

“Cultists of the Great Demonic Cult. Hear the Sky Demon Order!!”

“Glory to the Demonic Cult!”

Cultists shouted back in response. Hu Bong became so overwhelmed that he almost shook. It was Chun Yeowun’s coronation, but he became tense from its grand scale.

“We will now begin the coronation of the Lord of our Great Demonic Cult!”

“Whoaaaaaaa!!!!”

Cultists who roared in cheers, filling the entire Demonic Cult with sound. With a long and loud horn sound, someone appeared at the entrance of the inner palace. Long hair and pale white face. He wore a formal black robe with a golden dragon embroidered on it. Chun Yeowun began to walk down the carpet that connected the palace to the stage. Unlike his appearance of a young man, the power felt within him was tremendous, and that made the cultists gasp in awe.

[Hehehe... did I tell you that the Lord is my apprentice?]

On the right of Yeowun, Right Guardian Submeng was following with an excited look. Left Guardian Lee Hameng, who followed to the left shook his head.

[Ugh, how long will you brag about that?]

Submeng had been bragging about this to Lee Hameng ever since Yeowun's coronation was set in place. But it was surely an envious fact. The only teacher Chun Yeowun had was Submeng.

Starting with the Third Elder Bu Churyong, all elders began to kneel before Yeowun, and followed him as Yeowun passed by them. Yeowun passed through elders, clan leaders and other warriors. Yeowun then saw Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku, Sama Chak, Bakgi, Hou Sanghwa, Che Takim and others. Hou Sanghwa and Che Takim had become the master rank warriors by passing the fifth test not long after Yeowun left the Demonic Academy.

[Congratulations, master. I mean, my Lord.]

[Congratulations, my Lord!]

[Hehe... I guess I can't call you prince anymore.
Congratulations, my Lord.]

Every one of them was overwhelmed with joy as they sent telepathic messages. As for Mun Ku, who spoke teasingly, was almost teary from the overjoy. Chun Yeowun didn't show much emotion, but he felt so thankful for them at this moment and smiled.

With every warrior within the courtyard following Yeowun, it became a majestic sight. It felt like a king was walking up to be crowned. As Yeowun walked on the carpet toward the stage, many things passed through Yeowun's head.

'Mother...'

Chapter 259 - Coronation (9)

Chapter 259: Coronation (9)

Chun Yeowun, once the lowest rank within the candidates to the heir, was now becoming the Lord of the Demonic Cult. The person Yeowun that came to his mind most was his mother Lady Hwa. He wanted to show his mother what he had become the most, but she was in a better place.

‘...I will change the Demonic Cult, so that there won’t be any more tragedies like that.’

He had thought about this and worked on it thousands of times. When Yeowun got to the stage, elders, clan leaders and warriors all divided into two sides and stood in front of the stage.

Yeowun began to take steps up onto the stage. As Yeowun got up, there were tens of thousands of cultists below filling up the outside courtyard. Yeowun didn’t know before as he was below this stage before, but standing up here and looking at these people was a breathtaking experience.

“Ohhhhhh!”

“It is our Lord Chun Ma!”

“Lord Chun Ma has come up onto the stage!!!”

“Whoaaaaaa!”

With Chun Yeowun getting up on the stage, cultists shouted with cheers of joy. After every recent incident was announced, and that Chun Yeowun had become the new Chun Ma, every cultist wished to get a glimpse of their new Lord and leader.

'We finally have the master of the cult. Dear guardians of the Sky Demon Order. This what we have waited so long for.'

Great Guardian Marakim was also overwhelmed with joy. His face was hidden under his mask, but he couldn't stop smiling. Marakim went in front of Yeowun and shouted with the Sky Demon Order.

"Chun Yeowun, who will now be appointed as the 24th Lord, kneel before the Sky Demon Order!"

"Chun Yeowun, son of the Demonic Cult, at the service of the Sky Demon Order."

Yeowun knelt down with his one knee and bowed at the Sky Demon Order. Marakim then ordered to Hu Bong, who was holding onto the torch that was now lit with fire.

"Give him the torch."

"Yes, sir!" Hu Bong shouted and brought the torch up to Yeowun. Hu Bong's hand was trembling tremendously. He couldn't calm down when the most important event was almost upon them.

'Hu Bong.'

Yeowun smiled. Hu Bong was his first servant and the partner who had gone through many hardships with him. Yeowun took the torch and placed his hand on Hu Bong's shoulder to send in energy to make him calm. Hu Bong became teary and spoke.

"M-My Lord. Congratulations. I will never forget this moment."

"...So will I."

Yeowun then took up the torch and walked up to the large torch, and set it on fire. The torch that was now on fire in almost 20 years, burned blue. This torch, sent down since the beginning of the Demonic Cult, was famous for having the blue fire instead of red when it was lit.

Yeowun brought both arms to his chest and knelt on his both knees to shout out loud. It was the holy words of the Demonic Cult's sacred book.

"I burn my body to the holy fire, and find no temptation in life or death. I shine light upon the path that I will take, and let all joy and sadness become the dust of the past."

As Yeowun recited the holy words, all cultists gathered their two arms and crossed them above their chest and followed.

"I burn my body to the holy fire, and find no temptation in life or death. I shine light upon the path that I will take, and let all joy and sadness become the dust of the past."

With the somewhat quiet and heavy memorization of the holy words, all cultists became humble before the words. With this being done, Marakim shouted, "According to the Sky Demon Order, I bestow the crown of the Lord to the Crown Prince and Lord Chun Ma. Chun Yeowun, the 24th Lord, will now take the crown!"

It was finally time. With this crown placed above Yeowun's head, Yeowun will now become the Lord of the Great Demonic Cult. Yeowun got back down on his one knee, bowed, and closed his eyes to be ready to be coronated. But as he waited, it seemed like it was taking longer than expected. Yeowun then felt someone walking up on the stage.

'Huh?'

It felt like the person had not learned any martial arts. The man walked up to Chun Yeowun and placed something over his head. It was the crown. Yeowun opened his eyes and looked up.

“Prince... I mean. My Lord. Congratulations.”

It was Guard Jang, looking down at him with eyes full of tears. He was smiling, showing his teeth that were replaced by implant technology that Yeowun asked Baek Jongmeng and Ou Sunong for help with.

“I’m sure Lady Hwa will be glad.”

It was unexpected to see Guard Jang here. Tears ran down Yeowun’s cheek. This was a small gift prepared by Yeowun’s members while they were preparing for the coronation. Yeowun’s members became overjoyed as they saw this. It was first time Yeowun had felt happiness in his lonely life. Yeowun then got up to the stage with the crown and reached out.

The black metal covering both arms all scattered apart and gathered together to form the shape of a sword. It was a glowy black sword, the Sky Demon Sword.

“Ohhhhhhhh!!!”

“It’s the Sky Demon Sword!!”

Cultists shouted in awe. Yeowun grabbed the sword that was floating by itself and flashed it up in the air. Cultists roared with excitement.

“Whoaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!!!!”

“GLORY TO THE DEMONIC CULT!! GLORY TO THE DEMONIC CULT!!”

It was the beginning of the 24th Lord, and the 2nd Chun Ma of the Demonic Cult.

It was later recorded by historians of Yulin as the day that Demon God had appeared from the Demonic Cult.

Chapter 260 - 260 Going out to Yulin (1)

Chapter 260: 260 Going out to Yulin (1)

Winter had now passed. Green leaves began to sprout and the Mountain of Ten Thousand was now filled with a hint of spring. It was now three months after the coronation ceremony of the new Lord of the Demonic Cult. There had been many changes to the cult in those times. With Chun Yeowun, the young and powerful Lord becoming the leader, the Demonic Cult began to undergo a huge change. There was opposition from the former leaders, but they couldn't stop the policy of having every clan disband and all warriors taking direct orders from the cult itself. It wasn't a welcome idea to the powerful clans who had armies of their own, but this was to have every cultist become equal in power.

'We value the strong. I will make this right.'

Chun Yeowun announced this, and now all warriors and former clan leaders were given warrior groups to lead depending on their powers. This gave a chance to weaker clans, and a reason for stronger clan leaders to train harder.

'Elders are not an exception.'

And this didn't stop with the clans. There had been a change in elder ranks also. After two months of the coronation ceremony, a competition to appoint new elders were held. This was to find new elders and also change the current ranks.

'The minimum requirement of competing in this competition is at the end stage of the super master level.'

Elders were originally required to be at the superior master level, but Yeowun figured that there weren't any new superior master level warriors so he made it lower. This announcement was made to all castles and outside posts. After the competition, the result was unexpected.

A total of 45 cultists competed. Those who passed the preliminaries sorted out those who did not know tactics and battle formations were 32. This was where something unexpected happened. Hidden warriors rose from hiding.

'Two from the same clan?'

The first was that there were two superior master warriors hiding within one clan. It wasn't among the three clans, but from the Sword Illusion clan. The older brother of former sixth elder Mong Oh, Mong Mu was a superior master level warrior. It seemed that Mong Oh was not aware of this. Mong Mu was deemed a talented warrior ever since his days in Demonic Academy, and was sent out to the western front where war was frequent for five years. It was there where he survived through real battles and found understanding. Another hidden powerful warrior at the Demonic Cult's outpost.

'Yang Danwa?'

'He is a leader of the northeastern post of Honam Castle. He is from our castle, but he loves war and volunteered to be stationed there. He has been at the post for 10 years now.'

He too was a superior master warrior. His application stated that he was established superior master warrior.

'But why is he coming back then?'

'He says he's interested in the Blade God Six Martial clan.'

It was told that he was now uninterested in his post, where the war between Yulin clan had come to a stop due to an alliance.

And third and the last was a man named Suh Deng. He didn't volunteer himself, and was recommended by Marakim. He was a criminal who was sent away.

'He was sent away for fifteen years?'

'Yes. Most elders know of him.'

It was told that Suh Deng's clan, who had the job of keeping a record of all things within the cult, became angry at the Wise clan that was interfering with their job, and ambushed them.

'I like that.'

'Yes, but their ambush failed.'

Unfortunately, there was a spy hidden within their clans and the spy spilled the ambush plan to the Wise clan, and Mu Jinwon, who did not want to deal with it by himself, reported it to the Lord's palace.

'Suh Deng was entry at the superior master level warrior at the time. They believed that he would become the future Lord for sure.'

Suh Deng, who was loyal to the cult, surrendered when warriors from the Guardians came to arrest them. The six clans insisted Suh Deng and his clans to be executed, but Chun Yu Jong just sent him away.

'Lord Chun Yujong sent him away so he could be brought back later to be used as a sword against the six clans.'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Chun Yeowun became intrigued and ordered Marakim to bring back Suh Deng from his banishment. Yeowun already liked him for the fact that he had sided against the six clans. Suh Deng then returned to the castle after fifteen years.

And like that, the competition to appoint elders was held, changing all ranks of elders from top to bottom. The former third elder Bu Churyong thought there wasn't anyone stronger than him, now that leader of the Wise and Sword clans were gone, but he had failed to proceed on the second round and was left on a lower rank.

'Oh?'

And the final result was not something Yeowun or Marakim had expected. First Elder spot had been given to Suh Deng. He had trained hard during his 15 year exile, and had reached the end stage of the superior master level warrior level and defeated Yin Moha, who were trained in the Twenty Four Demon Sword. And finally, elders were now appointed per the power.

First Elder, Suh Deng.

Second Elder, Yin Moha.

Third Elder, Mun Yun.

Fourth Elder, Yang Danwa.

Fifth Elder, Bu Churyong.

Sixth Elder, Mong Mu.

Seventh Elder, Huan Yi.

Eighth Elder, Mong Oh.

Ninth Elder, Sama Yi.

Tenth Elder, Ja Kinkeng.

Eleventh Elder, Hang Soyu.

Twelveth Elder Gu Chuyong.

The Twelveth Elder was only elder who had not reached the superior master level, but had managed to survive in the competition to acquire the elder spot. It was a huge change after 500 years. Adding to this, Yeowun announced a new change in the Great Meeting. He declared that the elder spots will be tested once every five years. This meant that all current elders were required to train if they wanted to hold their spot and there were chances for others who had not become elders.

‘I will divide up the Palace Guards into six groups.’

Yeowun then increased the power of Palace Guards. The Palace Guards were divided up into six groups and Yeowun’s Six Swords were appointed to compete against each other. Most of the warriors of these six groups were filled with members that Yeowun took in at the academy, but the only difference was that their top leader was former Senior Instructor Hou Jinchang. All six swords agreed with Hou Jinchang being their leader as they always considered him their teacher.

With everything being changed, the only thing that didn’t change was the Guardians. Yeowun figured that the Guardians had kept their ways since the day of the Founding Father, so he felt there was no need for change.

And during these three months, there had been a clash with Blade God Six Martial clan. The cult was notified that there were the forces of the Blade God Six Martial clan gathering at the borderline of Bokgun and Jurkang castle, so First Elder Suh Deng was appointed as a commander and took Bu Churyong, Ja Kinkeng, Hang Soyu as lieutenants to lead forces. Unlike the expectation of the fight to be big, there were only small skirmishes. What was heard from the spies working outside the cult was that it seemed that the Blade God Six Martial clan was busy fortifying Jurkang and Kangsuh Castle and had no time to waste on the outside yet. But four elders were left at Bokgun Castle to be ready for any unexpected situations.

‘The Blade God Six Martial Clan is helping me this time.’

This was good chance for Chun Yeowun. Three elders were sent out under the watch of the First Elder who hated six clans, so it was a good chance for Yeowun to divert the remaining forces of the six clans. The job was going to be finished if those elders who were sent out returned home.

About a month ago, a messenger arrived from the Yulin clan of the forces of Justice. The message congratulated the new Lord, and it was also about postponing the invitation to the Yulin Competition on a new year. The intel said that there had been many issues happening inside the Yulin clan. They were trying hard to keep everything to themselves, but it seemed that there were spies within the Yulin clan who worked for the Blade God Six Martial clan.

‘That will be hard,’ Yeowun concluded. Unlike the Demonic Cult which had the Lord as its central figure of government, the Yulin clan were the association of many clans and families that were intertwined that made it hard to search the spies within them. It was likely that the Yulin clan would have a hard time finding these spies.

And there were also small changes. Yeowun asked Demon Doctor Baek Jongwu to create the poison that enemies from the Blade God Six Martial clan used at the party. This was to make Yi Burwi and Pahin speak. But the ingredient, Opium Poppy, was a flower that bloomed in the summer and the Demonic Cult did not use it often, so it couldn’t be done fast.

‘They’re lucky.’

The questioning had to be postponed. And within that time, Yeowun sent a special expedition team down to Jianghu. After doing their best, the Lord Chun Yujong was still unconscious. Yeowun had to resort to his final option, which was to find the Godly Doctor. But the problem was the location of the place where he could use the tag. First, he didn't even know how to use the tag, but after further investigation, it was found out that the original owner of this tag was Lady Mu of the Wise clan. After questioning every warrior who used to be in the Wise clan, the location of where the tag needed to be taken was found. But it was within the region of the forces of Justice.

'Hmm... this is troubling.'

'Sword Creek near Hobuk Castle...'

Hobuk Castle was an area ruled by Jegal family and the Mudan clan. Going bit more north from there was the headquarter of the Yulin clan. It was possible to think that there was no problem as the cult now allies with the Yulin clan, but that wasn't the case.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Godly Doctor was a legendary being. He was said to heal every disease except death, so that all people from the Yulin clan, the forces of evil and the Empire's Royal Palace searched all over for him.

'It is too dangerous to request their help.'

It was likely that the Yulin clan will attempt to take the tag to meet the Godly Doctor. Also, it was secret that Lord Chun Yujong was unconscious, so it wasn't a good idea to let the Yulin clan know that the cult was looking for the Godly Doctor.

'How about we send the elite team?'

Chapter 262 - Going out to Yulin (3)

Chapter 262: Going out to Yulin (3)

‘Elite team?’

Marakim’s idea was simple: send elite warriors who weren’t known to the outside world. Of course, these warriors had to be highly skilled so that they can protect the Godly Doctor. The warriors appointed were Yin Moha, Hou Sangwha, and Bakgi. As for Yin Moha, she always wore the mask of her older self so no one knew about her younger look. And they were helped with a spy agent who had experience in the forces of Justice region.

‘They will do it well.’

Marakim spoke assuringly. It was a dangerous mission, but it was likely that they will succeed.

And a month had passed. There were people dueling within the training ground inside the Lord’s palace. There were four people fighting against one man.

A large man unleashed his fist formation. It was Ko Wanghur. And other three who fought alongside him were Sama Chak, Mun Ku, and Che Takim. They were using their best skills to fight against one man, almost as if they were fighting for real.

‘Ugh! He’s too fast!’

The man they were fighting was so fast that even Ko Wanghur and Mun Ku who had now reached the end stage of superior master level couldn’t follow with their naked eyes.

‘Is he really not using half of his internal energy?’

They couldn’t even follow his trace. If they didn’t fight with their backs against each other, the man would fiercely attack them.

‘He’s getting faster.’

Great Guardian Marakim gasped in astonishment. He was the only warrior here who could follow the movement within the trace. It was Chun Yeowun.

‘What are those unique steps?’

Yeowun was slightly jumping on the ground as he moved. It looked simple when he was practicing it, but with internal energy and the Step of Wind God added to it, it became hard to predict the movements.

‘Hmph. Let’s wait for the chance,’ Ko Wanghur thought as he couldn’t follow the movement and decided to wait for the right moment to attack. And the chance came. Yeowun’s body charged into Ko Wanghur’s chest.

‘It’s now!’

Ko Wanghur then thrust his fist that wielded 100% of his energy into Yeowun. He thought if Yeowun came in this fast, then there was no way for Yeowun to avoid this attack.

“Ugh!”

But Yeowun twisted his waist in a weird way to get away from the attack and punched Wanghur’s ribs.

“Ugh!”

Ko Wanghur defended it quickly but his body was sent up into the air. The punch did not wield any internal energy, so it was just pure muscle strength that threw him into the air.

Chun Yeowun then spun and kicked him in the air. Ko Wanghur was flown back and Sama Chak who was trying to attack was struck by Wanghur and sent back together.

“Aaah!”

Mun Ku and Che Takim were dumbfounded as they looked at two men being thrown away. Chun Yeowun said he was not going to use his best, but he was becoming ever more powerful.

‘What is this martial art he’s using?’

Chun Yeowun was using a very different martial art now. It was made with simple movements but efficiently came after the weak points that were hard to fight against. Yeowun then came to stop. Mun Ku and Che Takim weren’t enough to fight Yeowun.

‘Let’s stop here. How is it, Nano?’

[The mixture of Martial Art containing Boxing, Tae Kwon Do, and Step of Wind God is at 75% completion.]

‘I still have more to go then.’

Yeowun had learned martial arts of the far future that Nano had in its data. It was much more refined and efficient than martial arts from Yulin, but it didn’t use internal energy or any formations. Yeowun was now working on it with Nano to improvise it.

‘I can use my strength well now.’

Yeowun clenched his fist. His power was already at the limit of human strength, but now it had exceeded that. After analyzing Blood Reversion Art through Nano, Yeowun was able to increase his muscle fibers and fine-tune it. He couldn't manage the increased strength at first, but now he was getting the hang of it.

'I will bring my basic power to its peak first.'

After fighting many powerful enemies while becoming the Lord, Yeowun learned what he was lacking. His effort was now focusing on getting what he lacked.

'I am much stronger, but I am still far from supreme master level.'

Yeowun was trying hard to gain understanding through meditation every night, but it was hard to grasp. This was only obvious. There were only less than 10 people who had reached the supreme master level in all of Yulin. If that small amount of people was able to reach that level, it meant it required very hard training and effort.

'Well, it's not going to help even if I try to do it fast.'

Yeowun reached his hand to Ko Wanghur and Sama Yi to help them get up and he was going to say that today's training was over, but he stopped when Marakim came down into the training ground with someone. They bowed to Yeowun.

"Greetings, my Lord."

"Elder Huan."

It was Seventh Elder Huan Yi. Huan Yi was usually very cheerful and confident, but today he was a bit grim. If his face was like that, then Huan Yi had brought bad news.

“Is there something wrong?”

“My Lord. We have a message coming from the agent at Hobuk Castle.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Hobuk Castle?”

Yeowun’s face turned grim at the word. Hobuk Castle was the place where Yin Moha, Bakgi, and Hou Sangwha went to find the Godly Doctor. A month had passed since they left, so Yeowun thought it was time for them to arrive. But it seemed that the message wasn’t going to be a good one.

“...What happened?”

“My Lord. Our special expedition team to find the Godly Doctor went missing at Sword Creek.”

Chapter 263 - Going out to Yulin (4)

Chapter 263: Going out to Yulin (4)

Ten days ago...

The forest was deep with dense fog that hindered one's sight. The place was a creek that was commonly covered with such fog. And within the forest were four warriors with swords on their waists, preparing to travel toward the creek, outside the restaurant. They were the special expedition team sent by the Demonic Cult. It was led by Yin Moha, Hou Sangwha, Bakgi, and an agent from the covert operations team.

"If you pass through that forest, you will see the creek."

The old man standing in front of the restaurant spoke as he pointed at the eastern side of the forest. Bakgi bowed to the old man.

"Thank you, sir."

"Don't thank me. I just taught you a way to your death. Don't blame me since I told you multiple times that it's suicide to go into that creek on a day like today with that much fog."

The old man shook his head and walked into the restaurant.

"..."

Bakgi regretted showing thanks for that slight moment.

After a while, they moved toward the east, and they saw the dense forest through the fog. It seemed that they had to pass through that forest to find the creek inside. At the entrance to the forest, there was an old wooden panel that read 'Sword Creek.'

There was also writing that said entry was forbidden colored in dark red, which gave them the chills. Sword Creek was dangerous to go in with the dense fog, and even hunters did not go in there. The forest was so dense that the team had to cut through the bushes to walk through it.

The spy agent walked forward to cut out bushes, but the fog was too dense and they couldn't see much so they weren't sure if they were going the right way.

"It's my first time coming to Sword Creek... it sure is creepy."

None of the others replied to the spy agent's words. The three of them didn't talk much during their travel down there, so the agent thought it was interesting.

'...Are they called special because they don't talk?'

Yin Moha, Bakgi, and Hou Sangwha did not talk much unless it was really important. As for that, the agent had to stay silent against his will.

'I can feel the energy reacting.'

As they walked further into the woods, Yin Moha felt a strange sensation. It felt like powerful sword energy also.

'Should I follow this?'

The agent said he did not know inside of the forest, so it felt like Yin Moha had to follow this energy.

"I will take the lead."

“...Of course.”

Hou Sangwha answered and the others began following Yin Moha. Yin Moha walked through the dense fog and walked. After a while, the dense forest ended and they found something. Yin Moha became shocked and looked at it.

“Ah!”

The rest of the team showed a similar reaction when they saw it. They were astonished when Yin Moha frowned and pulled out her sword. That’s when a shadowy figure attacked them.

It was now 20 days later. There was a Yellow River located north of Hobuk Castle. It was a vast river that flowed through it.

“Hmph!”

Those who were running on the horse at the hill that watched river from above stopped. They all gasped in astonishment as they saw the vast river.

“Wow! This is so big!”

“Is that the Yellow River?”

They were Mun Ku and Hu Bong. They were mesmerized by the first look at the Yellow River that they saw for the first time.

“Whew...”

And there was one person who was sighing at them. It was a middle-aged man with slicked-back hair and thick eyebrows with a handsome look. It was the Fourth Elder, Yang Danwa. And the man with long hair next to him was Chun Yeowun.

They were here to find the missing special expedition team. Chun Yeowun was going to send someone else, but since he had never gone out of the cult yet, he took this as a chance to come out for once.

‘No way!’

‘You shouldn’t go there yourself, my lord!’

Many objected to the idea of the Lord searching for the missing team by himself. Great Guardian Marakim objected and so did Huan Yi. But Yeowun wanted to see the Jianghu with his own eyes, so he insisted on going.

‘Understood. I will follow you then.’

The Great Guardian was a guardian of the Lord, so Marakim said he would follow but Yeowun refused. His leave of absence was to remain unofficial, so he was going to put a replacement. He couldn’t have the Great Guardian to be replaced with a replacement so he ordered Marakim to stay.

‘But you can’t leave alone. Then why don’t we do this?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Huan Yi then suggested taking someone who knew the Yulin clan well and the forces of justice as it was Yeowun’s first time going out. And of course, they were a powerful warrior. Huan Yi wished he could leave together, but he couldn’t stay outside the cult for a long time as he had to watch over every covert operation. The person appointed was Yang Danwa. He had been at the northeastern outpost for a long time, so he knew well about the lands of the Jianghu. He was also at the end stage of superior master warrior, so he was strong enough to aid Yeowun.

‘I-I will go with you, my lord!’

Hu Bong, lieutenant of Palace Guards, volunteered to go. He always insisted to stay close to Yeowun. He insisted that he’d carry bags, so Yeowun decided to go quietly with these three people. And...

‘...Since when were you all waiting here?’

Chapter 264 - 264 Going out to Yulin (5)

Chapter 264: 264 Going out to Yulin (5)

In the early morning when they left, there were four people waiting for them. It was Ko Wanghur, Mun Ku, Sama Chak, and Che Takim. They were those who guarded the Lord as Palace Guards, so they too had prepared to leave.

‘We will guard you along the way!’

‘There are too many of you. I can’t have all of you go missing. It will blow the cover.’

Yeowun couldn’t scold them too much as they were doing this out of loyalty. He then decided to take one person and it was decided to be Mun Ku. Ko Wanghur was stronger, but his big body was too noticeable so he was erased from the list from the beginning.

‘M-my lord!’

‘No.’

Ko Wanghur regretted his large muscles for the first time in his life. He really wanted to go with Chun Yeowun ever since he heard Hou Sangwha had gone missing.

‘I will have all Six Swords go with me next time, so stay back.’

‘Yes, my lord.’

Yeowun ordered them to train hard while he was gone. And four of them then stopped by the Demonic Cult’s outposts to change horses and ride all the way there. Yeowun and Mun Ku had masks on their faces. Yeowun's face was shown to the forces of justice at the party so he had to hide, and Mun Ku was just too beautiful so that her face needed to be covered to look indistinguishable.

'Hmmm.'

Yang Danwa sighed and turned to Chun Yeowun.

"Master. If we cross the river, it is not the territory of the forces of justice. We have to pay attention as it might get dangerous."

Ever since they left the castle, they didn't refer Yeowun to be the Lord as they could blow their cover. But what Yang Danwa was saying was actually aimed at Hu Bong and Mun Ku who were excited ever since they left the castle.

'It's really interesting.'

Yang Danwa was surprised when he first saw Hu Bong. Hu Bong was lieutenant to the leader of Palace Guard Hou Jinchang. It was a position even higher than the leader of the six palace guards group, but Hu Bong's power was only at the end stage of master level.

'End stage of master level isn't weak but...'

Considering that all lieutenants of the palace guards were at least super master level, it was weird that Yeowun, who considered power over everything, chose Hu Bong to be at such a place. But after looking at Hu Bong's act of loyalty throughout their travel, Yang Danwa did acknowledge Hu Bong's heart.

'Well, I was surprised when I saw the Lord for the first time too.'

Yang Danwa saw Chun Yeowun for the first time when he finished the competition and was placed as the fourth Elder. He was shocked beyond imagination. He couldn't believe that Chun Yeowun, a young man, dismantled half of six clans and saved the Demonic Cult from danger twice. And what was certain was that Yeowun was much stronger than Yang Danwa himself.

'Our second Chun Ma.'

He heard that heroes were different from they were young. Yang Danwa thought he was lucky to be chosen to aid Chun Yeowun by his side this time. Maybe it was a chance to see the legend with his own eyes.

"If we go down there, there will be a small dock."

Yang Danwa pointed down by the river. They had to go across the river, so they had to find a boat. The docks were crowded and there were a lot of boats.

"Master! It's my first time riding a boat!"

"Heh... me too."

'Ugh...'

Yang Danwa was the only one frustrated at innocent reactions of the other two.

If they pass through the river, it would then be territory. Yeowun and his members went down the hill on their horses and waited for the boat. They needed at least two boats to pass the river with their horses.

"Master."

When they got down, Hu Bong called to Yeowun with a serious look. Yeowun turned with a curious look and Hu Bong spoke.

“You have to be careful when you cross the river.”

It was reasonable. Yang Danwa sighed in relief as Hu Bong, a supposed guard, seemed to recognize the danger that might lie ahead across the river.

“I heard from the ‘Travels of Jianghu’ that there are bandits that learned martial art called ‘Eighteen Water Rows.’ I’m sure Master is stronger, but we are on the river against...”

“...Lieutenant Hu. I mean, Hu Bong.”

“Bandit ships only attack merchant ships that travel along the river. They don’t attack small boats that go across the river.

Yang Danwa corrected Hu Bong’s wrong information and Hu Bong blushed with embarrassment.

“...Oh.”

It was a limitation of information learned through books. And after waiting for an hour, it was their turn to get on the boat. Hu Bong wished to see bandits as he read from the book, but that didn’t happen.

‘The river isn’t clear,’ Yeowun thought as he saw the river water in dirt color full of dirt.

‘Is this why it is called the Yellow River?’

The people living around the Yellow River had to remove the dirt and its taste to drink it, so they resorted to teas.

Boats went across the river and now they were at the Hobuk regions. It was the first time that Yeowun was stepping on grounds outside the territory of the Demonic Cult.

“Starting here, we don’t have our outposts so we will stop by towns to change horses while we move.”

The travel didn’t pose much of a problem as Yang Danwa was highly experienced in travel. They avoided going into large towns, so they didn’t meet with any of the Yulin clan members. After traveling five days without resting, they were now near Sword Creek, northwest of Hobuk Castle.

It had been cloudy since the afternoon, but the sky was now dark with clouds. There were occasional thunders, which meant rain was going to fall soon. They then saw a small inn.

“Master, we should rest there today and move tomorrow morning. Let’s see if we can borrow a bamboo raincoat from there.”

Yang Danwa spoke and Yeowun nodded. They were told that Sword Creek was within the mountain peaks that they now could see. But they couldn’t dare to move into the harsh forest at night where the rain was heavy, so it was better to rest at the restaurant. They were also exhausted from camping for the last two nights.

[Inn – Danwen]

It was a small inn, but it had most of the necessities.

“There’s the barn. I’ll tie the horses there. Go in first, Master.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Thanks.”

Hu Bong took the horses to the barn and rest went into the building dining area. And as they walked in, they all flinched.

‘Ugh...’

Yang Danwa frowned. They moved carefully so they would never come across warriors from the forces of justice, but the dining area had a group of white-clothed warriors eating inside. They were warriors from the Mudan clan.

Chapter 265 - 265 Night in the Inn (1)

Chapter 265: 265 Night in the Inn (1)

Thunders roared and heavy rain started to fall. If Chun Yeowun's group was a bit late, then they would have been drenched in the rain. Every guest inside the dining hall all turned to the entrance that opened. Warrior Monks from the Mudan clan also turned also.

'This is troubling.'

Yang Danwa frowned at the situation where they had come across warrior monks from the Mudan clan right by the inn near Sword Creek. The Mudan clan was one of the strongest clans within the Yulin clan.

'I tried to avoid meeting foxes and now we have come right into the tiger's den.'

Of course, Yan Danwa was the Elder and a warrior who always searched for war so he wasn't afraid of them. But they had Lord Chun Yeowun with them. It was like the king was moving by himself, so they weren't sure what the Yulin clan might try to do if they found out. Yang Danwa sent a telepathic message to Yeowun.

[My Lord, there are quite a few warriors from the forces of justice in here.]

The ones that were the most concerning were those from the Mudan clan, and most of the other guests were also warriors. None of them were highly skilled, and it would probably only take a few minutes for Hu Bong to take care of them alone.

[The rest are weaklings, but those are monks from the Mudan clan. What should we do?]

There were two answers to this question. One was to give up staying in this inn and go through the rain, or stay quietly at the inn without making any trouble.

Yeowun glanced outside the inn, and the rain didn't seem it was going to stop any time soon. It was heavy monsoonal rain that didn't seem to stop. It wasn't a wise move to go out searching the creek in this weather.

[I guess we should stay quiet and lay low.]

He had his face covered with a mask, so it wasn't likely that they would be discovered. And from what he can feel, the strongest man within that group was only about a master level warrior. They weren't a match, but it didn't mean Yeowun's group could cause trouble within the region of the forces of justice.

"Oh MY! Look at the rain... huh?"

Hu Bong then entered late, fully drenched in rain. He then saw monks dressed in white clothes and frowned.

[Don't say anything.]

"HMPH!"

Yang Danwa sent a telepathic message, so Hu Bong pretended nothing was wrong and sat down. But Hu Bong and Mun Ku were out in the Yulin for the first time, so they became tense at the sight of enemy forces. But Yeowun didn't seem like he wasn't bothered at all.

'I heard it's his first time too... he sure is brave.'

Yang Danwa was astounded. They sat down right next to the monks, not a spot far away from that place. Because of this bold move, monks from the Mudan clan didn't think much about them and returned to their dinner.

"Hmmm."

A old man with a pipe smoke got up and walked over to Yeowun's table.

"Having dinner?"

Most inns should have servers working, but it seemed the old man did it by himself. Yang Danwa spoke to him.

"Do you have a room, sir?"

"Ah, I guess you need a room in such weather. But hmm..."

"Do you not have one?"

"Well, as you can see with all these guests..."

The dining hall had a total of eight tables, with five tables full of guests that totaled up to 25. Yang Danwa glanced over and saw only 8 rooms that matched the tables.

"Don't you have any rooms available?"

"I have a two-person room... if you don't mind staying in that same room."

It seemed the two-person room was quite small. Yang Danwa frowned as he scratched his chin. He couldn't offer the Lord of the Demonic Cult to sleep together in a small room. That's when someone spoke to him.

"To God all mighty... it seems you need a room."

Yeowun turned, and one of the monks from the Mudan clan got up and was looking at them. He had clean monk clothes with a mustache. Yang Danwa became wary. He wanted to avoid coming into contact, so he didn't expect he would have to talk to them in this way. But it was the old man who responded instead.

"Haha... Are you going to offer your room, Monk Mu?"

"Well, your guests are in trouble. We, the people of God, can happily give our room away for the good of others."

It seemed that both of them knew each other well. The old man took a long seep from his pipe and spoke.

"Well, our Monk Mu Jinja from the Mudan clan is saying he will offer his room to you. What do you say?"

Yang Danwa hesitated for a bit, but got up and bowed to the monk.

"Thank you, Monk Mu."

"To God all mighty... no, it is nothing. It seems that the three of you are heroes who have learned martial arts. It is a deed must done to for brothers in arms."

'Ah...'

It seemed that monk Mu Jinja thought Yeowun's group were warriors from the forces of justice. Yeowun was hiding his energy, but he thought he had to be careful on how to act. That's when Mu Jinja sent a telepathic message to Yang Danwa.

[By the looks of it, you are serving your master there, right? Don't worry and use the room.]

Mu Jinja then winked at Hu Bong. Yang Danwa almost burst into laughter but he had to hold back. Even Chun Yeowun laughed a bit as he overheard the telepathic message.

‘That’s why...’

Mu Jinja was the leader of the group. He was a warrior at the end stage of master level, so he could only sense the energy from Hu Bong, and he thought Hu Bong was the leader. All of Yeowun’s members looked very young, so it didn’t come to Mu Jinja’s mind that maybe they were much stronger.

“Huh?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Hu Bong became confused as he didn’t know what was going on. And when Mu Jinja returned to his seat while laughing, Hu Bong grimaced and sent a telepathic message to Yeowun.

[Master, that monk is strange. He was winking at me, like how Elder Huan does... is he a pervert?]

‘...’

Hu Bong shook his body from imagining it but Yeowun didn’t answer.

Chapter 266 - 266 Night in the Inn (2)

Chapter 266: 266 Night in the Inn (2)

As they ordered simple meat noodles and food, they talked normally while sending telepathic messages for important messages. The orange tag that could bring them to the Godly Doctor was given to the special expedition team, so they had to search through the entire Sword Creek.

“Let’s hope the rain stops tomorrow.”

While they were talking, the old man brought out the food from the kitchen and placed it down on the table. At least he didn’t carry his pipes while he was carrying food.

“Well, the rain will stop early morning tomorrow.”

It seemed he had heard a bit of what they talked. Hu Bong said, “The rain is so heavy. Do you really think so?”

“Haha. I have lived in this region for 30 years. We are not in the monsoon period. This is just passing rain.”

“Oh! That’s good!”

Hu Bong spoke excitedly to Yeowun and the old man frowned and asked, “Hmm... Are you folks trying to enter Sword Creek?”

As he finished, the dining hall turned silent immediately. It was even hard to believe that the hall was noisy just until while ago. Guests were acting if they weren’t interested, but they were focusing on what the old man was saying.

‘This is strange.’

Chun Yeowun and his members felt the strange air inside the hall and glanced around. There were two other groups who had learned martial arts, but all three martial artist groups stopped and focused on them. This was weird. The old man continued, "Let me tell you. Don't enter Sword Creek."

"Huh?"

Hu Bong looked back and the old man took the plate and picked up his pipe. He then took a long seep and let out a sigh as he spoke.

"Whew... there are others who have not come out after going into that creek. I just hope you don't kill yourselves."

"...Old man. What is that about?" Yang Danwa asked. Before he left, he had heard a lot of information about Sword Creek from Huan Yi. But they never heard anyone other than the special expedition team going missing within Sword Creek.

"Well, there were martial artists like you folks in recent days but I never saw them come out after they went into that creek."

The old man sighed as the thunder roared outside, with lightning flashing. Everyone was now silent and was focusing on what the old man was saying.

"Is there something happening inside the creek?"

"...I'm just an old man at the inn. I wouldn't know much... but I warned you. And when the rain stops, there will be fog. Don't try to go in and kill yourself. Just go back."

The old man spoke, and all members of Yeowun's group became grim. They wanted to ask, but they couldn't bear to ask while all the people around were listening to them. Yang Danwa sent a telepathic message to Yeowun.

[We have many ears here, so I'll ask the old man later about the details. You should get some rest after dinner, my Lord.]

[I understand.]

Yeowun thought Yang Danwa was correct so they returned to their dinner. The old man went back to his pipe and the dining hall became noisy again. But the only difference...

[Brother Mu. It seems like something's happened to him. Maybe the innkeeper knows something.]

[To God all mighty... Brother, don't jump to conclusions.]

[I'm sorry.]

There were countless telepathic messages going back and forth in the hall. Yeowun was able to listen to all of them through his ears as Nano worked to tap in on them. There was another group from the forces of justice and it seemed like they were searching for something within the creek.

[Something must have happened within the creek!]

[We can't be sure yet. There's no way our lieutenant would have died.]

[But...]

[We will go on with our search as planned.]

[Yes, sir.]

It seemed they too, like Yeowun, were looking for missing people. But another group seemed to have a different purpose.

[This is strange. Maybe the object wasn't there?]

[Impossible. No one died because they didn't bring it before.]

[...Maybe something happened to the Godly Doctor?]

[That's impossible too. Do you not know who protects the Godly Doctor?]

[Yes, I know.]

[There are too many people here. We will depart as soon as the rain stops.]

Other groups seemed to be after the Godly Doctor. It seemed like they were talking about the orange tag.

'It is certain that the Godly Doctor is within Sword Creek. But why did Yin Moha and the group go missing?'

He wasn't sure what happened to them. Yin Moha was a warrior at the end stage of the superior master level. If she were to be put down, then it required a much more powerful warrior. At least Yeowun was able to find out that all three warrior groups here were here to find someone within Sword Creek.

And contrary to the old man's expectation, the rain became more heavy. It was concerning, but Yeowun and his members decided to take the night off and rest. As they walked up the stairs, Yang Danwa spoke.

"Master, you can rest here while..."

That's when Hu Bong interrupted them, "Wait."

“What?”

“The two-person room is said to be small. I don’t think it’s a good idea to have three people share it.”

Yang Danwa became dumbfounded at Hu Bong’s words.

“What are you talking about? The master should use the room al...”

“How can we share this small room with a wo.... Hmph. Man, Mun Ku? It’s better for her to share the room with Master and guard him.”

“HUH!?”

Hu Bong spoke with a cough and Mun Ku blushed. Yang Danwa knew that Mun Ku was a girl, but he just thought it was better for the Lord to rest alone.

‘Hmm... well, it might be better for someone to stay by the Lord.’

Yang Danwa agreed, as that was a valid point. But he didn’t like idea of sharing the room with the talkative Hu Bong.

“Well, Mun Ku. You should share the room with the master tonight.”

“Good! We should go to our room then! Haha!”

Hu Bong then pushed Yang Danwa’s back into their room. And as they walked in, Hu Bong turned to glance at Yeowun and winked his eyes.

‘My Lord! Your best servant Hu Bong, has prepared you for the night! I hope you have a wonderful night! Hahahahaha!’

Yeowun frowned.

Chapter 267 - 267 Night in the Inn (3)

Chapter 267: 267 Night in the Inn (3)

Chun Yeowun and Mun Ku awkwardly entered the room. They once used the same dormitory room back when they were cadets at the Demonic Academy, but this felt entirely different. They were young and didn't have any feelings for each other back then. Now, it was different.

Besides, there weren't any of the other cadets like before. Only Chun Yeowun and Mun Ku were in the room.

'Uh...'

Mun Ku's face blushed as she didn't know what to do. And when they walked into the room, there was another thing that made them shocked.

"What?"

"There's only... one bed."

The room that was said to be two-person room was larger than they thought but there was only one bed. It seemed like this room was the room that Monk Mu Jinja had given to them.

"I-I think there was a mistake. M-my Lord. I will go ask Hu Bong to change rooms."

"Mun..."

Mun Ku left the room before Yeowun could say anything. After coming out of the room, Mun Ku tried to calm her pounding heart. She didn't know before, but it made her very nervous to stay in one small room with the person she loved.

‘I’m shaking.’

She grabbed her shaking hands. Whatever the case, it didn’t feel right to sleep in a room where there was only one bed. Mun Ku headed toward the opposite side of the second floor through the corridor that was shaped like a square. Another room was on the opposite side.

As she walked, there were monks from the Mudan clan coming up the stairs. Mu Jinja bowed to Mun Ku as they came across each other on the corridor.

“It seems your master has weird taste. I gave away the room so that your master can rest alone, but if two are in there...”

“What?”

“Uh, no. It’s nothing.”

Monk Mu Jinja shook his head awkwardly and went into his room. It seemed he had mistaken Hu Bong and Yang Danwa’s relationship, but Mun Ku was not the type to know anything like this, so she just became curious. Mun Ku then got to the room where Hu Bong and Yang Danwa stayed and knocked.

“Hu Bong. Hu Bong.”

She couldn’t dare to call out the Fourth Elder, so she whispered Hu Bong’s name. But there wasn’t any answer.

“Ugh.”

She wasn't sure if Yang Danwa was inside, but she felt Hu Bong's presence so it was weird. Maybe he was pretending to not have heard. Mun Ku then knocked harder.

"Hu Bong!"

Someone inside then ran up to the door and opened it slightly. Inside was already dark without a light. Hu Bong poked out his head through the door and spoke.

"Hmph. What is it?"

"I think our rooms were switched."

"Rooms?"

"Our room has only one bed."

Hu Bong's face turned weird when he heard that. He thought the two rooms all had two beds, but it was actually better if the room Yeowun went in had one bed.

"Hu Bong... do you realize you are grinning like a pervert?"

Hu Bong's face was grinning very weirdly. He then changed his expression to make it seem as if he was sympathetic and sorry.

"Oh, I'm sorry."

"What?"

"This room only has one bed too."

"Don't lie!"

"No, I'm not. I have to sleep on the floor, you see... and Sir Yang Danwa is sleeping right now. Do you want me to wake him up?”

Hu Bong spoke casually, and Mun Ku frowned. She wanted to light up the room to check, but she couldn't bear to have the Elder wake up from his sleep. She had no choice but to return to her room. And Hu Bong smiled satisfyingly as he looked Mun Ku returning.

‘You should thank me later.’

Hu Bong then heard Fourth Elder Yang Danwa's low voice.

“...I'm just letting you do this once, Lieutenant Hu.”

“Yes, sir. Hehehe.”

Mun Ku, after she arrived at front of the room, stood there hesitating. It was fine until now, but her heart began to pound again. It was beating so hard that she couldn't go inside. That's when the door opened.

“Did he say he will switch out the room?”

It was Chun Yeowun who felt the person's presence outside the door. Mun Ku blushed and shook her head.

“N-no... he said they only have one bed there too.”

“...Really?”

He would not have believed it if Hu Bong there to say it to Yeowun, but he couldn't do much as Mun Ku seemed to have been persuaded. Yeowun then told Mun Ku to come in. Mun Ku began to think about what she should do again and Yeowun spoke to her.

“Mun Ku. You should sleep on the bed. I will sit down on the floor and meditate tonight.”

“What?”

Mun Ku became surprised. Yeowun then blushed a bit and offered Mun Ku to sleep on the bed again. She didn't realize at first but she now realized that Yeowun seemed to be embarrassed too. It felt weird.

‘Is he nervous too?’

It seemed she wasn't the only one who was nervous about the situation. When she realized this, her nervousness calmed down and she now thought that Yeowun was cute.

‘Hmmm...’

Yeowun always was cold-hearted and emotionless, but looking at him being blush made Mun Ku feel better. She wasn't sure until now, but she began to think maybe Yeowun liked her too.

“You can go to sleep first.”

“But..”

“I'm okay.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Are you sure?”

“...Yeah.”

“I can't help you if you regret it later.”

Mun Ku wasn't nervous anymore as she teased and Yeowun nodded. Mun Ku then smiled and took off her outer clothes and placed them over the table.

Chapter 268 - Night in the Inn (4)

Chapter 268: Night in the Inn (4)

‘Oops.’

Yeowun then became surprised and turned away. He knew that she wouldn’t take off all her clothes with him here, but it still felt embarrassing. As he waited, he felt Mun Ku coming near him.

‘Huh?’

And when Yeowun turned, he froze. Mun Ku was without her skin mask and was standing a foot away from Yeowun. Mun Ku’s beautiful face lit under low candlelight made Yeowun’s heart pound harder than ever.

Mun Ku looked up to Yeowun who was blushing, and her lips were so tempting. Yeowun became embarrassed and stuttered, “W-why did you take off your mask?”

Mun Ku smiled as Yeowun’s embarrassed reaction felt lovely to her. She still had a pure and beautiful smile just like when she showed herself to Yeowun the first time under the moonlight at the academy. She spoke to Yeowun who was watching her with a mesmerized look.

“Do you... like me?” Mun Ku asked with careful, shaking voice. Yeowun felt her nervousness and looked her back into her eyes. Mun Ku then moved her small lips again to ask.

“Or... do you not like me?”

Her eyes showed Yeowun’s reflection. Yeowun became silent for a while at the question, but slowly raised his hand and placed it over her white cheek. Mun Ku shook when she felt his touch.

“Ah...”

Yeowun smiled at Mun Ku, who was shaking like a small bird.

“I like you.”

“Ah...!”

He had Mun Ku in his mind ever since he saw her back in the academy. But Yeowun had grown without love ever since his mother Lady Hwa passed away, so he wasn't used to love and affection. Mun Ku smiled at Yeowun who looked embarrassed while he touched Mun Ku's cheek.

‘Hehe.’

She then pulled herself up by tiptoe and brought her lips against Yeowun's lips. Two lips met each other and Yeowun's eyes grew large. Mun Ku's soft and sweet scent came into Yeowun's nose.

‘Ku...’

That's when Yeowun heard Nano's voice inside his head.

[User's heart rate is increasing rapidly. Hormone rate is growing...]

‘Nano, go mute.’

[Activating silence mode.]

After a long kiss, Yeowun and Mun Ku let go of each other's lips. Mun Ku had been holding her breath so she panted.

“Hah...”

Her cheeks were reddened as she stood embarrassed and Yeowun’s heart began to beat harder. Both of them became mesmerized by the sensation of their first kiss. They were never taught how to do so, but they began to kiss again and started touching each other’s cheeks and body. Soon, two of them sat on the bed and began to dive into one another.

About an hour later, Fourth Elder Yang Danwa came out of the dorm room carefully. Hu Bong was inside the room, snoring through his sleep. Yang Danwa held on the fence and looked down. The hall was empty with all of the guests having returned to their rooms. There was only the sound of rainfall outside the building. He had been waiting until all the guests returned to the room.

Yang Danwa quickly jumped off the fence and got down to the first floor. His two feet were so light that they didn’t even make any sound. The skill of superior master level warrior was beyond that of any normal person.

‘Should he be sleeping?’

It was after midnight so it was likely that the old man was asleep. There was no chance that there would be any more guests coming in this late at night with the heavy rain outside. He knew that there was a room for workers to sleep next to the kitchen, so he carefully walked over to it and opened the room door. And...

‘Huh?’

There were two beds, but only one bed had the cooking staff on it. Another bed was empty, with a trace of someone who had gotten up from it recently.

‘Where did he go?’

Yang Danwa used his senses to focus on sensing any human presence nearby. The heavy rainfall was a hindrance, but he felt someone nearby.

‘Barn?’

The person was at the barn. Yang Danwa then quickly moved out of the inn building and went outside. The rain was still heavy with thunder and lightning roaring occasionally. Yang Danwa took steps to avoid getting soaked in rain to run toward the barn. When he got there, he had to hide quickly. He only expected to see the old man, but there was another man there. The old man was talking to a certain man with orange tag in his hand.

‘That is...’

He had heard before coming here that the orange tag was necessary to meet with the Godly Doctor.

‘Is that it?’

The tag looked similar to the one that the special expedition team had taken with them. Yang Danwa decided to he should wait a bit as there was a guest that had come first.

‘Huh?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Something unexpected happened. The old man used his finger like a sword and quickly penetrated the man’s forehead. The man also hadn’t expected the attack and got killed with his two eyes wide open.

‘How can that be...?’

He thought the man was a normal man, but it seemed like the old man was actually a powerful warrior. And as he was shocked, the old man mumbled something. His lips read this:

Chapter 269 - Night in the Inn (5)

Chapter 269: Night in the Inn (5)

The old man lowered his body to pick up the orange tag that the dead man dropped. He then put it into his pocket and raised his body up to stretch his waist. It looked like he had been faking his hunched back and stood straight up.

"I wasted too much time in order to get this."

The old man shook his head. The energy arousing from within him and the air about him changed suddenly and Yang Danwa realized it was dangerous. It was then that the man disappeared into a trace. It was the mirror image technique.

"Ugh!"

Yang Danwa quickly pulled out his blade and swung forward. The old man then appeared in front and backed away to dodge the attack. Yang Danwa glared at the old man as he was getting soaked from the heavy rain. The old man grinned.

"Oh, you are quicker than I thought."

If the raindrop hadn't splashed in front of his eyes, Yang Danwa would not have realized the old man had come for him. The old man was at least stage stronger than Yang Danwa himself.

"Old man... what are you?"

"Me? Hahaha. I'm just an owner of the inn."

"Lies."

There was no way that a mere inn owner can be this powerful. The skin over the old man's face began to flap over the heavy rain.

'Is that a skin mask?'

Even if the mask was highly-skilled in craftsmanship, there was no way it could hold onto the face under this heavy rain. The old man charged at Yang Danwa and Yang Danwa swung his blade to defend.

'The energy's so powerful!'

The energy coming through the old man's finger was tremendous. Yang Danwa was able to defend himself but he was pushed back about five steps. The old man then came in further, attacking in different angles to get Yang Danwa's weak points. Yang Danwa then spun and created a blade barrier to deflect the attack. With sword qi being thrown at him deflected, the old man was already upon Yang Danwa, and came after his forehead.

"Huh?!"

Yang Danwa pulled himself backward in shock and the old man kicked his leg.

"UGH!"

Yang Danwa was thrown off balance and fell to the muddy ground. He then rolled on the ground to dodge the old man's next attack that came down at him. A sharp energy shot past him, almost cutting him in half if he didn't move faster. Danwa then placed his hand on the ground to push him up like a spring and sent blade qi toward the inn.

The blade qi shot past the inn's wall, destroying it on its way. The old man shook his head.

"Hah. So, you are choosing another step."

"Hah... Hah..."

The reason for the blade qi was to wake people up within the inn. Yang Danwa wished for Chun Yeowun to notice the most. The old man scoffed.

"Do you think the weaklings inside will save you? Hahaha. You are just increasing the number of deaths."

"Weaklings? Well... we will see about that."

"You're just bluffing."

The old man then disappeared and divided into two and came at Yang Danwa in different directions. His movement was so quick that it looked like there was two of him.

'Which one is it?'

Only one of them was the real one, but none had a weakness. Yang Danwa then focused his energy on the blade to create force qi, and swung it widely to attack both enemies. The first trace that he came into contact with was an illusion. The real attack came from the left.

'Quicker!'

Yang Danwa swung his blade again, but it was too late to defend. The blue sword force qi came across Yang Danwa's blade and couldn't penetrate the heart where it came for, but went through Yang Danwa's left shoulder.

"Aargh!"

Yang Danwa grimaced at the pain. The old man then looked at Yang Danwa dwindling and tried to finish.

“I’ll send you to hell.”

The old man then zoomed toward Yang Danwa’s head to penetrate it. That’s when the old man felt sudden energy and jumped back. A blue blade force qi shot past him on where he stood. The force qi exploded as it went down into the ground, throwing debris up. The old man swung his fingers and the debris that came to him was deflected by the sword barrier created by his finger.

That’s when someone appeared in front of Yang Danwa. Yang Danwa was still in pain, but he immediately brightened by the person’s appearance.

“M-master!”

It was Chun Yeowun who saved him. It seemed he had come out quickly, so his upper clothes just hung there and his face was a bit red.

‘Who is that man?’

He wasn’t sure what was going on as Yeowun had just gotten out, but it seemed the old man wasn’t just an ordinary inn owner after all. He was at least powerful enough to avoid getting struck by blade force qi that was thrown as an ambush.

“Hmph.”

The old man became grim.

‘I just thought he was a mere kid... was he hiding his power?’

Yeowun was at the end stage of the superior master level, so he could control his energy fully. That's why the old man only considered Yang Danwa to be the most dangerous.

'So, he was trying to call this young man.'

The old man now understood why Yang Danwa threw blade qi toward the inn. Yeowun aimed his White Dragon Blade at the old man and asked, "You. What are you?"

"..."

The old man did not answer. He was thinking if he should fight Chun Yeowun or run. That's when he heard the crowd coming out of the inn.

"Hmph. You saved your life."

It was a good reason. He left the words to Yang Danwa and jumped.

"Stop!"

Yeowun threw force qi bullet toward the old man, but the old man didn't even look back and just simply dodged and disappeared. He disappeared toward Sword Creek that he insisted where no one should go. Yeowun hesitated if he should chase after the old man, but gave up. He couldn't feel the old man's energy, meaning the old man was either as strong as or stronger than Yeowun. And...

"Yang Danwa. Are you okay?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"I-I'm okay, master."

Yang Danwa replied, but he was pale. His pain must be severe as his shoulder was penetrated from the force qi. Yeowun then pressed on the blood points around the shoulder to stop it from bleeding. At that time, warrior groups including the Mudan clan came out of the inn. They all seemed to be tense from the blade qi that penetrated through first floor of the inn. Monk Mu Jinja first ran toward them and asked, "Lord almighty... what happened here?"

It was hard to explain how, and Yang Danwa quickly made up an explanation.

"Ugh... Monk Mu. I was ambushed."

Chapter 270 - Night in the Inn (6)

Chapter 270: Night in the Inn (6)

“Ambushed?”

It seemed looking from the left shoulder, Yang Danwa wasn't in good state. Yang Danwa turned his pale face toward the barn.

“I was on my way to tend to horses, and the old man of the inn killed a man.”

“Killed?”

Another group of warriors then quickly ran toward the barn. There was the old man who died within the barn.

“L-leader!”

Three people were shocked to see the dead man, their leader down at the barn. The man said he will go ask questions to the old man, but was found dead. While they were sad and angry, one of them searched through the man but they couldn't find the orange tag.

“No! It's not here!”

They then began to search the area and quickly ran to where Yang Danwa was at and asked.

“D-did the old man kill our leader here?”

“Ugh... y-yes. I saw it with my own eyes. He then ran toward the creek when you all were coming out.”

“No! Get ready!”

“Yes, sir!”

Three of them were only thinking on finding the old man, who were responsible for their leader’s death and stolen orange tag. It was night of heavy rain, but they got the horses out and took their dead leader and left the inn. Monks from Mudan clan tried to stop them as the rain was too heavy, but there was no use. Mu Jinja seemed dumbfounded from what happened and shook his head.

“To God almighty... how can this happen?”

He had known the old man for years, but he couldn’t believe that the old man was actually a powerful warrior and killed one of his guest. They too thought of asking the old man regarding questions, so they also thought they were bit lucky.

“He’s losing too much blood. I should return to my room and rest him.”

“Yes, of course.”

Yeowun helped Yang Danwa inside the room, and one of monks from Mudan clan whispered to Mu Jinja.

“Did you see him, brother?”

“...Yes.”

“It’s a skin mask.”

They realized Yeowun had a skin mask over his face. There was no way they would not recognize the skin mask that had twisted slightly through the rain.

“Do you think they are actually behind the killing of the man, and possibly the old man?”

“I don’t think so.”

“Why?”

A monk asked to Mu Jinja and another monk who had looked closely at Yeowun and Danwa’s blade spoke out.

“Brother Mu is right. Both of them uses blade. But the dead man had sword wound.”

“Oh.”

But even if Yeowun wasn’t the suspect, it didn’t mean he wasn’t suspicious with a skin mask. This Sword Creek was a place of secrets after all. Mu Jinja then looked up to the night sky with heavy rain and thunders roaring through.

“It seems treacherous wind is blowing through the Sword Creek yet again.”

Early next morning, the heavy rain fall stopped as if it had never rained. Birds chirped from all around, and it didn’t seem there will be any more rain. It was a good news to those who were planning to leave. Yeowun’s group prepared to leave before the dawn. Yeowun planned to leave early, as he overheard Mudan clan monks talking about him yesterday night, and thought they are growing suspicious. But...

‘They left already?’

When Yeowun woke up early in the morning, the rain slowed down and monks from Mudan clan quickly left the inn. They left quietly, trying to not let anyone know that they were leaving.

‘Is it because about what happened yesterday?’

After the incident last night, Yeowun and monks of Mudan clan woke up the kitchen staff so that they can ask who the old man was.

“I-I don’t know anything, sir! I’m telling the truth!”

Unlike the old man, the kitchen staff was just an ordinary man who have not learned any martial art. What’s interesting was that the old man disappeared about five days a month ago and returned.

‘He-he did seem like strange after that but...’

The old man was weird in many ways originally, so the kitchen staff thought it wasn’t much of a deal. Yeowun then realized that the man he fought had came to this inn about month ago, faking himself as a old man. The five days was probably days for the man to create a mask of dead old man. But after knowing that they realized the old man was changed a month ago, monks of Mudan clan became grim.

[Brother! It is matches the date when we lost contact with him!]

[...We should make haste then.]

Yeowun thought there had been something going on, after tapping into their telepathic message. It seemed their quick leave was related to what they have said.

‘If they went to the Sword Creek, I’ll find out soon.’

Yeowun felt like he will know. As he waited outside the barn, Fourth Elder Yang Danwa and Hu Bong quietly came out of the inn. They were carrying food and water they got from the kitchen. Yang Danwa was still pale from the wound.

“Are you okay?”

“I’m sorry, master. But I can do my part.”

“Take care of yourself, okay?”

“Yes, sir.”

Yang Danwa tended to his internal damage by meditating through the night, but the wound on his shoulder was too severe. AT least it was left shoulder, that allowed him to use the blade. Hu Bong, who had been sleeping through, was able to find out what happened after being told by Yang Danwa early in the morning.

“I-I’ll take out horses.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“You do that, Lieutenant Hu.”

Hu Bong felt sorry for not even realizing what happened and lowered his head. He then met his eyes with Mun Ku. But Mun Ku blushed instantly and turned away to avoid meeting eyes with Hu Bong.

Hu Bong grinned.

‘She did it.’

Chapter 271 - Sword Creek, Grave of swords (1)

Chapter 271: Sword Creek, Grave of swords (1)

Forest was dense with fog, that it wasn't visible to look forward. The rain stopped but the ground was still damp and wet and the forest was very humid. The forest was also so dense that it was hard to even walk through it.

"I'm not sure if we are going the right way."

Hu Bong ranted as he cut down the bushes as he walked forward. After they moved past the old wood sign that said 'Sword Creek,' they were searching through the forest without a direction. They couldn't move through with the horses as the forest was too dense, so they were on foot now.

'It's like finding a needle in a haystack.'

It seemed it was going to be hard to find the missing special expedition team within this creek. Yeowun had opened all his senses to search for any signs of people, but he couldn't see anyone.

[Mapping the area... at 5%.]

Nano's voice rang inside Yeowun's head. Yeowun was watching through augmented reality. He saw a small square box at the corner of his sight, where Nano was showing a map as they walked through.

"No. Move to the left."

"Yes, Master."

Hu Bong changed direction at Yeowuun's order. At least they weren't walking through the same area with the help of Nano. Anyone would want to have Nano within them if they found out about Nano's abilities.

But they didn't know when they would get to find the missing people or the Godly Doctor. It was about two hours into the forest.

'I sense energy harmonizing.'

A small sound of harmony began to come from a distance. It seemed that Yang Danwa also felt this and was looking in the same direction and he grimaced.

"Did you feel that, sir?"

Yeowun nodded at Yang Danwa's question. Hu Bong and Mun Ku weren't sure what they were talking about and became curious. They were too weak to sense this sound.

"I think there's something there. Let's move there."

"Yes, sir."

Yang Danwa answered and Hu Bong became confused and asked, "W-where are we going?"

He wasn't sure what they were talking about and Yang Danwa smiled and spoke.

"Lieutenant Hu. Turn to the northwest from where you are right now."

"Y-yes, sir!"

With Yang Danwa explaining where to go, Hu Bong cut through more bushes and walked forward. The group began to move more quickly. As they walked closer to the area, the sound grew louder.

‘It’s... like a sharp energy.’

Energy that might come from a legendary weapon was flowing near the area. It seemed like they would get to the destination soon. It was then.

‘What is this smell?’

It was humid forest, so the sudden smell of blood pierced his nose. All members of the group also smelled this and frowned.

“Master, I smell blood.’

It seemed like it was coming from nearby. They quickly moved toward the smell, as it could be anyone. And toward the east, they saw a place with many sword markings.

“Ugh!”

Mun Ku frowned and looked away when they got there. All of the bushes were splattered with blood and there were bodies that had been cut into half. Organs were popping out here and there, so it was hard to see. But there wasn’t just one body. There were two bodies, and it seemed like the sword markings here were evidence of them trying to survive.

“T-these people are...”

Yeowun’s eye narrowed when he saw the faces of dead bodies. They were those who went to chase after the old man last night.

‘Did they come across that man?’

That was the likely explanation for them to be found dead. These people were only at about at the top-class level. There was no way for them to fight against the old man, but Yeowun couldn’t care about these people.

“Oh, these are people from yesterday.”

Hu Bong also realized this and spoke as he looked closely at their faces. Hu Bong then tapped on the body with his finger a few times and spoke.

“Master, it looks like they were killed recently.”

When they left yesterday, there was heavy rainfall. If the body was soaked under such rain, the body should have expanded, but the blood drained from the body down to the ground, leaving a trace of it which meant they were killed after the rain stopped.

‘Nano, analyze it.’

Yeowun ordered to Nano when he placed his finger on the blood and skin of the body. A white light began to come out of his finger and Nano began to analyze. Soon, Nano’s rang inside his head.

[From analyzing the blood and the muscle contraction, the estimated time of death is 2 hours ago.]

That wasn’t long. But it was enough time for the killer to move further away from the location. Yeowun then find out another fact.

‘Where is... another one?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

These groups traveled in groups of three. The actual group with their dead leader was a four-man group. But Yeowun couldn't find another person's body anywhere.

'There's no way he would be able to get away.'

There were only three of them, so it was likely that the old man could easily catch up to them and kill them. But Yeowun couldn't find another body. And when he was curious, Yang Danwa raised his hand to signal.

"Master!"

Chapter 272 - Sword Creek, Grave of swords (2)

Chapter 272: Sword Creek, Grave of swords (2)

Yeowun ran there and found footsteps in the mud. But there were the footsteps of two people instead of one. Luckily, the rain made the ground become muddy, leaving many traces.

‘They couldn’t erase the tracks.’

If it was just sand or dirt, it would have been easy to erase everything, but it was hard to erase footsteps left on mud. But where these footsteps were heading was...

“...It moved toward the sound.”

It was the location of the sound. Maybe if they went to the place, they can find the old man. But it wasn’t sure why the old man left one person alive.

“Let’s follow the footsteps.”

“Yes, sir.”

Yeowun’s members began to follow the footsteps. There was already a way created through it, so Hu Bong didn’t need to cut out any more bushes. After walking about 10 minutes, they were at the end of the bushes.

“OH!”

Hu Bong brightened up. He was feeling depressed while walking through the humid bushes, but it seemed like that was going to end. It was hard to see what was ahead as the fog was dense, so they had to get out of the bushes to see what was ahead.

‘There’s no mud.’

And as they came near the ending point, the ground turned into rocks. The footsteps also disappeared because of it. As they got out of the forest, they were at a large open space. The fog still hid most of its sight, but they still managed to see a vast stone wall standing in front of them.

“Whoaaa! A mountain? A rock mountain?”

Mun Ku looked down to up at the giant rock. The one they were looking at was a large mountain peak, but it was created with a rock instead of dirt. The surface was so steep that it was almost upright and there was almost no place to gain a foothold. Even a warrior had a powerful stepping skill, it would be hard to climb up without the right equipment.

“Such a thing was hidden within the creek.”

It was astounding. They walked closer to look at it. Hu Bong then quickly ran up to it and stopped with shock.

“UGH!”

Hu Bong could have been in danger if he had just kept on running. The ground wasn’t all just rocks. There was a large cliff that existed between.

“M-master! It’s a cliff! Don’t go near!”

Hu Bong shouted with a pale face. The distance between the cliff to the rock was quite far, and the cliff was so deep that they couldn’t see the bottom. The wind blew fiercely from below.

“Oohhh wow. I-it really is deep.”

Mun Ku looked down carefully and backed away with a pale face. The cliff was so deep that it was even dark. If someone dropped, they'd definitely be dead, no matter who it was.

Then they heard the sound again. Yeowun turned to a direction and gasped.

"Ah!"

"I-it's impossible!"

Fourth Elder Yang Danwa also turned at the direction and gasped in shock. They didn't see it at first because of the fog, but when they got closer, they saw it on the wall of the rock.

Sword.

There was a large word engraved on the giant stone wall.

"What are you talk... HUH!?"

"T-this is..."

Hu Bong and Mun Ku also turned to the direction and became wordless at the sight.

'This is amazing.'

That was only thing they could think of as they saw the word on the rock. They weren't close to it, but the word wasn't something that was carved out by some chisel.

'Sword? No, it's created by sword qi.'

The word was engraved in by qi. No one knew when it was engraved here, but the sheer size and power emanating from the word was enough to bring shock. It was almost like when Yeowun saw Chun Ma's sword trace left on the blue pearl stone pedestal.

'Who did this?'

Yeowun felt the arrogance and authority of the man who engraved this word on the wall. It felt like if the word itself was proving that the man was the best in the world. It was enough to make one training in the sword to become humble.

"Nnngh..."

Even Hu Bong, who had a low understanding of sword, couldn't put his eyes off from the word.

'There's no rest between. It was written there once. How did he do it?'

Yeowun was able to find out that it was written through sword qi, but it wasn't sure how it was made without any rest, especially when the cliff was dividing them apart. And it also seemed that the writing style was very familiar.

'This writing is like...'

"Prince. Look at that!"

Mun Ku shouted and Yeowun turned to the direction where she pointed. Under the giant word, there were some things that were stuck beneath. These swords were stuck there like a hedgehog.

"Swords?"

Many swords were stuck beneath the word, and it seemed like there were more than hundreds. There were all kinds of swords, ranging from ordinary ones to treasured swords. But most of them were rusted, proving they had been there for a long time.

‘Look at all those swords... are these swords abandoned?’

It wasn't easy to abandon one's unique weapon, as it was like a lifeline to a martial artist. This meant the person who abandoned the sword gave up on training sword art. Were there that many people who gave up on training sword because of that word?

After looking at it for a long time, Yeowun came to an understanding.

‘Wait. If these swords are abandoned here... maybe this place is...!’

Chapter 273 - Sword Creek, Grave of swords (3)

Chapter 273: 273 Sword Creek, Grave of swords (3)

“Sword Creek! Prince! This must be Sword Creek!!”

Chun Yeowun nodded to Mun Ku’s excited shouts. This was truly Sword Creek. There were so many swords abandoned in this place, and that gave the creek its name: ‘Sword Creek.’

‘This is like a graveyard for swords.’

With all the swords on the wall shaking slightly, a buzzing sound came through.

“Ah...”

Yeowun finally realized what the sound was about. It was through the word engraved on the wall sending energy through the swords, creating soundwaves from the shaking.

‘A sword trace left on the wall sending out the sword qi from within... wow.’

It was amazing to see such wonder for one who studied the sword. It seemed like the word left on the wall had been there for a long time. But it still had sword qi within it, which was a mystery beyond understanding.

‘It’s a level where a superior master level warrior cannot even possibly think to achieve.’

As Yeowun looked through the word, Yang Danwa suddenly found something and sent a telepathic message.

[Master! Master!]

‘?!’

[I sense human presence nearby!]

‘Human presence?’

Yeowun then got out of focus from the word and focused on his senses. He then felt the presence of a person nearby, but it was toward the wall.

‘Why is there a person in the wall?’

[Lieutenant Hu!]

“...Waaah! Y-yes! Yes!”

[Be quiet!]

Yang Danwa quickly got Hu Bong out of his mesmerized state. Hu Bong became frantic as he snapped out of daydreaming while looking at the word.

[Get yourselves together and follow me.]

[Yes, sir!]

Yang Danwa led Yeowun’s group down and moved to the right of the word. There, they found something surprising again.

‘W-what’s that?’

There were about twenty caves at the wall. They didn’t expect to find such a cave at the side of such giant rocks. Yeowun then had a thought.

‘Oh. Maybe the Godly Doctor is within that place!’

Yeowun was concerned when he entered the forest as he couldn’t find any traces of people. But after looking at these caves, he thought maybe he could find where the doctor was.

[There are so many caves.]

Mun Ku spoke through telepathic message and Yeowun raised his senses. The reason why there were this many caves was possibly because many of them were fake. Fortunately, the person that he sensed while ago was still within the same place.

[It’s that one.]

Yeowun pointed at one of the caves. Yang Danwa also sensed this so he nodded. But there was a problem.

‘It’s too far.’

The cliff divided them from the entrance to the cave. It required a huge leap into the cave, at least over 30 meters. It wasn’t a distance that any stepping skill would allow. It was too far for Hu Bong, who was only a master level warrior, to jump across.

‘Can Mun Ku jump across?’

Mun Ku was an established super master level warrior, but it was still concerning. One mistake would mean dropping into that endless cliff. Hu Bong glanced down at the cliff and swallowed his throat nervously. Yeowun then whispered, “Yang Danwa. Can you carry Hu Bong over to that cave?”

Yang Danwa thought for a second and nodded. He was a superior master warrior so it wasn't hard for him to jump across 30 meters without much effort.

"Mun Ku, can you do it?" Yeowun asked and Mun Ku glanced over at the distance and was about to say she could, when...

"I'll carry you over if you can't."

She stopped herself from saying it and nodded excitedly. There was no need to refuse the offer.

'Hehe. He'll carry me over!'

Hu Bong shook his head as he looked excited Mun Ku. As it was decided, Yeowun first held up Mun Ku in his arms.

'Yay!'

She brought her both hands together and grinned in happiness. Was this what it was like to be protected?

"Good. Hold on tight."

"Okay. Hehe."

Mun Ku grabbed on Yeowun tightly and Yeowun began to run toward the cliff. Sending energy into his feet, Yeowun's body shot off the cliff, and landed on the cave. Hu Bong then laughed and walked over to Yang Danwa.

"Thank you, sir."

Yang Danwa frowned and turned and showed his back for Hu Bong to climb up.

"Are you not carrying me over?"

“I don’t want to hold a man in my arms. Get on my back.”

“...Yes, sir.”

Hu Bong then awkwardly got up on Yang Danwa’s back. It seemed like Yang Danwa was more than eager to jump across alone if Hu Bong hesitated.

“If you’ll excuse me... UGH!”

As soon as Hu Bong got up, Yang Danwa didn’t say anything and quickly ran and jumped. When he got down to the cave, Yang Danwa let go of his hands from Hu Bong’s butt. It was an order from the Lord, but it still didn’t feel good to touch a man’s butt.

‘Ugh... I thought I was going to die.’

Hu Bong was more surprised than awkward. Whatever the case, Yang Danwa then walked in and sniffed.

‘What is this smell?’

A weird smell filled the cave, which was coming from the inside. It smelled like something was burning. Yang Danwa tried to tell Chun Yeowun about the smell, but Yeowun was on the ground, touching something with his finger.

‘What is this?’

Yeowun looked at the black powder on his finger. When he sniffed it, it had the same smell that filled the entire cave.

‘Nano, can you tell me what this is?’

Nano then began to analyze the black powder. After a white light came out from the tip of his finger, Nano’s voice came to his head.

[Analysis complete. It is fire powder.]

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Fire powder? The exploding powder?’

[Yes, Master.]

Yeowun frowned and looked down at the powder again. Why there was there fire powder all over the place, and why was the cave filled with this smell? Yeowun then felt something was wrong and looked into the cave. There was surely a sign of a person inside. And Yeowun also saw faint light deep within.

‘What is the point of this?’

Chapter 274 - Sword Creek, Grave of swords (4)

Chapter 274: Sword Creek, Grave of swords (4)

The fire powder had its own purpose, but if the person was inside there, then it wasn't likely for him to set it to explode.

[What should we do, my Lord?]

[Wait here.]

[Yes, my Lord.]

Yeowun then decided he should check it out first, as walking in without checking first could be dangerous.

'Nano, activate Nightvision mode.'

[Activating nightvision mode on user's sight.]

Nano's voice rang out and Yeowun's eye shook before taking in more light exposure. Yeowun now clearly saw what was inside the cave. But the distance was still too far to look at it clearly.

[Wait here.]

Yeowun took ten steps in and saw a person far away.

'Nano, can you zoom in?'

[Zooming in on current sight.]

The faint person figure was then zoomed in. When it was zoomed in enough, Yeowun became shocked.

‘Huh?’

The cave was a dead end. There was a man sitting there, shaking his head frantically. This was the reason for the light shaking within.

‘That man..’

It was one of the men from the group that was found dead while ago. The man had been tied with rope, but he could move his head, which he was shaking frantically with a pale face.

‘A fire?’

There was a small torch by man’s mouth that was created with small wood. The fire was coming near the man’s mouth, and the man was trying hard to put out the fire but it was almost at his mouth. Even through its extreme heat, the man didn’t let go of the torch and tried to put it out.

‘W-wait...!’

Yeowun then looked near the man and saw a huge amount of fire powder by the man. Yeowun deactivated nightvision mode and shouted frantically.

“WE HAVE TO GET OUT OF...!!!”

It was then. An explosion rang from within the cave, and the fire exploded out like lightning. The explosion was so loud that everyone’s ears went deaf with a ringing sound. But Yang Danwa, Mun Ku, and Hu Bong realized something went wrong and turned to run out of the cave. However, the explosion was too fast. The fire quickly reached the entrance and the fire came over them.

At that moment, when even the cave was coming down, Yeowun was only thinking about saving Mun Ku and the others, rather than his own escape. Yeowun then unleashed all of his energy onto the three people. Their bodies were then pushed out like a cannonball through the energy.

“Aaaaaah!”

“Kyaaaaaa!”

The three people got out of the cave just when the fire reached the entrance and they flew to the other side of the cliff.

‘N-no!! Prince!’

Mun Ku then quickly turned as she was flying away.

“Aaaaaaaaargh!!!”

And she saw Yeowun, engulfed in fire, thrown out from the cave before dropping down into the cliff.

“NOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!!!!”

Mun Ku screamed in despair, but Yeowun’s body was disappearing into the depth of the cliff. With Yeowun’s energy dissipating, Mun Ku and others got down safely on the other side of the cliff and quickly turned to run to the cliff.

“M-master!!!!”

“A-aaaaaaaah!!!”

Yeowun’s fire disappeared into the dark depth and Mun Ku and Hu Bong screamed madly and tried to jump in. Yang Danwa held them to stop them. Jumping off here was an act of suicide.

“Let me go! Let me go!!”

Mun Ku screamed with tears running through her reddened eyes and Yang Danwa slapped her.

“Wake up! Are you going to kill yourself and have the Lord’s sacrifice to go in vain?”

Mun Ku was so heartbroken to hear this. It wasn’t even a day since they found out about each other’s feelings. This tragedy brought despair and grief to her.

“Ah...ah-ah!”

She then slumped down on the ground and began to wail. Hu Bong, who had been screaming toward the cliff, couldn’t hold back his emotions either. No one imagined such thing would happen in that short amount of time.

‘Dammit...!’

Yang Danwa clenched his fist and blood dripped from it. He stopped these two people from jumping off, but Yang Danwa felt the same way. He was actually saved by the Lord whom he had to protect, so he couldn’t find the words to describe his despair. Their sadness had barely passed...

Someone appeared through the bushes and Yang Danwa turned. Someone was walking out as if it was entertaining. It was the old man from the inn.

“Y-YOU!”

“Oh- haha. This is an unexpected profit. Someone else bit the bait.”

The fire powder inside the cave was the old man’s work. He seemed really glad about what just happened.

“It would have been harder if that one was alive, but he dropped down on his own. What a fortunate turn of events.”

“YOU!!!”

Mun Ku then glared with reddened eyes. She became furious at the old man who seemed to be happy about Yeowun’s death.

“Oh? You were crying like a girl just now, but you are a man? But!”

The old man unleashed powerful energy.

“You wouldn’t last long.”

Yang Danwa’s eyes turned grim. The old man was much more powerful than himself last night.

“I am bit busy, so I’ll make this quick.”

The old man then smirked and charged.

After about an hour, at a forest about 5 miles away from Sword Creek, someone was barely walking through the forest.

“Whew... Whew...”

He seemed exhausted and was breathing heavily. It was the old man who attacked Yeowun’s remaining group. It seemed he had taken internal damage as his face was pale.

‘I thought I was lucky... but I guess not.’

The old man then stopped and rested his back on a large tree. He opened his senses to check if there were any chasers.

‘If it wasn’t for that girlish boy coming at me so fiercely... I would have taken care of them fast and also taken care of him too.’

He couldn’t forget Mun Ku’s eyes. Mun Ku charged at the old man like a woman who had lost her husband. The old man was much stronger, but he was overwhelmed by such a fierce attack. That’s when the man that the old man baited came out and joined the fight, which resulted in the old man taking internal damage and retreating.

‘Haha... doesn’t matter. I know which cave he came out from now.’

That was the original purpose anyway. He had gone through many caves, but he never found any entrances. That’s why the old man exploded one of them to check, and it sure worked.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Just a bit more to find his trace... I just need to tend to my wound and... hmm?’

The old man felt many people appearing nearby. But he didn’t seem surprised. One of the men then appeared in front of the old man and knelt down.

“Lee Chung, at service of the Blade Sword Master!”

The old man grinned.

Chapter 275 - Within the Sword Creek (1)

Chapter 275: Within the Sword Creek (1)

Chun Yeowun's body was engulfed with the flame that shot out from behind. The heat coming from the explosion was overwhelming and felt as if all the skin on Yeowun's back was melting. With fire all over his body, Yeowun couldn't withstand the pain and screamed.

"Aaaaaaaaargh!"

He tried to endure the pain and jump, but he couldn't fight against the power of the explosion. Yeowun was thrown out of the cave, and he couldn't do anything but drop down with his body on fire. He then caught a glimpse of Mun Ku's face gripped with despair as she saw Yeowun falling off the cliff.

'Ahh...'

Although the fire burning his entire body, Yeowun's head was filled with Mun Ku's crying face that made his heart tight. With his body falling, the wind put out the fire that was on his body.

[Activating self-healing mode to heal burns from the explosion.]

Even when he was dropping, Nano began healing the burns that were all over his body. His skin melted down into the muscles, but it quickly began to heal. The pain subsided quickly, but Yeowun was still dropping at an enormous speed.

'Is it that deep?'

[Falling speed increasing. Danger. Danger.]

Nano's voice rang out, warning him of the situation. Yeowun had augmented reality on his eyes, so he saw Nano shooting red lights that showed numbers which seemed to be the speed of Yeowun's fall. Yeowun had once jumped off from a high mountain, but that wasn't long fall like this. As Yeowun kept falling through the dark depth, Yeowun was struck with the fear of death.

'Am I going to die here?'

Surely anyone would be facing death in such a situation. Pain, darkness, end, and nothingness. With all that coming into one's emotions, it was bound to put one into the depth of despair.

[User's heart rate increasing rapidly.]

Nano's voice warned of the danger but Yeowun couldn't focus. This speed of this drop would shatter Yeowun's body into pieces the moment he dropped, which would render Nano's healing ability to be useless.

'Do I have to accept my death?'

Yeowun was about to accept it as his fate. That's when a sudden gush of wind swirled around, pushing Yeowun to the side.

"Ugh!"

Yeowun was shocked by sudden wind changing his course. His body then struck against the wall of the huge rock. But that wasn't the end. With the strong gush of wind, Yeowun's body was then thrown off to another side.

“Argh!”

Yeowun then came back to his senses from the pain. He almost succumbed to the fear of death, but he was able to get out of it.

‘I can’t die like this!’

There was something more fearful than death itself. Yeowun couldn’t finish what he had set out to do yet. And to think that he couldn’t see the woman’s face whom he had given to the first time in his life, his head instantly cleared up.

As Yeowun was flung about all over the place from the wind, he noticed something. He didn’t see it when he was in fear, but now he now saw it clearly.

‘It’s a sword.’

It wasn’t like above under the word ‘Sword,’ but there were a lot of swords stuck in the wall.

“Ah!”

Yeowun then came up with an idea and reached to back of his waist.

‘It’s there!’

The White Dragon Blade still hung by his waist. He wasn’t sure what the scabbard’s strap was made of, but it withstood the fire and was still hanging on Yeowun’s waist. Yeowun then pulled out the White Dragon Blade. He then gripped the blade and took a deep breath.

‘If I’m going to die, I’ll at least die trying to survive!’

The strong gush of wind still threw him all over the place as he dropped. When he then was thrown to the other side of the wall, he made a move.

“Hah!”

Yeowun used all his might to strike down with White Dragon Blade against the wall. Whether it was the sharpness of the blade or the speed of the fall, but the blade began slicing through the wall as it stuck there.

“Aaaaargh!”

The impact broke Yeowun’s right shoulder bone and ribs. Even if Yeowun’s muscles were enhanced beyond the limit of a normal human, it didn’t apply to his bones. Yeowun was trying to fight the gravity pulling him down, so his bone paid the price.

“Stop! Please!!”

And after falling straight through for about 15 meters, his dropping speed began to slow down and the blade soon came to a stop.

“I..it worked!”

It was very close. Yeowun almost died by dropping, but he had survived. He then glimpsed down and saw that the ground wasn’t very deep down from here.

“Ugh!”

[Detected disjointed shoulder and a bone fracture. 3rd right rib bone is broken. Initiating self-healing mode.]

Nano began to activate to heal broken bones, and the pain began to subside. Yeowun looked down and saw that he could easily jump down from the height he was currently at if he used the stepping skill. When the pain went away, Yeowun pulled out the blade and dropped safely.

As he got on the ground, he slumped down and sighed in relief. Everything was dark, but he was still alive. Yeowun then realized martial arts wasn't everything. He was very powerful now, but he learned that there were situations that could still kill him.

After resting for a bit, Yeowun got up. He now survived, so he had to find a way to go up the cliff.

'Nano, activate night vision mode.'

[Activating night vision mode.]

Nano's voice rang and Yeowun's eyes turned to see the area clearly.

'Ah..'

Chapter 276 - Within the Sword Creek (2)

Chapter 276: Within the Sword Creek (2)

Yeowun's eye grew large. He thought there wasn't anything here, but there were many swords stuck in the ground. They had all rusted through time, so there weren't any useful swords.

'There are so many swords here.'

But it wasn't only swords that were here. There were countless skulls and bones scattered around. It seemed these were people who dropped through the cliff and died. Some were too old, barely recognizable if they were human, but there were some that were intact and still had clothes.

'I almost joined them. But why did they fall and die here?'

Yeowun became curious but there was no way to find out. Yeowun hesitated for a bit, but he then took off one of the pieces of clothing from a skeleton.

'It's clothing from a dead person but...'

His original clothes were burned heavily, and they were in no state to be worn. Yeowun changed his clothing into the one he picked up and walked over to the cliff wall so he could find a way to climb back up. Yeowun thought it was better to find a way up on the opposite side of the giant rock, which was almost upright and slick on the surface.

'Hm... it's not much different here.'

The other side of the cliff was more rough, but it was actually angled backwards. There was no way of climbing up.

‘Was this why there wasn’t any information about this?’

Even if someone tried to climb down by using rope, that gush of wind would throw the person off balance.

‘Is there any other way?’

Yeowun then began to look around just in case he might find something. As he began to walk around the giant rock, he came to a stop at some point.

‘Huh?’

Yeowun became shocked. He thought maybe what he was seeing was a mistake. He was looking at many traces of a sword and a blade on the giant rock.

‘Why is there a trace of fighting here?’

It was hard to understand. Yeowun was thrown off from the explosion, so he dropped against his intention. But why did all these people come all the way down here and fight? After checking these traces, Yeowun’s eyes widened. The sword and blade traces were very familiar.

‘Sword Force of the Sky Demon...?’

The clear sword trace was very similar to that of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. There were few sword movements that didn’t match, but the remaining movements were exactly the same. It seemed that this came later than the Sword Force of the Sky Demon.

“Wait... maybe...”

Yeowun looked up with shock. He thought he had seen the writing style of 'Sword' word up on the cliff somewhere, but he now realized it was Father Chun Ma's writing style. Yeowun then brought the black sword to take shape. He then looked at writings on the sword.

[Sky Demon Sword]

The 'Sword' word engraved on there was almost same as the 'Sword' engraved on the wall above. This meant that Father Chun Ma had come here and fought someone. That didn't seem all that impossible, as the recording of Lord's palace showed that Father Chun Ma even set out to invade all sides, even through Hobuk Castle, where this Sword Creek was at. But what made Yeowun shocked was different.

'What is up with this blade tracing?'

This blade trace was surely the blade skill of the Blade God. Yeowun looked at the blade trace left on it and became shocked.

'I've never seen this.'

On blade traces that seemed to be the blade skill of the Blade God, there were two formations that Yeowun was not familiar with. The two formations were more powerful than the six blade formation that Yeowun learned. It seemed these two were the latter part of the blade skill.

'...I thought the six formation was everything. I was wrong.'

Yeowun was beyond shocked to see the blade skill. This was almost as powerful as the Sword Force of the Sky Demon, except the last formation of the Sword Force.

'I didn't think this would be waiting for me here.'

Yeowun thought he was unlucky for falling down, but it was actually a blessing in disguise. It was unclear as to why it was here, but Yeowun luckily managed to come across a trace of two very powerful warriors fighting against each other, especially because Yeowun had Nano who could simulate this.

‘Nano, scan it.’

Yeowun ordered Nano to scan the sword and blade traces.

[Yes, Master.]

Nano scanned the trace and began analyzing. Yeowun was then walking through the traces and...

“Huh?”

He found something while he walked. This was different from the sword trace he saw. It was left there by combining something and had a word engraved below.

‘Impossible.’

It seemed whatever the writer was trying to do wasn’t achieved. The writing style matched that of Father Chun Ma’s. After looking closely, Yeowun then realized that the sword trace here wasn’t like a fighting trace that was left on the other places. It seemed this trace was left by trying something on it.

‘Why is there the word ‘impossible’ here?’

Yeowun became confused and ordered Nano to extract these sword traces. When it was finished, Yeowun ordered Nano.

‘Nano, show me the 3D image of these sword traces.’

[Yes, Master. Initiating 3D view of the scanned sword trace.]

Complicated sword traces then began to show up with white lines flashing through, and Yeowun was able to see sword movements. Yeowun was shocked to see these movements in formation form.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“This... is impossible.”

This was a sword skill that moved beyond conventional body movements, just like how the blade skill of Blade God did. Yeowun was able to sense it instinctively.

‘He tried to combine it!’

That was it. These sword traces that were marked ‘impossible’ were the creation of Father Chun Ma which came after fighting against the blade skill of the Blade God.

Chapter 277 - Within the Sword Creek (3)

Chapter 277: Within the Sword Creek (3)

Dark night...

There was a place where the entire area was surrounded by giant rocks. There was opening on the top, so it was only visible from high up. And within the place, there was a large mansion. Inside the mansion's building, there were a whole bunch of pots brewing medicines and the storage of various medicinal herbs. It looked like a hospital of some kind from the first glimpse.

This place was the hideout of the Godly Doctor located within the large rock of the Sword Creek. Inside, there were many beds with one man getting treated above it. The man was the Fourth Elder of Demonic Cult, Yang Danwa. He moaned in pain.

"Ugh!"

"Alright, alright. Man up, will you?"

There was an old woman holding on to Yang Danwa's head so he wouldn't move. She looked well over her sixties but she had a very well built body. Her thick arms reminded one of a heavily-built body like Ko Wanghur.

"Hah..."

There was the reason why Yang Danwa was such pain. It was because of the location of the wound. With the sword qi cutting down on him from the right forehead down to the bottom of his eyes, he had lost his sight. It was a wound he got while fighting the old man from the inn. He had lost an eye, but it was fortunate that he survived.

‘I would not have survived if it wasn’t for Master Mun.’

She was worthy to be one of the Six Swords. She looked innocent and harmless usually, but Yang Danwa saw her raging through her attacks. Most warriors would lose control and go on a rampage in such anger, but Mun Ku helped Yang Danwa effectively to attack the old man. It was why they were able to hold out until ‘he’ appeared.

‘It’s an amazing talent. Maybe we will have another woman warrior as powerful as Elder Yin in a few years.’

It was thanks to Mun Ku that they were alive. Yang Danwa valued this very highly.

“Ugh!”

Even if he tried to endure, the sewing on his face was hurt. And when it was almost over, he heard wailing coming from the opposite bed.

“Waaaah.... Prince...”

“...How can this be...”

There was a girl wailing with both hands on her face. It was Mun Ku. There was another woman, tall and large, hugging her. It was Hou Sangwha who was said to be missing. She was actually at the hideout of the Godly Doctor. Of course, there were others who were alive from the team.

“Nnnngh... Master!”

“ ... ”

And there was Hu Bong, with linen wrapped all around his body, lying down on the bed with an exhausted expression. He was moaning and crying with Bakgi sitting next to him with a dumbfounded face. He was just mumbling the same words.

"I can't believe this..."

He just kept on saying the same thing. Bakgi and Hou Sangwha began doing this after they heard that Chun Yeowun was caught in the explosion and fell off the cliff.

"Well, you folks are quite different from one another."

The old woman glanced back at wailing and spoke. She was talking about Hou Sangwha and Bakgi, who didn't talk much, compared to Mun Ku and Hu Bong who openly expressed their emotions.

"But that master of yours must have been a good master. Seeing that all of you are crying."

"..."

Yang Danwa couldn't say anything to that. He too felt miserable to think about the dead Chun Yeowun. He had to give his life for the sin of not being able to protect the Lord, but he had a job to do.

The old woman finished sewing up the wound and dabbed mashed herbs over the wound. Yang Danwa then asked the woman carefully.

"...Godly Doctor."

The old woman was the Godly Doctor they had been searching for. She was the master of this hidden mansion, and Godly Doctor Gam Rosu. She raised her eyebrows and spoke.

“What did I tell you to call me by?”

“...Granny Gam.”

The old woman didn't like to be called Godly Doctor surprisingly. Yang Danwa first thought maybe she had learned martial arts from her physics, but she didn't know any martial arts. When Danwa became curious, Gam Rosu simply replied,

‘Well, you're a doctor so you need to be in shape for long surgeries. Don't you think?’

That was reasonable of course, although Gam Rosu seemed to be overly trained for that. Yang Danwa then asked again.

“Like I asked earlier... can I make a request to... UGH!”

Gam Rosu then pushed on the wound where she was dabbing the medicine. Her strength was powerful. Yang Danwa had to stop speaking because of the pain.

“Hah...”

Strangely, Gam Rosu kept on cutting them off from asking on the request ever since they met. She then glanced at the entrance of the room, toward the two warriors watching her. It seemed they were keeping their eyes on the doctor.

‘Is she concerned about them?’

Yang Danwa also realized her attitude wasn't normal so he stopped his request. He didn't realize at first because he was only thankful for being saved, but he now knew that something strange was going on within this mansion.

After patching up the wound and putting linen wrap over it, the Godly Doctor Gam Rosu got up from her seat. She spoke to Yang Danwa.

"Well, you will need at least 7 days of treatment. Get some rest now."

Chapter 278 - Within the Sword Creek (4)

Chapter 278: Within the Sword Creek (4)

She then left the building with the two warriors standing guard following her. When she left, Yang Danwa heard a telepathic message coming to him.

[Did you see that?]

Yang Danwa turned to the direction, and there was a beautiful woman with thick eyebrows looking at him with her arms crossed, sitting on a bed on the opposite side. It was Second Elder Yin Moha. She too was safe. However, Yang Danwa saw Yin Moha's true face for the first time after he got here, so he looked awkward searching for Yin Moha's younger look.

[...I think she's being watched. And so are we.]

Two warriors who stood guard had left together with the doctor, but there were still eyes watching them from the dark. Yang Danwa felt the presence of people watching inside the room. That's why they were talking over telepathic messages.

[Elder Yin. What is going on here?]

They couldn't talk about it because Yang Danwa had to be treated by the doctor ever since he got here. Yin Moha sighed and answered.

[We fought them when we got here.]

When Yin Moha and others first got to Sword Creek, someone attacked them. It was the warriors who came out from the hidden mansion, and they first attacked and asked who Yin Moha and the others were. They were within the territory of the Forces of Justice, so Yin Moha did not reveal who they were. But she just showed the orange tag and said they had come to meet the Godly Doctor. Warriors then became less wary and showed interest.

[That's when we were attacked by that old man from the inn and the other three powerful warriors.]

A new fight had begun. All four of these newly-appeared warriors were so powerful that they killed the spy agent of Yin Moha's group instantly and also killed two other warriors who came out from hidden mansion. And while Yin Moha was fighting against the old man, 'he' appeared.

[...Hing Wunja of Mudan Strong Sword.]

Her telepathic message sounded grim with the name and Yang Danwa narrowed his eyes.

[So, it was him.]

Yang Danwa knew the name. Under the five most powerful warriors of the entire Yulin, there were those who were known as the 'Strong Nine' who were said to be next five most powerful warriors. Hing Wunja was one of the Strong, and an Elder of the Mudan clan.

[He helped us to chase away the old man and we were able to enter here. But... we could not persuade the doctor yet.]

Just like Yang Danwa, Yin Moha and others requested the doctor to visit. She just kept on saying that it was hard to do that, even with the orange tag. Yin Moha speculated the reason Gam Rosu could not leave this place was related to Hing Wunja who was protecting this place.

‘What would be the reason?’

The Godly Doctor was definitely hiding something. The problem at hand was with the Mudan Strong Sword.

[It’s fortunate that he doesn’t know who we actually are.]

Yang Danwa didn’t expect to find such a powerful and prominent figure in Forces of Justice here. What’s interesting was that the other warriors beside Hing Wunja didn’t seem like monks from the Mudan clan. Yin Moha then sighed.

[Yes, but that will not last long.]

‘...’

There was no way that a warrior like Hing Wunja would not become suspicious of them. Two of these visitors were superior master level warriors which were scarce in number, so it was likely that Hing Wunja will try to find out who they were.

[Maybe he knows and just wants to use us for a favor.]

Yin Moha then continued as she turned to the directions where she felt eyes watching them.

In the other building, there was a old man with white beard talking to someone. These people were monks from the inn last night. Mu Jinja spoke.

“So, that’s why we lost contact with you... Elder Hing.”

“Yes. They were surrounding the creek. I had no choice.”

The old man with a white beard was the Mudan Strong Sword, Hing Wunja. He explained why he had lost contact with the Mudan clan for a month. The reason was because of the old man from the inn. The old man and his cronies had been searching the area to find the hidden mansion, so Hing Wunja couldn't contact the clan.

"Elder, why don't we move the location to the Mudan or Jegal Family's place? If it is almost complete, I don't think the Godly Doctor needs to stay here anymore."

"...It is better if we leave her alone. I know it is for the greater good, but our actions should be just."

"Yes, sir. You are right."

"But as you say, the Godly Doctor is almost complete with her work. With enemies located near our spot, it is better for us to move."

They couldn't bear to move as they were now revealed. The entrance was equipped with a blue pearl stone gate with many traps, but it wasn't going to hold off enemies for long. Mu Jinja then asked, "But Elder, why did you help them? I'm sure that they are from either the Forces of Evil, or from the Demonic Cult."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He was talking about Chun Yeowun's group. Mu Jinja was shocked when he heard from Hing Wunja that the group had at least two superior master level warriors. That level of power was not to come by often.

"Brother Mu is right, Elder."

Monks from the Mudan clan were suspicious of Yeowun's group after they found out that Yeowun had a mask on his face. There was a chance that there were powerful warriors in hiding and were not known, but if two superior warriors were in one group, it was likely that they were from one of the three main forces of Yulin. They knew all powerful warriors from the Forces of Justice, so the educated guess would come down to the other two forces.

“And they want Godly Doctor too.”

Chapter 279 - Within the Sword Creek (5)

Chapter 279: Within the Sword Creek (5)

“...They will help us,” Hing Wunja said.

“Huh? Wait, are you going to ask them to...”

“No. We will use them as our shield and let them fight our enemy, while we return to Mudan Mountain with the Godly Doctor.”

“Yes, Elder. That sounds like a plan.”

Mu Jinja nodded in astonishment. He was concerned about Yeowun’s group as much as the enemy outside, so this plan sounded very good. It didn’t matter if Yeowun’s group was from the current ally, the Demonic Cult.

At the same time, below the cliff. A sound of wind gushing from the movement filled the area. Within the darkness, a young man was moving quickly through with his sword. It was Chun Yeowun. He had been practicing sword formations for two hours already, but he was doing something entirely different from what he knew before.

The formation that continued smoothly suddenly came to a stop, and Yeowun’s body shook. This resulted because the movements couldn’t be connected flawlessly.

“Hah... hah...”

Yeowun slumped down with exhaustion to rest. His forehead was drenched with sweat.

‘This isn’t easy.’

It was hard to combine two legendary martial arts skills into one. What he was trying until now was an attempt to combine the Sword Force of the Sky Demon with the blade skill of the Blade God. Yeowun remembered what happened four hours ago. He first was so shocked when he saw the trace left by Father Chun Ma.

‘How can he come up with such an idea?’

He was astounded by the idea that he didn’t even come to cross. He was only focused on training the completed martial art, but Father Chun Ma was trying new things with the martial art he had encountered for the first time, although it resulted in a failure.

‘Physical limitation.’

Chun Ma was the best in martial arts and the sword, but there was something he couldn’t overcome. Even if he had body best fit for martial arts, there was a limit to how far the muscle and its fibers could be strengthened. But the blade skill of the Blade God was only possible when the physical ability was up to its limit. Chun Ma tried to combine its traits into his sword skill and after a few tries, he came to a conclusion.

‘Impossible.’

But Yeowun was different. After analyzing the Sword Force of the Sky Demon, the blade skill of the Blade God, and Blood Reversion Art, his muscles and physical traits were increased beyond the limit of a mere person. Yeowun was able to use the formation that Chun Ma made for a test run very easily. But this wasn’t the completed version as Chun Ma stopped developing it, so Yeowun had to take it as a guideline to do it on his own.

‘...It’s hard.’

It was possible in theory, but combining and using it was a different story. The Sword Force of the Sky Demon was already perfect in its original form, so Yeowun had to create an entirely new formation.

‘Let’s try again.’

After a bit of a rest, Yeowun got up again and began moving his body to use the sword formation. He was also using Nano to analyze the simulation. But he wanted to cross the limit by himself and learn the understanding through it. Yeowun didn’t rest while he tried many sword movements in an effort to combine the two.

“Hah... Hah...”

‘I’m exhausted.’

After two hours, Yeowun was now fully exhausted. Almost four hours of nonstop usage of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon depleted his internal energy completely. How could he create a new sword skill that broke the limit that was set in place? He tried many ways but failed constantly.

‘I cannot combine the sword movements if it goes over the current limit... I have to make it work in balance...’

He had to create new sword movements that could work in balance through all of its movement. After thinking for a while as he lied down, Yeowun then came up with a sudden idea in his head.

‘Yeah...! Let’s not use all of the movements I have right now. If it doesn’t fit in well, then I might as well as just take it out.’

If I stop limiting myself and be free to create the balance... it will be free... free...'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The sword movements he had, and thinking about the new movements that could work together with it. Yeowun then came to an unexpected situation. The understanding often came when he didn't even think about it.

'To create a balance, I need freedom. It is created by not locking myself in, but by opening it...'

Superior master level was achieved by bringing what one already had into perfect completion in one circle. The reason why a warrior at the superior master level can control its internal energy was because of this understanding of having understood how to bring everything into one. But the higher level required another understanding. It required not limiting oneself to controlling the energy, but to be freed from it. When one finds balance to let the energy flow freely in and out of the body, this understanding would be the one to bring warriors to the supreme master level.

Yeowun's body began to shine brightly with the bright lights, and the area around him began to storm. The energy from the environment was sucked into Yeowun's empty body where his energy had been depleted. The energy of the environment began running through Yeowun's body and a change began to come onto Yeowun who was already sitting down meditating.

Chapter 280 - Within the Sword Creek (6)

Chapter 280: Within the Sword Creek (6)

The Godly Doctor was known to the people of Yulin as a dignified-looking old man who looked like an aristocrat. But her true self was entirely different from her rumors. An old man with a small body, but with heavy and thick muscle. That was the Godly Doctor, Gam Rosu.

“Hmph. Why did you want to see me? I’m busy.”

Gam Rosu spoke to Hing Wunja, who called her to his room at the mansion. She seemed uncomfortable that she was called, and Hing Wunja smiled softly.

“To God almighty... This humble monk had a message to tell you. Granny Gam.”

The man only spoke like this when he had some uncomfortable request. Gam Rosu became concerned and asked back, “A message? What is it?”

“I think we have to pack up and leave this place by early morning.”

“Leave? From this Sword Creek?”

“Yes. That is correct.”

Gam Rosu turned furious at request to pack up to leave. This place was home to her and her ancestors. She had been living here for all her life, so it didn’t sound all that well to hear that she had to leave.

“This is different from what you promised. I was promised to stay in exchange for fulfilling your request. And you promised that if I complete the project that you will...”

“Leave from your home, yes. But the situation has changed.”

“Changed to what? Are you talking about those ones outside? There were always those lurking around. It’s not anything new.”

There were many who came to Sword Creek in search of the Godly Doctor. But the only times when Godly Doctor and her ancestors left the mansion was through the orange tag bearers who acquired the tag from long time acquaintances.

“I am sure you are aware that this is different from the past.”

Hing Wunja’s voice began to drop low. It seemed he had given up on persuading.

“They are different. They are more dangerous than any of the other enemies you have seen. If you get kidnapped before you finish your project, our operation will fail.”

Hing Wunja walked up in front of the doctor and spoke.

“You promised that you will help us for the peace of Yulin after you lost the one you hold dear. Please let us protect you from evil.”

‘Ugh...’

Hing Wunja insisted heavily and Gam Rosu’s eyes shook with anger. She was sad that her current state and regretted how it came down to this. She started on work with good cause but the direction didn't seem to be going as she first thought. Gam Rosu's silence was taken as agreement and Hing Wunja smiled again.

"You should finish packing up by 3 AM."

He then let the doctor return to her office so she could pack up. When Gam Rosu returned, a man with dark clothing came in.

"Report."

"It is as you said, Elder. There are suspicious movements detected around the forest outside the creek. Numbers are increasing, so they'll be coming in by the morning."

It was what the scout had found outside the creek.

"We must make haste."

"Are you using them as bait?"

The man was talking about Chun Yeowun's group. Their plan was to have them stay behind the mansion and act as a barrier while they got out of the creek and returned safely. Hing Wunja smiled.

"Yes. They will work well for their purpose. We will leave as soon as the doctor is finished packing up."

"Yes, Elder."

While Hing Wunja was talking with the scout, Gam Rosu returned to her office. Her office was used as her lab, so it had many medicinal tools and books that helped her with the study. There was a lot of weird stuff inside, where one wall had a skeleton that was preserved through medication set upon the wall. It was a creepy sight if one entered without any knowledge. But the skeleton had its waist area cut off as if it was cut into half when it was killed.

“...Nngh!”

She threw one of the dishes she used to hold herbs to ease her rage. It was devastating that she had to abandon the home that her family had lived in for generations. But she had no choice as the enemy would surely come to attack her if she didn't leave.

‘My path is surrounded by enemies.’

But was there a difference with enemies outside to those of Hing Wunja's group. Gam Rosu shook her head and glanced at two warriors watching over her by the door. If she refused, they were likely to force her to follow them anyway.

‘I have no choice.’

She had no option, so she had to take as much as she could. She then walked over the bookshelves on the left side of the room and took out a book that read ‘herb list.’

When she opened, there was a small book inside the book. But this book seemed to be created with different material. When she opened the small book, there was the writing of simplified characters that was hard to read. It was hard to explain, but there were also drawings of humans inside out with details. This was like a treasure to any doctor.

‘I will need this to complete the project.’

This book was a treasure she had got from her ancestors. After putting the book into her inner pocket, she packed tools and other stuff she needed. That's when some noise came from outside.

"I told you, the doctor is busy right now."

"Hey, we have a patient here! And we have a doctor here right? Isn't it the doctor's job is to tend to patients? Come on!"

"Ugh."

Someone was trying to enter the office while warriors at the door were blocking them. The commotion kept on going so Gam Rosu became curious and opened the door to check what was going on.

'Huh? These people..'

It was Hu Bong and Hou Sangwha. Hu Bong was helping Hou Sangwha stand, who was bigger than him. She insisted her breast was aching.

"What is it?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"It's nothing, Granny Gam. You should finish what you were doing."

Hu Bong frowned at the warrior's words and shouted angrily.

"Wow! It's 'NOTHING?' Are you suggesting to the doctor that she ignore her patient?"

"Be quiet!"

Chapter 281 - Within the Sword Creek (7)

Chapter 281: Within the Sword Creek (7)

Warriors frowned at Hu Bong's strong protest. They had to let Gam Rosu prepare to leave, but blocking her from tending to the patient also seemed to suspicious.

"Hmm..."

Gam Rosu then walked over and placed her hand over Hou Sangwha's wrist to check on the pulse. She then frowned weirdly.

'Her pulse...'

The warrior then asked the doctor.

"Is it bad?"

Gam Rosu fell silent for a second, but nodded in response.

"Yes, I will have to take a look. Don't worry. It will be quick."

"....Hmph. Okay."

The warrior nodded and allowed Hu Bong and Hou Sangwha to enter. Hu Bong then helped Hou Sangwha walk inside and had her lie down on the bed. He then spoke to the warriors who followed into the office.

"We should get out."

Warriors frowned at the unexpected request.

“What are you talking about? We have to protect Granny Gam...”

“Wow... are you saying that you will stay and watch a woman’s private parts? Are you serious?”

“W-what?!”

Two warriors became dumbfounded at Hu Bong’s words. Hu Bong then pointed at Hou Sangwha’s breasts and shouted.

“Do you really want to see her naked body!?”

“Huh?!”

Two warriors became dumbfounded and tried to protest in order to explain.

“N-no! I mean we are just...”

Godly Doctor Gam Rosu then added onto Hu Bong’s claim.

“I will need to take off the patient’s clothes. You men should stay outside. ...Are you going to tell me you are going to stay and watch her get naked?”

“Ugh... Okay. We’ll be outside. Make sure you do this quickly.”

They were ordered to stay by the doctor and never let her stay with these people without their watch, but there was no use. Hu Bong made a ruckus, so they couldn’t take their eyes off from her chest. They insisted that the doctor make this quick and went out with Hu Bong.

Early morning. The energy of the environment became very full. Every time he circulated the energy, it felt like if he was one with the environment. And on the ground at the cliff, there was a large crater that was not there last night. And within that crater, Yeowun stood. His eyes were full of understanding unlike before. He took in a slow deep breath and let out and opened his right fist.

‘I don’t have any limit over my internal energy anymore.’

Every time he circulated energy within, the internal energy replenished instantly as it sucked the energy from the environment. At this rate, he had no limit of any energy usage unless he uses the strongest skill which would require huge amount of energy usage.

‘I can also increase the output to almost three times.’

His limit of energy usage, or the limit to control the energy within him also increased by a large amount. It was not even close to when he was yet a superior master level. Yeowun gasped with astonishment.

“Ah-ah!”

‘I’m lucky. I’ve reached supreme master level!’

With unexpected understanding, Yeowun was able to break the barrier. He was trying to find the balance between sword movements of Sword Force of the Sky Demon, but it actually worked to help him break the barrier to go up to the supreme master level. Yeowun looked up to yet dark morning sky. The color was now turning to dark blue. It was the sign that morning was almost here.

‘No...’

He wanted to take this time to focus on creating the new sword skill, but he had wasted too much time here. He was trying to find the way out, but instead came across the traces of Father Chun Ma and forgot about his servants above the cliff.

‘I didn’t find the balance among the movements... but I got something else.’

He wasn’t talking about becoming the supreme master warrior. He was talking about something different.

‘Let’s get out first.’

With his minds coming back to reality, he became concerned about lot of things. It must have been shocking to his people to see him fall to the cliff with fires over his body. It was especially concerning to think about Mun Ku. Yeowun expected Mun Ku would think he’s dead and be terribly sad from it.

‘How should I go up?’

But he couldn’t find a way up yet. After thinking about it for a while, Yeowun looked at all swords that were stuck on the ground and the wall and thought.

‘Wait... I don’t need to find a way anymore. I can just make a way.’

At the same time, in a hidden mansion within Sword Creek, a man with black clothes entered Hing Wunja’s room.

“Is it prepared?”

“Yes, Elder. The doctor is done with her preparations.”

“Good. Are they still sleeping?”

“Yes. We have eyes on them. I will take a look at them again just in case.”

There were five warriors standing watch at the medical room where guests were sleeping. If there was any problem, they would have known already.

“Go check and return with watchers down to the secret passage. Bring the doctor there. I will take my monks from the clan.”

“Yes, Elder.”

If guests realized something was wrong, they would have left the mansion already. They planned to unlock the entrance to the hidden mansion, so it was likely that the enemies will rush in quickly. That would help them escape without any danger. The black-clothed man took the final mission and went to the medical room.

‘Huh?’

He frowned as he got to the front of the building. Something was strange. There had to be two watchers on the roof, but they weren’t anywhere to be seen.

‘Wait...’

He then carefully opened the door and peeked in. There were five shadows over the bed in the dark room. He heard light breathing, so it certainly these people were still sleeping.

‘There’s no problem here. Then where did they go... w-wait.’

The man became shocked and walked in through the door. There was supposed to be six people in the room, but there were only five.

‘Who’s missing?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The man then carefully walked over to the bed and checked the face of the person on the bed.

“....Dammit!!”

The man on the bed was one of the watchers who had to be on the roof. He had his blood points sealed and had fallen unconscious. The man checked on everyone’s beds, and they were all those who were assigned to stay on watch.

“They’re gone!!”

Chapter 282 - Emergence (1)

Chapter 282: Emergence (1)

“Ah!”

A strong gush of wind threw Chun Yeowun's balance off, messing up his stepping skill. He tried to regain balance, but the rusted sword couldn't hold him up and broke down.

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaah!”

Yeowun fell back down the cliff. He had climbed all the way up here, but he was about to lose everything.

‘No!’

Yeowun quickly pulled out his White Dragon Blade and stuck it into the wall. Luckily, it wasn't long before he started dropping, so he was able to stop without being dragged down too far. He fell only about few meters but it was enough to make his heart sink. Yeowun panted as he looked up.

“Hah... hah...”

‘Dammit. I should've thought about that gust.’

The idea was to control all swords stuck on the wall with the ‘Air Sword’ technique to stick them into the wall so that he can use them as stepping places. If he created the way up, then he could probably climb up without much problems. But the strong gush of wind in the middle set him off the balance. There was no way a mere human could walk past shaky steps under a storm.

‘I can't go past this area with the stepping skill.’

Even the master of stepping skills Marakim would not be able to possibly walk up such a place. Yeowun then resorted to the last method. The black metal over both arms scattered apart and formed it the black sword. With the White Dragon Blade on his right and the Sky Demon Sword on his left, Yeowun reached up and stuck the black sword into the wall. With the help of muscle strength and energy, it was easy to stick the sword into the stone wall. It also helped that his weapons were legendary weapons. Yeowun then pulled out the White Dragon Blade with his right hand and stuck it higher above the place where his Sky Demon Sword was stuck.

‘This will take time, but there’s no other way.’

The gush of wind didn’t allow him to run up, so this was the safest way for him to climb. But would take much more time

‘Let’s do it quick.’

Yeowun began to climb up slowly but consistently.

The man who came out of the medical room then ran to Gam Rosu’s office.

‘Didn’t the sleep medication work?’

They had put in sleeping medication into medicine soup distributed to those people. He thought they would have been sleeping from the effect of the medication. But if they didn’t fall asleep and disappeared, it was easy to see what they were trying to do.

“Follow me!”

“Yes, sir!”

Warriors who were assigned on the way followed. There was no way the man could handle six powerful warriors. And as soon as he got to the place, he burst the door open, destroying the door. He didn't care as they were going to abandon the mansion anyway.

"What?"

The doctor was missing from the office. There were only two warriors who were supposedly guarding the gate, unconscious. Warriors walked over to them and checked.

"T-they are dead!"

These warriors had their throats cut down and died without even managing to scream. These warriors were alive just until 30 minutes ago.

"Dammit!"

Something was going terribly wrong. The fact that the Godly Doctor missing was more troubling than the missing six people. The man ran out and shouted.

"The doctor is missing! FIND THE DOCTOR!!!"

"What?! The doctor's missing?"

Warriors who heard the shouts began to search through the mansion. The man then quickly headed toward Hing Wunja to report, who would have been waiting at the secret passage. And when he got there, he saw monks of the Mudan clan waiting outside the secret passage.

"It's not opening!"

The passage was made to be opened by using the lever made next to it, but it was broken and a few monks were trying hard to open the door. But there was no way they could open the blue pearl stone door that had been sealed. The man then found Hing Wunja between them and ran up to him.

“What’s going on? Where did the doctor go?”

There was no way that he did not hear the shouts. Hing Wunja asked back furiously and the man reported.

“Elder. The six people in the medical room went missing along with the doctor. I ordered a search throughout the mansion but...”

Hing Wunja stomped on the ground from fury before the man could finish. The ground cracked, showing how furious he was. Hing Wunja pointed at the secret passageway and shouted.

“Search? They already destroyed the door of the secret exit and escaped! There’s no use searching here!”

“W-what?!”

‘No, we were fooled!’

The man then realized that they were played. They were too late. It wasn’t sure how, but they found the secret passageway and escaped with it, destroying it behind. This meant that they were helped. It was likely that their help was given by the Godly Doctor.

‘She turned against us!’

Hing Wunja left the shocked man behind and pulled out his sword. Hing Wunja then spoke to his monks.

“Move out of the way!”

The mechanism of the door was broken, so they had to break their way out. And it was when monks were about to move away. There was an explosion toward the entrance of the mansion. It was similar to the explosion they heard last night. It was a sign that enemies were on the move. It wouldn't take long for them to reach the area. They then tried to make haste when...

“Ambush! Enemies are coming!”

“Enemies are already inside the mansion!!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

They heard warriors shouting toward the entrance. Hing Wunja became dumbfounded. There was no way that one explosion would break open the gate. The gate was sealed by many traps and thick blue pearl stone.

‘W...wait.’

Hing Wunja frowned. This situation was exactly the same plan that he was going to use while he ran through the escape route. But instead, it was him and his group that was trapped inside, while the enemies were coming in.

‘Gam Rosu.... That old hag!!!’

Chapter 283 - Emergence (2)

Chapter 283: Emergence (2)

While Hing Wunja was furious within the mansion, there were seven figures hurrying through the cave where the secret passageway led them out. It was Chun Yeowun's group. Hu Bong grinned as he heard the noise coming from the far end of the tunnel behind him.

"Hehehe. They must have come into the mansion now."

"Good."

It was Yang Danwa who came up with the plan. Of course, it was thanks to Hu Bong and Hou Sangwha who acted as patients that they managed to take out Godly Doctor Gam Rosu with them.

'Nngh!'

Bakgi's face was red. Hu Bong was injured, so Bakgi volunteered to carry Gam Rosu on his back, but she was very well-built with heavy muscles, so she was heavier than Bakgi thought.

"Hmph. You're weaker than you look!"

Gam Rosu spoke to Bakgi and Bakgi brought up his internal energy. He couldn't hold her up with just his physical strength alone.

"We have no time to waste. Come on."

"Yes, ma'am."

Yin Moha ordered as they ran. There were too many enemies so it was likely that the people left at the mansion wouldn't last long. They had to get out of Sword Creek while the fights went on at the mansion. After a while of running, they saw the end. But the exit was blocked.

"It's blocked!"

"It's just blocked by a simple rock. You can just push it out."

Gam Rosu spoke and Yin Moha nodded and pushed the rock. With her powerful energy, the rock was pushed out.

"A light!"

With the rock being pushed out, light came into the cave. It wasn't morning yet, so it was still a bit dark outside. The rock was pushed out all the way and dropped. They saw the cliff on the opposite side. However, there were many people at the other end and Yin Moha and the others turned grim. There were at least over 20 enemies. It seemed not all of them had entered the mansion.

'At least the old man isn't here... or any other powerful warrior.'

If there was, then it would be dangerous. These 20 enemies didn't seem to be much of a threat.

"I'll make a path. Stay close."

Yin Moha spoke and all of them nodded. She ran quickly and jumped across a thirty-meter range. As soon as she got down on the ground, she pulled out her sword. She then charged at masked men nearby, and they tried to defend but...

“ARGH!”

The third formation of True Demon Sword cut their necks immediately, killing them. Yin Moha then tried to attack the others, but one masked man blew the whistle that he had on his neck.

‘No!’

She knew what the man was trying to do, so Yin Moha threw bullet force qi at the man. The force qi shot past in trying to cut down the man, but other masked man pushed the man with the whistle.

‘Dammit!’

Yang Danwa held on Hu Bong and jumped. All of Yeowun’s members then jumped across as they all heard the whistle.

But it was too late. Masked men began gathering after they heard the whistle. The number was much more than they first thought. It was even curious how this many people came into Sword Creek.

‘There’s more than a hundred.’

How many were here? They thought the old man from the inn was alone, but that wasn’t true. Then powerful energy came down at Yin Moha.

‘Ugh!’

She quickly raised her sword to defend. It was bullet force qi. She used 100% of her energy to defend, but the power of bullet force qi was so strong that she was pushed back until the energy dissipated.

‘This presence..’

She turned toward the direction where force qi came from.

“Ah...”

It was the old man from the inn. She hoped the man would be inside the mansion, but it seemed he had been waiting outside. The old man seemed happy to find them out here.

“Hahaha... as expected.”

“ ...”

“I didn’t think there was only one way out from that place.”

The old man thought there would be multiple entrances so he had waited outside. The old man glanced over and glared at Gam Rosu.

“Oh... I didn’t know the Godly Doctor was an old woman.”

He recognized the Godly Doctor right away. He had seen the other people once, so it wasn’t hard for him to recognize the doctor. Mun Ku then gritted her teeth when she saw the face of the old man. Rage came back to her as she saw the person who led Yeowun to his death. But Yin Moha and Yang Danwa were frustrated by the situation.

‘This is bad.’

It was hard enough to handle the old man, but the man standing next to him was also problematic. The man didn’t have any mask on like the old man, but he seemed to be very powerful. It was likely that he was at least an entry-level superior master warrior.

“Master Lee. I’ll take care of those two, so get the rest and bring back the doctor.”

“Yes, sir.”

The old man pointed at Yin Moha and Yang Danwa. He didn’t like that he had to retreat before getting rid of them twice. The old man then pulled out a thick sword from his waist.

“Shall we start then?”

The old man disappeared and quickly closed in on Yin Moha.

“Ugh!”

Yin Moha took steps to put distance and shouted.

“Protect Granny Gam!”

They had to have Granny Gam escape this place and take her to the Mountain of Ten Thousand. Hu Bong, Hou Sangwha and Mun Ku circled around Bakgi who had Gam Rosu on his back. There were too many enemies so they had to stick together.

[Elder Yang! I will take this old man. Kill the other man!]

[Got it.]

Yang Danwa pulled out the blade and tried to jump at the man called ‘Master Lee’ but the old man instantly turned and blocked Yang Danwa.

“Huh?!”

“Where do you think you are going? You two are with me.”

And with that, Master Lee quickly charged toward three people who were protecting the Godly Doctor. He ran straight at Mun Ku. Mun Ku brought up the energy on her both hands to defend.

‘Huh?’

Master Lee became surprised and swung his sword to his right.

“A sword?”

What was thrown at him was a rusted sword. He had to defend because he felt something being shot at him, but the power held within was too strong. Master Lee was pushed away by the strong energy contained within the rusted sword. He then used all of his energy to push away the sword. The sword crashed immediately.

“Air Sword...? Who...”

The attack was surely made through an air sword. The man then turned to the direction where the sword was thrown from. It was toward the stone rock at the cliff. But there was no one there.

‘What? What is going on... huh?’

That’s when something unbelievable happened.

“The rock is shaking!”

‘Rock? No, that’s not it,’ Master Lee thought as one of the masked men shouted. What was shaking was the hundreds of swords stuck in the wall. With the weird phenomena, everyone turned in the direction. Then the swords began to be pulled out from the wall. They floated above the ground and were aimed toward the masked men.

“What?!”

“S-swords are moving!”

All the masked men became shocked.

‘What is happening?’

The old man too seemed to be shocked from what was going on. Hundreds of swords were floating in the air, and there was something rising up from the cliff.

‘W-what?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It was a young man with long black hair and a black robe. The man was on a black sword, rising up from it. The sight was as if the Demon God was emerging from the Demonic Realm.

“Ah.... AAAAAAH!!”

Mun Ku’s eye became large with shock, then soon turned teary and she shouted.

“Prince!!”

Chapter 284 - Emergence (3)

Chapter 284: Emergence (3)

After climbing up for a long time using the Sky Demon Sword and the White Dragon Blade, Chun Yeowun was finally able to get out of the dangerous area. The winds died down and now Yeowun felt a lot of presences above. He could now sense further than when he was at the superior master level.

‘There are a lot.’

Yeowun became concerned. He wasn’t sure what happened while he was down at the cliff. All those people above the cliff were martial artists.

‘Yin Moha?’

Yeowun then felt familiar energy. It was the energy of Yin Moha, Bakgi, and Hou Sangwha who were missing.

‘They were alive!’

Yeowun then thought he should make his way up quickly. All other presences he felt were hostile. He wasn’t sure what might happen if he didn’t hurry up.

‘I don’t think I have to do this anymore.’

Yeowun then tried to create a step up again by using air sword, but then he saw someone jumping across the cliff above. And one of the figures had very familiar energy.

‘Mun Ku!’

It was Mun Ku. There were others who were crossing the cliff. And on the other side where they were jumping off to, more martial artists were gathering, some of whom were very dangerous. It seemed one of them was the old man that Yeowun fought at the inn. He couldn't sense him before, but now with the supreme master level, he was able to sense the old man.

'I have to be quick.'

But the way he used the method until now was slow. Yeowun then changed his way of climbing. It was a change in ideas.

'Wait. If I can control the sword, isn't it better if I control it while carrying me?'

It was the Air Sword Flying technique. Yeowun didn't know this, but there was an unconfirmed legend that there were some supreme level warriors that flew around with the swords. Yeowun had just come to this idea himself however.

Yeowun placed the Sky Demon Sword over his hand and sent energy into it. The sword began to move freely and Yeowun placed his both foot over the sword. It felt weird, as if he was stepping on nothing, but he had no time to think about the feeling. Yeowun sent energy to make his foot connect tightly to the sword and moved it to rise above. Yeowun then sensed about 150 warriors above and chose to use air sword.

Hundreds of swords floated above, waiting to be ordered. They floated as if they would charge with the flick of Yeowun's finger. Masked warriors couldn't move as they were tense from being aimed.

"Prince!!!"

Mun Ku shouted with tears running down her cheek. And it wasn't only her who was crying.

"M-Master!!! You were alive!!!"

"Wah!"

Hu Bong and Hou Sangwha also cried at Yeowun's appearance. What was crazier were the floating swords around him. It was surely the use of Air Sword.

'D-did the Lord become a supreme master warrior?'

Yin Moha's eye turned large as she looked at Yeowun. He was at the same power up until while ago. But after hearing that he had dropped to the cliff and died, Yeowun returned in a day with entirely different power.

'Is he really chosen by the Demon God?'

It was hard to describe it any other way. The sight of him with black robe and floating in the air with hundreds of swords actually made him more like a Demon God himself.

'He should have died in that cliff...'

The old man saw Yeowun fall into the cliff with fire on his body. Even if it was the old man himself, there was no way he could survive from dropping into that cliff while on fire.

'He's different man from two days ago.'

The old man sensed Yeowun to be at the end stage of superior master level. But if he was using air sword, he was surely at the supreme master level. And if he could control this many swords...

'It's not just entry. He's definitely at the supreme master level.'

This was unbelievable. Was there some treasure hidden beneath that cliff? The old man then turned to glance at the Godly Doctor.

'No. That old woman should be carrying that.'

The old man speculated if the one he was looking for was down the cliff, but that didn't seem likely. The old man shouted at Yeowun.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"You're lucky to be alive! Hahaha. Welcome to the world of highest powers."

World of highest powers meant supreme master level to the people of Yulin. Among tens of thousands of martial artists, there were only a handful of people who reached the supreme master level. Masked men were fearful of Yeowun's appearance however, as all these swords presented were very threatening. And Yeowun floating alongside these swords made him look like a monster or a demon. The old man shouted.

"Stop bluffing and why don't you come and fight me?! You think I don't know that you can't control all of those swords?"

This wasn't a lie. The old man was also an entry-level supreme master warrior. He knew how to use air sword but he also knew that the technique didn't work well against powerful warriors with equal strength. And there was also a clear limit as to how many numbers of swords one can control, as there was a limit to how many things one could think at once.

Chapter 285 - Emergence (4)

Chapter 285: Emergence (4)

‘Even that fool who only trains in energy force said 12 was the limit. That’s just a bluff.’

Even controlling 12 was limited to simple movements. Most people who could control swords with Air Sword was limited to three to five.

‘He’s a fool. Trying to bluff in front of the same supreme master level warrior.’

The old man was certain that all those floating swords were just a show. It was probably Yeowun’s plan to demoralize enemies as they were outnumbered. Yeowun then spoke to the old man.

“Do you think it’s a bluff?”

“Oh? If not, then why don’t you show...”

But before the old man could finish, Yeowun aimed his finger at the masked men. Hundreds of swords then began to make a move.

‘No way. That’s not going to work.’

The old man shook his head. Something didn’t feel right but he denied the possibility and held on his sword and tried to jump toward Yeowun. At that moment, Yeowun ordered Nano.

‘Nano, help me with this.’

Nano’s voice responded within Yeowun’s head.

[Activating self-targeting system on all of 128 swords per user order. Locking onto all targets...]

Yeowun's eye already had augmented reality activated, and he saw red spotlights aimed at every masked man. It also targeted the old man who was now charging at him. Yeowun then raised his hand up.

[Attack commencing.]

And the 128 swords immediately began to move at once. It was a sight to behold. Countless swords moved on their own as if they were alive and charged at the masked men.

"N-no way!"

"This is impossible!"

The masked men tried to defend themselves by using their weapons, but the speed of these swords was equal to the speed of Yeowun using the sword by himself.

"Aaargh!"

"Ugh!"

Tens of masked warriors immediately were penetrated and cut by the swords. Blood splattered all around and screaming filled the area.

"S-stop! Stop it!"

"W-what do you suppose we do!"

Masked warriors shouted frantically as they tried to defend themselves by using formations but they couldn't do anything. There was no way to defend against these swords unleashing powerful sword skills. The area became a bloodbath and the old man frowned.

‘H-how can this be!’

He was looking at it with his own eyes but he still couldn’t believe it. He didn’t imagine that he would see hundreds of swords controlled perfectly at once. What kind of brain could achieve this?

‘This is not possible!!’

Of course, it was not possible for any normal human. But with help of Nano, it was able to control everything through Yeowun’s brain, especially these movements that no ordinary man could do. It was Nano that made impossible to become possible.

“You are not an exception.”

Yeowun aimed his finger at the old man.

“What!”

Four swords immediately charged at the old man and he quickly moved his sword to deflect it. Swords used a powerful sword skill, but they were all rusted so they all shattered when the old man struck them down.

“You think I’m a fool- HUH?!”

But Yeowun was no longer in the air. Yeowun knew very well that there was no way to kill the old man with rusted swords.

“Argh!”

“Aaaaah!”

Swords flew around, splattering blood everywhere. The screams filled the entire space. Yeowun heard the sound ringing through as he ran. It felt as if time was flowing slowly on him. Yeowun shot past the masked men who were falling down.

‘Faster!’

At the destination, the man who was called Master Lee was striking down at Mun Ku. He was trying to take the Godly Doctor when the situation began to turn against them. Mun Ku was raising her hand to defend, but she was a bit late.

The sword was coming fast at her head. At that moment, Yeowun’s Sky Demon Sword swung up and struck against the man’s sword. The man’s eye grew large as his hand was thrown upward.

“W-when did you?!”

His eyes saw Yeowun appearing suddenly in front of him. But that wasn’t the end. With throwing the sword away by using Sky Demon Sword on the right, Yeowun’s left hand was already upon the man’s neck. And when the blade touched his skin, the man then realized. His eyes shook from the shock when the blade sliced past his neck.

The time came back to normal speed. This was the world that supreme master level warriors were seeing.

“Huh?”

Mun Ku, who was trying to defend against the attack, became surprised and stopped. The sword that was coming at her was already in the air and...

“...A line?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

A red line appeared on the man's neck, and soon his head was cut and it fell to the ground. Blood gushed out from the neck and Yeowun kicked the body away so that the blood would not splatter over Mun Ku.

“Prince!”

Her eyes teared up as she realized it was Chun Yeowun who saved her from danger. And at the same time, another man was furious from the turn of events he just witnessed. It was the old man who lost trace of Chun Yeowun while trying to defend himself against four swords. He finally realized where and what Yeowun had done.

“YOUUUUUUU!!!!!”

Chapter 286 - Emergence (5)

Chapter 286: Emergence (5)

The power difference between an entry-level of superior master warrior and a supreme master warrior was too large. Master Lee lost his life so easily at such a difference.

“Prince!”

Chun Yeowun wiped tears off Mun Ku’s face and patted her head softly.

“I’m sorry.”

“I thought you were really dead!”

Her voice was coarse from crying all night. That’s when Yeowun’s body dwindled.

‘My head...’

His head became dizzy and sharp pain came to his entire brain.

“P-prince?”

Mun Ku helped him up and became surprised to see veins popping up over his forehead.

[Energy usage exceeded 75% of total energy stored within the body. Stopping self-targeting mode due to brain function overload.]

With Nano’s voice, the energy draining from Yeowun’s body stopped immediately. The headache also subsided and when the self-targeting mode stopped, so all swords lost power and dropped to the ground.

“Ah? The S-swords stopped!”

These swords were rusted in the first place so they were already badly damaged while attacking, but after dropping to the ground, they shattered immediately.

‘It was too much..’

Yeowun held up his numb head and got up. Nano helped him, but it was his own body that did the control so it was too much of a burden on his brain and energy.

‘I can only last three minutes.’

It only lasted three minutes, but it was still a monstrous ability to control hundreds of swords. On the field, there were only about 18 masked warriors left.

‘M-monster...!’

‘Is he really a Demon God?’

The attack stopped but all masked men had lost the will to fight. A total of 80% of them had died just in a few minutes so they were too afraid to even make a move.

‘I have to take care of the rest.’

Yeowun took a deep breath and tried to replenish used energy by sucking up the energy around him.

“YOUUUUU!!!!!!”

The old man was already upon Yeowun, attacking him with rage.

“Get back.”

Yeowun pushed Mun Ku away and swung his Sky Demon Sword to defend against the old man’s sword. The two swords struck against each other, creating a powerful energy force gushing out within them, pushing others way into the back.

‘Just by swords colliding?’

Bakgi became surprised and took steps to get away from them in order to protect Gam Rosu. Other people who protected Bakgi also got back. The old man narrowed his eyes.

‘I thought he used all of his energy.’

He didn’t. The old man used 100% of his energy to attack, but it was his hand that was shaking due to the tremendous energy coming in. This was due to the power difference between them.

‘It’s lucky Nano cut me off before I used all of my energy.’

Yeowun was relieved as he would have died to this attack if he had used all of his energy. Yeowun then swung his blade to kill the old man, just like how he did it with the other man. But the old man brought up his hand with force qi over it to defend.

“Get the Doctor!!”

The old man then roared at the surviving masked men. They then came back to their senses.

“Y-yes, sir!”

They had to get the doctor while their leader was fighting that monster. They quickly charged toward Hou Sangwha, Hu Bong, and Mun Ku. But there was one thing they didn't consider.

"Aargh!"

Yang Danwa who came at them suddenly cut his neck instantly.

"Fools. That's not possible."

It wasn't only Yang Danwa. Yin Moha also quickly jumped to attack the masked men who were trying to attack.

'T-they are too strong!'

Yin Moha didn't even use a sword formation in dealing with the enemies. These masked warriors were powerful, but they were no match against superior master level warriors. The old man frowned.

'Ugh... this monster ruined everything! Who is this monster and these people?!'

He didn't hear anything about them. Chun Yeowun's power surely almost equaled the top five warriors of Yulin. But the old man had information about those five warriors and the Strong Nine beneath them. He had never heard of a young man like his enemy being so strong.

'Even if he's exhausted, we are outnumbered.'

The situation had turned around. There was no way for the old man to deal with all of them.

‘I have no choice. I’ll attack with the best skill I have to injure this monster and escape.’

The old man made a decision. He was angry that his long-prepared plan had been busted and lost many men, but he had to get away if he wanted to live.

‘It’s a shame I can’t kill him while he used up his energy.’

He wasn’t sure if he could finish Yeowun under one formation, but he had to run away now.

‘Huh? He’s doing something.’

Yeowun became surprised as the old man swung his sword to send Yeowun’s sword down. Yeowun and the old man’s two swords struck the ground. The old man then took the chance to get away, unleashing his best skill.

“Take this!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

With powerful energy gathering at the tip of his sword, the powerful sword skill was unleashed. But this sword formation was very familiar.

‘This...’

The angles that the swords were coming in, unlike any ordinary formations. It was also not a thrust, but a slash. Almost close to a blade formation.

‘Blade God’s skill?’

Chapter 287 - Emergence (6)

Chapter 287: Emergence (6)

This was similar to the blade skill of the Blade God. Yeowun then realized that this old man was related to the Blade God Six Martial clan. Yeowun used the second formation of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. The sword was coming from a weird angle, but Yeowun knew where it was coming from already so he defended against it easily.

‘What?’

The old man’s eye grew large from shock. The movement wasn’t something that could be predicted but Yeowun defended easily as if he knew it from the beginning. Yeowun struck the sword down and spoke.

“You’re from the Blade God Six Martial clan.”

The old man’s eyes shook from shock. He had snuck into the territory of the Forces of Justice, so he refrained from any formation that might resemble that of the Blade God’s skills but he revealed just one movement.

‘What? Does he know our clan’s martial art?’

And with the reaction, Yeowun was able to confirm that the old man was indeed from the Blade God Six Martial clan. And with such power, it was likely that this man was one of the leaders.

‘Something’s not right. I have to escape.’

With his identity revealed, the old man became worried and unleashed force qi to use the formation to distance himself from Yeowun. But Yeowun used a unique stepping skill to dodge the attack easily.

‘This skill...!’

The stepping skill that Yeowun just used was the Step of Wind God. It was the skill that man with a strange mask the old man once fought a few months ago at Jurkang Castle.

‘Is this him?’

He was able to recognize the martial art that the enemy used when he fought previously. This stepping skill was exactly the same skill that the masked man used that time. It was the man who dodged the blade god skill’s formation and struck him.

“You’re that masked cultist!”

‘Mask?’

Yeowun became surprised. It was certain that this old man was talking about Great Guardian Marakim.

‘This is the man that Great Guardian said he fought at Jurkang castle!’

Yeowun heard everything that happened at Jurkang Castle with details. If that was the case, Yeowun had to capture this man alive.

‘If he’s that cultist, then it is better I kill him even if it’s going to cost my life.’

The old man changed his plan from escaping to fight. His original plan also contained having the power of the Demonic Cult to be weakened. If his enemy was one of the cult's leaders, then it was better to get rid of him while he had chance.

The old man who originally tried to escape, charged back in. The old man then unleashed all of his power and used the final formation of his skill.

“Hmph! You won’t get away from this one!”

‘I know this one.’

The old man was using the ‘Soaring Dragon’ formation that Yeowun named. It was the sixth formation of the Blade God’s blade skill. The power was tremendous, enough to rip apart First Elder Mu Jinwon in the past. With the old man’s body spinning from the bottom, sword energy began to storm up, trying to overwhelm Yeowun.

‘This is the formation you barely got out last time!’

He didn’t fully master this formation a few months ago, but it was different now. The old man had perfected the formation in order to make it work correctly. Yeowun’s body began to be pushed upward by a strong torrent.

‘I got him!’

But Chun Yeowun didn’t look all that concerned.

“I didn’t think I would try this first on you guys.”

“What?”

The Sky Demon Sword in Yeowun’s right hand immediately scattered and returned back to armguards. With his body bit lifted from the ground, Yeowun grabbed the White Dragon Blade with both hands and struck down on the ground. His body then divided into eight traces and all eight traces unleashed eight formations from it. And the old man gasped with shock.

“W-what! This is...!!!”

With the blade formation that came from eight traces like a dragon, it stormed through the old man’s force qi and shot out. It was a blade formation that unleashed all energy within it. It was the seventh formation of the blade skill of the Blade God that Yeowun acquired under the cliff.

‘H-how can this be?! This is impossible!!’

The old man quickly brought up force qi to defend himself by using a defensive formation. But the power was just too strong.

“Aaaaargh!”

The old man’s sword cracked from the power and the blue blade force qi shot through his sword and cut down his body.

“UGH!”

The old man gasped. At the same time, blade force qi penetrated past the old man and struck the ground, kicking the dust up.

‘This is useful,’ Yeowun thought as he looked down at the White Dragon Blade that was stuck in the ground now. Unlike the eighth formation, the seventh formation was a combination of existing blade movements that Yeowun was able to acquire it quickly. But the power was beyond that of any of former formations.

The dust cloud died down and there were eight scars left on the ground from where Yeowun was standing, as if there had been an explosion with Yeowun as the center. A broken sword dropped to the ground. It was the long thick sword that the old man had held.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Ugh...”

Blood spat out from the old man’s mouth. His body was drenched with blood as it was cut from the blade formation that Yeowun used. The old man opened his mouth with disbelief.

“H-how did you learn his blade skill.... UGH!”

And the old man spat out a lump of blood again and dropped to the ground.

Chapter 288 - You think I could not do it (1)

Chapter 288: You think I could not do it (1)

The old man didn't die from the wound. Among those 8 directional markings on the ground that shot out from Yeowun as the center, one of them was cut off in the middle. It was where the old man fell on the ground. When Yeowun used the seventh formation of the blade skill of the Blade God's skill, he controlled his power so he will not kill the man. The old man was one of leader who appeared at Jurkang Castle in the past, so it was likely that he knew more information than those spies that entered the cult.

"Aargh!"

With a scream, the last of the masked men fell to the ground. They were no match against the Second and Fourth Elder of the Demonic Cult. Yin Moha and Yang Danwa also had one enemy alive for each of them.

'It's amazing.'

Gam Rosu became astounded, as she was still hanging onto Bakgi's back. She first thought it was lucky enough that she escaped with these people's help but this was more than she had imagined.

'That young man is a monster.'

She couldn't forget the moment where countless swords floated through Sword Creek. Screams coming from left and right made Gam Rosu became terrified, yet astounded.

‘To think there was another monster than the leader of the Yulin clan... and that man is young.’

When the situation settled down, Yang Danwa ran up to Yeowun and knelt down. He then banged his head on the ground to apologize.

“Master, please punish me.”

Yang Danwa had been accusing himself of Chun Yeowun’s presumed death from falling into the cliff.

‘Huh? Is he the ‘Master’ they have been talking about?’

Gam Rosu then realized this young man was the man that these people had been mourning about. As Yeowun looked down at Yang Danwa, he smiled. There was no one to blame for what had happened. Yeowun helped Yang Danwa up.

“Oh, and Bakgi. Who is that you have on the b... huh?”

Yeowun then suddenly turned to a direction and frowned. Yang Danwa looked up.

“Master?”

Yeowun looked toward the north, and reached his hand toward his feet and gestured of raising it up. A dead masked man’s sword was then sucked into Yeowun’s hand.

And at about a mile away from the Sword Creek toward north, two men with bloodstained clothes were barely running across the bushes. One man with a white beard was Hing Wunja, and another was a monk from the Mudan clan. Two of them were doing their best to escape from the region.

‘We have to make haste.’

Thanks to Yeowun’s group destroying the entry trap to the hidden mansion, they had to fight enemies that rushed in from outside. They were able to kill all enemies that entered, but the only ones alive in the end were Hing Wunja and another monk. And as they got out of the mansion, Hing Wunja witnessed the impossible. He was terrified by the massacre created by countless air swords.

‘W-we have to get away! We can’t do anything about that monster!’

Even if he was one of the Nine Strong, he was helpless against such a monster. Fortunately, the monster was busy fighting against masked men.

‘I must return to Mudan and bring our full force. Maybe I will need to request help to northern division of the Yulin clan.’

He had to hurry before they took the Godly Doctor away. Luckily, Mudan Mountain was only about two days away from the Sword Creek. And if he moved quickly, then it would not be long until he reached the outposts of the Yulin clan located in the area.

“Ugh... hah..”

But he was also concerned about another monk who was running with him. Hing Wunja was injured, but this monk had serious internal damage that he was getting worse as they ran.

“Hang in there.”

“Hah.. y-yes, Elder.”

It was better they get some distance before taking rest. Hing Wunja figured they would need to be at least 5 miles away.

‘They were fighting that many enemies. That will buy us some time.’

That’s what he thought. Suddenly, Hing Wunja heard something shooting through the air. He barely noticed this when the energy was so close. Hing Wunja quickly got down and shouted.

“Get down!”

“What?”

But the monk couldn’t get down in time.

“ARGH!”

A sword penetrated through the monk from the back.

“E...elder...”

The monk called out to Hing Wunja once and died. Hing Wunja felt chill running through his spines. Were all those masked men killed in that short amount of time?

‘This is impossible. He sensed this distance?’

Hing Wunja was a superior master level warrior, so he could throw a spear or sword about 400 meters, given that there were no obstacles or bushes like this. But this was simply impossible.

‘Are supreme master level warriors really monsters?’

This level of power would surely be called the top leader of either the forces of evil or the cult. He needed to ask help from allies as soon as possible.

‘My brother... I am sorry.’

There was no time to take the body. Hing Wunja took the book that dead monk had in his pocket. It was the book that Gam Rosu had taken out. The book had a hole when the sword penetrated through the chest, but Hing Wunja took the book anyway.

He had been running slow as he had to keep the pace with the monk, but now he was able to run away quickly.

Soon after he left, someone arrived where they were at. It was Second Elder Yin Moha. Yeowun used all of his energy by throwing the sword, so he ordered Yin Moha to chase after the escapee. She checked on the dead body of the monk.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘Ah.’

The body had a sword that Yeowun threw. The forest was dense with bushes so she wasn’t sure if Yeowun had gotten the target, but it accurately got the target it was thrown for.

‘Another one escaped. ...It’s him.’

There were two men’s footsteps that led her here. Yin Moha decided to follow the footsteps of another man that ran. If the man was who she was thinking of, then it was dangerous if she let him go.

Chapter 289 - You think I could not do it (2)

Chapter 289: You think I could not do it (2)

Inside the hidden mansion within Sword Creek. Godly Doctor Gam Rosu was frantically searching through all parts of the building. She didn't look good as she seemed to have lost something she valued.

"W-where did it go?! Where is it?!"

She remembered last time when she took it into her pocket. But when she was done packing up and escaped, the book disappeared. It was a treasure that was passed down from generations so she had to find it. And while Gam Rosu was busily searching through, Yeowun's group was busy taking care of dead bodies outside the cliff.

"Ugh. This is heavy."

"Make sure you erase those trackings on the ground, Hu Bong."

"Yeah, of course."

Hu Bong and Bakgi were gathering bodies in one place. They couldn't burn it all down at once as there were too many bodies, so they gathered 20 at a time to burn them down.

'Just those outside?'

Yeowun ordered to leave the bodies that were inside the mansion intact. Yang Danwa agreed with Yeowun's idea. The bodies outside were those who were killed by them, but ones inside were the result of the masked men and the Mudan clan fighting against each other, so it was better to leave them alone.

‘It’s not here.’

Yang Danwa’s face turned grim. The mansion was in ruins from the fight and there were countless bodies. But Yang Danwa couldn’t find the body of Hing Wunja, the Mudan Strong Sword.

‘Was it him that the Lord sensed earlier?’

It was the man they should not have allowed to escape. If that man took even a glimpse of Yeowun’s power, then it was likely that he will bring the entire force of the Mudan clan here.

‘Let’s hope Elder Yin caught up to him.’

Yin Moha was within the top five strongest warriors of the Demonic Cult. Even if Hing Wunja was one of the Strong Nine, it wasn’t likely that Yin Moha would have too much trouble in taking the man back.

“Godly Doctor.”

Someone called out to Gam Rosu who was still searching frantically. It was Chun Yeowun. She stubbornly insisted on being called ‘Granny Gam’ if she was called with such title, but she couldn’t do this to Yeowun.

“Y-yes, what is it? My rescuer.”

It was Yeowun who saved her life, so she called him her rescuer.

“I know you’re busy, but can you get me some medicinal herbs first?”

“Herbs?”

Gam Rosu became curious. Yeowun took one of the papers on the table and wrote down what he needed. He was asking since they were inside the mansion of the best doctor in the Jianghu. Gam Rosu became surprised when she saw the list of herbs and mumbled.

“Dry opium poppy?”

“Do you have it?”

“Not a lot, but I do have some in stock to use as a pain killer.”

Yeowun turned to a smile at the answer.

And in the mansion, in one of the rooms... Mun Ku and Hou Sangwha left two masked men and the old man in separate rooms, all tied up. The two women were doing something while they were looking at the tied man on the chair.

“Do you see the thin line behind the ear?”

“Oh! This one?”

“Yeah. That’s it.”

Mun Ku explained and Hou Sangwha found the line drawn between the old man’s neck and ear. It was very well hidden that it was hard to recognize. But Mun Ku had lived four years with a mask, so she knew where to look.

With Hou Sangwha pulling on the skin, the old man’s skin stretched as it uncovered the face beneath it.

“Huh?”

Two of them became confused. The old man spoke like an old man, so they thought the enemy would be very old, but he wasn't that old. The superior master level warrior would go through body reconstruction so it was hard to tell the one's real age, but this man looked like in his late 30s.

“I thought he was older.”

“Yeah... huh?”

That's when the man flinched. It seemed he was waking up from being passed out. Mun Ku ran out to fetch someone.

‘....Nngh.’

The man barely opened his eyes. He then saw ropes tying him down on the chair as he opened his eyes.

‘Have I been captured?’

He thought he was killed when he was struck down. He then looked down at his wound, which was covered with linen wrap.

‘They kept me alive.’

It was easy to see why they kept him alive. It was probably to gather information.

‘Fools. You will not get any information from me.’

Even if he lost, he had no intention of spilling the secrets of the Blade God Six Martial clan. There was no way to run, so it was better if he just killed himself. But as he tried to send internal energy to go berserk and damage himself to die, a strong pain came in to stop him. There was a large needle stuck on each of his blood points so that he couldn't move any internal energy.

'Damn. They locked me down.'

Everything was thought through. He also was gagged with rags so that he couldn't bite on his tongue either. As the man became grim, the door of the room opened. A young man with long hair walked in. It was Chun Yeowun. When the old man saw Yeowun walking in, he remembered what happened before he passed out again. He became curious as to how Yeowun had learned that martial art.

"NNNNGH!"

But he couldn't speak.

"You can stay outside, Sanghwa."

"But..."

"It's okay."

"Yes, my lord."

Hou Sanghwa walked out and Yeowun walked up to the man and placed a chair to sit down. He then pulled out the rag from the man's mouth.

"Hah... Hah..."

The man let out a long sigh. He then looked up and glared.

"...You. How can a mere warrior of the Cult know 'his' blade skill?"

There was no need for anything else. He was only curious as to how Yeowun had learned the martial art. Yeowun then scoffed as he opened his mouth to speak.

“Let me correct you on two things first.”

“What?”

“I am not just a mere warrior of the cult.”

The man then spoke with a smirk.

“Fool. You think I did not recognize you? You are from the Jurkang.... NNGH!”

Yeowun suddenly grabbed on the man’s mouth. He then shook his head and continued.

“Let me tell you this. I am not a mere warrior, but the Sky and the Master of the Demonic Cult.”

‘Sky? Master? ...W-wait.’

The man became curious at first, but frowned as he realized what Yeowun had said. It meant Yeowun was saying he was the Lord of the Cult.

“Y...You are the Lord of the Demonic Cult?”

It was unbelievable. Why would the Lord come down to the remote region of the forces of Justice by himself?

“Huh?”

Yeowun then placed his hand below the man’s stomach. The man looked back at Yeowun and Yeowun spoke coldly.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Second, you have no right to question me.”

“W-wait...”

But before he could finish, Yeowun’s powerful energy penetrated the man’s internal energy.

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaargh!!!!”

Chapter 290 - You think I could not do it (3)

Chapter 290: You think I could not do it (3)

Strong energy penetrated the man's stomach and brought heavy pain to the man. The internal energy within him was being cracked down. The most painful experience for the warriors of Yulin would be when their internal damage was destroyed. The physical pain was beyond imaginable, but the pain of losing something that the warrior had built in his entire life brought loss that was more than what one could bear.

"Aaaaaaargh! Y-YOU!!!! Just kill me!!!!"

The man screamed and insisted on killing him. But Yeowun ignored his screaming and finished destroying the internal energy.

"Aaaaargh!"

The man screamed from extreme pain and soon passed out. But he was woken up immediately. Searing pain on his cheek woke him up. His face was drenched in sweat and pale from the pain. He still felt extreme pain beneath his stomach.

"Ah..."

'M-my internal energy... it's gone...'

He already prepared to be killed, but the feeling of losing internal energy wasn't something he could bear. Yeowun then suddenly clapped his hands in front of the man's eyes.

The man became dumbfounded by such action and looked up.

‘Is he trying to...?’

He had lost his internal energy, but he didn’t miss the strange sound when Yeowun clapped. It was likely that the clap contained energy within it.

“Hah. Are you trying to put me under hypnosis?”

Hypnosis. The man was one of the leaders within the Blade God Six Martial clan and there was one leader in particular who specialized in such hypnosis. But he went missing after he entered the cult, so the clan thought the man was dead already.

‘Did you spill your secret to the cult?’

The result was disappointing. Whatever the case, there was no way the hypnosis will work on him.

“You know.”

Yeowun looked surprised. He just clapped once, so he didn’t think the man would recognize what he was trying to do right away. The man scoffed.

“Hah... you are a fool. You think copying our clan’s magic will work?”

He had lost internal energy but he and the other leaders were trained to build immunity against poppies. There was no way that they would be put under the same magic that they created.

“Haha... hah... HAHAHAHA!”

“?”

“I was worried because of your monstrous power... but you are not as smart. You said you are the Lord of the Cult? Don't... NNGH!”

“Shut up.”

Yeowun grabbed his mouth again. The man couldn't speak and the man then forced open the man's mouth and picked something up from the ground. It was a medicine pot.

“Nnnngh! W-wha rar you... doin...!!!!”

Yeowun ignored him and put the pot's opening into the man's mouth and began pouring in the medicine soup into the man's mouth. The man tried to spit it out but Yeowun clogged his nose, so the man couldn't fight back on swallowing it. The soup was boiling hot.

After making him swallow a good amount, Yeowun took off the pot from the man's mouth.

“Ugh... argh...”

The man coughed for a long time, but soon forgot the pain of being burned and smirked at Yeowun.

“I... I told you it's no use... you are a fool.”

Even if the recipe was revealed, he had built-in immunity against its substance. There was no use of doing this to other masked men who were kept in other rooms.

“Do you... think we are not... prepared for this... ah... huh? W-what is... what am I...”

But he felt his body become relaxed and began to feel good. It was changing so fast that the world seemed to be turning around and melted away. The man barely got his thoughts together and asked, "W...what did you do... to me?"

"Do you honestly think I would use the same recipe that you people use?"

"What?"

The substance that Yeowun made the man swallow had knowledge of future medicine mixed into it. Nano called this a 'Truth Serum.'

[Out of 35 Truth Serums, 30 of them are outlawed by international law. There is one that uses a substance called Ritalin among those that are not illegal.]

Ritalin was a substance used under medical circumstances, but was also used as a truth serum in certain militaries. Nano mixed this with the original mixture to make it work better. Yeowun was able to create this as the Godly Doctor had most of the herbs required in her storage.

"I made it more powerful than the one you people use."

"T...that is impossible! How did you... how...?"

He was certain that there was no way that the medicine will work on him, but it worked really well. He felt his body becoming relaxed, and he felt the urge to start speaking. He bit his lips to endure and shook his head. Yeowun smiled.

"You think I could not do something you guys did?"

"D-dammit! N...NO!!!!!"

And Yeowun began to clap, with his energy focused on his hand. After a few claps, the man's eyes became numb. He was now under full hypnosis. Yeowun was actually very fascinated as this really worked. It also helped that the man had lost his internal energy to fight back.

'Let me start one by one.'

Yeowun thought he should follow what Nano told him to do: hypnotizing people. Yeowun clapped his hand in front of the man and spoke.

"You will answer my question each time I snap my finger."

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"...Yes."

And now, he was free to ask questions. Yeowun asked who the man was.

"What is your name?"

"I am Lee Baek, the Sword Master of the Blade God Six Martial clan, one of six martial Masters of the clan."

Chapter 291 - You think I could not do it (4)

Chapter 291: You think I could not do it (4)

Yeowun became astounded. It really worked, as the man clearly explained who he was. Yeowun thought for a second on what to ask next, and asked what he wanted to know the most.

“Why did you want to take the doctor with you?”

“She has the relic left by our founder.”

Yeowun frowned. It seemed that this ‘founder’ was what the man referred to as ‘him’ until now.

“And what is that relic?”

“It is a schematic to create the Extreme Martial Body.”

“Extreme Martial... what? What is that?”

“It is a body that can learn the best martial arts of our clan, the Extreme Art of the Blade God.”

‘Extreme Art of the Blade God?’

Yeowun then thought that maybe the name was the name of the blade skill of the Blade God that he had learned. Yeowun asked just in case.

“Was the blade skill I used against you the Extreme Art of the Blade God?”

“That is correct.”

He had learned this blade skill for months, and finally learned its name. But why did these people need a schematic to make such a body?

“Why do you need that schematic?”

“Extreme Art of the Blade God requires a special way. We need it to bring our physical parts beyond their limits so we can learn the Extreme Art.”

“Ah.”

Yeowun nodded. The Extreme Art of Blade God was a martial art that was not possible to learn for ordinary people. Yeowun was able to use it by strengthening his physical traits and muscles beyond the limit of humans with Nano’s help, but that method wasn’t possible for anyone else.

‘Wait... but why do they need this?’

These were people who said that the Blade God was their ancestor. How could they not know how to learn their ancestor’s martial art completely? It was curious as to why they would need the schematic. And above all...

‘How did the Godly Doctor put her hands on such a schematic in the first place?’

He was curious and asked.

“We do not know.”

“What?”

Lee Baek seemed he did not know how Gam Rosu had acquired the book. Of course, they would have already have taken it for themselves if they knew how Gam Rosu got her hands on it. Yeowun changed the question.

“How did you know that Gam Rosu had it?”

“We learned through our spies at the Yulin’s clan’s secret organization, Blue Sky Brotherhood.”

“Blue Sky Brotherhood?”

Yeowun had learned about every organization within the Yulin clan before he left the castle, but he had never heard of such a name. As Yeowun became curious about what the organization was, Lee Baek continued.

“We learned that one of Blue Sky Brotherhood’s plans was to use Godly Doctor’s project to create warriors with superhuman strengths. We were able to confirm that they were talking about the Extreme Martial Body.”

After acquiring this piece of information, the clan sent out Lee Baek to retrieve the book. After getting the information that the Mudan clan was protecting and watching the Godly Doctor, it took them a month to find the Godly Doctor’s hideout. Sword Creek was located in the middle of the territory of the Yulin clan, so it required them to move very carefully.

‘I have the answer to my question at least.’

Yeowun now learned why the Blade God Six Martial clan wanted to get the doctor. And it was now time to unravel their important secret. The hidden power of the Blade God Six Martial clan, along with their secrets and motives. With these known, it was going to allow Yeowun to strike back.

With Hu Bong and Bakgi returning to the mansion after taking care of bodies outside, only one remained that didn't return yet. It was Yin Moha, tracking down Hing Wunja. Hu Bong and Bakgi were dirty with ashes from burning all the bodies.

"This is tiring."

Hu Bong was exhausted. Bakgi nodded as he too was exhausted from long work. Yang Danwa spoke to them.

"Good work. We are not sure when we will leave, so you two can get some rest while you can."

They were in the middle of enemy territory, so even if it wasn't for the escaped Hing Wunja, warriors of the Yulin clan could appear at any moment. Yang Danwa suggested for Hu Bong and Bakgi to rest. That's when Gam Rosu appeared.

"Granny Gam?"

"I...it's not there..."

"What's going on? Did you not find the one you were looking for?"

They heard that Gam Rosu had to search for an important book that she lost already.

"There's nothing in the storage. You two, did you see any weird book made with special paper outside?"

All of them shook their heads at the question. It was obvious that the book was taken by Hing Wunja.

"Ah... what should I do!"

She felt bad for losing a important family relic that was handed down from her ancestors. That's when they heard some noise toward the entrance.

'Huh?'

Yang Danwa, Bakgi, and Hu Bong all took their stances to be ready to fight at any moment. They sent a telepathic message to Gam Rosu to stay still. And as they waited nervously, someone appeared through the cave entrance. It was Yin Moha.

"Elder Yin!"

Yin Moha finally returned from her chase. On her back, there was something that was tied around with ripped clothing. It was a body with no limbs.

"Ah!"

It was Hing Wunja. Yin Moha was successful in bringing the man back. But as she had to fight a warrior of equal strength, she too had small injuries and was also pale from exhaustion, proving the hard battle she fought.

'T-these people are so cruel...!'

Hing Wunja had been threatening and pressuring her, but Gam Rosu felt sorry to find Hing Wunja in such a state. She was a doctor so she had seen many horrible sights that abled her to see this without much shock, but it wasn't a sight for normal people to see. Gam Rosu became certain that these people were not from the forces of Justice.

'It's amazing!'

Yang Danwa, however, was glad that they were able to put down one of the Strong Nine, a powerful foe within the forces of justice, and tried to congratulate her.

“Elder Yin! You have...”

But an explosion came somewhere within the mansion.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“T-that’s...!”

That was the place where Yeowun was questioning the old man that they captured.

“M-master!”

They all ran toward the explosion at once.

Chapter 292 - You think I could not do it (5)

Chapter 292: You think I could not do it (5)

Noisy screaming sound filled the dark stone room. It was much noisier and annoying than the sound of a cricket. Someone entered the stone room with a candlelight. The light was so dim that it didn't reveal the man's face. He then walked slowly in and searched for the one that was screaming loudly. On the stone wall, there were shelves with many wooden boxes. Among them, there was a red wooden box that had the word 'Sword' written over it. The man took the box, which the sound was coming from within.

When he opened it, there was a fist-long centipede. It only had its antennae and a mouth, that was screaming with a weird sound as it shook. The man picked it up.

"I sent you to pick up the object, not spill our information. Hmph."

The man spat and clenched his fist. The centipede screamed within the fist and soon exploded from the pressure. And the man watched white liquid dripping within his hand and smiled.

"Whoever you are... you are a fool if you think you can find something out from him."

At the same time within the hidden mansion of Sword Creek... Yeowun was asking questions through hypnosis. Lee Baek had been telling all answers to every question Yeowun had until now. Now, they were moving onto the important question. Yeowun had to find out where the Blade God Six Martial clan was hiding, how strong they were, and their purpose. The Blade God had disappeared from the Yulin for 500 years and the Blade God Six Martial clan never revealed themselves within that time. If they appeared now, it was certain that they were ready for whatever purpose they set out to do. Yeowun wanted to know what that purpose was, so he could be prepared.

“The founder you said... is that the ‘Blade God’?”

“...U...ugh...”

Lee Baek shook his body for the first time during the questioning. His eyes were shaking and showing resistance in answering that question.

‘He’s fighting back.’

Yeowun snapped his finger again.

“Y...Yes.”

Lee Baek then barely answered the question. As expected, the Blade God Six Martial clan had descendants of the Blade God himself.

“Then are you people divided up into six groups, just like how your name describes it?”

And with questions going into details, the resistance only grew. Lee Baek was now being drenched in sweat and also his face turned red.

‘It’s getting bad.’

He had no internal energy to fight back, but still resisted against the truth serum and the hypnosis. Yeowun then realized this was strange to think it was coming from strong will.

‘Huh?’

That’s when Lee Baek’s numb eyes turned clear. Veins popped up from his forehead and his head began to expand in size. Lee Baek seemed to be in pain, but he smirked at Yeowun.

“...I told you you will not find anything from me.”

He knew this would happen if things went south. All leaders were put on restrictions just in case something happened to them. As soon as they try to speak the information that they were not supposed to spill, a male centipede within their head would send a signal to the female. This centipede was to die by an explosion if one of the pair died.

“Nnnngh...!”

Lee Baek felt a strange thing in his head and felt something expanding within. Yeowun then placed his hand over his head.

“Nnnngh... W-what?!”

Light shined from Yeowun’s palm and when it was done, augmented reality activated over Yeowun’s eyes. Yeowun was shown with information followed by a white square on a head.

[After MRI scanning of the target, a insect within the brain is found to be expanding.]

Yeowun saw the image of something small and red becoming large.

“Hmm.”

Yeowun frowned. He didn't quite get all the information yet, but it seemed there had been protection over it. Lee Baek saw Yeowun's frown and smiled.

“Ha... Haha.... You won't get anything!”

“I see.”

“Even if you are supreme master level...”

That's when Yeowun's hand unleashed a powerful electric shock into Lee Baek's head.

“Gggggagagagagagagaga!”

Lee Baek's entire body trembled through electricity running through. His eyes, ears, nose and mouth all spilled blood from within. Yeowun then placed his hand over his right eye.

‘Nano, help me so I don't damage his brain.’

[Yes, Master.]

With Yeowun's energy penetrating into the man's head, it started pulling something out. It was the insect that put to a stop from exploding itself through Nano's electric shock.

[Located the insect.]

‘Let's pull it out.’

[Acquiring control over the energy from the user.]

The electricity circled around the insect and Nano used its energy to bring out the insect slowly so that the brain would not take any damage.

“Gagagagagagagaga!”

Lee Baek’s right eye began to move. And when Yeowun gestured pulling it out, Lee Baek’s right eye was pulled out, followed by the centipede about two fingers long behind it.

“Aaaaaaaargh!”

“Hah!”

Yeowun then controlled his energy to bring the centipede up through the ceiling. The insect then shot through the ceiling to be thrown out of the building, and when the electricity was taken out, it instantly expanded and exploded above. White ooze dropped on the roof of the building.

“A...argh...”

Lee Baek was under huge pain from both the electric shock and the pain of having his eyeball pulled out, but he couldn’t close his eye. He was looking up with fear to Chun Yeowun.

‘H...how can this happen? Is this man really a monster?’

He had not even dreamt that such thing would be possible. It was impossible to even think to pull out such an insect from within the body.

[Brain damage at minimum, but the target is in serious condition.]

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Yeowun then realized he had to make it quick. A low electricity volt energized Lee Baek’s brain to think clearly, but it seemed Lee Baek didn't have much time left.

"This will hurt, but I will have to make this quick."

"Nnngh... what?!"

Yeowun then snapped his finger by Lee Baek's ear. Lee Baek then became numb again.

Chapter 293 - You think I could not do it (6)

Chapter 293: You think I could not do it (6)

“What?”

Hou Sangwha and Mun Ku became surprised when they found something being thrown up over the ceiling and exploding. They climbed up and saw white ooze all over the roof.

“W-what is this?”

“M-my Lord!”

Mun Ku thought something must have happened within the room, so she quickly ran down and burst into the room.

“Hiiik!”

She screamed as soon as she walked in. Yeowun was listening to something that Lee Baek was saying as he held on Lee Baek’s head. It was a horrible sight as Lee Baek’s right eye was dangling out of his eye socket.

“N...ngh... Jurkang... H.. Hangju... at Hangsan Castle... our base...”

Lee Baek who was barely speaking then dropped his head down. He finally died.

“Hah...”

Yeowun let go of his hand. He wanted to get as much information as possible, but he was only able to find a few. But that was good enough.

“My Lord!”

That’s when other members also ran into the room. It seemed they were all shocked by the sound of the explosion. Yang Danwa walked up to Yeowun and asked, “Are you okay, my lord?”

They were concerned if something serious had happened, but Yeowun seemed safe. Yeowun then spoke to his members.

“I have found their location.”

“?!”

It was in Hangsan near the Jurkang castle. Lee Baek revealed the location of Blade God Six Martial clan’s home before he died. Yeowun’s group all became surprised.

And in another room, Hing Wunja was tied to a chair without his arms or legs. His face was pale and he didn’t seem to be in good shape. Yin Moha stopped him from bleeding after she overpowered him, but there was too blood that was lost.

“Hah... you cut off his arms and legs. This is natural.”

Gam Rosu shook her head. She treated Hing Wunja, but Hing Wunja lost so much blood that Gam Rosu said he would only last about an hour. She suggested supplying Hing Wunja with blood, but they had to leave soon so they didn’t intend on making Hing Wunja live a bit longer.

“I have something to ask you, my rescuer.”

Gam Rosu begged Yeowun. She was the best doctor there was in entire land of Jianghu, so she already knew what Yeowun created from the list of herbs that he got from her.

“If you are using that medicine to Monk Hing, give me a chance to question him.”

Gam Rosu said that she was asked by an organization called the Blue Sky Brotherhood to work on a project on finding a way to bring one’s body beyond its physical limit. The reason behind this project was...

“Blue Sky Brotherhood said they are creating powerful warriors to make the world a better place. I didn’t want to get involved in any of things happening in Yulin but...”

She had to change her mind when her only granddaughter was kidnapped year ago by a warrior from the forces of evil. With her only family and successor being kidnapped, she became vengeful and accepted the Blue Sky Brotherhood’s request.

“They said they have to win war against the forces of evil to get my granddaughter back. But they couldn’t do that with their current power.”

She was too busy thinking about revenge to realize at first, but as time passed, she began to grow suspicious. The Blue Sky Brotherhood was created by powerful warriors from many powerful clans and families from the forces of justice, but they kept saying they weren’t even sure if Gam Rosu’s kidnapped granddaughter was even alive.

“Monk Hing... I’m certain he knows something.”

Gam Rosu was certain that he was hiding some truth. But she was only a doctor so there was no way for her to find out. She only figured she had to fulfill her part of the request to be the only way of saving her granddaughter.

“If you help me, I don’t care where you are from. I will help you with all I can.”

There was no reason Yeowun would reject her request. The Godly Doctor was a doctor with noble heart so he was concerned on how to persuade her to come see Lord Chun Yujong, so this was better for Yeowun.

“I will let you ask him first then.”

Yeowun offered her to ask first. After destroying the internal energy and making him consume medicine, Yeowun hypnotized Hing Wunja. Hing Wunja became numb just like how Lee Baek had become.

“My granddaughter... Don’t you really know where Gam Miyan is being held?”

Yeowun snapped his finger and Hing Wunja opened his mouth.

“...Granny Gam’s granddaughter... is being held at Yongho House, one of the 18 Houses.”

“W-what?!”

Gam Rosu became furious at the immediate response of her granddaughter’s location. She had asked countless times if her granddaughter was found, but Hing Wunja always said they were looking for her. She bit on her lips to endure her fury and asked.

“Why... why did you not tell me until now?”

“...Granny Gam. We were told by our master of brotherhood to refrain from telling you before you finish the project. We were in touch with the Yongho Family of the 18 River Families, so we can always bring back your granddaughter as soon as you are finished with the project.”

“Y...you are in contact with the Yongho Family?”

Gam Rosu’s face turned red from fury. Every member of Yeowun’s group was within the room with them, and all of them became dumbfounded from what they heard. Hu Bong shook his head.

“Hah. They are worse then forces of evil! What a evil monk!”

“Shut up.”

Hou Sangwha poked his stomach to make him fall silent. Gam Rosu was already so shocked, so there was no need to make her become more furious. But even if Hu Bong didn’t say anything, Gam Rosu had already lost her temper.

“YOUUUUUU!!!!!!”

She furiously charged and began to choke Hing Wunja’s neck.

Chapter 294 - Yongho Family (1)

Chapter 294: Yongho Family (1)

Gam Rosu screamed furiously as she choked Hing Wunja's neck but no one stopped her. They all understood her fury as they all heard the truth. But soon, the act began to go out of control. Gam Rosu was pressing on the weak point of the neck.

"You call yourself a monk?! DIE! DIE!!!!"

"Kaaaak!"

'No... he'll die.'

Hing Wunja's face was turning purple, so Yeowun walked forward to stop her. He didn't even ask any questions to Hing Wunja yet.

"Godly Doctor! Stop!"

"Aaaaaaaah!"

But Gam Rosu couldn't hear anything and kept on choking Hing Wunja. She was well built with large muscles, so her choke wasn't something that Hing Wunja, who had lost internal energy and was in a serious state could withstand. His eyes were now rolling backward.

'She won't stop.'

Yeowun reached out, and Gam Rosu's body was thrown to the back by powerful energy force pulling him away.

"Ah!"

Fourth Elder Yang Danwa quickly ran behind to catch her in the air. But Gam Rosu did not stop from frantically trying to fight back.

“Let me go! That bastard... my granddaughter!!”

“Relax! Calm down, Granny Gam!”

It was obvious that she couldn't forgive the man who lied to her over a year, when her granddaughter was left with the infamous pirates, the 18 River Families of the Yellow River.

“Hou Sangwha. Take the Godly Doctor out of the room.”

“Yes, sir.”

Hou Sangwha took Gam Rosu out of the room. Yeowun then asked dying Hing Wunja to get some answers while he could.

“Hah... hah...ngh....”

“What is the purpose of the Blue Sky Brotherhood?”

Hing Wunja let out a heavy breath as he spoke.

“B...blue Sky... Brotherhood... only wants... the world to walk the path of... justice.... ..ngr....”

And with the lack of oxygen and heavy blood loss, Hing Wunja died before he could even finish answering the question.

“Dammit!”

Yeowun placed his hands over Hing Wunja's head and chest. A low volt of electricity came out of his hand. Hing Wunja's heart stopped, but Yeowun was trying to see if he could bring him back to ask at least a few more questions. But there was no use. Hing Wunja already died and his body was now becoming rigid.

“Ah...”

Yeowun regretted allowing Gam Rosu to ask first. He wanted to find out what this secret brotherhood was all about, but it was too late.

‘Whew... I hope the Godly Doctor knows something about them at least.’

It was no use if he regretted it. He now just hoped that the Godly Doctor, who once worked with the brotherhood, knew something about them.

‘But a doctor choking a monk with fury...’

Yeowun felt weird when he thought about what he had just seen. This was the first time he came out of the cult. After seeing all that happened here, he came to a thought that all people, whether they were cultists or from the forces of justice, or killers or doctors, there wasn’t much difference between them after all.

‘Are we all just the same humans after all?’

Maybe the only difference was between ideals and goals. Yeowun thought there was something more significantly different between people from each group, but it was now going away.

“My Lord.”

That’s when Yin Moha walked up to Yeowun. She brought out some pieces of paper that was burned in most places. Some were burned too severely that it was not even recognizable.

“What is this?”

“I found Hing Wunja burning this when I got to him.”

When Yin Moha took out these pieces of paper, Yang Danwa walked up to them and spoke.

“Isn’t that the book that the Godly Doctor had been searching for?”

They knew that Gam Rosu was frantically searching for a certain book. All they heard was that it was created with some unique paper.

“This... sure is unique.”

It was a piece of burnt paper, but it was much thicker and slicker than regular paper.

‘It’s so smooth. What is this?’

Yeowun took it into his hand and Nano’s voice answered.

[Program is locked. Cannot analyze the material or year of creation.]

This was similar to when Yeowun asked if Nano could be transferred over to another body to heal. It had been a long time since Nano mentioned locks on certain information.

‘It’s strange... hmm?’

On the back, there was a piece of paper with some writing on it. The area around it was burned, but about three lines were legible. The problem was that it wasn’t the usual characters that Yeowun could read. It looked a bit more simplified.

‘Nano... is this also locked?’

[This is a ‘simplified Chinese character.’]

‘Simplified?’

[It is created to easily write the traditional characters.]

‘How is it created?’

[There is a lock on the program for that specific information.]

‘...Can you tell me what it says then?’

[Yes, Master. Translating... ‘It is mistake that I went after him. He was surely an Origin of the Demonic Cult. My greed had failed me. I should have stuck to my original plan to go to the Demonic...’ End of translation.]

The latter part was burnt.

“??”

Yeowun became surprised when he heard it. What did it mean? He heard that the treasure Godly Doctor held was the schematic in creating the Extreme Martial Art. But the writing he just read was more like a journal.

‘Origin of the Demonic Cult...? Is this talking about Father Chun Ma?’

That was the logical explanation for such a title. It seemed that the man who wrote this tried to attack Father Chun Ma but failed. After a long thought, Yeowun remembered the trace of the Extreme Art of the Blade God under the cliff.

‘Oh! Maybe the one who wrote this is the founder of the Blade God Six Martial clan!’

Now, every finding began to fit with each other like a puzzle. The founder of the Blade God Six Martial clan also created the schematic of the Extreme Martial Body, and in a mysterious way, Gam Rosu’s ancestor had taken it. But Yeowun couldn’t figure out what the script was trying to say.

‘...Maybe his original plan was to attack the cult itself instead...’

It was a shame that the latter part was all burned down. This wasn’t much help as the remaining pieces were burned severely so nothing was recognizable.

‘This is no use. He tried to destroy it rather than having it fall to others.’

Hing Wunja’s decision was a logical decision for the Blue Sky Brotherhood, as if he had not done that, the book would have been in the hands of the Demonic Cult.

“Hmmm.”

Yeowun then gave the pieces of paper pack to Yin Moha.

“There’s no use. Return this back to the Godly Doctor. I will question remaining two and we will leave. Get ready.”

“Yes, my lord.”

Chapter 295 - Yongho Family (2)

Chapter 295: Yongho Family (2)

Everyone shouted at Yeowun's order. After an hour, Yeowun questioned both masked men in two rooms. Unlike Lee Baek, these warriors did not know any vital information. All they knew was who their leader was, and they were trained outside the home of the Blade God Six Martial clan, so they did not know anything about them.

'...That's why they don't have any protection on them.'

These people didn't have weird centipedes or anything like that either. It was likely as they did not know anything anyway. It was a shame, but Yeowun had to satisfy what he found out.

After the questioning was done, Yeowun and his members finished returning. Their original purpose was to find the Godly Doctor and the missing special expedition team, and so all they had to do was return to the Demonic Cult. And when they were about to leave the mansion, the Godly Doctor called out to Yeowun.

"My Rescuer!"

She bowed down with a grim look to apologize.

"Please forgive me for my foolish action."

She was talking about bringing Hing Wunja to his early death. If she kept her anger in control, Yeowun would have been able to gather more information from him. But what's done was done.

"Don't mind it."

Yeowun then turned cold, and Gam Rosu immediately knelt with her both knees. Yeowun raised his eyebrows. From what he knew about this old woman, it was likely that she would ask for a serious request.

‘Uh...’

Of course, he had a guess as to what the doctor was trying to ask him to do. Her granddaughter was a captive at the 18 River Families for over a year. It was certain that she would be concerned.

“I know I am not in a position to ask, but I have to ask you to help me.”

Tears ran down her wrinkly face. He felt sympathetic to see such an old woman crying like this.

“My granddaughter is being held by the pirates of the Yellow River. It’s been already a year... I can’t let that go on.”

‘I knew it.’

As Gam Rosu continued, everyone frowned. They already used too much time at the lands of the forces of justice. But if they were to now move onto the lands of the forces of evil, it was likely that they would be spotted.

“Please help this helpless grandmother find her granddaughter.”

Gam Rosu asked for sympathy to try to get help. She thought if Yeowun and others had at least a little bit of sympathy, he would help. But that was the wrong move.

“I’m sorry but I can’t help you.”

“?!”

Gam Rosu became grim from the unexpected refusal. She did not expect that Yeowun would refuse right away.

‘That’s not something we should deal with.’

All of Yeowun’s members shared the same idea. They were sympathetic of what Gam Rosu was going through, but it didn’t mean they had to risk their lives in order to help. Besides, she already promised that she would go treat Chun Yujong when she was allowed to ask the question to Hing Wunja.

‘No...! T-they are too cold!’

Gam Rosu frowned at Yeowun and the group’s solemn answer. It looked like she wouldn’t get any help at this rate.

“Let’s go now.”

“Yes, master!”

‘N-no!!’

Gam Rosu then bang her head on the ground and quickly shouted.

“I-if you rescue my granddaughter, I will serve you as my master forever!!”

“...!!!”

Everyone became shocked. What Gam Rosu just said wasn’t a simple matter. It was the Godly Doctor herself, claiming that she would serve them in exchange. The value of the Godly Doctor, known to heal every injury and disease, was huge. If she was putting herself as a bargaining chip, then it was well worth it.

‘Please...’

Her back shook from the hope of being helped. If Yeowun was to refuse even then, then there was no way for her to get her granddaughter back.

[My Lord! This is a great opportunity!]

Yang Danwa sent a telepathic message with an excited look. It had a risk, but it was a risk worth taking if this was the case. Yeowun raised his hand to signal him to remain calm.

‘Godly Doctor pledging allegiance...’

Yeowun thought for a moment. His cold heart didn’t move at the sympathetic approach, but this bargain was something worth considering. It seemed it was good for either Yeowun or the Demonic Cult. His thoughts didn’t last long.

‘Ah?’

Gam Rosu’s body was immediately brought up by strong energy force. She looked up and Yeowun warned her with low voice.

“I hope you don’t forget what you just promised.”

“Ah...!! My rescuer!”

She began to weep with joy. She was concerned that her last resort would fail, but it had been accepted.

“It is as you said, Lieutenant Hu.”

“What?” Hu Bong asked back curiously at Yang Danwa’s sudden words. Yang Danwa laughed.

“We will get to see the pirates after all.”

“O-oh! You’re right!”

They were now bound to fight against pirates of the Yellow River. Gam Rosu wept for a while and later asked carefully.

“I am sorry, but I have not learned the name of my rescuer yet. Please, tell me your name.”

She did not know anything about the man other than that he was the master of all others. Yeowun then spoke to Gam Rosu.

“I am Chun Yeowun.”

“Chun Yeowun?”

It was familiar. The name of ‘Chun’ was very rare within the Jianghu anyway.

‘That’s interesting... but the name sounds... Chun Yeowun... wait. WAIT!’

Gam Rosu’s eyes grew large as she remembered what she overheard when warriors from the forces of justice a while ago.

‘N-new lord of the Demonic Cult?’

Everyone knew that the Lord of Demonic Cult recently changed, and the forces of justice also knew this very well.

‘S... so I just promised that I will serve the Lord of the Demonic Cult??’

Chun Yeowun's group was now going south horseback. As they rode down to the south, Yeowun asked Yang Danwa, "Do you know where this Yongho Family is at?"

Yeowun had learned many information about important organizations and groups of the Jianghu when he left, but the 18 River Families were among those who didn't have a definite location.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"I do not know, sir."

"Hmm."

The couldn't search through every pirate base. Yeowun seemed to be concerned and Yang Danwa laughed.

"Don't worry, master. I do not know, but I know someone who does."

Chapter 296 - Yongho Family (3)

Chapter 296: Yongho Family (3)

In the deep forest, about 10 miles away from the Sword Creek. Men who hid their faces under bamboo hats were running through the forest. They all had dark clothing, but they had striking blue sashes on their waists that stood out. And as they ran, the one in front suddenly stopped.

“Master, what is it?”

With the man stopping, over 30 men that followed came to a stop and one of them asked the man at the front.

“I smell blood in the area.”

“Blood?”

They couldn't smell anything. The man then began to walk toward some direction and as they walked in further into the bush, they found something hidden beneath.

“Oh...”

There was a trace of a big fight within the bushes and trees. It was hidden, but the fight seemed to be too severe that not all of it was disposed. There were over tens of trees that were cut down from the fight also.

‘...It's a fight between superior master level warriors.’

Traces of energy left by superior master level warriors lingered for a long time. The energy that was left within these traces was evidence of the huge fight.

“Dig up that place.”

“Yes, master.”

There was a certain part of the ground that looked like its dirt had been stacked artificially. As the men went on to dig it up, they saw a pair of arms and legs within the dirt.

“Huh? T...These are a monk’s clothes.”

Arms and legs had pieces of its clothes still intact, and they were a part of monk robes. There weren’t any other body parts, so it was likely that the body was either thrown elsewhere or taken away. The only monk they knew who could fight was one person. One of the Strong Nine, and the elder of the Mudan clan. Hing Wunja.

‘There must be a problem.’

The man who was called master was certain that something happened. As he thought he should go to Sword Creek quickly, another man called out to him.

“Master! There is a sign here!”

“Sign?”

The man was standing by certain large tree. About 4 meters up, there was writing that was carved out by a sword. It was a secret sign for them. The man knew this sign as they were from the same Blue Sky Brotherhood that symbolized this sign.

One of the men quickly climbed up the tree as they found something hidden by the tree branch. It was a book that was created with unique slick paper.

“We have found this up on the tree.”

“What is this?”

First half of the book seemed to be ripped apart, and only the latter half was intact. The first page had the drawing of a human body. This was the treasure that Godly Doctor searched for, and Hing Wunja hid it.

The Yulin three power division was maintained for over hundreds of years. Yulin clan of the forces of justice, Alliance of the forces of evil, and the Demonic Cult. These three groups divided the region of Yulin into three. West was the home of the forces of evil, whereas the north was occupied by the Yulin clan, and the Demonic Cult stayed behind in the south. And when these three warring factions fought each other, there was one place that was usually kept quiet. It was the city of Meking. It was a location where three regions met, where no forces took over. This was a neutral place, but not for the purpose of peace. It was only kept neutral because of the power balance that maintained between those three.

“L...Look at those people! I think they are from the forces of evil! Look at that scar! Whoa!”

Hu Bong spoke erratically as Bakgi shook his head. It was normal to see many warriors from the forces of evil, as they were at the border of the three factions. Hu Bong pointed out was people with many scars. Bakgi also had a scar over his eyes, but it looked like a scratch compared to them.

“Be quiet... stop trying to gain attention.”

“Okay...”

Hu Bong became depressed by Bakgi’s words. It was understandable that Hu Bong would get excited for coming into such big city for the first time, but he still talked too much. If Mun Ku was here also, Bakgi would have gone mad from two of them talking endlessly. At least Mun Ku wasn't with them.

"Master, this way please."

They were being led by Fourth Elder Yang Danwa. Only four of them came down to the city of Meking. Chun Yeowun, Hu Bong, Bakgi and Yang Danwa. Yeowun figured their destination could be more dangerous, so Yeowun ordered women to escort the Godly Doctor to the outpost of the Demonic Cult located at northwestern side of Honam castle.

'The 18 River Families keep changing their base, so it will take time for us to find the Yongho family ourselves. It's better we ask those who will know.'

The reason why they came down to Meking city was because it was city located near the Yellow River. They also had heard a rumor about pirates of the 18 River Families often visit this city.

'Back alley?'

Yang Danwa, however, was moving into the back alley of Meking city. The further they moved in, the darker and creepier the city looked.

"Hey! We have a fresh liquor today! Come have a drink!"

"Oh, Mister. Don't you wanna join me on a night of pleasure?"

There were lot of prostitutes and liquor sellers calling out on the street. Most of the customers that roamed the streets looked like bandits or ruffians.

“D-did you see that? Look at that woman... I can see her breast-”

“Hu Bong, please!”

“Bah. Don’t pretend you’re not interested.”

Bakgi shook his head with frustration. But thanks to Bakgi, Hu Bong couldn’t speak more than a few words each time.

‘Ah... I miss Mun Ku and Ko Wanghur.’

They would have gladly talked things through with Hu Bong. But Yang Danwa was happy to have Bakgi with him, as it helped to quiet Hu Bong down. After walking along the alleyway for a bit, Yang Danwa pointed at a four-story building bright with lights at a distance.

“It’s that place, master.”

House of Osang.

It was a place that sold liquor and hosted prostitution. There were women outside the building who wore racy dresses, trying to lure people in. It was curious if that was really a information selling place, but they decided to go in. As they got to the entrance, prostitutes got up to them with a red silk dress and tried to put their arms around Yeowun’s people.

“Oh, hey. Are you here to rest?”

“Look at this handsome! I like his arm!”

‘Ugh.’

Bakgi became surprised and embarrassed when he felt big breasts of the prostitute touching his arm. Hu Bong cackled.

‘Haha! See! You like it too!’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Oh, this short-haired man is with me!”

“Ahhhh”

But Hu Bong too became embarrassed when a prostitute got to him. It felt even dizzy to be surrounded with this many women. That’s when Yang Danwa spoke to them.

“We want a spot with three teacups.”

Chapter 297 - Yongho Family (4)

Chapter 297: Yongho Family (4)

“Oh...”

All of the women became disappointed as they listened, and guided the group inside. It seemed like they didn't want to try to lure them anymore. The group was then guided to the third floor. Unlike the first and second floor where there were guests who drank liquor and wanted prostitutes, this floor had a heavier atmosphere. When they walked over, guests who were sitting down glanced over at them.

‘They are all martial artists.’

All of them had weapons, but ranged from swords and blades to flails and other unique weapons.

“Sit here please.”

A server on the third floor got to them and guided them into an empty spot. On the table, there was a pot and three teacups with three different colors.

“Please order and call again.”

When the server returned, Yang Danwa sent a telepathic message.

[My lord. This is the secret information selling place within Mekin city. You can consider it similar to the Hao family.]

‘Ah.’

There were many clans and families in Yulin, and some of them specialized in selling information. The forces of justice had the Gae Merchant Group while the forces of evil had the Hao family. But this place seemed like they only worked at Meking City.

[This region is neutral, so they are selling information to all three factions.]

Either the Hao Family or the Gae Merchant Group did not sell their information outside their factions, yet this place was located in a neutral city, so they worked for everyone. Yang Danwa pointed at the three cups.

[These three cups showed the rank of information being asked for. Red was low, blue was middle and white was high rank.]

[...And what rank will our request fall under?]

[My guess is in the middle.]

They were asking the location of one of the 18 River Family, so it was not low-ranking information. The rank would increase if they were to ask the exact location of a certain person or object.

[What do we pay with?]

[I usually pay them with money. But there are times when they require information in return.]

Yang Danwa never experienced being asked information, but he heard that it was the case. Yang Danwa then poured the tea into the blue cup. The server returned to check and exchanged telepathic messages with Yang Danwa, to listen to what kind of information that was being asked.

“Please wait here.”

The server then walked up back to the upper floor. Soon, he returned and spoke to them.

“I apologize, but I need to change your seating to the upper level.”

“Upper level?”

Yang Danwa frowned. This was not the same reaction he experienced when he came last time. Normally, when the rank of the request was confirmed, it was a requirement to pay and the information was served along with food.

“Our owner wants to serve you himself.”

“Owner?”

Something seemed a bit off, but Yeowun nodded to signal agreeance and Yang Danwa nodded. The server then guided the party up. Yang Danwa had never gone to the fourth floor yet.

[I am sure that the fourth floor is only open to those who request high-ranking information. This is strange.]

[Well, we have no other place to ask, so we’ll see how it goes.]

Yeowun responded as he didn’t sense any potential threats nearby. All of the people inside were weaker than them so there was no need to be afraid. As they walked up, there were many rooms and the server guided them into one. As they walked in, they were greeted into a lavishly-decorated room with a middle-aged man with an eyepatch on his right eye waiting for them. To his back, two burly guards were standing. The man got up and greeted them.

“Welcome. I am Man Ou, the owner of the Osang Family House. I figured I would have to serve valuable customers myself.”

“I didn’t think I would meet the house owner. Thank you.”

Yang Danwa bowed to Man Ou who offered them a seat and they sat down. Yang Danwa then asked, “Why did you call us up here? I’m sure I only asked middle-ranking information.”

Man Ou then narrowed his eyes and spoke.

“I’m sorry, but that information is ranked at top rank. Or... shall I say, it’s a bit complicated?”

“...What do you mean?”

Yang Danwa became confused and Man Ou laughed and took something out of his pocket. It had a certain seal that read 18.

“There are a lot who support us. This was given by one of our supporter. Do you recognize this supporter is?”

After looking at the word that read 18, Hu Bong mumbled.

“18... wait. 18 River Families?”

“Haha. Yes, you are quick to notice, young man.”

Yang Danwa frowned. He didn’t imagine the 18 River Family to be one of the organizations that would support them. Man Ou continued, “But we are open to selling the information we have. So, don’t be disappointed.”

“?”

“If you promise that the reason you are searching their location is not to harm them, and also pay my price, I will tell you where.”

This meant that if Yeowun’s group wasn’t trying to fight with the Yongho Family, the information was open.

Around the room, there were many signs of people gathering outside. There were more than 30 of them now. With enough people gathered, Man Ou got up and spoke.

“Yang Danwa, Officer of the Northern Outpost of Demonic Cult. I heard you returned to the Mountain of Ten Thousand recently.”

It seemed Man Ou knew who Yang Danwa was. He then pointed at Chun Yeowun and spoke.

“Well, you must be a high-ranking individual in the cult... yet you escort that man with respect. I am very curious who that young man is.”

“What did you say?”

It was Hu Bong and Bakgi who responded furiously. Man Ou laughed.

“Oh? I thought you needed my information? I am just telling you my price.”

Yang Danwa frowned. What he was asking wasn’t to get the information about Yeowun. Instead, it was an act of refusal to the request.

‘You have no choice but to give up on the information.’

Yeowun who were looking at Man Ou who were looking at them triumphantly, spoke.

“Well, you must know where they are for sure then.”

“What?”

“UGH!”

At that moment, Yeowun reached out and gestured pulling something, and the powerful force brought one of the guards from behind Man Ou into the air.

“Force energy!”

Yeowun then grabbed the guard’s neck when it was thrown toward him. Man Ou became shocked and shouted.

“W-what are you doing!”

“I will talk with the owner.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“What?!”

Yeowun then clenched his hand and spoke.

“AAARGH!”

“Don’t pretend you’re just a guard, Mr. Owner.”

Chapter 298 - Yongho Family (5)

Chapter 298: Yongho Family (5)

Man Ou, the manager of the Osang Family House became shocked. He was under orders from the owner to make up a reason for requesters to leave. They figured that if Yang Danwa, a high-ranking official of the cult, serving a man, then that person would be a really important figure of the cult. Then they were certain that asking the identity of such a man would make them leave.

“UGH!”

They just thought Chun Yeowun to be a mere young man, but it was wrong. If a warrior could use force energy, it proved that the warrior was really powerful.

‘W...what. T-this man must be one of the leaders of the cult!’

If the opponent was a superior master level warrior, there was no way they would be a match. They were trying to work things out for other important guests, but it didn’t go as they planned.

“Don’t pretend you’re just a guard, Mr. Owner.”

‘W-what?! How did he find out?’

Yeowun’s word was enough to shock the true owner of the Osang family, who was being held by Yeowun on the neck. He had never revealed his true identity outside the house. But Yeowun found out his hidden identity right away.

‘He’s the owner?’

Yeowun's members also became shocked as they hadn't imagined it. But to them, they didn't see much difference in power between Man Ou, or the real owner. They were both weaklings.

'No way.'

Man Ou thought he should try to weasel out, so shouted.

"W-what are you talking about! He's my guard warrior!"

"Guard warrior? Don't lie."

There were hostile energies coming from outside, and the warriors who were on standby ready to charge in at any moment. This wasn't a reaction if a mere guard warrior was being threatened.

[Owner!]

Man Ou sent a telepathic message to the owner, but there was no way for him to respond back as he was held by the neck.

'H-he's a monster!'

The owner was a master level warrior, but he was like an insect compared to Yeowun. If Yeowun put in a bit of power into his grip, the man would die in seconds.

'This is out of our ability. We must apologize and send them back!'

The owner thought about many things in a short moment. It seemed like he had to do something so that there wouldn't be any more problems. And also it was a must that these people would not see other guests.

“P... please...”

The owner tried to ask Yeowun to let him go, but it sounded different than those who were on stand by outside.

‘Please... save me?’

Warriors of the Osang Family immediately broke through the wall. Man Ou tried to stop them with shock, but it was too late.

“N-...”

Warriors swung their weapon toward Yeowun’s members. But it was no use. Yang Danwa didn’t even get up from his seat, and just used his finger to block their swords. The sword shattered as it struck against Yang Danwa.

‘H-he broke the sword with his finger!’

There was no way a middle-level warrior could fight against a superior master warrior. The power difference was so huge that Yang Danwa did not even feel the need to get up. The strongest warrior that entered was at the top master level, so they couldn’t even win against Hu Bong, who was the weakest among Yeowun’s group.

“Ugh!”

“Argh!”

Hu Bong didn’t even use his sword as he just simply punched and kicked them away.

“Oh!”

Hu Bong was excited when he struck down these warriors with his bare hands. Hu Bong was already above the average warrior in terms of power compared to people in the entire Yulin, but there were just too many really powerful people around him that made him look weak. And after he went to the Sword Creek...

“W-what! Force qi!”

Hu Bong’s sword wielded blue light of energy on it and all warriors stopped. Force qi was only used when the warrior was above super master level. They attacked Hu Bong because he looked weakest, but he was at the super master level warrior.

Hu Bong had entered the super master level after he understood from the word written on Sword Creek’s stone.

“Are you going to continue? For your information, I’m the weakest in my group.”

Hu Bong spoke and all of them dropped their weapon in a sign of surrender. Yeowun scoffed and released his grip from the man.

“Ugh...”

The owner dropped and coughed for a moment and spoke politely.

“...I am sorry to lie about my identity. I am Dahing of the Osang Family House.”

“I am Manager Man Ou. I am sorry.”

Man Ou also got down to his knees to apologize. They realized that Yeowun’s group wasn’t a group that they can try to trick. It was better they beg and be spared. Yeowun then asked them.

“You said the 18 River Families support you?”

“...That is correct, sir.”

“Then you must be working for them I assume.”

“N-no! That’s not it. We are partners for the benefit of each other. It is more like a... UGH!”

Dahing’s head was stuck in the ground as Bakgi banged it with his hand. Bakgi then threatened to Dahing’s ears.

“Don’t try to play tricks on my master.”

“Y-yes, sir!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Bakgi threatened Dahing to not make things more unclear by playing word tricks. He didn’t care what their relationship with the 18 River Families was.

“Let me ask you. Where is the location of the Yongho Family?”

That was the only thing Yeowun wanted to know. But when he asked, Dahing became weird. It looked like something was wrong.

‘There’s something going on.’

Chapter 299 - : Yongho Family (6)

Chapter 299: Yongho Family (6)

Yeowun's guess was right. Yeowun then heard Man Ou's telepathic message that was sent to Danhing.

[Owner, I will make them go out of the VIP room. We might get in trouble if...]

[No. They will not leave, you know this. These people are terrifying, but at least we can persuade these people.]

'VIP room?'

Yeowun had been tapping into the telepathic messages ever since he got here. From the conversation, it seemed there was a person that they feared in the VIP room. Dahing then looked up to Yeowun and asked, "Sir... can you please just go this time?"

"What are you talking about?"

Yeowun became curious about such a weird request at such a situation.

"The Three Monsters of Yellow River are here."

"Three Monsters?"

"P...please keep it down!"

Yeowun had never heard of such a name. But Yang Danwa knew the name. It was the name of the three brothers who were infamous among members of the 18 River Families. They were infamous because not only did they raid merchant ships, they killed every man and always kidnapped and raped women. They had bounties on their heads, but they still roamed freely at the city of Meking.

“Do you know them?”

“Yes, Master. The Gar Brothers are very famous.”

Yang Danwa then explained what he knew about these three brothers. The important problem was not about their infamous actions, but their backgrounds.

“Their uncle is the leader of the 18 River Family, Gar Mojam the Yellow River Strong.”

Gar Mojam the Yellow River Strong. He was one of the Strong Nine, and the fourth rank leader of the Alliance of the forces of evil. Yeowun knew the name also. There was also a rumor that it was his presence that allowed pirates to roam freely on the Yellow River without being arrested by the local government. But in truth, it was because of enormous bribery made by the 18 River Families.

“So, they have backgrounds.”

“Yes.”

Gar Mojam was famous for being evil and sadistic in nature, but was known for loving his brothers and families. There was an incident where Gar Mojam tracked down those who attacked the Bokpeng Family that the Three brothers were in, and wiped every one of related people. After that, it was rumored that no one should fight against the Gar Brothers and the Bokpeng Family.

[Sir.]

That's when Dahing sent a telepathic message to Yeowun.

[The Bokpeng Family is our supporter. We give them information about merchant ships sailing through the river, and we are being protected by them in return.]

Dahing then began to explain his side of the story. He glanced at the warriors around and continued.

[And... there are spies that are sent by Bokpeng Family within us.]

Yeowun became surprised. There was a reason why Dahing was being so careful. There was a chance that a spy will turn him over if he made a mistake.

[It will be over for you if you get the information, but my and our family's life depends on them. Please consider!]

Three Monsters of Yellow River was famous for attacking anyone if they felt like it. When they usually came here, they stayed for 3 days at least to play and enjoy, and today was only the first day. And if something happened at the Yongho Family, then it was likely for these brothers to accuse the Osang Family House for selling that piece of information.

Dahing bumped his head to the ground and spoke.

"I am terribly sorry, but I cannot sell you the information."

[Sir, please. Help us!]

This was a gamble for him. He didn't know, but Yeowun and Yang Danwa were probably important figures of the Demonic Cult. Cultists were also usually cold and merciless, but they were at least gentlemen compared to the Three Monsters of Yellow River which consisted of pirates that took up killing and robbery as their bread and butter.

‘Even if these people are from the Demonic Cult... they will understand us as we can’t do anything to those Gar brothers.’

Dahing thought that would be the case. But he didn’t realize that Yeowun’s thoughts and actions weren’t that anyone can predict.

“...I see. I didn’t imagine you would have such an issue. Are those Gar Brothers downstairs?”

“Oh!”

Yeowun knew where these brothers were as he sensed them with his senses but asked anyway. Dahing figured that Yeowun understood his difficulties and was going to leave, so he answered brightly.

“Thank you for your consideration. Yes, they are residing in VIP room on the second floor.”

Yeowun then turned against his members and ordered, “Did you hear that? Hu Bong, Bakgi. Go down and bring those brothers up here.”

“?!”

All people from the Osang Family House became shocked. And as for Hu Bong and Bakgi, they didn’t even hesitate for a second at the order and ran out of the room.

“Yes, master!”

“W-what?! S-sir! You just said you will help us!”

“Me? Help you? I don’t recall saying that.”

Dahing frowned at Yeowun's cold reply. Yeowun was right that he never said he would help Dahing or do anything in his favor. Dahing then spoke frantically.

"What are you trying to do!?"

"This."

At that moment, Yeowun reached out and twisted his hand. With that, one of the warriors standing by the wall had his neck snapped and fell to the ground.

Chapter 300 - Yongho Family (7)

Chapter 300: Yongho Family (7)

“Ugh!”

With a warrior dying instantly from his neck being snapped, people within the room became shocked.

“Yi Chan! Yi Chan!”

A warrior with a beard who stood next to the man quickly went down to check, but spoke with a pale face.

“H-he’s dead!”

“Hiiiiek! Just with a flick of a hand?!”

Every person within the room became pale from terror. They knew that Yeowun was a powerful warrior when he used the force energy, but they didn’t imagine he would be so much more powerful that he could kill a man from a distance with the mere gesture of a hand.

‘H-he’s not like any warrior!’

That young man was a warrior of another level and as they realized this, everyone became so terrified that they couldn’t even breathe.

‘W-what?!’

Dahing and Man Ou, however, were more frustrated than terrified. They couldn’t predict what Chun Yeowun was even thinking.

[Dammit! Gosun is dead! We might die at this rate!]

[I'm sorry to the Gar Brothers, but we should escape!]

And with the sound of the telepathic message, Yeowun turned into a smile.

"Found it."

"What?"

Yeowun then reached his two hands out and gestured of pulling it toward him, and two warriors who were focusing energy into their feet to run away were pulled forward, sending them down into the ground.

"Ugh!"

"I-I can't move!"

They tried to stand up, but powerful energy pressed them down so that they couldn't move. And in the next moment, their necks were snapped just like the other warrior and died. Dahing was shocked when he saw the faces of these two dead men. These two and another man that died just before were the spies that were sent by Gar Brothers. The Osang Family House already identified who spies were within them.

'H...how can this be? How did he find out these spies?'

It was beyond just disbelief to see such a thing. There was no prior information, and Yeowun would have seen them for first time. Then how did Yeowun managed to find these people out? That's when Dahing heard Yeowun's telepathic message.

[Do you have any more spies?]

[N-no, sir.]

It took a month of investigation for Dahing to find three spies among them. But Yeowun only took minutes. He then did not even hesitate in killing these men.

‘Who is this man?!’

Dahing now became really curious about the identity of this man. That’s when someone began to come up the stairs. As they turned at the entrance, Bakgi And Hu Bong walked in, dragging three naked men in their 30s behind them.

‘T-they really brought them here!’

‘Oh no...’

They were the Gar Brothers. They had been enjoying their time with prostitutes just until while ago, so they were all naked and drunk. Their bodies were bruised up and also had their blood points sealed, so they couldn’t move nor talk.

“We are back, Master.”

‘N-no! This has gone too far!’

Dahing became grim at the sight of three brothers being dragged up here. If they were dragged up in that state, then there was no going back now. They couldn’t say anything with their blood points sealed, but their body was reddened from rage.

[W-why are you doing this! I told you that our House depends on...]

Dahing sent a telepathic message quickly to Yeowun, but Yeowun just answered it through his mouth.

“Why would I care about your House?”

“What?”

Yeowun did not care about the existence of the House. Whatever the case, Yeowun only cared if the matter was related to himself.

“S-sir?!”

“That is your business, not mine.”

‘DAMMIT!’

Dahing then realized he had made a bad decision. This man was worse than the three brothers. The Gar Brothers were at least manageable if they were given what they wanted. But a man like Yeowun was a type that could never be managed.

‘This is dangerous. I might lose everything at this rate.’

Yeowun then walked up to the man on the left, among three brothers, and unsealed him. With the third brother Gar Ren now free to talk, he spat with rage.

“You, motherf*cking bastard! Do you know who I am? Let me go, you f*cking...”

“Shut up.”

“UGH!”

Hu Bong became angry and struck Gar Ren’s head from behind.

“How dare you say in such a way? You want to die?”

Hu Bong was okay with most of the other things, but he couldn't bear speaking ill of his master Chun Yeowun. Gar Ren became dumbfounded and glared, but he couldn't move his neck so he was just looking at the ground instead of turning his neck around to glare at Hu Bong.

"F*cking..."

He didn't stop cussing. These were men who took up robbery, kidnapping, murder, and rape as their daily job, so they were very rough in every way. Yeowun then spoke to them coldly.

"I don't care who you are. Let me ask you one thing. If you don't answer, I will cut off your head."

"What?!"

All three brothers became shocked when they heard this. They had seen many bold enemies until now, but it was the first time that they were being threatened with their lives. Most enemies they met were fearful of their uncle, Gar Mojam. Gar Ren then shouted to Dahing.

"D-dammit! Hey, Dahing! What the f*ck are you doing! Are you going to leave these bastards like..."

"Kill him."

With Yeowun's order, a blade shot through Gar Ren's neck. It was Yang Danwa with his blade.

"Like... lik...."

Gar Ren's head was cut down and blood began to pour out from the neck. The two other brothers were drenched with the blood of their third brother.

'B-brother!'

Chapter 301 - Yongho Family (8)

Chapter 301: Yongho Family (8)

‘H-he cut his head off!!!’

With warm blood covering their naked bodies, the two brothers shook with fear. They were more terrified than becoming enraged by the death of their brother.

“...If you speak foolishly, you will also die.”

Yeowun spoke coldly as he looked down at the other two with an emotionless face. And Yang Danwa moved his blade across the ground, making a shrieking sound as if he was threatening them, just like an executioner. The two brothers became pale from fear.

‘T-this bastard will really kill us!’

‘...We might even die!’

They finally realized the gravity of the situation. They realized that there was no way this man would stop just because of their uncle.

‘Ah...’

‘W-what have we done...!’

As for Dahing and Man Ou, they couldn’t even think straight as they looked at the head of Gar Ren rolling on the ground. Things had gone too far and there was no going back. Yeowun then went over to the first brother, Gar Mou, to make him talk.

“Where is the Yongho Family? Tell me their location.”

“Y-Yongho family?”

Gar Mo became surprised when he was asked about Yongho Family instead of his Bokpeng Family. But these men would surely attack the Yongho Family if he told them their location.

‘W-what should I do?’

They were pirates, but the most important rule of the 18 River Families was to never betray each other. But Gar Mo thought lying might cost his life. After going through many thoughts in a short moment, Gar Mo chose to betray his fellow pirates.

“I-if you go out east and follow the river about 50 miles down, you will reach Domen Mountain. And by the corner where the river splits, you will find them.”

Gar Mo revealed the location of Yongho Family. Fellow pirates were important, but his own life was more important than that. Yeowun then turned to Dahing and Dahing nodded with a grim look, confirming the information to be the truth.

‘There was no need to ask them.’

Yeowun’s original plan was to kill these three brothers and make Dahing tell him the location of Yongho Family, but he got the answer before that. Gar Mo then looked up to Yeowun and begged.

“P-please let me live! I told you what you wanted to know!”

“You are mistaken.”

“?”

“Since when did I say I’d let you live?”

“W-what?!”

Gar Mo’s face turned pale. He sold his fellow pirates, so he thought he could live. But...

“Kill them all.”

“Y-you bas...”

With Yeowun’s order, Yang Danwa immediately sliced his head. Gar Mo died not even realizing he was killed. There was no promise given from the beginning. Yeowun did not like leaving potential threats. If they were to survive, it was likely that they would go to Gar Mojam and tell him what happened.

“You are the last.”

Yang Danwa then swung his blade on the last brother. And second brother Gar Tek was killed without even getting a chance to speak. It seemed he was too terrified by watching his two brothers being killed, as he peed before he died.

‘T-this is the Demonic Cult!’

‘These people have no mercy!’

And all others from the Osang Family House were too terrified from what they just witnessed. They did hear that the Demonic Cult was more cruel and merciless in some way, but they now witnessed it with their own eyes. Dahing then looked at Yeowun with a fearful look. Yeowun had acquired the information he wanted, so maybe it was their turn now. But...

“Let’s go.”

“Yes, master.”

Yeowun ordered and began to leave.

‘H-huh? Why?’

Chun Yeowun didn’t seem to be interested in them anymore. Dahing became dumbfounded as they were leaving the room, and suddenly asked, “W-why are you letting us live?!”

He was curious. He couldn’t understand why the man who would even kill Gar Brothers would not kill them. It seemed better if the man killed them to remove any spill of information. Yeowun stopped and answered.

“Didn’t you tell me where the Gar Brothers were yourself? You and I are on the same team. I only helped you.”

“W-what? That’s nonsense!”

“Well, I got the information I need, so I paid my price.”

Dahing became shocked when Yeowun said that he had given help. If the spies were alive, it might have been more dangerous, but the spies were all dead.

‘...He just changed his mind.’

“Hah...”

Fortunately, it seemed Yeowun was considering the information he got from the Gar Brothers to be given by the Osang Family House. Dahing sighed in relief. Yeowun then laughed and spoke to Dahing.

“Oh, and just for your information. You have one more spy within your family. I’m sure you can take care of that yourself.”

Dahing’s eyes then grew large with shock.

‘W-what?! There’s one more?!’

He thought three people that Yeowun killed were all of them, but if there was one more hidden, then this was really bad. If Yeowun found three spies immediately, then it was likely that Yeowun knew the existence of another spy. And if Dahing did not find this spy, then it was likely that the message will go to Gar Mojam, eventually killing Dahing. He had to find the spy.

“Nobody leaves this room!!”

“What?”

Dahing ordered every warrior within the room to not leave as Yeowun and his members left. As they got out of the building and walked the alleyway, Hu Bong asked Yeowun.

“Master, how did you find another spy?”

Yeowun then laughed, “It’s a lie.”

“What?”

“There are no more spies.”

“No? But... OH!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Chun Yeowun's last warning was actually false. The Osang Family House did not have anymore spies. But Yeowun's lie had put suspicion on everyone within that room.

"It's a great tactic, master," Yang Danwa commented in amazement. This probably ensured that Dahing and people within that house would grow suspicious of each other and not even think about doing anything else about Yeowun and his members.

"Let's make haste. We will find the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor before midnight."

"Yes, master!"

Chapter 302: Disaster above a ship (1)

After getting out of Meking City, Chun Yeowun and his group traveled east along the Yellow River for 50 miles. They moved on horse so it didn't take too much time. As they got to the destination, the sun HAD halfway disappeared over the horizon and the Yellow River had turned red by the sunlight.

"Whoa."

"This is beautiful."

They were riding on a horse by the river, and the sight of the river at the sunset was spectacular. This wasn't something that Yeowun, Hu Bong or Bakgi saw as they grew up within the castle of the Demonic Cult.

After running through for a while, they were now near the Domen Mountain area. As Gar Tak said, the river was split into two, with one small river going to the left.

"There really is a split."

They went left toward the small river that was running toward Domen Mountain. After some point, the mountain was now getting in the way so they had to leave their horses and travel on foot. After climbing through the mountain, they saw tens of shacks hidden behind the mountain. It was the location of the Yongho Family.

"Wow. I see why they can't be found," Hu Bong commented. This pirate village was located at a natural fortress, hidden away within the mountain and rivers. The village was located right by the river, so it looked easy to move via boats, best hideout for pirates.

“I see watchtowers.”

Yang Danwa pointed out with his hand. As he said, there were some watchtowers with warriors standing watch over it. The watchtowers were well located so that they could spot anyone coming near the village.

‘They aren’t just mere bandits then.’

It was surely a home of one of the 18 River Families, the infamous organization of the Forces of Evil. There was no way that the security would be any less.

“That ship is quite large.”

Yeowun then pointed at the two large ships docked by the dock at the village. They saw many ships over at the river while they traveled down here, but that ship was much larger than any of the others.

“Hm... this is strange.”

Yang Danwa seemed curious however. Yeowun turned at him and Yang Danwa explained.

“As far as I know, their ships are not small, but they aren’t THAT big either. They are pirates... their ships are bit smaller and made to travel at much faster speeds.”

Yang Danwa had the experience of fighting against pirate ships of the 18 River Families, so he was aware of their ships. But those two ships at the village were much larger than any of the ships that Yang Danwa saw. Those ships looked like they were made to load lots of cargo.

“Oh, look at that!”

Hu Bong then pointed out the people moving along with the heavy load. Over twenty men were moving stuff by a pull cart and were moving toward the dock. It seemed they were moving everything they had within the village down there.

“I think they are dismantling that shack there,” Bakgi said as he pointed out. There were four men working on a shack to dismantle it. It wasn’t apparent at first, but they now realized that one third of shacks within the village were already dismantled. Yang Danwa then spoke to Yeowun.

“Master, I think they are moving their base.”

“Their base?”

Yang Danwa concluded that they were in the process of relocating. Yang Danwa knew that the pirates relocated their base to avoid being spotted by the government or enemies. It was interesting that they arrived when these pirates were preparing to move. But it had its benefit.

“Maybe this is a good chance. If we use this to our advantage, maybe it will allow us to take back the Godly Doctor’s granddaughter without much problem.”

Under normal circumstances, a huge fight was inevitable against these pirates. But if they were busy preparing to relocate, maybe it was going to make it easy to infiltrate into them and find the target.

“We will have to look into it first.”

“Yes.”

They needed information. The first thing to know was if these pirates were really trying to relocate, and second, was to find out where the granddaughter was being held.

“Bakgi.”

“Yes, Master.”

Yeowun pointed out at the closest watchtower from their location. There were two watchers on it.

“Can you quietly bring them here?”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“I will try, Master.”

Bakgi specialized in kick skills, so he was also best among the Six Swords in stepping skills. Even if there were watchers on the watchtower, they were merely top-level warriors so it didn't seem that hard to kidnap them.

“Then I'll be back soon.”

Bakgi then quietly moved out. Soon, he was already at the watchtower. Yeowun and others were looking down from the mountain, so everything was clearly visible.

‘He’s doing good.’

Bakgi quickly got up to the watchtower and snapped one of watcher’s necks. And when the other man tried to scream with shock, Bakgi sealed his bloodpoint and snapped the back of the head to make him pass out.

“Whew.”

It wasn’t a hard task, but he had to do it secretly so it made Bakgi a bit sense. Bakgi then took up the unconscious man up and got down. That’s when something unexpected happened.

“W-what are you!?”

It was time for a shift change. Bakgi tried to charge at them but...

“UGH!”

Hu Bong and Yang Danwa appeared behind them and quickly killed them. They saw other watchers approaching the tower so they quickly came after Bakgi to help. It could have revealed them if they were a bit late.

“Were you surprised? Hehe.”

“N-no, I wasn’t.”

Bakgi shook his head at Hu Bong’s tease.

“Be quiet and move those bodies first.”

“Yes, sir.”

Hu Bong and Bakgi then took these two bodies into bushes away from the watchtower. Yang Danwa took the unconscious man up and brought him back to Yeowun.

“We were lucky. They will not realize for a while since we even got the other watchers who came to change shifts.”

But that would surely not last too long. It was only a matter of time when someone would realize that the watchtower had been missing of watchers for too long. They had to make it quick. Yang Danwa woke the man up.

“???!”

The man woke up and realized he was kidnapped and became shocked. Yang Danwa warned before he unsealed him to make him talk.

“If you scream, we will kill you. Nod if you understand.”

With a cold blade touching the neck, the man nodded frantically. He didn't seem to want to die. Yang Danwa unsealed his blood point and asked, “Is the Yongho family relocating today?”

“Y-yes, sir.”

It was as expected. Before asking the location of the Godly Doctor's granddaughter, Yang Danwa asked something else first.

“Why today?”

“W-we are told that our location has been compromised.”

“Compromised?”

Yeowun frowned, wondering if it was because of them.

‘No way. We came straight down here.’

Yeowun’s group left Meking City right after they killed Gar Brothers, so it was impossible for that to be known already. Yang Danwa questioned the man to see if he knew who found out about their location, but the man didn’t seem to know that.

“I-I really don’t know, sir!”

It seemed he was telling the truth. Yang Danwa then moved onto ask the most important question.

“Where is the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor?”

“What? Granddaughter of... who?”

Yang Danwa pushed the blade that was on the neck.

“Hiiiiiiik!!!”

“Don’t try to fool me.”

“I-I don’t know! I don’t know anything about a granddaughter. I mean, we don’t even have anyone being kept from the outside right now!”

“What?”

That was strange. This was about the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor, and it was Hing Wunja, under the truth serum, who spoke. He said he messaged the Yongho family to retrieve her any time, so that wasn’t a lie.

‘Hmmm...’

Yeowun then changed the question.

“Do you know a woman named Gam Miyan? She should be muscular and have a dot on her nose...”

Gam Rosu said her granddaughter closely resembled her. She also mentioned that all members of her family trained their muscles to better treat patients, so it was easy to recognize.

“Muscular woman? Oh! You mean the First Mate’s loot... I mean, his woman!”

The man recognized the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor right away when given the specifics. It seemed the Yongho Family wasn’t aware of who this woman really was. It looked like Hing Wunja hid the truth purposely so that the Yongho family would not use the hostage for their own benefit to bring out the Godly Doctor. But there was another problem.

“First Mate’s... woman?”

That message did not bode well to everyone. It seemed a year in the village of pirates had taken a drastic turn.

“This won’t be good news to Granny Gam.”

“...Looks like it.”

Even if they kidnapped her due to deal with Hing Wunja, there was no way pirates would leave a woman alone for a year. As Hu Bong said, it was likely that Gam Rosu will wail over what happened if she finds out.

“Then where is she?”

At least they knew that she was alive, so they needed the location. Yang Danwa asked and the man answered with a shaking voice.

“S-she’s on the ship.”

“You mean that ship?” Yang Danwa asked as he pointed out the large ships at the docks. The man then shook his head and pointed toward the riverbed where it connected to the main Yellow River and spoke.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Our leaders are all on the ships over at the river.”

“What?”

Yeowun became surprised and quickly took steps to climb up a tall tree. And there he saw five battleships staying stationary in the middle of the river just before it connected back to the Yellow River.

“Dammit...!”

Chapter 304: Disaster above a ship (3)

About an hour ago, Chun Yeowun and Hu Bong found a small village by the small river. There was a small fishing village that maintained themselves by fishing at the river, where Yeowun was able to purchase a small boat. Two of them then set sail on the river to meet up with the others at the appointed time. The speed of the water was faster than they thought.

“M-master! It’s already so fast without a row!”

Hu Bong, who said it was fine, soon became tense. Yeowun, who was at the end of the boat, took the key and felt the speed of river becoming faster.

‘If I make any mistake or bump into something, I might not be able to haul them.’

Yeowun clenched the key. And after moving down the river for a long time, they saw faint light over in the middle of the river. But suddenly, the faint light immediately began to grow large and brightened up the whole ship.

“M-master! It suddenly became bright!”

“...I think there’s a problem.”

Yeowun frowned. Their plan didn’t have any potential risks. They weren’t sure how they were spotted, but it was certain that these pirates were preparing to fight.

“W-what should we do? The water’s becoming more rapid!”

Their small boat was moving through the river water very quickly. It seemed like they were going to shoot past the ship of Yongho Family at this rate.

“I guess we can’t do it quietly then.”

“What?”

“We have no choice. Let’s board their ship.”

Yeowun then pulled the cloth off his wrist. The black metal above his wrist then scattered and turned into a sword. Hu Bong’s eyes grew large as it was always amazing to see each time. When Yeowun sent energy into the Sky Demon Sword, the sword began to float itself as if it were alive. The sword lowered down, as if it was telling them to hop on it. Yeowun got up on the sword and sent his energy to make his feet stick on the sword and spoke.

“Come here, Hu Bong.”

“Y-yes?”

“We’ll fly, so I’ll carry you up.”

Mun Ku would have been more than happy to jump up to Yeowun, but Hu Bong became a bit embarrassed. Yeowun laughed and snatched Hu Bong and immediately flew up in the air.

“Waaaaaaaah! M-Master!”

Hu Bong became pale as he was dangling in the air with Yeowun grabbing his arm. After flying through the dark sky, Yeowun quickly jumped down onto the ship. Their boat struck the battleship of Yongho family and sank. The speed was too fast for such boat to withstand anymore. Hu Bong, who did not hear Yeowun say that he was going to go, rolled on the floor when he dropped. He then got up and became shocked to find countless pirates surrounding them.

‘T-this is too many!’

He knew that there were a lot of them, but it felt different when seeing them up close. Pirates were looking back at Chun Yeowun who was floating in the air with a dumbfounded look.

Flying air sword. It was a technique that only existed in legends, only possible in theory with an extreme level of power in both sword skill and stepping skill. It was a technique that can only be used by supreme master level warriors, so it was obvious why all these pirates were terrified.

‘I-it’s not him!’

With Chun Yeowun’s apperanace, the man who once found Hing Wunja’s remains back at Sword Creek realized that the killer wasn’t Yang Danwa. But of course, Yeowun wasn’t behind those cut off limbs. Yeowun glanced around to check the enemy’s power.

‘Two.’

The only men significant enough above this ship was the man hiding his face with a bamboo hat, and the leader of the Yongho Family, Bok Hosun. The man was at the superior master level warrior level, and Bok Hosun was at the super master level. The only annoying thing was that there were just too many enemies.

‘There are about 300 at least.’

And Yeowun heard Fourth Elder Yang Danwa's telepathic message coming through his ears.

[My lord. It was a trap.]

Yang Danwa quickly briefed on what he knew. During the process of rescuing, Gam Miyan blew a while to signal these pirates, and it seemed that the man with bamboo hat had worked with these pirates to set traps. Yeowun then glanced over at Gam Miyan, the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor who was frantically trying to hide with a dagger in her hand. With Yeowun's cold eyes gazing at her, she flinched with fear. The trap was set by that man with the bamboo hat, so it was acceptable but Yeowun couldn't understand Gam Miyan's actions although she was said to be kidnapped. That's when the man shouted to Yeowun.

"Are you a warrior from the Blade God Six Martial clan?"

Yeowun raised his right eyebrow at the question. It seemed that man had mistaken Yeowun to be a warrior from the Blade God Six Martial clan. And with this simple question, Yeowun was able to guess two things.

'They must have come here after checking what happened at Sword Creek.'

Yang Danwa told Yeowun that the man with the bamboo hat knew that they were here for the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor. And if that man was asking Yeowun if he was a warrior from the Blade God Six Martial clan, it was certain that the man had seen the remains of masked men from the Blade God Six Martial clan left within the mansion.

'Blue sash...? Oh!'

Yeowun was able to make an educated guess on who that man was.

“...You are from the Blue Sky Brotherhood.”

With Yeowun’s words, the man’s eyes grew large with shock. It seemed he was shocked that the who seemed to be from the Blade God Six Martial clan knew the secret Blue Sky Brotherhood organization.

[M-master! What do you want us to do! I-I think he’s too powerful!!]

That’s when Yeowun heard Bok Hosun, leader of the Yongho Family, sending telepathic messages to the man. Bok Hosun was terrified to see Chun Yeowun flying on an air sword. But the man was also frustrated by what was going on.

‘This man knows about our organization and even has the doctor with him.’

That alone was enough to risk his life to fight Yeowun. But it wasn’t him who made a move first.

“I will take the person you kidnapped.”

“What?”

In the air, Yeowun gestured pulling something with his hand. And with that, Gam Miyan, who had been standing among pirates, floated in the air and was thrown to where Yang Danwa and Bakgi were standing.

“N-no!”

A few pirates tried to grab her but they were too slow.

“Force energy!”

All of the pirates were martial artists so they all knew what that was. After seeing the use of force energy, they now realized Chun Yeowun wasn't someone they could fight against.

'No way! We lost the Godly Doctor's granddaughter!'

The man didn't expect to lose Gam Miyan with such action. Bakgi quickly kicked Gam Miyan's wrist to make her drop the dagger and sealed her bloodpoints so that she couldn't move. She tried to say something but her bloodpoints sealed her from talking.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

"NNNGH!"

"Be still, Miss Gam."

She couldn't resist as she couldn't move anyway. And with that, Yeowun jumped down from his sword. The Sky Demon Sword immediately came apart in pieces and gathered back onto Yeowun's wrist. This movement was done quickly to make sure no one noticed the sword with the words 'Sky Demon Sword' written on it.

"Bakgi, protect her."

Chapter 305: Disaster above a ship (4)

“Yes, master.”

Yeowun then walked forward. He pulled out the White Dragon Blade from his waist and swung it across the floor. The blade qi coming from the pure white blade made a large cut on the wooden floor of the ship. Pirates became confused and Yeowun warned them.

“I will kill whoever crosses this line.”

Nobody could even dare to speak up at such a terrifying voice. Chun Yeowun's presence was that terrifying that the pirates' huge number made no use. It felt like they would all die if they even tried to cross that line.

‘Ugh... how can such a monster come out like this!’

Bok Hosun became grim at such pressure. The clear difference in power even made him terrified. That's when the man sent him a telepathic message.

[Captain Bok... is the baby inside the room?]

[Oh! You want to use that baby? There's a problem. I know you told me to, but my First Mate asked me to hide the baby in my room so I hid it there.]

The man then rather became relieved at Bok Hosun's answer. He was from the Forces of Justice, so he actually didn't like the idea of using the baby as a threat even if that was why he asked.

[Ugh. I should've taken the baby with me if I knew this would happen.]

[They wouldn't know, so it doesn't matter.]

[Oh! You are right. They don't know where the baby is!]

[Stay still.]

The man then walked up and shouted at Chun Yeowun.

"I know you are a powerful man, but are you sure you can take that woman out safely from this ship?"

He threatened Yeowun that he would go for the woman instead of Yeowun. The man already guessed why Yeowun and his group were trying to take Gam Miyan with them. Gam Miyan was a must-have to make the Godly Doctor work for whoever's plan as that was the doctor's only weakness.

'I won't let you go with the Godly Doctor's granddaughter!'

That wasn't allowed. The Godly Doctor was the one who knew the grand project that the Blue Sky Brotherhood had been working on. If she decided to help them instead, it was going to be problematic.

'If they can't rescue Gam Miyan, the doctor will see no point in helping them.'

The man knew what kind of person the Godly Doctor was. But he didn't know the other person. Yeowun didn't budge at the threat and spoke.

"Come fight if you think you can stop me," Yeowun shouted as he aimed his blade at the man. It was just a simple action of aiming the sword, but the powerful energy proved that Yeowun wasn't joking.

'Ugh... he is as arrogant as he is powerful. I have no choice.'

The man then decided to resort to the final choice. He glanced at Bok Hosun and Bok Hosun shouted.

"Hmph! We have her husband and baby! Do you think she will help you?"

"Baby?"

Yang Danwa and Bakgi became surprised and turned to Gam Miyan. She couldn't say anything as her blood point was sealed, but her eyes became reddened with tears falling from it.

'So, it was because of a baby.'

They did think her action was inexplicable. Whether it was forced or voluntary, she had a baby with the First Mate of the Yongho Family, and had to help the pirates for her baby who had now become another hostage. Bok Hosun shouted threateningly so that Gam Miyan could hear.

"If I give the order, the baby inside the room is as good as dead! If you even put your finger on my crew, or if Lady Gam leaves this ship, I will kill that baby! Do you hear?!"

Gam Miyan began to shake with fear. Tears kept falling from her eyes, showing how much emotional pain she was in.

"Y-you bastards! You now even take the baby as a hostage?!"

Hu Bong glared at the man with a frown. He knew people from the Forces of Evil didn't care what it took in order to achieve their goal, but he didn't imagine that would include having a baby as a hostage.

'I feel sorry for her, but we have no choice.'

They too had no intention of giving up the chance to persuade the Godly Doctor. This had to be stopped. With Yang Danwa, Bakgi and Hu Bong all frustrated on what to do, the man confirmed that his threat worked.

'It worked!'

"Give us the woman, and we will let you return safely."

The man suggested his side of the offer. The baby wasn't on the ship so their threat was hollow, and if they tried to threaten further to give up the Godly Doctor, it was likely to backfire so the man tried to seal the deal here. But Yeowun did not act according to his prediction.

"What if I say no?"

Bok Hosun and the man became grim. They didn't think Yeowun would say no even if threatened with the life of a baby.

"NNNNNNGH!!!"

Gam Miyan also became so shocked that she stopped crying and glared at Yeowun with her eyes wide from shock. The man frantically sent a telepathic message to Yeowun.

[HAH! You are bluffing. Your choice will kill the Godly Doctor great-grandson. Do you think the doctor will help you even if that happens?]

But Yeowun did not respond to the telepathic message and spoke.

“Kill the baby.”

“W-what?!”

The man became shocked.

“D-do you know what you are talking about?!”

“Of course, I do.”

At that moment, Yeowun threw the White Dragon Blade toward the crowds of pirates. The blade then shot through the six pirates, penetrating through them and killing them instantly. With Yeowun reaching out, the blade flew back to Yeowun’s hand. Bok Hosun shouted furiously.

“Y-YOU!! What are you doing! Do you really want the baby to be killed?!”

Yeowun then answered casually.

“I thought you’d kill the baby if I laid my hand on your crew? Are you not the leader here? Was your threat just a bluff?”

“Nnnngh! Y-you want to do this the hard way?!”

Bok Hosun knew that he had to keep his stance so that his threat wasn’t bluffing. He had to make it sound as if he really was up to the threat.

“When my hand drops to the ground, kill the baby!”

“Y-yes, Captain!”

Pirates answered to Bok Hosun to play along as Bok Hosun raised his hand in the air.

“This is final warning! If you don’t hand over Lady Gam...”

But before Bok Hosun could finish his words, Yeowun’s body became blurry, and a trace of him appeared from behind and then reappeared in front of Bok Hosun.

“W-what?!”

Bok Hosun became shocked and tried to back away immediately, but Yeowun’s White Dragon Blade was faster. The blade shot upward like lightning. Bok Hosun’s left arm that was raised in the air was cut down and dropped to the ground. Bok Hosun grabbed his shoulder and fell to the ground, screaming in pain.

“Aaaaaaaaaaaaaargh!!! M-my arm! My arm!!!!”

He was the Captain and the leader of the Yongho Family, an admired super master level warrior, but he was nothing against the supreme master level warrior, Chun Yeowun.

“C-captain!!”

The pirates became shocked and Yeowun smirked to them as he said, “What are you doing? Your captain’s arm dropped. Weren’t you ordered to kill the baby? GO ahead.”

“Hiiiiek!”

It was impossible to kill a baby that wasn’t on the ship. With all the pirates too terrified to even speak, Yeowun shook his head and stomped down on Bok Hosun who was rolling on the ground from pain.

“Aaaaaaaaargh!”

“Do you think you can fool me with your bluffing?”

Bok Hosun finally realized with a pale face that he had chosen the wrong person to mess with.

Chapter 306 - Disaster above a ship (5

Chapter 306: Disaster above a ship (5)

“Yes! Master did it again!!”

Hu Bong shouted with excitement. Chun Yeowun never fell in trouble against any enemy since the beginning, but Hu Bong thought that it was truly concerning this time. Nobody would have imagined that the enemy would threaten them with a baby. But Yang Danwa was actually fearful of Yeowun.

‘Was he certain that they were lying? The Lord sometimes makes me think that he is listening to other people’s telepathic messages or can read others’ minds.’

Every enemy who fought against Yeowun became shocked, as Yeowun found out their plans as if he knew it ahead of time. But that was impossible, so it was only explainable through boldness and excellent decision-making skills.

‘I see how he managed to defeat the six clans.’

It was only possible because it was Chun Yeowun. Yang Danwa then glanced behind to look at Gam Miyan, the Godly Doctor’s granddaughter.

“Nnngh...”

She became relieved when she heard that it was a fake threat, and slumped down. Yang Danwa narrowed his eyes.

‘That woman is the problem.’

Whatever the case, the baby wasn’t here so it was likely that they had to return to the Yongho Family’s village to find the baby. She set them up to trap her own baby. It was understandable, but if they did not rescue the baby, then it was likely for her to repeat her actions. That's when Yang Danwa heard Chun Yeowun's telepathic message.

[Elder Yang.]

[Yes, my lord.]

The man became grim. Yeowun said that he knew that they were bluffing on the baby. They didn't know how he found out, but he knew that baby wasn't on the ship.

'Did he find out by using his senses?'

It was curious, but what was certain was that they were no match against that monster.

'We have no choice.'

The man then decided he had to take the chance when the man was only focusing on Bok Hosun. This was the only chance to kill the supreme master level warrior without much loss.

[Homeng!]

[Yes, Master!]

The man sent a telepathic message to one of the warriors hidden behind the pirates. It was a warrior from the Blue Sky Brotherhood who was hiding behind the pirates.

[I will buy some time... you swim to the docks to bring the baby here. If something happens while you do that, just kill the baby.]

[Kill... the baby?]

[If the Godly Doctor works with them, then our Brotherhood's grand plan will fail.]

[...Yes, Master.]

Homeng became hesitant about killing a baby, but he answered. He then carefully moved toward the rear side of the ship. The water was too rapid so it would be hard to swim up, but if he reached the land, it was a short distance down to the village.

'Let's see what you do if our threat becomes a reality.'

He felt sorry for Bok Hosun who was pinned down by Yeowun, but there was no way to rescue him. They needed to buy as much time as possible as it would take at least 20 minutes for Homeng to return with the baby.

"Nnngh... P-please!"

Bok Hosun felt like he would die. He couldn't push Yeowun away even with all of his power. Yeowun's power was enormous, but so was his physical strength coming out from his strengthened muscles. Bok Hosun became terrified from fear of death and showed signs of surrender.

"I-I will let you go... I mean, I will give you the baby! Please let me live!"

His crew was watching at him, but it was no time to keep his pride. But Yeowun wasn't looking at him anymore. It seemed like he was deep in thought.

"H...hey?"

"Oh, I'm sorry. I had to listen to something."

“I just said I will surrender! Please let me live!”

Yeowun then looked down at Bok Hosun and spoke casually.

“Well, I don’t think your friend shares your idea.”

“W-what are you talking about? What friend are you... wait?!”

“At least I know that I don’t need to talk to you anymore.”

“W-wait! WAIT!!!!”

Yeowun then increased pressure on the foot stepping on Bok Hosun’s chest. With the chest crushing down, with bones cracking up, blood spat out from Bok Hosun’s mouth as he screamed.

“Aaaaaaargh!!! Aaaarnrrnnnghh....”

The scream did not last long as Yeowun’s foot crushed through, and stomped on the heart, killing him instantly.

“C-captain!”

“H-how dare you!!”

A few pirates became enraged by watching their captain dying miserably and charged at Yeowun.

“W-what?! Where is he?!”

“He’s gone!’

But their weapon shot through Yeowun as Yeowun was no longer there. Yeowun was already near the front side of the ship.

‘What?’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

The man became confused. The captain just said he would surrender and also give him the baby. It was a good enough deal for him. But Yeowun just killed the captain without hesitation.

‘Ugh... I need more time!’

It wasn’t long since his warriors jumped down to the river. They probably were swimming through the river, trying hard to walk up to the land. That’s when Yeowun looked at the man and spoke.

“You have lot up on your sleeves.”

Chapter 307: 307 Disaster above a ship (6)

“What?”

Yeowun then raised his arm and swung his arm toward the dead bodies of the pirates. And with that, the six swords that the pirates used floated up into the air.

“Hiiiiek!”

“S-swords are moving!”

“G-get out!”

Pirates became terrified and began to move frantically, trying to run away from it. But swords did not come after them. Yeowun got up to the ship’s end and glanced toward the river and shouted to ask the man.

“I see that they are swimming!”

The man became shocked. He was concerned when Yeowun walked toward the deck, but it was now confirmed that Yeowun knew the man’s warriors were down at the river.

‘H-how did he find out?!’

He ordered silently while Yeowun was handling the Captain. Even if Yeowun had a strong sense to sense people, it was impossible to sense those who snuck out of the ship when there are 300 warriors around.

“Do you think I will not get to them if they are swimming in the river? Hmm... I think they are still within my range.”

The river moved very fast, so those men in the river were already quite far from the ship. But Yeowun said it was enough.

“What are you...”

The man then realized what Yeowun was saying.

“W-wait...”

Yeowun’s hand then reached out toward the river, and six swords immediately shot out like lightning toward the river.

“NOOOOOOO!!”

The man took steps to charge while pulling out his blade. Blue force qi shot up from his blade and he threw bullet force qi toward the swords that shot through the river. It was his last resort to stop the attack, but there was no way that the force qi would catch up to the sword that was thrown ahead.

And those warriors of the Blue Sky Brotherhood who were swimming through met their end without suspecting it.

“Argh!”

“Ugh!”

Their bodies were penetrated by swords as they were not ready within. They met unexpected death and were drawn into the river water. But not all was struck down.

“D-dammit!”

“Dive!”

Homeng and another man who heard the screaming dove underwater. The sword that killed five people lost its power to move and drawn into the water as it got too far away from the ship.

‘Ah...!’

The man then became relieved. It seemed that even the supreme master level warrior couldn’t maintain the control of the sword with that far distance. There were only two warriors left, but that was enough for the job. He then shouted.

“You cannot stop them! I’m sure you know where they are headed! Do you see that we are not bluffing now?!”

The man became confident that he now had the upper hand. He didn’t think that threatening with the life of a baby was a shame anymore. But Yeowun shook his head and turned.

“Yang Danwa.”

“Yes, Master.”

Yang Danwa let go of his blade, and the blade stopped in the air. Yang Danwa then jumped on the blade. With his foot stepping on the blade, Yeowun swung his arm in a long stride, and the blade that had Yang Danwa above flew out of the ship.

“W-what?!”

Yang Danwa then jumped up from the blade once it got close to the land, and landed on the ground.

‘Yes, I did it!’

Yang Danwa was actually worried since this was his first time, but he brightened up when he succeeded. The man became dumbfounded and watched in disbelief. His two men were still in the river, but Yeowun's man was already on land.

"T-this is impossible!"

The man shouted.

'He used air sword to use as method of transport!'

This was something nobody had thought about. Yeowun could have done this method to send his members up on the ship while ago, but that was too obvious and noticeable, so Yeowun chose to sneak in with the boat. Yeowun then spoke to the man.

"Oh, I'm sorry. I think I will take the baby with me also."

The man became furious at sarcasm and shouted, "Dammit! Do you even know where the baby is?! I'm sure you don't!"

"Wasn't the baby at the captain's quarter?"

"W-what?!"

Yeowun spoke casually and the man became dumbfounded. That was the exact location of the baby.

'T...this is impossible!'

He didn't think much at first, but he now realized that something was strange.

'How can he know what the captain told me through telepathic message?!'

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

This was only explainable if Yeowun could overhear the telepathic message. An ability beyond understanding gave something more awe to a person. It gave fear.

‘The baby nor the doctor isn’t the problem.’

The man finally realized what danger really was. That monster disguised as young man was not only dangerous in its martial power, but with an ability beyond the wildest imagination. If that man could truly overhear telepathic messages, then this was a terrifying ability.

‘I have to find a way to either kill him here or escape alive to tell this to the others!’

Chapter 308 - Dead man tells no tales (1)

Chapter 308: Dead man tells no tales (1)

The man quickly analyzed the situation. One superior master level warrior had gone out of the ship to take the baby. This was actually a good sign.

‘That man is a supreme master level warrior but...’

If the man, who was superior master level warrior, fought him along with over 300 pirates, maybe he had a chance. There were more than enough of them here.

‘It’s enough if I can have pirates hold him down.’

He didn’t think about killing his enemy. If the pirates could hold the man down long enough so that he could escape, that would give him time to return and let people know the existence of this monster. And when he thought through his plan, he quickly moved to take action. He sent one of the leaders among the pirates a telepathic message.

[Ben! What are you doing!?!]

[B-but...]

[Are you going to stand there and watch? Your captain is dead! We are against strong enemies, but they are only three! We outnumber them by 300 people!]

[I know, but we can’t...]

It wasn’t only Ben, all pirates were terrified by Chun Yeowun’s monstrous power. The man urged more strongly.

[Will you not uphold the oath that your captain made with our Brotherhood?]

[I-I know about the oath, but how can we even fight that monster?!]

The man became frustrated. He wanted to use pirates to stop him, but he didn't realize they would be too frightened. Even if they were pirates from the Forces of Evil who did not care about anything, it did not mean they did not know fear the impossible.

[It's just one man! You're warriors from the 18 River Family and you just...]

It was then. Powerful energy came upon him and the man threw his body backward. Blue force qi shoot past him. His head would have been cut off if he didn't dodge it.

"Aargh!"

"Ugh!"

But with him dodging it, over tens of pirates behind him had their necks and chests cut through. Blood poured out from their bodies, covering the entire ship.

"Ugh!"

And in a slight second, Chun Yeowun was already standing upon the man. The man spun his body left and brought up his blade to cover and Yeowun struck it down.

"Ugh!"

He blocked it with the blade, but his body came crashing down on the ship's wooden floor. The floor was destroyed half way with his body being stuck in there.

‘W-what is this power?’

He expected a powerful blow as the enemy was much stronger than him, but it was hard to even just defend it. He was able to hold onto the blade, but his hand became numb.

“You think I will give you time to play tricks?”

And with that, the man became shocked.

‘I-I knew it. He can hear telepathic messages.’

The man sent a telepathic message to pirates to make them attack Yeowun, but he did it partially to see if Yeowun could actually hear it. He thought if Yeowun did hear telepathic message, it was likely that he would make a move to stop him.

‘I have to escape.’

The man gave up on pushing the White Dragon Blade away from him. He then focused energy toward his back to utilize the power that Yeowun was using to hold him down.

The man’s body penetrated through the ship floor and dropped. His plan was to give up on fighting and escape by dropping below.

‘He won’t chase me while leaving the Godly Doctor’s granddaughter behind with all these pirates.’

As he dropped through below, he twisted to created blade force qi and destroy the floor below. But his body suddenly stopped in the air. Yeowun had used force energy to stop him in the air.

‘Ugh. You are a fool, trying to hold me by force energy.’

Force energy only worked on another man if the man was below superior master level warrior. A superior master level warrior can control their own qi completely, so it was easy for them to block enemy’s energy coming into the body.

“HAH!”

The man unleashed his energy to free himself from the force energy. But he became shocked from what he saw. In that slight moment while he was in the air, Yeowun was already on the ship’s floor below him.

“W-when?! Dammit!”

He then quickly used the blade formation while he fell. It was a powerful formation, worthy of a superior master level warrior. His blade formation quickly attacked Yeowun.

“This is your mistake for taking lower ground!”

He was surprised, but he still had the higher ground. But Yeowun didn’t seem to be worried.

“Mistake? We will see about that.”

And with that, Yeowun’s White Dragon Blade unleashed powerful blade qi and stormed toward the man. It was one of the Extreme Arts of the Blade God.

“W-what?!”

‘How can this be? My power that strikes down should be stronger!’

The man's blade formation was easily countered by the storming blade formation that shoot up. But the storm didn't end there. Blade force qi that destroyed the man's attack quickly stormed around him, trying to rip his body apart.

'B-blade force qi is surrounding me!'

On top of the ship, pirates were looking toward the hole with a tense look. The sound was sure that they seemed to be fighting. Soon, it turned quiet.

"...Is it over?"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

At moment, the man penetrated through the floor of the deck, and Yeowun's body stormed up while he swung White Dragon Blade, like a rising dragon.

"Aaaaaaaaargh!"

The man's body was being slashed by force qi. It didn't cut him entirely off, but his skin was ripped apart and cut down, making it gruesome. The man even thought it might be better to die.

'I can't let you die yet.'

Chapter 309 - Dead man tells no tales (2)

Chapter 309: Dead man tells no tales (2)

Yeowun quickly withdrew his hand and the storm disappeared, cutting both of the man's arms below the elbows.

"Aaaaaaargh!!!!!"

The man fell to the deck. His skin was ripped and forearms were cut, so the man kept screaming in pain. Yeowun walked up to him.

"Your hat is destroyed but I still can't recognize your face. Well, it doesn't matter."

Yeowun placed his hand below the man's stomach. The man flinched and shouted.

"A...aargh. W-what are you doing...!!!"

"I am doing this."

"Aaaaaaargh!"

Yeowun immediately destroyed the man's internal energy. With extreme pain coming from all his wounds, the man passed out. Yeowun then sealed his blood points and threw his body with force energy toward Hu Bong and Bakgi.

"Hu Bong, make sure he doesn't die."

"Yes, Master."

Yeowun then turned toward pirates.

Chun Yeowun never left any potential dangers behind, even if the enemy was weak.

“Hiiiiek!”

The pirates were all terrified by what they just witnessed.

“M-monster!”

They began running to all sides frantically.

“R-run!”

“Jump into the water!”

They didn’t care if they outnumbered their enemy. They didn’t care the river water was too fast for them to swim. They just had to get away from the monster. But...

“Who said you can go?”

Yeowun gestured of picking something up by his two hands, and the weapons that the pirates dropped while running away immediately rose up in the air. There were about 60 weapons. Yeowun ordered to Nano.

‘Nano, self-targeting mode.’

Nano’s voice rang through his head.

[Activating self-targeting mode on 63 weapons. Locking onto targets...]

Yeowun saw tiny red circles appearing over the pirates who were running away in all directions. Over 60 weapons shot up and circled around the ship, aiming outward. The pirates all became shocked to see weapons floating in the air and stopped. They became terrified to see the weapons aimed at them.

“L-look at that...”

“T-that’s too much!”

The pirates were too afraid to even move. They had many experiences as martial artists of Yulin, but they never heard or saw such terrifying skills. Yeowun then flicked his finger.

[Initiating the attack.]

A total of 63 weapons began to move. This was a spectacular sight of countless weapons moving through air to kill their target.

“R-run!!!”

“I don’t want to die!”

The ship became mess. It was like a battlefield where all pirates trying to run, and some were trying to defend themselves against impending doom. But the result of the battle was a massacre. With weapons stopping them from jumping off the ship, the deck turned into a bloodbath.

“Argh!”

“Ugh!”

Tens of pirates were killed by the weapons moving on their own. The technique easily killed top-level masters even by using rusted swords from Sword Creek, so the effect increased when it was used with normal weapons against weaker enemies.

“Y-you devil!”

Some of the pirates shouted angrily at Yeowun who was observing them coldly while the massacre took place. He was looking them as if all of this was normal.

“I-I have to get away!”

All ships were interconnected with chains, so they couldn’t even run. That’s when one of leaders came up with an idea.

“Y-yeah! HEY! Destroy the chain!”

They already saw the air sword losing control when it became far away. The river flow was quick, so it was going to send them away from the ship faster.

‘I can’t save everyone. Let’s cut the ties and get away while we can!’

Over 30% of all the pirates had died already. It was a matter of time before all of them were wiped out.

“Quick!”

“Destroy the chains!”

Pirates who ran into another ship banged on the chains to breakthrough. But then some of air swords that were massacring the pirates flew up and destroyed the chains for them.

“What?”

“W-why?”

There was no way that Chun Yeowun would let them go. It was hard to understand, but they soon learned why. Some of the air swords then changed direction and penetrated through the bottom of the other ships, making large holes. The ship began to sink.

“T-the ship’s sinking!”

“Dammit! He was after the ship!”

Yeowun was destroying all other ships except the one that he was on. The sinking was slow however, so the pirates who tried to destroy the chain to get away became pale. Their last chance of escaping was gone.

“P-pull up the anchor!”

“Aye!”

They at least hoped that the river torrent would push them away. But the ship was already sinking so it didn’t move as they hoped it would.

“I-it’s not working! The ship isn’t.... UGH!”

The pirate who tried to move the ship died with a sword penetrating through him.

“Daego!!!”

The leader pirate who ordered to destroy the chain screamed his name with despair. He then slumped down and glanced over at Yeowun.

“T...that man is a devil!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It seemed he was trying to kill everyone above the ship. The screaming heard throughout the ship was like the song Yeowun was making as he moved his arms.

“Argh!”

“UGH!”

And pirates finally realized while they were dying that the worst disaster had hit their ships.

Chapter 310 - Dead man tells no tales (3)

Chapter 310: Dead man tells no tales (3)

“NNNGH!”

Gam Miyan, whose blood points were sealed, moaned as she couldn't scream. Her eyes turned red from tears as she saw hundreds of pirates being massacred. Her movements and voice were sealed, but it didn't stop the tears dropping from her eyes.

Bakgi then silently turned her around, as he thought she was probably too sad to see such a cruel sight, even if these enemies were pirates. But her eyes were actually that of a person who was actually truly sad, as if she was mourning for them. She looked like she wanted to say something.

“This will be over soon. We will have your baby here too.”

Bakgi spoke, but she glared back at him furiously.

“NNGH!”

It seemed she wanted to say something. But even with the baby hostage, the woman set traps before so Bakgi thought he had to be safe and ignored her. Hu Bong glanced at her and sent a telepathic message.

[You know, I didn't want to think it this way, but she seems really angry at us as if she doesn't want to be rescued. Don't you think?]

‘...’

Bakgi did not respond to Hu Bong's uncomfortable look.

At the same time, Fourth Elder Yang Danwa quickly killed the pirates on the watchtower and infiltrated the half dismantled shack. There weren't much people around as most of warriors were already on the ship.

'The only ones left are the women and children.'

It seemed like all the warriors who could fight were on the ship, with only a few pirates left behind to stand watch.

"UGH!"

Yang Danwa went up to another pirate on watch and snapped his neck. He then quietly hid the body in the corner.

'Nine.'

Yang Danwa silently killed all pirates that were on watch. There was no need to kill them all as their identities were not revealed, but there was no need to leave any potential dangers behind.

'And the women inside shacks...'

He decided to leave them behind. There was no way those people who hid inside shacks knew what had happened. Even the man with bamboo hat thought Yeowun and his group were from the Blade God Six Martial clan.

'Is that it?'

Yang Danwa quickly found the captain's shack. It was one of the largest and most lavishly-decorated shacks so it was noticeable. The large tiger pelt covering it was a dead giveaway.

‘I sense two inside.’

Yang Danwa carefully walked over and heard the sound of breathing, and footsteps walking across the room. He opened the shack and walked in. The middle-aged woman who was gently caressing baby became shocked and tried to scream.

“Ky...”

Yang Danwa quickly sealed her blood points to make her pass out and snatched the baby before it fell to the ground. The baby tried to cry, so he pressed on the blood point so the baby would fall asleep.

Yang Danwa then looked down bitterly at the woman. It was an ordinary woman who had not learned any martial arts, but there was no choice as she had seen Yang Danwa’s face. He then snapped her neck without hesitation and left the shack. Yang Danwa quickly stepped through and returned to the riverbed near the ships.

“Ah!”

Yang Danwa became astonished. The fight had yet to start when he left, but there was no sight of the five other ships that were connected to it. Even the large ship that was loading cargo was now sinking beneath the river.

‘He killed everyone in this short amount of time!’

It was possible for Yeowun’s monstrous power. The level of supreme master warrior was enough to be considered one of the top five warriors of Yulin. But the speed was still too fast.

‘Did he use that technique from before?’

Yang Danwa still had the sight lingering on his head, where hundreds of swords had massacred the pirates. It was a technique that no powerful warrior Yang Danwa had ever seen before. It was enough to even make him become afraid.

[Elder Yang. This way.]

He then heard Hu Bong's telepathic message and turned toward the direction. Hu Bong was waiving at him around the hill toward the mountain. And as he ran up there, he found Yeowun's group waiting for him behind bushes.

"I did as you ordered."

"Good work."

Yeowun nodded after checking the baby. Yang Danwa then glanced to see Bakgi hanging a man drenched in blood on by the tree. By looking at him with two of forearms missing, it was easy to see who had done it.

'The Lord did it again.'

It seemed like anyone who came across Chun Yeowun as an enemy would lose an arm or two. Yang Danwa then remembered that more than half of princes had lost their arms in the competition. This gave him chills.

'Huh?'

He then realized Gam Miyan was a bit strange. She couldn't move with her blood points sealed, but she was crying and she shook.

"Lieutenant Hu, what is up with her?"

“I’m not sure. We didn’t set her free as it doesn’t look right, but she’s been like that ever since. She’s looking at us as if we are the bad guys.”

“Hmmm?”

Yang Danwa became confused. He then thought maybe she was worried because she didn’t see the baby yet, so he took the baby and showed it to her.

“We have your baby here.”

Gam Miyan’s eyes then turned to relief as she looked at the baby. Yeowun then let them free her to speak. She was unstable up until while ago, but she now had seen the baby so he figured she would be fine. But when they freed Gam Miyan, she began to scream. The noise even woke up the man who passed out.

The man slightly opened his eyes to check the situation and realized he was kept alive.

‘What should I do?’

He then pretended to stay passed out by closing his eyes. He couldn’t run away as he was tied by rope anyway.

“NNNGH!”

Yang Danwa grabbed her mouth. He thought about putting seal back so she’d be silent, but he then became curious and asked, “What are you doing?”

She then glared back at Yang Danwa as if she wanted to say something.

“If you scream again, I will make you silent again.”

Her eyes rolled up and down, nodding. Yang Danwa then let go of her mouth and Gam Miyan spoke with rage.

“Hah... hah... you just let my husband drown underwater. Do you think I will be grateful for that?”

“Your... husband?”

Yang Danwa, Bakgi and Hu Bong all frowned at that. They couldn't understand what she was saying. Yang Danwa then asked her.

“Are you talking about that First Mate?”

“Yes! You all heard that he was my husband and you just let him die anyway!”

Surprisingly, Gam Miyan thought the dead First Mate was actually her husband. Bakgi then became dumbfounded about Gam Miyan's tears back on the ship.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

‘So, she cried because she really was sad for them?’

He thought she cried only because she was afraid to see such a cruel sight. The reason why she passed out when the ship sank was because her husband, the First Mate, sank along with the ship. She then glared at Yeowun and spoke.

“And our warriors... how could you kill them in such cruel ways?! Just because you have powers, you can't kill people like if they are animals! You devil!”

“Devil...”

Chapter 311: Dead man tells no tales (4)

She seemed to be furious beyond reason. Most people would be too afraid to even speak to Chun Yeowun after seeing what he had done, but she didn't seem to care.

'Is she really mad?'

Hu Bong became dumbfounded while Yeowun narrowed his eyes. Gam Miyan's reaction was beyond logical explanation so even Yeowun became curious. Hing Wunja clearly said under the truth serum that the Godly Doctor's granddaughter had been kidnapped.

'Why is she siding with those pirates when she was kidnapped?'

That's when Nano answered his thoughts.

[This seems to match the case of Stockholm Syndrome.]

'Stockholm Syndrome?'

[It is a symptom where one finds sympathy with the aggressor in a mental and spiritual way. If it becomes excessive, it sometimes evolves into the feeling of affection such as love.]

'What? I didn't even imagine such a thing would exist.'

It was still hard to believe even after hearing it. But for the man who was tied on the tree, he was actually entertained by what was happening. He knew the state of Gam Miyan already because this was reported multiple times.

‘So, it was true that the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor became very close with the First Mate of the Yongho Family... haha.’

This was actually why Gam Miyan helped the man set up traps. She didn’t help just because she had to save her baby. For her, the Yongho family was actually her family and friends. A year in captivity had changed her very drastically.

‘There were sacrifices but this seems to be good. She will not try to help them.’

Was it going as the man expected? Gam Miyan glared at Yeowun and the others with vengeful eyes.

“You came because my grandmother asked you to? Then I’m sure you’re after my grandmother to make her treat someone. Isn’t that it? Isn’t that what you came here for?”

Gam Miyan was smart. She wasn’t all correct with her guesses, but it still was similar. Of course, the only thing was that her grandmother promised to serve the Lord of Demonic Cult in return.

“Calm down. We are here because your grandmother really wanted to rescue you. We heard you were kidnapped and that captain threatened us with the baby. How would we know that you became friends with them?”

Yang Danwa spoke to solve the issue, but there was no way the woman would change her mind when she thought she had lost everything. Gam Miyan shouted, “Bah! Nonsense! Even if that’s true, you still killed my people. You won’t get anything from me!”

“Hmph. That wasn’t our intention. I told you we didn’t know.”

“Is it fine because you didn’t know? Let me tell you clearly. I will not help you get whatever you are trying to get!”

“What? What are you talking about?”

Hu Bong, who had been looking at her dumbfoundedly, frowned and asked. Gam Miyan then shouted as if she was cursing all of them.

“I will not go to my grandmother. If you take me by force, I will tell her that she must not help any of you! I will do whatever it takes to do that! You will feel my pain when you lose your loved one that you are trying to save!”

She declared that she would get in the way by using all she had. She was being ungrateful of being saved. This was not expected at all.

‘Hahaha! This is interesting. You have the granddaughter but she will not comply, she will just be a nuisance to your plan! You all will not get anything!’

The man became excited while he was pretending to still be asleep. It looked like Yeowun’s group was going to have a hard time as they now had to find a way to bring this nuisance back. They had to take her, but she was going to be far from help.

‘You are paying the price for making me like this.’

And that’s when he heard Hu Bong speak.

“...What a shame. You think we are some weaklings from the Forces of Justice? And you’ll regret when you realize what our Lord will choose to do.”

“Lord?”

Gam Miyan's eyes became large from Hu Bong's swords. The man also became shocked. There was only one who was addressed as a 'Lord' in the entire Yulin.

'Lord... wait. Is that...'

Chun Yeowun then looked down at Gam Miyan coldly and spoke, "Do you think you are the only one who feels the pain of losing loved ones?"

"T-that's...!"

"I don't care if you loved those who kidnapped you, nor do I care if you are sad because they died."

Gam Miyan was at a loss for words. This wasn't the reaction she anticipated.

"And you said you will get in our way no matter what it takes?"

"O-of course! You killed my husband so I..."

But she couldn't continue, as all of the people looking at her looked cold and emotionless. Yeowun shook his head.

"We will take you back no matter what you say."

Gam Miyan then narrowed her eyes.

"Hah! That won't be any use! I will tell grandmother to..."

"You won't."

"W-what? Of course I will tell her..."

"You won't, if you are dead."

“?!”

Gam Miyan became shocked. The man who was pretending to be passed out also became shocked.

“Elder Yang, what do you say?”

“Well, it is common for hostages to die in huge fights. We’d be lucky to even find the remains. The Godly Doctor will be sad... but we have no choice.”

Gam Miyan became grim at Yang Danwa’s words. Their way of thinking and the action these people took do was different from normal people or people from the Forces of Justice.

“W-wait... are you g-going to kill me? A-are you out of your mind!? You are here to save me!”

“I saved you because you had a use.”

“A use?!”

“You are no use if you are not the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor. But you just threw away your only value.”

“W-what!!”

People usually changed their thoughts when their lives were in danger. Her senses that didn’t work while in fury now returned. But it was too late. Yeowun talked to her in low voice, as if he was whispering.

“It’s fortunate that your baby is asleep.”

Gam Miyan then became pale at the voice.

“Y-you dev...”

But Yeowun swung his hand before she could finish, and her neck turned around because of the powerful force of energy.

“UGH!”

And with a gasp, Gam Miyan’s neckbone was destroyed and died. She was angered, but she paid the price of not choosing someone to mess with wisely by death.

‘What!’

The man became shocked.

‘T-these people are mad! They really killed her!’

He didn’t imagine that they would kill the granddaughter, the only possible piece that would make Godly Doctor work without hesitation, even in front of a baby. That’s when he heard someone walking over to him.

The man who came up to him grabbed his neck. He opened his eyes and saw Yeowun looking at him.

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

“Do you think I wouldn’t know you were pretending to sleep?”

“!!!!”

The man became shocked. There was no way Yeowun would not notice the different breathing patterns after the man woke up.

“Now, it’s your turn.”

Chapter 312

Chapter 312: A successor (1)

A dark night with only a few torches that lit up the area... someone appeared at the Yongho Family village that was surrounded by the forest near the Yellow River. The sound of small but constant footsteps proved that the visitor was a martial artist. But this man had very distinctive looks. He had two very large swords behind his back that were wrapped in a crisscross pattern on his back, with a tiger on his shoulder. He entered the Yongho Family village with a dead tiger.

As he got into the village, his face revealed under the torch. He had crumpled hair with clothing made from animal leather, and he was in his mid 20s.

“Hmm?”

He became surprised when he walked into the village.

‘This is strange. I’m sure it’s about time for the pirates to return and rest.’

He only felt about 50 people around the village, and all of them seemed to be either women or children.

‘Well, it’s none of my business.’

Whatever the case, his job was to see ‘her’, not the other pirates, so it didn’t matter. The young man walked straight to a place within the village as if he had visited this place many times. He was going toward a large shack, larger than any of the other shacks inside the village. As he neared the shack, he stopped as he felt something weird. He then went toward the area inside the fence where the jars were gathered.

“Huh?”

There was the dead body of pirate that was folded over behind a large jar. The death was caused by the neck that had been snapped.

‘Was he folded so he could hide behind?’

The young man then realized something wasn’t right. He dropped the tiger on the ground and banged on the shack. The shack had to have ‘her’ and her husband but he couldn’t feel anyone inside. He couldn’t even feel the nanny who always resided inside the shack.

‘Ugh. I need that damn medicine...’

He glanced around and walked into one of the rooms inside the shack. It looked like a medicine room, so he checked to see if there was the medicine he needed there. But all medicinal herbs were in their original state with no sign of any mixtures.

‘Ugh. There’s nothing here.’

He then left the shack and went somewhere else. It was to ask someone for what was going on, as he felt the human presence nearby.

With a bang on the door, a middle-aged woman came out, woken up from her sleep.

“Ugh, who the hell is banging on the door at night... uh?”

She became shocked to see the young man. It seemed like the woman knew this man very well. She asked in shaking voice, seemingly afraid of him.

“W-why are you here at my shack? Aren’t you here to see Lady G... Oh!”

She then realized Gam Miyan wasn’t at her home. That was probably why this young man came over to her instead.

“Where is she?”

“Y-you are talking about Lady Gam, right?”

“Yeah.”

The woman told him that Gam Miyan was in the middle of the river by battleships. The young man thanked her for telling him that and disappeared. When he disappeared, the woman became relieved and fell to the ground and mumbled.

“Whew... that was scary. I hope we move our village fast.”

It was always scary to see this young man, as everyone was afraid that this young man might make that monstrous man appear.

At the same time, in the middle of the mountain right in front of the riverbed where battleships sank nearby, the questioning was being held on the man who was hung up on the large tree with missing arms. The man’s eyes were numb and he was mumbling something.

“...And that... makes up the Brotherhood...”

“Hmm.”

Chun Yeowun and his members were listening to him. Yang Danwa touched his chin and spoke.

“I didn’t imagine the Forces of Justice would have such extremists among them.”

Hu Bong answered as he was dumbfounded.

“These people are crazy. I understand a world of justice and all, but killing everyone related to the Forces of Evil and the cult to even distant relatives? It’s insane.”

Blue Sky Brotherhood. A secret organization within the Forces of Justice had the goal of making a blue sky. It was revealed that this organization was created with powerful figures of the Forces of Justice gathering together. All of these individuals were extremists within the faction. The man under the truth serum revealed everything about the Brotherhood’s purpose and how it was created.

“They are under a delusion!”

Hu Bong shouted angrily as he had been angry ever since he heard their motives. As mentioned, the goal of Blue Sky Brotherhood was to kill everyone who did not side with their justice. They didn’t care about how they achieved their goal, only if they got to it. This wasn’t what the Forces of Justice originally sought out to be.

“They have no right to speak of themselves as the Forces of Justice.”

Bakgi spoke with a frown. That method of thinking that sacrifice was more in line with what the Forces of Evil might do.

‘The president and the five officers...’

The organization had a leader called the president, five officers, and other powerful warriors. Five officers were called masters.

Yeowun continued with the question.

“Are the five officers ranked?”

With Yeowun snapping his finger, the man, who was revealed as one of the masters, spoke.

“No... besides ... the president... we are all... equal.”

The master didn't look all that healthy. The reason why he was talking slowly was because he was under a heavy dose of the truth serum.

‘His internal power is destroyed, but he's still a superior master level warrior. His mental strength is powerful.’

The master resisted the truth serum strongly at first. He couldn't think straight after the injection but he still resisted. This made Yeowun add more truth serum, but it made the man almost hallucinate.

‘I have to make it quick.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

His eyes were half-closed, so it didn't seem like Yeowun had a lot of time.

“Tell me all the names of the officers.”

This was vital information, as this information would allow Yeowun to be prepared in the future. The master flinched at the question and began to resist. Yeowun snapped his fingers again and the master began to speak.

“N...Namking family’s leader... Namking Keng...”

Chapter 313 - A successor (2)

Chapter 313: A successor (2)

‘Namking Keng!’

Yang Danwa became shocked. The Namking family was the strongest family among the top five families of Yulin. Namking Keng was the house leader, one of the strongest within the Nine Strong, and he was close to rising as one of the top five warriors in the close future.

“M..Mudan clan’s... Hing Wunja...”

“Ah.”

They knew Hing Wunja was related, and it was confirmed that he was actually an officer. The Mudan clan was one of the strongest, along with the Sorim and Flower Mountain clans among the nine clans.

“Tang Philson of Sachun...”

“...I expected as much from them.”

The Sachun family of the five families was one of the most aggressive people among the Forces of Justice. They walked the path of justice, but they still used poison and various traps. Tang Philson, a second rank in the family, lost his daughter in the war between justice and evil, so he hated the Forces of Evil with his heart. He wasn’t one of the Strong Nine, but he was known for his ability to use poison.

“And... and... Uaaaarg...”

The master then began to moan. Veins were popping up over his forehead, resulting in a severe headache.

[An overdose of truth serum seems to be affecting the target's brain.]

Yeowun frowned at Nano's words. That was correct, but it also seemed that this man was fighting the further spilling of information.

"Ggggrrr...."

The man's eyes rolled backward, showing the whites only. He trembled as he mumbled.

"I...I am Feng... Muwar... of Habuk family..."

This was the man's true identity. He was from the Habuk family, known for their blood skill, and second in rank within the family. He was one of the Strong Nine.

"Ar....ggg..."

[The target's breathing is becoming weaker.]

"Dammit!"

Yeowun sent in his internal energy into Feng Muwar's body so he could stay alive. But Feng Muwar without his internal damage was like a broken jar.

'I have to hear who's the president!'

Feng Muwar's trembling began to die down, and Yeowun shook his dying body.

"Hey! Who's the president?!"

Yeowun snapped his fingers at Feng Muwar's ears. But he was almost dead.

“Rrrrggg...”

Yeowun shook the body with one hand and snapped his fingers by the ear again and again.

“Presid...ent... only... speaks to... Namking...”

Feng Muwar died before he could finish his words. His injury was severe so he couldn't withstand the amount of dosage of truth serum. Yang Danwa placed his hand on the chest to check and shook his head.

“He's dead, my lord.”

But they had enough information needed.

“...Was he saying that Namking Keng should know who the president is?”

“It seems likely, my Lord. But finding it out from him would be hard.”

Yeowun nodded to Yang Danwa's reply. Yeowun had learned a lot about Yulin after he became the Lord. Namking Keng was one of the 17 leaders of the Yulin clan. He was the third leader, while the 4th through 17th leaders were at the same level, those 3rd and above were ones that had true power over the entire Forces of Justice faction. Namking Keng was the Commander of the Demon Hunters, one of the two armies within the faction. The Demon Hunter army was literally created to fight against the Demonic Cult, and Namking Keng was its commander. He was the man who could order over 30 thousand warriors at his disposal.

“This is going to be hard. At least we have vital information we ne...”

But before Yang Danwa could finish, Yeowun turned his head around to a direction toward the river. It was a bit later than Yeowun, but Yang Danwa also noticed something and turned toward the river.

[My Lord. There's someone there... he seems to be quite powerful. I guess he's from Blue Sky Brotherhood.]

[...Seems so.]

Yang Danwa placed his finger by his mouth to signal Bakgi or Hu Bong to stay silent. They nodded and became silent but it was too late. The enemy didn't sense Yeowun or Yang Danwa, but he had sensed Hu Bong and Bakgi.

Yang Danwa warned and the two of them readied with tense expressions. Soon, they heard the sound of something coming through bushes. The man appeared soon enough. He had two giant swords on his back with crumpled hair.

"Huh? Six?"

The young man's face became weird. He thought he had sensed only two, but there were four more people, including two dead ones.

'Oh no!'

He then glanced at Gam Miyan on the ground. She wasn't breathing and didn't even move with her skin going pale. She was dead.

"Dammit!"

The young man became infuriated and glared at Yeowun and the others.

“Did you kill her?!”

He then charged while pulling out his greatsword and went straight to Bakgi, who was closest to Gam Miyan’s body.

‘It’s huge!’

The sword was really huge, about 2 meters. The young man struck down his sword from above and Yang Danwa charged in to defend. Yang Danwa’s palm was surrounded by blue force qi. The greatsword also wielded blue force qi, but Yang Danwa was stronger with his energy, so the young man was thrown to the back. He flipped in the air and dropped to the ground and frowned.

“Dammit. I wanted to take out the weak one first.”

“Weak?!”

Bakgi became grim at the words as he was just talked down to.

[Captain Bakgi, he’s stronger than you.]

[What?]

Yang Danwa told Bakgi to stand down. He knew Bakgi would not be killed at once, but he felt uncertain danger from the man and had to jump in. The young man spat and pulled out another greatsword from his back.

“Dammit. I don’t want to do this.”

It looked astounding to see him holding up two giant swords in his hand easily. There were very few who used dual swords within Yulin, as most warriors only concentrated on one weapon. Yang Danwa began to think.

‘I heard somewhere... about the one who uses two great swords... where did I...’

“Two great swords... two... OH! I know! Martial Double Sword!”

“Oh great...”

The young man frowned at Yang Danwa’s shout.

Chapter 314 - A successor (3)

Chapter 314: A successor (3)

Top five warriors of Yulin.

The martial artists of Yulin began calling the five strongest warriors of the entire Yulin and addressed them as such. It wasn't sure why the number limited to five, but these five figures became like tradition in Yulin's history. North Justice, South Demon, East Challenger, West Strong, and Middle Double.

North Justice Blade, Yi Mok.

South Demon Lord, Chun Yujong.

East Challenger God, Ark Wui.

West Strong King, Hang Yen.

Martial Dual Sword, Wang Jing.

North Justice Blade Yi Mok was the leader of the Yulin clan, and the clan leader of the Justice clan. Justice clan wasn't one of the Nine Great Clans, but historically they had many of the strongest warriors in the Forces of justice.

As for South Demon Lord, it originally addressed Chun Inji, but after defeating Alliance of Forces of Evil at Sawon Plains battle, Chun Yujong succeeded the name.

Hang Yen the West Strong King had earned the title after fighting amongst warriors of the Forces of Evil to rise on top, who was powerful but also very keen on tricks and traps.

All three people above were the leaders of the three large factions that controlled the entire Yulin. The other two were ones that weren't related to the three factions. They only achieved titles through martial arts.

East Challenger God Ark Wui was a very mysterious man that no one knew much about him. The only thing known about him was that he had become one of the top warriors without any weapons, so he earned the title Challenger God.

But Wang Jing was the opposite. His name was so famous that everyone in Yulin had heard about him.

'Isn't he the one responsible for the birth of the 18 River Families?'

Chun Yeowun thought of this when Yang Danwa said the name. This didn't mean that Wang Jing was the one who created the 18 River Families. Originally there was a time when the Yellow River was infested with pirates. At the time, the name of pirates were 30 River Families, with over 10 thousand pirates controlling the entire Yellow River.

'The man who killed over three thousand pirates singlehandedly.'

That was the Martial Dual Sword, Wang Jing. He was actually one of Jiang Hu Ten Strong (Now Nine Strong). After losing his wife in a certain incident, he became enraged and massacred over 3 thousand pirates, downsizing the pirate organization into half. This made Forces of Evil target him, and Wang Jing was also labeled as a murder from the Forces of Justice for killing so many, and disappeared.

'This is bad...'

The young man looked troubled. He didn't think someone would recognize the name just by him using two swords.

'Father was right.'

His father always told him that he should never use two swords unless his life was in danger. He heard that his father had disappeared from Yulin for a long time, so if that man recognized him, then it showed that the man had experience in Yulin.

'What should I do?'

The young man realized that the middle-aged man was stronger than him. He was angry each time he glanced at Gam Miyan's body, but it seemed like there was no choice.

'Oh well. Let's escape.'

He then tried to turn away when someone charged up to him and kicked him. With over tens of kicks coming at him, the young man used his greatsword to defend it.

"Huh? You are..."

The young man became confused. It was the man with a scar on his face, which the young man thought to be weakest. They seemed to be around the same age, but this man was weaker.

"Who told you you can just run away?" Bakgi shouted as he kicked through. He then lowered his body to kick under him, as the greatsword would be hard to defend from below. But the young man struck down another greatsword that was held up to defend. Powerful energy shook his sword as Bakgi's feet struck it. Bakgi was pushed back and the young man became interested as it was unexpected that Bakgi would be this strong.

“...Interesting.”

Bakgi frowned as all of his attacks were blocked again. Yeowun smiled.

‘It’s the Bakgi I once knew.’

This Bakgi was just like when Yeowun first saw him at the Demonic Academy. They had been against many strong enemies recently so Bakgi couldn’t show his aggressive and competitive side.

‘I have underestimated him. Maybe I should let Captain Bakgi try this time.’

Yang Danwa also decided to let the fight be. The young man was at the end stage of the super master level, while Bakgi was established, a full stage lower. But the fight between martial artists didn’t always mean it was about power levels. Sometimes, experience and will changed the outcome.

‘Swords are large but he uses it without any issue. Then I have to make him show some openings.’

Bakgi was thinking about how to attack this young man.

‘Ugh.’

But the young man was disappointed. He actually wanted to fight this similarly-aged warrior who seemed to be a good match, but he was concerned about the two others who he couldn’t sense. One of them even recognized the Dual Martial Swords. He shouted at Bakgi.

“Hey, Kicker.”

“What did you call me?!”

“I’m not afraid of you. But I’m busy, so I have to go, okay?”

The young man then created sword force qi over his two swords and jumped up.

‘What?’

Bakgi quickly tried to jump in to stop him, but the young man slammed the ground. And with two greatswords banging into the ground, dust clouds kicked up, sending rock debris and sands all over. The young man then turned to escape from the scene.

‘I have to tell my father that there’s someone who recognize... huh?!’

The young man became shocked when he saw another man with long hair standing in the direction he was going to run. It was Chun Yeowun.

“You heard what he said. We can’t let you go.”

“Dammit!”

The young man quickly brought his two greatswords and unleashed a sword formation. Yeowun then reached out his hand against the two great words coming at him.

“You think you can block my swords?!”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

He tried to cut down Yeowun at once with the powerful energy. But...

“W-what?! It won’t move!”

He couldn’t move even an inch with Yeowun holding the sword with his hand.

‘H-he’s like my father!’

Chapter 315 - A successor (4)

Chapter 315: A successor (4)

It felt like if he was throwing an egg at a great stone. Throwing an egg to destroy the stone only resulted in broken eggs. Yeowun then brought up his other hand and placed it over the young man's forehead and rolled his finger to grab it by the thumb. And that looked like...

"Finger snap?"

"Yeah."

"AAAARGh!"

The young man was thrown way to the back, spinning three times in the air before he dropped. He tried to stand up, but he had a concussion and fell down.

Yeowun placed his hand over at his stomach to destroy his internal energy, but Yang Danwa quickly stopped him.

"My lord! Please stop!"

"This man might not be related to the Blue Sky Brotherhood?"

"What makes you think that?"

"You may have heard. Martial Dual Sword was shunned by both the Forces of Evil and Justice and disappeared."

Yeowun narrowed his eyes. He knew this too, but Martial Dual Sword's action that led to his disappearance seemed quite close to what Blue Sky Brotherhood was trying to do now. But as he wasn't one of the Forces of Justice, it was likely that Yang Danwa had a point.

"Let's ask him who he is and why he's here."

If he was related to Blue Sky Brotherhood or the Forces of Evil, there was no need to keep him alive. Especially when he saw Feng Muwar and Gam Miyan's bodies. Yeowun placed a blood point seal on him.

"I'll question him this time, My Lord."

Yeowun was threatening whenever he questioned people, so Yang Danwa decided to do it this time around. Soon, the young man woke up.

"Uh... huh?!"

He looked down at the rope that tied him. It was drenched in blood, probably the same rope used to hang the dead he saw on the tree. He wasn't sure why he was being tied around, and he soon realized what happened after feeling the pain on his forehead.

"I... I passed out to a finger snap?!"

The young man reddened from embarrassment as he realized this. He always heard his father saying he was probably strongest around his age, so he was very proud of it, but he didn't expect he would pass out from a finger snap made by a man around his age.

'I was knocked out cold by someone my age, Father.'

And he heard Yang Danwa speaking to him.

“Are you awake?”

“OH!!”

He tried to bring up the energy, but he couldn't. It seemed all of his body had become numb.

“W-what is going on?!”

“We sealed your blood point.”

“Oh... ugh.”

So, he was captured while he passed out. After realizing he was helplessly captured among the enemies, he began to think. After thinking it through for a short moment, he spoke out strongly.

“What are you going to do with me? Are you trying to kill me? I wasn't going to say this but... please don't kill me!”

“...Are you not ashamed to say that?”

Yang Danwa became dumbfounded. It was hard to believe that this was the same man who attacked them without hesitation. Yang Danwa had to find out who he was, and why he attacked them or came here.

“We could have killed you, but we wanted to ask you who you were first so that we wouldn't kill an innocent person.”

“OH?”

The young man realized his answer could cost his life. He had to say the right answers to stay alive. After a short silence, he smiled awkwardly and spoke.

“Ask me anything. I will answer everything you want to know if I know the answer that is.”

“...”

Yang Danwa thought to himself that this young man wasn't from Blue Sky Brotherhood, nor any others. Most of the warriors at his level of power who were from any organization would choose to die rather than spill information, but he insisted on asking him.

“Tell me your name first.”

The young man hesitated for a second and spoke.

“I'm Bunwang.”

“Bunwang?”

Yang Danwa frowned as he looked at the man. If this man was the son of Martial Dual Sword just like he expected, he should have used the Wang family name in front.

‘Is he an apprentice?’

That was another possibility. But if he only spoke his name, it was certain that he wanted to hide his background at least. Yang Danwa continued, “Why did you attack us?”

Yang Danwa knew that Bunwang attacked them after looking at Gam Miyan's dead body. Bunwang then glanced at the dead Gam Miyan again and spoke grimly.

“...I attacked because she was dead.”

It was as expected. Yang Danwa then waived toward the back and Hu Bong walked up to him. He had a sleeping baby in his arms. Bunwang mumbled as he looked at the baby.

“That baby...”

“So, you knew. It’s Gam Miyan’s son.”

Bunwang knew this very well as he had visited Gam Miyan’s shack multiple times already. Yang Danwa spoke with a disappointed voice.

“We wanted to save her and her baby, but we failed because of that man.”

Yang Danwa then pointed at Feng Muwar’s body. Bunwang frowned at the horrible state the body was in.

“You came to save them? What are you talking about?”

“We were asked by Gam Miyan’s grandmother to come to rescue her and her baby. But we were trapped so we couldn’t save her.”

‘Wow.’

Yang Danwa shook his head in disappointment and Hu Bong became astonished at Yang Danwa lying so well. They were here to save them, but Gam Miyan was killed by them intentionally.

‘Elder Yang’s good at this.’

Bunwang seemed to be fooled and his eyes shook. He seemed to be thinking that he misunderstood these people.

“...Did you really come because of her grandmother?”

“Bunwang. It’s us who have you captured. Why would we lie to you?”

Yang Danwa laughed and Bunwang became dumbfounded. He regretted attacking them and getting captured when they were not related to Gam Miyan’s death. Bunwang spoke apologetically.

“...I misunderstood your intention. I am sorry.”

“It’s okay. But why did you come to find Gam Miyan?” Yang Danwa asked.

Bunwang replied bitterly.

“I needed medicine.”

“Medicine?”

Yang Danwa became curious. Unlike his guess that Bunwang had some connection to Gam Miyan, Bunwang was actually here to meet a doctor. Yang Danwa then realized that the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor was probably well-trained in medicine and treatment. But Hu Bong shook his head and mumbled, “I’ll see how it goes. You’re a drug addict, aren’t you?”

“W-what?!”

Bunwang became dumbfounded as he looked back at Hu Bong.

Chapter 316 - Cold blood blockage (1)

Chapter 316: Cold blood blockage (1)

Opium was once made from opium poppy which was spread among the Jianghu and became a problem. The Emperor directly ordered to stop the production of this opium but it was still widely consumed behind the scenes. Those who were addicted to this were labeled as drug addicts. It was natural for Bunwang to become dumbfounded. Yang Danwa shook his head and told Hu Bong to stay out of their conversation.

“So, what was the medicine for?”

“My... sister is sick.”

Bunwang hesitated for second and briefly explained his reasons.

“Sister?”

“Yes. My sister has a disease that no other doctors can mend, but the medicine made by that woman worked quite well.”

If what Bunwang said was true, Gam Miyan was surely trained in medical practice. If she was already medically talented, and if she wasn't killed by Yeowun, maybe she might have become the future Godly Doctor.

“I see. I guess you have the right to be angry when you saw her dead, then.”

Yang Danwa spoke understandingly, but he was still eyeing Bunwang suspiciously. This was because Bunwang said he would say everything, but he wasn't going into the details.

‘He’s hiding all the specific details.’

Of course, there was no torture or threats involved, so maybe this was because Bunwang was relaxed. That’s when Yeowun who had been watching silently walked over.

‘Ugh.’

Bunwang found himself becoming afraid of the man who made him pass out with a simple finger snap. Yeowun seemed to be even younger than him, but the power was enormous, as if Bunwang was in front of his father.

‘Maybe he just looks younger because of body reconstruction.’

He heard that when one that reached the end stage of the superior master level, they would go through body reconstruction to look younger. His father almost swore that no one ever reached the end stage of the super master level warrior other than Bungwang.

‘Yeah. That must be it. He should be way older than he looks.’

Bunwang felt a little better after thinking of it that way. Chun Yeowun then walked up to him and looked down coldly as he spoke.

“You misunderstood us.”

“What?”

“You think we want a friendly chat? Answer correctly if you want to live. If you skip all the details again, I’ll destroy your internal energy and feed you to wild animals.”

“Ugh! Isn’t that too... okay.”

Chun Yeowun then got back and retreated to his seat and watched Yang Danwa. His threat actually worked.

‘Dammit. That guy is cold-hearted.’

With Yeowun’s cold threat that had no sign of any jokes, Bunwang had to go into the detail he hid at first. He felt like he would die if he didn’t.

“...Actually, my sister is in a serious state.”

“What disease does your sister have?”

“Other people just call it blood blockage, but that woman doctor told me it’s Cold Blood Blockage.”

“Cold Blood Blockage?”

Yang Danwa became shocked. He seemed genuinely shocked, so Yeowun did not know about the name, became curious and asked Nano, ‘Nano, do you know what that is?’

[There is no recorded data regarding said name of illness.]

Nano did not know. Of course, even blood blockage wasn’t what was known in the future. Blood blockage was a disease where the yin side of qi in the body was too strong and it blocked the blood circulation, where many young girls of Yulin suffered. But the Cold Blood Blockage was similar and also quite different.

[Elder Yang. Do you know what that is?]

Yeowun asked and Yang Danwa explained what he knew. Cold Blood Blockage was a legendary disease known to be uncurable even in Yulin. The person who suffered from the disease was said to acquire an infinite amount of yin qi. But this was also sort of a qi where a patient was said to be allowed to contain an infinite amount of internal energy full of yin qi. It looked good on paper, but the human body had to balance the yin and Yan. With only yin taking over the body, it directly impacted the lifespan. It was known that the person who suffered from the disease would die before the age of 20 due to severe side effects of broken balance.

[That's interesting.]

[I have never heard of the disease existing in real life until today.]

Yang Danwa heard this was a legend, but if the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor identified it as such, then it wasn't to be ignored. Bunwang became grim after explaining his sister's state.

'I used all of the medicine I had... and her seizure is increasing. What should I do now?'

The reason why Bunwang came here was to get the medicine from Gam Miyan. He then remembered Yang Danwa saying they were here to rescue Gam Miyan because of her grandmother asking them to rescue her. Bunwang asked carefully, "Uh... is the grandmother of that woman also a doctor?"

Yang Danwa narrowed his eyes. It wasn't because he asked the identity of Gam Miyan's grandmother. It was because of the fact that the man, seemingly the successor of Martial Dual Sword Wang Jing, was in need of an exceptional doctor.

[My Lord. Did you hear what he said?]

[...Maybe we can use it to our advantage.]

[Yes.]

Chun Yeowun was also thinking of similar things as Yang Danwa. Sister of Bunwang must have a relationship with Wang Jing, so if they helped her, it might be likely that they can be friends with Wang Jing. And even if Bunwang wasn't Wang Jing's successor, it looked good enough to befriend such a powerful warrior. Yeowun nodded and Yang Danwa spoke to him.

"Yes. Actually she is a better doctor than Gam Miyan ever was. Gam Miyan herself learned from her grandmother."

"Oh! I-is that true!?"

Bunwang became excited. This was the good news that he could ever hope for. Bunwang became excited and asked, "I-if it's not too much, can I ask her to take a look at my..."

That's when a chilling presence of energy unleashed, making everyone around to feel a large explosion fill the entire mountain. All of them turned northwest.

"N-no!"

Chapter 317 - Cold blood blockage (2)

Chapter 317: Cold blood blockage (2)

Bunwang, who was tied on the tree, frowned. His internal energy was sealed from circulating, but this unique chilly feeling was familiar. It was the sign of his sister going berserk.

‘No way. It’s only been four hours!’

It hadn’t been that long since Bunwang gave her the last dose of medicine. He thought it would last at least a day, but it was frustrating that he felt the energy which proved that her state was going worse.

‘It’s close.’

Yeowun narrowed his eyes.

“M-master! What is this energy?”

Yang Danwa became shocked. The energy was coming from the northwest, near a mountain hill. It was close, but it was still astounding to feel such cold energy clearly coming towards them. Bunwang shouted frantically.

“I-it’s my sister!”

“Sister?”

“She’s going berserk!”

“This energy is coming from your sister?”

Yang Danwa became grim. He heard the legend that the one who suffered from Cold Blood Blockage would have an infinite amount of yin qi, but this was more than he imagined. He didn't think that the energy would be so vast that they could feel it clearly from such a distance.

"I have to go take my sister down, or it will become dangerous. Please let me know."

"H-hmm... I guess this amount of energy is surely dangerous for her."

'...'

Bunwang couldn't correct Yang Danwa, the danger wasn't only directly from his sister in this case. He couldn't even imagine what his sister would do if she went full berserk. That's when Yeowun unsealed Bunwang. Bunwang's internal energy began to circulate and revolve around and Bunwang, ripping the rope that tied him apart. Yeowun ordered, "Take the lead."

"Okay."

Bunwang nodded and charged out toward the direction, while Yeowun and Bakgi followed. Yeowun ordered Yang Danwa and Hu Bong to stay behind with the baby. After moving through the mountain for about three miles, they soon arrived at the place.

It was late spring, with trees turning green but the area around was like a harsh winter. Everything was cold and all the bushes turned white from being frozen. All the leaves froze up and dropped to the ground, only to be shattered and even the branches were frozen solid. This area of this coldness was only growing toward the west. Toward the center, Yeowun and his group ran straight in.

"Hah..."

Bakgi was astounded each time he let out his breath when it turned white. This was quite astonishing as they were far out from winter. And the coldness only grew stronger as they walked toward the center. They would have died from the coldness if they didn't control their temperature through internal energy. Soon, they were at the center of the coldness.

"Ah..."

Yeowun moaned silently as he found a beautiful woman at the center of the coldness, with long silver hair and pale white skin even whiter than Chun Yeowun. The unique beauty even felt mysterious in some way. The woman was moving somewhere with her eyes not focusing correctly. And what was more surprising was...

'The energy is vast.'

The energy that revolved around her was so powerful that the air around was freezing. And it froze up debris that was floating as it followed her path. The ground that she walked past was frozen white, creating a path of white frost as she walked through.

"Yogun!!!!"

Bunwang shouted toward the silver-haired woman. Her sister's name was Yogun. But the woman seemed like she couldn't hear and kept on walking.

"She's gone mad. I'll have to seal her down so I can block the energy flow."

"Wait..."

Yeowun felt something was off and tried to stop Bunwang, but Bunwang had already started running toward his sister. Bunwang already stopped her sister from going berserk multiple times. But the amount of power unleashed this time was much greater.

‘I-it’s too cold!’

He was protecting his body by using all of his energy, but it was still too cold.

“Yogun! It’s me! Wake up!”

Buwang called out to her at close range, but Yogun kept on walking.

‘Ugh.’

Bunwang then walked past the ice debris floating around her and tried to seal her down.

‘I’m sorry. I’ll have to put you to sleep for a moment.’

He felt his skin being cut off from the ice debris that he walked past. After going through all that, he reached out to his sister to put her down.

“UHG!”

Yogun suddenly turned against Bunwang and looked straight at him. Her eyes had turned white. She was his sister, but it was still a scary sight.

“Y-Yogun!”

Yogun then grabbed Bunwang’s wrist. At that moment, powerful yin energy began to seep into Bunwang and his wrist began to freeze up.

“Aaaaargh! Y-Yogun! Stop!! Stop it!”

He tried to bring up internal energy to defend, but nothing worked. Bunwang shouted at his sister to stop, but she didn't listen.

‘D-dammit! I have no choice!’

Bunwang figured he might freeze to death, so sent internal energy into his foot to kick her away. He still couldn't use his greatsword against his sister. But his choice was wrong. His kick did not reach Yogun as a barrier formed with ice stopped his kick.

“W-what?!”

Yogun reached out toward Bunwang and held his other shoulder. Cold energy seeped into his shoulder and Bunwang became terrified.

“Y-Yogun! Aaaaaaaargh!”

The sharp pain of his body freezing up made Bunwang scream. Yogun went berserk and didn't seem to recognize her brother. At this rate, Bunwang was going to die at hands of his own sister. It was then.

Someone broke through ice debris surrounding her and came down from the air. Yogun's whitened eyes turned against the person.

“You should stop here.”

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

It was Chun Yeowun. Yogun took her hands off from Bunwang's wrist and swung at Yeowun. But Yeowun easily snatched her hand. Yogun tried to send cold energy down to Yeowun to attack.

"W-watch out!" Bunwang shouted. However, Yogun seemed to be shocked when the powerful energy was blocking her energy from entering the body. Her wrist that was grabbed even became hot.

"I told you to stop."

Yeowun spoke and quickly thrust his palm at her chest.

Chapter 318 - Cold blood blockage (3)

Chapter 318: Cold blood blockage (3)

Yeowun's left hand reached toward Yogun's chest to seal her down. But when his hand almost reached her chest, white frost gathered up and created an ice barrier around her. Yeowun narrowed his eyes.

'This is interesting.'

Yeowun stopped and sent energy into his hand to penetrate through the ice barrier at once. But Yogun then let go of Bunwang in that short moment and swung her hand against Yeowun. This time, it wasn't done to freeze him directly. With his hand swinging through the air, cold air stormed up and pushed Bunwang and Chun Yeowun toward the back.

"Aaaaargh!"

Bunwang, who almost had two of his arms frozen, couldn't balance himself and was thrown back. Bakgi ran toward him and grabbed him before he fell.

"Ugh!"

Bakgi did grab him, but the energy still pushed both of them way back.

'This is powerful energy.'

Bakgi knew the power was strong just by looking at the air churning around, but this was beyond his imagination. He had to drag it out almost 20 steps to stop.

"T-thank you."

Bunwang showed his gratitude. Bakgi then realized Bunwang was very straight in the way he expressed his emotions.

“Ugh...!”

Bunwang then looked down at his frozen arms. He protected them with his internal energy, but the skin was completely frozen. Bakgi looked at Bunwang in pain and silently sent his energy into the frozen body part to help him increase his temperature.

“You’re a good man.”

Bakgi raised his eyebrow at Bunwang’s complement and answered, “Stop jabbering and concentrate on sending out the energy.”

“Y-yeah. But we have no time to waste. It will be worse if we don’t stop my sister.”

His sister went berserk once before, but his father was here, so it was possible to seal her down before her yin qi was completely exposed. But now, his father was not here.

‘Replenishing her yang through medicine is only temporary. You need to solve it with a definite solution or she will soon go berserk.’

Gam Miyan warned so, saying that she wasn’t good enough to heal his sister. Gam Miyan said only the Godly Doctor would be able to heal her, so his father had been traveling through the lands of Yulin for over an year. Yet he couldn’t find her yet. Of course, his father had to hide his identity so it only made things harder.

“I didn’t think it would be this bad.”

This amount of energy was beyond what Bunwang could ever be prepared for, and required his father to solve it. But that's when he saw something amazing.

"W-what?"

Chun Yeowun, who Bunwang thought would have been thrown back, was only pushed back five steps and was using his white blade to defend the cold energy.

'I expected him to be strong but...'

This was more than he thought. He didn't think it to be that way, but he kept comparing Yeowun to his father. Bakgi mumbled, "If he can't stop it, then we are in trouble. But I doubt that will be the case."

Bakgi couldn't imagine Chun Yeowun losing ever since they met. Even if he was against Cold Blood Blockage, Bakgi believed that there Chun Yeowun could lose to no one.

'So he considers that man like how I consider my father.'

Bunwang saw the strong trust and concentrated on himself to send out the cold energy. As Yeowun continued to withstand the cold energy, Yogun's white eyes began to turn transparent. Then the air around her began to grow more violent and created white frost all over the place. The frost that only surrounded her now began to increase in radius. Yeowun frowned.

'Is her energy really infinite?'

It was hard to believe that her energy was only growing even when it was already so powerful. Yogun then reached out toward the air. The frost gathered up in the air and became hundreds of ice particles.

“Ugh..”

Yeowun’s grimness turned to surprise. Yogun was showing terrifying skills; it was hard to believe that she was just going mad.

“W...what is that?”

Bakgi and Bunwang also became shocked. They weren’t sure if they were actually looking at a normal person. Yeowun was now trapped within the ice particles that circled him.

‘How can he protect himself from that?’

Bunwang thought about himself being inside and concluded that he would die if he was in there. That’s when Yogun gestured grabbing her hand and hundreds of ice immediately came down on Yeowun.

“N-NO!” Bakgi shouted with shock. But it was too late. Hundreds of ice flew from all sides, trying to skew Yeowun. But Yeowun’s choice of action was very simple.

‘Nano, activate Augmented Reality. Show me the pathway of all ice particles coming in.’

[Activating Augmented Reality on user’s sight.]

Nano’s voice rang through his head and Yeowun saw augmented reality being activated over his eyes.

[Calculating the direction of all projectiles and projecting.]

White light began to beam through the ice particles and soon created red lines of the ice particles’ movements.

‘I see it.’

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

With each direction being drawn, Yeowun was able to see the way out, whereas it wasn't visible with naked eyes. Yeowun jumped out and charged through. Becoming a supreme level warrior made him very fast, and he saw ice particles coming at him slowly in his eyes. Yeowun swung his White Dragon Blade to destroy the ice particles on the way. He couldn't stand still to protect himself from every ice particle, so he chose to charge forward and only defend against those coming from the front and the sides. His choice was correct. All the ice particles were shattered away as soon as they touched the blade. Yeowun charged through ice prison coming down upon him.

"I-it's amazing!"

Bunwang shouted with astonishment. He didn't think Yeowun would try to charge through like that. It was a bold move. As Yeowun shot past it, he was relieved that his guess was correct.

'The ice particles do not have energy in them.'

Chapter 319 - Cold blood blockage (4)

Chapter 319: Cold blood blockage (4)

The way it worked looked like Air Sword, but it was different. Yogun was just forming ice through her vast energy and threw it at him. This would have been different if all of that ice wielded energy.

Yogun's eyes shook as she noticed Yeowun coming straight toward her. She reached out with her other hand and gestured as if she raised it. Then the ground began to shake and a large ice wall was pulled up from the ground.

"I-I can't believe it!"

Yogun's powers that she used while her silver hair fluttered was astonishing. It looked like she was an ice witch. But this skill actually worked against her. Her sight was blocked and all ice particles that went after Yeowun stopped it.

'This is the chance.'

Yeowun then swung his White Dragon Blade toward the ice wall. Blue force qi easily cut down the ice wall and made it fall to the ground. Yeowun then shot past through the wall.

"?!"

"You're late!"

Yogun tried to increase powerful energy to defend, but Yeowun's hand was faster this time. His left hand struck her chest's blood point. With the blood point stopping the flow of energy, the coldness began to subside.

'What kind of yin qi can be this strong?'

Yeowun never used more than fifty percent of his energy even when he sealed a superior master level warrior. But he had to use 70% and he still couldn't stop all of her energy. Her body still finched and Yeowun increased his energy to 90% so that she would pass out.

That's when Yogun's eyelids closed and she passed out. Yeowun sighed in relief.

"Whew..."

He finally calmed her down. Bakgi and Bunwang quickly came up to them and Bunwang spoke excitedly.

"I didn't think you would really put her down! It's amazing!"

He was ready to see his sister going berserk until his father returned, but he was worried that she might die before his father came. It was fortunate that she was stopped before she used all of her energy.

'He's not in good shape either.'

Bunwang's right arm was moving awkwardly. Bakgi helped him recover by sending energy, but Bunwang's skin now turned purple, so it seemed that treatment was necessary. But Yogun was in worse shape. With the flow of yin qi being blocked, her veins were expanding. This meant her yin qi was still going berserk within her. Yeowun spoke to Bakgi.

"We have to move down to the outpost quickly."

It was likely that the seal would be broken if she was left like this. Bakgi nodded and Yeowun picked up Yogun over his shoulder. Her yin qi was still coming out, so it was too dangerous for Bakgi to hold her.

“Uh, what are you going to do with my sister?”

“I’m taking her to Gam Miyan’s grandmother.”

“Oh! B-but even if her grandmother is a good doctor, I don’t think she can treat my sister in that state...”

Bunwang spoke worryingly. It seemed she now needed proper treatment as all other things just looked like a temporary solution. Yeowun then spoke to Bunwang.

“Well, if the Godly Doctor cannot heal her, then she’s done. We have to hurry, so stay close.”

“W-what? The Godly Doctor?!”

Yeowun then jumped out. Bunwang was dumbfounded and Bakgi spoke to him.

“...Gam Miyan was the granddaughter of the Godly Doctor.”

“What?!”

Buwang became shocked. The Godly Doctor that he and his father had searched for long time was actually Gam Miyan’s grandmother. He was also dumbfounded that Gam Miyan never told him that fact, even when he went to her multiple times for the medicine.

‘She should’ve told me earlier!’

The reason why Gam Miyan did not tell them this was because it was Gam Miyan’s medicine that stopped Bunwang’s father from trying to wipe out the Yongho Family.

Bakgi spoke and ran and Bunwang followed them. He had to save his sister first.

As soon as Yeowun got back to the others at the mountain, they went down to the docks. They just needed to cross the Yellow River and go south toward the Demonic Cult's outpost at the northern end of the Honam Region. The Godly Doctor Gam Rosu, Mun Ku, and Hou Sangwha must have been waiting there. It was a dark night they probably couldn't get a boat, but luckily they were able to find a boat that went across the river.

After crossing the river, they all moved through the stepping skill and soon arrived at the outpost of the Demonic Cult.

"Greetings, my Lord! Glory to the Demonic Cult!!"

"Glory to the Demonic Cult!!"

It was now early morning, but Yeowun's visit had every cultist of the outpost coming out and bowing down toward their Lord. Hundreds of cultists bowing down made their entrance grand.

'L-lord of the Demonic Cult?!'

Bunwang became shocked. He did become curious when Yeowun moved into the Honam Region which was controlled by the Demonic Cult, and even went straight into their outpost. He didn't imagine that Yeowun was the Lord of the Demonic Cult itself.

'I knew it. He must have gone through body reconstruction.'

The misunderstanding only grew stronger.

Yogun wasn't in good shape so Yeowun quickly asked where the Godly Doctor was at.

"She's at the guesthouse right now. This way please."

One of the cultists guided them through the outpost and Yeowun followed. He then talked to Yang Danwa and Bakgi.

"You two wait in another building with the baby and the body."

"I see. Understood, my lord."

"Yes, my lord."

They had to treat Yogun first, so there was no time to explain what happened at the Yongho Family's village to Gam Rosu yet. Yeowun made Yang Danwa and Bakgi wait outside so that it could be dealt with later.

"Oh, there they are."

The cultist pointed at the building patio where Gam Rosu, Mun Ku, and Hou Sangwha were eating breakfast. Mun Ku and Hou Sangwha were protecting her closely at all times.

"Oh! My lord!"

Read latest Chapters at WuxiaWorld.S i t e Only

Mun Ku was glad to see Yeowun appearing in morning and got up immediately and ran down.

"Huh?"

She then noticed the silver-haired beautiful woman Yogun. She frowned and asked,

“...W-who is that?!”

Chapter 320 - Cold blood blockage (5)

Chapter 320: Cold blood blockage (5)

There was a distinct scent to every person, whether it was coming from the skin or the clothes. It was something that could only be recognized by others. As such, qi also had a unique kind of feeling that warriors who were trained in internal energy could feel its difference. Its sense to sense such energy increased one became more powerful. Warriors at the supreme master level interacted with the energy of the environment so it was possible to sense the trace of qi, and the cold yin qi made a trace across the Yellow River.

There was one man who was running through with enormous speed. He had curly long hair and a short beard. His face was filled with wrinkles. He was running through while having his hands gathered at the back, but his body did lose balance as he ran through.

‘Southwest.’

The trace of qi was going in that direction. He was running through, but he couldn’t yet get to the culprit who kidnapped his children.

‘Whoever it is, I will never forgive you. I will have you pay the price of taking my children!’

His eyes were cold but he was boiling from the inside. When Wang Jing returned from his travel, he found his hideout destroyed with ice all over the place, and he realized his daughter had gone berserk and was stopped by an unknown warrior and became concerned.

‘...That place.’

He then saw a large mansion in his eyes. On the gate, it read the 'Demonic Cult' on it. The cold trace continued into the outpost of the Demonic Cult. The man grimaced.

'They were behind it!'

It was unexpected, but he didn't care. There was no one he feared in this world anyway, so he charged toward the outpost.

At the same time, Gam Rosu was tending to Yogun, the beautiful silver-haired woman.

"Hmm..."

Gam Rosu had to stop eating her breakfast and tend to her patient as Yeowun said it was urgent. Her veins were expanding and cold air emanated from her, showing that Yogun wasn't in good shape.

'...'

Mun Ku didn't look all that well either. She asked Yeowun who she was, but Yeowun just said Yogun was in danger and quickly asked the Godly Doctor to watch over her. Mun Ku was now building up the imagination within her. Yogun was the most beautiful woman that Mun Ku had ever seen in her life, so she couldn't just consider her a patient.

'Why did the lord bring her here?'

She was very curious and concerned. It was Hu Bong who answered her questions instead. Hu Bong realized Mun Ku was worried about a mysterious beautiful silver-haired woman and explained what happened.

[...So he brought her here to have them become friendly with us.]

[Oh! I see. Whew... yeah, haha. I knew he wouldn't be like that and all... hehe.]

She brightened up when he told her. The Yeowun she knew was never was tempted by the beauty of a woman. It was embarrassing that she became jealous.

[Ah!]

But what Hu Bong said later made Mun Ku grim again.

[It's not certain yet, but I read from some book... that Cold Blood Blockage will need the opposite energy, or a man with strong yang energy to keep the balance.]

[Keep balance? Yang?]

[You know... like how a man and woman find love... and the man's burning st...]

'?!'

[What?!]

Mun Ku's face reddened as if she would explode and told Hu Bong to stop. Hu Bong always had all kinds of weird knowledge. It that seemed Hu Bong was actually teasing her as he was smiling.

'He was playing with me! Ugh.'

"Hah..." Gam Rosu sighed. The air around Yogun was harshly cold. After enduring such coldness, Gam Rosu finished tending to her and spoke.

“Cold Blood Blockage...”

The Godly Doctor knew right away what the disease was.

“...I never thought I would witness this disease ever again my life.”

It seemed like it wasn't her first time tending to a patient with said disease. Bunwang asked worriedly, “Is it bad?”

“I don't know who did this, but someone created a medicine to replenish her yang qi. That prolonged her life. Honestly, it's hard to live past 20 with this disease.”

‘Your granddaughter made that.’

The one who made the medicine was Gam Miyan, but Bunwang did not say it. Yeowun told him to stay silent about most of the things he knew if Buwang wanted to get help.

“What you just said... did you heal someone with this disease before?”

Gam Rosu became hesitant at Yeowun's question and shook her head.

“What?! What are you talking about?”

Bunwang trusted that the Godly Doctor, the best doctor in Yulin, would be able to heal his sister. But Gam Rosu's reaction seemed very untrustworthy. Bunwang raised his voice and Gam Rosu explained, “Hey, young man. Listen to me til the end.”

“?”

“I first came across this disease 30 years ago. I knew how this could be healed at the time, of course.”

“You know how to heal it?”

“Do you think I wouldn’t know? It’s just that this disease can be passed down in martial artists who train in internal energy, so that’s why it’s hard.”

30 years ago, Gam Rosu met a woman with Cold Blood Blockage. Her hair turned silver with her yin qi going mad, so Gam Rosu studied hard and finally found out how to deal with it. But this method required more than just medical practice. It required internal energy that was equally powerful in yang qi to penetrate the blocked blood circulation within it.

“Do you think it’s easy to find ones with such yang qi that can deal with an infinite amount of yin qi?”

“So, you couldn’t find one?”

“...I actually did.”

The Godly Doctor used all of her connections to find a powerful warrior, the leader of Sorim, Monk Gu Hur to help. Gu Hur was a respected monk of all martial artists from the Forces of Justice who valued life over all things and accepted to help.

“W-why did you fail then?”

“Monk Gu Hur had powerful yang qi within him. But it was the woman’s body that couldn’t endure it.”

When Gu Hur’s powerful energy penetrated through the nine blockages within the woman’s body, powerful yang qi began to affect her body adversely.

“So, she died with all of her veins exploding through the energy. It wasn’t the monk’s fault, but he resigned from leadership after blaming himself.”

“Huh? I think I heard about that incident.”

Mun Ku heard this when she was young from her grandfather Mun Yun. The incident of Monk Gu Hur, one of the top five warriors and leader of Sorim, resigning from the leadership and disappearing from Yulin was huge news.
